

PUGET SOUND MAIL

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1880.

We have the pleasure of introducing

HON. JAS. A. GARFIELD, President Elect U. S.

The Presidential Election.

The following summary of the Presidential, Congressional and Territorial elections was received from the Seattle telegraph office on Wednesday:

Latest advices we have say: Probable indications are a Solid North against a Solid South. Garfield is undoubtedly elected. New York gives him 15,000 majority. Pacific States very close, but supposed to be Republican. Nevada in great doubt, but supposed to be Republican. In the East New Jersey thought to be the only Northern State in doubt. Republicans have gained 19 Congressmen.

SECOND DISPATCH—Friday, 5th.

Garfield has carried every Northern State but New Jersey, Nevada and California, though the latter is still in doubt.

List of States Carried by the Contending Parties.

The following are the States, with their votes in the Electoral College, carried by each Party:

Garfield and Arthur's majority in the Electoral College being 57. Harrah for Garfield and Arthur.

Territorial Election.

The following special dispatch from Seattle, dated 10 o'clock Wednesday evening, says:

Just finished counting Seattle vote. Results has nine majority. The Republican county ticket is elected to the last man. King county gives Results about fifty majority. Jefferson and Knap County are evenly divided. Pierce County is for Results one hundred and fifty and for Ballard two hundred. Thurston County gives Results one hundred and fifty. Lewis County seventy and Clark County one hundred and fifty. Estimates for the Territory range from fourteen hundred to two thousand.

SECOND DISPATCH—Friday, 5th.

So far as heard from Spokane has given Results forty three majority. Whitman ninety-three, Columbia fifty, Wall Wall one hundred and thirty, Condon one hundred and thirty, Lewis one hundred, Thurston one hundred and forty, King fifty, Okanogan.

Jefferson gives Results sixteen majority. Knap seventy-two, Shastana seventy. Clallam County is reported at two hundred and fifty for Results, and Pierce two hundred and thirty. Though figures are not certain Results majority in the Territory is variously estimated from fourteen hundred to two thousand.

As ENGLISH BARBERS, at which some twenty thousand people partook of free meals and refreshments, was given at the Agricultural Park at Sacramento, Cal., on the 21st ult. It was on the occasion of a grand Republican demonstration. About 700 teams arrived from the country, which were also provided with free feed. This great gathering came from an area of country as large as Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Considering that this crowd was called together by a single political party and that free "grab" was furnished for man and beast, it was certainly the most wonderful demonstration ever held in any part of the United States, which speaks volumes for the public spirit and generosity of the people of California. Ladies went among the crowd distributing Garfield badges to all who desired them. Able speakers addressed the multitude from four different stands.

The Case of the Editors of the Lancaster (Penn.) Intelligencer, who were also members of the bar, and who were expelled from the bar by Judge Patterson, because they published certain severe criticisms on his official conduct in a case then before him, has attracted considerable public attention in the Eastern States. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, Sharwood, C. J., delivering the opinion, have reversed the decision of Judge Patterson, and discuss at some length questions involved, wherein they do not deny the power of a Judge to disbar an attorney for official misconduct in or out of court. They decide that for "a grave offense committed out of court, such as theft, forgery or perjury, it is clear that an attorney cannot be summarily expelled from the bar without a formal indictment, trial and conviction by jury, or on confession in open court." And that the same rule applies in cases of libel. "The office of an attorney," says the court, "is his property, and he cannot be deprived of it unless by the judgment of his peers or the law of the land." The opinion further says, that as lawyers are the best qualified to bring to the public notice judicial misconduct, it is their right and duty to do so. "To say that an attorney can only act or speak on this subject under liability to be called to account and to be deprived of his profession and livelihood by the very Judge or Judges whom he may consider it his duty to attack and expose, is a position too monstrous to be entertained for a moment under our present system."

THE QUESTION OF PARTY FITNESS.—The campaign is over, but these remarks from a speaker appear to be the last. "I have been in the habit of saying that the record and principles of a party constitute the real test of its fitness and capacity for good government, and its only title to trust and confidence. We have three parties—the Republicans, Greenback and Democratic. Applying this test to each of them, I find that the Republican party has both a record and principles, and that both are good. [Cheers.] That the Greenback party has principles but no record, and that its principles are bad. [Laughter.] That the Democratic party has a record but no principles, and that its record is bad. [Laughter and applause.] Now, if I were here to make a stump speech, I would just demonstrate that proposition [a voice—You don't need to do that.]

The engineer of a train near Montreal saw a large dog on the track. He was barking furiously. The engineer blew the whistle at him, but he did not stir, and, crouching low, he was struck by the locomotive and killed. There was a bit of white muck on the locomotive, and it attracted the engineer, who stopped the train and went back. There lay the dead dog and a dead child, which had wandered upon the track and had gone to sleep. The dog had given his signal to stop the train, and had died at his post.

If the Government can make money why does it collect taxes? Why should the man borrow a candle? Here is a poor man working upon his farm the whole year, through rain and shine and snow, day and night, and at the end of the year people come to him and want $125 taxes. If the Government can make a $1,000 bill in a second why should it follow up that poor man? I wish the Government could make money, and that I could get my share now. I regret that the Aladdin palace made by the Greenback party consisted only of glorified mud. I am sorry that its dome was only a canopy of hope. I wish it had been a reality.—Robert G. Ingersoll.

Miss Mary Clark, aged 114 years, will ride in one of the processions during the Baltimore celebration. She was born near Baltimore on April 22, 1774, being a daughter of Robert Swain, who served in the British army in America but who deserted and served in the Continental army as a drummer. She has twenty-five grandchildren and sixty great-grandchildren living.

The Northern Pacific Railroad prospects are booming in the east. A Washington dispatch says that it is understood that in the forthcoming report of the Secretary of the Interior very favorable allusion will be made to the Northern Pacific Railroad. Early in the next year it will be completed to the Yellow-stone, and the company expect that in two years more it will be entirely finished. It is now considered that there will be no necessity for any additional legislation by Congress to confirm the title of the company to the lands granted by its charter. Secretary Schurz gives it as his opinion after personal inspection, that the road will be one of the most profitable in the country. The Philadelphia Nor-west says the stockholders of this Company, at their September meeting, authorized and instructed the managers to complete the road across the continent without delay. The question of construction is a question of money. This the stockholders determined wisely. They gave the Directors full authority to borrow on any and all property belonging to the company. They authorized them, in a word, to make just such a mortgage as will attract capital and provide the necessary means; they were obliged to do so, and their action was wise.

The infant Princess of Spain reposes in a cradle of polished ebony inlaid with silver. The curtains are of silver gauze, enameled with white velvet flowers; the coverlet of white satin, embroidered with the arms of Spain. Two lady attendants watch the little sleeper, one to keep away the flies, and the other to note the exact time of her awakening. And yet the colic which has no respect for royalty, doubles that youngster up like a jack knife every fifteen minutes.

An experiment made in the port of Kiel proved that heavy weights may be readily lifted from the bottom of the sea by means of a balloon. The balloon was made of canvas and metal plates, with an attached cistern containing carbonic acid gas compressed to a liquid state. When made fast to a sunken object, the communication between the cistern and the balloon is opened; inflation takes place; the sunken vessel, or whatever else it may be, is lifted, and can be towed away at pleasure. In the experiment at Kiel, an anchor stone weighing 15 tons was thus lifted from a depth of 32 feet. The lifting power of a balloon 10 feet in diameter is said to be more than 100 tons.

The widow of the late Mark Hopkins, in answer to a petition filed in the Probate Court of San Francisco, by one of the heirs, for the revocation of letters of administration issued to her, says property to the amount of nearly $19,000,000 has already been divided among the heirs.

The largest importation of gold ever received at New York on a single vessel was brought last week by the St. Laurent—$2,176,000. Another steamer arrived the same day with $1,000,000.

A Mormon Elder with 30 missionaries sailed from New York the other day to proselyte in England, Wales, Scotland, Norway and Sweden.

The coal shipment from Seattle during the ten months ending Oct. 31st was as follows: Seattle Coal Co., 105,276 tons and Reston Co., 5,670—total 111,106 tons. Not a bad showing.

The liabilities of the collapsed Ladies' Deposit Company of Boston are between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

A Traffic snow-storm in the province of Buenos Ayres, September 18th, caused death of 700,000 cattle, 500,000 sheep, 250,000 horses.

It is asserted that there are 13,000,000 of organized Radicals in Russia.

During the first twenty-four hours after the result of the October elections became known, Garfield received 167 congratulatory telegrams.

It is said that one of the results of the Earl of Airlie's visits to Oregon will be the speedy arrival of a large colony from Scotland, composed entirely of farmers.

A compromise is contemplated in France which will terminate the religious trouble.

This Territory is more Republican by far than 1860 or 1868 majority.

Freight to and from Puget Sound by steamer has fallen from $5 to $2, owing to competition.

KNITTING THE SCARE.

A shy little maiden sits by me to-night, softly humming an old tune low.

The bright threads flash through her fingers white, As she glideth the needles to and fro.

Little the maiden knoweth of this, And the conscious flood in her cheeks grows red.

What the needle beareth a double thread, And the conscious flood in her cheeks grows red.

And the conscious flood in her cheeks grows red, And the conscious flood in her cheeks grows red.

Queer Weddings.

Very recent volumes of court reports bring new and curious illustrations of the want of some uniform rule throughout the States as to what shall be a valid marriage ceremony.

In Worcester, Mass., a couple assumed to marry themselves after the fashion of "Friends." The ceremony occurred at the close of a public religious meeting.

The preacher came down from the pulpit, and took his stand in front of the pews. The lady came forward from her seat and stood by his side.

They joined hands and declared that they took each other for wife and for husband, respectively. The bridegroom then offered prayer. Both intended a lawful wedding.

Much less than this has been in New York, declared a perfect marriage. But, when this couple were prosecuted for dwelling together without having been married, the Supreme Court decided that, though they might be excused for the past, in view of their ignorance and good intention, yet they were mistaken in supposing that their ceremony had any validity.

There is a special exception in cases of persons conscientiously belonging to the Society of Friends; but all other persons must, in Massachusetts, be married by a minister or magistrate.

A story from West Virginia shows justice burlisqued; yet the decision was probably unavoidable under the confused laws of the time. A scamp was placed upon trial for having married Clara in West Virginia, while Fannie, whom he had not long before married in Wisconsin, was still living, and undivored.

The two marriages were proved easily enough, but defendant's counsel then offered to show that about a year and a half before the man's marriage to Fannie he had, in Ohio, married Sarah, who was still living when he afterward married Fannie, but who, as soon as she heard of this marriage, procured a divorce.

The lawyer argued that his client was never lawfully married to Fannie, on account of the previous marriage with Sarah, and that Sarah's divorce set him at liberty to marry Clara, as far as Sarah was concerned. And the court decided that the defense was good. True, the marriage with Fannie was a bigamy; but the court of West Virginia could not take any notice of that, because it had occurred in Wisconsin. Besides, it was not the offense charged in the indictment, and the statute of limitations had run, and the like.

A True Story.

The other morning two gentlemen were looking out of the window of a house on Market street, when they observed a cabbage roll of a market wagon that was passing.

Instantly one of a dozen well-dressed and apparently sane persons began yelling after the wagon, as though the vegetable had been a gold watch or a thousand dollar bill.

The driver stopped about half a square off, looked back at the cabbage, yawned, and drove on.

"What an absurd fuss people in the street make over trivial occurrences," said one of the gentlemen. "Now, I'll bet a silk hat I could get a crowd of five hundred persons around that cabbage inside of thirty minutes, and yet not leave this room."

"I take the bet," said his friend, pulling out his watch. "Are you ready?"

"Yes; give the word."

"It is now eleven-thirty. Go!"

The proposer of the wager led his friend to the window, threw up the sash, and taking a cane pointed earnestly at the mud covered cabbage with a terrified expression.

Presently a hack driver noticed the action and began to stare at the vegetable from the curbstone, then a bootblack, then a bill poster, a messenger boy, and a merchant.

"What's the matter?" inquired a German, approaching the innocent base of his national dish.

"Don't touch it! Look out there! Stand back!" shouted the gentleman at the window.

At his horror-stricken tones the crowd fell back precipitately, and formed a dense circle around the innocent cabbage. Hundreds came running up, and the excitement increased rapidly.

"Look out there!" frantically screamed the better, waving his cane. "Take that dog away quick!"

Several stones were thrown at a cur that was sniffing around the cabbage. "Take care!" said the car driver to a policeman, who was shouldering his way through the mass. "It's an infernal machine, nitro glycerine—or something."

Meanwhile the sidewalk was blocked, the street became impassable, women screamed and rushed into shops, and a storekeeper underneath began to tie a bucket on the end of a long pole with which to pour water on the devilish invention.

The crowd by this time numbering over a thousand, the two gentlemen moved away from the window and sat down. In a few moments there was a hurried tap at the door, and there appeared a man who had been sent as a delegate from the mass meeting outside.

"I should like to know, gentlemen," he said, "what the facts are."

"What facts?"

"Why, what there is peculiar about that cabbage out there?"

"Nothing in the world," was the soft reply, "except that it seems to be surrounded by about a thousand of the biggest fools in town. Do anything else for you?"

The man reflected a moment, said he "guessed not," and retired. Before he handed in his report, however, Captain Short's watch had dispersed the mob and clubbed two hundred and eleven separate persons for creating a disturbance.

House-Cleaning.—Mrs. J. D. S. writes: "I find washing soda better than ammonia or soap for cleaning house. It should be kept air tight when not in use. I keep mine in a self-sealing jar. A little of it is a great help on dirty paint and oil cloths. I think, too, there is less danger of the paint being left 'streaked' if one begins at the bottom of doors and windows rather than at the top."

Queen Victoria as Author Again.

Queen Victoria, it is stated, is again to become an author. She proposes to furnish a descriptive catalogue of all the presents given her during her reign, to be illustrated by photography.

The catalogue, it is said, will be exhaustive, including the most costly gifts of her brother sovereigns down to the patched bed quilt and wooden kitchen utensils sent from her poor subjects and neighbors at Balmoral.

The idea is a pretty, fanciful one, worthy of a good woman who has intelligence enough to know how to be grateful. Another monarch, the Emperor of Brazil, whom all Americans like to remember as the grizzled bearded, honest-eyed "Dom Pedro," and who tramped about the Centennial building, for his greater comfort, in a shabby coat and unlaced shoes has shown his devotion to literature in a different fashion.

He does not write books, but he never misses a chance of collecting and placing them so as best to serve his people. He has just held a Camoens tercentenary in Brazil, laid the foundation for a Portuguese library, and opened a Camoens exhibition at which he showed ninety different editions of the poet's works.

A volume has just been published, comprising the best works of fifty Brazilian poets, to which the Emperor furnished a few lines. What Dom Pedro's merits as a poet may be known not, but in sound, practical sense, in intelligence in his subjects, and in fidelity in discharging them, he is the ideal ruler of his time.

To KEEP LAMP CHIMNEYS FROM CRACKING.—The following recipe for keeping lamp chimneys from cracking is taken from the Diamond, a Leipzig journal devoted to the glass interest: Place your tumblers, chimneys or vessels which you desire to keep from cracking in a pot filled with cold water; add a little of the cooking salt, allow the mixture to boil well over a fire, and then cool slowly. Glass treated in this way is said not to crack even if exposed to very sudden changes of temperature.

Chimneys are said to become very durable by this process, which may also be extended to crockery, stoneware, porcelain, etc.

Some conjugal fidelities can be explained on the hypothesis that many a woman is satisfied to be nothing in her husband's heart so that she is everything in his life.
