EASTERN STATES.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26th.—The week that closed last evening has been the most productive one of the exhibition. The whole number of paying visitors, beginning with Aug. 19th, which was 25 cents a day, ending with Friday, Aug. 25th, was about 243,366, and the cash receipts were about $108,000. Early this morning a fire broke out in the sheds used for storing exhibitors' boxes back of the Atlas Hotel, near the central grounds. The fire raged several hours, destroying four large sheds and most of their contents, comprising boxes which had contained British, German, Austrian, French and American exhibits. The loss will reach several thousand dollars.

NEW YORK, 26.—Counsel of Henry Ward Beecher, in suit for malicious prosecution, brought by F. D. Moulton, having served upon the latter's counsel notice of application for a change of venue, on ground that the selection of an impartial jury in the case is impossible because of the great divisions of public opinion among those from whom the jury would have to be selected.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 26.—Hon. W. Julian delivered a lengthy and eloquent speech to a large crowd at the Opera House to-night on the political issues of the day, in behalf of Tilden and Hendricks.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Gen. Logan began the State campaign for Hayes and Wheeler to-night by delivering an address to a large audience, on South Side.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 27.—The typographical Union, yesterday, fixed the price of composition on morning papers at 40 cents a thousand, a reduction of ten per cent., and on evening papers, 30 cents a thousand, a reduction of 20 per cent. Where weekly hands are employed a deduction of ten per cent. is made, which will make the rate eighteen or twenty dollars a week.

ST. ALBANS, Aug. 25.—A large Republican rally was held to-night, but the storm prevented an illumination. Wm. A. Wheeler arrived this evening and was greeted with a salute.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Secretary Morrill leaves to-night or Monday for a short trip north. The Secretary has not been well lately.

The tenth annual meeting of the army of the Tennessee will be held here on the 13th and 19th of October. The statue of General McPherson will then be unveiled with imposing ceremonies. Gen. Logan, who succeeded Gen. McPherson in command on the day of his death, will deliver the oration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Judge Tarbell, of Mississippi, has been tendered the office of Deputy First Comptroller of the Treasury vice Col. W. H. Jones, of Delaware, whose resignation has been called for by the President. The change occurs in the latter part of next week. The Tribune's Washington special says the Secretary of the Treasury says the greatest difficulty he had to contend with, and which caused his conference about the new 4 1/2 per cent. loan with representatives of the large banking houses, to be so protracted, was that he could not get them to harmonize among themselves. The foreign bankers wanted to monopolize the whole loan, and signified at first they wanted all or none, to which effect they cabled here a regular series of communications, which consumed much time. Secretary Morrill felt he ought not to allow the whole of so important a loan to be taken entirely by foreign capitalists, and thought those of this country ought to be considered, so far as they possessed the ability and disposition to handle it. Hence, he applied himself to organizing the individuals in treaty with him to an American and European syndicate, both to operate in accord with one another. He could not with discretion given him by Congress, consent to the loan being monopolized in Europe. He feels therefore highly gratified at the result, remembering, when he came here in 1861, our national obligations went begging, and were below par, and we were paying at the rate of 12 per cent. interest, while now a bond of so low interest, compared with what has been paid before, is sought eagerly, and a struggle made to take it all up at once. Negotiation of the 4 per cent. has not received any positive attention yet, but Secretary Morrill thinks there would be no difficulty, if deemed advisable, to place the whole amount of 4 per cent. authorized by the Act of July 15th.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—It was contemplated by the Secretary of the Navy to fit out the sailing vessel, Portsmouth, at present the training ship at Mare Island Navy Yard, California, for the purpose of making a running survey of the coast of Guatemala, but upon examination of the vessel, it has been found that the cost of repair would be greater than was at first estimated, and therefore the idea of sending the vessel to that coast has been abandoned for the present. Efforts have been made for the past three or four years to obtain an appropriation of $150,000 for the construction of two schooners and one small steamer similar to those used in coast surveys, for the purpose of surveying the Pacific Ocean, at the same time to look after American interests in these waters. Much good has been accomplished by surveying and taking soundings in the Pacific, but the necessity of two or three small vessels has been severely felt, and if Congress makes appropriations for their construction, they could be kept in service at a comparatively small cost, and render valuable aid to our commerce on the Pacific.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Early this morning twelve freight cars at the junction of the Germantown and connecting railroads were completely wrecked, having jumped the track at that point and being precipitated into a cut through which the trains pass. Nobody hurt.

PROVIDENCE, Aug. 28.—In view of the improved demand for prints the Sprague mills in this State and the Maine and Connecticut print works, which have been idle, will start up at once.

OMAHA, Aug. 28.—The members of the Sioux Peace Commission are all here except Bishop Whipple and Rev. Hilman. They expect to leave to-morrow or next day for Fort Laramie via Cheyenne.

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—Adolph Berfel, having been out of work for a long time, shot himself through the heart to-day.

George and Wm. Douglass were drowned near this city yesterday while bathing.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 28.—A German named Joonis Hummill, made a desperate attempt to-night to kill his wife and commit suicide. She has been endeavoring to get a divorce because of his extreme cruelty. This evening he called at her home and attacked her with a knife, and thinking he had killed her severed an artery in his arm. The police broke into the room and found them insensible. Both were taken to the hospital. The woman may recover but the man will die.

AUGUSTA, (Ga.) 28.—Several persons engaged in lynching Williams have been arrested and lodged in jail, charged with murder.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

[From the Colonist.]
Captain Layton, His Honor the Lieut.-Governor's private secretary, left here yesterday to make necessary preparations for the Vice-regal party on the Mainland, amongst which will be the arrangements for a camp on Jackass Mountain where His Excellency will stay the first night after leaving Yale.

A petition signed by 40 Indians of the Nanaimo tribe, asking that an Indian named Wallace, who has been sentenced to two months' imprisonment for being drunk and giving liquor to Indians, should be set free, was presented to his Honor. The petition states that Wallace's family are dependent upon him for a livelihood and that one of his children is dangerously sick. On the above grounds Capt. Spalding made an order for his immediate release, thus commuting his sentence three weeks.

On Tuesday and Wednesday night there were severe frosts in this vicinity which cut down potatoes. It is thought that in early planted fields the damage will not be great; but late potatoes are badly injured.

The successful Indians in the regatta held on Wednesday last received their respective prizes from the Superintendent of Indian Affairs yesterday.

The Pilot of a Vessel Drops Dead.
On Monday night at about eleven o'clock, as the British ship Blair Hoyle was coming in through the Golden Gate in charge of pilot Jacob C. Bogart, she was placed in a critical position by reason of a light wind and a strong ebb tide running. Just as she was abreast of Mill Rock, Captain Bogart became very much excited, and this, it is supposed, brought on a fit of apoplexy, which in a moment prostrated him, and in about an hour and a half caused his death. The Quartermaster, at the moment Captain Bogart became affected, called Captain Higgins, the master of the vessel, and he, seeing the danger she was in, dropped anchor and sent a boat for a tug to come and tow her into harbor. At about 4 o'clock the Monarch came alongside, and, it is alleged, took advantage of the situation of the vessel to demand an exorbitant sum for its services, asking one hundred and fifty dollars; and when the master offered one hundred as sufficient compensation, made a move as if to leave the ship to her fate. The bargain was concluded at the price demanded by monopoly, and the Blair Hoyle was towed into the harbor and safety.

THE BATTLE OF LONG ISLAND.—Out of the many instances of individual bravery which must have signaled this fearful struggle, few have been preserved; but one that has been lights up the melancholy darkness of the scene with a peculiar brightness. At the battle of Bunker Hill, John Callender a captain of artillery, had withdrawn from the battle, and had disobeyed Putnam's orders to return. The battle over, Putnam declared that if Callender was not cashiered or shot, he would himself leave the service. A court martial convicted him of cowardice, and dismissed him "from all further service in the Continental army as an officer." Coward or not, he was brave enough to step down into the ranks of his company he had commanded. The 27th of August found him on the height's overlooking Flatbush. His captain and lieutenant had fallen, his companions were beginning to retreat. Springing to the front of them he ordered them to return and man their pieces. For a time his courage nourished theirs, but at length he stood alone, charging a field piece, while his companions were swept away by a tremendous onset of the enemy. Courting death, he made no signal of surrender when the hostile bayonets were at his breast; but a brave officer interfered in his behalf, and he was made a prisoner. Washington hearing of his conduct, ordered the sentence against him to be erased and his command to be returned to him; and when, a year later, he was exchanged, he gave him his hand before the army, in token of his great respect and admiration. He left the service at the end of the war with an enviable reputation.

A Hint to Husbands.

[From the New York Tribune.]
A few weeks ago a lady with one child dependent on her, replied to an advertisement for colorers of photographs, and secured the situation offered. In two weeks she became as skillful in the arts as women ordinarily do in six months, and elicited the warmest praise from her employer, who paid her liberal wages for her work. The secret of her success was simply this: Her husband learned in Scotland the art of coloring designs for carpets, and made in this country a handsome living by his profession. After his marriage his wife assisted him, and learned to handle the pencil with so much skill, and to harmonize colors with such taste, that, for the latter part of the three years of their married life, she earned a third as much as he did. But not being mistress of the art, when he died she sewed for a support until her engagement with the photographer alluded to. Now she has the prospect of plenty of work, with generous remuneration. At the head of the oldest house in America, in the importation and manufacture of chronometers, watches, and scientific instruments, is a woman who, from choice, went through the mechanical and mathematical training necessary to enable her to understand and share her husband's pursuits. He died, leaving her in narrow circumstances with three children, obliged to exert herself in some way for their support. The hope that she might, by taking her husband's place in the firm, preserve the business for her son, stimulated her to undertake what seemed a herculean task; but her efforts were crowned with abundant success, and the house still holds its place at the head of houses of that kind in this country. Are comments necessary? Cannot every thoughtful husband draw the moral of the two narratives.

THE WOMEN OF SERVIA.—The correspondent of the London News says: "The women to-day wore on their heads red kerchiefs with the ends hanging down their backs, and bound on their heads by a velvet fillet, embroidered with coins, in which were often stuck flowers, chiefly of red and white. They were generally dressed in white, but invariably with the brilliant apron sewed down to the skirt, and often with a gaudily embroidered stamacher, or perhaps breast-plate would be the more descriptive term, studded with coins on black velvet. The working dress of the women in the fields is a short jacket, braided and slashed in the fashion of the cut of that worn by the men, a red and yellow kerchief crossed over the bosom, a petticoat striped mostly in the parallel stripes of Moorish pattern, but occasionally in checkers, which makes the pattern a tartan, a tapestry-like apron of brighter colors than the petticoat, and bare legs and feet."

A PRECIOUS PHILOSOPHER.—A young philosopher of seven years of age, who had not got far enough to hear the Holy Scriptures disputed by science, listened attentively in his father's parlor the other evening to a warm discussion on the Darwinian theory, and, after the guests had departed, somewhat surprised the paternal with: "Father, I don't believe Mr. Darwin is right." "What?" said the parent looking down at his unexpected reasoner, who stood before him with a little Bible in his hand; "you do not, and why?" "Because, papa, my Bible says 'God created man in his own image,' and I don't believe it was a monkey." "Well, well," said the sire, laughing, "run along, Tommy; you are too young to talk about such things." "But, papa, almost the next verse says: 'God saw everything, He made, and behold it was very good.' Now it wasn't good if men were monkeys, was it? For you are gooder than a monkey, ain't you, papa?"

ADAPTABILITY TO BUSINESS.—It is curious to note how few men we know who are really adapted to their occupation, and how many who are bewailing their fate, that they have not been placed in some other occupation in life. It is one of the most perfect states of happiness to be engaged in a business that is at the same time a pleasure. Such, we would judge, must be the case in nearly all the professions, where a man can enter into his work with his whole heart, and enjoy it every day. But when one works against the will, and each day's labor is drudgery, and each release a relief from pain, oh, indeed is labor a penalty! That will be a model state of society where each is employed in the occupation that is delightful to him. Attentive labor and attractive education are the solution of the greatest social problems.

"I remember," said the celebrated Wesley, "hearing my father say to my mother—'How could you have the patience to tell that blockhead the same thing twenty times over?' 'Why,' said she, 'if I had told him but nineteen times I should have lost all my labor.'"

It is not generally known that Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes is the inventor of the common hand stereoscope. Such is the fact, however, and his work has been given to the world without the protection of a patent. He has an immense collection of stereoscopic views from all parts of the earth.

LUCK.—Nothing in luck? you say.

Why, man, there's everything in it. The good old adage is right when it says, "It is better to be born lucky than rich." The lucky man has the fabled touch of Midas, that turned everything to gold. If he marries, he is sure to hit upon a healthy, good-natured, thrifty woman, whose father had plenty of money, or who enjoys that greatest of all fortunes, the high art of making over last year's bonnets and dresses; who never scolds him when he is out late, or who leaves his meals to the tender mercies of the Hibernian; who gets his clothes mended, and doesn't go into hysterics every time he speaks to a pretty girl. If he has children, they are likewise healthy and strong. Even in trivial matters his untiring luck does not desert him. When he gets into a car he always finds a seat. If the train should run off the track, he would be sure to come down on the top of somebody. If there is business stagnation, he is sure to profit by it; and if there is a business revival, he is sure to get the best of it. Nothing spoils on his hands. If he gets counterfeit money, he passes it on somebody else without knowing it. If he votes for a man, that man is sure to be elected. He is secure against all untoward accidents or incidents. He never steps on orange peel on the sidewalk, or has his hat blown off, or slips on the ice, or misses a ferry-boat, or loses his umbrella, or gets robbed, or pays a lawyer's or doctor's bill, or stubs his toe, or loses his knives, or has a cold in the head or a pimple on the nose. In short, his advantages are legion, and can scarcely be summed up.

The following useful hint to tourists on their way to the Hartz Mountains is given by a correspondent who has just arrived home from that pleasant negon. "I was," he writes, "sitting in the verandah of a hotel close to the waterfall, when a young Englishman, mounted on a donkey, rode gaily across the bridge. The rider was going straight on up the road, when the donkey suddenly turned sharp around and made for the hotel. A desperate struggle ensued; the donkey was determined and so was the rider. The man belabored his rebellious steed till it kicked, reared, and finally threw him. Meantime, the head water stood by my side watching the conflict with a malicious grin. When he saw the discomfited rider get up, dust his knees and proceed to the hotel, in the wake of the donkey, he turned to me and whispered, with a confidential smile, 'The gentleman might have spared himself a fall.—No one comes by the hotel without alighting and calling for something. We feed the donkey for that purpose.'"

They have a small back room on the eighth story of a Philadelphia hotel, and about two o'clock in the morning the great poet awoke and punching his wife in the back, pathetically exclaimed: "Clotilda, darling, I am troubled by the demon unrest."

"Sidney Lanier," she nervously replied, "get up and strike a light this instant; perhaps it's bugs."

Weekly Puget Sound Dispatch.

SATURDAY SEPT. 2, 1876.

GENERAL TERRY'S ARMY. - General Terry has completely reorganized his army on the Yellowstone. General Miles' battalion Fifth United States infantry, Colonel Moore's battalion Sixth infantry, Major Freeman's battalion Seventh infantry, and Colonel Otis' battalion Twenty-second infantry constitute a brigade under command of Major-General John Gibbon. Colonel M. A. Reno succeeds General Custer in command of the Seventh U. S. cavalry. General British succeeds the dead Custer as chief of General Terry's cavalry, but while acting on the staff of the general commanding will retain immediate command of his column, Second United States cavalry. Lieutenant-Colonel Roe has been appointed chief of artillery and Lieutenant Bradley retains his position as chief of scouts. The artillery and scouts report to the department commander and the infantry will act under the orders of General Gibbon. The army marched from its supply depot, at the mouth of the Rosebad, August 8, and expected to reach the vicinity of the Sioux camp in about ten days. Over 200 Crow and Ree Indian warriors accompanied the expedition.

A Sudden Repentance. - Yesterday forenoon a farmer entered a restaurant on Griswold street, hat on the back of his head, and a joyful look in his eye, and flinging his hat on the floor he exclaimed: "Whoop! Sold my wool, and now I want a Thanksgiving dinner!" He was invited to sit down to a table, handed a bill of fare, and asked to name his dishes. "I want chicken, turkey, oysters, fish, quail, snipe, pie, cake, soup, wine-bring on the best you've got in the shanty!" he said as he pushed the bill away. The waiter started out, and the farmer hauled out his wallet and counted his money. His face grew serious after a moment, as he began to realize that luxuries cost money, and in another minute he pounded on the table and called out: "I want to see that waiter!" The waiter entered and the farmer continued: "You hold on a little. You may scratch out that other order and bring me in some meat and 'taters and bread. I've sold my wool, as I said before; but I just happened to think that the corn crop may bust on me, and where'd quail and toast be then?"

Another War of Races.

There is scarcely any indispensable commodity of news so plentiful in these days as "wars of races," but they are rather commoner in the Southern States than elsewhere. It is a fact that will catch the eye of the judicious that the roll of persons accused of vulgar and common crimes is smaller as the list swells of the heroes and victims of a war of races. Soon after vaccination had come into general use, and the smallpox had become satisfactorily infrequent, it was noticed that there was an increase in the mortality from some other diseases, as typhoid fever, scarlet fever and measles. This, strange to say, puzzled the doctors for a while; but at last one brilliant fellow hit upon the fancy that, as the smallpox was nearly excluded from the list of fatal diseases, those whom it had formerly attacked must necessarily survive to become, in time, victims of some other malady. There seems to be some relation of this sort in the old and in the new classifications of disorders in the Southern States. There are few horse thieves, no highwaymen; there is no arson and scarcely any murder; but there is a chronic war of races, and all the old murdering and horse stealing genius seems to be concealed somewhere in that classification. We might congratulate the South upon the loss of its common criminals, if it did not appear that the new name of war of races renders it very difficult to hang a murderer without political consequences. - N. Y. Herald.

VANDERBILT'S WINNING AT WHIST. - "Commodore Vanderbilt," says a New York Tribune reporter, "was always very fond of cards, whist and point encre. He never played poker or gambled at the faro table. I asked him once as to the largest amount of money he ever made at whist, and he said that when the Southern men were in their glory he won $20,000 in one day."

President McMahon is adopting the American idea in regard to his Cabinet, and desires his Ministers to be free from parliamentary complications. This is reported as the motive for the recent change in the French War Department.

A Financial Drink. "Do you take trade dollars at par?" asked a stranger of a bar-keeper in a Main street saloon this morning. "Certainly, take anything," replied the accommodating tumbler slinger.

"Well, then, give me some whiskey," said the stranger. "The bar-keeper set out the bottle and the glass, and the stranger poured out and swallowed his drink and started for the door.

"Hold on there; where's that trade dollar?" said the bar-keeper. "Oh, I haven't got any trade dollar," replied the stranger; "I only asked you if you took them at par for information."

A shade of sadness stole over the bar-keeper's face as he discovered that somebody had borrowed the pickhandle he kept for such emergencies—and the soda-water bottle that swished through the air only came within about six feet of where the stranger had stood the moment before.

A STARTLING THEORY. - A German physician has lately started the theory that the fearful disease known as smallpox originates from an excess of albuminous matter in the blood, and that this is to be prevented by the administration of common table salt. The habit of children indulging too freely in sweetmeats he considers one great cause of undue development of albumen; and coffee and tea, if highly sugared, tend to develop it in adults. An organic acid, such as lemon juice, he considers the best means of freeing the blood, when clogged with too much albumen, and he alleges that by taking these remedies in the way of precaution, he has, for upwards of ten years past, frequented or taken up his abode in the most pestilential small-pox hospitals of Europe and South America with entire impunity.

It will be noticed that the Railroad has made a reduction on downward freight, placing it at the figure charged one year ago. The reduction will be gratifying to farmers who are now selling their wheat at less than the cost of production. It is possible that this reduction may impose a temporary loss upon the railroad management, but we believe that in the long run it will pay, and be the means of stimulating production. The "nimble sixpence is better than the slow shilling," and so it has been found in Railroads that low prices and a large business pays better than exorbitant rates and very little to do. - W. W. Statesman.

Another race conflict is reported from the South, this one occurring in Texas. Two negroes were killed, and the excited blacks in the vicinity, it is said, gathered for vengeance, when two more negroes were killed. The reason assigned for the murders is that the negroes were cattle thieves, but a county must be lawless indeed where cattle thieves are punished by assassination.

The following conversation was overheard on Mill street this morning: "Say, Jim, why this beaming look upon thy manly countenance?" Jim—"Why I have just been having a drink of pony whiskey at the Centennial Saloon, and that would make any man feel as happy as if he had just lost his mother-in-law."

They had an "apple-dumpling party" at Reading, Pennsylvania, one recent evening, in describing which a reporter of the Eagle says: "The champion of the night put away fifteen dumplings, and as the last one disappeared down her throat, she rolled her eyes upward, smiled and had just enough breath left to wish she had more capacity."

It is something new for Scotland to send to America for workmen, but our news columns this morning show that one hundred and fifty stone masons in New York have been engaged to go to Greenock. Novel as this seems, it is not so unreasonable as coming from the west to seek employment in New York. - New York Herald.

An English farmer recently remarked that "he fed his land before it was hungry, rested it before it was foul." We have seldom, if ever, seen so much agricultural wisdom condensed into a single sentence.

When we compare our military establishment with that of Russia, we need not despair of the Republic. Not even in the rebellion did we ever have as many in the field as Russia has in her peace armament.

Poetry and Polonaise.

The lofty reachings of the average feminine mind are sometimes startlingly exemplified. Yesterday an accident occurred at the residence of a gentleman on Elizabeth street east, which not only aptly illustrates the fearful and wonderful architecture of the average feminine mind aforesaid, but gives new significance to the idea crystallized in the phrase, "Ruling passion strong in death."

The gentleman had discovered an exquisite poetic gem, and his delight at the discovery invited the attention of two ladies to it. They listened with intent ear while the reader gave voice to the glowing and graceful delights of the poet. When the reading was finished the gentleman turned to his companions for a word of appreciation. He saw their faces aglow, their lips parted in an intensity of feeling, and their eyes bright with—what? Shade of Homer!

"Look, look there!" exclaimed one of the ladies with the utmost eagerness; "that woman"—pointing to a lady on the opposite side of the street—"has got a polonaise buttoned up in the back! I should think," addressing her companion, "she'd have a good time getting into it when she wanted to dress in a hurry."

"I should think so, too," returned the other, "but it hangs pretty—don't you think so?" The gentleman gave one startled look, in which amazement struggled with horror for an instant, picked up his hat and cane, and started off pell-mell to have a look at the polonaise that buttoned up the back.

Theodore Hook used to tell a remarkable story about an old Irish woman who came to St. George's Hospital, London, to fetch away the body of her husband, who had recently died. Not expecting it to be claimed, the surgeons had commenced to dissect it, and had already cut off the head, as well as those of several more, for phenological examination. Some confusion was occasioned by the old woman's demand, as they did not know precisely which head belonged to any specific corpse. The head surgeon accordingly said: "Had your husband any mark you would know him by?"

"Oh, then, sure he had! He had a scar on his right arum." The body, of course, was identified at once, but to find the right head was not so easy, especially as most of them had been a good deal disfigured. At last one was found that seemed to fit better than the others, and it was carefully sewn on. When the woman was admitted she at once recognized the scar, which was rather a remarkable one; but when she looked at his face, "Oh, murder!" she cried, "and it's death that alters one intirely, it is! My poor Dennis had blazin' red hair, and now the head of him is as black as a tom-cat."

There is probably nothing that so obstinately stands in the way of all sorts of progress as pride of opinion, while there is nothing so foolish and so baseless as that same pride. If men will look up the history of their opinions, learn where they came from, why they are maintained and defended, they will find, nine times in ten, that their opinions are not theirs at all, that they have no property in them, save as gifts of parents, education, and circumstances. In short, they will learn that they did not form their own opinions—that they were formed for them, and in them, by a series of influences, unmodified by their own reason and knowledge. A young man grows up to adult age in a Republican or Democratic family, and he becomes Republican or Democrat in accordance with the ruling influences of the household. Ninety-nine times in a hundred the rule holds.

The hammer with which the murderer, Piper, killed Mary Tynan is carefully preserved in Boston as "an illustration of the compact material in organism which necessarily becomes an irresponsible agent in the transmission of life eliminating force on occasions when the mysteriously desirable condition of mental equipoise departs and a morbid idiosyncrasy induces the seemingly inexcusable perpetration of bloody deeds of daring-do."

Bill Rosendale says there is one thing that don't mind pinching, and that is snuff.

The Dead Journalist.

At the very outset of the campaign against the Sioux one journalist (a correspondent of the New York Herald) was killed whilst discharging his perilous duty, and it is to be feared his misfortune was but the harbinger of many in store for his fellow-scribes engaged in the same dangerous occupation. A young and promising journalist has met a violent death at the hands of the Indians, so dispatches from Fort Laramie inform us. According to them, the body of L. P. Richardson, special of the Springfield Republican, was found in the woods, between Fort Laramie and Deadwood, riddled with bullets and scalped. A note-book contained in the pockets of the clothes served to identify the remains. Such as these are the more salient sacrifices made by newspaper men in the service of the public and their profession. But since it is rarely a man is called to make such a surrender, the violent deaths of journalists in harness represent but a very small part of the self-sacrifice incidental to their calling. The career of the newspaper man is one replete with hard work badly paid for, the irksomeness of which is indifferently understood by the outside world. There is no profession which fructifies more advantageously to the public; but there is none for the support of which that same public is less called upon to contribute. Yet men there are who hold that journalism exists solely because those behind it are actuated by those motives which impel other men to commerce. True they are few; truer still, their opinions have no weight with others, because it is clear as day they have their source in the unwillingness of those holding them to believe that men there are who labor from higher motives than they themselves; but it is comment-worthy that such creatures do exist, and it is interesting to reflect that the improvement out of existence of this genus will be contemporaneous with the development of that higher education which teaches that he is richest who does greatest good.

DIAMOND CUT DIAMOND. - Truly, the ways of the sharper of to-day are past finding out. Sometimes even they meet their match, however. Some little time ago a person was sent to a bank for the purpose of drawing money to pay the wages of hands in a manufactory. Two men stood near the place where he was counting the amount he had received, some eighteen hundred dollars. One of the men remarked to him, "You've dropped a one-dollar note, sir," pointing to a greenback of that denomination on the floor. "All right, sir," was the reply, "I'll just put my foot on it for the present," which he did, and continued counting his money. It was not until the sharper learned that they were playing their game on an experienced customer, that they informed him that the one dollar note was dropped by one of them. Any thoughtless person would have stooped for the note, and in all probability, have lost the eighteen hundred dollars.

A gentleman in Maine on entering his house the other day was agreeably surprised to hear from his wife that she had a health-lift in the parlor. He stripped himself for practice, but was taken down a peg or two when he ascertained that the lift was in the shape of a huge parlor stove, which the lady wished her dear husband to carry to the attic.

Notice!

To all whom it may concern: Whereas the Commissioner of the General Land Office, in letter dated July 8, 1874, ordered that the lands in Township 22 north, range 5 east, in the district of lands for sale at Olympia, W. T., should be withheld from disposal as agricultural lands until the non-mineral character thereof shall have been fully established. And, whereas, Henry Nelson, of King county, W. T., who made pre-emption filing for land in said township and range viz: for lot 2 and n w 1/4 of s w 1/4 of section 32, now makes application to make his final entry of said land, and has filed in this office his affidavit declaring that there is not within the limits of said land, to his knowledge, any coal or other valuable mineral deposit, and that said land is essentially non-mineral land. Now, therefore, in accordance with instructions from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, it is ordered that testimony touching the character of said described land shall be taken before the Register and Receiver of the U. S. Land Office, at office in Olympia, W. T., on the 23d day of October, A. D. 1876, beginning at 2 o'clock p. m., at which place and time all persons having interest in the matter of the character of the above described land are required to appear and there and then to present such evidence as may serve to fully establish the character of said tract of land. Given under our hand, at the United States District Land Office at Olympia, W. T., this 28th day of August, A. D. 1876. J. F. BROWN, Register. ROBERT G. STUART, Receiver. sep2-6w

Notice. United States District Land Office, Olympia, W. T., June 28, 1876.

WHEREAS, on the 19th day of May, 1875, Edwin M. Church, of King county, Washington Territory, filed in this office his declaratory statement No. 3407, claiming as a pre-emption right the lots one (1), two (2), and east half of the northwest quarter of section eight (8), in township twenty-five (25) north, range five (5), east of Wilamette meridian, alleging settlement and inception of his claim to said land on the 17th day of December, 1874, and having this day filed in this office his own affidavit alleging his compliance with the provisions and requirements of the pre-emption laws of the United States, which relate to settlement, improvement, cultivation and residence upon said land; and whereas, also, on the 18th day of December, 1874, Alonzo Treadwell, of said county and Territory, filed in this office his declaratory statement, No. 3530, claiming as a pre-emption right the same tract or tracts of land, alleging settlement and inception of his claim to said land on the 17th day of December, 1874.

Now, with a view to the settlement of the rights of all the parties interested, the said Alonzo Treadwell is hereby summoned to appear at our office in Olympia, Washington Territory, on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1876, at 10 o'clock A. M., to contest the claim of the said Edwin M. Church, and then and there to show cause, if any there be, why the pre-emption claim of said Edwin M. Church shall not be allowed as legal, and he be permitted to enter the said described land. Given under our hands, at our office, as aforesaid, in Olympia, W. T., this 28th day of June, A. D. 1876. CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 31.—The Council of Ministers and great dignitaries of the empire have proclaimed Abdul Hassid Sultan, vice Murad, deposed.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—A dispatch from Ragusa says Dervish Pasha has reached Podgoritz with a strong detachment of Egyptians and Arabians. The Turkish force at Podgoritz is now formidable. It has fifty-four guns. Belgrade official intelligence is received to-night that the Turks were defeated at all points on the right bank of Moravia, and subsequently taken on the flank and put to flight. Their bridges over Moravia were destroyed. The Servians occupied Turkish entrenchments on the right bank of Moravia.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—The Turkish Minister received the following from the Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs Constantinople, Aug. 31.—The cruel disease of which Sultan Mourad Khan has been suffering ever since the day of his accession to the throne, and which has been continually increasing, having put him in manifest impossibility to take any more the reins of empire, in virtue of the decree rendered by His Highness, Shiek ul Islam, and in conformity with the laws regulating the exercise of sovereignty in the empire, His Majesty, Sultan Hassid, presumptive heir to the imperial throne, has been proclaimed to-day emperor of Turkey.

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Application of Vaughn & Co., for liquidation in bankruptcy was presented before the Registrar here to-day. Liabilities of the firm are one million pounds sterling.

LISBON, Aug. 31.—The monetary crisis has subsided; the bank of Portugal continues its transactions as usual. All other banks and merchants have declared they will not avail themselves of the decrees of the 18th inst., deferring payments. A Montevideo telegram to Lloyds dated Aug. 29 says the crew of the British ship Scotstown, which left Glasgow June 29th, for San Francisco, had landed at that port. The Scotstown had been lost.

A very sufficient reason for letting alone any particular kind of food is that you don't want it. Persons who never ate meat, because of a constitutional dislike to it, are good advertisements for the "vegetarians," but not examples of abstinence.

There is said to be now living, one-half mile south of Holmesdorf, Penn., an old farmer by the name of Abraham Blatt, who is about 60 years of age, is healthy, robust, and as strong as a horse, who has never in his lifetime tasted the least bit of meat of any kind. He says he never tasted beef, pork, mutton or veal; eats no kind of poultry, no kind of fish, no kind of game; in fact, nothing pertaining to meat. He has such an abhorrence of meat that when they kill a cow or a hog on his premises, he generally leaves home, and goes about other business. He is a father of a large family, all healthy children. Among them is also one boy, who, like his father, eats no meat of any kind. In reply to the questions put to the father, how he could work so hard without eating any meat, he says he believes he is much healthier than if he ate meat. He uses very little butter.

IMPORTANT CHANGE AT THE B. B. C. C. STORE.—Mr. S. Baxter, who for the past five years has served in the capacity of manager of the mercantile department of the Bellingham Bay Coal Co's establishment at this place, tendered his resignation of that position some months ago, which resignation lay in abeyance until the arrival of President Cornwall last week when it was finally accepted, and Mr. D. Rogers, late of Kansas, installed in his place. Mr. Baxter will remain in charge until the 1st of September. Mr. B. is too well known throughout Puget Sound as an efficient and reliable business man for any word of ours to add to his luster in this regard, so we can only unite in the regret of his many friends in this County at the prospect of parting with him. It is hardly necessary to note the fact that he retires with the friendship and confidence of the Company.—B. B. Mail.

FORTY TO ONE.—One story from the Indian country is to the effect that when Custer encountered the Indians in his last fight they outnumbered him forty to one. The tendency of the Indian mind to exaggeration may underlie this story. But it is certain that the attack on the camp of Sitting Bull was against greater odds than were ever before seen in military encounters. The more the Custer charge is studied the greater will be the admiration of mankind for the valor, self-denial and self-sacrifice of that famous captain and his band.

Among the superstitions of the Seneca Indians, was one, remarkable for its singular beauty. When a maiden died, they imprisoned a young bird until it first began to try its powers of song, and then, loading it with messages and caresses, they loosened its bonds over her grave, in the belief that it would not fold its wings nor close its eyes, until it had flown to the spirit land, and delivered its precious burden of affection to the loved and lost.

Many a man worth a million is utterly worthless.

TERRITORIAL.

[From the Snohomish Star.]

The party of Seattle people who have been on an excursion to the Snoqualmie Falls, returned here on Wednesday, having been gone just two weeks. They all expressed themselves highly pleased with the trip; lots of fun, some adventures, and scenery—well, we leave them to describe it. An account of which will appear at length in our next week's issue, it having reached us too late for publication this week.

The entertainment given on the 24th, in honor of the new steamer Nellie, was a grand affair. As usual, all our citizens turned out, and the hall of the Riverside Hotel was crowded with the ladies and gentlemen of the place and vicinity, all bent on doing honor to the resident owner of the steamer, whose liberality and enterprise has resulted in the building, expressly for the Snohomish trade, of the handsomest little stern-wheeler that ever plowed the waters of the rivers on the Sound.

We are sorry to see the American people giving themselves up to slang. Even the little village of Snohomish, already afflicted with a chronic Chenook, is not free from its evil influences; as a result of this slaughter of good English, we hear the location of Mr. Bennett's mill on Pill Chuck has already been christened "Jim Town" by these manufacturers and promulgators of the truly ridiculous.

[From the Bellingham Bay Mail.] Harry McCue, who a few weeks ago commenced logging at Squallicum Creek, near this town, has now a raft of some 500,000 feet of the best logs ready for market. He is doing well beyond all expectation.

The Assessment Roll of this county, as approved and revised by the Board of County Commissioners, for 1876, foots up $503,569. The real estate portion amounts to $293,147; personal property, $207,422. The revenue to the County from this assessment amounts to $4,028,55; School and Territorial, respectively, $2,024,27; and for Road purposes, $1,007,18.

DISCOURAGING.—A Detroit youth of thirteen sold fifty pounds of old iron and a piece of lead pipe, a few days ago, and received enough to carry out his long-cherished idea of establishing a weekly newspaper, which should represent the interest of every section of Michigan. He was willing to commence low down and work up, and he established an office in the cellar of his father's house, purchased two quarts of "pi," hired his sister as an apprentice, and work was begun on his first number. The boy had an idea that an independent journal would pay best, and his first edition, which consisted of seven copies of a sheet about as large as an envelope, was devoted to items of a personal nature. It was rather a family sheet, also, seven of the eight items in it being hits at his father and mother, and the lone one was a bit of advice to his school teacher. While he was out hunting up advertising and soliciting subscribers, his father laid the type away to shoot cats with, his mother kindled the fire with the wooden press, and when the editor and proprietor returned, he was given a woodshed interview, and then wedded to the handle of a lawn mower. He was yesterday "holering" over the alley fence to one of his friends that he couldn't be crushed out nor frightened off the track by no bloodthirsty mob; but the prospect for a new paper is dubious.—Detroit Free Press.

There is something economical about a postal card. Should the persons on whom you lived last summer wish to return your call, you can convey the news "that small-pox is raging fearfully and a visit to the city would be extremely dangerous," just as well for one cent as if you paid ten cents a word for a dispatch.

Lost at sea and never found.
The following is rather equivocal:—Mariah Brown, wife of Timothy Brown, aged 59 years. She lived with her husband 50 years, and died in the confident hope of a better life.

Life on the Plains.

(From the Omaha Herald, August 5.) At about two o'clock yesterday morning, when the train was at Ogallala, a passenger got on board and took a berth in the sleeper. He did not get on board in the full light of the station lamps, but jumped on in the darkness, after the train had passed the platform, and immediately got into his berth without removing any of his clothing except his boots, and otherwise acted as if he feared that something would catch him. And something did catch him, sure enough, at the next station. The fellow was a gambler who had been carrying on operations at Ogallala in a way that would not square with even the gambler's code of morals. Ogallala is the great shipping point for cattle on the line of the Union Pacific, and at times a great many cattle dealers are there. The chap in question had got to playing with these fellows, and beat them out of $8,000 or $10,000 and refused to disgorge. He had succeeded in sneaking out and getting on board the train in the manner related, and was sneaking off with his big stake. The enraged cattle men did not propose to submit to the circumstances and lose their money in that way, so they telegraphed the particulars to some friends in Alkali, the next station, who were likewise of the same resolute stamp of cattle men. When the train arrived they had possession of it, and were tearing through it to find the man who got on at Ogallala. They found him innocently pretending to sleep in his berth about the middle of the Pullman and the trouble commenced. The fellow refused to leave the car, but the cattle men assured him if he wouldn't go they had the tools to take him, and directed his attention to a mule standing quietly in the moonlight, with a long rope coiled up on the saddle. The bell rang to start, and matters were precipitated by all parties drawing revolvers and beginning to shoot promiscuously. Curtains were torn down, frightened passengers tumbled out to escape the whistling bullets, and the utmost confusion reigned; woman screamed and everybody was rushing out of the car by means of windows as well as doors, and soon the prairie was covered with white robed forms fitting like ghosts in the moonlight. The cattle men finally dragged out their victim, tied him on a mule and started away with him, and the passengers returned to the coach, whence cries and screams and groans were still issuing. One young lady whose parents were on board was screaming and declaring that she was shot in the leg, and medical attendance was summoned from the station. The train was held to await the arrival of knives and probes, and when he came a professional examination revealed the fact that a pin in the lady's stocking was cruelly sticking her.

There were some bullet holes through the coach, and several narrow escapes, but not a single passenger was hit by the reckless firing. The fate of the gambler who caused the trouble could not be learned, but it is known positively that he rode back to Ogallala on that mule, with the rope in sight. The bunks, curtains and sides of the Pullman were pretty freely perforated by the bullets. The Hawaiian brig Elise when about to go to sea on last Saturday evening, was visited by Mr. Clinger, Deputy U. S. Marshal for an interchange of views with the master relative to pilotage dues which the latter had refused to pay. Capt. Howard, one of our Puget Sound pilots. Finding the said master still contumacious, the officer left a keeper on board and came to town for a posse of men in order to take the brig up when he should conclude to "settle." On returning to the vessel with his force, however, the captain considering no doubt that "discretion was the better part of valor," paid up, and thus was enabled to go on his way. The sum demanded was for half pilotage, amounting to $48, which, supplemented by the costs, aggregated $116.00.

THE BEST MIND FOR FARMING.—Time was when men thought the dullest boy of the family would do for a farmer. The brightest boy was put to the study of law or medicine, but the idea was common that after farming the biggest fool would do well enough for a doctor or a preacher. We have lived long enough to see the supreme folly of all this, and public opinion now holds farming as an intellectual calling. And why not? The farmer has to deal with life under all its conditions; he must bring life to a perfect development both in the field and in the herd. Life is the thing with which he deals first, last, middle and end. From the seed which he plants to the animal that he raises, life is the subject of his thoughts and purposes. The reward of his labor must come from life, so that the farmer is a god among the seeds of things. If there is a calling on earth that demands mental vigor and large stores of information, it is agriculture. There cannot be too much of mind connected with it. Intelligence is demanded of the farmer in all his business, efforts and aims. Exchange.

THE greatest event of the season came off at Goldendale, W. T., on the 15th inst., in the shape of a horse race. Mr. William Gilmore, of Rockland, matched his animal named Maid against Mr. J. Johnson's horse Juber. The distance run was one quarter of a mile. The stakes was $150 aside. The horses started well together but at the "out come" the Maid was "judged" to be fourteen feet ahead, and so won the money. It is said that about $1,000 changed hands on this occasion, and that the race was fairly and well run, and also, that the fastest horse won the race.

HERE is a list of some wonders to be seen through a microscope: Insects of various kinds can be seen in the cavities of a grain of sand. Mould is a forest of beautiful trees, with the branches, leaves, flowers and fruits. Butterflies are fully feathered. Hairs are hollow tubes. The surface of our bodies is covered with scales, like fish. A single grain of sand would cover one hundred and fifty of those scales, and yet a single scale covers five hundred pores. Through these narrow openings the sweat forces itself out like water through a sieve. The mites make five hundred steps a minute. Each drop of stagnant water contains a world of animated beings, swimming with as much liberty as whales in the sea. Each leaf has a colony of insects grazing on it, like oxen in a meadow. A speck of potato-rot the size of a pin head contains about two hundred ferocious little animals, biting and clawing each other savagely. The male mosquito is decorated with plumes like those of some tropic bird. The eye of the common house-fly is cut into facets, as diamonds sometimes are.

A YOUNG PHILADELPHIAN, threatened with a breach of promise suit, says: "Sue away. Contracts made on Sunday ain't legal." We learn by telegraph that the bark Forest Queen encountered an earthquake at sea on the 16th inst., in smooth sea weather. The Captain reports the shock as heavy, and of 15 seconds duration.

NATIVE GRASSES.—Judge Swan has just received from Mr. John Bennet, of Whatcom, Bellingham Bay, a box containing five specimens of grasses in America, which will be sent by the Dakota to the Agricultural Department at Washington. Mr. Bennet has for many years been engaged in cultivating native grasses, some of which he found high up on Mount Baker. A variety of native timothy and orchard grass, seven feet long, are among these specimens. But the grass that Mr. Bennet prides himself on most is the Bennet ryegrass, which grows to an average height of 4 1/2 feet, and has produced eight tons to the acre. The hay from this ryegrass is superior to timothy, and cattle and horses prefer it to any other kind. This grass never lodges and is easily cultivated, and we predict will be a favorite one among farmers. In view of its unrivaled productiveness, and the boon it confers, it is not too much to say that had Mr. Bennet never done anything else in his life than to produce this fine variety of grass he has done enough for the civilized world. He has spent fifty years in collecting rare specimens of trees and plants, from the equator to 56 deg north latitude, many of which are of great beauty and value. Judge Swan forwarded to the Department at Washington Mr. Bennet's collection of native grasses, and leather, from Mount Baker, which have been received and are highly prized. Mr. Bennet is making a grand collection of apples to be sent to Washington by the first of October.

A WELL-KNOWN CONDUCTOR on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific road went to the depot one morning recently to take his train, as usual, and an officer of the road and an officer of the law arrested him. On his shirt front was a $5,000 diamond pin, and in his pocket were a valuable watch and chain. In his trunks the officers found $30,000 in Government bonds. An Eastern bank was telegraphed to, and the response was that bail could be furnished in $30,000, if necessary, as that was the amount deposited to the conductor's credit. This settled, it was the conductor's turn. A lawyer was called, and he politely informed the officers that the diamond pin they had illegally taken had been worn by the conductor twenty years; the watch was carried by him years before he went into the employ of the company; that the United States Government bonds they had taken were the property of his wife, as the proceeds of her share in an estate as heir, and so was the money in bank, and the best thing the company could do would be to return what they had stolen and with it $40,000, and no further questions would be asked. The company accepted the attorney's terms.

On board the Cunard steamers the church service is read every Sunday morning. The muster roll of the crew is called over, and they attend service. A gentleman one day said to one of the sailors, "Are you obliged to attend public worship?" "Not exactly obliged, sir," replied Jack, "we should lose our grog, if we didn't."

THE Duke of Norfolk, who paid too little attention to his personal appearance, called on Abernethy, and sought to learn the cause of his ailments. "Did your grace ever try a clean shirt?" asked the doctor.

A SUBMARINE INFERNAL MACHINE.

Captain Lay's infernal machine, which is being experimented with at Washington, if it does half that is promised for it, will practically make an end of naval warfare, for no armor nor guns would avail against it, and it would destroy any vessel that could be set afloat before a single shot could be fired. It consists of a small submarine, cigar-shaped craft, propelled by chemical engines, and steered by a telegraphic apparatus communicating with the shore or small fleet craft from which the machine is launched. It carries a barrel and a half of dynamite—enough when exploded under the largest iron clad ever launched to blow her to atoms, and the dynamite also is exploded by electrical current transmitted through a wire connecting with the shore or vessel from which the machine is launched. All that is needed to sink the most formidable navy afloat is a steam tug or two equipped with say a dozen of these machines which could be launched before the tug got within range of the vessels to be destroyed, and propelling themselves under water with almost incredible speed, could be steered by the telegraphic apparatus directly under the hostile ships and exploded by an electric spark to destroy them. Should the machine prove equal to this when it gets into use, as shortly it would among all nations, naval battles would no more be thought of than battles in balloons.

United States District Land Office, Olympia, W. T., June 28, 1876.

WHEREAS, on the 19th day of May, 1875, Edwin M. Church, of King county, Washington Territory, filed in this office his declaratory statement No. 3407, claiming as a pre-emption right the lots one (1), two (2), and the east half of the northwest quarter of section eight (8), in township twenty-five (25) north, range five (5), east of Willamette meridian, alleging settlement and inception of his claim to said land on the 17th day of May, 1875, and having this day filed in this office his own affidavit alleging his compliance with the provisions and requirements of the pre-emption laws of the United States, which relate to settlement, improvement, cultivation and residence upon said land; and whereas, also, on the 18th day of December, 1874, Alonzo Treadwell, of the said county and Territory, filed in this office his declaratory statement, No. 3330, claiming as a pre-emption right the same tract or tracts of land, alleging settlement and inception of his claim to said land on the 17th day of December, 1874.

Now, with a view to the settlement of the rights of all the parties interested, the said Alonzo Treadwell is hereby summoned to appear at our office in Olympia, Washington Territory, on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1876, at 10 o'clock A. M., to contest the claim of the said Edwin M. Church, and then and there to show cause, if any there be, why the pre-emption claim of said Edwin M. Church shall not be allowed as legal, and he be permitted to enter the said described land.

Given under our hands, at our office, as aforesaid, in Olympia, W. T., this 28th day of June, A. D. 1876. J. T. BROWN, Register. ROBERT G. STUART, Receiver.

From the Daily of Monday.

DEED.—At the Seattle hospital, this morning, of congestion of the brain, Edward Lambert, aged 30 years. His funeral took place to-day.

HON. ORANGE JACOBS, Delegate to Congress from this Territory, is expected to arrive in this city by the way of Portland, early this week. His family left for Portland to meet him.

ILLUSTRIOUS ALBERT PIKE, 33rd, Sovereign Grand Commander of the Supreme Council A. & S. R., for the Southern Jurisdiction of the United States, accompanied by his daughter and a party of gentlemen from Portland and Olympia, arrived here this morning. A collation is to be given by the Masons of this city, in his honor at the Occidental Hotel this evening.

OYSTERS.—Piper has got in a lot of splendid fresh oysters, the first of the season, and from this time forward will keep them on hand until next summer.

INDICTED.—W. G. Jamieson and Capt. True were indicted this afternoon for violation of the statute lotteries.

NO BUSINESS in the Police Courts to-day. The fact of the District Court being in session has induced a good many of the rough element to get out of town, and there is a proportionately less number of cases of drunks and assaults.

PROGRESS OF THE ROAD.—The last pile of the long railroad bridge from deep water to the head of the bay is to be driven this afternoon. When that is done, the road bed of the Seattle & Walla Walla Railroad will be ready for the superstructure from deep water to within a quarter of a mile of Steele's landing, on Duwamish river. Mr. Colman informs us that he will commence cutting the ties immediately, and the work of track laying will be commenced on the arrival of the first lot of iron, which is on the bark Harvest Home, now loading in San Francisco. The work of grading the road bed has been pushed, under Mr. Colman's superintendence, with great rapidity, and if it continues as it has commenced, it will be but very few months until the first section is finished and equipped with its full complement of rolling stock.

From the Daily of Tuesday.

District Court Proceedings. TUESDAY, Aug. 29.

W. G. Jamieson arraigned and pleaded guilty. Fined $25 and costs. Abraham Brown vs the Seattle Coal Company. Motion to strike out portion of answer.

Martin Monahan vs John J. McGilvra; being tried before a jury. Adjourned at 12 o'clock till 1:15.

The barks Osmy and Aureola, of the Seattle coal fleet have arrived in the harbor, and are awaiting their turn at the S. C. & T. Co.'s bunkers.

THE WASHINGTON TERRITORY Grand Lodge of Good Templars will convene in Vancouver on Wednesday, September 20, and the Grand Lodge of Masons in Olympia on Wednesday, September 27th.

THE SMALL-POX has broken out at Portland in its worst form. It was introduced by a Chinaman who came up from San Francisco by steamer.

TO TAX-PAYERS.—City Warrants for sale by Eastwick, Morris & Co., over Seattle Market, Corner Commercial and Washington sts.

SMASH UP.—While Mr. Berry was passing along the beach road this morning, with a heavy wagon, in turning the wagon around, he backed it on a small bluff, and the wagon and horses all fell over to the beach. The team escaped without injury, but the wagon was smashed up very badly.

THE RAILROAD.—The work of piling across the bay was finished yesterday, and to-day Lusbee's pile-driver commenced driving the piles for the wharf at the end of the road. Work on the wharf will be pushed very lively, and it will be ready to receive the iron on the arrival of the Harvest Home, which has about two miles on board. On the arrival of the Harvest Home, track-laying will commence and be pushed as fast as possible, and by the time the track is completed to the head of the bay, the first locomotive will be here and put on the rails. The remainder of the rolling stock will be built in town. Mr. Coleman goes down on the Dakota this trip on business connected with the road, returning on the same boat. While below, he will probably see the balance of the iron for the road shipped.

Republican County Convention.

The Republican County Convention met last evening at 7 o'clock, at Yesler's Hall, and proceeded to the nomination of county officers by ballot, with the following result:

For the Council, C. H. Hanford received 49 votes and D. P. Jenkins 16. The nomination of Hanford was thereupon made unanimous.

For Assemblymen, G. W. Tibbetts, of Renton, received 56 votes; W. R. Andrews, of Seattle, 38; J. V. Roach, of Newcastle, 35, and J. Horton, of Duwamish, 13. Tibbetts and Andrews having received a majority were unanimously nominated.

For County Auditor, E. G. Perkins received 27 votes, Gardner Kellogg 38. Kellogg was declared the unanimous choice of the Convention.

The following gentlemen were nominated by acclamation: Sheriff, L. V. Wyckoff; Treasurer, G. D. Hill; Probate Judge, G. N. McConaha; Surveyor, H. Whitworth; Coroner, H. B. Bagley.

For School Superintendent, E. S. Ingraham received 46 votes and J. H. Hall, 20. Ingraham was declared unanimously nominated.

For Wreckmaster, R. H. Beatty, was nominated.

The following persons were then elected as Delegates to the Territorial Convention to be held at Kalama on the 20th of next month: Daniel Bagley, G. N. McConaha, G. D. Hill, G. W. Tibbetts, W. A. Inman, L. McMillan, I. A. Navarre, and N. S. Alford.

The delegates were instructed to vote for W. A. Inman for District Attorney, but, on motion made and carried, it was resolved as the will of the convention, that they should not be instructed in favor of any particular candidate for Delegate to Congress.

The following District and Precinct nomination is here then made:

For Commissioners—H. L. Yesler, C. Clymer and Jere Borst.

For Assessors—W. H. Shoudy, James Stark and Mr. Smart.

Justices of the Peace—T. H. Stringham and W. H. Gilliam.

Constables—H. G. Thornton and K. C. Ward.

Upon the appointment of a Central Committee, the Convention then adjourned sine die.

District Court Proceedings.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 30.

The afternoon session yesterday was entirely taken up with the suit of Martin Monahan vs John J. McGilvra, for damages for malicious prosecution. The following business was transacted this morning:

Territory vs Alfred O. Bedell, assault with intent to murder. Defendant arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

Martin Monahan vs John J. McGilvra; hearing resumed; motion for non-suit sustained.

Grand jury brought in three indictments against parties accused of selling liquor to Indians.

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Dakota arrived from up Sound this morning, and after a short stay here left about 9 o'clock for San Francisco. Among the passengers down on her were Secretary Struve of Olympia, Mr. James M. Colman, Mrs. H. L. Yesler and D. Holton and family, the latter bound for the Centennial.

THROWN OFF.—A countryman, this afternoon, mounted on a cayuse, turned the corner of Mill and First streets, on a fall run, when the horse stumbled, throwing his rider off, and burying him about a foot in the saw dust.

AUSTIN A. BELL has just received, and is now opening, one of the most elegant assortments of material for his job printing office ever brought to Seattle, and which will give him unsurpassed facilities for filling orders in his line.

SAILED.—Brig Levi Stevens, loaded with Seattle coal, was towed to sea this morning.

MR. PINKHAM, of the firm of Pinkham & Saxe, left on the steamship Dakota, this morning, for San Francisco. He will bring back with him a full stock of fall and winter goods.

A woman in Massachusetts fed a tramp the other day, after which he asked if he might go to bed long enough for her to wash and iron his shirt.

A Preference.

"If you prefer the keg of lager or the bottle of wine to me," said Mary, "just take them to the magistrate and get married to them."

"What do you mean?" said John. "Just what I say. I don't want a young man to come here evenings chewing cloves to hide his breath, and conceal his habit of drinking. If you like lager more than you love me, just marry it at once, and don't divide your affections between woman and wine, or a woman and lager. Love and liquor have no affinity."

"Why, Mary, how you talk!" exclaimed John.

"Yes, I mean what I say; unless you sign the pledge and keep it, you had better not come here any more."

John did sign the pledge, and he kept it, and he married Mary.

THE GOOD TIME COMING.—All the tired young men will now be for freeing the women. Susan B. Anthony, in her last speech, spoke substantially as follows: "She thought that when the new dispensation were come a woman could woo a man and relieve him of the trouble of asking a certain question. Then a woman possessed of wealth and having a beautiful home and surroundings might be loved by a modest poor young man, with a too high sense of honor to desecrate her to share his poverty, and she could say, 'will you,' etc., and relieve him of superfluous entreaty, and give him a good home at the same time."

A gentleman is a rarer thing than some of us think for. Which of us can point out many such in his circle—men whose aims are generous, whose truth is constant and elevated, who can look the world honestly in the face, with an equal, manly sympathy for the great and the small? We all know a hundred whose coats are well made, and a score who have excellent manners, but of gentleman, how many? Let us take a little scrap of paper and each make his list.—Thackeray.

An Illinois judge has decided that a washing bill cannot be collected; and no doubt a number of Norris-town young men would sleep more peacefully if our judges were to render a similar decision. But a judge's opinion is not worth much in the face of an infuriated washerwoman, with danger in her eye, soap suds on her nose and a flat-iron in her hand.

A boy about twelve years old called at a New York police station to give notice that his father was missing. After getting name, street and number, the captain said:

"Now give me a description of your father."

"He is a man," said the boy.

"I don't doubt that; but I want his age, height, color of hair, and so on."

The boy was stuck, and after the captain had vainly pumped him, he said:

"It's curious that a boy of your age can't describe your own father."

"He's my stepfather," replied the lad, "I know he's been around our house for two or three years, but I never thought to look at him very much. You can put him down as a red-headed man, and I'll get mother to write out the rest."

Paper napkins and paper handkerchiefs are among the novelties being exported from the East. They are sheets of fibrous mulberry paper so well known in our tea packages, in size about seven-teen by twenty inches, are very soft and flexible, and are printed with a neat border.

At Berlin since the very bad times have set in, convivial habits among the upper and middle classes have revived, public resorts are visited more frequently, and the skating rink has been introduced.

A few days ago the horse which the late Emperor Napoleon rode at Sedan, and which was soon after purchased by His Grace the Duke of Sutherland, got his legs so badly broken at Lairg, Sutherlandshire, that it had to be shot.

ARRIVED.—The coast survey schooner arrived in the harbor this morning.

A CARD.—Notwithstanding a report circulated by interested persons that I cannot afford to sell goods at the prices I advertise, and that I have watches and other goods in my show window marked $1 below wholesale cost, I repeat, I am selling at the prices advertised, as many who have purchased from me in the last three weeks can certify. I shall continue to sell at the same rates for the next two weeks, taking silver at par, and giving premium for gold in sums over $10. A lady's gold hunting watch for $15; a gentleman's stem-winding watch, $7 50; a set Rogers' plated knives, $3; coin silver vest chain, $1; good clock for $1; good pair spectacles, 50 cents, and other goods in proportion.

Two things every patriot should do—go to the Centennial and smoke Jack Levy's cigars.

For Eastern and California Papers and Periodicals at Publisher's prices go to John L. Jamieson's.

ANY person in need of a good nurse, can be accommodated by leaving orders at Mrs. Plummer's. Also sewing in families.

DANCE.—There will be a regular Saturday Soiree, under the direction of C. G. Steinweg, on Saturday evening, at Reinig's Hall.

The only place to get the celebrated Steilacoom, St. Louis and Bremen (German) Lager beer, ice cool, is the City Beer Hall.

To be seen at Fred. Barker's corner. The bones of an unknown animal. Tell us what it was.

FOR SALE.—A desirable residence consisting of 2 lots and a house on the corner of 5th and Pine streets. Must be sold immediately. Apply to Moore, the photographer, Seattle.

CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION.—Now is your time to call and see the improved Home Shuttle and Home Sewing machines, at the Music and Art Emporium.

McCOWN & FRANCIS, Ag'ts.

WILL arrive per Dakota. The following Celebrated Brands of Cigars and Tobacco for Jack Levy.—The "Centennial," "Vanity Fair," and the noted "Lorillard" for chewers.

A WANT has been felt and expressed by smokers, that they require something extra in the line of Cigars and Tobacco. The want can now be supplied by calling on Jack Levy at the Grotto Cigar Stand.

BOCA BEER KNOCKED IN THE SPADE Lyon's XXX Ale just received per Panama at Centennial Beer Hall.

SODA WATER.—For the very best ice-cold so-la-water call on J. F. Morrill.

FRED'S STAND is the place to get the best cigars in the city. Give him a call.

STILL A FALLING.—Schwabacher Bros. & Co. are now selling 16 yards of Standard prints for $1.

LYON'S KATHARION makes beautiful, glossy, luxuriant hair; prevents its falling out or turning gray. It has stood the test of 40 years. Is charmingly perfumed, and has no rival. my81

EASTERN STATES.

UTICA, (N. Y.) Aug. 31.—Gov. Seymour, at 12 o'clock last night, telegraphed Judge Gray, President of the Democratic Convention at Saratoga: "I am compelled by obstacles which I cannot overcome, to decline the proffered honor of nomination for Governor. Cannot be candidate for any office." The telegram was either not received, or was not made public. This morning a committee from the convention waited on Gov. Seymour, and the declaration of the night before was repeated. The committee returned today to Saratoga, and Mr. Faulkner, of the committee, said to the Convention: "I am at liberty to assure you that under the extraordinary circumstances attending the nomination, Gov. Seymour feels constrained to obey the wishes of the people, who have so often honored him." Prolonged applause followed this announcement; yet the exact situation is stated as follows: Gov. Seymour has in no way modified his positive refusal to accept the nomination for Governor. This declaration was final, and will not be reconsidered, nor will he consent to use his name. The adjournment of the Convention leaves it with the State Convention to fill the vacancy. It is understood the position will be filled by some one who will concentrate all the interests in the party.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 1.—To-day there were twelve interments of persons who died from yellow fever. The disease is to-day confined to the suburbs.

NEW YORK, Aug. 31.—Mr. Beecher, having moved for a change of venue in the suit brought against him by F. Moulton, the latter has served a supplementary complaint, locating the action in this city.

BOSTON, Aug. 31.—The sentence of Jesse Pomeroy, the boy murderer, has been commuted to imprisonment for life.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 31.—Fifteen million cartridges, valued at 375,000 dollars, were shipped to-day for Constantinople.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—Paid admission, $46,360. The final heat of the four-oared race was won by the Beaverwycks of Albany. The London crew, second; Watkins, third. Time, 8:06.

In the four-oared contest, the Beaverwycks of Albany, the London Rowing Club, of England, and the Watkins Boat Club, of New York, kept well together, Watkins leading off. At Porter's the London crew were ahead, rowing steering in magnificent style, but wildly. The Beaverwycks, with quick strokes, put the Londoners to their metal, and until the judges' stand was passed, it was impossible for spectators to tell which won. The Americans' victory was however proclaimed by the umpire boat flying the Beaverwycks' colors and steamboats whistling. Time, 9:06. Londoners, a second later. Watkins men, 9:06 1/2. The London crew claimed a foul, charging that the other boats forced them from their course. The claim was disallowed.

SAVANNAH, Aug. 30.—The yellow fever here is not epidemic. There have been only 39 cases during the season and ten deaths.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—A special from London to Kernan's financial agency states that the prospects of the new 4 1/2 per cent. funded loan was issued to-day by the Rothschilds for themselves, and asserts the prices being 103 1/2 subscriptions will be received here in this country to-morrow. St. Louis advices from Hayes City, (Kas.) says a waterspout burst in Kill Creek Valley, Osborn county, Kansas, Saturday evening, and flooded the entire bottom in about fifteen minutes. Horses, cattle, crops, etc., were swept away. Mrs. Bonghin and her two children, and Mrs. Gr. en were drowned.

SPRINGFIELD, (O.) Aug. 30.—A tremendous rainfall to night. In twenty minutes the streets were like rivers. Many store-rooms and residences were flooded. The track of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati railroad was washed out at Morfield and Lagenda. The engine and baggage car of the southward bound passenger train were ditched and badly wrecked.

WASHINGTON, Aug.—Ex-Gov. D. P. Lewis, of Alabama, elected Governor by the Republicans in 1872, and defeated at the election of 1875, has written a letter favoring committing the administration of the General Government to Tilden and Hendricks.

MONROE, (La.) Aug. 30.—About 20 citizens going to the scene of last night's trouble with the negroes, saw only one squad of armed negroes, who hastily fled. Apprehensions have generally subsided, but a feeling of insecurity prevails. Measures purely pacific have been instituted for the prevention of further outrages. The Tribune's New Orleans special says: Very exciting reports come from Monroe, from Democratic sources, of the usual tenor that the bloodthirsty blacks are in arms against the whites. The report furnished to the associated press last night was from McCrairie, editor of the Ouachita Telegraph, a member of the Democratic State Central Committee. The only person killed, so far, being a leading Republican, Dick Grove. There is strong presumptive testimony that the white leaders are not wholly in the right. This afternoon B. B. Dunkroge, formerly Sheriff, and latterly Collector of the parish, was killed by an unknown man who met him in the road, while in company with a friend, and emptied the contents of a shot-gun into his side, inflicting a wound which proved fatal two hours afterwards. The murderer escaped. This affair is believed to be entirely disconnected with politics.

CHEYENNE, Aug. 30.—The Peace Commissioners arrived to-day and will leave for Red Cloud to-morrow. They will arrive there just after the census being taken is completed. The Cheyennes who were the first counted numbered only 230 in the camp.

SARATOGA, Aug. 30.—The Convention voted to nominate for Governor Wm. Dorsheimer, the present Lieutenant Governor, but his name was no sooner announced than there were loud calls for "Seymour! Seymour!" The ex-Governor was then nominated. The following dispatch was received by Francis Kernan: "You must not let my name be used. My health will not permit."

HORATIO SEYMOUR. Clarkson, E. N. Potter, and Lucius Robinson were also nominated, but the delegates placing their names before the Convention were constantly interrupted by cries for Seymour. Finally a motion was made to rescind the previous resolution to go into nominations for Governor, and to nominate by acclamation. A committee was appointed to inform Seymour of his nomination, and the Convention adjourned.

SARATOGA, Aug. 30.—Horatio Seymour, in response to pressing appeals to accept a nomination for Governor by acclamation, promptly declined, principally on account of ill health.

THE SIOUX WAR.

(Special to the Daily Dispatch.)

CHEYENNE, Aug. 31.—A courier who left the camp of Crook and Terry on the 20th, at the mouth of Powder River, arrived at Fortman to-night. The command was then on a trail which was estimated at 10,000 ponies. Camp fires indicate seven distinct bands. There is reason to believe the Indians are almost destitute of food, and the traces left behind them indicate that they are reduced to the extremity of eating raw birds for food. All the Snake allies have gone home, the crows remaining. Gen. Crook fully expects to strike Sitting Bull in a few days.

PACIFIC COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Nine cases of small-pox were reported yesterday, and two this morning, with three deaths. Weather very warm, with light breeze.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 1.—As a proof that not all the idle boys in this city are so by choice, may be urged the statement of the manager of the Youths' Directory, who says that since the hop-picking season commenced he has received applications for work from over 3,000 boys. This afternoon several wagon loads of boys with a band of music and banners bearing letters to the effect that the boys desired work but could not obtain it, paraded the principal streets. The demonstration was got up under the auspices of the Youths' Directory.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 31.—Walter, alias Johnson Lawless, the fellow who was convicted for sending young girls to Oregon for vile purposes, was called for sentence in the Municipal Court to-day, and received the full penalty of law—five years in the penitentiary and one thousand dollars fine.

Sailed—Steamer St. Paul, Alaska; Ship Black Eagle, Burrard Inlet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 30.—More complete information places the losses at the recent fire at $650,000, on which there is an insurance of $145,000. It now seems evident that the conflagration was the work of incendiaries, and circumstances render it almost certain that it was started by a crowd of hoodlums to get even with the proprietors of some of the destroyed manufacturing establishments who employed Chinamen.

Nineteen new cases of small-pox were reported on Monday, fifteen yesterday and five this morning. The most of these cases are of a mild form. Five deaths occurred from the disease yesterday and two Monday.

Danbury has it exactly. "Doing business without advertising," he says, "is a good deal like trying to borrow a flag on the Fourth of July."

The man Mattison who shot Miss Rogers at Astoria on Sunday evening last at the very portals of the church, seems to have been a monomaniac, and must have contemplated the murder of the girl and himself for some time previous to the attempted commission of the act.

While I was taking notes in the Portuguese section there came by two Chinese gentlemen, evidently of high rank, accompanied by an Englishman, who pointed out to them the various beauties of the locality.

AN AGE OF EVENTS.—Within six years of the revolutionary era of 1848, we have the Crimean war, the Indian mutiny, the Austro-French war, which laid the broad foundation of Italy, and the revolution which built it up; our own civil war, the first aggressive reappearance of Prussia on the European stage in the attack upon Denmark, the Austro-Prussian war which carried on the unification of the kingdom of Italy and prepared the way for the new German empire, the Franco-Prussian war that destroyed the empire of Napoleon, laid the cap stone on the column of Italian unity, and further advanced the great edifice of German nationality; the revolution in Spain, the English wars in Africa, the Chinese rebellion, the opening of Japan, so long shut up, as it were, within a brazen wall; the abolition of slavery in America, the abolition of serfdom in Russia; the confederation of Canada—these are some of the political events that will at once occur to the mind of the reader as making the last twenty years a remarkable era, and now we are watching with interest what seem to be the signs of the rapid approach of another great conflict in the old world.

THE DIFFERENCE.—Let the Associated Press flash the news that last night a champagne supper was held at Vassar College, and that the girls all got "gloriously drunk," and tumbled under the table, what a thrill of horror would spread itself through the country! But let the intelligence be received that a company of male collegians have acted in a similar manner, and committed a general smashing up of property besides, and no such thrill of horror is felt.—Mrs. Livermore.

A CARD.—Notwithstanding a report circulated by interested persons that I cannot afford to sell goods at the prices I advertise, and that I have watches and other goods in my show window marked $1 below wholesale cost, I repeat, I am selling at the prices advertised, as many who have purchased from me in the last three weeks can certify. I shall continue to sell at the same rates for the next two weeks, taking silver at par, and giving premium for gold in sums over $10.

many persons on Puget Sound needing Medical and Surgical aid, and for comfortable rooms, good care and Moderate Prices, I have fitted up a Hospital, where every convenience and comfort will be provided in connection with experienced and skillful Medical and Surgical attendance.

We aim to make this a permanent Institution, and to give special attention to cases of fracture and injuries of all kinds that are constantly occurring in the raw mills, coal mines and logging camps surrounding us.

Seattle being centrally located, with regard to these interests, and more accessible than any other point, we mean with the aid of these advantages, and by giving personal and thorough attention to its entire management, to build up an Institution indispensable to the sick and disabled who have no homes, and worthy of their confidence and that of the public.

The Hospital is in a pleasant and healthy locality, and the rooms neatly and cheerfully furnished.

Assessment Notice.

PENTON Coal Company. Location of principal place of business, San Francisco, California. Location of works, King county, Washington Territory.—Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Directors of said Company, held on the 5th day of June, 1876, an assessment (No. 2) of one dollar ($1) per share was levied on the capital stock of the corporation, payable immediately in United States gold coin, to the Secretary, at the office of the Company, 22 and 24 Sacramento street, San Francisco, California. Any stock, upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid, on Thursday, the 20th day of July, 1876, will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction, and unless payment is made before, will be sold on Thursday, the 24th day of August, 1876, to pay the delinquent assessment, together with the cost of advertising and expense of sale. By order of the Board of Directors. T. H. HENDERSON, Secretary.

Summons.

In the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding Terms at the City of Seattle, in and for the counties of King, Kitsap and Snohomish.

Anthony P. Carr, plaintiff v. Josephine Carr, defendant. Complaint filed in the county of King, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

The United States of America send greeting to Josephine Carr, defendant.

YOU are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding Terms at the city of Seattle, in the county of King, for the counties of King, Kitsap and Snohomish.

The complaint filed therein, within twenty days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within the said county of King, or if served out of that county, but in this District, within thirty days, otherwise within sixty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of the complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of divorce from the bonds of matrimony heretofore contracted between the parties hereto, on the ground of desertion, and for custody, support, guardian and education, by plaintiff, of Edward Allen Carr, issue of said marriage. And you are hereby notified, that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will take default against you and apply to the Court for decree according to the prayer of said complaint.

Witness the Hon. J. R. Lewis, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof, this 25th day of May, A. D. 1876.

Summons.

Territory of Washington, County of King.—ss. In the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding terms at the City of Seattle, in and for the Counties of King and Kitsap.

Franklin Matthias and Eugene M. Smithers, Executors and Trustees of the estate of Charles C. Terry, deceased, Plaintiffs, v. Duncan Dewar Defendant.

Complaint filed in the County of King, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

The United States of America send greeting to Duncan Dewar, defendant: YOU are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiffs, in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding terms at the city of Seattle, in the county of King, for the counties of King and Kitsap, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within twenty days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within the said county of King, or if served out of that county, but in this District, within thirty days, otherwise within sixty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of the complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of this Court for the foreclosure of a certain mortgage described in the complaint, and executed by the said Duncan Dewar on the 23d day of May, A. D. 1872, to secure the payment of a certain promissory note of that date for $300, with interest at the rate of one and one-half per cent. per month, from the date thereof until paid—both principal and interest payable in United States gold coin, for value received; that the premises conveyed thereby, to wit: the south half of the southeast quarter and northwest quarter of southeast quarter of section numbered twenty-eight (28), and the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section numbered thirty-three (33), in township numbered twenty five (25), north of range numbered five (5) east, containing 160 acres of land, may be sold and the proceeds applied to the payment of said indebtedness, including taxes, costs, charges of sale and attorney's fees; and in case the proceeds are not sufficient to pay the same, then to obtain an execution against said Duncan Dewar for the balance remaining due and for other and further relief.

And you are hereby notified, that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiffs will take default against you, and apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Witness the Hon. J. R. Lewis, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof, this 20th day of June, A. D. 1876.

THE ARAB OF TO-DAY.—The Arabs of the Algerine provinces are not characters of romance, they are brutes. When French troops were withdrawn they showed great audacity in plundering and cutting the throats of French settlers. A determined encounter with even a quarter of their own number formed no part of their military training. A score or two of French soldiers sufficed to disperse several hundreds of these imposing and often superbly mounted warriors. And the Arab will bear close inspection no better at home. The Arab has no poetry in him, and suummum bonum of earthly felicity consists in being cheba, that is to say "full." When the men are cheba, the women and children come out to pick up the remnants of the meal. The strong stick which an Arab bridegroom deposits in the corner of his gouri on the day he carries his bride home is far from a symbol, but a brutal weapon of authority. In Arab computation a womanchild does not count. Nothing, in fact, can be more repugnant to European notions than the life of the Arab at home. The settlers in Algeria have had a hard time with these thieves and murderers.

Gen. Terry, who commands the military forces in Wyoming now operating against the Sioux, is a native of Connecticut. He entered the service in May, 1861, as Colonel of the Second Connecticut Volunteers, and in September of the same year he assumed command of the Seventh Connecticut. On April 25th, 1872, he was made a Brigadier-General of volunteers, and on January 15th, 1865, he was promoted to Major-General. His record during the war was conspicuous, the daring assault upon Fort Fisher, resulting in its capture, being one of his most marked features. General Terry was appointed at the close of the rebellion a full brigadier-general in the Regular Army, to date from January 15th, 1865, and was placed in command of the Department of the James, with headquarters at Richmond, Va. His successful campaign against the rebellious Indians in Minnesota attracted attention to him as an Indian fighter, and his service during the past few years has been principally on the Western frontier.

PROTECTING SHEEP.—A writer in the Farmer's Home Journal says: "I have kept a flock of sheep several years, varying from one to two thousand head, and for the last eight years have not lost a sheep killed by dogs. I keep my sheep yarded nights; and from once in two weeks to once a month, I go at bedtime and place around the outside of the pen bits of meat containing strychnine, which I take up again early in the morning, if not eaten in the night. Result—immunity from dogs, and an old well on the farm has received a layer of dog and a layer of dirt until it is about full. I have never killed a man's dog through malice, or anywhere except on my own premises and in protection of my own property, and have not, to my knowledge, received any injury in retaliation for the death of any dog. The plan is just and right, and every fair-minded man must acknowledge it. Every person in the vicinity who chances to be the owner of a dog, "strayed or stolen," concludes at once that he has found a resting place in Cotton's old well, and will never believe anything else. I never report dogs buried before sunrise."

THE GOOD TURKEYS DO.—The Hartford Courant says: "It is pretty well established that if there's any bug especially disgusting the turkey will look out for it. In the California region last year the best fields were saved from complete destruction by caterpillars by those birds and now it has been found out over in Rhode Island that the potato bug is the favorite food of the turkey, and a nourishment upon which it fattens liberally. No doubt, if there should come along any other pest to rival caterpillars and beetles, the turkey would devour that. Certainly the bird has earned a place at our Thanksgiving tables, even if these interesting developments as to its development create a wonder regarding the peculiar sweetness of its flesh."

"M. Quad" lately had a hammock suspended beneath the trees in the yard of his stately residence on Fort street, Detroit. Subsequently after getting his arm set and his head bound up, he sat down and wrote: A hammock swung under the trees is a nice thing to rest in. It takes only four or five men to hold it while you get in, and in getting out you fall out."

The customary salutation in Washington now-a-days is: "How is your investigation coming on?"

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION issued out of the District Court of the Third Judicial District of Washington Territory, held at the city of Seattle, King County, dated on the 29th day of July, A. D., 1876, in the case wherein John Collins is plaintiff and William H. Gilliam is defendant, on a judgment therein rendered in said Court, on the second day of February, A. D., 1875, for the sum of eight hundred and thirty and twenty-four hundredths dollars, with interest thereon until paid, at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, together with the costs amounting to $18 and 75-100ths and increased costs, I have levied upon the following described property, to wit: William H. Gilliam, donation claim, and numbered forty, being part of section numbered twenty-three and twenty-four, in township numbered twenty-three north of range four east, containing 160 acres of land in King County, Washington Territory. Also, lots numbered six, seven, eight and nine of section numbered twenty-three, and the north half of the northeast quarter and the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section numbered twenty-six, in township a-ty-three north of range four east, in King County aforesaid, containing in the whole 233 acres of land. And now, by virtue of said execution, on Monday, the 4th day of September, A. D., 1876, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., in front of the Court-house door, in said city of Seattle, I will sell to the highest bidder thereof, at public auction, all the right, title, and interest of said defendant, William H. Gilliam, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as will satisfy said execution, interest, costs, and accruing costs.
