Oh, Be Not the First.

Oh! be not the first to discover
A flaw in the faith of a lover,
Whose heart may prove true to the end.

We none of us know one another,
And thus our words are untried,
Then, let us speak well of our brother,
Or speak not about him at all.

A smile or a sigh may awaken
Suspicion more false or untrue,
And thus our love may be shaken,
In hearts that are honest and true.

How oft the light smile of gladness
Is worn by the friends that we meet,
To cover a soul full of sadness,
Too proud to acknowledge defeat.

How often the sigh of dejection,
Is heaved from the hypocrite's breast,
To parody truth and affection,
To cover a soul full of sadness.

How often the friends we hold dearest
Their noblest emotions conceal;
And bosoms the purest, sincerest,
Have secrets they cannot reveal.

Leave base minds to harbor suspicion,
And thus our love may be shaken,
Let ours be a noble ambition,
For base is the mind that suspects.

We none of us know one another,
And thus our words are untried,
Then, let us speak well of our brother,
Or speak not of him at all.

The Heavy Timbers.

BACKWOODS LIFE IN CANADA.

How well do I remember the morning brother Paul left Grassville for his lot in the "Heavy Timbers." Paul was a fine, strong, built fellow with a ruddy complexion and life in his eyes. His brown hair curled, his lips were loving like girls, and he was called a "mother's boy."

There is no better recommendation for a young man in no other trade, than to be a "mother's boy." Paul was a "mother's boy" in every sense of the word. He was a "mother's boy" in his looks, in his manners, in his habits, in his habits, in his habits.

He was a "mother's boy" in his looks, in his manners, in his habits, in his habits, in his habits. He was a "mother's boy" in every sense of the word. He was a "mother's boy" in every sense of the word.

dry camping knoll, he took his rifle and threw it up in the air, and caught it as it came down, many times in merry play that night, because his heart was full of companionship. He found a full-size against which he built his camp, and the early morn'g shone on him with an awe and awe hard at work clearing a space for his abode. Before noon the hill was partially dug away, and a post set with a cross top to hold poles on which a thatched roof of birch bark and hemlock boughs was to be laid. When this was done Paul shot a partridge. When it was dressed he broiled it. When it was broiled, he had a meal, and sat on the pack, it made an excellent dinner. He then peeled birch bark and made a comfortable camp. He was much happier alone, with the anger in his heart, the sweet memory curls, than he could have been in a log cabin at the next opening. He had sunny adventures in his forest solitude. He had a headland, leaving a knoll for his house, and he left some grand trees in the places where he would have set them, not nature forsaken his labor of love. Trees, to most of the settlers, were only enemies to be got rid of. They spared none but the maples for sugar, but with axes and saws, a tree that cost him much care in burning. Others turned the growth of ages, and which none can recall to shade the naked land, into ashes, and then into salts, and then into money.

On Sunday morning Paul was getting ready to go to church in Woodville, notwithstanding the common property in curls and other treasures, he felt more as if he had them when he saw them in church—this morning he made a kettle of maize meal mush for his breakfast, and set it out to cool while he shaved. Presently he heard a series of horrid grunts, and looking out he saw a bear who had put his head into the kettle of mush without leave, and who was caught by the hair falling over the back of his neck. He had been having been accidentally left up. As he was trapped, Paul split his head with his axe, and had enough to do that day to dress his carcass. No doubt Emily was disappointed in the church, and Paul was fortunate in having plenty of bear's grease, a barrel of salted meat for winter, and a bear skin for his bed.

Day after day our hero went on felling trees, and chopping wood, and then with a trench tub made of a hollow log he leached his ashes, and he boiled away the ley in a huge cast-iron cauldron kettle and made salts. Salt water always silver to the settler. The land is cleared of trees, and the first of the kind in that region was made by driving sharpened poles into the ground. Next spring he planted scarlet runners, and his fence became highly ornamental when it was festooned with vines of bloom.

He planted currant bushes and strawberries, plum trees, and even rose bushes, among the great black stumps. He went on a year improving his farm, and dressing of an Emily for his bride, he came to a house on the outskirts of the rich cleared lands of this part of Canada.

He built a house of hewn logs, and the neighbors helped him to roll it up when the time came, and then he put a neat pallid on a goosy catch for a room, with the house in the center. "Independence Hall."

This Hall—Chestnut street, Philadelphia—is preserved with great care, it being regarded as "holy ground."

The oldest of Independence, that first rang out the proclamation, that the colonies had declared themselves free and independent of the rule of the mother country, is still preserved and weighs 2,000 lbs., and has upon it this remarkable motto, which seems prophetic it were "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land, and to all the people thereof."

Here, too, may be seen a portion of the pew of Christ Church, used by Wm. Franklin, Lafayette, and Franklin, in Dr. Franklin's desk. A portion of the "stone step" from which Independence was proclaimed, is exhibited, which is undoubtedly of deception, or cheat, like much of the rubbish over the country laid up and kept very close as a part of TURNPIKE.—By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that the Corporation of the Walla Walla and Wallula Turnpike Company are to hold a meeting at the office of Messrs. Mix & Fargo, April 15th, to elect Commissioners who shall be authorized to open books for the subscription of stock.

FROM COLVILLE AND THE UPPER COLUMBIA.—Mr. John U. Hofstetter, who left Colville on the 27th ult., gives us the following items: An Indian, with an express from Mr. Haines, the British Gold Commissioner at Kootenai, arrived at Colville some five or six weeks ago, bringing news that gold diggings had been struck on the Columbia river, about 50 miles above "Boat Encampment."

COMMERCIAL.—It appears from the late despatches, that a panic is prevailing in commercial circles in New York City. The uncertainty about the future price of gold is given as the reason for the depression in business.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT.—Sixteen of the Northern States have ratified, through their Legislatures, the Amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery throughout the Union, namely: Illinois, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Missouri, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, Nevada, Ohio and Wisconsin.

THE LEWISTON RADIATOR radiates volitionally to its issue of this week, upon the Capital question, and what it terms "skeddadle No. 2" of the Acting Executive. The Radiator don't like the way the Governors have of getting out of Lewiston, nor the way they act generally.

DELEGATES TO THE DEMOCRATIC TERRITORIAL CONVENTION.—Messrs. S. W. Babcock and A. J. Cain left Walla Walla this week to attend the Democratic Convention, to be held at Olympia April 12th.

WALLA WALLA ONIONS IN THE PORTLAND MARKET.—We find the following in the Portland Oregonian of late date: "Quite an item in the way of domestic produce receipts is noticed in the arrival of an invoice of onions from Walla Walla Valley, for our city trade."

BEALS, one of the Delany murderers, after the verdict was rendered against him, went into a fainting fit and spams, which lasted an hour. The following morning he had a more severe attack of the same kind.

EDS. FREEMAN.—I have been speaking to so frequently since my return from Lewiston, in regard to the movements of the Lewiston people in relation to the Capital question, that I have concluded to give a statement of facts through your columns.

Two weeks since, Acting Governor Smith, H. C. Gibson and myself, left Walla Walla for Lewiston, and arrived there Friday night. When we arrived there, the citizens were (and some so expressed themselves to us), not expecting the return of Mr. Smith, but were very glad to hear of his arrival, as he was supposed to have a considerable amount of Uncle Sam's "coin."

A new Commissioner, named O'Reilly, has been appointed for the Kootenai District, and Mr. Haines has been ordered to the mouth of the Pen d'Oreille to act as Commissioner for the Pen d'Oreille district.

There are none but Chinese miners at work on the Columbia and Pen d'Oreille rivers, in the vicinity of Colville. Of these, there are some three or four hundred in all. Twenty small boats, or bateaux, with about 75 men, left Colville some two weeks ago for the Upper Columbia mines.

Now, to the main question. The citizens of Lewiston know that they are fighting for a question of principle, and are determined to stand by their principles. They are not fighting for a question of expediency, or for a question of expediency.

On his way down, Mr. H. saw an Indian who had just come down from Pack River, and who informed him that the snow was from five to six feet deep between Pen d'Oreille and Pack river, on the Kootenai road.

"PLAYED OUT."—The capital farce at Lewiston seems to be "played out." Gov. Smith, disgusted with waiting for the certain to drop on the last act, has gone to Boise City, leaving "honest Alonzo" and "Alec" to walk the stage with their shot gun and gong without an audience.

Eastern News.

News of March 23d.

New York, March 23.—There was more steadiness early in the day in commercial circles, but towards the close there was a renewal of the decline of the past week. Everything is again on the down track. In the general produce and merchandise market, no business is doing.

MAJ. GEN. THOMAS, in the official report of his autumn and summer campaign, says: To Col. Putnam and his command is accorded the credit of driving the rebels from the country along the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, and can defend himself against any force likely to be sent across the desolate country, between his present location and Memphis.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The rebel Congress before taking its hasty leave of Richmond, refused to adopt any of the measures proposed by the Unionists. They rejected the resolutions which would have placed the rebel army under the control of the Union Government.

CITY POINT, March 23.—To Secretary Stanton: Richmond papers received contain the following report: The Dispatch: Hardee's victory on the 16th was a very important and bloody affair.

REBEL SPIRIT.—Lieut. Gov. Jacobs, of Kentucky, says the rebels "are fearfully in earnest, and have no idea of giving up the contest." George D. Prentice, editor of the Louisville Journal, says they "are united, defiant and hopeful, and confident of achieving their independence."

THE SOUTHERN PEOPLE remain firm in their determination to resist subjugation. The leaders are not averse to negotiation, provided it is not based on degrading conditions. They will meet us on equal terms, but not otherwise.

ESCAPE OF BROCK JACK.—Brock Jack, the notorious highwayman, who was on his way to Lewiston for trial, under charge of officer George, made his escape at Mr. King's place 15 miles this side of Lewiston, on night last week.

NOTICE.—The Corporation of the Walla Walla and Wallula Turnpike Company will hold a meeting at the office of Messrs. Mix & Fargo, in the City of Walla Walla, on the 15th day of April, A. D. 1865, at the hour of 2 o'clock, P. M., of said day, to elect three Commissioners to open books for the subscription of stock, and to transact such other business as may come before the meeting.

THE ENEMY was overpowered and flanked retreated in confusion towards Raleigh, while Sherman entered Smithfield, half-way between Goldsboro and Raleigh. Sherman, Schofield and Terry are in hourly communication with each other, and are pressing the enemy closely.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Among witnesses before the rebel Senate committee to inquire into the condition of the Confederacy, was Gen. Lee. He said it would be bad policy evacuating Richmond, as the Virginia troops would not go into the State of North Carolina.

THE FRENCH MINISTER of Instruction had tendered his resignation, but Napoleon refused to accept it. In the absence of later news, which was anxiously expected, the result of the fall of Charleston continued to be eagerly canvassed.

RETURNS OF THE CITY ELECTION, Held at the City Council Chamber, April 4th, A. D. 1865:

Table with 2 columns: Position and Votes. For Mayor, Geo. Thomas received 251 votes; For Recorder, S. B. Fargo received 228 votes; For Mayor, Geo. Thomas received 251 votes; For Recorder, S. B. Fargo received 228 votes.

QUARTZ PROSPECTS.—Our Idaho City correspondent, "Argus," writes us as follows of the Quartz prospects of the Basin:

"Quartz prospectors continue their labors, and notwithstanding the rigor of the season, have contributed by discoveries and representative labor not a little to increase confidence and actual knowledge of the mineral-bearing quartz lodes in this vicinity. Several new lodes have been discovered, and promise well. Representative labor has been performed upon many claims formerly located. I may as well add in this connection that this is not 'writ' to facilitate any operations of the 'Strain & Dig' Stock Company named by 'Mercurio,' your spy copy Portland Brokers, nor yet the Board of Portland Brokers, (who if not broke already are certain to break all their 'tightenings') who have a certain 'puffatory' correspondence among them to 'do' the San Franciscans in their behoof through the columns of the S. F. BULLETIN. All that is needed here to develop the quartz interests and bring forth in largely paying quantities the hidden wealth of the great banks of nature 'on deposit' to be paid upon 'sight drafts,' in the grand granite and porphyry laboratory of Boise, Owyhee, and Alameda is the requisite machinery and facilities for taking it out. This is merely a question of time, internal revenue, camps, taxation, and whatever Uncle Abe's pleasant little policy may be concerning the management or disposal of this portion of the public domain of the U. S. Government.

THE Oregon Statesman calls ex-Senator B. F. Harding a "Copperhead." Harding stands between two fires. The Copperheads call him an "Abolitionist." Harding has grievously offended the officials of Oregon by showing up the uselessness of saddling upon the State a burthenous debt by raising troops whose service neither the State nor the General Government required.

JOHN K. CANNADY, situated on his farm two miles below this city, on Mill creek, was destroyed by fire on Tuesday. The members of the family were all absent from the premises when the house was first discovered to be on fire. The loss incurred by the fire is not estimated. Mr. C. had just returned from a visit to his home in California, having lately purchased the premises—when the fire occurred.

RESOLUTIONS.—At a special meeting of Estopino Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., Walla Walla, W. T., April the 2d, the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That a copy of these Resolutions be forwarded to the members of the Grand Lodge of the I. O. O. F., California. Also to the Editors of the Age and the Walla Walla Statesman, for publication. Resolved, That the members of this lodge be notified to attend a meeting on Tuesday, April 11th, at 7 o'clock, P. M., at the residence of David West, a Geo. McCully, Chas. Bessner, R. S.

MARRIED.

CHILDS.—WALDRON.—At the M. E. Church in this City, on Sunday, April 2, 1865, by Rev. G. W. Adams, Mr. G. W. Childs and Miss E. Waldron were united in Holy Matrimony.

GALL—MOODY.—At the M. E. Church, in this City, on Tuesday, April 4, 1865, 1st Lieut. in Gal. of the 1st Oregon Infantry, and Miss Eliza Jane Moody.

Wood Contract.

PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED UNTIL the 1st day of May 1865, for 800 Cords of Wood, to be delivered at Fort Walla Walla, W. T.

Bids will be opened at noon on the first day of May, 1865. Bidders are invited to be present at the opening of the bids, and to be ready to reject any or all bids.

THE SOUTHERN PEOPLE remain firm in their determination to resist subjugation. The leaders are not averse to negotiation, provided it is not based on degrading conditions.

Walla Walla Items.

A Walla Walla correspondent furnishes us the following: Wallula begins to loom up. Five new business houses were opened here last week...

I noticed Fred White's, Tim Fudge's, Wilson's, Dalton's Sheehy's and McAuliff's trains—in all 202 pack-mule loads...

Eds. Statesman: Is it not strange that a man of the rare intelligence of Mr. S. D. Cochran...

The town is laid off in good shape, the streets being one hundred feet wide, which gives ample security against disastrous conflagrations.

There is no question but Wallula—located as it is, on the great bend of the Columbia river...

The Potter theatrical troupe did not arrive and perform on Thursday evening, as announced in the programmes...

The population of Portland, Oregon, has increased one thousand in the past year. The city now numbers 5,819 inhabitants.

Be aware of the fatal consequences of neglecting the first symptoms of consumption. When a cough first appears, or a dull pain in the chest...

Walla Walla is shipping hay to Umatilla and Dalles; also, onions and potatoes to Umatilla, Dalles and even to Portland—products of the Walla Walla valley.

VIGILANTES.—A slight excitement has been manifested in some circles this week on account of the appearance in town of a man known as "Dutch Lewie"...

ANTI-VIGILANTES.—The "anti-vigilantes" seem to have become quite as active recently as the Vigilantes. One night this week an individual who is in the habit of getting d. c. came into town...

COURT.—It appears that the law, passed at the last session of the legislature, changing the time of holding the District Courts was, by oversight, omitted from the journals...

THE REASON KYGER & REESE CAN SELL each other than any other House in town. They sell for each other.

MILITARY.—Capt. McCown's Company of the Oregon Infantry, left Fort Walla Walla for Fort Colville on Wednesday morning.

Capt. Glazure's Company, of the W. T. Infantry, will leave Colville for Fort Vancouver, immediately on the arrival of Capt. McCowan's Company.

Lieut. Kerns left Fort Walla Walla on Monday, with a detachment of 22 men, for the Umatilla Agency, to assist the Agent in quieting the Indians...

The election of the Walla Walla Literary and Library Association, last Monday, resulted in the election of A. J. Thibodeau, R. Jacobs, J. H. Lassater, J. D. Cook, L. J. Recker, and W. W. Johnson as Directors...

Eds. Statesman: Is it not strange that a man of the rare intelligence of Mr. S. D. Cochran should mistake the American Eagle on the Seal of the U. S. of America for two Horses?

DALLES CITY ELECTION.—The election for City officers was held at Dalles on Monday of this week. The Mountaineer says there were three tickets in the field...

TO BE HUNG.—Geo. P. Beale and Geo. Baker, the murderers of Delaney, are sentenced to be hung at Salem on the 17th of May.

The Potter theatrical troupe did not arrive and perform on Thursday evening, as announced in the programmes...
