

Death of General Stevens.

On the outside of this issue of the STATESMAN will be found an account of the manner in which Gen. Isaac I. Stevens...

The singular mildness and placidity of Gen. Stevens' temper; his modesty and reserve among strangers, and the simplicity which marked his conduct when in high positions, have created a false impression...

But it is only of Gen. Stevens' last days that we can speak without exciting differences of opinion, and they indeed afford an easy task for his eulogists.

When he was ordered to the line of the Potomac his conduct there was the subject of commendation. It was at a time when accumulating disasters to the national cause threatened the annihilation of the army.

On the last day of his life the safety of the army depended on Stevens and Kearney, and they both put their lives in pawn and lost them.

Among General Stevens' personal friends in this Territory his memory will be cherished and mingled with regrets at his untimely death; while there will be preserved a perpetual recollection of his untiring devotion to our interests.

He has filled up the measure of his fame. History will do him justice. His name will be inscribed on the same roll with those of Lyons, Baker, Wallace and Kearney, and all these bright spirits, who although unnamed are not unremembered.

Arrival of the Emigrant Escort.

Capt. Medcort Crawford, with the emigrant escort, numbering about eighty men, arrived in this city on Tuesday last.

Mr. Miller's horse is a most remarkable animal. He is pony-built, with the coat and fetlocks of a coarse cayuse, but for some reason not explainable he is gifted with a rate of speed nearly up to thoroughbred racers, and bottom without end.

The health of the emigrants was excellent, and the deaths very few. We did not lose a man of our company.

KILLED BY INDIANS.—Two men were killed by Indians last week—one on Sweet Water, by a son of Pe-Pou-Mox-Mox, the former Walla Walla Chief; the other by a Nez Perces, near the Lapwai.

Public Schools.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the communication of the Superintendent of Common Schools in another column of to-day's paper.

From my observations I estimate the number of immigrants by land to Oregon and Washington at about 10,000, of which California, about 8,000, in addition to which there were about 2,000 Mormons for Salt Lake.

The Government Escort with which I was connected started from Omaha, on the Missouri river, on the 10th June, 1862.

On the 25th day of August, we passed the graves of the following persons, killed by Indians: One unknown man, found by Capt. Glenn's party Aug. 13, 1862.

City Improvements

While the cry of dull times reaches us from the towns above, affairs in and about our own city manifest a tone entirely the opposite. In a walk about town the other day we counted upwards of fifty buildings which have been erected during the present season, and thirty in process of erection. Besides these, we hear of a large number in contemplation, which will be erected within the next two months. The saw-mills—fully able to supply all present demands—have had a lively season of it, and enough to do in supplying the demand for lumber created by these various improvements. Main street, with its new additions, has assumed quite a city air. The new fire-proof brick of Messrs. Schwabacher Bro's, is almost completed—the brick-work being entirely finished, and Messrs. Brown Bro's & Co's brick, on the opposite side of the street, will be presenting quite as imposing an appearance in a few days—the work on that being in rapid progress. Several frame business houses are also in process of erection on this street. The old shingle building, on the opposite side, which has never been regarded as particularly ornamental, is undergoing repairs, and we are told, will in another fortnight present as fine a front as any wooden structure in the city. Second street is also sharing in the improvements. At the head of it, Mr. A. J. Miner, is erecting a plain and sash and door factory—a much needed institution—and all along its length new buildings are going up. The streets as far back as Mr. Sparks' claim are dotted with new buildings, and beyond the city limits in that direction Mr. Meyer, has erected a large brewery. The whole city plot on the western side of Mill creek is occupied and presents an appearance quite different from what it wore last fall. Cain's addition, which boasted of only eight dwellings last fall, has more than doubled that number, and within the next two months, if the various improvements contemplated by lot holders there are carried out, will assume "magnificent proportions." A new warehouse just erected by Mr. Cain, adjoining his residences, gives that side of the creek a business air, and with the completion of the bridge across the creek, other buildings of a like character will doubtless follow. The improvements of the present season exceed, by far those of any former year, and while they evince a confidence on the part of citizens in the permanence of the town, they show that it possesses the elements of prosperity, and is rapidly marching on to a position of more than its present importance.

SHARP PRACTICE.—It may not be generally known by our citizens that there is a law against purchasing any article of clothing from soldiers in the service of the United States. Such is the fact, and the law affixes a fine and imprisonment as a penalty for its violation. There has been more or less traffic of this sort in the community, the soldiers having been in the habit of offering various articles of clothing for sale. We advise the people to abstain in future from buying anything from them, for all sales and purchases of this character are in violation of law and the army regulations. A recent transaction in our city shows that some of the soldiers are aware of these facts, and are evidently bringing them to bear upon the unsophisticated whenever it suits their purposes. A few days since, three soldiers entered one of our stores in company, and one of them succeeded in selling a coat to the merchant.— This was no sooner done than the comrades of the one who sold the coat informed upon the merchant, had him arrested and brought before the magistrate, and he was placed under bonds to appear for trial at the next term of court. The part of the "comrades" was doubtless played for the purpose of satisfying a grudge against one or the other of the victims.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.—We learn from Mr. Gillespie, of Oro Fino, that two men, on their way from Florence to Lewiston, were coming over Craig's mountain on Thursday last week and when passing by a vacant house they received an order to halt; turning around toward the house, they saw a double barreled shot gun thrust between the logs towards them, and as they turned to go they were fired upon—some of the shot cutting the coat sleeve of one of the men and lodging in the stock of a gun carried by him. As they rode off the assassin came to the door and they recognized him as a person who had followed them from Florence, with the intention, as they suppose of robbing them. The house was formerly occupied as a whisky shop, and has since, by the order of Major Richardson, been torn down.

NEW POINT FOR TRADE ON SNAKE RIVER.—Recent explorations have demonstrated that Snake river is likely to prove navigable to a point known as Pittsburg Landing—about 125 miles above Lewiston.—What facilities for land transportation from thence to Boise river may exist, is not known—perhaps there are none; but Pittsburg Landing is within thirty-five miles of Florence, and but little more from Warren's diggings. It is stated that an attempt to reach this point with a steamer will shortly be made. It is quite evident that several small towns will spring up on Snake river besides Lewiston.

SHOOTING AT ELK CITY.—A man named Morrissey was shot in a saloon at Elk City one day last week. He is represented as a desperate character, and made an attempt to "clean out" the saloon, when he was fired upon by the bar keeper and afterwards by some five or six of the inmates. He will probably die of his wounds.

Public Schools

EDU. STATESMAN.—With your permission I will say a few words through the columns of your paper, to the people of this county, concerning schools. It is time that something was being done towards the establishment of our common schools. And what time is better than the present, now that the business part of the season is past, and bounteous harvests have rewarded our labors? Why cannot we improve the present opportunity—go to work and build a school house in each district, employ teachers, and send our children to school, instead of letting them run around the country learning more evil than good? This is a matter that requires a little energy and perseverance, and it is soon done. There are children enough, as far as I know, to support a school in each district of the county—yet there is but one school house within the county. This state of things is to be regretted; but so it is.—Even the city of Walla Walla has as yet taken no steps towards the erection of a school house or the formation of a permanent school; but chooses rather to pay from twenty-five to forty dollars per month for the use of a house than to own one. This should not be. Your townspeople should take the lead in this matter. It would be very difficult to raise fifteen hundred dollars for the erection of a public school house, for those who are most interested would go about it. A large subscription was raised recently for a private school, which unfortunately went under, but nevertheless shows that you want schools, and are willing to pay your money for them. We cannot have permanent schools till we get the school houses. This is the first and most important thing to be attended to. The school is sure to follow, if we only get the houses. The law provides that school houses are to be built by subscription, which makes it more difficult, as there are always some who will not do anything unless obliged to. Hence those who really want a school must do more. And here let me suggest, when a school house is built in the county, give it the most beautiful spot you can find, and have it near to timber and pure water. In town, let it be entirely away from the noise, and business part of the city. Do not confine it to one small lot, but give it a whole square. Set it around about with trees and shrubbery. Make it attractive. Have other things to match, so as to make it a well regulated school, and your children will love to go to school.

TEMPERANCE.—Mr. Vinton, President of the National Temperance Society, has been delivering a course of lectures on temperance, in the M. E. church in this city during the week. Mr. V. came across the plains with the Emigrant Bazaar, and goes to California, whether he has been sent by the society, to lecture.

NEWSPAPER CHANGE.—Mr. A. S. Gould has retired from the Golden Age, and is succeeded by F. Kenyon & Co. Barring a little paganism in the first number after the change, the paper makes its usual tolerably respectable appearance.

THEATER.—Mr. J. B. Robinson has procured Buckley's Hall and fitted it up with new scenery, etc., and will give the first of a series of theatrical entertainments on Monday evening next.

GOODS FOR BITTER ROOT.—Two pack trains, loaded with goods and supplies, have left this city during the week for the Bitter Root and Deer Lodge valleys.

HOWARD & CADY, Wholesale and Retail Dealer in GENERAL MERCHANDISE, CLOTHING, GROCERIES, BOOTS AND SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, &c.

THE BRIDGE.—The contract has been let to Messrs. Vay, Bush & Co., for building the bridge across Mill creek at the upper end of the city. The bridge is to be forty feet wide, with a span of fifty feet, and a double track and side walk on each side. The ends are to be filled in with gravel, thus forming a channel for the stream.

MCCORMICK'S ALMANAC.—We are indebted to Mr. E. E. Kelly, of the City News Depot, for a copy of the "Oregon and Washington Almanac" for 1863. As usual it abounds in a variety of interesting matter, statistical information, etc. This is the ninth year of its publication.

NEXT YEAR'S EMIGRATION

—We were shown a few days ago, by a gentleman from this city, a number of letters from Iowa, making inquiries in regard to this country, and stating that companies were already organizing there to come across the plains next year. If the tone of these letters may be taken as an expression of the sentiment of the people throughout that State and the West, we may look for an unprecedented emigration next year.

THE BITTER ROOT ROUTE.—We have conversed during the week with a number of emigrants who come in via the Bitter Root valley—turning off the old emigrant road at Fort Hall. They all speak of the route as an excellent one, and express the opinion that it will in future be very generally traveled by emigrants bound for this valley. The Indians along the route have manifested a friendly and peaceable disposition.

U. S. SANITARY FUND FOR WASHINGTON.—We learn from the Standard that at a meeting of the citizens of Olympia, held on the 4th instant, Elwood Evans, G. A. Barrow and T. F. McElroy were appointed a committee to devise means for soliciting subscriptions throughout the Territory to the U. S. Sanitary Fund. Gen. W. W. Miller was elected Treasurer, to receive and forward subscriptions to the National Commission.

COUNT.—The second term of the district court will commence its session at the court house in this city on Monday next. There are now upwards of eighty civil cases on the docket, besides a number of criminal cases—one, that of Judge Smith, transferred from Shoshone county. The whole three weeks' time will be occupied, and it is doubtful whether all the cases can be disposed of within the limit.

FIRE COMPANY.—We are requested by Mr. Joseph Holmuth, to state that a meeting will be held this (Saturday) evening, at 7 o'clock at the jail building, to take into consideration the organization of a fire company. The citizens generally, and the subscribers to the engine fund especially, are invited to be present.

TEMPERANCE.—Mr. Vinton, President of the National Temperance Society, has been delivering a course of lectures on temperance, in the M. E. church in this city during the week. Mr. V. came across the plains with the Emigrant Bazaar, and goes to California, whether he has been sent by the society, to lecture.
