Truth crush'd to earth will rise again. The eternal years of God are hers.

LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY.—As hastily announced in our issue of last week, the bill to re-locate the Capitol of the Territory at Vancouver, was killed in the Council on Friday last, by a vote of five to four. Mr. Phillips, member from the counties of Jefferson, Island, Whatcom and Claim; Messrs. Miller and Biles of Thurston; Mr. Woodard, from the counties of Lewis and Chehalis; and Mr. Burbank, from Cowlitz, Wahkiakum, and Pacific counties, voting against the passage of the bill. Its supporters were Messrs. Maxon and Caples, members from the counties of Clarke, Skamania and Walla Walla; Mr. Clark, of Pierce, and Mr. Denny of King. Numerous amendments were offered, but voted down. A reference to the Council proceedings of that day will fully show the determined will exhibited to remove, and the parliamentary tactics employed to further that end, as well as the firm opposition of its opposers. Although the question of removal is thus settled, we have yet no reason to crow over our success, regarding that settlement as only temporary. It is pretty generally understood that a bill to submit the location of the seat of government to a vote of the people is to be introduced in the House at an early day, and thus again, will this perplexing question be revived. Save the passage of mild but firm resolutions in relation to the San Juan affair, which will be found in another column, and of a number of private or local bills which came up from the House, no other legislation of special public importance has transpired in this body during the past week. The "civil practice act" is still absorbing much of the time of the Judiciary committee, by which many amendments to the law now in force will be suggested.

In the House, as in the Council, the "San Juan resolutions" passed with a singular unanimity on Friday last, not a single vote being found to oppose their passage. A resolution of thanks to Capt. Dorr, of the Hudson Bay Co.'s ship Labouchere, was voted that gentleman for his long continued and, at last, successful endeavors to obtain possession of the head of the late and lamented Col. I. N. Eddy, formerly collector of customs for the Puget Sound district. A number of ferry charters, divorce bills, &c., were also passed in the early part of the week, but yet remain to be acted on in the Council before they become a law. On Tuesday last, the Judiciary committee reported a "criminal practice act," which, if passed, we are informed, will much simplify the law now in force. As to the precise nature of the amendments proposed to be made we are ignorant. On Thursday last, a new apportionment bill was submitted by a special committee appointed for that purpose, and passed three several readings in the forenoon of that day by a vote of 20 to 10. This bill, whilst it does greater justice to some portions of the Territory than did the former one, to the counties of Thurston and Swamish, if possible, is even more unfair; in fact, is little short of downright robbery. But we have no time to dilate upon this matter, and must content ourselves with giving a simple statement of the apportionment as made by the committee, as follows:

Table with 2 columns: REPRESENTATIVES and COUNCIL. Lists members from various counties and their respective seats.

We have not the space to give a statement of the vote upon which the above apportionment was based, in order to show its injustice. If not disposed of before that time in the Council, we shall do so in our next issue. In the meantime we look to that body to do us that justice warranted by the figures upon which the apportionment is based.

NEWS FAVORS.—Purser MAYHEW of the steamer Cowlitz, and WM. KELLY, post-master at Vancouver, have laid us under obligations for favors. Accept, gentlemen, our most gracious thanks.

The weather continues delightful.

SOIREE.—Let all who can take comfort in that social enjoyment, dancing, attend the soiree party of Dr. EGGENS, on Tuesday evening next. To those who attend we promise a good time, much enjoyment, and fine music. Young swains should be there to try their luck in the raffle for a number of beautiful pictures in water colors, painted by the Doctor, which he will put up gratis on that occasion. They are just such gifts as a lady would prize most highly.

FIRE MEETING.—The first annual meeting of the "Alert Hook and Ladder Company," met at the school house on Monday evening last, and organized by electing the following officers, for the ensuing year: Foreman, C. E. WILLIAMS; 1st ass't Foreman, JOHN L. HEAD; 2nd ass't Foreman, H. D. MORGAN; President, T. M. REED; Secretary, A. J. MOSES; Treasurer, W. G. DONLAP. Better selections, in our humble opinion, could not have been made. Friend "Charley," although manly in his dealings, is a boy all over at a fire. We hope the legislature will so amend our incorporation act as to authorize the citizens of Olympia to vote an extra tax for the purchase of a fire engine. A bill to this effect has already been introduced in the House. We urge its passage, if for no other reason, to give friend WILLIAMS a "fair chance," at fires. Once possessed of an engine here, we should soon find Charley "wedded to his idol."

We solicit an attentive perusal of the letter of that venerable old man and sterling democrat, SETH CATLIN, on the subject of a removal of the Capitol. However much those who voted for its removal may differ with the old gentleman, none will think otherwise than that it was written for the best of motives. The Judge has passed that age in life when men write for passion; his acts now are based upon a knowledge of their justness, and with no hope or desire for future preferment or glory. His communications are ever welcome. May he still be spared to reside a long time amongst us.

"ORION."—This gentleman, despite all we can do, is determined to give himself all the trouble imaginable on our account. We had occasion, some time since, to allude to the truthfulness of his reports, and this, we are sorry to know, has been to him the cause of many a sleepless night, or even worse trouble. In the last issue of the Herald, after having promised him to make the desired correction, he admits the error charged, but disclaims it as intentional, and says it was "only a clerical error." We did him the justice to say so in our subsequent issue. Unless, Orion, you admit that you are again wrong, we shall be compelled to believe you are a much worse man than we ever took you to be. When again you behold the Pioneer and Democrat, "do not let your angry passions rise." Anger has a tendency to create bile, and may make you bilious. Do not, we beseech you, tear our sheet into more than ten or a dozen pieces. The government will pay for the paper you now take, and therefore its destruction does us no injury. MORAL:—Those who are in the habit of writing much for newspapers, should be careful and not "put their foot in it."

Letter from the "Sage of Monticello."

MONTICELLO, Dec. 25, 1859. DEAR SIR:—I have received a number of communications on the subject of the removal of the Capitol, and take this method of answering them all, if you will be kind enough to give it publicity. When the Sound country, and the adjoining counties, were so kind and disinterested as to voluntarily give us the Capitol, it was with a great deal of self-denial we could refuse it, for it would certainly be much more convenient for us to transact our public business at Vancouver than Olympia. But such a remarkable and sudden change of disinterested benevolence set us to thinking of the effect, the cause, and the motive, and see if there was not a "cat in the meat tub." It was urged by those opposed to the measure that it was to break down the Democratic party. But we thought if a measure is just and right in itself, and for the public good, and its effect is to break down a party, that the party must be wrong, and the sooner it is broke down the better; so we laid aside all party considerations and consider the public good alone.

While any measure is local in its nature and influence, it should be so located that the greatest number may partake of its benefits or burden; that is, it should be as near central as possible to the population. Now, if the representation in the Legislature is any indication of the population, the Sound and contiguous counties have two-thirds—and I see by a new apportionment bill, that they continue to have the same proportion of representation. Then if I am right in my proposition, (which I think no one will controvert,) it indicates unerringly where the Capitol should be, and that it is in the right place; and whether a burden or favor, should remain where it is—unless the object is to put it on wheels and move it to all parts of the Territory, so that each may share its effects. But would that be policy, or promote the public good? We have an example of that in Oregon.—They moved the Capitol from Salem to Corvallis, and commenced the session at the latter place. The Secretary, under instructions from the Treasury Department, refused to pay the expense of removal or any expense incurred at Corvallis, and the Legislature, learning wisdom by experience, moved it back to Salem. Now if the Capitol is an evil that you wish to get rid of, we will make a bargain with you. You just pay the loss sustained and expenses incurred by the removal, and we will receive it. Just ingraft that in your bill and we will go for it, and thank you too. But we are not willing to be at that expense, and have it hauled back next year. We have no faith in the sincerity of the movement—we believe the Capitol question is to be made stock in a political bank, with the Penitentiary and University as a corruption fund. I see an article in the Steilacoom Herald, of the 16th Dec., that explains the whole movement. I will quote a portion of it:—

"The untrammelled democracy of both branches are fully determined to use all honorable means to destroy and send into fragments all obnoxious manoeuvring cliques that live and have their being in and around the present seat of Government, a set of spoil-seeking and political intriguers, that have held, since the election of their God and Master to a seat in Congress, absolute control over the political affairs of our Territory."

There is near half a column in the same strain, and still they talk of honorable means. "Honorable members of the democratic party,—men standing firmly upon the Cincinnati platform, because they choose not to worship at the shrine of Isaac I. Stevens," are willing to render useless the Capitol built by Government for our use—to tax the people for removal and extra expense of the Territorial government—to break up political organizations based on principles for the public good—divide the people into sectional parties, and make local interest the controlling influence, so that they can be bought in the market as cheap as some Legislators have been bought, and work hand in hand, like brothers, with the Black Republican party, all for the purpose of putting some one out of office that the people have put in. Honorable indeed.

"Honorable" in such hands will soon be a term of reproach. There is always more who want office than there is of those who are benefited by it, hence an effort to stigmatize those in office, that they may get their places. General, vague, indefinite charges of corruption are easily made, and indicate corruption, malice, and slander of those by whom made, rather than the faults of those against whom made. Now if they can produce any well founded, specific charges of corruption, or unfaithfulness in any of our public servants, we will use all lawful means to remove them; but we are not willing to sacrifice the public good—saddle the people with debt, and produce political anarchy to gratify a few gambling office seekers, whose only means of attack is slander. "Honorable" members of the democratic party, standing firmly on the Cincinnati platform? Some men stand firmly on the Bible, and think that they have a kind of license to sin, because it washes their sins away; so the Cincinnati platform cleanses them from all unrighteousness.

The Blacks wish to disorganize the democratic party and defeat democratic nominees—so do the "Honorable." The Blacks are a sectional party—so are the "Honorable." The Blacks use the name of freedom and negro equality to enslave white men—the "Honorable" use the name of democrat to get into office and then work with the Blacks. The Blacks contend that those in power are corrupt and domineering—so do the "Honorable." The Blacks' measures lead to rule or ruin—so does the "Honorable." The parallel is complete throughout, except in name, and that is to ensure soft-heads and corrupt hearts.—"Birds of a feather will flock together."—A man is known by the company he keeps." A history of the clique of "Honorable" would show a reckless disregard of the public good, and it culminates in the Capitol movement.

"Again, in a sectional point of view, the northern portion of our Territory will lose nothing by locating the Capitol at Vancouver." The north will lose nothing by having the public money wasted which is invested in the Capitol? Lose nothing by being taxed for the removal, and incidental expenses at Vancouver? Lose nothing by going 150 miles further, over an expensive road, to do their public business? Lose nothing in taking from them the disbursements for the support of the government, whereby their social and commercial relations circulate among the whole people, and taken further off to another and entirely different system of commercial relations, where not a dollar would ever return except by some traveler.

We oppose the removal because we have no faith in its permanent location, or the sincerity of the movers. That it, with the other public buildings, is to be used as a corruption fund, to assist demagogues to office; and because it would waste the public money already invested; and because we believe we should be taxed to pay the expense; and because the country is not enough developed, or external lines sufficiently established to determine where it eventually should be; and because it accommodates the greatest number of people where it is; and because the public good, public credit, economy, consistency, stability, peace and harmony, all require that it should remain where it is for the present.

CROWDED.—Owing to the number of communications which have accumulated upon our hands, and desirous of bringing up the legislative proceedings to as late a date as possible, so as to have the "coast clear" when the President's message shall arrive, we are obliged to condense as much as possible the news received per steamer Pacific. The gist of the news, however, is given.

Editor of the Pioneer and Democrat.—RESPECTED SIR: In the issue of the Puget Sound Herald, of Friday, Jan. 6th, 1860, in an article headed the "Similkameen mines," I extract the following:—

"The pioneers to this new El Dorado (except two or three small trains starting from Steilacoom and Seattle) will take their departure from various points on Columbia river, even up as high as Fort Colville, to reach which point many hundred miles must be traversed, occupying weeks of time.—Those who start from the Dalles, taking a direct northerly course between the Cascades and Columbia river, will encounter, on their long and fatiguing journey, large bands of hostile Indians, strongly averse to whites passing through their country; thus rendering it extremely dangerous for any but large parties, well armed, to take that route, as Robertson, McLaughlin, and a host of others can testify. Starting, however, from what points they may, on the Columbia river, we cannot believe that many will follow in the footsteps of the pioneers, nor can we believe that the pioneers themselves will take the same route on their return which they take in reaching the mines. All will eventually find their way to Puget Sound, whence the miners must replenish their stocks and draw their supplies; at least until such time as mining towns spring up in their midst. From the different towns on the Sound, the distance to the Similkameen ranges from one hundred and forty to two hundred miles. Taking a position on a ridge in the Cascades, the Sound can be seen on one side and the new mines on the other. It is absurd to suppose that the miners, sooner or later, will fail to find this out; and, having found it out, it is equally absurd to suppose that thereafter they will start from any other than some point on the Sound. Thus much encouragement should be derived from this source by our business men, who will best consult their interests by being fully prepared to meet the emergency."

I would have answered the article itself, in the Herald, but as your issue comes out before that paper could be received, I take the earliest opportunity to correct a grave mistake, that may be the means of deviating the great bone and sinew of the land, to a place that would retard their progress all the summer, if they expected to get to "Similkameen mines" at all without working his passage among the large fallen stumps and trees that can be seen for miles on every side of you, until the Cascade mountains is reached. I would then admonish all, who are foolish enough, not to even go to any town or city on the Pacific coast, the Sound included. In this article it is not my intention to even detract from Steilacoom, or other places, any merit they may possess in facilitating the traveling of the miner, or to take away from their midst the profits that might arise, by his board, whisky, or contingent bills, for outfits, clothing, &c., or from large sales to merchants in anticipation.

Let Steilacoom, and these large and small places on the Sound, first build a good practicable road east of the Cascade mountains, then, friend Herald, will sit down and talk to you. Don't you know the suffering of the poor deluded miners at Victoria and Bellingham Bay? Didn't they live like the Egyptian and Arabs, in tents? Only the Egyptian and Arab had plenty of sheep, goats, cattle, horses, sugar, coffee, garlic, a d plenty of good feed grass, with an extraordinary climate—in warmth, to sustain both man and beast, in his tented fields—with good roads. How now stands the case with the Sound country? Forsooth, that old pioneer like Dr. McLaughlin and Robertson with a few, not a host of others, to testify. It is well known that Dr. McLaughlin generally had his headquarters, as Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Company, at the new city of Vancouver, during its most palmy days of trade. That Dr. McLaughlin and Robertson may have estimated the distance, as the editor says, might be true (?). Did you ever get in a calm at sea, with a head wind, just in sight of the haven of rest? Did a teamster, packer, or miner with a pack on his back, ever make much headway through the unsurveyed woods, among trees, (that the Editor is loth to praise,) whose dimensions are from ten to thirty feet in circumference? The underbrush is awful—the Willamette valley, where a person gets lost sixteen times every three days, illustrates the sequel. The Similkameen does not ask that those hardy sons of toil, who may wish to come amongst them, that they are always willing to extend the helping hand, could incur risks, that the great bugbear of Indians, catamounts and lions, with the ponderous weapons of Coar D'Alene, on the route through the only true line of travel up the noble Columbia, that God in his second sober thought fitted as a causeway, without stumps, frog-ponds, mud holes, Indians, big trees to be cut and jumped, (when there is no mule on hand to jump them to the coast.) What then would you do? Throw away a good steamboat travel up as far as "Priest Rapids," or old Walla-walla, on the Columbia river, for all these fine gymnastic exercises, on the Steilacoom route? Hung be the Heavens in mourning; let the curtain drop—let the emigrant start, and he will drop over many a slippery gulch, and fall from many a broken old slimey tree trunk, in his way. This is no delusion—facts are stubborn things. The son of this same old Doctor McLaughlin lives now in Walla-walla, on a sheep ranch; he often goes to Victoria, via the Columbia river, but never through the route the editor of the Herald points out, save McLaughlin, Raymo's, Le Rock's, Brusio's, Pamerson's, Helm's, Coppage and others, all go by the way of the Dalles, from the Okanagan and Similkameen mines and river. In fact, lake Osoyoos could not be approached with any degree of comfort, within the period of half a century. Don't be surprised! How long were the deluded cutting the Bellingham Bay trail, which is shorter by three-fourths than the Editor's contemplated route?

Now to sum up. Start from any given point on the Pacific and you can wend your way, by the only true natural route, to Portland by steamer, or direct to Vancouver. The latter place possesses a genial climate—free from big trees—good water, fine citizens, intermixed with polished ladies. They have larger beer manufactories, and potatoes, rye, oats, corn, barley, and plenty of meat. They have plenty of good jobbing houses, where boots, shoes and clothing for the multitude can be furnished in as good order, as cheap, if not cheaper, than Steilacoom itself; besides putting you on a steamer that will take you to the Lower Cascades, a distance of 45 miles from Portland, on the Columbia. A railroad of about one and one-half miles can be either walked or ridden over; you then take from the Upper Cascades the steamer again, which lands you 49 miles higher up—you then have arrived at the Dalles; from thence, a portage of 15 miles over a good open prairie road lands you at Des Chutes, where a steamer or schooner will land passengers at Old Fort Walla Walla or at the Priest Rapids, about 190 miles; you are then in about two or three days' easy travel of the "El Dorado of the Similkameen." Be not alarmed. No scalps are taken; no bodily injury received; and you all are on the ground with your provisions by about a year earlier than the Sound man. Plenty of good horses can always be found on the genial plains of Walla Walla.

Gen. Palmer last June started from the town of Dalles with a train of heavy loaded ox teams, and traveled over the road to the Okanagan and Similkameen country on a road that man, save by nature, has never, from the old Hudson's Bay fort Walla Walla, lifted a spade or a shovel to grade and clean out. Mr. Rheigart has established a ferry at the only bad passing point on the Okanagan river. Lieut. Mullan, and other systematic gentlemen, can vouch for the accuracy of a good unobstructed road, and free from Indians. Gen. Palmer has also carried up several very large pack trains to the Fraser river country with equal success over the same road.

I like to forget a man can travel all alone from the Dalles, via Des Chutes, either by road, or on a steamer or sailing craft. The steamer Col. Wright will, by the time it is fit traveling season, be cordoned above Priest Rapids, and will take you to Kettle Falls if you wish. If you do not like that route, you can get off at old Hudson's Bay fort Walla Walla and go up to the town of Waulept, a mile from the new post, which is about thirty miles over a good wagon road; you then have a good road for all practical purposes to the Similkameen mines, only about three days travel. CHAPTER VII. It came to pass in the seventh year of the history of this nation, and on the fifth day of the twelfth month of the year, that there assembled together at a certain great city called Olympia, all the law-givers and great men of the nation, even the judges thereof. And it is further written of this vast assemblage, that none other such had ever assembled even in the history of the nation, and that the great intellect and beauty thereof caused all the maidens to sigh and desire to join them and accompany them even to the end of life. And it came to pass that this vast assemblage became divided into three great tribes: one from a rich land many leagues South, and that this tribe's name was Chuckleheads—and one tribe resided in the center of the world, and its name was Finbacks; and this tribe had a powerful king called WILLIAM;—and the third tribe lived in the North, along the shores of a mighty sea containing great fishes, which tribe was called the Watson Family. And it further came to pass on the third day of the meeting of the assemblage, that the Chuckleheads and Watson Family united and became as one man, and elected a young and beautiful Prince of the South to be made orator; and it is written of this young Prince that his beauty was so great that the old ladies of the city forbade their daughters visiting the assemblage for fear they would fall in love with the Prince.

And it came to pass after the election of the Prince, that there was great rejoicing among the Chuckleheads and Watson Family by reason of their triumph, and great was the waste of wine on that occasion. And it is further written that there was great waiting among the Finbacks, and that they cried aloud, "euchered! euchered! euchered!" And it is further written of the noble Prince of the North who had aspired to the moderatorship, that he calmly gave up the fight, and said if he could not be a Lord he would be a Tenant, and that he now labors daily for the good of the great nation, and that his beauty is even greater than the Prince of the South by reason of his black eyes.

And it came to pass after this great collection had started giving laws to the nation and straightening up the world, that in the midst of the fair city of Olympia there existed a certain clique of evil design, and that this clique was of the tribe of Finbacks. And it is further written that the other tribes believed this clique ruled the land and must be demolished, and King WILLIAM must be beheaded. And it further came to pass that the tribes of the North and those of the South got a great cable called popular sentiment, and tied it to the South end of the fine house in which the vast assemblage met, and cried aloud that to break up this clique and behead King WILLIAM, they were going to haul this great building, with all its splendor, to a great and mighty city of the South called Vancouver. And it is further written that the Finbacks then became exceedingly mad, so mad that they were unable to speak any word except "No!" And lo! and behold the mighty building started South. And it is written that there was great excitement in the city of Olympia.

even in high places; and that men, women and children cried, "O! save our fine building!" And it came to pass in those days that there arose up a great and good man who dwelt in a rich valley and fertile region called Cowlitz. And it is further written that this great man was moved, and said for the good of the nation, and to still the great lament, the fine building should not go South. And lo! and behold, the great building became stationary, and the dwellers in Olympia were greatly rejoiced; so greatly rejoiced were they that the ladies thereof spread the festal board and invited the great assembly and all mankind to come into their houses and eat the good things of the land; and on that same day there was great destruction of chickens, of cake and of wine. And it is written that was the first day of the year, and many became sick by reason of their great eating.

And it further came to pass that a certain King called James, who ruled over a great land afar off, sent his mighty General Winfield to ally a great tumult that had arisen relative to a great continent called San Juan. Now therefore this act of King James and General Winfield caused a great resolution to be introduced, by which the world was shown from whence all diplomatic power is derived, and King James and General Winfield are taught not to interfere and act without the advice, consent and aid of this vast assembly. For it is written, woe be unto the man that raises against this great nation and the assembly thereof.

Thus endeth the seventh chapter, and the further doings of this vast assemblage is written in the next chapter.

WHITE CHRISANTHEMUM.

Editor Pioneer and Democrat:—

A notice in the columns of your last issue is a smart little retort of the "Hon." W. H. Wood, of Pierce county, in reply to the report of the proceedings of the Democratic Caucus, held immediately prior to the organization of the House, as published by Mr. Sheard, of Thurston, and certified to by Doct. Willard, who was chairman of the Caucus. It appears that there is a question of veracity between these two gentlemen as to what did actually transpire in said caucus, and an "outsider" is led to the belief, thereby, that none of them seemed to know exactly what they did, or what they wished done, unless he was "posted;" however, it is fair to presume that something was done, and something left undone, thereby creating a "vacuum." Now I wish simply to state to my friend Sheard, that I know of no man better capable of supplying that "vacuum," than the gentleman from Pierce, as the fact has become notorious, that there is not another member in the House who is possessed of more vacancies than he is—(Mr. Sheffer, of Chehalis, not excepted)—consequently, you do not, perhaps, see his design. It seems, too, that he has affirmed his statement upon "Holy Writ"—(God forgive him for the—sacrilege.) Query:—Is a man's oath to be believed when taken upon the Bible, if the person taking the oath does not know what the Bible is? or, does an assertion—"as true as Holy Writ"—cause undoubted belief, when it is known that the person making the assertion, does not know what is contained in Holy Writ?

But, Mr. Editor, I think that this discrepancy between these two gentlemen arises from a desire on one side to misrepresent, and on the other to tell the truth—that is: Mr. Wood wishes to mislead, while Mr. Sheard wishes to direct aright. This being the case, it is easily seen how the discrepancy arose. Mr. Wood being one of the "Gopher family," it is to be expected that he would have a desire to undermine and hide from view his real intent and purposes, while on the other hand, Mr. Sheard is desirous of digging the gentleman up and exposing him to the light. Well, I think I see the gentleman, and he has quite a long "re-reamble" attached to him which I hope nobly will trump on. Verily, Mr. Wood has immortalized his name—HA! HA! HA! HE! HE! HE! HE! HE!

"ONION."

LIEUT. MULLAN.—From the Dalles Journal we learn that advices from Lieut. Mullan's expedition have been received up to the 14th Nov., at which time Lieut. M. had completed his work to within 10 miles of the Bitter Root river. The weather is represented as exceedingly severe, and snow to the depth of fifteen inches had already fallen in the Rocky mountains. The expedition, during the past year, had completed 280 miles of the road to the Missouri, and reached a point about midway between Fort Walla-walla and Fort Benton. It is the intention of Lieut. M. to spend the winter months on the waters of the Bitter Root River, during which time he also designs giving special attention to the depth of snow at many points.

Still later news received, (up to the 22d of Nov.) informs us that the road party had been overtaken in the Bitter Root mountains by a snow storm, from which many animals had perished, and the men were frosted by the severe cold. The snow was eighteen inches deep, covering all the grass from the animals, and still falling. The advanced party had reached the Bitter Root river, three hundred miles from Fort Walla-walla.

FIRE AT OREGON CITY.—An extensive fire occurred at Oregon City on the 30th ult., destroying property to the amount of $20,000. The fire commenced in the warehouse of Allen, McKinlay & Co., and consumed three buildings, the property of D. Harvey. Their value is estimated at $10,000. They were occupied by W. C. De ment & Co., Lovejoy & Newby, Masonic and other Lodge rooms. The furniture, regalia, &c., of the several societies were destroyed.

ARRIVAL OF THE PACIFIC. Late News from the States by the Overland Mail. Meeting of Congress. John Brown Executed. New Treaty with Mexico.

The steamer Pacific arrived at Victoria on the 6th inst., with dates from San Francisco to the 31st, and from the Atlantic States to the 6th ult.

We are indebted to T. M. REED, Esq., Wells, Fargo & Co.'s agent at this place, and Purser LOWELL, of the Eliza Anderson, for files of San Francisco and New York papers.

We clip the following news from the San Francisco Bulletin:

Speculation is abundant as to the organization of the House of Representatives. Mr. BOECK, of Va., has been nominated by the democratic caucus for Speaker.

The House of Representatives was called to order at 12 o'clock on Monday, Dec. 5, by the clerk of the last House. On motion of Mr. Phelps the House proceeded to the election of Speaker, viva voce.

Clark, of Missouri, wished to make some remarks touching the qualifications of some of those nominated for Speaker, when, after an animated discussion of the gentleman's right to speak, during which considerable excitement prevailed, Clark withdrew his application to speak, and offered the following resolution:

"Whereas, certain members of this House, now in nomination for Speaker, did indorse and recommend the book called 'The Impending Crisis of the South, and How to Meet it,' and the sentiments of that book being incendiary and hostile to the domestic peace of the country, no member who recommended or indorsed it is fit to be speaker of the House."

The resolution led to another exciting discussion, during which the House adjourned. The Senate was called to order, when the following Senators were found to be absent: Benjamin Clay, Crittenden, Davis, Douglas, Fitch, Fitzpatrick, Hammond, Johnson, of Arkansas, Polk, Sebastian Seward and Toombs.

Mason submitted a resolution, which he would call up to-morrow, for the appointment of a committee to inquire into all the facts attending the invasion of Harper's Ferry.

Gwin gave notice of a Pacific railroad bill. The customary resolutions were adopted to inform the House and the President that the Senate was ready for business, and the Senate adjourned.

Washington Irving is dead. He died on Monday evening Nov. 28. He had not been unusually unwell until a short time before his death. He retired to his room about 10 o'clock, feeling more languid than ordinary and complaining of a pain in his side.

Soon after reaching his room, and while his niece was standing by him, he suddenly fell and almost instantly expired. He was in his 77th year. His great eminence as an author had won him hosts of admirers in all lands.

His death creates a profound sensation. The shipping and public offices in New York displayed colors at half-mast. Mr. Irving twice represented his country abroad; at London, in 1824, as Secretary of the Legation; in 1842 he was appointed Minister to Spain. He was a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

John Brown expiated his crime on Friday, Dec. 2, in the presence of five hundred troops and an immense concourse of citizens. He bore himself courageously. Those near him could not perceive the quiver of a muscle. After pinioning his arms and feet, and placing the cap upon his head, the Sheriff requested him to step forward on the trap. He replied, "you have put this thing over my head and I cannot see; you must lead me." At 1 1/2 o'clock the drop fell.

His limbs jerked for nearly five minutes. After hanging thirty-eight minutes the body was cut down and delivered to his wife and, with the bodies of the two sons who fell at Harper's Ferry, was taken to New York State for burial. Mrs. Brown had an interview of four hours with her husband on the day preceding his execution. When they parted, she shed some tears. Her husband, observing it, patting her on the shoulder, said, "Mary, this is not right. Show that you have nerves." She is said to have straightened herself up as if electrified, and wept no more.

The steamer Indian, from Liverpool and bound to Portland, Me., was wrecked off Halifax on Nov. 21st. She went ashore on a ledge of rocks and parted amidships. She had thirty-eight passengers and a crew of one hundred men. Twenty-seven of the passengers and crew were lost.

The new treaty between Mexico and the United States has been signed. By this treaty Mexico cedes to us Lower California and important privileges in Sonora. The main consideration, on the other side, is believed to be the sum of $10,000,000 to be paid by the United States, in part cash down, and part to be retained to satisfy certain claims of American citizens against the Mexican government.

The "journal of proceedings of the third house" must abide its time until some future issue. It shows the manner in which legislative proceedings are "put through" at the present session.

Rev. B. C. Lippincott, pastor of the M. E. Church in this city, will preach on next Sabbath on the "recognition of Saints in Heaven."

Resolutions Relative to the San Juan Affair.

WHEREAS, It has come to our knowledge that attempts are making, or will be made, to merge the military department of Oregon into the department of the Pacific, and in case this is not effected to cause Brigadier Gen. Wm. S. Harney to be removed from command; and

WHEREAS, We believe that said department was established for good and sufficient reasons, which reasons still exist in as full force as when said department was established; the interior of our territory being still occupied by numerous tribes of Indians, only restrained from hostilities by the presence of large bodies of troops, and our frontier being still liable to numerous incursions of powerful and savage hordes of Indians living upon a foreign soil; and

WHEREAS, Experience has shown that, in order that these troops may act promptly and efficiently for the protection of our territory, it is necessary that the headquarters of the department should be of convenient access, which would not be the case were it removed to the State of California; and

WHEREAS, Gen. Harney in all his official acts while in command of this military department—by protecting us from Indians, domestic and foreign; securing and maintaining peace, by revoking those unlawful military orders under which an attempt was made to exclude our citizens from portions of our territory, which, under the laws, were open to settlement; opening communications between different portions of the territory; protecting emigration by placing troops on the Island of San Juan, an island which is as unquestionably American soil as any other portion of our territory; for the protection of American settlers against foreign Indians, and against attempted acts of foreign jurisdiction—has deserved and secured the entire confidence of the people of this territory. Therefore, be it Resolved, 1st. That we, the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Washington, earnestly and respectfully protest against any change by which the military department of Oregon shall be merged into any other department, or its headquarters being removed.

Resolved, 2d. That we respectfully and earnestly solicit the President of the United States to continue the present able, experienced, and prudent officer (Brig. Gen. Harney) in command of said military department.

Resolved, 3d. That we firmly believe Gen. Harney has acted in a prudent and proper manner in placing a military force on the Island of San Juan, for the protection of American citizens from foreign savages and wanton aggressions of foreign officials:

1st.—Because the Island is clearly ours under a fair construction of the treaty.

2d.—Because said Island is within the military department of Oregon; it having been, by an act passed in 1854, at the first session of the Legislative Assembly of this Territory, made a part of the organized County of Whatcom, which act was duly submitted to the Congress of the United States, as by the organic act is required, and has not to this day been disapproved, and is still the law of the land; and 3d.—Because, at the time, the circumstances of the case required that a military force should be placed there.

Resolved, 4th. That Gen. Harney, having rightfully placed a military force upon said Island, would have been recreant to his trust had he failed to support it with all the power at his command, when it was threatened with an attack by a foreign nation.

Resolved, 5th. That having the fullest confidence in our title to the Island, our right should be maintained at all hazard.

Resolved, 6th. That we most respectfully ask the proper authorities to revoke the odious military order placing San Juan Island (a portion of Whatcom county) under military rule.

Resolved, 7th. That we have the fullest confidence that the President of the United States will act justly and firmly in the premises, and that American rights will be fully vindicated by him.

Resolved, 8th. That copies of these resolutions, duly signed and certified, be sent to our Delegate in Congress, to be by him submitted to the President of the United States. And also to Gen. W. S. Harney.

NOTICE TO DEBTORS.

ALL PERSONS INDEBTED TO THE KENDALL & Co., either by note or account, are requested to settle said demands prior to the first day of January, 1850, either by the payment of cash, or by giving new and satisfactory notes bearing interest at the rate of two per cent. per month.

We further give notice, that hereafter we will sell our goods for CASH or barter, excepting alone to our regular family customers, who are required to settle when called upon, by the payment of cash, or giving notes bearing the usual interest.

The reasons for adopting this course are as follows: We cannot afford, when money is worth two per cent. per month, to furnish others with capital for loan to do business upon for nothing. It is a settled proposition, that all who purchase on credit and pay, together with those who pay cash, necessarily pay for those who never pay.

We have no disposition to subject our paying customers to any such inconvenience. Again, those who sell for Cash, always under sell those who sell on credit. They can well afford to do it. Our prices will be found in accordance with this inflexible RULE, and to it we will make no exceptions.

We have no capital, outside of our business, to loan, therefore CANNOT SELL on credit. We have no one employed to charge goods, make out accounts and try to collect debts. Mr. Cushman, who manages our store, has no time to keep such accounts, and he would not if he had.

We can give no credit, unless our entire satisfaction. Our goods are always of the best quality. Gentlemen, give us a call before purchasing elsewhere. KENDALL & CO. Olympia, Dec. 19, 1850. 2w5

UNRIVALLED SEWING MACHINES.

ARE KEPT CONSTANTLY ON HAND, and for sale by the undersigned, who has been appointed agent for their sale in Washington Territory.

These machines have been in use for a number of years, in the Atlantic States, and wherever tried, have been found to give satisfaction. They are the best of their kind now in use, being adapted for all kinds of plain or ornamental sewing; forming a stitch that can never rip, though every fourth stitch be cut. They can be used to advantage in hemming, quilting, buckram, ruffing, embroidering, etc.; crossing seams and turning corners with all the facilities and neatness of the most accomplished seamstress.

All the different patterns, at prices ranging from $15 to $150, are kept on hand. The Cabinet Machine forms quite an ornamental piece of furniture for the parlor or drawing room, and would doubtless be the most acceptable as well as useful gifts that could possibly be presented to a lady.

The machine is simple, not liable to get out of repair, and the art of working them can be readily acquired. Call and see them. Wm. M. RUTLEDGE, Jr. Olympia, Oct. 14, 1850. 4747

THIS JUSTLY CELEBRATED PLOW, universally admitted by all who have tried them to be the best plow now in use, and peculiarly adapted to the prairie and bottom lands of this Territory, are now kept constantly on hand and for sale by Wm.  OLYMPIA, W. T.

SILAS GALLIHER, Proprietor.

THE PROPRIETOR has recently erected, in connection with, and as a part of the Washington Hotel, a large two-story building—20 by 60 feet—which he is enabled to provide the traveling public with a large number of commodious, comfortable and excellently ventilated apartments, than can be afforded by any other public house in Washington Territory.
 An idea of his ability to accommodate the public may be judged from the fact that the Hotel contains twenty-five private rooms, an extensive family apartment—six of which are large drawing rooms, or parlors.
 Thankful to the public for the liberal patronage heretofore extended to the proprietor, and having thus enlarged upon his former business, he feels confident he can render the sojourn of strangers with him comfortable and pleasant, and in no pains shall be spared to set his table as well as any in his business.
 Beds and bed-rooms furnished to such as may desire them.
 Board by the day and week.
 A stable is attached to this establishment, which will be amply furnished with the accommodation of animals of the traveling public.
 A state of public patronage is respectfully solicited.

 after five years of public approval and very extensive sale in California, has been pronounced by the public to be superior, not only as a beverage of general use, but in every other article competing against it, but is
UNRIVALLED IN ITS MEDICAL EFFICIENCY

In most cases of complaints. To persons traveling in these days of rapid transit from East to West, North to South, who are constantly changing their water as well their climate; who are drinking, indeed, a dozen kinds of water in every twenty-four hours, and each draught containing some property acting in chemical antagonism to the preceding one, thereby causing an unnatural degree of excitement to the stomach—it is positively and absolutely necessary to use a counteracting agent. From the fact that the

"LONDON CLUB HOUSE GIN" is prepared expressly to meet such exigencies, and to act as we know it will act, as an antidote, we confidently prescribe it as the very best article in the country. The name of "London Club House Schnapps" has never been attached in any way to this article.
 In first presenting the

"LONDON CLUB HOUSE GIN"
 to the public, my aim was to give them a pure and undiluted article of Gin, and to call it by its right name. The success attending its introduction and extensive sale in California is a sufficient guarantee of its high appreciation of the article by consumers.
 Various parties have from time to time put up and shipped to California an article which they call "Club House Gin." My Gin, which has gained such a reputation in California, is branded on the cases.

"Old London Club House Gin—W. H. D."
 The bottles have a white label with a fac simile of my signature. I caution all parties to beware of imitations.

WOLFE'S
SCHIEDAN AROMATIC SCHNAPPS!

I beg to call the attention of the Merchants of California and Oregon to a Superior Article of
HOLLAND GIN,
 MANUFACTURED BY MYSELF EXCLUSIVELY, AT SCHIEDAM, HOLLAND.

And to distinguish it from every other alcoholic stimulant in the world, I give it the name of
SCHIEDAN AROMATIC SCHNAPPS.

It is the purest of Juniper, distilled from the best barley that can be selected at any cost. It is flavored and medicated, not by the common harsh berry, but by the choice botanical variety of the Aromatic Italian Juniper Berry, whose more vinous extract is distilled and rectified with its spirituous solvent, and thus it becomes a concentrated tincture of exquisite flavor and aroma, altogether transcendent in its cordial and medicinal properties to any Holland Gin in the world. Since the introduction of the celebrated Schiedan Aromatic Schnapps, the proprietor has submitted to the whole Medical Faculty of the United States. Over three thousand endorse it, over their own signatures, to be the Purest Alcoholic Stimulant in use. They also speak of the great success they have met with in their practice in gravel, gout, chronic rheumatism, obstructions of the kidneys, bladder and urinary organs. Persons traveling in the Southern and Western States should always have a supply on hand as a preventive against ague and fever and change of water. The physicians in New Orleans and St. Louis prescribed it with great confidence in case of cholera, on account of the purity of the article.
 UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.
 Since the introduction of my Schiedan Aromatic Schnapps into the United States, a number of Liquor mixers in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and San Francisco, have been engaged in putting up mixed and poisonous Gin in cases and jugs, to be palmed off upon the unwary for my genuine Schnapps. At first they boldly counterfeited my name, but I soon stopped that by causing several of them to be arrested. They now confine themselves to closely imitating the appearance and shape of my bottles, and the peculiar wrapper which I have always used, viz: Yellow paper, printed with red and blue ink, pasteboard printed caps.
BEWARE OF THESE IMITATION BOGUS SCHNAPPS.

If the Liquors were fit to drink, there would be no need to palm them off by counterfeiting the peculiar style and appearance of the genuine Wolfe's Schnapps. Avoid these mixed and doctored up imitations as you would avoid shattered nerves, ruined stomachs and delirium tremens. The pure and genuine Schnapps have my name on the bottle, cork, and a fac-simile of a signature on the label. For sale by all the wholesale Druggists and respectable Liquor dealers in the United States.
 Sole Importer and Manufacturer, 18, 20 and 22 Beaver Street, New York.

The word Schiedan Schnapps belongs exclusively to my article—all others are counterfeit, and are impositions on the public.

FORWARDING,
Storage & Commission

The undersigned having erected at Port Townsend, Washington Territory, a large and commodious warehouse, well adapted to the storage of grain merchandise, freight, etc., intended for transportation up or down the coast, awaiting the necessary means of conveyance, would inform the shippers and traders of the Sound that they are now prepared to store such articles on the usual terms.
 Also, being extensively engaged in the business of TRANSPORTATION, either as owners of or agents for most of the coasting vessels of the Sound, they are further prepared to FORWARD such articles of merchandise, stock, and grain as may be entrusted to them, to any point on the Sound or Straits, Vancouver's Island, or elsewhere, as may be desired, at the shortest notice and on accommodating terms.
 Patrons are respectfully solicited. For further information address the undersigned.

MARINE HOSPITAL.
 PORT TOWNSEND, JUNE 22D, 1858

DR. P. M. O'BRIEN, late Resident Physician and Surgeon of the County Hospital, San Francisco, and of the Hospital of the Sisters of Mercy, is now in charge of the Marine Hospital, Port Townsend.

Dr. O'BRIEN is also prepared to receive private patients. He fathers himself with the hope that an experience of 16 years to the practice of his profession, both private and Hospital, together with a thorough Medical-Curricular education, as evidenced by the proper granting of a Diploma to that effect will obtain for him the confidence of the citizens of Puget Sound.

LETTERS addressed—P. M. O'BRIEN, M. D., Port Townsend, will be duly acknowledged. n31-f
