

Washington State Library

Add-On Product Offer

ProQuest is pleased to offer preferred pricing for those products that will no longer be available through the Washington State Library as part of the Statewide Database Licensing Project effective July 1, 2011. Discounts of up to 35% are available and special promotional pricing for our newspaper content has been extended through Dec 31, 2011.

Products that qualify for this special offer include:

- Ethnic Newswatch Complete
- Alternative Press Watch
- eLibrary Elementary
- ProQuest Newsstand
- World Conflicts Today
- SIRS Issues Researcher

For additional information to support your decision and contact information for your sales representative, read on....

A couple of additional comments to support your decision on the add-on content include:

- ProQuest Newsstand: The new agreement effective July 1, 2011 includes ProQuest National Newspapers Core which provides access to five of the nation's most read and respected papers including The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, Washington Post, Los Angeles Times, and The Christian Science Monitor. The new agreement also includes ProQuest Newsstand Washington adding key local titles.

ProQuest Newsstand represents a significant upgrade to the newspaper content available in the new agreement effective July 1, 2011. ProQuest Newsstand adds over 1,100 additional newspaper titles including The Chicago Tribune, The Boston Globe, and the Atlanta Journal-Constitution. The largest collection of current newspaper titles available from ProQuest, this collection adds both deep national coverage as well as an extensive collection of international titles.

Special promotional pricing to upgrade to ProQuest Newsstand is available until Dec 31, 2011.

Washington State Library

Add-On Product Offer, continued

- World Conflicts Today: Though it has officially been retired as a stand-alone product, World Conflicts Today will continue to be available through the Washington State Library until Jun 30, 2012 due to popular demand. However, the content in World Conflicts Today will not be updated any longer. Updates to the content are now available in SIRS Issues Researcher. World Conflicts Today content now resides in and will be sold as part of SIRS Issue Researcher as described here.

To take advantage of the updated World Conflicts Today content and to add a resource that helps students make sense of the world by offering relevant, credible resources that tell the whole story on the major issues of the day, consider adding SIRS Issues Researcher now. Preferred pricing is available. If unable to purchase this year, please budget for this resource next year to maintain access to the World Conflicts Today content before it disappears from the Washington State Library resources on July 1, 2012.

To help you sort through your decision, ProQuest sales representatives are available. Listed below, by market, are your sales contacts from ProQuest:

Public Library & K-12 Markets

(King, Snohomish, Thurston Counties)

Chris Harkins

303-680-7707

chris.harkins@proquest.com

Public Library & K-12 Markets

(All Other Counties)

Patricia Morrison

561-288-7232

patricia.morrison@proquest.com

Academic Market

Walter Beals

303-680-7707

walter.beals@proquest.com

Community College & Special (All Other) Markets

William Arnold

734-997-4096

william.arnold@proquest.com

If you should have any question about your contact, default to Chris Harkins and he will guide you to the correct representative at ProQuest. Each contact above can also orient you around the complete breadth of ProQuest content available today.

We are pleased to support all libraries in the state of Washington and look forward to our continuing partnership with the Washington State Library.