KILLED AT THEIR POSTS.

THE DESPERATE STRUGGLE OF THE GREEKS AT THERMOPILE.

It was a forlorn hope undertaken by Leonidas in order to humble the Persians and stimulate the courage of his own people.

Copyright, 1891, by American Press Association. Book rights reserved.

Leonidas and his 300 Spartans at Thermopylae.

For seven years the Persians made warlike preparations to overrun Greece in revenge for their defeat by the Athenians at Marathon, and because the conquest of Greece would carry with it all Europe and give Persia a dominion from the rising to the setting sun. The whole empire of the east was levied upon for troops, animals, provisions, ships and general supplies.

In autumn, 481 B. C., Xerxes set out from the eastern limits of Asia with a host estimated at from 1,000,000 to 2,500,000 fighting men, including the crews of over 1,000 war ships. The Greek spies who were caught in his camp were not put to death according to custom, but were allowed to see the vastness of the Persian armament, and to return to tell their people about it. In the belief that the puny states of the little peninsula would be overawed by the intelligence, and would submit without a blow to the summons of the invading monarch.

The land force comprised the soldiers of forty-six different nations, each contingent having its own mode of costume and arms, and equipped as well as the Greeks. Many nations carried spears or swords only, and others had simply staves or bows.

Leonidas, a Spartan, was chosen commander of the land force, and another Spartan, named Pausanias, was chosen commander of the fleet.

When the Persian fleet was seen, the Greeks fled to the mountains of Thermopylae, and there they made a stand.

The Persians, who were in the rear, were surprised by the Greeks, and were driven back.

TWO BOLD SEA FIGHTS.

WHERE AN AMERICAN FRIGATE WHIPPED CRACK FOREIGN SHIPS.

Commodore Truxtun and the Constellation in the West Indies with France—The Insurgents Were Captured and the Vengeance Beaten with Heavy Loss.

Copyright, 1891, by American Press Association. Book rights reserved.

Fortune always favored the side having the most guns there were not to be written about, for in that case antagonists would simply come together and parade their armaments, and the question of the best man being decided by the show, would shake hands like two men going to a fight.

When the Constellation engaged the enemy her heavy guns had been exchanged for sixteen pounders as better suited to her size and strength than the twenty-four pounders which she carried.

Truxtun proved an able seaman and managed to take the Frenchman several times and escape her return fire.

The Constellation suffered badly, however, and early in the fight the foremast was cut and was in danger of falling from the ship.

The Constellation was out of the fight for some time, but she was able to re-engage the Frenchman.

ERA MEERER, of Puyallup, was in the city Monday and visited several hop fields on the Ahtanum. He discovered some lice and another pest, but not in quantity sufficient to do any damage. In this connection, a paragraph from the Oregonian is worthy of re-publication: "All the little black aphids in the country, and the weeds along the roads are covered with them at this season of the year, are dignified with the name of hop lice. And really, to read the country papers, one would think Oregon is in greater danger than Kansas ever was with grasshoppers. These aphids are really no worse than they have been in years past, but then Oregon didn't have an entomologist to tell her what every little bug was, and there weren't so many alarmists writing for the newspapers in those days, either. It has now been discovered that the hop lice has developed a great fondness for dog fennel. As there is an abundance of this food in the country, every effort should be made to encourage this new appetite."

The recent death of Sir John Macdonald, the premier of Canada, recalls a prophecy he once made with regard to the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, which he said would in time form a greater France. He thought France was declining, while in the old provinces of Canada the French were multiplying like nothing the world had seen before. Not only do they have large families, but they possess all the thrills of the French and are steadily buying up the land. Like that of our New England the soil is comparatively poor and difficult of cultivation, and the English, Irish and Scotch are leaving it for the prairie, the plains and the Pacific coast, "and," said he, "whenever such a farmer expresses a desire to go west, his next door neighbor, a Frenchman, stands ready to buy him out. Soon there will be few except Frenchmen left in old Canada."

Tux hat has gone forth and C. M. Bradshaw, collector of customs at Fort Townsend, is to be honored. He was indicted during the senatorial election in the way of neglecting to rally to the support of Squire, and so the bosses have decreed that his name is Dennis. Some few in eastern Washington will remember Bradshaw as the man who headed the republican ticket during the deoxy duck campaign. On the west side he gained some fame in the Judge Sicha gambling episode, and is known among his intimates as "the silent settler," and perhaps, as "the still hen gets a large brood," according to the agricultural adage, Bradshaw may yet hatch forth chickens of discord that will down his enemies.

Tux hope deferred that maketh the heart sick has been endured by Dr. W. H. Hare with stoic patience, but now he has realized on the political pledges made him, for he has been appointed to the re-employment of the U. S. land office at this place, relieving Mr. Vance, the present incumbent, who has for some time past been urging the department to accept his resignation. Dr. Hare will step into office with the knowledge that he has a host of friends here and that his appointment will be generally satisfactory to the people of this land district.

It is not only the city of North Yakima that should begin the work of improving the main streets leading from town, but the county commissioners should follow the lead. Yakima not only needs drives, but she needs and must have roads that will enable the farmers and producers to bring their products to market at the least possible cost. There should be no parsimony under this head.

The east is sweltering in old Sol's baking rays and the furnace-like atmosphere tells many a victim daily. In this Yakima land of climate there can be no complaint about the weather. The gentle breeze of Boreas fan our cheeks, while Jupiter Pluvius has been anything but parsimonious with his showers that have laid the dust and given assurance of bountiful crops.

There is no need for any Farmers' Alliance party in the Pelican state, for the leading plank of its platform has been discounted by the Louisiana Lottery company, which now guarantees to make loans to the farmers of that state at one per cent. per annum if they will vote for the company's state charter at the coming election.

There is a man in Olympia named Moses H. Scott, who claims he is alive. Nearly every one else says he is dead; the court says so; but he is one of those stubborn men that won't have it that way, and protests against being considered dead.

At the meeting of the State of Washington Mining Association at Seattle, last week, the following officers were elected: President, W. E. Bentley of Seattle; vice-president, Robert Allison of Okanogan; secretary, W. W. Beck, Seattle; treasurer, W. H. Halsworth, Cascade district. Executive committee: The officers named were E. H. Stewart of Seattle; George W. T. Tibbets of Snoqualmie, A. G. Mosier of Skagit, J. L. Warner of Kittitas, Allen C. Mason of Pierce county.

Taylor Stark, who killed Nels Bloomstrom at Seattle, was acquitted of the charge of murder, and on the following day he married his victim's daughter.

The soldiers charged with the murder of Gambler A. J. Hunt at Walla Walla were acquitted.

PERSONAL.

E. T. Wilson returned from Tacoma Tuesday.

Miss Sadie Ward is back from school at Tacoma.

Mrs. R. B. Milroy is down with the typhoid fever.

Miss Scudder is at Tacoma visiting Mrs. Joseph Shriver.

Mrs. J. H. Thomas and Miss Maude Thomas have gone to Tacoma on a shopping tour.

It is given out that the marriage of W. H. James and Miss Stephenson will be celebrated in August.

Mrs. Annie Stone, Mrs. Harmon and Miss Gracie Switzer left Sunday for the Sound on a visit to friends.

Charles Henry and Dr. W. G. Coe expect to leave in a few days to try the efficacy of the waters of Hot Springs.

J. W. Spahr, of Forest, Ohio, a brother-in-law of G. A. Gano, arrived here last week with the intention of remaining.

S. S. Vinson, an uncle of Sam Vinson, is being put forward by the democrats of West Virginia for governor of that state.

W. S. Mellon, general manager, and M. C. Kimberly, general superintendent of the Northern Pacific, spent Sunday in Yakima.

C. A. Congdon spent several days in the city this week. He thinks Yakima gives better indications of prosperity than any town he knows of.

A. B. Weed will leave on Sunday for Spokane, where he goes to take the office management of Staver & Walker's agricultural implement business.

James H. Greer returned from Canada Tuesday. Mr. Greer's mother died the night he left his old home and his father is still in a dangerous condition.

H. M. De Cordova, an uncle of Harry Spinning, recently arrived here from Kansas, accompanied by his wife, and has opened a restaurant on First street.

John D. Thomas and Mr. George Evan, with credentials from the Western Central Labor Union, are here from Franklin soliciting aid for the striking miners.

Miss Gerie Morrison, daughter of Dr. W. F. Morrison, has returned from Portland, where she graduated from the high school with the highest honors of her class.

Deputy Assessor B. F. Saylor returned on Saturday last from San Francisco. After a careful comparison, he is of the opinion that the Golden Gate city leads North Yakima a trifle.

J. D. Cornett returned from Olympia Sunday, where he was in attendance on the sessions of the state bankers. Mr. Cornett was elected third vice-president of the association.

Knox Johnson, inspector of Northern Pacific lands, was in the city this week, having returned from Klickitat county, where he went to view some lands for which a syndicate is negotiating.

County Clerk Dudley Eshelman and Constable John Golden left for Golden-land Tuesday to attend the double wedding of the latter's cousins, the Misses Flora and Dora Golden, who were on Wednesday respectively united to Ira M. Richards and Charles M. Shelton.

D. E. Lash returned on Saturday from California, where he was looking after the immigration interests of the N. P. & Yakima Irrigation company. He believes that his efforts will be crowned with success, and that after harvest many Californians will turn their faces towards Yakima. The leading bugaboo he had to encounter and overcome was the feeling that on account of the northern latitude there was extreme cold weather here. When his hearers were informed that colder weather was to be found at a much lower latitude and that frequently in semi-southern states the mercury would drop much lower than it would in Yakima they were greatly surprised, and many commenced laying their plans to "pull up stakes" and feast their eyes on this favored locality.

CELESTIAL MAROONING.—The Chinese Masons met in convocation in a front-street building, on Saturday night last, and several new members were put through the various degrees. A number of white Masons were present early in the evening, but as the work was not finished until 6 o'clock the next morning, they did not remain until the close. On Monday night the newly initiated gave a grand dinner to their brethren, at which thirty-five members did justice to a spread of duck, chicken, pork and other things especially relished by the followers of Confucius.

HE HAD THE D. T.'S.—Tommy Pace, who formerly worked for Janeck and was fired for getting on a spree, was brought to the police court at Seattle the other day in an express-wagon with begrimed countenance, disordered clothing, worn-out shoes, with his elbows pinioned by a half-inch rope, and all the indications that he was a desperate criminal. The officer in charge said he was insane, but the judge found out that he was suffering from delirium tremens, and released him as soon as he recovered, on the promise that he would never drink again.

Fourth of July Commitments, Attention!

All committees appointed for the Fourth of July celebration are requested to meet at Fechter & Ross' office Friday evening, June 26, at 8 o'clock, to make final arrangements for the celebration. Every member of a committee is earnestly requested to be present.

B. Scott, Chairman.

Notice to Help Growers.

All the hop growers of Yakima county are requested to meet at the city hall, North Yakima, on Saturday, July 18, at 2 o'clock p. m. for purposes of mutual benefit.

SPORTING LIFE IN YAKIMA.

Athletes in the Pivotal City, and Doing in Their Several Specialties.

Fleet Runners, Graceful Club Swingers, Proficient Fishers, and Men Handy with Their "Dukes."

J. L. Smith, of Katz & Smith, the contractors on the big ditch, is a marvel at club swinging. He is not only graceful in his manipulations, but he has a greater number of movements than anyone hereabouts. He has an apt follower in George Guiland, who by constant practice is becoming very proficient with the clubs.

Richard Strobach is not much at running, jumping, wrestling or club swinging, but he is an ardent admirer of sporting, and is a great hand at "estimating," as he delicately puts it.

Sam Vinson has an idea that he would like to participate in a "fat man's race," but he thinks Scrap Iron Williams should be barred on the grounds that he is a professional. He once had a race with Bill, but got no further in it than to strip his coat, put the ends of his pants legs beneath his stockings and toe the starting line. Before he had time to cross the line Bill had finished the distance.

Walter N. Granger, manager of the N. P. and Yakima Irrigation company, cuts a very pretty figure with the gloves. When boxing for points he is said to be out of sight of all local sparring.

Bob Bennett is classed among those of Yakima who are most handy with their "dukes," but between fishing in summer and hunting in winter he has allowed himself to grow somewhat rusty in boxing.

Theodore Stone is one of the best of the local jumpers and he makes it very interesting for those who compete with him, either with or without weights.

Those who have the reputation for being the best fishermen hereabouts are A. C. Walker, Will Shearer, Col. Cook, H. A. Griffin, Bob Bennett, Frank Sharrow, Will Chapman and Harry Hampton. Any of these can land a trout from a stream where there are none—to hear them tell it.

T. M. Vance's forte is as a whip, and he is just now cutting quite a dash with his new cart and tandem team. He is also quite proficient in handling the ribbons over four horses, and prides himself on all the lineaments of his expressive face when he is surrounded by congenial companions and is controlling their destinies through his manipulation of two pairs.

A party of four from North Yakima went fishing up the Ahtanum Sunday. They caught few fish, but one of them saw and bought a cayuse that attracted his eye, matched him for 400 yards against a Tampico horse, put on him as jockey one of their number weighing 210 pounds and not only won the race, but broke everybody within a wide radius of Tampico.

A great horse admirer is Fred Parker, and it is said he can tell the good equine points about an animal as soon as he claps his eye on him. On a trade he never gets the worst of it, and on the track his judgment is seldom wrong. If one wants a sure tip on a race he will come as near getting there by watching Mr. Parker as anybody.

Tennis has only recently been introduced in Yakima, but we have a small club who have laid off grounds on Natchez avenue. There are only half a dozen rackets here, consequently the members are limited to that number, and they are W. A. Steadman, E. T. Wilson, George Vance, F. S. Woodward, Henry Teal and L. E. Sperry. Messrs. Steadman and Wilson are expert players, with the odds a little in favor of the former, while it is a toss-up which is the worst.

There are now over twenty horses on the track in training for the races which will be held on the 2nd, 4th and 6th of July. That the affairs of the track will be conducted with judgment and honesty there is no question, as it is only necessary to mention the names of those who comprise the management to give this assurance. They are John Bartholet, president; Theodore Stone, secretary; Matt Bartholet, treasurer, and S. J. Love general manager. The first day's races will consist of a quarter mile dash, a half mile dash for saddle horses, and a half mile dash, free to all; second day: trotting, mile heats, best three in five, free for all, and a half mile race for Indian saddle horses; third day: trotting, mile heats, best three in five, for three minute class; running race, half mile and repeat; trotting, mile heats, best three in five, for gentlemen's buggy horses.

The Nestor of all sporting matters hereabouts is Marshal Ben McMurry. He can put man or beast through a course of training, can tell you history of various sporting contests, can give good advice in running, walking, wrestling and boxing, or can put on the gloves with the best of amateurs and polish them off with ease. Ben is looked upon by many admirers as a thoroughly good, all-round sport.

Hyman Harris has recently received from the Sound a fine looking mastiff named "Duke." Mr. Harris says he has a pedigree about four yards long, and he certainly looks it.

W. S. Davidson is a good, all-round athlete. He is very handy with the gloves, is a crack shot with the gun, and his nimble heels will be shown in the freshmen's race on the Fourth.

Sheriff Dan Simmons is something of a general athlete, but he is especially good at wrestling, and many a bout has he won by his superior prowess. He comes of an athletic family. His brother Charley is great on wrestling, while Jimmy is a crack runner and jumps well. The father of the boys, Captain Simmons, is an old mountaineer and hunter, and while he is still spry, he is not as good as he was twenty years ago. The boys tell the story on the old gentleman that he recently encountered a bear and almost run over him, but stepping back a pace or two he reared his gun, took deliberate aim and missed brain completely.

Mr. Sisk, one of the contractors on the big ditch, is accredited with being uncommonly proficient in the use of his hands.

On the Fourth there will be a race of 100 yards that promises to be very interesting. A purse of $50 has been hung and Ellensburgh and Roslyn promise to send speedy men. Yakima has several boys who can get down to 11 or 11 1/2 seconds, only a second behind the best recorded time, and as they are all training diligently the brush gives much promise. George Guiland and Jimmy Simmons are reported the fastest, while Nye Taggart and Kinney McLeod will press them closely.

Thaley Case is an athlete of more than ordinary talent. He is a good runner and jumper, and can handle his hands as cleverly as anybody in these parts. He inherits this talent. His brothers are all handy men, and the old gentleman in science from the backbone through.

A test of wide jumping, with running start, was made the other evening and Dave Guiland carried off the honors. Telegraph Operator McIntyre pressed him closely, while F. S. Woodward was a good third, but too short in the reach to get there.

One of the most clever boxers hereabouts was Dana Thomas, the apt pupil of Ben McMurry. Dana, on one occasion, had the gloves on with Ex-Police Officer Jack Bagby, and to the surprise of everybody, he knocked the big fellow out and down. Poor Dana's day for gloves is over.

W. S. Davidson has recently added a couple of stag hounds to his extensive kennel.

A wonderful crooked-legged horse is said to be in training at the old McDaniel place for the purpose of capturing the coming races at the track. He has been a pool box winner all through Utah and Wyoming. This marvel belongs to the ditch contractors, and it is said they will back him with well-filled purses.

A fat man's race has been made up for the Fourth of July. The entries so far are Joseph Stephenson, Henry Ditter, Charles McEwen and Col. J. H. Taggart. M. G. Willis is also in training, and if his speed and wind justifies his anticipations he also will enter.

TALMAN

A CRAB MAN ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.—Monday night a man named Davis, who jointly occupied room 7 of the McGloster House with A. Ford, had gone to his room with the intention of going to bed when he was horrified to find his companion bleeding profusely and unconscious from a jagged gash in the neck which extended almost from ear to ear. Ford was stretched out in bed, and the presence of a big jack-knife showed the means of execution. County Physician Taft was summoned, and he found that two cuts had been made and the windpipe severed. He sewed up the wound, which required 20 stitches, and then administered a hypodermic injection, left the man in the care of watchers. Early in the morning Ford recovered from his stupor and made a dash out of the house and down the street. He was finally captured at the Hotel Bartholet after a desperate struggle, in which the stitches were torn from his neck and the wound re-opened. The following day he made another break for liberty by jumping from the window, running to the blacksmith-shop and arming himself with a big hammer. Again he was overpowered, and on Tuesday afternoon Judge Graves ordered his commitment at Stellacoom, where he was taken by Sheriff Simmons and Harry Cooney on the first train. Ford is a young man and a Scandinavian. He formerly worked on the Moroxe, and was a steady, industrious young man. Recently he has been talking in a strange, rambling manner about Henry George's theory of single tax and other social science, but previous to his trying to commit suicide little attention was paid to his vagaries.

PERMANENT MINES ATTRACTING ATTENTION.—Thirty years ago there was much preparatory mining work done on the Peshastin creek, Kittitas county, in building dams, water ditches and houses. The Boise mining excitement, however, caused a general stampede from the Peshastin district, and the miners left their claims, tools and everything they could carry away. The old cabins have rotted down, but the dams and ditches remain, and the camp is again attracting attention. A report is in circulation that good wages are now being paid out in that district and that from 500 to 1000 paying placer claims could be located on the Peshastin and Eagle creeks. With regard to this, D. J. Schnebly, the newspaper Nestor of the northwest, says that he has often seen the abandoned cabins and other evidences of a mining camp, but has never heard of any marked success of those who ever worked the claims.

THE HERALD HAS NO PEER.—THE HERALD has facilities for doing job printing which can be offered by no other office in central Washington. Our stock of papers is the largest and most varied to be found outside of terminal points, and in standard and new faces of types we have no compeer. Printing patronage belongs to your home paper, which is always laboring for the interest of yourself and your chosen home, and should outsiders or others try to capture your work either by oily words or low prices, remember that THE HERALD, through its purchase of stock and material in large quantities, secures the greatest discounts than any competitor. If you want the best grades of paper, THE HERALD can supply them, or if you want the medium or the lower grades, we can give those too, with prices to correspond.

ANOTHER WATER SCOUT.—Monday's rain, from Union Gap bridge down, was the hardest of the season; and above the place of M. B. Curtis as far as the timber land of Peter Gervais it was a genuine water-sport. The road was galled out in places, while tons of rock was piled up in others. The Konesock ditch was broken in several places, and great quantities of mud and rock washed into the channel. At one place the ditch was completely filled and the flow of water stopped. A severe hail accompanied the storm, and at one place there must have been a wagon-load of hailstones washed up into a heap in a canyon. The berries have been badly injured by the continued rain, and the last storm silt the corn and knocked the ripe raspberries from the bushes.

THE CRICKET FEET.—The crickets have made their appearance in Okanogan and Douglas counties in great numbers. They visited these sections last year, but they were not anything like so numerous as at present. They made their appearance near the headwaters of the Okanogan and stripped the country all the way down, even carrying their depredations into the Wenatchee country. J. H. Thompson tells how they visited his place. The night before his ranch was ravished there wasn't a cricket to be seen, but when he got up in the morning there were myriads of them, and they swept over sixty acres of grain, leaving total devastation in their wake.

MILITARY MOVEMENTS ON THE FRONT.—The various companies of the First and Second regiments of the N. G. W. have been invited to Seattle to participate in a prize drill on the 4th of July for a purse of $600. Company G, of Spokane, is the only company of the Second regiment that has so far decided to compete for the prize, but D Company, of Wallburg, has the master under consideration and may accept the invitation. Companies B and C, of Goldendale, will visit The Dalles on the fourth; Company E, of Yakima, will participate in the home celebration, and Troop A, of Sprague, will go to Spokane.

THE CADWELL BLOCKS SOLD.—The two Cadwell blocks were sold by J. D. McIntyre, of Helena, Mont., to Allen C. Mason, of Tacoma, last Monday, for $21,000. Messrs. Fechter & Ross will represent Mr. Mason's interests in the property.

—Four new noses were received this week for the use of the firemen. They are several pounds lighter than the old ones.

—S. C. Henton has been appointed U. S. commissioner, and has moved his office of the peace office to rooms over the National bank.

—The council is having a coating of dirt put on Yakima avenue from First street to Third so as to make a fleet course for the firemen's races on the Fourth.

—The agricultural college case will be heard by the supreme court at Olympia on Saturday. Hon. H. J. Snively will be there to protect the interests of Yakima.

—John Liljanter, one of the Northern Pacific bridge contractors, has had to take a "lay-off" this week owing to injuries received through a piece of timber falling on his leg.

—Sheep Commissioner Cameron says that there is a band of 40,000 itinerant sheep belonging to an Oregon company that is now decimating the Yakima range. Have they paid taxes?

—Bozlyn now has three brass bands and her cup of sorrow is full. The town council threatens to impose a prohibitory license if there is talk of starting any more musical organizations.

—Dr. W. H. Hare has been appointed receiver of the U. S. land office at this place to succeed T. M. Vance resigned. The appointment is a good one, and is generally endorsed by our citizens.

—Born, at North Yakima, June 24th, to the wife of Edward F. White, a daughter. Mr. White is much elated over the little stranger's advent, and is of the opinion that she weighs 15 pounds.

—Died, at North Yakima, Saturday June 20th, Hilda May, daughter of Doctor and Mrs. E. E. Heg, aged 10 weeks. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of the community in their bereavement.

—Cameron Bros. have sold to Fry & Bruhn, of Seattle, 2000 mutton sheep at $3.50 per head. They have also added to their stock sheep by the purchase of 3400 head from Hugh Grey, of Wallula.

—Report comes that a brakeman shot a tramp at Prosser the first of the week. The tramp was fired from the train, and becoming obstreperous, vigorous means were used to quiet him. The wound was not dangerous.

—Chief of Police McMurry has received a description of President Marsh of the defunct Keystone bank of Philadelphia, who is supposed to have skipped this way. There is a reward of $5,000 for the capture of the fugitive.

—If present plans are carried out, the summit of Mt. Adams will be illuminated with colored lights on the night of the Fourth of July between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock. The illuminating party will hail from Goldendale.

—A hobo broke into a room over the postoffice Saturday night, and took several suits of clothes belonging to I. H. Dills. Officer McLean saw the thief lug off the plunder and gave chase, with the result of recovering Mr. Dills' property, but not capturing the thief.

—Yakima's hose team, as selected, is as follows: Elmer E. Card, George Guiland, James Simmons, W. Davidson, N. Taggart, Taylor Case, Delos Case, D. J. McIntyre, Volney Taft, G. Cordova, Frank Sinclair, Ed Farmer, Kinney McLeod, John Mabry and Spencer Jacobs.

—The annual business meeting of the Presbyterian congregation took place last Friday evening. Most satisfactory reports were read from different branches of work. The church has never before had such a prosperous year's work. It was decided to raise the pastor's salary by $200 for the coming year.

—The city council should instruct the street commissioner and empower him to grade and put Front street in a slightly condition. As it now stands it is a disgrace to any municipality, especially as it is the first street that comes in view of the railroad-traveling public. The costs of this improvement will be a small item compared with the benefits derived.

—Miss Nora Elder, who was arrested at Toppenish for the murder of an infant found in a valley near Ellensburg on Decoration day, was on Monday acquitted by the jury after being out eight hours. The evidence was all circumstantial, the strongest point being the finding of a position of the valve in the trunk. The evidence regarding the defendant's sickness was most conflicting.

—Street Commissioner Leach has entered upon the duties of his office vigorously and with good judgment. While he calls upon his services are manifold, he is getting around to the various applicants with diligence and dispatch. In his efforts he should remember that much of the prosperity of the city is due to the farmers and the main outlying roads should be among the first to be improved.

SOMETHING ABOUT OUR SCHOOLS.

Superintendent Greene's Report—The Teachers Institute a Success—A Kindergarten to be Started—Changes in Teachers.

Superintendent E. P. Greene has made his report regarding the city schools for the year beginning September 15, 1890, and terminating June 5, from which the following extracts are taken: Length of term, 36 weeks; actual number of days taught, 170; total number of pupils enrolled, 456; of which 230 were males and 226 females; total number of days' attendance, 41,964; average daily attendance, 2798; number of pupils present, males 117, females 129, total, 236; number of pupils neither tardy nor absent, males 7, females 11; number of cases of suspension, 3; number of pupils in first reader course, 134; number in second reader course, 64; number in third reader course, 125; number in fourth reader course, 52; number in fifth reader course, which includes the thirteen in the advanced course, 81; wages paid, superintendent, $1,000 per year; one principal, $720 per year; other teachers average $60 per month; grades of certificates of teachers, 1 first grade, 3 second grades and five third grades.

County School Superintendent J. G. Lawrence left for Montesano Saturday to assist in conducting the teachers' institute of Chehalis county.

W. D. Ingalls, who taught the school at Prosser last term, has been engaged as principal of the school at Yakima City. He is a graduate of the St. Cloud, Minnesota, normal school.

Mrs. Van Horn, a teacher of fourteen years' experience, who has been teaching the school at Kiona during the past year, has moved to North Yakima and will open a private kindergarten about the first of July. She will probably be granted the use of a room in one of the public school buildings during the vacation.

There are 503 school children in this district. This is a considerable gain over the number reported last year.

The teachers' institute held here last week was the most successful ever held in this county. The attendance was large, and the lectures and discussions most interesting. A county association was formed for the purpose of raising the standard of professional work and wages. The officers elected were Theodore Miller, president; W. D. Ingalls and Mrs. W. H. Stair, vice-presidents; Miss Hattie Sawyer, secretary.

The roll of honor for the Yakima city school at its close embraced the names of Willie Bell, Ruby Farris, John Loudon, Jr., Nellie Adams, Rose Adams and Lillie Bell.

CULLING ABOUT THE CROPS.

Yakima is Blooming Like the Red, Red Rose, and Her Crop Returns Will be Immense.

The late rains have had a wonderfully beneficial effect on all crops, and reports from the various sections of Yakima are most glowing. Along with other benefits the range has taken the emerald hue, and stock is revelling and getting fat on new grass.

Peter Gervais exhibits at Fechter & Ross' a fine potato that weighs a pound and an ounce. Pretty good for this time of the year.

More Adams brought to the city the other day a solid head of lettuce that measured 4 feet 9 inches in circumference.

W. C. Neal, of Kiona, promises ripe peaches for the market next week.

Morris Henry was up from Prosser Tuesday and says the Horse Heaven and Dicksford crops never promised better. There has been more rainfall in these sections than ever before, and the farmers are consequently jubilant; and as the acreage is large they will be enabled to jingle ducats in their pockets this fall.

M. B. Curtis estimates that their will be 80,000 bushels of fruit raised in the Konesock district for the market this season. Of this amount he will have 20,000 bushels; Hertzog, 40,000 and Thompson 50,000. The shipments will be principally peaches, plums and grapes, and the crop at present is as promising as the most ardent well-wisher could desire.

In the Konesock district strawberries are now all gone, and black raspberries are now being marketed in large quantities. At present M. B. Curtis is shipping about 30 cases of black-caps per week to Spokane.

Spokane at present presents the best market for Yakima's small fruits, although this point has to compete with the Walla Walla shippers, who have given a rate of $1.75 per hundred to $2.00 from Yakima.

WHIP, SADDLE AND SULFUR.

"The Herald" Representative Visits the Track. List of the Flyers—Scoring for the Races.

Much interest has been aroused of late in turf matters by the energetic lessees of the race track, who are determined to make this the headquarters of the northwest, to which distinction it is entitled by reason of its central location and climate. A well-known turfman recently told THE HERALD reporter that horsemen throughout the country looked upon Yakima as the natural fountain-head for all racing matters, and that hundreds of horses would be brought here for training, and much money expended in the country, but that heretofore the people had not shown the proper spirit or encouraged their coming by placing the track in good condition or providing suitable quarters for the horses. The present acquisition has the track leased for three years, and its officers are doing all in their power with the limited means at their command to put the track in as good a condition as possible, and to make the initial meeting on the 3d, 4th and 6th of July as successful as possible, and in their efforts they should have the aid of every citizen.

The Herald reporter visited the association grounds Tuesday, and found that a force of men had been placed at work on the track, and that it would really be put in excellent condition. A tour was made through the stables, where about twenty horses were found quartered and in training for the coming races.

O. D. Fisher is handling a number of good horses with which he expects to make an excellent showing this year. One of the best horses he is training is John Bartholet's Altonette, an Almont colt, that has gone a half at a forty gait. Mr. Fisher thinks their are great possibilities in this animal, and says there is no telling how speedy she is.

Another promising horse handled by Mr. Fisher is S. J. Lowe's Jack Lowe. Jack trotted a mile last year in 2:40 and is showing up well this season.

Mr. Fisher is also handling Mr. Lowe's Baby L, a beautiful two-year-old by Taft's Bellfounder, and out of Shakespeare running stock.

Brother Hall is a three-year old Ivanhoe colt, the property of John Bartholet, that is showing a 3-minute gait, and may go much faster before the season is over. Mr. Fisher has much confidence in him.

Professor Pugsley, J. B. Pugsley's son, is being handled by Mr. Fisher, and though in training but a short time, has gone a quarter in 44.

The only other horse in Mr. Fisher's skillful hands is Sheriff Simmons' Black Prince, a Knox colt.

"Shorty" Waldron has a number of promising animals in training, among which are John Shearer's Charlie, a roan stallion, that is speedy for a short distance and good as long as he can be kept reaching out; Johnny Hogan's Dan 'H, a green pacer, that should go in '90 or better; W. Z. York's trotter, that promises to get down to three minutes by the Fourth of July, and John Hogan's Lady H, whose pretty body and limbs show her running stock.

John Cowdell is handling Theo Stone's Johnny Knox, one of the best horses in the country, that is just now getting over the effects of a barbed wire cut in the leg. He is now being given light work, but is showing speed and has trotted in '34, and his trainer says he will get down to '30 by fall.

W. J. Hackett's Blacksmith is being handled by Cowdell, and will trot on the second day of the races with the pacer.

Cowdell has also in training his Roan Billy, with a two-year-old record of 2:42, who trotted last year against Sleepy Tom, when he was booted so tight that he has never been fully in condition since, although he is trotting well now.

Matt White is handling George Eaton's Black Prince, a Jenks colt, that is known about the stables as Polled Angus on account of his appetite and powerful build. Prince won a quarter last year in '24. White is also training Eaton's Tom Merry, filly Doley, that gives promise of being very fast.

"Weasel" is a Jenks colt, owned by Mack Jackson, that is acting well.

Tom Cowdell has a running horse named Fiedriver on the track. He has never done much track work, but looks as though he would turn out well.

That veteran old horseman and jockey, G. W. Alexander, has a string of fine animals in his charge. Among them is W. F. Jones' three-year-old filly Dudley Flower, that looks every inch a race horse and is as pretty as a picture. The hair of her mane is as fine as a woman's and her coat is like silk. Dudley F. is out of Bengam's mother by Glen Dudley, and if she doesn't do some nice work all indications will fall.

Alexander has also Billy Splawn's Parole, four years old, by Jenks, dam Club-foot, by George. Parole is worth looking after, for she is going to run a half this year like the wind.

Whyman is a beautiful yearling, the property of Mr. Alexander, and is nearly a thoroughbred. His name is a Yakima word, meaning flying eagle. He was sired by Bob Duff and dammed by Cutting's Wilkes.

Charley Campbell's filly, Lady Jenks, is being handled by Alexander. Lady Jenks was sired by Old Jenks and is now four years old and conducts herself on the track in a manner most gratifying to those interested in her. Last year she beat Dandy a quarter and repeat at Ellensburg and then beat him 600 yards right over again, and she can double the dose this year, too.

There are other horses on the track and more coming, including a horse owned at Ditchington, several horses from Goldendale, and Dandy and Blue Jay from Ellensburg.

The purses offered and the races are as follows:

FIRST DAY.
First race—Running, quarter mile dash, $50.
Second race—Saddle horse, half mile dash, $25.
Third race—Running, half mile, $60.

SECOND DAY.
First race—Trotting, mile heats, free for all, three in five, $100.
Second race—Indian saddle horse race, half mile, $10.

THIRD DAY.
First race—Trotting, mile heats, three minute class, two in three, $80.
Second race—Running, half mile and repeat, $75.
Third race—Gentlemen's buggy, trotting, mile heats, three in five, $25.

At the recent district convention of the I. O. G. T. at Roslyn the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. Duncan, of Ellensburg, D. C. T.; Mr. Baker, of Roslyn, D. C.; Miss Grubbs, of Roslyn, D. C.; Miss Wetkie, of Yakima, D. S. of J. T.; Miss Potchery, of Roslyn, D. S.; Miss Frost, of Ellensburg, D. T.; Mr. Lee, of Ronald, D. Chap.; Mr. Weikie, of Yakima, D. M.; Miss Hatfield, of Ellensburg, D. G.; Mr. Salliday, of Ellensburg, D. S.; Miss Salliday, of Ellensburg, D. S.; Miss Havens, of Ellensburg, D. A. S.; Mr. Gano, of Yakima, P. D. C. T.

THE BASE-BALL GAME.

Trials of a Boarder Who Was Not a Crank—Breakfast Without a "Huffin'."

Chicago Tribune: The trouble all arose over one breakfast. It may be that they knew he hated base ball, or it may be that their talk resulted from the fact that every man, woman and child in the boarding house, with the exception of the lank pessimist, had been to the game the day before.

At any rate, when the landlady took the coffee pot in one hand and the cream pitcher in the other and began pouring from both at the same time, he was moved to ask, without a suspicion of danger, what she was doing.

"Making a double play unmissed," was her prompt response.

He looked pained, but said nothing.

A moment later, when a coffee cup was gallantly declined by the dude, who insisted on passing it to his fair neighbor, the dry goods clerk on the other side of the table called out:

"Passed ball!"

The pessimist fingered his knife nervously as he glared at the clerk, and had hardly recovered his composure when the waitress kicked the cat through the doorway and the pretty typewriter hissed:

"Put out!"

And the young lawyer added:

"Safe hit!"

He hardly had time to shift his reproachful glance from the pretty typewriter to the young lawyer when the old maid began telling what a brute the man next door was, and the real estate agent sang out:

"Score one!"

For sympathy he turned to the landlady's pretty daughter, who sat next to him, and who had so far said nothing. But as he declined the last muffin on the plate and she took it, she looked him straight in the eye and with her most captivating smile, said:

"A sacrifice!"

Then he got up and stalked out, and there is a room to rent in that boarding house.

As Others See Us.

Chicago Tribune: He was taking a pleasure trip through this country and was amused to the ways of the citizens, which may explain his action. He met a friend, showed him a card and asked him to go with him to the address on it.

"What's the matter?" asked the friend.

"Why, this gentleman," explained the foreigner, "helped me out of a very embarrassing position. You see, through carelessness, I got caught on a street car with nothing but a draft in my pocket and he paid my fare. I insisted on having his card, and now I'm going around to thank him again and pay him the money."

"The nickel?"

"Certainly."

"Don't do it."

"But I owe it to him."

"It makes no difference; he'll be angry."

And he was. He said the stranger must have thought him mighty hard up or close fisted to come chattering after him with a nickel, and he indignantly refused to take it.

"But, sir," said the stranger with surprise, "I owe it to you. I don't wish to have other people paying my street car fare."

"Offer him a cigar," whispered the friend.

The foreigner promptly followed instructions.

"Will you join me in a smoke, then?" he asked, putting away the nickel and taking out a handsome cigar case.

"Why, thank you," was the reply, and in a few moments the three were smoking.

"Ask him to have something," suggested the friend again.

Again the foreigner followed instructions, and they promptly adjourned to a place where something could be had. Here each man felt it upon him to buy a "round." Then the foreigner and his friend started for the hotel, and the former remarked:

"Queer ways you have here."

"How so?" asked the friend.

"Why, he was too proud to accept 5 cents that was due him, but would take a cigar and a drink that were not. And because he did me a favor I had to take three drinks that I did not want and smoke a cigar that I was saving for after dinner. If I paid my car fare that way I'd be drunk and broke all the time."

THE BABE.

New Prominent Women Have Added to Their Charms By Its Use.

Mrs. Harrison, mistress of the White House, wears a bang; so does her daughter, Mrs. James Robert McKee, and her tiny grand-daughter, Miss Mary Lodge McKee, and so will the three generations of great grand-daughters who succeed her. For "the bang is eternal," says the New York World.

It always has been and ever will be popular among women who study their glass.

Cleopatra wore her cow's tail red hair banded round her face and ears. Old Mother Eve is pictured with loose tresses playing about her brow and temples. Salome, the Carmencita of biblical days, wore a bang; so did Magdalen, the beautiful repentant, cruel Queen Bess, and the beaux and beauties that Van Dyke painted. Louisa, the lovely queen of Prussia, pinned her tresses with a star and let them fly again windward about her cheeks; the fascinating Mme. Roland, whose dark, serious, changing eyes no artist could paint, pulled her shock of brown hair within an inch of her eyebrows and bound it with a fillet; Mme. de Stael, the religious, skeptic, sallow, scholar, wit and queen of the salons frequented by such men as Talleyrand, openly confessed that, although she might not wash her face once a week, her front hair had to be looked after every day, and she wore a head dress of beaded crepe with a frill of little spiral curls running across her forehead from ear to ear that kept in curl, but caught fluff, feathers and any dust that was flying. Empress Josephine, Queen Hortense, and other coquettes of the first empire, banged their hair. With the restoration and its elephant sleeves, Tam O'Shanter and barrel-size muffs, the frill of loose curls was still popular, and every woman of fashion under the second empire colored her hair a parrot or copper red, hoisted it with an enormous chignon, and, led by Eugenie in her hoop-skirted court, trimmed their pretty little foreheads with spit curls and beam-catchers.

The bang is everlasting. At least that is the verdict of the leading hair-dressers, hair-dealers and hair-dyers of New York. And they ought to know.

"The future of the bang," said a leading hair-dresser, "is coeval with the future of woman. So long as she lives she will be beautiful, and so long as she is beautiful she will bang her hair. She may part with her teeth, surrender her eyebrows, and even relinquish her hold on the powder-puff and rouge pot, but never will she give up or pull back her front hair."

Rables and Poets.

Some years since David Baker, distinguished poet in the state of Maine, after the birth of his first child, wrote and published the following pretty poem:

One night as old St. Peter slept,
He left the door of heaven ajar,
And came down with a falling star.

One summer, as the blessed beams
Of morn' approached, my blushing bride
I could not sleep, as you supposed,
Nor left the door of heaven ajar,
Nor has a "little angel" left
And gone down with a falling star.

God grant but this—I ask no more—
That when he leaves this world of pain
He'll wing his way to that brighter shore
And find the road to heaven again.

John G. Saxe, not to be outdone, and deeming that injustice had been done to St. Peter, wrote the following as

ST. PETER'S REPLY.

Full eighteen hundred years or more,
I've kept my gate securely fast;
There has no "little angel" strayed,
Nor crept through the portals passed.

I did not sleep, as you supposed,
Nor left the door of heaven ajar,
Nor has a "little angel" left
And gone down with a falling star.

Go ask that blushing bride, and see
If she don't frankly own and say
That when she found that angel here
She found it in the good old way.

God grant but this—I ask no more—
That should your number still enlarge,
You will not do as done before,
And lay it to Old Peter's charge.

SLIGHTLY BARCASTIC.

General Pike Demands a Claim to the United States.

The will of the late General Albert Pike, grand commander of the Scottish rite order of Masonry, of the southern jurisdiction, has been filed. He leaves all articles of personal property in trust for the benefit of the order of which he was the grand commander. The fee to which he was entitled in the famous Choctaw award he leaves to his two sons and his daughter, and all his real estate in Arkansas to his son Pike. The moneys in the treasury of the United States arising from the sale under process of confiscation of his property in Little Rock he wills to the United States, "that they may have honest title thereto and no longer hold them as the proceeds of plundering under the form of law, and also the indebtedness of the United States to me for the four horses lost by me in the military service of the United States in Mexico."

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, N. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined all I could do and stayed with my friends on earth. I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Cough and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at Janek's Pharmacy. Regular sizes, 50c. and $1.00.

A French Description of Chicago.

A French newspaper published in Nantes provides its eager readers with this graphic, if not accurate, description of Chicago: "It is situated at the foot of the Falls of Niagara and receives the waters of the great lakes. In no part of Europe will you find so great a city. Its boulevards are regular and as straight as its streets, which seem to have been ruled with a straight-edge, and in it all railroads have terminal. One is almost frightened by the height of the buildings, in which all styles of architecture meet without confusion. About sixty years ago we first visited the Falls of Niagara, and our first stop was naturally at Chicago. Excellent hotels, very attractive people were there; and as we took a rapid walk along the banks of the 'Father of Waters' we were obliged continually to avoid meeting the descendants of the companion of St. Anthony (pigs). Now these noisy animals have their own quarter, where they are sold, and they no longer by their squeals, disturb the public peace."

Kepessy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact, you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands upon thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion, and oust the demon Dyspepsia and instead Eucalyptus. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle at Janek's Pharmacy.
