COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

OF With the Old and On With the New. Cutting Out Considerable Work on the Start.

Monday was the date for the regular monthly meeting of the City Council, made more than usually interesting by the retirement of the old members and the administration of the oath of office to the officers elect.

All of the new members were present at an early hour but it was some time before a sufficient number of the old Board turned up to constitute a quorum.

The proceedings did not attract much attention, perhaps on account of the condensed quarters where the meeting was held, and only two or three outsiders were present.

The oath of office was read, and the following gentlemen attached their names thereto: Jas. N. Glover, Mayor; S. G. Havermale, R. W. Forrest, A. M. Cannon, P. Deaber, Geo. T. Crane, J. N. Squier, Simon Berg, W. L. Turner, Councilmen; E. B. Hyde, Marshal; Chas. Crebin, Clerk; M. T. Hartson, City Attorney; H. C. Hayward, Treasurer-elect, being the only absentee.

The old Board was called to order and the minutes of the last meeting read and approved with a few trifling alterations.

On motion of Dr. Gandy the old Board adjourned sine die. The new Council was called to order.

Mr. Forrest stated that in order to determine which members were to hold over it was necessary to decide by lot and moved that the Mayor should decide in what manner this drawing should take place.

The Mayor suggested that two strips of paper, one containing the words "Short term," and the other "Long term," be put in a hat and one member from each ward to draw out a slip, and the paper so drawn would designate his term of office.

The drawing took place the result was announced as follows: First Ward—R. W. Forrest, long term; S. G. Havermale, short term. Second Ward—W. L. Turner, short term; P. Deaber, long term. Third Ward—Simon Berg, short term; J. N. Squier, long term. Fourth Ward—Geo. T. Crane, long term; A. M. Cannon, short term.

The bonds of the several officials required to give security were read in blank and the bonds placed at the following sums: Treasurer, $7,500; Marshal, $3,000; Mayor, $3,000.

The clerk proceeded to read the following as the MAYOR'S REPORT. To the Honorable Council of the City of Spokane Falls, W. T. GENTLEMEN:—In accordance with the provisions of that Charter regulating the actions of this Board, and following a custom of my predecessors, I have the honor to submit to your examination and approval a financial statement of the monetary condition of this city.

It gives me pleasure, gentlemen, to say in conjunction with the presentation of this report, that the city is in a healthy, solvent condition. One year ago, when the will of the people called me to the mayoralty, the city had a debt of some $1,100 hanging over it.

To-day there is a balance in the hands of the Treasurer of $978, including the road tax of the corporation, with no outstanding warrants. This flattering exhibit, considering that no tax levy has been made, and the receipts accruing entirely from fines and licenses, I deem a very creditable one.

The past year has been one of remarkable growth for our city, and an exceedingly prosperous one for our people, and every indication points to a still greater and more wonderful development for the year 1884.

Surrounded as we are by rich and extensive agricultural, mineral and lumbering resources, happy in the possession of a water power that surprises every stranger, in the pathway of the most stupendous tide of immigration, the front of which is now upon us, ever known in the history of the country, proud in the knowledge of having the most progressive city, modest though its size may now be, on the Pacific coast, there is no reason why the people of Spokane Falls should not feel cheerful and contented, nor is it presumptuous in me to promise a future great and glorious, the dawning brightness of which is upon us. That the city shall continue on its progressive way and its public improvement keep step with the general growth, depends in a measure upon the wisdom of your deliberations as local lawmakers. I feel confident that each and every one of you gentlemen stands ready to enter heart and soul into this good work. I believe that the labors of this body will be conducted harmoniously, and I cheerfully state that I am ready and eager to co-operate with you in any project that has for its object the further improvement of our common home. I am satisfied that the voters of Spokane Falls have shown excellent judgment in selecting you as guardians of their homes and property, and that at the end of the year you will leave a record that will win the admiration and commendation of the public.

I would earnestly call your attention to a few of the most important matters, in my judgment, affecting the city's interest at the present time, and I would suggest that you give the matters your earliest consideration:—

First.—The establishment of at least a partial system of sewerage, along the principal streets. We boast of the healthfulness of our city, and it has become apparent that in order to keep good that reputation some provisions must be made for drainage.

Second.—The purchasing of a lot and the building of a safe and reliable "fire place" in which criminals can be confined with any hopes of keeping them over night. These improvements will necessarily require a small tax levy, to which no property owner can object.

Third.—The improvement of the city's water supply, and having full confidence in your integrity, honesty of purpose and wisdom, I look forward with many hopes to a careful, judicious and creditable administration of city affairs through your deliberations during the next twelve months.

JAMES N. GLOVER, Mayor. Mr. Berg moved that the message should be spread upon the minutes. Mr. Havermale amended by moving that the message be also published in the city papers. Mr. Berg accepted the amendment and it was so ordered.

A petition from R. Levy asking the privilege of erecting a fruit stand on the sidewalk was read. The Mayor proceeded to relate the conduct of the man Levy in regard to running up a peanut stand on Howard street.

On motion the petition was laid on the table. A petition asking for the abatement of a sewer from the California House was read. Mr. Havermale mentioned the fact that he had his attention daily called to the condition of this sewer by the fifth discharged therefrom.

Considerable discussion ensued over the subject, all of the members favoring a right law prohibiting the discharge of filth in the river above the falls. Mr. Berg made a motion that all sewerage within the city should be run into the river below the falls, and it not being seconded Mr. Cannon moved that the City Attorney be instructed to draw up an ordinance in reference to sewerage, and the disposition of garbage and dead animals.

An ordinance regulating the number of police, one on licenses, and one on providing for filling vacancies were read and thoroughly discussed. A motion prevailed that the ordinances be numbered and codified. A committee, consisting of Cannon, Havermale and Squier, was appointed to secure a room to meet in. A committee, consisting of Crane, Forrest and the City Attorney, was appointed to draw up rules of procedure for the Board.

FARMINGTON ITEMS.

Mrs. Fultz has again taken possession of the Pioneer Hotel. Mr. Rupp, the owner of the planing mill, has returned from Walla Walla, where he has been during the winter, getting his engine thoroughly overhauled. It will soon be in position and ready for first-class work, and from the outlook now there will doubtless be plenty to do.

The weather is fine, and farmers are rolling over the soil ready for a big crop. The mining fever has somewhat subsided, and not near so many are thought. But pack trains, wagon trains, men on horseback and on foot still are pouring through here from other places.

There is a rumor that a company has been organized, with Mr. A. M. Cannon as President, to run a railroad from Spokane Falls to Farmington and beyond. Does Spokane Falls know anything about it, or is it all shoddy? However, shoddy or not, the railroad company that does that thing is the one that will make the money. And if that is done, Spokane Falls will get all the trade of the whole Palouse country. So, if it is true what we have heard, hurry up the railroad.

M. O. REANON. COTTONWOOD. The hotel recently erected by Messrs. Boice & Rogers is in good running order and is now receiving a lively patronage from the traveling public.

Mr. Robert Cathcart has the lumber on the site of his new house. The dimensions are 24x24, a roomy, convenient cottage. Mr. Cathcart is one of Cottonwood's best citizens, and himself and his amiable wife were long under the gentle and christian influence of the Quaker persuasion in the "City of Brotherly Love," where a man of moderate means can secure a house and lot more readily than in any other city of the Union.

Many new buildings are to be erected in this place during the coming summer. A case in law of considerable interest was given a preliminary hearing before Justice John Oakley. The case was decided out of his jurisdiction and remanded to a higher court. The defendant was released but in two hours was re-arrested on the same charge in a little different form, by J. C. Bowen, who preferred the charge, his father having sent the prisoner destroying fence on the farm of J. C. Bowen. Ezra Seavill, the party committing the offense, has been doing the same thing at intervals all winter and has cut down forty trees on a railroad quarter which Bowen had recently bought. He has lived on the land over forty days after having a written order both from Bowen and the railroad company.

Spring is opening beautifully. Farmers are beginning to turn over the virgin soil, which is in splendid condition and a heavy crop is confidently expected. Stock has been on the bunch-grass for some weeks. Considerable loss of horses, cows and sheep has been experienced among farmers this winter. One gentleman lost 500 sheep. A little care by providing hay and shelter the fall would be an effective remedy against this kind of loss.

N. O. T. WASHINGTON REPTILIAN. The Republican Territorial Central Committee held a meeting at Vancouver last Friday, and decided to hold a convention at Dayton at 10 o'clock P. M., Thursday, May 14, for the purpose of electing two delegates and two alternates to the Republican National Convention to be held at Chicago next June.

The basis of representation is one delegate at large for each county in the Territory, and one additional for every 200, and one additional for every fraction of 100 or more Republican votes cast in each county at the general election of 1882 for delegate to Congress.

Upon this basis the several counties of the Territory will be entitled to representation in said convention as follows: Chehalis.....2 Pierce.....5 Chelan.....1 San Juan.....5 Clark.....1 Skamania.....1 Columbia.....3 Shoshone.....3 Cowlitz.....2 Spokane, Lincoln, Garfield and Asotin.....4 Kootenai.....1 Island.....1 Stevens.....1 Jefferson.....2 Thurston.....4 King.....2 Walla Walla.....6 Klickitat.....4 Whatcom.....4 Lewis.....3 Skagit.....5 Clallam.....2 Kittitas.....4 Pacific.....2 Whitman, Franklin and Adams.....9

And it is recommended that where new counties have been established since the last general election, the Republican Central Committee of the old county apportion the new counties on the vote cast at the last general election for Delegate to Congress on the above basis.

The committee also resolved that the next Territorial convention for the nomination of a delegate to Congress be held at Cheney, Tuesday, September 4th, call therefore to be published on July 1, 1884, upon an appointment now adopted, which will include 100 delegates, to be published with the call on July 1st.

The Way It Looks. Of all the passions there is hardly one that yields such an influence over the human mind as jealousy. As the king of poets has said, it is a "green-eyed monster," ungodly, unreasonably, blindly uncontrollable. It will take the devil in the possessor, and prompt him to halt at no crime. It will change the complete nature of the one suffering from the attack. No one is entirely exempt from the disease, and while some may have passed through life without a symptom, it is because that peculiar passion has never been directly touched. Jealousy is not confined to one particular object. In a thousand ways man may have his jealousy aroused and sent up to a fever heat, but of all the causes that give this passion there is none so down-right contemptible, little and demeriting as to exhibit jealousy of a neighbor as an individual, or a neighbor in the shape of a town or city. We have seen more of this during our residence in this city than at any other time during our life. The people living in adjacent towns are almost blinded with the bitter jealousy they entertain toward Spokane Falls. Every nail that is driven here vibrates with pain through the systems of these envious neighbors, and it is one sweet satisfaction that they are kept on the rack every second of the day and every day of the year. They feel aggrieved to see the prosperity that is so conspicuous throughout this city. Warped and gnarled by the expressions of their supporters the papers of these misguided communities attempt to carry favor at home by senselessly echoing the sentiments expressed around the grocery stove, thereby lowering themselves in the estimation of fair-minded, unprejudiced strangers and giving additional publicity to a place they are anxious to keep in obscurity. Undaunted by the knowledge that what they are saying is as devoid of truth as lead is of luster, they permit a silly malice to crowd out the common sense that they possess when in a normal condition and manufacture a column or two of malicious maledictions against a city that goes ahead in spite of opposition, and smiles derisively, so to speak, at the sickly efforts of would-be rivals.

BIG BEND.

A Letter From One Who Has Been There. EDITOR REVIEW.—The Big Bend fever proves to be contagious under proper conditions, as the writer knows from actual experience. How could the adventurous spirit of man resist the persuasive allurements of a ride on the first through stage from Spokane Falls to Okanogan, the now famous Meese of the weary pilgrims who plow and populate States? When F. J. Cummings & Co. with commendable pluck drove up to the California House, with a light spring coach at one o'clock P. M. on Thursday, March 27th, with "Ho for the Big Bend" wreathed in smiles on his hopeful countenance, Mr. J. W. Adams, (one of the best of the promoters of Okanogan), sprang to his side in the seat, while the writer, with the determination not to be left far behind, mounted the baggage that occupied the hind seat of the coach. Mr. Cummings, like a true knight of the boot, put us over the route with pleasant speed on the smooth part of the road, but with a degree of perplexing speed on the rough parts that caused us to instinctively secure ourselves to the coach seats. The writer's continuity was not well enough developed for continuous watchfulness, and the penalty imposed was a sudden dive down into a narrow, deep draw with some two or more feet of water and liquid mud, and just as suddenly the coach wheels brought up against the ascending bank, with the attendant phenomena of the writer making a back somersault, squarely alighting on his head instead of his pedal extremities, the cushion of the seat, a satchel and Mr. Adams' bale of blankets rolling over him and independently floating down the stream. As soon as the laws of gravitation could be overcome the writer changed extremities yet regards the perpendicular, and jumped into the icy snow water to rescue the drifting property. A ride of eight miles after dark gave him abundant opportunity to reflect on such baptismal initiation to frontier life; but as such incidents are but ordinary affairs they are only alluded to for the benefit of our tenderfoot Broad-way swells who become infatuated with the romance of the subject.

Messrs. Adams and Cummings had with them what they called a "vinegar bottle" to cheer their drooping spirits. The bottle came through but they lost the contents somehow on the road. This fact may account for the strange adventure that happened subsequently. When Mr. Cummings greeted the axes he neglected to put on one of the mitts, yet he rode safe and sound some three miles, except that misfortunes never come singly, for a box of cigars was lost, to Adams and Cummings' chagrin, although the writer heard of this loss with inner but unexpressed satisfaction, because he was obliged to ride on top of a powder keg without knowing the degree of friction from road bumping that it would bear before exploding—but both came through without explosion.

The probable stations where wood and water can be obtained on the new route are at Deep Creek Falls, Cottonwood, Booth Springs, Antelope Springs, Portuguese Joe, Willson Creek, Grand Coulee, Moses Coulee and Okanogan. The new route generally passes through a fine grain country. It follows Leut. Symonds' military road through the middle crossing of the Grand coulee, and leaves it just after its exit from the Moses coulee. We followed a nearly direct course from this point over the trackless prairie for sixteen miles, until we brought up at Okanogan. The landmark for the emigrant to head for is Pine mountain, which is but an extension of Bald Timber mountain into a belt of evergreens, pines and firs.

Okanogan is the county seat of Douglas county, and is situated on a slightly undulating prairie, nine miles from the foot of Timber mountain. Three buildings are in course of erection at present. Mr. J. I. Middleton, from Portland, Oregon, has bought lots for the erection of a hardware store 23x75 feet. He has already contracted for the lumber to be delivered on the ground. He is to stock it up with general hardware, agricultural implements, etc. Mr. Coll, from Ainsworth, is on the road here with his stock of hotel furniture, which he proposes to place in a new hotel to be erected here at once on his arrival. Mr. B. L. Martin, from the East, has also purchased lots for the erection of a general grocery store in which he proposes to put a stock of goods within thirty days. Parties are on the ground (Messrs. Reed and Benn) for the erection of a blacksmith shop. Lots have been set apart for the erection of a public school, and for church purposes, and I understand arrangements have been made by which a Congregational church costing $2,500 will be erected at an early date.

On Timber Mountain there is at twenty-five square miles of pine and fir which is estimated by different lumbermen to be equal to turning out from five to sixteen million feet of lumber. There is still beyond the Columbia an inexhaustible supply of both wood and coal. Messrs. Stevens and Nash, with commendable pluck and foresight, shipped a steam saw-mill in to Timber Mountain last October and during the winter cut about 500,000 feet of logs which they are now turning into lumber at the rate of eight or nine thousand feet per day. They also have a shingle mill in operation and contemplate putting in a planing mill shortly.

It is estimated that 300 emigrants have already found homes this spring within the expansive prairie fields of the Big Bend, and still they come daily, as the tide has scarcely commenced. No railroad grants interfere with the density of population, and as the lands in this part of Douglas county can only be held by the actual squatter, it is quite probable that this great agricultural country, with a soil equal to Walla Walla's valley, will soon become one of the most populous agricultural districts in the Territory. The great Columbia river washes the west shore of Douglas county in a semicircular direction for over one hundred miles, and this astounding fact alone insures the future of the Big Bend country, as it gives us a natural outlet to the ocean with the exception of a few short portages. It is to be hoped that our next legislature will rise to the acme of prompt action in the shape of a memorial to Congress for an appropriation for the improvement and deepening of the channel at Priest Rapids. Lieut. Symonds endorsed the proposed navigation of the Columbia in his reports to the general government. Let us have an outlet by way of the Columbia river to the ocean; give us a direct railroad from the Sound to Spokane Falls and the Big Bend will prove itself second to no part of Washington in all that makes up a brave man and solid agricultural prosperity. A railroad is imperatively before us; the interior of the Big Bend can be fully developed, because the scarcity of fuel and lumber will retard settlement materially.

Messrs. Cummings & Co. hope at an early day to extend their tri-weekly stage line beyond Okanogan so as to make a direct stage line from Yakima connecting with steamers on the Columbia and the railroad at Spokane Falls. At Vancouver we had an opportunity to see twenty-two horses of the new stage line which Messrs. Cummings & Co. propose to use for conveying passengers from Okanogan to Spokane Falls in three days' time. We came in for four days on the first trip, though we lay over eight hours on account of the incident of the loss of the vinegar bottle. The incident of the vinegar bottle, but a couple of weeks will set everything in smooth order for the transit of all who desire to view the beauty and fertility of this last paradise of the Cascades mountains in the rear.

Okanogan, April 3, 1884. Hanging at Colville. The Indian Theodore who murdered Francois, another Indian, was hung by his tribe, the Colvilles, last Sunday about sunset. This murder was committed last June and the murderer has been at large ever since. Following the arrest of Michel and Winnam-smooch, the agent (Waters) demanded the murderer from Cotoly, chief of the Colvilles. The Indians brought him in to camp, near the Catholic Mission, and sent Agent Waters. Being incensed at a fresh crime committed (rape) they convened a council and decided that he must die. Before their agent arrived, however, the Indians collected one of the Fathers of the Mission who administered the last rites for the condemned man and as the sun went down they hung him decently. It is the intention of Agent Waters to punish Indians who commit crime and protect and aid the Indians in their efforts to become good men, and to this end he has been hard at work ever since he assumed charge of affairs at the agency, to ferret out these criminals.

Another Good Man Gone Wrong. MONMOUTH, Ill., April 8.—The First National Bank closed its doors at 11 o'clock this forenoon. The cause assigned is speculation by the cashier, R. T. O. Hubbard, whose deficit is estimated at from $45,000 to $100,000. The bank is expected to resume in a day or two as the stockholders are liable and are all moneyed men.

The First National Bank of Monmouth has for many years enjoyed the reputation of being the best managed bank in the State of Illinois. From its organization until its liquidation nearly two years since it never failed to pay a dividend of 20 per cent. per annum besides accumulating large reserve fund. Its stock, which was very hard to secure, has never sold for less than 200. Rev. Dr. Jamieson, father of E. H. Jamieson, Esq., of this place, loses very heavily by this defalcation of Hubbard's as he is one of the principal stockholders. Hubbard has been cashier for over twenty-one years and enjoyed the confidence of all the bank directors to such an extent that on the twenty-first anniversary of his engagement the directors tendered him a banquet at which they presented him a gold watch as a memento of their affection. He made to the tune of $20,000 in Europe at an expense of $800. Dr. Jamieson himself making it a present to Rev. Dr. E. H. Jamieson. Hubbard has been more profitable to the bank if they had "watched" him as they should.

EXPLANATION.

To the Republican Voters of Spokane County, W. T.

Several parties have arrived from the great mining center this week and their reports as regards the condition of the metropolis are not as bright as one would desire to hear.

The Cheney Tribune makes a personal attack upon L. Ziegler, Esq., for calling the Republican County Convention to meet in this city on the 24th of this month.

It is evident from the drift of the proceedings of the first meeting of the City Council that the new Board mean to push forward some reformation in the city.

It is recommended to the several precincts that they hold their primaries on Saturday, April 19, 1884, at two o'clock p. m.

Ordinances. An ordinance to provide a police force for the city of Spokane Falls.

What a rich, rare, breezy old joker of course no one ever heard it called by that name before.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

There have been many reasons given first and last why women should not vote, but I desire to say, in the full light of a ripe experience, that some of them are fallacious. I refer more particularly to the argument that it will degrade women to go to the polls and vote like a little man. While I am not and have never been a howler for female suffrage, I must admit that it is much more of a success than prohibition and speculative science.

My wife voted eight years with my full knowledge and consent, and to-day I cannot see but that she is as docile and as tractable as when she won my trusting heart. Now, those who know me best will admit that I am not a ladies' man, and therefore what I may say here is not said to secure favor and grateful smiles. I am not attractive and am not in politics. I believe that I am homelier this winter than usual. There are reasons why I believe that what I may say on this subject will be sincere and not sensational or selfish.

It has been urged that good women do not properly exercise the right of suffrage when they have the opportunity, and that only those whose social record has been furnished a good deal go to the polls. This is not true.

It is the truth that a good, full vote always shows a list of the best women and the wives of the best men. A bright day makes a better showing of lady voters than a bad one, and the weather makes a more perceptible difference in the female vote than the male, but when things are exciting, and the battle is real close, and the tension of war sounds anon, the wife and mother puts on her armor and her sealskin sash and knocks things cross-eyed.

It is generally supposed that the female voter is a pantaloona, a half-horse, half-alligator kind of a woman, who looks like Dr. Mary Walker, and has the appearance of one who has risen hastily in the night at the alarm of fire, and dressed herself partially in her own garments and partially in her husband's. This is a popular error. In Wyoming, where female suffrage has raged for years, you meet quiet, courteous, and gallant gentlemen, and fair, quiet, sensible women at the polls, where there isn't a loud or profane word, and where it is an infinitely more proper place to send a young lady unescorted than to the postoffice in any city in the Union. You can readily see why this is so. The men who vote are always candidates and their friends. That is the reason why neither party can afford to show the slightest rudeness toward a voter. The man who on Wednesday would tell her to go and soak her head, perhaps, would stand barked at to let her pass on Tuesday. While she holds a smashed ballot showed under the palm of her gray kid glove she may walk over the candidate's prostrate form with impunity and her overshoes if she chooses to.

Weeks and months before election in Wyoming the party with the longest purse subsidizes the most livery stables and carriages. Then on the eventful day every conveyance available is decorated with a political placard, and driven by a polite young man, who is instructed to improve the time. Thus every woman in Wyoming has a chance to ride once a year at least. Lately, however, many prefer to walk to the polls, and they go in pairs, trios, and quartettes, voting their little sentiments, and calmly returning to their cookies and crazy quilts, as though politics didn't jar their mental pulse for a minute.

It is possible, and even probable, that a man and his wife may disagree on politics as they might on religion. The husband may believe in Andrew Jackson and a relentless hell, while his wife may be a Stewardist rather liberal on the question of eternal punishment. If the husband manages his wife as he would a clothes horse, he will lead her through life by a crank, he will no doubt work her politically, but if she has her own ideas about things she will naturally act on them, while the man who is heaped in other matters till he can't see out of his eyes will be heaped, no doubt, in the matter of national and local politics.

These are a few facts about the actual workings of female suffrage, and do not tackle the great question of the ultimate results upon the political machinery if woman suffrage were to become general. I do not pretend to say as to that. I know a great deal, but I do not know that. There are millions of women, no doubt, who are better qualified to vote and yet cannot, than millions of alleged men who do vote, but no one can tell now what the ultimate effect of a change might be. So far as Wyoming is concerned the Territory is prosperous and happy. I see, also, that a murderer was hung by process of law there the other day. That looks like the onward march of reform, whether female suffrage had anything to do with it or not. And they are going to hang another in March. If the weather is favorable and executive clemency remains dormant, as I think it will. All these things look hopeful. We can't tell what the Territory would have been without female suffrage, but when they begin to hang men by law, instead of moonlight, the future begins to brighten up. When you have to get up in the night to hang a man every little while, and don't get any perdition for it, you feel as though you were a good way from home.
