Policy of the Northern Pacific Railroad to the Indians. The managers of the Northern Pacific Railroad have adopted a very admirable policy towards the Indians along the line of the railroad. As a means of disarming them of their very natural hostility to the railroad, they have resolved to conciliate them by affording employment, and trading with them so far as practicable.

Story about Professor Morse. We happened to meet Col. Strother, the famous Fort Crayon, and the talk turning as usual upon Morse, the Colonel said: "I knew him well. I took lessons under him in drawing and painting. I first saw him when he was a comp tutor for the remaining panel in the rotunda of the Capitol. I thought then he ought to have had it. I think so yet. He was not a great artist, but he was enough one to save us from ridicule. The job was given to Mr. Powell. Gen. Schenck did that. The General probably did not know one picture from another, but Mr. Powell was his constituent, and he believed, as did Schenck, that something in the way of art should be done for the Miami Bottoms; so he worked at it till he got the commission."

How SECRETS ARE OBTAINED IN WASHINGTON.—We have mentioned how an enterprising correspondent obtained one of Mr. Buchanan's messages by inducing a printer to get an impression from the "forms" on a pair of white overalls. A Washington letter says: The truth is the great watchfulness is maintained over the printers in cases of this kind, and the only way to get a secret document is to pay some of the young women employed in the office a handsome sum of money for finding one. The women in the public printing office are remarkable in this respect.—Anything that Mr. Clapp turns out they can always find. A Washington correspondent therefore is incomplete unless he have a lady acquaintance in the government printing office; and it would doubtless surprise the uninitiated to know how great an extent public documents are thus obtained in advance of their issue.

THE RAW HIDE.—A few miles west of Omaha a sluggish stream runs into the Platte, and this stream is called the "Raw Hide." It is said that soon after the discovery of gold in California, a young man who belonged to a party who started from the "States" and crossed the plains in search of gold, made a foolish boast before starting from home that he would shoot the first Indian he saw. The party crossed the Missouri river, and soon found themselves in the great Valley of the Platte. Passing up the valley, they encamped one evening on the banks of the river spoken of, which at that time was nameless. As the train was about to move on the next morning, a small party of young Indians who had come across the river from the Pawnee village on the opposite side approached the encampment. These were the first Indians the party had seen, and the young man who had said he would shoot the first Indian he saw was reminded of his boast, and he immediately picked up his rifle, took aim at a young squaw and shot her dead. The news was carried to the village at once, the party of whites was surrounded by exasperated Indians and the young man who had done the shooting was seized, stripped, tied to a wagon wheel and skinned alive, the poor fellow begging piteously of both enemies and friends to shoot him and thus end his terrible sufferings. The remainder of his party were compelled to stand by and witness the torture of their comrade without being able to render him any assistance.—The unfortunate man survived the operation but a few moments, and the emigrants were allowed to move on. Since that day the stream on whose banks the horrible affair occurred has been known as the "Raw Hide."—Express, Rochester, N. Y.

Sec. 4 provides that bills of exceptions may be signed by the judge of the court where the cause was tried, or by the presiding judge thereof, without any record of court or judge being annexed. PRACTICE OF STATE COURTS ADOPTED. Sec. 5. That the practice, pleadings, and forms and modes of proceeding in other than equity and admiralty causes, in the circuit and district courts of the United States shall conform, as near as may be, to the practice, pleadings, and forms and modes of proceeding existing at the time in like causes in the courts of record of the State within which such circuit or district courts are held, any rule of court to the contrary notwithstanding.

"Well, Strother, my boy, how are you off for money?" "Why Professor," I answered, "I am sorry to say I have been disappointed; but I expect a remittance next week." "Next week," he repeated sadly; "I shall be dead by that time." "Dead, sir?" "Yes, dead of starvation." "I was distressed and astonished. I said hurriedly, 'Would ten dollars be of any service?'" "Ten dollars would save my life; that is all that it would do." "I paid the money, all that I had, and we dined together. It was a modest meal, but good, and after we had finished he said: "This is my first meal for twenty-four hours. Strother, don't be an artist. It means beggary. Your life is dependent upon people who nothing of your art, and care nothing for you. A house-dog lives better, and the very sensitiveness that stimulates him to work, keeps him alive to suffering."

Sec. 6 provides for similar remedies against the property of defendants in common law causes in the circuit and district courts, by attachment or other process, as are provided by the laws of the state in which the court is held, upon furnishing similar affidavits or proofs. PRELIMINARY INJUNCTIONS. Sec. 7 provides for the allowance of preliminary injunctions, with or without security, in the discretion of the district or circuit court or judge thereof. But no such application shall be heard or allowed by any justice of the Supreme Court except within his circuit or at some outside place stipulated by the parties, except where the application cannot be heard by the circuit or district judge.

A great many Senators, sensible of the needs of the time, are rather glad than otherwise, that their secrets do get out. In fact, by a sort of passive policy, they oftentimes greatly assist and immensely benefit the country in the procurement of essential news. Numerous stories are related of the passive policy as applied, one of which I will give. A year or two ago a momentous question was before the Senate, and the utmost secrecy was observed regarding it. Correspondents were in distress over it. It seemed impossible to get at the facts, until at length one more determined than the rest called at the residence of a well-known Senator, and stating the exigencies of the case, begged the favor of the honorable gentleman's assistance. It was in the senator's library, and no third party was present. "Very well, sir," said Mr. —; "I see you are anxious to get at the document. Do you see that safe in the corner?"

When he returned the correspondent saw it. "Well, sir," proceeded the Senator, with dignity, "that safe this morning contained it." "And the key?" Puget Sound Dispatch.

Vol. 1. No. 34. BERTH BROWN, EDITOR. Seattle, Thursday, July 18, 1872.

Union Victory!

The nomination of Horace Greeley by the Democratic Convention at Baltimore, is the grandest Union victory which has been achieved since the civil war commenced.

The nomination of Horace Greeley—more than any other living man entitled to the designation of Father of the Republican party—by the unanimous choice of his life-long party enemies, including the subjugated and proscribed people of the South, reverses the policy of the party in power and promises a restoration of the old bonds of Union.

The Malicious Slanderer Again

The black mail press of this city renews its volent and malicious assault upon the private and professional character of Col. Larrabee, in the longest and most elaborate article which ever appeared in the editorial columns of that paper, repeating and magnifying all its previous calumnies, which we had refuted by the public records, and positively asserting that Col. Larrabee was himself the author of the article in this paper in his own vindication.

But it is enough to say that the question as to whom the wife's half belongs was precipitated by the affidavit of the first wife's decease, which was of record for many years, and was decided by the Commissioner upon his own motion by his letter of July 21st, 1871.

contempt for slyster practices; his pride of position, and his proverbial generosity; we did not believe that he would consent to engage in any scheme to defraud or oppress any one through the chicanery of the law, for any consideration of personal profit, and we have learned nothing in the present case to change that opinion.

He also proposed, and has repeatedly renewed the proposition, to make such division as would secure every settler and occupant of any of the land included in the claim to a full title to the same. Upon the hearing before the Land Officers the East half was awarded to Lydia and upon this half there is not a settler, a substantial improvement of any kind, an acre held but for speculative purposes, and but two parties in this city any way interested—the heirs of the Terry estate and Mr. Maclear—both of whom purchased from Catharine Maynard for the purpose of selling again, and these are the only parties represented by Mr. McNaught in the appeal taken from the decision of the Land Officers.

These are all the material facts upon which Col. Larrabee is denounced through columns of vituperative balderdash, as conspiring to rob the people of Seattle of their "hard-earned possessions," in a case which is yet to be determined by the law and the facts, and not by newspaper discussions. The Intelligencer has thrust itself into this matter as into every other personal controversy which has arisen in the community, merely to levy contributions upon one of the parties or to gratify a malicious and meddling disposition, and there is scarcely an enterprise or a leading business man in the community which or who has not at one time or another been the object of its malicious assaults, directly or covertly.

defend men who have been unjustly as sailed, and publish all matters of public interest free from personal or party bias. It is true, Col. Larrabee purchased the material upon which this paper is printed but he did not purchase the editor, nor does he assume to exercise any control over its editorial conduct.

Vicarious Responsibility.

"With the dog," says one: "What cur is that?" says another: "Whip him out," says a third: "Hang him up," says the Duke. I having been acquainted with the smell, knew it was Crab; and goes me to the fellow that whips the dog: "Friend," quoth I, "you mean to whip the dog?" "Ay, marry, do I," quoth he. "You do him the more wrong," quoth I: "I did the thing you wot of," he makes no more ado, but whips me out of the chamber.

GREELY IN NEW YORK.—The following is an extract from a letter from a leading business man and old Republican in New York, to a gentleman in this city under date July 1:

"Politics are beginning to run high in favor of Greeley. As soon as the Baltimore Convention speaks for him, which it is bound to do, you will see the greatest stampede from the Grant party that was ever known from a party in this country."

SEATTLE COAL.—Coal from Seattle is being largely shipped to San Francisco. The Company expect to supply that market regularly, running about 130 tons a day to their wharf at Seattle.

MORE SOLDIERS' BOUNTIES.—We are indebted to Senator Carpenter for a copy of the act of congress, approved in April last, which we reprint below, for the benefit of those who may be interested:

That every volunteer, non-commissioned officer, private, musician and artificer, who enlisted into the military service of the United States prior to July 22d, 1861, under the proclamation of the United States of May 3d, 1861, and the orders of the War Department issued in pursuance thereof, and was actually mustered before August 6th, 1861, into any regiment, company, or battery, which was accepted by the War Department under such proclamation and orders, shall be paid the full bounty of $100, under and by virtue of the said proclamation and orders of the War Department, in force at the time of such enlistment and prior to July 22d, 1861: Provided, That the same has not already been paid.

lines of travel, and what is significant, that the majority of those thus expressing themselves are Republicans.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

Seattle, Thursday, July 18, 1874.

SOLDIERS' UNION.—We are informed that the preliminary steps have been taken towards the formation of a society to be composed of officers and men of the Union Army, who are residing at Seattle and other Sound Ports.

Mr. D. Horton has purchased the interest of his former partner in the banking firm of Phillips, Horton & Co.

Another new store is being erected on Mill street adjoining the furniture store of Anderson & Hopkins.

The Small Pox scare has passed away and travel on the Sound boats has been resumed. There was but a single death, and but three other cases of a mild form. Portland papers that have published sensational articles upon the subject calculated to prevent travel towards the Sound are requested to make a note of the fact that the quarantine has been raised at Victoria and all along shore.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Sunday afternoon, an Indian boy passing near the ferry on the Dawamish, near the race course, saw the ferry man, Henry Smith, holding on to his boat with the blood running out of his mouth. In a few moments he fell down and the boy went for help. Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Smith went to the place pointed out by the boy, but when they reached there life was extinct. Dr. J. Settle, the Coroner held an inquest on the body on Monday, and found that the deceased was a native of Sweden, aged about 45 years and that he came to his death by bleeding from the lungs.

BODY FOUND.—On Sunday morning last, the body of Timothy Dillon, drowned from the Steamer Comet on the 3d of July, was found in White River, about half a mile from where he fell overboard. An inquest was held by Recorder Perkins, in the absence of the Coroner, and the funeral was held in this city on Monday.

Charles Woods, Esq., the efficient Superintendent of the Port Discovery Mills, was in town last week. Mr. W. was here to charter vessels to carry lumber from his mills. He reports the lumber trade as improving rapidly.

The numerous friends of our fellow-citizen Jas. Crawford, Esq., are glad to see that he has returned from his Eastern trip with renewed health.—Mr. C. says Seattle is the liveliest place he has seen yet, and that the pure bracing climate of the Sound is in marked contrast with the fervid heat of the Atlantic Slope.

FAILURE.—An attempt to raise the San Juan-Lopez Island cable failed—it broke in two when half raised—and Superintendent Lamb returned to the city yesterday.

The foundation of Mr. Robbins' handsome residence is nearly completed. This building when completed will rival the finest structures of San Francisco.

We are pleased to learn that the University is to be placed upon a first-rate footing at an early day.

The bark Jenny Pitts, Capt. Blinn, arrived at Seattle on the 12th inst, after a good passage of 18 days. Crawford & Harrington Consignees.

Freight List—Stone & Burnett, 371 pkgs.; Schwabacher Bros. & Co., 424; Crawford & Harrington, 138; A. & O., 132; Seattle Coal Co., 101; R. S. H., 28; N. & M. 30; W. M., 26; T. H. S., 17; L. & H., 14; John Collins 13; S. P. & Co., 16; A. & H., 6; Rev. Bagley 1; T. S. Russell, 3; John Sullivan, 2; S. Crichton, 4; Smeigs & Brown, 1; Olympia merchants, 137; Stealacom, 5; Port Gamble, 23; Seabeck, 96; Port Townsend, 16.

The Jenny Pitts will either load with Seattle coal or with lumber at Port Discovery.

DR. ABOBN AT PORTLAND.—Dr. Aborn will be at his apartments, corner of 3d and Morrison streets, Portland, Oregon, from the 12th of July until the 12th of August.

DR. ABOBN'S SECOND VISIT TO SEATTLE.—Dr. Aborn, Oculist, Aurist and Physician for chronic diseases, late of San Francisco and Portland, hereby informs the people who reside at the various towns along Puget Sound and vicinity, that he will make another visit to Seattle, at the request of many influential citizens in that region, who either neglected or were unable to consult him during his brief visit to that place in June last. The Doctor will be at the Occidental Hotel, Seattle, from the 15th of August until the 1st of September.

NO CHARGE FOR CONSULTATION.

DR. ABOBN WILL BE AT HIS APARTMENTS corner Third and Morrison streets, Portland, from the 10th of July until the 12th of August.

Remarkable Cure of Deafness. SEATTLE, June 26th, 1874.

To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: I hereby certify that I have been under the treatment of Dr. Aborn for deafness and that he has almost entirely restored my hearing. I had been quite deaf for over twenty years, and in one ear had not heard the tick of a watch for the above time: and the second day after he commenced treatment, I could hear very plain, and I feel like a new man. JOHN WEBSTER.

A boat-club has been formed by a number of our citizens—with Judge Jacobs as President—a fine sailboat purchased and boat house fitted up. A challenge to a regatta on Dwanish Bay will be sent to the Sports at Olympia and Victoria.

Telegraphic

BALTIMORE, July 10.—The National Democratic State Convention assembled at 1 o'clock to day. Helman, of New York, presented a petition from 15,000 Germans of New York, which was read by the Secretary. It recommended the nomination of Greeley and Brown, and expressed the belief that they will receive the hearty support of Germans, regardless of party affiliations, as the best nominations that can be made.

Greeley and Brown were then nominated on the first ballot. The announcement of the nomination was received with enthusiastic cheers. The first ballot resulted as follows: Greeley, 686; J. H. Bayard, 15; J. S. Black, 15. Greeley's nomination was made unanimous. The vote for Vice President resulted as follows: Brown, 713; Stevenson, of Kentucky, 6. The nomination of Brown was made unanimous.

CHICAGO, July 10.—The nomination of Greeley and Brown at Baltimore created but little comment here, as the result was anticipated. The Times editorially announces its abhorrence of its former position, and declares that it will not support Greeley, though it will work for the Liberal State ticket, and use similar exertions for Congressional representation.

The Tribune hails the result as a proud triumph of love of country over partisan prejudices and personal preferences, and declares it a final blow to the opposition. LOUISVILLE, July 10.—The nomination of Greeley and Brown is received here by Democrats with general satisfaction.

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—The Democrats had an immense ratification to-night, and a salute of 100 guns was fired.—Frank Blair said the Democrats had signalized themselves by the noblest sacrifice ever made. The acts of Grant had justified predictions made by the speaker in 1868. He was followed by Colonel H. W. Hatch, a Confederate officer.

SPRINGFIELD, June 10.—A national salute was fired in honor of the nominations, and an impromptu ratification meeting held to-night, and was addressed by Senator Traubull and others.

NEW ORLEANS, July 10.—An enthusiastic meeting was held in Lafayette Square, with a torchlight procession, and addresses.

CINCINNATI, July 10.—The Courier, German Republic, will come out for Grant.—Greeley being the Democratic candidate.

The Volksfreund will support Greeley. LEAVENWORTH, July 10.—One hundred guns were fired in honor of the nominations. A large ratification is in progress.

MEMPHIS, July 10.—The Appeal and Avalanche has suspended. Large Greeley flags are stretched across the streets and clubs are arranging for a ratification meeting.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Times of to-day says by the action at Baltimore, Greeley becomes the Democratic candidate, and that as such he should receive no Republican votes. That not all the Democrats will support him and he can have no claim on Republican or independent voters.

The World says: "We bow to the decision of the Democratic National Convention, and loyally accept Greeley as the Democratic candidate for President. In reference to any organized bolt, it adds that there will be none, but if hundreds of thousands of dissatisfied Democrats stay away from the polls, the re-election of Grant would be a foregone certainty.

According to a Washington special dispatch, Mr. Sumner yesterday promised the Committee of Liberal Republicans to give active aid to the Greeley ticket during the campaign. Ex-Vice President Breckinridge, who was in town yesterday, expressed himself in favor of Greeley.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—The Democratic State Central Committee has been in session to-day at 326 Montgomery street. The Greeley headquarters and the Executive Committee will meet this evening. There are rumors that there will be a Greeley campaign daily paper started immediately. The Committee are evidently organizing for an active campaign.

EUREKA, Nev., July 11.—The announcement of the nomination of Greeley and Brown created a profound sensation in this community. The Democrats and many of the conservative Republicans will give the ticket a most earnest support. There will be a grand rally on Saturday evening to ratify the nominations. Hon. Frank Lord and other speakers will address the meeting.

and occupied the stand twenty minutes with a lively and enthusiastic speech. E. N. Swarthout, Dr. Spencer and Thos. Bradley follow in a few pointed remarks, when the meeting adjourned.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., July 11.—A Greeley-Brown ratification meeting was held here to-night. A Greeley Club was formed, 100 guns fired and the town illuminated with bonfires.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Speech of Doolittle to-day, notifying Greeley of the Baltimore nomination, was quite brief and formal; after which he introduced the members of the committee individually. Greeley spoke as follows: I should need time were I to attempt to reply fully and fully to this important and I need not say gratifying communication. It may be that I should reply in writing, but as I have addressed a letter, which has been pretty widely considered, to the Liberal Republican Convention, it may not be necessary. I can only say now that I accept your nomination in the same spirit in which it is offered.

(Cheers.) I am at present in a position which many doubtless regard as a proud one, but which is to me an embarrassing one, because it involves the temporary, annoyance of misconception of my motives on the part of some valued and life-long friends. I am confident that time alone is necessary to vindicate my motives to all, and to convince all indeed of the patriotism of the course I am pursuing and intended to pursue long before I was assured of so much cooperation and sympathy. (Cheers.) The time will come I hope in good opportunity when the world will see you are no less Democrats because you have pursued the course you have, and that I am no less Republican because I accept your nomination. (Cheers.) [Here Mr. Greeley's voice faltered with emotion; but soon recovered himself, and continued.] I am not much in the habit of receiving nominations for the Presidency. (Great laughter.) I am in consequence unable to reply as readily and fluently as others might. (Renewed laughter.) I can only say I shall be happy to see all of you, or at least as many of you as can come, at my humble farmer home, where I shall be tomorrow, and where I shall be able to converse and confer more fully than here.

NEW YORK, July 13.—The Jury in Stokes' trial retired at 2:30 P. M. and returned at 5 P. M. to ask for all of Fisk's clothes, which request was granted at 7 P. M. They were sent for and there being no prospect of agreeing the Court took a recess until 10 to-morrow. It is understood too, that 8 of the jurors were for murder in the first degree and four for manslaughter.

DETROIT, July 13.—The fire at Alfena last night was one of the most destructive which ever visited any little town in the State. Every house in town was wooden and although all the fire engines were on the ground, all their efforts to stay the progress of the fire were unavailing until three half blocks in the business part of the town were destroyed. The saddest feature was the loss of life, Mrs. Westbrook, a milliner, was burned to death in the street, in front of her store, though every effort was made to save her.

Her son George in endeavoring to save her was burned so badly that he died to-day. The remains of two others, supposed to be men were found in the ruins to-day. A Sailor named Kelly, and J. R. Westly, engineer, were so badly burned it is doubtful if they will recover. Alfena contains over twenty mills, which are the main stay of the place. None of them were burned.

RENO, July 14.—During a thunder storm yesterday afternoon, a cloud burst between Verdi and Reno, on the Central Pacific Railroad, tearing away and covering the track for nearly a quarter of a mile. The train due at midnight had not arrived.

Whist.

Here are some valuable rules laid down in a work recently published, entitled "The Theory of the Modern Game of Whist."

If you the modern game of whist would know, from this great principle its precepts flow. Treat your own hand as to your partner's joint. And play not one alone, but both combined.

In this, with ace and king, lead king; then ace with king and queen, king also has first place. With ace, queen, knave, lead ace, and then the queen.

When you return your partner's lead, take pains to lead him back the best hand contains. If you receive more than three at first, if you had more you may return the fourth.

When you want to lead, or seldom wrong to lead up to the weak, or through the strong. In second hand your lowest should be played. Unless you mean "trump signal" to be made.

When you discard, weak suits you ought to choose. For strong ones are too valuable to lose. Prescribing for Infants.—The following sensible hints on this subject are from a lecture by Prof. J. O'Reilly published in the American Practitioner for April 1875.

In quite a number of infantile diseases the stomach is very capricious, and to keep it quiet is one of our greatest troubles. This difficulty is often caused by the attendant not understanding the difference between hunger and thirst.

Medicine should be given to infants in small but often-repeated doses. The interval should be only half as long as that for the adult. The reason for this is that the digestive organs of the infant act much more rapidly than those of the adult, and a medicine to have its effect kept up must be supplied in accordance with its entrance into and disappearance from the system.

Antidote for Poisoned Oak.—As many are wending their way to picnics about these times and the instances are not few where children and adults get poisoned, we publish from the Autocrat Ledger, which flourishes in the midst of this vegetable poison, the following remedy for poisoning by oak, ivy, etc.

White Specks in Butter.—"A Reader" asks why white specks come in the butter. There are several causes. One is too quick churning, which leaves many butter globules unbroken, the skins of which consists of caseine, or cheesy matter, and are left in the butter, but these are very minute, and are scarcely seen, though they are soon smelt.

How to Use Tallow Scraps.—A further has a quantity of tallow scraps which he is trying to decompose for manure, but they are insufferably offensive and he proposes to mix them with lime; how will that answer?—Very badly for the manure, and his sense of smell.

Apple Cakes.—An Apple Cake (Lizette, 562, A. H. B.) owned by Pennsylvania, is said, by her owner, to have given in seven consecutive days in March 27 1/2 pounds of milk, from which was made 14 pounds 14 ounces of butter; he fed was hay and two quarts of oats and corn-meal per day.

Pratties in Haste.—Sometimes an emergency arises when an extra dish is required, and the eggs can not be found or the hens are sitting and no eggs can be had. To one quart of flour add one measure of Horsford's Baking Powder or its equivalent in cream-tar and soda.

Indian Cake.—Two cups flour, two cups Indian meal, one measure Horsford's baking powder, half a cup of white sugar, and four table-spoons of melted butter, salt, and milk to make a rather thin batter. Bake in a quick oven.

Valuable Timber Lands for Sale.—The following lands are offered for sale by order of the BOARD OF REGENTS of the Territorial University of Washington Territory:

JAS. R. ROBBINS, Wholesale Dealer in Foreign and Domestic Wines, Brandy, Whiskies, Etc., No. 15 Commercial Street, Seattle, W. T.
