

5 Reasons to Use eLibrary Curriculum Edition for Better Research, Better Learning and Better Insights

1. There is something for everyone! With more than 11,000 topics including a variety of people, places, historical events, literary genres, current events and more. There is something to spark the curiosity of any researcher.
2. Content that you can depend on! Easily explore vetted content from more than 2000 full-text magazines, newspapers, books and transcript titles, plus a collection of more than 7 million maps, pictures, weblinks and audio and video files.
3. Focus on literature! Everything you need including full-text work, author biographies, literary criticism and more, right at your fingertips.
4. Focus on history! Thousands of hand-selected primary and secondary sources cover every era of history, from ancient to modern, spanning the U.S. and round the globe.
5. Completely re-imagined, redesigned experience! Based on your feedback, we're improving the researcher and classroom experience. Learn more here: http://go.proquest.com/eLibrary_Upgrades

Example search and activity within Research eLibrary:

In a single search, find the following:

- Suggested search terms related to bullying
- Select the Research Topic "Bullying" at the top of the results
- Find a transcript, image, infographic, scholarly journal, newspaper, and website on the topic
- View a search related Common Assignments and Subjects
- Connect to other closely related Research Topics such as Cyberbullying and Sexual Harassment

The screenshot displays the ProQuest eLibrary search results page for the topic "Bullying". At the top, there is a search bar and a navigation menu. Below the search bar, the "Featured Research Topics" section is visible, with "Bullying" highlighted. The "EDITORS PICKS" section shows five image thumbnails with titles: "Albert Durer", "American Genocide", "Isabella Stewart", "Benjamin West", and "Landscape with Rocks". The "THE FINDING" section features a large article preview for "Bullying" with a summary: "They are taunted, shoved around in gym, socially excluded and hounded on the Internet. Kids who are bullied are targeted for any number of reasons—they're fat, they're quiet, they're smart—or for no apparent reason at all. And their torment can be intense. They eat lunch in school bathrooms, feign illness or skip school altogether. At home, they cry, withdraw and lash out in anger. Sometimes, they take their own lives. Bullying—it happens every day and stretches from college dorms to the school down the street... Lawmakers are fighting it with legislation, and school officials are scrambling to keep up. More..." Below this, the "Research Findings" section lists several related articles with their titles and sources, such as "Bullied Kids Are Hurt Long After Harassment Ends" and "Exploring the Involvement of Bullying Among Students With Disabilities Over Time".

Need More Resources?

Check out our Washington State Library LibGuide: <http://proquest.libguides.com/WASDL>
Be sure to keep eye on the ProQuest "Share This" Blog for K-12: <http://blogs.proquest.com/>

Want to add eLibrary to your library page? Use this link:
<https://search.proquest.com/elibrary>

proquest.com

