POETICAL SELECTIONS.

ANOTHER YEAR.

"Another year," she said, "another year, These roses I have watched with so much care.

"Another year," she said, "another year, My life perhaps may end and bloom again.

"Another year, ah yes, another year, When bloom my roses, all my life shall bloom.

"Another year, ah yes, another year, And I shall cease to wander in this gloom.

"For ah, another year, another year, I'll set my life in richer, stronger soil.

And ah, another year, another year, Low, like the blighted dying buds, she lay.

Whose hand had trimmed the rose-tree day by day, To bloom another year, another year.

The Political Telegrams.

WASHINGTON, January 18, 1877.

Mr. A. Clancy, correspondent of the national republican committee, being recalled, referred to his shorthand notes, reading from their original drafts of telegrams sent to Florida, as follows:

New York, November 8, 1876. Gov. STEARNS, Tallahassee, Fla.: Great importance is attached to the electoral vote of your State, and we invite your most careful supervision of it.

This dispatch was signed by Zach Chandler or E. W. Chandler.

New York, November 8, 1876. Gov. MARTIN, Tallahassee: We are absolutely certain of 185 votes. If your State is safe, and Tilden is sure of the rest.

A copy of the above dispatch was sent to D. B. Packard, New Orleans; Gov. D. H. Chamberlain, Columbia, S. C.; Senator John H. Mitchell, Portland, Oregon; and Geo. C. Gorham, San Francisco.

New York, November 8, 1876. Gov. MARTIN: If your State has gone for Hayes the democrats will have nothing to do with it.

This was signed either by Z. Chandler or W. E. Chandler, having been dictated by the latter.

On the 8th of Nov. the following dispatch was addressed to both Senator Conover and Representative Parson: "See my dispatch to Martin; use the utmost diligence and vigilance."

The following dispatch was sent to Thos. B. Keogh, chairman of republican State central committee, Oregon and Louisiana, signed and dictated by W. E. Chandler.

New York, November 8, 1876. Two friends of yours leave here at three o'clock this a. m. Meet them at the depot at Raleigh.

Another telegram was sent to the same party, as follows: "Don't give up your State until the remotest returns come in."

Hayes is elected by one majority if we have carried Florida, Oregon and Louisiana. Meet your friends at the depot."

On the same day a letter was written by W. E. Chandler to Thos. B. Keogh, Raleigh, North Carolina, as follows: "At this hour of writing it looks as if 185 votes have been given to Hayes, counting Florida, Oregon and Louisiana."

The letter will turn out, when the returns are all in, to have gone for Hayes. However, it has not, and the State is close, and there has been intimidation or fraud on the part of the democrats.

The following telegram was addressed to Geo. C. Gorham, San Francisco, November 8th: "Have Oregon republicans use the utmost diligence to watch and get in and have announced the vote from every locality."

The following telegram was also sent to the same party, as follows: "Do not get getting dispirited; they will stop at nothing to wrest the victory from us. Important that you go at once to Oregon."

The following telegram, to attorney general Williams: "Nov. — Oregon reported republican, and will elect Hayes; telegraph several citizens of integrity in Oregon to get in and get in."

The following telegram was also sent to the same party, as follows: "Do not get getting dispirited; they will stop at nothing to wrest the victory from us. Important that you go at once to Oregon."

The committee adjourned until tomorrow. The Chandler telegrams were sent to-day, and from an inspection of the copies of all telegrams it appears that the only one signed by Z. Chandler was that to Governor Stearns.

The following telegram was also sent to the same party, as follows: "Do not get getting dispirited; they will stop at nothing to wrest the victory from us. Important that you go at once to Oregon."

The Congressional Compromise.

WASHINGTON, January 18, 1877.

Elmuds, from the special joint electoral committee, reported in writing, accompanying the report with each committee had signed the report, with one exception. The committee would do so, and take the responsibility of the result.

A bill to provide for and regulate the counting of the votes for President and Vice President and decision of questions arising thereon, for the term commencing March 4, 1877.

The Senate and House of Representatives shall meet in the hall of the House of Representatives at the hour of 10 o'clock, p. m., on the first Thursday in February, 1877, and the President of the Senate shall be the presiding officer.

Two telegrams had been previously appearing on the part of the Senate, and the House of Representatives, to whom shall be certified, as they are opened by the President of the Senate, the names of electors, which certificates and papers shall be opened, presented and acted upon in the presence of the President of the Senate, with a, and said telegrams having been read in the presence and hearing of the two houses, all except the names of electors, and the result of the same shall be delivered to the President of the Senate, who shall then certify to the President of the United States.

This was signed either by Z. Chandler or W. E. Chandler, having been dictated by the latter.

Life Insurance and Savings Banks.

The Eastern press are making a very searching inquiry into the condition of life insurance companies, with but slight regard for age or reputed standing.

The New York Herald says openly that it is evident that the supervision over the affairs of life insurance companies required of the department by the law for the protection of the insured, has long been a mere farce.

Reports of some of the companies have plainly shown that they were verging on bankruptcy; yet the officers whose duty it was to investigate the affairs of such companies have permitted these suspicious exhibits to pass unnoticed.

The Herald again says: "Life insurance companies and savings banks are provident institutions, designed to benefit the dependent classes and to enrich their managers. The policy-holders and depositors are the real parties in interest, and they should be protected either by an efficient supervision of such institutions or by the courts."

The Herald has certainly stated what should be, rather than what is. Life insurance companies and savings banks have too often been solely designed to enrich their managers, and, with that end in view, have been conducted with slight regard to the interests of policy-holders and depositors.

There is a common-sense view of the business which the public has not kept so strictly before them as it might. That view is, that money cannot be materially augmented in amount by any legitimate manipulation of its custodian.

A life insurance company which offers extra inducements and expends large sums in procuring business, is sure to come to grief in time from the operation of natural laws. It will use up its capital and credit in the same way, and by the same processes as the merchant who systematically sells goods at less than cost.

The life insurer is based on the principle that the trained financier can take the average citizen's money, use it for him, and return it

SALMONS are abundant just now, and real beautiful fellows, weighing from 10 to 15 pounds, are sold for 25 cents each.

H. E. HOLMES remodels his drug card this week. Mr. Holmes always has a full stock of pure and fresh drugs, and is prepared to put up prescriptions.

FURNITURE.—Messrs. Everts & Abel have now in store a very large stock of furniture and are prepared to fill orders from the finest parlor sets down to the most modest outfit. Give them a call.

FOR THE LOWER COUNTRY.—Among the passengers by Wednesday's stage, bound for the land of "web foot," we noticed Mr. Andrew McCalley, of the "Standard Mills," accompanied by his step-daughter Miss Sallie Gordon. At the time of starting the outlook was rather gloomy, but we trust that our friends will have a pleasant trip.

FROZE EAST.—Nearly all the mills in the vicinity of town are frozen fast. Mr. McCalley, of the "Standard Mills," was obliged to close down, Tuesday last. Mr. H. P. Isaacs, of the "North Pacific," closed down at the same time. Mr. Miller, of the Milton Mills, is frozen up. The "Agate Mill," a short distance below town, is still running, the turbine wheel having thus far withstood the ice pressure.

DETECTIVE FLAME.—The flame on Fourth street is a constant annoyance to that neighborhood and should be immediately repaired. One morning this week it broke loose, overflowing Mr. James Conlisk's blacksmith shop and doing considerable other damage. A flame can be made to carry off all the water, and the city authorities should at once take measures either to have a new flame put in or have the present one repaired.

WHEAT CROP.—It is a fixed fact now that our wheat crop for the coming season will far exceed that of the past few years. Already we hear of vast tracts of land being sown to wheat which heretofore has never felt the plough. Mr. J. F. Abbott will have over 500 acres, Dr. Blacklock some 600 more, which is all new land and never before cultivated, and these are but a few of the new grain growers, who have just started in to increase the great wheat crop for the year 1877.

NEW BULKHEADS.—Mr. William Stevens, the owner of two brick stores above Johnson, Rees & Winans, is now engaged in putting down good strong, substantial bulkheads in the rear of his fine property. During the last freshet the damage to his property was considerable, and came near encroaching on the foundation of his stores; hence the new bulkheads. It would be gratification to him as well as others, if these who own property along the creek above him would continue on with the improvements, to better insure their property from further destruction.

SICKNESS.—Just now the medical gentlemen of this valley are kept busy. There is an unusual amount of sickness in families, mainly confined to children. Diphtheria prevails to a fearful extent, and in some instances we hear of four and five children in the same family being down with the disease. Typhoid fever is also prevalent, and quite a number of deaths are traced to this disease. The prevalence of these complaints in a country heretofore considered remarkably healthy is somewhat strange, and seems to indicate climatic changes.

DIPHTHERIA.—We call the attention of readers—particularly parents—to the article under this caption on the first page. This dreadful and so often fatal disease is fearfully prevalent and cannot be too carefully guarded against. It is a disease that does not seem to have any particular season for its own, but makes its insidious attacks at all seasons and in all places. In view of this fact we deem it our duty to warn the community against it and especially those parents who have young children. The disease is strictly contagious, and great care should be taken to avoid contact with those who have been exposed to it.

FOR THE COMPROMISE.—In this locality we find men of all parties in favor of the compromise. The wildest republicans declare that they wish the question settled without bloodshed, and the most radical democrats express the same sentiments. The only dissenting voice we have heard was that of a federal official, but on more mature reflection we think he will change his opinion and go in for the compromise. We have never before known such unanimity upon a public question, and we take it as an omen that the debate will be adjusted to the satisfaction of all right thinking men.

THE COUNTY VAULTS.—In last week's issue we mentioned that the vaults built in the Courthouse for the safe-keeping of the county records were misconstrued. We have since learned that the vaults are all right, but being built in the fall they had not the required heat to thoroughly dry the material used in their construction; further, that an account of a heavy rain falling immediately after the completion of the vaults, lasting near 48 hours, and no time being left to build a roof over them, necessarily increased the dampness. Next summer the vaults will have a thorough drying, when it is asserted that all moisture will disappear, and with it, of course, the mildew.

AN OLD NEWSPAPER.—H. M. Chase, Esq., has laid on our table a copy of the Essex Journal, dated July 6th, 1774. The paper has three columns to the page, and is in a good state of preservation. It has a list of the committee of correspondence for the town of Boston, headed with the names of James Otis and Samuel Adams. It was this committee that took the lead in all matters pertaining to the then impending revolution. In another column is the proclamation of Gov. Gage, denouncing the committee as a treasonable organization, and calling upon all loyal citizens to discontinue the same. The fourth page is devoted to advertisements, which all told number eight. A young lady publishes a poetical effusion in which she invites proposals from any young gentleman aged of 30 years of age. Altogether the paper is a quaint sheet and possesses much interest as a reminiscence of the olden time.

PROBATE COURT.—The following were the proceedings in the Probate Court during the week: In the matter of the estate of Matthew Dolphin and Susan Dolphin, deceased; petition of distribution filed and hearing set for March 31, 1877. In the matter of the estate of Heuben P. Olds, deceased; annual account filed and hearing set for February 5th, 1877. In the matter of the estate of John Montgomery, deceased; annual account filed and hearing set for February 6th, 1877. In the matter of the estate of Xavier Businger, deceased; report of sale of real estate filed and hearing set for January 27th, 1877. In the matter of the estate of Joseph Hellmuth, deceased; sale of personal property confirmed. In the matter of guardianship of William Johnston, a minor; guardian discharged and bond exonerated. In the matter of the estate of Edwin Evans, deceased; Milton Evans appointed administrator, and bond fixed at $900.

CLEARANCE SALE.—Schwabacher Bros. announce their clearance sale, and to that end have marked down their entire stock much lower than the same quality of goods have ever before been offered in this market. Their stock is complete in every department, and we can testify from personal examination that no such an assortment of general merchandise was ever before collected under one roof in an interior town. In the main building the shelves are piled with dry goods, fancy goods, clothing, and every article that pertains to the lady's or gentleman's wardrobe. Complete outfits can be had at a moment's notice from the most fashionable full dress down to the every day working suit. In the basement it is to be found groceries, provisions, etc., piled up by acres, and sufficient to feed a good sized army. All their goods have been marked down to the lowest figure, and now is the time to roll up and secure bargains.

REVIVAL.—Last Sunday sixteen persons were admitted to church fellowship in Mr. Egan's church. These are only a small portion of the new converts. To-morrow it is expected that eighteen penitents will come forward and make profession of religion. Dr. Egan commenced his special meetings on new year's day, and has steadily kept them up, the interest being constantly on the increase. Among the converts are many gay headed men and women, and numerous heads of families. This revival is the more gratifying for the reason that in the Eastern States the people in this far-off locality are regarded as little better than savages who pay slight attention to either religion or morals. Dr. Egan's work disproves this assertion and shows that our people are not forgetful of their religious duties.

THE STATESMAN OFFICE.—The proprietor of the STATESMAN desires to return thanks to the patrons of the paper for the promptness they have exhibited in coming forward and paying the amount due for subscriptions, advertising, &c. At no time since we have owned the establishment has it been in such prosperous condition, and hence we make the acknowledgment and return thanks to our liberal friends and patrons. We can assure them that their kindness is appreciated, and that in all suitable ways we will endeavor to reciprocate their favors.

NAVIGATION.—If the weather continues at all favorable, it is understood that the boats between Wallula and the Dalles will resume their trips on or about the first of next month. If no change occurs, we may look for the first boat about the 6th of February, and after that date most likely semi-weekly trips. There is an immense amount of produce in the country awaiting shipment, and just as soon as the boats commence to run business of all kinds promise to be lively.

GRANGE OFFICERS.—At the regular meeting of Spring Valley Grange No. 23, P. of H., held January 6, 1877, the following officers were elected and installed for the year 1877: W. S. King, W. M.; S. M. Gerking, W. O.; G. Cramer, W. L.; W. G. Mitchell, W. S.; F. T. Keiser, W. A. S.; C. O. Cram, W. C.; Margaret Ingalls, W. T.; M. H. Keiser, W. S.; W. G. Herman, W. G. K.; R. Keiser, W. C.; Chas. Cramer, W. P.; Edw. Mitchell, W. E.; M. H. Rensen, W. L. A. S.

DESTITUTE.—The attention of those who are charitably disposed is directed to the case of a stranger now in this city who is in straightened circumstances. He is a young man apparently of good habits, and desires to secure employment of any kind whereby he will be able to earn a living. Any person requiring his services can learn his address on applying at this office.

MORE BULKHEADS.—Mr. Tom Quinn has had the lot in the rear of his store bulkheaded, and is now so fixed that in future he need not dread high water. He has also had bulkheaded the adjoining lots, belonging to the Helmut estate. If property owners along the line of Mill Creek would generally bulkhead their lots the annual freshets would do vastly less damage.

SCHOOL FUNDS.—Since the 8th of January, H. M. Chase, deputy county treasurer, has paid $807.96 to the different school clerks in this county. The tax levied for school purposes in this territory is large, and if properly expended will secure the benefits of a common school education to all the children of the territory.

DUSENBERY BROS. request us to announce that they are preparing for a grand reduction sale, and that the whole of their immense stock will be offered at greatly reduced prices. No reasonable offer will be refused, and customers will in every case be guaranteed satisfaction.

ICE CROP.—Mr. Charles Chabot has filled his house with ice taken from the pond near the military post. It is packed away in pieces about a yard square and 6 inches thick. This gives the assurance that with the summer heat we will have cool drinks.

BEN UNDERWOOD has been removed from the postal agency. George A. Steel is his successor. Underwood held the office a long time, and was regarded as an efficient officer.

TRIPS SUSPENDED.—Owing to the ice in the river the boats have suspended their trips between the Dalles and Portland. The interruption is not likely to be of long duration.

THE PRIMARY SCHOOL opened on Monday last, with Miss Goss as teacher, already has forty scholars. The school promises to be a success.

OBITUARY.—December 29th, 1876, at the home of his mother in Cedar Falls, George A. Mackly, aged 27 years. The deceased was born in Knox county, Ohio, in 1849, and came to Cedar Falls with his father's family about ten years ago, a fine healthy looking young man. In the fall of 1871, failing health induced him to return to his former home in Ohio in hope of securing some benefit from the change of climate. Failing to receive the benefit sought, after a brief stay he returned to his Iowa home. About three years ago he went to Washington territory, where he spent two years in agricultural and other pursuits; and on returning to Cedar Falls seemed much improved in health; but the seeds of disease were too deeply rooted to be lightly shaken off, and for the past six months he seemed to be rapidly failing, and on the morning of December 29th he quietly and peacefully passed away. He fully realized that death was near, his mental faculties being clear up to a very short time before he expired. By his upright and integrity, he made friends of all with whom he came in contact, and who will deeply mourn his loss, and truly sympathize with the family who have been thrice called to part with loved ones since they came into our midst.—Jesse Alvord.
