GALA WEEK AT THE CAPITAL.—We had the gratification of spending nearly the entire last week at the Capital in a highly satisfactory manner. OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY
Seattle, W. T., Sept. 10, 1874

LOADING.—Bark Anreola is loading coal at the Seattle Coal Co.'s wharf.

The month of June is noted for terrible earthquakes and destruction of cities and their inhabitants. On June 7, 1692, 3,000 human beings were destroyed by an overpowering earthquake in Jamaica; on the 7th of June, 1755, 40,000 persons perished in Persia by reason of a destructive earthquake all over the land; and again, on the 10th of June, 1867, in Java, 400 souls were destroyed. What wrecks the month of June has made among mankind! In the South it is called bad June.

Gov. Ferry called upon us to-day to consult upon the policy and prospects of the Republican party. We advised him that "honesty is the best policy," and that "to be virtuous is to be happy." He fully concurred in both propositions and promised to govern himself accordingly.

And in case any subsequent complaint be made to the Marshal, it shall be his duty to take such cow or cows into his custody, and shall hold them for the period of ten days, during which time he shall advertise such taking and detention in the official paper of the city; and shall give notice that on the tenth day after such taking and detention, he will expose such cow or cows at public sale to the highest bidder. And in case the owner of such cow or cows does not before the said tenth day pay the costs of such taking and detention, together with a fine of five dollars, the Marshal shall sell the cow or cows so taken and held at public sale to the highest bidder, and deducting all costs together with a fine of five dollars, shall pay the residue to the owner.

This Ordinance to be in force from and after the date of its publication.

H. L. YESLER, Mayor.

Ordinance No. 63.

IN RELATION TO COW BELLS.

The City of Seattle does ordain as follows:

That any person aggrieved by the ringing of a bell worn by a cow, may make complaint to the City Marshal of such ringing, when it shall be the duty of the Marshal to notify the owner of such cow of such ringing; and in case the owner of such cow does not take off her bell, it is hereby made the duty of the City Marshal so to do.

This Ordinance to be in effect from and after Sept. 15, 1874.

H. L. YESLER, Mayor.

At a meeting of the Congregational Church and Society held at the Church on Thursday evening, Sept. 2, 1874, the following was unanimously resolved:

Resolved, That the Congregational Church and Society of Seattle, recognizes in the Rev. Norman McLeod an able and active minister of the Gospel, and an earnest supporter of every good cause; and hereby express their high appreciation of his efficient services during the past year, and cordially invite him upon his return from the East to resume his pastoral charge of said Church and Society and to make his home permanently among them; hereby pledging him their hearty co-operation, sympathy and support in his labor of building up the Church of Christ.

G. A. WEED, President of Meeting.

D. KELLOGG, Secretary.

DROWNED.—By a correspondence from Skokomish Agency, dated September 23, we are grieved to learn of the following sad accident: "The most intense gloom has been cast over our little community by a painfully distressing case of drowning, which occurred last evening about seven o'clock, at this place. Dr. R. H. Lonsdale's two little sons were playing on the bank of the river in front of the house, when the youngest, aged about six years, in attempting to reach a stick of wood floating on the water, lost his balance and fell in. The brother caught at him but failed to reach him, when the alarm was immediately raised, and the father, who was in the back part of the house, rushed out and reached the bank just in time to see the body floating off into deep water. He jumped in but failed to reach the drowning child, and when he came up immediately cried for help. At that moment no one was near, and it was several minutes before anyone came. An expert Indian swimmer dived down where he was last seen but failed to find him. Boats were sent, having dived into very deep water among roots, but was taken out with a hook, and all the means used that could be to reanimate the lifeless form, but of no avail. It was too late. To-day the remains of little George Henry Lonsdale will be committed to the dust, and the grief-stricken parents, an invalid mother and gray-haired father, left to mourn their darling not lost, but before. The warm sympathies of the many friends of the family will be extended to them in this hour of sudden anguish and terrible trial."

PORT TOWNSEND, W. T. Any sick Seaman who has paid Hospital dues for two months, preceding his application is entitled to Hospital relief free of charge. THE ABOVE INSTITUTION HAVING BEEN placed on a permanent footing, as the United States Hospital of Marine Patients on Puget Sound, the Proprietor takes pleasure in announcing that no pains or expense will be spared in maintaining the comfort and convenience of private patients. This is the largest General Hospital north of San Francisco, and by far the most complete in equipment. It has been thoroughly fitted and refurnished. Its general wards have accommodations for about one hundred patients and are especially adapted for cases requiring the most careful treatment and constant supervision at limited expense. Those who desire them will be furnished with private room, entirely separate and distinct, at a slight additional cost. The attention of Mill owners, and those interested in shipping, is called to the fact that seamen suffering from contagious diseases will be treated outside the Hospital without expense to the vessel.
