RAILROAD MOVEMENTS.—In recent interviews with men well informed in railroad matters, we are confirmed in our previous opinion that the location of the terminus of the N. P. Railroad at Tacoma was not intended by the Directors of the Company to be permanent; their own observation and the confidential reports of their own accredited experts, condemned that location as the most unsuitable for a commercial city of any port suggested for this purpose upon Puget Sound. The location was not selected by Ainsworth and Rice, as was officially announced to the public, but was determined upon, for a specific and temporary purpose, months before the appointment of the locating commissioners. It was a kite-flying expedient to "raise the wind" and save Jay Cooke from bankruptcy, the plan and details of which were perfected by Mr. Cooke last winter and subsequently assented to by the Board as the only apparent available means for his relief, with the express understanding that when that object was accomplished the Company would be at liberty to extend the road to a more suitable sea port. The plan was to organize a joint stock company with a stock capital of three millions dollars in town property. This stock was to be put upon the market as soon as the city plat could be made after the public announcement of the location of the terminus, which had been so long and anxiously waited for by speculators, and from the sale of this stock Mr. Cooke confidently calculated to realize not less than two millions of dollars in time to meet the maturing obligations which finally swamped his house, and then this great speculative terminal city would have been abandoned to its fate by the Railroad Company as Deloth has been and as Olympia was after having received this pledged faith of the Company through its recognized agents. This plan would undoubtedly have succeeded had the fraud not been promptly exposed by the representations of persons cognizant of the facts residing here.

That the explosion of this questionable scheme for "making a raise" will result in public good as well as in great advantage to the Railroad, is already apparent. The sensational style of advertising the project pursued by Jay Cooke, contributed no more to its credit in financial circles than would like characteristic commendations of schemes emanating from George Francis Train, P. T. Barnum, or Dr. Humboldt; but rather gave it, by external evidence, the character of a fancy speculation, from which Jay Cooke's personal reputation could not redeem it. It passes now under the financial control of men of less speculative character and more practical business capacity. The first movement of the new management was to disband the Land Ring which had preyed like a leech upon the vitals of the Company from its first organization. The next is to throw off the organizations of town-site speculators who were using the Company to promote their own private interests in utter disregard of the interests of the public or the ultimate success of the road. This is the secret of the proposition made by Gen. Case to drop Tacoma and build the road to Seattle.

The plan of operations for the immediate future, as we understand it, is, to first extend the road to Seattle in order to secure a permanent, safe and convenient sea port; then to build the road to Portland, by the way of Vancouver, there to connect with Oregon Central Railroad, making a continuous line of nearly four hundred miles, with Seattle for its shipping port. It is believed by the most experienced transporters that freight can be carried by this route and shipped to San Francisco cheaper than by the Columbia river. This project will be no obstacle, but rather a great help to the building of the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad, by attracting capital and inducing investments at this great commercial center.

California Correspondence.
 COLIFERA, Cal., Dec. 6, 1873.
 Mr. Editor:—After the lapse of seven months of the driest quality of weather, with the exception of two slight showers, knocked quite out of time by some demoralization of the weather elements, we are at length in the midst of the introductory storm of the stormy season, and to use an expression common among vulgar people, it is a real "snorter." At this altitude the storm consists mainly of snow, and one of the heaviest falls ever known here. Barring the necessity of having the parched earth slaked and softened so as to admit of plowing and putting in the grain crops, we would, for comfort sake, as readily and gladly accept of the sunshiny sort of weather, as the blustering, carbiding, snow stormy kind. But after so long a spell of dry, hot weather, we expected something "rough and tumble" in the opposite extreme, and we expect to catch it big before the end of the season of storms. Should a heavy fall of warm rain immediately succeed the present enormous snow-fall, my next letter may be dated far out in the longitudinal degrees of the broad Pacific. In such an event we intend to imitate the example of the present Noah of olden time, and build an ark in which to save ourselves.—Whether we shall admit on board the craft a pair of every sort of living critter that inhabit the country here and hereabouts, is a sort of quiescense question. If my own counsels prevail in the matter, you can safely bet your lowest down "seed" that there are lots of animate beings, both in the human form and otherwise, that will not get aboard. None but the best breeds of people and brutes will be admitted, and the insect tribe, with very few exceptions, will be left to "paddle their own canoe." We propose to take nothing with us that is susceptible of being converted into a nuisance, not if we know ourselves. Old Noah missed it most egregiously in taking skunks and other nasty animals aboard for preservation, the result of doing which has been that an abominable stink has been kept up in the world from the assuaging of the flood to the present time.

Noah was a merciful man but it can hardly be said he was a wise benefactor of the human race or races of his time. He mixed up with them and preserved too many vile critters of different sorts for their future well-being. If we strike adrift this year, our ark will not be lumbered with human deadheads, hissing serpents, nor vicious or bad-smelling animals of the brute persuasion. With the best ark, the best people, the best animals, and the best of everything calculated to promote our comfort and happiness, we shall strike out for some Ararat, upon which to make a safe and permanent settlement. But a trace to the flood question.

The California Legislature met at Sacramento on Monday the first day of the present month, and when last heard from here, but little beyond the organization of the two houses had been done. From what has transpired in that body since its meeting, it would seem that more than the usual harmony and good feeling is likely to prevail at the present session. The organization in each house was completely in the power of the Democrats and the Independents, who united for the purpose, and who will stand together in sufficient force to overcome the corporate monopolies, and to carry to a successful issue such measures of needed reform as may be introduced. Some disappointment and demoralization was produced by the sudden and entirely unexpected resignation of Casserly, and what the consequence of his resignation will be is by no means clear; it may increase Booth's chances of being elected and it may not. If the Democrats and Independents strike the right man they can elect him, but unless the right man is hit upon Booth's success is already assured. Governor Booth preaches very good political and moral doctrines just now, but it should be remembered that in the past he has been instrumental in inflicting upon the country the very evils of which he now complains. His change is not sincere. It is only a matter of policy with him.—Ostensibly he is now trying to pull down what he has been building up in the past.

Last fall, a year ago, a friend of mine went up from here to see the Sound country, and particularly to prospect the San Juan and adjacent islands, having in view the establishment of the sheep raising business, if a favorable chance could be found. In the early part of the past fall he made a somewhat hasty tour of the islands and across the main-land of Whatcom county, and from thence to Seattle arriving at the latter place at the time of the King County Agricultural Fair. He was not favorably impressed with the appearance of the islands. He thought much of San Juan too sandy and poor for farming, and said that no running water was to be seen at that time upon the island. He liked Seattle at the first view and thought the Fair a success.—He is still on the Sound and contemplates more extended observations among the islands and over the country generally in the coming spring. The advantages or disadvantages of a country cannot be ascertained in a day, a week, or a month. One needs to spend several years in a country that is new to him before he is enabled to get the proper "hang" of it and know how to properly appreciate it. A country needs to be scoured and wintered several times over in order to be correctly known. I have resided in California over twenty-three years, and yet I do not know it thoroughly. Nearly every year something new turns up. A bran new bug or other insect comes along to prey upon the vegetable plate, or else perhaps some double-and-twisted pucker-up or atmospheric "combustion" is kicked up in our weather affairs which no one ever before dreamed of or supposed was possible. In the latter times the elements appear more unsteady and fluctuating than formerly. Nature it self seems sadly demoralized. It was once a thing of integrity, but it can hardly be relied upon now. Seemingly, it has lost the control of itself, and therefore not capable of self-government. A close observation of the current events of the passing time cannot fail to disclose the effects of nature's general demoralization and unreason in the acts and deeds of mankind. The fact is patent that the biped races are not at all improving, in moral way. There are more wrinkles on the horn of human nature to-day than at any former period of the world's history; that is, mankind have invented and devised more ways and means of "playing h—l" than they ever before possessed. In a moral sense, the signs of the times are by no means encouraging. And right here the question comes in, "What shall we do to be saved?" A political orator once closed his speech by declaring that three things were only necessary to be done in order to cure all the then existing evils of the country, to wit; first, to love the women; second, to hate snakes; and third, to vote the Democratic ticket. Perhaps an adherence to the same requirements would help us now.

 IN RELATION TO DELINQUENT TAXES.
 The City of Seattle does ordain as follows:
 That all taxes now due the City of Seattle on real and personal property are hereby declared delinquent; and that the City Clerk transmit to the Tax Collector a certified list of such taxes, with a warrant attached commanding the sale of such property on Saturday Feb. 7, A. D. 1874.

 Passed Jan. 1, 1874.

The St. Louis Dispatch says Geo. H. Williams owes his nomination as Chief Justice to the influence of Mrs. Williams, and continues: "American courtesy to ladies is proverbial. It has been left to Grant to make it historical. It is well known that the successor of Chief Justice Chase was appointed through the direct influence of Mrs. Williams. What is the moral of this act to the unbiased observer? Simply that it would be well for politicians to marry superior wives. It also exhibits a new element of power in the politics of the new world—though old enough and troublesome enough in 'effete' Europe—the petticoat."

PRESENTATION.—After the meeting of Olympia Lodge No. 1. A. F. and A. M., last Saturday evening, Hon. Elwood Evans, Past Grand Master of Masons of this Territory, was the recipient of a beautiful gold Past Master's Jewel. The presentation speech was made by Gov. Edward S. Salemon, master of Olympia Lodge. He called attention to the many and valuable services Mr. Evans had rendered the Fraternity, and said that the honor conferred upon him by his brother officers and members of the Grand Lodge was well merited and highly deserved.
 Mr. Evans was completely taken by surprise and greatly moved. He responded in a beautiful speech, full of eloquence and feeling, thanking the brethren who conferred this honor upon him and promising to aid in the future as in the past the masonic fraternity in their noble work. He closed amid fiery applause. The brethren then rushed around him and admired the beautiful and elegant jewel, which was manufactured by Mr. Jamison, Jeweller in Seattle, and which is really a work of art.—Olympia Courier.

It will be remembered that the master of the brig Koloa reported having seen the hull of a vessel, bottom up, 15 miles off Cape Flattery. We have learned that the Koloa was not within a mile of reported wreck, and as the weather at that time was very rough, it is very likely the "hull of a vessel" was a large tree taking a trip to sea. No vessel has been missed that could have been in that position.—Argus.

Puget Sound Dispatch

BERNARD BROWN, EDITOR Seattle, W. T., Jan. 8, 1874

INERTIA A RAILROAD CENTER. The proposition of Gen. Cass to extend the N. P. Railroad to Seattle, to which we have before a United, in connection with the proposed plan of connecting with the Oregon system of railroads at Portland, opens to Seattle a future of the brightest promise, and to the Railroad Company the only hope of making the road between the Columbia river and Puget Sound a paying investment.

These are simply the practical results of the transportation business between Portland and the interior, embracing a farming country of about 8,000 square miles but partially improved and sparsely settled. At Portland it is 120 miles from the seaboard by means of transportation uncertain, expensive and hazardous. During the recent ice blockade ten ships were frozen in the river; in one case, which came to our knowledge, a miller who had chartered a ship for Liverpool, was bound by his contract to pay ninety dollars a day for a delay of over two weeks; and this is probably but one of many like cases.

The port of Seattle is subject to none of these objections; easily accessible, always safe, with abundant water and good anchorage for vessels of every class. With the contemplated railroad connections, Seattle must of necessity become the entrepot and commercial center of a large proportion of the trade of the Willamette Valley. Cars loaded with grain or flour at any station upon the line of the railroad between Portland and Keesau, can be transported to this place without breaking bulk, and by means of elevators put on board of ships and conveyed to any of the markets of the world at much less cost than it can be transhipped at Portland through the Columbia river to the same markets.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company, since the failure of Jay Cooke & Co., paid off $200,000 of debts to contractors on the Eastern Division in lands at $6 an acre, in Northern Minnesota. The Government subsidy is 20 sections of 640 acres each, making 12,800 acres to the mile; at $6 an acre this would be $76,800. If the company had kept free of the Land Ring and properly husbanded its resources, it could have commanded all the means necessary to build the road in the shortest possible time, paid all its liabilities from the sale of its lands and had a surplus remaining of not less than $50,000,000. There is yet hope that under proper management the work will be redone from the mismanagement which has heretofore embarrassed it.

THE RAILROAD.—The first regular train between Tacoma and Tenino left Tacoma on Monday morning. The Tribune says the cars will leave Tacoma every morning (except Sundays) at 6 o'clock, and Tenino at 8 1/2, reaching Kalama before noon, where close connections are made with river steamers to Portland, making the run from Tacoma to Portland in about ten hours. Returning, trains leave Tenino at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and arrive at Tacoma at 5 1/2. Fare to Kalama, $6; to Portland, $7. Whenever the travel by this route will justify the investment, a steamer will be put on between here and Tacoma to make close connections with the trains while the road is being extended to Seattle, which will probably be completed within the present year.

RIGHTS OF TERRITORIES.—A Washington dispatch of the 24th ult. says: "The President announces the policy of making future Territorial appointments outside of said Territories, because of the party factions therein which are kept alive and embittered by selections from either."

This is the "carpet-bag" policy pure and simple, and though it has been practiced towards the Territories by every Administration for the last twenty years, no President has ever before volunteered a reason for it, and the excuse offered by President Grant for treating the citizens of Territories like subjects of penal colonies, only adds insult to injury; it is treating them like wards and dependents, threatened with punishment for indulging themselves in the expression of political differences which generate party factions. It is assumed that where party factions exist the people forfeit their right to self-government and strangers must be sent to rule over them, to act as their guardians and restrain them in the exercise of their rights as citizens of a free country under a popular form of government. The doctrine is imperialism undiluted, centralization without check or limit, absolutism unmitigated by the letter and hostile to the spirit of our free institutions, to assent to which would be treason to human rights. The right of self-government is inherent and inalienable; there is no lawful authority to deprive any recognized citizen of the Republic of that right. The right of the citizens of any organized Territory to regulate their own domestic institutions in their own way is as clearly defined by fundamental law as the same right to citizens of the several States, and quite as necessary to the enjoyment of the freedom guaranteed to all. The right of the General Government to prescribe domestic government to the citizens of Territories, is assumed without warrant of the Constitution, and like all assumed authority is subject to the grossest abuses because it has no defined limits. The citizens of the States uniformly protect themselves against colonization of voters and office seekers by prescribing a term of residence to both. The President, in the exercise of arbitrary and unauthorized authority, declares that no resident citizen of a Territory shall hold an office in the same, because he desires to restrain the citizen who has no vote for President from meddling with party politics.

Admitting the right of this thing, experience has proved that the policy is bad towards the public service. In almost every case of official malfeasance by Federal officials in Territories, the offender has been a "carpet bagger," and not a citizen of the Territory at the time of his appointment; and on the other hand, the best and most faithful officials have been among the occasional appointments of resident citizens. The temporary appointment of Marshall Blinn, an old resident, to the position of Superintendent of Indian Affairs, at the instance of Col. Kimball, is conceded by all but a few interested partisans, to be the most creditable appointment ever made to any office in this Territory, and no man in the Territory doubts that the affairs of the office will be honestly and judiciously conducted while he remains in charge, while under the control of "carpet-baggers" it has been an object of public scandal for years past; yet this is one of the appointments which the President proscribes as calculated to give offence to local politicians who may deem all appointments improper which are not made as rewards for party services. We protest against the doctrine in toto on all accounts.

An old farmer said to his sons: "Boys, don't you ever specklerate or wait for somebody to turn up. You might just as well go and set down on a stone in the middle of a molder, with a pall twist your legs, and wait for a cow to back up to you to be milked."

Another dreadful warning to snuff takers comes from Columbus, Ohio, where may be seen the man whom snuff sent to the Penitentiary. One night, when robbing a bank, yielding to depraved appetite, he took a pinch and the fatal sneeze, too, was his last, for in the Penitentiary he is denied the use of snuff.

Gen. Lewis T. Wigfall, formerly United States Senator from Texas, applied Dec. 1, for admission to the Baltimore City Bar. The customary oath of allegiance was administered and ex-Senator Wigfall was admitted to practice as an attorney.

IN 1827 November was the coldest November known in New England for fifty years, and it was followed by the mildest winter for fifty years. November, 1873, has proved to be about the coldest and most disagreeable (with one exception) of the past half century; and December, so far, is an intensification of this bad weather.—New York Express.

Senator Carpenter, who boldly defended the act which is properly characterized as the "back-pay grab," has been re-elected President of the Senate. This shows that the grabbers are not very penitent.

NEW VESSELS.—On board the bark Martha Rideout, which arrived here January 1st, were eight ship carpenters with Mr. W. Bryant, who came up to build a three-masted schooner for H. B. Ticknor & Co., of San Francisco. The dimensions of this vessel will be 110 feet keel, 9 feet depth of hold and 30 feet beam. A peculiarity of this vessel will be her five masts. She will be constructed at Port Blakely. Within two months after the keel of the above schooner is laid another vessel will be put on the stocks by Mr. Bryant, at the same place, for Messrs. C. L. Taylor & Co., of San Francisco. The dimensions of this craft will be 113 feet length of keel, 13 feet depth of hold and 34 feet beam. It is calculated that she will carry 500,000 ft. of lumber. She will be rigged as a barkentine. This speaks well for our ship building interests, and from present indications many vessels will be built on the Sound before the summer is out.

STRICTER RULES TO BE ENFORCED.—A Washington dispatch says that the following was issued yesterday from the Department of the Interior: From and after the first day of January, 1874, absence from his post of duty of any Territorial or other officers under the control of this Department, without special permission, will be accepted as tender of resignation, and will be acted on accordingly. Any officer asking leave will accompany his request with a statement of the cause for making such request. The frequent and unnecessary absence of officers under the control of this Department from their duty, with or without leave, has occasioned so much inconvenience to the service as to render this order imperatively necessary.

TO BE HOPED.—It has been remarked recently, says an exchange, that there seems to be a greater cordiality existing between members of the great political parties than for a number of years back—that the era of goods feeling seems to have come around at last. Whatever may be the cause, let us hope that the legislation of the present session of Congress may give practical evidence of this "new era," and the cordiality with which Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, who was the Vice President of the Southern Confederacy, was received by Radical members, may prove to be mere compliment, from the manner in which the large majority will deal with the section from which he comes, and, in part, represents.

A circumstance without a parallel in the military history of our country, is recorded in Illinois. H. Wheeler, of Schuyler county, in that State, enlisted in the United States army, under General Lyon, in 1851, was wounded, captured and paroled, but by some strange oversight, was never discharged from the service until a few days ago, when the proper papers were made out, and his back pay and pension—amounting to near $4,000—were paid him.—New York Sun.

Gen. Lewis T. Wigfall, formerly United States Senator from Texas, applied Dec. 1, for admission to the Baltimore City Bar. The customary oath of allegiance was administered and ex-Senator Wigfall was admitted to practice as an attorney.

THE BARK.—The bark Mary Glover, which sailed from Nansimo with a load of coal for San Francisco, got about 60 miles outside Cape Flattery when she commenced leaking so badly that she had to put back to Royal Roads, where the bark arrived on the 1st instant. The Mastick has towed her into Port Discovery, and it is probable that her cargo of coal will be reshipped in the Reverse, now lying at that place.

Louisville has unwittingly committed itself to a grand temperance reform by voting to send drunkards and editors home instead of to the lock-up. Not even confirmed inebriates require a second treatment. They usually come out about the third day a little more bald and with a frightened look about the eyes that tells of the chastening influence of a good Christian home.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. Seattle, W. T., Jan. 8 1874.

Mr. J. W. Sweeney has been appointed Superintendent of the Puget Sound Telegraph Company.

Social Dance.—Prof. J. M. Wood will give a social dance at the Pavilion on Thursday, January 15. Admission $1.

Supper.—Supper will be served to the ladies and gentlemen attending the Odd Fellows Ball, for 50 cts. each, at the Seattle House, on Mill St.

Overboard.—While at Port Gamble Tuesday evening, one of the passengers of the North Pacific walked overboard. He was rescued with no other damage than a good wetting.

Married.—At St. David's Chapel, in East Portland, on the 30th ult., by Rev. John Rosenberg, Mr. O. F. Cosper, of Seattle, to Miss Pamela Allen, of the former place.

Odd Fellows' Ball.—By the arrangements being made we should judge that the Ball on Thursday evening will be the grandest affair of the season. The Ladies are all in for the Odd Fellows.

Two granges of the Patrons of Husbandry were established in this county last week by Daniel Clark, Esq., of Oregon. Others would have been established but that Mr. Clark's time was limited. He expected to establish a Grange in Thurston county on his return.

The University.—The present term opened this (Monday) morning with a short working force, hence the necessity of dismissing most of the pupils formerly in Miss John's department. The Regents will have to arrange the matter of prepaid tuition.

E. K. HILL.

New Store.—Mr. B. Bernstein, an experienced and successful merchant, is opening at the store lately occupied by Stone & Barnett, a general assortment of merchandise for a wholesale and retail trade. Messrs. Charles Burnett, E. Hopkins and A. Mandt may be found in this new establishment, ready to wait on customers in the various departments.

Accident.—Yesterday, Monday, afternoon, Albert Richards, a boy about 15 years of age, a son of Mr. Richards, of the American Exchange, while climbing around a pile of lumber at the mill, fell, pulling a quantity of lumber over on him, breaking his left leg about two inches above the ankle joint. He was taken home immediately. Dr. Chapin set the limb and informs us that the boy is very comfortable to-day.

At a regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Puget Sound Telegraph Company, held Monday last, the following persons were elected trustees for the ensuing year: O. F. Gerish, D. C. H. Rothschild, Marshall Blinn, Cyrus Walker and M. Renton. The Trustees organized by electing O. F. Gerish, President; Cyrus Walker, Treasurer, and James G. Swan, Secretary.

New Mines.—The gold mines on the Sultan river, a branch of the Snohomish, are being successfully worked, principally by Chinamen. On last Monday morning 35 went down on the Zephyr, and about as many more have engaged passage for next trip. An intelligent Chinaman informs us that those there are making good wages and that there is room for many more to do as well. From one to three dollars a day is regarded as good wages for Chinamen, but does not offer great inducements to white men.

Collision in the Strait.—A collision between the bark North West and the English bark Nanantam, occurred in the Strait on Wednesday. The North West was bound for San Francisco with lumber, and put back with a patch on her side. The Nanantam came in with her jib boom and some of her fore rigging gone. Both vessels arrived on Thursday. We have been unable to gain any particulars, and believe that the matter is in the hands of the underwriters.—Argus.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Mrs. Ann Eliza Young, Brigham Young's 19th wife, was to have delivered her lecture on polygamy here this evening, is seriously indisposed and has been obliged to postpone her appearance.

New York, Jan. 2.—Steamship Eithopi, from Glasgow, while coming up the Bay this morning came into collision with pilot boat E. F. Williams, and was run ashore on Staten Island. She will have to discharge part of her cargo before she can get off.

A Key West dispatch says Capt. M. D. Whiting, Chief of Staff of the Atlantic Squadron, Lt. Adolph Marix, Lt. Foyle, and Chief Engineer Harris, of the dispatch boat, have been summoned to testify in an investigation in regard to the sinking of the Virginia.

Cincinnati, Jan. 2.—B. O. Rogers, for several years book-keeper in Samuel Davis, jr. & Co's pork packing house in this city, was arrested yesterday, charged with embezzling money of his employers. Amount not known but supposed to be over $12,000.

New York, Jan. 3.—Rufus Hatch, Managing Director of the Pacific Mail S. S. Co., states that the relations between his Company and the Pacific Railroad Company are at an end. No negotiations, looking to a renewal of the former contract, are off, and each route will act henceforth independently of the other.

Washington, Jan. 2.—Williams still seems confident of confirmation, notwithstanding the lawyers in the Senate almost unanimously protest against his candidacy, and urge an exchange of his nomination to the Supreme bench or some foreign appointment. Meantime, there seems to be no room to doubt that the Department of Justice paid $1,000 for a landulet used exclusively by the Williams family, besides several hundred dollars for repairs on the same and $750 for horses to draw it.

It is understood that the Senate Military Committee will report that General Crook's nomination cannot be confirmed without some change in the present law, which, the Committee holds, was intended to prohibit any new appointment of Brigadier until the total number, inclusive of staff Brigadiers, should be reduced to 66. This construction is opposed by the Judge Advocate General and will be strongly combatted in the Senate. If sustained, however, the law will probably be changed for Crook's benefit.

Havana, Jan. 3.—Wharf laborers and trade organizations demand to be paid in gold or its equivalent in currency, and propose to strike on Monday unless their terms are complied with. The draymen and coolies will join in event of a strike. Junta on the debt has been in session to-day, discussing means to relieve the financial situation, but without result. The proprietors of newspapers also held a meeting to consider the propriety of raising their subscription rates.

Madrid, Jan. 3.—In the Cortes to-day the deputies on two votes gave a majority of 120 against President Castellar. General Parvia, who is friendly to Castellar, thereupon occupied the palace of the Cortes and other public buildings with 14,000 troops, dissolved the Cortes and summoned the most eminent men of all parties, including members of the present Government, and only excepting Carlists and Transients, to form a Government. This General Parvia declared was the only way for the salvation of the country.—He refused strongly to become a member of the Government. The streets are filled with people and there is great excitement, but no blood has been shed. Vesuvius threatens another eruption.

Strike of Engineers on the Eastern railroads ended. The men accepted reduced wages.

London, Jan. 2.—Advices from Cape Coast Castle to Dec. 15th report the Ashantees driven across the river Prai, reentering their own territory in great disorder. They left a large number of wounded on the bank of the river.—Woolsey was in pursuit with five hundred sailors and troops. Ships Himalaya and Tamar having arrived, everything was ready for an advance upon Comossie.

Madrid, Jan. 2.—Another extensive fire accompanied by a terrible explosion has occurred at Cartagena.

Deputies to Cortes are endeavoring to reconcile differences between Salmeron and President Castellar.

Marshal Gerrano is endeavoring to secure the removal of General Morianez from the command of Republican forces in Corvoja. Government has suppressed several newspapers with federal proclivities.

Tuesday night a shell from besieging batteries in Cartagena, fired insurgent iron clad lying in harbor. After burning for three hours the fire reached the magazine, which exploded with tremendous force.

London, Jan. 2.—A special to the Daily Telegraph says 300 Ashantees were drowned in the river Prai, in their flight before Sir Grant Woolsey.

Specie in the Bank of England has increased during the week $196,000. The investigation into the Ville de Havre disaster was continued to-day. The deposition of Capt. Surmont was read.—He attributes the disaster to lack of steering by both vessels. A deposition was read from the man on the lookout on board the steamship, declaring that he saw no light on the Lochearn until after the collision. He also says the Lochearn did not alter her course at all. The carpenter's apprentice of the Lochearn reiterates his story that the mate of the latter vessel threatened to fire upon the Frenchmen's boats because of their refusal to aid in the rescue of their comrades. He also testified to the dryness of Capt. Surmont's clothing when he came on board the ship.

New York, Jan. 2.—At a meeting of the directors of Yorkville Savings Bank yesterday, a communication was read from Harry G. met, the fugitive, resigning the Presidency. No one would admit he knew where Gmet could be found.

Washington, Jan. 4.—James R. Harris has been appointed Post Master of Chehalis, W. T.

There are no new developments with regard to the Chief Justiceship, though the preponderance of opinion now is that the nomination of Williams will be confirmed.

United States Mexican commission has resumed business and will doubtless dispose of all cases on the docket by the expiration of its extended time. Within the last two months the Commissioners have decided at least one hundred cases, including among them a reverse of the decisions in the case of Daniel E. Woodhouse vs. Mexico, known as the Tehantepec Claims, in which the petitioner stated the amount of damages at over $50,000,000. The claim of Mexico for $27,000,000 damages on account of damages from Indian incursions, is now in the hands of Sir Edward Thornton, the umpire, the Commissioners being equally divided in opinion. Mexico claims that, under the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, the United States pledged themselves to forcibly restrain Indian incursions into her territory, and that whenever such raids could not be prevented the Indians should be punished by our Government and satisfaction for the same exacted.

New York, Jan. 4.—Bark Polly, from Pensacola for Liverpool, was lost during the hurricane of the 20th of Dec. The second officer, steward, and six others were washed overboard and drowned. Twelve subjects of Great Britain among the Virginia survivors have been taken charge of by the British consul here. They leave this week for Liverpool.

Madrid, Jan. 4.—A new Ministry has been formed.—Minister of Foreign Affairs, Sagasta; War, Savaia; Justice, Figuerola; Finance, Rehargay; Interior, Ruiz; Marine, Topete.

The final decree vote by which Castellar was beaten in the Cortes stood 120 to 100, the majority against Castellar being 20 instead of 120 as previously reported.

As soon as the result was announced, General Pavia sent an officer to the Chamber with a letter demanding the dissolution of the Cortes. Salmeron and others urged Castellar to continue in power but their prayer was refused, whereupon a company of the municipal guard entered the palace of the Cortes and expelled the deputies, while Gen. Pavia with his staff occupied a position outside, with cannon pointed at building. In the evening all strategic points in the city were occupied by the militia. Last night the civil and military authorities of nearly all the provinces in communication with Madrid telegraphed to General Pavia their approval of his conduct. No disturbance is reported in any quarter. A decree has been promulgated appointing Marshal Serrano Head of Executive Power.

London, Jan. 4.—A dispatch from Lapala, dated yesterday, says the assault upon Cartagena has begun, the Commander in chief advancing upon San Antonio suburb, 150 yards from the city. A desperate engagement is in progress, the issue of which is doubtful. Famine prevails in the Russian province of Samara.

Paris, Jan. 4.—French Admiralty Court has pronounced judgement declaring manouvres of steamer Ville de Havra to have been blameless, and holding bad management of Lochearn as cause of disaster. Court eulogized Captain Surmont.

San Francisco, Jan. 5.—Flour, $6 75 @7 for Extra. Wheat, choice, firm at $2.30. Barley, coast feed $1 37 1/2 @ 40; Brewing, $1 52 1/2 @ 1 60; Choice $1 65. Oats, $1 60 @ 170. Hay, $13 @ 17.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 5.—Tribune's New York special says attempt was made on New Years to kill Judge S. D. Morris, formerly District Attorney of Brooklyn, with an infernal machine. As the Judge was absent at the time, the box was put aside until his return. Yesterday Morris opened it in his bedroom surrounded by his family. On lifting the lid the snap of a spring was heard all at once, when it was seen that the box was an infernal machine.

Fredericshyzen it is said is opposed to confirmation of Williams, making six of seven members of Judiciary Committee united in that view.

Cresswell states officially that an increased subsidy of half a million to China line for double service will not be needed, owing to inability of the Company to comply with the law granting increased subsidy.

Pavia's assumption of power was with consent and approval of Castellar.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Bankrupt bill of Senate Judiciary Committee offered in lieu of house proposition for repeal, requires concurrence of a quarter of insolvent's creditors to force him into bankruptcy. It allows majority of the creditors to take care out of bankruptcy any time and permits any number of creditors to make composition of their own claim, after British system.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 6.—Special from Topeka says case of State vs. Pomeroy for bribery of Senator York, County Court was called to-day; defendant not present. His counsel asked further continuance which was refused and Pomeroy's bill $20,000 ordered forfeited with understanding, however, that if defendant appears for trial during this month order for forfeiture be rescinded. It is believed here that Pomeroy will never be tried, but as case now stands it puts him in the position of a criminal at large, without bail and liable to arrest at any time.

New Orleans, Jan. 6.—A special from Austin, Texas, says Supreme Court just decided late State election unconstitutional, on the grounds that the polls were only kept open one day instead of four, as provided in new Constitution.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 6.—In the House this morning resolutions offered by McLain, Republican, yesterday to ensure Congress for passing salary grab act were reported back, so as to include President Grant for not vetoing bill. Republicans sought to get division on question to vote first on censuring Congress and failing, voted solidly against resolutions which were adopted by unanimous Democratic vote.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Legislature met to-day Lieut. Gov. Robinson presiding over the Senate. James C. Halsted, Republican, elected speaker of Assembly.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The fact that President yesterday had a confidential interview with Senate Judiciary Committee, gave rise to the rumor that he intended to withdraw nomination of Williams for Chief Justice at noon to-day. Williams was not informed of such purpose nor could confirmation of rumor be then obtained at Executive Mansion. It is intimated that the subject may be a matter of Cabinet advisement. Senate Finance Committee to-day agreed report favorably on bill authorizing National banks to withdraw bonds deposited in United States Treasury as security in proportion as they retire their circulation.

San Francisco, Jan. 6.—Sailed, Prince Alfred with the following passengers for Victoria: Sir H. Berther, Thos. Olliver, A. N. Rickards, wife and 2 children, Thos. Buckler wife and 4 children, A. J. McClellan, Capt. Hummer, Thos. Knell, J. M. E. Atkinson, E. L. Hastrop, Henry Morrill, Capt. Jas. Madden, Joseph Burns, J. McGarry, Capt. Starr, Jno. Walls, A. Haffensler, A. Batterby, and 20 in the steerage.

New York, Jan. 5.—About a thousand of unemployed workmen met this morning at Union Square, in response to a call issued by Otis P. A. Dunn to denounce the assistant-aldermen in failing to order his departments to have all work done by the day's labor instead of contract. Theodore H. Banks who appeared at all similar meetings was made temporary chairman and in course of his short address urged workmen to the front and hold their own against swindling politicians, who wanted to keep them in starvation. He advised them, however, not to take definite action, but to wait for the open air meeting next week arranged by the Committee of Safety, at close of which the unemployed men would march to the City Hall and pass in review before the Mayor and Alderman Dunn, who issued the call now appeared and was made permanent chairman. He advised the workmen not to be hasty, at the same time urging them to organize on the spot and march to the City Hall and wait the reply of the Mayor, Comptroller and Aldermen to their demands. One Maguire followed, saying that if the demands were not acceded to by fair means, then force must be used to prevent the heads of the Departments having their own way.

A Committee of 5 was appointed to visit the Mayor and Comptroller, after which all started for the City Hall. On reaching the City Hall the Committee attempted to see the Mayor and other heads of departments, but failed in every instance. The crowd that accompanied them listened to more addresses, resolved to hold a grand meeting on Thursday next, and dispersed.

Bar Association of this city will consider in special session to-morrow evening the nomination of Williams to the Chief Justiceship.

London, Jan. 5.—The Times Madrid special says it was Serrano's wish that Castellar should be a member of the new ministry, but the latter refused.

On the defeat of Castellar and previous to the interference of Gen. Pavia, the Cortes elected Senor Katenia President of the Cabinet. The National Militia is being quietly disbanded.

A rumor is in circulation in Madrid that the late retreat of Gen. Mariones was a concerted manoeuvre in support of Gen. Pavia's coupe d'etat.

The Standard has intelligence from the Gold Coast that the British forces will enter Ashantee Territory the 12th of this month.

Columbus, Jan. 5.—Legislature met to-day. House organized by the election of Geo. L. Converse, of Franklin, Speaker, Thomas Conghlin, Chief Clerk, and a full list of Democratic minor officials. After the organization, resolutions asking Congress to repeal the salary bill were offered and referred to a special committee with instructions to amend so as to censure the President for signing the bill and report to-morrow.

The Senate elected S. K. Donovan Chief Clerk and a full list of Democratic officers.

Washington, Jan. 5.—Senate met at noon, Carpenter presiding. He presented the report of the Secretary of the Senate in reply to a resolution calling for information as to the amount of compensation received by the Senators Union organization from the Government. Laid on the table. Edmunds, of the Judiciary Committee, reported back to the House the bill to repeal the bankrupt law, with sundry amendments, and a recommendation that with such amendments the bill be passed. Edmunds said he had no hesitation in stating that the whole committee had agreed substantially on the amendments.

Wright, of Ohio introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Civil Service Retrenchment to inquire into the expediency of reporting a bill making a reduction of ten per cent of the compensation of all officers of the Government whose salaries exceed $1,000 per annum or $3 per day. Cameron objected and it was laid over.

On motion of Wright, the House bill to establish the compensation of Senators and Representative delegates was taken up and, with amendments, reported to the Senate Committee on Civil Service Retrenchment, striking out the first three sections and substituting therefore sections repealing the act of March 3d, 1873, and fixing the salary as it was prior to the passage of that, and further providing that the compensation of the several heads of the departments be $8,000 per annum.

SEATTLE, August 10, 1873. I have been a sufferer for several years from chronic bilious affections from which no medicine tried by me afforded any relief. EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE DAILY DISPATCH

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—Under the new system of selecting the steamers to carry the European mails, the Postmaster General has designated 24 steamers...

New York, Dec. 29.—At a meeting of the creditors of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad to-day, at which a large representation was present, it was unanimously resolved to accept the proposition of the Company to fund the floating debt with an issue of bonds.

The trial of ex-Senator Wm. W. Graham, late President of the Wallkill National Bank, charged with embezzling $100,000 of funds of Bank, was commenced this afternoon in the U. S. Court, before Judge Benedict. Jury was obtained and Court adjourned until to-morrow.

United States Steamer Ossipee has arrived here without the Virginians. It is rumored that the latter sunk on the passage. The Tribune says no tidings can be obtained concerning the Virginians. She can hardly have been left in the lower Bay, for the tide is in every way favorable to towing her in.

It appears to be the general opinion that the Virginians was either cast adrift or accidentally separated from the Ossipee during the terrible storm of the 28th inst. All recent reports represent her as being in a leaky and generally disabled condition. Experienced mariners express the opinion that she would hardly have been able to withstand the recent gales which all incoming vessels have reported. Nothing definite, however, could be learned at the hour of going to press.

MADRID, Dec. 29.—Believed that Castellar will have a majority in the Cortes, and this insured by the support of Figueras.

Imperial says the Insurgents of Cartagena are preparing to fly from the city and are getting a fleet of vessels ready for the purpose.

Cortes will meet January 2d when Serrano will be placed at the head of Spanish affairs. England, France, Prussia will be pleased to recognize Serrano on the same basis that they have recognized the President of the French Republic.

Minister Layard has papers all ready to seize the opportune moment for the recognition. This news was kept secret, but it is positive that if the report to suppress the recognition these papers are expected to intervene in the matter, as well as the Carlist affairs.

London, Dec. 29.—A special to the Daily Telegraph from Berlin says the project to make Prince Frederick William Regent has been abandoned in consequence of the improvement in health of the Emperor.

New York, Dec. 30.—Lt. Commander Maxwell of the Ossipee made the following statement to-day concerning the loss of the Virginians. The Ossipee left Toke with the Virginians in tow on the morning of the 19th inst. They had fair weather until the afternoon of Saturday, following day, when a gale sprang up and they continued to have bad weather. The Virginians signalled that she was leaking badly. Capt. Walters therefore determined to shape his course for Charleston, S. C., but as they got into smoother water the Virginians behaved better and water was kept out of the fire-room. Christmas day, the severe weather having continued, the Virginians leaked badly as ever and both vessels put into Flying Pig Shoals, about ten miles south of Cape Fear light, where smoother water could be obtained. Here the vessels came to anchor. Capt. Walters hoping the Virginians would ride out the gale. Before daylight next morning, Friday, Commander Woodrow signalled with light that the Virginians was leaking rapidly, with fires out and pumps stopped, and that the crew wished to be taken off.

Bonts were lowered from the Ossipee at day light and at 7 o'clock all on board the Virginians were transferred from the former vessel as a heavy sea was running. The work was one of much danger and difficulty, and therefore their lives were risked, endeavoring to save the personal effects and other property on the Virginians. Haver of the Virginians was cut and a buoy attached to mark the position in case she sank out of sight. The Ossipee remained at anchor during the day. At a quarter past 4 p. m. the Virginians, which had been gradually settling, went to the bottom. The topsails remain above the surface. Ossipee then resumed her voyage.

The released captives of the Virginians remain at the Cuban restaurants on Pine St., and the scene there to-day was one of great enthusiasm. Resolutions were adopted thanking Commander Braine, of the Junata, for his kindness and expressing sympathy with him in the loss of his son.

Engineer Knight of the Virginians says that the sentence of the Court-Martial at Santiago was that the entire crew should be hanged at the yard-arm, but the Captain of the Isabella Catalina did not want such spectacle on his vessel and obtained a change of sentence to death by shooting, and commutation of the sentence of 17 of the crew to the chain gang; Knight, 2 quartermasters, and one of the others were accordingly sentenced to the chain gang for life; others, 13 of whom were boys, 8 and 4 years hard labor. A life sentence of this kind is regarded as worse than death.

LA GRANGE, Ky., Dec. 30.—Jail in this place set fire by the prisoners to-day and totally destroyed.

Committee of Supervisors of Brooklyn report that Commissioners of Charities have surrendered $100,000 in last four years by buying supplies miserable in quality and deficient in quantity at from 50 to 300 per cent. above usual market rates for first class articles.

Committee recommend Governor Lix to remove whole board. Investigation into affairs of Almshouse of same city develops the most shameful state of affairs. In regard to treatment of the inmates they state that the doctor in the institution goes to work to perform a difficult surgical operation when so drunk as to be scarcely able to stand.

Orders have been issued for the reduction of the wages of engineers and others employed running trains of the Pennsylvania R. R. takes effect Thursday. It is reported that men will strike.

HAVANA, Dec. 30.—Hemis Government relieved General Barriel of command of Eastern Department because in proclamation issued last week he attacked existing Administration of Spain. He has been ordered to appear in Madrid to answer charge preferred against him in relation to this matter.

Capt. General Jovellar insists that Government shall accept his resignation unless he is granted full extraordinary powers enjoyed by his predecessors. Government has conceded increased powers but they are restricted by certain conditions.

LONDON, Dec. 30.—Mr. Hammel, official of Board of Trade, opened inquiry into Ville de Havre disaster to-day. Object was to elicit facts. There was no desire to prefer criminal charges against any one.
