FOR SALE.

TEN TONS OF UN-BALD HAY, for sale to J. T. McNATT.

Puget Sound Dispatch.

Seattle, W. T., May 17, 1875. BERIAH BROWN, EDITOR.

DISSOLUTION.—The co-partnership heretofore existing under the firm name of Brown & Bell, has been dissolved by mutual consent.

Austin A. Bell, our late partner, was born upon that portion of the town plat of Seattle now called Belltown, and with the exception of a few years of his childhood, spent in California, has resided all his life here.

We have purchased the large power press upon which the Olympia Courier is now printed, which is to be delivered here on or before the first day of June, and ordered additional material from San Francisco, upon the arrival of which we propose to enlarge the Daily Dispatch to six columns to a page and the Weekly to 48 columns, quarto form, and apply to the paper such additional editorial force as will make it every way worthy of the growing importance of our city.

A DIRTY LIE.—The Prosch family made the occasion of our dissolution of partnership with Austin A. Bell the subject for the invention and publication of a malicious lie, without the least foundation in fact whatever.

This malicious coward represents Mr. Bell as an "unsophisticated young man," who became "an easy victim to the cupidity and dishonesty of Beriah Brown, who took him in" in a way he will never forget and which he will probably be long years in getting over, and further represents him as an object of "the sympathy of the local population."

PHYSICIAN TO THE INSANE ASYLUM.—The Trustees of the Territorial Insane Asylum have tendered the appointment of Physician to Dr. F. W. Sparling, now of this city.

WHO'S THE FATHER.—In a recent book on Mormonism, the authoress relates as a fact, that some of the "spiritual wives" in that detestable community confessed to her that they did not know who were the fathers of some of their children.

the same principle as several other institutions on the same street, whose services are at the beck of all cash customers, must necessarily, as a consequence of such mercenary illicit intercourse, find itself frequently in the same state of ignorance. Its last issue is a ranting of that kind, which bears no seeming of either of its assumed fathers—the young man who has the sniffles and who has not yet learned the use of a pocket handkerchief, or the old man who travels on his department, carries his brains enclosed in the waistband of his trousers, his conscience in his breeches pocket—generally empty—and has been played out by promiscuous service.

It says of Judge Jacobs: "He became autocratic and dictatorial, and in the outset, by the appointment of Brown and son to offices to which others had far more right, he probably settled the matter of his defeat in the next Republican Territorial Convention; and if not there almost certainly his defeat at the polls." Judge Jacobs had no control or direction in the appointments alluded to.

Again: "In selecting the Dispatch as his organ, and Mr. Brown as one of his chief advisers, Judge Jacobs exhibited exceedingly bad judgment, and he will regret it bitterly ere many months have passed." Judge Jacobs never selected "the Dispatch as his organ," or "Mr. Brown as one of his chief advisers."

PHYSICIAN TO THE INSANE ASYLUM.—The Trustees of the Territorial Insane Asylum have tendered the appointment of Physician to Dr. F. W. Sparling, now of this city.

pitals, which will be a great point in this new position. We do not know if he has made the treatment of insanity a speciality, but he must necessarily have had considerable experience in that line in his large and varied practice.

A BEAUTIFUL HOME.—Our worthy Mayor, Mr. Bailey Gatzert, and his estimable wife, after spending a year and a half at the capitals and fashionable resorts of Europe, on returning home found their cottage and grounds, though as pretty and commodious as any around them, not nearly up to the style to which they had been in the meantime habituating themselves, and altogether inadequate to the demands of hospitality to which they are both inclined. They at once set to work to enlarge and improve their home, and by a liberal expenditure of money and the exercise of refined taste and judgment, have succeeded in producing, not a palatial or pretensions mansion, but one of the most elegant, comfortable, and cozy houses in this far off neck of woods, embracing all the modern improvements and conveniences of the most costly residences in the older settlements; ample cellars, family and guest chambers, supplied with hot and cold water, with bathing rooms attached, and all the rooms lighted by gas.

We do not propose to give a detailed description of the house and grounds, but merely make this brief mention, not only as a tribute to the taste and liberality of Mr. and Mrs. Gatzert, but to incite a spirit of emulation in others and advertise our friends abroad that the people of this country are not utterly barbarous in their style of living.

OREGON POLITICS.—The late political Convention in Oregon has done much to elevate the standard of "Oregon Politics," which heretofore has notoriously occupied a very low grade—the distinction between the two opposing parties being, that one was controlled by the "Holiday ring," devoted entirely to personal interests, and the other by the "Salem ring," which was much more selfish and less public spirited than the former.

Telegraphic

LONDON, May 15.—Vienna dispatches say disturbances are feared in Syria, where the excitement is daily increasing. Two English men-of-war cruised at Jaffa, three at Beirut and one English and one French man-of-war at Latakia.

San Francisco, May 13.—As the steamer City of Panama, which arrived last night, entered her berth at the mail dock she ran into the Austrian steamer Balandria, damaging her so that one of her water tight compartments filled with water and her stern sank in the mud. She will be raised and repaired in a few days.

St. Louis, May 15.—Moody & Saukey held two meetings at the rink yesterday, and will hold another to-night. Great crowds were present, and much interest, as well as curiosity, was manifested.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 15.—The National Independent Convention convenes in this city next Wednesday for the nomination of a national ticket. The names of Judge Davis, B. F. Butler, ex-Treasurer Spinner and Senator Booth, of California, are prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination for President. Representatives will be present from nearly every State in the Union.

New York, May 15.—Some of the delegates to the Inflation Convention say the Convention at Indianapolis will probably nominate General Butler for President and George W. Julian for Vice President.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 15.—The Democratic State Convention meets here Wednesday morning. The feeling is strongly against any instructions on the Presidency, but there are strong Hendricks indications among all now here.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The World's Washington dispatch from London today says there is every reason to believe that the extradition article will be saved, and Winslow will be delivered up. It avers that it does not appear that Fish's position, so ably maintained, has been heretofore fully understood in England.

MONTEAL, May 15.—The water here is still rising. The shipping interests are very much injured. A large number of temporary wharves have been carried away, and ferry boats cannot make regular trips, owing to the difficulty in finding a suitable place of landing, and cariers now decline to transfer passengers to and from vessels, owing to several accidents having occurred by driving into deep water.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The House passed the bill under a suspension of the rules allowing Mrs. Fitch to receive her diamonds free of duty. The Senate, sitting in secret session today as a court of impeachment, arrived at no vote as to the jurisdiction, though it is thought a vote will be reached to-morrow.

LONDON, May 15.—In the House of Commons this evening the under secretary for the colonies, stated it was the intention to bombard towns on the coast of Dahomey and a blockade will be commenced July 1st.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 11.—It is officially stated that the Bulgarian disturbances are expected to cease shortly.

ATHENS, May 15.—The Turks are reinforcing their positions on the Greek frontier. Greece will take similar action in that quarter. It is alleged that foreign emissaries are endeavoring to induce the Christians on the frontier to revolt. Great agitation prevails in Crete.

PORTLAND, Oreg., May 15.—Legal Tenders in Portland buying 83; selling at 90.

LONDON, May 15.—The House of Commons last night debated on Ireland's resolution, but the House regrets that the progressive increase of expenditures commenced by the government, should lead to an increase of income tax. Gathered Hardy defended the increase of the army estimates.

Additional London correspondence says: That late ministerial changes at Constantinople, have been caused by a demonstration of 5,000 Muslemian, who sent a deputation to the Sultan requesting the removal of the Grand Vizier who was removed on this demand. Large crowds assembled at the installation of the new vizier, which so alarmed the Christians that they asked for protection from the foreign ambassadors. The new vizier, however, has pledged himself to maintain order. Calumness now prevails at Constantinople.

New York, May 12.—The World's Philadelphia special speaking of the first day's receipts says: They have fallen below the estimate made last night. From the returns of a few of the turnstiles, the actual amount of money received was nothing compared with expenses. Over 80,000 paying visitors were admitted, bringing the receipts a little beyond $40,000. The number present must have reached 225,000. The most encouraging feature of the exhibition, yesterday, was the returns of the turnstiles in the evening, which showed 60,000 paying visitors or receipts of about $30,000 dollars.

The Times' Philadelphia correspondent this morning, had several conversations with the French, German and Spanish exhibitors and was everywhere assured that the opening was a decided success.

The World says: Offenbach conducts the music with a very business like air and handles his forces with all the ease of a veteran drill sergeant. He was royally saluted by the sovereign people upon each and every appearance. It is stated that about 80,000 persons composed the audience of of whom nearly one-half were ladies.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 12.—Gen. A. Benedict, one of the most prominent editors of the west, died this morning after a long illness.

WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., May 12.—All the lowlands and meadows north of here to Barnet, are under water. Wrecks of buildings, wood, hay &c, are constantly passing down. The toll-bridge at Petrusant was swept away. The depot at Bradford is surrounded by water, and several buildings near by, are flooded. Several miles of the C. & P. R. R., are three feet under water.

LANCASTER, N. H., May 12.—The water in the Connecticut river is rising at the rate of an inch an hour. It is now higher than it has been for twenty-five years. The entire valley of the Connecticut River is one broad sheet of water from Northumberland to Dalton.

New York, May 12.—The paying visitors to the Centennial opening on Wednesday, numbered 76,133. A few days more promises to complete all departments. Iowa shows among the exhibits in Agricultural Hall, specimens of soils from 30 counties, in glass tubes six feet long, showing the depth of loam. Oregon's exhibit is rich in wheat, oats, woods and dried fruits. Washington Territory shows the tallest wheat and oats exhibited. California's prodigies of exact excite general wonder.

New York, May 13.—The executive committee of the New York Liberal Republicans, last night, passed a resolution that inasmuch as no Liberal organization is known to exist in any state except New York, they fail to recognize the organized existence of the Liberal Republicans, whom in their national capacity, recently issued a call for a national convention of the party they claim to represent. They there advise the Liberals of New York to advise the action of the conventions at Cincinnati and St. Louis, with a view of supporting the least objectionable candidate thereby nominated.

At a meeting of the Union League Club last night the following resolutions were adopted: That the Republican party must be faithful and leave no grounds for doubt; that it intends to be truthful to the three great and paramount principles to which it has long been publicly pledged, and for which it has done more than any Ohio party. First, that all citizens shall be equal before the laws and shall be protected by the laws. Second, that specie payment and gold as a standard of value, shall be speedily restored. Third, that the Civil Service shall be reformed on these points at least, and that both resolutions and nominees of the approaching Republican National Convention, should be such as to leave no ground either for doubt or for distrust.

Late dispatches from Athens say: A vessel which arrived there from Salonica, brings news that the American consul was not in Salonica at the time of the murder. The Christians took his carriage which chance to be at the railroad station, put the girl in it and drove her to the consulate. Provisional council and the mob met in the Mosque. The governor was present when the consuls were murdered. He merely protested and treated the matter lightly. The Turkish forces past the corpses and spat upon them. The body of the French consul had thirty-four wounds. It is reported that the bodies of the murdered consuls remain unburied at Constantinople. The excitement is so great that it would be dangerous to attempt a general anti-reformers arrived. A general panic prevails among the lower classes of Mohammedans, who are purchasing daggers and revolvers with money supplied by those hoping for the massacre and plunder of Christians. Travelers are leaving en masse; European residents are moving away their families; Salonica has been blockaded; none of the inhabitants are allowed to leave town until the enquiry into the outrage has terminated. Fresh disturbances are still feared. Two French war vessels and two frigates, arrived at Piræan on the way to Salonica.

when the committee can be got together. Victoria, May 13.—House Committee of the Whole, yesterday, considering amendment to the License Bill, after a third reading, proposed, Any person following occupations of commercial trade or the drama shall pay two hundred and fifty dollars in advance per annum; every person who trades or sells goods in British Columbia, one hundred and fifty dollars in advance every year; every person engaged in hawking any goods in any part of British Columbia, not being farmers' produce or produce of home goods, one hundred dollars in advance every year—these sums in addition to all that may be imposed and collected by municipalities. Estimates for 1876 laid before the House last night anticipate a revenue of $283,300—an increase of $35,000 over 1875. Expenditures are placed $45,000 lower than last year. It is expected that $87,000 will be raised from road tolls, school, real estate, personal property and income taxes imposed now for the first time. In addition to regular funds, it is proposed to raise $35,000 by loan. Consideration of estimates comes up next.

The steamer Grappler, from Fort Wrangel, arrived this morning. She reports Stickeen river still frozen. Two Stickeen Indians were arrested at Wrangel on the 20th April for distilling and selling whiskey, and for resistance to the authorities making search. One of them, Shegano, a chief of some prominence, committed suicide on the 27th by strangling himself in his cell. The remainder of the tribe became greatly excited over his death, and threatened to kill some one in retaliation. They were promptly informed by Capt. Jocelyn that such act of violence would result in the immediate bombardment and burning of their village, upon which quiet was soon restored.

LONDON, May 12.—In the House of Commons last night the Liberals beat the Government by a decided majority on an important Irish question. Great cheering from the Liberals nominated. The vote however, will not overturn the Government.

LONDON, May 13.—The Yers says the Government has decided to entertain favorably the request for amnesty to Irish Fenian prisoners, and an announcement to that effect will be made on Monday.

Mr. Smyth's motion in favor of closing the public houses in Ireland throughout Sunday, which passed the House of Commons last night, was an abstract resolution declaring that in the opinion of the House it is expedient that the law forbidding the general sale of intoxicating liquors during a portion of Sunday in Ireland should be amended so as to apply to the whole of that day. The Times says the question practically raised was whether on a matter which particularly offended their own consciences the opinion of a vast majority of the representatives of Ireland should be overruled. The Irish people may fairly be said to be unanimous in favor of Sunday closing, and an earnest has been given of fair treatment of the Irish local feeling, which may be trusted to bear good fruit, and it is only astonishing that the Government should have ever exposed itself to defeat by throwing away so admirable an opportunity for conciliation.

Oxford has finally decided to send a crew to America.

BERLIN, May 13.—It is stated that the three Chancellors yesterday at their conference decided to abstain, at least for the present, from any military intervention in the Turkish troubles, and that Count Andrassy expressed great satisfaction at this decision.

VICTORIA, May 16.—Yesterday in the House, a resolution was passed requesting the Governor to ask the Dominion Government to enquire into the manner in which the mail contract between Victoria and San Francisco is performed by the Pacific Mail Company. Some dissatisfaction is expressed on account of the steamer stopping at Esquimalt instead of coming to Victoria. That on the last trip, the departure of steamer City of Panama was postponed under false pretenses, and that they go to the Sound instead of remaining here forty-eight hours.

Most of the time of the House was occupied yesterday in discussion of estimates.

The committee appointed to ascertain and report the value of land in possession of Messrs. Toling and Finlayson, required for dry dock purposes, made their award of twenty-five hundred dollars per acre and ten per ce

The Manchester Guardian's London correspondent says: The petition of the members of Parliament for the release of the Fenian prisoners, will be presented to Disraeli Wednesday. It is generally expected among the Irish members, that although the government will not consent to a full amnesty, it will do something towards meeting the petitioner's prayer. Some reports profess to trace their belief to intimidation of ministers, but as the story was current before the division of the House of Commons, on Sir James motion of censure in regard to the Royal Title Proclamation, where the votes of the Irish members were needed, the report may have been set afoot for the purpose which has already been accomplished, and may therefore prove untrue and unworthy of belief.

CINCINNATI, May 16.—The Democratic State Convention will be held here to-morrow. The indications are that the attendance will be large. John G. Thompson claims the convention for Thurman, and the platform of last year will not be adopted, but that the present platform will not declare for the repeal of the resumption act, thus making it for hard money. Gov. Allen's friends are strong in the belief that he will carry the Convention. The result of the primaries here yesterday indicate 19 for Allen and 17 for Thurman, and two doubtful.

CHICAGO, May 16.—The Tribune's Sioux City special says letters received here this morning from reliable parties, dated Black Hills, April 26, bring most discouraging accounts of affairs in that country. The Indians are becoming very troublesome, frequently killing men at their own doors, stealing horses and committing other depredations. These letters say the stories of gold being there in paying quantities are lies. Provisions are scarce and high, and a great many men are on the verge of starvation. Miners are leaving as fast as they arrived a month ago.

New York, May 16.—Gold closed at 123½@124.

HALEFORD, May 16.—Hon. W. H. Borum was to-day elected U. S. Senator in both houses.

ENCOURAGING NEWS FOR INEBRIATES.—Over one-half of the confirmed drunkards who take refuge in the asylum at Binghamton are permanently cured of their morbid appetite. The official statistics on the subject, which have been published, cover seven years, and a very large number of cases. This is encouraging news for the slaves of drunkenness. Many of those slaves are utterly destitute of hope, and look upon themselves as doomed. They feel that their desires are unquenchable, and that their power of resistance is entirely gone, and that forcible restraint would destroy their reason. But yet it appears that even though their drunken habit has become chronic, and has gone to the furthest limit, they have an even chance of getting over it, and re-entering the paths of sobriety. There is not a drunkard who needs to feel himself lost if he has a desire to be saved.—New York Sun.

Some young ladies of Whitmore, Laka, Mich., undertook to get up a donation for the Rev. T. E. Pierce, by retailing kisses, and succeeded in disposing of ninety, for which the aggregate receipts were $4 50. A five-cent kiss can't be of much better quality than a five-cent cigar.

PRYER had on exhibition, in the window of his confectionary store, to-day, a quantity of ripe wild strawberries, the first of the season.

FROM DAILY OF SATURDAY.

UNDER the heading of "Kleptomaniac," the Tribune yesterday made some statements that are calculated to mislead. The article in question is to the effect that a gentleman, who suspected a woman employed in the family, of robbing him, had her premises searched and there found some six or eight hundred dollars worth of goods, and she was subsequently prosecuted on the charge of petit larceny, and fined $40 and costs. The facts of the case were that the total amount of goods found in the woman's possession did not exceed $30, although the amount missing from the gentleman's house was largely in excess of this. It would certainly have been rather a curious case if a woman found guilty of stealing six or eight hundred dollars worth of goods should be convicted of petit larceny.

BRITISH COLUMBIA ITEMS.—Yesterday afternoon, just as the House had commenced its sitting, a stranger, lately from Thompson River, was observed to be seated at Mr. Vowell's desk. He was approached by the sergeant-at-arms, to whom he stated that he wished to address Mr. Speaker relative to a claim which he had against the United States Government. He wanted the people to arm and assist him to gain his rights. The sergeant-at-arms prevailed him to upon withdraw, and handed him over to officer Lindsay, by whom he was lodged in gaol. The unfortunate man, who is said to be quite demented, only arrived from the upper country a few days ago. As the steamer North Pacific proceeded up the harbor yesterday to turn, as usual, a Siwash in a canoe got across her bows just as she came abreast of the ferry. The steamer's paddles were stopped, but it was too late. The Indian seemed frightened, and the Pacific struck the canoe stem on and it was, of course, utterly smashed; but the Indian rose from the water, and clutching a piece of the wreck, floated very quietly until picked up by the ferry boat, which carried him back to the other side of the harbor, none the worse for his ducking. On the 9th inst., a man named William Thompson, while engaged in burrowing out sawdust from beneath the circular saw at the new lumber mills at Baynes Sound, was struck by the saw on the head, and probably fatally injured. The skull was badly fractured, and he was sent down to Nainaimo in a canoe for treatment. Victoria is constituted a port from which goods subject to excise shall be exported in bond.

BERIAH BROWN, EDITOR

"RECORD OF GEN. R. H. MILROY."

Anonymous writer communicates to the Tribune what purports to be a "Record of Gen. R. H. Milroy," bearing unmistakable internal evidence of having been furnished by himself from his own personal journal. And this is followed by a column of comments addressed to us personally in answer to the remarks which we deemed it proper to make in vindication of Judge Jacobs in relation to Milroy's appointment, in which we are accused of misrepresenting the popular sentiment of this section in that regard. We cannot see the pertinency of quoting Gen. Milroy's military record to illustrate his fitness for civil office. Gen. Pelknep's military record was much more distinguished, and Gen. Babcock's quite as good as his. We have no disposition to detract from either. Nor do we entertain an unkind sentiment towards Gen. Milroy, personally, and should not probably have made a comment of any kind upon his recent appointment, had we not heard it attributed, from many sources, either to the active influence or neglect of Judge Jacobs which we characterized as "unmerited censure."

It is no reflection upon the military record or moral character of Gen. Milroy, to say that he is not personally popular. It is a significant fact that his biographer mentions but a single instance of his having held office by popular election, and that was as Delegate to a Convention to amend the Constitution of the State of Indiana. Being manifestly an office-seeker, it is evident that the people where he was born and among whom he has lived for more than fifty years, failed to appreciate those splendid qualifications for civil service which his biographer attributes to him; nor is it strange that the cosmopolitan people upon whom he was forced as a carpet-bag office-holder, without their previous knowledge or consent, should fail to award to him at once a higher measure of esteem than was ever accorded to him by his own immediate neighbors and friends.

Like Gen. Howard, Gen. Milroy affects extreme piety; confines his social relations almost exclusively to his Church and temperance organizations, and makes violent aggressive war upon every form of amusement connected with the use of cards, spirituous, vinous or malt liquors; is an earnest advocate of restraining laws, and a volunteer prosecuting witness against those who offend against his moral sentiments. In all this, he is undoubtedly conscientious, as all honest fanatics are, but he makes no allowance for the differences between an old settled and a new unsettled state of society and would enforce public and private morality by pains and penalties, instead of by moral suasion. We never questioned this man's honesty, any more than we do that of his prototype, Gen. Howard. But we regard him as one that earnest and honest class of men of narrow views, from which bigots and fanatics are drawn. When the Commissioners of the Confederate and Federal Governments for the exchange of prisoners found Gen. Milroy's baggage to consist chiefly of articles of female apparel, captured from defenseless homes, the Confederate Commissioner insisted, and the Federal Commissioner declined, to receive it as private property belonging to General Milroy. Now, we do not believe Gen. Milroy was a thief, but that he conscientiously regarded it as a patriotic duty to "despoil the Egyptians."

When Gen. Milroy lent his official signature to a foul slander against H. A. Webster, we did not regard it as an amaleicious act, but as an evidence of dense stupidity, in which he was made the instrument of more cunning rascals. When, with his office of Superintendent of Indian Affairs, he brought with him a host of family dependents to fill all the minor offices, who reflected no credit upon the Government service, we charitably supposed he honestly believed he was coming among heathen and that all the intelligent support he would have, he must bring with him from the "white settlements." When Supervisor Kemble found such irregularities in the management of his office as to demand his immediate removal, we believed with a majority of those who knew anything of the matter, that Milroy himself was innocent of any criminal design, but that he was the unwitting instrument of the villainy of those he trusted.

Nor are we an assailant of Gen. Milroy. We do not doubt his honest intention. But we do believe if there is a stupid, bigoted, fanatical old ass in this Territory, he is the man; and we have no doubt his nomination gives special satisfaction to all of his own ilk, and particularly to those politicians who under the cloak of patriotism and religion combined, have proved to be the worst official thieves a thieving era has produced. We do not know whether we met, to converse with, any member of Gen. Milroy's religious denomination, or any party temperance man at Olympia during our late brief sojourn there; but we do know that certainly not less than twenty active Republicans with whom we did meet and converse either bitterly denounced or seriously deprecated his appointment, and we have not yet heard a single man approve it in private conversation.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.—The Centennial Exposition was formally opened to-day according to the previously arranged programme. All the prominent buildings in the city were gayly decorated, and a general holiday has been observed. The President and Cabinet; Senators, Congressmen, Governors of States, and prominent persons from all parts of the country and foreign nations are present. The city is filled to overflowing, and an immense concourse of people are assembled at the grounds. The exercises commenced with the following hymns by John Greenleaf Whittier:

Our fathers' God, from out whose hand The centuries fall like grains of sand, We meet to-day united free, And loyal to our land and Thee, To thank Thee for the era done, And trust Thee for the opening one. Here, where of old, by Thy design, The fathers spoke that word of Thine, Whose echo is the glad refrain Of reborn bold and falling chain, To grace our festal time from all The scenes of earth our guests we call. Thee with us while the New World greets, The old World thronging its streets, Unvail all the triumphs won By art or toil beneath the Sun, And unto common good ordain This rivalry of hand and brain. Then, who hast here in concord turled The war plumes of a gathered world, Beneath our western skies fullal, And once in some divine, we would And freighted with love's golden fleece Send back the argonauts of peace. For art and labor met in truce, For beauty make the bride of use, We thank Thee while withal we crave The austere virtues strong to save, The honor proof to place or gold, The manhood never bought nor sold. O, make then as through centuries long In peace secure, in justice strong, Around our gifts of freedom draw The safeguards of Thy righteous law; And once in some divine, we would Let the new eyes shine the old.

The opening speech was made by John Welch, Esq., President of Centennial Board of finance. To-day being a legal holiday in this State, all places of business in the city are closed and beating is displayed in profusion in all the thoroughfares, and to-night there will be a grand illumination. The gates of the exhibition were promptly opened at 9 o'clock a. m., and since that hour there have been at all the different entrances, a continuous jam. The clouds, which had up to 7 o'clock a. m. been very threatening, have now entirely disappeared and indications are that the day will be extremely hot. Foreign commissioners and other distinguished visitors and guests are being ingested with very little confusion, their entrance being effected through the main Exhibition Hall, which will remain closed until noon.

The ceremonies opened at precisely 10 o'clock a. m. the national airs of all nations being performed by the large orchestra. It is estimated that 50,000 people are on the grounds and the populace are still pressing at all the various entrances. Every available spot in the neighborhood of the grand stand, in front of Memorial Hall, is occupied by crowds, who are now impatiently awaiting the arrival of the President of the United States who has been escorted to the main entrance by the military.

11:30 a. m. The inauguration ceremonies are now full under way. At 10:30 a. m. Dom Pedro arrived and was escorted to his seat by Gen. Hawley. At 11:45 a. m. Gen. Sheridan and wife passed over from the building to the stand in front of Memorial Hall, during the rendition of the national airs and was greeted with great applause which he graciously acknowledged. He was closely followed by Hon. J. G. Blaine, Senator Jones of Nevada and wife. At 11:55 the President entered the Memorial Hall and was conducted to his seat in front of the Platform. Considerable amusement was caused by the sudden appearance of Fred Douglass, who had by some mishap, worked his way through the crowd and was helped over the ropes by the officers and conducted to a seat on the platform. He was greeted with cheers. The orchestra of one hundred and fifty pieces and a chorus of one thousand voices under the direction of Theodore Thomas and Dudley Buck, are stationed directly in front of the platform. The orchestra, while the seats were being filled, played the national airs and after the party on the platform had arranged themselves, the orchestra played Wagner's Centennial March, which was received with applause. After the opening prayer by Bishop Simpson, of the M. E. Church, and singing of Whittier's Centennial Hymns, the presentation of the buildings took place by the board of finance with appropriate speeches and ceremonials turning over the buildings to the commission. Next followed the singing of Sydney Laeis cantata by the full chorus, accompanied by the orchestra. The applause of the vast crowd was enthusiastic, and portions of the music was encored, especially the basso solo sung by Mr. Whitney of Boston. The presentation of the exhibition to the President of the United States by President Hawley of the U. S. Commission, now followed, Hawley making an elaborate and heartily applauded speech. When President Grant rose to reply, he was greeted with enthusiastic and long continued applause followed by three cheers. So great was the confusion in the crowds, however, and so low the tone, the speech was heard but a few yards away. The close of the President's brief address was followed by raising the flag on the main building, the signal that the exhibition was open. Salutes were fired, bells commenced ringing, the chorus began to sing the Hallelujah chorus, the chimes commenced to ring various airs and the President and the invited guests, amid cries from the crowd, began the procession through the main building and halls. The procession headed by the President, passed through the main exhibition building to Machinery Hall, where the President assisted by Dom Pedro, at 12 m., put in motion the great engine; thus starting all the machinery in the building. This closed the formal ceremonies of to-day. The military are now marching through the grounds, and all the buildings are open. The visitors generally appeared satisfied with the exhibition. The Emperor of Brazil escorted by Mrs. Gillispi, visited the woman's pavilion this afternoon. Dom Pedro also visited the pavilion and gave emphatic approval of the work there displayed by American women.

10 p. m. It is officially estimated that one hundred and ten thousand people entered the Centennial grounds to-day. Dispatches from various places throughout the country, show that the day was observed as a Centennial Holiday.

Philadelphia was grandly illuminated to-night. Great crowds of people rendered the streets nearly impassable. President Grant was serenaded to-night.

VICTORIA, May 10.—Yesterday the House again went into Committee of Whole on Chinese question, resolution introduced few days ago proposing tax of $25 per head on Chinamen was declared out of order and the following substituted and passed by Committee without debate. That, in the opinion of this Committee it is expedient for the Government to take some steps as early as possible to prevent this Provision being over run with a Chinese population to the injury of the settled population of the country.

The Steamer Sir James Douglas sails to-morrow morning with a survey party on board, for the purpose of completing the location of the Railway line from Butte Inlet to Chilcote.

The steamer City of Panama which should have sailed to-day for San Francisco has been detained until to-morrow owing, it is said, to some trouble in her machinery.

PARIS, May 10.—Henry Rochefort's Journal has been again prosecuted for publishing a letter upon a person deprived of civil and political rights.

LONDON, May 11.—Special dispatches from Odessa represent that the Salonica outrage was premeditated; all the consuls except the British had warned the governor and the Porte that a massacre was intended. A feeling of insecurity prevails among the Christians and Europeans in Turkey. The plot was discovered in Constantinople last week, of which Duvovh Pasha, the minister of War was the head. He persuaded the Sultan that an attack on the Sultan's palace was premeditated. The governor of Rodosto had also armed the Mohammedan population of that place but received orders to disarm them. On receipt of the news of the Salonica outrage, the insurrection in Bulgaria gained ground.

A Paris correspondent says: The interchange of views at Berlin on Salonica affairs, resulted in a collective demand on the part of the European powers for the execution of the murderers, the indemnification of the families of the victims, a solemn salute to the French and German flags by the Turkish authorities, and guarantees against similar massacres.

LONDON, May 11.—This morning the Post says that 18 members of Parliament have already signed a memorial asking for the release of Fenian prisoners.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 10.—Fifty persons who took part in the riot at Salonica have been arrested.

The President of the Cambridge University Boat Club has officially declined the invitation of the United Association of American Colleges to participate in the Centennial Regatta, in consequence of their inability to organize a representative crew.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The Journal this morning is almost wholly given up to accounts of scenes, &c., at the opening of the Centennial yesterday.

The general opinion is that the opening day was a success, arguing well for the exhibition. Herr Wagner's Centennial March has taken greatly with the people who have heard it although some critics think it is not equal to the famous Kaiser March or the Huldigen's. Some disappointment has been expressed that the illustrious composer had incorporated no well-known American air in the March, but it now comes out that Yankee Doodle comprised the entire latter part of the March.

The Sun says "Grant read his speech and his reading was in an earnest and captivating manner, and to cap all a man fell in a fit during the reading, and in the confusion nobody could hear. Out of doors much of the walking had to be done in the mud, many of the frames had not been removed, and on every hand there was a lack of completeness, the restaurants, too, were inadequate, and everything was eaten before a fourth of the people's demands had been supplied. There is strong probability that the exhibition will open on Sundays. The soldiers are a mere caricature and only fit to serve in a burlesque. Wagner's March was a dead failure."

NEW YORK, May 11.—Much comment is excited in democratic circles, by an editorial in the Evening Express, against Tilden's nomination for President. It urges that the wise counsel should prevail rather than personal ambition or party cliques should rule. New York has no claim for the nomination this year, and her relations toward other states should prevent any being presented. It denies Tilden's claims as the sole reformer. The article has special significance, because of the recent connection of John Kelley and Augustus Schell, with its proprietorship.

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—Over one hundred railway and steamship companies have agreed to convey delegates to the national convention at half fare rates and others will join in the arrangement.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The sub-treasury has stopped paying out silver on currency checks and consequently silver has advanced 1 1/2 @ 2 per cent.

NEW YORK, May 11.—Gold closed at 112 1/2 @ 112 3/4.

HANCOCK, N. H., May 11.—Heavy rains have caused the Connecticut river to rise to a dangerous height. The northern trains are delayed. Serious damages have already been reported on the Vermont side. The paper mills at Mill river, Vermont, are expected to give out every minute, which will flood the village. People are cleaning out their houses as fast as possible. The farmers are suffering much loss. Wells river is flooded and the people are using boats in the street.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 10.—The Republican State Convention met at Clarkburg to-day. The exact standing of the delegates appointed is not known, but there is no doubt that a known for Blaine.

MONTREAL, May 11.—The Ottawa river has not been so high since 1857. The shipping of lumber is almost entirely suspended. Reports from Amnosta state that the village is deserted. The water is flooding Pembroke, Hawksburg and other places, and a number of mills have been obliged to shut down. Brandis have been damaged. Baldwin's Elevated Railway has been carried away. The river is still rising.

PHILADELPHIA, May 11.—The attendance at the exhibition to-day is estimated at 30,000 up to 10 o'clock a. m., many distinguished guests who were at the opening yesterday are visiting the exhibition to-day, several foreign ministers, including those of England and Chile, are now on the grounds. The weather is delightful. The entire number of exhibits received at the Agricultural Hall up to 3 o'clock on Tuesday was 774. Fifty cars are on the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, and three vessels at the wharves of the Delaware filed with exhibits for the exhibition, a large number of foreign paintings by the most celebrated painters were received to-day at the Art Gallery.

BERLIN, May 11.—The Czar has arrived in Berlin.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 11.—The Sultan has dismissed the Grand Vizier and summoned to Constantinople Hussein Avni Pasha who is considered to be the head of the war party.
