expense. Those who desire them will be furnished with private rooms, entirely

THE BETTER LAND.
This world is just as bright a world
As we may choose to make it—
A land of beauty or of gloom, Whichever way we take it.
We're apt to cast our eyes above,
And send our thoughts a flying Through space, to find the better land
For which we're ever sighing.

The Master Hand hath scattered wide
His glorious gifts to win us,
And if we do our duty well
We may have heaven within us;
We need not soar so very high
To drink pure draughts of pleasure,
Or dig so deep beneath our feet
To find immortal treasure.

The better land is here, my friend,
Within our hearts, my neighbor;
Then let us beautify the place
By more abundant labor:
Root up the weeds and sow the seeds
Of honest, true endeavor,
That God may make his dwelling there Forever and forever!

PITHY THOUGHTS.
It is easy to look down on others; to look down on ourselves is the difficulty.

Few take care to live well, but many to live long; though it is in every body's power to do the latter.

The best sometimes err, yet still remain the best, while the worst do well at times, yet still remain the worst.

He that is good will become better, and he that is bad, worse; for virtue, vice and time, never stop.

The sight of a drunkard is a better sermon against that vice, than the best that ever was preached upon that subject.

We cannot conquer fate and necessity, yet we can yield to them in such a manner as to be greater than if we could.

He who pleases himself, without injure his neighbor, is quite as likely to please half the world as he who vainly tries to please the world.

When fame is regarded as the end, and merit as only the means, men are apt to dispense with the latter, if the former can be had without it.

A troubled mind is often relieved by maintaining a cheerful demeanor. The effort withdraws its attention from the cause of pain, and the cheerfulness which it promotes in others extends by sympathy to itself.

Wine is a turn coat; first a friend and then an enemy.

The first glass leads to thirst, the second to pleasure, the third to inebriation, the fourth to insanity.

A neat, clean, fresh, sweet, cheerful, well-arranged house exerts a moral influence over its inmates.

SHARED OUT OF A WIFE.
The narrative which I am about to relate was told me one bleak, cold night, in a country parlor. It was one of those nights in midwinter when the wind swept over the land, making everything tingle with its frosty breath, that I was seated before a blazing fire, surrounded by a jolly half-dozen boys, and an old bachelor, Peter Green, forty-eight years old.

It was just the night without to make those within enjoy a story, so each had to tell his favorite, save Mr. Green, and as he was a good story-teller, we were surprised to hear him say, "I have no story that will interest you," so we had to find other entertainment for awhile, when one of the boys told me to ask him how it happened that he never got married. So I did.

Well, gentlemen, he began, it don't seem right to tell you how that happened, but as it is about myself I don't care much. You see, when I was young we had to walk as far as five miles to church and singing school. But this don't have anything to do with my not getting a wife, but I just wanted you to know that we had trouble in those days in getting our sport. John Smith and I were like brothers, or like Mary and her little lamb. Where one went the other was sure to go. We went to see two sisters, and as we were not the best boys imaginable, and wouldn't allow us to come near the house, so we would take the girls to the end of the lane, and there we would have to take the final kiss.

We soon got tired of that sort of fun, and I told John, on our way to singing school one night, that I was going into the house, too.

He said the old man would run me out if I did.

I told him I was going to risk it anyhow, let come what would.

So home we went with the girls.
When we got to the end of the lane I told the girls we proposed going all the way.

They looked at each other in a way I didn't like too well, but said the old folks would be in bed, so they didn't care if we did.

They were a little more surprised when we told them we thought of going in a little while, but as all was quiet we had no trouble in getting into the kitchen, where we had a good time, and I made up my mind to ask Sallie to be my wife the next time I came.

It was now past the turn of the night, and, as we had four miles to walk, I told John we had better be going. So we stepped out on the porch, but just as we did so the sky was lit by lightning, and one tremendous thunder peal rolled along the mountain sides. Its echoes had not died out in the far-off vales before the rain began to pour from the garnered fullness of the clouds.

We waited for it to stop until we fell asleep, when the girls said we should go to bed in the little room at the head of the stairs, which led out of the kitchen, and, as their father got up late, we could go home before the old folks were astir. So, after bidding the girls a sweet good night, and hugging them, and wishing them sweet dreams, and promising them to come back on next Sunday night we started.

We didn't have to go far, as the bed-room stood near the head of the stairs. John was soon in bed, but, full of curiosity, I was looking around the little room. At last I thought I would sit down on a chest, which was covered with a nice white cloth, while I drew off my boots. So down I sat, when stars of the east! I went plump into a big custard pie!

I thought John would die laughing, for he said I had smashed that custard and the plate all to thunder. You see we had to be awful quiet, so the old man would not hear.

I was now ready to get into bed, so I put the light out and picked up my boots, thinking to put them in a more convenient place, when down went one of my legs through a pipe-hole, which had been covered by paper, up to my hip.

Now, one part of me was upstairs, while the longest part of me was in the kitchen.

As my leg was very long it reached a shelf which was occupied by dishes, pans, coffee-pots, etc., and it turned over with a tremendous crash.

The girls had not yet retired, and I could hear them laugh fit to split their sides. I felt awful ashamed and scared, and my heart was in my throat, for I expected the old man every minute.

I extracted my leg from the confounded hole just in time, for the old lady looked into the kitchen from her bed-room door and asked what all the noise was about.

The girls put her off as best they could, and I went to bed, while John was strangling himself under the cover to keep from laughing aloud.

We soon went off into the land of dreams, with the hope of waking early. I wish I could tell you my dreams, but it would take me too long. One moment I would fancy myself by the side of Sallie, sipping nectar from her heaven-bedewed lips; next I would see the old man flourishing his cane above my head.

This all came to an end by John giving me a kick.
On waking up and looking round I saw John's eyes as big as my fist, while the sun was beaming in at the window.

What to do we couldn't tell, for we heard the old man having family prayers in the kitchen.

John looked out of the window, and said we could get down over the porch roof.

Get out and dress as soon as possible, he said.

So in my hurry my foot got fastened in the bed-clothes, and out I tumbled, head foremost, turned over, and roiled down stairs until I struck the door, which was fastened by a wooden button, and it giving away, out I rolled in front of the old man.

He threw up his hands and cried Lord, save us! for he thought I was the evil one.

The old lady screamed until you could have heard her a mile.
I was so scared and bewildered that I couldn't get up at once. It was warm weather, and I didn't have anything on but a shirt.

HIGH LIFE IN ST. PETERSBURG.
The following is a description of a ball that was held in the Imperial Palace last winter: "At the ball at the palace there were 2,500 guests, 1,000 of whom sat down to supper at two o'clock in the morning and 600 took their lunch standing. It takes 45,000 candles to light this palace for such a ball.
At this ball there were more royal persons than I ever saw together before, the empress of Russia, crown princess of Wales, crown prince of Denmark—the above are all of imperial rank—of royal rank there were the duke and duchess of Edinburgh, all the Russian grand dukes and duchesses, prince Arthur of England, and about twenty princes from Asia and Europe besides. They all danced and mingled with the crowd.

The duchess of Edinburgh, in whose honor the ball was given, wore the celebrated Russian diamond necklace, estimated to be worth $20,000,000. The empress's dress was trimmed with solitaire diamond buttons, each one of which was worth $75,000. All the imperial ladies wore diamond crowns.

It is thought there were more diamonds worn that night than ever before at one time, as they came from the three empires of Germany, England and Russia. It is of no use to describe the scene.

A week after the above grand affair there was a small and select party given at the palace to 100 guests. At this time, the supper was laid in the large hall, which is 100,000 feet, and forty feet high.
Forty palm trees, 20 to 30 feet in height, had been brought from the green-house, around each was built a table for ten to twenty guests; 8,000 candles lighted this room, so we sat down to supper in a real palm grove. It was magnificent beyond description. This is latitude 60, the same as that of Greenland.

The green house of the palace has all kinds of trees, shrubs, ferns and cacti, with 30,000 varieties of flowers and 70,000 pots or specimens. There appears to be no end to the money the Russian court spends on great occasions.
The emperor is a splendid man and very polite to all. There is little or no middle class in Russia."

Whirlpools.
The Colorado river is noted for
"swirls," so called, at high water.
A bubble rises from the bottom, and breaks with a slight sound on the surface. The water at the point begins with a rotary motion so small that an inverted teacup might cover it. Larger and larger grows the circle, till a surface of forty feet in diameter is in motion, spinning round a funnel-shaped hole in the center, two or three feet across at the top, and coming to a point in the depths below.

Often a large tree floating down the stream is caught and its foremost end thrust in the air twenty or thirty feet, while the other end is slowly drawn down, and it disappears. Three soldiers, deserters from Camp Mohave, passing in a skiff, immediately below the fork, suffered their craft to run into a swirl. One of their crew, at the first intimation of danger, threw himself overboard beyond the charmed circle; and as he swam away he turned his head and saw the boat spin round and round, until one end being drawn into the vortex and the other upheaved in the air, it slowly sank, as it revolved, into the turbid bosom of the river, its human freight to be seen no more; for the Colorado river does not give up the dead—no corpses lodge on its shores.

Prosperity makes friends and adversity tries them.

PORT TOWNSEND.

The following contribution, from a gentleman of large experience, is entitled to attentive perusal. It portrays what might have been, with a modicum of enterprise, what has been lost by lack of it, and holds up to view what may yet be accomplished, provided the opportunity is not neglected:

A FLOAT, April 14, 1875.

EDITOR ARGUS:

After reading your marine list and finding so many arrivals and departures of steamers and sailing vessels from Port Townsend, I thought a few suggestions would not be out of place, while, possibly, they might have the effect to arouse some of the Rip Van Winkles of Port Townsend.

I have noticed the slow progress of that town for the past twelve years. It is true the progress is slow but sure, and eventually something may turn up without an effort on the part of the property holders, who have been Micawbering since 1849.

First, Port Townsend is the center of what will be a large agricultural and manufacturing community, and only wants a little display of that latent energy which I know it contains to increase the trade and business very rapidly. They have quietly sat with their hands folded and let Seattle take away all the Whidby Island and Whatcom County trade, and, in fact part of the local trade, and if they don't look sharp San Juan will go also, if not already gone.

Now let us turn our eyes this way and form an estimate of what might yet be accomplished. From the Quillehuyte to Port Townsend are over a hundred miles of coast line, with bays, harbors and rivers, with many splendid locations for large farming communities, yet undeveloped, in fact unknown to many, which they have not deigned to ask about. Two years ago they sat quietly in their chairs waiting for slow customers and let the Indian Commissioners gobble up ten thousand acres of the best land in the Territory, which would have made quite a thriving village tributary to them, without one word or memorial to Congress, who knew none of the facts, and were acting on the recommendation of a few designing Indian agents. Settlers were driven off and their houses torn down. They appealed to them yet they accomplished nothing. If they had then entered a protest to Congress I have no doubt that fraudulent act would never have been consummated, and now there would have been a large number of settlers down there, who would depend on Port Townsend for all necessary supplies. Every little helps, you know.

The next place of importance is the Quillehuyte country, which I have no doubt will soon be settled up by a thriving agricultural community, who will also pay tribute to Port Townsend in the way of trade, if properly looked after.

In short, there are several places from Cape Flattery to Port Townsend where good land can be got, that is not known to those who would only be too glad to get it if there were facilities for traveling to and from it. What is wanted is a small steamer, like the Etta White, to carry the mail to Neah Bay, touching at all the places where passengers may want to get off or on, giving every facility for people to look at the country. At present we have a small schooner, which can barely make the time with merely dropping the mail and hurrying off, with the most limited accommodations for passengers. It is true the subsidy for carrying the mail is too small to pay a steamer at present, but let the merchants of Port Townsend put on a steamer. It may not pay for the first few months, but they will find that they are building up a trade which will soon require two such steamers to accommodate the traffic between their place and Dungeness, Port Angeles, Elway, Fresh Water Bay, Crescent Bay, Pick River, Clalam Bay, Hoco and Sisco rivers, Neah Bay and the Quillehuyte. All the above places would soon be settled up and trade would increase rapidly; "Westward the star of Empire," &c. According to report there are hundreds of families coming this way who would be glad to find such places as I have named to make comfortable homes and produce farms.

Port Townsend people must wake up from their Rip Van Winkle sleep and stretch out their sluggish arms, and stop the trade which is fast passing their doors to a more wide awake community. There will be, I have no doubt, over twenty thousand dollars paid to the Indians of Cape Flattery this season for fur-seal skins. Perhaps, with the proper inducements, a share of this money might find a lodgment in Port Townsend.

Again, I say, wake up and imitate Chicago on a small scale, by making your town the center of trade, and increase the local attractions for dollars and cents; and, our word for it, ere long you shall reap a hundred fold. R.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The item which appeared in a recent issue of the Victoria Standard, reflecting upon American pilots, was in bad taste, considering that only a few days previous the Harvest Home—the third British vessel this season rescued by American pilots—was relieved from a dangerous position among the rocks of Barclay Sound, by Pilot Howard, and taken to the Royal Roads in safety. But, aside from this, the statement that the Erminia was grounded while in charge of an American pilot is entirely without foundation. The person in charge was not a licensed pilot, but was acting under a special permit for the occasion merely.

GENERAL SPINNER, who has recently tendered his resignation of the duties and responsibilities of the U.S. Treasurer's office, to take effect on the 30th of next June, has held that post for over fourteen years. His long and faithful service, his unflinching honesty, his frankness of nature, his boldness in announcing his convictions and carrying them out when expressed, and his generosity and kindness of heart have endeared him to the whole people. The office has grown up under him from half a dozen clerks and messengers to an immense bureau of 500 employees. The General is now over seventy-four years of age, but still retains in a remarkable degree his vigor both of body and mind.

FASHIONS.—Ladies' toilets are ever changing. Sometimes for the better and then again for the worse. We are happy to see that this season brings beautiful changes. We have just received "Smith's Illustrated Pattern Bazar" for spring, and it is full to overflowing of the new and beautiful designs, and we must say that we have never seen its equal in stories, criticism, poetry and selections from great authors. Our lady readers will do well to subscribe for it, as its descriptions of the latest styles are complete, and the price is a mere song compared with its intrinsic value—being one dollar and ten cents a year, with a splendid premium. Those who would like it should send to A. Burdette Smith, 914 Broadway, New York City.

A FRENCH mathematician is striving to demonstrate a pending catastrophe to our globe, called Hydropallusia. The immense accumulation of ice at the north pole is going to cause the earth to topple over sometime, and all the southern seas will rush to the northern hemisphere, sweeping away forests, continents and their inhabitants, and changing the face of material nature.

ISLAND COUNTY.

The Washington Immigration Society has been in the receipt of correspondence from Island County, from which we condense the following:

The county consists of the islands of Whidby and Camano, the former containing about 115,000 acres, and the latter nearly 30,000 acres. Two-thirds of the county is heavily timbered, the remainder consisting of natural prairies and reclaimed swamp lands, averaging in fertility, of wheat from 35 to 50 bushels, barley 40 to 60, oats 50 to 75, and hay from one and a half to three tons to the acre. The timber for several of the finest ships built on the Sound was taken from the forests of Whidby and Camano Islands, and many of the finest spars sent to Europe and China, and that gave this Territory its reputation in the markets of the world, were shipped from Utsalady mills, on Camano Island.

About half the population is engaged in farming and the remainder in lumbering and commercial pursuits. Farm hands get here from $30 to $40 per month; lumbermen from $30 to $60; good mechanics $2.50 to $4.00 per day. Good farming lands can be had quite reasonable by those that prefer to settle in a community that has made some progress. There is a good opening here for a nurseryman and floriculturist, and a tin-shop in connection with hardware store, a boot and shoe shop, a drug store, a smith and wagon shop, and other manufacturing industries. No better place can be found in the Territory for building a ship-yard than either Penn's Cove (Coupeville) or Utsalady. These places lay off the mouths of two large rivers, the Stillaguamish and Skagit, on which are extensive coal-fields now being developed.

The price of the products of the county is about the same as other markets on the Sound, and general merchandise can be had at a small advance on Olympia and Seattle prices.

There are six public schools in the county, and funds in some of the larger districts to maintain a school most of the year. There is one church and one saloon in the county. There is no county debt; there is a local option license law; semi-weekly mail delivered at Coupeville and Coveland, one by steamer Libby from Seattle, and one by sail-boat from Port Townsend. There is at Utsalady one saw-mill, one Good Templar Hall, one Masonic Hall, one telegraph office, one saloon, one machine shop and one store.

Coveland has a flouring mill, wharf, county buildings, etc. Coupeville has two stores, one Templars' Hall, one Masonic Hall, one hotel, one Grange and several private residences, three wharves, accessible at high tide only, and two warehouses.

Oak Harbor has one wharf, one warehouse, one Grange, and is surrounded by a rich and beautiful country.

There are wagon roads connecting most of the settlements, some very good and others now being constructed; and daily ferries to Port Townsend and Utsalady.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

The Skaget region promises a rich harvest. A ship yard on a small scale is to be opened at Birch Bay.

The citizens of LaConner expect to dedicate their new town hall on July 4th.

The anniversary of the battle of Lexington was celebrated at Olympia by a concert given by the Choral Society.

At the spelling school that came off in Olympia last week, a young school ma'am, Miss Mary Woodruff, carried off the honors.

Among the effects of the murdered man found near the Capitol in Olympia, were eatables, some military clothes and a letter to R. C. Hill, Esq., Whidby Island, which has been forwarded to that gentleman to see if it will throw any light on the mystery. The deceased is supposed to be a discharged soldier from Vancouver named Creed Doss.

The Freeport mill has now passed into the ownership of G.W. Prescott, of San Francisco and Capt. E. L. Marshall, and will be put in a condition to cut 60,000 feet of lumber a day.

At Coleman's mill thirty timbers were sawed for coal barges that measured 10x12 inches and 80 feet in length.

On the 10th inst., a little daughter of G. W. Mastin, residing on Black River, fell in that stream and was drowned.

The Immigration Society have received assurance from Mr. G.A. Meigs that his vessels, plying between San Francisco and the Sound, will carry cabin passengers for $15 apiece, and that liberal terms will be extended to families.

IMMIGRATION.

The rush to Wyoming, Utah and the Pacific Coast this spring is enormous, and continues without abatement. The Union Pacific Railroad is compelled to employ the passenger coaches of connecting roads East to move the people Westward as fast as they arrive at Omaha, and sometimes three emigrant trains are despatched daily. Three thousand five hundred of them were carried from Omaha during the first seven days of this month. Eight hundred were there on the 9th inst., and were to leave by special trains that night. During the month of March, California alone received over 10,000 of these settlers. This great travel is exclusive of regular first-class travel, which is also proportionately large. By one steamer last week about 300 immigrants arrived in Portland who are determined to make Oregon and Washington Territory their future home. Let them come, there is room for all, especially on the lower portion of Puget Sound.

LOCAL NEWS.

A SPECIAL TERM of the District Court for the Third Judicial District, Judge Lewis presiding, will be held in this city next week, commencing on Monday, at 1 o'clock P. M.

KING AND QUEEN.—We inadvertently omitted to mention, last week, the fact that the children had selected from their number as King and Queen for the May-day Festival, Warren Hastings and Lelia Garfield.

AUTHORITY is granted the Sub-sistence Department at Fort Townsend to purchase in open market 5,500 common brick, not to exceed $20 coin per thousand, and five barrels of lime, not to exceed $3 coin per barrel, also to employ a mason and blacksmith to build a bake oven at the post.

A PANTHER was brought into town last Wednesday morning by Mr. Samuel Strange, which met its death by indulging too freely in the mastication of mutton tinctured with strychnine. The carcass upon which he feasted constituted the fourth victim to his rapacity. He measured, from his nose to the tip of his tail, about six feet.

A SUBSCRIBER informs us that while his neighbors' gardens, last season, suffered severely from insects and worms, his own teemed with produce. He attributes his success to the mere fact of giving young chickens the freedom of the premises, by whose industry the ravages of the destroyers were checked and his crops saved.

THE Fanny Morgan Phelps Dramatic Troupe will give an entertainment in this city on the evening of May 3d; and in addition thereto Capt. McDonald's Trained Indians will appear. We hear the combination well-spoken of in the Victoria papers, where the companies have been greeted with crowded houses, and our citizens may anticipate a rare treat.

IMPROVEMENTS.—We take pleasure in noting the progress that is being made by Mr. Alexander in connection with his arrangements for a ship-yard. Sometime since he purchased a lot on the water front at the west end of the town, with the above project in view. To-day he has a building in process of completion, and is laying down his ways preparatory for the construction and repair of vessels. This improvement is in compliance with a long-felt want at this point, and the enterprise deserves encouragement at the hands of those interested in maritime affairs.

PHILANTHROPY is a rare commodity, and as such is entitled to consideration. In our advertising columns this week will be found a boon for humanity, in the specific for bald heads, recently discovered by J. Kortor, Esq., while a card from the proprietor of the "Red Line," Mr. Smith, announces his willingness to supply citizens with water at astonishingly low prices.

A CORRESPONDENT writing from Neah Bay under date of April 16, says: "For the past five days we have had splendid weather, and the Indians are making good use of it, catching fur seals. Some of them are making $20 per diem. Good skins are selling to the traders at fourteen dollars each. The schooner Cygnet, Capt. Kimberly, has been out several days, also, the pilot boat Lottie, and report says they are doing well. There are, also, the British schooners Alert and Annie Beck, outside, catching seals. This business bids fair to be an important branch of industry, and if care is taken by the white men to use no guns, I have no doubt but it will last for years, as the seals have increased very rapidly in this vicinity the past few years; but fears are entertained that the report of guns will drive them off to some more retired place. The Indians are much incensed at the white men for shooting them, and say in good Chinook, 'Wake kloshe mamook poo,' although I have no doubt if they could hit a seal's eye, as Capt. Kimberly can do, they would all 'mamook poo.' Capt. Kimberly is making the experiment and if it proves successful there will be quite a fleet of vessels off Cape Flattery next season. 'So mote it be.' It is time white men were waking up to the many sources of wealth which await them in these waters."

WORK has been temporarily suspended at the Port Ludlow Mill for the purpose of repairs, and enlarging the capacity of the machinery.

ACTIVE preparations are being made for the May-day Festival.

ARRANGEMENTS are being made for the running of the steamer E. N. Cooke on the Stuckeen river.

YESTERDAY the Gussie Telfair sailed from Portland for Wrangell.

PROGRAMME FOR MAY-DAY.

The children will meet at the school-house and, under the direction of the teachers, Mr. Shelton and Miss Roberts, form in procession, when, preceded by the Brass Band, they will march to the grove, near L. B. Hastings' residence, in the valley, where the exercises will take place.

First in order will be the crowning of the Queen, then singing by the children, followed by lunch.

After lunch, the following will be the order of exercises: Foot-race by girls, succeeded by the boys; grand prize foot-race (100 yds.)—distance 100 yards; sack-race; wheelbarrow race; climbing greased pole; to conclude with the greased pig.

Music will be dispensed by the band for parties wishing to dance during the day. There will be prizes awarded to the children engaged in foot-racing. Parents will please bring lunch for the children. A hall will be given in the evening at Masonic Hall.

MERCHANDISE received during the week ex-North Pacific: C. Eisenbeis, 740 packages; E. S. Fowler & Co., 7 do; F. W. James, 1 do; Rothschild & Co., 1; H. L. Tibbals, 443; C. C. C. Bartlett, 181.

Life is Sweet.

The blood is the life of the human system. Keep it pure and all is well; for this purpose no standard medicine has had so uniform and amazing success as Dr. HENLEY'S CELEBRATED I. X. L. BITTERS. This is a pure stimulant, medicated with the finest tonics and alteratives which the vegetable kingdom affords; and is the only preparation at present known which thoroughly meets the emergency. The effect of this popular restorative is continuous. Each dose taken invigorates the vital energies and the brain, and its pronounced and will unquestionably cure any case of debility, or mental torpidity that does not arise from organic causes beyond the reach of medicine. It is in the strictest sense of the word, an invigorating and regulating cordial. If the nerves are tremulous and relaxed, it braces them; if the liver is torpid it promotes activity in that organ; the appetite is poor and digestion a slow and painful operation, it creates a relish for food and enables the stomach to convert it into healthful aliment. Moreover, it is a specific for a large number of ailments, some of which are particularly prevalent in the damp and chilly weather we so often experience in mid-winter. Among these may be mentioned rheumatism, chills and fever, and all the morbid conditions of the digestive organs. By insuring perfect digestion and a proper flow of bile, it insures pure blood, a vigorous circulation, and the prompt discharge of all waste matter from the system.

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol.

The properties of Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sarcotic, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essential. There is no cathartic for this purpose so agreeable as Dr. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Portify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with the Bitters. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merit than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Spots, Pimples, Pastules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scours, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

For Inflammatory or Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vilitated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Eruptions of the Skin, Spots, Pimples, Pastules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ringworms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scours, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vilitated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
