Local News.

From Daily of Saturday.

TRAVELS OF A LETTER.—A little over a year ago, a man called at the Post Office and registered a small sum of money in coin for his wife in England. The letter left here and the usual "tracers" came from stations on the road. A few weeks ago, a letter came from the Chicago post office returning the letter and stating that letters containing gold or silver coin are in contravention of the international postal treaty which forbids the shipment of coin through the mails between France, England Germany and United States. The fact that the contents of this letter were not included in McArthur's defalcation, is also worthy of note. Last night Mr. Prosch received a letter from the husband who is now in California, stating that his wife had never received the letter and asking that it be remailed to him, which will be done to-day.

THE STEILACOOM MILL.—We mentioned several days ago that Mr. Frank, who has been employed in Colman's mill at this place to purchase machinery for a saw mill at Steilacoom. The citizens of that place subscribed the sum of $2,000, of which $1,000 is to be paid in cash when the machinery is landed there and the balance when the mill starts to cutting lumber. In this matter the Steilacoom people have done wisely and will receive back fourfold what they have donated. They have the advantage of a beautiful town site and only lack the establishment of an enterprise like this, to make Steilacoom a prosperous and thriving place.

GOLD IN WHATCOM.—A private letter from a friend at Schome informs us that two men went out to the Nooksack in January, and got home last week. Part of their mission was to prospect for gold on the South fork of that river, where they found such indications as to justify them in returning thither. They will wait, however, till the high water abates and there is no more snow to melt, when they will show a good return of the glittering metal.

PORT TOWNSEND.—The Argus is authority for the statement that the dedication offerings in the new stone chapel on Sunday last, amounted to $150. Halibut fishing is in full blast now, three boats being occupied at it and another nearly ready to launch. Every trip of the Panama and Dakota, these fish are shipped in ice to San Francisco, while large quantities are sent to Portland via Tacoma, by the North Pacific. Edmondson, the Port Townsend butcher, recently slaughtered six sheep whose aggregate weight was 654 pounds; they were a cross between the Southdown and Cotswold. Capt. Gilbert, of the schooner Winifred, states that a canoe containing six Indians recently capsized off Cape Beale and four of them were drowned. They were on their way from Port Discovery to Ucluet Sound. Grand jury report that bonds of the Sheriff and Probate Judge are defective and recommend they be required to give new ones.

GOING BELOW.—Our merchants are laying in their spring stock of goods at San Francisco, whither, W. P. Boyd went two weeks ago. Jacob Fraenthal Esq. leaves Victoria on the Panama to-day for the same purpose and it is quite probable that the resident managing partner of Schwabacher Bros.—Bailey Gatzert, Esq.—made some extensive purchases while he was in California metropolis. Beyond doubt the dry-goods stores of Seattle will contain the handsomest samples and choicest varieties of goods, in a few weeks, that they have held since our city emerged from the swaddling clothes of a "one-horse town."

LUDLOW ITEMS.—The new three-masted schooner now nearly ready for launching at Port Ludlow is to be called the Hueneme and will be employed in the trade between the Sound and the California coast. The Forest Queen arrived on the 7th with the sails and rigging for the new schooner and the following passengers: Mrs. Henry Hall, Mr. Fisher and wife, Mr. Starkweather and wife, A. A. Cox, Jas. Phinney, P. McGowan, Wm. McGowan, Edward Higgins and Eli Packard. She also brought eighty tons of freight for the Port Ludlow Mill Company and five tons for Olympia. She will sail again about the 15th or 16th.

THE COUNTY POOR.—During the past week the County Commissioners let to the lowest bidder a contract for keeping the county poor at 75 cents per day with a lease of $300 per year for the county farm. The contract for construction of the proposed workhouse on the farm, was let to Harmon, Walker & Co. for $1,400 in county scrip. A contract for medical attendance and medicine for the indigent sick was let to the Doctors Bagley for $300 per annum. The other bids were $740 by Dr. G. V. Calhoun and $1,500 by Dr. John Baker.

SLOW WORK.—Up to noon yesterday only three cars of coal had been received here by the railroad from the Renton mine. Consequently the Modoc fills up very slowly, but we hope to see things move along a little better when things get fairly to work on the railroad. Everything being new, of course, things do not work with the precision and accuracy of an old established and well ordered concern. But we look for Mr. Colman's good judgment to bring order out of chaos in a day or so.

PERSONALS.—Hon. Frank Clark, of Steilacoom, has been casting his sylphlike shadow on our sidewalks for the past three days. We had a call from Mr. L. Samuel, publisher of the West Shore, yesterday morning. He reports business of all kinds improving in Portland. H. E. Levy has gone to Victoria where he will remain some weeks. J. R. Robbins, who was taken violently ill on the night of the fire, was well enough yesterday to be out on the streets again.

Real Estate Transactions.

The following is a list of real estate sales in King county for the week ending Thursday, March 8, 1877:

E. Hanford and wife to R. B. Crowell, lots 3 and 4, block 31, Hanford's addition, $ 125 00
Fannie Moore to Dona Falk, south 1/4 of lot 4, section 23, township 25, range 3 east, 345 75
A. A. Denny and wife to G. W. Bonbright, lot 8, block 38, Denny's addition, 300 00
John Leary, executor of Wm. Brown, deceased, to James Mitchell, north 1/4 of northeast 1-4 of southeast 1-4 of section 11, and lot 2, section 12 (except 18 acres,) township 24, range 3 east, 1,010 00
James Mitchell to E. L. Marshall & Co., north 1/4 of northeast 1-4 of southeast 1-4 of section 11, and lot 2, section 12 (except 18 acres,) township 24, range 3 east, 1,575 00
J. B. Robbins to S. P. Andrews, all of his interest in block C and west 1-2 block 5, in H. L. Pike's town, and the "canal reserve," and a piece on Lake Union, 200 00
Wm. H. Shouley and wife to P. S. Sigvaldson, lot 3, block 9, Boren's addition, 1,000 00
Wm. Lamar to James Hunter, lot 7, block 35, McAleer's addition, 50 00

STEAMBOAT ITEMS.—The St. Patrick came over from Seabeck yesterday—some say for a keg of lager and others for an inspection of her boiler. The Skagit route should be made a mail route at once, as letters sent to Skagit City and Centerville by Capt. Hill's hands, usually arrive two or three days ahead of the mails. On dit, that the Alida is to have new boilers before taking her place on the line again. The Goliath is nearly done in her repairs and will be able to resume towing in a few days. The Black Diamond is putting in good service on the Samish and Stiglamish, towing out small rafts for the loggers.

PLING.—The wharves in San Francisco and Oakland are undergoing repairs to such an extent as to create an increased demand for piles. One load was recently shipped thither by the bark Vidette, a few weeks ago and now five hundred more are to be shipped by the Coquimbo and Northwest. They were towed down from Dogfish Bay by the Politkofsky on Thursday.

A BRUSH.—It is said that the Messenger and Annie Stewart had a little trial of speed last Thursday morning between here and Tacoma, in which the Olympia boat started off ten minutes ahead and reached Tacoma fifteen minutes in advance of the Stewart. The other side say the Messenger was only seven minutes ahead and lost three minutes on the run.

DEATH FROM EXPOSURE.—William Marsh, an old resident of Victoria and well known to many of our citizens, went out shooting near that city on Wednesday last and lost his way. All night long he lay in the woods and when he reached home he was in such an exhausted condition that he died on Thursday morning.

THE TALBOT MINE.—John Collins, the Superintendent of this mine, is now in San Francisco or near there. His object is to secure tonnage of a sufficient extent to enable his company to keep a sufficient supply in San Francisco for all demands. It is coming into favor in the factories wherever it is used.

SETTLING DOWN.—Ship Eldorado is nearly loaded with Seattle coal and will be followed by the J. B. Bell and Samoset. The Modoc will haul around to Colman's wharf for lumber as soon as she fills her hold with Renton coal.

PICTORIALS.—We are under obligations to W. H. Pumphrey for lots of New York pictorials, including Frank Leslie's and Harper's both of which contain graphic portraits of the Electoral Commission.

PHOTOGRAPHY.—E. F. Dollarhide is getting up a lot of specimen frames for exhibition of his work on the steamboats and railroad cars. It is a good method of advertising.

From the Daily of Sunday

IMPROVING.—Yesterday the supply of coal from Renton came in much more freely than on the previous day, each train being six cars containing an aggregate of forty-eight tons to the trip. With good weather and no unforeseen drawbacks, the road can be made to bring in 192 tons per day with its present amount of rolling stock, which is in excess of any work performed while steamboats and barges were used. When the rolling stock is increased to twenty coal cars, each mine can send in about two hundred tons per day and that is as fast as they will care to dispose of it at the present ruling prices. But as wood grows scarcer every day in California, the demand for coal must increase and prices advance with the demand.

AN EYE TO BUSINESS.—They have a new weapon in a saloon in this town called the "snuff-gun." It consists of a small box with a pipe leading into it and a shorter tube leading out of it. When a logger comes in he spends ten dollars for gin and then sits down for a chair-snooze, they stick the short tube in his nose and give her a gentle whiff. This sets the snoozer to sneezing and in ten minutes he is wide awake, duly sober and ready for more cocktails. By this ingenious method, the industries of our country are encouraged and our progressive civilization receives a material advancement.

STEAMBOAT ITEMS.—After next week the Otter will go on the Olympia route in place of the Zephyr, which latter boat is to be laid up for the purpose of putting in a new shaft and cranks to her wheels, which are completed at Bullene's shop. The North Pacific will leave for Victoria and lower Sound ports to-morrow at 5 A. M. and the Annie Stewart at 2 A. M. The other departures to-morrow will be the Libby for Bellingham Bay and way ports, the Fanny Lake (at noon) for Skagit and Centerville, Zephyr for Olympia and Nellie for Snohomish.

RESTAURANT.—William Rickards, the old steamboat steward who made the Bank Exchange so popular in years gone by, has taken the place again and refitted it anew. William is a good caterer and knows how to set a good table, the real secret of which is good quality rather than abundance. Give the old man a call.

SHERIFF'S JURY.—This body who are still deliberating on the Keith-Robbins lease of certain property on Commercial street are now incubating the proposition, hence the sale of the lease is postponed till Monday at 9 o'clock. If decided in favor of Robbins, the lease will not be sold.

DROWNED.—Peter Ladeboos, an old Norwegian aged 65, was recently drowned in Pole Pass near Orcas Island by the upsetting of a canoe. This makes the sixth or seventh death by drowning in these waters in the past two months.

COMING.—The barkentine Ham sailed from San Francisco for Blakeley on the 9th. The Shem and Japhet will be along "in the sweet by-and-by."

MINNIE MAY.—This little steamer on Lake Washington, has been sold by Mr. Jensen for whom she was built.

From the Daily of Tuesday.

STREET OUTRAGES.—About a fortnight ago, between the hours of 10 and 11 P. M., a man belonging to one of the vessels then in port, was most severely clubbed on Front street by three or four unknown persons. On Sunday night, as Frank Hogan was walking along Washington street, he was attracted by a man whom he says he never saw before. The latter kicked and beat Hogan in a terrible manner, knocking him down and lacerating him about the head. A few more occurrences of this kind will create a necessity for a Vigilance Committee.

FIRES AND ALARMS.—There were two alarms of fire, in this city on Sunday, one about 11 A. M. and the other about 1 P. M. In both cases a rush was made for the engine house, which was found to be locked and the janitor off at church or some other place, with the key in his pocket. Frank Matthias, councilman from the 3rd Ward, was an eye-witness to this fact. Both these fires were in the Chinese portion of the town, where the spread was easily effected but for the activity of bystanders. The Department needs a total reorganization and can never be efficient till that change is made. To begin with, there should be a Hook and Ladder Company, entirely separate from the Engine and Hose Company. This company should be stationed somewhere about Madison street, so that in the event of a fire in the north end it could get there ahead of the engine. In places where there is limited supply of water, as at the Robbins mansion last week, this company could be far more effective than an engine company. Another thing is necessary, to remind members of the company that when they go to the fires, it should be with the engine-ropes in their hands; and not running ahead on their own hook. Another suggestion is that if ever the city gets a chance to sell this engine, to let it go and buy one with a wooden box. Hunneman's engines are very good for level towns like Salem, Albany, Sacramento and Stockton, but wretched things for side-hill towns like Seattle or Steilacoom.

A MUDDY RIDE.—Somebody called for Doctor Calhoun to go out to Lake Union last Sunday and he saddled his iron gray horse for the ride. The roads were very muddy and the Doctor's horse had not been out of the stable for two weeks. Just as he got past the Seattle Coal works along came another man on a horse. The gallant gray got excited and away he went, while the other horse thought he could beat him and run just fast enough to keep about a length behind him and get gloriously splashed. The doctor got a pretty good dose himself but the other man was splashed so that his own mother wouldn't have known him.

THE DAKOTA.—This steamer left San Francisco about noon last Saturday, and, barring accidents, should arrive at Esquimalt some time tonight. Her passenger list for Sound ports consists of the following names: For Seattle: Mrs. M. R. Maddocks, L. D. Frank, Richard Mills, M. C. Andrews, T. Smith, John Coin. Mrs. Kramer, Miss M. Tuttle, J. R. Tuttle, wife and child, J. R. Fairbanks, A. M. Brooks, Mrs. L. H. Mills, and 49 in the steerage. Port Townsend: Thos M. Hammond, H. E. Brown and wife, Henry Ran, Mrs. L. I. Gifford, Samuel Hadlock and five in the steerage.

COAL SHIPMENTS.—Ship Eldorado is ready to go to sea with 1,850 tons of Seattle coal on board. Bark J. B. Bell will be full by to-morrow and the Samoset will take the Eldorado's berth at the Seattle bunkers. Barkentine Modoc will complete her loading for the Renton mine about Thursday and by that time we may look for the Washington Libby. It is thought that by the arrival of the latter vessel, the carrying capacity of the railroad can be increased to 160 tons per day and to 200 by the first of April. The old bunkers will still be kept full of nut coal for use of steamers plying about the Sound.

THE NEW LAWYER.—Frank M. Ellsworth, the attorney who recently arrived here and hung out a shingle, is spoken of as a lawyer of fine ability by the Kansas State Journal. That paper says he has a state reputation as an attorney and was one of the attorneys for the defence in the Clough murder trial. While he leaves behind a host of friends to regret his absence, still we bespeak for him unbounded success in his new home.

RETURNED.—Dr. Paul M. Brennan returned from Olympia on Sunday last, after having made himself one of the lions of the Capital for a week or more. His lectures were well attended and he created a favorable impression in all circles.

RESIGNED.—Col. D. P. Jenkins, City Attorney, has resigned his position and the office has since been declared vacant by the Council.

STAMBO. the front street barber, has just received a second chair for his shop from San Francisco, and is now prepared to wait on customers.

JOHN BILLINGS.—This eminent humorist called in and took beer and lunch at the Centennial. He telegraphed back to Vergon to say "Jim, them Klamb ain't bad 2 talk."

STEAMBOAT RACE.—There was an exciting brush on the waters of Snohomish river between the Nellie and Yakima, last Friday. The Nellie had got into the slough ahead but while the deep water lasted, the Yakima could outrun her. At last they began to get into the shallow water above Lowell and the Yakima's great draft and suction caused her to drop slowly astern. For nearly twenty minutes they were so close together that a man could step from one boat to the other, but the Nellie finally got in front and reached the levee about three minutes ahead of her competitor.

NEW TELEGRAPH LINE.—We learn that a new line of telegraph is to be built to this part of the world by a company in which Mark and Jasper McDonald, of San Francisco, are the chief stockholders. The route of the new line is to be from Winnemucca, Nevada, to Camp McDermit; thence to Silver City, Idaho, with a branch line from Silver City to Fairview, and from Silver City, to South Mountain; the main line continuing from Silver City to Boise City; thence to Baker City; thence to Walla Walla, Washington Territory; and thence to Portland, Oregon, together with a short line in Portland.

STEAMBOAT ITEMS.—The Fanny Lake had freight for a dozen points on the lower Sound and did not get off till nearly an hour after the usual time. The Libby had a good deal of lumber for La Conner and some flour for the Bay. Capt. Parker, of the Messenger, has our thanks for Olympia papers. The Yakima came up from Port Gamble on Sunday night with the Camilla Urso troupe. Steamer Annie Stewart runs through to Olympia to-night, the North Pacific only going as far as Tacoma.

PASSENGERS COMING.—By the steamer Dakota are fifty-three passengers for Portland, beside those bound for Sound ports. This is probably owing to the fact that it costs no more to go to Portland by this way than to come here; and for this reason many persons take tickets for Portland, who are in doubt as to where they will settle. It gives them a good chance to see the whole country.

FROM UTSALADY.—We learn that the purchasers of the mill property have commenced tearing down all the old huts and used-up buildings, which might create damage by catching fire and setting fire to other buildings. It is also stated that Jackson & Co., will put in a stock of goods at once and establish a large trading concern at that point.

BIG STOCKS.—There is probably a larger amount of merchandise in Seattle at present than there has been for some months. We notice that especially of dry goods at Schwabacher's and groceries at Crawford & Harrington's. Those gentlemen evidently anticipate a busy season, to judge from the extent of their purchases.

BAD JOB.—According to what we hear from parties arriving here from that place, Contractor Meeker of Tacoma, is no very good man to work for. Men who worked four and five days, got sums ranging from 75 cents to a dollar and a quarter, after deducting their board.

RETURNED.—Dr. Paul M. Brennan returned from Olympia on Sunday last, after having made himself one of the lions of the Capital for a week or more. His lectures were well attended and he created a favorable impression in all circles.

RESIGNED.—Col. D. P. Jenkins, City Attorney, has resigned his position and the office has since been declared vacant by the Council.

STAMBO. the front street barber, has just received a second chair for his shop from San Francisco, and is now prepared to wait on customers.

JOHN BILLINGS.—This eminent humorist called in and took beer and lunch at the Centennial. He telegraphed back to Vergon to say "Jim, them Klamb ain't bad 2 talk."

Ethics of Trade.

It is curious how differently Americans regard the value of a trade mark or a patent. When they first bring out an article, no pains are spared to make it as good as it can be made and in every way worthy of patronage.

Some four years ago, a firm in San Francisco obtained the agency of a Tennessee distillery, the whisky from which commanded a ready sale. Now the very same brand is a miserably inferior mixture, only fit to send men to the mad-house or penitentiary.

In England, young men are brought up differently. There, the man who cheapens or deteriorates the quality of anything made by himself, is set down for a lunatic. A trade mark there, if the article is possessed of any merit whatever, is a fortune to a man and a legacy to his children.

We asked Madame Camilla Urso, the other day, what kind of houses she had at Victoria. "Oh verre good," replied the little lady, "only for ze Parliament, zey would be better."

The "silver mud springs" in Oregon have about subsided. We hear nothing more of it. But that silver was found in a mud spring there, we have no doubt. Then the question arises, who put it there? It never came there by any natural means.

A young man named Kemp was killed at Burrard Inlet last Thursday by being crushed under a spar which was being hoisted on board a vessel. The heavy timber swung around and pinned him down to the windlass on which he died before he could be extricated.

It is a good thing to have what is indispensable to somebody else. Old Mrs. Britannia owns seven acres of rocky land at Esquimalt for a dockyard and the arbitrators have awarded Dr. Talmie $16,000 for it. That's very soothing to the inwards.

An exchange says that "Mr. Forbes of Boston is the handsomest in the world." He must be a great traveler, for we have been shown the "handsomest man in the world" in every town in California and Oregon for the last twenty-four years.

Talk about "carrying coals to Newcastle," is that any worse than shipping wool to Oregon? Yet the Brownsville Woolen Mills recently purchased ten tons of wool in San Francisco, as they could buy at less figures there than at home.

Is it not nearly time to begin hearing from the Federal appointments for this Territory? There is more than one official here who would make a very good private citizen.

Angora goat fleeces grown in Oregon command ready sale at Massachusetts factories from 35 to 90 cents per pound. Who will give them a trial in Washington Territory?

Laura De Force Gordon, the editress and lectress proposes to visit Puget Sound in the summer and will probably include Seattle in her tour De Force.

Value of Legal Services.

A singular case has been on trial in the San Francisco courts for the past two weeks, being a suit to recover $99,000 for legal services. The plaintiff in this case is George W. Tyler, a muscular lawyer of that city who defended Mrs. Laura Fair, the golden-haired man-killer, on the occasion of her acquittal; and whose thumbless left hand bears witness to a fearful hard rough-and-tumble fight with Billy Burke, in the early days of Yreka.

About two years ago, Mrs. Pratt sued the bland and affable Judge for a divorce on the ground of his affinity for the charms of another lady whose condition was that of "neither wife, maid nor widow." The case was compromised, as Mrs. Pratt demanded half the Judge's estate and only got about one fourth, of it. And now comes the modest Tyler with a demand for $99,000 for his services as counsel.

So goes the gilded misery of that great city where millionaires have an anatomical museum of private life in nearly every house. Better to have ages of poverty than one year of wealth accompanied by results like these.

"Murder will out," says the old proverb. It is said that John D. Lee's confession of the Mountain Meadows massacre will be forthcoming in a few days and show up all Brigham Young's cold-blooded villainy. He will not spare "the prophet" in his confession for the "Lion of the Lord" (or the Lord of Lyin'), we don't know which has broken his promises to Lee and even expedited his conviction to screen himself.

A party by the name of Bier (no relation to old Budweiser) has organized a class in elocution at Vancouver. His tariff for tuition is very reasonable indeed. Young men with lofty ambition will be taught to say "the boy stood on the burning deck," for two bits apiece; while loftier and purer poetry like "Mary had a little lamb," will be entrusted to advanced pupils at one dollar each, payable in hoop-poles.

The steamboats of California are all agog over a new propeller wheel brought from England by Capt. R. S. Floyd, formerly master of the John L. Stephens. He has placed one on his steamer City of Lakeport and she attained a speed of eighteen miles per hour. Her best time prior to this was twelve miles per hour. The number of revolutions per minute was 192, according to the Call. We doubt it.

If Rev. Charles Bonnell, (who is rusticated at Port Townsend or some other place where missionaries are in demand) will stay away another week, the congregation of Trinity Church may be regaled by a lay sermon from Father Prosch, upon the wickedness of stealing umbrellas. The text reads: He who takes what isn't his'n sooner or later will go to steilacoomb.

Madame Camilla Urso is getting up one of her "Monster Concerts" in Portland for the benefit of the Mercantile Library Fund of that city. She is the woman to do it, as she is possessed of rare executive ability and can get order out of chaos if any one can.

Moody and Sankey are coming to Portland in May, when a fashionable wedding will take place between a young lady and the 100th man who has offered himself to her. Moody will boss the splice, while Sankey is to preside at the piano and sing "The Ninety and Nine."

"Leaf by leaf the roses fall." We notice that Gen. James A. Garfield, of Electoral Commission and Quadroom Ball notoriety has been obliged to withdraw from the Senatorial contest in Ohio. Who will be the next "Christian statesman" to walk the plank?

A colored soldier was executed for murder in New Mexico last week and was married to an Indian woman one hour before he was hung. The hymeneal halter, you know. His marriage license was written upon a noose-paper.

The Public Printing.

The time approaches when the printing contract gratuitous (in a horn) granted the Intelligencer will expire; and we suppose that the farce of putting in sealed proposals will be re-enacted. It may not be generally known but the advertising business in Seattle is probably done at lower prices than in any other city of its size and importance in America.

Now, if men are to do business for the public let them proceed by some method recognized as legitimate in business circles. If the county is entitled to have its work done at any less cost than a private individual, we fail to see it. Nor do we know of any man whose patriotism permits him to charge cash figures for his work when he knows that his compensation is to be in scrip that has fluctuating value.

It is a matter of public record that while the Intelligencer claims to do the work for nothing it not only received $176 for printing the report of Burke and Rowland, as experts, but also wanted additional compensation for circulating 700 copies as supplements to its weekly edition. The Court allowed the bill which was just about $100 in excess of what either of the other papers would gladly have done it for, though not perhaps in a single issue. The whole matter was wrong from top to bottom.

There was no law to warrant the letting of a contract gratuitously, for the law expects every man to be paid for his labor; there was no law to warrant the appointment of Rowland and Burke as experts, for the examination of the books of public officers is the proper work of the Grand Jury; and when it comes to printing the report, there was no law to allow a man compensation at one figure for what he had bid to do at another.

We don't believe we shall put in any bid for printing "by the lump" at the commencement of the new term. No proposals made that way are fair or equitable. The specifications should state what advertising is needed and what blanks are required for the use of the county officers. Then there may be something legitimate in the transactions of the county with the printers.

It is high time that a Board of Trade for Puget Sound, with Seattle as its headquarters, was organized. "Help one another," has earned more dollars than "pull Dick, pull Devil" could earn dimes. We need concert of action on many questions relating to the advancement and progress of Puget Sound; and the organization of a Board of Trade would affect the desideratum with great ease.

The Columbia river bar is to have a complete survey by the steamer Hassler, if an appropriation of $6,000 or $7,000 can be obtained to put that vessel in running order. This has been done by the industry of that energetic railroad contractor, J. B. Montgomery, of Portland.

Serious apprehension is felt at Portland for the steamship Ajax which left San Francisco on Saturday last at 10 A. M. and had not been heard of at midnight on Wednesday. The Dakota which left San Francisco three hours after her, reached Victoria on Tuesday at noon.

Susan B. Anthony says she hates a lie, but when an Ohio railroad conductor was overheard saying that Susie had the smallest feet and loveliest mouth he ever saw, the old girl was so flattered that she couldn't sit still.

A young New Yorker at a party asked and received the consent of a young lady to accompany her home. He waited in astonishment while the company slowly departed, and finally hinted that it was time for them to go. "Oh!" said she, demurely, "I am boarding here."

The more we study the character of "Juliet," the more we think that if she had lived with "Romeo" two years she would have turned out a termagant, and "Romeo" had been champion henpecked husband of Verona, with black eyes and a bald head, and the imprint of a skillet on his cheek.

After a little girl had attended her first Sunday school session, she asked her mother what kind of a bear was a "consecrated cross-eyed bear?" Her mother could impart no information until she happened to glance in the "Sunday school song-book," when she told her offspring that the animal in question was "A consecrated cross I bear."

MARITAL INFELICITY.

HOW MR. FRY GOT INTO A STEW.

The San Francisco papers received here by last mail maintain a charitable silence over a recent domestic scandal in that city, the chief actors in which are a daughter of Nicholas Luning, the millionaire director of the Bank of California, and her husband Edwin M. Fry. The latter is a fine looking man about 40 years of age, for many years a resident of Sacramento.

It is hard to write these things about a man whom one has known from boyhood, but the just journalist must point out the dangerous path to the youth of our land and warn them by these painful examples. It carries us back to that stage where the cynic philosopher points to the body of the dead sculptor, exclaiming "A noble heart! Marble hearts! False ones of the past, false ones of the future—was unto him that loves yet! Your gold-bought smiles ever have been, and ever will be, ministers of ruin, misery and death!"

Some of Ralston's strategy, though the crafty banker kept out of sight in the matter. But many thought it was one of his schemes to bring about a cessation of hostilities between the Ralston and Luning factions. Ralston was then in the very zenith of his soon ended power. The bank which tottered on the 22d of May, did not fall till the 19th of August and up to May no man questioned Ralston's solvency or underrated his power.

The young couple boarded at the Grand Hotel, but subsequently removed to the Palace when that monument of poor Ralston's folly was completed. But the life of a stock-broker is not well calculated to improve its votaries. It is too big a strain upon the nerves and brain without sufficient bodily exercise to recuperate the system. Besides, business begins too late in the day and ends too early. Hence the brokers, even the best of them, look for pleasures that the better class of merchant ignore.

But little is known, save that they were seldom together, except at meal times when scarcely a word would be spoken for weeks at a time. If their glances met each other by accident, one eye or the other was surely averted. Of course in a crowded dining-room like that of the Palace, such things could not well escape observation and people will talk. Curiosity is the fabled Argus of the ancients and has a hundred eyes and ears. A young man in moderate circumstances, marries the daughter of a millionaire whose means are so well invested that his seven millions would realize more under the hammer than most of other men's twelve millions in that city; and why should there be coldness between them? Curiosity not only asks the question but she also finds the solution.

At one of the city theaters, whose rise in her profession has been an enigma to every unprejudiced critic Beauty she never had, voice she has but little and passionate fervor is absent from her utterances. Old play-goers were astonished to see her assigned leading parts in the same piece with one who has been styled the American Talma. Her salary never exceeded $120 per week; yet it is less than a year since two trunks of dresses from Worth's at Paris came to her; and the duty on that outfit was only $1,800 in gold for eight dresses. Men began to invoke the aid of arithmetic and could not work it out by Cocker's rule of three. How a woman getting $120 per week could pay her board, washing, lodging and then afford to buy $3,200 worth of dresses and pay $1,800 duty on them was valued the fact that the sumptuous apartments of the "society actress" were furnished by the hero of this sketch, who revealed in the boudoir of his Phryne while his unsuspecting spouse supposed he was contemplating a "corner" in Belcher or a storming of Crown Point. There were night drives to the "Cliff houses" and other clandestine meetings which were observed by the scandal-mongers and finally reached the ears of the duped-wife. Forgive her; she was granted on condition that she would avoid the frail one for the future, but the sorceress had woven her spell too strongly. A few days later came rumors of a failure and the flight of

To parts unknown. With her life's fond dream broken, the desolate wife has gone back to the threshold that smiled upon her bridal exit; the guilty husband seeks shelter, under assumed name perhaps, to cover his "peturbed state of mind," while a heartless woman, robed in costly jewels and lace says "Well, poor Ned was a good fellow, I'm sorry he's gone to the Springs." It is hard to write these things about a man whom one has known from boyhood, but the just journalist must point out the dangerous path to the youth of our land and warn them by these painful examples. It carries us back to that stage where the cynic philosopher points to the body of the dead sculptor, exclaiming "A noble heart! Marble hearts! WE ARE SEVEN.

I met a little Democrat,
A gray-haired little lad,
Who wiped his eye and heaved a sigh,
Superlatively sad.

"Wherefore," I asked, "these dismal sighs
That aspirate to heaven?"
He brushed the tear-drops from his eyes,
And said, "We are but seven!"

"Three of us from the House are come,
And two from the Senate tory,
And two the Supr me Court bench are from
And we are one too few to carry."

"Why should that worry you?" I said;
"Do you want to be eleven?"
But he dimly shook his gray old head
And answered, "We are seven."

"Now, I'm blown," I said, "if I can see
What cause that is for grievin'."
"It's cause enough," responded he,
And groaned, "We are but seven."*

"Explain," I said, "why such a thing?"
"Your heart to tears is movin'."
And his quivering voice had a mournful ring,
As he said, "We are but seven!"

"It is the President," he said,
"For which we all are strivin'."
"And you are left?" He shook his head—
"Because we are but seven."

"On a simple motion to adjourn
We can get the eight we cravin';
"But, oh, as it come to a legal turn,
Alas, we're only savin'."

"We are shut outside of the gates," he said,
"Of the Presidential heaven;
And a nightmare of figures haunts my head,
The trio of 8-2-7"

*The laureate, being unable to think of a new rhyme for "seven," had to make "seven" rhyme with the other words, which does just as well and is more Tennysonian.—Burlington Hawkeye.

APPLES AND PEARS.

SOMETHING ON THE PROFITS OF ORCHARD CULTURE.

A NEGLECTED BRANCH OF INDUSTRY.

No portion of the Pacific coast can vie with Southern California in the production of that class of fruits which belong strictly to neither the temperate or tropical belts, but verge between the two. In the vineyards of Los Angeles the grape attains its greatest size and fecundity, not unfrequently averaging 120 pounds to the single vine in yards containing as high as 3,000 vines. This of course is an enormous yield but the wine makers never pay over fifty dollars per ton for them, hence the income is not so large as might at first be supposed. The constant employment of labor on vines all through the budding season and in fact up to the very hour when grapes are ripe enough to pick, materially decreases the profits of vine culture. Oranges have been more profitable than any other crop so far, but it must be remembered that they receive the protection of the tariff upon foreign fruits which does not work a similar advantage to grape-growers. In 1866 a gentleman named Rose arrived in Los Angeles from Tennessee with some $18,000 in money. He bought a farm and began to set out orange trees. Last year he sold his spring crop for $13,000 and his fall crop for $15,000 more. But for

CULTURE OF NORTHERN FRUITS.
Such as apples and pears, Oregon and Washington Territory are immeasurably in advance of California; and the coast sections are preferable, whenever sufficiently sheltered from the winds, to the inland countries. The finest apples and pears we have ever seen in a twenty-four years residence on this coast, were shown at the Olympia Fair in 1872. The California apples save in Siskiyou and Humboldt counties, are dry and pit by; they lack that rich bouquet and luscious juiciness of the Oregon and Washington Territory apples. Yet you hear farmers dolefully lamenting hard times and saying "there is no money in apples." If they expect such returns as the Oregon orchardmen got in 1851-55 when they sold their apples at wholesale for $25 to $40 per hundred, they will be badly mistaken; for then there were not even five hundred bearing trees on the whole Pacific coast. But we contend there is a good remuneration in apples for those who will plant good varieties of apple trees, keep their orchards well plowed, and pack their fruit properly for the market. The invention for kiln-drying fruit for export and preservation in the winter months, known as

THE ALDEN PROCESS.
Has been introduced into Oregon with great success. Its cost of equipment for first class machines, is about $6,000 and for second class about $4,500. They can be used for drying peas, rhubarb, and string beans in June and all other fruits and vegetables till the fall crop of apples comes in. After the apples are exhausted fresh beef can be dried for the use of vessels at sea, with good profit. In short, if an association of farmers having extensive orchards will club together for the purchase of one of these machines, they can keep it employed at least ten months in the year. The San Lorenzo Company in California, is the largest of the kind on the coast and preserves all sorts of fruits and garden vegetables by this process. Similar establishments have been fitted up at Salem, Oregon City, Albany and Corvallis, in our sister State, all of which have paid at least two per cent, per month for such time as they have been in actual operation; though they have not such an amount of material to work upon as factories of the same kind have in California. That State produces some six or eight kinds of vegetables that are totally unknown in Oregon or here.

IN THE SEATTLE STORES.
As well as those at Port Townsend, Olympia and other Sound towns, you see Alden fruit, as it is called, offered for sale. There are apples, peaches, plums, pears and everything you can wish, from fifteen to twenty cents per pound. Shrinkage is much less in apples and plums than in peaches and pears, while it is larger in turnips and potatoes than any other vegetables. Suppose it takes five pounds of raw apples to make one pound of kiln-dried apples and you get fifteen cents for that pound, is not that equal to three cents per pound for your apples? And how long since your apple crops averaged that. You might get that for choice lots, well picked and not bruised; but those that fell from the trees were battered and the pigs got them. With the Alden process things go differently. The fruit is pared, cored and sliced before drying; the slices are placed in the whirling sacks and moved around the kiln at a low heat, while the cores and pairings can be boiled and the juice made up into rich and delicious jelly. Thus it will be seen that under this process everything is utilized and

NOTHING GOES TO WASTE.
And this is the real secret of every kind of business. It is not what a man takes in, that makes him wealthy; it is what he gets a price for, while others allow the same material to rot away or burn up. We know a saw-mill man in California whose mills cut mostly spruce for street-planking in San Francisco. He has a stove machine in his mill and every piece of refuse that won't make a stove is cut up into shooks for fruit boxes. In this way he ships to San Francisco a thousand or two dollars' worth every year of what would otherwise go into a fire-pit. In all branches of business the same principle holds good. The successful business man is not the man who carries the heaviest stock of goods always; but the man whose store is well lighted and so arranged that his clerks can work to advantage. It makes a difference in his pay rolls and gas-bills. Just so it is with fruit growing and orchard culture. If you grow inferior fruit and allow half of it to rot upon the ground, there is no money in it. But if you will cultivate fruits that are costly and work up all that grows on your trees, you can't help getting rich.

WIT AND HUMOR.

If anybody tries to borrow your umbrella, you may safely tell him it is Lent. A young lady recently attempted to start her breakfast fire with coal oil. She hasn't benzine since.

A youthful Granger, about to be chastised by his father the other day, called for his grandfather to protect him from the middleman.

When Mr. Moody remarked that he had no time to study grammar, it was because he saw so many of his fellow creatures constantly parsing away.

Mrs. Goldschmidt said she wasn't padded, but the Custom House scoops in New York found $20,000 worth of jewelry where common folks wear cotton.

Vanderbilt left money for his doctors and his clergymen, but not a cent for the reporters who shivered for weeks on his doorsteps in order to make up health bulletins.

Luca made $50,000 by her farewell concerts in Germany. Artists who have been in the good by business for many years consider that farewell tours are the most profitable.

What makes a minister feel nice is for him to go into the pantry the next day after a donation party and find that he has swapped two barrels of plum cake for one barrel of beans.

The Value of Beef.

The valuable aid rendered by science to the cause of commerce and agriculture, is at all times worthy of note. Some years ago in New York, an old Scotchman named Joseph C. Simpson got refrigerator business into his head...

They have now steamships running direct from Galveston to Liverpool, carrying fresh beef in refrigerators and selling it at an average of sixpence per pound in the Liverpool market. The retailers get from eight to thirteen pence per pound for it in Liverpool...

It is absolutely necessary for our future welfare that we should speedily get control of the trade of that section by some other means, and the only available method that suggests itself at present, is by means of a wagon road over the mountains from this city...

Hydrophobia is in order again in New York and generally comes from the bite of Spitz dogs. A correspondent of the Herald says that the Spitz inherits this poison from his ancestor, the wolf. Another man says this is nonsense because no one ever heard of a man dying of hydrophobia from the bite of a wolf...

About four years ago, society in San Francisco was all agog over the marriage of a daughter of Nicholas Luning, the San Francisco millionaire to a stock-broker of prepossessing appearance but limited means...

The Intelligencer of yesterday had a fling at Judge Lewis, in which is embodied an allusion to his eyes. When a man's official or political acts are under consideration, any allusions to his bodily infirmities might as well be omitted, if they are not the result of his own indiscretions...

An Olympia debating society has been scratching its plurality of cocoanuts over the question that "insurance companies are detrimental to the best interests of our country." That might be the case in places where men set their stores afire to realize upon their policies...

The prompt confirmation of the President's nominations, convinces the most skeptical that Hayes is a harder man for Senators to humble than Grant for he has a greater regard for law and decency. So the Senators saw fit to agree with him.

Henry H. Gilfray, late Private Secretary to Governor Grover of Oregon, has removed to Portland where he will henceforth devote his attention to the practice of law. He carries our best wishes for his professional success.

Since Miss Stevens, the rich hotel-keeper's daughter, fell in love with Frederick May, all the impetuous young men in New York are investing in hickory clubs to whale James Gordon Bennett.

THE ROBBINS CASES.—The case of D. Horton & Co. against J. R. Robbins, was settled by mutual agreement between the parties, the plaintiffs to take the lease and apply the proceeds to the payment of their claim against defendant.

A WAGON ROAD.

YAKIMA WANTS AN OUTLET TO THE SEA.

COMMERCIAL IMPORTANCE OF SEATTLE.

Persons who have given the subject careful consideration, have foresight enough to see that unless something is done to open up to Seattle the vast resources of the extensive region east of the Cascade mountains, she can never become a city of any extraordinary size or commercial importance...

Above mentioned. As an agricultural center we can never hope to have much prominence, simply because we have but a very limited extent of farming country about us, and are not liable to have much for many years to come. Well, then, knowing these facts, it behooves us to look around us and see how we can better our condition.

It is absolutely necessary for our future welfare that we should speedily get control of the trade of that section by some other means, and the only available method that suggests itself at present, is by means of a wagon road over the mountains from this city.

That the cost of construction of such a thoroughfare would be so very insignificant when compared with the direct benefit to accrue, it would hardly be worth considering. See what an inexhaustible abundance of the finest timber for road and bridge building the route is lined with; see the enormous quantities of sand, gravel and rock, which could be readily used for filling-in purposes.

Provided with all the necessary implements and furnished with a small portable saw-mill for the purpose of sawing the huge timbers along the route? The amount of grading necessary is comparatively slight; and the worst portion of the road is on this side of the summit; and is getting worse each year on account of the large droves of cattle being driven into this city by that route.

Company for the purpose of constructing different sections of the road and keeping it in repair, and in a short time we have no doubt but that the increased travel would amply repay the stockholders for their outlay. Besides being of immediate benefit to the people at each terminus of the road, it would be a great accommodation to the inhabitants of the country lying between Kittitas Valley, and Walla Walla, who in order to take the

STAMPER FOR SAN FRANCISCO, Or to transfer any kind of business with the people on this side, would much prefer coming here by such a direct route than the more round-about one by way of Portland and Tacoma. Moreover, aside from the advantages enumerated above, it is easy to see what a great benefit this road would be in giving tourists and pleasure parties easy access to the grand and majestic beauties of Undernably one of the most magnificent scenes in the whole Northwest country; while further on, the sublime and rugged grandeur of the white-tipped Cascades, with their dense growth of fir and maple, give to the thoughtful tourist ample food for reflection. The beautiful Lake Kitchikan will also be a favorite haunt of the tourist before long. Although the lake is not of very great extent, it is and its smooth, glassy surface is scarce disturbed by a ripple, giving it the appearance of a miniature

Dead Sea in the midst of that mighty and solemn forest. We have mentioned but a few of the possibilities of the opening of this road, but much more might be said. Surely the undertaking is worthy of an effort on the part of those who have the welfare of Seattle at heart, and take an interest in her future prosperity. What say ye,

CAPITALISTS OF SEATTLE?

Will you build this road and open up your future greatness on the other side of the mountains? or will you sit down and mope over it, until the wide-awake men of Portland open up the navigation of the Columbia and its tributaries, or build a branch road from Wallula to Yakima, whereby they will control the trade of that rich section, and forever bar out the metropolis of Puget Sound. This is a matter of

And one worthy of deliberate consideration. We eagerly look forward to the day when this "con-summation so devoutly to be wished" is carried out, when in Seattle and Yakima an increasing population and speedy development of the country will henceforth give no occasion for the unwelcome cry of "No Thoroughfare."

HAYES.

DISGUST OF THE RADICAL SAINTS.

Old readers of American history will all remember the outburst of indignation which pervaded the country in 1842 when John Tyler, by the death of General Harrison, became President of the United States and appointed one or two Democrats of national fame to important trusts of limited compensation.

FEDERAL COMMISSIONERS

In their pockets as the only means of getting a livelihood. For this the sleuth-hounds of radicalism gave tongue against him and the whole pack—"Tray Blanche and Sweetheart"—were howling "Traitor" at his heels.

THE SAINT OF BEBELRY

Reeking from his very garments and is forgotten save as a corrupt hypocrite; Ashley was made Governor of Montana where he earned a few honest pennies by pardoning criminals for a hundred dollars apiece; Cole came back to California to spend his share of the Pacific Mail Co's China subsidy and has since lived in merited obscurity; Williams, who became Attorney General under Grant as a reward for his share of the impeachment, was obliged to retire from office to avoid being impeached himself and is despised by all decent men in either party.

DISGRACE OR DEATH.

One or the other, has overtaken every man who conspired to overthrow Andrew Johnson in his good work which, after eight years of robbery and bloodshed under Ulysses the taker of gifts, is now to be resumed by Rutherford B. Hayes. His aim will be the restoration of civil government and a gentle reminder to men of the Sheridan stamp that the army is below the people.

LEADING MEN OF THE SOUTH

That it will not need five hundred soldiers to keep peace in the whole southern country. Men called Johnson a traitor to the Republican party, but they should have remembered that President Johnson never was a Republican. He was a war Democrat and was elected on the Union Ticket. Mr. Lincoln was elected on the Republican ticket in 1860, but not in 1864.

THE CONSTITUTION

Made him President without the aid of an Electoral Commission, hinging on the vote of a judge who had bought his ermine with the bribe of a sea-side cottage. Johnson never yielded to his base traducers. On the contrary he lived long enough to get back to the United States Senate, where he showed up the sordid and venal Grant, who stood wavering between the Republicans and Democrats in 1868, till within thirty days of his nomination at Chicago and then sold out to the highest bidder.

MAIN SPRING OF A REPUBLIC.

Are the property of the historian. Under his administration, things went pretty well for the first four years; but his last term has been a carnival of robbery and corruption. His appointment of Williams, the rotten minion of Holaday, to the Chief Justiceship once held by Chase, the elegant gentleman and scholar; his letter endorsing Colfax after a nation had spewed him out of their mouths as a foul bribeling; his premeditated insult to Sumner, who, despite his fanaticism, was lofty and pure; his complicity in the San Domingo job, so plainly proven, all show that he resembled the Great Duke not only in warlike arts but also in greediness, rapacity and love of gain at any cost.

A BETTER MAN

Is in his place to-day, though he has no business there, more than you or we, dear reader. But in spite of the fraud and corruption by which he was elected he is endeavoring to act in accordance with precepts of right and justice. When we heard before his inauguration that he would recognize Nichols as Governor of Louisiana and Hampton, of South Carolina, we could not believe it for the recognition of Nichols was equal to an admission of his own defeat.

DUPED AND CAJOLED

Into voting against the interests of the only men who could give their work. The carpet-bagger was backed by the army and the Attorney-Generals' office, so he put up Sambo for the Legislature where he voted him for thieving bills and pocketed the lion's share, giving Sambo a gold watch and a few circus tickets. Sambo went back home to get work from his former owner, only to receive his curses for voting away all the people's money in subsidies to paper railroads and other legalized larcenies.

THE EX-REBEL ELEMENT

Owens the lands and that the Southern States are merely agricultural communities as yet. True it is, that Richmond, Atlanta and Huntsville, possess better water power than Lowell, Lawrence and Nashua, and that they are nearer to the cotton fields. But what capitalist will invest his millions in a country where a state of anarchy prevails? Answer that. Now if Ben Butler and his class of men can keep up agitations and rumors of riots in the South, the cotton crop may be worked up in Massachusetts for some time to come.

HAYES KNOWS ALL THIS

And knows that the time has come when he can not allow the army to be used for any such purposes as it has been. He knows that an exasperated people are liable to do anything when they are robbed of their liberties and swindled out of their rights. He knows that the ascendancy of his party is only nominal; that he was beaten over a quarter million of votes by popular return; that the party which elected him is a minority in that branch of Congress where the appropriations must originate; and lastly that he was made President not by the people but by the politicians. Hence, being a man of ordinary good sense and knowing that the

POWER OF THE PEOPLE

Is greater than that of the politicians, he has determined to cut loose from the corruptionists. Hence the deep grief of Blaine, Morton, Sargent and the whole nest of ultra-Republicans over the Cabinet. They hate Everts because he defended Andy Johnson with such signal ability; they hate Schurz because he was the first man to call public attention to the corruption and profligacy of Grant's administration; and they hate Key on general principles because he is a Democrat. It is not likely that any more of Hayes' cabinet nominees will be confirmed by the present executive, but he will wait till next session and make

AD INTERIM APPOINTMENTS

To fill all present requirements. By appointing one Democrat to a place in his Cabinet, President Hayes has at a single blow expunged precedent and torn down the barriers of partisan bias. In this course he will meet with the antagonism of all such extremists as Morton, Blaine and Hamlin, together with all the dirty-work politicians of whom Zack Chandler is the high priest. But the best men of the North, as well as the South, will be his steady supporters as soon as they see that he exhibits a firm determination to sink the partisan in the inflexible and unswerving magistrate.

President Hayes was not elected by our vote nor would he have received it, had we been in a State instead of a Territory. But as long as he dispenses justice to all men and in all sections, let us obey him as becomes good citizens.

[FROM THE DAILY OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN STATES.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 11.—Richard W. Thompson, Secretary of the Navy accompanied by several prominent gentlemen passed through this city this evening, en route to Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Senator Blaine dined last evening with Secretary Everts and Secretary Schurz. Arrangements have been made for a meeting of the new Cabinet at the Executive Mansion at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, at which time the oath of office will be administered to each member, with the exception of Secretary Sherman, who qualified yesterday.

The Judges of the Supreme Court to-day paid their respects to the President. The Cabinet members who had not already taken the oath of office were sworn in to-day, except Secretary Thompson, who had not arrived in Washington. After the members qualified a session lasting an hour followed, for the purpose of becoming acquainted. At the same time there was some talk upon the policy of the administration.

A special to the Herald confirms your correspondent's foreshadowing of the Southern policy of Hayes. Thus his hope to build up a Whig Republican party in Louisiana, which is one of the Southern States where Whig traditions lived most strongly. Louisiana wishes for the protection of its sugar industry, and wants national help to put her levee system in good order. She is therefore naturally Whig or Republican; and, with proper management, it is acknowledged even by Democrats that it will not be difficult to draw into the administration party at once a preponderate number of intelligent white citizens and property owners, and thus break the color line. The President probably sees that, if the Nichols Legislature should elect to the Senate two influential native citizens of Whig leanings and traditions, this would do more to bring about such a change and break in political parties than anything else, particularly as Nichols is himself of Whig antecedents and faith.

NEW YORK, March 12.—At a fire to-night in a tenement house occupied by a German and a Polish Jew, three children were burned to death. The executive committee of the Western Union Telegraph Company recommends a declaration of the usual quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. March 12.—Four boys at Ware ate poisonous wild turnips, mistaking them for flag root. One died and the others are not expected to live.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—At the swearing in of the Cabinet this morning there was an amusing scene. All the members except Thompson and Sherman stood up in a row, with uplifted hands, when the Chief Justice began to repeat the oath. When he reached the sentence, "You do solemnly swear that you have never voluntarily borne arms against the government of the United States," Secretary Key exclaimed, "Hold on there, I cannot take that oath!" and after a little whispering Key dropped his hand and stepped out of line until after the rest of them had sworn by the iron-clad oath. Then an attempt was made to find a copy of the modified oath to administer to Key, but it was impossible, there never having been any use for it at the White House. The Chief Justice soiled the difficulty by repeating an oath to which Key assented.

The Senate committee on privileges and elections, met to-day to take action on Louisiana. All the members were present, except Senator Cameron of Wisconsin. Mitchell submitted a motion authorizing the chairman to report to the Senate to-morrow the following resolution: Resolved, That Wm. Pitt Kellogg is prima facie entitled to be admitted to a seat as Senator from Louisiana, and that the oath be now administered to him.

Mitchell's motion was agreed to by a strict party vote, as follows: Yeas—Morton, Mitchell, Wadleigh, McMillan and Hoar—5; nays—Saulsbury, Merrimon and Hill—3.

Saulsbury moved to take up the papers in the case of J. B. Eastace, who claims to be duly elected to the U. S. Senate from Louisiana, about two years ago; rejected by a party vote.

Chairman Morton will to-morrow present a written report in connection with the resolution for seating Kellogg, and the minority of the committee will also present their dissenting views.

The Democratic papers to-day published editorials commenting on President Hayes' policy and in striking contrast with their recent utterances, taking a cheerful view of the situation. The Sunday Herald says the President is beginning very early to justify the hopes entertained by the better element of his party and to disappoint the machine politicians and malignants. All that he has said and done thus far goes to show him to be not only an earnest and sincere but a wise man. The Herald also declares that although some fanatical Republicans and passionate Democrats may strive to weaken his administration, nevertheless if he persevere in the course he has marked out, the majority of the country will turn toward him, and the strong hands of its yeomen will sustain him. Even Don Piatt, of the Capital, praises him under the caption of "Hayes at the Helm," all the first moves of this gentleman impress one with his fairness which, considering that he was not honestly elected President, is all the pleasanter from the fact that it is unexpected. He applies the knife even into his own party, and kicks aside the dirty ladder on which he ascended into power, and with that ladder falls much ill that afflicts our unhappy country.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 12.—It is reported that Simon Cameron has tendered his resignation as U. S. Senator. A caucus of the Republican members of the Legislature has been called for to-night for the purpose, it is supposed, of naming his successor. Ex-Secretary of War J. D. Cameron, is prominently mentioned as the choice for the position.

LATER.—Gov. Hartranft officially notified the Senate and House of Representatives this evening that Simon Cameron had resigned the position of U. S. Senator.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Luttrell, of California, who passed through here to-night en route home, informed your representative that he had positive assurance from President Hayes that a special session will be called from the 1st to the 15th of May. Luttrell says it is conceded that Randall will be put forward by the Democrats for the Speakership.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Secretary of State Fish to-day, having installed his successor, Mr. Everts, left the Department of State. The ex-Secretary says he retires in good health, and after eight years continuous service, rejoices that he is a sovereign free from the cares of office.

Secretary McCrary, after taking his seat in the War Department, was waited upon by the various officers in charge of the division. The other Secretaries and the Postmaster General were also waited on by assistants and other officers in their respective departments.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—Secretary Thompson, accompanied by ex-Secretary Robeson, went to the Navy Department to-day. The ex-Secretary introduced Secretary Thompson to chief clerk Hogg and Lindsey Muzz, 49 years a messenger at the Secretary's door. Afterwards the chief bureaus were presented, and then the clerks of the Secretary's office, headed by the chief clerk, paid their respects.

The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day: Lot M. Morrill, collector of customs for the district of Portland and Falmouth, Maine; Wm. Stone, U. S. Attorney for South Carolina; Asa O. Olds, of Vermont, Jas. B. Howell, of Iowa, Orange Ferris of New York, Southern claims commissioners. Morrill is understood to have been offered the appointment of minister to England or other first-class country, but preferred to remain in his own State.

The Senate in executive session confirmed Morrill's nomination immediately. The others were referred to appropriate committees.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Tribune's Washington special says Cameron has no unkindly feeling toward Hayes. When asked for the reasons which induced him to resign, Cameron said to-night: "I am 78 years old, and think I have been in public life long enough and that I will never find a better time to retire. I am tired of the cares and worry of office; of having to turn away good people whom I would be glad to serve if I had the power, and of being annoyed by bad people seeking to make use of me. I am rich and need not subject myself to all this trouble." As to the Cabinet, he said he had no objection to any member of it, except Schurz, who sneered at his appointment to the War Department in 1861.

HARRISBURG, March 13.—In the Republican caucus to-day ex-Secretary of War J. D. Cameron, was nominated on the first ballot for United States Senator. The vote stood: Cameron 128, Morton McMichael 1. The nomination was then made unanimous. A resolution endorsing President Hayes' policy was passed.

NEW YORK, March 13.—The Times' Washington special says Hayes' Southern policy is distasteful to Southern Republicans now in Washington. They are holding caucus and doing everything to prevent the recognition of Nichols and Hampton. If, however, they are unable to prevent this, the Southern Senators will vote against the admission of Kellogg and Corbin. They argue that they have been betrayed by the Administration.

It is the general impression to-night that the Senate, within a few days after receiving the report from the election committee on the Louisiana case, will postpone action concerning it till next December. Morton and other friends of Kellogg will probably acquiesce in the postponement as the only means of avoiding immediate defeat.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—J. Madison Wells appeared before the Southern claims commission to-day regarding his claim for $500,000 for a legged losses during the war. This has been rejected in Congress and ought to be rejected by this commission.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The Sun's Washington special says: It is beginning to look very much as though Hayes proposed to give both sides of rope. No Southerner goes to the White House who is not well treated. Everything has been proposed first, last and all the time. Patterson and Corbin are also satisfied and say they have nothing to complain of. Corbin's brother-in-law, the one who prepared the report of the Hamburg massacre, succeeded him as district attorney of State, the last appointment of Hayes the Democracy wanted.

Among the nominations which will be sent to the Senate to-morrow is Jno. D. Defres, printer; ex-Senator Henderson, of Missouri, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, and Fred N. Seward, Assistant Secretary of State.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The President nominated Edwin G. Waite as naval officer at San Francisco; Thos. A. Cummings, collector of customs for the district of Idaho and Montana, and William D. Hare for the district of Oregon; J. C. Fullerton, receiver of public moneys at Roseburg, Oregon, and Hart Fellows at Sacramento; T. P. McFarland, register of land office at Sacramento; H. W. Jones, Indian agent for Quapio agency, Indian Territory; Chas. H. Gearing for Pawnee, Indian Territory, and Jas. T. Howarth for Kiowa and Comanche, Indian Territory.

The Senate to-day confirmed the nominations of Wm. Sherman, to be Assistant U. S. Treasurer at San Francisco and Edwin G. Waite, to be naval officer at San Francisco.

PACIFIC COAST

VALLEJO, March 10.—This evening Robert Norris shot himself in the breast with suicidal intent. The weapon was an old duelling pistol loaded with buckshot. The shot went through the body. The man is alive, and there are chances that he will recover. Norris is a mason by trade and an old resident. Domestic trouble is the alleged cause.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 11th.—Engene Mulligan, living on Barton street, a narrow lane running north from Pacific to Broadway, below Montgomery, was shot at the door of his own house last night by a man unknown, who he was in the act of reproving for committing a nuisance and died in a few minutes. Two Spaniards were arrested on suspicion.

A Chinaman was murdered this evening by one of his countrymen in Stout's alley. He was shot through the head. The supposed murderer was the well-known high-binder known as Hung Kow, who has been convicted of murderous assaults.

SAN DIEGO, March 11.—The stage from Anaheim was stopped last night fourteen miles above San Juan Capistrano. The driver whipped up his horses, the robber fired and the driver, though painfully wounded, stuck to his team and drove on.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—It has transpired that last night an officer high in rank in the Russian squadron now here, eloped with a young lady, daughter of the engineer, of Hunter's Point dry dock. Their flight was effected by means of the traditional ladder. The girl's father discovered her in the act of descending and gave chase, but the lovers jumped into a buggy and distanced him. The father this morning invoked the aid of the police to assist him in ascertaining the whereabouts of the runaway daughter.

Tasey Stewart, a Yuba farmer is on trial before a jury in the U. S. circuit court, on an indictment which charges him with attempting in October last to bribe Zachariah Chandler, then Secretary of the Interior, by offering him $300 to make a decision in a land case where Stewart was interested.

In the Oakland city election yesterday the straight Republicans elected their candidate, Dr. Pardee, by a majority of 145 over Gen. Geo. S. Dodge, the tax payer's candidate. The Independents elected councilman in the sixth ward. The Republican majority at the last Presidential election was over 1,300.

SANTA BARBARA, March 13.—The body of Thos. Agnew, an old printer, well known in San Francisco, where he was for years in business for himself, and who came here about eight months ago and worked in the Press office, was found in the canon in the vicinity of the old mission, about two miles from this city, this morning in an advanced state of decay. He is supposed to have been dead three weeks. He was missed nearly a month ago.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The directors of the W. U. Telegraph Co. elected Wm. H. Vanderbilt director in place of Cornelius Vanderbilt, deceased, and Colbridge Livingstone in place of the late Col. Vermilye. A dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. from the net earnings of the past three months was declared payable April 14th.

DR. PAUL M. BRENNAN,

...THE RECKONED...

MEDICAL LECTURER

...AND... PRACTITIONER.

Would respectfully inform the public that he can be consulted free of charge, at his parlors, Tremont House, Rooms 8 and 9.

DR. BRENNAN can tell the patient's disease the moment he comes in contact with them, no matter how complicated the case may be, without asking them a word. This accounts in part for his wonderful success in the treatment of chronic and difficult diseases. His perfect knowledge of physiology, pneumology, and human character, which he reads at a glance, enables him to understand the wants of each individual with whom he comes in contact, and his perfect medical knowledge enables him to prescribe the proper remedy with unerring certainty.

DR. BRENNAN has traveled so much, and has come in contact with so many people by means of his lectures, both in Europe and America, that he has become a perfect master in his line of business. The laws of life and health, and the physical wants of man and woman have been his constant study. Few men in the profession have had his broad experience, and fewer still possess his keen and liberal mind to dive into the mysteries of human nature and search out her individual wants. To attempt to treat disease without being able to tell what the matter is with the patient is like looking into the Marston Cave of Kentucky for the lost arts of Egypt.

Above all price of wealth, The body's jewel net for minds profane, Or hands to Lamer with in practice vain, Like to woman's virtue is man's health; A heavenly gift within a holy shrine, To be approached and touched with serious fear

By hands made pure and hearts of faith sincere, Even as the priesthood of the one divine, DR. BRENNAN has astonished skeptics by his wonderful power in reading disease and curing the same after some of the best physicians had failed. A timely call upon the doctor will cost you nothing, and may be the means of saving you weeks or months of pain and suffering, a broken down constitution, and an early death.

DR. BRENNAN has lectured to ladies for years, and thoroughly understands the delicate and refined organization of woman, and how liable she is to suffering from disease, and how to know a little about it. Thousands of ladies, young and old, who scarcely see a well day in the year, and thousands more who fill premature graves might have been happy and happy by calling in time on the Doctor.

WHAT ARE YOU BEST ADAPTED FOR? Dr. Brennan can tell your disposition, what you are best adapted for and what you best succeed in, describe a proper partner for life, one whom you can live and be happy with, and in fact will point out the true path to health, happiness and Prosperity.

YOUNG MEN Will remember that Dr. Brennan has lectured on Manhood for years, and is perfectly familiar with the wants of all, both young and middle age, who are troubled with Nervous Debility or premature breaking down of the constitution.

Many who are weak and debilitated wait too long and let their systems break down before seeking for relief. Dr. Brennan never fails to restore youthful vigor and build up the body and mind to its natural condition. Everything strictly confidential and honorable with the Dr., and five minutes interview will convince any intelligent person that he thoroughly understands his profession. You will always find him social and glad to receive you.

...OF A... Wonderful Cure.

DR. PAUL M. BRENNAN—Dear Sir: I take great pleasure in stating for the benefit of those who are afflicted with any chronic disease, that I AM NOW A WELL MAN. For the past two years I have been under the medical treatment of different physicians, from which I have received no benefit. I have been suffering with general and nervous debility, a difficulty in my stomach, and at times dizziness and severe headache, almost incapacitating me for work. About three weeks ago I put myself under your care, and I can say with delight that I am cured and feel like myself again, after having partaken of your skillful treatment. To me now, labor seems a pleasure. I say this much, hoping it will be the means of attracting the attention of those who can relieve and cure them.

Yours Truly, JOHN BALLARD, Employed at Colman's Saw Mill.

[It will not publish any cure performed by me unless by the full consent of the parties.] Feb 23 PAUL M. BRENNAN.

Local News.

From the Daily of Wednesday.

A REPORTER'S DREAM.—Our man about town went home after the concert on Monday night and set a small saucepan over the gaslight to warm some water. Having done this he cut a lime and poured some Scotch whisky into a tumbler. Hot water followed and at last the reporter laid back in his arm chair. He fell into a doze and before his gaze passed an interesting procession, headed by the publisher of the Intelligencer and the Chief Justice; next came Mr. Brunn and the agent of the Seattle Coal Company; after them marched the proprietor of the Fashion Saloon and an ex-Auditor of King county; next came Justice Selye and the venerable Barney Crossen; following them were the two Olympia editors, Dobrin & Bagley; next came Surveyor General McMicken and Counselor Ballard; after them was Beriah Brown, Sr., and Mr. Dexter Horton; and so on, passed the cortege, amid strains of sweet music by a band which played "This is the way I long have sought." The procession entered Yesler's Hall, where Piper played a voluntary on the organ and then Rev. Daniel Bagley arose and said "Bless ye, my children. Behold how good it is for brethren to dwell in harmony together." Just then a step aroused the slumbering reporter and a voice said "John, you welly nice man. You payee me thee dollar washee." And the sad and weary reporter awoke and not only compromised with the heathen, but actually came down town to the Saddle Rock and stood "Van" up for the oysters.

INEXCUSABLE IGNORANCE.—It is singular to notice the ignorance of some people concerning the writing and mailing of letters. You see letters detained at the Post-office for causes that you would never dream. One man has written the name of the party on the envelope, but omitted his place of residence. Another has written his friend's name and only the town, where he lives. Others have English postage stamps on, which are useless save on letters coming this way; while some are decorated with internal revenue stamps which are valueless for any postal purpose. All this is inexcusable. Men should first put postage stamps on an envelope and then write first the man's name, then the town, county and State where he lives—and that settles it.

PASSING OPINION.—Rev. A. L. Lindsley, of Portland, has some very readable letters in the Oregonian occasionally, especially his last one from Port Townsend, where he officiated in laying the corner stone. Speaking of our city, he says: "Seattle continues to attract business men. It is the prince of Sound cities. At the wharves are sea-going vessels loading with coal and lumber. In the streets are large wholesale establishments and banking houses. On the heights are beautiful residences and in front a spacious harbor. The population is estimated at 3,500, and some of the citizens place it 500 higher.

CELEBRATION.—After all, we are to have a celebration of the birthday of Ireland's patron saint and Dr. Brennan is to deliver the oration. Next Saturday is the day and we hope to see every Irishman who can leave his work, participating in the festivities. It is only once a year that they can unite to celebrate a day sacred to a people who, while they have lost their nationality, yet retain all the genius, wit, valor and learning of their proudest years. Ireland is the Niobe of Nations. Let her children's anthems banish her tears.

CLOSING NIGHT.—Another fashionable house greeted Madame Camilla Ursol's troupe last night, in spite of the severe weather. She was loudly applauded and played fully better than on the opening night. Miss Wandesforde installed herself a prime favorite by her sweet ballad singing and can always count on a cordial reception when she comes this way again. The company left for Olympia on the Annie Stewart. We bespeak for them a crowded house at the Capitol.

DEAD.—Mr. Forbes, who was taken with small-pox about two weeks ago, died yesterday about noon.

WHALES.—The same school of whales which alarmed Port Blakely about two weeks ago, were out in Seattle bay on Monday. They have evidently come in here to breed and should be allowed to do so in peace. If this spirit is properly entered into, in the course of the next seventy-five years, every good citizen can have fried whales for breakfast at least once a week.

NEW LAW FIRM.—In yesterday's edition we referred to Frank M. Ellsworth, who has recently come here to reside. We have since been called on to announce the formation of a law partnership between him and C. H. Hanford. The latter gentleman is one of the most industrious members of the local bar and always at his desk during office hours.

HEAVY WEATHER.—The storm which prevailed all Monday afternoon continued till late that night but abated before morning. The steamer Fanny Lake was compelled to lie at her wharf all night, but left early on Tuesday morning. If this summer brings in as much immigration as we think for, Capt. Hill will have to make three trips per week.

BURGLARY.—The warehouse of J. R. Robbins on Commercial street, or rather on Painter's Alley, was broken open by burglars on Monday night. These miscreants got nothing, of course. It was only done for malice against a poor old man whose misfortunes have been already too numerous.

NO MAIL.—Steamer Annie Stewart did not reach her wharf till 11:20 last night, having waited at Tacoma for the mail in vain. No train had arrived there up to 8:55 when she left for this place. It is feared the train is delayed by a land slide somewhere in the Newaukum valley. We shall know all about it today.

SETTLED.—It looks odd to glance over the advertising of the Astoria paper and read Schlusell & Kant's advertisement. We can fancy Max caricaturing old man Hustler and Van Dusen, while the venerable Schlusell accosts Capt. Flavel with "Was sagst du mit der constitution von Nigh York?"

MARINE.—The following vessels left San Francisco on Sunday for Sound ports: Bark Tidal Wave, for Madison; bark Amethyst, for Bellingham Bay; barks Revere and Arkwright, for Nainaimo; bark Mary Glover, for Discovery; bark Dublin, for Seabeck.

RISEING.—The railroad hands tell us that White River is nearly "bank-full" and liable to overflow at any time to day if the rains continue. The fall of rain in the last forty-eight hours has been very heavy, as the distressed condition of the streets testify.

ACCIDENT.—On her last upward trip the steamer California struck on a sunken rock near Nainaimo and broke off one of the blades of her propeller. She is detained in Victoria to repair it and Purser Hughes takes her mail over to Victoria by this route.

PERSONAL.—Ned Hughes, purser of the steamer California, plying between Portland and Sitka, made us a domiciliary visit last night and brought us some Victoria papers. Ned, give our compliments to Capt. Charley Thorn when you go back.

PRACTICE RULES.—A meeting of the bar was held at Judge Lewis' office on Saturday, at which a new series of Court rules in Admiralty cases was adopted. They are now being printed at Northrup & Ward's job printing office.

APPOINTMENT.—Alexander Thompson, of Vancouver, will go to West Point as a cadet, if he can pass the requisite nomination. He has received the appointment of Delegate Jacobs to that position.

From the Daily of Thursday.

GOING NORTH.—Two old sailing vessels formerly Pacific Mail steamers, are going up into the Ochotsk sea for codfish next month. One of these is the barkentine Fremont, which came here in 1859 under steam, Capt. Dall in command. The other is the old Constitution, brought here by Moulthrop, of Portland, and afterwards famous in the palmy days of John Scanton. She ran opposition to the Eliza Anderson when that venerable craft was below her teens and Capt. Charles Clancey was carrying home some girl's books from school in Olympia.

THE DAKOTA.—This steamer arrived here yesterday at 1 o'clock with a goodly number of passengers. She left San Francisco on Saturday at 1 P. M., three hours after the Ajax sailed for Portland and overtook her the following day about ten miles to the northward of Cape Mendocino, beating her three hours in twenty-seven. For the last day she had a strong sea but reached Victoria 7 1/2 hours. We have already given her passenger list but she brings freight for M. R. Maddocks, 8 packages; M. McAndrews, 40; Jno. Sullivan, 7; W. A. Jennings, 136; L. Reinig, 3; Chilberg Bros., 14; P. & S. 3; W. M. 16; Wusthoff & Wald, 40; Boyd, Poncin & Young, 5; Jno. Collins, 7 and 1 pkg coin, $2, 200; Jno. Levy, 2; Waddell & Miles, 10; Wiggin & Fox, 3; E. M. Best, 20; L. S. Rowe, 26; T. Wilson, 24; C. L. Mitchell, 1; S. Davis, 4; Levy Bros., 7; Jno. Thorn, 2; W. Munks, 1; W. H. Pumphrey, 3; Taylor Sackman, 4; E. L. Hall, 1; J. J. McPherson, 1; M. K., 4; S. B. Co., 59; D. K. Howard, 1; C. B. Shattuck, 1; Toklas & Singerman, 2; J. G. G., 1; H. P., 1; Smith & Jewell, 1; L. B. Hastings, 2; L. B. Smith & Son, 1; L. H. Mills, 2; D. Higgins, 1; M. A. K. Co., 13; Craig & Marshall, 17; Jno. Strong, 1; C. Adams, 1; R. P. Hilton, 1; W. Williams, 13; J. Frost 1; Bean & McAllister, 1; J. F. & F. Wilson, 1; S. W. H., 16; J. Wingler, 7; R. D. Hilton, 2 horses; Jno. Leary, 1.

PERSONALS.—A host of friends welcomed back Mrs. Yesler and Mrs. Maddocks at the Dakota yesterday. George Harris and Robert Attridge, of Port Ludlow, were in town all day yesterday but will return to-day. R. P. Shoecraft, of Olympia, who has been doing the Empire State, got back by the Dakota yesterday with his two children. L. D. Frank came back on the same vessel and has made all the arrangements for the Steila-coom saw-mill. George B. Hansell, of Port Townsend, is buzzing around like the little busy bee of whom Dr. Watts wrote:

How doth the little busy bee improve each shining minute? And scratch his head till he grows bald Because "there's millions in it."

TWO OLD BOYS.—Capt. George Winsor, of this city, was 87 years old yesterday and celebrated his birthday by playing leapfrog over his little brother, Capt. Chas. F. Winsor, who is about 70. The Tribune says their grandfather lived to be 106 and an uncle 94. It reminds us of what Peter Probity says in the play, "There's my old father, Simon Probity, he's ninety-six years old. If he lives four years more, he'll be a century." Or as Dr. Holmes happily puts it:

"Has any old fellow Got mixed with the boys? If there has, turn him out Without making a noise. Gray hairs at twenty? Yes, white if you please. When the snow-flakes fall thickest There's nothing can freeze."

INSEPARABLE.—The Tribune of last night published the list of consignees by the Dakota, winding up "John Leary and $2,200 in coin." Why is it the name of Leary is never to be disconnected from spondulix? How unhappy he must be. Was it right to say this of him? Why didn't they say "John Leary and two hundred and ten other twenty-dollar pieces"? It would have been so much more soothing to the orphan's feelings.

UTSALVUDY.—Dr. T. C. Mackey, who arrived from Utsaludy last night, informs us that the greatest activity prevails at that point. Steamer Favorite reached there yesterday with a large party of men who will at once proceed to put the mill in order. A new wharf is to be built and a large warehouse for the storage of grain. The Doctor is so much pleased with the prospect that he has removed thither for the practice of his profession.

POISONED.—A cow belonging to a family at Belltown died yesterday from eating wild parsnips. If Mrs. O'Leary's bovine could have found some of these herbs in the "rubarbs" of Chicago, her hopes of immortality would have been nipped in the bud.

THE COURSER.—This fine schooner arrived from San Francisco at an early hour yesterday morning and is lying alongside of Crawford & Harrington's wharf where she is discharging her freight. She will take a load of coal in her hold and a deck-load of lumber as usual.

DID NOT WORK.—Jealousy of the success of the Dakota and Panama led the steamship runners of the Portland line to circulate a rumor that the former vessel was used as a hospital ship for the small-pox patients of the China ships. But it would not work. The agents got a circular from the Health officer which upset this lie, and the consequence was the Dakota got a full load.

DROPPED OUT.—Ship Eldorado dropped out into the stream yesterday morning and anchored to wait either for a fair wind or a tug. Capt. Haydon was telegraphing for the Tacoma all the morning, but that vessel was down the Straits, probably waiting for the ship Shirley which is fully due from San Francisco.

A GOOD ONE.—The Alt's brevity man on the 8th said about as good a thing on our folks as we have lately heard. He writes: "Pugnet Sound broke loose yesterday. There were no less than 11 barks and 1 barkentine arrived during the day. It was, in fact, barking all day long." Vell, dot's all recht. Go ahead mit der moozie!

BIG LOAD.—The Dakota had the largest load of passengers this trip, that she has carried in some time. There were for Victoria 140, Portland 55, Seattle 60 and Port Townsend 11, making a total of 266. People are beginning to find that this part of the world is better than parched up, dried-out Southern California.

CRIMES OF SCIENCE.—And now, when the average Seattle father invites his eldest son to attend church on Sunday morning, the undutiful son (who has a wholesome dread of Rev. Erasmus Snufflegreek's oratorical orations) replies "No, dear father I will remain in my chamber and enjoy the sermon with my telephone and my meerscham."

AGROUND.—From passengers who arrived by the Fanny Lake last night, we learn that the steamer J. B. Libby is aground on the mud flats beyond La Conner. She ran aground there about daylight yesterday morning.

LAUNCH.—The 3-masted schooner Heneane, built by Hall Bros. for C. L. Dingle and others, was to have been launched at high water yesterday. She is of the same style as the Reporter, Conser and Premier.

BUILDING.—Harry Bigelow has commenced the erection of a dwelling house on Madison street near Fourth, which will be 18x30 feet. And why?

DIED.—Capt. James C. Jones, of the bark Caroline Reed, plying between Blakely and San Francisco, died in the latter city on the 8th, aged 37 years.

SMOKERS' ATTENTION.—Jack Levy received the handsomest lot of meerscham pipes by the Dakota, ever brought to Seattle. Go, look at them.

From Daily of Friday

PERSONALS.—We received a call from Charley Kohn, yesterday, formerly of Portland, but now with the big liquor firm of Schultz & Von Borgen, corner of California and Front streets, San Francisco. The boy looks well and is evidently taking good care of himself. He was accompanied by Mr. E. C. Headrick, agent of the Curtis & Pearson Tobacco Company, which has recently inaugurated the business of manufacturing cigars and fine cut tobacco on a large scale. Billy Ballou (the vegetable Joggles, himself) went down to Utsaludy by the Libby yesterday and will make that his stamping ground hereafter.

ANTHRACITE COAL.—We have received a specimen of anthracite coal from a vein recently discovered on the Skagit river about forty-two miles from its mouth. It was brought to us from Utsaludy. A man named Bargion found the vein and brought down two sacks containing 180 pounds which will be shipped to San Francisco by the next trip of the Dakota. If there is any size to the vein, we wouldn't give it for a dozen silver mines.

COMMENDABLE.—Subscriptions for the relief of the family of Forbes, whose death we mentioned a day or two ago, are progressing favorably and have reached above eighty dollars. All those who can give a little trifle to the bereaved and destitute family will do a good act and place their bounty where it will be thankfully received.

IMPOSSIBLE.—The gentleman who wrote the "bundle of errors" for last night's Tribune evidently never heard of two brothers embracing the same profession. He says "the barkentine Fremont did not come here under steam in 1859 at all, nor was she then commanded by Capt. Dall. In 1858 and '59, Dall was running the Columbia and Northern here and no other vessels." The Fremont, which brought up supplies during the San Juan Island controversy, was commanded by Capt. Christopher Dall, who afterwards lost the Continental for Holladay. Neither did he command the Columbia and Northern here as stated by the Tribune. Portland was their ultimate destination. We concur in the statement that "neighbor Tom should be a little less reckless in his paragrappling." No steamship line ever was run here regularly from San Francisco, till the Los Angeles came on the route, two years ago. But then we don't know anything about this country. Prosch knows it all.

UTSALADY SALE.—Samuel D. Howe, assignee in bankruptcy for this estate, was in town yesterday and filed his report of the sale with Judge Lewis. Any objections to this sale must be made to James Seavy, clerk of the Court at Port Townsend before noon on the 20th inst. or it will stand confirmed as made. In his management of the affairs of the concern, Mr. Howe has earned the good-will of all with whom he has come in contact. To the creditors, he has been indeed "the right man in the right place." He was determined that so valuable a piece of property should not be sold for a song, so he bid it up to $30,000 in behalf of the creditors of the concern. It was "dirt cheap" at those figures and will clear itself inside of two years. If half what we hear is true in reference to future business operations at that point the purchasers will have a bonanza in local trade alone, to say nothing of what lumber is exported abroad.

SQUALLY.—After the heavy rains which prevailed on Tuesday and Wednesday nights, the weather cleared off with a cold southeasterly wind that kicked up a fearful bobby in the bay. At Mechanic's Wharf, the barkentine Modoc lay on the south side of the pier so that the wind held her fast to the dock, but if she had been on the other side it would have taken some lines to hold her. The Fanny Lake was to have left for Skagit and Laconner at noon but, owing to the heavy wind, Capt. Hill concluded to remain at the wharf till this morning. The Libby got in early in the morning and also leaves for Laconner and island ports to-day. But the swell was particularly rough on the scows and small craft which were moored in the slips. They bobbed around like corks and parted their lines occasionally but no serious damage was done.

VESSELS SOLD.—H. L. Chapman, of Olympia, has sold the steam scow Capital to a man named Henderson for $2,500. She was built to carry freight from the "West side wharf" to Olympia and is said to be paying property. We also note the sale of the schooner Loleta built here by Capt. Wm. Hammond some years ago. She brought $7,000 and is of 120 tons burthen. We believe it is the intention of the new owners to place her under the Hawaiian flag on her arrival at Honolulu.

REMOVAL.—Hall & Paulson have been very busy in removing their furniture manufactory to their new shop on Mechanic's Square for the last two days. There they will be able to unload lumber from the vessel into their very shop doors and ship the furniture in the same way when it is necessary. We congratulate them on making a change that cannot fail to inure to their benefit.

STEAMER DAKOTA.—This vessel will be here to-day and taken on about 350 tons of coal at the Seattle bunkers. Her departure for Victoria is not yet decided on but will probably be Monday morning. She has to take on at Port Townsend a lot of rigging and iron from the wrecked ship Commodore, now stored ready for shipment, besides some grain from the Swinomish. Perhaps she may have to get an earlier start than Monday for that reason. She will not leave Esquimalt till Tuesday noon, hence any passengers who miss her here can get on board by taking the North Pacific.

MARINE.—Ship Annie Fish was towed from Blakely to Port Townsend yesterday and will ship her crew for Callao at the latter place. She is under command of Captain Howard, who ran the old bark Leonsa to these ports upwards of twenty years ago. Barks Buena Vista and Victor are at Port Gamble, the latter having arrived from the Society Islands on Monday night. The ship Alex McNeil will leave San Francisco for these waters, to load lumber for Chilean ports. The Marmion's charter to Nainaimo has been renewed.

GROWLING DON'T PAY.—If we were to pick up and snap at everything incorrectly stated by contemporaries, we should have no time to eat nor sleep. For instance, the Tribune last night, alluded to "Mr. Wallace who has been foreman of the DISPATCH newspaper office for the past six months." Now, in the first place he was foreman of this office just thirteen weeks, which is just half of six months; and in the second place his name is not Wallace, but Walsh. But when the evening paper says "he is a thorough newspaper man, it is "Kreot."

PROBATE COURT.—Judge Burke has discharged the executors of the estate of John Denny, deceased, who have completed their duty. In the estate of Bendix M. Baker and Geo. W. Hardin, orders of confirmation of sale have been entered.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, March 8.—General Dix, in resigning the chairmanship of the Union Veterans' National Committee, has written a letter in which he says to the administration of President Hayes: "We look for a thorough reformation of the abuses into which the government has fallen; firm resistance to encroachment of those whose province it is under the constitution to advise and consent to appointments to public trusts upon the prerogative of nominations which the same instrument confided exclusively to him, and for imposing restraints upon the unseemly pursuit of office and perversion of official patronages to personal and party purposes; also for a just and impartial policy in regard to all sections and classes; a policy which shall heal the wounds left by past dissensions, and elevate his administration above the plane of party and politics."

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Republican Senators held a caucus this morning at which the report of the committee appointed to revise the standing committees, was submitted and adopted. The minority gets an increased representation, so that instead of three, the Democrats will have four places out of nine on each men-political committee, with perhaps the exception of one or two committees, which are of a quasi political character. The Republicans have provided for Senator Davis of Illinois, by assigning him to the judiciary committee and the committee on a revision of the laws. The Democrat's list is not yet completed and therefore no election of committees will be possible before tomorrow. The Republican members of the finance committee will be Morrill chairman, Ferry, Jones, of Nevada, Allison and Dawes.

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.—The Picayune says: Such as Hayes' principles, whether or not his practice will conform to them the future alone can determine. His first, practical step will be the formation of his cabinet. If popular surmise should prove correct the South has no longer to fear the marplot of Federal interference.

CHICAGO, March 8.—The Journal's Washington special says that the excitement over Blaine's speech has somewhat subsided, and Blaine himself disclaims antagonism to the administration unless the small Republican remnant in the South is to be crushed out.

The published statement that the President denies having authorized the Matthews and Everts letters to Chamberlain increases the confusion in political circles.

It looks now as though all the Cabinet appointments would be confirmed, and hardly a respectable minority will oppose Everts and Schurz.

The Republican Senatorial caucus placed Judge Davis on several committees to-day, as a Republican member. It was stated that Davis considered himself an independent Republican, and would be in the main vote with the Republicans, which fact causes much angry comment among Democrats.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 8.—The Courier-Journal says: "In the conflict which the bloodthirsty Radical leaders have begun against Hayes, because of his Southern policy, the Democrats should give all of their moral support to Hayes so long as he maintains his present ground." Other city papers warmly endorse the appointments.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.—Frederick Douglass will undoubtedly be appointed Marshal of the District of Columbia in a few days.

The President is said to be firm against the tremendous pressure to induce him to abandon his nominations; and his friends say that should the Senate refuse to confirm the nominations, he would notify them that he had no further communication for them, which would be practically proroguing the Senate. He would then have the right to make ad interim appointments, and run his own matters without the consent of the Senate. The Senate now has only a slim Republican majority and Judge Davis, Independent.

LATER.—The Senate has just confirmed Sherman.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The whole body of Republican Senators favor the admission of Kellogg; outside of the carpet-bag Senators there is no hearty approval of Blaine's course. It may be said he charged upon the administration like a wild bull before it did any act in regard to Louisiana and South Carolina, and that he evidently hopes to surround Hayes with Radicals by keeping old issues alive.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—In the private letter of Key, alluded to in these dispatches last night, Mr. Key said to a personal friend: "I am ready to do all I can to restore the confidence of the government to the people of the South. This can only be done by a hearty fraternization of the sections, for which I have labored. If, without requiring of any sacrifice of any personal or political independence, you find that my name can be used for the good of the South in your best judgment, you are at liberty to use it. If I were to become a member of the administration I should not feel at liberty to place myself in opposition to its general policy, but should feel bound to build it up, strengthen it in the hearts of the people, and if the time arrived when I could not heartily co-operate with it, I should resign. If, as I hope and believe, the administration will resolve upon a peaceful and liberal policy toward the people of the South, I would not hesitate to incorporate my fortunes and self with it."

CHICAGO, March 8.—The Inter-Ocean's Washington special says: Blaine has again given voice to the prophesied mutiny in the Republican ranks to-day. What following he will have will appear when the first vote is taken in the Senate. It is known that Cameron of Pennsylvania, Conkling, Anthony, Sargent and Jones stand with him and carry great influence.

Everts' nomination will be under consideration by a committee consisting of Simon Cameron, Morton, Hamlin, Howe, Conkling and three Democrats. All these, except Morton, disapprove of Everts. Sherman's name will go to the committee, but will meet with no opposition, nor will the names of any other except Schurz.

Maj. Bickham, of the Dayton journal, who dined with Hayes to-night, is authority for the statement that Hayes never authorized Matthews and Everts to make a bargain with South Carolina, the Democrats or any other. Some disclaimers is said to have been given other parties.

MEMPHIS, March 8.—Business men here regard Hayes' cabinet a remarkably good one and indicative of prosperity for the whole country.

COLUMBUS, March 8.—The demise of Chief Justice Moses leaves the election of his successor with the new legislature, which will be convened by Hampton.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The following committees were appointed: To examine the several branches of the Civil Service—Chaffee, Chairman; Conkling, Windom, Merriman, and Eaton.

Transportation Routes to the Seaboard—Cameron is chairman; Windom, Conover, Lamar, Burnside, Saunders, Davis of West Virginia, Harris and Beck.

Mr. Thurman called up the resolution to refer the credentials of J. B. Eustis, claiming a seat from Louisiana, to the Committee on Privileges and Elections. Agreed to without a division.

Mr. Grover submitted the following:

Resolved, That the memorials here presented by Hon. J. H. Mitchell, purporting to be signed by 369 citizens of Oregon, reciting that it was currently reported and generally believed that the election of L. F. Grover as a Senator of the United States was procured by bribery, corruption, and other unlawful means, in the Legislature in the State of Oregon, and that said L. F. Grover did corruptly and fraudulently issue a certificate of election to one E. A. Cronin, as Presidential elector on December 6th, 1876, and said L. F. Grover did bear false witness before the committee on Oregon about January 6th, 1877, be now referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, who shall thoroughly investigate and report upon the foregoing charges, with power to send for persons and papers.

Agreed to without division. The Senate then, on motion of Mr.

Sargent, went into Executive session, and, when the doors were opened, adjourned until to-morrow. The executive session of the Senate lasted about twenty minutes. The Cabinet nominations were referred to committees as follows:

That of Schurz to Committee on Finance; Devens to the Judiciary; McCrary to Military Affairs; Thompson to Naval Affairs; Key to Post Offices and Post Roads.

A brief discussion took place upon adjourning until Monday. A motion to that effect, advocated by Cameron and opposed by Sargent and others, was negatived by a vote of 14 against 11. Of the 11 votes, only five or six were Democrats. The indications are that the Democrats generally will vote to confirm the Cabinet; or, at least, will not attempt to break a quorum or impede favorable action.

The Finance, Judiciary, Military and Naval Committees this afternoon authorized their chairmen to report back favorably to the confirmation of Schurz, Devens, McCrary and Thompson to-morrow. The other committees did not meet, but will do so to-morrow morning. As Senators Cameron, Conkling and Morton are members of the committee which has Everts' nomination in charge, and are known to regard it with disfavor, there may be some delay in reporting it. Key's nomination will probably be reported to-morrow.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The Vice President presented to the Senate a communication from Wm. Orton, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company requesting a return of the messages, about 30,000 words, delivered to the chairman of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, some weeks ago, in accordance with the order of the Senate. Laid on the table.

A motion was then made to take up the nomination of David A. Key, as Postmaster General, for immediate action. No objection was introduced, and a vote upon the question of confirming him was then taken by yeas and nays, resulting, yeas 54, nays 2; the negative votes being cast by Democrats.

In the case of Schurz' nomination, there were 44 for confirmation and 2 against.

The vote on Everts' nomination was about the same. Cameron voted for Everts, Schurz and Key, remarking that his vote for Everts was under what he regarded as instructions from his committee on foreign relations, which had instructed him to report favorably. Conkling refrained from voting on his nomination. The nominations of McCrary, to be Secretary of War, Richard W. Thompson, Secretary of the Navy, and Charles Devens, Attorney General, were confirmed without roll call or division.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—At a meeting of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections to-day, the case of W. H. Kellogg, claimant of a seat in the Senate from Louisiana was taken into consideration. The Republicans claimed his credentials were regular, and he should be sworn in, that any investigation as to which of the two rival governments in Louisiana is legal, should be deferred until Kellogg has taken his seat. The Democrats hold that while the credentials appear regular they may not be so in fact, as the committee have indicated, a knowledge that there are two rival governments in Louisiana and therefore there should be an investigation before any person is sworn in. The Senate adjourned until Monday when the case again comes up and action will be taken on the reports.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Objections to the probate of the will of the late Commodore Vanderbilt were filed in the office of the Surrogate to-day. They are seventeen in number, and deny that it is the Commodore's will, or that it was signed and executed by him.

The immediate effect on gold of the announcement of the confirmation of the Cabinet was a falling off of one-eighth of one per cent.

The compositors on the Graphic having refused to reduce their rates the proprietors this morning filled the office with non-society men, paying 35 cents per 1000 ems. Forty cents was the old rate.

The Herald's Columbus dispatch says, regarding the Senatorship: "A personal poll of the caucus by the correspondent produced the following result: There were 65 members present. Of this number 21 favored Garfield, 13 Matthews, 15 ex Gov. Shellabarger, 2 Lawrence, and the other two refused to make public their preference."

The Sun's Washington special says that Grant, it is understood, has accepted the presidency of the First National Bank of this city and will enter upon his duties immediately.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Reports received from agent Chamberlain, who has been pursuing illicit distillers in Georgia, give the particulars of the arrest of the noted guerrilla, Harrison Barker, also the arrest of 64 distillers and the destruction of two distilleries and 30,000 gallons of beer and mash.

Several persons interested in river and harbor improvements called on the President and received assurances that appropriations heretofore withheld would probably be allowed to be used when the new Secretary of War assumes the duties of his office.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The Pacific coast Senators have been handsomely provided with places on the Senate committees constituted to-day. Sargent is made chairman of the Committee on Naval Affairs and is retained on the Appropriation Committee; being now second on its list of members. He is also placed on the Printing Committee. On account of the increase of work involved in these positions he retires from the Mining Committee. Booth still remains chairman of the Public Lands Committee, is made chairman of the Committee on Manufactures, and given an additional place as a member of the Civil Service and Retrenchment. Jones retains his place on the Finance and Postal Committees, and also his chairmanship of the Contingent Expenses, and remains on the Privileges and Elections and Claims Committees. Grover is assigned to Territories and Enrolled Bills; Sharon is made chairman of the Mining Committee and given a place on the Committee on Education and Labor.

The treasury will this afternoon issue the 42d call for the redemption of ten millions of bonds for the syndicate.

The President will send other nominations to the Senate on Tuesday. Among them probably be the names of Asa A. Aldis of J. B. Howell of Iowa and Orange Ferris of New York, to be Southern claims commissioners.

BOSTON, March 10.—The directors of the U. P. R. R. report for year ending December 31st last as follows: Gross earnings, exclusive of Omaha bridge, $12,886,858; operating expenses, including taxes, $5,268,211; surplus earnings, $7,518,647. During the past year the company has paid interest on its funded debt and its regular quarterly dividends, and during the same time has increased its funded debt $451,000, and increased its floating assets $33,373. As compared with 1875, there was an increase of surplus of net earnings to the amount of $606,853; passenger earnings increased $64,841; freights increased $662,611. The road was never in better condition than now. The report speaks favorably of the increase of mining and coal business along the line of the road. The company sold during the year 125,905 acres of its land, at an average of $2 93 1/2 per acre, leaving 10,758,145 acres still in its possession. It recommends something be given toward building a line of road in the direction of the Black Hills. This trade is increasing, and bids fair to be large. There should be one hundred miles of road put in operation this year.

PACIFIC COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9th.—The race at Sacramento to-day between Occident and Bodine disappointed those who expected fast time. The track was in good condition, and about 3,000 people were in attendance. Bodine was the favorite about two to one. Occident drew the pole. At about 2:20 P. M. they got off on the third score. Occident broke at the first turn, falling behind fully 100 yards, but closed up half of the distance at the first mark, where he broke again, but recovered quickly. On the home-stretch, Occident closed up splendidly but just reaching the score Bodine shot ahead by a neck in 2:24. A good start was had in the second heat. Bodine led by a length to the quarter pole, time 36 1/2; and made the half in 1:10. On the turn Occident went on Bodine's wheel to the three-quarter post. Occident then pulled alongside, but as before, when near the score Bodine passed ahead and won by a length—time 2:23 1/2. The third heat was a repetition of the second, Bodine winning in 2:25 1/2.
