Unrest.

Was there ever known a mortal When his wishes were obtained, But some other hope was rising In the future to be gained?

Was there ever one ambitious Gaining all, but would aspire; And though ruler over nations, Sought not for something higher?

Give the miser all he seeketh, Pile in heaps the glittering store, Still he seeking, discontented, Tolling grasps some dollars more.

When young love has gained possession, Joys huzzaed crown his bliss, Think you lovers are contented, Wishing for no more than this?

Even then new joys are springing, New born hopes, with added care, Seeking anxious in the future Wealth or lands, or son or heir.

Was there ever known a mortal With his lot and fate content, Humble trusting in our Maker, And the good his love has sent?

Memphis, April 8.—via Cairo, April 9.—The Bulletin of this morning says a report prevails, and is well authenticated, that Salina, Ga., was captured a few days ago by a cavalry force from Gen. Sherman's command.

Chicago, April 10.—The New York correspondent of the California Press writes under date of April 10, as follows: A better news prevails in commercial circles and indications are that after the markets have cleared out the panic of merchandise there will be better feeling generally.

The steadiness of gold, or rather the refusal of that commodity to drop down to the level with public opinion, has a tendency to drop things steadily and counteract the influences of the war news.

Our recent military successes are very naturally strengthening confidence in public credits and there is a corresponding demand for National securities for investment. Government securities are higher with an active demand. The stock market is active and higher. Wheat advanced two cents. Pork opened heavier and closed fifty cents higher. Woolen steady. Hides are dull. Whiskey has advanced three cents without inquiry.

The news of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln has spread a feeling of deep gloom over the land. The Chief Magistrate of the nation has been murdered by the hand of an assassin! What a dark spot in the history of a nation claiming to be the freest and most enlightened in the world; and who that has his country's honor at heart can but regret that a deed so foul has stained its history? Certainly, there can be none among the ranks of honorable men who would sympathize with the assassin. However widely men have differed from the President politically, none recognizing the right of freedom to differ, or entertaining ideas of justice more elevated than characterized the people of the dark ages, can exult that their differences have been thus ignominiously ended. We know of none such, and would not know them. Neither would we know those who, in the madness of their grief, would recklessly assassinate in turn and seek to wreak their vengeance upon those who have loved their country, and seeking for its highest good, have honestly differed with the President, simply because one who may have claimed to be of their party has been base enough to assassinate him. Let the assassin, and his confederates if he has any, die the death he and they so richly merit; but while saddest rules the mind for the departed, let not charity for the honest living be forgotten. The hour is a dark one; but our country will yet emerge from the gloom that shades it now, and though the nation must forever regret the deep disgrace that has blotted this last page of its history, there will yet be brighter pages written.

Upon the receipt of the news on Thursday of the death of President Lincoln all the business houses of every description in the city were closed for the day. A general gloom, in which men of all parties shared, prevailed. For the first time since we have been a resident of the city, the streets wore a gloomy, deserted appearance. In the evening a meeting of the citizens was called at the Court House, and addressed by Judge Wyche, Lieut.-Col. Curry, and Messrs. A. L. Brown and F. P. Dugan. A committee to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting were appointed and ordered to report in time for publication to-day; but up to the hour of "closing up" our paper the proceedings have not come to hand. They will be published next week. The flags of the city still remain at half-mast to-day, and guns have been fired at the Fort every half-hour during the day.

WHO ARE CALLED?—The Pacific Christian Advocate, in a lengthy article upon the subject of the ministry, endeavors to show that only those that have received a call from God are fitted to preach the gospel; that it is not a profession to be chosen at the option of the individual, or as a man would choose to learn the butchering business if his natural inclinations led him into the meat shop. But if we properly understand the doctrine taught by the Advocate, it is that before a man can enter the sacred precincts of the ministry or rightfully don the ministerial robes, he must first be positive that God has called him out. "Washington and Idaho Territories," says the Advocate, "now require at least a score of efficient ministers to preach and build up the institutions of religion, and to train the children and youth in the fear of the Lord." The Advocate thinks the men are in Oregon who ought to be engaged in this work, and asks, "Who will awake to duty and to responsibility?" And now, before echo answers "who?" and before the Oregon Conference next meets, we would suggest to the clerical aspirants that they must know that God has called them to the ministry and that He absolutely demands their services, before they assume the awful responsibility of assisting in the work of saving souls. We think God never called out a portion, at least, of the ministers who have heretofore officiated as preachers in and around Oregon. If God did call them all out it is evident that some very loose selections were made. However, the material to select from might have been such that the Lord, while calling out the best, was obliged to choose some who were not altogether fitted for the responsible position. But the most reasonable conclusion that can be arrived at, assuming the theory correct, is, that some of those who studied for the ministry, made a mistake in supposing that God had called them out; that instead, it was their own small voices, which through brains more or less deranged, they constructed to be the voice of God. Now if there is any tangible way of getting at the fact and determining who are called by the Lord and who not, we have no doubt the people of this Territory would much prefer to be supplied with ministers of real worth and of the genuine stamp. The bogus sort, bigots, fanatics, the carnal minded and the self-righteous, we don't want; and from all kleptomaniacs, "Good Lord deliver us."

No MORE DRAFTS.—The dispatches of this week herald the welcome intelligence that no further drafts for the U. S. service will be made, and that the Provost Marshal Generals have been directed to suspend operations under the recent call. No more men are wanted at present and recruiting will be stopped. Army supplies sufficient for 2500 troops for six months have been shipped via Gayumas for the troops now in Arizona. After the first of April, the laws of Nevada forbid the killing of fish or game.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN ASSASSINATED.

Attempt to Assassinate Sec'y Seward.

Fred. Seward Seriously Injured.

Washington, April 14.—President Lincoln and wife, with other friends, visited the theatre this evening for the purpose of witnessing the performance of "Our American Cousin." It was announced in the papers that Gen. Grant would be there, but that gentleman took the late train of cars for New Jersey. The theatre was densely crowded, and everybody seemed delighted with the scene before them. During the 3d act, and while there was a temporary pause for one of the actors to enter, a sharp report of a pistol was heard which merely attracted attention, but suggested nothing serious until a man rushed to the front of the President's box, waving a long dagger in his right hand exclaiming "Sic Semper Tyranni" and immediately leaped from the box, which was in the second tier to the stage beneath and ran across to the opposite side of the stage, making his escape amid the bewilderment of the audience from the rear of the theatre, and mounting a horse fled.

The screams of Mrs. Lincoln first disclosed the fact to the audience that the President had been shot, when all present arose to their feet and rushed towards the stage, many exclaiming "hand him." The excitement was of the wildest possible description. Of course, there was an abrupt termination of the performance. There was a rush towards the President's box, when the cries were heard of "Stand back, give him air!" Has any one stimulants? On a hasty examination it was found that the President had been shot through the head, above and at the back of the temporal bone, and that some of the brains were coming out. He was removed to a private house opposite to the theatre. The Surgeon-General of the Army, and other Surgeons were sent for to attend his condition.

On an examination of the private box, blood was discovered on the back of the cushioned chair on which the President had been sitting, also on the partition and on the floor. A common single barbed pistol was found on the carpet. A military guard was placed in front of the private residence to which the President had been conveyed. An immense crowd was in front of the premises, all deeply anxious to learn the condition of the President. It had been previously announced that the wound was mortal, but all hoped otherwise. The shock to the community was terrible. At midnight, the Cabinet and Messrs. Sumner, Beyer, Parson, Judge Bates, Gov. Oglesby, Gen. Meigs, Col. Hay, and a few personal friends with Surgeon-General Barnum, with the exception of assistants, were around the bed at the side of the President, who was in a state of syncope, totally insensible and breathed slowly. Blood oozed from the wound at the back of his head. The Surgeon-General exhausted his skill, but all hope was gone. The parting of his family with the dying President was too sad for description.

The President and Mrs. Lincoln did not start for the theatre until 15 minutes after 8 o'clock. The Colfax was at the White House at the time. The President stated to him that he was going although Mrs. Lincoln had not been well, because the papers had announced that Gen. Grant was to be present, and as Grant had been North, he did not wish the audience to be disappointed. He went with apparent reluctance and urged Colfax to go with him, but that gentleman had made other engagements, and with Ashman, of Maryland, had been engaged at the theatre at the same time. At the widest height, reports were circulated that Secretary Seward had also been assassinated. On reaching this gentleman's residence, a crowd of military guard was around his door. On entering the residence, it was ascertained that the reports had been based upon truth. Everybody there was so excited that scarcely an intelligible word could be gathered. The facts were substantially as follows:

About 10 o'clock, a man rang the bell and the call having been answered by a colored servant, he, the caller, said he had come from Dr. Viede, Secretary Seward's family physician, with a prescription, at the same time, holding in his hand a small piece of folded paper, and saying, "I am sorry to refuse, that he may see the Secretary, as he was entrusted with particular directions concerning the medicines. He insisted on going up, although repeatedly informed that no one could enter the chamber." He pushed the servant to one side and walked heavily towards the Secretary's room, and was met there by Mr. Fred. Seward, of whom he demanded to see the Secretary, making the same demand as the servant had made. The representation which he had given to the Secretary, that there had been a collision, was not known, but the man struck him on the head with a billy, severely injuring the skull and felling him almost senseless. The assassin then rushed into the chamber of Mr. Seward, the Paymaster of the United States, and Mr. Hunsell, a messenger of the State Department and two male nurses, disabling them. He then rushed upon the Secretary, who was lying in bed in the same room and inflicted three shots in the neck, but, however, it is thought and hoped, no arteries, though he bled profusely. The assassin then rushed down stairs, mounted his horse and rode off before an alarm could be sounded, and in the same manner as at the assassination of the President. It is believed that the injuries of the Secretary are not fatal, although both Secretary and Assistant Secretary are very seriously injured. Secretaries Stanton and Wells and other prominent officers of the Government called at Mr. Seward's house to inquire into his condition, and there heard of the assassination of the President. They then proceeded to the house where the latter was dying.

The city to-night presents a scene of the wildest excitement, accompanied by violent expressions of indignation, and the profoundest sorrow. The military authorities have despatched mounted patrols in every direction, in order, if possible, to arrest the assassin. The whole population is likewise vigilant for the same purpose. The attacks both at the theatre and Seward's house took place about the same hour, thus showing a preconcerted plan to assassinate those gentlemen. Some evidences of the guilty party who attacked the President are in possession of the board of police. Vice President Johnson is in the city. His headquarters are guarded. It is now ascertained, with reasonable certainty, that two assassins were engaged in these horrible crimes, Wilkes Booth being the one that shot the President, and the other a companion of his, whose name is not known, but whose description is so clear that he can hardly escape. It appears from a letter found in Booth's trunk, that the murder was planned before the 4th of March, but fell through then, because his accomplice backed out until Richmond could be heard from. Both and his accomplice were at a lively style at 6 o'clock last evening, and left there with horses about 10 o'clock, shortly after that hour it seems that they had been seeking their chance but for some unknown reason their object was not carried into effect until last night. One of them has made his way to Baltimore, the other has not yet been traced.

Chicago, April 15.—President Lincoln died at twenty-two minutes past 7 o'clock this morning. Johnson's Inauguration. Washington, April 15.—An official dispatch was sent to Andrew Johnson, Vice President this A. M., stating, in consequence of the sudden and unexpected death of the President, his inauguration should be taken place as soon as possible. Johnson replied that it would be agreeable to him to have proceedings take place at his rooms in the Kirkwood House. Chief Justice Chase repaired to the appointed place in company with Secretary McCullough, Attorney General Speed, F. P. Blair, Senators F. Ramsey, Yates, Stewart of Nevada, and representative Farnsworth of Illinois. The oath of office was administered at 11 o'clock in a solemn and impressive manner. Johnson received the kind expressions of the gentlemen present in a manner which shed earnest sense of the great responsibility which so suddenly devolved upon him. He made a brief speech saying, the duties of the office are mine, and I will perform them. The consequences are with God. Gentlemen, I feel I shall need your support. I am deeply impressed with the solemnity of the occasion and responsibility of the office. Johnson appeared in remarkably good health, and has a full sense of the hopes that are centered upon him. His manner was solemn and dignified. It is probable President Johnson will issue his first proclamation to the American people to-day. It is expected that it is definitely determined upon that the funeral of the late President will take place Thursday.

New York, April 15, 9 A. M.—Intense sorrow is depicted on all countenances at the events that occurred in Washington last night. The grief of all good men was apparent everywhere, the demise of the President, and when the state of affairs was known, all the flags were placed at half-mast. The people appear perfectly horrified, and the utmost rage is undeniably felt for all known secessionists and rebel sympathizers. New York, April 15.—The city is in tears.—The nation is mourning, but the country still lives. The tender sympathies of the late President are being justly appreciated. Mercy must give place to justice. The ghosts of the thousands whom treason has murdered must be appeased. An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. Washington, April 16.—Gen. Ord has issued the order for the surrender of the Army of Northern Virginia who were not present at the surrender of that army by Lee, on the 9th of April, are hereby informed of the terms of capitulation extended to them, and that they can at once avail themselves of the same by coming within the lines of the United States forces, at or near Richmond, laying down their arms and receiving their paroles.

The gentleman who communicates the above information, says that Lee did not, after the surrender, repair to North Carolina, but has been remaining at Appomattox C. H., to carry out the terms of capitulation, and it is supposed by this time that he is in Richmond, Grant having extended to him through Colfax an escort of 100 cavalry. The best possible feeling exists between the two Generals. Nothing definite has recently been heard from Johnston's Army. It is the impression that it has been disbanded, or else must give place to a spirit to conciliate the disordered elements be manifest. New York, April 14.—Forney's Press has a report that Stoneman has cut the railroads between Danville and Greensboro, and that Sherman has occupied Raleigh.

The Commercial's special says: It is currently reported that Stanton will resign as soon as peace is declared. New York, April 13.—The World's special to-night says: It is stated that as soon as Lee decided to surrender, he set to work to devise a plan by which such an act could result in peace. He proposed to Grant that if generous terms were granted him, he would himself go to Johnston and urge him to surrender. Grant understood to have met this proposal in the spirit in which it was made, and considering that he could represent Lincoln in the matter, granted the terms that were suggested. It was finally decided that Grant would proceed to Washington, to urge upon Lincoln to stop all recruiting and issue a proclamation of amnesty, or, in lieu thereof, make it known that he would deal in a liberal manner with the soldiers and non-combatants of the seceding States, and that Sherman would visit Johnston in person.

California News. San Francisco, April 17.—The city during last evening and to-day was roused with rumors of riots in New York, Philadelphia and Richmond, and that a general massacre of secessionists had been inaugurated in the North, etc., etc. Threats have been made against the lives and property of a number of prominent Southerners in this city whose sympathies are supposed to be against the Union cause.

The following order was issued this afternoon by Major General McDowell, and explains itself: Headquarters, Department of the Pacific, San Francisco, April 17, 1865.—It has come to the knowledge of the Major General Commanding, that there have been found within the city of San Francisco persons so utterly infamous as to exhibit their disloyalty to the President of the United States. Such persons become virtually accessories after the fact, and will at once be arrested by any officer or Provost Marshal of War, or by the police having knowledge of the case. Any paper so offending or expressing any sympathy in any way whatever with the act, will be at once seized and suppressed. By order of Major General McDowell. (Signed) R. C. DEEM, A. G. C.

FIRE AT SALER, April 17.—About 2 o'clock this morning a fire broke out on the Belvidere Saloon and burned all the buildings near Griswold and Holman's Blocks, on Commercial street, comprising Strang & Co.'s tin store, a barber shop, Starr's tin store, Belvidere Saloon, American Hotel and Wright's. The fire was caused by a fire in the Block and warehouse in the rear narrowly escaped the conflagration. Fortunately, soon after the fire broke out, a heavy shower of rain fell, which no doubt, prevented the flames from spreading, and the loss is estimated at about $50,000. No insurance. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Nashville, April 11.—To Halleck: I send the following just received from Huntsville, Ala., for the information of the Secretary of War. I am inclined to believe it, although I have received no report direct from Gen. Wilson. (Signed) THOMAS. Huntsville, April 11.—To Gen. Thomas: The following is just received from Col. Hoover, at Somersville: Men who have come directly through from Selma, report that the place was captured by Gen. Wilson's forces on March 22d. Forrest and Roddy, with their entire commands, were captured. Our men dismounted, charged the intrenchments and carried them before them. They also reported that Montgomery was captured. (Signed) GRANGER. PROBABLE SURRENDER OF JOHNSTON'S ARMY—KIRBY SMITH READY TO SURRENDER. New York, April 11.—The World's special says: It was reported last night that Johnston had surrendered on the same terms granted to Lee.

New York, April 12.—The Herald's Washington says: It is stated that Kirby Smith and the rebel trans-Mississippi army are ready to surrender. New York, April 11.—We learn from Charleston that bands of guerrillas were about Cape town and Summerville, S. C., and our forces had been sent out to clear the country of them. They number about 500, and on the 5th they made a dash on Summerville, capturing a lot of negroes and threatening to shoot all whites who had taken the oath. Large quantities of cotton and rice are said to be hidden on South Carolina plantations. MISCELLANEOUS. New York, April 11.—The Tribune's special says: Secretary Seward's injuries have assumed a serious character. Medical men fear that, owing to his inability to take solid food, he cannot repair the waste of vitality in time to meet the heat of the coming warm weather. Richmond and Amelia counties are full of Confederate soldiers, nearly all of whom are Virginians now on their way home. The Herald's Washington special says: Prominent rebels, probably Judges Campbell and Hunter, are soon expected in Washington in connection with the business of restoration. Seward's condition is so as to render it necessary that the conference on the subject of peace be held there. Washington, April 11.—Richmond Whig, Monday, says: Whatever may be the fate of the Constitutional Amendment, certain as slaves in Virginia is dead. The National Bank is to be established, and whole shares in U. S. Stock will be sold at the rates of Northern cities. Richmond and Amelia counties are full of Confederate soldiers, nearly all of whom are Virginians now on their way home. New York, April 12.—The Commercial says: Rooms have been engaged in one of our hotels for Gen. Lee. He is expected to arrive here tomorrow. About 12,000 French and Austrians are on their way to Senegal. Emigrants from the United States to Mexico suffered tremendously on their arrival in that country. There is no hope of them doing well. The railway communication between Norfolk and City Point is completed, and it was ready to enter upon a new campaign for the summer, for the sudden extinguishing of Johnston's military power, if that rebel chief should attempt to offer further resistance after the capture of the country on the north side of the Neuse between Newbern and Goldsboro is entirely clear of rebels, but on the north side of the stream there are some prowling bands. At least 5,000 of the population at Richmond are now entirely dependent on the Government and the Northern people for a daily supply of food, and but for these, would starve. Government officers are leaving 12,000 rations a day to rot in the hands of secessionists. The work of cleaning up the city, taking possession of all the mills, manufactories and all kinds of abandoned rebel Government property and putting them in proper order, is being vigorously prosecuted under the direction of Major Shepley, and for the necessary labor which this involves, a large number of negroes are employed. The amount of property thus secured to the Government is enormous. Much secret property was discovered in the dwellings of citizens, including, it is said vast quantities of articles sent from friends in the North to the wants of imprisoned Union soldiers. HUNG BY THE VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.—The present week has been one of excitement in this community, on account of the hanging of several men by the Vigilance Committee. Although reports have been current every day of men being found hung up in every direction, only four are positively known to have been hung, and the reports in regard to others are no doubt without foundation.

Two men, named Isaac Reed and Wm. Wills, were caught by the Committee last week near Wallula, tried and convicted of horse stealing and brought up on to the Walla Walla river and hung. These men confessed their guilt, and acknowledged belonging to a band of horse and cattle thieves who had secreted a lot of stolen horses on the Columbia river above Wallula.

THE UNION COUNTY CONVENTION, to nominate county officers, will be held in this city on Saturday the 18th of May. See notice in another column.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP.—Jacob Bauer and Louis Bergvin have been admitted as citizens of the United States, in the district court, this week.

ANOTHER THEATER.—Irwin's Theatrical troupe are en route from the Willamette to Boise. They expect to come by Walla Walla.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—The Democrats of Walla Walla county are requested to meet in their respective precincts on Saturday April 29, to elect delegates to attend the County Convention to be held in the city of Walla Walla, W. T., on Saturday, May 6, 1885.

FROM KOOTENAI.—Mr. Fred White, who left here some weeks ago with a pack train for Kootenai, returned yesterday from the Spokane river, where, he says, he was compelled to store his goods, being unable to proceed further on account of the bad condition of the roads ahead.

THE KOOTENAI expressman arrived at Spokane the day Mr. White left. He lost his horses there, but for which fact he would have reached here on Wednesday. He made the trip from Fisherville to Spokane in eleven days. He reported everything frozen up in the mines. Mr. White received a letter from Fisherville which stated that provisions and goods of all kinds, excepting coffee, were scarce and high in the mines.

GRAND JURORS.—The following is the list of Grand Jurors now in attendance upon the District Court: B. F. Stone, Foreman; J. F. Abbot, Edward Saitling, B. W. Bussell, T. G. Lee, M. B. Ward, T. P. Denny, D. W. Harris, Henry Howard, John Maynon, S. L. Gilbreath, J. M. Driver, E. E. Taylor, J. P. Blanpied, O. P. Lacy, and R. Kelling.

CRIMINAL CASES.—All the criminal cases on the docket in the District Court have been disposed of during the week.

Pete Snellback was found guilty of passing counterfeit gold dust and sentenced to one year's imprisonment in the penitentiary. The cases of Wm. Adams, alias "Six-Toed Pete" and R. Waddingham were brought up separately—the former on Tuesday and the latter on Wednesday. Both were found guilty and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. Pete was admitted as a witness for Waddingham, and testified that he was innocent of the crime charged, and that he (Pete) alone was guilty; but McDonald, the man upon whom the robbery was committed, testified to the contrary. The jury, in such cases, agree upon the sentence. According to the statutes the punishment for the crime committed, —assault and robbery—is either death or imprisonment for life; hence the jury, finding them guilty, could not have been more lenient. "Pete" manifested considerable emotion and wept bitterly upon receiving his sentence, but Waddingham, pleading innocence, did not appear to be greatly affected. In passing sentence upon the latter, the judge very justly remarked that perhaps the law, in such cases, was too severe, but it had evidently been passed with a view to suppressing the system of highway robbery which has been so extensively practiced in this country; yet, in a country like this, where every man could so easily make an honest living, a person proven to be positively guilty of such a crime was entitled to but little sympathy, either from a jury, court or community.

CITIZENS AGAIN.—We have noticed on the street, during the week, Capt. S. W. Shulock, Lieut. Chas. P. Egan, Regimental Sergeant J. C. Gillette, and Sergeant Bellows, late of the W. T. Infantry, all arrayed in "citizen's clothes" again. They look quite as well as when dressed in their "aunts of blue," and, judging from their smiling countenances, they certainly feel no worse. Messrs. Shulock and Gillette intend to settle in the Colville valley, and Messrs. Egan and Bellows will, for the present, remain here.

DIVORCES.—Martha Massey and E. L. Massey, and John Morehead and Ester Morehead were divorced in the District Court on Friday last.

THE UNION COUNTY CONVENTION, to nominate county officers, will be held in this city on Saturday the 18th of May. See notice in another column.

Sorrows of Werther. Werther had a love for Charlotte. Such words could never utter. Would you know how first he met her? She was eating bread and butter. Charlotte was a married lady. And a moral man was Werther. And for all the wealth of Indies, Would do nothing for to hurt her. So he sighed, and pined and ogled. And his passion boiled and bubbled. Till he blew his silly brains out. And no more was by 't troubled. Charlotte having seen his body Burned before her on a butter, Like a well cooked person, Went on eating bread and butter.

GETTING EVEN.—There seems to be no subject so serious but that the American people will find something in it to make sport of. The killing of a thousand men in battle is as often spoken of in a jocular manner as in any other way. A "persecuted democrat," who had been going about for some days with a downcast air, on account of being "twitted" about the majority of his party being hung and driven from the country by the Vigilantes—saw "nigger Jim" suspended by the neck to a limb on Tuesday morning, and, coming into town with an unusually broad smile upon his countenance, met a republican friend and exclaimed, with an air of triumph, "Guess we're getting even now!—Just one of your party last night, too! Three to one! Well, if they'll only just keep it up in that proportion we'll be able to beat you at the next election and double discount you! The republican looked incredulous, but they compromised the matter by agreeing to "quit even."

ASSESSING.—Judge Blewett has been engaged since Monday week in making the annual assessment for county and Territorial purposes. Mr. O. P. Lacy has also been engaged since the same time in making the city assessment, and Mr. W. F. Youm is assessing revenue licenses and the income tax for 1864. This year there will be a special county tax of three mills, to be applied to the payment of the county indebtedness, besides the five mill tax. In the city the tax will be ten mills, including a special tax of five mills, to be applied to the building of an engine house and council chamber. The annual income tax will be five per cent. on all sums over six hundred and under five thousand dollars.

THE "COLORED QUESTION" IN KANSAS.—The Kansas Lawrence Tribune and the Leavenworth Bulletin are engaged in discussing the propriety of allowing the colored population to vote in that State. The Tribune says: All the obstacles in the way of their freedom, which discouraged them at first, have been removed. Now they ask for suffrage. We don't object. He who handles the cartridge effectively can be trusted to handle the ballot. Bullets and ballots go together. To which the Bulletin most logically responds: The Tribune is sensible. "Bullets and ballots go together"—good—practical. Better let the loyal black soldier vote rather than the cowardly copperhead sympathizing traitor.

Bully—disfranchise the Copperhead and give Cuffy his ballot. But what about Jeff's divine blacks—there's the rub—it gives us pause. A preacher was once traveling in one of the back settlements, and stopped at a cabin where an old lady received him very kindly. After sitting provisions before him, she began to question him. "Stranger, how might you be from?" "Madam, I reside in Clinton county, Pennsylvania." "Well, stranger, hope no offense, but what might you be a doin' way up here?" "Madam, I'm searching for the lost sheep of the tribe of Israel." "John, John!" screamed the old lady, "come rite here this mornin' here! a stranger all the way from Clinton county, Pennsylvania, huntin' stock, and I'll jest bet my life that tangie-haired old man, that's bin in our lot all last week is one of his'n."

A Sergeant in the United States army, who with a small party of soldiers, had been sent out on a scouting expedition from Fort Defiance, in New Mexico, finding himself beset by four hundred Indians, tied a tin cup, filled with pebbles confided by a cloth tied over the top, to a dog's tail, wrote a note and fastened it to the dog's collar, and then let him loose. The terrified animal of course made the quickest possible time to the fort, the note was observed and read, and a rescue party was sent out, which arrived just in time to save the lives of the sergeant and his men.

DIVINE REVENGE.—It is worthy of note that the States of Europe which boast of having been ruled for the greatest number of centuries by Divine right, and whose courts are still surrounded by the most gorgeous royal pageants, are the very Powers which are the most despised and decaying. In proof of this may be adduced Spain, Austria, Portugal, and, by far the most ancient of the European sovereignties, the Court of Rome.

LIBERAL.—"You ought to pay me this little bill; for you know I trusted you when no other trader on the river would. Come, now, I'll throw off half, if you'll pay the rest." "Well, I'll be hanged if I'll allow you to be more liberal than I am. If you throw off one half, I'll throw off the other!"

The Federal authorities require that all persons leaving California for the East shall have passports from the Department of California. The Reese river mining district embraces a tract two hundred and fifty miles square.

By One Blow of the Hammer Against the knob on the outside, and thereby breaking the cast iron lock inside. The whole time occupied in opening the lock was about ONE MINUTE. We send you this lock that your friends may not be deceived by false representations, etc. As respectfully, etc. A. B. TILTON, Wm. McFarland.

CLOCKWORK, March 25, 1864. MESSRS. TILTON & McFARLAND, Safe Manufacturers, Boston, Mass. Gentlemen: From representations made by Mr Lillie, I was induced to purchase one of his So Called "Fire-Proof Safes."

On the 18th of February last, a fire occurred in our block which destroyed a number of buildings, and our own with the safe. After the fire the safe was taken from the ruins, and opening it we found that Everything had been Destroyed. We send you the safe, with what is left of the papers, and you will see that not one of them is legible or strong enough to sustain its own weight. Having the curiosity to know how our neighbors fared in this fire, we noticed Messrs. McKean & Hardy just opening their safe (TILTON & McFARLAND'S make), and its contents were found to be In Perfect Condition.

This led us to further investigation, and we found to our astonishment that from the large amount of combustible material in Messrs. McK. & H.'s Store—such as lard, pork, etc., their safe was subjected to a much greater heat than that of our own, we being in the clothing business and had but little in the store. There was another of Lillie's safes here subjected to the same fire, however, no better than ours. Very respectfully, your obedient servant, GEO. J. GIESBRO & CO.

TILTON & McFARLAND'S SAFE THE ONLY PROTECTION Against Fire and Burglars. For the last Fifteen Years This Safe has been well known in California and the Eastern States. They have resisted all the fires on the Pacific Coast, and we can point with satisfaction to the record that No man ever lost a dollar out of one of our safes by means of burglars. Their fire and burglar proof qualities are so well known that they need no further recommendation. A good assortment of Tilton & McFarland's Fire and Burglar Proof Safes to be had at 318 Battery street, San Francisco. Feb. 17, 1865. 10ms.] F. TILMAN.
