CAUSE AND EFFECT.—The opposition triumphs in the late elections are mainly attributable to the salary grab by the present Congress. Of all the members who voted for that infamy, took back pay and kept it, but eighteen have been returned to the next Congress—10 Republicans and 8 opposition. Republicans—Bullington of Mass., Ganges of Mich., Dunnell of Minn., Durrall of La., Kelly of Pa., Parker of Pa., Hays of Ala., Platt of Va., Stewell of Va., Wallace of S. C. Opposition—Randall of Pa., Wood of N. Y., Ely of N. Y., Swann of Md., Harris of Va., Waddell of N. C., Hancock of Texas, Banks of Mass.

As far as party endorsement of the act goes, both parties are about equally implicated; neither can accuse the other. In subsequent justification of the perpetrators of the act, the opposition are far ahead of the Republicans. The most prominent names now before the country for Speaker of the next House, are Fernando Wood of N. Y., and N. P. Banks of Mass. It is manifest from the expressions in favor of these men by their party organs, and also by their endorsement by their party at the polls, that the party which they severally represent does not condemn the back-pay grab on principle, and if one of the gentlemen named is not elected Speaker, the rejection will be on the question of party policy and not on principle. In view of these facts, what dependence can be placed by the people upon the professions of reform by the present party in organized opposition to the Administration?

So far as the Democratic party is concerned, we fail to see any distinctive principle of general adoption for which it is contending. Upon the currency question, which used to be a leading party issue, both parties are now about equally divided. A majority of the Republicans of New England are in favor of an immediate return to specie payments; a majority of the Democrats of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois favor an increase of paper currency, with an indefinite postponement of specie redemption. D. W. Voorhees, a recognized Democratic leader, in a public speech denounces the hard money policy avowed by the President in his annual message, and contends for inflated currency. An old Democrat would be puzzled to find his party amid this confusion. The distinctive issues upon which the Republican party was based were all disposed of long ago. Neither of the now existing party organizations will have any advantage over the other in the next general election. Success will depend more upon the personal character of the candidates than upon name of the party by which they are presented. The country stands in regard to party about the same as it did in 1824, and future party operations can no more be predicted now than then.

A NOVEL WEDDING.—The Mainland Guardian gives the following account of a wedding in British Columbia: A short time ago a fortunate swain was made happy by the arrival of his lady love in this Province, and naturally he both himself of the bliss of matrimony which after due consultation with the lady, was determined on, and the services of a clergyman from this city engaged. The pastor was probably detained beyond the time calculated for his arrival at the settlement, or perhaps, the bridegroom was a little impatient; however that may be, the twain, desirous of being made one, with a party of friends started in a canoe for this city, and as luck would have it, the minister went down on one side of an island, while the wedding party came up on the other. "The course of true love never runs smooth," and as may readily be supposed, the bridegroom thought it "mighty rough" when he arrived here and found that the clergyman was likely to be waiting for him at his own residence. "Faint heart never won fair lady," so the energetic bridegroom hurried off the bridal party to his "gum trees," or "black log," canoe, whichever it was, and made tracks for "the place from whence he came," determined at all hazards to have the knot tied which would forever bind him to his fair one. The minister, on arriving at the settlement, found to his astonishment, that the bridal party had gone in search of him, and he accordingly turned the prow of his canoe homeward. "Fortune favors the brave," as in this case the bridal party took the channel which the minister followed on his return, and to their mutual satisfaction the two canoes met. A happy thought struck the bridegroom; "there's many a slip between the cup and the lip," and slip-knot was what he used. He tied the canoes together with bands of rope, then the minister tied the happy couple with the bands of Hymen, and made them one flesh. The minister having done his work, set free the happy pair, who floated down the stream in tranquil happiness, symbolical of their future course through life.

CAPT. S. R. HUGHES.—The Colonist says of Capt. Hughes, of whose terrible mishap an account will be found in our telegraphic column, that he commanded, in 1867, the British ship Queen Victoria, and while crossing the Atlantic, in mid ocean, encountered the American clipper ship Aquila, Capt. Sayward, in a sinking condition. Captain Hughes laid by the Aquila, at great risk, until every soul had been transferred to the Queen Victoria. He lauded the gallantry with the thanks of the nation by the U. S. Congress and presented with a handsome gold chronometer bearing the following inscription: "The President of the United States to Capt. S. R. Hughes, for the rescue of the American ship Aquila, 1867." This watch was the only article that Captain Hughes saved from the wreck of the Edwin. As he was leaving the cabin of the sinking vessel with his wife and children, his wife said to him: "You had better take your watch." He turned back, took it from under the pillow of his berth, and placed it in his pocket. Within ten minutes afterwards his wife and children were swept away and drowned. Yesterday the Captain landed on the Hudson Bay Co.'s wharf, his only earthly possession being the gold watch voted him by Congress, and the Company's wharf being the one to which Capt. Sayward (the man whom he rescued) sailed the brig Sheetan for several years.

Pool-selling to-night, at the Fashion Saloon. BALL.—The ball on Christmas evening, given by the Gymnasium Association, was a very enjoyable affair. The hall was handsomely decorated with flags, the music was good, and everything passed off in good shape. LUCKY.—Major Blake, Inspector of Customs at San Juan Island, won the gold watch and chain valued at $150, and the gold match box, $35, raffle, by W. G. Jamieson Christmas evening. 46 was the lucky throw in each case.

Pool-selling to-night, at the Fashion Saloon. THE CARNIVAL.—On Tuesday evening next the Carnival takes place at the Sating Rink. All desiring costumes, either male or female should call on Mr. Cal. Mandeville at the Pavilion, as he has a large assortment. It should be remembered that none will be allowed to skate unless masked and in costume. MASKS.—Persons wishing to procure masks for the Grand Masquerade Skating Carnival on the 29th inst. will find a large assortment at Pumphrey & Young's, at very reasonable prices.

MARRIED.—In Samamish Valley, Dec. 25th, 1874, by W. M. York, Mr. William Goldwayer to Miss Rebecca J. Spragg. TROTTER RACE.—On Saturday next there will be a trotting match at the race track for a purse of $100 with gate money added, mile heats, 3 in 5. Two horses have already entered.

Rev. A. Atwood will preach tomorrow at 11 A. M., and 7 P. M., in the Baptist Church. All are invited. CHRISTMAS TREES.—The trees at both Congregational and Baptist churches were well patronized and it took to a late hour to distribute the many presents for old and young. At the former church the great feature of the evening was the appearance of Santa Claus (Mr. David Kellogg). A small house was built on the stage, before which two fairies appeared and sang a song, at the conclusion of which Santa Claus came through the chimney amid the shouts of the delighted children among whom he distributed presents.

Last Saturday night a party while fishing in the Bay near Mr. Boutwell's place, discovered the body of a dead man on the beach near them. They secured it where it lay and notified the Coroner. This officer went down, and it was found to be the remains of Doctor Jack, an Indian, who was killed several weeks ago and thrown in the Bay. Before the body was identified several individuals thought it bore a resemblance to some acquaintance who was missing, and the country bid fair to be depopulated before it was found to be a "good Indian." Courier.

Pool-selling to-night, at the Fashion Saloon, on the race. A TOUGH OLD CENTENARIAN.—It is an old practice to speak contemptuously of old vessels, but a glance at "Lloyd's Register" will prove that age has less to do with unworthiness than it is credited with. There are many good and sound old vessels that perchance may outlive hundreds of the modern school. The Brotherly Love, of 314 tons, built in 1764 and owned by Mr. J. Pounce, of Shields, was classed 21 in 1873. It is doubtful whether an iron-built ship will exist at the end of 110 years, and then secure a classification on survey.

Laid Up.—The steamer Zephyr is on the ways at Hammond's ship yard, being thoroughly fitted up. She will be in the water again about Saturday next in as good shape as when she was first launched and after the first of January will carry the mails in connection with the Favorite.

A large fat turkey was thrust into our door last evening, with a card attached to its neck bearing the honored name of Bailey Gatzert, coupled with the pious legend, "Remember the Printer." Mr. Gatzert's motto is, "We may all be happy yet," and few of the knights of the age of chivalry were more faithful to their motto.

A POLITICAL FAMILY.—Four of the Washburne brothers are candidates for high political positions: Elihu B. for President of the United States, E. D. for Senator from Maine, Cadwalader C. for Senator from Wisconsin, and William D. Senator from Minnesota; and the rest of the family to hear from.

ZAMBOON.—This great wizard gave his first performance at the Pavilion on Wednesday evening to a large audience, all of whom were highly pleased with the entertainment. The tricks were very well done and were interspersed with several songs which brought down the house.

Mr. Cal. Mandeville gave his lightning changes in which he was loudly applauded. He will appear in his change again this (Thursday) evening. TELEGRAPHIC. RELIGIOUSLY TO THE DAILY DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—There is scarcely a chance for an ocean race between the Three Brothers and the British King, as the former is very near loaded and will probably sail this week. The latter contemplates loading at Valjejo, and will be detained at least a couple of weeks. BERLIN, Dec. 22.—The North German Gazette publishes the following: In Sept., 1873, the French Archbishop received an anonymous letter offering to kill Bismarck for $12,000. In a second letter, the writer gave his photograph and gave his name and address as follows: Duchesse Poncelet, Rue Leopold. The Archbishop communicated the letters to the French Government, which informed Bismarck. Poncelet, who was found and identified as a workman, was watched and it was ascertained that he was preparing to go to Germany, but becoming aware of police surveillance gave up his intention. The communication was not written by Poncelet, but by one of his fellow-workmen, who is supposed to have been a confederate.

FARES, Dec. 22.—The publication of the journal Le Pays has been suspended by the Government for two weeks. CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—A Washington special says: "Parsons of Ohio will appear voluntarily and make a statement of his connection with the Pacific Mail Co. He will admit that he received between ten and fifteen thousand dollars; chiefly for legal services.

Another dispatch says: "Irwin has taken measures to have the room where he expects to be confined for contempt fitted up comfortably, and declares that he will die in confinement before he will say anything more." Rufus Hatch says it is more probable that Jay Gould has raised $750,000 to repeal the existing subsidy for the P. M. S. Co., than that Irwin originally spent that sum to secure it.

New York, Dec. 23.—The petition to the Governor of Massachusetts for the pardon of Spencer Petters, the forger, has been signed by the Presidents of the Stock Exchange, Erie Railroad, N. Y. Central, Chicago & Northwestern R. R., Western Union Tel. Co., and the Fourth National Bank, and nearly all the bankers on Wall Street, as well as the officers of many banking corporations in Boston. The signers represent about $400,000,000. Petters has made astounding disclosures, which are to be made public.

BERLIN, Dec. 23.—German war vessels, Albatross and Nautilus, have been ordered to seek satisfaction from the Carlists on account of the brig Gustav affair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 23.—Sailing of the steamer Great Republic, for Hong Kong has been deferred till 24 of January. She will commence to receive freight on the 20th. This steamer was to sail Saturday. She will carry a large quantity of flour. CLEVELAND, Dec. 23.—The jury in the case of John Johnson, on trial for murder of Andrew Johnson, near here, last August, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. Prisoner will probably receive sentence next week.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 23.—Globe's Chester, Illinois special says, Jacob and William Fisher and Amos Young, of Ellis Grove, Randolph county, made a murderous assault on D. H. Roberts who took refuge in the store of C. Beare, Young, who is a notorious desperado, followed with the intention of killing him. Beare ordered Young to leave his premises, which he refused to do and threatened to shoot Beare and his son, whereupon Joseph Beare, jr., shot and killed Young.

New York, Dec. 23.—The detective dispatched by Superintendent of Police yesterday to ascertain if the child in possession of aged couple there was Charles Ross, returned this afternoon and reported having seen the boy and that he bore no resemblance to the missing child. CINCINNATI, Dec. 23.—Fire in Newport, Ky., to-night, destroyed Robeson & Co.'s distillery, with contents.

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 23.—The British Colonist of this morning publishes a full account of a fearful marine disaster on the west coast of Vancouver Island. The American bark Edwin, Captain Hughes, lumber laden at Utsalady for Adelaide, sailed from this port Dec. 1st. During a heavy gale outside Cape Flattery, it was observed that she did not obey the rudder, and the pumps being tried, she was found to be filling with water. The Captain ordered the mizzenmast cut away and a few minutes after the mainmast fell across the deck. Captain's wife and two small children, who were in the hurricane house, were washed overboard and drowned. The Chinese cook was drowned in the galley. The Captain, Mate and the balance of the crew managed to climb up the rigging and reach the foretop before the bark went on her beams end. They remained in the rigging three nights and days without food or water, suffering horribly from cold and hunger, when, at last, they drifted ashore at the identical spot where the bark John Bright was lost and her crew murdered by savages a few years ago. On the beach was found the body of the Captain's wife, which it is supposed, had washed into the cabin and remained there until the vessel broke up. Survivors were brought here yesterday by schooner Alert, Captain Christiansen, and will be cared for by United States Consul. Captain Hughes was sole owner of ship and cargo, valued at $38,000. He saved nothing but a gold chronometer; inscribed: "The President of the United States to Capt. R. H. Hughes for the rescue of the American ship Aquila, 1867." Business men are taking up a collection for the immediate wants of the Captain and crew.

New Orleans, Dec. 25.—The returning Board have made a statement enclosing their work and alleging the election very loosely conducted and returns carelessly gotten up; refers at length to conduct of white Leaguers and claims to have properly discharged their trust.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 25.—Celebration of Christmas in this city was marked by a number of shooting and butting affrays, none of which are likely to result seriously. Special to the Courier Journal gives an account of a serious affray in Versailles, Ky., last night. Two parties, boys, one white and one colored, began to throw torpedoes and Roman candles across the street at each other. What was at first sport, soon became a heated conflict. Stones from the newly McAdams street were substituted. The parties were reinforced respectively by whites and blacks, and the fight became general. One Negro made an assault with a club on a white man and was shot, and it is feared mortally wounded. This morning the town marshal arrested the ring leaders. All is quiet to-day.

The firm intended to go out of business at the close of the year, but went to protest yesterday and now ask an extension. In the Tilton-Beecher case to day Judge McCue, on motion of counsel for the defendant, granted an order for the plaintiff to show cause why the order requiring a bill of particulars should not be enforced. Saturday next is appointed for the argument.

He came over the thoroughfare. While the boat was entering the slip he was robbed of his watch and chain and some money and knocked overboard, after which he drifted to the wharf, where he was found. Puget Sound Dispatch.

SEATTLE, W. T., Dec. 31, 1874.

ASSAULT AT THE INMATE ASYLUM.—A warden in the Inmate Asylum, at Steadman, was last week arrested for assault and battery upon a patient and taken to Tacoma for trial. After a full hearing before a jury, the defendant was acquitted. We are informed that this is one of the acts charged in the affidavits presented to the Governor and Auditor by the Medical Society, and that it was brought up for adjudication as a test case, the result being a full vindication of the contractor. If that is so, we are at a loss to understand why the investigation demanded has been so long delayed and thwarted by the Commissioners, who are reputed friends of Mr. Harmon. The determination of a jury in a justice's court, in a single case, does not dispose of the matter to the public satisfaction, and it is due to Mr. Harmon and to all concerned, that a full investigation of all the matters of complaint be had by a commission of intelligent and disinterested persons. Until that is done, Mr. Harmon, justly or unjustly, will rest under the suspicion of mismanaging the affairs of the Asylum, and the Governor and Auditor under the imputation of having evaded a duty in the cause of humanity for the purpose of shielding a personal favorite from justice. That is the way in which it will be regarded by a large portion of popular intelligence in spite of all efforts to grease it over.

The hosiery who advertised "black ladies' silk stockings," was no less luminous than our contemporary in speaking of the "son of the colored variety dealer." In the first case, it might reasonably be supposed that the color was intended to apply to the commodity as it indicated nothing in relation to the goods if applied to the person. But in the latter case we cannot understand what "colored variety dealer" means, if it was not intended as a gratuitous slur upon the respectable keeper of a "Variety Store," who has the same tinge of African blood in his veins as Alexander Dumas; which, to an old Republican advocate of equality, should be no cause of insulting taunt towards a man who maintains the character of a gentleman in all his business and social relations.

HOMESTEAD.—Many family residences in this Territory are held and recorded as "Homesteads," being thus exempted by law from execution and forced sale. Under a similar law in California, the Supreme Court lately decided in the case of Johnson vs. Bush, that when a homestead is the common property of the husband and wife who have children, it does not become the exclusive property of the husband, after the death of the wife, without a will; nor if he should be married again, of him and his second wife; but part of the property is inherited by the children, and a sale without their participation does not confer a complete title.

In buying a homestead from a husband and wife, the purchaser should examine whether the wife has not been changed since the declaration of the homestead was filed; a circumstance which frequently occurs in this country, in one way or another.

DELL TIMES.—The cry of "Hard times!" is borne upon the breeze and reiterated by the public prints from every section of the land. Yet we see few evidences of dull times in Seattle. We have been assured by reliable authority that more goods have been sold in this town during the past month than in any previous month in its history, and a large proportion of the sales were articles of taste and luxury. Though money is in demand at high rates of interest, business of all kinds seems active and prosperous, buildings and other improvements are progressing, skilled labor finds remunerative employment, the mills and coal mines are daily pouring their treasures into the lap of commerce, and the future looks bright for Seattle.

An observing young man has discovered a similarity in a young lady's seminary and a sugar factory, as both refine what is already sweet.

A New Jersey clergyman says that there are about twenty different kinds of religion, but a man who won't wash and shave and put on clean shirts can't joy any of them.

THE SUN'S BLESSING.—Sleepless people—and there are many in America—should court the sun. The very worst of our ailments is languid, and the very best is sunshine. Therefore it is very plain that poor sleepers should pass as many hours in the sunshine and as few in the shade as possible. Many women are martyrs, yet they do not know it. They shut the sunshine out of their houses and hearts, they wear veils, they carry parasols, and they do all possible to keep off the subtle and yet most potent influence which is to give them strength and beauty and cheerfulness. Is it not time to change all this, and get color and roses in our pale cheeks, strength in our backs and courage into our timid souls? The women of America are pale and delicate; they may be blooming and strong, and the sunlight will be a potent influence in their transformation. Will they not try it a year or two, and oblige thousands of admirers?

SHOWING HIS YOUNG WIFE.—Col. Fred seems very proud of his treasure, and does some of the most absurd things oc-asionally. Passing a bank the other day in company with his consort, he turned suddenly around, rushed his bewildered better half into the dingy darkness of the rooms devoted to Mason, and forthwith introduced her in the proudest manner to a couple of his banker friends, then washed out again, and meeting with a sportsman who had frequently accompanied parties of young men with dogs, &c., on their hunting expeditions, called him up to be introduced to this wonderful little woman on his arm.

An exchange has an acquaintance who remarks that he has often heard the proverb, "a friend in need is a friend indeed," but he says he can't see where the laugh comes in. He has a friend in need who is always borrowing money from him.

BUTLER AND THE PRESS.—The Chicago Times, discussing the defeat of "The Valorous Bull, Butler," says: "There has come, of late, a habit of sneering at the press; there is prevalent among many a belief that it has lost its influence—if, indeed, it ever possessed anything worthy of that name. Among those who, more than all others, adopted and arched by this conviction, was Butler. He not merely sneered at the press, but he defied it. He took every possible opportunity to decri its influence, to belittle its value, and to assure the world that he was above its opposition. The result of both his military and his political career has demonstrated how mistaken he has been in his estimates. As a military leader, he was so ridiculed, criticized, and condemned by the newspapers that, to-day, were there a call for volunteers, and were he to offer his services, he could not secure the position of fourth corporal. As to his political career, it is ended for the present and ended eternally unless he shall learn wisdom from his last disaster.

"It would be useless to argue at any great length that Butler owes his defeat to any other agency than the press against which he has so often hurled defiance. Without an exposure of him by the press his short-comings would never have been known to an extent sufficient to secure the reaction that has resulted in his downfall."

TAKING COLD.—One way is to "bundle up" in furs, or mufflers, tight about the neck; take a brisk walk, go into a warm room—church, lecture-room, or concert—sit with your things all on, get warm, perspire freely, breathe vitiated air for an hour or two, and when thoroughly relaxed, the pores of the skin all open, go out into the cold, damp air, and you will soon begin to shiver. After having a chill, send for the doctor, and he will dose you with something hot; then go to bed; then, if left alone long enough, you may get up in a day or two, and in a fortnight or so you may repeat the imprudence. We don't believe in furs, close, unventilated, overheated rooms, nor in stupid carelessness generally.

There are several other ways to take cold. We mention but one, that is "over-eat." Stuff the stomach with improper food, more than it can digest, and you will soon find yourself "all clogged up" with a cold. You will cough or sneeze, blow your nose, and wonder how in the world you took such a cold.—Science of Health.

Successful American Girl.

[Lucy Hopper in Philadelphia Press.] PARIS, Nov. 6.—Does any of our opera goers remember Miss Elise Hensler, who made her appearance on our operatic boards some years ago, and who, after a brief season of success, sailed for Europe and returned no more? She is now, under the title of the Countess d'Edla, the wife of Don Ferdinand, ex-King of Portugal. I remember seeing her on the occasion of her debut in New York, when she personated, if I remember rightly, Donna Elvira, in "Don Giovanni." She was a tall and handsome young girl then, with most beautiful dark blue eyes and a certain womanly grace of demeanor which was very attractive. She is said to fill her new position in society most admirably, and to grace it by reason of her charms and her talents. Turn to the "Almanach de Gotha," that chronicle of royalty, and there will her name be found, inscribed side by side with those of true royal blood, which is a tolerably long step in the social scale for an American actress to achieve. Lately, when passing through Paris, she and her royal spouse went to pay a visit to the Baron de S—, who possesses a superb collection of antique gems, medals, &c., and who is a personal friend of King Ferdinand's. While there, the lady expressed her admiration of an exquisite antique camore which, mounted as a scarf pin, occupied a conspicuous position in one of the cases devoted to the collection. "If the King will permit me, Madame," said the Baron, "I shall only be too happy to offer it for your acceptance as a souvenir of this visit." Permission was graciously accorded, and the pin was placed in the lady's hands. With her sweetest smile she unclasped the brooch of fine pearls which fastened her shawl, threw it out of the open window, and replaced it by the Baron's gift. Was there ever a more graceful, if costly, compliment paid to the giver of a present.

A child was born near Enola, Alabama, on the 28th ult., which had two distinct heads and necks of natural size. Both heads had perfectly developed ears, noses, mouths and other features. It was found necessary to sacrifice the child in order to save the life of the mother.

SOMETHING FOR THE BIG FOLK.—The other day the minister came through the meadow. Of course his wife was with him, for they take a walk together every day. Nearly always, as I have already told the children, they sit down to rest on the big stump at the left, and then he generally reads her something. This time he took out a little scrap of printed paper, and after putting on his glasses, said:

"Here's an extract from a letter, Sarah, that I thought would please you. It was written by Dr. Chaunting in his old age to a dear friend in England—and, do you know, it quite reconciles me to growing old!"

"Read it, dear," said Mrs. Sarah. And he read: "I rejoice with you in your improved health and spirits. Both of us, I suppose, are doomed to find the body more or less a burden to the end of our journey. But I repine not at the doom. What remains to me of strength becomes more precious for what is lost. I have lost one ear, but was never so alive to sweet sounds as now. My sight is so far impaired that the brightness in which nature was revealed to me in my youth is dimmed, but I never looked on nature with such pure joy as now. My limbs soon tire, but I never felt it such a privilege to move about in the open air, under the sky, in sight of the infinity of creation, as at this moment. I almost think that my simple food, eaten by rule, was never relished so well. I am grateful, then, for my earthly tabernacle, though it does creak and shake a little. The habit which I have of looking at what is interesting and great in human nature has a small influence in brightening my life."

The sun was setting as the minister put up the paper; so, nodding cheerily to his wife, he proposed that they should "move on."—St. Nicholas for November.

WHY EARS SHOULD NOT BE BOXED.—The passage of the ear is closed by a thin membrane, especially adapted to be influenced by every influence of the air, and with nothing but the air to support it internally. If any one desired to break or stretch the membrane he could scarcely devise more efficient means than to bring the hand suddenly and forcibly down upon the passage of the ear, thus driving the air violently before it, with no possibility of its escape but by the membrane giving way. There are better ways of punishment—and a better place.

A GOOD THING TO DO.—In a country town in New Hampshire the most prominent man signed this pledge:

"We, the undersigned, believing that our free institutions are in danger from corruption and bribery in politics, hereby pledge ourselves that we will not knowingly vote for any person for office, who directly or indirectly uses money or spirituous liquors to procure his nomination or election."

ACCIDENT AT BLAKELY.—John Wallace, a young laboring man at the Port Blakely mill, was severely injured, on Tuesday, by a saw log rolling upon him. He was brought to Dr. Weed's Hospital, where he now lies in a critical condition.

The Captain of the French ship Jean Pierre, now lying at Port Blakely, ready to sail, was arrested this (Wednesday) morning, by Deputy Marshal Wyckoff, on a charge of defrauding the U. S. revenues by importing and selling wines and liquors without paying the duties thereon. His trial was postponed until to-morrow.

Mr. Charles H. Newell, the last editor of the Portland Herald, has been appointed to a clerkship in the Patent Office at Washington, at the request of Senator Mitchell. Samuel Artell, formerly Democratic member of Congress from California, has been appointed Governor of Utah, by the President. A consistent party record is no recommendation for a Federal appointment at the present time.

THE CARNIVAL.—The skating carnival on Tuesday evening was well attended by skaters and spectators, and was a very nice affair. The prizes—a portmonee and a cigar case—were won by little Carrie Lyon, a Fairly, and Jas. Davis, as a Chinaman.

The following are the names and costumes of some of the skaters: Miss Josie Livingstone, Skatist; Miss Shepard, Old Woman; Miss Page, Biddy; Miss Crossen, Fancy Skatist; Miss Jamieson, Red Riding Hood; Miss Kenworthy, Night; W. G. Jamieson, Dunderberg; H. W. Rowland, Page; M. A. Kelly, Ballet Girl; J. D. Leake, Nigger; W. Kenworthy, Drum Major; Dr. Grasse, Old Man; B. Brown, Jr., Dutch Emigrant; E. H. Brown, Spanish Cavalier; Dave Mitchell, Peanut Seller; H. Lowe, Nigger; J. L. Jamieson, Colonel of 69th Regiment. We were unable to procure the names of the others.

STEAMBOATING.—Mr. P. D. Moore, the new mail contractor, will enter upon his contract on Monday next, with the steamers Favorite and Zephyr, the former of which he will travel on as passenger.

Capt. Starr has had the Eliza Anderson thoroughly repaired and refitted for the same route.

Capt. Starr assures us that he has no intention of hauling off the North Pacific, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

The probabilities are, that after the first of January travelling on the Sound will be cheaper than staying at home.

CHRISTMAS WEATHER.—It would be a great surprise to any denizen of the old Northern and Western States, to witness such a Christmas day as we have just had on Puget Sound. Up to this time no snow has fallen, but upon the mountains, the thermometer ranged from 40 to 50, the air was as clear and the sun shone as brightly as in summer, flowers were in full bloom in the gardens, and the fields as green as in May. What a contrast this is to the weather in the same latitude east of the Rocky Mountains.

MINES.—A new strike has been made in the California mine, at Virginia City, Nevada, which Sharon computes to be worth three hundred millions of dollars. This is only one of a dozen mines in the same vicinity of nearly equal value. Those mines, when first discovered by Comstock, in 1860, did not prospect as well as the mines of the Seattle Gold and Silver Mining Company, on the Skykomish. Since that time shares in the Comstock lode have been sold at the rate of $30,000 a foot. The Seattle company are now offering a limited number of shares at the rate of less than $7 a foot, on an estimate of $100,000 for 15,500 feet. If this mine should turn out as well as the Virginia City mines—say $300,000,000 a share costing $10 now, would, without further risk or assessment, be worth $300,000. Without regard to the amount which the organizers of the company make if the mines prove valuable, we would much rather invest money in these unassessable shares, in a mine already discovered, than in prospecting. The chances are much better.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—The following is the programme for the week of prayer, January 3 to 10, 1875: Sunday, January 3.—Sermons, "Christ, the one Prophet, Priest and King." Monday—Thanksgiving and confession. Tuesday—National objects of prayer: those in authority, soldiers and sailors, the rich and the poor, prisoners, the afflicted and the oppressed. Wednesday—Home objects for prayer: children, tutors and guardians, colleges, the Christian ministry and Sunday schools. Thursday—Foreign objects for prayer: extension of religious liberty throughout the world, prevalence of peace, increase of harmony among Christians, subordination of all to the spread of Christ's kingdom. Friday—Missionary objects for prayer, conversion of the Jews, spread of the gospel in heathen lands. Saturday—Prayer for religious revival. Sunday—Sermons. "The essential unity of Christ's Church and the obligation binding on all its members to manifest in the bond of peace."

An excellent supper will be provided by Mr. John Collins of the Occidental Hotel, for those taking a part in the ball on New Year's eve, at 75 cts. a person.

MASONIC.—At the annual election of officers of St. John's Lodge No. 5, F. and A. M., held at the Lodge room in Seattle Dec. 26, 1874, the following were elected: Charles McDonald, W. M.; G. N. McCosha, S. W.; Z. C. Miles, J. W.; E. G. Farnham, Treasurer; D. T. Wheeler, Secretary.

All the lacetal fluid produced by the bovine females on Black, White, and Dawamish rivers, has been engaged for this week, to be converted into Oyster Stew, at the Race Track. Piper attends to the inner man.

SING VEREIN GERMANIA. The ladies and gentlemen intending to participate at the Ball of the Germania, are requested to appear at the Pavilion on Wednesday at 2 o'clock p. m. to rehearse the Lancers and Waltz Quadrille. A competent teacher will be in attendance to give instruction, free of charge.

GOOD FOR OLYMPIA.—The telegraph to-day brings the good news that the Postmaster General has changed the point of departure for the mail service on the Sound, from Tacoma to Olympia. Another loud and united demand by the people, will procure for us a daily mail.

A. O. F.—At a regular meeting of Court Washington, No. 5,885, Ancient Order of Foresters, the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: D. T. Wheeler, Chief Ranger; John S. Anderson, Sub-Chief Ranger; J. R. Robbins, Treasurer; R. M. Rylatt, Secretary; J. C. Grasse, Senior Woodward; Robert Flynn, Junior Woodward; C. Maidment, Senior Beadle; Wm. Melvin, Junior Beadle.

The New Age, an organ of Odd Fellowship, in San Francisco, says: We understand that a Court of Foresters is about to be organized in this city, under the name of Court Robin Hood, No. 5,941. This ancient Order is extraordinarily popular in England and all the British dependencies. It is expected the institution of Court Robin Hood will take place on Tuesday evening next, at Excelsior (A. P. A.) Hall, on Mission, near Third street, there being already about fifty applications for membership, many of them being members of long standing in other countries. From the character of the men who have the matter in hand, we are assured it is destined to take a leading position among the benevolent Orders in this State. Its chief peculiarity being that it not only provides a system of benefits general among benevolent organizations, but also supplies medical attendance and medicines gratuitously to its members when sick.

Telegraphic

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—King Kalakala this afternoon held an informal reception, at which many former residents of his kingdom and many prominent citizens presented. In the evening he attended Booth's Theatre.

JEFFERSON, Dec. 25.—Two brothers, Bill and Ned Beck, noted rowdy's, while on a spree last night entered John Ransport's saloon to raise a disturbance. They became so boisterous that Ransport ordered them out of his house. They declined to go and Bill struck his forehead badly. Ned advanced with a knife, saying he believed he would kill Ransport, and commenced cutting him, inflicting ghastly wounds on the forehead, face and body, none of which, however, are likely to prove fatal. They were both arrested.

PARIS, Dec. 25.—Garibaldi has written a letter in reply to the statements contained in the recent report of the investigation committee of the French Assembly, on the army of East. Garibaldi blames Gen. Bourbaki, for communicating with him, and he asserts that he opposed Mantouffel to the last extremity. In the same letter he makes a bitter attack on the French priesthood.

SAN JOSE, Cal. Dec. 25.—A shooting affray occurred here about four o'clock this afternoon. Floyd, keeper of the Alameda Saloon, became engaged in a quarrel with a man who refused payment of the money claimed to be due him. Floyd finally drew a pistol and shot the man, the ball striking him in the back of the head and glancing from the skull, causing only a slight wound. The ball struck a building about two feet from a gentleman and his wife, who were passing.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 25.—There was a fight between Dan. C. Byerly, manager of the Bulletin, and ex-Governor Warmoth, on Canal St. Byerly knocked Warmoth down with a stick, and jumped on him. WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—In responding to Luttrell's request in behalf of the Round Valley settlers, the Commissioner General of the Land office says the Department's permission for them to remain until they have paid the assessed value of their property, will be held to include the right of cutting timber from public lands for fuel and necessary repairs.

NEW YORK, Dec. 26.—The following dispatch from Governor McEnery published here this morning: New Orleans, Dec. 25.—The wrong just perpetrated by the returning board against the people of Louisiana, which virtually threatens the integrity and safety of Republican institutions in the U. S., is a more crowning infamy than the action of the Lynch returning board; it surpasses even the midnight order of Durrell, and would not be submitted to by any free people. Resistance to the National authority, represented here by a large portion of the army and naval fleet, sustaining the usurpation and stifling the voice of the people, has never been meditated.

(Signed) JOHN MCENERY.
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 26.—A few weeks since Wm. Blake, a member of the California Board of Brokers, disposed of stock held in trust, borrowed what he could, and left town. Among his creditors were several members of the board, who at a meeting authorized the expenditure of $1,000 for his apprehension and conviction. It seems Blake went from here to Kalama, W. T., en route for British Columbia. In seeking to exchange gold notes for coin, at that place, the suspicious of the authorities, already apprised of the defalcation by telegraph, were aroused, and he was arrested. A detective has been dispatched to Kalama to take charge of him.

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 27.—A horrible and atrocious murder was perpetrated in this city last night. Catherine Hannon, a widow, a midwife by profession, was found dead in the gutter, at 7 o'clock, just outside a low grocery known as the Franklin House. The inquest is not concluded, but no doubt the woman was murdered during or after an attempt at rape, by John Hantz, proprietor of the house, a man sixty years old. Hantz has the reputation of being peaceful, but is a notorious profligate. He is in custody with the members of his family. His clothing and underwear was found stained with fresh blood, and the floor of the barroom exhibited traces of blood. Mrs. Hannon's body was mutilated in a frightful manner, and bore evidence of strangulation. She has a family highly respected. The murder caused intense excitement.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The following postal changes have been ordered: Postmasters appointed: Charles W. Stanley, Nooksack, Whatcom Co., W. T.; C. Crosby, jr., Skookum Chuck, W. T.
Four hundred men and women were yesterday discharged from the engraving bureau of the Treasury, in consequence of a large part of the work of the bureau having been transferred to New York.
NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—King Kalakala denies that he has raised the reciprocity question with Gen. Grant or the cabinet, preferring to leave the matter entirely to his diplomatic agents.
Gettys Smith died about 12 30 to-day at the residence of General John Cochrane.
The return of Wm. M. Tweed's record of certiorari, consisting of a record of the bill of exceptions and all the proceedings on the habeas corpus, settled to-day by Judge Barrett in the Oyer and Terminer Court. It now only remains to be signed by the Clerk to be laid before the Supreme Court in the general term on the 21st inst.

BOSTON, Dec. 28.—Some time between Saturday night and Monday morning, at the jewelry store of Geo. W. Dearing & Co., on Washington street, was robbed of gold watches, diamonds, and other articles of the value of upward of $12,000. Two safes were broken open and the most valuable contents carefully selected, and the remainder strewn about the place.
CINCINNATI, Dec. 28.—A fire at Batesville, Ind., yesterday destroyed the furniture factory of H. Schrader & Co. Loss estimated at over $100,000. Several adjacent dwellings destroyed also; loss, $25,000. No insurance on the factory. About $5,000 insurance on the dwellings. Nearly all the people in the town depended on the factory for a living, and its destruction causes great suffering.

WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 28.—Two brick blocks and a small wooden building, on Main St., south of Bridge, were burned on Sunday. Loss, $45,000; mostly insured.
NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Two females, whose names and addresses the police authorities decline to disclose, made affidavits to-day implicating a prominent physician of this city in the murder of his illegitimate child. The Doctor is now confined at police quarters, but the detectives decline, as they say, under instructions, to give his name. One of the women is supposed to be the mother of the murdered child.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 21.—At Lamar, Barton Co., Mo., night before last, an unknown man rode up to the county jail, and through one of the windows shot and killed Hyronomus, the murderer of Cole Norris, fatally wounded his accomplice, Dixon, and then escaped.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—The Commissioner of Indian affairs to-day received an urgent request from Red Cloud for permission to come on here with a delegation of 40 Sioux chiefs, to settle the trouble on the Black Hills reservation and hunting on Platte River, etc. The Commissioner declined to grant the petition on the ground that there were no funds with which to pay the chiefs' expenses.
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 28.—The inquest over Byerly, killed by ex-Governor Warmoth, will be held to-morrow. At the post-mortem to-day, six wounds were found, one only being superficial. Two of the remaining wounds would have caused speedy death. Three would have caused death in two or three weeks.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The testimony before the Pacific Mail investigation committee yesterday, given by Harriet, one of Stockwell's brokers, showed an entry on the books, by order of Stockwell, of a transaction in Pacific Mail, to the account of Noah Brooks, formerly of California and now of the New York Times, during which Brooks was credited with a profit of over $5,000. The committee are evidently seeking information to sustain the Oyer that parties employed to lobby for the Pacific Mail subsidy were remunerated under cover of stock speculations conducted for their benefit at the risk of P. M. Co.
Brooks flatly denies having had any transactions with Stockwell.

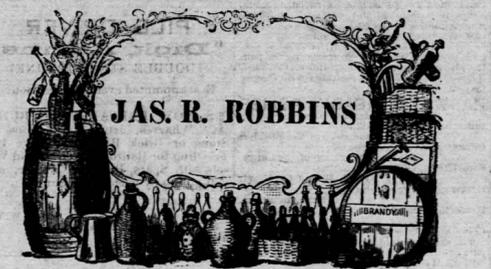

CHICAGO, Dec. 29.—Lt. Gen. Sheridan, with Gen. Ruckler, Col. M. Sheridan, and Major J. Forsyth, of his staff, left here last night for New Orleans. A Washington special says: "The instructions to General Sheridan, it is understood to direct him to acquaint himself with the actual condition of affairs in Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Texas, and to make Louisiana his present point. On arriving at New Orleans he is to confer with Major Merrill upon the actual condition of affairs outside the city of New Orleans. Major Merrill is the officer who arrested the perpetrators of the Conshatta massacre, has a high reputation for energy, courage and fidelity among the military men here. An officer of the Government, a military man of high standing, says: Merrill thus far has been the only military man in the South able to appreciate the situation. The nature of Gen. Sheridan's mission is similar to that of Gen. Grant in 1866, with the exception that Grant was designated to discover why there is not prosperity in the South, while Sheridan is to learn why there is not peace."

LONDON, Dec. 29.—The Mark Lane Express says: The wheat crop is above the average. We shall enter 1875 under prosperous auspices, having had a splendid seed time. Continental market quiet and unchanged.
Madeira specials give additional particulars of the burning of the emigrant ship St. Patrick. The fire broke out at midnight, Nov. 17., and within half an hour enveloped the vessel nearly entirely. A scene of the wild-act confusion ensued, but all the boats succeeded in getting away. Two, which contained 30 persons, remained alongside the ship till Nov. 19th, when the hull was completely burnt and the vessel sunk. The two boats started for land and kept together 2 days, when the gale separated them. One of them has not since been heard of. The other was fallen in with by the British ship Sceptre. It at that time contained 5 persons, two of whom died before the Sceptre reached St. Helena.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—It appears that on the 21st of November, the President authorized the distribution of clothes and other supplies to those rendered destitute by grasshopper ravages in Kansas and Nebraska, trusting to Congress for future approval. There is no doubt that Senator Hitchcock's bill for the relief of persons suffering from the ravages of grasshoppers will become a law.
