And, whereas, Elizabeth Finto having made a pre-emption claim upon the NW 1/4 of the NE 1/4, and the NE 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of Section 30 in said Township and Range, now makes application to enter said lands as agricultural lands, and has filed in this office her own affidavit, declaring that there is not within the limits of said land, to her knowledge, any coal or other valuable mineral deposit, and that the said land is essentially nominal land.

OREGON POLITICS.—The Salem Statesman says: "It is a fact indisputable among well informed politicians that Oregon is Republican in sentiment. The Democratic party is considerably in the minority, and for various reasons, it is steadily on the decline."

The Eugene Guard, a Bourbon Democrat of the "Brick Pomeroy" stripe, replies to this: "Among the multitude of slanderous observations that emanated from the brain of McDonald, of the Statesman, this is the most notoriously false and silly."

The question in dispute between these editors is an impracticable abstraction, having no application to Oregon politics as at present constituted by political parties, and hence no means of testing or determining which is right.

According to the ancient tests of Democracy, Oregon was, and is, indisputably Democratic in sentiment, in common with all the Western States and Territories.

According to the principles upon which the Republican party was formed, and as long as those principles had any vitality in the government of the country, Oregon was indubitably Republican in sentiment.

According to the present organization of political parties in Oregon, it would defy human wisdom to determine which is Republican and which is Democratic in sentiment.

The Republican party is in the main officered, drilled and directed by old Democrats, many of whom adhered to the Democratic party until after every issue upon which the Republican party formed had been finally determined, and that determination had been accepted and concurred in by almost unanimous consent; and the party is at present based upon no declaration of distinctive principles or platform in conflict with Democratic sentiments, except in the single case of professions of party fidelity to the National Administration.

The Democratic party of Oregon has no single feature, save in name, by which it can be identified with the old Democratic party. Its organization, management and direction is solely in view of personal ends and interests—a combination of leaders and managers for the appointment of offices and division of spoils.

Every caucus of the party is managed exclusively upon personal issues; every convention an exchange of political brokering for the purchase and sale of nominations, in which political consistency or personal qualifications for the proper discharge of public duty, have no consideration; as witness the rejection of Nesmith and the nomination of La Dow at the last State Convention.

The exceptions to this rule are the Bourbon Democrats, as represented by the Eugene Guard, who insist upon adhering to the dead issues of the past and steadily refuse to co-operate in any measure of reform with any who do not recognize unswerving fidelity to the Democratic party as the inflexible test of political wisdom and virtue.

It is undoubtedly true that the Democratic party as thus represented, "is considerably in the minority, and for various reasons, is steadily on the decline."

The facts of record are, that the Democratic party of Oregon holds its present power on a plurality representing but a little over one-third of the popular vote, and the Republican party has still less adherents, while an Independent party in the State numbers nearly as many voters as either of the old parties.

The conclusion is, that neither can safely anticipate a party triumph in the future upon the sole merit of party management.

Party politics in Washington Territory are in the main identical with those of Oregon, and as for that matter, the same characteristics pertain to the politics of most of the States and Territories.

The time has past when bad men can ride into power over the shoulders of the people through caucus management and convention combinations.

The tyranny of party is broken and hereafter no party can claim domination but through the honesty and ability of its representative men.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH.—The Roman Catholic hierarchy of the United States consists of one Cardinal, eleven Archbishops and sixty-three Bishops. Nine of the Archbishops, and over fifty of the Bishops, attended the ceremonies of the investiture of the first American Cardinal, in New York, on the 27th of April, which is described as the grandest and most imposing spectacle ever witnessed in this country.

Only three of the Archbishops are native Americans: Archbishop Bayley, of Baltimore, was formerly an Episcopal clergyman in New York; Archbishop Williams, of Boston, is a native of Boston, of a Protestant family; Archbishop Kenrick, of St. Louis, is a native of Maryland.

Very few of the sixty-three Bishops are natives of this country. Among the most notable is Bishop Rosencrans, of Columbus, a native of Ohio and brother of Gen. Rosencrans. Cardinal McCloskey was born in New York, of Irish parents.

A SENSATION NEWSPAPER COME TO GRIEF.—Alice A. Early, of Rockford, Illinois, has been awarded a verdict of $25,000 against Wilbur F. Story, editor of the Chicago Times, for libel.

It appears that Story published a scandalous story against the lady, upon reports which proved to be false and malicious. A retraction was subsequently published but proved insufficient to satisfy the injured party, who resorted to legal means for redress, with the above result.

We fully endorse the righteousness of the verdict, notwithstanding the retraction of the original offense by the editor. Tolerance of licentiousness in journalism, is by no means necessary to the maintenance of the freedom of the press.

In matters exclusively personal or social, no editor is justified in giving currency to scandalous reports, however respectable the endorsement; they are demoralizing in their tendency and effect no good purpose. In such cases we believe in the common law doctrine, that "the greater the truth the greater the libel."

This, however, does not apply to acts of an official character or affecting public interests. In all such cases the press should be free and untrammelled. For the purpose of promoting the circulation of his paper, the publisher of the Times has ventured to the worst popular sentiments and passions, and in this case he has only met with his just deserts.

At the same term of the Court he had five indictments for libel and one indictment for publishing an obscene newspaper pending. A month previous he was sentenced to imprisonment for contempt of Court. By such journalism he has accumulated a large fortune.

DROWNED.—John Cartwright, an old settler near the mouth of the Yakima river, was recently found drowned in the Columbia river.

KILLED.—John Sang, a farmer near Walla Walla, was instantly killed on the 8th inst by the falling of a shed he was engaged in mooring.

The steamer Wenat, lately purchased in Portland by parties from Seattle, is expected to arrive here next week.

A Montana paper says that most of the wheat sown in that Territory last fall was frozen out by the extreme cold of the winter.

Big Bear.—Mr. Hugh Mc Alear shot a large black bear, near the site for the new Catholic College, on Wednesday, which weighed, when dressed 250 pounds.

Exciting Race.—We witnessed a very exciting trial of speed the other evening between two of the handsomest young ladies in Seattle. The time they made can't be equaled by any of the young men of this city.

Coming Back.—We see by the Colonist that Capt. B. A. Atkins will soon return to Seattle with his double engine pile driver "Dick Atkins," to be employed in building new wharves for the Seattle Coal Company.

Owing to the non-arrival of our news ink from San Francisco, we are obliged to work in some colored job ink in printing our paper. We have commenced with blue, and if our ink don't arrive soon, will probably end up with green.

Arrested.—A man who registered his name at the St. Charles Hotel as G. Russell, Portland, was on Wednesday arrested by Sheriff Eakin on a telegram from the Sheriff of Marion county, describing one G. Duffy, who was charged with forgery. Sheriff Shaw came up and identified his man and took him below on Thursday. Portions of forged checks on Ladd & Bush were found in the water closet in the jail yard.—Eugene City Guard.

Dr. Sparring, whose card we insert in this issue, is an old Army Surgeon, having held that position in the British and U. S. armies for twenty years. Having concluded to settle down to private practice he has selected this city for his future home. We are pleased to welcome among us all who, like the Doctor, have achieved eminence in their professions or business, for thus it is we gain strength and character as a community.

Passengers.—The following is the passenger list per steamer Pacific for Victoria which sailed on the 20th inst.: J. H. Thomas, Sam Thomas, wife and child, J. Thomas, wife and child, Mrs. Forsythe and child, F. L. McGovern, H. Moffer, Mary McAllister, Mrs. S. J. Clark and child, Mrs. H. Reed, Miss Musgrove, H. B. Berryman, wife and niece, Mrs. Fiddell, Mrs. Heathfield, Miss L. Worth, Miss McQuade, R. A. Roscoe, wife and two children, G. H. Ryan and wife, J. W. Brand, A. Thacker and wife, G. Holton, Dr. Carroll, Mr. Wallace, Mrs. Philip Hawkin, L. T. Lucas, A. W. Fagan, A. Van Walkenberg and wife, Mrs. B. Healey, Hannah Clark, and 64 in the steerage.

SEATTLE, May 21, 1875. EDITOR DISPATCH.—The boys of this town have a very bad habit, which ought to be put a stop to, viz: that of throwing stones in slings, some of them large enough to cause considerable damage if they were to hit a person on the head.

Won't you call the attention of the City authorities to the fact, and also see if a stop cannot be put to the sale of said slings. CITIZEN.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Michael Lynch, a young man heretofore residing in East Portland, aged 21 years, was fatally shot on Sunday last, while duck shooting on the Willamette river, and died soon after. His gun was lying in the bottom of the boat, when hurriedly pulling it towards him by the muzzle, the hammer caught on a board, discharging the contents in his breast with fatal effect.

The deceased was a young man of good character and a member of a large and highly respected family.

LIVING IN WALLA WALLA.—Gen. Wheaton, in a speech delivered at an entertainment given in his honor on leaving Walla Walla, said: The regular allowance for subsisting a soldier is 30 cents a day. At Fort Walla Walla for the last year the average cost for subsisting the soldiers was at the rate of 13 cents each per day, or 17 cents less than the regular allowance. The lowest figure at any other fort in the United States for a corresponding period was 20 cents a head, or fall one half more than at this post.

NEARING TOUCHET STATION.—The work on the railroad is progressing rapidly, the iron track being already completed to within a few miles of the Touchet station. We are credibly informed that it will be fully completed to that point by Wednesday next, after which time the Railroad Company will be prepared to receive and transmit freight in either direction. From Touchet the work will be vigorously pushed forward to Whitman station, which point will be reached in a short time. Within a few weeks at most we hope to hear the welcome neighing of the iron horse.—Walla Walla Spirit.

List of passengers per steamship J. L. Stephens, which sailed from San Francisco for Portland on the 15th inst: C. E. Colef and wife, J. Faxon, Miss M. D. Faxon and sister, Emil Frank, L. Welheim, J. The Railroad.—Upon the completion of the tracks to the Touchet the stages will cease running to Wallula. They will make regular connection with the trains at Touchet, conveying passengers and mails to and from that point.

SENATOR'S MACHINERY.—All the machinery formerly used on board the steamer Senator, has been removed from the dismantled hull. Yesterday the engines, steam jointings, firebox and shaft were transferred to a barge and taken up to Oregon City. This machinery will probably be placed in one of the new boats now in process of construction there by the O. S. N. Co.—Oregonian, an 18th.

As soon as the water recedes sufficiently to allow an examination of the hull of the Senator, it will be definitely settled as to what disposition will be made of her. If she is found to be but partially torn through the bottom she will receive the necessary repairs to float her, and then decked over and be used as a barge when necessary. Search is still going on, but up to the present time nothing but freight, clothing and such articles have been recovered.—Portland Bulletin.

POLITICS AND FINANCER.—The Intelligence, at this city, and the Courier, of Olympia, assuming to speak for Republicans, assail the party integrity and impliedly threaten with party vengeance, Chief Justice Lewis, for presuming to appoint the editor of this paper, independent in politics, to keep the records of his Court, a position having no more political bearing than that of a book-keeper in a commercial house. [That these editors regard party politics simply and solely as a means to the end of achieving official spoils, is manifest by their comments, which are entirely consistent with their personal practices.—We but notice their remarks for the purpose of protesting against the doctrine of holding judicial positions amenable to the rule which governs mercenary politicians in the scramble for official plunder. During the thirty-five years we served as a party editor, we never permitted any party caucus or convention to control our support of a candidate for judicial or educational positions on party grounds, and more frequently voted for the opposition candidate than for those of our own party for those positions. That the same view is taken by the most intelligent and disinterested men of all parties is proved in nearly every judicial election by popular vote. For the past four years we have taken no part in any party caucus or convention, and did not seek or accept our present position on party grounds or as a reward for party services.]

That Judge Lewis offered no indignity to the Republican party by the appointment of an obnoxious partisan, is proved by the fact that the appointment was approved by a majority of the official representatives of the party and a majority of the bar in this District. In addition to this, we may quote the following endorsement of the Courier, just after the last general election: "The triumph in Seattle and in King county all through, is exceedingly gratifying, and without invidiously discriminating against others who contributed to achieve it, we can well add that to the editor of the DISPATCH is to be awarded the highest medal of honor and praise. The Republican ought not to undervalue or fail to heed the lesson which the King county victory has taught to them. An able press is their most potential champion."

Our services were very acceptable and highly appreciated by the spoils hunters of the Republican party when fighting was to be done which they had not the courage or ability to do, but very distasteful to them when they are called upon to surrender any part of the plunder, which they regard as the legitimate spoils of a party victory.

IMMIGRATION.—Mrs. A. H. H. Stuart, Business Manager, has issued the first quarterly report of the Washington Immigration Society, headquarters at Olympia. The society during the first quarter has received from persons in all parts of the United States seeking information of our Territory, 120 letters; from parties whom it has addressed respecting the cost of transportation for immigrants 8; from other parties 22. Whole number of letters received... 150 written... 126 newspapers sent... 50 bound books... 40 pamphlets... 65 pub. docs... 36 circulars... 105

The donations received and acknowledged have only covered the expenses of stationary, postage and printed matter. In conclusion, the report says: "The society is glad to be able to announce that several colonies are now on the way to this territory and more are preparing to come. We believe that our day of prosperity is not far distant, and that with the largely increased population which the summer will bring to us, our Territory will take a great stride towards the front rank of wealth and importance. Meantime, with the aid of the citizens of the Territory, we will endeavor to use our utmost endeavors to induce immigrants to settle in our midst and thus do our part toward the general good."

It is but proper to say that for all practical purposes, Mrs. Stuart, wife of the Receiver of the U. S. Land Office at Olympia, is the sole motive power of the Society, and the only motive by which she is actuated is an irrepressible desire to do good to others and promote the general welfare. All honor to the brave little woman.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The President and family will leave for Long Branch the third or fourth of June.—Servants have been sent to prepare the cottage.

LONDON, May 22.—A dispatch to the Standard from Rome says the Italian Government has ordered the removal of all Bishops who have not received the Royal executive order endorsing them. The Archbishop of Palermo has already been notified to leave his see.

DUBLIN, May 22.—Judge Keogh, before whom Moore's election petition was tried, has decided that the late John Mitchell was disqualified from holding his seat because he was a felon and an alien. A motion for an appeal to the Court of Common Pleas was granted. The case comes up again next week.

LONDON, May 21.—The Examiner mentions a rumor that Disraeli is to resign at the close of the session, and believes there is a foundation for it, as the Premier's disability for continuous work is damaging the Government. An understanding, however, exists among his supporters that he shall not be replaced until he voluntarily resigns.

BRUSSELS, May 21.—The Tribunal at Liege, which has had the alleged plot to assassinate Prince Bismark under investigation, dismissed the charges against Duesse.

PARIS, May 21.—MM. Laboulaye, Cazenna, Waddington and Vacherot, the other remaining members of the Committee of Thirty, resigned and a new Committee will be elected on Tuesday, to which Minister Dufaure's bill will be referred.

VICTORIA, May 24.—The fifty-sixth anniversary of the Queen's birthday was celebrated here to-day in the customary way. The shipping in the harbor and all public and many private buildings were decorated with flags. A Royal salute of 21 guns was fired at noon from H. M. S. Myrmidon and the ironclad Repulse, the flag-ship of Rear Admiral Cochrane.

Over two thousand people assembled at the Gorge to witness the regatta, the most interesting feature of which was a canoe race, ran by 45 Indians, fifteen in each of three canoes. The prizes consisted of a blanket and a sack of flour to each man and were closely contested. The weather has been favorable, although rather windy.

According to the Boston Advertiser, as an overloaded horse car was coming up Sudbury street, a short time ago, when the icy condition of the street, rendered the ascent extremely difficult, a gentleman hailed the conductor from the sidewalk, requesting him to stop the car. This the conductor refused to do until the car reached the summit. The gentleman, out of breath and temper also, got on the car and addressed the conductor as follows: "Sir I supposed this road was run for the accommodation of the public." "You never were more mistaken in your life," replied the conductor. "It's run in order to fill the stockholders' pockets." "Indeed," said the now irate passenger, "I thought all the conductors on this road were gentlemen." "Worse than before," said the conductor, "do you suppose I would run a horse car if I was a gentleman?"

In England, it is proposed to move street carriages by clock work. It is said that all practical difficulties have been removed. The carriages, of course, must labor under the slightest possible amount of friction—that is to say, must go on rails. Cars of two tons are spoken of, but the inventors claim a power to move a car of five tons, requiring a force of seven hundred and twenty lbs. on the periphery of the spring barrel. Sheffield springs having a force of nine hundred pounds have been made. The springs are made to be wound up at intervals by stationary steam engines.

An instructor asked a French girl why beer in French was feminine. She replied it was probably owing to the fact that the boys liked it so well.

A boy who will yell like a Tartar if a drop of water gets on his shirt band when his neck is being washed, can erode through a power after a ball and think nothing of it.

FEMALE SOCIETY.—It is better for you to pass an evening once or twice a week in a lady's drawing-room, even though the conversation is slow, and you know the girl's song by heart, than in a club, a tavern, or a pit of a theater. Amusements of youth to which virtuous women are not admitted, rely on it, are deleterious in their nature. All men who avoid female society have dull perceptions and are stupid, or have gross tastes and revolt against what is pure. Your club swaggers, who are sucking the butts of billiard cues all night, call female society insipid. Poetry is uninspiring to a jockey; beauty has no charms for a blind man; music does not please a poor beast who does not know one tune from another; but as pure epicure is hardly tired of water-sauces and brown bread and butter, I protest I can sit for a whole night talking with a well regulated, kindly woman, about her girl Fanny or her boy Frank, and like the evening's entertainment. One of the great benefits that a man may derive from a woman's society is that he is bound to be respectful to her. The habit is of great good to your moral man, depend upon it. Our education makes us the most eminently selfish men in the world.

A Dog's Reason.—The following interesting letter is published in the London Spectator: "Being accustomed to walk out before breakfast with two sky terriers, it was my custom to wash their feet in a tub, kept for the purpose in the garden, when the weather was wet. One morning when I took up the dog to carry him to the tub, he bit me so severely I was obliged to let him go. No sooner was the dog at liberty than he ran down to the kitchen and hid himself. For three days he refused food, declined to go out with any of the family, and appeared dejected, with a distressed and unusual expression of countenance. On the third morning, however, upon returning with the other dog, I found him sitting by the tub, and coming towards him he immediately jumped into it and sat down on the water. After pretending to wash his legs he jumped out as happy as possible, and from that moment recovered his usual spirits. There appears in this instance to have been a clear process of reasoning, accompanied by acute feeling, going on in the dog's mind from the moment he bit me until he hit upon a plan of showing a regret and making reparation for his fault. It evidently occurred to him that I attached great importance to this foothold, and if he could convince me that his contrition was sincere, and that he was willing to submit to the process without a murmur, I would be satisfied. The dog in this case reasoned with perfect accuracy, and from his own premises deduced a legitimate conclusion which the result justified."

THE CHINESE COMEDY.—The San Francisco Call speaks of a performance by a newly imported troupe of Chinese actors and gymnasts as follows: "The piece presented was evidently in the low comedy line, judging from the great merriment of the audience excited by the dialogue; but the leading features were the grand military spectacles, juggling, and acrobatic performances. At different times Chinese soldiers of the old style appeared upon the stage to the number of forty or fifty and exhibited their mode of warfare with spears and other ancient weapons.

The fencing exercises and combats with the double swords display marvelous dexterity and agility, and demonstrate that the Chinaman on his native heath and with his own style of weapon is a dangerous antagonist. The mode of combat with hatchets and meat choppers and the utility of the cumbersome bamboo shield are also displayed. The jugglers, which consists of running each other through the body with swords and spears, braining one another with meat axes, etc., is thrilling but rather ghastly in its effects, and most wonderfully deceptive. The blood is seen streaming down the hunched bodies of the apparent victims in appearance that is wonderfully real; and after being decently slain in one of the terrific combats, it is quite surprising to observe the deceased arise again and go prancing off the stage with a meat cleaver stuck in his skull."

MAN'S DEPENDENCE.—Man relies far more than he is aware for comfort and happiness on woman's tact and management. He is so accustomed to these that he is unconscious of their worth. They are so delicately concealed, and yet so ceaselessly exercised that he enjoys their effects as he enjoys the light and atmosphere. He seldom thinks how it would be with him were they withdrawn. He fails to appreciate what is so freely given. He may be reminded of them now and then: he may complain of intrusion or interference; but the frown is smoothed away by a gentle hand, the murmuring lips are stopped with a caress and the management goes on.

The London Daily Telegraph after reading the police court reports of the Detroit Free Press, condemns the levity of American magistrates, but solemnly weighs the matter thus: "We may not approve of levity in a magisterial court, but, on the whole, it may be questioned whether the mirthful readiness of the American Judge may not be preferable to the solemn injustice which local courts in England so frequently witness."

A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser proposes the following elegant sentences as an exercise for spelling matches: "Looking up into his glistening eyes, she said, 'And is it indeed true, Alfred, that our soul, in the process of transmigration, expunctifies itself through the whole caboodle of eternity?' 'Nay, dearest,' replied Alfred, and his countenance betrayed an expression of irrefutation, not to say disengagement, which avowed over his features for an instant. 'Our souls cannot become sufficiently mattered to admit of the necessary spification which—' The sentence was never finished; for as he spoke he seated himself upon a chair whose legs had been exserted two inches, and he came down unexpectedly kerchunk."

A skin game—the fur dealers. A heavy business—importing elephants. Vested interest—money in the waist-coat pocket. When a hog roots in a snow bank its nose knows snow. Why is a side-saddle like a four-quart jug? Because it holds a gallon. The saying "Excuse haste and a bad pen" has been attributed to a pig who ran away from home. The fellow who asked for a lock of his girl's hair, was informed that it costs money, hair does."

Don't discuss the testimony with a cat in your lap, or if you do it, don't get so excited as to rub the animal's back the wrong way.

"Jemima," said a fashionable miss to her friend, "I think Charley Potts is perfectly splendid; he can get on my gloves, and wears spit curls."

MADAME JEROME BONAPARTE.—Madame Bonaparte is still living in Baltimore, at the age of ninety years. She says she has no intention of dying until she is a hundred. She has been to Europe sixteen times, and contemplates another trip this Summer. This old lady has more vivacity, and certainly more intelligence than the leading women of fashion of the present day. She expresses her opinion upon all subjects with great freedom, and sometimes with bitterness. She has little or no confidence in men, and a very poor opinion of women; the young ladies of the present day all have the "home mania." All sentiment she thinks a weakness. She professes her ambition has always been—not a throne, but near the throne.

Mr. Patterson, her father, died in 1836, at an advanced age, in possession of a large fortune. In his will, which is one of the most remarkable documents that has ever been deposited in the Orphans' Court in Baltimore, he says: "The conduct of my daughter, Betsy, has, through life, been so disobedient that in no instance has she ever consulted my opinions or feelings; her folly and misconduct have occasioned me a train of experience that, first to last, has cost me much money"—in this he means the marriage of his daughter to Jerome Bonaparte. The old gentleman left her, out of his great wealth, only three or four small houses and the wines in his cellar—worth in all about $10,000.

Mme. Bonaparte is very rich; she has made her money by successful speculations and by her life-long habit of saving. For years she has lived at a boarding-house in Baltimore, seeing very little company. Her costume is ancient, and there is nothing about her appearance that suggests the marvelous beauty that led captive the heart of Jerome Bonaparte. Her eyes alone retain some of the brightness of former days.

For forty years Mme. Bonaparte kept a diary, in which she has recorded her views and observations of European and American society. Some of her remarks are severely sarcastic. A well known Boston publishing house, it is said, recently offered $10,000 for the manuscript volumes; but Madame refused to sell them at any price, and has committed them to the custody of her younger grandson, Charles Joseph, recently a law student of Harvard, now a rising member of the Baltimore bar. They will probably be published after the writer's death.

MORE EXCAVATIONS AT POMPEII.—A correspondent writing from Naples, April 24, 1874, says:

On last Friday there was an excavation in the presence of the Minister of the Royal Household, when a wonderful discovery was made. It was a kitchen that was disinterred, and on one of the fornelli—small square holes or fireplaces, such as are in use in the present day, and are fed with charcoal—was found a copper vessel supported by a tripod. The vessel or saucepan was hermetically closed, and incrustated all over with lapilli, so that it required considerable force to open it. But low great was the surprise of those present, to find that it was nearly full of water! The interior of the vessel presented no sign of oxidation, so that no one hesitated to taste the water, when it was found perfectly sweet and good. Pompeii, which has enriched us, after a lapse of nearly two thousand years, with paintings, and sculptured marbles, which has almost supplied our tables with bread and honey, eggs and figs, and a variety of other luxuries, has now slacked our thirst with water, deposited so far back as the reign of Titus, and by one of the victims, perhaps, of the fires of Vesuvius. How curious are these revelations of the inner life of a people long since mouldered into ashes.

Telegraphic EXCLUSIVELY TO THE DAILY DISPATCH. VICTORIA, May 22. Considerable interest was taken in the races which came off at the Beacon Hill race track this afternoon. The assemblage was very great, including many visitors from the American side. The Queen's purse of $300 was won by Tom Merry of Seattle, in two straight heats; time, 1:50 and 1:52. The second purse was won by Gladiator, belonging to Mr. Williams of this city. In this race the American horse Confidence held the lead till within 50 yards of the end, when he bolted the track and run away, throwing his rider to the ground. The totting race was won by Bowman's horse without any effort whatever. It rained hard in the morning, which made the track a little too soft, or better time would have been made.

BOLD ROBBERY.—On Saturday evening, between eleven and twelve o'clock, some person entered the establishment of Mr. A. Piper and took from the bed of an employee a comforter and a pair of blankets. We can imagine the feelings of the young man on turning in without a light and finding no covering.

ACCIDENT.—While Mr. Frank Hanford was watching from the top of the chute, the loading of the bark J. B. Bell, at the Seattle Coal Co.'s wharf, on Saturday evening, about ten o'clock, he accidentally stepped over the edge and fell to the ground, a distance of 30 feet, striking between two logs. Strange to say no bones were broken, and beyond a slight jar, he felt no ill effects from this fall.

Thomas Burke, Esq., the young gentleman who has just formed a partnership in the practice of law with J. J. McGilvra, Esq., was recently City Attorney of Marshall, Michigan. A friend has handed us a copy of a Marshall paper from which we copy the following resolution, passed by the City Council on the 8th of April, in reference to Mr. Burke:

Resolved, That the Board do hereby tender its sincere thanks for the faithfulness and integrity manifested by him in his official duties, and would recommend him to his new associates as a young man of sterling qualities and ability in his profession, and as worthy of their highest confidence and esteem.

BURGOLARS ABOUT.—On Saturday night the office of Mr. McGilvra was entered by removing a pane of glass from a window, through which the catch was sprung and the window raised. A lock was broken from a trunk in the back office with a hatchet; the key of the safe and the keys of several drawers were in the tray of the trunk. With these the burglars went through every thing containing articles of value and carried off some money and much other plunder, without taking any books, papers or clothing.

On Sunday night, the window of a lodger at the Occidental Hotel was raised, his pantaloons taken from under his pillow and the pockets of the same emptied of all the money he had with him. The amount we did not learn.

The part of Marshallville bridge on the east side of the draw, or that part of which was originally built for a wharf by Chas. E. Williams, has been torn down, and new piles are being driven as rapidly as possible on which to rebuild. The part torn down was built 11 years ago last March, and still many of the piles were in fair condition. The defects in them were found to have two causes. At the top they had rotted badly and a few feet from the ground the toro had honey combed them. Near the ground, where at all times, except at extreme low tide the water surrounded them, they were found as sound as on the day they were driven. The fir timber of this region was protected from the worms this timber would be practically imperishable while under water.—Courier.

It is supposed she deliberately committed suicide, having been very dependent since her husband's death. She leaves four children, the oldest of whom is about sixteen.

The citizens of Lebanon are canvassing the subject of building locks on the Albany and Santiam canal, so as to render the canal a navigable stream from the head to its mouth, and are urging its necessity, not only as a great convenience to that whole section, including the forks of the Santiam, but as a matter of profit to the canal company. Probably it would require but three locks, the construction of which would not require an exorbitant sum, to render the canal navigable.

Last Thursday afternoon, says the Yreka Journal, Eddie, second son of C. McNulty, aged 13 years, met with a terrible accident, which at the time was supposed would prove fatal, though he is not out of danger yet. It seems that he was close to the plow, while James Beveridge was plowing, when one of the horses stepped upon a pitchfork lying on the ground, throwing it with great force against the boy's head. One prong penetrated the forehead above the eye, another in the left cheek below the eye, another under the chin, while the fourth did not touch his body. He was attended by Dr. Beam, and it is believed that he will recover. Although he suffered greatly at first, he is now getting almost remarkably well under the circumstances.

A plan has been proposed for clearing and improving the Olympia fair grounds similar to that adopted last year for the railroad grading. That is, to appoint a day for a general muster of all who take an interest in the matter; each armed and equipped as the law directs with axe, spade, or pickax, and a good sized basket of provender. As an additional attraction it is proposed, also, to have a trial of speed during the day, both of running and trotting stock, open to all. If this matter is properly worked up it will be an occasion of much pleasure to the public and profit to the Fair Association.

On Saturday last an accident occurred to a little child—a mere babe—residing on Johnson Creek, about five miles back of East Portland, which, says the Journal, came near proving fatal. At the time of the occurrence, Mr. Lance was engaged in shingling a shed near the creek, and the babe was playing on the bank. While thus engaged, the child fell into the stream, and was rapidly borne down by the swift-running current. Fortunately, the mother of the babe missed it just then, and came out of the house to look for it. As the child was not to be seen it was naturally supposed that it had fallen into the creek, and the now distracted parents hurried below the house a few steps, where they found the hired man with the wet and dripping babe in his arms, he having found it, face up, floating down the stream, about forty yards below the house. The proper restoratives were immediately applied and the child's life saved; but it was a narrow escape.

It is reported that the soldiers are not seriously injured. On the arrival of the train at this city the Indian was taken off and laid on the platform wrapped in his blanket, and is supposed to be dying.

NEW YORK, May 19.—An informal call has been made for a meeting of the Erie Stockholders next Saturday and a rumor is current that a compound injunction is contemplated against the Directors, restraining the sale, pledge or mortgage of coal property of the road to raise money to pay June interest and restrain payment of June interest on bonds involved in the controversy with merchants and the London Banking Association.

LIXINGTON, Ky., May 19.—The funeral of General J. C. Breckenridge took place today and was attended by an immense throng of people, anxious to pay the last sad honors to the memory of a great and good man. The officers of the State, headed by Governor Leslie, were present in a body; also Senators Stevenson and McCleary and many other distinguished persons. The funeral was conducted by the Knights Templar, of which order General Breckenridge was an exemplary member. No such outpouring of people has been witnessed since the death of Henry Clay and what is more gratifying, no distinction of party seemed to have been seen in those considerations which should alone inspire the hearts of men who aspire to be considered good citizens.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—A dispatch from a son of Jesse D. Bright says there is little hope of his father living through the day.

The Sioux Indians here to negotiate with the Government for the sale of the Black Hills in their reserve, called on the President today. The President received them in his office and after shaking hands with each one, said he could not talk with them to-day on the subject of their visit, but desired them to talk with the Secretary of the Interior and the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, and if any disagreements arose he would endeavor to right them. Lone Horn said he was glad to see the Great Father. He did own some of this great country, but the white people wanted to take it away from him. "I never claimed that I owned all the country before to day, but now I claim it; I own it alone. These men you see," alluding to the Indians around him, "are soldiers and will fight." At this juncture the President interrupted the Chief, by stating that he did not wish to have a discussion of the object of his visit to-day. Rotten Tail said he was glad to see the Great Father and wanted a great talk soon. Red Cloud said that if the President did not appoint a day to see himself and other Chiefs, he would be very sorry. The Grand Council will not probably take place before Monday or Tuesday next.

The decree concludes by expressing hopes of the Government for the re-establishment of a representative regime without which there can be nothing but anarchy.

LONDON, May 20.—Froude, the historian, will sail for South Africa on the 23d in an official capacity.

The article in the Times this morning presents a contrast between English and American efforts to reduce the national debt. "We cannot but feel with regret," says the Times, "that the United States in this respect show more high spirits of a nation conscious of great destiny and anxious above all things, that no short comings of the present generation shall interfere with the teachings their children have received."

MADRID, May 19.—In a decree issued to-day the Government avows its intention of doing justice to the Church. He gives a hopeful review of the military situation.

BELLEFONT, Pa., May 20.—An extra train left this evening for Snowshoe with a large body of men from Valentine's works to aid in checking the fires in that region.

Mine No. 4 at Snowshoe, is burned. About 75 feet and the trestle work of the railroad has been destroyed. Water tanks and several buildings along the road are on fire. Great excitement prevails.

Later—About 13 cars have been burned at Snowshoe and about 80 or 100 tons of coal and all the houses about the mines destroyed. Corridors mill and a large lot of timber are destroyed, also timber belonging to the Bellefont Mill Co.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 20.—The fires on the mountains continue and heavy winds have spread them rapidly in all directions. The citizens of Middleport telegraphed to the Pottsville Fire Department for assistance to-day, but before transportation could be had they again telegraphed that they had the fires under control.

The people of Gilberton telegraphed the Mahony City Fire Department for help, the large Draper colliery being in danger. It was finally saved.

At Donaldson and Tremont colliery whistles and alarms were given during the day summing the men to protect the coal breakers. The fire is advancing on Mahony City, Mahony Plains and Maisville, whose citizens are out in the woods fighting the flames.

Slayton is still burning and the village is entirely burned. Fifteen miners' dwelling were burned at Langan and eight at the Pennsylvania Colliery.

At four o'clock this afternoon a portion of the Pottsville Fire Department was called out and they immediately left by special train for Gilberton.

PARIS, May 20.—Two Commissioners to represent France at the Philadelphia Centennial, one to reside in the United States and one in France will be appointed.

It is asserted by Liberte that the article has been made the subject of a cabinet discussion.

The captain and seven men were frozen to death in the rigging and six men perished in attempting to reach shore. Joyce, chief mate and Moore, deck hand, landed safely, but badly frozen.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The feature of the session of the Long Island diocese Episcopal Convention in Brooklyn yesterday, was the report of the Committee on Christian education read by the Rev. S. Brown. The report uses strong language in denunciation of the public schools and also urges that the public schools shall be made Christian. It urges the establishment of a system of Episcopal schools in which Church children may obtain religious nurture not possible in the public schools of the State. A resolution is appended urging the establishment of numerous diocesan institutions of a knowledge of excellence.

CHICAGO, May 20.—A Washington special says that Secretary Bristol had yesterday a conference with Supervising Architect Potter relative to the Chicago Custom House. Both agreed that a Commission should be appointed.

Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, widow of the late President, was yesterday adjudged insane by a jury in the County Court, and this morning was removed to a private Asylum at Batavia, Ill. Inquiry was made on the petition of her son, Robt. T. Lincoln. The evidence of a number of physicians, the proprietor, and several employees of the Grand Pacific Hotel, where she had been staying since her return from Florida, of her son and numerous friends all showed that she was undoubtedly insane. Her insanity has been of a mild type, but after the trial she became violent and was obliged to be placed under restraint. It has been known by Mrs. Lincoln's family and friends for several years that her mind was unsettled to a degree that fully warranted her being called insane, but a natural reluctance to take any steps which would make the fact known to the general public has heretofore influenced them against restraining her in any way of her liberty or putting her under medical treatment for her mind. Recently, however, her condition has been so much worse that it became absolutely necessary that something should be done for the unfortunate lady.

Mrs. Lincoln, who has been kept under close surveillance since leaving the Court room yesterday, escaped from her room today, went to a drug store and ordered laudanum and other drugs with the intention of committing suicide; but the druggist, who was acquainted, put up a simple compound, which was taken by her a few minutes after leaving the drug store. The effect was harmless.

She will be taken to the asylum at Batavia tomorrow.

MEMPHIS, May 20.—Notwithstanding the proclamation of the Governor and Mayor with reference to the observance of the day, there is no observance of holiday, and stores and business houses are open as usual.

CHICAGO, May 20.—A shocking affair occurred on Tuesday in Cass Co. Iowa. Daniel O'Connor, a wealthy farmer, attempted to ravish his daughter aged 13 and threatened her with death if she told of the crime. She went to her uncle however and told him and officers, who went to arrest him. Hearing them coming he shot and killed himself.

TAYLOR, Pa., May 20.—A fire broke out at 11 o'clock this morning at the Westanhon Lumber Company's mill, West of Osceola. Fifteen million feet of lumber were burned. The wind was so strong that fire brands two feet long were thrown to most parts of the town of Osceola. The fire broke out in every quarter. All public buildings except the Catholic and Methodist Churches were burned. About two hundred houses were destroyed and twelve hundred people rendered homeless. The people were driven to the race course, where they were surrounded by fire from all sides.

The fire department here left at two o'clock with their steamer and hose carriage but could not reach Osceola on account of the railroad track being burned. The railroad between Osceola and Pownell on either side is one blaze of fire.

The members of Tryone company fought their way through the flames, and rendered all the assistance possible. About two hundred houses are standing. Some half dozen were burned between Osceola and Pownell. Sheriff McPherson left Hentzdale at four o'clock. Reports at that hour were that fourteen houses were burned there, and the conflagration is raging terribly. No escape for the town. Every communication is being cut off by the fire through the woods.

At this writing Hoop & Humes, tailors, the Mashano Lumber company, the heirs of Gig Bills & Elliott, and Caldwell's lumber sawmills, Jesse Warford's saw foundry and about 30,000,000 feet of lumber have been destroyed at Osceola. Total loss about $2,000,000. Insurance generally very light. No lives lost up to last report.

The people are in destitute circumstances as they have lost their property and everything else. The miners who were on the strike are reported as working diligently to save Hentzdale.

The woods between Tryone and Phillipsburg are on fire.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Cardinal McCloskey was yesterday presented with a diamond cross worth $20,000, by a young lady pupil of St. Vincent Institute of this city.

CHICAGO, May 21.—A Washington special says that the Sioux delegation now there, promise to be troublesome and expensive. The more their real sentiments are learned, the more it appears they are dissatisfied to accede to the wishes of those who brought them to Washington. They are not satisfied with the Government interpreter, and the Government officials are a little suspicious of the half breeds who act in that capacity for their chiefs. There is also evident want of harmony among the chiefs. No conclusion was arrived at as to the abrogation of the Black Hills treaty.

At the conference yesterday between the Government authorities and the Western Congressmen and Territorial officials, the latter not being unanimous in their views on the subject, there was a decided difference of opinion as to the existence of gold in the hills. Governor Thayer of Wyoming insisted that the existence of gold there could not be denied.

Governor Pennington of Dakota was much inclined to discredit the gold story. He said there was no gold there, and that few wished to go there except such as would cut a throat or scuttle a ship. He said a few of the good people of his Territory had been misled and had violated the treaty by going into the country, but he was confident that in this respect the people of Dakota had been more modest than their neighbors. Gov. Thayer here asked if the Conference was a burlesque, and left in a huff.

The prospects of the negotiation of a treaty are not promising.

The Comptroller of the Currency has authorized the Union National Bank of Oakland, California, with a capital of $100,000 to commence business.

TRONK, Pa., May 21.—The confusion is so great and telegraph lines so busy with railroad business it is impossible to get much further information about the fire at Osceola. Hundreds of people are homeless and friendless, destitute of clothing and provisions. Relief is badly needed.

Fire is raging in the woods at Snowshoe city, where several houses, a number of cars and trestle work are destroyed. The fire is still raging furiously through the woods.

About 250 houses have been destroyed in Osceola and 400 families rendered homeless.

Great praise is due D. D. Wood, train master at Tryone, who loaded a lot of box cars with men, women and children and sent them through the burning forest at fast speed to Phillipsburg. Four trips were made and about a thousand people taken to a place of safety.

Hentzdale, six miles from Osceola is reported entirely destroyed. The fire is spreading rapidly beyond Hentzdale, and at latest accounts had reached Parsonville, six miles from there.

The railroad track from Osceola to Hentzdale is burned so that no coal can be shipped for some time.

Later reports say that a woman named Stonelager was burned to death.

NEW YORK, May 21.—Gold closed at 16 1/4; stocks active and generally strong.

ST. PAUL, May 21.—The Pioneer Press publishes dispatches from various localities in all parts of the State relative to grasshoppers. The report is that there are no grasshoppers in any part of Minnesota, except a very small area in small numbers, confined to counties near the Great Bend of the Minnesota river.

There seems to be no danger of any serious damage from locusts this season.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21.—The United States Centennial Commission met this morning and elected the following officers: President, Gen. Joseph B. Hawley, Conn.; Vice Presidents, O. Cleveland, N. SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—Prof. E. R. Rogers of the University of Pennsylvania, has arrived in this city to superintend the construction of the new building refinery to be established in the mint. It is expected that the refinery will be completed and in operation within 50 days.

LOS ANGELES, May 21.—Considerable excitement exists over the number of fires that occurred in this city. It seems that they are the work of incendiaries. There is but little doubt the city is infested with a band, determined to burn all the property they can. A man was seen to set one of the fires last night. He escaped before he could be identified.

A person was also seen leaving the rear of Dotter & Bradley's furniture store a few minutes before the alarm was given. The fire which consumed Stodder's barn and stock was also set by a malicious person. Dotter lost stock to the value of $25,000; insured for $11,000; damage to buildings, $3,000.

Pritchard, Secretary and Col. Crawford, Chief Engineer of the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad went up to Cajon Pass to-day, to examine the work at that point. They will crowd the road ahead rapidly.

The wharf at Santa Monica is now out 700 feet.
