The Miner to his Gold.
BY W. LLOYD.
Bright gold, I crave no feast or revel, Save that to kneel, O root of evil, Before the shrine,
Thou glittering, tempting, lawless devil, My soul is thine Fling to the winds your sermons vain, Of promised bliss and threatened pain—Your Christian meekness I For I devote my heart and brain To so-called weakness.
For thee, O gold, I plod and plunder; Yes, thou canst rend all bonds asunder, Or bind the free.
O, nothing in this world of wonder,
Can equal thee.
Fools say that love is life's rich cream—A lie, a cheat, a silly dream—More poisoned honey;
For woman's love and man's esteem I'll buy with money.
I'll charm with gold's bright yellow ray;
My courtship needs no banter gay, No soft sensation,
The eloquence which I display Is of this fashion:
"Sweet maid, I've neither heart nor head, My cheeks are parchment—eyes of lead.
More sad than sunny,
My soul is doubtless dumb or dead,
But I have money!"
Mark how she tempests her disgust, For thy sweet sake, thou yellow dust—Without remorse,
She gives a heart of truth and trust,
For cash, of course.
What though my name dishonor mars, What though my face with ruffian scars Is seen in press,
I triumph still, for cash users
Her virgin breast.
I fear no filtering on the brink, No prior vows to make her shrink And bold of foot,
Against thy sweet seductive clank,
No virtue's proof.
Thou takest captive soul and sense, O, cash! thou great omnipotence; Thy first demand is Is felt o'er distance's immense, Material god.
Thee, only thee, I truly prize,
To thee, all—my sacrifice, Through woe or weal;
But when thy wheels beneath the skies, Where must I go?
No matter where, St. John of old Saw Heaven's streets all paved with gold; There would I dwell,
But if the truth old Milton told, There's hell in hell.

Reconstruction—Speech of President Johnson.
WASHINGTON, September 11, 1865.—A large number of Southern men at present in Washington on business connected with the re-establishment of civil government in their respective States called on the President this morning by appointment, and had a long and agreeable interview. The first assembled in the east room of the White House, and organized by calling Mr. Phillips, of Alabama, to the chair.
Judge Lockrae stated their object to be to call upon the President before their departure, as an act of courtesy; and to express to him their unqualified confidence in the justice and magnanimity of the Government in the matter of reconstruction.
On motion, Messrs. Bliss, of Alabama; Mc-Farland, of Virginia; White, of Texas; Cannon, of South Carolina; Bass, of Arkansas; Wilkins, of Mississippi; Lockrae, of Georgia, and Baker, of Florida, were designated to individually present to the President such persons as were present from their respective States.
MR. MCFARLAND'S SPEECH.
The delegation was admitted soon after eleven o'clock, and presented to the President as follows: By Mr. McFarland, of Virginia: MR. PRESIDENT:—The gentlemen accompanying me, and whom I have the honor of introducing to you, constitute a number of the most responsible citizens of nine of the Southern States. They come here for the purpose of manifesting the sincere respect and regard they entertain for you, and to express their sincere determination to co-operate with you in whatever shall tend to promote the interests and welfare of our common country, and to say that they are as earnest now as they were in their allegiance to the United States and to the Constitution of the Union as in the past, and that they have great confidence in your wisdom to heal the wounds that have been made, and in your disposition to exercise all the leniency which can be commended by a sound and judicious policy. That they are assured, in doing this, of your desire and intention to sustain and maintain Southern rights in the Union of the United States.

consequences what they might; I said then, what you all know, that I was for the institution of the country as guaranteed by the Constitution, but above all things I was for the Union of the States. I remember the taunts, the jests, the scowls with which I was treated. I remember the circle that stood around me, and remember the threats and intimidations that were freely uttered by the men who opposed me, and whom I wanted to befriend and guide by the light that led me; but feeling conscious in my own integrity, and that was right, I heeded not what they might say or do to me, and was inspired and encouraged to do my duty regardless of laugh else, and have lived to see the realization of my predictions, and the fatal error of those whom I vainly sought to save from the results I could not but foresee. Gentlemen, we have passed through this rebellion, I say we, for it is we who are responsible for it.
Yes, the South made the issue, and I know the nature of the Southern people well enough to know that when they have become convinced of an error they frankly acknowledge it, in a manly, open and direct manner; and now, in the performance of that duty, or, indeed, in any act they undertake to perform, they do it heartily and frankly; and now that they come to me, I understand them as saying that: "We made the issue, we set up the Union of the States against the institution of slavery; we selected as our banner the great emblem of freedom, the sword. The issue was fairly and honorably made. Both the questions presented have been settled against us, and we are prepared to accept the issue." I find on all sides this spirit of candor and honor prevailing. It is said by all: "The issue was ours, and the judgment has been given against us; and the judgment has been made against us; we feel bound in honor to abide the arbitration. In doing this we are doing ourselves no dishonor, and should not feel humiliated or degraded, but rather that we are ennobling ourselves by our action; and we should feel that the Government has treated us magnanimously, and met the Government upon the terms it has so magnanimously proffered us." So far as I am concerned personally, I am unimpaired by any question, whether it affects the North or the South, the East or the West. I stand where I did of old, battling for the Constitution and the Union of these United States. In doing so I know I opposed some of you gentlemen of the South who this doctrine of secession was being urged upon the country; and the declaration of your right to break up the Government and disintegrate the Union was made. I stand to-day, as I have ever stood, firmly in the opinion that if a monopoly contends against the country, the monopoly must go down, and the country must go up. Yes, the issue was made by the South against the Government, and the Government has triumphed; and the South, true to her ancient instincts of frankness and manly honor, comes forth and expresses her willingness to abide the result of the decision. In doing so I feel that the spirit of rebellion has been arrested and subdued, and am happy in the consciousness of a duty well performed. I want not only you, but the people of the world to know, that while I dreaded and feared disintegration of the States, I am equally opposed to consolidation or concentration of power in the hands of any man or any party.
If the issue is forced upon us, I shall still endeavor to pursue the same efforts to dissuade from this doctrine of running to extremes. But I will let the same rules be applied; let the Constitution be our guide; let the preservation of the Union be our aim; let the spirit of the Constitution be perpetual, and that the principles of the Government, founded as they are on right and justice, may be handed down without spot or blemish to our posterity. As I have before referred to you, I am gratified to see so many of you here to manifest a spirit of candor and openness to observe. I know that I had said of me that my asperities are sharp, that I had victimized feelings to gratify, and that I should not fail to avail myself of the opportunities that would present themselves to gratify such desires. Gentlemen, if my acts will not speak for me, and if the acts of my fellow-citizens professionals I might now make would be equal-less. But, gentlemen, if I know myself, as I think I do, I know that I am of the Southern people, and I love them and will do all in my power to restore them to that state of happiness and prosperity which they enjoyed before the madness of misguided men to whom they reposed their confidence led them astray to their own undoing. If there is anything that can be done on my part, on correct principles—on the principles of the Constitution—to promote these ends, be assured it shall be done. Let me assure you, also, that there is no disposition on the part of the Government to deal harshly with the Southern people. There may be speeches published from various quarters that may breathe a different spirit. Do not let them trouble or excite you, but believe that it is, as it is, the great object of the Government to make the Union of these United States more complete and perfect than ever, and to maintain it on constitutional principles, if possible, more firmly than it has ever before been. Then why cannot we all come up to the work in a proper spirit?
In my words, let us look to the Constitution.
The issue has been made and decided; men as wise men—as men who see right and are determined to follow it as fathers and brothers, and as men who love their country in this hour of trial and suffering—why cannot we come up and help to settle the questions of the hour and adjust them according to the principles of honor and of justice? The institution of slavery is gone. The former status of the negro had to be changed, and we, as wise men, must recognize so patent a fact and adapt ourselves to circumstances as they surround us. [Voices.—We are willing to do so. Yes, sir, we are willing to do so.] I believe you are, gentlemen, when you faith is pledged, when your consent has been given—as I have already said, I believe it will be maintained in good faith, and every pledge or promise fully carried out. [Cries.—It will.] All I ask or desire of the South or the North, the East or the West, is to be sustained in carrying out the principles of the Constitution. It is not to be denied that we have been great sufferers on both sides. Good men have fallen on both sides, and much misery is being endured as the necessary results of so gigantic a contest.— Why, then, cannot we come together, and around the common altar of our country heal the wounds that have been made? Deep wounds have been inflicted. Our country has been scarred all over. Then why cannot we approach each other upon principles which are right in themselves and which will be productive of good to all? The day is not distant when we shall feel like some family that have had deep and desperate feud, the various members of which have come together and compared the evils and sufferings they have inflicted upon each other. They had seen the influence of their error and its result, and, governed by a generous spirit of conciliation, they had become mature and forgiving, and returned to the state of their old habits of fraternal kindness, and become better friends than ever. Then let us consider that the feud which has alienated us has been settled and adjusted to our mutual satisfaction, and that we come together to be bound by firmer bonds of love, respect, and confidence than ever. The North cannot get along without the South, nor the South without the North, the East from the West, nor the West from the East; and I say it is our duty to do all that in our power lies to perpetuate and make stronger the bonds of our Union, seeing that it is for the common good of all that we should be united: I feel that this Union, though but the creation of a century, is to be perpetuated for all time, and that it cannot be destroyed except by the Almighty God who created it. Gentlemen, I repeat I sincerely thank you for the respect manifested on this occasion; and for the expressions of approbation and confidence please accept my sincere thanks.

MCFARLAND'S REJOINER.
MR. PRESIDENT:—On behalf of this delegation I return you my sincere thanks for your kind, generous, and magnanimous expression of kindly feeling towards the people of the South.
On Third street from Market to Howard, the ground was recently interrupted by applause, and I seemed highly gratified by the interview.—N. Y. Herald.

Frightful Earthquake at San Francisco—Full Particulars.
San Francisco, Oct. 8.—There was a light rain last night and about daylight this morning came a shower. The weather, this morning, was clear and warm with a fresh breeze. At precisely 15 minutes to 1 P. M. the heaviest earthquake shock which was ever felt in San Francisco, occurred.
The motion was undulatory from northeast to south-west. Everybody rushed instantly to gain access to the streets. Five seconds after another and far heavier one occurred, and the uproar caused by falling walls, glass coming down in showers on the sidewalks, the frenzied stampede of thousands of people, horses running frenzied, bells ringing, &c., was indescribable. Women fainted and men screamed, church congregations piled over each other in the excitement to escape, and many people jumped from second story windows, in some cases receiving severe injuries.

The whole town is now in such a state of excitement that it is impossible to learn the extent of the damage or the number of accidents. I hear of only one man, a Chinaman, killed outright. The chimneys falling from the rear of the Lick House crushed the kitchen and injured three servants, none of them fatally. Three men were injured by falling bricks at Creeks' warehouse. One man jumped from the window through a skylight into the Metropolitan Market and was badly injured, and many similar incidents occurred all over town. The congregation in the Catholic Church on Vallejo street carried away the doors entirely in reaching the street, and several women and children were severely injured. The brick buildings on the main wall of the New Orleans warehouse on Davis and California streets, six feet high and thirty-seven feet long, came down in a body. A large section of the cornice and fire wall of the Exchange Building, opposite the Custom House, fell. A new brick building on Third and Mission streets; the brick building on Third and Mission streets; the store, No. 115 California street, next to George F. Bragg & Co., fell out. The front of the brick building on the northwest corner of Sacramento and Battery streets, fell out. A fine store in the lower part of the city, opposite the City Hall fire bell rang from the shock, many hundreds of windows were broken into pieces smaller than a man's hand, and three-fourths of the brick buildings on the main ground part of the city are more or less damaged. Many walls were thrown out of line, so that doors can not be opened or closed, and it will be days before the full extent of the damage can be made known. As it now appears $250,000 would not repair the damages. The injury done to the brick buildings on the main ground large brick and stone structures is incalculable.
Everybody is congratulating his neighbor on their providential escape from death. In the present condition of the walls another shock of equal violence would prostrate at least one-third of the buildings in the city. From nearly every store in the lower part of the city, people are awakening out broken glass and fallen plastering.
Clocks were stopped, water jars upset, and in some cases people were thrown out of their beds from the violence of the shock. There is a lively talk on the immediate repeal of the Fire Ordinance. The Occidental, Cosmopolitan and City Houses, being on natural ground, suffered far less than the buildings north and east of this point and on the flats south of Market street.— The fire wall for the whole length of Grey's building on Sacramento street, between Montgomery and Kearney also fell, and sections of similar walls all over town, came down on the sidewalks, rendering it almost incredible that so few accidents occurred. How the people on the sidewalks escaped so generally is past comprehension. In the vicinity of Folsom, Mission, Beale and Fremont streets, the made ground is disturbed in some places two feet, the walls were of line and moving buildings bodily four inches.
Stoddard's warehouse settled eighteen inches, and water is oozing in on the main floor. Mission wharf's reporter damaged by the sliding of the mud on the bottom in which piles were driven, and three frame buildings on Beale street, between Montgomery and Mission fell in. The works are considerably damaged.

San Francisco, Oct. 8.—The earthquake did some damage at San Jose and Santa Cruz, but up to this time we have not heard of any one being injured. It was felt at Visalia or Los Angeles.
San Jose, Oct. 8.—The heaviest shock of an earthquake ever felt in this place was experienced at 12.45 P. M. to-day. The shock seemed to pass from north to south. There was no damage done as far as we can learn.
Petalsu, Oct. 8.—Two severe shocks of an earthquake quickly succeeding each other were experienced here to-day at a quarter past 1 P. M. producing the greatest consternation. Almost every one rushed into the streets. The vibrations were from north-west to south-east.

San Francisco, Oct. 9.—The effect of the earthquake yesterday is visible in every street and almost every place outside or inside the city.— Although no building is entirely demolished, it is thought the aggregate cost of repairs will reach many thousands of dollars. The most serious damage done to any structure is to Pepper's building corner of Third and Mission. This building is brick, four stories high, and about half of the front, from the foundation to the roof on Third street, and rear, has fell. The building has slightly contracted. The City Hall has received injuries which may necessitate the rebuilding of the front portion, and possibly the entire main building. The front wall has apparently been shaken free from the main building. The connections being very slight and not extending above the second story. The brick block on the southeast corner of Battery and Washington streets, is considered unsafe by many who have examined it. The front of the block is nearly separated from the building, and it would require but a slight shock to level it with the ground. The old Merchant's Exchange structure, on the northeast corner Battery and Washington streets, is completely ruined, and safe for use. A large gap, four inches wide, is opened, separating the wall from the main building, and the immense structure cracked from Battery through to the eastern side. It would require no very severe shock, in the condition it now stands, to bring the whole pile to the ground.

A portion of the rear wall of Abel Gre's building on Washington street was thrown down and the wall split from the foundation to the roof.
The house of the California Engine Company has been destroyed by the Chief Engineer unit for occupancy. The engine has been removed to the Corporation yard, and it is probable the building will have to come down. The chimney in the rear of the Lick House was shaken down.
The bricks falling through the roof down into the dining-room, and doing considerable damage.
Stoddard's warehouse, on Beale street, is said to have been thrown out of place several inches, as the interior of the building was set down again though it had been lifted up and set down again while the south side of the building appears to have been settled considerably along with the store of Heyneman, Pike & Co., is broken into in the center, making an opening through which the interior of the adjoining store of Ray & Johnson can be seen. L. & M. Sack's building on Sacramento street is a complete wreck, the floor being raised in some places and lowered in others, presenting an unsafe appearance. The walls are cracked in every direction, and will be a difficult matter, if possible, to repair the building. The principal damage done was to fire walls, cornices and copings, many of which were but slightly built, and also some of the iron fronts which were fastened in an insecure manner. Cornices and ornamental work about the eaves of the buildings have fallen all over town.
The destruction of window glass was immense.
On Third street from Market to Howard, the general scramble that ensued, was a fatal accident occurred. The most serious casualties were the following: A Chinaman and a China woman were quite severely bruised by the falling of the walls on Stout's Alley and Jackson street; but it is thought that their injuries will not prove fatal. Alexander Badger, the Secretary of the Olympic Club, was seriously injured by falling through a skylight in the Metropolitan Market, while endeavoring to escape from the Olympic Club rooms adjoining. The servants at the Lick House were injured by the debacle from falling chimneys, and R. F. Greely, a well known writer for the California, fell from a platform and was considerably injured. Light shocks were felt at 4 P. M. and 10 A. M. yesterday. Another shock was felt at 10:35 A. M. today, which had the effect of emptying all public schools and creating a stampede from the City Hall. Some persons assert that a slight shock was felt with great force at San Jose and Santa Cruz, but not noticed at Visalia or Los Angeles.

During the war a woman went to a grocer's shop, and found she was paying nearly double for candles, so she asked what the reason candles were so dear. The grocer replied, "Oh, it is the war."
"Dear me!" said the woman, "have they got to fighting by candle light?"

A little fellow not more than five years of it was true; his mother was better than any sided.

tion of bankruptcy.

NOT BAD.—A little girl past her fifth year, while chatting about her beaux who visited two of the sex in the same house, of more mature age, was asked, "What do you mean by beaux, Anne?"
"Why, I mean men that have not got much sense."

Tom Moore, the poet, used to tell a good story of a gentleman who, when he was short of money and his relatives were stingy and refractory, used to threaten his family with the publication of his poems. Invariably the result was as much cash as he wanted.

Its fleshy parts were used to poison arrows, and the fruit was, for this purpose introduced into however, not only removed its poisonous qualities but produced the delicious fruit we now enjoy.

STATE ELECTIONS.—According to the late dispatches from the East, the State elections held on the 19th inst., resulted triumphantly to black republicanism. The issue in most of the States was upon the question of negro suffrage, and the result at the ballot-box gives unmistakable evidence that the negroes are to be trusted with the ballot. Sumner, Phillips, Greeley, and the combined hosts of abolition fanaticism will throw up their hats and shout for joy. The election triumph is theirs. They will claim that the people have endorsed their cherished theory, that "all men are created equal." And they will urge upon the next Congress, not only the necessity, but also the right of that body to so reconstruct the Southern States, as to give the whole negro population the right of suffrage. The States will have no control over the matter. Congress will take the question into its own hands, and having a majority in favor of negro suffrage, it will reconstruct upon that plan. This will be the epoch of the radical triumph, if the elections have gone as announced by telegraph.

THE LATEST NEWS.—We are informed by a gentleman of this city, who has given the subject of "annexation" some attention, that the proposed State taxes, as levied at present, amount in the aggregate, to 18 mills on the dollar, payable in coin; and that in Washington Territory, the Territorial tax is 17 mills, payable in greenback currency. It will be seen that the taxes are considerably lighter in the Territory than they are in Oregon. But to make a favorable showing the other way, it is proposed by some of those favorable to "annexation," to show that the Oregon Constitution contains a clause providing the State from making a debt exceeding the sum of $50,000; that therefore the people of that State will never pay the immense debt saddled upon them by the legislature, in direct violation of the fundamental law of the State. If such a provision is in the State Constitution, the argument will have much weight, because all constitutional acts of the legislature would, rightfully, be declared void by the Courts. Of course, if the Courts should prove to be as corrupt as the legislature, who would deliberately disregard a plain provision of the Constitution they are sworn to support, then the debt might still be fastened upon the people. The question, so far as we have been able to ascertain, that has most weight with the people at large here, is that of "taxation." "Dry Creek" says, "but that they will certainly fluctuate in this Territory, and does in Oregon, and then they might look upon the subject of 'annexation' more favorably. They don't like to pay high taxes, no way it can be fixed. It is all very well to talk about your 'rights,' but the people can't see it, unless they have a fact in the matter, money, and pay off those blessings in coin."

THE LIVELIEST PLACE.—Gentlemen of leisure, who have lately been visiting the different towns in the upper country, tell us that Walla Walla and Lewiston present the most lively and business-like appearance of all the points visited. The teaming between the two points mentioned is represented to be immense—wagons freighted with flour and other products of this valley, are strung all along the road from here to Lewiston. These supplies are hauled to the latter place and thence are furnished by traders to the mining camps above. While we are enjoying lively times and prosperity, other towns, both this side of the Cascades and in the Willamette Valley, are represented dull and monotonous. This should suffice to encourage our anticipations of a prosperous future for this section of the country. In addition to our numerous advantages here, in a material point of view, we are favored with a climate which for healthfulness and temperature cannot be excelled, if equaled, on the Pacific slope. While we are having months here together, of weather so delightful that everybody, without exception, talks of it in terms of praise, in the Willamette the people, woe-like, plod through "the mire and the clay," heralding their climate as "the worst of the world." In the valleys to the north and east of us the inhabitants complain of their cold climates and shortness of the growing season—the frosts visit them too late in Spring and too early in Fall. This valley, with its many natural advantages, when compared with surrounding sections, that cannot be too highly prized by its favored inhabitants. Our people certainly ought to be satisfied with their condition, and we believe they are.

REGULARS.—A Company of 62 men of the recently arrived regulars, under command of Capt. Wharton, reached the Fort on Wednesday. They are on their way to "Oville," to relieve the volunteers at that post. It is estimated that the regular troops are being sent to the interior posts first, so that the volunteers may be marched to head quarters and mustered out of the service as early as next spring, at farthest. We hope this may be so; for we believe the public herbivores, at least, have had a more "scented sufficiency" of the fantastic tales told by the peacecock-a-doodle-dos belonging to the volunteer service who have accidentally been clothed with a little brief authority. In the command of this Department's "regiment" the command of this Department's "regiment" will probably come on at once to take the command.—Occident.

THE NEW COMMANDER.—Our dispatches announce that Gen. Frederick Steele has been appointed to command the military Department of California. General Steele is a native of New York, and entered West Point, we believe, in 1830. He was appointed Major General of volunteers in the autumn of 1863. Prior to this he held the rank of Major in the regular army. During the rebellion he was employed in Missouri, Arkansas and Texas, and rendered very efficient service to the Government. We think his appointment to the command of this Department's "regiment" will probably come on at once to take the command.—Occident.

In pursuance of a call made, at a meeting of members of the Bar, of the 1st Judicial District, W. T., held October 11, 1865, for a Mass Meeting of the Citizens of Walla Walla County, to consider the propriety of having Walla Walla County attached to the State of Oregon, a number of citizens met at the Court House in the City of Walla Walla, on Wednesday, Oct. 18, 1865.

The meeting was organized by selecting L. Jay S. Turney, Esq., Chairman, and J. H. Blewett, Secretary.

On motion, the Chair appointed J. H. Lassater, A. Kyger and Drury Davis a committee to report resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting.

During the absence of the committee, the meeting was addressed by A. J. Cain, Esq., and Judge Mix, in favor of the movement.

The Committee reported as follows: The Committee on Resolutions respectfully report the following preamble and resolutions:

WHEREAS, The County of Walla Walla is separated from the other inhabited portion of the Territory of Washington by extensive tracts of barren and uninhabited country, and by the Columbia and Snake Rivers, which form a natural boundary line; and

WHEREAS, The boundary line between the County of Walla Walla and the State of Oregon is artificial and divides the fertile portions of the Walla Walla Valley between the State of Oregon and the Territory of Washington, and by offering facilities for the escape of offenders, encourages crime and renders life and property insecure; and

WHEREAS, By the neglect of officials appointed by the Federal Government, the execution of the laws is impeded, or wholly arrested and brought into contempt, and the people of this portion of the Territory compelled to resort to force to protect their lives and property; therefore,

Resolved, That we earnestly request the Senators and Representatives of the State of Oregon, and the Hon. A. A. Denny, Delegate to Congress from this Territory, to propose and to use all honorable means to induce the Congress of the United States to pass an act to annex the County of Walla Walla to the State of Oregon in accordance with the boundary of said State as originally proposed to the people of Oregon in their constitution and voted for by them on the adoption thereof.

Resolved, That we cordially and earnestly invite the people of the State of Oregon, through their legislature, soon to assemble to unite with us in this request, and to pass such laws as may be necessary to secure to us a speedy admission to said State.

Resolved, That the Governor of the State of Oregon be respectfully requested to transmit to the legislature of the State of Oregon, at its Special Session, in December, a copy of these resolutions.

Resolved, That we strongly censure Hon. J. E. Weche, Judge of this District, for failure to perform his official duties in this District.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. H. LASSATER, Chairman.
A. KYGER, J. H. BLEWETT, Committee.
DRURY DAVIS, Secretary.

A motion was made to adopt the report of the Committee, whereupon J. H. Blewett offered the following as a substitute for said report:

Resolved, That His Excellency, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, be petitioned to remove the Hon. J. E. Weche from his position as Judge of the First Judicial District, W. T., and appoint in his stead some competent jurist who resides or will reside in the District; and the Chair appointed a Committee to draft and circulate a petition among our fellow citizens in accordance herewith.

The substitute was tabled and the report of the Committee, after a discussion, by Mix, Cain, Langford and others, for, and Blewett against, was adopted.

On motion of J. H. Lassater, the Chair appointed A. J. Cain, A. L. Brown and H. P. Bland a Committee to draft and circulate two petitions, one to the Congress of the United States, and the other to the Legislature of the State of Oregon, requesting them to admit the County of Walla Walla into the State of Oregon.

On motion of W. G. Langford, the Secretary was instructed to furnish a copy of the proceedings of a meeting to the Walla Walla Statesman and the Oregonian for publication.

On motion, the meeting adjourned sine die.

L. JAY S. TURNEY, Chairman.
J. H. BLEWETT, Secretary.

SLEIGH STOCK.—W. G. Meyer, of Jackson County passed through Albany early in the week on his way to the State Fair, at Salem, with his splendid horse Coburg and six magnificent colts. Coburg stands about 17 1/2 hands, and weighs, when in good condition, 2,300 pounds. He has the body bone and muscle of the largest English draft horse, but is as almost clean-limbed as a racer. He is handsomely proportioned, has an exceedingly fine, glossy coat, and is gentle as a pet spaniel. The colts are all only a year old, but are large, very large for their age, and they have the movement and appearance of three-year-olds. One of them is certainly the finest colt of his age and class we have seen in Oregon, and we learn that on his way down Mr. Meyer sold him to a person in Roseburg for $500, to be delivered after his exhibition at the State Fair. Our stock raisers and farmers can see the colts and their sire at the Fair, and it will be pity if some of the readings are not retained in this county or Valley.—State Rights Democrat.

Reply to "Dry Creek."
San Francisco has had her earthquake, and though Dry Creek was never so dry it appears to be overflowing our valley, in the way of a correspondence through the STATESMAN. Whether or not the internal force of the brain of Dry Creek has a powerful effect upon the inhabitants of this valley as the earthquake did on San Francisco, is still a debatable question, the affirmation of which will probably be taken by Dry Creek in his next communication. He first says that he greatly prizes the privilege of selecting our officers who rule over us. He then argues that officers elected by the people, are harder to be removed than those appointed. If any inference can be drawn from this statement, it must be that appointed officers, on account of the ease with which they are removed, are preferable to elected ones. He then argues that a petition would remove Judge Weche, and therefore his above theory could be put in practice, and this would be a better remedy than an annexation to Oregon and the privilege of electing our Judge. From these arguments, it can be seen, that Dry Creek has abandoned the advocacy of the electoral privilege, and become the advocate of the appointment of officers. This Dry Creek is very crooked. What assurance has he that a Petition would remove Judge Weche? But if Weche is removed who will fill the vacancy? Will he be a man like Hewitt, Oliphant or Smith of Idaho? Such men are the appointments. Is this the remedy which the gentleman desires. From such remedies Good Lord deliver us. The Circuit Judges of Oregon are learned and honest, but to be in the Circuits of these Judges, Dry Creek thinks, would not be so good a remedy as to obtain some imported apples.

He says that our Probate Courts can, in this Territory, be invested with all the power of County Courts of Oregon. This scheme of the gentleman's has been tried, but every lawyer and Judge of the Territory is of opinion that no such power could be given the Probate Court. Very few cases were brought in the Probate Courts under the laws and the acts themselves were soon repealed. Dry Creek, in one breath argues that taxes are, in Oregon, so high that it would not be policy for us to be annexed; in the next breath he says that present taxes are no indication of what future taxes will be. He thus admits that his own argument is fallacious.

Finally, he appears to concede that all his former arguments are unfounded, by telling us that we should "disregard our local interest, which changes with the seasons" and look forward to the time when Oregon shall out herself in two, and give us her better half, and Idaho shall follow her magnanimous example. That we, by throwing off Puget Sound, shall from these fragments, form a State, of which Walla Walla shall be the "hub" and "metropolis."

This impliedly admits that our local interest is to be removed to Oregon.

But that any sane man should imagine the popularity of such an utopian scheme as the dismemberment of two Territories and one State, or should imagine that people of this valley are so senseless as to be imposed upon by such nonsensical arguments, is improbable.

The gentleman appears to fear that the annexation will have a deleterious effect upon our climate, the fertility of our soil, and our trade with the mines. This is certainly as reasonable as to believe we could become the "hub" of the universe thus treated to the gentleman's plan. The gentleman eloquently exclaims, "is there no balm in Gilead; no physician?" This he gets from the lamentations of Jeremiah; but probably indicates his own distress. We can inform the gentleman that there is "balm" in Dry Creek, which is nearer to him. Let him seek their shade, and there bathe his fevered head in the classic waters of that stream. Perhaps this may relieve you, Dear Sir, without the expense of a physician. In your communication, you speak of other thoughts, if that is all you require, the baths and shade will be sufficient, but if your affliction is chronic, no physician can "so minister to a mind diseased" as to save you. But if unfortunately you should die from your affliction, you will probably go to the metropolis Walla Walla, made according to your approved plan, where Dry Creek will ever run in pastures of delight.

Farewell, for the present, poor, weeping Jeremiah.

From Washington Territory.
By private letter from a friend at Olympia, we learn that considerable disgust is manifested at the folly of Mr. Mercer, who is reported on route to the Sound with 700 Yankee women from Massachusetts. The blacks themselves, of whom this man Mercer is among the most radical, are expressing their denunciation of the bores in a manly way, by misrepresentation and falsehood, induced such a large number of females to forsake their homes in the East and emigrate to a country totally unprepared to provide homes for them. Great suffering must certainly follow their advent, and what is to become of them, is a question not easily solved. When they are finally accepted, this fellow, Mercer, will have to leave there in a hurry, or we are mistaken in the revenge of women. Those who came out with him last year, heartily despise him, and freely accord him every name except that of a gentleman. The vessel they came in is not to touch anywhere short of Seattle, and the people there are dismayed to think what can be done with so many Yankee women. Gov. Pickens is said to be with them, on free passage around the Horn. They will doubtless get off the old man's Hudson Bay during the passage.

From the mills we learn that the Port Gamble Milling Company have employed 50 Kanakas, and the Freeport Mills 25 Chinamen, and discharged that number of white men, as "cheap labor" is now the rage. The Sound is full of idle and unemployed men, and the mills generally are reducing their white labor and getting in Chinamen Kanakas, as they say they can get them by purchase from their owners for $100 per year. They can be fed much cheaper than white laborers. We predicted this state of affairs some time ago, and told these lumbering men that just as soon as the mill owners dare make the change, they would discharge the greater share of the white men and import negroes. Chinamen and Kanakas to do the work. Now, these men begin to see, and realize the truth of our warnings when it is too late for them to help themselves. Mr. Denny, the abolition candidate, got very late out for Delegate at Port Gamble, and a large majority at Freeport, thus showing how easily these poor white laborers were deceived by their employers, when assured that the predictions made by us were "Copperhead lies."

Capt. Frank Henry, nephew and son-in-law of Dr. A. G. Henry, has been appointed Surveyor General, filling the vacancy occasioned by the Doctor's loss of the Brother Jonathan. Capt. Henry is a competent and worthy gentleman, and as long as the present party is in power, we hope to see him hold the place. His appointment has sickened the radicals over there, and President Johnson is more than ever distrusted by them. Garfield was an applicant for the office.—Democratic Review.

The Democratic Review, in an article upon the extra session of the Legislature, called by Gov. Gibbs, says of the probable objects of the session:

"The anti-slavery amendment to the Constitution of the United States will be passed. The repeal of the specific contract act will be mooted, and many days of weary debate, eventuating in nothing but a heavy bill of expense to the State, will grow out of it. There will, quite likely, by some effort to pass against of disfranchisement against emigrants, and unless there are enough members with wisdom sufficient to understand that the qualifications of voters are definitely settled in the Constitution, and with enough of regard for their oaths to refrain from breaking them, some new and unconstitutional law of that description will be made. We think it doubtful if the Legislature should seem here; but incline to the belief that a system of general legislation will be entered upon. New laws will likely be passed, and a multitude of amendments made to those of the last session; and thus a new set of public Acts will be ground out before the paper upon which the old set is to be printed has found its way 'across the isthmus.'"

Aside from the inextricable confusion that it may run into, and the utter uselessness of the session, it will be damaging to the interests of the State. The call is required by no emergency, and will only create new burdens upon an already overdrawn treasury, without any sort of consideration in return. What the interests of the Government are, are not stated, yet we presume, that foremost among them is the adoption of the Constitutional amendment, and yet why could this not be considered a regular session? There is no probability of this amendment being so far assented to as to become a law of the land, sooner than this. Thus, even if it be admitted that the amendment ought to become a law still, our extra session promises not to hasten that result. If our people favor it, it may be adopted at a regular session as well as now. If they do not favor it, it should not be adopted at all. The abolitionists fear that the Democrats will carry the State and therefore reject their pet measure, and fear—and a significant confession at that. The Assembly is called at this time because the Republican leaders are afraid that one of the same political complexion will be elected again in Oregon, after the next election; and this is the secret motive of the call. The last Legislature became notorious because of its profuse expenditure of the State treasury, and that was largely kept from being larger by an order to cease calling volunteers. And now it is proposed to lead us deeper into this intricate financial labyrinth. Will the people ever be satisfied to see their money, which they have voted away much more money, because there is none in the treasury; but it can add to the outstanding warrants and interest drawing bonds, an enormous bill of expense that will bring a little more sweat from the face of the taxpayer. It was hoped that another abolition legislature would never convene in Oregon—that this capricious and unwise measure, which almost amounts to a tax of $400,000 yearly, the bounty bill appropriation ($200,000 at least), the secret service fund appropriation, and the thousands squandered in providing for insane and indigent persons, would be burden enough for two years at least. "Pestilence, wars and famine have thus far spared us, but we have an enemy almost as fatal as these—in Legislation. Oregon is being literally legislated to death. There is no sort of excuse for this continual extravagance; it is downright robbery, and the people must vote it away. A few days ago there was not a cent in the State Treasury. The taxes due the State for the last year are required to be paid for various purposes, if we are not almost bankrupt by the 1st of December, and the 5th of that month is the opportune moment selected for convening the Assembly. The members will vote an appropriation for themselves about the first thing. The flushed condition in which the Treasury is then expected to be, will afford a wide field for the display of Black Republican statesmanship—'How long, Lord, how long?'"

Two Sides.—It will be seen by the call for an anti-annexation of Walla Walla County to Oregon meeting published in another column of to-day's paper, that "great men will differ on important questions."

The 'tis and the anti's seem, so far as we have observed, to be about equally divided, while there is a large crowd—like some of the dimmycrats that we of, who went over to the support of the Government Constitution or no Constitution—Union right or wrong national debt—national blessing—negro equality—and be disgraced—we don't care—a continental—so long as we are on the strongest side—party—who are apparently holding themselves in readiness to "throw up their hats and holler" for the side that they But, from the manner in which the question is being presented, we judge that the people of the county will all have an opportunity to speak out upon it at the ballot-box; and as there will probably be no objection raised to the annexation in Oregon, the people of the county, who are alone directly interested, will be left to decide the question for themselves.

THE NEW COMMANDER.—The dispatches this week announce the appointment of General Steele as Commander of the Department of the Columbia. From a sketch of his military antecedents, we gather that he is a graduate from the Military Academy of West Point and is, of course, an old army man who knows the duties of a Department Commander, understands his relations to the "body politic," and, in a word, comprehends "the ropes." We are glad to chronicle the coming to Vancouver of a regular army officer, and that an officer of some promise and reputation has been ordered out. The people here had enough of the mismanagement of weak and over-ambitious men who have heretofore held that position.

OUR TERRITORY COMES.—Generation after generation, says a writer, "have felt, as we now feel, and as their lives were as our own. They passed like a vapor, while nature was the same aspect of beauty as when her Creator commanded her to be. The world will have the attractions for our offspring yet unborn, that she had once for us as children. Yet a little while and all will have happened. The troubling heart will be stilled, and we shall be at rest. Our funeral shall find its way, and prayers will be said, and we shall be left alone in silence and darkness, for the worms. And it may be for a long time we shall be spoken of, but the things of life will creep, and our names will be forgotten. Days will continue to move on, and laughter and song will be heard in the room where we died; and the eyes that mourned for us will be dried, and gladden again with joy, and even our children will cease to think of us, and will not remember to lip our names."

Mr. Scott further writes: Helena is situated on the eastern slope of the mountains, just at the foot with a beautiful valley in front, extending to the Missouri river about twelve miles from here. This country is singularly situated. We are on the eastern side of the Missouri river, yet we have not crossed it. I am agreeably disappointed in this country; it far exceeds my expectations, both in the extent of the mines and in population. In relation to the mines I will only say that I am perfectly satisfied in every respect. Yet after another year we cannot compete with those bringing goods from the east, unless it should be as it has been this year, that the demand exceeds the means of transportation. Our goods are of a much better quality than those we find in this market.

Eastern News.

News of Oct. 9th.
New York, Oct. 9.—The Herald's Savannah correspondent says that the election in Georgia proceeded quietly. No military were near the polls, everything in connection with the election being conducted by civil officers. In a majority of counties only one ticket was run, and it is said that a good class of men have been selected for candidates. In the majority of the State general elections prevail. The people accept with fair amount of grace the new order of things, though somewhat complaining of negroes neglecting work; and say that in consequence, next year's crop will be a failure.

The universal good condition of the soldiers is the theme of general remark. A Washington special dispatch says: Reports are in circulation to the effect that the Cabinet has determined to stop all consideration to sustain the President in sending a fleet and some troops to San Domingo to stop the civil war now raging between the negroes in that beautiful island. The Hayes Government is represented here, and receives a representative from the insurgent chief also made his appearance. From the representations made by both President Johnson is satisfied that something ought to be done, but will shed no blood needlessly. The expedition will consist of four war steamers and ten transports with 5,000 troops.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—Returns from Iowa are meagre, but sufficient to show that the Union candidate for Governor.

Baltimore, Oct. 11.—At the City Council election today, a small vote was polled. There was no opposition all the candidates being Unionists. Only 7,500 votes were polled. The Richmond Republican official order in another column that efficient measures will be taken to prevent any interference by the military with the elections to-morrow. All troops will be removed from the vicinity of polling places. No officer or man will be permitted to approach them except in case of disturbances of the peace, which, absolutely necessary, a military force can be used to quell the same.

New York, Oct. 11.—A letter from Spangler, one of the parties connected with the assassination of Lincoln, dated Tortugas Island, Sept. 15th, says: Before God and all that is sacred, I am perfectly innocent of all the charges and specifications brought against me by the regular meeting of the Fenian smuggling. It is well known that combinations exist in several of the principal cities of the country for the purchase of arms from discharged soldiers, many of whom on leaving the service avail themselves of the privilege of purchasing their guns at greatly reduced prices.

New York, Oct. 12.—A Washington dispatch to the Express says that Gen. Grant has directed the Secretary of War to discharge at least 100 more general officers, Majors and Brigadier Generals, with their staffs, and has also advised the mustering out of nearly all the negro troops.

The Tribune's special dispatch, dated Columbia, Oct. 10th, states that the Fenian right-wing counts a Union majority of 24,000, and there are 70 to be heard from. These will increase this to 29,000, and with the soldiers' votes 30,000.—The Unionists have at least two-thirds of both Houses of the Legislature, insuring the selection of a Union Senator.

New York, Oct. 15.—The Herald's Raleigh correspondent says: The North Carolina Convention, among other labors, re-districted the State for Congressional representation. There are seven districts altogether as they now stand. The correspondent puts down the first, third, fourth and fifth as sure to elect unadulterated Union Representatives. The sixth and seventh are a little doubtful, though the Unionists are confident of being able to carry them. The second district is said to be strongly secessionist. It is believed that an uncompromising Union Legislature will be elected.

Nashville, Oct. 11.—The House of Representatives has adopted the following resolution that vote of sixty to four: That we endorse the administration of His Excellency, Hon. Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, and his declaration that treason shall be made odious and traitors punished.

Fortress Monroe, Oct. 12.—The Virginia election has passed off quietly, and Union candidates are probably elected to Congress in the first and second districts.

New York, Oct. 14.—The Herald's special dispatch says: The President is already diligently employing his leisure hours on his coming message. The Times special says: The President today issued four hundred pardons for persons residing in Louisiana, South Carolina and North Carolina.

San Francisco, Oct. 16.—Another earthquake was felt in this city at a quarter before 1 o'clock. A telegram from Santa Clara announces that it was felt there and was as heavy as the one on Monday forenoon.

Gen. McDowell has issued a general order to the officers commanding the District of Arizona and Southern California to suffer no armed parties or munitions of war to pass over the frontier into Mexico. Private letters received in San Francisco by the steamer Oregon contain news to the effect that the City of Mexico was inundated about the beginning of September, consequent upon the breaking of the canal aqueduct leading into the city by excessive rains. The loss is estimated at $20,000,000, the loss in one street alone reaching six millions.

New York, Oct. 13.—A general order, dated Oct. 9th, issued by Lieut. Gen. Grant, announces an important distribution of troops both regular and volunteer. All the volunteer cavalry east of the Mississippi river will be at once mustered out of the service. All sea coast forts south of Fortress Monroe, except forts Taylor and Jefferson, will be garrisoned by colored troops. The requisite number of regiments having been selected for the purpose, all other colored troops will be mustered out of service. The Third Regular Artillery will garrison the forts in Maine, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. The First Regular Artillery will garrison New York harbor.

The 4th Regiment of Artillery at Fort Delaware, Washington and Fort; the 5th Regular at Fortress Monroe, Taylor and Jefferson; the 2d Regular Artillery is assigned to the Pacific Coast; the 3d and 6th Cavalry is ordered to report to Sheridan; the 4th Regiment of Regular Infantry is ordered to report to Sheridan; the 4th Regiment of Regular Infantry is assigned to duty on the Canadian frontier.

Pittsburg, Oct. 13.—The Pittsburg (Pa.) News says the new House of Representatives will consist of 60 Republicans and 34 Democrats. It may possibly vary one or two from this but not more. Of the eleven senators elected, eight are Republicans and 3 are Democrats. The Legislature will stand Senate, 20 Republicans, 12 Democrats; House, 86 Republicans, 34 Democrats; joint ballot, 86 Republicans, 42 Democrats.

Atlanta, Oct. 13.—The Georgia Journal from North Carolina, says that the friends of the reports of cruelty to the colored people in that State are false. Advice from Richmond says that it is feared that two of the Congressmen, elected will not take the oath.

The Times special says the Secretary of the President's reconstruction policy to transfer the bonded warehouse system, so as to permit goods to be transferred from the Atlantic cities to the Pacific coast. The Herald says that a number of detectives from London arrived on the last steamer to this city with special instructions. It is understood they are to keep an eye on the Fenians and to find out the English Government from time to time of whatever facts may come to their knowledge in regard to them. One or more of these detectives, it is said, just for Chicago, where, it is believed, the Fenians are organized in greater strength than anywhere else in America, excepting New York City. The Herald also says that the Fenians have lately adopted a structure in their communications than formerly.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Maj. Gen. Thomas, of the military Division of Tennessee, arrived today. He says no black troops there are being disbanded, except when their term is up; and that all will be kept on the same terms and conditions as white troops.

The New Paper.—The new paper published at Salem, Oregon, by Messrs. Noltner, Hicks and Bellinger, is creditable in appearance, ably edited and sound in the Democratic faith. Those in this part of the country who desire to take a reliable and consistent Democratic journal, published in Oregon, should subscribe for the Review. It starts with a worthy circulation of 3500, and its success is very promising.

I'll Let You.
If a kiss be delightful, as tempting my lips,
That a thousand soft wishes best you, I vow by the stars that I'll let you, On certain conditions, 'I'll let you."
If you swear by my charms that you'll never betray And that no other woman shall get you, By the stars that roll 'round you submit of bliss, Perhaps, sir, perhaps sir, 'I'll let you."
If not urged by a passion as fleeting as wild, That makes all the virtues forget you,
But affections unshaken, soft, fervent and wild, You ask for a kiss, then 'I'll let you."

CASCADE WAGON ROAD.—By a letter received from Mr. L. Elkins, President of the Lebanon Cascade Road, we learn that the road is now open for wagons to the Des Chutes river. From thence the country is open, and wagons can go to Canyon City, and to Boise and Owyhee mines. Captain Lafollette, with his detachment of men, experienced considerable bad weather while in the mountains, but they succeeded in getting through all right. The two horse teams used for transporting the Company's stores hauled 4,400 pounds, and the four horse teams 2,200 pounds, with but little difficulty considering the bad weather. Captain Lafollette has selected for establishing his winter quarters, a site on Benton Creek, a short distance from where it empties into Des Chutes, on the west side of the river. The situation is described as being an excellent one, being in a beautiful valley, near the road, where the troops can give ample protection to immigrants and settlers. The distance from Capt. Lafollette's encampment to the Warm Spring Reservation is forty-five miles, and to the Dallas one hundred and twenty miles.—Albany Journal.

WANT TO BE ANNEXED.—The people of Walla Walla seem just now to be in quite an unpleasant dilemma. They have no district Court, owing to the absence of Judge Wyche; and a large amount of legal business is awaiting attention. Again, the people of Walla Walla think that their town and county fail to receive due consideration at the hands of the legislature over on the Sound. There has always been considerable animosity between these two sections of Washington Territory. A writer in the Walla Walla Statesman proposes that things which have so long been going awry in that country be righted by annexing the remaining part of Walla Walla valley,—including of course, the town—to Oregon. There seems to be considerable feeling upon this subject in Walla Walla. That the change would be a convenient one for that county, hardly demands a doubt. We do not think the people of Oregon would interpose any objections in the way of "annexation." If Walla Walla wants to join us, Oregon, we opine, is agreed. Congress will have to be consulted in the matter, and the consent of that body gained the remainder of the plan can be easily accomplished. If Walla Walla wants to come, let her put her affairs in proper shape and come along.—Oregonian.

TROOPS FOR COLVILLE.—A company of the "irrepressible States troops," lately arrived from the East, left Fort Vancouver last week to relieve the garrison at the Dalles. The latter go to Colville via White Bluffs and the Haynes's Ferry route.—Id.

You say, Mrs. Jones, you have lived with the defendant for eight years. Does the Court understand from that that you are married to him? "In course it does." "Have you a marriage certificate?" "Yes, your honor, three on 'em—two gals and a boy."

Dr. Johnson used to say that a habit of looking at the best side of everything is better than a thousand pounds a year. Bishop Hall quaintly remarks: "For every bad there might be a worse; and when a man breaks his leg let him be thankful it was not his neck."

A MAN recently broke off a marriage engagement because the lady did not possess good conversational powers. A wag commenting on the fact says: "He should have married her, and then refused her a new bonnet to have developed her powers of talk."

The Princess Metetrich and some of her gay friends went to a restaurant, a short distance out of Paris, and had such a noisy spree that a crowd collected under the windows and booted the party. To appease the rabble the Princess went out on the balcony and sang a comic song.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM.
The Remedy for Curing Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, CHROUP, Disease of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pain and Oppression of the Chest, Lungs, Difficult Breathing, and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERNATIVE, LAXATIVE, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectation, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGING SECRETIONS and PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that IT IS WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED TO GIVE ENTIRE SATISFACTION EVEN IN THE MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT TO produce costiveness (which in the case with most remedies or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.
