

Services to Washington Libraries 2009

The Washington State Library (WSL) is the only agency in Washington that is specifically designated to assist libraries and to ensure that residents of the entire state have access to library and information services. State Library staff work in partnership with statewide advisory committees to plan and implement programs, provide training, grants, and consulting services aimed at the development, improvement, and enhancement of all public and non-profit libraries in the state. These services are supported by Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) funding from the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

Congressional District #6: Direct Services to Local Libraries

Libraries in this district have received $296,400 as a result of Washington State Library services and programs during the past year:

Grants and Subsidies to Individual Libraries or Library Systems

2009 Washington State Library Statewide Projects, Programs, and Services

- To benefit Washington State citizens in these economic hard times, Washington State Library staff took the following actions:
  - Launched a spring 2009 Renew Washington grant cycle that helped libraries address the needs of people in their communities who require access to employment-related resources and services.
  - Applied for a $515,000 Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation grant that enabled the Washington State Library to extend Renew Washington grants to seven additional public libraries.
  - Constructed a nationally recognized web portal to connect citizens to resources in the areas of employment and job seeking, housing and homelessness, finances, health and sustenance.
- Served as the lead agency for public libraries in the effort to secure broadband stimulus funds.
  - Provided coordination between the applicant and public library partners. Gathered, scrutinized and disseminated information enabling this very dynamic process to move forward smoothly.
  - Applied for Gates Foundation matching funds which will be awarded pending a successful application for federal Round 2 broadband stimulus monies.
- Through participation in grants, training, and statewide projects, Washington librarians were better able to assist their customers in using libraries and finding online information:
  - Development of long-term sustainable digitization programs as part of the Washington Rural Heritage project (www.washingtonruralheritage.org).
  - Encouraged collaborative partnerships among libraries, learners, and schools as part of the Supporting Student Success project. These partnerships support children in the successful completion of the Social Studies Classroom Based Assessment requirements.
- Washington library staff received training in the following areas: enhancing teen programs and teen brain development; autism awareness in libraries; readers' advisory and reference skills; multicultural communication; and technology and library 2.0 for public computing.
- Librarians statewide participated in the online monthly State Library continuing education program, First Tuesdays, which brought a wide array of training to their desktops.
- Centralized group purchasing coordinated by State Library staff saved the state's libraries thousands of dollars and gave patrons access to quality information in online magazine, newspaper and database resources.
- Libraries were better able to meet the needs of traditionally unserved individuals:
  - The Washington Talking Book and Braille Library provided statewide library services to those who have difficulty using print materials.
  - Service to individuals in state correctional and mental health facilities were provided by branch libraries of the Washington State Library.
- The Connecting the Dots project forged a new partnership between the Washington State Library and the University of Washington's Information School, which will strengthen public libraries' efforts to participate as essential partners in the early learning movement in Washington State.

General Consulting

Washington State Library staff provides in-depth research and advice for libraries, the public, and government in areas such as library law and governance issues, development of policies and services, planning, trustee responsibilities and relationships, and establishing library districts.

Information Technology (IT) Consulting

Washington State Library staff provides specialized IT consulting services for libraries in network infrastructure, computing hardware and software, the Children's Internet Protection Act (CIPA), and the federal E-rate program. The IT Consultants assist public libraries in connecting to the statewide, high-speed educational data and video K-20 network and provide centralized Internet filtering for small libraries.
