What will we do with our surplus wheat?
From the Walla Walla Watchman.]
The never yet heard of news of a country regarding or going down by reason of a superabundance of wheat raised therein, but in the present price of it continues for another season, many of our farmers will farm themselves poor, and too much wheat. This is a strange assertion and a gloomy prophecy, but will only prove true, unless we depend less upon wheat and more upon mixed husbandry. (Grangers find it difficult to get 40 cents for their wheat, and if the coming harvest is again propitious from east to west, with no prospects to augment the price, and no hope of better shipping facilities, we fear wheat in this valley will hardly bring 30 cents a bushel next fall. True, it is rather early in the season to prognosticate about the coming harvest and the price of cereals a year hence, and some may well essay an ironical smile at our seeming aptitude to paint a picture so despondent in the very midst of plenty, but we judge the future by the past, and when speaking of wheat we were seldom deceived in our judgment. We have reason to believe that wheat will be lower next fall than it is at present. The only hope we have of getting ultimately a fair price for surplus produce, is a railroad direct to the sea, and that hope, with all its glowing prospects before us of being realized soon, is still only hope deferred, it behooves us to cast our eyes over our vast resources and study well how to utilize them. Mixed husbandry is our only resort. We must raise grain and then turn it, not into 30 and 40 cent wheat, but into lard, bacon and hams. If it will pay California and even Iowa farmers to raise hogs and send their product up the river at $30 per ton freight it will certainly pay us to raise it and send it down the river at reduced freight rates. A few years ago, our farmers went into the hog raising business with a will, but as their very first experiment in the new enterprise, the price of bacon came down with a crash, many felt discouraged at the start, killed off their swine and went into wheat raising. The result is, that instead of exporting, we to-day import almost all our bacon, hams and lard, and pay about eight bushels of wheat for one single Eastern ham. Gaze at the picture and ask yourself whether this mode of farming would not bankrupt the best agricultural regions beneath the starry heavens? Let us, therefore, raise whatsoever thrives and grows in this country, and not send out a ton of wheat and take in exchange a cent of hog meat, when we ought to receive gold for wheat and nothing less. As it is, we merely exchange produce for produce, and the result is our records are covered with mortgages, our court dockets replete with civil suits, and our merchants' books teem with unsettled and long-standing accounts. Look at the money, too, which daily glides out of this country for cheese and butter. Why not raise wheat hay, establish dairies as they have them in England and the Eastern States? Why must we buy California, English and even German made cheese, when we have the stock and the feed right at home? Why should we prefer to raise wheat and then almost give it away, sacks added, and buy from distant countries what we ought to raise at home and in abundance? Why do we import dried fruit, while our trees grow annually beneath their lucious burdens. Why are our store shelves ornamented with canned tomatoes, beans and corn, put up abroad, when during the summer months we leave the finest crop of all these vegetables go to waste? Why do we import pickles in the barrels when cucumbers are left on the ground to rot by the ton? Again we say, gaze at the picture and see how you like it! And in the face of all these reproachful facts, is it a wonder that with all our wealth in land and wheat, in houses and barns, silks and plows, and threshing machines, stock and fence rails, we are pushed for a little ready cash, and amid plenty find cause to complain of hard times? Wheat alone will not ameliorate our present financial depressed condition, especially at the present low price. We will and must utilize our resources to better advantage than we have done heretofore, and the sooner we learn how to do it the better for the country and our people. Cogitate over these things as during the winter months you sit by the fireside pondering over the wheat market. Create a market for it right at home; turn it into money, then keep it where it will do the most good, and the day will come when the cry of hard times, which now pierces our ears, will be heard among us no more.

East of the Cascades.
From the Oregonian.]
Last year the population of Eastern Washington was about equal. But we think the population of the latter will soon exceed that of the former section. The latter has more diversity and a greater amount of agricultural land. But the resources of either division are as yet scarcely touched. Lands in endless extent yet await occupation. Railroad building, which is being pushed rapidly in both directions, will give them prodigious development. Soon there will be a larger population in Oregon and Washington east of the Cascades than west of that range. Timber, the one great thing heretofore so much wanted, will soon be supplied from the Cascade mountains by rail. Lumber will be transported to all parts, for a distance of five hundred miles, or more. Thus the railroads will now soon overcome this great drawback to extension of settlement. Progress already witnessed in that section is nothing in comparison with what it will be five years hence. There are many people of Western Oregon and Washington who as yet scarcely realize the vast importance to which this eastern division is already attaining, and still less what the future will do for it. The time is not far distant when much the larger part of the products of the industry of the Pacific northwest will come from beyond the Cascade mountains, and when a populous and prosperous community there will contain within itself all the conditions which make a great and happy people. Wonderful changes are now in progress, and a few years more will effect changes more wonderful still. We shall see the vast region which we used to think a desert country the home of the larger part of our population and the seat of the greater share of our productive industry. Already the change is wonderful indeed from that time, not so very many years ago, when the Willamette valley was regarded as including pretty much all the Pacific northwest that was worth anybody's consideration.

Eight Things to Avoid.
A man trying to make himself somebody by speaking evil of his superiors.
A mad mule when it is suffering from hunger.
A man who sees no good in any of his neighbors.
A man who always smokes and never puts up the cigars.
A woman who tattles.
A man who always is on the borrow of money.
A fierce cat with a litter of kittens.
A man who is butter and honey to your face and vinegar and pepper behind your back.
And much whisky, for it ruins you.

Citizens' Meeting up at Spokan Bridge.
At a called meeting of the citizens of Spokan Bridge Precinct, Spokan county, W. T., irrespective of party, at Spokan Bridge, for the purpose of giving expression to the feelings of the voters and tax payers concerning the action of the late canvassing board in setting aside, in short, refusing to count, the vote of this precinct at the late election, the following resolutions were engrossed and unanimously adopted:
WHEREAS, At a canvassing board held at Spokan Falls on the 12th inst., for the purpose of counting the votes polled at the late election, which board consisted of the following named persons, to-wit: Hon. V. W. Van Wie County Commissioner, J. M. Nosler County Auditor, and Mr. Cranford, a Justice of the Peace for Spokan Falls precinct; the said board thought proper to refuse to count the vote of this precinct and several others polled at the late election; and
WHEREAS, Section 5 of the Election Law of 1877 particularly specifies that no tally papers, poll list or certificate, returned from any election shall be set aside or rejected for want of form or in account of its not being strictly in accordance with the directions of this Act, if the same can be satisfactorily understood; and
WHEREAS, We are informed by J. M. Nosler, County Auditor and a member of the canvassing board, that the vote of this precinct was rejected because the W. C. Jackson, did not subscribe to the oath of office, and for no other reason; and
WHEREAS, The returns from this precinct were fearfully plain, and could not be misunderstood; and
WHEREAS, We assert, without fear of successful contradiction, that the canvassing board was not sitting as a judicial body, but for the purpose of counting the votes as returned by the different polling precincts, without regard to whether the said returns were technically correct or not, or whether the inspector subscribed to his oath of office or not; now, therefore,
Be it resolved, That the sense of the voters and taxpayers of this precinct is, that the action of the majority of the said canvassing board in rejecting the vote of this precinct for what we term a frivolous pretext, was to say the least of it, arbitrary, illegal and unconstitutional, and merits the condemnation of all good citizens.
2d. That our worthy County Commissioner, the Hon. V. W. Van Wie, earned the sincere esteem of the good citizens of this county, and particularly of this precinct, for his action in refusing to vote for the disfranchisement of his fellow citizens, and we profess the good guardian of the people's interests, an honest, fearless man, and he is entitled to be well remembered by good citizens for all time.
3d. That we shall use all legal means to see that the whole vote of this County be counted.
4th. That we call upon our present Hon. Board of County Commissioners to see that no person gets a certificate of election on a short count—with the votes of several precincts thrown out,—and that no certificate of election be issued to any person unless such person has a majority of all the legal votes of the county cast at the late election.
5th. That we have unlimited confidence in our present Hon. Board of County Commissioners, and that we rest assured that they as the guardians of the people's rights will see that justice be done and a full count made before any certificate be issued.
6th. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Spokan Times, the Cheney Tribune, and to each of the County Commissioners.
J. L. BAYLEY,
Chairman.
R. A. HUTCHINSON,
Secretary.
Spokan Bridge, Nov. 18, 1880.

Society and Fashion.
The new felt skirts are very handsome.
Ribbons have become works of art.
The fashion in children's suits varies but little.
Solid dark colors prevail in the latest styles of dresses.
All dresses for little girls are now made high in the neck.
The fashion of wearing very large waists is returning in Paris.
The boots worn by little girls are higher than those of last season.
A modified "poke" is remarkably becoming to young, round faces.
Long pins of jet, shell or gold and tiny Japanese fans are worn in the hair.
Chonille surcote should be made for slight figures only, as that material always makes the figure larger.
Silk handkerchiefs should be washed with borax in tepid water with little or no soap, and ironed before becoming dry.
Small ornamental pockets made of autumn leaves are worn on day dresses, and are tasty and likely to meet with favor.
A good way for ladies to employ their old worn laces this winter will be on the large collars and fichus which will be worn.
Whole cloaks are now made of chenille, which, for this purpose, is very thick, and sometimes powdered with gold or steel.
The color of ferns can be preserved, and are told, by dipping them in strong brine colored with verdigris—in short, by pickling them before drying.
This is decidedly a bad year for fat women, for the draperies are so heavy and the tight dresses so close fitting, that there is nothing in which they look well.
So much money has been lost in furs during the four last exceptionally mild winters that there is not much effort to produce novelty in design in this direction.
The Russia cases for scent bottles come with glass tops this season, as they did last, and are generally lined with scarlet, although sometimes blue or gold is used.
Gentlemen's visiting cards are growing smaller, though always considerably less in size than those used by ladies. Both are unglazed, and printed in plain script, without flourishes of any description.
France fashion journals assert that of late years all the eccentric styles of dress brought out in France have been planned to satisfy the tastes of women of other countries, especially Russians and Americans.
The old-fashioned albums in which one writes a sentiment or a quotation have been revived in England, along with other old-fashioned things, and are now produced with all the old extravagance of colored paper and pretty pictures and engravings.
English women have the most extraordinary ideas of dress. A concert recently at Brighton, England, a young woman appeared dressed like a gigantic child, wearing a short, very short, loose frock without a waist, with an extremely wide, bright yellow sash. What a looking guy she must have been!
In the making of scrap books and albums our English cousins rather surpass the sumptuousness of anything which American binders attempt, and they put their wares in cases and boxes so attractive that the custom house officers charge duty even on the rough pasteboard which is outside all the other wrappings.

SPOKAN FALLS, SATURDAY, Nov. 27

Garfield and Rosecrans

A few days before the election Gen. Rosecrans in an interview with a reporter in San Francisco spoke with great bitterness against Gen. Garfield, pronouncing him a "fraud, an unmitigated fraud,"

Mr. W. F. G. Shanks, who is thoroughly acquainted with the career of both, and who will be widely remembered as a writer of valuable war sketches, prints a letter in the New York Tribune of which the following is an extract:

Rosecrans' hopes were ruthlessly blasted on that September Sunday of 1863 when he was defeated at Chickamauga and fled to Chattanooga to telegraph the president—in haste that he bitterly repented afterward—that his army was routed and in full retreat.

Pushing the Northern Pacific

Gen. J. W. Sprague, superintendent of the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific railroad, has received the following dispatch:

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. Have purchased 5000 tons of rails to replace old rails on the Dakota division, 18,000 tons for the Yellowstone division, and 10,000 tons for the Pacific side.

FREDK BILLINGS

This indicates renewed energy in pushing construction of this great line across the continent. Several days ago we had notice by telegraph that the road had been finished across the territory of Dakota and had entered Montana.

NEWS SUMMARY

At noon on the 26th ult., a severe shock of earthquake was felt on the Stickeen river and throughout the Cassiar district.

It is estimated that the total amount of gold yielded by Cassiar this year is about $250,000. Upwards of 150 miners will winter in the mines.

The colored citizens of Portland are making extensive preparations for celebrating the anniversary of the emancipation of their race, on the first of January 1881.

covered stranded on a sand bar, but only slightly damaged.

Mr. John B. Gough, who has been lecturing in Connecticut, is enjoying a degree of good health that might almost be called robust.

A successful trial of England's new 100-ton gun was made September 22. Loaded with 341 lbs. of powder drove a 2,010 lb. projectile 45 feet into a sand butt.

It is a noteworthy fact that the two most prominent English Generals of the day are enemies of all kinds of intoxicating liquors.

President Grevy receives $180,000 yearly as a salary and allowances, so that his seven years' term will give him $1,260,000.

It is proposed by republican congressmen to urge a different plan than heretofore in settling contests, and in case one man is unseated on account of fraudulent means his opponent may be seated, but in case the contestant makes out a case of bulldozing and intimidation it is thought the best plan will be to unseat the sitting member found to have acquired his seat by such means.

On the morning of the 26th of October a violent storm sprang up at Sitka. The Jamestown parted one of her bow cables and drifted about two lengths toward the beach in front of the Indian ranch.

Gen. J. W. Sprague, superintendent of the Pacific division of the Northern Pacific railroad, has received the following dispatch:

NEW YORK, Nov. 12. Have purchased 5000 tons of rails to replace old rails on the Dakota division, 18,000 tons for the Yellowstone division, and 10,000 tons for the Pacific side.

There is no disease of modern times regarded with more horror than diphtheria; and the one idea, when brought face to face with its horror, is how to best resist its ravages.

We are not taunted in the least with that disease, but neighboring counties are. The experience of nearly all communities that have been affected with diphtheria, has been that the best method to avoid the spread of the disease, is to adopt the same rules of quarantine that would be used in case of smallpox, and we can trace many new cases to the fact that the patient was brought into direct contact with others, who were either sick or convalescing from this disease.

Georgia is calling for Chinese laborers to come and pick her cotton. It is estimated that 200,000 bales will be left in the fields in that state for want of laborers to gather it.

Gov. Wright of the Indian territory is a converted Choctaw Indian.

The Rotten Borough

That rotten borough, called the state of Nevada, has not added materially to the American political credit during its existence, and at the recent election less than ever before.

It is said in army circles that Gen. Sherman contemplates carrying into effect his long cherished design of going on the retired list. This would result in the advancement of Gen. Sheridan to the chief command of the army and the probable transfer of Gen. Hancock from Governor's Island to Chicago.

Vote of the Rejected Precincts

Table with columns for Precincts (Spokane Bridge, Spring Valley, Sassin, Sprague, Courtwright, Cottonwood) and Candidates (Del. to Congress, Councilman, Representative, Sheriff, Auditor, Treasurer, Commissioner, Coroner, For Co. Seat, Probate Judge, Surveyor, School Supt., Coroner). Rows list candidates and their vote counts across precincts.

Couler Precinct, No. 11, not counted by canvassing board, on the ground that the oaths of the election officers were returned blank, with the exception of the jurat.

Spokane Bridge Precinct No. 3, not counted by the canvassing board, on the ground that the Inspector, W. C. Jackson, did not subscribe to the oath of office as Inspector.

Spring Valley Precinct No. 9, not counted by the canvassing board on the ground that the oaths of Inspector and Judges were not subscribed to, and further, that in both cases the jurat was signed by J. S. Fenn, who appears to be one of the Clerks of election.

Sassin Precinct No. 12, not counted by the canvassing board on the ground that the oaths of all the election officers were not subscribed to.

Sprague Precinct No. 14, not counted by canvassing board on grounds that the Inspector did not subscribe to oath of office as such Inspector.

Courtwright Precinct No. 17, not counted by the canvassing board on the ground that the oath of Inspector was taken before A. T. Courtwright, who appears to have been the Inspector of election.

Cottonwood Springs Precinct No. 18, not counted by the board of canvassers on the ground that the Judges and Inspector of election did not subscribe to the oath of office as such officers.

SECTION 8. of the Election Law, reads as follows: "It shall be the duty of the County Auditor to make out one copy of each of the said oaths or affirmations for each election precinct, which shall be returned by the Inspector, Judges and Clerks, and the said oaths or affirmations shall be certified under the hand of the person by whom they shall be administered, and the said oaths or affirmations shall be placed with the election returns to be returned to the County Auditor."

What's the matter with this space?

NOTICE

COLEX, Oct. 7, 1880. To establish plats of townships 23 north range forty-three east, and twenty-six north range forty-three east, have been received at the Land Office at Colfax, Oct. 1st of 1880. The following are the names of the persons who have filed their claims to the within ninety days from this date: J. M. ARMSTRONG, Register.

NOTICE OF DISTRIBUTION

TERRITORY OF WASHINGTON, COUNTY OF STEVENS. In the Probate Court—in the matter of the Estate of Peter Muloin, deceased. On reading and filing the petition of Peter Muloin, administrator of the estate of Peter Muloin, deceased, setting forth that he has filed his annual account as such administrator in the matter of said estate, and that the same has been fully audited, allowed and confirmed, a part of the residue of said estate remains to be divided among the persons therein entitled. It is ordered that all persons interested in the estate of Peter Muloin do and appear before the Probate Court of Stevens County on the 6th day of December, 1880, at the hour of 1 P. M., to show cause why an order of distribution should not be made of the residue of said estate among the heirs of the said Peter Muloin, deceased.

It is also ordered that service of this order be made by publication for four weeks in the Spokan Times. Witness my hand and the seal of said court, this 23rd day of October, 1880. F. WOLFF, Judge of Probate.

The St. Louis.—Mr. Al. Hawk, a popular and whole-souled man, has taken charge of the St. Louis restaurant, and is prepared to satisfy those who desire to dine in first-class style. His wife, the estimable landlady, understands how to make things look very neat and comfortable about the dining room. Call upon the new management and satisfy yourselves.

TAKEN FROM HIS FARM.—Geo. Rannels and his son-in-law, Tom Moore, have for some years enjoyed peaceable possession of a ranch on Osoyoos lake near the British Columbia line, in Stevens county. After the great withdrawal of lands was made for Moses' reservation, it was the desire of the government to remove all settlers within the limits of said reservation. Accordingly, Capt. Cook some time ago ordered Moore and Rannels to quit their farm and take their large herd of cattle to some other range. The cattle men refused to do so, and also used severe language against the government. Capt. Cook reported the same, and Lieut. Kinzie was ordered to proceed to Osoyoos lake and arrest the defiant men. When he arrived, Moore was across the line attending to stock, but Rannels was at home. The latter was arrested and brought to Camp Spokan. He promises to quit his home on the lake, if released.

There are fifteen teams, fifteen steam derricks, and thirty-five mule cars employed at the Cascade locks. The mess house requires 4500 pounds of meat per week for employees. The raw materials consumed at the mess house costs about $2000 cash per month.

A Disgraceful Episode.

From the Walla Walla Watchman.]

Last Monday Mr. E. E. McCammon, a prominent business man came down from Spokane Falls, feeling good toward all old friends and especially one Peter LaMar, a "fallen" young lawyer, said to be a Southern gentleman from Georgia, claiming to be a nephew of Senator LaMar, a highly distinguished statesman of that state. Be this as it may, young LaMar is no doubt well connected, has been well raised and well educated but he loved the social cup and gaming table too well and it brought him where he sleeps tonight, in a dark and gloomy prison cell. Peter LaMar first asked the loan of $2.50 of his friend, whom he had not seen for weeks and he got it. He went to the theatre and then back to the Stine House and all seemed to be happy, but it appears LaMar kept a vigilant eye on his man, for that night Mr. McCammon retired for the night with $55 in his pants pockets and in the morning when he got up his pockets were empty and no one knew who made so good, until LaMar, "dead" broke before, became suddenly "flush" and spent the "filthy" lucre lavishly, as though he had struck a mint. Mr. McCammon, on hearing this, forthwith smelled a large sized "mice" and had him arrested for grand larceny. When oarled by the sheriff, LaMar stepped into the storeroom at the Stine House saloon for something, where afterwards the missing pistol was found as also $75 of the cash, deposited by accused, in Dr. Tiernan's safe, but the most startling discovery was unearched, when LaMar was searched, as prisoners are when arrested. Upon his person was found a check, sent through the mail by A. M. Cannon, banker at Spokane Falls to and in favor of Wm. N. Smith, for the sum of $343.03, already endorsed with Smith's name forged thereto. "This check," LaMar said to Billy Meyer, about an hour before arrested, "I will get cashed this morning and then pay all my debts." But the sheriff cut his good(?) intentions short. At first he was put under a thousand dollar bond, but as his best friends refused to go on it, he went to jail and is now liable to be indicted not only for grand larceny, but also for forgery and robbing the U. S. mail. To us the affair looks almost incredible, for LaMar has neither the appearance nor make up of a bad man, on the contrary he looks rather prepossessing and honest, but his case is certainly very damaging to both his good looks and fair name, and while despising the sin, we pity the sinner.

N. B.—Since the above is in type, we learn that LaMar was a comparative stranger to McCammon, and not a friend, but loaned him $2.50 because he thought he needed it.

MUST DIE.—Edward Murphy, who cruelly murdered T. D. French, near Heppner, early last spring, has been tried and found guilty of murder in the first degree in the court held at Pendleton, Oregon, and Judge McArthur last Sunday sentenced the culprit to be hanged by the neck until dead, on Wednesday January 5, 1881. When asked whether he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him, he merely shook his head and said no, just as calmly, as though some one had asked him to dance and he wished to be excused.

A prominent advertiser of New York received recently a letter directed to him at a street and number from which he removed over seventeen years ago, the writer stating that he noticed an advertisement in an old newspaper, and wished to make some purchases in case he was still in business. This shows that newspapers are not always thrown away and their contents forgotten. Cast thy bread upon the waters, etc.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 13.—The wrestling match between W. J. Farrell, of California, and John McMahon of Vermont, for the championship belt of America and $1000, took place at Lyceum Hall to-night, and resulted in a victory for McMahon, who succeeded in throwing Farrell twice out of three times. A large crowd was in attendance and an hour and a half was consumed in deciding the contest.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—Smallpox is sweeping off by hundreds the Canadian Indians, on the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and such is the panic that those not afflicted flee from the dead and dying.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The Times' Washington special says the Post had a long interview with Bob Ingersoll on the probable policy of the Garfield administration. He declares there will be no personal rewards and revenges at the public expense; nothing neutral. As to the south, the democracy will never have another candidate for president, and the south will not remain solid.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Reports from the cotton belt were more favorable this month than last. Wheat returns of November show an increase on the wheat crop of the United States of 31,000,000 bushels since 1879. The yield per acre is somewhat less, but an increase in area more than counterbalances the loss of the yield. The oat crop shows a slight decline as compared with the crop of 1879.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—Personal friends of General Garfield say that he will not again take his seat in the house of representatives, but will in a few days resign both it and his prospective membership of the senate. It is believed here that Secretary Sherman will re-enter the senate as Thurman's successor in place of Garfield, and that Gov. Foster of Ohio, will be given a cabinet position, probably the secretaryship of the interior. Friends of Attorney General Devens predict that he will be nominated to a position on the supreme bench during the coming session of congress, to succeed either Justice Clifford or Justice Hunt, one of whom, it is said, will probably retire before president Hayes goes out of office.

LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—We are informed by Mr. Rima, Secretary of the association, that at the last meeting Mr. and Mrs. Cook, of the TIMES office, were elected honorary members; also, that a committee was appointed to make necessary arrangements to give an entertainment on New Year's Eve, for the benefit of the school fund. Miss Muzzy was elected librarian. About fifty dollars worth of new books have been ordered for the association.

LAND OFFICE AT COLFAX, W. T. Notice is hereby given that the following named settler has filed notice of his intention to make final entry thereon at 3 o'clock P. M. before J. P. Lockhart, clerk of the district court at Spokane Falls, Spokane Co. W. T., viz: J. H. Falley, who made final entry 258 for the 3/4 of Sec. 34 T. 24 N. of R. 44 E. and names the following as his wife, Criss Nelson, and E. Rinsar, all of Spokane Falls, W. T. J. M. ARMSTRONG, Register.

NOTICE. U. S. LAND OFFICE. Colfax, W. T., Nov. 15, '80. Complaint having been entered at this office by Edward E. Price against James M. Martin for abandoning his T. C. entry No. 420, dated July 12, 1879, upon the 1/4 of Sec. 25 T. 25 N. R. 28 E., Spokane Co. W. T., with a view to the cancellation of said entry, the said parties are hereby summoned to appear at this office on the 22nd day of Dec. 1880, at 1 o'clock P. M. to respond and furnish testimony concerning said alleged abandonment. J. M. ARMSTRONG, Register. E. N. S. SELL, receiver.

Apples this year are much better flavored than last year's crop. The tall and winter apples in particular are free from rust. Much of the fruit last year was damaged by rust.

Pierce County. Oysters planted in Gig Harbor two years ago are growing nicely.

New Tacoma gets the county seat by a majority of 350 over Stellacoom.

The "Bank of New Tacoma" has been organized with a capital of $50,000. H. C. Bostwick is president, W. B. Blackwell vice-president, and Mr. Baker cashier.

The engineers' office of the N. P. R. R. has been removed from the wharf to the Headquarters building on the bluff, at New Tacoma.

Joseph Geiger's silver mine is developing signs of great value. The vein is eight feet wide, with a well defined granite wall on the east side.

The Ledger says the high spur on Mount Rainer, known as the pack saddle, has disappeared from view, and the belief is that it has fallen into the crater.

King County. Two new warehouses are to be built in Seattle at once; one on Yesler's wharf and the other in North Seattle.

Turntables for the railroad will be built, one at Newcastle and the other at Seattle.

H. Levy of Seattle has shipped 100 barrels of salmon to London. He goes with his shipment to establish a market for future exports.

An Indian woman belonging to the Puyallup tribe was run over at Seattle, by a loaded car, and killed. In company with several other Indians she was crossing the track just as the small engine was getting under headway to force a car up the incline. The woman, seemingly unconscious of any danger, did not heed the warning shouts of the switchman. The engineer did not see her, and before the situation was understood she was struck by the end of the coal car and thrown underneath its wheels.

Thurston County. There is at present a balance of $500 in the city treasury of Olympia and $1,000 due in taxes.

The Tumwater mill has been supplied with a new flume and a new water wheel, and is again running.

Transcript: On Monday last Gov. Newell visited Sherman valley, where the Newell colony have settled, and was much pleased with the prospects of the colony. They have made an excellent road nearly to the valley, having done a large amount of work on it. The governor reports the valley a very rich one, the soil being unsurpassed for fertility anywhere. He thinks the colony has made a good choice of location, and in a few years' time cannot help but have a wealthy settlement.

The McPherson colony from Kansas will winter at Tumwater. There are about 800 persons all told connected with the colony, and they will all settle in a body somewhere in western Washington. The country east of the mountains does not please them.

Jefferson County. Business is lively at Irontdale at the head of Port Townsend bay. The blasting furnace is nearing completion, and smelting will commence next month. A town has been laid out and there is every indication that a lasting industry will be built up that will benefit the entire Sound.

Clarke County. Although it rained steadily all day, Vancouver cast the largest vote ever polled there—406.

There are 2,176 school children in Clarke county. Of these only 1,000 are enrolled as attending school.

Potatoes are worth fifty cents per bushel at Vancouver, and there appears to be plenty in the market at that figure.

The boys are all busy now harvesting the potato crop in Clarke county, which turns out much better than could have been expected two months ago.
