Latest News.

Chicago, March 23.—The bill to quiet land titles in the State of California was introduced in the Senate on the 19th by Conness, read twice and referred to the committee on Public Lands. The bill has been in part but not wholly approved by the General Land Office and Conness hopes to secure its passage without material amendment. It enacts that the claim and location and sales of lands made by the State of California prior to the passage of this act under the several acts of the Legislature, of the five hundred thousand acres of land granted by Congress for the purpose of internal improvements, and of the 16th and 36th sections of land granted in lieu thereof, donated for the purpose of education, and of the lands denominated swamp and overflowed lands, granted for the erection of public buildings, and of lands granted for Seminary purposes are hereby confirmed; Provided, that when any person shall have settled upon any legal subdivisions of such lands not exceeding 160 acres, and becomes entitled to a pre-emption the same shall be subject to the laws of the United States for the sale of public lands, and provides further, that locations shall conform to the surveys of the United States.

Providence, March 20.—Gen. Burnside was to-day nominated by acclamation by the Union State Convention for Governor.

Washington, March 20.—The bill for the annual inspection of Indian affairs, which passed the Senate yesterday, gives the Indians legal protection by conferring upon Indian agents the powers of a Magistrate, and makes the Indians competent witnesses before them and in the U. S. courts. Heretofore the agent has had power to appoint traders and could thus force the Indians to trade with whom he pleased. By this bill any one of good character can trade by giving bonds.

Washington, March 21.—In the House, Price of Iowa, on the committee on the Pacific Railroad reported a bill to secure the speedy construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad.

The House Committee voted six to three that James D. Brooks is not entitled to a seat in Congress, and that Dodge is. It has been anticipated for some time that Brooks would be ousted on the ground of fraudulent votes. A call is issued by the National Union Committee of which Alexander Randall, 1st Assistant Postmaster General is President, for a grand mass meeting to be held at Washington next week to endorse President Johnson.

Colonel Roland on behalf of the Northern Pacific Railroad, notified the government two days ago that the company was prepared and about to construct the line. Subscriptions will soon be opened throughout the country and a strong effort made to push the work vigorously.

New York, March 22.—The London press generally speak approvingly of the President's 22d of February speech.

New York, Mch 20.—Many goods have been sold for currency at less than cost in gold. Several failures are reported in provision trade at Buffalo. The commerce of this port is flourishing. Steamers for Southern ports go full of freight and passengers.

It is hardly possible to imagine the extent to which small-pox prevails in the South. No care to prevent its spreading in medical treatment is paid.

Washington, March 21.—No further action has been taken on the proposition that the Government should establish telegraph lines along post routes. The Postmaster General has answered the resolution of inquiry adopted by the Senate.

Chicago, Mch 23.—The Mexican loan project will probably be favorably reported and pass the House. These bonds to amount of fifty millions have been paid. Five millions have been sold to a combination that will pay fabulous sums in lobbying, and it is proposed to secure the sanction of the government to equip several thousand men ostensibly for the service of Juarez. These expenses paid leaves 25 millions, 3 millions will then be divided among the movers of this struggle. It is the biggest lobbying job of late years.

Gen. Sheridan has gone to the Rio Grande.

Counterfeiting Government Coupons has been carried to such an extent that the Treasury Department has decided to print vignettes of the proper size in all future issues of coupons, thereby rendering engraving as necessary to a counterfeit coupon as to a note or bond.

A letter from Silver City, Idaho, says:

Of all the silver ledges ever seen by man, the Poorman, no doubt, is the richest. It is useless to attempt to describe its value, as I think its richness is beyond the power of calculation. Four weeks working in this mine yielded the handsome sum of half a million of dollars, when litigation began, stopping the stupendous daily yield of this mammoth deposit of silver and gold. This ledge is our boast, and we challenge the mining world to compete with it. Layer after layer of great sheets of silver are found in it, resembling more a massive jelly cake; as jelly is to the bread, so silver is to this rock. Silver predominating over quartz, makes this essentially a silver ledge. Many stories have been published in connection with this ledge, but nothing yet has exaggerated its value. Should it keep up its lick for a year, we venture to say that we can build our side of the Pacific Railroad.

J. J. KNOWLTON & Co.—The Carson Appeal gives Knowlton & Co. of San Francisco a puff of over a column for superior qualifications as a bill in the newspaper advertising agency business. We know them too, but came out nearly even through the strategy of Nixon Senior, since which time we have given that firm a wide berth. They tell creditors to call and get their money at a certain hour, but like the New York mock auctions, their office is sure to be closed when bills are expected.—Yreka Journal.

PUGET SOUND
SEMI-WEEKLY.

SEATTLE, APRIL 5, 1866.

SALUTATORY.

In presenting our readers with the first number of our new paper, we do so with confidence, believing that we have embarked in an enterprise which will supply a want which has long been felt on the Sound. We believe that the public will support the SEMI-WEEKLY, and that the investment of our time and money shall not have been in vain; and it shall be our constant endeavor by laboring to develop the unsurpassed resources of the Territory and by the publishing of the current news of the day and useful information, to make our paper well worth the amount charged for subscription. In politics we shall pursue a straight forward and conscientious course, upholding such principles as shall appear to us to be correct, though at all times yielding that courteous respect due to the honest opinions of other men. Union in sentiment, we shall support the Union party in all correct principles and in no other.

The Pacific Tribune, from reliable authority, denies that the Receiver at Olympia ever took in payment, as has been alleged, any of the bonds that were supposed to have been lost, in the wreck of the Golden Rule. The story going the rounds that that vessel was run ashore and lost for the purpose of robbing the Government of those bonds, is doubtless, without foundation.

SEWING MACHINES.—Mr. B. Conkelman has received a supply of Grover & Baker's sewing machines, for the sale of which he is agent. Those wishing to purchase will do well to call at Mrs. Libby & Steele's store, where they may be seen.

A MAN named George Burdue was killed in a house of ill fame in Portland on the 18th ult. He had been living with a woman supposed to be his wife, but on his return to Portland after a protracted absence, she would have nothing to do with him, but had taken up her abode in the house of ill fame. He went to the house and was shot with a pistol by an unseen hand.

The town election on Monday resulted in the re-election of the present incumbents, with the exception of Mr. C. C. Terry, between whom and Mr. D. Horton there was a tie vote.

The Washington Republican, referring to the statements concerning Butler's discourteous note to Gen. Grant, says: "We feel justified and authorized to say that Gen. Butler's card did not contain the disgraceful words, 'or any other member of your family;' but he did send a card containing the following language: 'Gen. Butler has the honor to decline the invitation of Lieut. Gen. Grant. Gen. Butler has now no desire for further acquaintance.'"

RECONSTRUCTION.

The public journals throughout the country have taken sides on the question of Reconstruction, some endorsing the action of the President, others vehemently denouncing it. In his veto message, the President states his objections to the Freedmen's Bureau bill with great force and clearness, so that no one can fail to understand the ground assumed by him in the premises. He argues that there were many very grave objections to the bill; that it is unsafe to lodge such vast discretionary power, and so vast a patronage as the bill provides for, in the hands of the Executive, even though he is the choice of a great and intelligent people; that the establishing of a jurisdiction with power to proceed against and punish for crimes without allowing the accused the right of a trial by a jury of his peers, is clearly a violation of the Constitution of the United States, which is plain and explicit on the point; that the great expense to be incurred in carrying into effect the provisions of the bill, is another objection, at a time when the nation is involved in debt and when it would seem that rigid economy in expenditure is the true policy. We think that many, at least, of the President's objections are well taken. Discretionary power in the hands of any solitary individual is always to be dreaded by a free people and patronage is likewise formidable in the hands of a designing man. The right of trial by jury has ever been held by the American people as a most sacred right, and that any section of the United States would willingly submit to a deprivation of that right, would be an evidence that they were losing that jealous regard for their rights that becomes a free people. Equally open to objection is the provision in the bill for the taking of property without due process of law. The President also urges against the bill the fact that eleven States recently in rebellion, who were chiefly to be affected by the bill, were not represented in Congress at the time of its passage. He argues that States cannot secede, consequently, the Southern States never were out of the Union, and being in the Union, that they are entitled under the Constitution to be represented in Congress, and that every section upon which taxes are imposed ought to be represented. That the freedmen will be discriminated against by the Legislatures of the South, we do not doubt, but the bill would be productive of worse results to the country than the advantages it would confer on the freedmen, would repay.

The Standard man appears to be considerably excited about an item published in the P. Tribune charging somebody with mutilating certain efforts of the latter in the job line. Go in, lemons, we'll hollow for the upper dog.

A FREE SCHOOL.

Mr. Editor:—Seattle needs a Free School—one in which its one hundred children of above the school age, now running at large without instruction, save what they can learn in the "street school," can be thoroughly and systematically taught—the poor and rich man's son alike. Why cannot the University be made available to this end? The President and Board of Regents, I understand, favor it, and certainly every parent in Seattle should desire it. Then let our Board of City Fathers, the authorized custodians of our school interests contract with the University authorities, to admit every child of Seattle to all the advantages of the University, subject to the regulations of the same, free of charge, in consideration of our city Fathers paying over to the Treasury of the University the School Fund and the license fees, belonging to this district, and such additional sum raised by tax upon the property of the district as may be necessary to render the University—so far as Seattle is concerned—a free school. By such a course on the part of our city authorities, our school interests will be best promoted, and likewise incidentally every other real interest of the town; for it is apparent without further remark, that no measure could be devised, so well calculated to promote the permanent growth of Seattle by the accession of families and men of industry and intelligence—thereby adding to the value of real estate, and the increase of business in every department. Let, then, the City Fathers act, and act now, in this matter. When three of the Board are likewise Regents of the University and one Treasurer, surely the opportunity never was better for accomplishing an object of such general public utility; and will not these Regents be recreant to their duties to the University if they allow the opportunity to slip through their fingers unimproved—especially when the carrying out of the plan suggested would so evidently promote both the interests of the University and of the town. They may rest assured that in so doing they will be sustained by every parent and true friend of the town.

A TAX PAYER.

The citizens of Seattle are respectfully invited to send their younger children to the University the ensuing quarter commencing on Monday, the 9th of April, as special arrangements will be made for their accommodation by the establishing of a Primary Department. In order to render the school accessible to all the children of Seattle, the tuition for those under twelve years of age will be reduced to $4 00 per quarter. All are invited to attend, those even, if any, who may not be able to pay any tuition.

W. E. BARNARD,
President of University.
Seattle, March 29, 1866. 1-tf

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We are informed that Mr. B. F. Ruth met with a serious accident yesterday, being kicked by a horse, breaking one of his legs below the knees, in two places. Mr Ruth was plowing on his farm at the time, about sixteen miles from this place; he was some distance from his house, and had to crawl to it in his crippled condition.—P. Tribune.

The Richmond Whig estimates that as many as 50,000 young men from the Southern States have settled themselves in New York city to secure their fortunes. Many have gone to Baltimore, and we presume that there is scarcely a Northern city of any magnitude that does not number such representatives of the South.

The rumors, yesterday, of a combination between the rival steamer lines plying on the Willamette prove to be correct. The jolly days of cheap riding are gone. Everybody and his wife will now become domestic in their habits.—Oregonian.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY.

SEATTLE, APRIL 5, 1866.

SNOQUALMIE ROAD.—The survey of the road from Seattle to the Snoqualmie Pass has been completed and the route is a good one. The importance of an early completion of this road cannot be over-estimated; for with this road open through the Snoqualmie Pass, its practicability for a railroad once understood, and the route of the Northern Pacific Railroad is practically settled.

OREGON HERALD.—We have received several numbers of the Oregon Herald, a new daily and weekly newspaper published at Portland. The mechanical execution of the paper, is excellent. It is democratic, in sentiment, and claims to be established on a permanent basis.

The dispensations of Providence as regards the weather, it strikes us, have been decidedly unfavorable for the past week or two.

We have received the 1st number of "The Miner," a monthly magazine published at San Francisco. It is the organ of the Mining Bureau Association.

A Branch of "The Freedmen's Aid and Union Commission" has been organized at San Francisco.—O. C. Wheeler is its general agent.

Our thanks are due to A. S. Pinkham of the Niagara Variety Store for favors.

We have received the 13th annual report of the Mercantile Library Association of San Francisco.

"The Free American" is the name of a new paper recently started at San Francisco. It is "considerably" Radical in sentiment.

THANKS to Capt. M. J. Vidette for files of San Francisco papers. We duly appreciate the Captain's kindness and at any time be glad to reciprocate.

We are under obligations to the Captain of the steamer Libby for courtesies rendered this office. The Libby is plying between Port Townsend and Olympia, and we commend her to the traveling public.

Hon. A. A. PENNY will accept our thanks for valuable Congressional documents.

Administrator's Notice.

THE UNDERSIGNED, having been appointed administrator of the estate of Norman B. Judkins, deceased, late of King County, Washington Territory, notice is hereby given to all persons holding claims against said estate to present them to me as provided by law within one year from this date at Seattle in said county.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment.

H. J. STEVENSON, Administrator.
