London, March 10.—A Regusa dispatch to the Times says: Later accounts of the battle of Murrotozzio show that five battalions of Turks under Selim Pasha were going to provision Goranzka. The Turks retired panic stricken at the first attack of the insurgents; they were pursued with great slaughter to Lipnick. The insurgents captured all the Turkish artillery and provision.

The jury in the inquest at Poplar, on the Strath-Clyde disaster, returned a verdict that they find the Captain of the Franconi is to blame for the manner in which he navigated his vessel, that the collision occurred in consequence thereof, and that his conduct was influenced by the pilot whose behavior deserves grave censure; they conclude by pronouncing a verdict of manslaughter against the Captain.

New York, March 3.—The World describes Bowen's last statement as filthy and partly hearsay and doubt and partly direct incompetent evidence of nothing in particular except with the help of Bowen's interpretation, will compel Plymouth Church to choose quickly between pastor and oldest members. It has now come to be that Mrs. Tilton's brother affirms her guilt, if Bowen speaks truly, and Bowen affirming his knowledge of Beecher's guilt, while at the very same time summoning him for spiritual consolation to the bedside of his own dying wife.

The Tribune says Bowen is ridiculous. He offers to show Plymouth Church he had reasons for believing Beecher guilty but refuses to put them in form to be met. He declares he received confessions of various women of guilt with Beecher but the confessions were under the most solemn obligation of secrecy which a man can incur.

Cincinnati, March 9.—The new Secretary of War, Judge Taft, leaves for Washington to-night.

Washington, March 10.—Rumors have been privately circulated to the effect that evidence has been discovered of corruption on the part of three democrats of national reputation, and that the proofs will soon be publicly made known with all their startling particulars. It is mysteriously hinted that the parties are Geo. H. Pendleton, Thos. A. Hendricks and Samuel J. Randall. As to Pendleton he will appear before the Committee on Expenditures, in the War Department, of his own volition next week, to answer a public statement concerning him in connection with the payment of money, by the Secretary of War, claimed to be due the Bowler estate, of which Pendleton was trustee. This gentleman has already denied that any improper influence was used by him to procure a settlement of the claims. The charge against Gov. Hendricks has also been denied by himself and friends, who say he had nothing whatever to do with the Gatling gun contracts as has been charged, while a Senator. With regard to Mr. Randall, the charge is improper connection with matters affecting the Philadelphia Navy Yard. He has asked the committee to thoroughly examine the matter, although he and his friends utterly deny that he has done anything whatever on which even a suspicion of dishonesty can rest.

The following telegram was sent from this city this afternoon. War Department, Adj. General's office: Washington, March 10.—To the Commanding General of the Department of Texas, San Antonio, Texas. In the House of Commons this evening, G. W. Anderson, one of the members from Glasgow, asked the Government, if it were true that Gen. Schenck, the American Minister, had withdrawn at the demand of Great Britain. Robert Burk, one of the under Secretaries for the Foreign Department, replied that there was not the slightest foundation for the report that the British Government demanded the recall of Schenck. The declaration was greeted with loud cheers.

The Times has a leader on the exposure of official corruption in America. DUBUQUE, March 10.—The latest intelligence from Hazel Green, Wisconsin, reports these facts. The storm struck the village between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon, on the west side, sweeping through the entire village, leveling to the ground some 25 buildings, and killing outright, some eight persons, besides seriously wounding 12 others. The carnage is reported as horrible. The hurricane was succeeded by a deluge of rain and hail. The village of Hazel Green, has a population of probably 1,000 inhabitants, situated twelve miles east of Dubuque, and is almost wholly a mining village in the very heart of the lead diggings.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—District Attorney Wells, had an interview with the Attorney General, recounting the difficulties in the way of prosecution and indictment against Belknap. Marsh having fled, cannot be reached, and as the case now stands, he cannot be indicted. The Grand Jury cannot find an indictment against Belknap in the absence of Marsh. The Assistant Attorney states that the evidence presented thus far to the Grand Jury, is insufficient to warrant it bringing indictment, and it is more than probable that unless Marsh can be brought back to testify, it will be impossible to punish Belknap.

NEW YORK, March 22.—The Herald's Washington Special says the Committee on Expenditures in the War Department, intend to subpoena Mrs. Belknap to appear before them.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Postmasters appointed: W. B. Renshaw, Colfax, Whitman County, W. T.; Oloff Olson, Freeport, Cowlitz County, W. T.; Wm. Spangle, Pine Grove, Stevens County, W. T.

The report that an arrangement had been made by which the Government is to purchase the entire bullion products of the Consolidated Virginia and California mines for a year for use in the redemption of specie payments, is pronounced incorrect by the Treasury Department, although it is admitted that a proposition of this character has been received and is now under consideration.

It is said that more than a week ago six or seven persons in the vicinity of Marsh and Evans' late trading post were summoned and their arrival may soon be expected.

In response to the question recently of a member of the Judiciary Committee he said proof could be provided independent of Marsh to abundantly support and prove the charges already made.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The Herald's cable dispatch from London this morning says the proclamation of the Queen's new title is to be followed by the release of Fenian prisoners. It is stated there will be star proceedings in Parliament on Wednesday next when an attack is to be made on Cardinal Manning and the Duke of Norfolk. The Home Secretary will be questioned respecting Manning's alleged violation of law by conferring the title of Armitage Register on one who by this title now claims to hold this rank in a Catholic University College. The Home Secretary will be also asked if the Duke of Norfolk has violated international law by raising funds for German Catholic priests and what steps he (the Secretary) proposes to take to punish the offenders and prevent a recurrence of the acts. The Secretary will probably reply that the Government cares nothing about that affair. A lively scene will be the result.

Two high noblemen have gone over to the Church of Rome this week. A posthumous five act tragedy by Bulwer have been discovered; scene laid at Athens.

BUDA PESTH, 12.—In four small townships along the Danube, fifty-two houses collapsed, from the 7th to the 9th inst., in consequence of the foundations being deluged by floods in Pesth and suburbs. It is impossible to count the rains; for one hundred square miles of winter corn has been lost to Hungary. Foundations of houses in Buda Pesth are undermined, and if the inundation lasts, huge blocks of splendid houses must fall. On the 8th, the large island of Cospet, below Pesth, containing five villages, was submerged, all the houses except ten being swept away.

King Kassa, the Grand Vizier, six chiefs and 5,000 Abyssinians are reported killed in the trenches; Prince Hassan, General Loring the English officer in the Abyssinian army, escaped unhurt. The Egyptian losses were heavy but the victory was complete.

NEW YORK, March 13.—A London dispatch says Lord Ailesford's wife has eloped with the Marquis of Blandford, eldest son of the Duke of Marlborough. The Marquis of Blandford is notorious for his social escapades, and the Marlborough gems have been, it is said, left to pay his debts. Lord Ailesford, the unfortunate husband, was called home from India on urgent affairs some time ago. The elopement is the all absorbing topic of conversation.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Sun says Daniel Drew has filed petition in bankruptcy. Mr. Drew states his liabilities would probably amount to $600,000. The endorsement of Drew theological seminary at Madison, N. J., for $250,000, and that of Western University, at Middletown, Conn., for $100,000, are secured by mortgages on his farms.

This was done soon after his first troubles, when he felt the need of protecting as executor of the estate of his grand children. Mr. Drew is liable for $600,000 additional; but this he says is secured by mortgage. Mr. Drew has been in Wall street for thirty years past. He dates the beginning of his financial misfortunes to the lock of a million in Northwestern stock two or three years ago.

Daniel Drew, whose petition in bankruptcy is based upon his indorsement of a note of the Drew theological seminary, at Madison, N. J., in the sum of $250,000, also a note to the seminary at Middletown, Conn., in $100,000. These notes are unsecured, and other unsecured liabilities of between $100,000 and $200,000. The amount of all liabilities secured and unsecured is about $1,500,000.

Ah Pin is the Chinese Minister to the United States, but it's not stated what kind of an Ah Pin he is.

A negro was scalded to death from a boiler explosion in New Orleans last week, and on his tombstone they chiseled deeply, "Sacred to the memory of our 'steamed friend'."

A Memphis prisoner, who hated to see two lawyers disgrace the court room by fighting, walked out, and was unfortunately enough to get lost. He has not been heard of since.

Some careful and deep-thinking student has discovered that the word e-b-t is composed of the initials of "Don everybody twice." C-r-e-d-i-t is formed of the initial letters of "Call regularly every day; I'll trust."

The Greek word for love is the following: Ameronixetecoghjumbliwhoenvarstinghyon. How sweet, how poetic it sounds, whispered in the ear of Eve's lovely daughters. We assure the young man who can spell and pronounce it, can have his choice.

The man on Green street has small shoes, the other night going home rather he worst for having indulged in oyster stews too freely, found one in the hall of his house. Maria, watz thunders at zank left in the way for, might know fallen into it.

A young lady asked her mother to take her to the Centennial. Well, my dear, be a good girl and I'll take you to the next one.

Smith says the fellow who sang "I'm saddest when I sing," was a fool to vocalize much.

A New York coroner's jury has actually secured a street car company for running over a man. It may have been a mis-print in the daily papers, however.

A young printer having occasion the other day to set up the well known line: "Slave, I have set my life upon a cast!" astonished the proof reader with the following version: "Slave, I have set my wife upon a cask."

A WARNING TO WAITERS.—The following story is clipped from the New York Sun:

In a popular down-town restaurant there was a waiter who had an unpleasant habit of saying "one moment." Otherwise he was a good-natured, affable man, who did his work well, but he was unable to break himself of his one falling. If, while he was wiping a knife or a spoon, a customer asked him for the salt he would say "one moment," finish the knife, and then hand the salt.

If he was polishing glass and a gentleman who had a cup of coffee beside him asked for the sugar, the waiter would not set the glass down, serve the guest, and then resume his labor, but "one moment," and the sugar afterward. If the customer failed to see it in that light and repeated his request the waiter would give his napkin a deprecatory flourish, and impart to his reply a slight accent of reproach, "O-one moment, sir."

Last week the waiter went over to Jersey to visit some friends, and after a day of innocent hilarity he returned to the railroad station from which he was to embark for home. While waiting for the train he strolled out on the track and stood looking down the long perspective of the road. He did not observe an express train that was booming down from the opposite direction, but he heard the warning voice of a man on the platform shouting:

"Get off the track! Get off the track." "One moment, sir!" was the involuntary reply, and he tarried for an instant to straighten a kink in his watch chain; but the express train was in a hurry, and in one moment he had gone where moments are as years.

THE MANUFACTURE OF NITRO-GLYCERINE.—Professor Mowbray will put up a two-story wooden building at North Adams, Mass., one hundred feet by eighteen, on the site of his late glycerine works. It is intended to so model the new works that by a supply of warm or cold air, and warm and cold water, with leaden floor, the risks from nitro-glycerine, and from thawing out when it has congealed, will hereafter be entirely removed. At the close of each day's work the last vestiges, whether of nitro-glycerine, acid vapors, or water impregnated with the same, will be entirely cleared away. As originally constructed these works were not complete in this respect and although frequent reconstruction and additions have been made from time to time, still the unwillingness to tear down and use pick and crowbar over the site of the old buildings prevented a thorough re-arrangement; this will now be done, and it is believed that hereafter an accident, so far as eight years' experience can suggest or provide, will be an impossibility. About two hours work every day will be the limit of manufacturing. Only fifteen minutes of this time will be used in handling the explosive material; the remainder of the time will be spent in clearing up and preparing for the next day's run. Thus danger will at least be reduced to a minimum.

BARRED TO DEATH.—A dog out on Vine street, says the Burlington House-keeper, rushed out in the yard the other day and bit a washing-machine agent. In twenty-four hours thereafter that dog had barked himself to death. He barked at everything and everybody. He didn't offer to bite anybody, but he followed a man clear around the square, barking at the rate of 50 barks a minute. He barked a whole street-full of passengers into hysterics; he barked a blister on a hitching post; he barked at the cistern-box for three hours in a whisper and at the expiration of that time he died. He was a good dog, and up to the day of his singular death was of a remarkably taciturn habit. The folks wish now that they had muzzled the dog when they saw the washing-machine man come in the yard.

THE PROFITS OF BAR TENDING.—Few persons have an adequate idea of the enormous business of a popular liquor bar in a large city. It would have been a hard struggle to have believed, until positively assured such is the case, that any bar-room in the world received $500,000 in one year for drinks retailed over the counter; but there are four establishments in New York where the receipts for the year just closed will exceed that amount. On holidays and other occasions when the demand of a thirsty multitude are excessive, the money received by these places sometimes reaches $2,500. These concerns have no accessories in the form of gardens and bands of music to bring visitors, but depend solely upon the popular demand for mixed and plain drinks from day to day. There are a host of less important, where the receipts are frequently as high as $500 a day.—N. Y. Cor. Chicago Times.

President Stearn, of Amherst College, in a recent lecture before his class, deprecated the present system of education as injurious to the memory. He said the Hindus transmitted without error the three books of the Vedas, one of which consists of 1,010 hymns though the centuries till Solomon's time, 1,000 years before Christ, by memory alone, acquiring them from oral instruction—a thing which has no parallel at the present day. He thought the multiplicity of subjects now presented the scholar rendered the acquisition of a retentive memory next to impossible.

From the Colonist. Mr. Robert Dale Owen writes to the Secretary of the British National Association of Spiritualists that his late illness was due to overwork, and adds: "For two years and a half previous to my illness in May last I had been a sufferer from dyspepsia, causing weakness and depression. These, by rest, water cure, and milk diet, had been entirely removed, and I am now in excellent health, better than I have been for five years past."

The winter has been mild at Kootenay and mining operations have been carried on extensively. A great many Indians have died during the winter. The whites in the camp are generally in good health.

The name of the ship Nation's Hope has been changed. She will in future be known as the Frank Austin, so called after the eldest son of Captain Austin, one of her owners. She was formerly a British vessel, but now she has been registered under the Nicaragua flag.

Morrison, M. P. P., received letters from Lake la Hache stating that there was much excitement in that locality respecting recent gold discoveries in the Hershey country. Many men had left already and more were going. These digging attracted much attention in the early days of Cariboo—and a few men have remained to prospect the country. It is evident that they have "struck it" at last. Another correspondent says that Billy Barker is at Clifton with sacks of gold dust, having found very rich diggings and that the excitement is very great there. 1

The Victoria District ploughing match will come off at Smith's Farm, Swan Lake, on Saturday next, commencing at 9 A. M. M. Baker and Alexander Phillips are the committees to solicit subscriptions for prizes.

A few days ago as Frank Young, Barnard's express and mail carrier between Cache Creek and Okanagan, in company with Mr. Alexander Toimie, eldest son of Dr. Toimie, M. P. P. of this city, was crossing Shuswap Lake, the ice broke and Mr. Young and his horse disappeared. Mr. Toimie with great intrepidity ran at once to the assistance of his companion, and after much exertion and at the extreme peril of his life, succeeded in saving him. The horse was swept beneath the solid ice and lost.

The tubular boilers and portions of the machinery for Capt. Irving's new steamer "Reliance," arrived here per steamer California from Portland. They will be placed in position as soon as possible.

The schooner Alert, Capt. Christiansen, arrived from the West Coast on the 13th inst. Capt. Christiansen reports that about the last of December the Indians found in a cove to the westward of and near Kyuquot Sound the body of a man fully dressed. The body was without a life-preserver and the hands and face were gone. They towed the remains to the trading-post at Kyuquot where Mr. Smith (formerly purser of the steamer Otter) examined them. He found $123 in money in the pockets of the clothes, a number of papers and Government Savings Bank (Victoria branch) pass-book No. in the name of Alvin Burgess Ordway, containing an entry of the deposit of $100 in said Bank on the 23rd of September last, and another entry of the withdrawal of $100 on the 2nd of November. From the book and other papers the body was fully identified as that of A. B. Ordway, formerly a backman in the employ of Mr. S. Whitley, and well-known in this city. He took passage in the steamship Pacific for San Francisco from this port on the 4th of November, and perished with nearly 350 others off Cape Flattery the same night. Deceased was a native of an interior town of New York state. Mr. Smith paid the Indians—who seem to have acted with great propriety—the Government reward of $20 for each body recovered from the Pacific, interred the body and sent the remainder of the money, the pass-book and the papers to this city by Captain Christiansen. Ordway was a volunteer in the late American war and served through two or three campaigns in the South. He was aged 33 years.

Some people, who want to make money out of their patriotism, want somebody to pay them something to raise a flag on Mount Hood on the 4th of July.

A lady in Hillsboro, Oregon, whose son borrowed some money of a citizen and ran off last week says that he has a pretty long head on him—something for a mother to feel proud of.

John Orth, of Jacksonville, Oregon, will shortly ship to San Francisco 1000 pounds of deer-skins, which will make about 3,000 pounds he has forwarded since November last.

The Owyhee Avalanche thinks there is a well organized band of highway robbers, with headquarters in Boise city, who extend their operations all over Idaho, and probably in Eastern Oregon.

From a letter to C. W. Kahler, Esq., from Hon. Lafayette Lane, the Times learns that the House committee on Indian affairs has reported adversely on the proposition to pay the damage done settlers by the Modoc Indians, and that there was no prospect of getting these claims paid at present.

We learn from the Salem Mercury that at present there are 106 prisoners in the Oregon penitentiary, one of whom is a woman. The two extremes of humanity—printers and preachers—are not represented there. In the shoe factory twenty-six persons are employed—twenty prisoners and six freemen—and from twenty-five to thirty dozen pair of boots and shoes are manufactured per week.

A Lake Superior man got the idea that his right ear must come off or he could never be a Christian, and he cut it off. He has since discovered that his ear would have made no difference if he had kept it pinned back.

It is currently rumored that Ben Holladay has sold out his entire interest in railroads, steamboats, steamships and other property in Oregon to the German and English bondholders of the East and West side railroads, and that these bondholders have made a consolidation of their interests. In connection with this change two new steamships, it is said, will be placed on the line between Portland and San Francisco.

A Mr. Chas. Royal, of Warren's camp, Idaho, a native of England, and an old resident of camp, left Warren on the 7th of February, to go to the South Fork of Salmon. He lost his way, wandered about, and was found dead on the evening of the 10th. He had apparently died from hunger and exhaustion, as he was not yet rigid when found. He was aged 65, and was very much esteemed by all who knew him.

John Frost, an old resident of Marion county, who has been a county charge for some time past, went to Albany on Saturday last, and about 4 o'clock p. m., while sitting in the engine house remarked to a friend that a shooting was as easy a way to die as he knew of, and took up a gun which stood close by and shot himself through the heart, dying instantly.

THE SEATTLE Hospital! CONDUCTED BY G. A. WEED, M. D. COMMERCIAL ST., BETWEEN MAIN AND JACKSON, SEATTLE, W. T. TO MEET THE PRESSING WANTS OF every person on Puget Sound needing Medical and Surgical aid, and for comfortable rooms, good care and moderate prices, we have fitted up a Hospital, where every convenience and comfort will be provided in connection with experienced and skillful Medical and Surgical attendance. We aim to make this a permanent institution, and to give special attention to cases of fracture and injuries of all kinds that are constantly occurring in the saw mills, coal mines and logging camps surrounding us. Seattle being centrally located, with regard to these interests, and more accessible than any other point, we mean with the aid of these advantages, and by giving personal and thorough attention to its entire management, to build up an institution indispensable to the sick and disabled who have no homes, and worthy of their confidence and that of the public. The Hospital is in a pleasant and healthy location and the rooms neatly and cheerfully furnished. For further particulars apply either in person or by letter to G. A. WEED, M. D., Seattle, W.
