The Pending Issues.

The issues pending in the present Presidential canvass, and to be determined by the election, were succinctly stated by Hon. James R. Doolittle, on taking the chair as President of the Baltimore Convention. Mr. Doolittle was one of the founders of the Republican party; one of the Delegates from New York who withdrew from the Baltimore Convention of 1848, on the nomination of Gen. Cass, and gave his support to Mr. Van Buren as the "Free Soil" candidate, and subsequently represented Wisconsin in the United States Senate from 1857 to 1869 as a Republican, commanding the confidence and respect of all, not more for his acknowledged ability as a statesman than for his strict integrity in public and private life. He was among the most intimate and trusted friends of Mr. Lincoln during the war, and like all the ablest and best of Mr. Lincoln's constitutional and confidential advisers—including Davis, Samner, Trumbull, Browning, Chase, Welles and others—he was thrust aside by the adventurers, pot-house politicians and time-servers who came into power with Grant's Administration and now represent the Grant party in the name of the emancipated Republican party. As a man of incorruptible integrity of life and purpose, as one of the most distinguished and honored of the Republican leaders, as the trusted friend and adviser of President Lincoln; and as one who has subordinated party to country; when he raises his voice against the abuses of party to the success of which he devoted the full tribute of his genius and the best energies of his life, his words are entitled to our most serious consideration. Mr. Doolittle said:

Gentlemen, what means this great rising movement which you everywhere see? What means this proposed union of three millions of Democratic Republicans with a million, it may be, of Republicans? What means this nution upon a common platform, and this proposed union upon the same candidates—a union so sudden, so compact, so earnest as to surprise its friends and to confound its enemies? [Applause.] Which comes as the winds come; which, to borrow a figure, overwhirls the ordinary currents of public opinion, as the great storms always run counter to the surface currents? What means all this?
 There are some things, gentlemen, it does not mean. It means no abandonment of what is true, of what is just, of what is good in human government. [Applause.] It means no union for the spoils of office [applause], but it means a union of men with the same faith upon the great and paramount issues of the present hour—a frank, manly, honorable, and equal union of men who have the sagacity to see, and the moral courage to accept, the situation.
 [Cries of "Good!" "Good!" and loud cheering.] It means a union of men who have the sagacity to see what is past, and to deal with the issues of the present, and for the future to do their duty to their country, their God, and their fellow-men. [Applause.] The issue of to-day is not the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, nor the question of slavery in the Territories, upon which alone the Republican party was organized in 1856. It is not upon that which followed, when the Lecompton Constitution for Kansas divided the Democratic party in twain and elected Abraham Lincoln to the Presidency in 1860. It is not the question of secession, nor of war to put down rebellion; nor the authority of slavery in the States by military order, or by constitutional amendment, upon which Mr. Lincoln was re-elected in 1864; nor yet is it the question of reconstruction, or of the Fourteenth or Fifteenth amendment; nor the question of negro suffrage; nor of the establishment by Federal power of universal suffrage as a condition precedent to the States of the South having any rights, or any existence even, as States in the Union. It is none of these questions that are now at issue. All these have been issues in the past—great issues, sufficient in themselves to create and to dissolve political parties; because ideas are stronger than men or parties. But they are all past issues. They have been fought out and fought to the end, in the forum or in the field, and they are no more in issue to-day than the Mexican war, or the war of the rebellion. [Applause.] We could not reopen them if we would, and they falsely misrepresent our purposes who say that we would reopen them if we could.— [Loud cheering.]

And gentlemen, for our whole country, East, West, North, and South, it means, instead of a war President, trained only in a military school, and whose whole character has been formed in the ideas, arts, habits, and despotism of military life—instead of this, it means a peace President [cheers], trained in the ideas, arts, blessings, and republican simplicity of peace and universal freedom [loud cheers]; of peace not enchained, of liberty not under arrest awaiting trial, sentence, and execution by drum-head court-martial, but that liberty and that peace which the Constitution secures by placing the civil law above the sword [loud applause]; by preserving in full vigor the sacred writ of habeas corpus, and by the right of trial by jury. [Applause.]

It means another thing, and perhaps the most important of them all—it means to arrest the centralization of power in the Federal Government.— [Loud cheering.] It means to arrest the vital principle of our republican system, in which it lives, and moves, and has its very being, that constitutions are made by the people in their sovereign capacity for the express purpose of retaining and limiting the powers of government [applause], power of all government, State or national. It means that we are determined that Presidents and Governors, Congress and State Legislatures, and every Department of the Government, shall obey the Constitution.— [Prolonged applause.] It means also a genuine Civil Service reform, beginning with the Presidential office. [Applause.] It means to put an end forever to certain practices which have grown up with this Administration, which have driven so many of the ablest Republicans to join this Liberal movement and which have deeply wounded the hearts of all Republicans, as well as Democrats, in this country.—[applause]—practices which never existed under any other Administration; which are but too well known to all the world, and which our nation's good reputation will be best consulted by not even naming. [Cheers.] It means, also, to give strength and stability to our financial affairs and our national credit by bringing honesty and economy and fidelity to every position, Federal, State, and municipal, where public moneys are collected. [Cheers.] It means, also, the honest payment of all our obligations. [Renewed applause.] It means to give higher tone and greater vigor to the administration of our foreign and domestic affairs, so as to command the respect and the confidence of our own people and of all the civilized world. It means to place the highest officers of our Government men of whom all the world will say, "They are honest and they are capable." [Applause.] Gentlemen, I have thus briefly stated the situation, the duties, and the purpose which bring us here—A great responsibility rests upon this Convention. If its action shall be such (and I doubt not it will be) as to put an end to the misrule which for the last few years has afflicted our beloved country, this generation, and generations to come after us, will remember with pride and gratitude the Convention at Baltimore of the 9th of July, 1872.

Horace Greeley.
 Horace Greeley has been selected as a candidate for office because of his personal integrity, because of his familarity with the history of his country, his personal knowledge of its legislation and of its policies; because of the honesty which he brings to the consideration of every national question. He has been selected because of his personal ability and his mental capacity to comprehend the duties of the high office. He makes no claim to the office.
 He does not pretend that he ought to be elected because of any prescriptive right, nor as a matter of contrast, nor by purchase, nor yet as an inheritance. No person has offered him a quarter of a million of dollars in cash and property, nor has he demanded that this should be paid over to him in addition to his salary. He has not stipulated that he shall be re-elected, and that he shall receive $200,000 for eight years' salary. He has not consented to be a candidate under a pledge of renomination or re-election. He has not offered to withdraw if paid the next four years' salary in cash before so doing. In fact, he has not sought the office as a matter of pecuniary gain, either for himself or his family. He seeks it, as every other President except Grant has sought it, with the purpose of doing what he could to promote the welfare and honor of his country, and to preserve the peace and union of the whole American people.

Horace Greeley is a candidate supported by those who believe that the administration of the Government should be conducted by statesmen having a knowledge of the affairs of Government, who are not office-holders for personal profit; by those who think that efficiency and honesty should be restored to the public service; that unjust and unnecessary taxation should be abolished; that all adventurers should be driven from place; that the political equality of all men should be established and enforced; that the military should be superseded by the civil authority; that the National Government should attend to its own affairs, leaving the people to manage their Local Governments for themselves; that the war being over, peace and union, harmony and order, should exist in all parts of the country; that industry may prosper and enjoy full remuneration for its labor.
 These are the two men, one of whom is to be chosen, in November next, the President of the United States.—Chicago Tribune.

The English papers cordially welcome the nomination of Grant and Wilson, and are bitterly hostile to Greeley and Brown. The fact is of little import, except as showing how English sympathies tend. The Times is not very complimentary to either Grant or the American people, when it says: "Gen. Grant's negligence and nepotism may be flagrant; but the moral sense of the nation is not high enough to discharge him from office on that account!"

THE EFFECT OF CLIMATE ON CHARAC-TER.—A writer of the British Quarterly Review says: It is very bright now, without the slightest fog or haziness in the atmosphere. This, however, as lately discovered, is not considered an advantage by everybody. For, a few days ago, a rather eccentric old fellow we had here, an Englishman, called to see my brother, and met with an acquaintance, who, in the course of conversation, asked him how he liked Paris.
 "To tell you a good deal in a few words," he answered, "I don't like the climate." "No!" said his friend; "why we are in the midst of November, and have clear, bright sunshine, while I hear from home that London is wrapped in its usual gloom and fog." "I am not one of those who find fault with that," answered the gentleman. "It's the right thing at this time of the year; and if they had a little more of it in this country, it would be a good thing for reason. You may depend upon it, that a reasonable degree of weight in the atmosphere steadies the brain, and that we Englishmen owe much of our solid good sense, our respect for God and His Majesty, and the laws of the land, to the fact that I call it the sedateness of our climate. Now, I've been ten days in this country, and I should be sorry to stay in it ten more. For I notice that the kind of thin, light, and I'll even say dippant sort of air you get here makes men light-headed. It is like Democratic Convention.

The Kalama Beacon gives currency to a rumor that a Democratic Territorial Convention will be held in that city for the nomination of a candidate for Delegate to Congress, the nomination of Judge McFadden having relapsed in consequence of the postponement of the election from June till November.

The fight is a good one as it stands. We want no more of party in this Territory; no more of ring combinations to defeat the popular will through the instrumentality of party caucus; no more the use of public offices as rewards for party services to unscrupulous politicians.

The uprising of the people through the length and breadth of the country which has no parallel in the civil commotions which have preceded it—is simply a popular protest against party and its abuses.

The undersigned committee appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the feelings of the Lodge on the death of Bro. J. L. EMERY, respectfully submit the following: WHEREAS, It has pleased our supreme Grand Master to remove our worthy Brother J. L. EMERY, a member of this Lodge, from his sphere of usefulness here below to that better Lodge on high.

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Emery this Lodge has lost one of its pillars of strength; the fraternity has lost a zealous Mason and the community a moral, honorable and useful member.

Resolved, That while we submit to this afflicting dispensation of Divine Providence, we offer the bereaved relations our heartfelt sympathies in their hour of trouble, and commending the orphan children to Him who tempers the wind to the shorn lamb, believing that He in His wisdom doeth all things well.

Resolved, That the Lodge be draped in mourning and the members wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions under the Seal of Franklin Lodge No. 5, be sent to the relations of the deceased, and also published in the Puget Sound Dispatch. Signed, A. S. MILLER, A. D. GARTON, O. HALL, Committee.

N. P. R. R. Surveys. Col. Morris, Chief Engineer of the Pacific Division arrived in this city from the Skagit Pass on Thursday last. We have no doubt, from the vigorous manner in which the surveys are being pushed, that all the engineering problems West of the Rocky Mountains will be solved by the first of October.

Consistency.—The most zealous, and unquestionably the most able supporter of the Grant party in Oregon, is our old friend James O'Meara, whose paper was suppressed by military authority during the war, for "giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

Was He a Rebel?—Among the most blatant of the henchmen of the Grant party is John A. Logan of Illinois. But a short time ago he was talked of as a possible candidate for the Presidency, to be nominated by the Liberal Republicans; but speedily discovering that others had the inside track, he renewed his allegiance to Grant and is now one of his most contemptible sycophants.

Yes, and this same Logan went to Richmond towards the last of April, 1861, and proposed to join the Southern army if Jeff. Davis would make him a Major General. Davis refusing he returned, raised a regiment in Southern Illinois and was made Major General of the Union Army by Lincoln.

It is just such unscrupulous adventurers as this that the election of Horace Greeley will forever squelch.

ington, by Congressman Beck, one of the committee on Southern outrages, it appears that the monstrous sum of $223,000 has been sent to the United States Marshal of North Carolina which in the last sixty days, $40,000 of which was shipped less than ten days ago.—This is, of course, simply an immense electioneering fund to corrupt the vote of the ignorant and debased portion of the population, which is very large.

Allen Warden who was a Lincoln Presidential elector in 1864, and a Grant elector in 1868, has announced himself a supporter of Greeley.

The Retail Trade Will be supplied at the very lowest rates. Especial attention is called to our JUNE PRICES.

The Seattle Market will remain open until 10 o'clock Saturday evenings, giving every person a chance to procure their Sunday needs, after which it will be closed until Monday morning.

Having disposed of our Port Townsend Market, we shall in future give our entire attention to the interests of Seattle and the wants of her citizens in our line of business, trusting that by so doing we shall merit their continued patronage and good will.

BOOTH, FOSS & BORST, Proprietors.

CARD. WE TAKE PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING to the public the return of Mr. THOMAS MURPHY to our employment. He will be remembered as the person who gave our house such an enviable reputation, last fall, for having a choice quality of small goods of all descriptions, consisting of Bolognese Sausage, Pork Sausage, Beef Sausage, German Sausage, Summer Sausage, Liver Puddings, Black Puddings, Saveloys, Tripe, Head Cheese, etc.

As there has always existed in the minds of many persons, and more especially the ladies, a sort of antipathy in regard to the manufacture of these small goods by butchers, the public, and of course the ladies, are very respectfully invited to visit our sausage apartment and witness the modus operandi of making these goods. Mr. Murphy will be found in this apartment, always willing to give any information desired in regard to his trade.

BOOTH, FOSS & BORST, Seattle Market, Seattle, May 20, 1872.

NOTICE To the Merchants of Puget Sound: ON THE FIRST INST. WE HAD SHIPPED to our address from the well known Packing House of Thomas J. Bigger, Kansas City, Missouri, TWENTY THOUSAND POUNDS of cured Meats, consisting in part of Breakfast Bacon, Heavy Bacon, Sugar Cured Hams, Barrelled Pork, etc.

We receive these meats direct from first hands by the car load, and hence will supply the trade at San Francisco jobbing rates. We also give notice that we have ordered from this popular house, a large stock of Pure Leaf Lard, in packages of 5lb to 10lb each, which we sell at the trade at the same rates.

We have made arrangements with this House for supplies of any magnitude which the trade of the Sound will warrant, our object being to establish a Wholesale Mart here for these and other articles of Eastern manufacture in our line, instead of having to import to California and Oregon for them.

Being permanently located at Seattle, at most central point on the Sound for distribution, having fitted up rooms suitable for our business in all its branches, and especially with view of establishing this trade, we can assure the public that we shall maintain this enterprise against all foreign competition.

As merchants are not usually prepared with suitable rooms for keeping this class of merchandise, we have secured a large stock of quantities to suit, on very short notice, thereby obviating the necessity of keeping a large stock on hand for their trade, besides saving the expense of transportation and keeping, and the use of means necessarily invested.

Our stock will arrive on or about the first of July, (no previous arrivals) at which time we respectfully solicit your patronage.

BOOTH, FOSS & BORST, Seattle, June 13, 1872.

Business during the week has been moderate. The retail dealers report larger sales than last year at this time; but during the months of July and August a large trade is not expected. In the wholesale line business has been good; our large houses, Schwabacher Bros. & Co., Stone & Burnett, and Crawford & Harrington, are continually increasing their outside trade.

The Coal Company are taking out some 90 tons per day. The demand is such that they have not been able to fill it. The Seattle Mill, under the superior management of Mr. Coleman is running its full capacity, they have a large amount of lumber on the docks waiting ships to take it to San Francisco.

The N. Y. World of July 10th says: The sale of Northern Pacific 7-30 gold bonds has doubled the present month, and great activity is observable in all departments of the road.

The bark Windward arrived at this city on Wednesday, the 24th inst. The following is her correct freight list, 774 pkgs. for Schwabacher Bros. & Co., having been dropped from the list as published in the Intelligence:

Schwabacher Bros. & Co., 774 pkgs.; Lord & Hall, 24; W. T. Stone & Burnett, 421; T. A. Wright, 2; T. S. Russell, 1; J. A. Woodward, 8; T. S. Russell & Co., 2; S. C. & Co., 40; M. R. Madocks, 8; and sundry 715. Olympia—L. & B. B., 32 pkgs.; S. W. P., 35; and J. H., 3. Steilacoom R. & Co., 45 pkgs.; J. L., 15 and C. M., 15. Port Townsend—C. C. Bartlett, 42 pkgs.

Judge Jacobs returned from holding the Steilacoom term last week, and informs us there were no cases of importance before the Court.

The firm of Bothchild & Co., of Port Townsend has been dissolved, by the retiring of Charles Fecheimer. Charlie is not only one of the best business men on the Coast but a man of popular address, whom we should be glad to welcome to Seattle.

CRUELTY AT SEA.—We listened a short time, on Saturday last, to the testimony before D. S. Smith, Court Commissioner, in the case of the United States against the second mate of the ship Sampson, for assault with a deadly weapon upon the high seas. The facts were all concurred in by the witnesses and admitted by the prisoner. A few days out from Calao, the first mate approached a sailor engaged in "reeving a ratlin" and asked him in a violent manner if he called that a ratlin. The sailor replied that he thought it would hold, though he was not much of a sailor. "What did you ship for then, you d-d loafer?" exclaimed the mate. The sailor said he shipped for work, and he had not loafed on the ship. The mate then struck him in the face and kicked at his abdomen, when the sailor drew his sheath-knife and told him he would cut him if he kicked him again. The mate then seized an iron bar and approached the sailor, but fearing the knife, he ran to the cabin and returned with a revolver; the second mate in the mean time had knocked the man down and taken his knife from him and stabbed him in the back with it. The first mate coming up while the man was down, struck him on the head with the revolver, inflicting a severe wound. The Captain witnessed the affray without interfering. The sailor was disabled for the balance of the voyage and not expected to recover. On arriving at Port Blakely last week he was just able to walk with one side paralyzed and still suffering from the wound in his head. Warrants were issued for the arrest of both the mates, but the first mate escaped and has not yet been caught. The second mate was bound over for trial at the next term of the Court, which commences on Monday next. The first mate, who commenced the fracas, was represented by all the witnesses as a morose tyrant, who never smiled, and punished the sailors for laughing. Such officers always make bad crews, while good masters almost invariably make good men of their sailors. It is due to the man under arrest to say that this was the only difficulty he had with the men during the voyage; that he was not present when the fracas commenced, and that he rushed into the m-lee had attacked the first mate with a knife.

The Bar of the Sound region will suffer a marked loss in the removal of Judge Denison to Portland.

ENCOUNTER WITH DESPERADOES.

—On Monday night Theodore O. Williams, Sheriff of Kits p county, with a posse of five men went to Eagle Harbor, about nine miles from this place for the purpose of capturing Wm. Brown and Frank Shipley for whom the authorities of British Columbia have offered a reward of $250, and who for the past year have been committing outrages and robberies on the Sound and in British Columbia. The Sheriff reached the Harbor about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning. They found the robbers with two clootchnen in a shanty which they surrounded and waited until daylight. About six o'clock Brown made his appearance with a gun in his hand. One of the Sheriff's party commanded him to surrender. Brown refused and drew up his gun to fire when the Sheriff's party fired. The ball took effect as one of the clootchnen afterwards informed the Sheriff. Brown then took refuge in the house. The Sheriff's posse was not strong enough to surround the house and the robbers escaped by way of the chimney, and took to the woods. The Sheriff and three of his party then started for Port Blakely, but Mr. Robt. Impitt went by another trail on which he met Shipley who fired several shots two of which took effect on Mr. Impitt, one in the shoulder and the other in the arm. Mr. Impitt returned the fire and thinks he struck the desperado who took to the brush. Owing to the thickness of the brush he made his escape although both robbers are supposed to be badly wounded. The people of Port Blakely offer a reward of $300 for them dead or alive. A part of the Sheriff's party is still in pursuit and hope to capture them. Mr. Impitt was brought over to this city on Tuesday and had his wounds dressed by Dr. Maynard and although they are not dangerous are quite severe.

There are cheering signs that the Olympia people have at last decided to help themselves—ignis fatuus of the terminus has been dissipated. The true policy is to build up the present town by improving the valuable water power of the Des Chutes, and pay no attention to the Railroad schemes. Even with the road completed to the Wiley claim, it is not possible to build a city at that point. Railroads have never yet succeeded in building up a rival town within 5 miles of an existing one. The attempt has failed in every instance in the North Western States, even when backed by capital and equal natural advantages. It miserably failed at Vallejo in California, and lots that sold readily in the proposed new town for $1,000 can to-day be bought for the taxes. Let our Olympic friends erect a first class hotel this summer, and all the power of the Railroad company cannot destroy Olympia, or bail up a rival.

DR. ABORN CALLED AWAY.—Dr. Aborn has been called away on important business, hence he will not be in Seattle as he had contemplated. The Doctor will be absent from Portland until the last of September. He expects to be at his apartments, corner Third and Morrison streets, Portland, from the 1st to the 6th of October, and at Salem during the week of the State Fair.

Two Presidential electors on the Grant ticket in Indiana have withdrawn and support Greeley, and are in Maryland.

The prosecution of the mate of the ship Sampson was conducted by Messrs. McNaught & Leary; the defence by McGilvra & Baxter; the trial of this case at the approaching term will be looked to with interest.

The TELEGRAPH, -190 of the 250 shares in the Puget Sound Telegraph Company have been subscribed, and much of the balance of the stock has been pledged. All of our most enterprising merchants have taken stock and it is believed that the line will be constructed in an early day.

The district court for the third judicial district at Seattle, will convene on the 5th prox., Judge Green presiding.

GOLD.—Capt. Moses, of Capt. Sheet's surveying party, discovered a ledge of gold bearing quartz on the upper waters of the Skagit, which is supposed to be very rich; in the opinion of experts $300 to the ton. The vein is six feet in width. Specimens have been sent to San Francisco for assay.

Telegraphic

Lynching in California.

OAKLAND, July 15.—It is reported that on a ranch, near Grayson, about twenty miles above Bantas, on the San Joaquin, two Irishmen were hanged by the farmers on Saturday last.

The two men stopped at a farm and applied for work. The farmers offered them $2.50 per day. They wanted more, and he refused, saying he could and would hire Chinamen before he would give them more.

At noon, while the hands were eating dinner, a curl of smoke was seen in the field, and one of the hands mounted a horse and rode to the spot. There he saw the two men. One was on his knees, in the act of scratching a match to set fire in another place. The alarm was given, and soon one hundred farmers assembled, gave them a short trial, and hanged them. No names are given.

LATER.—A report has just come down from Lafayette that the farm hands in the vicinity of Grayson struck a few days ago for three dollars per day. It was granted. They then struck for three dollars and a half. This was refused, and Chinamen were employed. The strikers then set fire to the grain and burned eight thousand acres.—Three of the incendiaries were caught and hanged.

Petaluma, July 18.—A dreadful tragedy took place to-day about six miles from this city on the Santa Rosa road. It appears that a young woman, named Mrs. Kenney, living east of Petaluma, who has been married but a short time, had trouble with her husband for the past week or two on account of remarks made about her by a man named Cummings, derogatory to her character since her marriage to Kenney. About a week ago she left her husband, going back to her father's. This forenoon Cummings was passing with a load of wood, when she appeared with a loaded gun and shot him through the head, killing him instantly. She is young and prepossessing, not being over 18.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—About ten hoodlums were more or less beaten or otherwise injured in the pitched battle between the Russian Hill Valley gangs, which took place at the corner of Green and Dupont streets at 11 o'clock last night. Four were wounded by pistol shots, but not much to the regret of the residents of the neighborhood who have been in terror of these gangs for two years.

The stock market is expected to be an active one this week. ATCHISON, July 26.—A large mass meeting in relation to the endorsement of S. C. Pomeroy as Senator and his claim for re-election, was held to night. The meeting was called to order by C. G. Foster who had a discussion with Pomeroy. At the conclusion a vote was taken, and Pomeroy unanimously repudiated.

TRENTON, N. J. July 26.—The Democratic and Liberal State Committees Conference to-day decided to hold separate Conventions on the 10th of September.

Niagara Falls, July 26.—A boat containing a boy and a girl, children of Mr. Lescor, drifted over the falls to-day; also a boat containing an old fisherman named Barney and an unknown man. Bodies not recovered.

STOCKTON, Cal. July 22.—The Board of Equalization, now in session, refused to reduce the assessment on the property of the Central Pacific Railroad in this county. The property is assessed at $9,000 per mile. The Railroad Company desired it placed at $4,000.

MONTGOMERY, Al., July 22.—Ex-Senator Warren and ex-Chief Justice Rho have declared for Greeley.

NEW ORLEANS, July 24.—News received from Matamoras, says;—Gen. Rocha telegraphed from Monterey that President James died on the night of the 10th from a fit of apoplexy, which seized him at 7 o'clock that evening.

and ordered that the flags of the Government be placed at half-mast. The news was received by all classes with astonishment, and was not credited until confirmed by a second dispatch from Gen. Rocha. The Presidency devolves upon Lerdo de Legada, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

New York, July 25.—A Matamoras dispatch confirms the death of Juarez.

GENEVA, July 29.—The Swiss Times confirms the report now current that the tribunal have decided in favor of the American Government, in the case of the privateer Florida, on the grounds that the British Government did not use sufficient precaution to prevent the departure of said vessel from British ports. The Times also says, that the Board of Arbitration to-day took up the case of the Alabama. The Board disallowed the claims of the American Government arising out of the depredations of the Boston, Jeff Davis, Muesel, and several other small confederate cruisers. The reasons are that charges of neglect on part of the British Government concerning those vessels are not proved.

GETTYSBURG, July 23.—Major Sterritt Ramsey, aged 82, and the oldest paymaster in the U. S. Navy, died here to-day.

Seattle, W. T., Aug. 29, 1871.

Home and Farm.

POTATO CAKES.—Take one dozen large potatoes, fresh boiled and mashed very fine, 1/2 lb. butter, three eggs beaten, and 1/2 lb. of flour, mix together with a fork (do not handle it) roll into thin cakes, and bake quickly in a hot oven.

RICE WAFFLES.—One cup of boiled rice, one of flour, one quart of milk, one teaspoonful of butter, four eggs, a teaspoon half full of salt. Beat the white of the eggs to a stiff froth, and mix the whole very evenly. Bake in waffle-irons and butter before eaten.

LEMON PIE WITH THREE CRUSTS.—A layer of crust, a layer of lemon, sliced fine, a little sugar, a layer of crust again, and sugar and lemon again, then the upper crust, makes a good lemon pie.

ANOTHER WAY.—One cup of sugar, one cup of sweet milk, one egg, one and a half lemon, the grated peel and juice, one tablespoonful of flour; then, after baking, the white of an egg beaten, sweetened and put on the top, then put in the oven and browned.

TO COLOR SLATE COLOR.—Boil yellow oak bark in iron kettle till the strength is extracted. Take out the bark, then add a very little copperas, and you have a pretty color with no expense.

TO EXTRACT INK FROM FLOORS.—Ink spots on floors can be removed by scouring them with sand wet in oil of vitriol and water mixed. Rinse them, when the ink is extracted, with strong pearl-ash water.

BRANDY IN BOILING MEAT.—If as soon as meat is skimmed and thoroughly boiling, two spoonfuls of brandy is added to every three pounds of meat, the meat will become tender, though it may have been very tough, and will not retain any taste of the brandy.

SOFTENING OLD PUTTY.—In removing old broken panes from a window, it is generally very difficult to get off the dry, hard putty, that sticks around the glass, and its frame. To obviate this, dip a small brush in nitric or muriatic acid, and go over the putty with it. Let it rest a while, and it will soon become so soft that you can move it with ease.

TO PROTECT WALKS FROM WEEDS.—Take one gallon of gas-tar and about half a pound of air-slacked lime, boil and incorporate them well together, then apply the mixture with a common long-handled whitewash brush. This will dry in a few hours if put on boiling hot, and will kill off all the young weeds and prevent their growth.

PUT UP YOUR JAM WHILE HOT.—It is said that ordinary jam—fruit and sugar which have been boiled together for some time—keeps better if the pots into which it is poured are tied up while hot. If the paper can act as a strainer, in the same way as cotton wool, it must be as people suppose. If one pot of jam be allowed to cool before it is tied down, little germs will fall upon it from the air, and they will retain their vitality, because they fall upon a cool substance; they will be shut in by the paper, and will soon fall to work decomposing the fruit. If another pot, perfectly similar, be filled with a boiling hot mixture, and immediately covered over, though, of course, some of the outside air must be shut in, any germs which are floating in it will be scalded, and in all probability destroyed, so that no decomposition can take place.

BOILED INDIAN PUDDING.—Take sweet milk of sufficient quantity for the pudding desired; salt to the taste, and stir in Indian meal till a little milk will rise on the top by standing. If too thick it will be too hard. Fill a pudding crock, and tie a cloth tightly over it. Put into boiling water sufficient to keep it covered, and boil steadily for three hours.—Fruit may be added if desired. Serve with sweetened cream. This is an old-fashioned Connecticut pudding.

CORNMEAL PUDDING.—Two quarts of sweet milk, one pint of cornmeal, one-half pint of beef suet or fat pork, chopped fine, three eggs, and a little nutmeg and salt; sweeten to your taste with sugar. Heat the milk, and while hot, stir in the meal; after this, set it where it will cool, and then add the eggs.—Bake from three to four hours in a slow oven.

INDIAN MEAL PUDDING.—Into one quart of boiling milk stir one quart of sifted fine meal; then add one quart of milk, two well beaten eggs, one-half cup of sugar, one cup of flour, and a little salt spice. Stir it well and pour it into a buttered dish. Bake two hours, and serve with butter.

about Justin's Wife. The room was exceeding bright and comfortable, with the morning sun creeping through the rich curtains and beaming merrily on the breakfast table, with its burden of white china, silver, hot muffins, fragrant coffee and delicately broiled birds, but the pair who sat over the little feast looked anything but bright and comfortable. There was an open letter beside the plate of the lady, and glancing over her shoulder you might have read the following: Dear Father and Mother: I hardly know how to get around my subject, so I'll come direct to it. I am married. I love Lucille very dearly, and she was too poor to gain your admiration, so I married her without asking leave. As my wife, I know you will receive her. At all events I am going to bring her straight to you, and I will trust to your natural goodness of heart. Your dutiful son, JUSTIN YORKE.

"Your dutiful son!" said Mrs. Yorke, holding a bit of chicken on the end of her silver fork, and eyeing it as though it was the sun in question. "I cannot see where he finds the shadow of an excuse for d-r-ing to style himself thus—Justin is not a dutiful son, Mr. Yorke."

"You are correct, Elizabeth; he is a most un dutiful son in thus repay the years of care bestowed upon him," said Mr. Yorke. "What shall we do? Lucille, indeed! It has the sound of an actress, or some out-of-the-way sort of person. Probably she is some frivolous, ignorant creature, with a pretty face and an empty head, who will surely bring disgrace upon us and ruin him. Oh, James, I reasoned against allowing him to remain in the store after we came to the country. What can we do?"

"Lock up the house at once, this very day, and go to Newport. Then if he brings his wife, he can take her back the way they came. I'll teach him a lesson that he will not soon forget."

So, in their wrath, the old couple packed their trunks, locked the summer cottage, and with their two servants, departed for Newport. Justin was the last of a large family of boys and girls. One by one they had passed away, until only the one handsome boy was left. As a sequence he was idolized, and grew up an odd mixture of good nature and waywardness. The Yorkes were highly respectable, and gloried in the fact. There was not a member of the family far or near, that had a disgrace attached, and each member was extremely sensitive upon this particular point.

To be justly considered respect I was the ambition of the race. Now, what had this wretched representative done? Married a pauper without the customary wedding festival, and the talk, the envy, the bustle, the carriages, the church, the crowd, the cake, the cards, the lace, the satin, and the fold-dol which had attended the marriage of every Yorke from the beginning! Mrs. James Yorke shivered at the thought, as they rode on towards Newport, even though the thermometer was up among the nineties, and the dust almost thick enough to be cut with a knife.

As good luck would have it they obtained rooms without inconvenience, and in two hours after their arrival, Mr. Yorke was arrayed in a suit of snowy linen, and airing himself at one of the chamber windows, in a quite delicate pleasant to contemplate after his recent trouble.

"Hah! we better walk down to the beach, Elizabeth? There is a fine breeze blowing."

"Isn't the sun a little too hot," suggested the lady. "Not at all. I will take an umbrella along."

No Mrs. Yorke donned her bonnet and a lace shawl, and the portly pair slowly tramped themselves down to the beach. It was quite too early for the fashionable crowd to collect, and there were only here and there a gentleman, a nurse with children, or some invalid, who preferred this hour to that used by flirts and bathers; so the old couple had the broad sand beach pretty much to themselves, and they sauntered away, enjoying the cool breeze and the musical murmur of the sea as much as people so afflicted are expected to.

As they passed along, Mr. Yorke said, nodding his head in a certain direction to where a lady sat in a cool dress, of pale blue muslin: "There's a pretty creature!"

"So she is—and an extremely lady-like person. Quite odd to see a young lady out at this hour. Probably, the most of them are yet asleep, and trying to wear away the effects of last night's dissipation. She is very fresh and sensible looking."

"Yes—very. It's a great pity that Justin—"

"Pray don't mention that unfortunate boy's name!"

"You are right. We will dismiss him from our thoughts for the present. It looks comfortable up there among the rocks. Supposing we should go up?"

"I dare say we would find a good seat," said Mrs. Yorke. Accordingly, they clambered up, as well as age and superfluity of flesh would allow, and were on the point of seating themselves, when Mrs. Yorke, unexpectantly, stepped on a loose stone, and fell heavily among the jagged rocks, and laid there, very still and white, with the blood trickling down from a cut on her forehead.

For a moment reason forsook her companion, and then with a wild shout he called for help. It came almost immediately in the form of the beautiful girl he had observed a few seconds before, who, running up, leaned over the lady and lifted her head, and sought to staunch the blood. "It is only a little cut, sir, and the lady is stunned," said she, binding her handkerchief around the wound. Please take her in your arms for a moment and I will bring some water."

of young girlhood; but, as the soft fingers touched lightly her aching head, she thought attention might have been her own, had God spared her dear children. "Your mother is blessed, my dear," said she, looking at the perfect face, "in having such a daughter as yourself."

"My mother is dead, madam." Mrs. Yorke's chabby fingers sought the slender ones of the young lady, and closed over them in a warm, sympathetic clasp. "My daughters are dead, and my heart and home are quite desolate!" said the good woman, with a dash of tears.

"Holloa!" The word came in a cheery cry across the sands, and looking up, the trio espied a tall, handsome fellow trotting toward them, with a face as bright as a half dozen summer days.

At once Mrs. Yorke grew very nervous and distressed; Mr. Yorke grew very red in the face, and thumped his cane energetically on a rock; and the pretty young lady's eyes glowed, and a smile played about her dimpled mouth.

"Why father and mother!" cried the aforesaid young man. "How came you here? I am overjoyed to see you."

"I shall not return the compliment," gruffly replied Mr. Yorke. "Because, you are a base ingrate! How dare you marry without my leave?"

"But, father, I loved her, and know that you would when you came to know her."

"I shall never know her. You shall never bring her into our family. If you have disgraced our honorable name you may suffer the disgrace alone."

The young man dug up the sand with his cane for a moment, and the young lady twirled her parasol. Then he looked up.

"Well, Lucille, we had better come away," he said, and the young lady stepped over to him, and put her hand upon his arm.

"What! Who is this?" cried Mr. Yorke. "My wife, father."

"Well, why didn't you say so before?" blustered the irate old fellow. "Elizabeth, I'm afraid we have sold ourselves very cheap."

"Are you really Justin's wife?" said Mrs. Yorke, smiling in spite of herself at the fair girl.

"Yes, madam."

"Here Justin! Why are you standing there? Don't you see that your mother has met with an accident? Give her your arm, and take her up to the hotel. Lucille, my daughter, take mine."

Justin would have laughed, but under the circumstances, he thought better of it, and the quartette walked up to the hotel.

The Newport visit came to an abrupt termination, for the Yorke party left in the first train on the following day; and when they reached home, Mr. Yorke said: "If we hadn't been a pair of old fools, we would have stayed at home, and saved our money, time and exertions. We might have known that our son would not err in selecting a wife."

Mrs. Yorke passed her hand lightly over her wounded forehead, and concluded, as I did long ago, that love and marriage are matters beyond the control of humanity.
