VOL. II. SPOKANE FALLS, SPOKANE COUNTY, W. T., SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1885. NO. 41

CROWDED N FRONT!

Crowded in Rear!
Crowded on Sides!
Crowded Up Stairs!
WITH ALL KINDS OF
GENERAL MERCHANDISE!
And crowded to Build our Brick Store.

Consequently we must—
CROWD OUR GOODS OUT!
As we have concluded to build a BRICK this spring on the same premises which our business is now conducted; therefore we must dispose of all our goods on hand, as we don't propose to move our present stock into our new brick. We have carefully weighed this subject; MONEY IS SCARCE. We thoroughly understand the situation. DO YOU PURCHASE FOR CASH? To any person that is prepared to pay cash for their goods we want to add a few words. Do you want to buy Clothing, Dry Goods, Groceries, Boots and Shoes, at less price than you will pay to any other merchant in the Territory, or do you prefer to pay the old prices that you have paid for years? Consider the fact that we want to realize, and offer you goods you need at less than they cost other merchants. This is a business proposition; we require the money and will give you in exchange 50 PER CENT. MORE than its value in goods. It is very easy for you to find out whether this statement is true or not. Hundreds of people are proving it every day, and are amazed at what they see. We have resorted to the dividing line between hard times and low prices. Three months from now you need not cry to get the same prices, as it is to suppose that any house can keep on paying ten dollars for an article and selling it for nine. We mean exactly what we say: We build up our business by MARKING DOWN PRICES.

Spokane County Medical Society.

An adjourned meeting of the Spokane county medical society was held yesterday at the office of Dr. A. S. Campbell, on Howard street, Dr. G. S. Allison, president, in the chair. Present—Drs. Libby, Westfall, Penfield, Gandy, Whitehouse and Campbell, of this city, Drs. Eakin, of Rockford, Pomeroy of Cheney, Waterhouse of Deep Creek Falls. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Report of committee on constitution and by-laws and fee bill received and adopted. Drs. Campbell and Pomeroy were appointed a committee on printing. A dental section being added to the society, Dr. E. Pittwood was, on presentation of necessary credentials, admitted to membership. The president, Dr. Allison, was chosen to prepare a paper for next regular meeting. Letters read from physicians at a distance expressive of their co-operation and inability to be present. The society adjourned to meet at the same place at their next regular meeting, on the fourth Thursday in March. Following is a list of the members of the society to date:
Dr. G. S. Allison, president.
J. W. Johnson, vice-president.
A. S. Campbell, secretary.
J. E. Gandy, treasurer.
Eakin, 1st censor.
Pomeroy, 2nd censor.
Penfield.
Westfall.
Waterhouse.
Callaway.
Whitehouse.
Pittwood, (dental section).
A. S. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

At Work.

All hours of the day men can be seen scuttling around the corner of the First National bank building apparently bent upon important business. That locality has an attraction that draws well. It is in the shape of an office which is used by the company contracting to deliver supplies to the Canadian Pacific, as their headquarters. There is an air of business about the premises. The manager, Harry McCartney, is crammed in behind a stand so small that his knees protrude beyond the counter, but the space is covered with manuscript and correspondence, and he looks perfectly contented. Business is business in that establishment, and while all callers are received courteously, it is no place to loaf. Men are constantly coming and going, and their movements mean something. From this place orders are issued over the entire route, supplies are contracted for and conveyances engaged. Mr. McCartney has the promise of a large number of teams from Spangle, Deep Creek and Cheney that are expected to be in to-morrow, and load up for a trip north Monday. During the past few days 50 or 60 tons of supplies have been forwarded, principally flour. For the next three months the contractors will have their hands full, and the business they stir up and the money they distribute will be greatly to the benefit of the entire community.

Entertainment.

All who attended the entertainment given under the auspices of the women's christian temperance union at the opera house last evening speak in flattering terms of the excellent character of the performance, and the general sociability that prevailed. As has been stated in these columns, the nature of the entertainment was common to local attractions of the kind where the programme is made up of music, vocal and instrumental, speaking and declaiming, readings, etc., participated in by home talent. The programme for last evening was selected with great care and good judgment, and every one taking part did exceedingly well. The attendance was quite large, and every one in the audience seemed to enjoy the various phases of the affair. The serious refreshments was not the least of the pleasant features. The ladies were accorded unlimited praise for the manner in which the concert was carried out.

Ready.

The new "Settlers' Guide to Homes in the Northwest," will be ready for delivery Monday. It is one of the most complete works on western Washington yet issued from the press, and altogether one of the largest jobs ever turned out by a printing office in this city. The book, altogether, makes over 100 pages. It contains a number of illustrations and is a neat piece of typographical work. It should go into every state where it will reach those who have a desire to move into a new country. The contents have been carefully compiled, as there is no desire to give an account of this section that the facts will not carry out. The work is a home production and should meet with a liberal sale in this city. It has been endorsed by the board of trade, which should increase its value as a means of scattering information of the city and country abroad.

—H. M. McCartney is advertising extensively throughout the eastern part of the territory for teams to haul freight to the Little Dalles.

Communicated.

Mr. Edron:—While every worthy cause or valuable improvement that has ever been inaugurated in the city of Spokane Falls has had in you an enthusiastic advocate, we naturally look to you to work up a sentiment in favor of a public fountain. It seems to me that such an improvement would be of more use to the community, for the amount of money that it would cost, than anything else that could be conceived of. There is no one in the whole country whose business calls them to Spokane but feels the need of a place to go for a drink for self and team. It is true there are drinking places where they keep beer that is and always has been from Milwaukee, and the scorching stuff is too nasty to mention, but it is an exceptional gentleman from the country that has become so dissipated as to indulge himself in the use of it. Hence it seems to me to be an absolute necessity that there should be some place where everyone has to call, at a mere nominal cost. Now, Mr. Review, you have my suggestion, and I think if you will buttonhole Mr. Waterworks, and bring your persuasive power to bear in behalf of my motion, he will not refuse to supply the demand for pure water.

Abstracts Made.

Yesterday afternoon D. M. Thompson returned from Cheney, where he has been hard at work for the past two weeks drawing up abstracts of title to the lands embraced in the water front and power of this city. We were permitted to look over some of the work, and can say that the abstracts are not only a fine sample of clerical work, but as far as we could see, very minute and accurate. It has required hard and steady labor to get the documents in shape, and reflects great credit on Mr. Thompson, who has few equals and no superiors in that class of work. The abstracts will be sent out to the parties concerned, and the power of the water front will be in the hands of the public. The extent of land embraced in the transfer is very large, extending from three blocks east of Howard street to a point a half-mile west, on both sides of the river, with the exception of the power now in use. The property is exceedingly valuable, and if one-twentieth part of it is put to immediate use, it will make Spokane Falls a great manufacturing center. The abstracts embrace property owned by Brown and Cannon, Brown, Cannon, Glover and Fairweather, Fred's Post, S. G. Havermale and E. S. Bond.

Survey Field Notes.

[Daget Sound Notes.]
The field notes of the public surveys in this territory, of every kind, that were destroyed when the surveyor general's office was burned in this city, September 12th, 1883, have been recopied from the records at Washington, and are now returned to the office here. They make sixty large volumes and cost an immense sum to prepare. Transcripts of the same can be obtained by applying to the surveyor general's office. It is one of the regulations of that department that copies of all papers, documents, maps and records shall be sent to Washington as soon as possible after being filed or prepared in the local offices throughout the states and territories, and by this means losses similar to the one here can be made good in the course of time. The fact above noted will be good news to hundreds throughout the territory.

Sunday Music.

The choir of the Episcopal church has been reorganized and improved to such an extent that that place of worship bids fair to draw large congregations for its really excellent music, if for nothing else. Several instruments have been added to the organ, and much attention is being given the song part of the service generally. The rector has announced that during lent, which begins next Wednesday, he will, in place of the ordinary sermons, deliver short addresses on the practical questions of the day. At the service to-morrow morning Mrs. John L. Wilson will sing a solo, and the full choir will be in attendance. All are invited.

Sneak Thief.

Saturday while Mrs. A. C. Edwards was away from home, some unknown party entered the rooms in Jameson's block, occupied by the family, and carried off a suit of boy's clothing and other light portable property. This is the first thieving that has occurred here for some time, and now that it has commenced we may have more of it. People would study their own interests by keeping valuables under lock and key.

Press Items.

From the frequency of old second-hand, frayed out expressions hung to locals last week in the Walla Walla Statesman, we had commenced fearing that our good friend Col. Parker had gone dull. It seems, however, that the colonel was away for several days and had no substituting his absence.

The last number of the Palouse city News comes to us flying the name of E. C. Warner, formerly of the Davenport Leader. The paper shows a great improvement, and as Mr. Warner understands how to get up a readable paper, he will make the News a popular sheet down there. We wish him every luck except political.

Adam Aulbach publishes the only paper now in the Coeur d'Alene mines, the Murray Sun, which is issued tri-weekly. He is making a first-class paper of it, and his pluck in staying with the camp though it is rewarded.

It is reported that a new paper is about to be started in Portland. It reminds us of an applicable saying just out, that expresses an admiration for pluck but blanks the discretion.

The Chehalis Bee is out in a new shape and new clothes. It is refreshing these hard times to learn of a newspaper man with sufficient means to invest in such improvements. The Bee is considerably improved by the change.

The following item has been going the ground rounds and has received a more extended notice than any clipping from the press of late years. It relates the experience of newspaper men so truthfully that it is worth repeating: In the following from a newspaper man with sufficient means to invest in such improvements. The Bee is considerably improved by the change.

Democratic News.

A correspondent of the Walla Walla Union gives the following particulars of the meeting of the democratic territorial committee at Walla Walla: An adjourned meeting of the democratic party officials was held here Thursday with closed doors. But "walls have ears" and I am able to report their most important proceedings. The meeting was attended by Hon. Jos. A. Kuhn, chairman of the committee; Geo. Fuller of Tacoma, Henry Miles of Lewis county, Alex. Montgomery of Seattle, Shumman of Franklin county, D. M. Jesse of Walla Walla, J. Y. Ostrander and J. E. Edmiston of Dayton, the latter with a proxy, and J. B. Reavis of Yakima. Several anxious seekers for office danced attendance on the outside, and whenever opportunity offered, buzzed the individual members of the committee as they came out for stimulants.

The committee endorsed and recommended Hon. James H. Slater for secretary of the interior, and Joe Kuhn for collector of customs at Port Townsend. Candidates for various other positions were discussed, and culled, but no definite individual conclusions were reached. It was the unanimous opinion, however, of all the old party chiefs, that they would treat such freshly converted democrats as Adams of the Signal, and Egbert and Reed of the Journal, as they do pieces of paper that have served their purpose. There are, they argued, too many old battle-scarred veterans and too few officials to think of giving converts fat places. While the veteran democrats were pleased to have the aid of the recruits, they proposed to appropriate the fruits of victory. While willing to profit by the acts of traitors, the grizzled, hungry and thirsty democratic warriors hold that promises made before a battle are of no binding force after a victory.

Season Over.

Wednesday was the beginning of lent, a date when it is generally considered that the festivities of winter cease, and while there may be a few parties and balls during the next few weeks, yet it is conceded that the gayeties of the winter season are over. In looking back over the past three months it must be admitted that Spokane Falls has been the scene of a larger amount of social enjoyment than any other city in the territory. The winter has been a long, tedious, tiresome one. We presume that the existing depression of trade has caused it to drag and seem much longer than former winters. Everybody seems glad to be about over, and look forward with a hope of brighter days with the coming summer. But to get back to the festivities. Hard times did not curtail pleasure. On the contrary, the tighter the depression the gayer people did, or tried to, appear. Probably more money has been paid out for amusement than any two winters put together, in the history of the place. Almost all the denational and denominational institutions of the city have given one, and in numerous instances several public entertainments, socials, parties, etc., for the purpose of raising funds, all of which have been largely attended and resulted in making money for the beneficiary. Balls given by clubs, orders, organizations and private individuals have been of weekly occurrence, while skating rink and other methods of amusement have been pushed forward. Looking at the vast number of opportunities presented to spend money, all of which have been accepted, it would appear that the cry of "hard times" was farcical. Even the poorest have indulged in the innocent amusements to some extent, and there is none that can find fault with that feature of the long season.

More Cheerful.

It is pleasant to hear business men report an improvement in their enterprises, and a growing tendency for better times. The monotony and tediousness of lack of business has been painful. The dullness has not been monopolized by one single branch of trade, but everybody has felt it more or less, generally speaking, more. Not only have sales been light, but the scarcity of hard coin has been unprecedented in the annals of the territory. We have every reason to think that the worst of the depression is over. Travel has commenced and many strange faces are to be seen on our streets daily. The hauling of freight and the purchase of supplies will put a large sum in circulation. The early spring will see the revival of the mining interests, the coming of men on the hunt for lands, and a general reaction that will create an activity in the midst of which men will forget the serious trials of the past. It is a promise that all are anxious to see fulfilled, and it can't come to pass too soon.

SCRAPINGS.

—Ehlo mill is running out flour at full capacity.
—Don Sheehy is off on a trip to San Francisco.
—Considerable wheat is finding its way to the market.
—The number of candidates for city offices continues to increase.
—That new book, "Settlers' Guide," is now ready for delivery.
—"Pacards" for rent and "for sale" can be prepared at this office.
—Born at Davenport, Jan. 25, to the wife of Wm. Crawford, a son.
—Several persons in from the Pend d'Oreille mines claim that they have the best prospects on the coast.
—Wood has been selling on the streets for $3 per cord. A man can now almost afford to keep warm.
—It is the general opinion that the back-bone of the city is shaky. Just the tail keeps up a dance of a wiggling.
—Married, at Davenport, on the 12th ult., Miss Kate Wright, of Davenport, and Mr. E. Kreeger, of Fort Spokane.
—Several parties have been trying the river for trout during the past few days but so far without success.
—All our lawyers are again at large in the city. The fact has caused no panic among the balance of the population.
—A. W. Oeolock arrived this morning from Cheney and Spokane Falls. He thinks that Spokane has much of a future. Walla Walla Journal.
—Transfers are still being made to convey loads to the Columbia river. The sleighing is said to be still good a short distance out of town.
—Teamsters are responding to the offer of 15 cents per pound for hauling freight to the Columbia river, and there is lots of it straggling along the road.
—Peter Deuber and wife and D. M. Drummond are passengers on the steamer Oregon, bound for home. We will get to see the gentlemen on our streets again.
—The sales at Chas. A. Webber's real estate office, on Riverside avenue, last evening consisted of one residence in the city, one improved farm together with eleven residences lots.
—We are informed that a small steam mill has been taken into the Chewach district and will be set up at once. The machinery left this city several days ago and its advent will give the camp a fresh boom.
—Now that the silver-bearing rock of Fort Spokane is looking up, our city takes its place in the very center of a mining country. It ought to result in making the Falls a lively place.
—A portion of many months' worth was sold that President Cleveland would retain Postmaster Heath in his position until the expiration of his term.
—Several business men report that the retail trade look on a much better shape last week, the sales showing promise of an improvement in the times. It is a step in the right direction.
—The liveliest stretch of road in the territory to-day is the highway between this city and the Columbia river. It is crowded with vehicles of all sizes and shapes moving in both directions.
—Some individual, without the fear of the law before his eyes, has been poisoning dogs by the wholesale about town. Several valuable animals have given up the ghost. There is trouble in store for the party should he be caught.
—Judge Still, of Cheney, is in the city. He leaves in a few days for the Columbia river, where he will spend the summer working a hydraulic on a bar in that river that carries gold in paying quantities. The claim prospect is very rich, and the chances are that the judge will clean up a big margin on the summer run.
—Louis Adams, formerly proprietor of the brewery down on Post street, but now an independent farmer of Stevens county, was last month at points west of Spokane Falls 300 immigrants, and January is the dulled month of the year. The Northern Pacific bureau of immigration have received since January first an average of 200 letters of inquiry per week, almost every one from persons who intend to go to Oregon or Washington before May 1st. It is not unlikely that the immigration in March and April will be heavier by far than any two other months on record.—Ez.
