NO. 30.

PACIFIC SLOPE NEWS.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.
A lady of Brush creek, at Vancouver, over 50 years of age, during the past berry season gathered 40 gallons of wild blackberries, which she sold for 30 cents per gallon.

A man named Brown, while working in the harvest field near Watburg and suffering under the heavy pressure of the heat, went into cold water bathing. From that moment his mind seemed to be impaired, he wanders about the country the personification of an insane man, walking during the night and hiding in the woods during the day time.

Seventeen wagon loads of immigrants, mostly from Kansas, passed through Walla Walla last week.

Col. Larabee has associated with Mr. I. M. Hall, of Seattle, in the law business.

Rev. A. Laubach will hold services at East Portland on the 17th inst.

The Puget Sound Baptist Association has just held a session at Centerville, Lewis county.

Delegates to the Kalama convention got returned free on the railroad.

Olympians gave a clam-bake to Gen Albert Pike last week.

The bark Leornium has been sold to a Mr. Morris, of San Francisco, for $750.

W. Chong, a Chinese merchant of Seattle, contemplates the erection of a brick building in that town for his residence and trade.

The Renton Coal Co. will attempt the improvement of navigation in the Duwamish river.

Mr. J. B. Montgomery owns 15,910 acres of land, principally timber land, along the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad.

Father F. X. Profontaine left last week for a visit of three months to his old home in Canada.

A plat of the town of Renton has been filed in King county. The streets are 60 feet wide, and the lots 50 by 120 in size.

The report of the grand jury at Seattle was long and contained a severe rebuke to the city fathers, county commissioners and police for negligence and carelessness.

OREGON.

The new steamer Geo. W. Elder, is the latest accession to the fleet of the Oregon Steamship Company. She was built in 1874, at Chester, Pa., and is 1,561.83 100 tons measurement, with extreme length over all of 280 feet, and 38 feet beam. Her rate at American Lloyds is A 1 20 years.

The Guard reports the lodge of Good Templars at Eugene as having "passed in its obituary."

Thirty-one acres of wheat were recently cut in Umatilla county in 7 hours by a single 12-foot cut header.

The climate of Powder river valley is certainly changing. They are now raising very fine apples, pears, plums and cherries, and, in some instances, tolerably fair peaches and grapes, when they say that ten years ago they could scarcely grow potatoes for the frost.

Two citizens of Chehalis got into a row last week, in which one of them lost an ear.

A man named J. J. Clark has been arrested at Baker City for living with his daughter and step-daughter as husband and wives.

Tilden and Hendricks and Hayes and Wheeler rallies are enthusiastic at Astoria.

A vein of asbestos has been discovered near Canyonville.

Oregon Indians predict a severe winter in the coming one, and are anxious to obtain work in order to get grub enough to last them through.

Mr. Geo. Downs killed a large wild cat near his house at Utter City last week, by shooting him through the head. The animal was much surprised as such a thing had never entered his head before.

The Warm Spring Indians, who are gathering crops in Linn county, hold services every Sunday in the Presbyterian Church.

CORRESPONDENCE.

SEQUIM PRAIRIE, CLALAM Co., W. T., September 2, 1876.
PROFESSOR WATKINS.

In my last I promised to give your readers an account of the venerable Professor of Sequim and his various inventions. As he is known among his acquaintances as Yank and by his numerous acquaintances as Old Yank, a name he delights in, I will use the short name as being more euphonious and easier written than Professor, and proceed secundum artem to my description. Yank is a natural born mechanic and inventor; a complete specimen of down-east Yankee of the New Bedford breed. At one time he was engaged in the larking business in Port Townsend, and his pies and doughnuts, his gingerbread, and regulation baked beans drew to his shop a crowd of idlers who would sit on his counter and watch an opportunity to pilfer. This drew out the inventive part of Old Yank's nature, and he constructed a row of needles attached to whalebone springs under his counter, with strings leading to distant parts of his shop. When a lounter seated himself on the counter, Yank would pull a string driving a needle with thrilling effect into the person of the offender, who would light out into space at once, and retire with the firm belief that he was an injured party. A celebrated schooner captain named Melvin, the bold and intrepid navigator, once sat on Yank's counter and received a dart from a daring needle that made him leave suddenly. He did not know what had stung him, but assuming a very prophetic look he exclaimed, "Boys, I guess there's something in this shop besides gingerbread. I reckon it must be gallinipiers."

The next invention of Yank's was after he had moved to Sequim Prairie, which consisted in rigging a common coffee-mill with a wheel and crank and grinding his own wheat into flour. He next invented a wheelbarrow with the wheel in the center like a boat's centreboard. This wheelbarrow can carry three times as much as an ordinary barrow and with a less amount of labor—a really practical and useful invention. He next invented and built of wood a mowing machine which cuts a swath 11 feet wide. This machine has less gearing than an ordinary mowing machine, has driving wheels six feet high and works easily and satisfactorily. All the inventor now needs to make it a perfect success, is some capital which will enable him to substitute iron for the wood he has been obliged to use in his experiment.

For several winters past he has employed the long evenings and rainy days in the manufacture of fiddles from the native wood found in the vicinity, such as fir, cedar and bird's-eye maple, and has succeeded in making some instruments of very fine tone, which he proposes to take to Port Townsend during the September term of court.

He next made a patent churn. Then he made a two-wheeled carriage on the principle of the old-fashioned wooden spring chaises, set on a thoroughbrace, formerly so common in Massachusetts. This gig of Yank's is all wood, thoroughbraces and all, and is pronounced the easiest riding vehicle in Clalam county. His last and crowning effort has been to construct a horizontal wind-mill on the turbine principle. He told me he started in to build something to turn the coffee mill to grind wheat, but, said he "my ideas have fructified so fast, as I have progressed in the work, that I have exceeded myself, and I find I have power sufficient to turn a set of French burr stones, a saw-mill for small stuff, and a turning lathe." This wind-mill is a real success, and if he can get a set of three feet French burrs to attach to it, he will be able to grind all the wheat on the prairie, which will be an immense saving to the farmers.

After Yank has completed his mill he says he intends to make a machine for taking bones out of herring, like the machines they have for that purpose at East Machias. This consists of an instrument similar to a jews-harp, which is held firmly between the teeth. The herring is introduced with the left hand and the bones are played out in a stream by the right hand just as one plays on a jews-harp. Yank says it is easy enough to make a machine to bone herring, but he means to invent one to bone shad and porgies. If he succeeds his fortune is made. There is money to be made in every one of his inventions, and if some capitalists would render him the necessary aid to enable him to perfect his machines, both parties would make money by the transaction. But you will see the venerable professor in Port Townsend and hear him talk, which will convince you that what I have said is all true.

JAMESTOWN.

I did not have time to go to Dungeness during my short visit at Sequim, but one afternoon I took a drive with my friend G. H. Gerish to the Indian village of Jamestown, situated on the shore of Dungeness Bay, about midway between Sequim Bay and Dungeness spit, and at the landing place of the logging railway of the Port Discovery Mill Company. This village is composed of a number of young Clalam Indians, under "Balch," a son of the famous chief, Lord Jim. These Indians were born at Dungeness and Sequim, and having worked from boyhood with the farmers of Clalam County, have acquired many of the ways of civilization. They are good farmers and have been induced by some of their white friends to purchase a fine farm of 100 acres which they own and work in common. Their village consists of some thirty houses, arranged in a row along the beach in an orderly manner. These are not wigwams, but regular pitched-roof buildings, looking like the common architecture of the white people. These Indians are industrious and find plenty of work among the farmers.

This village is under the supervision of the Skokomish agency, on Hood's Canal, and the name Jamestown was given to it by Mr. Eels, the Indian agent in charge of that reserve. It is an evidence that Indians can be induced to be industrious and self-supporting whenever they are encouraged by the white settlers, as has been the case among the farmers of Clalam county, and is a pleasing contrast to the idle filthiness of the former Indian towns on the Sound. Although Jamestown is but little known, yet it is worthy of mention, and may serve as a model for farmers in other localities who have Indians about them. As soon as harvesting is well over and the sand-hill cranes, geese, brandt and ducks begin to fly, I propose to go to Dungeness and will, at some future time, give you an account of that nice settlement where I have many old and valued friends.

Dispatch Pigeons.

An interesting lecture on the utilization of the homing or carrier pigeon was given at the Zoological Gardens, Regent's Park, recently by Mr. Tegetmeier. After describing the origin of the pigeon voyageurs, the methods of training for the long races, the powers of flight, extending to upwards of 500 miles a day, the lecturer described the details of the pigeon post used during the siege of Paris, and stated that at the present time every fortress and fortified town in Germany was provided with flights of trained pigeons by which communications could be sent into the town if invested by a hostile force. He then proceeded to describe the latest application for the homing faculty of these birds—namely the establishment of communications from lightships to the shore, so that by the use of the maritime code of signals two or three letters stamped on the wing would convey the intelligence that assistance of any kind was desired, and would provide a means of communication when no other method was available. The experiment is being tried at Harwich, and as soon as a sufficient stock of birds has been reared it is proposed to keep relays on board the adjacent lightships, so that in case of a second wreck like that of the Deutschland requests for assistance could be immediately conveyed to the authorities at Harwich.

U. S. Marine Hospital.

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T.
ANY SICK SAILOR WHO HAS PAID a Hospital dues for two months preceding his application for admission, is entitled to Hospital relief.

Port Townsend Hospital.

The above institution having been placed on a permanent footing, as the United States Hospital for Marine Patients on Puget Sound, it is therefore made public that it will be spared in introducing to the comfort and convenience of private patients. This is the largest general Hospital north of San Francisco, and by far the most complete in equipment. It has been thoroughly refitted and reformulated, its general wards have accommodations for about one hundred patients and are peculiarly adapted for cases requiring the most careful treatment and constant supervision at limited expense. Those who desire them will be furnished with private rooms, entirely separate and distinct, at a slight additional cost.

The attention of Mill owners, and those interested in shipping, is called to the fact that steam suffering from contagious disease will be treated outside the Hospital without expense to the vessel.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 15, 1876.

THE INDIAN WAR.—It was on the 25th of June that General Custer and his command fell in massacre at the hands of Sitting Bull and his Sioux followers, and now nearly three months from the time, there are no assurances that the bloodthirsty enemy has been in any way punished for the deed. More than this, there are no indications that the red foe will ever receive the deserved chastisement—a fact that is nothing less than a national humiliation, since it reflects upon our ability to cope with the hostile tribes, as well as encourages the Indians to further insubordination. The movements of the combined forces of Generals Terry and Crook, being much too limited in numbers for such an emergency, appear to have been managed most cautiously—so cautiously, indeed, that the wily Sioux warriors, not wishing to risk an attack that might rob them of the glory of their victory, are likely to effect a successful retreat northward and out of harm's way, with their families and portable property. This retreat is a piece of rare strategy, inasmuch as it promises to put them on safe ground for the winter—where they can rest, contemplate their prowess, and prepare for a new incursion upon their white and red enemies this side of the line in the Spring. That the Sioux Indians are adepts at such a system of war practice is proved by their record in 1862, when they retired to neutral British ground, after murdering 500 innocent Minnesota settlers. This time the Sioux Indians go into the same regions, though not in the same quarter, and are welcomed by their own people dwelling in the Queen's possessions just north of the Montana line, 25,000 strong. It is a pity that the red villains should thus escape, but they probably will, however much it may appear like outwitting our military commanders.

It is said that warlike Indians are seldom attacked by white troops, but are the attacking parties. They strike and run. They get scalps and then skulk. It is this way with the Sitting Bull crowd. They beguiled Custer by leading him into a trap, where he became helpless, and then attacked him in their night. They struck, and though victorious, immediately fled from the spot of their victory to British America. There they are safe from pursuit, but thence they will make new sorties against the handful of troops stationed on the border, against the mail-carriers, stage-drivers and miners of Montana, and Dakota, and against their old Indian foes, the Blackfeet and Crows. Sitting Bull's occupation is not gone. He will kill more white and red "game." If it really turns out thus—that these hostile redskins shall fly across the border and continue their periodical and unrelenting warfare in our Northwestern Territories—what is going to be done about it, and how long can this sort of thing be endured before calling upon the British authorities to stop it? As the matter now stands, although our military authorities, with their limited resources, have done and are doing all that can be done to overtake and punish the savages, it is probable that the murderous horde has made good its escape and that, for this season at least, the Indian war is over.

The Hawaiian treaty is certain to give the United States trouble. Germany, France and Russia will claim, under the provisions of the treaty of amity, commerce and navigation, that the favored nation clause will give them the right to the entry of live products of the Sandwich Islands free of duty.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Court organized on Monday, Chief Justice Lewis presiding. John B. Allen, U. S. Attorney; G. M. McConaha, Prosecuting Attorney; C. H. Hopkins, U. S. Marshal; J. Seavey, Clerk; J. J. H. Van Bokkelen, Sheriff Jefferson county; J. R. Watson, Sheriff Island county; G. W. L. Allen, Sheriff Whatcom county; H. W. Whitener, Sheriff San Juan; and E. N. Pilcher, Sheriff Clalam county, were present.

A Grand Jury on the part of the Territory was impaneled and S. M. Nolan appointed Foreman; also, one on the part of the United States, with Albert Briggs Foreman. The latter is composed of men selected from the Territorial to about one half its number, and the other half from selections outside. Subjoined is the charge of Judge Lewis to the Grand Jury on the part of the United States:

GENTLEMEN: Your duty as Grand Jurors on the part of the United States, is to inquire as to offenses against the Statutes of the United States, committed at any and all places within the Third Judicial District.

The United States District Attorney, Mr. John B. Allen, will submit to you any and all matters touching the violation of the Revenue and other laws of which he may be advised. The principal and most important matter, however, to be submitted to you at this term is the statute relative to bar intercourse with Indians and Indian tribes. As early as 1832, during the administration of that great patriot and hero Andrew Jackson, it was declared a part of the policy of our Government: that so far as possible, Indians should be prevented from getting spirituous liquors, and to secure that end a statute was passed upon that effect July 9, 1832, which, with some amendments has remained the law to this time.

It is enacted that no person shall sell or give to any Indian under the charge of an Indian agent any spirituous liquors or wine. All Indians found within the United States are in charge of an Indian agent, hence all Indians found here of whatever nation or tribe are presumed to be in charge of an Indian agent.

This traffic with the Indians pays so much profit that it is carried on in many parts of this District in open violation of law;—to secure great profits men will take the chances of detection.

It is your duty here to make a most diligent inquiry as to this matter, and if you can procure the necessary evidence to warrant indictment of the guilty ones be put upon trial, and by a rigid enforcement of the law its purpose will be accomplished.

Hall Davis was rejected as a juror because in declaring his intentions to become a citizen of the United States he had not sworn to obey the organic Act of this Territory. As he had not completed his naturalization he was held not to be a voter. He had taken the usual oath of declaration about two years ago.

The following persons were admitted to citizenship: Williams Phillipson, Chas. Brown, Paulus Johnson, Henry Lewis, Patrick McGhran, James Lathrow, and Robert Jones.

The business thus far has been unimportant, the usual number of motions and demurrers having been interposed in settling pleadings.

In the case of Phelps vs. Steamship City of Panama, in Admiralty, McNaught & Haller, for the ship interposed exceptions to the libel granted to the jurisdiction of the Admiralty in rem in cases of tort or injury by negligence, and also motions going to the jurisdiction of our courts in cases of Admiralty and maritime jurisdiction. Mr. McNaught took issue of the day on Wednesday in addressing the court on these propositions, and made an able and interesting argument. He was followed by Judge Dennison for libelant.

Judgment in case of Anna Grant vs. A. W. Arnold, for $126.50 and costs.

Confirmation of mortgage sale in case of G. O. Haller vs. John and Anna Monroe.

Thursday—M. Nunan vs. Jas. D. Johnson, for the possession of schr. Superior and $3,000 damages, verdict for plaintiff—possession of vessel. D. W. Smith for defendant.

Patsy Flynn vs. Dean and Erickson; action, $2,000 for false imprisonment, verdict for defendants. D. W. Smith, for defendants.

This session of Court promises to be a lively one.

JAMES JACOBS delivered an address in Fowler's Hall last evening.

LATEST NEWS.

By Telegraph. Gold in New York, 101. Legal tenders in Portland—buying 90½, selling 91½. Maine has gone overwhelmingly Republican.

Tilden is preparing a statement of his income tax.

The President has issued a proclamation ratifying the Hawaiian treaty.

A dispatch from Crook's command dated Sept. 5th, says: My quarters are 100 miles from Fort Lincoln. After separating from Terry August 24th, Crook followed the trail leading some 200 hundred miles experiencing much heavy and cold rains. Considerable sickness existed and the troops are greatly discouraged. Where the command was camped on the 5th the Indians seem to have called in many directions. The troops were on short rations, and the horses were much broken down. The command was making for the Black Hills and will await supplies there. In the meantime they are scouting in that country and taking care of any hostiles found there. Terry, it is supposed, is still following the northern trail on the north bank of the Yellowstone.

Complete returns of the Vermont gubernatorial vote taken last week have been received, and gives Fairbanks, the Republican candidate, 23,527 majority. Full returns of the lower house give the Republicans 205, Democrats 31, and choice 5—a Democratic loss of 238.

A dispatch from Little Rock, Ark. of the 7th inst., says: The entire Democratic State ticket has been elected by a large majority. The Legislature and Senate will be almost entirely Democratic.

The special correspondent of the London Standard telegraphs from Belgrade on the 9th inst., that the Turks on Monday occupied the left bank of the Morava. Alexinatz is in their power. It is utterly deserted. The Servians at Belgrade are in no condition to take the field. The Turks committed great atrocities during and after the battle Friday. Heinous stories are told of rape and murder of the wounded. A Russian was tied to a tree and roasted, and girls were outraged and flayed alive. The towns are filled with thousands of fugitives. The government talks of victories and keeps the public in the dark about the danger which is threatening them. There is now no force between the Turks and Belgrade.

CORRESPONDENCE.

EDITOR ARGUS: In the last weekly issue of the Intelligencer is a communication from Port Townsend signed "Independent," which, so far as being independent of the truth, is certainly a prize essay. The attack on the Custom House officials is of that chronic kind which has prevailed in this town ever since the Custom House was first started—whether Democratic or Republican administration ruled—and the same cry has been used by those whose desire seems to be to become "swift witnesses." There are plenty of people in town who remember when the Custom House was in the building now occupied by Dr. Hill, and when that staunch and uncompromising old Democrat, Squire Frost was Collector. A Democratic meeting was held at the Court House and one of the candidates for a county nomination in his speech remarked, "Gentlemen, I'm a Dimmercut of long standing and a true Stevens man be jehers, but I'm down on the Custom House like a dam! It's not the building I mean, but the occupants!" The mania for being down on the Custom House is the same now as it was in Squire Frost's day, and "Independent" seems to have been looking over some old files of newspapers for those times for his source of information. A.

ARRIVALS.—Among the passengers who arrived here yesterday from up-Sound were Judge James Wm. Benson, Beriah Brown, Esq., Major Hayden and Capt. Thos. Butler. The charges preferred in Portland against the latter gentleman by deputy-collector Woods of Alaska, could not be substantiated.

A case of opium poisoning occurred at the Cosmopolitan Hotel on Wednesday. The patient, a comparative stranger, and employed at the hotel as cook, was placed under the care of Dr. C. A. Lewis, and died after a few hours in restoring him to consciousness.

SIXTEEN DEATH.—August Simpson from Port Lillooie, while on his way to the Marine Hospital yesterday for treatment, and top to rest, on the steps leading to the top of the hill on Adams street, and died almost instantly, as is supposed of heart disease.

OLIVER HALL, Plaintiff vs. WILLIAM T. ARMSTRONG, JOSEPH C. KINNEAR, CHARLES A. BRADSHAW, GEORGE V. CALHOUN, and J. B. ROBERTS, Defendants.

Action brought in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding terms at Port Townsend, in Jefferson County, and complaint filed in the County of Jefferson, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

To WILLIAM T. ARMSTRONG, CHARLES A. BRADSHAW and JOSEPH C. KINNEAR, Defendants.

In the name of the United States of America, you and each of you, are hereby required to answer in an action brought against you by the above-named plaintiff in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding terms at Port Townsend, in Jefferson County, for and to answer the complaint filed therein within twenty days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons—served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but within the Third Judicial District, within this county; or, if served out of said District, then within sixty days—of judgment by default, will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

On said House No. 2, described in the said process of the Court for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage, numbered 28 in Township 36 north of Range No. 2 E. in Whatcom County, W. T., described in the said complaint and executed by the said William T. Armstrong on the 21st day of July, A. D. 1875, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note, dated on the 21st day of July, A. D. 1875, made by said defendant W. T. Armstrong and J. C. Kinneer for the sum of $6275 gold coin, payable six months after the date thereof to said plaintiff. That the premises covered thereby may be sold, and the proceeds applied to the payment of the sum of $6275 gold coin, due on said note, together with interest thereon at legal rate from this date until paid, besides $2000 gold coin, as costs and the costs of service and disbursements of said suit, and in case such proceeds are not sufficient to pay the same, then to obtain an execution against the said William T. Armstrong and Joseph C. Kinneer for the balance remaining due and also that the said defendants and/or under them, may be barred and foreclosed of all right, title, claim, lien, equity of redemption and interest in and to each and every premises, and for other and further relief. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer said complaint as above required, you will be taken default against you and apply to the Court for the relief demanded in said complaint according to the prayer of said complaint.

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS.

The international display of live stock at the Centennial is rather a failure.

Leopold Lichtenburg, a San Francisco boy who went to Europe some time ago to pursue his studies on the violin, has taken the first prize, with distinction, at the St. Petersburg conservatory.

War has been declared by the negroes of Nashville against all Chinese residents.

Prof. Tyndall recommends the substitution of a galvanic battery for the gallows in cases of capital punishment. There is certainly something humanizing in the suggestion to do away with the brute violence of strangulation and adopt some other and easier method of killing.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, is in communication with foreign ministers on the subject of the silver coinage of other countries.

Mrs. Sturgis, mother of Lieut. Sturgis, who was killed in the Custer slaughter, has become insane by grief. He was her only child.

The Boston authorities have sent back to Africa three Arabs, recently sent to this country and branded in the forehead as criminals by the Cayenne officials.

About the middle of last month countless millions of grasshoppers lit in Colorado doing damage to rye, oats, barley and vegetables; the prospect is that the wheat, which is large and fine, will be a two thirds crop. The grasshoppers remained two days.

Rev. W. G. England, a Methodist minister, his wife, daughter and four sons, were murdered at their home, six miles from Montague, Texas, on the night of the 30th ult., by a party of disguised men.

There were 20,108 arrests by the police during the past fiscal year in San Francisco; 7,642 were for drunkenness and 36 for murder. The police force numbers 130.

The grave of Tecumseh, the Shawnee chief who distinguished himself in the war of 1812, has been discovered near Rogartown. Last week the remains were exhumed and deposited in a vault at Niagara.

Reports from 76 of the chief cotton-producing districts of the South estimate the crop this year at 4,500,000 bales against 3,327,000 bales in 1875.

The secret cause of the hard times. Too many consumers, too few producers.

What ails this 'ere South, says a philosophical Louisiana man, is too much bar-room politics.

Ex-Empress Eugenie has not only lost her station, wealth and diamonds, but her beauty.

A man and woman on exhibition in Rochester, are each seven feet eleven and a half inches in height. This is a tall story but the Rochester papers declare it is true.

In Japan a bankrupt is rarely allowed to live, but if he does manage to get out alive he is not permitted to associate with decent classes. It is different here in America.

Nevada's population is not more than 60,000, and yet the Legislature numbers 75, or one to every 800 inhabitants. This is "popular" representation in earnest.

Old New York speculators say that Wall street is not what it used to be. Since so many of the "old fellows" have died, been killed, or failed, and Tilden has been called to run for the Presidency its "glory" has faded beyond recall.

The new Liverpool docks are completed, so that now the docks of that port cover an area of 420 acres.

Salmon sent from Oregon and Washington Territory to England, are sold at retail at 20 cents a pound. The trade is now carried on around Cape Horn, and the voyage takes from 100 to 130 days.

There arrived some weeks ago at Leith, Scotland, from Norway, with a cargo of ice, a bark which was built in Philadelphia in 1764.

Atlanta, Georgia, has just finished the largest cotton factory in the world. Brown came home late the other night, and Mrs. B., reaching out of the bed-room window, said: "So you've been tipping the glass again, have you?" "Glass," said Brown, "(bio) is a funny word; take off the 'g,' and its you, my dear." "Yes," answered the wife, "and then take off the 'l,' and its you, you wretch!" and she slammed down the window with a bounce.

CENTAUR LINIMENT.

(Letter from a Postmaster.) Messrs. J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y. My wife has, for a long time, been a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism. She has tried many physicians and many remedies. The only relief which she has derived is from your Centaur Liniment. I am rejoiced to say this has cured her. I am doing what I can to extend its sale. W. H. BING.

This is a sample of many thousand testimonials received, of wonderful cures effected by the Centaur Liniment. The ingredients of this article are published around each bottle. It contains Witch Hazel, Mentha, Arnica, Rock Oil, Carbolic, and ingredients little known. It is an indisputable fact that the Centaur Liniment is performing more cures of Swellings, Stiff Joints, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Leg, Jaw, &c., than all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves, Ointments, and Plasters now in use.

For Toothache, Earache, Weak Back, Itch, and cutaneous Eruptions, it is admirable. It cures burns and scalds without a scar. Extracts poison from bites and stings, and heals frost-bites and chilblains in a short time. No family can afford to be without the Centaur Liniment, white wrapper.

The Centaur Liniment, Yellow Wrapper, is adapted to the tough skin, muscles and flesh of the animal creation. Its effects upon severe cases of Spavin, Swelling, Wind Gall, Big Head and Toll Evil are little less than marvellous.

Messrs. J. McInroe & Co., Druggists, corner Elm and Front streets, Cincinnati, O., say: "In our neighborhood a number of teamsters are using the Centaur Liniment. They pronounce it superior to anything they have ever used. We sell as high as four or five dozen bottles per month to these teamsters."

We have thousands of similar testimonials. For Wounds, Galls, Scratches, Ring-bone, &c., and for Screw Worm 'n' Sheep it has no rival. Farmers, heavy men, and Stock-raisers, have in this Liniment a remedy which is worth a hundred times its cost.

Pitcher's Castoria.

Mothers may have rest and their babies may have health, if they will use Castoria for Wind Colic, Worms, Feverishness, Sore Mouth, Croup or Stomach Complaints. It is entirely a vegetable preparation, and contains neither mercury, morphine, nor arsenic. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and neither grags nor gripes.

Dr. E. Dimock, of Dupont, O., says: "I am using Castoria in my practice with the most signal benefits and I happy results." This is what every one says. Most nurses in New Jersey use the Castoria. It is prepared by Messrs. J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey street, New York, successors to Samuel Pitcher, M. D.
