GENERAL INFORMATION

PUBLIC RECORDS DEFINED

Public records are recorded information, regardless of physical form. The term “public records” applies to any paper, correspondence, form, bound volume, film, magnetic medium, drawing or other document, regardless of form or physical characteristics, that has been created or received by any state agency during the course of public business (chapter 40.14.010 RCW Preservation and Destruction of Public Records). All public records are required to be maintained and disposed of by state agencies in accordance with the provisions of chapter 40.14 RCW.

All records maintained in electronic format are included in the definition of a “public record” and are governed under the terms of the Preservation and Destruction of Public Records Act.

E-MAIL

E-mail is a means of sending or receiving information, not a type of record. Information generated or received on an e-mail system needs to be managed according to the informational content of the message.

STATE RECORDS COMMITTEE

“It shall be the duty of the records committee to approve, modify, or disapprove the recommendations on retention schedules of all files of public records . . .” (chapter 40.14.050 RCW). The State Records Committee is comprised of the State Archivist and representatives of the Office of the Attorney General, Office of Financial Management and the Office of the State Auditor.

THE WASHINGTON STATE ARCHIVES

The Washington State Archives was established by chapter 40.14 RCW to provide centralized records management services to state and local governments. It is responsible for assisting government agencies to comply with Washington State's laws pertaining to the creation, maintenance and disposal of public records.

STATE AGENCY RECORDS OFFICERS

All state agency records officers have a fundamental responsibility to develop a comprehensive records management program. Beyond meeting an agency's business needs, a well-designed program contains three basic goals: 1) to fulfill legal mandates and responsibilities; 2) to store records in the most efficient and cost-effective manner possible; and 3) to assure access, protection, and security to the documentary history of government (chapter 40.14.040 RCW.)

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

CUSTODY AND DISPOSITION OF STATE AGENCY RECORDS

Public records must be retained in the custody of the office of record and may be destroyed or transferred only in accord with records retention schedules that have been approved by the State Records Committee. Agencies are encouraged to move their inactive records out of more expensive office space to the State Records Center for significant storage cost savings while the records await the expiration of their retention periods.

TRANSFER OF RECORDS TO THE STATE ARCHIVES

Records designated as "Archival" on the State General Schedule must be transferred to the custody of the State Archives at the end of the retention period.

AUTHORITY

The State Records Committee may approve and issue records retention schedules that give state agencies the authority to dispose of or transfer commonly held types of public records. The State General Schedule defines records by governmental function rather than by record type. Consequently, in some cases several "types" of records may be grouped together under one description that encompasses a particular function.

Some agencies may choose to keep individual records longer than the designated retention period on an exception basis for litigation, audit or financial purposes. Those records are disclosable under the terms of the Public Disclosure Act and are subject to the legal process of discovery for the entire period for which they are retained.

RETENTION PERIOD

The retention periods stated in the State General Schedule are the legal minimum that the law, regulation or official policy of the state will allow.

If an agency has a need to retain a records series for a time period other than that stated in the State General Schedule, the agency records officer must submit a request for a unique schedule to the State Records Committee and provide sufficient justification for the deviation.

The State General Schedule column entitled "Retention Period of Official Copy" refers to each agency's primary copy and gives the appropriate agency retention. For some series, the series description will state that a specific agency has responsibility for the primary copy. In these instances, the described column reflects how long other state agencies need to retain their copies.

MODIFICATION AND ADDITIONS

Agencies may not alter or modify State General Schedule items unilaterally. Proposed changes and additions to the State General Schedule may be submitted to the State Records Management Office, where they will be considered by the State Records Committee on a periodic basis.

PREVIOUS VERSIONS OF THE STATE GENERAL SCHEDULE

This State General Schedule supersedes all previous versions. Retention changes to any series will be electronically updated at the State Records Center. Any boxes stored under a revised State General Schedule series will have their destruction dates recalculated according to the revised retention period.

In this 2005 revision of the State General Schedule, original or revised approval dates are at the end of the description of each records series. Series new to this specific edition will be noted as such in the same manner. The numbered edition and date is annotated at the bottom right-hand corner of each page.

DISPOSITION AUTHORITY

The State General Schedule provides blanket authority for the disposition of records series that it contains. These series should not appear on an agency's unique retention schedule.

RECORDS COPIES

The State General Schedule reflects the retention and disposition of the primary copy of a record regardless of media. Records used for specific legal, fiscal, or administrative purposes may be retained either using the retention for the primary copy or scheduled separately if a different retention is required. Copies of these documents preserved only for reference or informational purposes may be discarded when no longer needed. See GS 50 for disposition authority regarding copies.

AGENCY UNIQUE RECORDS

The State General Schedule does not attempt to cover records unique to particular agencies or to agency programs. Records retention schedules for such records must be submitted separately to the State Records Management Office for approval by the State Records Committee.

STATE GOVERNMENT AGENCIES GENERAL RECORDS RETENTION SCHEDULE

GS 01 FISCAL AND ACCOUNTING RECORDS

Documentation of fiscal and accounting operations encompassing most activities undertaken by state agencies to manage, account for, collect and expend funds. This section includes general accounting reports and source records. Examples of source records include general ledgers, journal vouchers, IRS vendor payment form, and other records documenting accounts receivable and payable, banking, budget, allotments and expenditures, revenues and cash receipting.

Most state agencies use Washington State's official Agency Financial Reporting System (AFRS) to process their financial information and obtain their financial report from either AFRS or Enterprise Reporting (see below). Some agencies have their own agency unique accounting system and may use a combination of AFRS, Enterprise Reporting or their own internal system reports.

AFRS is a mainframe central state accounting system maintained by the Office of Financial Management (OFM). All agencies are required to send their financial information either at the detail or summary level to AFRS. AFRS produces various financial reports in hard-copy or microfiche, as requested by agencies. A CD-ROM is also available for the AFRS monthly financial and CAFR (Comprehensive Annual Financial Reports) reports. AFRS is backed up in an electronic format by OFM and retained for 10 years.

Enterprise Reporting is a Web-based report application maintained by OFM. The Enterprise Reporting database is updated daily with financial details from AFRS. Although AFRS data is retained for 10 years, agencies may only obtain AFRS reports for current and prior fiscal months. Enterprise Reporting, however, preserves all detail and summary data for 10 years. This data is accessible to agencies at any time during the ten-year period, and therefore it is not necessary for agencies to retain their own Enterprise Reporting hard-copy reports. (Revised August 2008)

Note: Any agency not using AFRS or Enterprise Reporting reports should apply the functions and retention periods of the following records retention schedules to the reports used in lieu of AFRS or Enterprise Reporting.

For payroll records, see GS 03

For audits and examinations, see GS 04

For purchasing forms, see GS 06
