LOCAL ITEMS.

JUDGE THOMPSON has returned from Pendleton, where he has been attending court.

CAPT. COOK leaves to-morrow for Vancouver, in charge of military prisoners.

H. M. SHAW, living near Pendleton, has been made the happy father of twins.

MR. FRAZER, of Milton, has lost two children this week of diphtheria.

ALDER STREET is becoming a business street very rapidly. It has about a dozen business houses, and more are being built.

H. W. WHITE, F. L. Porter, F. M. McDonald, and F. J. Morris, of Weston, are stopping at the St. Louis.

MR. C. W. WHEELER, republican candidate for school superintendent, gave us a very pleasant call to-day.

The Dayton Woolen Mills are running on full time. They have $25,000 worth of blankets on hand.

DRUNKS.—Two cases of drunks to-day. Morris and Wyman held a picnic, and paid Justice Laman $5 for their fun.

J. H. TAM, of Dayton, is down on a little trip. He intends to take charge of the dining room of the new hotel at that place.

Hos. Geo. STEEL has returned from a trip to Lewiston, Dayton and other towns, where he has been attending to business for the Postal Department.

When a woman stubs her toe, she looks serene, tries to smile, and whispers to herself, "Go!" But when a man stubs his, he simply says "—!" and the thing "out loud, and passes on."

MR. TROS. PAGE has returned from his farm near Lewiston, where he has been to look after his large band of stock. He says the country is filling up rapidly, and every one seems to be getting rich.

FARMERS, as a rule, are too modest and unassuming in the assertion of their rights. It is unwise and impolitic to let a few "talking" men govern whole communities. They should bear this in mind next Tuesday.

The Postoffice Department has ruled that a husband has no control over the correspondence of his wife. But this decision will not prevent a man from carrying his wife's letter around in his inside pocket three weeks before mailing it.

ARM AMPUTATED.—As we are going to press we learn that W. P. EYERS, whose accident is noted in another column, has had his arm amputated above the elbow. We are sorry to hear of his misfortune.

BE CAREFUL.—The corner of Second street, where the new building of Paine Brock, is being erected, is very dangerous walking after night. Persons should take the opposite of the street, and thus avoid giving the doctors a job.

CHAMPIONSHIP.—Walla Walla takes the place at the head of the class on having the champion thief of the coast. A man was arrested yesterday for stealing two grand lutes from in front of Hawley, Dadd & Co's store. He was fined $25 and costs, $49 and will work it out on the streets.

MR. E. WELSH'S family, of Pendleton, seems to be particularly out of luck lately. His daughter, Grace, recently broke her arm, and had the misfortune to re-break it on Monday, and his youngest son was kicked and badly hurt, on Wednesday.

NOTICE.—For the information of parties who intend to make proposals for furnishing the military supplies for this post, as advertised by the order of the commanding officer of the department, I have the honor to state that circulars, blank proposals and bonds can be obtained on application to W. H. Miller, 2d Lieutenant and Quartermaster 1st Cavalry.

THE Y. E. SOCIAL last night was very well attended, and everyone enjoyed themselves. It was very select, hence there was about the right number of couples to have a pleasant time. We intended to publish a description of the ladies' ballets, but were too late to give them in full. They will probably appear in Monday's paper.

JOHN DAVENPORT, son, and daughter passed through town to-day. They reside in Colfax, and have been on a trip to the East. They think our country is not advertised enough, as they hardly found any one who had the least idea of our valley and its resources. He says he could not even get a paper from Walla Walla, the first he saw being at Baker City. The matter should be inquired into, and if we will pay our citizens to send our home papers to their friends in the East.

FALL RACES will take place over the Lewiston course on the 14th, 15th and 16th of November.

The spire of the Baptist church at Pendleton, just erected, is 86 feet high.

MR. SEARIGHT intends to purchase 12,000 or 15,000 head of cattle in this valley and drive them East in the spring.

JUDGE BOWMAN, of Utah, who sentenced the Mountain Meadows murderer, John D. Lee, is visiting the Sound.

THE STINE HOUSE has had a stage time bulletin board erected, which looks very fine. The painting alone cost $25.

TO-MORROW is election day, hence the saloons will all be closed. All who expect to be thirsty had better buy a bottle.

MR. JOHN BRIDGES is refitting his saloon and building an addition to it. He has also added another billiard table and a private card room.

ON the 23d inst. a little daughter of J. W. Johns, near the Dalles, while eating an apple, got a piece in her throat and was strangled to death.

ATTENTION HOME GUARDS.—The regular monthly meeting of the Home Guards is postponed till Wednesday on account of the regular meeting falling on election day.

THE Ladies Unity Association and Aid Society will meet with Mrs. O. P. Lacy, Third and Poplar streets, on Wednesday afternoon from two to four.

MR. CONLAN'S new building is nearly completed. Part of the lower story is to be occupied by Mr. Sam Lesser, who will open with a new stock of goods.

DR. BOYD after several days of illness is to-day much better, and in a day or two will be attending to his Professional duties, which fact may will be pleased to hear.

REV. MR. GALVIN'S lecture on "The urgent demand for Graded Schools in this city," was well attended, and was one of the most interesting we have had the pleasure of listening to for years. It came in too late for publication, and will appear in to-morrow's daily.

MR. HAINES, who was under arrest to answer at the present term of court in Union county for the crime of murder for killing one of the Nez Percé scouts last summer, was fully acquitted by the grand jury.

Pendleton Correspondence.

PENDLETON, October 31, 1878. EDITOR STATESMAN.—In the case of Lewis Smith, who was on trial yesterday for stealing a horse, the jury brought in a verdict of guilty after being out a short time.

LAWRENCE LSEY, who was found guilty of larceny at a former term of the court, and broke jail and made his escape along with "Cayuse" Reynolds before sentence was passed upon him, having been caught a short time ago, was brought into court to-day and sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary.

The grand jury brought in an indictment against Dennis Brassfield charging him with manslaughter in the killing of John Knott at Unmatta Landing, last August. He is quite a young man, and it appears that he was hearing his father and he interferred to protect his father and killed Knott.

In the case of Capt. E. W. Baughman, for the killing of Patrick Whelan, the grand jury have indicted him for murder in the second degree. He was bound over to the grand jury. Nearly all of the officers who were on the boat at the time of the homicide here are witnesses for the prosecution. As to who is at fault for this I am unable to say. It appears that at the time of the examination at the Dalles, some of the witnesses for the state after they had been examined went out to get supper and they have not yet returned, hence they are not under bonds to appear at this term of the court.

The case of J. W. Boman vs. Unmatta county was dismissed on motion of the defendant. From this case a good lesson can be learned in law. The chairman of the board of commissioners out of term time and without the order of the board contracted with Bowman to build a bridge. This was afterwards accepted by the board and an order drawn on the treasurer for the sum they allowed. Bowman thought this was not enough and brought suit. Judge McArthur held that the action could not be maintained and Bowman was not entitled to receive anything from the county. That there was no contract made by the board for the building of the bridge, and that none could be implied from the work being done with material furnished or from the board accepting the work. That all work of this kind must be done by letting the same to the lowest bidder at public auction. That the word may let contract must be construed as meaning must let at auction to the lowest bidder, etc.

The case of J. C. Disoway and S. L. Morse vs. John Morrissey is now on trial. The defendant in this case has gone "to the Indian country from whose lowly no traveler returns virtuous and low rich." He has left his attorneys without a client and your reporter without a subject to prosecute. This is the same man who was charged with stealing a band of sheep, and was turned loose in Walla Walla by Judge Wingard about a month ago.

MR. BYERS, the miller, who is well known in Walla Walla, and has many friends there, has just met with a serious accident. He was cleaning a burr in the mill and got his hand caught in the burr some way. The hand and part of the arm below the elbow was crushed, and the doctors say that it will have to be amputated a little below the shoulder. Mail is about to go and I must close. More to-morrow.

PENDLETON, November 2d, 1878. EDITOR STATESMAN.—Court is still in session and times lively. Every one is anxious to know what is to be done with the Indians. The general feeling is "Hang them all," but as truth comes to the front, they begin to cheer much sympathetically and the miserable white people in this locality, who have nothing at stake and who are guilty of robbing and killing Indians at every opportunity, are being put in the right light. Lieut. Farrow, a young officer of Col. Miles' command and who has been very diligent in the interests of justice, was before the grand jury to-day. This officer can tell all about the murder of Hecche Jim and even point out the murderers, whom the people up to this time have actually tried to shield. Lieut. Farrow went in pursuit of the murderers directly after the Indian was killed. He traveled for days and nights, meeting lies and hindrance from everybody met. He finally threatened to hang one man and even went so far as to detail soldiers for the purpose. This course taken by Lieut. Farrow has put his subject to such an extent that he confessed what he knew about the matter. The Lieutenant did not stop there, but kept up his search and efforts until he found out all. A few officers like Miles, Jackson and Farrow, can soon set things right here. They fear no threats, do their duty well and are always ready for any emergency. There are many who hate these officers, but the good people love them. Miles and Farrow were here on July 13th, when disaster stood up in the face and when they showed what stuff is in them. The people as a class are now waking up to the situation and as the right must prevail all will soon be quiet with us again. Several cases of minor importance were noticed to-day. The Indian cases will come up to-morrow. I will let you know the result as we are anxious to hear.

Yours truly, C. A. L.

A NEW DAILY.—Mr. Fred Reed has placed on the table a copy of No. 1, Vol. 1, of the Walla Walla DAILY STATESMAN, printed the 8th inst., this being the pioneer daily newspaper enterprise of Eastern Washington. It is a lively sheet, neatly printed, well edited, and replete with interest, especially to us of the East, whose knowledge of the region where it is issued is somewhat limited. The advertisements, of which there is a very large number, bear testimony to the activity and prosperity of the little city. The announcements of four breweries exhibit the progress of civilization there. Nearly all the varieties of business are represented, that of hardware and agricultural implements being particularly prominent, for the Walla Walla Valley is coming into recognition as the finest farming country in America. A Washington letter appears in the Statesman and dispatches are promised, but at the date of this issue, the wires were down. The weekly Statesman has achieved considerable prominence along the Pacific Coast, and the daily appearance of the paper will doubtless be gladly hailed in that section.—Toledo Blade.

MR. HOPPER, our enterprising Deputy Marshal, who devotes so much of his time to hunting crows, has at last attempted to make an arrest. He was wandering around hunting for a sleeping drunk, when he discovered a couple of chickens fighting. It instantly occurred to him that the dignity of the city government, the Deputy Marshal's particularly, must be maintained, even at the risk of life. So he skinned around a while, till he discovered that they were not looking, when he bravely advanced in the rear and gave them a kick, much to the disgust of some small boys, who took an active interest in the fight. We apologize to Mr. Hopper, henceforth we will not doubt his courage,—when chickens are fighting, but he takes good care of himself at any other time.

THE URGENT DEMAND FOR GRADED PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN THIS CITY.

Lecture delivered by E. J. Galvin in Unity church, last Sunday evening.

In calling your attention once more to the subject of the public schools of this city I do so with a deeper interest than before. The harvest is past, the summer ended, but we have not yet taken active measures to adopt a better school system than that which has obtained for many years and been found wanting. But I do not think that we ought to yield to any discouragement. On the contrary, it is my honest conviction that the cause of graded schools has gained in favor during the past six months, and that our people are more united than ever before in their desires to secure thorough educational advantages for their children.

It surely need no lengthy arguments now to prove to you the utter inadequacy of the present system of district schools. I do not hesitate to say, friends, that every added term which your boys and girls of over ten or twelve years of age spend in these mixed, ungraded schools is just so much precious time taken out of their proper educational drill. It only tends to diminish their interest in study and their powers of mental application. As matters stand now there is no proper standard to work up to; no established criterion of intellectual progress.

Under the district system, incentives are wanting to secure either constancy or punctuality in the scholars' attendance at school. Not a few of them who enter at the beginning of a term drop off entirely or are sent to some private school before the term is half finished. Other pupils come straggling in at intervals all through the quarter. Now, what I ask you, is the natural effect of such irregularities upon a school? It is thoroughly demoralizing, not to say demoralizing. It is disheartening to teachers and an effectual stumbling-block in the way of every pupil who is disposed to punctuality and industry.

In the second place there are no strong incentives to study under the present system. The reasons for this are obvious. The classes are of necessity to numerous, and hence the teacher cannot devote but a very small portion of time to each one. As a consequence of this the pupils can neither go over much ground in any branch of study nor can they be as thorough as they ought to be, and might be under a graded system. 2d. Even in the same class the scholars, as a rule, have not the same qualifications for learning. Some are far in advance of others, hence their progress is very materially hindered by the slower pupils.

To keep a smart lad skirmishing among fractions, when he might be in the front rank attacking cube root, or to require a bright, active-minded boy to tarry among the simplest as well as some nearly through the book and had before her mind's eye every country of the world is a very serious check to each.

When you see into what small fragments the teacher's time for hearing recitations is broken, do you wonder that they have no better results to show for their labor? As well might you expect to witness great speed in a sack-race, as to find thorough scholarship produced under such great disadvantages.

We look about us in our city to-day and what do we find? Between one and two hundred youths whose mental advancement from this day is effectually barred in our public schools, because there are no ways and means of carrying them forward into higher branches of study. Scores of parents are anxiously concerned about their children's education, and are saying: "What shall we do to secure better schools?"

There is no doubt as to what that remedy is. It is in the power of our citizens to provide that remedy to-morrow. Again I would urge you to unite all your efforts to secure a graded grammar school system. There is no other sound basis upon which to build up the educational interests of this growing city.

It seems to me that every citizen who has the welfare and prosperity of our city at heart, might as well as to set aside all party feelings and look at this subject in its broadest light. Every thing depends upon our harmonious and united action. This alone can secure success. Why should we recognize any sectional interests, or any boundary lines in this matter? The demand for higher education is felt throughout this city and in all the surrounding country. The time has come, it seems to me, friends, when the district system should be abolished. To still retain the two separate and distinct districts and yet undertake to establish graded grammar schools in each one is open to strong objections. In the first place it would involve a much larger expenditure of money, and in the second place it would not prove efficient and satisfactory. Such a plan would necessitate the erection of two new school-houses instead of one, and hence the employment of a double corps of teachers. But a still greater objection than that of the increased expense of maintaining such schools, is that there would be no bond of union between the two districts. Each one would pursue an independent course and one which might be quite the opposite of the other. Thus, instead of awakening a generous spirit of emulation in the different schools in a fair, open field under a common government, and in the same list of studies, it would probably awaken jealousy and discontent.

Rather let us seek to combine all our interests and all our efforts to inaugurate a high standard of public schools in our city. Let there be one board of school directors chosen, who shall have in charge all the public schools without regard to their location, and who shall feel as deep an interest in the welfare and progress of the youth of one section of the city as in that of any other section. And here let me say that neither political nor sectarian prejudices should be allowed to have influence in the choice of such a committee. Choose men, or men and women, too, I believe there are women who are eminently fitted to serve this cause well, who are deeply interested in the subject of education, and are qualified to carry out the most judicious plans for thorough instruction.

It seems to me that the glorious opportunity is now offered to us (if only our people are disposed to improve it), to make this city the educational centre not only of Eastern Washington, but of all the adjacent country in Oregon and Idaho. For many years to come our city will doubtless be the great business centre of this wide section, and it only needs a wise and generous public spirit to make

He was wandering around hunting for a sleeping drunk, when he discovered a couple of chickens fighting. It instantly occurred to him that the dignity of the city government, the Deputy Marshal's particularly, must be maintained, even at the risk of life. So he skinned around a while, till he discovered that they were not looking, when he bravely advanced in the rear and gave them a kick, much to the disgust of some small boys, who took an active interest in the fight. We apologize to Mr. Hopper, henceforth we will not doubt his courage,—when chickens are fighting, but he takes good care of himself at any other time.

THE URGENT DEMAND FOR GRADED PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN THIS CITY.

Lecture delivered by E. J. Galvin in Unity church, last Sunday evening.

In calling your attention once more to the subject of the public schools of this city I do so with a deeper interest than before. The harvest is past,

"Why does lightning so rarely strike twice in the same place?" Prof. Wortman asked the new boy in the class in natural philosophy.

A MRS. BLACK was thrown from a coach in Idaho, breaking her arm. She sues the stage company for $300,000.

An item is going for the roads to the effect that according to a recent decision of the pension department, soldiers who served in the rebellion for nine months, and who at the close of the first enlistment entered the army for a period of three years and received not over $300 bounty money, are now entitled to an additional hundred dollars.

There is a section of country lying north of Pendleton averaging eight to ten miles wide and reaching to the Columbia river, which has always been considered good for nothing but stock ranges. This was taken up last spring.

The New York Sun says: Money invested in the republican party this fall will be a dead loss. No human power can prevent a crushing defeat, from which there can be no resurrection.

A BAD REVELATION.—Some of the bodies of the drowned in the Princess Alice disaster were taken from the water, robbed and thrown back again, and in more than one case drowning passengers were passed by the boatmen with the remark: "Oh, never mind him, he's alive; look out for the dead ones."

LOS ANGELES Herald.—We have been reliably informed that orders have been issued to commence forwarding steel rails to Arizona, for the extension of the Southern Pacific in that territory at once, and that the first installment may be expected to pass through this city by next week.

THE VANDERBILT WILL CASE.—The progress of the Vanderbilt will case in New York is bringing to light many incidents which might as well perhaps have remained in obscurity.

THE YELLOW FEVER has been very fatal among the few soldiers and their wives and children stationed at Jackson Barracks, New Orleans. The 13th Infantry was ordered away at the breaking out of the epidemic, with the exception of a few left in charge of government property.

IT SEEMS THAT the Indians who surrendered at Camp McDermott, Nevada, upon learning that they were to be taken to Camp Harney, became very much alarmed.

THE GREAT CURSE.—"No man will ever prosper who has the curse of a ruined woman upon him. The murderer of the body can be tried and executed by the world's laws, but the murderer of the soul is tried by heaven's law, and the execution is as sure as divine justice."

MAN AND WOMAN.—Marrying a man to reform him is like being measured for an umbrella. It may or it may not be satisfactory; but you might as well try to make a politician honest as to talk to a woman who loves a man.

A BOY'S PARABLE.—Once there was a noble. He had a pair of timber legs with heels at the end of them. Mule thought his master did not give him enough corn to eat.

Election Returns.

The county has gone republican. Mr. Jas. B. Thompson is elected on the democratic ticket, also D. J. Storm.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.—South Walla Walla Precinct—Delegate to Congress, Thos. H. Brents, 214; Prosecuting Attorney, R. F. Sturdevant, 187; Brigadier General, John H. Smith, 240; Adjutant General, A. O'Dell, Adjutant General, 167; George Hunter, Brigadier General, 151; Bond Murphy, Commissary General, 162; D. H. Lang, Quartermaster General, 169; G. Langford, Procuring Attorney, 205; J. D. Mix, Concomline, 150; Representatives—D. J. Storm, 204; J. H. Laster, 151; Wm. Martin, 154; W. T. Barnes, 155; James B. Thompson, Sheriff, 235; Duncan McMillan, Auditor, 129; Fred. Stone, Treasurer, 132; R. Guichard, Probate Judge, 210; Samuel Jacobs, Assessor, 210; County Commissioners, J. Braden, 152; A. Maston, 191; John Poulson, 162; School Superintendent, L. K. Grim, 167; Coroner, J. D. McFarley, 151; Justices of the Peace—O. P. Lacy, 102; E. B. Whitman, 184; Constable, John Bryant, 101.

The following election returns are given in full for North and South Walla Walla, Dry Creek, Wallula, Wainwright, Moll Creek and Miller. The total of the Republican and Democratic tickets are yet to be heard from.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.—Caton, 345; Hunter, 322; Langford, 301; Mix, 416; Storm, 74; Martin, 465; Laster, 418; Barnes, 519; Thompson, 609; McMillan, 324; Stone, 436; Jacobs, 548; Braden, 429; Masterson, 622; Poulson, 528; Grim, 425.

REPUBLICAN TICKETS.—Brents, 662; Sturdevant, 288; Smith, 291; Dr. J. H. Day, 644; Taylor, 613; Colt, 573; Dewar, 549; Crawford, 621; Pantor, 639; Boyer, 629; Ward, 662; Cummings, 562; Irwin, 539; S. C. Day, 413; Wheeler, 637.

We are unable as yet to give full returns of the election, as Dayton and some of the other northern counties have not sent in their official returns. But we shall lay the full result before the public as soon as possible.

The total vote of Colfax precinct is 463. Up to 4:45 yesterday morning Brents had 60 majority; Sturdevant, 39; Montgomery, 29; constitution, 150; Representative Perkins, 114; 100 votes to count, which may increase the above about 10 or 15 votes. No new names or other precinct. The gain on the vote for delegate is 20, as compared with 1876 as far as counted.

The following are the sound majorities for Brents, as far as heard from: Election '77: Kitson 60; Jefferson, about 100; King 200. WHITMAN county, so far as heard from, gives Brents sixty-four majority, and Charles Mont Soney fifty.

A private letter letter to Mr. Brents from Dayton says he is 25 ahead, with eight precincts to hear from. Judge Sturdevant is over 100 ahead.

A TIMELY EXPOSURE.—Diaries are sometimes, like letters, in their exposures. Some subjects are dangerous in their exposures. This truth has just been learned by a young man in St. Louis. He kept a diary. Now this diary had to be produced as evidence in a lawsuit to which the young man happened to be a party.

SEMP ASSURED.—There is a candidate for congress in Missouri named Col. John T. Crisp, who has a sublime inference to charges made against his reputation. Said he, in a speech recently made, which is reported by the Cass county Courier: "What difference can it make to the people whether I, as a candidate for congress, have been a bond thief or a railroad swindler, or whether I have been a speculator in the city? The plans for the new house are being destroyed by the gentleman, who is an ancient squire, and who has peculiar ideas as to what is requisite for a first-class house."

The boy that gathers up his fishing tackle and carries it to the boat as the sun is sinking in the west knows that his mother stands watching and waiting for him at the garden gate, and the knowledge that the kindling wood remains uncut is such a source of weakness to him that to march along and whiffle "What is home without a mother?" is an utter impossibility.

A decree was issued at Berlin on the 1st prohibiting numbers of socialist pamphlets in addition to those previously prohibited. In the execution of the decree, the police were obliged to make 25 domiciliary visits.

Two masked men stopped the stage at Merry's creek, Texas, on the 1st, and while plundering the sacks were fired upon by freights. They escaped on one horse with three registered packages.

Chief Kirkpatrick of the San Francisco police, will be tried for permitting J. C. Duncan and K. L. LeWane to escape, and for not changing the officers regularly on duty in the Chinese quarters.

A Confederate monument was unveiled at Augusta, Ga., on the 31st ult. The star spangled banner and Confederate flag were blended, fringed with olive, surmounted by the watchword "Peace."

Our Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, October 24th, 1878.

EDITOR STATESMAN.—This is now apparent, all over the country, an effort of a class of republicans to "talk up" Senator Conkling as the radical candidate for president in 1880.

There will be waged with great unanimity by southern members of congress, at the next session, a plan for the improvement of the Mississippi river and a guarantee by the government of the interest on a limited amount of the bonds of Col. Tom Scott's Texas and Pacific railway company.

It is said that Hon. Matt. Carpenter and Gen. Ben Ogler have more lucrative practice than any other men before the supreme court of the United States and the local court here.

ONLY $2,757,700.—The Manhattan Savings Bank of New York was robbed Sunday night of $2,757,700. The directors seem to have done all they could to make the robbery safe. They entrusted the keys to the safe and the combination to the janitor, whose duties about the establishment are pretty well understood.

THE REPUBLICS OF SOUTH AMERICA the rule has been to get rid of their Presidents if possible, before they served a full term of office. Venezuela seems to be an exception.

SHERMAN ON SILVER.—The Times' Washington special says it is authoritative that Sherman will, in his next annual report, recommend the limitation of the coinage of silver dollars.

A NEW USE FOR MIRRORS.—An engineer on the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, who runs a locomotive between Troy and New York, has introduced a new feature by placing looking-glasses outside on the engine, at an angle from the cab.

A GREAT ESTATE.—To illustrate the grand scale on which some of the English estates are held out, I may mention that the Chatsworth estate of the duke of Devonshire contains two thousand acres which he retains for his private park and flower garden.

ME. STEPHENS has many stories to tell of negroes, and one of a famous cotton and chicken depredator who since the war met the ex-vice president in the road.

Low Passports.—Freights have reached the unprecedented low rate of $1 1/2 per ton from San Francisco to Liverpool.

BY TELEGRAPH.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE STATESMAN—PER G. S. S. COMPANY'S TELEGRAPH.

The Elections in the East. CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 7.—Returns from 215 towns give the votes for Democratic, republican, 37,058; McKean, democrat, 29,822; Brown, greenbacker, 6182. There are nineteen towns to be heard from.

HARTFORD, Ct., Nov. 7.—The vote of the state for governor is as follows: Andrews, republican, 48,617; Hubbard, democrat, 46,196; Atwater, greenbacker, 8375; Baldwin, prohibition, 1163.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—It is estimated that the republicans will have forty majority in the legislature on joint ballot.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Illinois delegation in congress will stand with a republican gain of two, and possibly three. The state legislature will, according to latest figures and estimates, stand as follows: Senate, 16 republicans; 23 opposition; house, 81 republicans, 72 opposition. The total city vote is 45,500.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., November 7.—The democrats have the entire congressional delegation save one. Marks, democrat, candidate for governor, received more votes than both of his opponents.

CHALLENGER, Nov. 6.—The congressional delegation from this state is solidly democratic. Every county in the state has gone democratic except one, and only three republican members are so far known to be elected to the legislature.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7.—Galveston returns show an almost universal majority for the democratic state ticket.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 7.—There seems no doubt now that the congressional delegation in this state will stand six democrats to two republicans.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—A dispatch just received from Virginia City says Daggett, republican, is elected to congress. He is sure of five or six hundred majority.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The following are the estimates on completion of returns: Democrats, 156; republicans, 131; independents, 2.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Vancouver precinct gives Caton 23 majority. Constitution gives 83 majority. Skegier City gives Brents 49 majority, for constitution 27 majority.

A COMEST DELUSION.—Putting on style and keeping up appearances is one of the easiest things in the world. There is an ingenious Constocker who, whenever he goes down to San Francisco, stuffs his valise with empty champagne bottles.

EAST AND WEST.—Our people should beware of stars that they live in a country so favored as ours, for good crops, good markets and a healthful climate.

American Progress.

The universal eminence which America is gaining over other nations of the world is no longer a question of speculation among statesmen and statisticians.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The Illinois delegation in congress will stand with a republican gain of two, and possibly three. The state legislature will, according to latest figures and estimates, stand as follows: Senate, 16 republicans; 23 opposition; house, 81 republicans, 72 opposition.

The Telegraph announces the death in Paris, of Lewis Baker, who shot Bill Poole, a noted pugilist and ward politician of New York, in 1855.

The Astoria says vessels of a greater draught than 16 feet cannot reach Portland until high water, which makes it bad for the Oregon grain fleet.

GOING TO PORTLAND.—It is rumored that E. S. McGonias is to retire from the editorial and business management of the Union Statesman and go to Portland to take entire charge of the St. Charles Hotel.

The whole of the money question is contained in Col. Bob Ingersoll's two questions: "If this government has the power to make money, why should it collect taxes from us? Why don't they make it and let us alone?"

A SAN FRANCISCO paper says that the convicts in the state prison have contrived means to the relief of the yellow fever sufferers than the state officers at Sacramento, the news boys more than the railway officers and the theatres more than the churches.

A WISCONSIN man asserts that New England farmers can pack a barrel of apples so as to leave the quantity short half a bushel, and yet, if they get a western cheese with an old hat in the centre, their rage knows no bounds.

DISAGREEMENT DOCTORS.—Two physicians in Ohio are quarrelling in print as to their skill. They accuse each other of killing patients, and give the names of the alleged victims, with criticisms of the treatment and other information of a highly interesting nature to relatives of the deceased persons.

Who says editors are not temperate? A lady with the editorial excursion was attacked with cholera morbus, and some whiskey was wanted, and in all that crowd of editors there was not a drop. The fasks were all empty and a lawyer had to furnish the beverage.

THE Astorian says: "The United States revenue cutter Thomas Corwin returned yesterday from a search after the codfish bank, said to exist off the coast of Oregon. The codfish were not found, but an excellent variety of large, fine, fat halibut and other fine tribes of the deep were found."

INVESTIGATING.—J. B. Montgomery, Esq., and Mr. Chipman paid our city a visit on Thursday and left this morning for Colfax. These men are examining the country and collecting such information as will enable them to convince men of capital that investment in this section to provide means of cheap transportation will be remunerative. They both expressed themselves surprised to find so vast a wheat country.—Teller.

They were playing at cards, when all of a sudden the game was interrupted. Many words passed and the players roared: "See here, you're holding altogether too many aces." "What do you say, sir?" "I say you are a swindler. I will call you to account for this unpardonable insult." "I am at your service at any time." "Here is my card." (Throw down, by mistake, another ace which she draws from his pocket.)

The importations of coffee into the United States from the two years ending June 30, 1878, as compared with those of the two years 1875 and 1874, were 53,000,000 pounds larger, and those of tea were 3,000,000 larger. This increased demand for luxuries doesn't seem to indicate that "the times" are growing harder, but rather the contrary.

The Jewish population of New York city is 80,000. The rich are very rich and the poor are very poor. A large part of the population is German and Polish. Religiously there is an orthodox and a reformed element. The smallest lawyer in New York physically and one of the largest mentally is a Jew. The Seligmans, Bernheimers, Harts and Hendricks are enormously rich. Belmont is worth $8,000,000, but has departed from the faith of Judah. His real name is August Schenberg. Jewish wealth in New York is estimated at $150,000,000.

GOOD NEWS.—The long-desired and earnestly prayed for decline in the yellow fever epidemic is at last reported from the South. God knows the scourge has existed long enough—the South has had its full share of affliction—desolation and death have reigned supreme there for months, and if at last a single spark of hope illumines their sky, the whole people have good cause for rejoicing. May no part of this country ever be so afflicted again, and may the dreadful disease very soon be completely subdued.

PHILOSOPHY.—A newly married man, evidently needs discipline, thus discourses: "A woman is a handy thing to have about the house. She does not cost any more to keep than you'll give her, and she'll take a great interest in you. If you go out at night she'll be awake when you get home, and she'll tell you all about yourself and more too. Of course she'll tell you where you've been, and what kept you out so late, and she will tell you; yet, right after she gets through telling you have been and what kept you out so late, and after you tell her you won't believe you men! I mind that, and if after going to bed she says she hasn't closed her eyes the whole night and then keeps up the mattress two hours longer and won't go to sleep, when she has a chance, you musn't mind that either; it's her nature."

FATAL AFFRAY.—We are informed that last week a fatal affray occurred at Forest City, resulting in the death of P. Streeter, long known in Lewiston as the under sheriff under the late Judge Berry. From the account as told us, Charles Brown and a man named Malloy, sheriff of Shoshone county, became involved in a dispute, and Brown drew a revolver, and was in the act of shooting at Malloy, when Streeter, seeing the difficulty, stepped between Brown and Malloy to settle the trouble, whereupon Brown's pistol was discharged and the ball entered the neck of Streeter, inflicting a wound of which he died a few days after. Meantime Malloy was arrested before the probate judge of the county and fined $5 for a breach of the peace. Since Streeter's death towards Brown and Malloy expressed both fined him, and we are informed that the miners of the camp were to hold a meeting to take into consideration what action should be taken towards both Brown and the Judge. Dr. Morris, of Mt. Idaho, was immediately sent for after the shooting of Streeter, but we learn that he died just after he arrived there. The case is a sad one and from all we can learn the difficulty originated in a drunken row and resulted in the death of an innocent party.—Teller.

The La Grande Gazette says: "We learn that the B. M. & C. R. R. R. Company have been offered $50,000 for their franchise. The work they have done this summer would give the company a nice little margin as profit, they have expended about $10,000. We are not informed whether the company accepted the offer or not, but if they have, the line of the road is to be so changed as to run via Weston to Dayton, W. T."

The New York Bulletin says: "The fleet of trans-Atlantic steamers which sailed from here, September 28th, for ports in Europe, took out shipments of the grain, dairy products and general merchandise which, in the aggregate, were exceptionally large in quantity. There were seven steamers in all, of which two were for Liverpool, two for Bristol, one for Hull, one for Bremen, and one for Glasgow. The total number of horned cattle carried by these vessels amounted to 483, of sheep 380, and of horses 27. The aggregate grain shipments were 273,100 bushels; cheese, 25,675 boxes; flour, 2,315 barrels and 1,500 bags; apples, 2,800 barrels; canned goods, 3,450 cases; and fresh meat, 92 tons weight and 900 quarters. Special features were the export of 21 coils Manila cordage by the steamer Great Western for Cardiff; 50 tons hemlock sole leather by the steamer Wilson for various ports in the Baltic; 100 barrels and 150 half barrels of oysters in the shell by the steamer Tanna for Liverpool, and 47 hales domestic dry goods by the steamer National, same destination.

SHOWING THE CLOVEN HOOF.—It was reported that the Russians in Roumelia and Bulgaria are already showing the cloven hoof by organizing the militia of those provinces after regular Moscovite models, and offering the regiments with Russians. There is nothing in this to surprise anybody. The Russians have always broken faith when any advantage was to be gained by treachery and falsehood. In this case they thought it not worth while to put on even the semblance of good faith, in as much as there is no one to call them to account. No doubt their present purpose is to hold Bulgaria indefinitely, and so to arrange in Roumelia that the Porte shall be disabled from levying any forces in that region. Every Russian movement, in fact, is now being made with an eye to its effect upon the great central purpose, which is the occupation of Constantinople and the complete absorption of the fragments of the Ottoman Empire.

FARM WAGONS.

The Bain Wagon is so well known to the farmers and freighters of this coast that it seems needless for us to say anything in its praise. We have sold them for the past thirteen years, and warranted every one sold, and the total claims for defective material or workmanship during that time have not amounted to one cent on each wagon sold. This fact speaks louder than anything we can say in their praise. The

PATENT "SKEIN TIGHTENER"

On the Bain Wagon is a very valuable improvement, and is on no other wagon. For the coming season all farm wagons will have the new PATENT OIL TUBES with brass screw caps, which avoid the necessity of taking off the wheels to oil the axles—an arrangement which teamsters will fully appreciate. We feel safe in asserting that there is no other wagon in the market that will compare with the Bain as now made, in QUALITY OF MATERIAL USED and in completeness and excellence of workmanship. Our wagons are made to order, especially for our trade, and we pay extra to have all the timber "EXTRA SELECTED" out of thoroughly seasoned stock. All the wheels are put through—soaked in—boiling linseed oil before setting of tires, making shrinkage impossible. Mr. Bain does this in a more thorough manner than some others, who simply make a pretense of doing it, and make the application, if at all, only in "homoeopathic doses." The wood work, tires and ironing are extra heavy, but at the same time everything is well proportioned.

Bayliss' Patent Wheel Harrow.

THE ONLY HARROW FIT FOR SOD GROUND,

And the best in use for preparing land for seeding. Good as a plow to prepare summer fallow ground for wheat. Covers seed nearly equal to a Drill. A small boy can operate it and do twice the work of a Drag harrow, with less labor. The Gangs are flexible to conform to a rough surface, and will fill a dead furrow so that it cannot be found. The twelve Discs act as so many little plows, turning the dirt over and making the soil in flow to the depth of six inches. It will pulverize shallow or deep by changing a bolt. Suitable for all kinds of soil, saving Time, Labor, Money, and Shoe Leather. It is simple, durable and warranted.
