THE OREGON COMMISSION.—A San Francisco telegram of the 13th says: The Senatorial Committee to investigate Gov. Grover, will leave here on the 20th inst., on the Dakota, reaching Portland via Puget Sound. These Senatorial dignitaries may be expected here a week from next Monday, when a favorable opportunity will be offered to our citizens to extend to them an invitation to accept the hospitalities of our town and make an examination of its surroundings, either at that or some future time. Will they attend to it?

The steamer Annie Stewart has been hauled off the route from this city to Port Townsend, the business not being sufficient to pay, and laid up in fresh water on the Duwamish river, to await a demand for her services.

The steamers Otter and Messenger left for Olympia and way ports this morning. Both had some passengers, but neither was crowded. Fare anywhere from $1 to 25 cents.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—In the morning at 11 o'clock Rev. Dr. Geary of Eugene, Oregon, will preach, and in the evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. R. J. Thompson, of Olympia.

From the Daily of Monday.

ASSAULT WITH INTENT TO KILL.—On Sunday, between 2 and 3 o'clock in a house belonging to Clancey Brothers, back of the El Dorada Saloon, John Andrew was stabbed and dangerously wounded by a room-mate named Peter Murray. An examination was had before Justice Selye this morning, and from the testimony the following facts appear. The parties were both Scotchman and intimate friends; Murray had been disabled for work for some time and was living on the bounty of his friend Andrew. On Sunday they had been drinking together freely, and a witness who occupied the same house says they became excited in a discussion about a mutual acquaintance in Scotland, when Murray called Andrew a bummer. Witness left them at 2 o'clock and returned with Wilson Duncan and found the door of the room barred and Murray lying on the bed with a broken knife in his hand. Murray was asked why he stabbed John. He replied: "Do you see the Devil and God fighting and running after each other." "No," was the answer. "Well, I do, I say I see them." It was evident that both were drunk and Murray at least, laboring under delirium tremens. Dr. Bryant asked Andrews who cut him and his answer was—"A friend." The doctor says the wound is not necessarily mortal, though four inches deep and two and a half inches long, just above the left nipple, and was evidently made with a butcher knife which cannot be found. Murray was held to bail in $1,000, and in default of bond was committed to jail to await the next term of Court.

FROM THE NORTHWARD.—The steamers Zephyr, Fanny Lake and Teazer arrived on Saturday afternoon and evening from Sound ports north of Seattle, bringing a large passenger list. Among the passengers are Mr. Moore of Moore & Dinsmore and two other loggers, and also several farmers going to Olympia to prove up on their claims. The reports they give are encouraging for business. They say there are six logging camps on the Skagit, four on the Samish, three on Port Susan and that over five millions feet of saw logs will be ready to ship to the mills by the fourth of July. But few camps will shut down until wet weather sets in.

RESPECT FOR SUNDAY.—The Chinamen who were at work for Morrill clearing the debris at the Seattle Coal chute, refused to work on Sunday. They said they did not want to be stoned by the Christian boys in the city.

CONSOLIDATION.—We are informed by one of the owners that the steamers Zephyr and Libby have consolidated for one year, and that the profits and losses are to be equally divided. They are to run alternate trips until the grain crop is ready to ship, then both will be put on the route as occasion may require not interfering, however, with regular mail days. The Zephyr left this morning and the Libby goes the last of the week.

STEAMER TACOMA.—While this steamer was towing around a large boom of logs from the Lodge & Dale camp on Fidalgo Bay, the wind freshened up—when off Point Partridge and the waves were so great that the logs began to jump the boom sticks. The loss is estimated at 400 M. They were being towed to Tacoma mill and we are informed the loss will fall on the mill company.

THE CROPS OF THE STILGAMISH, Skagit, Swinomish, Samish, Fidalgo and Whidby Islands are reported better than ever known before. Mr. Hines, one of the farmers who came by the Fanny Lake says he challenges any State or Territory to show as good. He thinks his wheat will yield 80 bushels and his oats 100 bushels to the acre.

Schooner Carrie Hayden arrived last night from the Islands with part cargo of oil to owner Capt. Keith, who informs us that he entered Holme's harbor and visited different logging camps, and sold quite a lot of oil in that port. He says the loggers are doing well. Rockwell & Mc Lane have a large boom in and several others amounting to over two millions feet are almost ready for shipment. Several booms were sent to Ludlow a few days before Mr. Phinney's death.

TACOMA LIVELY.—A passenger from Tacoma says he has travelled over Nevada, Oregon, California and this Territory and never saw in the same length of time as many fights as he saw at Tacoma this morning. All drunk and in every saloon, both at old and new town, men were fighting. That shows that business is improving in that town. For the past two years there has been nothing there to fight about.

UTSALADY.—Cyrus Walker and a gentleman from San Francisco are expected to visit this mill this week. There is a probability that the mill will be started sooner than heretofore anticipated. Capt. Foyes is finishing up the repairs.

STEAMER DISPATCH, from the Northwest, arrived on Saturday with 6,200 pounds wool for Baxter & Co, 10 hali, but, 2 fawns and but little other freight. She reports no vessels in sight on her route but those at Townsend and the mills.

GENEROUS.—Messrs. L. P. Smith & Son have donated to the Regatta to be held here on the 4th of July a silver Tea Set, value $40 which has been on exhibition at Jack Levy's cigar stand, to be seen now at L. P. Smith & Son's Jewelry establishment on Front street.

W. G. Jamieson, with his usual generosity has donated to the winning Base Ball club, on the 4th of July, a prize Bat, made of curly maple, production of this country, handsomely mounted with solid silver, to be engraved with the name of the winning base ball club.

EMIGRANTS are flocking into the valley of the Skagit. The jam will soon be out and 70 miles of the river opened to navigation. The reports of gold and coal discoveries in that section are confirmed.

Dispatch and Teazer left last evening for down Sound ports; Alida for up Sound. Fanny Lake at her usual time this morning on her regular route. None had a large passenger and freight list except the Fanny.

CROPS.—Henry H. McCabe, from White River, says that crops look well and that hay-making will commence about the middle of July, then those who wish employment can get it. We fear there are many in Seattle complaining they cannot get work, who are afraid they will find it.

CASTINGS.—We saw yesterday a large amount of castings on Yealer's wharf for the Gamble and Ludlow mills. They were cast at the Puget Sound Foundry. Some of them were very bulky and difficult to mould but as a lot they were as nice castings as can be turned out of any shop north of San Francisco.

Hon. Frank Clark local Attorney for the North Pacific Railroad Company, is in the city.

STEAMER BLAKELY towed a large boom of logs to Blakely today. We are told the logs are from the Skagit.

The steamer Messenger arrived at 2 o'clock, with a good passenger list and light freight.

U. S. Revenue Cutter Oliver Walcott left at 8 o'clock last evening for down Sound on a cruise.

The Cello towed a boom of logs to Freeport mill yesterday.

From the Daily of Tuesday.

TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT.—The "Diabolical Deed," chronicled in our morning cotemporary, turns out about as we expected. The railroad of the Seattle Coal and Transportation Company runs through the land of Mr. John Ross, an old and highly respectable citizen of this county. The Company and Mr. Ross failing to agree upon the terms for the right-of-way, the latter, for the purpose of bringing the matter to an issue before the Courts, yesterday openly tore up the rails upon his land, and he says he informed the Company he had done so before the train left the depot, and he flagged the locomotive and warned the engineer of what he had done, long before they got to the spot. He thought by doing this without loss of locomotive or cars, or danger to life or limb, it would bring the matter to a close. Mr. Ross is having an examination before a Justice's Court at Newcastle today, Messrs. McNaught & Leary for the prosecution and Messrs. Hall & Burke for defence. We believe the matter will be compromised before it goes any further, as Mr. Shattuck, the Superintendent of the road, is a man who looks more to the interests of his Company than to the gratification of personal spite.

SEABECK.—Captain Gove, of the Black Diamond informs us that the steamer now in the course of construction at Seabeck is larger than heretofore reported. She will be the largest steam tug on the Sound. Her frame is up and a large number of men at work on her. Bark Gen Cobb went to sea yesterday. There are two foreign vessels loading at the mill, which is running night and day. Everything looks lively on the Canal and Union City is building up fast. We are informed by a passenger that the Seabeck mill is to be improved soon, but will not shut down, having many contracts with foreign ports.

ARRIVED.—Schooner Carrie Hayden arrived last night, consigned to Crawford & Harrington, with 70 tons of freight to parties here and up-Sound. She has on board a separator marked F. J. S. and T. J. R. This vessel was built at Port Ludlow by Hall Brothers. She will load with lumber at Colman's mill for San Francisco.

FAIR.—Ladies of the Presbyterian Church propose to give one of their enjoyable fairs and strawberry and ice cream festivals next Wednesday, to-morrow evening, at Yealer's Hall. Besides the feast for the inner man there will be much to please the eye and mind, and it is intended that all shall have a pleasant time. Everybody is cordially invited to come and bring their wife or sister or if they haven't a wife or sister some one else's sister.

PORT GAMBLE.—There are several loggers making complaints about the scaling at Port Gamble, among them John McArdle. It would be hard for us to believe that Silas Walker, if cognizant of the fact, would allow anything wrong about the premises. If he knows of a dishonest man in his employment, our word for it that man is bound to walk.

MURKLETO.—The enterprising fishermen, Meyers & Co., who have leased all the premises at this place are now building a large house for their business. They will soon have a stock of goods in their store and be ready for the fish when they come. "Squire Fros", the good old Tycoon of that town is now taking his comfort. It is about time the old chief was taking a breeze.

GOOD FOR HIM.—Our efficient Chief of Police has succeeded in silencing the noise made by Chinamen at night. We noticed this officer taking charge of several roughs lately; he deals gently with them, but always gets away with them.

MASONIC CEMETERY.—Under the management of Mr. T. S. Russell, many fine improvements are being made at the Masonic Cemetery in cleaning the walks and beautifying the grounds. The road to the Cemetery is also being improved.

RAILROAD.—Mr. Colman says the contracts for the railroad construction will not be made known to the public till to-morrow afternoon when the contractors names will be given.

SCHOOL-ROOM POISONING.

Dr. McSherry, of Baltimore, writes to the Sanitarian: In every one of our cities, and very largely throughout the country, the local rulers outthrod Herod in the slaughter of the innocents. There is no bloodshed, indeed, in the beginning but there is towards the end, in the various forms of hemorrhage. The evils in the school-room (often unjustly ascribed to the teachers) tend to the extinguishment of families. What else can be expected when young children are imprisoned for long and weary hours, day after day and year after year, in close and stifling school-rooms, where the air is habitually so foul as to be exceedingly offensive to any one entering from without, though unnoticed by those within, who are breathing it over and over again? A lady who is fond of plants and flowers, and has but a small space for cultivating them, say in window gardening, finds that her favorites require a goodly quantity of sun and air to thrive, which she seeks for them accordingly, while she sends those more tender plants, her little children, to a horrid school-room, whence the rays of the sun are excluded, while the artificial heat, often loaded itself with coal gas or carbonic oxide, is made mephitic with carbonic acid from many breaths, and the exhalations that arise from a miscellaneous crowd of helpless and innocent little prisoners.

This is not a matter of comfort or discomfort, but more nearly a matter of life or death with the children. What is the good of all the learning, such as it is, acquired in the schoolroom and by gaslight at home, to a young girl who has a spinal curvature, and a perpetual headache, and a weak chest, an indigestion, and, in short, universal delicacy in every part of her organism? How is she prepared for the wear and tear of life-duties, and what kind of a help-meet is she going to make? There are hundreds of such, as you know, in every large community. Modern society is very exacting, and parents take a great pride in their children having a smattering of all learning, quite forgetful that this, like other possessions may be bought at too great a price.

There are remedies for the evil, which it would devolve upon you and your coadjutors to urge steadfastly, in season and out of season if working for the public good can ever be out of season. Among remedies, let it be urged that there be fewer hours at school, and fewer studies at any one time. Furthermore, let scholars never sit over one hour without change of position and of air. In the Medical Department of the University of Maryland, there is a recess of some five minutes, and a change of room for the students, at the end of each lecture, and the room vacated as then properly aired. The advantage of this is strikingly apparent. The mental tension is relieved, the cramped limbs are stretched, and good inspirations of fresh air are taken. These brief intermissions are invaluable to the students, being equally refreshing to mind and body. Now, if these young men find these charges so advantageous, how much more so would growing children find them! It is utterly impossible for the majority of children to sit still (which is unnatural for them), and to study for several consecutive hours. The weary mind will wander off to some happier place; or it will be occupied only with the sufferings of cold feet and a heated head.

Pray urge these changes inter alia, for the benefit of the rising generation. Let the school-room be cleared every hour, and thoroughly ventilated while the children play for a few minutes in the open air in good weather, or under shelter while it rains. The shelter should be provided no matter what the cost. Life and learning are of little worth without health, but learning and health would both be promoted by these measures.

Thrift and grief sometimes go together. The Americans can keep an eye to business under the most appalling circumstances. He may forget everything else, but that never. Still we have heard of a man who, we are inclined to think, carried the matter a little too far. He was a grocer, and in terrible competition with certain other grocers who had determined to undersell him. When his wife died he saw at once that the villagers would turn out in force to the funeral and that the opportunity ought not to be lost. So he held an umbrella over the minister's head at the churchyard with the price of tea and sugar, soap and molasses painted on it in large capitals. He could wipe the tears away with one hand, and with the other flourish the umbrella in the faces of the multitude. It was certainly a novel idea and an economical way to advertise his goods.

Red Tape.

The people of Lewiston, near the scene of the Indian disturbances, appealed to the Mayor of Portland for arms, supposing he could procure the arms in use by the Independent companies organized in that city. The arms being the property of the United States, the Mayor would not take the responsibility of loaning them without the authority of the U. S. Military Department; he applied to the officer in command at Portland, and was told that he could not act in the premises without the authority from Gen. McDowell; Gen. McDowell was applied to and replied he could only allow the use of the arms by orders from the War Department. In the meantime, the people exposed to Indian outrages must remain unarmed until orders are received from Washington, for the use of the arms and ammunition lying idle in the arsenals of the United States. Military forms and discipline are good when used only to protect property; when it comes to the imminent peril of life, necessity should be the only rule of law.

"NASTY."—From the mouth of an irascible old Englishman this term expresses the concentration of contemptuous disgust, and nothing can so emphatically characterize the filthy littleness exhibited by Sniffles of the Tribune in his puppy propensity of thrusting his nose into other people's unsavory droppings. Our local news-gatherer took occasion to notice the retirement from business of our old friend 'Squire Frost and spoke of him as the "old chief." A stupid compositor made the blunder of substituting "old thief," which escaped the notice of the proof-reader until it had appeared in the daily edition, when it was at once corrected, and laughed at as a printer's bull. The connection in which the term was used made the blunder manifest to every sensible reader, and no greater insult could be offered to the character of 'Squire Frost than to regard him as an object of defense from a mere opprobrious epithet. No such term could any more attach to him than water to a duck's back, and he would be among the first to laugh at such a blunder. But, with canine instinct, little Sniffles snuffed the unsavory odor and thrust his nose into it with as great delight as a dog would roll in carion; he fairly revels in it, tosses it in the face of his readers and covers Mr. Frost all over with it under the pretext of defending him against a libellous aspersion, not that he had any regard for the man, but because he loved the filth of the thing.

Trial of Rev. Mr. Dunning.

The Presbytery of Puget Sound has for the last seven days been in session in Seattle, engaged in trying Rev. H. P. Dunning. Rev. G. F. Whitworth was appointed by the court to assist the prosecutor, Mr. Reuben L. Doyle, and Rev. Dr. Geary, of Eugene City, Oregon, as counsel of Mr. Dunning. The evidence was all in on Monday night, and the Presbytery made its final judgment yesterday afternoon. We have been furnished with the following official copy of the findings and judgment of the Court:

In the case of Reuben L. Doyle against Rev. H. P. Dunning, prosecuted before the Presbytery of Puget Sound under two charges: First, of paying attentions to a lady other than his wife, and the matters cognate thereto in amended specifications I, III and V. Second, by abusive, ill-treatment of his wife and wilful neglect of family worship, &c., under amended specifications II and IV. The Court, after patiently listening to the testimony, and the arguments of counsels on both sides, for six days, and after prayerful consideration of the whole case and careful examination of the testimony, find the first charge admitted to the extent expressed in the following paper, which was laid before the Presbytery by the accused and adopted, as meeting all the requirements of the case, and presenting just grounds for staying all proceedings under charge first, to wit:

To the Presbytery of Puget Sound: DEAR BRETHREN.—In regard to the charge of paying attentions to a lady other than my wife, now preferred against me before the Presbytery, I beg to state that inasmuch as the prosecution has disavowed any intention to attempt to prove any criminal intent in said attentions or give sanction to any reports of actual criminality that may be in circulation, I do frankly and sorrowfully admit that I now fully realize that I did not exercise due caution in my actions and a proper regard for the results of such indiscretions. And no man can regret more than I do every act that has had a tendency to injure the cause of Christ. H. P. DUNNING.

The Court unanimously find the second charge sustained in part, and adopted the following paper as expressive of said findings: The Court find the charge against the accused of "abusive, ill-treatment of his wife" not sustained to the extent of personal violence; but sustained to the extent of harsh words while under the excitement of temper, aroused by accusations injurious to his character as a husband and a Christian minister. The Court find the charge against the accused of "neglecting family worship" not sustained to the extent of its being constant or habitual, but that family worship was sometimes omitted on account of matters over which he had no control. The Court also find that on a single occasion the accused did not ask a blessing, or give thanks, in connection with the taking of regular meal. In consequence of the above finding the Presbytery decided upon the following as their judgement: The judgement of the Presbytery is that Rev. H. P. Dunning shall be reproved in open Presbytery by the Moderator for the conduct which has led to the foregoing findings of the Court; and admonished to set a guard upon himself that he transgress no more in appearance or word; ever remembering that the honor of our Lord is solemnly committed to his care, that the eyes of the world are upon him, that the welfare of immortal souls may be jeopardized by his conduct, that the minister of Jesus Christ should ever be a shining light reflecting the blameless life of his Divine Lord and Master, and that the domestic circle of the under-shepherd of Christ's flock should never be sought less than a model Christian home.

Jno. R. THOMPSON, Moderator. M. G. MANN, Clerk pro tem. The judgement of Presbytery being read to the defendant, he presents the following submission thereto, which he read in open Court: Mr. Moderator and Brethren of the Presbytery. I do, with a deep sense of regret, and I trust with that Godly sorrow which worketh repentance into life, thank you for your kind and fraternal course in treating the difficulties which have rested so heavily upon me for many months past, and which have led to the indulgence of severe and improper language by me. I especially regret and deplore the wounds thus given to the cause of my Redeemer, and the impediment it has placed in the way of my usefulness as a minister of the Gospel, and I further declare that being taught my infirmity and in reliance on the grace of God, my Saviour, I hope never so to offend again. I submit to your judgment and ask that this my voluntary and unsolicited expression be made a part of the record of Presbytery. H. P. DUNNING.

Mr. Dunning was then reproved and admonished in accordance with the sentence.

Northern Pacific Railroad.

An Attorney of the Northern Pacific Railroad in a communication published in the Oregonian proves by documentary evidence and indisputable legal conclusions that the time limited by Congress, under existing legislation, for the completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad, will not expire before July 4th, 1879, instead of July 4th, 1877, as is now generally understood. Another conclusion of law made by this correspondent is, that the conditions of the grant are conditions subsequent and that the forfeiture cannot be enforced but by a special act of Congress or by a suit brought by the United States for that purpose, and until one of these modes is carried out, the rights of the Company remain as perfect and intact as though none of said conditions had been broken. The correspondent says:

The time fixed by the charter was July 4, 1876. There have been two extensions of this time granted by Congress. By joint resolution, approved May 7, 1866, it is provided: "That the time for commencing and completing the Northern Pacific Railroad, and all its several sections, is extended for the term of two years." What is the time here mentioned or referred to, for commencing and completing the road? Of course none other than the time fixed by the act of July 2, 1874. This joint resolution then extended the time for the completion of the road to July 4, 1878; and it has never been repealed. It stands to-day the law, that the time given by the charter, whatever that time is, is extended two years.

In 1878, when the Company made its second application to Congress for an extension of time, Congress granted it by joint resolution, approved July 1, 1868. It must be, and it is a conclusive presumption, that when Congress enacted this joint resolution, it was acquainted with the previous legislation on the same subject. What was that legislation? The charter had fixed a time for the completion of the road—July 4, 1876. The joint resolution of 1866 extended this time two years to July 4, 1878.

By the joint resolution of July 1, 1868, the charter (section 8) is amended in such manner that the charter forever thereafter is to be read as though the amendment was the original enactment; and the extension granted by the joint resolution of 1866 takes effect from the time limited by the charter as thus amended. The amendment to the charter by the joint resolution of 1868 is that section 8 (above quoted at length) is hereby amended so as to read as follows: * * * and shall construct, equip, furnish and complete the whole road by the fourth day of July, Anno Domini eighteen hundred and seventy-seven. The charter now and at all times hereafter, must be read as though these were the words originally employed; and the joint resolution of 1866, extending the charter time two years, necessarily extends the time to July 4, 1879.

All these statutes are in pari materia, and must be construed together. Reason and authority sustain this construction. Any other construction would involve the absurdity of saying that when by the joint resolution of 1866 the time was extended to July 4, 1878, Congress, by the joint resolution of 1868, extended the time, by contracting or reducing it one year, namely, to July 4, 1877!

Two certain conclusions are arrived at: First—The time limited for performance, whenever that may be, being part of a condition subsequent, is no moment, unless or until the sovereign power that created the corporation and conferred upon it its grants, rights and privileges, shall choose to institute proceedings to enforce a forfeiture for any alleged breach of such condition subsequent. Second—The time limited by Congress, under existing legislation for the completion of the Northern Pacific Railroad, will not expire before July 4, 1879. We see no way of escaping these facts and conclusions of law. The promises made by the company to Delegate Jacobs to abandon the lands embraced in the survey over the Skagit pass amount to no more than the written contract made with the people of Olympia to construct the road to that place, the promise in neither case has been kept, and nearly all the available lands in Western Washington are bound in chains to the Northern Pacific Railroad company, from which there is no relief but through the action of Congress.

Local News.

From the Daily of Wednesday.

GOOD WORK.—Mitchell is doing good work on the ship Washington Libby. Capt. Hanson says that he is satisfied that she will be made as good as ever, and Capt. Windsor, on behalf of the underwriters, says he is satisfied with the work. This should be satisfactory to the owners and Insurance company, for better judges of the work cannot be found.

DELAYED.—Since the falling of the Seattle bunkers and the trouble on the road, vessels are delayed in loading coal. The ship Western Shore is now loading slowly. The following vessels are in port and waiting to load at that wharf: J. B. Bell, Osmyrn and Washington Libby.

SHIP YARD.—A lease was signed yesterday by Martin Schmeig, by his attorneys August Melhorn and C. C. Perkins, to W. Hammond for a right of way for a marine railway on the property of the North Pacific Brewery for five years.

GETTING READY.—Mr. T. W. Lake, the well-known shipbuilder, has graded and is now preparing to lay ways for his shipyard at Belltown. He is an enterprising man and we wish him success in his undertaking.

We are pleased to see Mr. Edwards the head book keeper and cashier of Blakely over to-day, he is the best man that company could have selected for the position. The mill is running day and night. Capt. Renton we are pleased to learn is in good health.

NEW POTATOES.—Mr. Wale has sent to his daughter, in this city, a basket of early potatoes—Prince Albert, as they are called. They were grown at Preston Point, on the south side of the entrance to the Snohomish river and were planted May 3d. They are said to be the best potatoes grown.

FIRE.—We are informed that there is a heavy fire raging in township 27, north range 4 east, and that if heavy winds prevail much timber will be destroyed. How the fire originated we do not know. It is on the lands of the Puget Mill Co.

TERRITORY vs McDONALD.—This case was brought before Judge Lewis to-day, and is now under advisement. McDonald was sent back to jail to await the decision.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The new sidewalk and other improvements in front of Hall & Paulson's and other business houses on Commercial street are a credit to our city.

OUR DELEGATE.—From a letter received from Washington we learn that Hon. O. Jacobs is in that city and will probably remain there two months. We are pleased to note that his family are well.

SOCIAL WELCOME.—The Congregational Association will hold a social reunion at the residence of Dr. Weed on Thursday afternoon, from 5 till 7 o'clock. The members are cordially invited to attend.

ALL the sessions of the Congregational Association are open to the public. Associational Sermon tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, by Rev. D. B. Gray of Oregon City.

POINT AGATE.—Wm. DeShaw was in town yesterday and informed us that business is good and improvements going on lively at that place, which is three miles south of Port Madison.

IN OUR JAILS.—There are only 15 Selects under the charge of Sheriff Wyckoff and 2 in the City Prison. Thirteen voters' names are forbidden to be made public.

LOGGING.—Unless the sale of lumber is more encouraging we heard several loggers say they will shut down and put their cattle on ranches after the 4th of July.

The steamer North Pacific, with the mails and passengers, will leave for Victoria at 5 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The steamer Black Diamond has gone to the Duwamish for a boom of long logs for Colman's mill.

BLAKELY.—Three-masted schooner Hueneme arrived at this port yesterday. The W. S. Bebee arrived there this morning.

EMIGRANTS.—This morning we noticed an emigrant family going to Lewis County.

REAL ESTATE SALES.

Catherine Campbell to P. H. Denry, lot 3, block 61—$250; Catherine Campbell to A. Malson, lot 3, block 49—$250; Mary Olsen to A. Hudlebro, 1/2 of lot 3, block 49, Maynard's addition—$375; W. T. Ballou to S. D. Howe, lands in Island county, 611 acres, consideration $1,000.

CONVALESCENT.—We are pleased to learn that Dr. Baker, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, has so far recovered as to be able to leave his bed. He expects to be out in a few days.

Two pieces of heavy castings was shipped to Port Gamble on the last trip of the North Pacific, from the North Pacific Iron works.

THE COMET, after two days' lay off goes up to White River to-day, with quite a freight. She is on important business.

FANNY LAKE leaves at 7 o'clock in the morning on her usual route. She has a good freight engaged and there will be a good passenger list.

ARRIVALS.—The ship Otago, at Blakely; Schooner Russ at Seattle; Bark Osmyrn at Seattle; ship Monterey, Capt. Cooley, Seabeck; she we learn is to load for Valiparasio.

The steamer Alida arrived on time last night. She goes to Olympia this trip. She brought a large number of passengers, and took away quite a number.

Mr. D. W. Crooks, Tom Moore, and about half a dozen more loggers go by the Fanny Lake to Utsalady.

INSPECTOR Bullene examined the boilers of the steamer Wenat to-day.

The steamer Yakima is expected to arrive here some time to-night.

From the Daily of Thursday.

FOURTH OF JULY AT LA CONNER.—A meeting of the citizens of La Conner and vicinity was held for the purpose of making arrangements and raising money for the celebration of the Fourth of July, J. S. Conner presiding and Dr. T. C. Mackey acting as Secretary. The amount pledged we are informed was liberal, beyond general expectations, and the names of such public spirited citizens as Dr. Mackey, Messrs. Gilliland, J. J. and J. S. Conner, Andrews and others, are a guarantee that the celebration will be a grand success. One of the most beautiful hand-bills which we have seen turned out of any printing office on the Sound, is from the Job office of Messrs. Northrup, Ward & Bell, of this city, announces this affair and the attention of our readers is called to the advertisement in this paper to the same. It seems to us that if we were not in Seattle, La Conner would be the place we would like to be on the glorious Fourth.

THE steamer Mastick, Capt. Waite, arrived here at 2 o'clock, and will tow the ship Western Shore to sea this evening, loaded with 1,900 tons of Seattle coal. The bark Osmyrn, it is understood, will take her place at the depot. Capt. Waite reports that he saw no vessels upward bound. He says there are no vessels at Port Discovery; that the mill is shut down undergoing repairs; that two foreign vessels are overdue at Departure Bay, and that the Enoch Talbot, Grace Darling and Top Gallant are loading. The ship California is loading at Nanaimo; business looks brisk in that direction and the expectation of fine crops on this side make merchants fierce.

PORTLAND CITY ELECTION.—The municipal election in Portland on Monday last, was pretty nearly a draw game between the two political parties. The Republicans elected the Mayor, Police Commissioner, and two members of the Council; the Democrats elected the Treasurer, Assessor and one member of the Council. The officers elected are Newbury, Mayor; Riley, Police Commissioner; Bachman, Treasurer; Love, Assessor; and Opitz, Simon and Yokum members of the Council. Total vote, 1,849.

PERSONALS.—M. W. Packard, of the firm of Packard & Jackson, merchants at Snohomish, has returned from Oregon. He has visited various portions of that State and says everything looks dull. Judge Haskell, of Snohomish, was in the city last evening, and returned home on the Nellie to-day.

ATTEMPT AT ESCAPE.—A prisoner by the name of Shay, held for robbery, made an unsuccessful attempt to escape at noon to-day. He was at work with the chaingang on the outside of the prison, when the prisoners were called in to dinner and the keepers were temporarily off watch, he broke his irons between two rocks and made for the bushes, getting considerable start before he was discovered. Chief of Police Thorndyke soon had notice of the escape and meeting a boy on horseback he took forcible possession of the horse, pulled the boy off and gave chase. Just on the outskirts of the town he treed the fugitive in a clump of bushes and held him under fire until the Sheriff and a Deputy came up and captured him without a struggle.

OUR old townsman, Cap. Belmont, whose familiar face was so well known at Gen. Guttenburg's "Cottage by the Sea," was seen in San Francisco by Capt. Matson, on his way to the father land, from which he has been absent 27 years. He sends his love to all, especially the "brethren of the mystic tie."

WELCOME VISITOR.—G. D. Campbell, of Whiky Island, lives on the spot where Col. Ebeby was killed by Indians many years ago, keeps a hotel and has a large farm. George is a whole-souled man, and whoever stops at his house will be well cared for.

BEEF.—Twenty-eight quarters of beef were shipped by Phelps & Wadleigh this morning on the North Pacific to different ports on the Sound.

SEVEN loggers left on the different steamers to-day for their respective camps. They told our local that they intended to quit logging until the business improved.

MARRIED.—At the Occidental Hotel on the 30th inst., by Rev. A. Atwood, Mr. George Brackett to Miss Etta Almira Jones. All of Seattle, W. T.

OUR town is now full of characters, and if Mr. Shakespeare was alive he would find better material to write up than in his day. There is no style of character he would not find here. They are all looking for work and don't want to find it.

THE schooner Carry Hayden is to be laid up until the grain crop comes in. So says Capt. Keith.

From Daily of Friday.

FIRE FLEET.—Arrivals and departures, June 21: Arrived—North Pacific, Clancey, Olympia; Alida, Brown, Tacoma; Zephyr, Messenger; Whatcom; Nellie, Low, Snohomish; Messenger, Parker, Olympia; Teazer, Munros, Island; Dispatch, Robinson, Islands; Black Diamond, Gove, Hood's Canal; Libby, Brennan; Celilo, Brunnel, cruise.

DEPARTURES.—North Pacific 3 1/2 A. M., Victoria; Alida, 10 1/2 P. M., Tacoma; Zephyr, 7 A. M., Whatcom; Otter 8 A. M., Olympia; Messenger, 8 A. M., Olympia; Celilo 8 A. M., Freeport; Nellie 10 A. M., Snohomish. The Nellie and Fanny Lake were both loaded with freight and freight was refused on both. Each had a good passenger list.

SHORT BIT.—A young son of Mat Keith was left in the bar while the father was at breakfast. A man came in and asked if he could get a drink for a short bit. "Certainly," said the boy, who was ready for trade. A cocktail was ordered and drank, when the man laid upon the counter a bride bit about one third broken off. The boy was at first set back, but coming to his wits he said: "Mister, father ain't here and times are dull, just take another drink and we will call it square." The man accepted the compromise.

ARRIVED.—Steamers Otter and Messenger, the former a little ahead. There were but few passengers and the fare next to nothing. The captains say every body has gone to the war and the balance are busy haying. We noticed a large and unique carryall landed from one of the boats, and were informed that it was the property of a stencil cutter and pattern maker.

INDIANS.—We are informed that one of the tribe of Salmon Indians now fighting the whites, is in this city and says that he knows nothing of the disturbance. Perhaps he is here getting markets and ammunition. Gen. Crook remarked to Gen. Howard that if he would use more powder and balls and less Bibles among the Indians peace would be better maintained.

TANNERY.—The tannery of K. D. Baxter in connection with his boot and shoe factory, is one of the most important industries in this city. He has 30 vats that turn out 300 sides of leather per month, upper and sole, kip, kid, calf and morocco. He has a machine for making all kinds of whips and riatas. Ten men are employed in manufacturing boots, shoes, slippers, etc., from leather mostly from his tannery. There is material and demand enough to profitably employ ten times the amount of capital now invested in this business in this place. Nine tenths of our hides are now shipped to San Francisco and returned here in leather and boots and shoes.

HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS.—The proprietors of the Occidental had to turn away several applicants for bed and board last night for the want of room, and this is almost a daily occurrence. The only fault we hear found with the Occidental is that it is not large enough, and that is also the fault of the New England. The great need of our city now is, more hotel accommodations.

ALHAMBRA.—This morning we happened to call on little George on business and were treated to a milk-punch. George keeps a good house, but says it is horribly dull.

BEEF.—About 100 head of beef cattle arrived from the other side of the mountains to-day for different parties. They are herded on Cedar river.

THE bark Aureola is now taking in coal at the Seattle Coal depot. The brig North Star will probably be loaded and ready for sea to-morrow, with a cargo of Talbot coal.

BLAKELY.—The schooner Lizzie Marshal sailed last night. Ship Gavilan was to sail for Callao to-day. Seven vessels in port.

BARK Harvest Home, Matson, nine days from San Francisco, with 100 tons of freight for different ports.

THE W. S. Bebee arrived at Blakely last night and will soon load.

The Northern Pacific Branch Railroad.

For the purpose of securing the land grant to the building of the Tacoma and Puyallup coal road, the Directors of the N. P. R. represent that coal road to be a portion of the branch over the Cascade mountains provided for in their charter. For the purpose of securing the support of the Oregon Senators and Representative to the bill extending the time on their grant, the same Directors privately assure them that the profits derived from this coal road and the coal mines will be applied to the construction of the road from Kalama to Portland. Tergiversation and fraud has marked the transactions of that company from its inception to the present time. Whatever the promises to the Portland people may result in, no man acquainted with the topography of the country believes that the company has or ever had any intention of extending the coal road beyond the coal mines, which are flanked on the East by insurmountable hills without an outlet in that direction. The coal road doubles back upon the line of the road to Kalama in an acute angle, and is not in the direction of any surveyed line across the mountains. To claim or receive any portion of the land grant made to the N. P. R. upon the pretence that this branch forms any part of the road for which the grant was intended, would be one of the greatest swindles ever perpetrated upon the Government and the people. A recent meeting of the stockholders of the Company was held in New York, called specifically among other things, "to decide on ways and means, by mortgage or otherwise, of finishing and equipping the Company's branch to the Puyallup coal fields, and extending the road from Kalama to Portland." No allusion is made, either in the call or the published proceeding, to this section of the charter, for which the grant was made, and it may be that they have abandoned the purpose at one time entertained of claiming it as such; but they will bear watching, and our Delegate to Congress is the man sent there by the people to watch after their interests.

Getting Their Rights.

In Minnesota and also in Connecticut, by-laws recently enacted, a married woman can make any contract that she might make if unmarried, except that the husband must join in the deed of her realty; and the wife may bring her husband into Court, and compel his performance to an ordinary contract with her. In many of the other States, the wife has absolute control of her separate property, but they generally prohibit contracts for the transfer of property between husband and wife without the intervention of trustees. The denial of the right of suffrage and of holding political office seem to be about the last remnants of a formidable list of disabilities formerly imposed upon married women, under the English common law maxim, that man and wife are but one and that one the man.

THE SEWING MACHINE TUMBLE.—Several important patents have failed of renewal, after one or more renewals in the past, and sewing machine manufacture is practically open to the world. At once the leading makers advertise to sell machines at just half former prices; and similar reductions must be announced soon by makers at large. This downfall of a long existing monopoly will immensely help poor people. The sewing machine has become essential in almost every home. It has cost too much money hitherto; henceforth we may anticipate its general sale at prices which people can afford to pay.

BEECHER, writes a country editor, says a million of dollars is a very poem. We desire to state that this article of poem will be accepted, if we have to crowd out advertisements to make room for it. --Illustrated Weekly.

Equal Rights.

We most religiously believe in the doctrine of equal rights to all, special privileges to none; else we would not concede the large and, we think unnecessary, space we have, to a correspondent with whose premises and conclusions we disagree, upon a matter involving personal rights under the law. We recognize our obligations as a journalist to give the same consideration to the discussion of the personal rights involved in a scrimmage between a white and a Chinese laborer in Colman's mill, that we would if the difficulty had occurred between Mr. Colman and Mr. Yesler, the lessee and the owner of the mill. And, our very highly respectable correspondent to the contrary notwithstanding, we believe our civil authorities have, in the main, acted upon the same principle. Before mentioning the affair under discussion, between the white man and the Chinaman, we took the precaution to inquire of witnesses to the conflict, without prejudice to either party. The testimony was substantially that produced on the examination before Justice Selye, and we are bound to say it was not such as would justify the magistrate in holding the accused to bail to answer for the crime of mayhem. It was stated by competent witnesses, and is not contradicted, that at the time of the attack which resulted in the catastrophe, the Chinaman had raised in his hand a dangerous and deadly weapon with the apparent intention of striking his assailant; that the white man, in imminent peril, sprang upon him and threw him down; that the Chinaman, in kicking at his assailant, struck his foot against the saw from which he received the injury. There was no evidence that the mayhem was intentional or voluntary, and nothing in the circumstances to justify a jury in finding a verdict of guilty, upon the testimony. There is no evidence that the Chinaman received any other damage than inflicted accidentally by the saw, and we believe the Prosecuting Attorney did nothing more than his duty in dismissing the case and thus relieving the county of a large bill of expense for a trial without a reasonable prospect of a conviction, for it is evident that but for the accident there would have been no prosecution, there being no other damage inflicted and no intent to commit a crime. Had both parties been white men, it is reasonable to believe that the result would have been the same.

It is neither strange nor creditable to the administration of justice, if prosecutions have been dismissed and bills ignored by Grand Juries in cases where it was apparent that the only purpose to be served by prosecution was to inflict upon the County a needless bill of expense, which we believe has been the prevailing consideration in all the cases named by our correspondent.

With an instinctive hatred for every form of oppression, and a sensitive regard for the rights of the weaker party in all conflicts, we have never witnessed without a feeling of indignation any wrong or attempted wrong towards the inferior races, and we must confess, that occasionally we have seen acts of ruffianism practiced upon defenceless Chinamen, by whites more degraded and more lawless than themselves, which were shameful to civilization; but we have never seen the laws perverted to discriminate against that class of people; on the contrary we have often thought that the authorities dealt more leniently with them than they would with their own race under the same circumstances.

There is a great deal of mawkish sensibility expended upon the "poor Indians," and the "poor Chinamen." Neither of these races become citizens, enter into our community, or contribute to our common prosperity or civilization or to the expenses of the government whose protection they receive. The whites suffer more from contact with them than any of them ever suffered from the whites, and the forbearance and magnanimity exercised towards them is more a matter of wonder than reproach. Hundreds of dollars are expended in enforcing the laws for the protection of the persons and property of Chinamen where cents are contributed by them for the support of the Government. Slaves in their own country, with their lives and property under the absolute control of their masters, with no other rights than brute beasts, here they are secured in all the rights of person and property of the most favored citizen, and in return for these privileges they exhibit no other respect for our laws than to avoid the penalties and no regard for our moral and civil institutions. They form in every town an ulcer upon the body politic, to breed contamination upon all within its influences. Poor Chinamen!

White men who had committed the wrongs upon the poor Indian, which they have received at their hands would not be allowed to breathe the free air of any civilized community. Indians, living upon the bounty of the whites, fed and clothed by the Government, mingle almost daily in our streets unmolested, with the kindred blood of our citizens upon their hands, of women and children tortured and slain in mere wantonness. Was ever such forbearance exhibited under such provocation to violence by any other people? Yet our correspondent tells us that it has become proverbial here that the inferior races "have no rights which a white man is bound to respect."

An Outrage.

EDITOR DISPATCH:—On the 15th inst., at Colman's mill, a white man by the name of Peter Feeney assaulted a Chinaman and threw him into one of the saws of the scantling machine, which resulted in cutting off his large toe and otherwise lacerating the left foot. The facts proven are these: Peter Feeney and another white man and the Chinaman were at work together on the north side of the mill; Feeney having charge of one saw the Chinaman another, a white man being stationed between them to keep the lumber clear by passing it from one saw to the other on the rollers. For some reason this intermediate man had left his post temporarily and the lumber was accumulating at that point. Feeney left his saw and went to where the Chinaman was at work and commanded him to clear away the lumber that had thus accumulated. The Chinaman not complying as promptly as Feeney desired, he caught hold of the Chinaman and threw him down between the rollers and held him some minutes. Feeney then started back to his own post, and the Chinaman picked up an instrument used in propelling lumber upon the rollers called a pickeroon. Whether the Chinaman took up this instrument to use in clearing away the lumber or in self-defence does not clearly appear; but when Feeney saw the Chinaman have the pickeroon, he immediately returned and again assaulted him, throwing him down on the floor close to the scantling machine, and in the melee the Chinaman's foot was caught in one of the saws of the scantling machine and cut as above stated. Dr. Calhoun, the attending surgeon, testified on the examination, that the large toe was entirely cut off, the bones of the next severed and the foot otherwise badly mangled; that it would take several months, under favorable circumstances, for the Chinaman to recover, and that the injury was permanent.

The Chief of Police arrested Feeney and took him before Justice Selye for examination upon a charge of simple mayhem, under section 36 of the Criminal Code of the Territory. While the officer had Feeney in his custody he, Feeney, said "He didn't give a d—d if it had cut the Chinaman in two." The Chinaman employed private counsel, but the Prosecuting Attorney for the Territory was present during the examination, taking no part, however, in the prosecution. The evidence taken upon the examination was the testimony of the Chinaman injured and two others and several white men employed in the mill.

Upon the close of the examination the Justice announced that he should not hold the defendant to bail upon the charge of Mayhem, but would send him before Justice Scott for trial for an assault and battery. The Prosecuting Attorney thereupon remarked that he had listened to the testimony and did not think there was any case against the defendant. Private counsel thereupon retired from the case and the Prosecuting Attorney dismissed the proceedings, and thus ended the farce of this examination. Had the victim been a white man, does any one suppose such a result would have followed?

If this were an isolated case of the failure of justice on account of the victim belonging to a persecuted race, the necessity of calling attention to it would not be so great. But it is not. About a year since a man by the name of Anderson assaulted a Chinaman with a large knife, chasing him through the public streets with the evident purpose of killing him. Several white men saw the whole transaction and Anderson was bound over to the District Court, and yet the Grand Jury found no bill against Anderson. Whether the case was not presented to the Grand Jury or they ignored the bill, is not known to the writer.

Not long after the above occurrence one Chinaman shot another and was bound over to the District Court for assault with intent to kill, but no indictment was ever found and probably the case was never presented to the Grand Jury. Many similar instances might be cited, but it is unnecessary, for it has become almost a proverb in this community that the Chinaman, Indian and other inferior races, "have no rights which a white man is bound to respect".

The writer is no admirer of any of these inferior races, and will admit that their presence among us in some respects may not be desirable, but they are here, they have a lawful right to be here, and to the full and equal protection of the laws. The inalienable right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" belong to all, and no true American can witness the prevailing and growing disposition on the part of a large class of persons claiming and exercising the right and privileges of American citizens to ignore and invade the rights, and in many ways attempt to oppress these inferior races, without feeling the blush of shame mantling his cheeks. "Let justice be done though the skies fall."

Indian War.

Yesterday we had the startling news of the uprising of the Indians near Mount Idaho, the killing of a settler named Norton and the wounding of his wife; also the report of a general uprising of the Indians and the killing of other settlers in that immediate neighborhood, and the general movement of troops in that direction. The Oregonian of yesterday gives the following conclusion of the matter:

Mount Idaho is situated on Three Mile creek about 66 miles southeast of Lewiston. Norton's place is 18 miles this side of Mount Idaho and 48 miles from Lewiston on the Mount Idaho and Lewiston road. His nearest neighbors live about 10 miles distant.

From passengers arriving here from Idaho Territory late Saturday evening we learn that up to the time they left Lewiston—Thursday noon, 15th inst.—to all appearance the Indians of all that upper country are without exception, disposed to peace.

As usual at this season of the year there is a general moving of Indian tribes and families from the Umatilla, Columbia, Palouse and Snake rivers towards the Spokane falls and camas Prairie—their object, as usual, to afford the squaws an opportunity to dig the camas roots, and to the boss Indians (the bone, sinew and hope of the tribes) an opportunity to lie alternately on the grass, play cards and run horses.

In all these immigrations and momentous conventions the whole tribe goes, including patriarchs and matrons of a hundred years, down to young redskins eight inches long and four days old. At Colfax our informant met this migratory flood of humanity, and, in going through their numerous camps, only discovered one old style horse pistol in the hands of a white youth, who had just wrested the same from a stalwart Indian that had stolen the same from the boy but the day before. These, it would seem, are the appearances and preparations for war, from which it can be conjectured that an uprising of the Indians against the whites of that country is at all probable, and from which it is more probable that in case Ben Norton has been killed, it has resulted from a war gotten up and prosecuted by him on his own account and with some lone Indian inimical to him only.

DID IT AGAIN.—The "Meddler Upplysningar," of the Insane Asylum town, notwithstanding our friendly admonition, has gone and made another indecent exhibition of himself. Under the impression that the little fellow's vanity had been excited by some malicious joker to make the uncalled for attack upon Mr. Murphy and ourselves in regard to matters occurring several years ago, we kindly undertook to correct some of the false misapprehensions under which he was apparently laboring. His response however, shows he acted solely on his own assinine proclivities, and neither the public nor the objects of his attack have any further interest in the matter. There is nothing in the iteration of epithets and unsupported accusations that can harm any one. If he can make any of his readers believe that the change from the contract system in the management of the Insane Asylum was brought about solely by mercenary and personal motives, he has our full permission to make the most of it; the good opinion of such believers is not worth contending for. We do not expect immunity from the buzz and bite of insects in any condition of life. "E'en little fleas have other fleas to bite 'em. So on ad infuitem.

The Post Office and Personal Journalism.

What interest has the public in knowing the personal habits and characters of the editors of their news-papers any more than they have in the personal peculiarities of their tailor or shoemaker, in their personal relation with whom the character and price of their work is the only consideration? Who cares to know that the editor of "the only literary and scientific paper in Washington Territory," the man of "advanced ideas," is an intolerable bore in every society in which he can force himself, with an inodorous breath which he persists in breathing in the face of all with whom he comes in contact, thus forcing them to subscribe for his paper to escape from his disgusting importunities. What matters it to the readers of the DISPATCH that its editor is old or impecunious, if his writings are either instructive or amusing? His work is all they contract for in taking his paper. Yet there is a class of editors characterized by Horace Greeley as "small creatures," who have given the press of this country an unenviable notoriety for its vulgar personalities, in meeting every issue not upon its merits but by vituperative personalities.

A case in point:—We had occasion to make a brief defence of Mr. Carr, the Deputy Postmaster of this city, who was charged directly and by implication by the Snohomish Star, with having in violation of his official oath, delayed the delivery of said paper or suppressed its circulation through that office and with having committed this crime at the instigation or under the direction of a religious combination in this city, organized under the lead of Rev. Daniel Bagley, for the purpose of preventing or embarrassing the circulation of the Star. This was no ordinary accusation to bring against a public officer whose integrity had never before been assailed, and a whole community of professed Christians. We did no more than defend Mr. Carr upon the ground of uniform good character and the religious portion of the community in general terms, showing the improbability of such a combination for the purpose of suborning perjury and malfeasance on office; in the same manner as we would defend the same persons against the charge of arson or burglary committed for the purpose of promoting the cause of Christianity. In reply to this, nearly three columns of the Star, in three separate articles are exclusively devoted to assailing the personal character of Beriah Brown. First, we are accused of bargaining with Mr. Bagley for making this defence for a consideration. To this we have only to reply, that we had no communication with Mr. Bagley, or any other man, directly or indirectly on this subject, or no understanding with him or any one else as to the course of our paper on this or any other public matter. Next we are charged with "jumping the Democratic party" and pursuing such a devious political course as to lose the confidence of both political parties. If to declare our independence of party dictation, without surrendering particle of our personal independence has lost us the confidence of both parties, the sentiment is mutual. Had we been controlled by policy, our course would have been different and undoubtedly paid better; but we chose independence rather and no one can truthfully say that personal interest has ever swerved us a hair from the advocacy and expression of our own independent opinions. We hope the time may never come when we will have to be paid for advocating the right or defending the religious sentiments of the community from unjust attack. We have expressed our opinions freely upon all public matters and have claimed no party support or asked for party favors.

Telegraphic News.

PORTLAND, June 16.—The Evening Telegram publishes the following dispatch dated Wallula, Wash. Terr., at 9 o'clock this morning:

To Capt. J. C. Ainsworth.—The Indians are murdering settlers about Mt. Idaho, and steamers are necessary to convey troops for the safety of life from Walla Walla to Lewiston, Idaho Territory, to-morrow.

Signed, CAPT. M. C. WILKINSON.
A later dispatch from Walla Walla brings intelligence that a messenger has arrived from Fort Lapwai, who reports the killing of Ben Morton and wounding of his wife; he also reports a general uprising of the Indians, and the killing of other settlers in that immediate neighborhood. The messenger who brought the news to Lapwai was himself wounded, having been entrapped by the Indians. The troops at Lapwai started immediately for the scene of trouble, leaving the fort without a garrison. Capt. Wilkinson started for Walla Walla immediately upon receipt of the news for more troops, arriving there this morning. No intelligence has as yet been received at military headquarters. Mrs. Gen. Howard has, however, received a dispatch from her husband assuring her there is no cause for alarm.

NEW ORLEANS, June 16.—The Galveston News' Fort Clark special says that on Monday last a detachment of Mexican government troops crossed the Rio Grande to this side, at a point twenty miles from here, in order to avoid a conflict with a large body of revolutionary troops fast closing on them. On the same night a revolutionary body crossed the river and attacked the government soldiers, killing several, wounding many, and then returned to the Mexican side. The United States military authorities at this point made captives of the Mexicans for violation of the neutrality law in crossing to the American side with arms and having a battle thereon. They were brought to the post under guard of U. S. troops, forty in number, including 1 colonel, 3 lieutenant colonels and 5 captains. They were released yesterday on parole. Recruiting is going on on this side for revolutionary parties.

ST. LOUIS, June 15.—A special from Rockwell, Texas, says: Garner, who was found dead in his cell this morning. His wife, who had been permitted visit him Wednesday and remain is also dead. From letters left by them it appears she carried poison with her into the prison in her mouth and gave a portion to her husband, which not being sufficient to kill him, he first strangled her and then killed himself by twisting some wire around his neck.

NEW ORLEANS, June 15.—Gov. Packard having sufficiently recovered from his recent illness, left this evening for the East via Cincinnati and Chicago. It is stated Gov. Packard will not go to Washington.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The Times Washington special reports that the President and Sherman had a conference last night on the silver question, and that the report that there are some differences between them, is unfounded. There has been no special conference between the President and Secretary with regard to this question. The President is disposed to regard with favor the remonetization of silver, but as yet he has not reached definite conclusion. He is studying the question with care and availing himself of every opportunity to inform himself upon it.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The following was published to-day by the Treasury Department:

To A. M. WYMAN, Treasurer of the United States.

SIR:—It appears from the report of the Treasurer of the U. S. Comptroller of Currency and chief of bureau of engraving and printing, dated 9th inst., that the amount of fractional currency lost and destroyed, and which therefore cannot be presented for redemption, is $8,083,513 50, the Attorney General, in his opinion of this date, a copy herewith, holds that in ascertaining the amount of fractional currency outstanding within the meaning of the third section of the joint resolution of July 22, 1876, there should be deducted from the amount of such currency issued and not redeemed the amount lost and destroyed. The amount issued and not redeemed, May 31, 1877, was $21,206,930 33, and deducting amount lost and destroyed as above stated will leave $13,126,416 83, the amount of fractional currency which according to the opinion of the Attorney General was then outstanding; you are therefore directed to issue according to law from time to time an amount of silver coin which, including the amount issued since the date of the resumption act, January 14, 1875, and the amount of fractional currency outstanding as thus ascertained, will equal fifty million dollars. Very respectfully,
JOHN SHERMAN.

The Attorney General, in reply to an inquiry of the Secretary of the Treasury as to whether he is authorized to continue the issue of silver in place of fractional currency heretofore issued, and showed to have been lost or destroyed, is of the opinion that the amount of fractional currency outstanding is to be determined not merely by records of the Department, showing how much has been issued, but also how much of that issue has been lost or destroyed, so that it cannot be presented for redemption; and upon being as to the amount of currency thus lost or destroyed the Secretary is authorized to issue an equal amount of subsidiary silver coin to replace it, provided, that both fractional currency and silver does not exceed the $50,000,000 contemplated by Congress for change.

LONDON, June 17.—Special dispatches from Paris agree that Saturday's sitting of the chamber of deputies was one of the most violent ever witnessed. The Times correspondent says it extended over five hours and a half. During that time there was one prolonged roar. At one time, when Gambetta said that the power was in suspicious hands, the minister of public works sprang with a threatening air towards the tribune, and the members of the Right and Left dashed forward. Ushers had to separate the hostile armies. It really seemed as if there would be a hand to hand fight. All instinctively waited for the reports of revolvers.

CHICAGO, June 13.—The Tribune Washington special says: It is believed that the great sensation of next Congress will not be an attack on President Hayes by the Republicans, but a movement by Democrats to declare Tilden elected and take measures for his recognition. Republicans regard the speeches of Tilden and Hendricks as very significant, as being carefully prepared after full and deliberate consultation with prominent Democrats from all parts of the country, each knowing what the other would say. Sagacious Eastern Republicans express the opinion that the Democrats are looking to an early control of the Senate as well as of the House, and when they obtain this they will refuse further appropriations for President Hayes and recognize Tilden instead, only appropriating upon his estimates. Some of the best known Democratic followers of Tilden are confident of controlling the Senate at least by the middle of Hayes' term. House Democrats are considering a plan to investigate all alleged bargains made by Foster, Matthews, et al, for a continuation of the electoral count.

The World's Washington special says the well known philanthropist, W. W. Corcoran, distributed $20,000 among poor men and women who were recently thrown out of employment by reason of reduction in the departments.

LONDON, June 14.—The Post has a telegram from Woolwich which says the Surveyor General of Ordnance visited Woolwich last Wednesday and spent several hours in inspection of stores provided through extra exertions during the last few months. At depot and dock yard there is placed in readiness for active service complete field equipments of tents, ambulances and medical stores for 22 regiments, with an immense reserve of stores only requiring a short period to be brought forward for use.

BUCHAREST, June 15.—In the Russian army any foreshadowing of peace could follow with a feeling of passionate disgust that would strain the bonds of discipline to the utmost. There can be no question that the army regards Constantinople as the only goal that can content them. The Czar will return to Russia immediately after he has witnessed and participated in the passage of the Danube. There are now comparatively few Russian officers in Bucharest, their duties calling them elsewhere.

LONDON, June 15.—Letters from the Times' special correspondent states that the Russians have collected only sufficient pontoon materials for two or three crossings. Further details of what is called Gatchakof's reply to Earl Derby are as follows: If the Turks make peace directly Russia crosses the Balkans, Russia will be ready to accord peace, but otherwise she would have to take peace to the Porte. If England wishes to prevent the Russians from entering Constantinople she has only to exert her influence upon the Turks, in order to induce them to yield immediately the Balkans are passed.

A great many people's faith resembles a certain picture of the Israelites crossing the Red Sea, painted by an Irish wit as well as artist. When exposed to view it consisted of a wide expanse of open water. "Where are the Israelites?" some one asked. "Oh! they have got across and couldn't wait to be taken," was the rejoinder. "Yes; but where are the Egyptians?" was asked by another. "Oh! they have gone under, and are all drowned by this time," said the artist.

THE CONTRAST.—When you see a the ugliest six-year old boy that ever frightened himself in the mirror, clambering over his knees, jerking his white tie out of knot, musing his wite vest, kicking his shins, feeling in all his pockets for nickels, and yelling incessantly for him to come out in the yard and play, while the unresisting victim smiles all the time like the cover of an old comic almanac, you may safely bet, although there isn't the sign of a girl apparently in the radius of 10,000 miles, you can go your bottom dollar that howling boy has a sister who is primping in a room not twenty feet away, and that the young man doesn't come there just for the fun of playing with her brother.

They were very pretty and there was apparently five or six years difference in their ages. As the train pulled up at Bussey, out on the A. K. & D., the younger girl blushed, atened her nose against the window, and drew back in joyous smiles as a young man came dashing into the car, shook hands tenderly and cordially, insisted on carrying her valise, magazine, little paper bundle, and would probably have carried her had she permitted him. The passengers smiled as she left the car, and the murmur went rippling through the coach, "They're engaged." The other girl sat looking nervously out of the window, and once or twice gathered her parcels together as though she would leave the car, yet seemed to be expecting some one. At last he came. He bulged into the door like a house on fire, looked along the seats until his manly gaze fell on her upturned, expectant face, and roared, "Come on! I've been waiting for you on the platform for fifteen minutes!" grabbed her basket and strode out of the car, while she followed with a little valise, a handbox, a paper bag full of lunch: a bird-cage, a glass jar of jelly preserves, and an extra shawl. And a crusty looking old bachelor in the further end of the car croaked out, in unison with the indignant looks of the passengers, "They're married."—Burlington Hawk-eye.

SINGULAR DEATH.—A death by spontaneous combustion occurred in a San Francisco liquor saloon the other day. A man named Harley, who had been in the city about month, and frequently arrested for drunkenness, had just recovered from a second attack of delirium tremens, but started that morning on another drunken spree. He staggered into a saloon nearly insensible, and feebly asked for a drink. This was refused him, and he staggered towards the gas-jet to light the stump of a cigar he carried, while the barkeeper turned away to attend to his duties. A moment afterwards he heard a low moan and noticed a flash of fire, and turning around he saw Harley falling to the floor, his head enveloped in black, thick smoke, while flames issued from his mouth and ears. A horrible smell of burnt flesh filled the air. Not a moment was lost in attending the sufferer, but he was beyond relief. His face was perfectly black, partly charred and partly covered with a moist soot. His eyes were open. His mouth was completely roasted on the inside, but with the exception of his head and hands, no part of his body bore marks of his horrible death.

The chief engineer of the government railways in Australia recently reported that the locomotives made in Australia were not only poor ones, but an injury to the roads. He recommended that hereafter all engines be purchased in the United States. He is right. The American invention runs smoother, pulls stronger, lasts longer, and costs less to run than any in the world.

It is all very well to laugh at a woman's tantrums when a mouse makes its appearance near her skirts, but a little merriment should be reserved for the man who plays circus while a June bug is walking up the inside of his clothing with the slow and measured step of a day laborer.

If you want to make your life entirely successful please to remember that the secret is contained in the three G's—Grace Grit and Green backs.

Telegraphic News.

WALLULA, June 18.—The Almota from Lewiston has just arrived and brings the following Indian news from the Lewiston Teller's extra: Thursday's stage brought down the news that the Indians, embracing Joseph's band and the Salmon river Indians, were assembled on Camas Prairie and were making demonstrations of hostilities. Friday morning news came that Larry Ott and three other white men had been killed on Salmon river near the mouth of White Bird, and that the settlers on Camas Prairie had become so much alarmed that they were gathering at Mount Idaho and asking for troops to come to their relief. No troops were ordered upon the request. About 5 p. m. of Friday an Indian messenger came through to the agency with a letter from L. P. Brown, Esq., to the effect that the Indians had made an attack upon the settlers on the prairie; had killed Ben Norton, shot his wife and broke both her legs; shot Mr. Moore through the hips; had badly wounded Norton's son aged about eleven and mortally wounded a Mr. Day; had attacked all the teams on the road and forced the men to abandon them, and at the time of writing had possession of Camas Prairie save Mount Idaho, and were threatening an attack upon that town, and demanded immediate aid to be sent to their rescue. It is stated that the roads were blockaded by the Indians, and urged that the mail and express do not start from Lewiston on Saturday unless under strong escort. Upon receipt of this letter orders were given at the garrison that two companies of cavalry be ready and start for the scene of hostilities forthwith. The alarm has been generally given, so as to reach settlers throughout the country. To-night Lewiston is under a guard of twenty police. Several have gone to accompany the troops to the seat of war.

LATER—June 17th, 4 o'clock p. m.—Rumors are and have been for the last 36 hours very conflicting in relation to where the Indians are and what they have done. Many of them are very exaggerated. The truth is bad enough to alarm the whole country. The most authentic is that on Friday evening at 8 o'clock a military force of 100 troops, 20 friendly Indians and several citizens left the Lapwai garrison under command of Col. Perry for Mount Idaho. Various letters are brought through by Indian messengers to the agency and the garrison from Mt. Idaho and the Kamia, some of them having come through since the arrival of the troops at Mt. Idaho. The following is the substance from Mt. Idaho: That a part of the Indians had gone to attack the settlers on Salmon river, and a part had gone to a fortified place on Cottonwood creek below Chapman's; that Capt. James Baker, Samuel Benedict, wife and four children, Harry Mason, Henry Efrez, and the Warrens expressman had been killed on Salmon River. That a pack train of forty mules had been attacked near Cold Spring and the two white men, Davenport and Omsley killed, and two half-breed Indians escaped and the cargo was captured; that the Indians and settlers were fighting below Chapman's. After the arrival of Col. Perry a dispatch came to the effect that he arrived at Mt. Idaho on Saturday morning and found the reports of killed true; that the Indians had gone to Salmon River; that the troops were in pursuit of them in hopes of overtaking them at the crossing. Messages from the Kamia, brought also by Indian runners to the agency, state that it had been ascertained that 29 whites had been killed so far as known; that the whites had killed White Bird, the chief of his band, and his family. Lal Dunwell, the Oro Fino expressman, came through safely on Saturday evening unconscious of the trouble till he arrived on the Lapwai although he saw on the mountain a mounted and nude painted Indian in the brush near the road. The Indian would not respond to his salutation, yet he was allowed to pass on without molestation. Mr. Lytle came through a few hours afterwards and saw several Indians on the prairie at a distance. Two of them pursued him but he outrode them and made his escape. The different Indian messengers tell many things, giving particulars which are not contained in the written messages which may or may not be true. Lewiston has an organization of about 60 men poorly fitted for home duty in case of an emergency. Two companies of infantry are expected here on the steamer from Wallula to-night, and 25 cavalry men from Walla Walla to-morrow. Five hundred Indians are on Hang Man Creek. No hostilities there yet.

6:30 P. M.—The troops with 150 men from Mount Idaho encountered the Indians at the head White Bird Canyon; troops dismounted and left a few soldiers and the 20 friendly Indians to hold their horses. The Indians opened fire upon the troops and fighting was continued for some time. The friendly Indians became alarmed, and the soldiers guarding the horses could see that the Indians were getting the best of the fight and the soldiers retreated. The citizens' captain, Sergeant Lytle, and one soldier was known to be killed, and the whole horse guard of Indians and whites broke and run, some for Mount Idaho and some for Lapwai, leaving the horses to run loose over the prairie. Those coming to Lapwai never stopped till they reached the post. The result of the fight is not known. Many of the houses on the prairie are burned.

8 o'clock A. M., June 18.—D. Munroe arrived from the garrison at half-past 2 this morning and tells us that a third soldier arrived at the garrison last evening from the fight, and reported the troops on foot are surrounded by Indians in the canyon and in a hand to hand fight. Col. Perry and one half the command are said to be killed and the remainder surrounded in the canyon and fighting against odds when the soldier left.

LEWISTON, I. T. June 17, Rec'd 18. To the Mayor of Portland: For humanity's sake send up 50 or 100 stands of arms with ammunition. The Indians have broken out on Salmon River and Camas prairie. They have massacred 30 or 40 men, women and children, and the work is still going on. We will be all right as far as this city is concerned. The city assumes the responsibility for their safe return. The arms, etc., guaranteed by the merchants. Subscribed: D. I. Warner, City Recorder, by order of the Common Council of the city of Lewiston, and N. B. Holbrook, Mayor; John P. Vollmer, merchant; Loewenberg Bros., merchants; Jos. Alexander, merchant; Grostein & Bernard, merchants; A. Damas, merchant.

P. S.—June 18—Settlers on Palouse and Paradise valley and from all the country north of us, are fleeing in here for protection. Farmers are all abandoning their farms, stock and everything.

(Signed) J. P. VOLLMER. S. G. Reed, Esq., received the following dispatch last night:

LEWISTON, I. T., June 17. To the President O. S. N. Co.: We have appealed to the Mayor of Portland, and aid us in this without delay. We are sadly in need of arms. Unless the country is relieved merchants must close business, farmers must flee from their crops, and this country will become depopulated. You will see our interests are identical. We want arms, soldiers and volunteers to prevent the slaughter of the whites. Down with the peace policy. By order of the City Council. (Signed) N. B. HOLBROOK, Mayor. D. J. WARNER, City Auditor.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Some days ago a number of clerks, discharged by the recently appointed postmaster from the postoffice in one of the larger cities of the West, visited Washington to-day to lay their grievances before the postmaster general. They represented that the new postmaster had discharged faithful and efficient clerks themselves and appointed inexperienced and inefficient clerks in their stead, and that the present postmaster was not loyal to the administration. They accordingly asked his discharge. The postmaster general informed them he would lay the case before the President, and having done so replied by letter, in which he says it appears from evidences in the department that the office is well conducted at present, and that the special agent has made a favorable report as to its present organization and management. So the public is not suffering for want of good service. The office is well managed now, so that complaints made are more in the nature of private than public grievances. The postoffice is not a political institution. If it be true, as you state, that the incumbent is opposed to the policy of the administration, he has the right to do so, and it is no cause of removal unless in his zeal and activity he sink postmaster in the politics of any one. Whether he support or oppose the administration, if he neglects his duty by being a busy politician or makes himself obnoxious by reason of inconsiderate and foolish zeal, he ought to be removed, but if he attends to his duties and makes a good and acceptable postmaster he should not be removed though he see fit to oppose the administration. The President finds no sufficient cause for a change in the postoffice.

The Treasury Department has issued a circular saying it will exact from steamboat inspectors strict fidelity to the true intent and meaning of the 78th rule and the statute on which it is founded. The duty is enjoined upon inspectors of frequent visits of excursion steamers in order to have personal knowledge that equipments are kept up to original requirements.

Gov. Hampton, of South Carolina, arrived in this city yesterday and immediately left for Ocean Grove, below Long Branch, avoiding the company of political friends awaiting him at the New York hotel. He has two objects in view it is said in visiting the North at this time. He will attend the anniversary of the Shields Guards at Auburn, New York, Wednesday, and will add to the interest of the occasion the flag which was the ensign of the Palmetto regiment in the Mexican war. Then he will visit New York long enough to negotiate a temporary loan which the Hampton legislature authorized, to meet expenses of the new South Carolina government until the treasury should be replenished by regular tax levy.

BALTIMORE, June 19.—Marshal Douglas yesterday visited St. Michael's Talbot county, Maryland, for the first time since he left a fugitive slave 41 years ago. He was well received by his former master, Capt. Thomas Auld, and by Wm. M. Bruff, who taught him reading and geography 50 years ago. In an address to the colored people Douglas said that in 20 years from now the colored race, as a race, had not advanced beyond the point where it was when emancipated, it is a doomed race. He encouraged them to earn money and to keep it. A poor people are always a despised people. To be respected, they must get money and property. Without money there is no leisure, without leisure no thought, without thought no progress.

MOUNT IDAHO, June 16th, 8 p. m.—Sad news to-night, via Florence, from Salmon river. The killed, so far as known, are Dick Devine, Henry Elfres, Bob Bland, Henry Strowbridge, nephew of Elfres,—Osborn, Harry Mason, C. H. Brown, Jack Manuel, Samuel Benedict, James Baker, Pat Price, Victor and Joe Oulds; William George, wounded. No women and children killed on Salmon river reported yet. Mr. John Chamberlain and child were killed at same time of Norton wife, and other child wounded. Lew Day very low; Joe Moore a severe wound in the hip; Mrs. Norton shot in both legs, not serious. Miss Linn Bowers and Hill Norton were found on the prairie by our pickets not hurt.

Troops arrived to-night. The Indians have left this afternoon, attempting to cross Salmon river. So we think some effort should, in our opinion be made to check them from Walla Walla as we think they will go towards Wallawa, or that country, and may commit other depredations. They have a large band of horses belonging to people here, so thought, and will be pursued by the people from here. It is Joseph's band with other renegades. McPherson goes for a doctor. The people are here fortified up. Yours truly L. P. BROWN.

MOUNT IDAHO, June 17.—9 a. m. Commanding Officer at Fort Lapwai: Col. Perry, with his command and some of our men, engaged the Indians at White Bird about three hours and were repulsed with heavy loss of men and horses. Col. Perry, when last seen by the men who have come in, was cut off. He had with him some 20 to 25 men.

We need more help, and any volunteers with arms that can be had should come at once. The Indians had killed, up to yesterday, on Salmon river, 12 men reported; don't know how many more, there is great need of a surgeon; no doctor here, nor none with the troops. Chapman, in command of the scouts, and who was in the fight, says he thinks some artillery—two mountain howitzers—should be brought up. Some of the men who have returned estimate the loss in killed, wounded and missing at 60 men. Of the volunteers wounded and returned are L. D. Sargent shot in the leg; H. A. Faxon, in hip. Lew Day is yet alive. We send with this dispatch a line to A. Leland, written last evening, giving the names of killed and wounded. Please furnish him a copy of this for public information.

Since writing this Col. Perry has come in safe, but we hear that Theller and Trimble are missing.

The people are all here, and have a very good fort thrown up. I fear no attack on the town. Very truly, in haste, L. P. BROWN.

To A. Leland: This was written before we heard that Perry was safe; but as he is in camp, I presume he will send his own dispatch, therefore I send this to you for information. Can you send an extra below from your office and use my name, that all is true that I have written. L. P. BROWN. June 18th.

William Igo, who brought these letters, says he was a scout on his own hook and was in the fight; that it took place at the foot of the White Bird Canyon, instead of the head; that upon the first fire of the Indians the soldiers broke ranks and retreated, and the officers could not rally them to face the enemy; that the Indians pursued them about 16 miles to J. M. Crook's lane, firing constantly; that the Indians had better guns and their aim was deadly from the first; that there was about 125 Indians in pursuit well mounted, that after the fight the Indians had a war dance on the prairie; that he, with Keneford, brought dispatches through from Col. Perry to the post; that off the road four miles north of the Board House they were attacked by five Indians just as the moon was going down; that they entrenched themselves behind some rocks and Keneford strengthening their position by firing with his Henry rifle till he fired 75 shots by the declining light of the moon. At day break the Indians fell back, carrying one of their number dead or wounded, upon a horse. They then came on without further molestation. We have before us Gen. Howard's dispatch to Col. Wood, of date June 18th at 11 a. m. giving the number of the command killed and missing at 27, exclusive of Lieut. Theller who was killed. This differs from Mr. Brown's statement as to the estimate of killed and missing, although both dispatches came by the same messenger and left at the same time.

A letter from Father Cataldo says the Indians are all quiet on Hangman Creek, though many of the Nez Perces and Palouses are there. Messenger just through in two days. This morning the Almota arrived with 75 more regulars who proceeded directly to the garrison and are to leave there this evening for the action. Volunteers have come from Columbia county, W. T., and more are on the road. The settlers in Paradise valley are stockaded and have sent to town for ammunition. Genesee valley settlers are here with their families. We feel no danger imminent in this section. Whatever the victory of the Indians may have upon those now friendly remains to be seen. The operator at Walla Walla telegraphed at 8:30 last evening (Wednesday):

I received a letter to day from my brother. He is living on the Alpowa, about 15 miles below Lewiston. He says: The Norton murder was led by Hushuscut, Chief of the Wa wa wi and Palouse Indians, and there are many more killed than reported. He says there was a man stopped at his place and the man stated an Indian told him Joseph declared he had Indians enough to whip all the soldiers at Lapwai and Walla Walla if they were at one post, let alone two. The people at Lewiston the man says, blame Howard and Monteith for the whole thing. He gives the names of many killed not named in the dispatches sent, and the trouble is worse than the Oregonian has it. Some things I see in the paper that were not telegraphed. It did not start about a horse trade at all, but was a regular outbreak. No messenger arrived yet.

Gen. Howard sent the following dispatch to Col. Which was received here yesterday.

FORT LAPWAI, June 19, 9 a. m. Capt. Perry reports Lieut. Theller killed in the action of the 17th. Sent Perry ammunition under escort to Mount Idaho last night, and shall collect enough force to make sure work before pushing. The final Indian position is reported in the roughest possible country between Little Salmon and Snake rivers. The trails are single and steep through deep canyons.

Mr. J. Lowenberg, of this city, received the following telegram yesterday:

LEWISTON, June 18, via WALLA WALLA, W. T., June 20. Thirty-two soldiers and thirty citizens killed yesterday. Safe here; send 4,000 Henry rifle cartridges. Lieutenant Theller was killed.

Gen. Sprague received a dispatch yesterday from Gov. E. P. Ferry of Washington Territory, which stated that His Excellency had forwarded all available arms and ammunition which could be collected. These munitions were to be forwarded by rail to Kalama, and brought to this city on last evening's boat. This morning they will be sent up the river.

Mr. H. D. Sanborn will start up the river this morning bound for Lewiston. He will take 60 muskets which were obtained from Gov. Chadwick, also 3,000 musket cartridges, 4,000 Henry rifle cartridges, powder, revolver balls, caps, etc. The money which has been so generously subscribed by the citizens of Portland will not be expended for the purchase of arms and ammunition for the present. When Mr. Sanborn reaches Lewiston and ascertains just what arms are required, he will then proceed at once to obtain what is necessary. With the number of guns and ammunition which will arrive at Lewiston in the course of a few days it may be found that there will be no necessity for any more.

The business will be conducted and carried on in the same style as the local garden of San Francisco, only on a smaller scale. I shall spare no pains to make it Pleasant and Beautiful. It is my intention to build up a Pleasant Resort for the Pleasure-going public.

I shall enlarge and beautify as fast as it will pay, and the wants of the public call for it.

The Ground is Beautifully Shaded, on the Banks of Cedar River, at Renton.

A few steps from the Railroad. For the present, it will be open on Sunday from 10 to 7 o'clock, and on week-days only on application. Admittance, 25 cents. Parties, Socials and large Parties, at reduced prices.

It will be open on the FOURTH DAY OF JULY. I expect to have a BALLOON on that day.

Notice.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN
WHEREAS the Commissioner of the General Land Office, in letter dated July 28th, 1874, ordered that the Township 23 North, Range 5 East, in the district of lands for sale at Olympia, W. T., should be withheld "from disposal as agricultural lands until the nominal character shall have been fully established." And, whereas, Benjamin Murphy, of King County, W. T., who made homestead entry for land in said township and range, viz. S. E. 1/4 of Section 33, now makes his final entry of said land, and has filed in this office his affidavit declaring that there is not within the limits of said land, to his knowledge any coal or other valuable mineral deposit, and that said land is essentially non-mineral land.

Now, therefore, in accordance with instructions from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, it is ordered that testimony touching the character of said described land shall be taken before the Register and Receiver of the United States District Land Office, at their Office in Olympia, W. T., on the 25th day of July, A. D., 1877, beginning at 10 o'clock, A. M. at which place and time all persons having interest in the character of the above described land are required to appear, and there and then to present such evidence as may serve to fully establish the character of said tract of land.

Given under my hand, at the United States District Land Office at Olympia, W. T., this 9th day of June, A. D., 1877.
