THE REFINEMENTS OF CRUELTY.

There are numerous forms of cruelty which it is possible to practice on sensitive persons, and especially on women, without inflicting actual bodily pain.

Sometimes it was poison which the husband pretended to have taken. Sometimes the pistol or razor was again called into play.

A minor diversion of this unworthy husband was to urge his wife to make all the preparations needed for a prolonged visit of some place where he knew she wished very much to go.

EDISON'S KINETOGRAPH.

Ever since the telephone was invented to enable us to hear what somebody was saying, and the phonograph to enable us to hear what somebody had stopped saying, the curious minds that, like the ancient Athenians, are ever ready to hear or to tell some new thing, have wondered how soon electricity would do for the eye what it has done for the ear.

There ought to be no insuperable obstacle to doing for another one of the five senses what has already been done for one of them, and if the wonderful electrical wizard keeps his health and lives long enough he will doubtless apply the same principle to the sense of smelling and tasting.

CAVANAUGH AS A HEALER.

Sprague Advertiser: It would seem that nothing new has occurred in the political circles of late, except that the Spokane politicians claim, as a blind, to be laying waste. Those who watch their movements closely will notice that the principal points of contention are the principal points.

H. A. GRIFFIN.

quence, Spokane will be compelled to help Yakima out, now that the college fight has been inaugurated.

A DIVINE says it must puzzle the angels to understand what some men mean by their talk in prayer meeting when they see how little cash they take to church with them on Sunday.

Ex-Congressman MORRISON, of the interstate commerce commission, says that Grover Cleveland will be nominated by the democrats in 1902, if New York state consents.

TACOMA water is said to be very bad, but it is a question if it is quite so bad as made out by a traveling man who asked an abstemious companion what he imbibed when he visited the City of Destiny.

It is said that John L. Wilson has such an itching to become governor of the state that he cannot rest at night, and during the day he gives no rest to the politicians with whom he comes in contact.

How is this? Walls Walls, which certainly is not as highly endowed as Yakima in climate or productiveness of soil, is shipping more berries to the Sound country than we are, and yet the rates are 90 cents per hundred greater than from this point.

What's great progress has been going on in the building of gunboats, battle-ships, torpedo boats and other means of naval warfare, the advances in the science of warfare on land has not been neglected.

INFORMATION FOR ANGLERS.

The Way to Lure the Gamy Trout—Something About the Best Bait Now Made.

In selecting rods for trout fishing it was considered many years ago that the proper length was fourteen to sixteen feet, and, indeed, until quite recently English anglers clung tenaciously to rods of these sizes.

As in weight and length, so does preference for the material for a rod vary. Bamboo, split in six pieces, and glued together into a hexagonal shape, appears to have the greatest number of admirers, while betabara, lance and doganme woods have each their adherents.

In fly fishing the most killing lures are generally in grays, blacks and gingers, and in combinations of these colors, with perhaps now and then just a least dash of red on the bodies.

While fly fishing for trout, when compared with bait fishing, is generally regarded as being far superior to the latter, yet there are many who either prefer angling with worms or cannot successfully cast an artificial fly.

Before being used the worms should be thoroughly secured of the earthy matter which they contain. This may be done by placing them in a receptacle containing clean fibrous moss, through which they will crawl and become cleaned.

When on the fishing ground it is better to take to the water and fish down stream, not only because, an account of the riffly nature of most trout waters, the angler is less liable to be seen, but because once having hooked a fish, as it generally strikes at once straight down stream, it is easier to keep it from freeing itself than when it is running at right angles with the rod.

But whether the angler for trout fishes down stream or up stream, from the water or from the bank, he should always remember that his movements ought to be characterized by quietness and stealth, and by keeping out of sight of the fish sought for as much as possible, for the brook trout is a shy fish as well as a game one, and anything that has a suspicious look will cause it to scurry away to a place of safety, and all attempts to capture it will, for the time being, prove futile. YAKIMA TO BE AMUSED.—"A Social Season," one of the most successful and sparkling of comedies, will be presented at the opera house June 25. The newspaper press is glowing in its accounts of this musical comedy, and the company presenting it is one of the strongest which has ever favored the northwest, and includes among its leading ladies the talented daughter of Mrs. Kate Chase Sprague. The company is accompanied by the famous Black Horse band and a splendid orchestra.

—Sam Chappell spent several days on the reservation last week and talked with many of the leading Indians, who express themselves as greatly pleased with the manner in which the new agent, Mr. Jay

Lynch, has entered upon the discharge of his duties, and they believe that his incumbency of office will be in every way satisfactory. Mr. Lynch proposes to favor North Yakima as far as possible in the purchase of supplies rather than send to the coast cities, as some of his predecessors have done.

—H. J. Envelty is at Tacoma looking after the agricultural college injunction suit. The case has been continued from day to day, as Judge Allen has been away and Judge Campbell's time has been taken up with other suits.

—Mr. Charles Carpenter says that as far as he can see and hear, and he is a very careful observer, there is no occasion to have any fears for the hop vines this year. "If a fly lights on the hop vine," said Mr. Carpenter to a Herald reporter, "there is an outcry immediately, but as yet no vermin have appeared here and all of the conditions indicate that there will be no trouble on that score."

—In 1890 Joseph Bowser in staking out a claim upon the Ahtanum blazed a young tree and with a lead pencil described the land claimed. Recently the body of this tree was brought to the office of Fichter & Ross, and although the wood had grown over the original marking, when this was stripped away the description could be seen as distinctly as though it had been put there but yesterday.

—Auditor Ellis has received information from Tacoma that lots are being given away in National Park City, the platted basaltic mountain up the Yakima canyon, but that $2.50 is charged for the deeds. At that rate an acre of land that was assessed at 12 1/2 cents will bring $40, and the townsite of 120 acres, valued at about fifteen dollars, will realize for its enterprising projectors over five thousand dollars.

—Mrs. Orpha Martin gives lessons in brocade and transparent painting, also fancy painting on dresses, silk, satin and lawn; makes fancy paper flowers. Prices reasonable. First street, one block and a half north of Hotel Bartholet.

—You should see that elegant china set given as a prize at H. A. Griffin's.

—We would call the attention of the citizens of North Yakima and the surrounding country to the fact that we have one of the newest and coolest fish and oyster markets as one might see in any metropolitan city.

ELECTION OF CITY OFFICIALS.

The New Council Gives Head of the Old Officers an Indefinite Vacation—Rodman Gets the Clerkship After a Penial Struggle.

The council chamber was the scene of very interesting proceedings Monday evening, the occasion being the first regular session of the newly elected board. That music was expected could be easily told by the great number of spectators present and the look of interest or anxiety depicted on every face.

Every member of the council was present and Mayor Nichols was in the chair. The councilmen had emptied their trunks and were there in their Sunday clothes, while Clerk Spain was resplendent in a broad expanse of immaculate shirt front, white vest and a red rose. It was a very good-looking body of men, and they were about the same expression that is accredited to Atlas when he is packing the world around on his shoulders.

After the meeting was called to order and a few preliminaries attended to, the balloting for officers commenced. The first office to be balloted for was that of marshal. Councilman Reed nominated Ben McMurry, Cox nominated P. A. Stanton and Needham nominated Ed Henderson. C. W. Carpenter, J. A. Leach and G. H. Moulton made application for the position by means of petitions.

The first ballot stood three for McMurry, three for Henderson and one for Stanton. On the third ballot McMurry dropped down one, which was given to Leach, but he recovered on the next ballot, and this position was maintained by all of the candidates up to the 22nd ballot, when Henderson lost one vote, which went to McMurry and resulted in his election.

For city justice but one ballot was taken. The candidates were S. C. Hendon and G. W. Gardner, the latter receiving four votes to three for Hendon.

The interest again quickened over the clerkship. Thomas A. French and Bernard Wilkinson made application by letter for the position, while F. M. Spain was nominated by Tucker and G. W. Rodman by Needham. Councilman Reed and Bartholomew were tellers, and when Mr. Reed announced the ballot as four for Spain and three for Rodman there seemed to be a very black lock on the faces of several of the councilmen for a few minutes and then there was a whispered consultation between Cox, Carpenter, Needham and Miller, after which Mr. Cox arose and addressing the chair objected to the count on the grounds that he had reason to believe that G. W. Rodman had received a majority of the votes cast. By this time the tickets had been torn into small pieces, but Mr. Reed said that the votes were as he had read them. Teller Bartholomew, when questioned by the chair, said that he had not paid any attention to the ballots and could not say.

Mrs. G. M. McKinney and children, her mother, Mrs. S. C. Caldwell, and her nephew, Mrs. Cyrus Points, arrived in the city recently and expect to be joined by Mr. McKinney within a week or ten days.

Nicholas McCoy returned from the Okanogan country Saturday, bringing rich specimens from all the principal mines. He has great faith in the country, and proposes to return there later in the season.

Adam Grant, of Murphy, Grant & Co., the big merchants of San Francisco, and Wm. Grant, of Grant's station, Oregon, spent last Friday and Saturday in the city the guests of Joseph Baxter. The Messrs. Grant visited the Moze while here and were greatly delighted with the country and amazed at the wonderful development made in a few years.

A PANACEA FOR ALL.—THE HERALD'S want column is proving a great success. H. B. Scudder sent in a want advertisement last week for men to work on his dairy ranch and ordered it to stand until forbidden. Two days had not elapsed until the instructions came to take it out, for the reason that he had applications in plenty. Another case was that of a saddle advertised for sale. There was a buyer before the owner was ready to deliver the goods. The moral to be drawn from this is, that if you want help, if you want a situation, if you have lost anything, or found anything, or have any wants of any character unsatisfied, advertise in THE HERALD.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.—Decorations day was observed in Yakima with more than usual interest. The city was filled with people, and the general expression was, "where did they all come from?" The procession was a very creditable one for a city of much greater population. It was headed by the band, and included the local posts of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans, the militia, the council and city officials and the firemen. The latter with their new and showy uniforms, their highly burnished engine and handsome hose carts, presented a very picturesque appearance. The exercises at the opera house were carried out according to the program and were of an interesting character. Not only was every seat in the hall occupied, but there was not even a standing room and many were unable to obtain entrance.

THE SAMPLES WERE APPRECIATED.—A correspondent from Ditchington, the headquarters of the work on the big irrigation canal, writes as follows: "Mr. Dilly, deputy sheriff from North Yakima, accompanied by some officers from Royston, paid Ditchington a visit on Tuesday in search of some offender against the majesty of the law, but as the regulations in Ditchington are very strict against suspicious characters, said offender was not found. The officers of the law were also accompanied by a commercial traveler from North Yakima, who left his case of samples in the back while he joined the officers in the search. The samples consisted of bottled beer and were taken care of during his absence. This drummer will always receive a cordial welcome at Ditchington, provided that he always brings a well filled case of samples with him."

The interest on one dollar loaned for one hundred years at 12 per cent. amounts to $84,075.

Ellis, county auditor in and for Yakima county, Washington, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct transcript of the record of the proceedings of the county commissioners' court during the May term, commencing May 4, 1891, and closing May 7, 1891, as appears of record in my office in journal "C," pages 75 to 104 inclusive, of the record of the proceedings of the commissioners' court.

THE RESURRECTION BONE.

Some Facts About Cremation and the Ashes of the Deceased.

It is said in the brief details of Emma Abbott's cremation rites, that the sweet singer was reduced to two or three pounds of ashes, which was preserved in a silver vase.

Now, it is well known that a two, or even four, hours incineration does not totally consume the bones, and there is always a mass of these left, which are thrown away as refuse.

Among these human bones is one which is believed to be impervious to death or decay. It is a small bone, part of the backbone, and is called "Luz." It is said that the learned rabbi demonstrated to the Emperor Adrian that water could not stop it, fire could not burn it, a mill could not grind it, nor could any hammer break it.

The resurrection bone is supposed by many to be the nucleus of the immortal body. Houdinra wrote: "All the other members shall, they say, spring out of this as from a seed."

This question arises, would not it be more in keeping with the importance of mortuary rites to have the bones burned in the cemetery lot, while the ashes find their repose in the silver urn, and may be retained in the household? Even a superstition has weight in favor of an idea.

Things to Remember. From 90,000 to 120,000 hairs grow in a human scalp. The estimated population of the world is 1,450,000,000.

There is only one sudden death among women to every eight among men. On July 6 the earth is farther away from the sun than at any other time.

Of the white population in America 8 per cent. is unable to read or write. Farm hands in the United States, taking the country as a whole, occupy only 250 acres in every 1,000.

A healthy adult, doing an ordinary amount of work, will require from ten to twelve ounces of meat a day. To complete their growth the nails of the left hand require eight or ten days more than those of the right.

A grain of fine sand would cover 100 of the minute scales of the human skin, and yet each of these scales in turn cover from 300 to 500 pores. There are about 105 women to every 100 men; one quarter of the population of the world die before the age of 17 years, only one in 1,000 lives to be 100 years old, and only six in 1,000 reach 75.
