LA CONNER, Oct. 31, 1882.

EDITOR ARGUS:—
You have likely heard before this of the great loss and accident here last Monday morning. The O. R. & N. Co.'s steamer Idaho had been loading grain down the slough a little way, and Capt. Green brought her here cocluding to wait at the wharf over night. About 3 o'clock the watchman saw water coming in, and immediately gave the alarm. The water rushed in so fast though, that two or three of the men had to swim out of and from their banks without stopping to dress. This was at low tide. When tide came in the Idaho drifted quite a distance, over 100 yards. In the afternoon when the Welcome arrived, she chartered Capt. Dyer on the McNaught to take the cargo and passengers up to Sehome, and Capt. Brannon then set to work to do what lay in his power, to assist the Idaho. At low tide a crew of white men and Indians were hired to move the grain—3,000 sacks of oats—from the Idaho on board the Welcome, and today those sacks were again landed at the wharf, and now the Welcome is engaged, if possible, to bring the Idaho to shallow water, where she can be left dry when the tide goes out, that the hull can be examined. More anon. S. J.
Nov. 1st.—They succeeded last night in lifting the Idaho. She will now go to Seattle and be examined. S. J.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The United States Supreme Court today advanced the Virginia coupon case, involving the State debt question, and ordered it argued January 9th.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 1.—Meyers & Marcus, wholesale dry goods dealers, have made an assignment. Their reported liabilities are $200,000. The assets in stocks and accounts exceed the liabilities.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 30.—The strike in the East Liverpool, Ohio, potteries, inaugurated five months ago, is practically at an end. Of the 700 employees, all except 150 have returned to work or moved away, and of the eight potteries, seven are running.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Judge Advocate Swain, in reply to the inquiry of the Secretary of War, takes the ground that officers of the army who refuse to pay their debts are liable to process of common law, the same as civilians and others. Where their acts tend to bring discredit upon the army, or in any way impair the efficiency or discipline of the service, they constitute a sufficient cause for a court martial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Garfield Monument Fair Association to-night encouraging advice were received from different points. The whole space of the rotunda of the Capitol is already taken. The Secretary is daily in receipt of gifts and exhibits from all parts of the country. The program finally agreed upon is that Saturday, November 25th shall be for the opening ceremonies; 26th the Garfield memorial day; 27th the Army of the Cumberland day; 28th, public school children's day; 29, wheelmen's day; 30th, Knights Templar day; December 1st, military day; 2d, District of Columbia Day; 3d, closing ceremonies.

BOSTON, Oct. 30.—The Palestine Colonization and Christian Missionary Association has been incorporated here. It was formed for the purpose of colonizing Palestine with industrious and economical citizens, and by their prudence, labor and perseverance, restore it to its former grandeur, so that it will not only be the center of the world geographically, but also in art, science and wealth. The members of the association claim that under proper management the soil can be brought to a very fine state of cultivation, its mineral resources developed, and mechanical industries established, thereby producing extensive commercial interests between Palestine and other nations. The association will run a line of packets between Boston and Palestine, and the officers are negotiating for a place suitable for a harbor.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Further defalcations have been discovered on the part of Biglow, teller of the First National bank. Another warrant was served on him tonight.

Postoffice Figures.—The annual report of the first Assistant Postmaster General Hutton gives the number of postoffices in operation on June 30th, 1882 as 46,231 an increase of 1719 during the year. One thousand eight hundred and fifty-one of these offices are known as Presidential offices, and the remainder, 44,380, are filled by appointment of the Post Master General. The free delivery system has been in operation during the year in 122 principal cities, and 4115 carriers have employed; total appropriations for the service $22,500; increase of $12,500 during the previous year, leaving a total cost of service $22,262; there being on hand an unexpended balance of $1735. General Hutton recommends that the free delivery system be extended to towns within short distance of one another which have not singly acquired the qualification of population or the gross revenue entitling them to service, but which have an aggregate more than the required population. Revenue returns from all parts of the union show a very gratifying general increase of business. The sum necessary to pay the increased salaries of postmasters, including 335 special adjustments, amount to $563,400, or 17.13 per cent. more than last year.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF JEFFERSON CO

ALLEN WEIR, Editor and Proprietor.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1882.

Judge Burke's letter of acceptance is a candid, able document from the author's standpoint—but he is decidedly "off" in assuming that the main issue in this territory is civil service reform. The Judge is taking the nomination to keep up a show of an organization in the democratic ranks, so as to keep a check on the republican party and keep it on its good behavior. Surely no good citizen will object to this. We are willing to have every safeguard thrown around republican rulers in this territory, to make assurance doubly sure that they will continue to give us pure and honest government. But there is no issue on the question. Not even Judge Burke's keen eyes can discover aught of fraud or bad government on the part of those in power—neither can his facile pen by any sort of juggling convince the people that there is necessity for a change. Just stand up and fire yourself off, Judge; you are not disturbing anybody.

It is said on apparently good authority that McReavy was chiefly instrumental in defeating a good bill at the legislature five years ago. If the people want their wishes forever set aside in this matter they will send Mr. McReavy to the council; if not, they will send Mr. Kerr. This issue is alone enough to decide the contest. McReavy's principal recommendation is that he can be depended upon by a certain corporation to do its bidding. Mr. Kerr's is that he is a representative man of fine education and abilities, and that he is free from all possible control on the part of designing capitalists. Voters understand this and will govern themselves accordingly.

PORT ADMIRAL.—The Secretary of the Navy has restored the grade of Port Admiral at New York. Commodore John H. Uphur, at present Commandant at Brooklyn navy yard, will be assigned to the position. The office of Port Admiral at the port of entry here does not depend upon the Secretary of the Navy, but will continue to be filled by the present incumbent, who is the unanimous choice of the people as well as the City Fathers. We suggest that the usual office of Port Warden be created by the city and that the office be filled by the present port admiral, who is eminently qualified to discharge the duties of that important maritime department.

THE PEOPLE ARE FOR HIM.—Last Monday afternoon the train which bore ex-Senator Mitchell from Salem was met at the depot in East Portland, by a large number of citizens headed by a brass band, and having with them a barouche drawn by four white horses in which Mr. Mitchell was placed and escorted to the Esmond. On reaching the Portland side, on the Stark street ferry, Mr. Mitchell was greeted with the welcoming cheers of thousands of citizens assembled to do him honor. At the hotel the crowd called for a speech and Mr. Mitchell appeared and returned his heartfelt thanks for the honor conferred by the assemblage. At the earnest request of Mr. Mitchell a public reception prepared for him, without his knowledge, was indefinitely postponed. Gentlemen from Walla Walla who were present say that the assemblage was composed of several thousand well dressed citizens, and that Mr. Mitchell appeared to have the hearty sympathy and best wishes of the people. The Oregonian failed to mention the reception of Mr. Mitchell, though it took place under the windows of its editorial rooms, and by so doing exhibited a very petty, jealous spirit. The Standard says that one banner, carried in the procession, bore the legend "Dolph in 1882 Mitchell in 1884." His hearty reception by the people of Portland will long be remembered with pride by Mr. Mitchell.

WEALTHY SENATORS.—The wealthiest man in the United States Senate is Mr. Fair of Nevada, who is said to possess as much as all the other senators together. Next to him is Judge Davis, of Illinois. The third is probably Mr. Hale, of Maine, whose wife is the only daughter of the late Senator Chandler, of Michigan. Then comes Senator Miller of California, Sawyer of Wisconsin, Mahone of Virginia, Sewell of New Jersey, Sherman of Ohio, Cameron of Pennsylvania, Davis of West Virginia, Plumb of Kansas, Hill of Colorado, Brown of Georgia, Groome of Maryland, McPherson of New Jersey, and Pendleton of Ohio—each of whom writes his fortune with seven figures. Besides these, Morrill of Vermont, and many other senators, are worth more than $100,000 each.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The following Thanksgiving proclamation is issued by the President of the United States of America:

A PROCLAMATION.

In conformity with a custom, the annual observance of which is justly held in honor by this people, I, Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States, do hereby set apart Thursday, the 30th day of November next, as a day of public thanksgiving.

The blessings demanding our gratitude are numerous and varied; for the peace and amity which subsist between this Republic and all the nations of the world; for freedom from internal discord and violence; for increasing friendship between the different sections of the land of liberty, justice and constitutional government; for the devotion of the people to our free institutions, and their cheerful obedience to the mild laws; for the constantly increasing strength of the Republic, while extending its privileges to fellow men who come to us; for improved means of internal communication; for increased facilities of intercourse with other nations; for the general prevailing health of the year; for the prosperities of all our industries, a liberal return for the mechanic's toil, affording a market for the abundant harvests of the husbandman; for the preservation of the national faith and credit; for the wise and generous provisions to effect the intellectual and moral education of our youth; for the influence upon the conscience of restraining and transforming religion, and for the joys of home. For these and for many other blessings we should give thanks.

Wherefore I do recommend that the day above designated be observed throughout the country as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, and that the people, ceasing from their daily labor and meeting in accordance with their several forms of worship, draw near to the throne of Almighty God, offering to Him praise and gratitude for the manifold good which He has vouchsafed to us, and praying that His mercies may continue.

And I do further recommend that the day thus appointed may be made a special occasion for deeds of kindness and charity to the suffering and needy, so that all who dwell within the land may rejoice and be glad in this season of national thanksgiving.

In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty-fifth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, and of the Independence of the United States the one hundred and seventh.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

By the President:
FREDERICK T. FREELINGHUYSEN, Sec'y of State.

The Reason Why.

You ask me why I voted
For that big internal steal
Which President Arthur vetoed
Because he didn't feel
His position was a figure-head
For knaves to decorate
With stolen greenbacks spread
O'er many unworthy State.
My answer is: I always try
To get my share of pelf,
(No matter now the reason why)
I always take care of self.
Am not I one of the congressmen
You send to do the job?
Do you suppose an honest man
Can stand that coaxing lobb
Who meet us every morning
With such a winning grace,
All honest men scorning,
And push greenbacks in your face?
You must think I am a fool
To canvass through the State,
And spend money so freely,
Myself and others to elevate
To Congress and its grandeur,
Where we can catch the prog,
Where the Nation's wealth we squander;
(Note that down in your log).
There is one thing I will mention,
Which perhaps you do not know,
We always do appropriate
Where it will make the biggest show.
For instance, there is the Indian,
Who, of course, we dare not miss,
Fearing the Churches' enemas
Sending us down the dark abyss.
Why should he not be kept on top,
As it makes a splendid show
With all the Churches, from the Pope of Rome,
Episcopalian, high and low?
Now, the army and the Navy,
What do we care for them?
We cut them down so closely
They are but a mere sham.
Another branch of service,
Which congressmen never need;
We trim them down so finely
Their lamps they cannot feed.
A light ahead some dark night
To guide the ship in safe,
May be all right in novels,
Poetry—and such stuff.
What care we if all the lights
Are out upon our coast,
And many stately ship go down,
And many lives are lost?
Are we not safe on the Mississippi,
Or on Nebraska's plain,
Just after the close of Congress,
Gloating o'er our gain?
So ask me more the reason why
I voted for that steal.
Do you think I'm veridant in the eye?
Not much!

RUSTLER.

Wreck of the Malleville.

Victoria Colonist.]

The sad news of a wreck on the West Coast brought to this city on Saturday last by the brothers Seirault, from Barclay Sound, and published in these columns on Saturday morning, is now fully authenticated by the return of the H. M. S. Kingfisher yesterday morning from the scene of the disaster. On Capt. Thornton's arrival at Hesquiat harbor, and communicating with Father Brabant, he ascertained that a wreck had occurred and that the ill-fated vessel was the American barque.

MALLEVILLE.

of Freeport Maine, Captain E. F. Harlow. She struck the fatal reef, some three or four miles off shore, at 9:45 on the evening of Tuesday the 10th instant, and it seems went to pieces almost immediately, as a ship's clock, which was washed ashore, stopped at 10 p. m. A there is not the slightest hope that a living soul belonging to the vessel is alive, this appalling tale of shipwreck, suffering and death will never be told at least.

TWENTY LIVES

Must have been lost as she was a barque of 924 tons register; and among those were the captain's young wife and two if not three children, the eldest a sprightly boy of nine years, and one or two other children of more tender age. The bodies of four men, one a Chinaman or Japanese, the other three whites, and a handsome and richly dressed lady, the captain's wife undoubtedly, were washed ashore. These were duly cared for, and the last sad rites bestowed upon them by the kind-hearted father and his Indian.

THE WRECK

Occurred on the night of the 10th instant, which will be remembered as one of the densest darkness and very stormy. The efforts that were made to keep off the dangerous coast, or the length of time that death stared the ill-fated crew in the face may never be known. Perhaps the Captain was trying for hours to make Hesquiat harbor close by, where good and sheltered anchorage may be found. The ledge on which the barque struck extends for a considerable distance off shore beyond Estevan Point, the western entrance to Hesquiat harbor. This point is 92 miles north-west of Flatter, and about 60 from Cape Beale light.

The Malleville was a wooden vessel of 924 tons register, with a crew of 18 men, all told, and was 16 years old, having been built at Freeport, Me., in 1866. Was owned by Mr. E. J. Harlow, of that city, and commanded by his son, Capt. E. F. Harlow. She left Liverpool with a general cargo for St. Johns, Newfoundland and there loaded lumber for Sydney, New South Wales, where she arrived on the 25th May last, reached Shanghai on the 25th of July and left that port for Victoria on the 18 of August.

SENATOR Dolph, of Oregon, is a former law partner of ex-Senator Mitenell. His election is accepted as a compromise measure that will reunite the party in that State.

Sunday Reading.

If we attend well to our own affairs, we shall not have time to superintend our neighbor's.

It is a great deal better to lead a holy life than to talk about it. We are told to let our light shine, and if it does, we shall not need to tell any body it does. The light will be its own witness.—D. L. Moody.

W. C. Depauw, of New Albany, Ind., offers to give $1,000,000 to Asbury University, in that State on condition that a like sum be raised by the other Methodists of the State.

The late John Magee, Jr., of Watkins, N. Y., has left by will $50,000 for the erection of five churches in New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

The following words of wisdom are from Josh Billings: "When a man turns to me for advice, I find out the kind of advice he wants, and I give it to him. This satisfies him that he and I are two as smart men as there is living."

That terrible scourge, fever and ague, and its congeners, bilious remittent, besides affections of the stomach, liver and bowels, produced by miasmatic air and water, are both eradicated by the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable elixir, endorsed by physicians, and more extensively used as a remedy for the above class of disorders, as well as for many others, than any medicine of the age. For sale by all Druggists and Dealers generally.

CLIPPINGS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary New left here today for Indiana. He will not return until after the election. A large number of Government employees having residences in the West also left.

CHESLER, Pa., Oct. 23.—The extensive works of the Eureka Steel Company at Lamokin burned this morning. A large number of valuable patterns were destroyed. Loss $150,000, fully covered with insurance. The fire originated in the cupola.

FALL RIVER, Oct. 28.—Flint mill was almost totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. It was valued at $800,000, and insured for $600,000. The fire caught from a belt in the picker room, and spread rapidly through the building.

LONDON, Oct. 27.—The British bark Kate Irving, has arrived at Adelaide from Barrard Inlet in a dilapidated condition. She reports that during a storm off the Australian coast the vessel was thrown on her beam ends, lost her deck and sprung plank, soon making four feet of water in the hold. She docked for repairs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—Promotions in the army consequent upon the retirement of Major Gen. Irving McDowell, are announced by the President today as follows: Brigadier General John Pope to be Major General, and Colonel Ronald S. Mackenzie, Fourth Cavalry, to be Brigadier General. Both promotions take effect from today.

PORTLAND, Or., Oct. 27.—In the case of George Morican and Ah Kee, arrested for the violation of the Chinese restriction bill, Judge Deady this morning discharged the prisoners because they were simply on board a vessel touching at this port while on a voyage to a foreign port, and second, they were here only as members of a crew arriving from a foreign port.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Wooden ship-building down East is reported to be gradually reviving, and several large vessels have been recently turned out at Bath, Thomaston and other ports in Maine. The largest sailing vessel in this port today is the ship Cyrus Wakefield, built at Thomaston and just arrived here. She has already secured a charter and is loading for San Francisco. She is 2013 tons register and carries 3000 tons dead weight. She is about 266 feet over all, 44 feet beam and draws, when loaded, about 24 feet. Her handsome clipper model, lofty spars and top hamper and snowy canvass already bent for sailing, combined with the general air of newness, attract much attention. She was built and is owned by Captain Sam Watts. A larger ship than even the Wakefield is now being built down East, which will be 2400 tons register.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—A call for gold certificates from Chicago arrived yesterday. There has been called for by Chicago, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cincinnati, $41,000,000 certificates in such denominations as require 46,160 signatures. Mr. Aetion has written the Secretary of the Treasury he can sign two thousand times a day or a little more. He has written his name 2300 times a day, but this is making heavy demands upon his right hand. He would have to work rapidly an extra hour to keep that rate up day after day. Treasury officials, whose sole duty is to write names at the bottom of documents laid before them and taken out from under their hands, think 1500 signatures is a pretty good day's work. As Mr. Aetion must be allowed to give his arm a rest on Sunday, it is certain it will take him a month of rapid and uninterrupted signing his name to meet the demands already in from the cities named. New Orleans and San Francisco are yet to be heard from, and that cities that have already sent in calls for certificates will want some more by the time they get what they have already called for. Besides New York has taken about $12,000,000 of certificates and will want more.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 25.—Thirty-eight cases of yellow fever and two deaths. Total number of cases to date, 2096; deaths, 170. It is reported that 70 cases of so-called malarial fever occurred at Millerew. The weather is clear and growing warm.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24.—A statement to the effect that political affairs in New York, in Pennsylvania, and in other States have been the subject for discussion in cabinet meetings, is denied by the President and members of the cabinet, who furthermore specifically say while usual cabinet meetings have been held for the consideration of public business, no reference whatever to political matters has been made at any meeting, and no dispatches whatever, cipher or otherwise, have been sent from the White House to the chairman of the State central committee in New York, or to anyone else on political subjects there or elsewhere.

An anonymous pamphlet, entitled, "The war of 1886, between the United States and Great Britain," has just been published in Cincinnati. The war will be wholly a naval one, and a fleet of English gunboats will sail up the St. Lawrence River into our chain of inland lakes and levy fearful contributions on the rich cities situated on them. Another fleet will lay waste the sea coasts and incidentally assess New York for a contribution of $100,000,000. The United States, being without a navy, will endure all this evil without a struggle. The pamphlet is a very good satire on our naval affairs, and ought to, as it probably will, be sent to that great executive genius, ex Secretary Robeson.

Hops are now selling at 62, 63 and 65 cents a pound, according to quality.

Reed's Opera House and hotel, in Salem, were burned to the extent of $15,000 by a fire last Thursday.

It is reported that Southern Pacific route from San Francisco to New Orleans will be in active operation by November 1st.

Two steamers a week will hereafter arrive at Portland from San Francisco, and two will depart each week for San Francisco. The Oregon, Columbia, State of California and the Queen of the Pacific are expected to perform this service.

The Umatilla Indians expect to put under cultivation next year 15,000 acres of their reservation. They have a saw and flour mill, threshers, headers, and in fact everything they need. The more industrious of the tribe are getting wealthy.

The largest locomotive ever built has just been completed at Paterson N. J., for the Central Pacific Road, and twenty-four more will be constructed. Their weight will be sixty-two tons each, and they have eight driving wheels.

FOR CHERALIS.—Governor Newell will, in a day or two, pay an extended visit to Cheralis County and afterwards visit Pacific and Waiilatama, going via Shoalwater Bay and the Columbia. He will return to Olympia via Kalama.

Judges and inspectors of elections should take note that the old law in regard to the numbering of tickets is repealed, and that it will be a misdemeanor to number or in any way mark the ballots presented by voters.

ANOTHER SAW MILL.—A. J. Perry, of Semiahmoo, is at present in San Francisco, negotiating for the purchase of a large saw mill, which he intends to put in operation near Semiahmoo. It will cut at the start about 25,000 feet per day and will cost, engine included, in the neighborhood of $6,000. Mr. Perry will leave for home on the 30th inst. The mill will probably be in operation by June next.—Enterprise.

In urging the voters to all cast their ballots at the coming election the Post-Intelligencer admonishes Puget Sounders that a local question is pending which is of as much importance as any ever before them. It says: "A new apportionment of Councilmen and Representatives will doubtless be made at the next session of the Territorial Legislature. The apportionment will be made upon the basis of the number of votes cast, not upon the population of counties as disclosed by Federal or other census officers."

The steamer North Pacific will do all the work on the route to Port Townsend during the coming week. She will leave here at 3 each morning for that place, and return in the evening of the same day. The Isabel will complete the run to Victoria on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday mornings. This arrangement will continue until the Emma Hayward is ready to go on the route to Olympia, relieving the Geo. E. Starr there, which will take her old route, and the North Pacific go on to Victoria as before. The Otter has been laid up for the winter.—Post-Intelligencer.

When the House adjourned Tuesday, after hearing the president's veto read, members lingered and excitedly discussed the bill. Horr of Michigan "stamped angrily about from group to group assailing the president in language loud and indecorous." This Horr is the buffalo of the House, coarse and selfish. The next Congress is threatened with two of them, but all the family could be spared.—Springfield Republican.

[The other one spoken of was elected to stay at home in Ohio recently.—Ed.] This season H. E. Levy, of this city, will ship two hundred barrels of Puget Sound salmon to London, and also a small lot of Puget Sound hops. Both these shipments will be made as experiments, and if they prove successful, a permanent trade will probably be built up.—Post-Intelligencer.

The Cutavaco Cures

PITYRIASIS, or Dandruff, with which many are afflicted.

ALOPECIA, or Baldness, also depends upon a fungus destroying the roots of the hair. A spot may first arise where first inoculated, spreading in a circular form and so enlarging by degrees that the whole hair is swept away, leaving a glistening scalp; or, the disease may first appear in various places. The hair is dull and lustreless and easily extracted, or it begins to fall, and progressing by degrees is soon lost unless remedied.

The Cutavaco will cause the hair to grow, because it at once destroys the offending cause which prevents; the hair is at once preserved, and the scalp and bulbs made healthy and vigorous. Parties from a distance must send the price of bottle with the order. Price 75 cents.

PORT TOWNSEND HOSPITAL,

Port Townsend, W. T. The above institution having been placed on a permanent footing as the United States Hospital for the treatment of contagious diseases, the proprietor takes pleasure in announcing that no pains or expense will be spared in procuring the most comfortable and convenient of private patients.

This is the largest General Hospital north of San Francisco, and is in the most complete and equipped. It has been thoroughly renovated and refurnished. Its general wards have accommodations for one hundred patients, and are particularly adapted for cases requiring the most careful and constant supervision in a limited space. Those who desire them will be furnished with private rooms entirely separate and distinct from the general wards. The attention of mill-owners, and those interested in shipping, is called to the fact that contagious diseases will be treated outside the Hospital without expense to the vessel.

JOHN McREAVY.—In the legislature of 1877 John McReavy sat as a member. One of his acts was to introduce a bill to take a strip about 5x30 miles from Jefferson county. J. M. E. Atkinson, Wm. Korter and J. A. Kuhn, who were all members at that time, secured the defeat of this measure. Mr. Korter introduced a pilot bill which contained many desirable provisions; it passed the lower house against the opposition of McReavy, and was amended in the council and passed; on its final passage in the house, McReavy again voted against it, but, seeing it was adopted, changed his vote to the affirmative before the result was announced; then he moved a reconsideration and an order making it a special business at a certain hour about three days afterwards; this carried, and before the special order was reached Puget Mill Company was on hand in the persons of several well known strikers, who succeeded in "fixing" the whole thing according to their most approved methods. That is how John McReavy acted when the interests of the whole public clashed with the wishes of a powerful corporation. Is he the kind of a man the voting public want in our legislative council? We think not. The way to best punish him for thus treacherously betraying important commercial interests is to vote for R. C. Kerr. Puget Mill Co. succeeded, through the action of McReavy in defeating the wishes of the public and subverting public legislation in private interests; it has accomplished the same result since in a similar way. Now, it is high time that men were sent to the legislature, who are made of different kind of material—men who can be depended upon to stand by the best interests of their constituents, no matter whether private corporations, however influential, want them to or not. Prof. Kerr is just the kind of a man to "fill the bill" in that respect. If voters are ever going to take a decided stand against the encroachments of moneyed power, now is their time to do it by voting for Kerr.

VOTE THE TICKET.—Republicans of Jefferson county have put forth a ticket which they think is clean and unobjectionable. An active canvass is being made in favor of that ticket as a whole. Republicans throughout the county will hardly be deceived by any of the gauzy claptrap with which republicans independents (?) are seeking to catch votes for the democratic ticket. Stick to your party and its ticket. You cannot do better outside of that ticket.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF WASHINGTON.

PROCLAMATION.

Thanks and adoration are due and will be cheerfully rendered to Almighty God for the manifold benefactions which He has bestowed upon us as a people.

Possessed of large domains replete with all elements of agricultural, mineral, manufacturing and commercial prosperity and greatness, plentiful in fine seasons and fruitful harvests; ever exempt from pestilence, epidemic diseases, tempests, floods, or droughts, blessed with free self-government; with liberty to worship God, even inhabitant from his own standpoint of conscience and duty, all these inspire us with gratitude and constrain us to offer our tributes of thankfulness with willing hearts to the giver of all good.

The President of the United States, as designated Thursday, the 30th day of November, 1882, to be observed as a day of thanksgiving and praise throughout the nation.

Therefore I William A. Newell, Governor of Washington, do recommend to the people of the Territory that they abstain from secular pursuits on that day, and assemble in their places of public worship to give thanks and homage to the Creator and Benefactor of mankind for His merciful forbearance and tender care.

Given at Olympia on this, the 1st day of November, 1882, under the great seal of Washington Territory.
WM. A. NEWELL.

By the Governor:
N. H. OWINGS,
Secretary of the Territory.

It must be humiliating for those renegade republicans on the independent (?) ticket to visit their republican friends, and former political co-workers, and urge them to support the regular democratic ticket—for such the independent (?) ticket is, and nothing more. On the other hand, it must be refreshing to democrats to support republicans who affiliate with them merely to get their votes. Truly politics makes strange bedfellows.

AS TO SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.—We learn that a question of local interest may affect votes in this precinct as to School Superintendent. Miss Bash, one of the teachers in our public school, opens exercises every day by repeating the Lord's prayer, whereat some have objected, even to taking chil ren out of school; it is said that such persons want a county superintendent who will not permit such things. In the first place, it is difficult to see how choice will be made upon such a point as between the two nominees for superintendent, both of whom are members of the M. E. Church, each holding about the same relation and standing. Very probably their views are identical, and they would treat the subject in point about the same way. It is a question, however, for the directors in the district to deal with. We do not believe it right to introduce the Bible promiscuously in the public schools, where the money of infidels, free thinkers, Catholics, Hebrews and all counts just the same as that of Christians for educational purposes; hence anything that savors of sectarian teaching should be reserved for sectarian schools that are not supported by a money. As to simple prayer, however, it seems as though a very broad question were raised. One of the primary and fundamental principles of our government (indeed, of all civilized governments) is man's accountability to Deity; no one's oath can be accepted in a court of justice, unless such accountability is acknowledged. It follows, therefore, that prayer to a supreme being cannot possibly affect the rights or wrongfully warp the minds of children in our schools, and that refusal to allow teachers to use prayer in school is necessarily a command to abstain from that which is in absolute harmony with the letter and spirit of our government. But this discussion is perhaps unnecessary at the present time. It is altogether unlikely that any considerable issue will be raised, even before the directors. The editor of this paper was nominated without having sought the place, but if elected he will engage to attend to its duties in a thorough and conscientious manner. He will compare qualifications with Mr. Collins any day; the latter gentleman is one of the transient residents of the county, having nothing of permanent interest here beyond the situation he holds in the employ of a mill company; he may remain among us two years—and may not. On the other hand, the editor has settled in this county permanently, for life work to which he addresses himself as vigorously as when, over five years ago, it was taken up.

EDITOR ARGUS:—

Some time ago I read in your paper the statement that you were not acquainted with, and consequently could not say much about, Wm. Callow, Esq., republican candidate for Joint Representative of Jefferson, Mason and Kitsap counties. Permit me to state for the information of your readers, that Mr. Callow is a young man thirty or thirty-five years of age, a good English scholar, intelligent, energetic, of excellent moral character, a strict temperance man, though not fanatical upon this question; the son of pious Methodist parents, and one who respects their religion though he is not himself a church member. He is deservedly popular among his friends and will carry much more than his party vote in his own county, which though strongly democratic, elected him sheriff two years ago by a handsome majority. He was, I believe, the first republican sheriff ever elected in Mason county. Such a phenomenon as the election of a republican county officer was never known in the history of that county except once, until Mr. Callow came to this point two years ago. Let him have the full vote of his party in the lower counties, and he will be all right up this way. I feel certain that the district will have in him a thoroughly honest and capable representative.

Yours etc
OLD SETTLER.

VOTE FOR
H. L. Tibbals, Sr.
FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

NOTICE.

I hereby inform my friends and the voting public of San Juan county in general, that I have withdrawn from the nomination as Probate Judge, and at request of many friends announce myself as independent candidate for County Auditor of San Juan county, W. T.
JOHN L. SHERER.

FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER.
ED. ARGUS:

At the earnest request of many friends in both political parties, I take this method of announcing myself an independent candidate for re-election to the board of County Commissioners for Jefferson county. Thanking the public for liberal support and confidence in the past, I shall if re-elected, endeavor to continue the duties of the position for the best interests of all concerned.
Respectfully,

OFFICIAL PAPER OF PORT TOWNSEND.

BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS.

From Tuesday's Daily.

SOCIAL TOMORROW NIGHT.

PROFS. SCOTT and VERTELLI had opposition shows in town last evening.

THE schooner Maige arrived yesterday with a load of hay for Waterman & Katz.

DR. HUNT will be here again to serve customers in dentistry, Nov. 21st. Read his card elsewhere.

HON. F. H. BRENTS is registered at a Seattle hotel. Presume he will call at this place while on the Sound.

IT is learned that the new mill will be in order for running in a few days more. The boilers and tank have been filled with water preparatory to starting steam.

DON'T forget to attend the social tomorrow evening at the parlor of the Central Hotel. It was deferred from last week out of respect to the memory of the late Mrs. Norris.

THE Seattle Weekly Herald has reached our table. It is a nine-column folio, closely filled with such reading matter as goes to make it an acceptable newspaper for the general public.

THE schooner W. L. Beebe, from San Francisco, discharged on Quincy street wharf 200 cases coal oil, 40 gunnies coffee, 300 sacks bran for Waterman & Katz, and afterwards proceeded to Irondale to discharge 75 tons of freight there.

KING county people will do well to elect Hon. H. G. Struve to the legislature. He is a lawyer of eminent ability, a legislator of considerable experience in the past legislatures of this territory a man of mature, enlightened judgement and one who would creditably represent the wishes and needs of his constituents.

IT has been urged by democrats that the Bartletts should not have the county treasurership for such a long term—yet they seem to forget that Mr. Hill comes from a county where he held the offices of auditor and probate judge year in and year out, which offices he resigned to come over here and displace our officers that he might have another long tug at a county seat.

LAST evening Prof. Scott and his troupe gave their concert in the Good Templars' Hall to a crowded house, and notwithstanding the indisposition of Miss Morton, who was unable to appear, the entertainment passed off to the entire satisfaction of the audience. Mr. George French, the tenor, was in fine trim, and rendered his ballads in an exceptionally sweet and feeling manner, especially in the ballad "Kiss me and I'll go to sleep," and also the now famous "Swim out for glory" comic campmeeting refrain. Mr. Chas. Lawrence, the baritone, was also in fine voice. The manner in which he sang and acted in his comic and descriptive songs is well worthy of praise, and "brought down the house." We have already stated that Prof. Scott is a talented musician. His performance on his diminutive organ was well received. He favored the audience last evening with two excellent overtures of his own composition, which were met with marked approval, and also were his readings and comic recitations. The trios and choruses of the little party were beautifully rendered and most enthusiastically received. They play in Port Discovery they will be well received.

GOVERNOR Newell favored this office with a brief call a few days since.

TEACHERS' examination was held at the public school building Wednesday and Thursday.

STARTED UP.—The machinery of the new saw mill was started up on Tuesday, just for a test. It worked nicely.

AT the social at the Central Hotel Wednesday evening a large number were in attendance. The church collection amounted to $14.80.

CLEARING lots on the east side of Maple Avenue furnishes employment to workmen, besides greatly improving the looks of that portion of town.

THE foot hills are all covered with snow, and atmospheric temperature indicates snow down to the salt water at no distant day.

DURING the month of October 107 vessels entered and cleared at the Port Townsend custom house. During the same time $5,700 was collected in custom dues.

THE October number of the West Shore contains some excellent lithographic views of Port Townsend. Our citizens should show their appreciation of such service in a substantial manner.

OWING to the sad bereavement that visited the editor's family this week, and his own continued illness, no Daily has been issued for two days. A considerable public will of course overlook the omission under the circumstances.

REMEMBER to do right, to pay your honest debts—and to patronize Clinger's auction store when you want goods at low prices.

BORN.

In this city, October 30th, to the wife of H. L. Tibbals, Jr. a son.

A CARD OF THANKS.

Kind friends, of Port Townsend and elsewhere: Your sympathetic and thoughtful attentions during our recent sad affliction are appreciated far beyond what we can express in puny language. May heaven reward you as such actions deserve.

Very Respectfully,
ALLEN WEIR,
ELLEN WEIR.

DIED.

In Port Townsend, Nov. 1, 1882, John Hall, infant and only son of Allen Weir and wife, aged 7 months and 11 days.

A lovely flower, a sunbeam sent from heaven to cheer the hearts of fond parents for a brief season. No sweeter bud of brighter promise ever came to gladden an earthly home. But God took him our darling, to fill some favored place among the angelic hosts above. We bow in meek submission to the will of One who knows in His infinite wisdom what is best. Kind friends have come by the score to offer sympathy and consolation—each recalling, oh, so forcibly, "how our hearts are bleeding o'er the spoils that death has won."

We enclosed the little body in a neat rosewood casket, trimmed with flowers, and laid it away to rest in the beautiful Masonic cemetery near town, where it will remain a reminder of the broken family circle never on earth to be complete again. The pure spirit has flown to realms of light to await the coming of those left behind—when "the beautiful gates are left ajar" for us.

The days how few, how short the years,
Of man's too rapid race!
Each leaving as it swiftly flies,
A shorter in its place.
They who the longest lease enjoy,
Have told us with a sigh,
That to be born seems little more
Than to begin to die.
Our hearts are fastened to this world
By strong and endless ties;
But every sorrow cuts a string,
And urges us to rise.
When heaven would kindly set us free,
And earth's enchantments end,
It takes the most effectual means,
And robs us of a friend.
What is the whole creation fair?
Of love divine the child:
Love brought it forth, and, from its birth,
Has o'er it fondly smiled.

But why mourn the dead? You wrong the grave,
From storm that safe resort;
We are still tossing out at sea,
Our admiral in port.
When streams flow backward to their source,
And humbled flames descend,
When mountains winged shall fly aloft,
Then human sorrows end.

A Masonic Legend.

Many years ago, in the parish of Carphairn, in Galloway, a rude and sequestered district, there were only three Free Masons, the minister, a tailor and a mason.

"On, ay, Janet; just you gang awa' then, and we'll see what we can do." Mr. Dun then returned to the interior of the cottage, and mentioned to the minister what had passed between him and the old woman.

"Nae fear o' that," answered the mason, "just leave it all to me." Next day, when Janet called upon Mr. Dun, he told her that "the de'il" had not exactly communicated the name of the thief, but he mentioned that, if the goods were not returned before Thursday next, the house of the guilty person would fall upon him in the night time, and the whole family would be killed.

Away went Janet, quite satisfied; although it might have been expected to occur to her that the prediction of punishment to a thief was not exactly a characteristic piece of conduct on the part of Old Nick.

On the third morning thereafter Janet's web was found lying at her door, with a part which had been cut off attached to the main body of it with pins.

Curing Bad-Tempered Horses. The stable-boy told me a year or so ago, says a correspondent of the New York Evening Post, that my horse had got to acting very ugly when he drove him out of the carriage-house—prancing, jumping, backing and cutting up generally.

I took a night to meditate upon the difficulty, for it seemed to me a pretty serious one, as I had known many horses to fall into a vicious habit of that kind and never get out of it.

A YOUNG wife remonstrated with her husband a dissipated spendthrift, for his conduct. "Love," he said, "I am like the prodigal son; I shall reform by-and-by." "I will be like the prodigal son, too," she replied, "for I will arise and go to my father."

Now, I deem, as Gen. Jackson used to say, that this treatment will cure balkiness also, as well as any other bad habit of a horse that grows out of vexation of mind. The mental constitution of this animal, and his moral constitution too, are too much like that of a child.

"Well—let me see—suppose we say a couple o' hundred yards of 'em, hey? That's about the size of it, I think."—London Punch.

HIGH-HEELED SHOES.

A Fruitful Source of Back-Ache and Kindred Ills.

"Back-ache," says a prominent New York physician, "is very common among women; more than two-thirds of them suffer from it. But there is one kind of this trouble, caused by a prevailing fashion, which women ought not to allow themselves to suffer from."

"A few years ago a fashionable young lady called upon me, saying that her back was very lame and had been so for a considerable time; the pain had lately so greatly increased that she had become frightened about herself. She had been obliged to shorten her promenades, so she said, was almost incapable of dancing, and her life was gradually becoming a burden. She had 'tried everything,' and taken medicine all the time, but—and then she broke down in such a way that I began to suspect hysteria."

"She looked tired, and her face bore an expression of pain and despondency which was not compatible with her years—she was about 23—nor her evidences of constitutional force, which I judged to be strong. I confess I was at a loss to account for her trouble, and close questioning gave me no indication for treatment. I at last prescribed a tonic—on general principles—and asked her to call in about a week. When she appeared again, a glance sufficed to show that she was no better, and I was much puzzled as I saw her walk up and down the office in nervous excitement, exclaiming that she would never get well—she knew she wouldn't, etc. As I looked, a certain peculiarity in her walk led me to think that there might be some spinal trouble, and I commenced a cross-examination, which she brought to a sudden close by saying: 'Why, doctor, several of my friends are suffering just as I am, but they are not yet so worn out with the pain; we cannot all have spinal complaints, can we?'"

"I thought it impossible, of course, and the interview ended by my asking her to call again on the next day, ambling one of her friends with her, when I would make another effort to discover the real cause of her trouble. I had, in fact, made up my mind that some peculiarity in dress was at the root of the difficulty. The ladies called, and had hardly traversed the office before I observed in patient No. 2 the same eccentricity in walking that I had seen in the first patient. I was not long in discovering that the real difficulty lay in the high and tapering heels of my patients' gaiters. Closer examination revealed the fact that there was a difference in the height of the boot heels of the two ladies, and I found that my first patient, who was the greater sufferer, was the one whose gaiters possessed the higher heels. There was nothing to do but to prescribe slippers and wooden stockings for a week, to be followed by the wearing of shoes having low, broad heels."

"All signs of lameness disappeared within eleven days, and my first patient of this kind, together with many who have followed her, regained their health and strength. There are many physiological reasons why undue elevation of the heel must cause trouble. It will suffice to say that it tends to throw forward the contents of the abdominal cavity, and the muscles, nerves and cords, more or less connected with, or surrounding the back, are subjected to unusual strain in resisting the forward impulse. Of course, in such cases, lame back is not of itself a disease, but only the indication of a deep-seated trouble, which is sometimes difficult to deal with. Ladies should be warned that this fashion in heels is certain to bring them—sooner or later—great trouble."

THE Point Well Taken. "I object, your Honor, to this witness' testimony." "Upon what ground?" said the Judge. "My point is, your Honor, that evidence from a person occupying the professional position of the witness is unreliable."

"What did I understand the witness to say his occupation was?" asked the Judge. "Washington correspondent of a New York daily paper," was the reply. "Ah!" said the Judge, "the point is well taken; the court sustains your objection, Mr. Coke-stone."

Trunks. One of the porters of a New York hotel was talking about trunks to a reporter. He says the secret of handling a trunk safely lies in a knowledge of the fact that the corners are always dovetailed and strongly braced with iron.

Let a trunk down on the corner and it's all right. Big trunks are not what porters dread. "It looks tremendous," said this practical philosopher, "to see a man take one of them and trot up to the top story, but you want to remember this all through life: Wherever a woman is concerned, things are bound to be light; so when a woman's trunk—and only women have big trunks—comes along, a porter picks it up easily. With a man, though, it's different. Old travelers are apt to carry books, and books are mighty heavy, while a drummer will pack half the stock of a dry-goods store in his trunk, which is usually small, and then make funny remarks when you nearly break your back lifting it."

An enlightened mind is not hood-winked; it is not shut up in a gloomy prison till it thinks the wall of its own dungeon the limits of the universe, and the reach of its own chain the outer verge of all intelligence.

Broncos show that the longest drought which this country has ever struggled through was in the year 1762, when for 123 days in succession, ending Sept. 1, no rain fell over a considerable part of what was at the time settled territory.

Stories of Andrew Jackson.

When Jackson was President, Jimmy O'Neill, the Irish doorkeeper of the White House, was a marked character. He had his foibles, which often offended the fastidiousness of the President's nephew and Secretary, Maj. Donelson, who caused his dismissal on an average of about once a week. But on appeal to the higher court the verdict was always reversed by the good nature of the good old General. Once, however, Jimmy was guilty of some flagrant offense, and, being summoned before the President himself, was thus addressed: "Jimmy, I have borne with you for years in spite of all complaints; but this goes beyond my powers of endurance." "And do you believe the story?" asked Jimmy. "Certainly," answered the General: "I have just heard it from two Senators."

"Faith," retorted Jimmy, "if I believed all that twenty Senators say about you, it's little I'd think you was fit to be President." "Pshaw, Jimmy," concluded the General, "clear out, and go back to your duty, but be more careful hereafter." Jimmy not only retained his place to the close of Jackson's Presidential term, but accompanied him back to the Hermitage, and was with him to the day of his death.

Gen. Jackson had very little love or taste for poetry, his favorite author being Dr. Isaac Watts, from whose "Psalms and Hymns" he used to make his selections for the inscriptions in the ladies' albums which were once so fashionable, when they were sent him with a request for his autograph.

It is said that while President he never drank any ardent spirits. This was corroborated by his negro servant, who said that "Massa Jackson no drink rum, but den he drink his coffee strong enough to kill de debil."—Cincinnati Gazette.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR. GREEN wall-papers, like green confectionery, should always be regarded with grave suspicion.

SMALL-POX is infectious till the last scab has fallen off, and scarlatina till the last bit of skin has peeled.

FEET constantly cold are relieved by brief immersions in cold water, and the active friction with a rough towel.

TURPENTINE is a sovereign remedy for croup. Saturate a piece of flannel with it, and place the flannel on the chest and throat, and in very severe cases three to five drops on a lump of sugar may be taken internally. Every family should have a bottle of turpentine on hand.

BEET TEA FOR STRANGURY.—Dr. W. B. Jones, of Summerville, Ark., writes to the Medical Brief: "About twenty years ago I read in 'The Medical Adviser'—a medical work written by Bezin Thompson—that, in his hands, beet tea was almost a never-failing remedy in strangury. Since that time I have treated quite a number of cases of strangury, from different causes, with beet tea, and it has never yet disappointed me, where there was no actual mechanical obstruction."

IN THE SICK ROOM.—Under all circumstances keep the refreshments intended for the use of the invalid covered. Milk is a ready absorbent. Then there are cooling drinks, jellies, blancmanges and a variety of liquids usually seen at the invalid's bedside, which are all more or less absorbent. These should be kept covered. I once visited an invalid who had her bedside table supplied with an array of glasses, cups, tumblers, etc., the contents of not one of which could we see, all being covered with a most amusing variety of glass and porcelain lids. The invalid liked to forget the contents of each, and was amused to lift one or another of the tiny covers and select a refreshment which presented itself to her taste. And to keep invalids amused and ready to relish what is provided for them are important duties in nursing. Such slight attentions cost little trouble, while they prove to the sufferer that he or she is tenderly cared for.

CREOSOTE FOR BRONCHITIS AND CATARRH.—When going from Switzerland to Italy via Mont Cenis, some years ago, the writer contracted a severe cold, which, in the chill air of Turin, soon brought on a severe attack of bronchitis. We hastened over to the genial air of Genoa, but it afforded little relief, and the advice of Dr. Paecetti, professor in the noted Italian Medical College there, was called in. He prescribed a very simple remedy, which was at once effective, as it had been with many others to whom we have since recommended it. Put into a pint or large bottle about three gills of water, and add two drops of good wood creosote. Shake very thoroughly, take a mouthful, gargling it while in the throat, and swallow it. Repeat this frequently, so as to use up the mixture in the first twenty-five hours, always shaking well before taking. After the first day use three drops of creosote and the same amount of water during twenty-four hours, so long as it is needed. The same mixture has often proved very useful in catarrh. In this case a handful or two of well-shaken creosote and water is snuffed up through the nostrils until it reaches the throat and is spit out. A table-spoonful or more is also gargled in the throat and swallowed. As catarrh is an inflammation of the nasal passages, accompanied with a mucous deposit, the creosote, which is largely carbolic acid, would seem to be useful here just as diluted carbolic acid is effective in cleansing any putrid sores. Catarrh is the result of weakness and is promoted by a cold. A toning-up of the system and any simple remedy use the above is effective, unless the catarrh is severe and of long continuance as to have permanently disorganized the nasal cavities. It is folly to spend money for the much-advertised catarrh remedies, which are usually the sheerest medical quackery.—American Agriculturist.

A compound of the virtues of sarsaparilla, stillingia, mandrake, yellow dock, with the iodide of potash and iron, all powerful blood-making, blood-cleansing, and life-sustaining elements. It is the purest, safest, and in every way the most effective alternative medicine known or available to the public. The sciences of medicine and chemistry have never produced so valuable a remedy, nor one so potent to cure all diseases resulting from impure blood. It cures Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Erysipelas, Rose, or St. Anthony's Fire, Pimples and Face-grubs, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Humors, Salt Rheum, Scald-head, Ringworm, Ulcers, Sores, Rheumatism, Mercurotic Disease, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, Jaundice, Affections of the Liver, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility.

By its searching and cleansing qualities it purges out the foul corruptions which contaminate the blood, and cause derangement and decay. It stimulates and enlivens the vital functions. It promotes energy and strength. It restores and preserves health. It infuses new life and vigor throughout the whole system. No sufferer from any disease which arises from impurity of the blood need despair, who will give AYER'S SARSAPARILLA a fair trial. Remember, the earlier the trial, the speedier the cure.

Its receipts have been furnished to physicians everywhere; and they, recognizing its superior qualities, administer it in their practice.

For nearly forty years AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has been widely used, and it now possesses the confidence of millions of people who have experienced benefits from its marvellous curative virtues.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF PORT TOWNSEND.

BRIEF LOCAL ITEMS.

From Friday's Daily.

Mrs. Dalgaard has gone to Victoria. It is feared that the schooner General Miller is lost in the Arctic ocean.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Chapman have been visiting relatives in Portland.

NEXT Monday the Starr will resume her place on the Port Townsend-Tacoma route.

Mrs. TUCKER has displayed a handsome new sign over her popular boarding house.

ELECTION tickets are being printed and sent out by the quantity. Some body will get into office yet.

Now that Mr. C. C. Bartlett is home, we hope he will do something toward putting a much needed sidewalk along the front of that property of his on Water street. It is an eyesore to the public at present.

We are indebted to J. S. Wyckoff for a string of splendid, palatable fish, being a trophy of that gentleman's skill as an angler. Thanks.

WHERE was the revenue cutter when an American vessel went to pieces on the Vancouver shore, with no rescuer except a British steamer?

Some of the republican candidates had a rally at Port Discovery the other evening. Prof. Kerr's speech was particularly well spoken of.

DEATH OF CAPT. STEPHENS OF FORT WRANGEL.—Capt. William J. Stephens, merchant of Fort Wrangel, Alaska, whose arrival on the steamship Idaho, we announced on the 54th, died in Victoria at the St. Joseph's hospital the following day, Oct. 25, from a singular cause. The Standard, of the 26th, has the following: "W. J. Stephens, the well known Wrangel merchant and steamboat owner, died at St. Joseph's hospital yesterday, of blood poisoning. It is said that about 6 weeks ago he had a violent attack of toothache, and a shopkeeper of Wrangel who professed to know something about drawing teeth, undertook to remove the offender. In the process he either broke the jaw, or introduced by means of the forceps, a poisonous virus into the cavity. Blood poisoning resulted, and Mr. Stephens was brought to Victoria on Tuesday, and only lived 24 hours afterwards. It is reported that a patient upon whose teeth the same forceps were used before Mr. Stephens allowed them to be used upon him, died within a week. The deceased leaves a wife but no children, and was largely in business at Fort Wrangel. The steamer Gem, which was lost on Fraser river last spring, belonged to him. The funeral will take place on Sunday next from Odd Fellows' Hall. Capt. Stephens was a member of Dominion Lodge, No. 4, of Victoria." Capt. Stephens was well and favorably known on Puget Sound, and those of his friends wishing to attend his funeral can go to Victoria tomorrow morning on the steamer North Pacific.

It is announced that a republican rally will be held at New Tacoma Nov. 4th. Among the speakers will be: Gov. Ferry, J. C. Haines, Esq., Hon. C. M. Bradshaw and Hon. Elwood Evans.

Twenty-five dollars' worth of furniture has been added to the parsonage at Port Townsend, the proceeds of a Sunday school concert held on the 1st instant.

Our grapevine telegraph brings word that Mr. Chas. Hammond is doing a thriving business at Ozett, about midway between Neah Bay and Quilteas. He is dealing out all kinds of merchandise to the Indians.

DIED.—Mr. Harry Thompson, a resident of this county for years, and for some time an employee in the Custom House, died at the Marine Hospital this morning. He leaves a half native family and a small farm on Point Lippin.

We learn that the N. P. R. Co. have bought the Cornwall coal mines at Bellingham Bay for $25,000. If the conceit isn't taken out of some Seattle folks one of these days by a railroad going past to a terminus nearer the ocean, it will be something curious.

We have received a pleasant call from Mr. Wm. Hancock, of Chimacum, a former employee in this office, but more recently an assistant keeper in the Tatoosh lighthouse. Mr. Hancock was only displaced by an enforced curtailment of the force. He will shortly return to Neah Bay where we learn he has good prospects ahead.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.—An exchange of pulpits has been arranged between the pastors of the Seattle and Port Townsend churches, so that the Rev. Geo. R. Bird, Moderator of the Synod of the Columbia, will (D. V.) preach here tomorrow. As the reverend gentleman possesses great ability, we trust the general public will avail themselves of this opportunity.

PROF. SCOTT'S CONCERT.—Doubtless many of our citizens will remember that some time since Prof. Scott and troupe gave an open air concert in this city. Since that time they have visited Victoria, New Westminster, Yale, Granville and Moodyville, giving high-class concerts in the theatres and halls to crowded houses composed of the elite of these cities, and have now returned to this place bringing fine testimonials from all the newspapers in British Columbia. They give a concert in the Good Templars' Hall on Monday evening next for one night only. To those who are lovers of music we can safely guarantee them a grand treat. Prof. Scott has made it his business throughout to have his entertainment carried on in a strictly first-class and respectable manner. Seats are reserved for ladies and gentlemen and families, which may be secured without extra charge, at Messrs. C. C. Bartlett & Co.'s store, therefore the fathers of the city need have no fear of patronizing it. The steamer Virginia will make a special trip from Irondale charging single fare for round trip, thus enabling the residents of that place to participate in hearing the singing.

OUR REPORTERS' BUDGET.

LA CONNER, Oct. 24, 1882.

ALLEN WEIR, ESQ., DEAR BRO:—

It is my sad duty to report the first break in the links of A. O. U. W., belonging to Swinomish Lodge, No. 75. Bro. Jos. L. Kelly was accidentally drowned yesterday about 11:30, A. M. To gain time he went down the slough on board the mail steamer Washington, holding the line of his boat and towing it along. Scarcely had the steamr started before Mr. Kelley's boat was threatened with being swamped. In order to save it he tried to pull it away from the hull of the steamer; the current was strong and the steamer under headway, and he was pulled from his hold on the guards and went overboard before anyone could prevent it. Alarm was given, but before the steamer could be stopped he had gone down for the last time and was drowned. The steamer returned to the wharf and an unsuccessful attempt was made to rescue the body which was finally recovered about 8, P. M.

Mr. Kelly leaves a wife and two children to mourn his loss. He belongs to the Masonic fraternity and will be buried under its rites.

Yours,
S. JORGENSEN.

THE LEADING SCIENTISTS OF TODAY agree that most diseases are caused by diseased kidneys or liver. If, therefore, the kidneys and liver are kept in perfect order, perfect health will be the result. This truth has only been known a short time, and for years people suffered great agony without being able to find relief. The discovery of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure marks a new era in the treatment of these troubles. Made from a simple tropical leaf of rare value, it contains just the elements necessary to nourish and invigorate both of these great organs, and safely restores and keeps them in order. It is a POSITIVE REMEDY for all diseases that cause pain in the lower part of the body—for Torpid Liver—Headache—Jaundice—Dizziness—Gravel—Fever, Ague—Malarial Fever and all difficulties of the Kidneys, Liver and Urinary Organs. It is an excellent and safe remedy for females during pregnancy. It will control Menstruation, and is invaluable for Leucorrhoea or Falling of the Womb. It is a Blood Purifier. General Land Decisions.

THOMAS F. WEAVER.

Decid.—Act of June 15, 1880.—A party purchasing of a homesteader the improvements, right of entry, and possession of the same, and where the same is transferred by bona fide instrument in writing, can pay the Government price for the same under the Act of June 15, 1880.

SECRETARY TELLER TO COMMISSIONER McFARLAND, APRIL 27, 1882.

I have considered the appeal of Thomas F. Weaver, from your decision rejecting his application to purchase under Sec. 2 of the Act of June 15, 1880, the land embraced in the homestead entry of Charles Van Alstine.

You reject the application of Weaver because: (1.)—"The bill of sale sent up to show his rights as a transferee to purchase the land does not purport to convey the same, but only the improvements." (2.)—"That the said bill of sale misdescribes the tract by locating it in Tp. 3 north, when by the entry and true location it should be described as 3 south," and (3.)—"That neither the duplicate receipt nor an affidavit of its loss has been furnished to accompany the entry papers if admitted."

The last two of these objections appear to be purely technical and immaterial. The land is described as being in Jefferson county. Township 3 south is in said county, while 3 north is in Boulder county, and it is clear the former was the tract intended.

There being no doubt whatever respecting the true location, proof of actual transfer of possession and occupation of the improvements on the real tract being found, and the furnishing of the receipt or affidavit being a matter of official requirement outside the statute and capable of being complied with at any time without affecting the merits of the application, I see no reason for rejecting the application on those grounds.

Nor do I think the first objection sufficient. The writing denominated by you as a "bill of sale" is under seal, and purports "for and in consideration of the sum of $200 to sell, assign, grant and set over unto said Thomas F. Weaver all the outbuildings, betterments and improvements of every name and kind built, erected, made or done" upon the land described, and to "her by authorize said Thomas F. Weaver to enter and take immediate possession of the same."

This writing was evidently intended by the parties a complete transfer of all that Van Alstine possessed with respect to this homestead tract, and Weaver immediately took full possession under it.

The subsequent act recognizing a right to purchase by those "to whom the right of those having so entered for homesteads may have been attempted to be transferred by bona fide instrument in writing," was, it seems to me, intended to protect the equities of just this class of persons, who, having paid for and entered into possession of improvements, were liable to lose the same by failure to anticipate all other claimants in reaching the district office after cancellation for the purpose of making entry in their own names. To insist upon all the technical niceties of a legal form of deed would work great injustice, even if warranted by the law. But the law only refers to "attempted" transfers "by bona fide instrument in writing," thereby indicating that while the writing may be only an attempt to transfer, if it be evidently made in good faith its precise form is immaterial.

ELLA M. HOYT.

Custom—Duplicate Receipt—Act of June 15, 1880.—Notwithstanding a clause in that act that effect, the transfer of a duplicate receipt is not a legal transfer of the title to land unless authorized by the State Legislature. The Act of June 15, 1880, does not apply.

COMMISSIONER McFARLAND TO REGISTER AND RECEIVER, Montgomery, Alabama, July 10, 1880. (C. T. Y.)

I am in receipt of yours of March 16, inst., transmitting the appeal of Ella M. Hoyt, by her attorney, from your decision of February 6, 1882, rejecting her application to purchase under the Act of June 15, 1880, the S. 1/2 S. E. 1/4 of Sec. 28, T. 1 N., 7 E.

In reply I have to state that the records show said tract to have been covered by Mobile, Alabama, homestead entry No. 1272, made February 11, 1873, by Charles Butler, which was cancelled January 5, 1881, for failure to make final proof within the statutory period.

Ella M. Hoyt, as widow and heir of A. G. Martin, transferee made application February 1, last, to purchase said tract under the Act of June 15, 1880, which you rejected on the ground that "cancelled homestead entries are not subject to the operation of said act, and that no transfer by bona fide instrument in writing on the part of the homesteader has been filed," from which decision the applicant appeals.

The ruling of the department on which you base the first part of your decision having been modified by the Honorable Secretary's decision of June 3, 1882, in the case of John W. Miller, of Visalia, California, (vide Cope's Land Owner, June, 1882, p. 57), virtually disposes of that portion of your objection; therefore, the latter clause of your decision will only be considered at this time.

Appellant alleges that a few months subsequent to entry Butler conveyed his right in said land unto H. Evans, and McDuffie Mann, by merely surrendering to said parties his duplicate receipt; that said parties subsequently conveyed their right by deed unto one Burgess Miles, and that said Miles conveyed his right by deed, unto A. G. Martin, the deceased husband of the said Ella M. Hoyt.

The affidavit of the Probate Judge for the county in which the land is situated is introduced as evidence, showing that it was the custom in that county for homestead parties to transfer their lands by mere surrender of duplicate receipt without any deed. Evidence as to what is custom and what is not, is inadmissible, it being irrelevant to the case, there is but one way to transfer real estate, that is universally recognized by the courts since the passage of the Statute in writing; any other mode cannot be established by custom; it can only be done by special legislation as an amendment to existing laws. The act referred to is remedial and not amendatory, as the appellant's argument would seem to imply.

Possession of the duplicate receipt by a stranger is no evidence of the transfer of the lands, nor does it carry therewith the settler's equities to the land; the act expressly states that "persons to whom the right of those having so entered for homestead may have been attempted to be transferred by bona fide instrument in writing, may entitle themselves, etc. There is nothing in the above language that could be construed to imply that the surrender of the duplicate receipt is equivalent to a transfer by bona fide instrument in writing, or equal to a deed of conveyance; it would be necessary to interpolate words in order to admit of such construction. The law-makers evidently contemplated such a conveyance as would entitle the grantee to the same equities in the land as the grantor possessed; therefore, your decision that the mere surrender of the duplicate receipt is not an attempt transfer by bona fide instrument in writing is hereby affirmed, and the appeal dismissed.

Wooden tonnage is held firmly, and there are few free iron vessels in port, which assist in keeping up values. Notwithstanding unfavorable advices from England, exports of wheat and flour are not reduced. Exports of wheat for the week ending October 28th are 19,900 tons, making a total of 13,841 tons shipped since July 1st.

CLIPPINGS.

Wall Street Gossip.—A New York dispatch of Oct. 19, says: The latest gossip in New York financial circles includes the following: "Gould offered to take 50,000 shares of Northern Pacific preferred from Villard at 93; the latter replied that if Mr. Gould wanted it he had better buy it on the Stock Exchange. The Villard people were buying Northern Pacific and Oregon on Tuesday for the first time recently. They took some 20,000 shares."

OIL SPRINGS TO BE DEVELOPED.—A representative of the firm of Ferry & White has gone to San Francisco to procure the necessary machinery to sink oil wells in the Puyallup valley, W. T., where the discovery of coal oil was recently made. These springs of oil are attracting a great deal of attention, and it is believed that indications are favorable to a surprising development.—Oregonian

TIED UP WAITING.—The steamer Gazelle has been lying at Astoria for about a month waiting for favorable weather to make the passage to Seattle. The captain, becoming tired of waiting, has "given up the ship," and Captain Messogee from the Sound has taken charge and will try his luck. He went down this morning to take command. The Hayward made the trip around in safety and Capt. Denny is expected home soon.—Standard.

The people of Washington Territory will return Brents to Congress because by so doing we stand a chance for Statehood. A Democratic Congress will not be bamboozled into admitting Washington as a State with a certainty of three Republican electoral votes, neither will the Republican majority of the present Congress feel well disposed towards us if we send a Democratic Delegate to Washington. To reverse the Democrat's assertion, "it is Burke and Territorial conditions or Brents and Statehood."—Washingtonian.

At Brigham Young's Grave.

Bill Nye.] They say that Brigham Young's grave is looking as bare and desolate as a boulevard now. At first, while her grief was fresh, his widow used to march out there five abreast, and just naturally deluge the grave with scalding tears, and at that time the green grass grew luxuriantly and the pigweed waved in the soft summer air; but as she learned to control her emotions the humidity of the atmosphere disappeared and grief's grand irrigation failed to give down.

We should learn from this that the man who flatters himself that in marrying a whole precinct during life he is piling up for the future a large invoice of ungettable votes is liable to get left. The prophet's tomb looks to-day like a deserted buffalo wallow, while his widow has dried her tears and is trying to make a mash on the Utah Commission. Such is life in the far West, and such the fitting resting place of a red-headed old galvanized prophet who marries a squint-eyed fly-up-the-creek, and afterwards gets a special revelation requiring him to marry a female mass meeting. Let us be thankful for what we have instead of yearning for a great wealth of wife. Then the life insurance will not have to be scattered so, and our friends will be spared the humiliating spectacle of a bereft and sorrowing herd of widows, turned loose by the cold hand of death to monkey o'er our tombs.
