SEATTLE, WASHINGTON TERRITORY, SATURDAY, SEPT. 21 1878.

NUMBER 45

General News.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—The Times' Grenada special says: The ravages of the fever have left our city without a government or proper officer to protect the property of absent citizens, which is now exposed to the burglar and thief. The house of Gen. Waltham was entered by thieves last night and despoiled of property to the value of $500. Several stores filled with large stocks have been burglarized lately. The Howard association cannot carry on the city government, hence we may expect similar acts to occur more frequently hereafter. Our city has been provided liberally by the sympathetic people of the country with funds and supplies of every kind, and we are, indeed, thankful. When our relief committee ran away they deposited about $5,000 of the Grenada sufferers' money in a Memphis bank. The money cannot be drawn without their check and they cannot be found. There is also deposited here in Lake's bank over $6,000 of the Grenada fund, but money cannot be drawn. A touching incident has been related illustrating the love of animals for human beings. A prominent citizen, Mr. Hughes, after a sickness of some days, died of yellow fever. He owned a setter dog, and when the body of its master was lowered into the earth the dog stubbornly remained at the grave, and although tempted by food, refused to part from the spot where his master lay. After a few days the dog was discovered lying dead in the vicinity of the grave.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 11.—The following special telegram from Bismarck has just been received by the Pioneer-Press: The terrible story is not credited here, though the sender of the dispatch is a leading citizen of Bismarck and generally trustworthy. The brother of Senator Dorsey, who returned on Keogh by the Custer trail to-day states that reports reached Keogh about the 5th that Gen. Miles and an excursion party were surrounded by Bannocks in the Yellowstone Park and 27 of the escort killed. A lot of Cheyenne Indians and two companies of mounted infantry, were sent from Keogh to his relief: Mrs. Miles, a daughter of Gen. Sanborn of St. Paul and other ladies were in the Miles party.

BOZEMAN, Mont. Sept. 11.—A Conrier extra says: From Capt. Browning we learn that on Sunday last Gen. Miles had a battle with Bannocks on Soda Butte creek near Clark's Fork. Thirteen Indians were killed, and the whole party 37 in all captured. Miles' losses were Capt. Andrew S. Bennett killed, and one soldier mortally wounded. Miles' force numbered 21 men and a few scouts.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Later advices from Constantinople give further details attending the death of Mehemet Ali Pasha. It seems that at Gusinje, Plava and Kolasin, even before the arrival of Mehemet Ali complete anarchy had gained the upper hand, and upon his arrival in Jokova he found the greatest excitement prevailing among the inhabitants. He was violently upbraided with having come to Albania to hand over land to the Servians. The agitation went on increasing finding vent especially in vehement abuse of Abdullah Pasha, Mehemet Ali's adjutant. The house selected by Mehemet Ali for his lodging was fired by Albanians of Jokova and Ipek. Then a fight began between the incendiaries and Mehemet Ali's escort in which 20 men of the latter fell towards evening: Through intervention of some Ulmas the conflict was appeased, the insurgents promising to observe a cheerful attitude.

About 6 o'clock in the evening however, in Jokova, where Mehemet Ali still remained, a struggle broke out afresh, resulting in the death of Abdullah Pasha with several officers of escort and the house in which they took refuge was fired. Mehemet Ali succeeded in escaping from the burning building and in concealing himself in a shed close by, but his hiding place was soon discovered, and he was mercilessly put to death.

The Albanian League is said to number 4,500 Uhlmen, equipped men, determined to resist the occupation of their territory by any Christian power. There is much talk of Servia and Montenegro co-operating with Austria. There are 36,000 insurgents with forty cannon in old Bosnia. They have an advance guard 6,000 strong between Grocanica and Honkarenovac. They have fortified Belina, Tuzla and Tolmy. After the defeat of the Austrians at Bi-hacks, the insurgents invaded Austrian territory at Tescovele, but were driven back.

A frightful colliery explosion occurred to-day at Abercane, near Newport, Monmouthshire. There were 371 in the pit, 80 of whom have been rescued. It is feared that no others have survived, as the pit is on fire.

Sept. 12.—The full extent of the terrible disaster in a coal mine at Abercane yesterday is not known. At half-past two this afternoon flooding of the pit was commenced. At that hour the fire was within a short distance of the bottom of the shaft, and all hope of further rescue had to be abandoned. When this decision was announced to the relatives of the 251 men still in the pit, the scene was terrible and beyond description. Thirteen additional bodies of the victims were recovered before the flooding of the pit began.

A royal free pardon of Fenians Melody and Condon passed under the great seal yesterday. They will be liberated in a few hours upon condition they reside outside of British dominions.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 10.—To-day the mortuary report is the longest of any day since the fever appeared, undertakers reporting 112 interments, of which 25 were colored people.

PORTLAND, Sept. 11.—The house stands now 65 Republicans and two Democrats supporting Republicans, 21 Democrats and 58 Greenbackers. Five are not reported, of which two are known to be Greenbackers. This makes 67 Republicans to 81 opposition. Some of the hard money Democrats may affiliate with the Republicans.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—The executive committee of the Massachusetts Democratic convention, yesterday voted that under the call for a state convention, no person known to be in favor of nominating as a candidate for governor or for any state office a person who is not a recognized member of the Democratic party should be entitled to sit or vote in the Democratic state convention.

ELLSWORTH, Me., Sept. 12.—Republicans concede the election of Murch. Greenbacker; in the fifth congressional district by 600 plurality.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The Inter-Ocean has a special from a reliable correspondent with Gen. Miles, dated Mammoth Springs, National Park, Sept. 9th, which reports a fight with the Bannock Indians on the morning of the 4th, in which Miles with 270 men of the 5th infantry and 32 friendly Crows, surprised the Bannocks at daybreak and after a two hours battle in which Capt. Bennett, company B, 5th infantry, of Little Rock, a French scout and one Crow Indian were killed of his force, 14 Bannocks were killed, 34 Bannock men women and children were taken prisoners and sent to Fort Keogh. Twenty-two Indian horses were killed and 200 captured.

SAN BUENAVENTURA, Sept. 11.—A. B. Shearer, telegraph operator at this place is believed to have committed suicide between 12 o'clock last night and 3 o'clock A. M. At the latter hour his wife missed him, and investigation showed barefoot tracks leading from his house to a wharf, at the end of which his nightshirt and coat were found, together with two bulky letters addressed respectively to his wife and his mother. All his other clothes were left in his bedroom. He was agent for several insurance companies, and it is believed that his liberality in giving credit, both on account of these and his telegraph business, has resulted in financial embarrassment. He leaves a wife and family of small children. Efforts to find the body have as yet been unavailing, but will be continued.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 14.—Business of all kinds is suspended, and people have no heart to attempt regular business and could not if they would. Even liquor saloons are for the most part closed. Provision stores, as a rule, are empty. The greatest need is provisions, clothing, physicians, money, nurses and medicine. The best thing that can be done now is to send plenty of provisions and clothing. Negroes and many poor whites from a section of 150 miles around Memphis, have flocked in hearing that they could get something to eat. As for clothes, hundreds of poor people are going around the streets, especially colored women, with hardly anything on at all. Sights in this respect are most distressing. So far no serious outbreak has occurred, but the better classes are in constant terror of a riot. The city is in the hands of colored police altogether, and while they behave very well, there is still a lurking fear of them on the part of the whites.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—At Lynn the Democrats last evening elected 18 Butler and 19 anti-Butler delegates to the State convention. The Democrats of Taunton elected 21 delegates, all favoring Butler. Brockton and Hopkinton elected anti-Butler delegates.

HAT CREEK, Wyo., Sept. 14.—The north-bound coach was stopped at about 11 o'clock last night by six armed men. Two passengers were aboard, one lady, who was unharmed, and a Mr. Goldsworthy, from whom they took ten $10 in money, but returned it on being informed that he was a laboring man. After robbing the mail sacks the coach was allowed to proceed north: meeting the down coach it was warned. When the down coach reached the place of robbery it was halted, and while the robbers were engaged in going through the pockets of two passengers and the mail sacks, the two messengers, who were riding about two hundred yards in the rear, came up, dismounted, and crept up to within fifteen yards of the robbers, when they were commanded to halt and were fired upon. The fire was returned and one of the robbers fell. The others retreated to the gulch, keeping up a steady fire on the robbers, who returned it, but dared not leave their positions. The coach in the meantime had driven on. After waiting some time and seeing that they were not strong enough to dislodge the robbers, the messengers mounted their horses and rejoined the coach, leaving the mail sacks lying in the road, near the body of the dead robber. The messengers a confident that two of the robbers who got away are badly wounded.

CUSTER CITY, D. T., Sept. 13.—The freight outfit of S. M. Booth, which left here on Monday, was stopped in Red Canyon Thursday afternoon by a band of road agents, and robbed of horses, provisions, clothing and money. Booth lost $1,200. The telegraph line repairer was also stopped and robbed of his arms, provisions and camping outfit.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—The political campaign is developing quite lively. The National party, headed by F. Hatch, an old Democrat and collector of the dort before the war, has telegraphed to Gen. Bearegard, now in New York, offering him the head of the state ticket, in opposition to Major Burke, the regular Democratic nominee.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 14.—Governor Woodcock has received a letter announcing the destruction of one of the largest illicit distilleries yet found. This still was of four hundred gallon capacity, and the distillery apparatus was valuable. It was located near Trektown, in a neighboring county.

PORTLAND, Sept. 14.—The house complete stands 65 Republicans, 2 Democrats elected by Republicans, 27 Democrats and 57 Greenbackers.

A curious case of suicide is mentioned in a London paper. A cat belonging to the Vicar of Wootton had given birth to four kittens. As she did not seem strong enough to suckle so many, it was judged best to drown them. After this she moped, and went about in quite a desponding manner. On a sudden she dashed across the lawn, and plunged into the ornamental pond in front of the house. She was quickly rescued, and a little brandy given her. As she then seemed a little better, she was let loose. Later in the afternoon, however, she spied an opportunity to get out of the house, ran again to the pond, and plunging in, was drowned.

Dr. J. S. Myer of Virginia City, Nev., has discovered a lost Egyptian art. He tempers copper tools to a more lasting cutting edge than steel tools will hold, similar to that of the copper implements with which the stone for the Pyramids was cut.

The handkerchief business must be stopped. The Rochester Express says: Some fellows are so sensitive that a man cannot blow his nose without their thinking he is trying to flirt with his girl.

A malignant plague has been brought to Readville, Mass., in hair from Siberia and Poland. Several operatives in a curled hair factory have died of the disease, and others are very ill.

A London policeman aged 22, lately reported seven fires within 30 hours. Such amazing activity excited suspicions that he had originated the fires himself for the information reward, and this being proved to the satisfaction of a jury, he has gone to penal service for fifteen years.

Twenty gallons of bottled lager beer were discovered in a tent at the Spiritualist camp meeting at Lake Pleasant, Mass., and three men have been arrested for selling whiskey from pocket flasks. Another disturbance arose from the seizure and exposure of a medium while personating a materialized spirit.

The growing strength of the third term movement inspires "Prince Fred" a specimen of his thoughts now and then. "I don't think pa is so pious a man as Mr. Hayes," he says, "but he can knock the spots out of him as President."

A clergyman having been introduced into a Kent, living took occasion during his first sermon to introduce the word "optics." At the conclusion of the service a farmer who was present thanked him for his discourse, but intimated that he had made a mistake in one word, softening down the severity of his criticism by saying, "We all know very well, sir what you meant." On the clergyman making further inquiries about the word the farmer replied: "What you call hopsticks, in this part of the country we call hoppeloes."

Edison of the Bonanza mines of California, confident that he has electric apparatus that will indicate where to find bodies of ore, give their approximate extent, and make a near guess at their metallic value. Eight of the non-paying mines on the Bonanza vein have simultaneously penetrated barren rock to the depth of 2,000 feet, at which the great Bonanza is found. All these are preparing to cross-cut blindly in all directions in search of Bonanzas. Edison's arrival in California is therefore deemed timely.

The effect of a balloon-descent was tried on a camp-meeting near Cincinnati lately. The balloon came sailing down in the middle of prayer, like an answer from above, but it effectually broke up the meeting. As the aeronaut had ballast left, some of the people wanted him to give an ascension exhibition; but the expostulations of the preacher to please not turn the camp meeting into a circus prevailed.

Nathan Hilles enjoyed for thirty years an especially honored place among business men in Philadelphia. He was a leading Quaker, too, and always among the foremost in philanthropic public movements. Now, he is in disgrace. Extensive defalcations have been proved against him, and the Society of Friends has expelled him from membership. Until recently he was President of a bank and of a coal company, but crookedness in his conduct of affairs led to his resignation. Among his victims are the heirs of several estates confided to his care.

A correspondent of the Times of India complains of the destruction of the relief of ancient Babylon. A dealer in bricks, he says, is excavating Mount Meyelibeh, near Hillah, and is carrying away great walls which he finds thirty feet below the surface. The brick dealer has discovered a large subterranean apartment, on each brick of which is the name of an ancient king. He has begun demolishing it. Hillah is built with bricks taken from Babylon, and the courtyard of the house where he resides is paved with square bricks bearing the name of Ne-luchadnezzar.

In Rosendale, England, the other day, the "rights and titles" in a wife were handed over by her husband, under a lease, for the sum of £5 to another man, a stone mason, who had become enamored of the lady. The husband at first asked £10. The mason did not think she was worth it, but ultimately they repaired to an inn, referring the matter to the arbitration of the landlord, who persuaded the husband to relinquish all claims to the wife for £5.

Prof. Mears of Hamilton College believes that, while every wise effort should be made to reform students' disorderly customs, the evil is so inwrought with the traditions of college life that it cannot be extirpated by violent measures. He says, in the Independent: "Stern and uncompromising laws against rowdiness of every form, and a firm policy in executing them, are the backbone of the whole system of effort against the nuisance. The orderly students, who really come to study the peaceable, and the timorous should know that they have the support of such laws and such a firm policy behind them, even if they do not always avail to protect them. Such a wholesale procedure as the suspension of an entire class from Princetown College, in the summer of 1877, for their rude treatment of the incoming freshmen, was right and judicious so far as the general policy is concerned, even though the hazing afterward was not only stopped, but took on a worse form." But Prof. Mears would leave no idle hands for the devil to employ, making the discipline rigorous as to amount of study and providing plenty of apparatus for gymnastic exercise during play spells. He thinks that religious students are seldom disorderly, and therefore advises the encouragement of religious exercises and societies.

Another View of the Maine Election.

The mortifying check encountered by the Maine Republicans is of broader significance than its local effect in New England. There can no longer be any reasonable doubt that the Democrats will control both houses next congress. The Democratic party will feel encouraged, and with the sanguine spirit which is its besetting infirmity, it will be confident of carrying the presidential election. Its success is staked meanwhile on the use it may make of its assured control of the government. We have no great fear that it will be so foolish and demented as to raise the question of Hayes' title and attempt to depose him. So revolutionary a proceeding would alarm the country, disturb business, undermine confidence and cause an overwhelming reaction against the Democratic party. The Republican party confesses that it is in desperate straits by the very fact of looking to Grant as its possible candidate. He is not likely to accept the nomination unless he thinks he would be elected, and when the Republican party turns to him as its only hope in the expectation that he would accept the nomination it reckens without its host.—N. Y. Herald.

Small Means.

We think that the power of money is on the whole, over-estimated. The greatest things which were done for the world have not been accomplished by rich men, or by subscription lists, but by men generally of small pecuniary means. The greatest thinkers, discoverers, inventors and artists have been men of moderate wealth, many of them little raised above the condition of manual laborers in point of worldly circumstances. And it will always be so. Riches are oftener an impediment than a stimulus of action; and in many cases they are quite as much a misfortune as a blessing. The youth, who inherits wealth is apt to have life made too easy for him, and so grows sated with it because he has nothing left to desire. Having no special object to struggle for, he finds time too heavy on his hands; remains mentally and morally asleep; and his position in society is often no higher than that of a polypus over which the tide floats.

A curious and exciting story has been most cruelly spoiled by an unromantic British Consul. The story was that an English lady—of course young and beautiful, and she was adventurous—had gone beyond the limits of safety on the rocks at Biarritz, and she had fallen into a great lake among the rocks and was drowned. But drowning was not her worst fate. The pool, or Palaise de la Mort, as it was called, was peopled by myriads of "barbots," which have such an insatiable taste for human flesh that within six hours nothing is left of the victim except the bones. Thus Miss Garland was not only drowned, but eaten up by barbots. The whole story, barbots and all, turns out to be a myth. The British Consul declares that it is entirely without foundation. He says there is no such pool as Palaise de la Mort, nor any insects called barbots.

The Danish Princess Thyra is a remarkably plain girl, but is exceedingly clever. The Duke of Connaught aspires to good looks, and when, some two years ago, he was summarily despatched to Copenhagen by Queen Victoria with the distinct understanding that he was to propose and be accepted, he gracefully declined, and beat a hasty retreat. Thyra would have been only too pleased to make so good a match, but should she get Prince Leon Napoleon she gets a desirable fish.

Railroad Mass Meeting.

Pursuing to a call upon Judge Jacobs to address the citizens of Seattle on the railroad situation, Yesler's large Hall was filled by an interested audience at an early hour last evening. Irving Ballard, Esq. called the meeting to order, and on motion, Beriah Brown was elected chairman.

The Chair, after stating the objects of the meeting, bore testimony to the fidelity and ability with which our Delegate had represented the interests and defended the rights of the people of the Territory against corporate power, not only as evidenced by the records, but by the voluntary statements of colleagues opposed to him politically.

Judge Jacobs then appeared upon the platform, and proceeded to state, chronologically and circumstantially, the history of the N. P. Railroad for the last fourteen years: the organization of the company, connection of the same with the "Lake Superior and Puget Sound Land Co.," under a charter from the State of Maine; with the "Town Site Co.," under a charter from the State of Pennsylvania; and with the "Oregon Steam Navigation Co.," how the railroad managers had used the land subsidy, appropriated the money of the bond-holders and stock-holders, bankrupted the company and forfeited the land grant, in the sole effort to enrich themselves through these parasite companies which drew their vitality from the munificent donation intended by Congress to aid in the construction of a great national highway through the public domain, through which the homeless and landless might find land and home upon their own natural heritage, instead of which, for more than ten years nearly one half of the land within our borders have been withheld from market and the balance isolated from settlement, and not a mile of railroad has been constructed by that company in an eastern direction. And now a re-extension of ten years more is demanded on the same terms. He explained his connection with the legislation asked of Congress, to the entire satisfaction of his audience; of which we shall remark more fully hereafter.

C. H. Hanford offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the construction of a railroad across the Cascade mountains to connect the vast timberless, but rich agricultural regions of the east side, with the equally vast timber and coal fields and the fisheries and commerce of Puget Sound, is not only an enterprise of great importance to the whole nation, but absolutely necessary for the further growth and development of our territory.

Resolved, Therefore, that all good citizens should in every way, and by all means, to the full extent of their abilities, assist every practical and bona fide undertaking to build such railroad by any pass or route whatever.

Resolved, That while it is the duty of all thus to aid the enterprise, it is equally a duty to exercise common sense and prudence in the manner of its bestowal, so that the public benefactions may serve to forward the enterprise without obstructing the improvement and development of the country.

Resolved, That it is manifest that the Northern Pacific Railroad Company has no present intention of making a bona fide attempt to construct the so-called branch of the road to Puget Sound.

Resolved, Therefore, that the policy of withholding from settlement millions of acres of the fairest portions of our Territory, and of depriving the people of the rights which they should enjoy--of acquiring the same for homes--only for the ostensible purpose of granting the same to the said company to aid it to construct said so-called branch road can be characterized by no fitter terms than "folly" and "fraud."

Resolved, That any political party or candidate for the suffrages of the people that voluntarily endorses such policy and favors extension or continuation of the same, deserves only to be defeated and consigned to oblivion.

These resolutions were unanimously adopted, after which Hon. J. J. McGilvra arose in response to call and made a brief but telling speech on the subject matter of the resolutions, which received the hearty endorsement of the audience and elicited enthusiastic applause.

Not a Party Matter.

The announcement in the Intelligencer of this morning that the resolutions adopted unanimously by the meeting last evening were offered by the "Chairman of the Republican Committee," was gratuitous, unauthorized, and calculated to create an impression of a partisan character which the facts did not warrant. The invitation to Judge Jacobs was joined in, without party distinction, by prominent members of both political parties; the object of the meeting was above all party considerations, and the presiding officer was in no wise identified with either of the political parties in the practical issues in the pending election, and in common with Judge Jacobs, protests against an intimation that it had any party indication or bearing, independent of the positions which either party might assume in the contest. Nothing, however, was more certain than that the meeting unanimously condemned that portion of the platform of the Democratic convention which proposed an unconditional surrender of the Territory to the monopolists. Between the Republicans and the Democrats represented in the meeting there was no conflict on that question, and the Republicans had no more right to claim the meeting than had the Democrats.

Oregon Senator.

The election of James H. Slater, Senator from Oregon, fully disposes of the often repeated statement that Senator Mitchell's defeat was the popular verdict against him for opposing the O. S. N. Co. and the Land Ring of the N. P. R. R. Co. All who know Senator Slater, know that he was among the most active and ardent supporters of the measure known as the "Mitchell bill" and those who have read the Oregonian and other organs of the monopolists, have learned that next to Mitchell, Slater was the most offensive to that interest of any of the candidates named. Nothing can be further from the truth than the assertion that the policy of Senator Mitchell on the railroad question, was not in accordance with a large majority of the popular sentiment. Mitchell was sustained by his own party in nearly every precinct in the State where the issue was made, and the Democratic party has endorsed his railroad policy by the election of Slater, against the most determined opposition of the combination of monopolists who pursued Mitchell to his political defeat. The same popular sentiment prevails in Washington Territory. The action of Delegate Jacobs in co-operating with Senator Mitchell for the defeat of the unconscionable demands of the monopolists is cordially endorsed by nine-tenths of the people of both political parties, and the trick by which the Democratic Convention was packed and a platform and candidate dictated in the interest of the monopolists, will be rebuked by all honest Democrats, who have not surrendered their manhood to party.

AN OPEN LETTER.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Sept. 13, 1878.
BERIAH BROWN, Esq.,
Editor of Dispatch:

SIR:— I feel deeply sensible of my obligation to you for the candid and conclusive manner in which you have met the charges against me, which have from time been bandied about, not only through the public prints, but through private circles. The obligation is the greater from the fact that the service was unsolicited and not in recognition of any claim upon you of either a political or personal character, and could only have been actuated by a sense of justice and fair dealing between men. You are aware that I have not heretofore entered into any public controversy with my assailants, trusting my vindication to the knowledge of my character possessed by the people, among whom I have resided for nearly twenty years, without suffering an imputation of wrong until within a short period. But it seems now due to those who have volunteered in my defense, that I should speak for myself, lest my further silence while the matter is being publicly discussed, should be construed into a confession of guilt or evasion of the charges against me.

Twenty-five years ago, when I was fifteen years and seven months of age, entirely unacquainted with the English language and a stranger in a foreign land, I joined the army and shortly afterward deserted the service without any excuse that was technically legal. As a matter of law the enlistment was void ab initio being that of a minor under eighteen years of age, not having the consent of either parent or guardian. You seem to have intuitively comprehended the motive and incentive to that act, for which I have suffered years of mental agony with the full conviction that I had wronged no human being by it, or done what others would not have done under the same circumstances. A boy, unacquainted with the institutions and customs of the country and with no knowledge of its language, I enlisted, believing that in a free government, where all men are equal, the military vocation presented the best field for achievement by one ambitious for distinction, to be won only by meritorious service. But the delusion was speedily dispelled, when I was ordered to menial service in a hospital, with no prospect of active service in the field, as the country was then at peace. I determined at all hazards to escape from the degrading slavery, deeming a failure resulting in the severest punishment preferable. I succeeded, and alone, penniless and unfriended, I sought this then remote bound of civilization, where by own efforts, I acquired an education fitting me for position as a lawyer, and how I have since succeeded in my profession, is well known in the community. In the meantime I had a large family growing up and the great secret of my life was becoming every year a greater burden to me from the fear that a disclosure might bring odium upon them. Not until I had attained a political position of prominence, was any attempt made to impeach my honor, on account of any public or private transaction in my business, profession, or social intercourse. When I was Secretary of this Territory my political or social relations happened to be such as to incur the jealousy and enmity of a combination hostile to then Territorial Administration, and a conspiracy was formed by our common enemy, of which I was to be the victim and Samuel C. Wingard, then U. S. Attorney, was the instrument. The specific charges were made and the proofs of my desertion hunted up. In addition I was charged with non-citizenship and with making a corrupt bargain with the Public Printer in respect to the printing of the laws, journals, etc., of Washington Territory, with permitting the use of inferior paper in the work of said printing and furnishing a less quantity than that required by law. These charges were forwarded from Washington to Wingard with instructions to make a thorough and impartial investigation and report. Instead of so doing he disregarded his instructions by affording me no notice of any charges, except that of desertion and gave me no opportunity whatever for explanation or rebuttal. In a midnight cabal, composed of my bitter personal enemies, ex parte affidavits of these several charges were secretly agreed on as furnishing abundant proof of my guilt and were forwarded to Washington City, supplemented by an adverse report from Wingard, where in he hypocritically professed feigning feelings towards me and with an artful dissimulation that would do credit to Iago, claimed to have acted only from a conviction of painful duty. This report was summarily set aside upon the recommendation of the Attorney General of the United States by the Secretary of the Interior, when the unfair, malicious and ex parte character of the investigation was ascertained. A trial de novo was awarded when all the testimony was carefully scanned and thoroughly considered by the Commissioners of the General Land Office and Assistant Attorney General Smith, acting as special referees and the result was my complete vindication, and my continuance in the office of Secretary for two years longer and until after the expiration of my full term. By the President's own order the enlistment was cancelled as of the alleged desertion without any qualification or the imposition of any civil disabilities, the circumstance being deemed by the President and the Secretary of War as affording ample justification of the act. The charge of not being a citizen was also satisfactorily disproven and subsequently at the request of friends, whose motives and integrity cannot be questioned for one moment and for the purpose of setting at rest forever any controversy concerning the same, I made full proof of my residence and other qualifications and thereupon was judicially declared to be a citizen by a court of competent jurisdiction. The charge of corruption in office was so utterly false and groundless as to elicit severe comments by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, who acted as referee, upon the flimsy character of the hearsay testimony, upon which Wingard's report was predicated. For four long years I have quietly suffered from the crying injustice and the false imputations, which the malice of Wingard sought to perpetuate by his charges of official corruption, without making public these facts, which involved a reflection upon his integrity and honesty of purpose. I did this, because about the same time, by some feat of political legerdemain, he was appointed to judicial office and I was taught to respect the ermine, if not the form which it covers. But when through his agency, his report upon which the stamp of disapproval had been set by his superiors in Washington, is exhumed and paraded in the public prints as a document importing the verity of a judgment, and when he, especially when in his cups, seeks every occasion to malign me and cast obloquy on my name to the sorrow of my family, forbearance ceases to be a virtue and I stand ready at any time to measure personal records with him--here as well as in PENNSYLVANIA.

The foregoing comprises all the offenses, which have ever been charged against me during all of my years of residence in this Territory. During that time I filled the office of Probate Judge and that of Prosecuting Attorney for seven successive years, besides being a member for several terms of both houses of the Legislative Assembly and President of the council and Secretary of the Territory for over four years, besides having been employed to conduct as an Attorney over two thousand cases in the different courts of this Territory. I am not aware, than in any of these various relations, I have ever been accused of doing a personal wrong to any man; of any other violation of law, civil or moral; of any misuse of trust, betrayal of confidence or faithfulness to any public or private obligation. Whom have I defamed? Whom defrauded? Whom wronged in any business transaction or whose emity have I incurred in any private relation? Let my assailants answer! I cannot close this letter without alluding briefly to N. H. Bloomfield, Prosecuting Attorney and candidate for re-election, who in his inordinate greed for office and in his utter disregard for truth and the most palpable obligations, which gratitude imposes, has been mainly instrumental by the use of the most disreputable means in setting in motion the machinery of the Press to promulgate these charges. Under an editorial alias he has been permitted by the Vancouver publisher to print in the Independent his indictment, which is as unfair as it is untrue in all of its salient particulars. I have very good authority for stating, that the article in question was written by Bloomfield himself, and the manuscript was until recently in existence to prove it. The editor himself is a comparative stranger to the Territory and myself and has no personal knowledge of the matter therein stated and could have no justifiable motive to assail me in a community where I lived so long and was so well known and had been the recipient of so many generous favors and so much kindly recognition. I am informed also, that the same article in substance was reproduced in the Astorian during the absence of the editor at the instance of Bloomfield, who with the connivance of one of the employees procured its publication in only such a portion of its regular edition, as circulated exclusively in Pacific and Wahkiakum counties. In every nook and corner of every county in this judicial district his pathway is plainly seen, strown with the shafts of his malice, his venom and his falsehoods. He, through a few well chosen and well known confederates of equal turpitude, but of superior mental calibre, has invoked the aid of the Democratic papers in remote and opposite portions of the Territory in this nefarious business, thus creating strife and discord in the ranks of the Republican party. Of all others, N. H. Bloomfield should be one of the last to attempt an injury to my character. When I was appealed to by him in 1872 to help his father, who was being pursued by the authorities of Missouri as an alleged fugitive from justice and when at a subsequent period he requested me to assist professionally in securing the remnant of his father's fortune about to be unlawfully converted by others, whereby I incurred the maledictions and hatred of unscrupulous enemies; when I to a great extent guided his studies in the law and encouraged him when despondent; when on all occasions I had none but kindly words for him so he might secure a foothold in the profession and when at all times he was received as a welcome guest under my roof, and when for my services, professional or otherwise, no fee or reward was ever paid, offered or demanded, would seem that the most ordinary impulses of gratitude would at least have dictated a generous silence concerning the supposed faults of a friend. I have done nothing to provoke this attack except consenting to the use of my name at the earnest request of many friends for the office of Prosecuting Attorney, which office through the laborious efforts of Mr. Bloomfield in the lobby of the last Legislature, had its emoluments increased from $1,000 per annum to $2,500 or thereabouts, thus making it an object of laudable ambition to an attorney of any degree of ability or standing at the bar.

I assure you, sir, that the reopening of these wounds and the indulgence of reflections on the conduct of others, are an unpleasant task, that I would gladly shrink from, but duty to my good name and those who are dependent on me, demands its execution.

Thanking you again for your kindness, I subscribe myself, your obedient servant, H. G. STRUVE.

Rev. W. T. Ellis is pastor of the Congregational Church in Woodstock, Conn. He habitually uses violent language in his sermons. This is only a sample: "You low, mealy-mouthed looking wretches of the devil, you look as if you had but now hopped up out of hell, and the devil had stuck you up against the fence to dry." A part of the congregation united in requesting him to resign, but he refused to go. A committee and a policeman went to take possession of the church. Ellis and a few adherents locked the doors. A whole night was spent in quarrelling and actual fighting; but in the morning the pastor retreated.

Conant, the thieving bank cashier of Boston, turned over to his employers a large quantity of Sierra Nevada minestock which was then worth only $9 a share. The present price is $100, and the rise more than covers the loss.

The girls of San Antonio, Texas, wear broad brimmed felt hats, hang parasols like swords at their belts, and look like bandits in skirts.

A few ago a girl of 16 was bro't before a Police Justice in Connecticut for a petty theft, when she stated to the Court that she was a partly adopted daughter of her employer, who employed her as a domestic, but paid her no wages. She was almost destitute of clothing, and took the money to purchase some.

General News.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The postoffice department has great difficulty in the management of postal affairs in the yellow fever districts. At Grenada the situation is particularly distressing. The postmaster died a few days ago, and a telegraphic appeal was received requesting that his wife be appointed as his successor, as the salary was needed. This morning a dispatch was received stating that she was dead. All the bondsmen are dead or have left the city and all the money, stamps and records of the office are locked up in a safe, and the only persons who know the combination are dead. A clergyman is now acting as volunteer postmaster for two hours daily. This is in violation of law on the part of the department, but there is no remedy.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 16.—Mortality to-day has been greater than was anticipated, 111 deaths being reported, 36 of which were colored. Yesterday there were 98 deaths instead of 90 as reported.

GRANADA, Sept. 16.—Two deaths and two new cases. Fever is abating and we may soon look for a more cheerful condition of affairs.

VICKSBURG, Sept. 16.—Clear and warm; thermometer, 98°. Physicians think that there is a steady decline in new cases. Eighteen deaths to-day—nine whites and nine colored.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 16.—Of the 24 original Howards only six are on their feet, the rest being dead or sick. The clerical force is so much reduced that Secretary J. H. Smith requests persons sending contributions to sent by draft. There is apparent falling off in the number of new cases. Only 52 new applications for nurses were made to the Howards to-day. Twenty-six physicians of the medical corps report 114 new cases for the 24 hours preceding Friday at 6 P. M., against 234 yesterday.

The following is the total death list up to the end of last week: New Orleans 2,091, Baton Rouge 30, Plaquemine 37, Morgan City, La, 8, Port Eads La, 8, Memphis 1985, Grenada 223, Holly Springs 76, Vicksburg 566, Canton, 54, Port Gibson 96, Ocean Springs, Miss., 9, Greenville Miss 47, Lake Miss 2 Hickman Ky 26, Louisville 7, Ipolis, Ohio 9, Cincinnati 6, St. Louis 10, Chicago 1, Cairo, 3. Total 5,306.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The Times' Boston special says: A carefully kept tally of instructed delegates to the Democratic state convention shows thus far 454 for Butler and 398 opposed. A few more caucuses are to be held tomorrow. One of the pledged delegates to the Republican convention on 239 are for Talbot and 67 for Long. A large number are uninstructed and a few have been instructed to vote for congressman Pierce as a candidate to draw Democratic votes to beat Butler.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 16.—The following account of the most horrible murder is given in dispatches from Houston, Texas: The wife of Geo. Lynch, a respected citizen of Berkeley, Texas, died some weeks ago, leaving an infant. Lynch had seven other children, the oldest, Clemie being seventeen years of age. On Friday night the family retired as usual, the lamp being left burning in the main room. At midnight the father was awakened by a pistol shot and the ball striking him in the breast. He sprang up and saw a masked man standing in the middle room, pointing a pistol at him. The assassin fired again, the ball lodging beneath his collar bone. Lynch fell unconscious. When he recovered consciousness he found himself lying in a lane outside the premises. The assassin thinking Lynch was dead, seized a hatchet and killed the children, who were witnesses. He assaulted Clemie and buried the hatchet in her head, and also crashed the head of three other children and then set fire to the house. The distracted father saw the burning house fall in on the bodies of his eight children. The bodies were afterwards exhumed and an inquest held, when the hatchet wounds were discovered upon the skulls of the children. It is thought that Lynch will recover. A young man named Boatware, with whom Lynch had had a difficulty is suspected of the crime.

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—McDevitt's declaration that the Butlerites proposed to retain the hall was answered by a passionate appeal of applause. When the state central committee fully realized that the Butler faction had control of Mechanic's hall they appointed a committee to see what could be done towards procuring a hall. They waited on mayor Pratt about 10 o'clock.

In his speech Spofford alluded to the wants of the laboring class, and denounced bond-holding and banking monopolies. He was heartily applauded. At the conclusion of Spofford's speech John L. Rice, of Springfield, nominated

Gen. B. F. Butler for Governor amid cheers and great excitement, the delegates all rising. Cook, of Boston, seconded the nomination.

At this point, amid most intense excitement, John C. Galvin took the floor and denounced the action of the committee, being repeatedly interrupted by hisses, groans and cries of "Put him out." The speaker asked how in the name of God any Democrat could nominate Butler? He had opposed every Democratic principle for fifteen years. When the speaker said it was proposed to put him in the field as presidential candidate, there were cries of "Yes, yes." Three groans were given for the speaker at the conclusion of his speech.

A committee on resolutions was appointed consisting of a delegate from each congressional district.

Cook said it would take some time for the committee to draft the resolutions to suit the convention, and moved a recess, which was taken till 2 P. M.

The convention re-assembled at 2 P. M. Butler's nomination was enthusiastically received.

The platform reaffirms the principles of Democracy and condemns and promises to reform the state government's extravagance.

Resolved, That with exceeding shame and sorrow we have seen a president, elected by the votes of the majority of the constitution, set aside. Our grief has not lessened because this monstrous wrong was done by the aid of the unconstitutional commission which found it necessary, by a party majority, to refuse evidence of patent frauds in the electoral votes in order to consummate the act. We therefore unhesitatingly declare that no man ought to be permitted to hold office who is tainted with fraud and corruption and if it can be done without rebuke by the people then indeed we fear the opportunity of Republican institutions.

Resolved, That we protest against the longer continuance of one party in power in the nation, and especially in this commonwealth, as tending to corruption and affording opportunity to temptation for maladministration and speculation, and multiplication of salaries and officers heretofore unknown.

The following state ticket was nominated: Lieut. Governor, John T. Arnold; Secretary of state, Chas. M. Strauss; Attorney general, Caleb Cushing; Auditor, J. B. O'Reilly; Treasurer, D. N. Spilling.

An Unprotected Woman.

A gentleman who arrived in Baltimore last evening from California gave a reporter of the Gazette the particulars of an exciting episode which occurred at Altoona, Pa., on Monday evening, in which a San Francisco sea captain figured as the hero in resenting a gross insult offered by a passenger to a young lady traveler. The latter was Miss McGee of Chicago, a prepossessing girl of 17, who took passage on the Atlantic express train at Chicago on Sunday evening. She was accompanied on board by a brother and sister, from whom she affectionately parted, and entered alone on her long journey to England via New York. Messages of love were sent by the brother and sister to their parents abroad, and the farewell was such a touching scene as to excite the sympathies of many of the passengers. Miss McGee secured an unoccupied seat, and her modest deportment and beauty attracted general attention. When the train reached Pittsburg a coarse, brutal-looking man got on board and after it had gone a few miles he approached the seat of Miss McGee, and occupying the one immediately behind her, attempted to engage her in conversation, but received no reply to his questions, and as he persisted in them, she appeared deeply mortified, and her face flushed scarlet at his insulting addresses. Finding that she would not reply, he followed up his rude advances by crowding into the seat alongside of her, despite her protest that she was fatigued and preferred to ride alone. At this juncture, Captain Slocum, who had been quietly observing the fellow, approached and invited the lady to his seat, which she gratefully accepted. The Captain proposed punishing the fellow at once, but upon some protests being made by the passengers, he resumed his seat. At Altoona station the young lady's insulter stepped from the train, and as he reached the platform he was confronted by the Captain, a man physically inferior apparently. With the remark that he had a wife and sister who might be traveling alone and subject to the insults of such a man, the Captain dealt him a powerful blow in the face, felling him to the platform and cutting him badly below the left eye. The passengers inquired excitedly the cause of the assault, and the captain briefly explained that he was resenting an insult to a young lady traveling alone and unprotected. The stranger rose quickly, and while in the act of drawing a pistol, was struck again and knocked to the ground, and upon rising received several more blows in the face. An officer finally interfered, but upon learning the cause of the attack made no attempt to arrest the assailant, and the general verdict was, "served him right." The man was severely injured and his face shockingly disfigured. The young lady was placed under the charge of the conductor, who promised to have her transferred to the care of the conductors in each subsequent section until reaching New York.—Baltimore Gazette of August 29th.

Guests at hotels in New Jersey are not permitted to mash mosquitoes on the walls, but must get 'em down on the floor and choke 'em to death and ring for the porter to draw off the corpse.—Detroit Free Press.

A carpenter, at work in a Boston fashionable residence, was accused of stealing a gold watch from a bureau. He protested innocence, but was taken to jail. Then the accuser learned that the watch had been taken by her little girl. The carpenter refused to accept either apology or remuneration.

Base ball has been a dangerous game since the introduction of "dead," or hard, balls and the practice of extremely swift pitching. A few days ago James Barry, the catcher of a club in Boonville, N. Y., was hit in the stomach and instantly killed.

Widow Van Cott, the revival preacher, was interviewed recently by a reporter for the Times of Oakland, Cal. Speaking of the rewards of her labor she said:

"I visit a church by invitation of the minister and official board. When invited they ask: 'What are your terms?' and my invariable reply is: 'A hearty co-operation of the church and the salvation of immortal souls.' After I have accomplished my work, on the last Saturday, without a word being said to me, the minister obtains, on his own responsibility, a testimonial for me. That testimonial will vary. If it is a large and wealthy church, it will average about $75 a week; but if it is a small and poor one, it will be from $100 to $125 a week."

A comparison of ancient records with modern observations tends to show that diphtheria is an old disease with a new name. It made great havoc in New England, especially in New Hampshire and Maine, and three different epochs 1735-'8, 1786 and 1832. The disease seems to have spread slowly from its first centres of outbreak in the attack of 1735-'8, taking four months to reach Boston, and two years to arrive at the banks of the Hudson river.

Yesterday morning a boy climbed up into one of the maples of Fifth street as far as he could go, and then tried to go on a little farther. The limb yielded, snapped, and down he came crashing through the bows like a tornado, and dropping on the ground with a thump like a bass drum. A passing citizen saw him fall, and with a cry of horror ran to pick him up. To him the boy, slowly assuming an erect posture and walking off with assumed dignity said: "You needn't holler, you old fool, you didn't make me do it, and you couldn't neither."—Burlington Hawkeye.

A clergyman said that he once visited a young lady in the parish who had just lost her husband in order to offer her consolation, and upon her earnest inquiries as to the reunion of families in heaven, he strongly asserted his belief in that fact, when she asked with anxiety whether any time must elapse before friends would be able to find each other in the next world, he emphatically said, "No! they are united at once." He was thinking of the happiness of being able to offer the relief of such a faith, when she broke in upon his meditations by exclaiming, sadly, "Well, his first wife has got him, then, by this time?"

A woman was recently seen going through the streets of Birkenhead, England, covered with flour and treacle. It seems she had been too intimate with her sister's husband, and a letter from her addressed to him, making an appointment, fell into the wife's hands. Instead of the husband meeting his sister-in-law, the wife made arrangements with some forty or fifty of her friends, and money was freely spent in flour and treacle, which, having been applied to the person of the sister, rendered her a pitiable object as she made her way through the streets, followed by a crowd of jeering women.

St. Louis has a sadly fallen man in the person of Frank A. George, who had charge of the Money Order Department in the Post Office. He stole $5,000 and ran away. His case is remarkable, because no evidence has been discovered of vicious habits, or of losses by speculation. He is the son of a clergyman, his social companions were respectable, and he was regarded as possessing uncommonly honorable instincts.

FOREST FIRES.—The following additional particulars concerning the terrible fires which have been raging for several days past along the north side of the Columbia river are gleaned from the Vancouver Independent.

Many small fires have been raging in various places in the timber of Clarke county, but on Monday the heavy wind blowing started them all up fiercely, and in some sections they spread with great rapidity. In the vicinity of Parker's landing, Fisher's landing, Cape Horn mountain and Fifth plain, much damage has been done to farm property as well as to timber. At this time we hear many rumors of farm houses burned, and of deaths, in the uncertainty of these reports we will let the rumors pass until confirmed or disproved.

On Monday the fire coming down from the foot hills on Fifth plain creek, burned the place of Wm. Campbell. The house, barn, fences, chickens, pigs—everything but the ground—were totally destroyed, and the family had hard work to escape with what clothing they had on, the sum total of all they saved from the place. The Nisson place in that neighborhood was also destroyed, and on it was stacked the grain from the farms of Campbell, Sliderberg, and Fleming, and some hay, which was all consumed. By hard work, John Pearson saved his buildings, but lost much fencing. Reuben Brown, who lives near Fern prairie, beyond this neighborhood, had hard work to save his property.

The farmers throughout the county were in great danger on Monday, and worked hard to save where ever threatened. In some localities a panic prevailed, and some farms were abandoned by the occupants, who sought places of greater safety. With the going down of the wind Monday night, the danger was greatly lessened. Several fires are now burning on Salmon creek, but we have no houses burned in that locality.

Battle Ground is reported as suffering from some very heavy fires, and the people are working hard to save their property. A lady correspondent at Battle Ground sent us a complete account of the fires there, which we are unable to insert in full for lack of space and time. The fire ran over the place of A. J. Bean, destroying the house, unoccupied, and the old barn but the grain barn was saved by Mr. Palmer. The Kent and Miller places were both swept clean. H. E. Caples' house was burned, but his little brother summoned aid enough to save part of the contents. The McIrvine place was totally destroyed. Since Monday nothing but fencing and timber have been burned, though the fires are still raging.

CAT IN A WELL.—One day this week several children residing back of the University, conceived that it would be a fine thing to kill a cat by slow torture. This plan they put into execution, and dispatched the cat, to their infinite amusement. Next they were interested in hiding the deed, and after searching awhile concluded that a well near at hand would effectually conceal what they had done, so passy was tumbled in. The owner of the well knew nothing of the transaction, and unless the presence of the dead cat is discovered in the well, sickness may result from using the water and possibly death ensue. There is no telling what the children of this city may do, and persons having wells uncovered, would do well to examine them occasionally, especially if there are many ungovernable children in the neighborhood.

SHOOTING.—Yesterday afternoon, Major Bean and Byron Page again did some good shooting, the Major using the rifle A. A. Denny brought to this country. His five shots at a mark two inches square, at 40 yards were: first shot, 1 inch from center; second, same; third, 1/4 inch; fourth, 1/2 inch; fifth, 1/2 inch. Page made five shots at a mark one-half inch square. First shot, 1/2 inch from center; 1 1/2 inches; third, 1/2 inch; fourth, 1/2 inch; fifth, 1 1/2 inches. These distances are estimated, not actual measurement. The old Missionary naturally feels proud of his scores. He is ready to shoot with any of the boys, at Mr. Stull's cabin on the old railroad, next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

It is the custom of the farmers on the eastern shore of Lake Washington to come to this city every Saturday. This morning they started as usual, and the first ones on the lake were unable to see their way on account of the fog. Those crossing later were able to see their way the entire distance.

On Tuesday evening last a man was arrested at Astoria who was supposed to be Johnson the robber. He follows insists that his name is George Maogray and that he is a sailor. He is kept in durance vile, however, for some reason.

THE GOLD EXCITEMENT.—The steamer Fanny Lake arrived from Snohomish City at half-past three this afternoon, bringing news of the gold excitement. The report published in last evening's DISPATCH is confirmed. The excitement in Snohomish City is said to be intense. Capt. Hill handed us a memoranda given him from the mines, which states that the mines are 25 miles from Snohomish city. Fifty claims are already taken and some of the gold is on exhibition at Snohomish city.

BISHOP OF CANAE.—Rt. Rev. Chas. Seghers arrived at San Francisco on the first inst., says the Sentinel, after his long and arduous missionary tour of fifteen months in Alaska. Bishop Seghers is accompanied by Father Mandart, and we are happy to know that both missionaries enjoy excellent health. Bishop Seghers has been appointed Coadjutor to the Most Rev. F. N. Blanchet, the venerable Archbishop of Oregon City, under the title of Bishop of Canae, in partibus infidelium.

The women of Snohomish county now wash their dishes in wash tubs, their husbands have all the dishes in use washing out gold on the Skykomish.

The four boats that started on the race yesterday, were becalmed when near the Milton buoy, and rowed back to this city again last evening. So the race is still in the future.

BAPTIST CHURCH.—J. A. Wirth, pastor, preaches to-morrow morning and evening. Sunday School immediately after morning service. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Rev. D. P. Marryatt, of Michigan, will preach in the Presbyterian Church to-morrow morning at 11, A. M., and in the evening at 7:30. All are cordially invited.

From Daily of Monday.

The Gold Excitement. The gold excitement is still on the increase. About 30 men left this city on the Fanny Lake at 7 o'clock this morning. Some of them were fully equipped, carrying picks, shovels, pans, bacon, flour and tobacco, and others went without baggage, intending simply to locate claims and return for their outfits if the diggings are as rich as reported. Among the number are many experienced miners, and no doubt the mines will be thoroughly prospected.

Samples of grain gold, said to have been taken from the mines in Snohomish county, were shown in this city yesterday. In the afternoon a number of persons started for the mines in skiffs and canoes, taking their outfits with them. If the mines are half as rich as represented, a great many people will go to them on Friday, when the Fanny Lake makes her next trip.

An account of the state of affairs at Snohomish city is sent us under date of Sept. 13th, by W. M. Tirtlot, Esq., thus: "Great excitement prevails here in regard to a report that very rich diggings have been struck at some point on the Sultan river. The merchants and blacksmiths, with a large number of the population of the town, have gone up to the mines among whom are E. C. Ferguson and Ward. The town is almost deserted. This morning Barrett & Cotton are reported to have found paying claims, from which they have taken $10 per day."

The finding is said to have been accidental. A man named Lowe, accompanied by his son, were out on a hunt. One night they camped on what appeared to be a sand bar in the dry bed of a river. The next morning they discovered indications of gold, and during the day washed out $25 with the means on hand. These men carried the news to Snohomish City, and a large number of men went at once to the mines. There were fifty claims located on Friday last. The news spread to the logging camps, and many of them were deserted. When the Fanny Lake came down the river on Saturday almost the entire male population of the valley were on their way to the mines.

The mines are about 70 miles from this city. Steamers can ascend the river to within twelve miles and the remainder of the distance can be traveled by canoes.

Our dealers are already preparing to do outfitting. Quite a number of outfits were sold Saturday night and this morning.

A few men have been working in the vicinity for years, making from two to five dollars per day. Gold is known to exist along the Sultan river, and those who have been prospecting there are not surprised at the recent developments. Still it is possible that the large findings, as reported, are only occasional deposits and not general. There are now hundreds of men in the mines, and we will soon be able to give something more definite.

There will be a railroad mass-meeting in Yesler's Hall tomorrow evening. Judge Jacobs and others address the meeting.

CAPTURE OF WILSON.—The San Francisco Chronicle of the 10th inst. gives the following particulars of the arrested John Wilson, the escaped convict.

John Wilson was arrested yesterday afternoon by ex-Sheriff Harry Morse and one of his detectives, Libbing, assisted by Captain Stone, on suspicion of being James Johnson, who with Archie Brown, on the 20th ultimo shot and killed a youth named Louis Joseph in the streets of Portland after robbing the pawnbroker shop of O'Shea. Wilson answers very closely to the published description of Johnson, whom Harry Morse has been looking after sharply, being five feet, five inches in height, straight dark brown hair, rather short, dark brown eyes, rather shallow complexion, a little hump-shouldered, smooth-faced, about 24 years of age. At the time of his arrest he wore new No. 7 1/2 buckled shoes, white Canton flannel undershirt, breast in shape of shield, bound with blue, dark pants, red binding around the waist, and on the fingers of his left hand are imitation rings tated in India ink, all of which corresponds faithfully with the description. He says he was in Portland the day after the murder, but did not remain there long, fearing the authorities might suspect him of the deed. When Wilson was brought into the city prison it was discovered that he was a fugitive convict from the Oregon penitentiary, having escaped from there some time during last May. He was sent there for one year for horse-stealing, and had served but a few months of his sentence when he escaped. He had previously served a five years term in the same institution for robbery. The authorities here feel satisfied that he is the right person and have telegraphed his capture to Portland, asking that an officer be sent here for him.

We learn from the Oregonian that Wilson had only three months more to serve in the penitentiary of Oregon. Such being the case, Governor Thayer has declined to send for Wilson, on the ground that the short period of his unexpired term will not justify the necessary expense to be incurred in bringing the prisoner to the State. He will of course be discharged from custody.

FALSE ALARM.—Last evening, when the steamer Otter approached the bay the fog was so thick that she could not make a landing, and she whistled for a long time, being answered by the tug Favorite, with the barkentine Modoc in tow. These steamers were a long time feeling their way, until at last a man on Yesler's wharf began ringing the fog bell, when they landed without further difficulty. But the quick ringing of the bells disturbed the thoughts of a number of our citizens and many rushed out into the streets, expecting to see the city in a blaze. These persons should learn to distinguish between the fog bell and the fire alarm.

BURNED TO DEATH.—We understand a German named Hoffman was burned to death Thursday on Lewis river. He was fighting fire which was burning in the woods near his place and his clothes caught. No further particulars could be learned.

HONORABLY DISCHARGED.—Al. Benson and Hall, who were arrested at this place some months since, as deserters from the U. S. Army, have received discharges from the military authorities at Vancouver, after a thorough examination. There was no doubt of their desertion, but for good conduct while connected with the army, and gentlemanly deportment since that time, they were given honorable discharges. Mr. Benson has returned to the Sound, while Hall stops at Portland.

FIXED UP.—The other day a man who is not in the habit of getting intoxicated, was put in the city prison for drinking and quarrelling. He appeared very willing to work out his fine, but did not want to go on the street to work. So his request to be allowed to work in the prison was granted. He scrubbed the prison out, and then neatly whitewashed the entire inside, banks and all, making it a very comfortable lodging place.

THE STEAMSHIP Dakota arrived in this port on Saturday evening about 5:15 o'clock, bring 131 tons freight, and 31 cabin and 13 steerage passengers.

Geo. Smith arrived in this city last night with 199 head of cattle for Foss & Borst, from East of the mountains. Mr. Wheeler also came in at the same time with a band of sheep.

Constable Lyts, who returned from Walla Walla last week, saw in that city Peter Peterson, the man who was shot on Black river one year ago. Lawrence Peters, who robbed Thompson of $170 in this city recently and broke jail was in Walla Walla when Mr. Lyts arrived but left the city the same night. He is now a waiter in an eating house near Walla Walla.

From the Daily of Tuesday.

Fire. Last night about 12 o'clock flames were seen issuing from the barn of Mr. Gatzert, on the corner of James and 3d streets. A large crowd promptly assembled on the spot, but the fire had extended so rapidly that it was impossible to do anything to save the building, so all energies were devoted to prevent its spreading and catching the house. On the arrival of the fire engine, the suction hose was inserted in the large water tank, about two blocks off, but the hose was too short to reach the burning building, so it was used only for filling buckets. A bucket-brigade was promptly formed and the dwelling house was thoroughly drenched, extinguishing the sparks that had already alighted on it, and securing it from all further danger. In the barn, which was burned to the ground, were a horse and a calf, and two handsome buggies, but nothing was saved except the calf, which was so badly burned that it had to be killed. The loss may be roughly estimated at about $1,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

A CHANGE.—The Tribune came out last evening enlarged, and with a new head. The paper otherwise was improved in appearance. The editorial column contained the valedictory of Thos. W. Prosch, who has been editor of that paper for the last six years. E. A. Turner, who came to this city from California three years ago, and is well known as a young man of ability, succeeds as editor and publisher.

A DESTRUCTIVE fire occurred Friday night at Forrest Grove station, on the line of the O. C. R. R. Two large warehouses, belonging to W. D. Hoxter and Hinds & Burkhardt, containing 50,000 bushels of wheat, were completely destroyed. The loss of grain falls on the farmers of the vicinity, who had stored it ready for market. The fire is supposed to be the work of the incensed and fearfully demoralizing tramp. The loss is estimated at $50,000. There was no insurance that we can discover.

GRAND LODGE, I. O. G. T.—The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars for Washington Territory and British Columbia, will assemble at Good Templars' Hall in this city to-morrow for the transaction of business. Six delegates arrived from British Columbia last evening, and quite a number from various points of this Territory are also present.

THE Vancouver Independent says: It is a remarkable fact that among all the officers of Gen. Howard's command not one of them is known to have spoken a word of censure or of adverse criticism touching his conduct of the war, and that all the things that have been said or written against him or his course have come from sources the least entitled to respect and belief.

In the bay under the packing house of Levy & Wilson are millions of fish, many of them being quite large, congregated to get the fish offal as it is thrown out. This is a fine place to fish with hook and line.

The greyhound belonging to Mr. Gatzert, was tied in his kennel near the barn last night, and was not observed, by the crowd who were laboring to extinguish the fire until the flames burned off the rope with which he was tied, when the poor animal rushed through the crowd and into the street. He was singing, and the skin was burned off in places.

COLPORTEUR.—Rev. B. A. Hill, of this city, has been appointed colporteur of the American tract Society, and will soon enter upon the duties of the position. He received a general assortment of books from the society per steamer Dakota.

SOME person started the report this morning that a man was burned to death in the fire of last night. The report was entirely unfounded.

Hon. James V. O'Dell, of Colfax, advances the following reasons why the constitution should be adopted, and the Territory admitted as a State: "First it is a good constitution, fully up to, and perhaps above the average. Second, by adopting it, it will save the expense of another convention, which is no inconsiderable item. Third, it will show Congress that we are in earnest in the matter of a State movement, and this alone will strengthen our chances of an early admission. Besides all or these reasons there is still another, more potent, perhaps, to the people east of the mountains than any other, and that is, should the present movement fail, the people of Northern Idaho will be inevitably lost to us as a constituent part of our proposed state. To the end, therefore, of securing all the advantages which are now within our grasp, I propose to use all my energies in favor of a State government. I sincerely hope that we may be successful, for surely no people ever stood more in need of a government of their own than we do."

CATON, Caton; N. T. Caton. Do we understand that the Democrats of Washington Territory have nominated N. T. Caton for congress! God save the party—that's all any man need say who is familiar with the name of N. T. Caton in Oregon—Astorian.

Y. M. C. A.—At the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last evening the various committees for the ensuing year were elected.

Who will have on hand, at all times, my scrip for the accommodation of all desiring to purchase, at the rate of $3.25 per acre for 80s and 120s, and $3.75 per acre for 40s; fractions special. Another fraudulent class of scrip known as "floats" can be gotten at much less rates; but no title can be given, and it is of course, much less valuable. A deed can be gotten of the original applicant of any land located by scrip purchased of me, as I in no case buy from other than the original homesteader; and know where to address him for a deed, if one be required. Full investigation is asked that the worth of my paper be known. Call upon or write any of the gentlemen named above, who will sell you the Talbot additional homestead scrip, which will ensure you a patent to your land, as well as a perfect title, and also as cheap as you can buy it of me. Don't Forget It!

If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is apt to become torpid at this season of the year as poisons arising from stagnant water or decaying vegetation are more numerous and are through inhalation taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, and furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not heeded, end in more terrible diseases and death. White's Prairie Flower proves itself the Great Liver Panacea. Its action on the liver is different from any other medicine ever compounded. Its cures are truly wonderful. Try it. Price, 25 and 75 cents. m29-3m-d&w

His is the only shooting gallery in the city, and the lovers of such sport will find everything there for their accommodation, including the celebrated "Gambinus" in bottles.

From the Daily of Wednesday.

The Grand Lodge of Washington Territory and British Columbia, met for the 9th annual session, in this city, at 10:30 this morning, and opened in due form. In the absence of G. W. C. T. Noah Shakespeare, Bro. Franklyn Kennedy, G. W. Counsellor, took the chair.

The following pro tem appointments were made: Bro. G. F. Whitworth, G. W. Chaplain; Bro. Wm. Raybould, G. W. Coun.; Bro. Allen Weir, G. W. Assist. Sec'y; Bro. N. D. Hill, G. W. Marshal; Pro. Geo. Palmer, G. W. Messenger; Bro. L. F. Bauman, G. W. Sentinel. The following Grand Lodge Officers were reported present: Bro. F. Kennedy, G. W. Coun.; Bro. N. S. Porter, G. W. Sec'y; Bro. W. H. Roberts, G. W. Treasurer; Sist. E. J. McNatt, G. W. V.; Sist. E. Shakespeare, G. W. Guard. Sist. Sarah Bean, G. W. D. M.

The following committee on credentials was appointed: Bros. N. S. Porter, Allan Weir, Wm. Raybould, Geo. Palmer and Sister E. Calvert. A recess of fifteen minutes was declared to allow the committee on credentials to prepare a report. After being called to order the committee reported as follows:

GRAND WORTHY CHIEF TEMPLAR:—Your committee on credentials, to whom was referred the credential of Representative to this Grand Lodge have examined the same, and now ask leave to report that we find the following members of subordinate lodges duly representatives, and as such, entitled to seats in this Grand Lodge:

Lincoln Lodge No. 4, Sist. E. Durgin; Tacoma; 4; J. N. Gale; Seattle, 6; Sister Sarah Bean; Ludlow, 13, Sist. E. J. McNatt; Shakespeare, 19, W. Chambers, Beacon, 26, Hall Davis; Wilderness, 44, Maggie Campbell; Skagit, H. K. H. Washburne; British Columbia, 1, Geo. Palmer and L. F. Bauman; Onward 1; Wm. Raybould; Cedar Hill 11, Geo. Deans, Pioneer 16, B. W. Hazen, Star of B. C. 5, Thos. Deasy.

We find that Jefferson Lodge No. 12, has three duly accredited representatives; and according to the membership of the lodge, in our opinion, is entitled to but two votes—the representatives being Bros. N. D. Hill, Allen Weir and W. H. Roberts.

We find that Bros. Hall Davis, G. Palmer, B. W. Hazen, Thos. Deasy, and Sisters Maggie Campbell, and Kate H. Washburne are entitled to the Grand Lodge degree.

All of which is respectfully submitted in F. H. & Co. N. S. PORTER, ALLEN WEIR, W. RAYBOULD, GEO. PALMER, L. E. CALVERT.

THE FAIR.—One week from to-day the county fair will begin in Yeller's Hall. The managers are actively engaged in an effort to make this the most interesting fair ever held in the county. Secretary Scott informs us that numerous applications have already been for space in the hall by those desiring to exhibit articles. From present indications, the exhibition will be very creditable to the association. Persons who have not already prepared some articles to take should at once select something, if not to enter for competition, to add to the attractiveness of the fair. We are all interested in the agricultural and industrial productions of the country, and should encourage healthy competition by exhibiting the best of what has already been produced.

SALMON.—So far this season, the run of salmon has been very light on the Sound. None of the fisheries, so far as we have been able to learn, have done nearly so well as last year. Still, there is the probability of a better run later in the season. Messrs. Levy & Wilson, who are putting up salmon in barrels on Carkeek's wharf, have been able to secure but a small number daily, and these are caught with hook and line by the Indians. Although this firm are putting up but a small quantity, these few are well and very neatly cured.

MAIL.—The contractors for bringing the mail from Tacoma to this city are only required to carry it six times a week, consequently they do not perform the service on Saturdays. But we are not compelled to go without the Tacoma mail for one day in the week, for Irving Ballard has instructed the Zephyr to call at the Tacoma post-office every Saturday evening for the mail, which is brought to this city without compensation, and that is how we come to have mail service from Tacoma seven times a week.

SHIPS Majestic and Baring Brothers, and the bark Aureola came in last evening. They will load with Seattle coal.

THE Dakota returned to this city from Tacoma last evening, and hauled in at the Seattle coal wharf. She will probably sail to night for San Francisco, if the large quantity of grain awaiting shipment is loaded in time.

CARD OF THANKS.

To the Fire Department and the Citizens of Seattle:

I beg to extend to you my heartfelt thanks for the courageous and efficient service rendered us to prevent the destruction of our property in the conflagration of the 16th inst. Be assured, gentlemen, that your heroic and successful efforts in our behalf will not pass unheeded, but are and will ever be remembered and highly appreciated by myself and husband.

Mrs. B. GATZERT.

GREAT IMPROVEMENTS.—The Oregonian says: Few persons have any idea of the real extent of improvements made and in progress this season in Portland. By actual count it is ascertained that since the 1st of January there have been constructed and now in course of erection 912 buildings. Who says Portland is not moving forward in the march of improvement?

A KITCHEN will be fitted up in the Pavilion during the fair, and the young lady desiring to carry away the two sacks of flour offered by Wm. Meydenbauer to the girl under 16 years of age, for making the best bread, must make and bake the bread in this kitchen during the fair.

The Comet came down from Duwamish river this morning from Joseph Foster's farm, with nine tons of hay and one ton of potatoes, consigned to Graham & Van Dyke. Capt. Denny reports the fog so thick on the river that neither shore could be distinguished from the center of the stream.

In Justice Scott's court last evening Tom Jackson, a farm laborer from near Tacoma, was fined $1 and costs, for being drunk and disorderly.

From the Daily of Thursday.

Grand Lodge Proceedings, I. O. C. T.

Upon re-assembling the following list of committees was read:

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Franklin Kennedy, G W C T; Wm Raybould, G W C; Mrs E J Shakespeare, G W V T; W H Roberts, G W T; Allen Weir, G W S; Mrs L C Calvert, G S J T.

WORK on the Commercial street grade was fairly begun this morning.

NOT INCENDIARY.—It seems to be generally understood, and taken for granted, that the firing of Mr. Gatzert's barn was the work of an incendiary; and concurrent with this is the popular credited report that an incendiary attempt was made upon the store of Schwabacher Bros & Co. the same night. From a full investigation of the facts connected therewith we are fully convinced that both fires were accidental. In the case of the burning of the barn, it is the testimony of those who first reached the fire that it originated on the inside of the building, which was securely fastened at the time the fire was discovered. The fire could not have been started by an incendiary who had not means of access to the interior of the building which was well guarded by bolts and bars, all of which were in place when the fire was discovered.

UPSET.—Last evening one of the city delivery wagons was being driven along a sideling road in the outskirts of the city. The evening was just dark enough to prevent the driver from distinguishing the lay of the road clearly, and the wheels on the lower side sank into a pitch hole, overturning the wagon and pitching the driver down a steep hill and into a pile of logs. Fortunately the driver kept hold of the reins, and after quieting the horses and righting the wagon, he made the discovery that he was considerably bruised and shook up by the fall. He is all right to-day, but a little lame.

I. O. O. F. CEMETERY.—Some weeks ago Seattle Lodge No. 7, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, purchased ten acres of land three and one-half miles north of Mill street. This land they will shortly clear and lay off in lots for a cemetery. The land is dry, and well situated for a cemetery, and is reached from this city by a road which follows Front street to the northern limits of the city, then in an almost straight line runs into the telegraph road. This road is usually dry, and in good condition for travel, summer and winter. A portion of the cemetery lots will be reserved for the order, and some will be sold to persons not members of the order. The whole will be protected and kept in order by the Lodge perpetually.

The Dakota sailed for San Francisco this morning at eight o'clock.

The ship Alaska arrived from San Francisco last evening.

The lecture which was partially arranged to take place before the Y. M. C. A. last evening, did not take place on account of the speaker, Rev. John Reed, being prevented from coming.

CAPT. Albert G. Jones, an old Pacific Mail captain, and who was in command of the steamer Ariel when captured by the Alabama, died on the 16th inst., in San Francisco. Capt. Jones was in command of the Salvador three years ago, when she ran between this city and San Francisco.

A paradise for servant girls exists in Australia. In answer to an advertisement of a lady of Melbourne for domestic aid, a pretty maid presented herself and was engaged after the following colloquy: "I have always had a whole day's leave of absence every fortnight, and an evening a week besides." "You shall not be deprived of them," was the encouraging reply. "And this is a very lonely place, ma'am," the girl rejoined, "and I could not come by myself. Would the master mind coming for me?" The lady hesitated a moment but as a good girl is not to be picked up every day, she finally consented; and when her husband returned she informed him that he would have to refuse all invitations for two nights in one week and one in the other, in order to go after the new help.

HOME INDUSTRY.

Every person in the community is tormented self-interest as well as social obligation to give the preference to articles of home production over those of foreign manufacture, all other things being equal. No country can prosper with the balance of trade against them, and it is a perpetual draft upon their resources, to buy abroad what can be produced at home cheaper and better.

Malt Liquors

Have become articles of general consumption here as in every other part of the United States and the demand is constantly increasing. The fact has been demonstrated in all Western communities that the decrease of the use of ardent spirits, and the consequent decrease of drunk eness, is in proportion to the substitution of wholesome beer. No country is better adapted to the production of good beer than U. S. The climate is favorable, the hops produced are of the best quality, and barley is abundant. There is no part of the world where a better quality of draft beer is produced, free from all deleterious drugs, than by the North Pacific Railroad Brewery, at St. Helens, the North Pacific Brewery, and the Seattle Brewery at this place. Neither of these Breweries resort to the practice of "doctoring" to give their liquors flavor or the appearance of age, which cannot be guaranteed for any of the articles imported from California or elsewhere. It is therefore a prudential sanitary measure, no less than political economy to patronize our home breweries. aug26 tt.

THE CITY

VALUABLE LANDS.—The men who located on the Swinomish flats a few years ago, and dyked their lands, are now among the wealthiest farmers in this Territory. The lands are unsurpassed in fertility, and can be reclaimed by uniting the dykes on adjoining farms very cheaply. Very often the first crop will repay the entire expense of reclaiming the farm. Although the best of the land has already been taken up, there are still hundreds of acres open to settlement, and when the railroad land reverts to the Government, there will be thousands more. The expense of reclaiming the land is small in comparison to that of clearing even the most lightly timbered bottom lands. Dyking and ditching is done for $3 per rod, or about $2,500 for 160 acre farm. However by four farmers uniting together and building the dyke around the entire section, the expense would be reduced one-half. The lands already under cultivation are, we believe, the most fertile on the Pacific coast, the yield being simply enormous, while the soil is inexhaustible and of unknown depth. For advantages of transportation, again, they stand unrivalled, the whole country being intersected by a network of small but deep sloughs, nearly all of which are navigable for river steamers and sloops. To sum up, it has more advantages and less draw-backs than any section of farming country in the Territory.

THE FAIR.—The managers of the Agricultural and Industrial Association are actively engaged in preparing for the coming fair. Evergreens for decorating the hall will be provided next Monday evening, and the various committees are expected to be in the hall on Tuesday to assist in decorating. Exhibitors are requested so far as possible, to engage space and bring their articles as early as Tuesday. Those who expect to occupy large space should speak early, lest the space be all taken.

THE ship Baring Bros. now discharging ballast at Marshal's wharf, was built at Thomaston, Maine, the old home of our townsman, S. P. Coombs. Mr. Coombs found the captain and crew of the ship old acquaintances. He had a very pleasant time visiting with these old friends and talking over the scenes of other days.

Dr. Dunn Clark, a noted lecturer, has arranged to give a lecture against Materialism, at the Congregational Church next Sunday evening at the usual hour. An intellectual treat may be expected.

LAST evening, a number of Chinamen went over to Blakely to work. It is reported that a number of the mill men have left their situations at Blakely to go to the gold mines.

The City of Panama sailed from San Francisco for Victoria and Sound ports to day.

Mr. Schroder, of the tannery up the bay, is building a small residence near the tannery.

EXTENSIVE improvements are about to be made on Crawford & Harrington's wharf. For the floor alone 22M. feet of new planking will be used. These improvements will make this wharf very substantial.

HOME TALENT.—In Seattle are a number of artists of fine natural abilities: Some of those had pictures of their own drawing and painting on exhibition at the fair last year, and one, the worst-work picture by Miss Lottie Harmon, was universally admired, both at the King County Fair, and the Territorial fair. Doubtless these artists will all contribute to the attractions of the fair. One, at least, is now engaged in painting a beautiful and interesting picture for that purpose.

THE GOLD MINES.—There seems to be no new development at the gold mines. Persons continue to go there and locate claims, and then return to prepare for working their claims. There is now no doubt but there is gold in paying quantities, but the great lack is of water. A spring has been found, and a few miners are using the water from it to wash out the gold. We learn that there is no other water except from the river, which is considerably lower than the bar in which the gold is found. There is said to be a lake a short distance back which is of sufficient elevation to furnish a good head and plenty of water for the entire year; but a ditch, which can be cheaply constructed, will be necessary to connect the lake with the mines. A gentleman of Snohomish city states that he has known of as much as $30,000 in gold coming from the vicinity of this new mine within the last two years. The samples of gold are very coarse, and give evidence of large pay in the immediate neighborhood. So soon as water is brought to the mines there is no doubt but they will pay as well as at first reported.

PARTIES who have just returned from the already famous Quilhute valley, report the recent discovery of a few more small prairies varying in size from one to three hundred acres, besides a large amount of first class bottom land. Much interest is being revived in that section. The amount of rich, alluvial prairie land so far reported by explorers aggregates several thousand acres, upon which only about two dozen settlers, all told, have thus far located. We predict a rapid settlement of the valley within the coming two or three years.—P. T. Argus.

The Sullivan block on Front street is now nearly completed, ready for occupation. L. P. Smith & Son expect to remove to the middle store of the block next week. This is the finest wooden block in the city, and adds much to the business appearance of that portion of the city.

The Blakely steamer Success went down the Sound yesterday after a boom of logs, and did not return to her dock in this city until a late hour. Some of the passengers had begun to think themselves left by the steamer.

Called.—At an official meeting of the Presbyterian society held last evening, it was decided to send a call to the Rev. H. W. Stratton, the Presbyterian Missionary of the Synod of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. This gentleman has visited Seattle a number of times, and is remembered as an able and pleasing speaker.

CITY SURVEYOR P. G. Eastwick has been appointed to make the survey of the Clearwater river, and will depart for Idaho Territory in a short time.

Don't Forget It!

If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is apt to become torpid at this season of the year as poisons arising from stagnant water or decaying vegetation are more numerous and are through inhalation taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, and furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not heeded, end in more terrible diseases and death. White's Prairie Flower proves itself the Great Liver Panacea. Its action on the liver is different from any other medicine ever compounded. Its cures are truly wonderful. Try it. Price, 25 and 75 cents. m29-3m-d&w

IMPORTANT LETTER

From a Distinguished Physician.

NO single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh of the bladder. It is a disease which, in its early stages, is often overlooked, and sometimes all yield to its destructive influence. The person it disfigures throughout the system, attacks every vital force, and breaks up the most robust of constitutions. Ignored because little understood by most physicians, impotently assailed by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it have little hope of relief if it is not treated by the most powerful and reliable remedies within the reach of all passed into hands at once competent and trustworthy. The only and infallible method adopted by Dr. Sanford in the preparation of his Radical Cure has won my hearty approval. I believe it likely to succeed when all the usual remedies fail, because it strikes at the root of the disease, viz., the acidified blood, while the usual remedies merely by direct application to the nasal passages. Its action is based on certain fixed rules, and unless the vital forces are too far exhausted, must, in the great majority of cases, effect a cure.

Geo. Beard, M. D.
Kobscott Block, So. Franklin St., Oct. 1, 1874.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

MAY safely claim to be one of the few popular remedies receiving the approval of all the gentlemen who, in private, have freely recommended it but use it in their families in preference to any of the preparations usually prescribed by physicians.

You are aware, "said a distinguished physician," that my obligations to the most afflicted Society are such that I cannot publicly recommend or prescribe the Radical Cure, but since I received so much relief from the use of it, I have privately advised its use, and presume I have sent your store no less than one hundred of my patients for it."

UNIVERSAL SATISFACTION.

GENTLEMEN.—We have sold SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for nearly one year, and can say candidly that we never sold a similar preparation that gave such universal satisfaction. We have to learn the first complaint yet.

We are not in the habit of recommending patent medicines, but your preparation meets the wants of thousands, and we think those afflicted should be convinced of its great merits to their suffering will be relieved. We have been in the drug business for the past 20 years, and have sold and sold everything for Catarrh, but yours leads all the rest. If you see proper you can use this letter or any part of it that you wish.

Very truly yours,
S. D. BALDWIN & Co.
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Drugs, Books and Stationery, Washington, Ind., Feb. 24, 1875.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhalant Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price, $1.00. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly medicated Stramonium Plaster, forming the best Plaster for pains and aches in the World of Medicine.

As a grand curative and restorative agent is not equalled by any element or medicine in the history of the healing art. Unless the vital spark has departed, the body, restoration by means of electricity is possible. It is the last resort of all physicians and surgeons, and has rescued thousands, apparently dead, from an untimely grave, when no other human agency could have succeeded. This is the leading curative element in this Plaster.

THE BALSAM AND PINE.

The healing properties of our own fragrant balsam and pine and the gums of the East are too well known to require description. They are grateful, healing, soothing, and strengthening. Their properties are known to thousands. When combined in accordance with late and important discoveries in chemistry, their healing and strengthening properties are increased tenfold. In this respect our Plaster is the best in use without the aid of electricity.

TWO IN ONE.

Thus combined we have two grand medical agents in one, each of which performs its function and unitedly produce more cures than any liniment, lotion, wash, or plaster ever before compounded in the history of medicine. Try one. Price, 25 CENTS.

"The Aldine,"

THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA

SOLD ONLY TO SUBSCRIBERS.

VOLUME IX, COMPLETE IN 24 PARTS, ISSUED MONTHLY, AT 50 CENTS EACH.

It is the purpose of the publishers to persevere in their efforts to keep THE ALDINE, as an exponent of Art, free from commercialism, and to spare neither thought nor expense to fill its pages with the most interesting and instructive material, and to improve the broad pages of the work.

While urging the necessity of cultivating a taste for the beautiful in Nature and Art, THE ALDINE has not been an ungrateful of the force or example of illustration; therefore it has been a constant study to give to the pages of the work itself, that improvement so certainly consequent upon sincere devotion to such subjects. As in the past, so in the future, THE ALDINE will continue to be a sample of the progress of art and refinement in the connection and association with the beautiful and true.

The volume now in preparation, while it will not suddenly depart from the general source of its predecessors, will yet present many modifications and improvements the result of study and experience in fitting THE ALDINE to worthily maintain its position as THE ART JOURNAL OF AMERICA.

In the more mechanical department of the arrangement of make-up, changes, in themselves slight, will largely enhance the general beauty of the pages, which had already won admiration so hearty and so envied.

EDITORIALLY, THE ALDINE will deal broadly and fairly with Art in general, and American Art in particular. Carefully prepared papers will keep the reader well informed on Art topics of the important Art centres of this country and Europe. The important exhibitions will receive full and timely notice, and artists whose achievements have won for them the right to be introduced and given a more personal personality by sketches, biographical and critical. It will be the purpose of the editor to give to the Critical and Literary Department of THE ALDINE a recognition in every way worthy of its established and admitted prominence in Art literature.

THE ART DEPARTMENT of this volume will be richer in representations of American natural scenery than any of its predecessors. To add a popular character to the claims of rival localities to the title, "The Switzerland of America," our artists are exploring the wonders of those regions of our country which have more recently been brought into notice.

The publishers have entire confidence that the public will continue the evidence of such appreciation of these efforts to maintain an Art publication of the highest character, and worthy of the progress and liberal tastes of Americans, and they anticipate with pleasure the opportunity for a practical verdict on their last achievements which the commencement of a new volume affords.

PLAN OF PUBLICATION.

THE ALDINE volumes will in future be completed in 24 parts, at 50 cents each, published monthly, and sold only to subscribers for the complete volume. Subscribers will pay on delivery for the parts actually received, and no canvasser or deliverer is authorized to make any arrangements in any way to make any representations on the faith of the publishers outside of the regular prospectus.

THE ALDINE will not be sold by book or news dealers generally, but will be placed in the hands of one dealer in each town, and in all places where no agent is appointed, persons desiring to subscribe may do so by direct application to the publishers.

Any person desiring to act as the agent for any particular locality should apply promptly, giving full particulars as to business, references, and territory desired; personal arrangements will be made with the best parties.

WATCHES!

A First-Class Watch for $13.00
A GREAT OFFER!
WATCHES RETAILED AT WHOLESALE PRICES!

Facts for Watch Buyers.

In order to introduce our New American Watch, we have determined to discard the usual practice of selling to Jobbers, and shall hereafter Deal Directly With the Retail Purchaser, allowing him the several heavy profits he would be obliged to pay if he patronized the retail dealer.

We have just commenced the manufacture of the Best Low Priced Watch ever offered in this or any other country, and in order to introduce it thoroughly, will sell at Retail for the very Lowest Wholesale Jobbing Price! This is in accordance with the general depression of business and a loud pressing demand for being away with two or three middlemen before reaching the retail purchaser.

The movements of this Watch is the well-known "American" style, and for Reliability and Durability cannot be excelled by any watch—wherever the price or wherever made—now offered the American people. It is put up in a neatly designed COIN SILVER HUNTING CASE!

Warranted in every particular, guaranteed to be a watch which readily retails at from $25 to $28 and is well worth the money.

READ THIS OFFER!

Believing that we can secure an extensive trade throughout the United States by a system of liberal, fair and honorable dealing with retail purchasers, we have made the following unprecedented offer to any one wanting our Watch FOR THIRTEEN DOLLARS!

We will send one of the above watches to any address, by Express, C. O. D., and give you the privilege of examining it thoroughly before paying for it. We send it strictly to Express Agents to allow every purchaser to open the package and examine the Watch before he pays the money. If the Watch does not suit you, return it to us at our expense—you will be under no obligation to purchase any other watch. We give you every chance. If you are not a judge of watches, or some one who is to examine the Watch for you. We are aware that dealers have offered watches in this way before, but we give you every advantage. We will send you one of our watches in this manner. They have always sent out some imitation Watch, which would require the purchaser from three to six months to find out what it was, when it would prove to be worse, or some equally worthless metal, with a slight glazing of gold, and not worth one-fourth the money it cost you. There is no humbug about our offer. Give us a trial.

FOR FIFTEEN DOLLARS

We will send with the Watch one of our new and elegant pattern

VEST CHAINS AND SEALS!

Warranted to retain its color—its luster, gold—for five years and cannot be told from the genuine article. This great offer to watch buyers is a saving of at least

THIRTEEN DOLLARS!!

On any reliable watch you can buy. Recollect, watches will only be sent singly to one address. As our object is to introduce this Watch, we do not sell to Jobbers. Express charges on this Watch and chain do not exceed 60 cents to any part of the States, as we have a special arrangement with the companies.

Write your name, State and the express office to which you wish the Watch sent in a clear, legible hand, and address
