NOTICE—SOLDIERS, TEACHERS, BARBERS, (or their widows or orphan children) who served in any war or battle, either in California or elsewhere, prior to March 31, 1850, or whose children were under 21 years of age at that date, or whose children were on the coast of California in the Mexican War, will do well to address us. Claims that have been rejected by the hands of other agents, have been successfully obtained by us. Agents acting for us, liberally paid. Land warrants bought and sold to order, and all business requiring an agent at Washington attended to.

Washington City, Dec. 20, 1859.

"Why don't you come along?"

'Twas in a field, by an old field school,
Where the boys were romping wild,
I noted one with a shining face,
And he was but a child.
And as he romped upon the green,
With a mind and muscle strong,
Anon he'd cry to the lagging boys,
"Why don't you come along?"

So said the boy; but when he spoke,
The man was in that boy;
And now his voice round Christmas
Rings like a bell of joy;
For the world has taken up his cry,
And joined him in the song,
Now sung by nations to their march—
"Why don't you come along?"

Come on! pass me! 'tis death to stop,
The title is in his food;
For men and things are on the march—
Halt never, if you would.
That cry is in the hearts of men,
Their watchword right or wrong;
And nations cry in every tongue,
"Why don't you come along?"

The engine and the telegraph
Proclaim it to the mass;
The man takes up the cheering cry
With which the boy began;
O'er wood and plain, o'er sea and earth,
It rings in startling song,
The written on the parchment,
"Why don't you come along?"

Front! march! halt not! is now the word
For what you have to say at once—
Do it if you can;
Be it a word or a sentence, or a line,
It's sung the stars among;
All nations breathe the world's great cry—
"Why don't you come along?"

The Lawyer's Valentine.

BY JOHN G. BARKER.
I'm notified, fair neighbor mine,
By one of our relations,
That this, the term of Valentine,
Is Oupid's special season.
Permit me, therefore, to report
Myself on this occasion,
Quite ready to proceed to Court,
And file my declaration.

I've an Attachment for you, too,
Legal and a strong one;
O, yield unto the Process, do
Nor let it be a long one!

No loving halloo larks behind;
He'd be a precious nobby;
Who falling to arrest the foe,
Should go and take the body.

For though a firm like yours might throw
A scoldier in distraction,
I couldn't serve a Cupid—no,
I'd scorn so base an action!

O, do not tell me of your youth,
And turn away demurely;
For though you're very young, in truth,
You're not so fresh as I!

The Case is everything to me;
My heart is every body's theme;
Don't plead a Dilatory Plea—
Let's have the General Issue.

Nur, since you're really no Defense,
Why not admit the fact,
Oniting all absurd pretense,
Give Judgment by Confession?

So shall you be my lawful wife,
And I—your faithful lover,
Be proud of your best of life,
With no Remotest over.

Advertisements—Historical.

[From the London Quarterly Review for July, 1855.]
We have referred to the taste for blackmoors, which set in in the reign of Charles II., and went on increasing until the middle of the next century, at which time there must have been a very considerable population of negro servants in the metropolis. At first the picturesque natives of the East were pressed into the service of the nobility and gentry, and colour does not appear to have been a sine qua non. Thus we have in the London Gazette of 1688 the following hue and cry advertisement:—
RUN away from his master, Captain St. Lo, the 21st instant, Obdelah Eklis Abraham, a Moor, swarthy complexion, short frizzled hair, a gold ring in his ear, in a black coat and blue breeches. He took with him a blue Turkish watch-gown, a Turkish suit of clothing that he used to wear about town, and several other things. Whoever brings him to Mr. Loez's house in Green Street shall have one guinea for his charges.

The next advertisement we find also relates to what we must consider an East Indian. The notion of property in these boys seems to have been a complete; their masters put their names upon their collars, as they did upon their setters or spaniels:—
A BLACK boy, an Indian, about thirteen years old, run away the 8th instant from Putney, with a collar about his neck, with this inscription: "The Lady Bromfield's black in Lincoln's Inn Fields." Whoever brings him to Sir Edward Bromfield's at Putney shall have a guinea reward.—The London Gazette, 1694.

The traffic in African blacks, which commenced towards the end of the seventeenth century, seems to have displaced these eastern servitors towards the end of the century, for henceforth the word negro, blackamoor, or blackboy, is invariably used. No doubt the fashion for these negroes, and other colored attendants, was derived from the Venetian Republic, the intercourse of whose merchants with Africa and India naturally led to their introduction. Titian and other great painters of his school continually introduced them in their pictures, and our own great hard has for ever associated the Moor with the City in the S. In England the negro boys appear to have been considered as such articles of sale as they would have been in the slave-market at Constantinople. In the 'Tatler' of 1709 we find one offered to the public in the following terms:—
A BLACK boy, twelve years of age, fit to wait on a gentleman, to be disposed of at Dent's Coffee-house in Finch Lane, near the Royal Exchange.

Again, in the 'Daily Journal' of September 28th, 1728, we light upon another:—

TO be sold, a negro boy, aged eleven years. Enquire of the Virginia Coffee-house in Threadneedle Street, behind the Royal Exchange.

These were the overflows of that infamous traffic in negroes, commenced by Sir John Hawkins in the year 1680, which tore from their houses, and transferred to Jamaica alone, no less than 910,000 Africans between that time and the year 1786, when the slave-trade was abolished.

The only signs of the political tendencies of the time to be gathered from the sources we are pursuing, are the party dinners, announcements of which are now and then to be met with as follows:—

TO THE JOYOUS.—The Bloods are desired to meet together at the house known by the name of Sir Hugh Middleton, near Saddler's Wells, Islington, which Mr. Skeggs has procured for that day for the better entertainment of those Gentlemen who agreed to meet at his own house. Dinner will be on the Table punctually at two o'clock.—General Advertiser, Jan. 18th, 1748.

Or the following still more characteristic example from the same paper of April 12:—

HALF-MOON TAVERN, CHEAPSIDE.—Saturday next, the 16th of April, being the anniversary of the glorious Battle of Colledon, the Stars will assemble in the Moon at six in the evening. Therefore the Choice Spirits are desired to make their appearance and fill up the Joy.—ESPRESSO.

Within five-and-twenty years from this date

most of the existing morning journals were established, and their advertising columns put on a guise closely resembling that which they now present; we need not therefore pursue our deep trenching into the old soil in order to turn up long-buried evidences of manners and fashions, for they have ceased to appear, either fossil or historical; we therefore boldly leap the gulf that intervenes between these old days and the present.

The early part of the present century saw the commencement of that liberal and systematic plan of advertising which marks the complete era in the art. Principally ideas by degrees took possession of the trading mind as to the value of this new agent in extending their business transactions. Packwood, some thirty years ago, led the way by impressing his razor-strop indelibly on the mind of every board member of the empire. Like other great potentates, he boasted a laurel in his pay, and every one remembers the reply made to individuals curious to know who drew up his advertisements; "Ja, sir, we keeps a post!"

By universal consent, however, the palm belongs to the late George Robins the pauper in this style of commercial puffing. His advertisements were really artistically written. Like Martin, he had the power of investing every landscape and building he touched with an importance and majesty not attainable by meaner hands. He did perhaps go beyond the yielding line of even poetical license, when he described one portion of a paradise he was about to submit to public competition as adorned, among other charms, with a 'hanging wood,' which the astonished purchaser found out meant nothing more than an old gallows. But then he redeemed slight manoeuvres of this kind by touches which really displayed a genius for puffing. On one occasion he had made the beauties of an estate so enchanting, that he found it necessary to blur it by a fault or two, lest it should prove too bright and good 'for human nature's daily food.' 'But there are two drawbacks to the property,' sighed out this Hiaz of the Mart, 'the litter of the rose-leaves and the noise of the nightingales!' Certainly the force of exquisite puffing could no further go, and when he died the poetry of advertising departed. Others, such as Charles Wright of Champagne celebrity, have attempted to strike the strings, and Moses does, we believe, veritably keep a poet; but none of them have been able to rival George the Great, and we yawn as we read sonnets which end in the invariable 'art,' or acrostics which refer to Hyam and Co.'s superior vests. Twenty years ago some of the daily newspapers admitted illustrated advertisements into their columns; now it would be fatal to any of them to do so. Nevertheless, they are by far the most effective of their class, as they call in the aid of another sense to express their meaning. All but the minors of the present generation must remember George Cruikshank's exquisite woodcut of the astonished old viewing herself in the polished Hessian, which made the fortune of Warren. But in those days trapezoids only tried their wings for the flight. It was left to the present time to prove what unlimited confidence in the power of the advertisement will effect, and a short list of the sums annually spent in this item by some of the most adventurous dealers will perhaps startle our readers.

'Professor' Holloway, Pills, etc. . . . £30,000
Moses and Son (Maccassar oil, etc.) . . . 10,000
Rowland & Co. (Maccassar oil, etc.) . . . 10,000
Dr. De Jongh (cod-liver oil) . . . 10,000
Heal & Sons (bedsteads and bedding) . . . 6,000
Nicholls (tailor) . . . 4,500

It does seem indeed incredible that one house should expend upon the mere advertising of quack pills and ointment a sum equal to the entire revenue of many a German principality. Can it possibly pay? asks the astonished reader. Let the increasing avenue of assistants, to be seen 'from morn to dewy eve' wrapping up pills in the 'professor's' establishment within the shadow of Temple Bar, supply the answer.

Passing over half a century of space, we come down to the present generation of advertisers. The following is evidently written to an old lover with all the burning passion of a woman deceived:—

IT is enough; one man alone upon earth have I found noble. Away from me for ever! Cold heart and mean spirit, you have lost what millions—empires—could not have bought, but which a single word truthfully and nobly spoken might have made your own to all eternity. Yet are you forgiven: depart in peace: I rest in my Redeemer.—Times, Sept. 1st, 1852.

Sometimes it is more confiding love wafting a sigh from Indus to the pole, or finger on lip, speaking secretly, and as he thinks securely, through the medium of cipher advertisements to the loved one. Sweet delusion! There are wicked philosophers abroad who unstring the bow of harder toil by picking your inmost thoughts! Lovers beware! Intriguers tremble! Many a wretched passage of illicit love, many a joy feebly snatched, which passed through the second column of the first page of the 'Times' as a string of disjointed letters, unintelligible as the correspondent thought to all the world but themselves, have been fairly copied out in plain if not always good English in the commonplace-books of these cunning men at cryptographs. Here, for instance, we give an episode from the life of 'Flo,' which appeared in the 'Times' of 1855-56, as a proof:—

FLO.—Thou voice of my heart! Berlin, Thursday, I leave next Monday, and shall press you to my heart on Saturday. God bless you!—Nov. 29, 1855.

FLO.—The last is wrong, I repeat it. Thou voice of my heart, I am so lonely, I miss you more than ever. I look at your picture, every picture every night. I send you an Indian shawl to wear around you while asleep after dinner. It will keep you from harm, and you must fancy my arms around you. God bless you! how I love you!—Dec. 23, 1855.

FLO.—My own love, I am happy again; it is are, my life, to know that there is a chance of seeing you, to hear from you, to do things to enough. [There is some error here.] I shall try to see you soon. Write to me as often as you can. God bless you, the voice of my heart!—Jan. 2, 1856.

FLO.—Thou voice of my heart! How I do love you? How are you? Shall you be laid up this spring? I can see you walking with your darling. What would I give to be with you! Thanks for your last letter. I fear nothing but separation from you. You are my world, my life, my hope. Thou more than life, farewell! God bless you!—Jan. 6, 1856.

FLO.—I fear, dearest, our cipher is discovered: write at once to your friend 'Indian Shaw' (P. O.) Buckingham, Bucks.—Jan. 2, 1856.

Here is a specimen of one of the most artful matrimonial advertisements we ever remember to have seen:—

TWO GIRLS OF FORTUNE.—MATRIMONY.—A bachelor, young, amiable, handsome, and of good family, and accustomed to move in the highest sphere of society, is embarrassed in his circumstances. Marriage is his only hope of extrication. This advertisement is inserted by one of his friends. Ingenuitade was never one of his faults, and he will study for the remainder of his life to prove his estimation of the confidence placed in him.—Address, post-paid, L. L. H. 47, King Street, Soho, N. B.—The attentions of cockney scribblers deprecated.

The air of coxswain and the taking portrait of the handsome bachelor, whose very poverty is converted into a charm, is cleverly assumed.

An announcement of a much less flattering kind, but probably of a more genuine and honorable nature, was published in 'Blackwood' some time ago, which we append, as, like Landseer's Dog pictures, the two form a capital pair illustrative of high and low life.

MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT.—I hereby give notice to all unmarried women, that I, John Hobnail, am at this writing five and forty, a widower, and in want of a wife. As I wish no one to be mistaken, I have a good cottage with a couple of acres of land, for which I pay 2l. a year. I have five children, four of them old enough to be in employment; three sides of bacon, and some pigs ready for market. I should like to have a woman fit to take care of her house when I am out. I want no second family. She may be between 40 and 50 if she likes. A good sterling woman would be preferred, who would take care of the pigs.

The following is also matter of fact, but it looks suspicious.

MATRIMONY TO MILLINERS AND DRESSMAKERS.—A young man about to emigrate to SOUTH AUSTRALIA would be happy to form an alliance with a young woman in the above line possessing 60l. or 100l. property. Any one so disposed, by applying by letter (post-paid) to T. Hall, 175, Upper Thames Street, till Saturday next, appointing an interview, may depend on prompt attention and strict secrecy.—Times, 1856.

The matrimonial bait is so obviously a good one, that of late years we see advertisements of institutions, at which regular lists of candidates for the marriage state, both male and female, are kept, together with portraits, and a ledger in which pecuniary and mental qualifications are neatly posted. The following scheme was forwarded to a person who had answered an advertisement (enclosing, as directed, 30 postage stamps) in Loyd's Weekly Journal, headed 'How to make 2l. per week by the outlay of 10s.:'—

First purchase 1 cwt. of large-sized potatoes, which may be obtained for the sum of 4s., then purchase a large basket, which will cost say another 4s., then buy 2s. worth of a truly faithful and steady, and this will comprise your stock in trade, of which the total cost is 10s. A large sized potato weighs about half a pound, consequently there are 224 potatoes in a cwt.

Take half the above quantity of potatoes each evening to a baker's, and have them baked; when properly cooked, put them in your basket, well wrapped up in the flannel to keep them hot, and sell by retail at each public house on your way, and solicit the patronage of the customers, many of whom would be certain to buy of you. Should you have too much pride to transact the business yourself (though no one need be ashamed of pursuing an honest calling) you could hire a boy for a few shillings a-week, who could do the work for you, and you could still make a handsome profit weekly.

The more curious advertisements which from time to time appear in the public journals, but particularly in the Times, do not admit of classification; and they are so numerous, moreover, that if we were to comment upon one title of those that have appeared within these last six years, we should far exceed the limits of this article. We make no apology, therefore, for stringing together the following very odd lot:—

DO YOU WANT A SERVANT? Necessary OFFERS his SERVICES to any lady or gentleman, company, or others, in want of a truly faithful confidential servant in any capacity out of menial, where a practical knowledge of human nature, in various parts of the world, would be available. Could undertake an affair of small or great importance, where talent, inviolable secrecy, or good address would be necessary. Has moved in the best and worst societies without being contaminated by either; has never seen a servant; begs to recommend himself as one who knows his place; is moral, temperate, middle-aged; no objection to any part of the world. Could advise any capitalist wishing to increase his income, and have the control of his own money. Could act as secretary or valet to any lady or gentleman. Can give advice or hold his tongue; sing, dance, play, fence, box, or preach a sermon, tell a story, be grave or gay, ridiculous or sublime, or do anything from the curling of a peruke to the storming of a citadel, but never to excel his master. Address A. B. C., 7, Little St. Andrew Street, Leicester Square.—Times, 1850.

THE MIGHTY ANGEL'S MIDNIGHT ROAR.—Behold the Bridgeworth cometh, go ye out to meet him! This awful cry, as is demonstrated, will very shortly be heard, viz: at the commencement of 'the great day (or year) of God's wrath,' or the last of 2300 days (or years) in Daniel's prophecy. By the authors of 'Proofs of the Second Coming of Messiah at the Passover in 1818.' Price 6d. Fourth Edition.

This is a Muggleton prophecy of the destruction of the world at a certain date. The prediction failed, however, and the prophet found it necessary to explain the reason:—

THE MIGHTY ANGEL'S MIDNIGHT ROAR.—The authors, owing to their disappointment, most adroitly investigated its cause, and instantly announce its discovery. Daniel's vision, in chap. 8, was for 2300 years, to the end of which (see 1-12) the 'little horn' was to practise and prosper, after which cometh the year of God's wrath, which was erroneously included in the 2300 years, and thus the midnight cry will be a year later than stated.—Times, 1851.

TWO WIDOWERS AND SINGLE GENTLEMEN.—WANTED, by a lady, a SITUATION to superintend the household and preside at table. She is agreeable, becoming, careful, desirable, English, factious, generous, honest, industrious, judicious, keen, lively, merry, natty, obedient, philosophical, quiet, regular, methodical, tactful, useful, vivacious, womanish, zantiphilous, youthful, &c. Address N. Y. Z., Simmond's Library, Edgeware-road.—Times.

NO P. Q. HOW IS YOUR MOTHER? I shan't inquire further, and must decline entering upon the collateral branches of the family.—Times, 1842.

THE TITLE OF AN ANCIENT BARON.

Mr. George Robins is empowered to SELL the TITLE and DIGNITY of a BARON. The origin of the family, its ancient descent, and its illustrious ancestry, will be fully developed to those, and such only, as desire to possess this distinguished rank for the inconsiderable sum of 1000l. Covent-garden Market.—Times, 1841.

POSTAGE STAMPS.

A young lady, being desirous of covering her dressing-room with cancelled POSTAGE STAMPS, has been so far encouraged in her wish by private friends as to have succeeded in collecting 16,000! those, however, being insufficient, she will be greatly obliged if any good-natured persons who have these (otherwise useless) little articles at their disposal would assist in the whimsical project. Address to E. D. Mr. Butt's, glower, Leadenhall Street, or Mr. Marshall's, jeweller, Hackney.—Times, 1841.

TO THE THEATRICAL PROFESSION.—

WANTED, for a Summer Theatre and Circuit, a Leading Lady, Singing Chambermaid, First Low Comedian, Heavy Man, Walking Gentleman, and one or two Gentlemen for Utility. To open July 9th. Address (enclosing Stamp for reply) to Mr. J. Wixson, Theatre Royal, Preston, L.ncashire.—Era, July 1, 1855.

WANTED A Man and his Wife to look after a Horse and Dairy with a religious turn of mind without any imbursement. The variety is perhaps as astonishing as the number of advertisements in the Times. Like the trunk of an elephant, no matter seems too minute or too gigantic, too ludicrous or too sad, to be lifted into notoriety by the giant of Printing-house Square. The particle of a thin rule suffices to separate a call for the loan of millions from the sad weak cry of the destitute gentleman to be allowed to slave in a nursery 'for the sake of a home.' Vehement love sends its voice inquiring through the world after a graceless boy, side by side with the announcement of the landing of a cargo of lively turtles, or the card of a bug-killer. The poor lady who advertises for boarders 'merely for the sake of society' finds her 'want' cheek-by-jowl with some Magdalenian announcement gratuitously calculated to break up society altogether, to the effect that the world will come to an end by the middle of the next month, &c., &c.

"A scene occurred at our depot," writes a Missouri friend, "the other day, which, for cool impudence, I have seldom seen paralleled. It was standing there on the arrival of the St. Louis packet, when a gentleman came up and addressed a man standing close by me, and evidently a stranger to him, with the common Western query,

"Do you use tobacco?" "Yes, sir," he graciously replied, and producing a plug of the hugest dimensions, he handed it to the applicant, who, taking out his knife, cut off about one-fifth of it, with the observation,

"There's tobacco enough for any man, ain't there?" "Well, I should think there was," was the indignant reply.

"Very well, you take it then," he coolly observed, and handing him the small piece, he put the plug in his pocket and walked away.

Benjamin, a Jewish banker of Frankfurt, while proceeding to Vienna by railroad not long since, fell into conversation with a gentleman of very pleasing manners, who was in the same carriage with him, and so delighted was the banker with his new acquaintance, that he offered to give him a letter of recommendation to his daughter, who was well married in Vienna, and might be of service to him. The gentleman thanked him, and, with a smile said, "I have also one of my daughters married in Vienna, and she has made a tolerably good match." "Pray may I presume," said the banker, "to ask the name of her husband?" "It is the Emperor of Austria," was the answer, the gentleman being Prince Maximilian of Bavaria.

An old lady who was in the habit of declaring, after the occurrence of any usual event, that she had predicted it, was one day very cleverly "asked" by her worthy spouse, who, like many others we wot of, had got tired of hearing her eternal "I told you so." Rushing into the house, breathless with excitement, he dropped into his chair, elevated his hands, and exclaimed, "Oh, wife, wife, what—what—do you think? The old cov has gone and eat up our grandsons!" The old lady was ready, and hardly waiting to hear the last word, she screamed out at the top of her lungs, "I told you so, I told you so. You always would let it stand out-a-door!"

The handsome housekeeper of a Wesleydale farmer was tripping up-stairs, when she slipped her foot and fell. "Holloa," cried the master, "have you fallen, Mary? That's a sign of a husband." "So it is," says winsome Mary, laughing, as she gathered herself up, "and I'm sure I can't think who it's to be, unless it's you, master." "Well, let it be me!" was the response, and as Mary had no objection, the omen was fulfilled; nor had either Mary or master reason to regret, ever after, the fall on the stairs.

A well-meaning but intemperate divine, whose furious denunciations of the short-comings of his flock justly laid him open to the commentary passed on Charles Fox, that though he knew how to hit the nail on the head, he generally hit it till he split his work, was once impelled to ask one of his congregation what he thought of his philippic. "Sir," said his friend, "I think that good advice is like brandy and water; a capital thing in this way, but nobody likes to swallow it scalding hot."

Fool W'fe (holding up an infant as large as a coffee-pot)—And here, my dear, is the little pledge of affection that was born soon after you went to Calif'nia.

Husband—Hee! That was four years ago; it seems to me the pledge is rather small of its age.

When Peter the Great was in France, the Marquis de Noles appeared before him every day in a new dress. "Surely," said 'de Ceur to him, "your tailor must be a very bad one, that he can never fit you."

Fan is worth more than physic, and whoever invents or discovers a new source of supply deserves the name of a public benefactor.

CHAS. PROSCHI.

The columns of the Puget Sound Herald are open to communications on all questions of public policy and interest, and the advocacy of all sides of every question shall be fairly heard; but such communications are not of a general public nature, or are intended for the furtherance of individual ends, will be charged as advertisements. This rule will in no case be departed from.

PUGET SOUND HERALD.

STEILACOOM, W. T., FRIDAY, OCT. 19, 1860.

ANOTHER INDIAN MASSACRE.—A correspondent of the Dallas Mountainier, writing from the Umatilla Reservation, under date of 3d inst., says:—On yesterday two brothers, named Keith, arrived here reporting that the train to which they belonged had been attacked by the "Soshones," or Bannock tribe of Indians; that a large number of immigrants had been killed, and the remainder driven away from their wagons and scattered. The men arrived here much exhausted, subsisting on some dried horse meat for twenty-one days. The names of the murdered are as follows: J. Myers, Wm. Auttly, Lewis Lawson, Justin Creece, Charles Kermer, Elijah Otter, his wife, three daughters and one son. When the brothers Keith left the train, there were alive, Jos. Myers, wife and five children, A. McNorman, wife and five children, Daniel Chase, wife and three children, Samuel Gleson, Chas. Jeffy, Mr. Munson, and six children of Elijah Otter. When last heard from they had nothing to eat. I have started some provisions to their assistance, and sincerely hope it will arrive in time to save them from starvation. The attack was made between Salmon Falls and Fort Boise. If yet alive, my supplies will meet them on Burnt River or Goose Creek.

THE LATE MASSACRE OF CHRISTIANS IN SYRIA.—No little horror, added to a considerable amount of sympathy, have been felt and expressed in regard to the recent massacres of so-called Christians in Syria. We have heard but one side, heretofore; the other side of the story, as just told, lessens materially the appalling character of the massacres. The correspondence of the London Herald says: As regards the massacres, no doubt the details received are very painful; but a great deal of sentimental twaddle finds its way into print about our "Christian brethren." It is absurd to consider the mongrel Greeks, Jews, Maronites, and so-called Catholics, as in any degree superior to the Druses or Mussulmans. In the present instance it is by no means proved that the latter were the aggressors. On the contrary, the evidence is in the other way. For the last thirty years and more, Lebanon has been periodically the scene of such outbreaks as the present. In 1830, Beyrout was plundered by the Greeks; Lamer of Kamer was, six years later, plundered by the Druses; in 1840, the Maronites, whom Sir C. Napier took into his head to patronize, made various successful forays on the Druse villages after the affair at Koraichouan.

ANOTHER NEW PAPER.—We unintentionally omitted making mention, last week, of the new paper about to be published in Olympia, by Mr. John M. Murphy, late of the Vancouver Chronicle. The title of the new issue, according to the prospectus, is to be the "Washington Standard"; its politics, unqualifiedly Republican; its appearance is announced to take place on or about the 3d proximo; and the duration of its existence, we understand, is dependent upon the success of the Republican party in the approaching Presidential election. Should "Old Abe" be elected, it is said the Democratic party of this Territory, convinced of the error of their ways hitherto, will go over to him en masse; hence the source to which the Standard looks for support. Per contra, should "Old Abe" not be elected, the new paper will enjoy existence only long enough to ascertain the fact. So we are told by certain knowing ones.

ACCIDENT TO H. M.'S STEAMER TERMAGANT.—A telegraphic dispatch to the Marysville Daily Appeal, dated Valparaiso, Sept. 22, says:—"Today at 12 o'clock, whilst the U. S. Dry Dock was taking up H. M.'s steamer Termagant, the shorting of one of the sections is supposed to have slipped out, and let the weight of the ship fall upon the second section, which immediately gave way, and thus caused the ship to keel over on her side, carrying everything with her. One entire side of the deck is lying wrecked, and the other is still up out of water. Many of the workmen jumped into the Bay, and it is rumored that some were hurt, but not seriously."

DANCING ACADEMY.—As will be seen by advertisement elsewhere, Mr. L. M. Huson opens a dancing academy in Light's Hall, Steilacoom, on Monday evening next. A lesson will be given on Tuesday evening next, (23d) at which time, however, the regular evening of tuition will be Monday, as advertised.

HEAVY RAIN.—On last Monday night, a rain storm took place here about as heavy as any we ever had in this section. It was accompanied with vivid lightning and violent thunder, and continued until a late hour on Tuesday. It may be put down as a good beginning of our winter rains.

THEATRICAL.—The Potter Dramatic troupe are performing to good houses in Victoria.

THE NEW GRIST MILL.

At the invitation of Judge Thos. M. Chambers, in company with a few friends, on Monday last we visited the new mill of which we made mention a few weeks since, as having been just completed by him. It had been working for several days continuously prior to our visit, and on Monday it was engaged in grinding a lot of several hundred bushels of wheat from New Dungeness. The opportunity was a favorable one for seeing the mill in motion, the experimental trials having been previously made, and everything now working to a charm. A careful inspection of every part of the building and machinery enable us to speak knowingly of their general character.

The first thing that attracts attention, on approaching and entering the mill, is the general appearance of strength about every part of it, outside and in. No effort seems to have been spared to make it in the highest degree substantial. Indeed, the cost of the mill (about $10,000) would naturally lead one to suppose it ought to be so. The machinery is not only complete in every particular, but exhibits much care in putting up. The smut-cleaning attachment performs its work admirably; the dirtiest grain undergoes the most thorough cleansing before it is pulverized, and it is matter for surprise to see the perfect freedom from impurity of the flour as it enters the final receptacle for it. This is perhaps the most remarkable feature of the mill. So perfect is it in its work, that we are assured, no grain, however dirty or affected with mildew, is beyond its power. The quality of the flour ground on Monday last was superlative. There is at present but one run of burrs; in the spring it is designed to add another, as well as make other changes calculated to increase considerably the capacity of the mill. The mill now grinds at the rate of three-and-a-half barrels of flour per hour; the improvements contemplated will more than double this rate. The proportion of flour returned for wheat is 40 lbs. per bushel.

As a specimen of Mr. Hanna's qualifications as a millwright, this mill reflects the highest credit upon him. The proprietor, who has had many years experience in the business of milling, and is therefore fully competent to judge, is enthusiastic in praise of the manner in which Mr. Hanna has acquitted himself, and states that he would have saved two or three thousand dollars in the total cost of the mill, if Mr. Hanna had been employed at the outset to construct it. It stamps the builder as a mechanic of the first ability, and one in whom the utmost confidence may be placed. If Mr. Hanna is proud of his work, he is not more so than the Judge is of the possession of it.

WEEKLY MIRROR.—This is the title of a paper started in San Francisco some three months since, by the original proprietors of the Golden Era—Messrs. Daggett, Rutherford and Ford. We have only space to say, as we intended doing some time since, that it is by far the best weekly paper now published on the Pacific coast. A better compilation of news we have not seen in any journal, English or American, than we find in each number of the Mirror; while the literary matter is of the first order. The same publishers also issue a daily (evening) paper; but it is the weekly to which we wish to call attention. We have been repeatedly asked, here, "which is the best paper in California for family reading?" and we answer none, without fear of contradiction, the Weekly Mirror, at $4 per annum. It stands as far in advance of all others, in-genuine merit, as the papers of the present day stand in advance of those published a century ago.

THE SIZE OF THE GREAT EASTERN.—In giving an account of the late trip of the Great Eastern, the New York Post says the great size of the ship was made more apparent after a few hours on board than at first. Friends would get separated and be unable to find each other till the next day. Dodworth's full band, with both brass and wood instruments, played aft, without being heard in the forward part of the vessel, and parties of a hundred or more joined in noisy games in one part of the vessel, without quieter people in other parts of the ship knowing anything about it.

TURKISH DANCING.—Mr. L. M. Huson, well known on the Sound as a teacher of dancing, is about to open a school for that purpose on Mound Prairie; another at Baldwin's, on Chambers Prairie; another in Steilacoom; another at Fort Steilacoom; and still another at Seattle, for the benefit of the people of that town and Port Madison—making five in all. This will keep him well employed during the winter, we think.

COURT MARTIAL.—A Court Martial will convene in a few days at Fort Steilacoom, for the trial of various charges. Capt. Pickett, of San Juan, came up on Thursday, in the Eliza Anderson; other officers are expected from Vancouver next week, on the Cortes.

HEAVY BET.—Judge Hubbard, of Amador county, California, has offered ten bets of $1,000 each that Douglas would carry that State. He has met with only one person willing to risk $1,000 on the result. The other nine bets still remain open.

THE GREAT EASTERN.—This huge sea craft is about to be placed in the trade between England and Chesapeake Bay. She is advertised to sail from England for the United States during the present month.

THE GLIMPSE.—The barque Glimpse has arrived safely at San Francisco, apparently none the worse for the hard knocks she sustained on the rocks at Clover Point, last spring.

ARRIVED.—The barque Ork, Capt. A. Y. Trank, arrived this evening from San Francisco via Victoria, with merchandise for Balch & Weber and others.

THE NEXT STEAMER.—The steamer Cortes was looked for on Sunday or Monday next; she was advertised to leave San Francisco on the 15th inst.

THANKS.—To Capt. Fleming for favors.

IMPROVEMENTS ON THE SOUND.

STEAMER RANGER, Sept. 28, 1860.

According to promise, I now resume my review of the progress for the last four years of Puget Sound.

In addition to the improvements already noticed at Port Madison, Mr. Meigs has erected a foundry, which, every one must admit, is a pioneer enterprise, and of all branches of mechanism, the one most needed on the Sound. It contributes in no small degree to our reputation abroad, as I think, it also does to our interest and welfare at home. The enterprising proprietor is entitled to the thanks of the public for so material an addition to our wealth, and it is to be hoped that he will meet with a patronage equal to his deserts.

Four years ago there was no improvement of any kind at Port Discovery. Three years ago I visited that place, and it seemed a fit abode only for beasts of the forest. It then presented a scene of wild monotony which was foreign indeed to the present appearance of Messrs. Mastick & Co's improvements, which now give it a lively and cheerful aspect, and constitute another act in our progressive drama.

Four years ago, or a little more, the sad relics of hostile Indian depredations were often seen floating down White River and its tributaries, forcing the settlers to leave their homes and seek protection in Seattle, while many got discouraged and left the country in despair. Who different now! Peace has been restored, and the silver lakes bid the husbandman a joyous welcome to their pleasant and fertile shores, while the cultivated portions of the river valleys are teeming with rich harvests. I believe there is no place on the Pacific coast which presents more natural attractions than the White and Cedar River valleys. Far away in the Eastern horizon is seen the Cascade mountains, with their snow-capped peaks towering high, as if in honor of the heavens above, while all around is an extensive valley teeming with natural verdure in honor of the God of Nature, with here and there a beautiful river, rolling on to join Old Ocean's tide, all contributing to a scene of sublime grandeur, which cannot fail to attract the attention of every beholder. But to return to my subject.

Four years ago, the country was destitute of a thousand little improvements which I cannot designate at present. Had there lived a man to prophesy our present state of progress, or say that such social gatherings as adorned Steilacoom last 4th of July would convene within four years, he would have been called insane; yet those there who watched with a lively interest the developments of each progressive era until we can look upon a concrete and enjoy social advantages which would not disgrace an older settlement. And, if we can judge of the future by the past and present, I, for one, look forward with joy and delight to the time when the American flag shall spread his wings over Washington's Territory in acknowledgment of her sovereign rights, not the least among the sisterhood of States.

PARSON BROWNLOW A DEMOCRAT?—"Jordan Clark," an Arkansas correspondent, who probably wanted to "wig" Parson Brownlow, of the Knoxville Whig, wrote to the latter stating that he had learned, with pleasure, upon what he considered "reliable authority," that Mr. Brownlow was about to join the Democrats, and asked for the probable date of that interesting occurrence. Here is the Parson's reply:

MR. JORDAN CLARK:—I have your letter of the 20th ult., and hasten to let you know the precise time when I expect to come out and formally announce that I have joined the Democratic party. When the sun shines at mid-night and the moon at mid-day—when man forgets to be selfish or Democratic or their inclination to steal—when nature stops her onward march to rest or all the water courses in America flow up stream—when flowers lose their odor and trees shed no leaves—when birds talk and beasts of burden laugh—when devils swap hell for heaven with the angels of light and pay tithes to the boot in mean whiskey—when intelligibility is in fashion and no proposition is too absurd to be believed—you may credit the report that I have joined the Democrats!

I join the Democrats!—Never as long as there are sects in churches—wrecks in gardens—ills in log-pens—dirt in victuals—disgraces in families—wars with nations—water in the ocean—bad men in America or bad women in France! No, Jordan Clark, you may hope—you may congratulate—you may reason—you may sneer—but that cannot be. The thrones of the Old World—the Court of the Universe—the governments of the world may all fall and crumble into ruin—the New World may commit the National suicide of dissolving this Union, but all this may occur before I join the Democracy.

I join the Democracy!—Jordan Clark, you know not what you say—when I join the Democracy, the Pope of Rome will join the Methodist Church—when Jordan Clark, of Arkansas, is President of the Republic of Great Britain, by the universal suffrage of a contented people—when Queen Victoria consents to be divorced from Prince Albert by a County Court in Kansas—when Congress obliges by law James Buchanan to marry a European Princess—when the Pope leases the Capitol at Washington for a city residence—when Alexander of Russia, and Napoleon of France are elected Senators in Congress from New Mexico—when good men cease to go to heaven or bad men to hell—when the world is turned upside down—when proof is afforded, both clear and unquestionable, that there is no God—when men turn to ants and ants to elephants, I will change my political faith and come out on the side of Democracy!

Supposing's at this full and frank letter will enable you to fix upon that period when I will come out a full grown Democrat, and to communicate the same to all whom it may concern in Arkansas. I have the honor to be, etc., W. G. BROWNLOW.

SHOCKING DEATH.—The wife of Rev. Mr. Huntington, a Methodist Preacher residing in Marion county, Oregon, was thrown from a buggy last week, and was so severely injured by the fall that she died in a few days. The accident happened in consequence of the horse running away.

A DEFAULTER.—From our California exchanges we learn that I. L. Stevens, the Chairman of the Buchanan-Breckinridge Bidding Committee, is a defaulter to the Government to the tune of $40,000! The special correspondent of the Bulletin says the rumor has been confirmed.

The best purifier of the blood, Hall's Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock and Iodide of Potass.

ROTHSCHILD AND JERUSALEM.

The following announcement of the designs of Napoleon respecting Syria, of which there is considerable conjecture just now, appears in the San Francisco Evening Mirror. It will be observed that it is put forth merely as a rumor, and we will not undertake to say how much credit it is entitled to:

There is a report, not entirely confirmed, but nevertheless probable, that Napoleon has ordered the occupation of Palestine, and that he will crown Baron Rothschild King of Jerusalem. The probable truth of the rumor is increased by the fact that Napoleon has increased largely the sums of the Money Emperor, to whom other great powers are similarly indebted. It is not likely, therefore, that much interference will be made with Napoleon's designs in relation to the restoration of a Jewish King. The occurrence is one alike notable in its civil and ecclesiastical relations, and it will continue a great landmark on this wonderful age. It is remarkable that the people so long exulted, dispersed and shrinking under the cruel hand of relentless persecution, sighing over the faded glories of Salem, and looking onward in vain for the uprising of a deliverer, should be suddenly restored to the wasted City of David, to rebuild its splendors, and with the dazzling shield of God put back the sharp javelins of scorn which have fallen upon them in unnumbered showers for ages. We hope that the truth of the rumor will be confirmed, and that the wand of magic, restored to the sacred places where his former national glory rose to be the envy and admiration of the world, may re-gather the scattered ruins, and once more in pride and power re-light the long-gone out fires of his sacrifice.

PACIFIC MESSENGER.—This is a weekly paper "devoted to the religion, history and literature of the Israelites," published in San Francisco, at $3 per annum, by Samuel H. Henry. Its very neatly printed, of good size, and contains much that is interesting to Gentiles as well as Jews. Among other matters, it has been publishing an excellent biblically-romantic tragedy, entitled "Samson and Deliah," by Herman A. Bien.

DEPARTURE OF C. BAKER.—Col. E. D. Baker and family left on the Brother Jonathan, on Saturday last, en route for Washington. The Republicans fired a salute of thirty-three guns for him in Portland.

SPECIAL NOTICE. The following letter, which emphatically speaks for itself, was written by the Dean of the Faculty of the Philadelphia College of Medicine to the editors of the Medical and Surgical Journal, San Francisco, for publication: PHILADELPHIA, Jan 17th, 1860.

To the Editors of the Pacific Medical and Surgical Journal: GENTLEMEN.—My attention has been called to an article in the December number of your journal, in regard to the conferment of a degree granted by the Philadelphia College of Medicine to a certain individual. I have been informed that the degree was made to the Faculty, it was approved by a majority and testimonial by the Dean of the Faculty, and was a regular transaction of medicine. On the strength of these degrees was granted. The admission to the degree, as its name implies, is conferred on graduates only, and gives no special privilege. Had there been the slightest suspicion of irregularity, the application would have been returned. By inserting this in your journal, you will do an act of justice to the College, and confer a favor on Yours, very respectfully, H. HANCOCK, Dean of the Faculty of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

CERTIFICATE. I, the undersigned, Governor of Hungary, do testify hereby, that Dr. J. Caspary, a native of Hungary, who has been in the Hungarian Army, with faithful perseverance, and who I have given him the rank of Major, and do recommend him to the sympathy, attention and protection of all those who are capable of appreciating patriotic self sacrifice and undesired misfortune. KOVACHY L. SZOS, Governor of Hungary, Washington City, January 6th, 1862.

Dr. J. Caspary's Medical and Surgical Institute in San Francisco, California. The Doctor offers free consultation, and will examine and prescribe for all diseases of the human system. Persons not wishing to lose time in correspondence, please enclose $10 in their bills, and they will get immediate attention in their cases. L. J. CASPARY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal. 31st

PUGET SOUND HERALD. STEILACOOM, W. T., FRIDAY, OCT. 19, 1860.

LATEST FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC NEWS.

The Portland Daily Advertiser, being in the receipt of intelligence daily, by overland mail from California, from the Atlantic States and Europe, we avail ourselves of the advantage it affords us, and clip from it exclusively the following summary of news to the latest date:—

The New York Douglas sub-Committee refused the proposals of the Breckinridge committee to unite the two wings. The Volunteer Association also emphatically refused to accept one of the electors on the Breckinridge electoral ticket. It is hardly probable that the two parties in that State will unite.

John D. Connelly was nominated for Congress by the Breckinridge party of the first district in Michigan, on the 17th Sept.

The President has appointed postmasters F. M. Leman and Graves, respectively, at La Porte and Logansport, Indiana, and removed Milliken, postmaster, at Paducah, Ky., and appointed J. C. Noble in his place.

The Queen of Spain had offered the King of Naples a refuge in Spain, which the latter accepted.

The number of English volunteers offering for Garibaldi was so great that funds could not be raised fast enough to send them to Naples.

Olus G. Eastman, editor of the Vermont Patriot, died at Montpelier, Sept. 16.

Boardman & Gray's large Piano Factory, at Albany, was burned Sept. 16th. Loss $500,000.

An immense Douglas Mass Meeting was held at the New Musical Hall, San Francisco, Sept. 23. About 5,000 persons were present, among whom were many ladies. The enthusiasm was unbounded.

Porcino Orteyas, a native Californian, while seemingly deeply absorbed in the play at the Lyceum, last night, suddenly fell back and expired.

L'Echo du Pacifique states that a man named George Wilson, residing in Marin county, while on a drunken spree with several friends, the latter saturated Wilson's clothes with whisky, fired them and then deserted him.

The following clippers arrived in San Francisco on the 1st instant: Ship Lotus, 46 days from Hongkong; ship E. F. Willets, 163 days from New York; ship Reliance, 136 days from Boston; ship Mary Ogden, 154 days from New York.

The Overland Mail left to-day at twelve o'clock, with three through passengers and 4,100 letters.

Emma Courtaine this morning commenced a suit for divorce from her husband, William H. Courtaine, the comedian. Courtaine was about starting for England on the Sonora. Cause of action, intemperance.

The trial of William H. Brown, for murder, is progressing before the twelfth district court.

Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne will shortly commence an engagement at Maguire's Opera House, San Francisco.

The coinage of the mint for last week, was $128,000 in gold, and $10,000 in silver.

San Francisco, October 2nd, 1860. The ship Panama, 120 days from New York, arrived to-day.

E. J. Sullivan met Col. Sharp, last night, $28,500 to $3,500 that Lincoln would be the next President.

The cattle disease has made its appearance in California. The animals are seized with a sudden swelling of the throat, which soon puts an end to their existence.

The contract for building the Pacific Telegraph has been awarded to Harmon of Detroit.

The Pony Express, with dates to Sept. 21st, arrived at Miller's station on the 3d. From our exchanges we glean the following additional intelligence:—

Intelligence from Honduras states that Walker and Rader had been shot by order of the Honduras Government.

A heavy rain storm has visited Newark, N. J., flooding the city, driving many of the citizens from their houses, and destroying property to the amount of $20,000.

The Pike's Peak express arrived at St. Joseph on the 20th, bringing about $90,000.

The town of Fort Smith, Ark., was visited by a destructive fire on the 20th. The City Hotel and Post Office were burned. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

Minister McLane is again going to Mexico in the sloop-of-war Paucue.

The Douglas Committee of Pennsylvania published a card in Harrisburg, saying that no fusion question has at any time been entertained.

A fast man and woman recently humbugged the people of St. Louis by getting up a carriage and personating the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Newcastle, who were placed in jail.

The liquor store of Kantzenbreck, at New Orleans, was burned on the 19th. A quantity of liquor exploded, causing the building to fall, crushing thirty or forty persons beneath the ruins. Fifteen dead bodies have already been taken out.

James Buchanan, Esq., private secretary to the President, will soon resume his residence in Philadelphia. It is rumored that the place that is to be vacated has been tendered to Adam Glosbrenner, late Sergeant-at-arms of the House of Representatives.

Twenty-five thousand troops have entered Umbria. The town of Resario has been taken, and 1,200 Germans, who were within the fortress, made prisoners.

Garibaldi entered Naples with his Staff alone, on the 8th, amidst the greatest enthusiasm. A provisional government was formed. Garibaldi, exercising the power of Dictator, appointed General Perino commander of the fleet and arsenal, and proclaimed Victor Emanuel King of Naples. The capitulation of the fort was expected to follow immediately. Garibaldi found 80,000,000 livres in the bank of Naples.

Insurrections have taken place in the Papal States, the troops being defeated by the insurgents. A panic prevailed at Rome. The Sardinian flag was flying from all the forts at Naples.

St. Louis, Sept. 26th, 1860. The Pony Express, with dates from San Francisco to Sept. 12th, arrived on the 23d. Devins and his assistants, who were carrying the mail between Santa Fe and El Paso, were murdered by a band of Navajo Indians; the mail and coach were torn to pieces. The Navajos killed one child and carried off three others. Col. Berry had employed 300 warriors to fight the Navajos. The independent volunteers campaign against the Indians was progressing finely.

The U. S. Marshal and the deputies, while attempting to arrest three fugitive slaves in Morrow county, Ohio, were beset by a mob of negroes and whites, armed with guns and pistols, and severely wounded. They were fired upon and returned the fire, shooting off the fingers of one of the rioters. The fugitives escaped.

A boiler exploded at Wallace's marble works, Pittsburgh, Sept. 24th, killing and wounding a number of persons.

THE WAR IN NEW ZEALAND. Full particulars have been received of the war at present raging in New Zealand. The rising among the Indians was so general, and their hostile feeling so bitter, that, at the latest dates, fears were entertained of the extermination of the white population. Two or three battles had been fought, but with so little success to the whites that a steamer had been dispatched to Sydney for reinforcements. The outbreak is said to have originated as follows:—

In March, 1859, a chief named Te Teira offered to dispose of his land at Taranaki, a new settlement on the southwest coast of the North Island, to the Governor. The offer was accepted conditionally, on Teira's showing a good title. Another chief, Wireua Kingi, commonly called William King, stated at the same time that he would not allow the land to be sold. He made no claim to ownership, but merely put a veto on the sale. How far that veto is justified is by no means clear. Great pains were taken to inquire into the validity of the seller's rights, and it was not till the end of the year that a first installment of £100 was paid to Teira, notice being given to King, who protested against it.

On the 20th of February, 1860, an attempt was made to survey the land, but King and his party prevented it. King was then summoned by the Governor to Taranaki, but refused to come. On the 5th of March a military force was stationed on the disputed block of land, and, after some little show of resistance, the survey was effected. On the night of March 15th a pah was built by the natives, and the surveyors' pegs were pulled up. On the 17th they were summoned to surrender, and on their refusal, fire was opened on the pah, which was evacuated during the following night, scarcely any loss having been sustained.

Then followed the plundering of settlers, a burning of houses and farms, the destruction of crops, and the murdering of all who fell into the hands of the natives. On the 28th of March a desperate battle was fought between 1,000 of the natives and the whole military and militia force of the colony; the latter being forced to retire under cover of night. The natives appeared to be well armed and officered, the insurgents must eventually be overpowered; but it was feared that before assistance adequate to the emergency could be obtained, the colonists would be brought to the last extremity.

THE SLAVE TRADE.—The N. Y. Evening Post publishes a list of eighty-five slaves that have been found under the American flag since February, 1859, and which were fitted out at New York.

ITALY AND GARIBALDI. Everything relating to Italy and Garibaldi being invested with interest, we clip from exchanges the following incidents:—

A Palermo letter gives the following anecdote of a Sister of Charity: "A young patriot, named Francesco Riso, was killed on April 4, during a popular demonstration which took place before Garibaldi's arrival. On April 20, his father, Giovanni Riso, 60 years old, was shot by the Bourbon soldiers without so much as a trial. On the very day that Garibaldi entered Palermo, a young and beautiful nun, Ignazio Riso, the sister and daughter of the two Risos above named, left the convent, and amid the shower of balls and grape-shot, a cross in one hand and a poniard in the other, placed herself at the head of Garibaldi's column, crying, 'Down with the Bourbons! Death to the tyrant! Vengeance!' She kept her place as long as the fighting lasted, and her courageous attitude electrified the volunteers. Ever since that day the name of Ignazio Riso has been held sacred. When she passes in the street, the soldiers bow low and bless her with the most profound respect. Garibaldi himself pays her great attention, and loves her as if she were his own daughter."

The ladies of Aci had addressed a letter to General Garibaldi, announcing to him the fact that from a wish to follow the noble example of patriotism given by the women of Upper and Central Italy, they intend to collect together and forward him the sum of 6,000*l.*, which they had intended for the purchase of their summer dresses. The donors express a wish that the sum in question may be employed in the purchase of muskets.

Alexander Dumas says that the disinterestedness of Garibaldi is astonishing. He allows himself ten francs a day—not quite two dollars; this constitutes his civil list. The other day he burned his pantaloons by accident, and having no others, he was quite embarrassed for several days. He observed to Dumas: "If I were rich, I would do as you have done—buy me a schooner." At the same time he signed a check for 500,000 francs.

The daughter of Count Raimondi, who accepted the hand of Garibaldi, but from whom he separated himself immediately after the performance of the nuptial ceremony, on account of a letter informing him that she was about giving birth to a child by a previous lover, is now residing at Friberg, in Switzerland, and persists in calling herself Madame Garibaldi.

Everybody has been made acquainted with the prominent events in the life of the great chieftain; the history was incomplete, however, without a knowledge of his birthplace. A French Canadian paper now comes to the rescue, and discloses this fact as follows:—

In the year 1812, a noted Iroquois chief named Garabaldie, (signifying "Mighty in War,") immigrated from Western New York to Lower Canada. He had several sons, the eldest called Joseph, who was called by the French habitants, who could not pronounce the Iroquois correctly, Garabaldie. In the year 1820 old Garabaldie died, and Joseph was prevailed upon by a priest to accompany him to Italy. He was educated by this priest, and received Giuseppe as a name, instead of Joseph, and was taught to write his name Garibaldi. This information was received from Francis Garibaldi, at present living near Sorrel, with whom the St. Louis General constantly corresponds. Persons said having doubt on this important matter can satisfy themselves by applying to Francis, at Sorrel. It can no longer be said that Canada has not produced one great man.

THE GREAT HUNGARIAN.—Kossuth, with a few remaining members of his family, was in Paris at last accounts. It is said that the illustrious Magyar felt keenly the death of his sister, and that when he read the account of the attention and respect manifested by the gentleman of Brooklyn at her funeral, he wept and exclaimed, "Oh, that their people were my people, and their God my God!" From some mysterious source Kossuth receives quarterly one thousand dollars, the accompanying note indicating simply that it is from a friend in America, and that it is for his personal expenditures.

WAR AGAINST THE NAVAJOS.—Col. Fauntleroy has received orders from the Secretary of War to make an immediate and vigorous campaign against the Navajo Indians. With the force he has now, the Colonel will be able to put a speedy termination to existing troubles, if he only obeys his instructions.

WHEELER & WILSON'S SEWING MACHINES

THE HIGHEST PREMIUMS WERE AWARDED these machines in 1858, at the following Fairs and Institutes:— Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, New York, New Jersey, St. Louis, Baltimore, Richmond, California, Mechanics' Institute, &c.

These machines having taken the first premiums at all the State Fairs held last Fall throughout the Union, in every instance where they have competed, over all other Sewing Machines, must be received as a Conclusive Evidence of their Unqualified Superiority.

Among the undoubted advantages of these machines are—1st. Elegance and simplicity of construction, and consequent freedom from derangement and need of repair. 2d. Durability. 3d. Unexcelled ease and rapidity of operation. 4th. Comparative noiseless movement. 5th. Beauty of stitch and firmness of seam. 6th. Economy of Thread. 7th. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

They are applicable to every variety of Sewing for Family use, from the lightest machine to the heaviest. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woolen and cotton goods; sewing, quilting, hemming, gathering and finishing, performing every species of sewing, except making button holes, stitching on buttons, and the like.

For a permanent asparagus bed, choose a warm, rich soil, or sandy loam. Dig out the ground to the depth of near three feet. Cover the bottom to six inches deep with chip dirt, sawdust or decayed wood; then, the same depth of the best stable manure; and then fill to about the previous level with a mixture of the soil removed and compost, or old manure equal parts.

Plant Trees. Young men and maidens, old men and matrons! plant trees. Don't sit down and calculate how long it will take for a tree to grow to its full size, for you will probably come to the conclusion that it will take a good while, and then you will drop the subject instead of the seed.

Elderly people are apt to say, "It is well enough for young people to do such things, but what good would it ever do to do it?" The question does not deserve an answer; but twenty-one years ago a woman celebrated the birth of a grandson by planting a sprouted elm seed which she picked up in a spring walk.

A variety of kinds of trees combined in clusters or rows, is more beautiful than stiff lines of a single species. How many dreary roads bare pastures, naked prairies, and desolate-looking country school houses there are that lack the beauty and utility of trees!

The Country Gentleman gives a recipe for bringing up a "skinned farm," applicable especially to uplands; Plow, harrow, and sow to buckwheat early; when in blossom, sow first of June, plow under; sow buckwheat again, and when in blossom, sow middle of August, turn under again; sow winter wheat, and the next March, clover, one bushel to six acres; results, a good crop of wheat, and on turning under clover next year, a field nearly as rich as ever.

Useful Publications.

Leonard Scott & Co.'s BRITISH REVIEWS AND BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.

FOR THE YEAR 1860, NEW YORK, continue to re-publish the following BRITISH PERIODICALS, viz: 1. The London Quarterly, (Conservative). 2. The Edinburgh Review, (Whig). 3. The North British Review, (Free Church). 4. The Westminster Review, (Liberal). 5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine, (Tory).

These Periodicals ably represent the great political parties of Great Britain—Whig, Tory, and Radical; and politics form only one feature of their character. As organs of the most profound writers on Science, Literature, Morality, and Religion, they stand as a large ever-steady tribunal in the world of letters, being considered indispensable to the scholar and the professional man, while to the intelligent reader of every class, they furnish a more correct and satisfactory record of the current literature of the day, throughout the world than can possibly be obtained from any other source.

The receipt of ADVANCE SHEETS from the British Publishers gives additional value to these reprints, inasmuch as they can now be placed in the hands of subscribers about as soon as the original editions.

Terms: For any one of the four Reviews, per annum, $3.00. For any two of the four Reviews, " 5.00. For any three of the four Reviews, " 7.00. For all four of the Reviews, " 9.00. For Blackwood's Magazine, " 5.00. For Blackwood and one Review, " 7.00. For Blackwood and two Reviews, " 9.00. For Blackwood and three Reviews, " 11.00. For Blackwood and the four Reviews, " 13.00. Money current in the State where issued will be received at par.

Clabbing. A discount of twenty-five per cent from the above price will be allowed to clubs ordering four or more copies of any one or more of the above works. This discount of Blackwood, or of any one of the four Reviews and Blackwood for $5; and so on.

Postage. In all the principal cities and towns, these works will be delivered FREE OF POSTAGE. When sent by mail, the Postage on any part of the United States will be but 25 cents a year for each of "Blackwood" and but 15 cents a year for each of the four Reviews, and but 10 cents a year for each of the four Reviews.

N.B.—The price in Great Britain of the five Periodicals above named is $11 per annum. Remittances should always be addressed, post paid, to the Publishers, LEONARD SCOTT & CO., No. 54 Gold Street, New York.
