New York Correspondence.

New York, November 21, 1860.

EDITOR STATESMAN: I have been in this city for the past ten days, but have not been permitted the privilege of viewing any of its beauties or studying its views, until today, in consequence of a severe attack of inflammation of the lungs, contracted I think at Niagara.

This morning I ventured out for a stroll through the lower portion of this city, and have been fully repaid for my risk of a relapse by the many sights I have seen. Perhaps no where else in America is the great contrast between the past and present so visible as in New York.

Even upon that great thoroughfare, Broadway, you can to-day see the magnificent palatial marble store of A. T. Stewart looming up seven stories high, and covering an entire block, the highest type of modern architecture, while nearly opposite stands the old store house of Ketchum, built one hundred years ago, with its small doors and still smaller windows and antiquated gable ends, built of red bricks, two stories high. Each of those buildings are worthy the contemplation of every visitor, and stand as monuments to mark the rapid strides of civilization.

Coming down Broadway, passing on our way the old Astor House, once the hotel of New York; but now eclipsed by the Fifth Avenue, St. Nicholas and one or two others, we come to the old St. Paul Church, built long before the Revolution.

This church and the grave yard attached covers an entire block. Here are to be found graves bearing the inscription: "Died, July 1691," and other dates down to 1839. But the most remarkable and notable is the grave of General Richard Montgomery, who was killed at the storming of Quebec in 1775. Over this remains is reared a splendid monument, passed here by order of Congress, placing on down Broadway to Wall street, we come to old Trinity Church and graveyard, the most magnificent and costly church in New York, and owned by one of the wealthiest corporations in the world.

It stands near the centre of an entire block. As you enter the first object that attracts your attention is the grave of Captain Lawrence, the hero of the greatest naval engagement of the war of 1812. It is erected in the form of a cenotaph, reared upon a platform. On one side is an inscription giving a succinct account of the engagement in which the noble Lawrence lost his life. On the end is engraved the last words of Lawrence, "Don't give up the ship." On the other side is an inscription to the memory of his wife, who died in 1856, and is buried by his side. Passing through the side gate the next object that attracts the attention of the visitor is the grave and monument of the great financier, Alexander Hamilton, who fell by the hand of Aaron Burr in 1804. There is perhaps no other grave in America—save that of Washington—that is visited by so many as this grave, and it requires the careful vigilance of the janitor to keep them from defacing the tomb by knocking off pieces of the monument, and with all his care they have succeeded in chopping off many pieces that have been carried home as souvenirs of Hamilton's grave. A few steps further brings us to the grave of the composer of Hamilton, Albert Gallatin, who rests under a square tomb of common brown stone, containing appropriate inscriptions. These are the most notable graves of Trinity, but there are thousands of other graves that are interesting—of Captains, Majors and Generals who figured conspicuously in the war for independence. In one corner a magnificent tomb has been erected by "Trinity Corporation" over the remains of the American prisoners who died in the "Old Sugar House," while the city was occupied by the British, in 1778. Returning from our inspection of Trinity, we next visit the old City Hall, which contains the furniture of the first Congress under the constitution of 1789. We produce our Chinese in San Francisco.

Coroner Letterman, in his report speaking of the deaths from marasmus superinduced by opium-smoking, uses the following language in relation to the Chinese quarters in this city.

"I beg leave to call your attention to these people. The filth of most of their habitations cannot be described. I have seen a family of a woman and six children living in a room not larger than six feet by ten with a child dead from small-pox wrapped in rags and placed under a bench to get it out of the way."

"I respectfully invite your attention to the condition of these people. It is well worthy of your serious consideration, not only from the filthy condition in which they live, the neglect they undergo from their own people when they are sick and no longer able to work, but because they are accumulating in our Alms Houses and Lunatic Asylums. While they are able to work they are looked after by the Companies which have imported them; but when they become sick, imbecile or dangerously insane they are left to themselves to lie on a piece of matting and die, or are discarded by their own countrymen, taken up by the authorities, and sent to the Alms House or Lunatic Asylum. The Companies who bring these people here should be compelled to take care of them when they are unable to take care of themselves."

A PRINCE AMONG FOOLS.—The London, Canada, Prototype says: The eagerness with which a certain class of people seek after anything in any way pertaining to any celebrated individual has been especially noticeable throughout the whole tour of the Prince. Where he has stopped to dine the remains of wine and water have been eagerly drunk up, and in some cases the glasses themselves have been taken away. One servant gave satisfaction to a much larger number than could otherwise have had a sip at one railway eating saloon, by changing the glass and then refilling it as often as the credulous maidens drained it. When the Prince had turned the sod of the new railway all the ladies in the vicinity of the new earth rushed for it and triumphantly exhibited small bits of the same wrapped in handkerchiefs. Col. Elphinstone considerably wears nice, new gloves when he travels, and the Prince usually wears a pair of soiled Lavenders. The two gentlemen also wear hats exactly alike on all occasions. When they take off their hats and leave their gloves, every one thinks that the best must belong to the Prince, and the consequence is that Colonel Elphinstone has lost seven right-hand gloves! The Prince's pocket-handkerchief was snatched from his hand at the ball at London, and every effort to recover it proved ineffectual, but about a week afterward it was sent to him through some unknown source. The Governor General too, is a sufferer at the hands of the relic plunderers. He is accustomed to wear a white kersey hat, and during his trip through Ontario he lost no less than six.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.—Our Delegate in Congress is of the opinion that work will be begun upon the Northern Pacific Railroad next spring. Mr. Cavanaugh's opinion is entitled to much weight as he has been among the railroad men and capitalists of the East for several months past, and has, in his position as Delegate, acquired much information on the subject that an outsider could not have learned. In writing to a friend in Helena, Mr. Cavanaugh uses the following language: "Work will be commenced early the coming spring, and will be prosecuted to a speedy consummation. The neighboring of the 'Iron Horse' will awaken the echoes of the valleys and mountains of Montana sooner than her people dream of."—Dear Lodge (Montana) Independent.

VICTORIA'S portrait, with the autograph letter given to George Peabody, the gold snuff box presented by the Fishmonger's Association of London, the gold box in which Mr. Peabody received the freedom of the city of London, and the gold medal presented by Congress, are permanently deposited in the Peabody Institute at South Danvers. They are intrinsically valuable beyond their associations; the Victoria portrait alone cost $5,000, and they are kept in a safe of the best construction, while, for further safety and according to conditions made by Mr. Peabody, they are guarded by a watchman night and day.

GRAVE MISTAKES.

The New York World says: Hardly a week passes that we do not hear of a premature burial. The story always comes to us in nearly the same shag. A coffin is exhumed for one reason and another, and the corpse has changed its position, while the shroud is torn in several places. Immediately every one who is cognizant of the event jumps to the very unnecessary conclusion that the coffin was interred with a living inmate who, on returning to consciousness, had struggled violently, though hopelessly, to escape. Now, the theory of premature burials in such cases as these is entirely gratuitous. Every medical man knows that the gases generated by decomposition frequently act with sufficient force not only to change the posture of the corpse after burial but even to burst open the coffin. Were the inmates of any large cemetery to be exhumed the same appearances which are now accepted as evidences of premature burial would be found to exist in scores of cases; probably, indeed in the majority of instances in which the burial had been sufficiently recent to admit of the possibility of detecting any change in the position of the body. Unfortunately this well substantiated fact is not generally known except to scientific men. Consequently we hear continually of premature burials, which are certainly among the most disagreeable items of news which one can meet, and which bring uncalculable grief and horror to the friends of the supposed victims. It is not impossible that in rare instances some unfortunate person is buried before life is entirely extinct, but to conclude from the mere appearance of an exhumed coffin that the inmate has been the victim of such accident is in the highest degree unreasonable and unnecessary.

THE Spanish Consul at New York says his Government has appropriated six million dollars for the building of corvettes at New York, but since the bad treatment experienced by Spain in the matter of the gunboats, it is doubtful whether the money will be so expended. He says the object in sending the iron clad fleet to New York was, partly to bring crews, &c., for the gunboats, and partly to have iron-clads overhauled and repaired. Further, if belligerent rights should be accorded the Cubans, the Spanish Minister would demand his passport and return home on one of the vessels of the fleet. The sending of the fleet, he says, was not intended as a menace or an insult, but as the American Government had taken extraordinary precautions, Spain deemed it advisable to do likewise.

SOLVENT POWER OF WATER.—So great is the amount of mineral matter taken up by water in flowing over the earth to the sea, that were the process of returning it to the soil any other than that of distillation, the water on the globe would soon become unfit for use in the animal economy. The circulation of water from sea to sky, from sky to land, and from land back again to the sea, is one of those grand operations of nature, which, when understood, excite the highest feelings of admiration. The sea is a great distilling apparatus, which, under the action of the sun's heat, throws off enormous volumes of vapor into the grandest of all condensers, the atmosphere. Here the vapor is again converted into liquid, and falls upon the earth; but it has left in the bed of the ocean the burden of lime, magnesia, and other earthly and saline matter it carried to the sea on former journeys. It will return again with another burden, and be again distilled, and so on as long as the earth remains in its present form and condition. There can be no question that this process of abrasion and solution would eventually fill the seas and level all the mountains on the face of the earth, were it not for upheavals of portions of the earth's crust, and the depression of other portions by the action of powerful internal forces. In this point of view even earthquakes may have their uses, and act to prevent the world from gradually becoming a vast aqueous desert.—Scientific American.

In St. Louis, a few days ago, some boys were playing on a vacant lot, when a radical named Stewart living adjacent, came out to drive them away, and throw a brickbat at them hitting a boy about a dozen years of age and killing him almost instantaneously. BEAUTY OF HIGH TARIFF.—A friend of ours, just from Europe said to us the other day: "How much did you pay for that suit of summer tweed you have on, for I perceive that it is made of Scotch goods, like my own?" "I paid fifty-five dollars for it in New York," was the reply: "And I paid fifteen dollars for mine in London," he responded.

The forty dollars difference is simply taken from our pockets by an act of Congress, to accommodate the high tariff notions of certain politicians.—N. Y. Sunday Times.

In building a chimney put a quantity of salt into the mortar with which the intercourses of brick are to be laid. The effect will be that there never will be any accumulation of soot in that chimney. The philosophy is thus stated: The salt in the portion of the mortar which is exposed absorbs moisture from the atmosphere every damp day. The soot, thus becoming damp, falls down into the fire-place. This appears to be an English discovery. It is used with success in Canada.

DEAR STATESMAN: Allow me to congratulate your readers and the people of the Territory upon the adjournment of the Legislature, for certainly a more corrupt body of men never were convened to frame laws for a civilized people.

MARK YOU, in thus characterizing the Legislature, I exclusively refer to the majority who controlled the doings of the body. In the minority were numbers of most excellent men, who were constantly lifting up their voices in denunciation of the frauds and corruption that fairly tainted the atmosphere in the neighborhood of the Capital, but the protests of these were drowned in the noisy clamor of the vultures who thirsted to whet their beaks in the flesh and blood of the people.

A DIRTY TOOL.

To carry out their nefarious designs the radicals selected a dirty tool, named McLane, to preside over the Council, and well did he meet the expectations of those who had seen in him a man ready for any work of infamy.

THE VETOES.

To look for honest legislation from men of this character would be about as wise as to expect to gather grapes from thorns, and thus it was that all good men rejoiced when Governor Flanders signified his intention to veto the greater part of the laws coming from so foul a source.

GOOD LAWS.

Notwithstanding the steady stream of corruption that flowed through the halls of legislation, some really good measures were enacted into laws and among these I may enumerate the revenue law, which is mainly taken from the Oregon code.

THE END.

The time has now come when I must close this series of letters, and take my departure from the Territorial capital. Olympia boasts some good men and better women, but take it as a whole it is the most corrupt place of its size on the American continent, and when I leave the place and shake the dust from my feet, it will be in the pious hope that no cruel fate will ever again doom me to tread the streets of this modern Sodom.

TEXAS CATTLE.—The Supreme Court has decided that the law passed by the State of Illinois prohibiting the introduction of Texas cattle is unconstitutional.

The court held that the Legislature might just as well have prohibited the introduction of Kentucky whiskey or Connecticut clocks. Our own Legislature passed a law of this character which was vetoed on the ground of unconstitutionality, but subsequently passed over the veto by a two-third vote.

As soon as I shall go to Boston, there I shall arrange my property and endeavor to raise money enough for bail, and then I will sue him and make him prove that I wear false calves.

Steam Fire Engine.

EDITOR STATESMAN: In the last issue of your paper a short article appeared on the subject of a steam fire engine, to which I ask space to reply. The article in question is one to which, in point of temper, no one can object, and I presume was intended merely to excite discussion and attract the attention of the people. This is eminently proper and correct.

The third class engine, which we want, weighs 3,600 pounds, and with suction hose, fuel, water, &c., 4,500 pounds. Constructed as it is it can be run with more ease than the present hand engine, as any one can very easily determine by a simple inspection of the two. The engine we now have weighs 2,600 pounds. Now, it is well known that the company run anywhere about this city with their present engine; if then from the construction the steamer can be run with more ease, where is the necessity of horses? H. C. Silsby, the manufacturer of the steamer, in a private letter, dated October 29, says: "Your citizens need have no fears as to their ability to haul one of our third class engines about your streets—great numbers of them are used where they have vastly worse roads than yours, and with hilly streets, and quite a large number of our second-class are used by hand in similar places. In fact any company that can handle a Hunneymun Tub can as easily haul our machines."

No additional expense will be incurred for fireman and engineer, as one company handles of many men possessors of the requisite qualifications.

Now, when it is known that a steamer placed in the hands of the fire company could have saved in the Congregational Church, barn and dwelling house—all of which were destroyed by fire in two years—more than would be sufficient to purchase a steamer, I can see no good reason why any property holder should oppose the same. Let facts easily proven be submitted to the candid; The third-class engine discharges from 400 to 450 gallons of water every minute, with sixty pounds of steam, and throws a one and one-eighth inch stream 180 feet, or a one inch stream 220 feet, or a three-fourth inch stream 180 feet with a steam pressure of 56 pounds; it can easily be seen what effect this must have on fires. These facts are certified to by the City Council of Chicago, of St. Louis, and almost every other city in the Union.

It is then certain that the property above named with a steamer could be saved. Will persons owning property liable at any time to be destroyed by fire, object to its preservation by the payment of a few dollars tax? Add the further fact that insurance agents are instructed by their companies to insure property in cities where steamers are found at four per cent less than where they are not found, and we have a strong reason in favor of the tax. Washington Fire Engine Company is now composed of some of the substantial citizens of the place, representing all classes and occupations, strong in determination to save, and willing to work and to peril in the suppression of fire, and I ask in all good conscience, can the good people of Walla Walla refuse them the means to accomplish good for themselves?

N. T. CATON.

The theological argument in support of the gallows is twofold: 1. The old Mosaic injunction of an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth and blood for blood; 2. That in view of the death penalty to which one is convicted, he generally becomes very penitent, contrite, prayerful for forgiveness, and thus prepares his soul for eternal felicity; and when he escapes the gallows by the commutation of his sentence to imprisonment, all his pious feelings are dissipated, and he relapses into his former evil habits; therefore, humanity suggests the prompt hanging of the pious convict in order that he may make his exit to the eternal world under the favor of saying grace.

The Row in the Council.

BORROR TAIKUNE.—Having published the garbled and one-sided statement of Smith and Vasyokle in relation to the difficulty that transpired in the Council Chamber on Friday, the 26th ult., I have to ask you to publish the following version of the affair, which will be verified under oath by the gentlemen making the statement:

Very respectfully,
WM. H. NEWELL.

The undersigned were present in the Council Chamber on Friday last and witnessed the difficulty between Messrs. Bradshaw and Newell. Mr. Bradshaw said that the world in the large member from Walla Walla that a law of libel had passed, which may increase the criminal business at Walla Walla. Mr. Newell said that he would inform the gentleman that the citizens of Port Townsend complained of the existence of hog and cattle-thieves in that section of the Territory but did not know that there were any of them at Olympia now. Mr. Bradshaw rose and asked "if he meant him," and before leaving his seat said: "You are a liar and a scoundrel," and leaving his desk, crossed the hall defiantly towards Mr. Newell, saying, as he went: "You are a liar and scoundrel; I will call you so, and will meet you any time inside or outside the bar." The Sergeant-at-Arms interfered and put his hand on Mr. Bradshaw. Mr. Bradshaw again said: "You are a liar and a scoundrel."

Mr. Newell then threw a glass tumbler at Bradshaw. Bradshaw fell. The Sergeant-at-Arms did not have hold of Bradshaw at the time. Newell then passed between the railing and his desk to the open space to the right of the President's chair. Mr. Vasyokle was outside of the railing and came in just as Mr. Newell took his stand in the open space above mentioned. The President did not command order, but the Sergeant-at-Arms endeavored to perform his duty without such order. We think the majority report of Smith and Vasyokle does great injustice to Mr. Newell. Mr. Bradshaw, on that occasion, gave the first affront and showed the first hostile demonstrations, and if the legal principle prevails that the aggressor is the culpable party, we can see no just reason for the unfair and unjust discrimination, against Mr. Newell, contained in the majority report.

SALE OF THE "COMING HORSE."

—Mr. Robert Bonner has just purchased the stallion Major Winfield, the "coming horse," and has changed his name to Edward Everett. The price paid was twenty thousand dollars cash, and the seller, ex-Sheriff Libburn, of Rockland county, remarked it was the largest sum of money that he ever had in his pocket at one time. Major Winfield—now Edward Everett—is the sire of Commodore Vanderbilt's Mountain Boy, and of Mr. Bonner's much more wonderful five-year-old, Joe Elliott, who on the 4th day of November trotted a mile in 2:19, the fastest mile ever trotted on Long Island, except by Dexter, who is a half brother of this stallion. He is altogether the finest stallion sired by Old Hambletonian. We learn that Mr. Bonner's idea in purchasing him is to experiment on breeding a race of hardy trotters from his celebrated mares Flatbush, Palmer, Peeries, etc. Edward Everett is a bright bay, a little over fifteen hands high, and is now in Mr. Bonner's stable in this city. He is gaited very much like his most noted son Joe Elliott. The shrewd horsemen say that this purchase is a great piece of generalship on the part of Mr. Bonner, as he now gets all the benefit of the performances of his own colt, and indirectly of those of Mountain Boy, who was sired by this stallion also.

A case of divorce in New York just decided, involved an important principle as to what constitutes a valid marriage.

Mrs. Bissel applied for divorce and alimony on the ground of desertion and refusal to support her. Mr. Bissel entered the defense that he was not married to her, although they had lived together some years and children were born unto them. The facts were that he had promised to live with her as her husband and (no witnesses being present) placed a ring upon her finger to seal the contract. This together and having children was held by the Court to have been a good and sufficient marriage. That was a righteous decision.

THE increase of crime in Prussia is such that there is no more room in the prisons, and the government has been obliged to secure some old castles in which to accommodate the surplus prisoners.

Although the fact does not prove much in favor of the home policy of Count Bismarck, still it is turning the old establishments to good account. The spirits of the old barons of the middle ages will doubtless be indignant at the idea of being thrown into the company of culprits who have passed the ordeal of a modern police court.

The assessment of real and personal property in Philadelphia for 1899 gives a total valuation of $471,600,000, which is an increase of $17,500,000 over last year.

KEEPING APPLES.—The best way we know of is to have shelves erected in the cellar expressly for fruit—pears and apples. Let them be about two feet wide and one foot apart, and as many and as long as may be desired, commencing six to twelve inches from the bottom. The shelves should be formed of slates two inches wide and one inch apart, and the fruit laid in single layers. The tier should have a close board bottom, which should be covered with an inch of fine fresh lime, which should be renewed two or three times during the winter. The cellar should be ventilated at midday for an hour daily (as every cellar ought to be under all circumstances), unless the weather is intensely cold, and the temperature should of course not be allowed to fall below the freezing point, which can be done by closing the windows and doors carefully. If from the fact that the temperature should be raised above fifty by reason of a heater, it must be contracted by the admission of outside air. The fruit should be sorted over weekly. This is not nearly as troublesome as it appears to be when once adopted; and the fact that it will preserve "winter" apples and pears until March and April, will render the labor one of pleasure as well as of profit.

How THE TIMBER GOES.—Speaking of the rapid diminution of the forests of America, an Eastern journal says: The present consumption of wood in the United States is enormous. One hundred and fifty thousand acres of the best timber is cut every year to supply the demand for railway sleepers alone. For railroad buildings, repairs, and cars, the annual expenditure in wood is thirty-eight millions of dollars. In a single year the locomotives in the United States consume fifty-six millions of dollars worth of wood. There are, in the whole country, more than four hundred thousand artisans in wood; and if the value of their labor is one thousand dollars a year, each, the wood industry of the country represents an amount of nearly five hundred millions of dollars per annum. It will, be seen therefore, how extensive are the interest dependent upon the production of lumber. Probably laws will have eventually to be enacted by the State Legislatures to prevent such destruction of the forests as will be likely to result in natural injury to the country, and it may be necessary to encourage the planting of forests to meet the demands of the future.

CURIOSITIES.—At the city of Medina, in Italy, and about four miles around it, wherever the earth is dug when the workmen arrive at a distance of sixty feet, they come to a bed of chalk, which they bore with an augur five feet deep. They then withdraw from the pit before the augur is removed, and upon its extraction the water bursts through the aperture, with great violence, and quickly fills the newly-made well, which continues full, and is affected by neither rain nor drought; but what is the most remarkable in this operation is the layers of earth as we descend. At the depth of 14 feet are found the ruins of an ancient city, paved streets, houses, floors and pieces of masonry work. Under this is found a soft, oozy earth, made up of vegetables, and at 26 feet large trees entire, such as walnut trees, with the walnuts still stuck to the stem, and the leaves and branches in a perfect state of preservation. At 28 feet a soft chalk is found, mixed with a vast quantity of shells, and the bed is eleven feet thick. Under this vegetables are found again.

A recently-appointed postmistress at a postoffice on the plains sends her first quarterly report to the department with the following footnote: "For weeks past I have slept with a six shooks pillow and a carving knife under my pillow, expecting at break of day the Indians would come for my scalp, but all this has not been half so harassing to my mind as the making out of one quarterly report."

Terrible Tragedy.

The San Francisco Call of the 16th ult. contains the particulars of a terrible tragedy which occurred in the South Sea. There is a company on the island of Tahiti, styled the Tahiti Cotton Company. They have plantations there, and in the absence of laborers they send a ship to Gilbert Island for a cargo of natives to work on them. The first venture of this kind proved so successful—the natives being such good workers, that some six months ago the same company sent for another cargo. The vessel reached its destination in safety, and succeeded in getting between two and three hundred natives; and with that number the ship sailed for Tahiti.

During the first few days of the voyage the natives behaved very well but about the tenth day out, they began to show an insubordinate disposition. This change in their conduct was noticed, and accordingly the leading spirits among them were watched.

On the fifteenth night from the time of first setting sail, the Coolies made an attack upon those of the crew who were on deck, and succeeded in killing two of them. The Captain, who ran out of his cabin upon hearing the noise, was set upon and beaten to death with marline-spikes and belaying pins.

When the first mate saw what had happened, he pushed into the hold, where there were a couple of kegs of powder. These he carried under the hatchway and pouring a quantity of powder on the floor, laid a train from there to the afterpart of the ship. This done, he climbed up the hatchway and shot one of the Coolies with his revolver. By this means he attracted their attention. He then dropped back into the hold and ran to where his train started. The Coolies instantly began to tumble down the hatchway, cursing, howling and swearing in the wild manner. The mate watched his opportunity and ignited the train. There was a flash, a report and the vessel shook and trembled as if she had suddenly struck upon a rock. The air was filled with shrieks and groans, while the dense smoke penetrated every recess and became so stifling, the mate was compelled to crawl upon deck. Strange to say none of the crew, whom the Coolies had not killed, were injured by the explosion, and when they heard the mate's voice after he had regained the deck they immediately joined him.

The explosion killed a great many of the Coolies outright, wounded many more and so frightened the rest, that they jumped into the sea. When they attempted to regain the ship, the crew, with cutlasses and pikes soon dispatched them. There was a slight breeze blowing at the time, and the vessel was borne away from the swarm of Coolies struggling in the water.

Upon examination the mate found that the vessel was not seriously injured; and such repairs were made as enabled her to reach Tahiti in safety.

It is likely that no more Coolies will be brought from Gilbert Island. OFFICIAL MONTHS IN WASHINGTON.—From the Washington telegrams to the Cincinnati Gazette, we clip the extracts which follow. Life in Washington among the department officials will soon rank with that of the members of Congress.

ALLEGED IMMORALITY OF AN OFFICIAL.—Charges of a very serious character have been filed with the proper Cabinet officer against the head of one of the bureaus in his department, who has heretofore stood high in public opinion. They involve a sad story of the seduction, desertion and suicide of a young woman. The matter is under investigation by the department, and the house in Seventeenth street, where it is alleged the suicide of the girl took place, is tonight in charge of the police. The official said to be involved was summoned from the funeral of General Rawlins to this house, and it is stated that hush money was paid to several persons who learned of the death, and that the undertakers were also kept quiet.

ANOTHER VILLAIN.—Publication is made here today of letters and affidavits, from which it appears that one of the principal clerks in the Third Auditor's office is involved as principal in what comes very near being a case of rape. The Third Auditor is inquiring into this matter.

GENERALS BAEZ AND LOGALLA have sailed for San Domingo on the steamer Albany. The former took sealed instructions as to the course to be pursued regarding the question of annexation. Immediately upon the arrival of the Albany, President Baez will submit to a popular vote of the people of the island the question of annexing the republic to the United States. If the vote is favorable, Commissioners will be at once sent to Washington to arrange terms. The conditions exacted by Baez are the assumption of the debt of the republic, and the purchase of the public buildings, forts, &c.—less than $2,000,000 in all.

A MONTANA paper rather extravagantly says that the gold product of Deer Lodge county, anywhere inside of $20,000,000 annually, is only limited by the amount of water that can be conveyed on its placers and the number of men to work them. We have now 279 miles of public ditches, with a capacity of over 20,000 inches, and more miners than any other country, but these are still inadequate.

MORE THAN 100,000 PERSONS

Bear testimony to the Wonderful Curative Effects of Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS.

A CURE FOR EVERY DISEASE. DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS. Manufactured from the Native Herbs and Roots of California, is THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and Life-Giving Principal.

PURIFY THE BLOOD and the health of the system will follow. Dr. Walker's Bitters are the best offered which can compare with these BITTERS. By their peculiar virtues they stimulate the vital functions, and thus cap the distempers which lurk within the system.

The Life of all Flesh is the Blood Thereof. Cleanse the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well.

Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters. Are a true medicine, placed in the hands of the people by the most skillful and experienced chemists, according to directions, and remain long unwell. They are a perfect Renovator of the System, and they carry off every particle of poisonous matter. Every family should have a bottle of them at hand. No sailor, soldier, mechanic, farmer, professional man, or traveler should ever be without it. Its timely application may often be the means of saving life.

For Female Complaints. Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Female Bitters display the most marked and permanent improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout. These Bitters have been most successful. They are called by vitiated blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the digestive organs.

It is a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic. Possessing, also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and all the Visceral Organs. In this respect, these Bitters have no equal.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms. Lurking in the systems of so many thousand of this Coast are effectually destroyed and removed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion. This disease, in a measure, is occasioned by the irregularity and want of action in the Liver, biliousness, gall bladder, etc. Headache, Pain in the shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Sleeplessness, the Impediments of the Lungs, Copious Discharges of Urine, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offspring of this Dyspepsia. For these troubles take Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, and quickly all painful symptoms will disappear. These Bitters stimulate and invigorate the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, and induce a regularity of nature, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system, carrying off, without the aid of calomel or other internal medicine, every particle of humors accumulated within the system, and the pale and sallow will become fresh and vigorous.

Morbid Condition of the Blood. This is the fruitful source of many diseases, such as Tetter or Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Eczema, Carbuncles, Sores, Ulcers, Pimples, and Eruptions of all kinds. For the cure of these various affections, which are merely symptoms of a morbid condition of the blood, medical science and all have failed, until discovered a Blood Purifier equal to Walker's Vinegar Bitters.

Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder. It thoroughly eradicates every kind of humor and bad habit, and restores the entire system to a healthy condition. It is perfectly harmless, never producing the slightest injury. Let it be distinctly borne in mind that Dr. Walker's Vinegar Bitters is not a mild pill, to be taken at the eye or nose, but a powerful medicine, which is composed of the best vegetable ingredients of the most natural and purest quality, so far as discovery has yet extended. It may be considered incredible that so many cases, considered heretofore incurable, have been frequently cured in a few days, and we cheerfully invite the investigation of the liberal minded and scientific to the cures it has made.

Many years ago, the writer of these lines and an invalid physician, while visiting the Island of St. Croix for their health, experienced and witnessed many surprising and beneficial effects of the Rum there produced upon many of the invalids who were (like ourselves) seeking health; and, upon inquiry and investigation, obtained a full history of its medicinal virtues. He was delighted and surprised, and after his own recovery, which soon occurred, determined, if possible, to procure the sole right to manufacture and sell it in the United States.

The result of his labors was a glorious success for himself and suffering humanity, for the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS was thus made known to the world. PLANTATION BITTERS being an article of real merit, founded upon new principles, and relying wholly upon the vegetable world for its medicinal effects, worked a rapid revolution in the history of medicine, and became as a household word all over the civilized world. The celebrated S. T.—1860—X was a tallman of health, and the demand for the PLANTATION BITTERS soon far exceeded the abilities of the proprietors to supply.

Notwithstanding the large importation of St. Croix Rum, made expressly for the compounding of these Bitters, the quantity was inadequate. It therefore became necessary that arrangements upon an extensive scale should at once be made, and an agent was dispatched to St. Thomas for that purpose. He was fortunate in securing and leasing several plantations on some of the largest and most productive estates on the Island. Houses, stills and presses were erected as if by magic, which utterly "astonished the natives." The services of experienced men and natives of the island were procured, and very soon the proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS were in a position to supply their laboratory with all the perfectly pure St. Croix Rum needed in manufacturing the GREAT DYSPEPTIC TONIC AND INVIGORATOR. The above cut represents the natives crushing the sugar-cane and otherwise preparing it for the stills and presses.

As an antidote to Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Malarious Fevers, Dyspepsia, and other kindred diseases, the use of the PLANTATION BITTERS is unsurpassed in the history of the world. Over five million bottles are disposed of annually. They are adapted to old and young, male and female. They are agreeable in taste, and always produce an immediate beneficial result.

The Appetite for Tobacco Destroyed. Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco. ORTON'S PREPARATION. ESTABLISHED, 1860.

One box of Orton's Preparation is warranted to destroy the appetite for Tobacco, in any person who desires to quit the habit. If it fails in any case, the person who desires to quit the habit may have the money well refunded. It is perfectly harmless, and does not break off the use of Tobacco by the mere cessation of the habit. Some persons, however, who are unable to quit the habit so firmly, will find the best help of the best tobacco. Humors, however, are not destroyed by the use of Orton's Preparation. It is a powerful agent for the purpose of destroying the appetite for Tobacco, and thoroughly clearing the system of the morbid craving for Tobacco. No person who is using Orton's Preparation, however, will find the habit so firmly rooted.

RECOMMENDATIONS. The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession: We, the undersigned, hereby certify that we have used Orton's Preparation for the purpose of destroying the appetite for tobacco and assure those who are suffering from this habit that Orton's Preparation will certainly destroy the appetite for tobacco, and break off the use of tobacco, and without any bad effect upon the health and without creating an appetite either for the Preparation or any substitute.

For about twenty years I had used tobacco in its various forms, and for the past eight years had been an inveterate smoker. Becoming satisfied that the extensive use of this narcotic seriously impaired my health, I determined if possible to break myself of the habit. Hearing of Orton's Preparation for destroying the appetite for tobacco, I sent to Portland, Maine, for a box of the medicine, which I received through the mail on the first of November. A month has not elapsed, and yet the medicine has effectually relieved me from my craving desire to use tobacco in any form. The Preparation is not more difficult or unpleasant to take than common chewing gum, and I conscientiously believe the Preparation will have the promised and desired effect in every instance where it is given a fair trial. Upon that belief and from an earnest desire to assist others who wish to break away from the slavish appetite for Tobacco, I offer this testimonial.

SAMUEL CASSIDY. Beware of counterfeits and all articles purporting to be like this, of the same name or otherwise. The great popularity of Orton's Preparation has induced unprincipled persons to attempt palming upon the public counterfeit and inferior articles. Purchasers will please order directly from the proprietor, or his fully authorized agents. The price of Orton's Preparation is $2.00 per box, or six boxes for $10.00 sent by mail to any part of the country, securely sealed from observation, with postage paid on receipt of price.

How to send money by mail. Enclose the amount in a letter, and carefully register the letter and take receipt for it of your Postmaster. Money sent by mail is a more direct and safe way. Address C. B. CUTTON, Proprietor, Box 124, Portland, Maine. An agent wanted in every town. 25 2m
