

Puget Sound Dispatch.

Vol. 1. No. 40. BERTH BROWN, EDITOR. Seattle, Thursday, August 29, 1872.

Puget Sound Dispatch.

One year ago Col. C. H. Larrabee purchased the plant of the TERRITORIAL DISPATCH and guaranteed the publication of the paper for one year.

Historical Facts.

The Bourbons and bums who are getting up the Louisville Convention in the interest of the Grant party, upon the pretence of maintaining their political consistency regardless of consequences to the country, ignore their party history in the past when they assume that the Democratic party has never before adopted a candidate for President not of their own political household and faith.

The Jackson party was formed, and came into power upon distinct issues which ignored and disclaimed old party lines, and with Gen. Jackson came in Cass, Buchanan, Woodbury, and other prominent old line Federalists, together with Mr. Van Buren, whose party status had previously been unsettled, in opposition to Henry Clay, and many other old line Jeffersonian Republicans.

In 1840, Gen. Harrison, an old Virginia Jeffersonian Republican, was elected President over Martin Van Buren, the Democratic candidate.

In 1848, Gen. Taylor, a devoted follower of Jefferson through life, was supported for President by Greeley, Seward, Weed, and the entire opposition to the Democratic party at the North, and by Yaney, Toombs, Stevens, Rhet, and many of the ultra States Rights politicians of the South. Gen. Cass, the candidate of the Democratic party, was an old Federalist, and while teaching school at Newcastle, in Delaware, wore a black cockade upon his hat, as an insignia of his adherence, to the Federal party. Martin Van Buren, was at the same time the candidate of the Free Soil Democracy, and was supported by Chase, Sumner, and a dissenting wing of the Democratic party.

Mr. Buchanan, the Democratic candidate in 1856, until past middle age, expressed his hostility to the Democratic party quite as forcibly as ever Horace Greeley did, declaring upon one occasion that if he had a drop of Democratic blood in his veins he would let it out.

Mr. Chase, a life-long Democrat, was elected to the Senate, the first time, by a combination of the Legislature of Ohio, between the Democrats and Free Soilers. Mr. Sumner was elected to the Legislature of Massachusetts, and at that time Wilson, Banks, and Bortwell were all Democrats, and left the Democratic party on the slavery issue, as did also Trumbull, Doolittle, and hosts of others who agreed with the Democratic party upon every other question of government.

On the other hand, the Grant party is now managed and controlled almost exclusively by Democrats who did not leave the Democratic party upon any professed dissent on principles, but were thrown into power by the accidents of war, and were drawn together by the adhesive attraction of public plunder. Grant, Morton, Logan, Carpenter, Butler, Forny, and the more recent accessions from the South, Longstreet, Mosby, Toombs, Wise, Stephens, Ackerman, Settle and others, were among the most bitter assailants of the Republican party and the anti-slavery principles upon which that party was founded, until civil war had in a measure dissolved old party organizations and opened a field for the success of political adventurers and time-servers of all parties, when, as Dr. Johnson once said, "patriotism became the last refuge of the scoundrel."

The guerrilla band now sought to be organized at Louisville, is made up of the elements of egotism and a restless ambition for disturbance and notoriety. Not one of the leaders of the movement ever attained a reputation for patriotism, political consistency, or a single disinterested act for public benefit. Brick Pomeroy, the only one of them who has a national reputation, has achieved a notoriety but little short of infamy, by pandering to the worst passions and prejudices of the masses through affected sentiments which were belied by his moral character. Blatant Duncan is only known in his vicinage as a blustering disturber whose demagogic devices never achieved for him any distinguished public trust or popular confidence. The self-constituted chairman of the assiduated organization, Bayard, gives to the cause the prestige of a distinguished name which he has signally failed to honor by any distinguished public services, and stands alone among his kinsmen as a factionist. Ex-Senator Fitch, of Indiana, a dead-beat politician, has within our recollection been identified with every political party which has had a being during that time. He supported Van Buren in 1848, Pierce in 1852, Buchanan in 1856, Breckinridge in 1860, and Lincoln in 1864, and would probably never again have been heard of in public life if he had not volunteered with Brick Pomeroy and Blatant Duncan to sacrifice himself for the honor and consistency of the old Democratic party.

There are other names appended to his movement without the authority of the persons named; among them that of James H. Slater, of Oregon, who has publicly avowed his intention to stump his State for Greeley and Brown. In this connection we may mention the fact that we see in the Grant papers a call for a Grant meeting of the officers and soldiers of the Union army, at Pittsburgh, with the name of Gen. Banks appended to the call. Forgery is not a resort to sustain any reputable cause.

The character and devices of the men engaged in the movement preclude the belief that it is actuated by any patriotic motive or chivalrous sentiment of devotion to the old Democratic party. No sensible man believes that its tenacity or intention is any other than to give aid and comfort to the Grant party and to defeat, if possible the election of Greeley and Brown, and thereby prevent any change in the Administration and in the constitution of Congress. If its managers succeed in their designs, against the expressed wishes of at least nine-tenths of the old Democratic party, do they foolishly imagine that they can restore the Democratic party to power under their lead and by their factious opposition? Nothing of the kind. If through appeals to old party prejudices they can draw off enough Democratic votes from Greeley to give the election to Grant, they will have accomplished their object and put the Administration under contribution to them for their services.

We are in the midst of a revolution. Old party lines and divisions are swept away and can never be restored. The Republican party is mainly merged in the Grant party, a semi-military and wholly central party, retaining not a single principle which gave vitality to its early organization, under new leaders and with entirely different purposes.

The Democratic party, by its accented delegates, and by almost unanimous consent, has voluntarily surrendered its party character and organization to the higher demands of patriotism and popular rights. The success of the Grant party is the centralization of power, the perpetuation of despotic rule in the subjugated States, and the postponement, indefinitely of the fraternal bonds of union without which political union is a mockery of free popular government. The success of Greeley would be the triumph of the people over party; the restoration of peace upon the basis of friendship and common interest, and a guarantee that the Government will be administered according to the principles upon which the Union was founded; the maintenance of the Federal Government in all the powers delegated to it by the States, and the unmoored exercise by the States of all the powers not delegated to the General Government. These embrace all vital principles for which the Democratic party has ever professed to contend.

An Infamous Swindle.

Abundant facts clearly demonstrate that the public offices in this county are mainly managed exclusively for private emolument in utter disregard of the public interests or the rights of tax-payers. A circumstance within our own experience will illustrate this proposition. On the 24th of July we called upon Mr. E. Bryan, the Clerk and Collector of the Seattle School District, to pay taxes on certain city lots. He stated the amount of taxes due on said lots, received pay, and gave us receipts for the same. The following week we saw the same property advertised in the Intelligencer to be sold to delinquent school taxes. On calling on Mr. Bryan for explanation, he informed us that our receipts were only for the special tax, and that the delinquency for which the property was advertised to be sold, was on the regular tax; a difference of which we had no previous knowledge and rightfully supposed that when we called upon the Collector and tendered the money for our taxes, it was his duty to inform us of all the taxes in his hands for collection against said property. The delinquent tax which the Collector withheld from our knowledge, is advertised at 30 cents; the charge for advertising it three weeks in the organ of the public plunderers, is two dollars and fifty cents for each description. There are over two hundred descriptions advertised for the same sale, a majority of which are taxed at less than 30 cents each, and the aggregate cost of advertising at two dollars and fifty cents a description, is over five hundred dollars. This is four times the Intelligencer's advertised rates for legal advertising, and more than ten times its ordinary charges for business advertisements. It will publish a column advertisement for fifteen dollars a month, or less, by special bargain, and connive with an official to compel taxpayers to pay five hundred dollars for the publication of three short columns three weeks.

We were last week accused of "lying" by the organ of the Territorial ring of public plunderers, because we spoke of the Intelligencer as the organ of our local "Tammany." What better evidence does the public want that the Intelligencer is the organ of the official thieves, than that it supports them for a share in the public plunder. For one we should deem ourselves guilty of conniving at public plunder if we submitted to this scheme of official robbery. Every tax-payer should contest it in behalf of public morality and we are certain that no such official fraud can work any legal lien upon the property sold.

A previous collector burned his papers to avoid investigation. The present collector would have shown more discretion and not less honesty by doing the same.

DEATH OF G. T. SMITH.—This noted character, well known upon Puget Sound as "Cherokee Smith," a professional gambler and the intimate friend and political manager for Mr. Garfield, was shot and killed at Albany, Oregon, on the 23d inst., by L. D. Miller, on account of suspected illicit intimacy with Miller's wife. A letter to the editor of this paper from a gentleman of unimpeachable veracity, says: "Cherokee lived but a few hours, and desired his next friend to burn the papers in his trunk, and not on any account to allow certain letters of Garfield to be made public, stating that those letters would ruin Garfield; and although Garfield had behaved badly to himself, yet, he said, 'I have always been a man of honor, and scorn to betray private letters, and have refused large sums from persons in Oregon for these letters.'"

Our correspondent mentions the name of a high Federal official from whom he received this information, who stated that he had himself been authorized to sound Cherokee about those letters, the publication of which would have ruined Garfield in the opinion of all honorable men, but Cherokee refused to sell them. Of the hundreds who knew of the personal intimacy between Cherokee and Garfield, none will doubt the credibility of this report.

BOOTH, FOSS & BORST, Proprietors.

CARD.

WE TAKE PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING to the public the return of Mr. THOMAS MURPHY to our employment. He will be remembered as the person who gave our house such an enviable reputation, last fall, for having a choice quality of small goods of all descriptions, consisting of Bologne Sausage, Pork Sausage, Beef Sausage, German Sausage, Summer Sausage, Liver Puddings, Black Puddings, Saveloys, Tripe, Head Cheese, etc.

As there has always existed in the minds of many persons, and more especially the ladies, a sort of antipathy in regard to the manufacture of these small goods by butchers, the public, and of course the ladies, are very respectfully invited to visit our sausage apartment and witness the modus operandi of making these goods. Mr. Murphy will be found in this apartment, always willing to give any information desired in regard to his trade.

BOOTH, FOSS & BORST, Seattle Market. 201f.

NOTICE To the Merchants of Puget Sound:

ON THE FIRST INST. WE HAD SHIPPED to our address from the well known Packer's House of Thomas J. Bigger, Kansas City, Missouri, TWENTY THOUSAND POUNDS of cured Meats, consisting in part of Breakfast Bacon, Heavy Bacon, Sugar Cured Hams, Barrelled Pork, etc.

We receive these meats direct from first hands by the car load, and hence will supply the trade at San Francisco jobbing rates. We also give notice that we have ordered from this people's house, a large stock of Pure Lard, in packages of 5lb to 10lb each, which we shall offer to the trade at the same rates.

We have made arrangements with this firm for supplies of any magnitude, which we will furnish at the lowest rates, our object being to establish a Wholesale Market here for these and other articles of Eastern manufacture in our line, instead of having to import to California and Oregon for them. Being permanently located at Seattle, the most central point on the Sound for distribution, we are enabled to supply our customers in all its branches, and especially with a view of establishing this trade, we can warrant the public that we shall sustain this enterprise against all foreign competition.

As merchants are not usually prepared with suitable rooms for keeping this class of meats, they can procure their supplies from us in quantities to suit, on very short notice, thereby obviating the necessity of keeping a large stock on hand for their trade, besides saving the risk of transportation and keeping, and the use of means necessarily involved.

Our stock will arrive on or about the first of July, (no preventing obstacle) at which time we respectfully solicit your patronage.

The Puget Sound Banking Company report Gold in New York, 11 1/2. Currency buying 87. Sight exchange on Portland and San Francisco 1/2 per cent.

The bark Powhattan is loading with 700 tons coal for Seattle Coal Company, San Francisco and will sail this week.

The new Schooner Big River is loading with lumber at Seattle Mill for Preston & McKennon San Francisco.

The Seattle Mill, under the management of Mr. Coleman, is a great benefit to Seattle.

Capt. N. C. Haley has just started in business in this city. He is temporarily located in the Post Office Building.

There has been a moderate trade during the week. M. R. Maddocks, our principle Druggist, has now a large stock of Drugs, etc., on hand.

MARRIED.—At Trinity Church, Portland, Oregon, on the 20th inst., by Bishop Morris, assisted by Dr. Nevins, Dr. Thomas T. Minor, of Port Townsend, to Miss Sarah E. Montgomery, of Bedford, Penn., sister of Hon. J. B. Montgomery, of the N. P. R. R.

DIED.—In this city on the 23d inst., of pulmonary consumption, Mrs. Sarah E. wife of J. Homer Hall, and daughter of Charles L. Gager, Esq., of Buffalo, N. Y., aged 27 years.

The deceased removed from her native city of Buffalo to Seattle, with her husband, about one year ago, and had become greatly endeared to a small circle of friends by her many estimable qualities of head and heart.

RAILROAD DIRECTORS.—We learn by private letters from one of the Railroad officials, that a telegram was received from Gen. Roberts on the 23d saying that the Railroad party would leave Chicago for Puget Sound on the 18th of September.

REFORM CLUB.—A regular meeting of the Reform Club will be held in the Dispatch Buildings on Saturday evening next.

CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.—The Grant papers say that the Administration are in favor of Civil Service Reform. The way the principle is carried out is by levying contributions upon the appointees for party expenses.

CIRCUS COMING.—The "Great Crystal Palace Circus," said to be the best Circus of the period, will perform in this City on Friday and Saturday of the present week.

TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.—We are requested by Mr. Carr, County Superintendent, to say that a Teacher's Institute will commence in this city on the 18th of September.

OLYMPIA TRIBUNE.—The Daily Tribune is now printed in the Standard office, and published by Thomas W. Prosch.

BORN.—At Port Gamble, on the 23d inst., to the wife of W. H. Llewellyn, a son.

THE CONCERT.—For the benefit of the Congregational Church was a success; it realized about $90. Some of the singing was exceedingly good, especially that of Mrs. Henmenway, Mrs. Kellogg, Messrs. Nesfield and Mr. O'Brien.

COOMBS & PUMPHREY have just received, per Prince Alfred, a large stock of Sheet Music which they will sell at regular Catalogue prices.

THE MAIL SUBSIDY.—The steamship Prince Alfred, with a "patent steam condenser and all the modern improvements to her machinery," had not arrived at the hour of going to press this morning, although 6 1/2 days out from San Francisco!

AS USUAL.—Just as expected the Courier denies the assertion of the Transcript that Garfield has purchased a fine residence near Washington.

Correspondence.

PORT TOWNSEND, Aug. 27, 1872.

EDITOR DISPATCH.—San Juan Island being a place of some note between the United States and Great Britain, it may be of some interest to your readers to hear something concerning it.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD that all the troops now stationed there will be removed in October, if not before. The American garrison is under the command of Lieut. E. B. Hubbard, of the 2d U. S. Artillery.

DR. G. C. DUNGLAS, the Post Surgeon, is a most estimable gentleman, and although but a few weeks there, he has made an excellent reputation for skill in his profession and noble social qualities.

THE CROPS on the Island are over an average, notwithstanding the late dry season. There are at present about one hundred families on the Island, and as a class they are about as happy a people as can be found anywhere.

AS THE STEAMER is coming, I have not time to give what I started in to do, a general description of the Island, but will do so some other time.

Yours, in a hurry, BARNEY O'RGAN.

What was Done in Six Days.

A widow sat in her solitude one stormy winter evening, thinking over her happy youth and her present dejection. The father and mother who had so tenderly cherished her, were sleeping in the grave; the competence they had left her had vanished like vapor in an un- fortunate investment; and after that, had fallen the heaviest stroke of all.

Tears fell on the white hands that lay folded so helplessly on her lap, as she thought of all her early friends with whom she had played in childhood. They were all prosperous and happy.

She did not know that the blue eyes of one friend were often red with tears for her; or that other eyes, with yet stronger sympathy, were kept wakeful the long night with plans for her; and that her third friend was pleading with a careless, money-loving husband, day and night, not to foreclose the mortgage on her home.

She saw the clouds that gathered about her prospects, but she did not see the sun-beam that was almost ready to dispel them.

When the light of the fire fell on the mother's face, Charley saw traces of her tears, and going up to her, pressed her burning cheeks with his little cold hands, and asked, tenderly:

"What ails you, mother? were you too lonely when we were out so late?"

"No, my dear," replied the lady, "but I have a heavy care on my heart to-night, and I could not help crying."

"What is it, mother? can I help you any?" asked the brave little fellow.

"No, my dear, not in this trouble; but as you grow older you can help me a great deal. I mean by-and-by to throw off all care and lean on you—that's when my hair gets gray, and you are a man, you know dear."

"I wish I was a man now," cried the boy, stretching himself to his full height as if to anticipate the time. "But what made you cry, mother?"

"Charley you know there's a small mortgage on this place, which I had hoped to meet. But I can't do it, and I fear we shall lose our home. If I could keep that we could live with great prudence."

"I think we can do it, some way, mother, dear," said Charley, passing one little arm tenderly round her neck. "But, my dear, it's nearly a thousand dollars, and there are only six days left to raise it in."

"Six days," cried the boy, as his eyes brightened with hope. "Why, that's a long time to do it in! Only think what God did in six days, mother? He made a whole world, and I guess he can make that little bit of money in the same time!"

"I know He can, Charley, my darling boy; and if He sees no best to do it, and we have to leave our home, I will thank Him that He has left me no boys. I can bear any poverty or cares with you to comfort me, my brave boy; I will trust the God who made a whole world in six days, and believe that He will do what is best for us in this matter."

The evening the three early friends of this widow were sitting together at tea with their husbands, talking of her. The gentleman who held the mortgage which was to be paid in six days, held tightly all he owned.

"Suppose," said one of the others, "we just divide the thousand among us, and let the family keep their home?"

The owner of the mortgage looked up and started.

"What! give her the thousand dollars outright?" he asked.

frank of generosity, and exclaimed: "Oh, I thank you more than I can tell, and I promise to save that sum to you in some way this very year!"

Before "six days" had passed, that widow was in possession of her home, as well as having new faith in her early friends.

He who made a world in six days, had, as Charley said he would, "made that little bit of money;" and what was far more a miracle—he had drawn it easily from a heart usually shut against all appeals for aid.

When some great mountain in our path is to be leveled, and the time seems wholly too short for the work, let us remember this sweet boy's words of cheer, and take courage.

An extraordinary suicide recently occurred in England. A boy aged 10 years, after leaving school, told a playmate that he was going to commit suicide, and gave him a knife to take care of for him.

The Good Old Way.—There are not a few city churches whose choirs would be benefited by a visit from the clergyman in Vermont, of whom the following incident is told: "Several years since he visited New York, and was invited to fill a city pulpit. He had never had the privilege of listening to a church organ, and was totally unacquainted with the fashion of hiring a few vocalists to do the singing for the congregation.

The Andes Gradually Sinking.—Travelers who wish to ascend the Andes should lose no time in carrying out their intention, or they will perhaps find no Andes to ascend.

Read Physician's Certificates Below!!! The best Liver Regulator known! Dr. HENLEY'S CELEBRATED BITTERS. BEST TONIC IN USE. A Most Efficient and Pleasant Tonic.

These Bitters are prepared from the most choice and wholesome herbs and roots, and have given universal satisfaction wherever tried. Thousands of dyspeptics have found relief through their use, and physicians recommend them for the cure of all diseases of the blood and liver, and irregularities of the digestive organs.

CERTIFICATES. MESSRS. H. EPSTEIN & CO. Gentlemen: I take pleasure in stating that agreeably to your wish I have carefully tested and examined the sample of your ILL Bitters, which you sent me, and find it not only an agreeable Bitter, but also one that cannot fail to be beneficial to a tonic and promoter of Digestion. Sole Proprietors, G. HOLLAND, M. D. CITY AND COUNTY HOSPITAL, San Francisco, June 26th, 1871.

Dr. HENLEY'S CELEBRATED BITTERS. I have carefully examined Dr. Henley's ILL Bitters, and have failed to detect any ingredients which could injure even the most delicate constitution. From the composition of the Bitters, as far as I am able to determine it, I should judge that the ILL Bitters must be a very efficient remedy in Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and similar complaints, being composed of a number of vegetable drugs which are principally used in cases of that nature, and are of the greatest efficiency in their cure. Sole Proprietors, F. H. ENGELS, M. D. Asst. Res. Physician Apothecary C. & C. Hospital, 21st St., San Francisco, San Francisco, July 21st, 1871.

Messrs. H. EPSTEIN & Co.—Gentlemen: I have made a careful examination of your ILL Bitters, and have found them entirely free of deleterious mineral substances. The Great Medical Discovery of Wash- ington Territory! MERCER'S PANACEA! Prepared by Dr. Thomas Mercer at Seattle, Washington Territory.

This preparation is carefully prepared by Dr. Mercer, who gives his personal attention thereto. After years of experience he presents this compound Tonic and Cathartic to the public, as better calculated to assist nature in overcoming disease than anything yet offered by the faculty, in all cases of General Derangement of the System.

AS AN APPETIZER IT HAS NO EQUAL. It is particularly beneficial in eradicating from the system the Effects of Syphilis, AS A CATHARTIC it is unsurpassed, being unaccompanied with griping and pain.

DR. MERCER has also a preparation, which he calls THE LADIES BALM, Being expressly designed for female derange- ments. He has also prepared a Pulmonary Syrup Which is unsurpassed for COUGHS, COLD and all derangements of the lungs.

All the above medicines are purely vegetab- le. For Sale AT THE DRUG STORES AT SEATTLE. Dr. Mercer refers to the citizens of Seattle and Puget Sound generally, who have used his medicines. THOMAS MERCER. Seattle, W. T., June 5th, 1871. n3-1f.
