Local News.

From the Daily of Saturday.

GOING.—The Italian Marionettes left for Portland, last night, by the Alida. The juveniles of that city have a host of fun in store for them.

DOG POUND.—Several unfortunate canines received their rations of strychnine at the municipal sausage-foundry this morning and soon after weakened to exist.

THE FAVORITE.—We learn that Hon. J. P. Judson has chartered this steamer for his canvassing tour about the Sound and will visit all the towns prior to the election.

PROBATE JUDGE.—The Board of County Commissioners met this afternoon and appointed H. E. Hathaway, as Probate Judge to fill the unexpired term of Hon. W. M. York, resigned.

BACK AGAIN.—James Jones, who was engineer on the Zephyr four years ago, has returned to the Snohomish route and is now at the throttle-valve of the Nellie, with Capt. Tom Wright.

FIRE.—About nine o'clock this morning, an alarm of fire proceeded from a Chinese tenement on Washington street, in the "lava bed" locality. It was extinguished with but trifling damage.

INSANE.—A demented person from Snohomish county was brought here on the Nellie, last night, and transferred to the North Pacific for Stellacoom. As there are chances for his recovery, we forbear to mention his name.

CAUGHT.—Jack McDonald, one of the gang of bunko sharpers that infested the Sound about a year ago, was arrested on a charge of robbery at the Hillsboro (Oregon) fair and is in a fair way to "do the State some service."

THE "KATIE FLICKINGER."—This vessel lay at the foot of Bealestreet San Francisco, when the Dakota left and had nearly finished discharging her cargo. As we are likely to have a spell of southerly weather for some time, we may soon expect her return.

THE BALL.—Everybody who attended the ball at Blakely, came home tired out. They danced faster than chain lightning and harder than a horse could kick with all four shoes on one foot. Those boys over there wouldn't allow anybody to come home and say they didn't have a good time.

LEFT US.—We lost a pleasant neighbor to-day, in the person of Mr. J. W. Edwards, who has gone over to the Port Blakely mills as book-keeper and taken his family with him. He was for a long time in a similar station at Port Madison, where he won the esteem of all who had dealings with him, and he carries into his new position the good wishes of many friends.

TRANSPPOSITION.—The abominable practice of transposing syllables in sentences, is more practiced here than any place we have ever been. We met Joggles on the wharf this morning and he said that if he found the man who stole his umbrella, he'd "put him through a spouse of courts." Next came Blikfinks, who said that he had taken too much Boca beer and it had made him as "bright as a tick." From there we went up to the drug store and while we were talking with Maddocks, in came a boy whose mother had sent him down for a bottle of arnica liniment. He asked for a bottle of "linica arniment" and Maddocks fired him out. So he did.

FISH MARKET.—Tom-cods sell for three cents per pound in this market and flounders for two. In San Francisco these fish bring respectively fifteen and ten cents a pound. Costs but little to live in a place where a man with a long pole and a crooked pin, can catch a meal fit for the gods—provided the gods will pay for it.

WELL HANDLED.—On her last trip to this port from San Francisco, the Dakota was in a dense fog all the way from Point Reyes to Sooke Inlet, a distance exceeding six hundred miles, during which time the officers were unable to get an observation. At noon on Wednesday, Capt. Morse detected the faint sound of a steam whistle on the starboard bow and rightly conjectured it to be the one on Tatoosh Island at the mouth of the Straits. He took his course from that and when the fog cleared away at sunset, his gallant ship was abreast of Sooke with Race Rocks plain in sight. He is not only a good commander himself, but very fortunate in the choice of his subordinates, for every department of the ship worked in perfect harmony. We don't like to travel in the fog, but when we do, we shall want to travel on the Dakota with Captain Morse.

From the Daily of Monday.

GAME.—Wild geese and ducks are beginning to make their appearance in the sloughs and sportsmen are jubilant.

DECIDED.—The case of Jewett against Beatty, for unlawful detainer, was tried before Justice Smith and resulted in a verdict for plaintiff.

ROAD REPAIRS.—The County Court allowed the brothers McMillan $250 in scrip for repairs performed on the road from Cedar river to Squak valley, on Saturday last.

LIME.—Schooner Carrie Hayden arrived here last Saturday afternoon with 150 barrels of lime from San Juan Island and 50 more from Orcas. Owing to heavy head winds, the plucky little craft was eleven days on a trip which is ordinarily made in forty-eight hours.

THE DAKOTA.—This steamer sailed this afternoon for San Francisco with 16 boxes of chair stock, 1300 water-pipes, 10 sacks of wool, 93 hides, 18 bags seeds, 89 cords of wood and 220 bales of hops. Her passenger list consists of S. G. Allen, Mrs. H. B. Minkler and child, Joseph Brongher, Mrs. Capt. Ingalls, Mrs. McNaught and 13 in the steerage.

DIED.—In this city, October 8th, DAVID LOCKLEN, only son of Thomas J. and Eliza Jackson, aged 20 months and 12 days. Funeral from the residence of Mr. Jackson, corner of Third and Pike streets, Tuesday morning at 11 A. M.
(Victoria and Olympia papers please copy)

UNWILLING VISITORS.—The bark Gem of the Ocean, now on the way from San Francisco to this port has on board two ungracious hoodlums who got on the vessel while she lay at the wharf, expecting to get back to the city by the steaming. To their dismay, however, they found the tug had hauled ahead of the ship, instead of towing her alongside. They will have a pretty extensive territorial experience before they again see the gilded spires and mansard roofs of San Francisco.

GREATLY NEEDED.—One of the most urgent needs of our city is a steam laundry, operated by white labor. The Chinese washermen sometimes bring home clothes entrusted to them for purification, and sometimes they do not. They certainly can't wash shirts into kite-tails with a better grace than any people living. In San Francisco, however, the steam laundries wash and iron clothing so cheaply that but few families do their washing at home. As but few families employ domestics here, we believe that a laundry operated on "live and let live" principles, would soon prove a bonanza to its projectors. Many a delicate woman, in order to save a dollar or two for her husband, catches cold over the wash-tub and lays in the seeds of a spell of sickness that costs enough to pay the family washing for a year. So there is nothing saved the long run. In Portland and Salem, there are laundries in successful operation and we believe that Seattle will give one a wholesome encouragement.

PERSONALITIES.—William F. Crosby of Tumwater, is stopping in the city, having renounced steamboating and gone into his flour-mill. Like all other millers, he wears a white hat—to keep his head warm. Mr. A. C. Brown, formerly underground boss in the Raymond & Ely mine, is here looking at the prospects of our city. To see him about, recalls "heart times" in Ploche. Court-seller Blanchard, of Port Townsend, who has been rusticated with us for some days, has gone back to the crowded streets and incessant noise of that densely-populated city. The family of Jas. McNaught, Esq., were among the passengers by the Dakota, to-day, for California. They propose to be absent for about two months, during which we wish Mrs. McNaught a complete restoration of health.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.—Fame is only a bubble, after all. In his retiring editorial, our predecessor gave us a crown of unmerited compliments and came near "slopping over" on it. A Teutonic gentleman around the corner, however, was more practical. We went in for a glass of "Boca," last Saturday night and after we left the house the following conversation took place between Mr. Stockbower and one of his customers:
Stockbower?—Who was dot new man came in yooost now mit Lawyer Vite?
Buttweiler. —Dot's Tom Merry, der new brunter vat bought oud der DIS-PATCH, don'd it?
Stockbower. —Chimminy Grismas, ist dot zo? Und zo he was a man, und a brunter doo? I tort all der time dot he was a horse!

THE COAL TRADE.—The bark Amie, at Yeslers, wharf, has about half her cargo on board, for the Renton Company. At the Seattle Coal & Transportation wharf, the Enoch Talbot is about loaded and will get away to-morrow. The same company shipped over four hundred tons by the Dakota, at noon to-day. This company have nine vessels with an aggregate tonnage of 11,140 tons, constantly employed in the trade with San Francisco. The force at all the mines is greatly reduced at present, owing to the low price of coal in San Francisco. This is mainly ascribable to the enormous wheat crop of California in this Centennial year. The grain ships which flock hither from Europe and ports must either carry coal or ballast; and as the latter is unsaleable after arrival, they can afford to bring English coal, if they only make fifty cents per ton over its cost in Liverpool or Cardiff. A drought in California—which is by no means desirable—would drive out foreign coals and bring the home-produced article up to the prices of four years ago. What a sublime philosopher was that man who declared that "what is one man's meat, is another man's poison."

THE FAIR.—From parties who visited the Territorial fair at Olympia, we learn that the display was very creditable and passed off delightfully. We see no good reason why an agricultural society cannot be formed in King county to hold annual fairs. We have the largest population and the best accommodations for visitors of any town on the Sound. On all sides of us are small farms, operated by men who came here empty-handed and have built up comfortable homes by their own industry. There is no reason why a society cannot be incorporated here with five hundred members at five dollars per year, or fifty dollars for life membership. Every business man in the city is more or less interested in a movement which will bring visitors here, not only from all parts of the territory, but from Oregon and the land of Jonboul, as well. It is a little premature to move in the matter just now, but when the right time comes we are confident there are those in our midst who will take hold of the matter in such a way as to render the opening fair a grand success. At Washington Territory horse is at present beating all the best horses in Oregon, and, with the aid of home enterprise, we can soon show the outside world that there are more of the same sort left. Then our climate and soil are exceedingly favorable to the breeding of Jersey and Alderney cattle so highly prized for dairy purposes. Twenty years hence, Seattle will export many articles beside coal and lumber; and we need agricultural fairs to stimulate those resources that now are lying dormant. If taken hold of as a question that interests everybody, it cannot prove a failure.

The following incredible story is vouchsafed for by the Paris Gaulois: A well-known Paris dentist, residing in the fashionable quarter, has been arrested, and is in Mazas prison, accused of having for years past, while drawing and cleaning teeth, introduced slow poison into rich patients' mouths at the instigation of their heirs, and thus committed many murders. Two hundred witnesses are said to be subpoenaed.

From the Daily of Tuesday.

Real Estate Transactions.
The following is a list of conveyances filed for record in the Auditor's office of King county, for the week ending with date of this issue:
Wm. N. Bell and wife to Elizabeth A. Stacy, lots 7 and 8 in block 28 in Bell & Denny's Addition..... 600
Robert T. Flynn to Thos. E. Hughes, Esq., half of lots 7 and 8 in block "I" Denny's Addition..... 450
Bennett W. Johns and wife to Lucinda D. Jacobs, Lot 1 in block 18 of C. D. Boren's Addition..... 800
Bennett L. Johns to Lucinda D. Jacobs, D. Jacobs, Lot 4 in block 18 of Boren's Addition..... 800
Thomas Clancy to Henry Collins, Lots 10 and 11 in block 16 in the Bell estate..... 325
$2,975

In addition to the above there are several purchases of tax titles from the Territory of Washington to A. S. Pinkham.

CHILBERG BROS.—This enterprising firm invite attention to their card in another column. Their stock has been carefully selected for family use, and will repay the inspection of housekeepers.

AT TACOMA.—Harry Atkins, of this place (who is profanely known as Dick) is at Tacoma with his pile-driver. He greases it with Holloway's Ointment, and it is said to be a good thing for the piles—which are towed over there from Skookum Bay by the Teaser.

TRACK LAYING.—The work of laying 1400 feet of iron and distributing ties for the same, was performed yesterday on the trestle work of the Seattle & Walla Walla Railroad, under the supervision of Mr. Bradley. Considering the force of men they have, it was a big day's work.

MARINE NEWS.—There are now but four square-rigged sailing vessels in the Sound, the barkentine Discovery having sailed from Freeport this morning in tow of the Celilo. The Amie and Enoch Talbot are loading here, the Coquimbo at Port Madison and the Forest Queen at Port Ludlow. It is seldom that such a scarcity occurs.

FULLY DUE.—There are some six or seven vessels now out ten days from San Francisco, bound for this place; and as we have mostly southerly weather at this season, they ought to be here. Capt. Taylor, of the S. C. & T. Company, informs us that they have used every possible exertion to string them out, but in spite of every precaution, they will arrive in a Luddle. So Capt. Blair thought he would send them from San Francisco in a fleet and trust to luck for the fastest one getting here and away again before the slowest one arrived. We shall see how the affair turns out.

STEAMBOAT ITEMS.—The Favorite from Port Gamble, passed up-Sound last night with a load of hay and stores for North Bay, whence she will tow down a raft of logs. The Zephyr, this afternoon, brought over a load of logging cattle, to be used on this side of the pond. The Black Diamond arrived from the Swinomish and the Ruby from Port Madison, the latter towing a scow to be loaded with brick. The Eliza Anderson passed down the Sound early this morning, while our reporter was hugging his spare pillow and dreaming of Mrs. Jim Oates in "La Fille de Madame Angot."

QUEEN'S GREAT SHOW.—Charley Pell, advance agent for Montgomery Queen's big show, gave us a call to-day. Time has dealt sparingly with the clever old soul since we met him in New Orleans, nineteen years ago, and he still carries, like Shakespeare's Justice, "his fine, round belly with good fat capon lined." He informs us that the company will perform here on Tuesday and Wednesday next, with an array of ring talent never before witnessed here. The riding of Mollie Brown and Sebastian is unsurpassed for grace and daring, while the grotesque business of Joe Kennebel, the French clown, is incomprehensibly funny. The idea that a man who cannot speak a word of English, can keep people laughing for half an hour, is strange but true. His butterfly act is so quaint that every posture seems like a caricature upon humanity.—We shall have more to say about the big show.

Thompson, the well-known lightweight jockey, has died of small-pox at Middleham. He was only nineteen years of age.

FOR SALE.—A pair of old boots worn by Lafayette during the Revolution and pawned by him for the absinth the night before the battle of Monmouth. They were taken across the ocean by a nephew of the "uncle" with whom they were hypothecated, and were worn by Murray in his flight from Naples to Ischia. After his death they became the property of the Russian Emperor Vladimir, who traded them off for a can of caviar. He shot himself with a stuffed club and the boots were sold at Sheriff's sale to "Our Fritz, who got hard up and soaked them for a keg of Boca beer. In this way they finally got back to New York and became the property of Boss Ross (beg pardon, we mean Charley Tweed) who left them in the Ludlow street jail. Elwood Evans sent them to us from the Centennial, with a note signed "from an unknown admirer"—and he dare not deny it. We dislike to sell presents or make such damaging revelations about the great men of past ages, but the growing passion for Centennial relics, together with our depleted exchequer, leaves us no alternative.

GROWTH OF THE CITY.—Seattle is fast changing from an overgrown country town into a small but neat commercial city; and its growth is a healthy one, for it affords accommodation and development to the section of tributary country of which it is the emporium. Two years ago, the only vehicles to be seen on the streets were the drays of a few merchants and such buggies as were hired from the two livery stables. Now we see a host of farm wagons and teams in town every day, to remind us of the necessity of giving our neighbors good roads to get into the city. Two years ago, the Dolly Varden saloon was the only business building on Front street; now two blocks of that street are densely crowded with various stores. When Mr. Gatzert first commenced the erection of the building occupied by the firm of Schwabacher Bros & Co. the heads of the house below thought the building a very handsome affair, but a little in advance of the requirements of the trade. Their mistake and his sagacity are fully shown by the crowded condition of the building, where ten salesmen are hardly enough to fill the orders that besiege the counter from daylight 'til dark; while the interest of the additional cost of the building is more than compensated by the low rate of insurance gained by so substantial an edifice. We hope to see the day, before another five years elapses, that not a wooden building can be seen on Mill or Commercial street. We have an iron foundry, capable of casting all the pillars and other work for the lower stories, as well as an artificial stone factory which can supply all demand for a material which experience has shown to be far superior to best brick ever moulded, and just as cheap. Property is daily growing in value and business of every kind undergoes a gradual and healthy expansion.

THE SKAGIT RIVER.—We learn that the parties who commenced clearing out the obstructions to the Skagit river, have succeeded in removing the lower "jam," which is the least of the two. In doing this as a matter of private enterprise, they have secured about enough logs to compensate them for their labor and outlay. While we rejoice at this state of affairs we cannot forbear the regret that our government should allow a river nearly as large as the Sacramento to remain closed, and thousands of acres of fine grainland to remain idle for want of approach to a market. The sturdy fellows who, with axes in hand, have removed the first obstruction to that lordly river, have proven themselves real public benefactors and true friends of progress. The words of flippant orators pass from our memory, but their deeds will not be forgotten. In future days—say ten years hence—the observant tourist will note a marked change in the commerce of Seattle. Instead of exporting merely coal and lumber, he will see this city become a great grain depot, with the Walla Walla railroad dumping at our doors the golden harvests of the great northern basin. He will see a daily line of light-draft steamers running from here to the head of the Skagit valley, bringing grain here as the most accessible shipping point. He will see flour mills in operation here, equal in capacity to the celebrated Starr Mills at Vallejo, California. He will see extensive foundries in operation to build, equip and repair these steamboats, railroads and mills that will be the auxiliaries of our expansive commerce. It is a dream of the future, but it is not an idle one. We have been absent from here four years, during which we returned for a brief visit of three weeks, last year. We note greater changes—for the better—in the appearance of the city in the past thirteen months, than in all the previous three years. John M. Colman is the Columbus who will yet stand the egg upon its end.

Experiments in the acclimatization of salmon in Australia seem likely, for the present at least, to fail. Notwithstanding all the care and attention that have been paid to the ova at Ercildown, only five fish had, according to the Melbourne Argus, been hatched up to the middle of April. Of these, however, only a single one could be seen, and that was the first one hatched. This salmon looked healthy and lively, but the others had in some unaccountable way disappeared. It was fondly hoped that, although not perceptible to the naked eye, they still remained in the hatching boxes, and as there were still 150 eggs left, some more young fry might yet be obtained. At the ice works in Melbourne there were still a few thousand eggs which looked well. Some people who had seen them believed that the eyes of the young fry were becoming visible, but this sanguine view was not shared by others, who were unable to detect anything resembling those organs in the painfully impassive ova. In the meantime a few hundred more ova, which had been telegraphed over to England, were expected to arrive shortly in the colony.

All praise to Dr. David Ferrier, assistant physician at King's College Hospital. He has discovered a specific for cold in the head. Being himself much subject to that very unpleasant though not alarming disease, he tried what bismuth would do for him. He took repeated pinches of it as though it were snuff, inhaling it strongly, so as to carry it well into the interior of the nostrils. In a short time the tickling in the nostrils and sneezing ceased, and next morning all traces of coryza had completely disappeared. Renewed experiments upon himself and others confirmed his belief in the efficacy of this remedy, and he has described it at length in the Lancet. He finds the most suitable formula as follows: Trisnitrate of bismuth six drachms, acacia powder two drachms, hydrochlorate of morphia two grains.

Peru, it seems, can no longer lay claim to a monopoly of this unrivaled fertilizer. The Governor of the Bahamas has reported that "cave earth" or guano is found on the islands in large quantities, and he thinks there may perhaps be 400,000 tons of the material. Some cute Yankee firm, before the value of the "cave earth" was known, secured a seven years' monopoly on ridiculously easy terms. For some time, then, the Bahamians will be debarred from profiting to any material extent in their newly discovered wealth.

An old woman died recently in Bristol, England, who owned, among other property, a very valuable collection of studies from the nude by well known artists. A married niece in the house at the time of her death thought these were highly improper paintings, and the moment her aged relation died burned them up. When the will was opened, the niece learned that her only legacy was the naughty pictures which she had burned, and which were worth about $50,000.

H. E. writes to the Times as follows in connection with the dangers attending cleaning out old wells: "Twice in my lifetime I have had occasion to have wells on my premises cleared out, and in fifteen minutes this was done at each well by throwing down large sheets of paper in full blaze of fire; the foul air rushes out in a perfect volume of wind in a quarter of an hour. I went down a well thirty to fifty feet deep after trying the usual candle; one well was 100 feet deep."

It appears that Lord Ribblesdale, Earl Russell's step son, committed suicide by discharging a pocket pistol into his mouth, but no explanation why he made away with himself has been published.

The Prince of Wales, on being asked the other day to name the principal vegetables of India, replied, "the vegetables that have made the most indelible impression on me in India, are its ru-peas."

VALEDICTORY.

This issue closes our connection with the DISPATCH, both as editor and proprietor. Other business engagements, more suitable to our declining years and consequent yearning for more quiet pursuits, have occupied our time and attention principally for the past year and a half, during which time we have only held the newspaper subject to any arrangement which might offer, that would not conflict with the objects which we have kept steadily in view, and to which we have bent our best energies for the past five years, viz: the promotion of the growth and prosperity of Seattle especially, and Washington Territory generally. It is a cause of special gratification to us and congratulation to the public, that in Mr. Thomas B. Merry we have a successor who has no peer in Washington Territory, and no superior on the Pacific Coast, as a general newspaper editor. In the full vigor of matured manhood, he brings to this work all the elements which command success in journalism, and especially those best adapted to the vitalization of the energies and enterprises upon which the future greatness of this community depend: large and varied experience as a journalist upon this coast, a vigorous constitution, untiring industry, a noble enthusiasm in his profession, generous sympathies with the people, rare social qualities, and an active interest in every object and enterprise calculated to promote the general prosperity of the community, with a graceful and attractive style of expressing his thoughts, which is always pleasing and rarely offensive to the most critical tastes.

Mr. Merry proposes to identify the DISPATCH with the Democratic party. To the party character of the paper we attach no material importance, as there are no vital political questions at issue in a Territorial election. These party conflicts last only through a few weeks, and need not at all interfere with or influence the usefulness of a newspaper devoted mainly to the public interests. We most heartily and earnestly commend the DISPATCH to the support of all those who are interested in the public welfare, confidently believing that under the management of Mr. Merry it will reflect honor and only honor upon this city and this Territory.

After over forty years service as a newspaper editor, this is probably our final editorial valedictory. In reviewing this long career as a journalist, with its varied fortunes of success and vicissitude, we find nothing in our own acts to regret, nothing to take back, no position ever taken under the promise of reward, or abandoned under the influence of fear. We never espoused a cause or abandoned a measure which we did not believe to be right in principle, and what were then matters of opinion are now convictions, cherished as settled principles, confirmed by the experiences of a life time. Our positions have been often misunderstood and as often misrepresented, subjecting us, in times of excitement, to popular odium and persecution from those who did not, or would not, comprehend the motives which prompted our course. All that is now passed, and our ceremony calls up no act or utterance of ours betraying a want of fidelity to our country, to society or to our fellows. We have made enemies, at times bitter and unrelenting. All that is now passed, leaving no bitterness or resentment to plague us in the quiet walks of life, while the memory of the many and devoted friends which we have had live in perpetual bloom shedding a sweet fragrance around us in our declining years. The past five years have been the most quiet and uneventful of all the years of our public life, and though not entirely free from strife and turmoil have given us no cause to regret our choice of a place in which to spend our last years of life. As a private citizen, occupying only a subordinate position, we shall not cease to take an active interest in all that pertains to our common good, independent, as heretofore, of all party considerations.

BENJAMIN BROWN.

TO OUR READERS.

We have never been much of a believer in personal editorials; but the custom of a salutatory has hitherto obtained here and is naturally expected by the readers of a newspaper on occasions of this kind, when a new hand grasps the quill. As we have no end of labor ahead of us, this introduction of ourself to the supporters of the DISPATCH, must necessarily be brief. We have come here to labor, and have but little time to talk.

Concerning the future course of this paper, we have only to say that it will be conducted in a spirit of fairness to all cotemporaries. Politically, it will give its adherence to the cause of Democracy and civil reform; but political questions will be secondary considerations, save at the recurrence of the biennial elections. Not being a chronic aspirant for office, we are content to pursue a business in which we have had some twelve years' experience in California and Oregon. The principal mission of a frontier journal is, to set forth the industries and resources of the country; and to labor to invite immigration, that capital may follow in its wake. This shall be the chief aim of the DISPATCH, and, by steadfastly laboring with that end in view, we hope to earn the approval of friends and the silent respect of those whom honesty of sentiment has constituted our antagonists.

To nearly nine-tenths of our supporters we are, personally, an entire stranger, hence we fear we shall trespass upon their good nature in many instances. But everything has to have a beginning, and we see no better place to commence the life of a territorial editor than at Seattle. We will be found an advocate of progress at all times, and should the issue ever come to a direct contest between the people and the corporations, we will be content to rise or fall with the people. The people are always honest, generally right and never unpopular. So we plow along, like the fly on the shoulder of the ox. There is plenty of work ahead of us and, we believe, a fair remuneration for an industrious journalist. At least, we have settled here to give the experiment an impartial test.

FOR PUBLIC PROSECUTOR.

This is an office which requires, not only a man of good legal ability, but an energetic and vigilant incumbent as well. The Democratic Convention have placed before the people of the Third Judicial District for this important position, WILLIAM H. WHITE, Esq., of this city. He was born in Brooke county, Virginia, in 1842. In 1859, he commenced an academic course at Vermillion Institute, Ashland county, Ohio. In 1862, he enlisted as a private soldier in Company B, 102d Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served in this regiment until the close of the war. In September, 1864, Mr. White, while in command of his company as First Sergeant, in an engagement with General Forrest's troops, at Athens, Alabama, was severely wounded and captured by the enemy. He remained in their hands about two weeks, when he was retaken. In May, 1865, at Huntsville, Alabama, Mr. White, on account of his wound, was mustered out of the service. In 1865 he cast his first Democratic vote for General George H. Morgan for Governor of Ohio, and since that time has been an ardent Democrat. Previous to this, however, he was a Republican, and had voted for John Brown and Abraham Lincoln. In 1867, he returned to his native State, and finished his professional studies. In 1871 he first came to Washington Territory, and located at Seattle. He remained here about two years, and then returned to the East. But the straight-laced fashions of Eastern society were ill suited to one who had breathed the free air and participated in the rugged life of a frontiersman. He joined for the off-hand manners and hearty friendship of the burly loggers and stalwart miners of the western shore. So in 1874 he came back to us again, thoroughly convinced that Seattle is a "good place to camp."

As a speaker on the stump, Mr. White is ready and full of point. As an attorney he is courteous and energetic. As a citizen, one of those plain men who wear well in a new country. He is one of the people and the people will cordially flock to his support.

FOR ADMISSION.

A very important duty of voters on election day, is to write "Yes" or "No" after the words "For Constitution" on their ballots. This Territory is populous and opulent in natural resources, far more so than Oregon at the time of her admission, and as well able to support a State government. She has a more energetic and a more commercially educated people than had Oregon at her age. She has already exhibited her ship-building resources by constructing a coasting fleet of nearly seventy vessels in the past six years; and her coal has held the highest figures in the San Francisco market of any produced on the west coast of America. As a producer of lumber, however, our Territory surpasses all the rest of the coast, shipping, as she does, about five feet to Oregon's one. She will fill up but slowly until admitted into the sisterhood of States, and then she will take her station in the front rank of commerce. She has a water front equalled by that of no other State in the Union, and endless supplies of coal, iron and timber.

The leading men of both parties are in favor of the Constitution. The only ones opposed to it are a handful of Federal office-holders and their friends in Olympia. The former's opposition to it is not to be wondered at, because the admission of the State would compel more than one of them to go out and dig clams for a living. But why Olympia property-holders should fear a removal of the capital from that city to this place, is more than we can see. This city does not need the trifling amount of increased business that would result from a removal of the capital hither. It is practically a commercial city, and the experience of older States has shown the wisdom of removing the seat of government from the moneyed influences of the seaport towns. In three-fourths of the States, the capitals are cities of tertiary importance.

We favor the admission of the Territory, first because we believe she has resources enough to support a State government; secondly, because her Federal offices are all filled by the favorites of an Oregon Senator who is no credit to any State; thirdly, because a State can offer inducements for immigration that a Territory cannot. It might be the means of giving two Republican United States Senators, but we would be willing to stand that, rather than see an enterprising people like ours kept in the background. Let every man who wants to see the country advance, vote "Yes" for the Constitution.

INDIANA.

The Hoosier State has probably put in a clinch on the Presidential business by electing a full State ticket from the ranks of the Democracy. The battle has been one of undoubted severity and occupies the same relation to the Presidential struggle of next month, that the hand-to-hand fight at the Chateau d'Hougmont did to the main battle of Waterloo.

The Chicago Times, a Republican paper edited by a man of the strongest prejudices against the Democracy, concedes the loss of Indiana to the Republicans and says that it means Tilden for President. If so, it is "a consummation most devoutly to be wished for." This will be the end of military government in time of peace and the downfall of a party that has held aloft the banner of Freedom in one hand—and plundered the National treasury with the other. In a few years more, the negro legislatures of the down-trodden South will be forgotten like vague traditions and the humiliating spectacle of America, down on her knees before Africa, expunged forever.

Calumny and hate have done their worst and still been baffled. Light is dawning upon a duped and indignant people who are heaping poetic retribution upon their recreant rulers. The Ides of November are not far off, when the people, in the majesty of honesty and the might of the ballot, shall sweep away the military power and restore the nation to the sanctity of civil government. All efforts on the part of radical journals to implicate Governor Tilden in the villainies of Tweed, Connelly & Co., have signally failed. The people recognize him as the inflexible magistrate who rose above the sordid consideration of party and brought the villains under the lash of retributive justice. This has earned for him the confidence of the people and they know that he can be trusted. They know that Grant, on the contrary, was the means of screening Babcock and Belknap from justly merited punishment and, therefore he cannot be trusted, nor his would-be successor, General Hayes.

The war record is a thing of the past and has outlived its usefulness. It makes no difference where a man stood during the war, so long as he is right now. The times demand men who are competent and honest, and will not allow the cloak of loyalty in a past decade to blind their eyes to a career of plunder and misrule, such as has characterized the last three years of the outgoing administration. Indiana has been the corner-stone of the new temple of order and law that shall rise out of the wreck of radicalism. With gratitude for their gallantry and bright hopes for the future, we can only say "the Hoosiers fought nobly."

BOARDS OF IMMIGRATION.

One of the greatest needs of this place, is a local Board of Immigration, to show immigrants the open avenues of industry in this section of the Territory. Now, when newcomers arrive, they go up and down the Sound, looking only at the yellow bluffs on the west side, and visiting no sections save the lumbering camps and the cobble-stone plantations between Olympia and the Newwawkum. Many of them go over to Oregon and some of them return to California, without ever finding out that there is a region lying between here and Bellingham Bay capable of supporting at least two thousand more families than inhabit it at present. The land needs dyking like the delta of the Sacramento and San Joaquin in California; but it amply rewards the reclaimer for his industry. Oats, in particular, grow very luxuriantly upon the Swinomish flats, and so highly are they prized by horse-fanciers that the noted turfman, Capt. T. G. Moore, took five sacks of them to Kentucky for seed, last year. Barley grown there ranks high in the estimation of brewers and averages over eighty bushels to the acre; while the wheat compares favorably with that of Oregon.

And, yet, with all this dormant wealth at our doors, you hear people who have made excursions through this Territory say that Puget Sound is a good coal and timber country, but a man can't grow enough to eat. All this, for want of a local Board to show the grasshopper victims from Kansas where to go. Let us take the matter in hand and organize a Board of Commissioners to keep open an office for the instruction of the incoming population. The only expense would be the rent and light of a room, and a normal salary of say twenty dollars a month for a Secretary. Owners of farms desiring to sell them, could forward descriptions of them to the Board; and visitors to the rooms could see just what property was purchasable. In this way we could retain many who go to Oregon in search of homes, after having come here direct from San Francisco. This is a matter which interests all our merchants and property holders, for the northeast side of the Sound is one of our richest tributaries, and gives employment to five steamboats during the greater part of the year. All the population we can gain for this section makes an increase of population and reduces the burden of taxes. Let us remember the homely wisdom of the man who first said "the Lord helps those who help themselves."

The "bunko" sharpers at the Oregon State Fair caught a brilliant genius, whom Fate had sought to obscure by calling Smith, for $6 50 the other day. We hope to see every one of them sent to the Penitentiary. A gambler is a man who takes chances to lose; the "bunko" fellows are nothing but thieves, and should be punished as such.

A man named Hugh McCabe was beaten to death, in a pugilistic encounter in New York on Tuesday, by Frank McAron. We would match the latter against the wrong end of a Government mule.

OUR STANDARD-BEARER.

In about four weeks, the people of this territory will be called upon to select not only county officers and members of the Legislature, but also a delegate to Congress. And that the present incumbent of the office will not receive the support of this paper, is sufficiently set forth elsewhere. In withholding our endorsement from Judge Jacobs we are actuated only by partisan sentiment and have no personal prejudice against one whom an acquaintance of several years has taught us to consider an able jurist and an exemplary citizen. We believe that men can differ in opinion and differ honestly; therefore, we assure our readers that we will not allow the hot blood of partisanship to transgress the amenities of social life. We heartily despise a servile spirit which utters groundless slanders against a public man while a candidate for office and then sneaks out from under the lash of merited censure, upon the abject plea that "all's fair in politics." So much for our respected opponent.

The Democratic party of this Territory has selected as its standard-bearer in this canvass, Hon. JOHN P. JUDSON, of Thurston county.— Though young in years, he is old in territorial experience and thoroughly awake to our requirements. He came here during his minority and was educated among the very people who have now selected him as their nominee for Congressional delegate. Mr. Judson is a quiet, unobtrusive gentleman whose modesty has made him more friends than he is, perhaps, aware of; while his steadfast attention to the profession he has espoused, marks him as the very man we need in this political juncture. A territory has need of earnest workers rather than eloquent speakers; and we know of no man possessed of more energy and industry than "Paul" Judson, as he is called by his familiar associates.— He is now in the Eastern portion of the territory, but will soon return to the Sound and meet the people who have known him from his boyhood. We bespeak for him such a reception as befits one who has been the architect of his own prosperity and who, in spite of no ordinary adversities in youth, has grown up to a manhood replete with honor and goodrepute. Bring out the gun.

A person signing himself Justin Chenoweth, sends a long letter to the Oregonian, attacking Hon. J. P. Judson's reputation for fairness as an officer for withholding (while Territorial Superintendent of Public Instruction) a teacher's certificate from his daughter. That Mr. Judson might have refused, on examination, to issue the lady a certificate, we do not doubt; but that he refused to give her a hearing for the purpose of testing her capability, we cannot believe. There must be two sides to every story, and we'll wait for the other side. In the meantime we say to the aggrieved Chenoweth, in the language of our cousins across the straits, "Don't be a Hass!"

The Colonist is somewhat wrathful over the manner in which public contracts are let, and accuses the City Council of doing a "Star Chamber" business in the premises. It charges that, while there are several firms engaged in the plumbing business in that city, no proposals for the work of laying water mains were invited, but that the contract was let in secret session to a friend of the ring. The same paper calls the Mayor a "blasphemer" and accuses him of being at the head of the "phrod." Strange they cannot get along there without having a "blasted raow" every day or two.

The investigation into the management of the Oregon penitentiary, is another "tempest in a teapot." There were loud rumors of peculation and fraud, and now, after all this outcry by Republican journals, it turns out that all is straight, only the Superintendent makes the State pay the wages of his clerk; and this office the committee recommend be done away with. So ends the great cry and little wool of corruption in the State Prison affairs of Oregon under Democratic rule.

Visitors from Oregon, pronounce the present State Fair at Salem to be the best one ever held north of Sacramento. Glad to hear it.

HON. J. P. JUDSON.

The following, from the Olympia Echo, is a very correct and impartial sketch of our candidate for Congressional delegate. Coming from a Republican paper, it verifies the words of Solomon, "When a man's ways please the Lord, it maketh his enemies to be at peace with him."

"The Democratic nominee for Delegate from Washington Territory was born in Prussia, in the spring of 1840. His father emigrated to the United States in 1845, and lived in Illinois till the spring of 1853, when they came to this Territory in an ox wagon, the first that ever came through the Natches Pass. The family lived on their ranch till '56, when they were obliged to remove to Steilacoom, along with other families, on account of the Indian war.

"Young Paul went to the Fraser river gold mines in '58, and returned in the fall with about $700 coin. During the summer of '59 he worked at Steilacoom in a brick yard. The money he had accumulated paid his expenses at school in Vancouver, for a period of two years. In '63 he taught his first term of school in the Payallup Valley. In the same year he came to Olympia and opened a private school. During his days in the school room as tutor, he had been elected Territorial Librarian, and was pursuing studies preparatory to entering upon the practice of law. In the winter of '64 he was elected Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives. Shortly after the Legislature adjourned he went to Fort Townsend and spent one year as clerk for Mr. Eisenbeis. He afterwards taught the Port Townsend public school for one year. During the last few years he had been patiently pursuing his law studies in private, and was admitted to the bar in '67. On the very day when he was pronounced a lawyer, the late and lamented G. B. McFadden, under whom he had been reading, took him as a partner in the law practice, which partnership lasted till the death of the senior member of the firm.

That Mr. Judson's interests are identified with those of the Territory no one will dare to question; that he belongs to this and no other commonwealth no one will deny. The history of his early days are chronicled with the first progressive steps of civilization in our Territory; the story of his youthful struggles to obtain an education is interwoven with the early incidents of our Territorial history. His example is worthy of imitation by our young men and boys, and his present standing among his fellow citizens ranks him as an honorable man."

General Enrique Cerriute, a Spanish translator in the employ of Hubert Bancroft, the California historian, committed suicide at Sonoma, California, last Monday morning. Stock speculations are said to have been the cause of this distressing act. The late panic in the stock market at San Francisco, has impoverished thousands of people who will persist in gambling at the worst swindle ever tolerated in any civilized country.

Jay Gould, whose connection with the late "Prince of Erie" was the cause of so much pecuniary damage to the shareholders of that great railroad company, is about to visit San Francisco, accompanied by Sidney Dillon, President of the Union Pacific road. Rumor points to a consolidation of the Union and Central Pacific Companies as a result of this visit, but we "won't have it." Stanford don't get his living that way.

We receive many congratulatory notices from our brethren of the quill and composing-stick, which we forbear to republish, as we never belonged to any mutual admiration society. It shall be our aim to merit, by close attention to business and courtesy to all cotemporaries, the realization of their many kind wishes.

Rich discovery of gold at Leech river, on Vancouver Island, reported this week. A private letter from Joe Lovett informs us that two men took out $50 in two days, and were then in Victoria to record their claims. Say, Joe, is this another job like the cabbage dinner to which you and Mulf Nickerson invited Col. Livermore?

The Central Pacific Railroad owners are about to commence a new road from Los Angeles to San Diego. As all the lumber, save ties, is brought from Puget Sound, we say "Go it!"

The Steilacoom Express indulges in a daily issue. It is about the size of a full-grown letter sheet, but well written up and incisive in its tone. Our neighbor has our best wishes for its success.

A young Parisian, noted for his grace and readiness as a second in numerous duels, was asked by a friend to accompany him to the Mayor's office to affix his signature as a witness to the matrimonial registry. He consented, but when the scene was reached forgot himself. Just as the Mayor was ready for the last formalities he broke out: "Gentlemen, cannot this affair be arranged? Is there no way of preventing this sad occurrence?" Imagine the feelings of the godfathers and godmothers.

Local News.

From the Daily of Wednesday.

WHEAT.—The schooner Winged Racer Capt. Morgan, arrived from the Swinmish to-day with a cargo of wheat consigned to Schwabacher Bros. The grain is very beautiful, the berry being as plump as apple seeds.

PICTORIALS.—J. L. Jamieson has the thanks of this office for a full supply of Eastern pictorials, including Harpers Weekly which reproduces the picture that caused the arrest of Boss Tweed on a charge of being a comprachico, or child-stealer.

AGAIN.—Another new lamp-post has been put up, this time at the corner of Front and Cherry streets; and the average inebriate invokes Divine benisons upon the Common Council. This remark does not apply to any man who goes home sober enough to pronounce the name of our morning contemporary.

LIFE MEMBERS.—Many of our leading citizens are joining the Fire Department. Last Monday night, on payment of $25 each, the following gentlemen were elected as honorary members of the company: W. A. Jennings, A. A. Denny, H. L. Yesler and Thomas Clancy. The company now numbers 27 members.

SEAMEN'S NEWS.—The Zephyr had a lot of passengers for up-Sound ports this morning and Uncle Robbins's smile was "childlike and bland." The Dispatch has been taking in freight for Port Discovery all day. White river folks went home on the Otter this afternoon. Parser Harker, of the Alida, has our thanks for late papers. Repairs to the Fanny Lake are about complete.

THE NOBLE RED MAN.—About fifteen children with sons and daughters of the forest arrived here from Port Orchard this afternoon. Having sold their bladders—of dog-fish oil—they bombarded every grocery in town for crackers and molasses. We gazed with awe upon those clam-devouring Pocahontases and wondered if any "Boston" had dared to breathe the syllables of passionate adoration into their sunburnt cars.

THE NORTH PACIFIC.—This steamer arrived from Victoria about eight o'clock last evening and shortly after sailed for Olympia. She is in good order and officered by very obliging gentlemen, chief among whom is her captain Charles T. Chenev. In a few days she will run no further than this place, where she will transfer mails and up-Sound passengers to the Annie Stewart. The latter is still lying at Bellnes foundry, receiving final repairs to her engines and pumps.

WHO ATE THEM.—Two young gentlemen of this city went into a beer hall, last night, and drank six bottles of Bremen beer, after which they dispatched the landlord to Piper's for two plates of fried oysters. On returning, he could not find those two hungry gentlemen, they having retired—under the table. So two of his other customers ate the oysters, which the first party had paid for. One of the victims remarks that he "never did like oysters, nohow."

TOM MERRY.—From the Oregon State Fair, we learn that Seattle's favorite nag has again gone to the front at Salem, having beaten Rosa Mansfield, Scamperdown and Emma McCormick. The two mares were bred in Kentucky, while Scamperdown is, like his conqueror, a son of "the enchanted horse," the never-beaten Norfolk, owned by Theodore Winters of California. The time was 1:50 1/2—1:50 1/4—1:50 1/2; not as fast as he has done before but from the Oregonian's report we infer that he was not "put up" and could have gone much faster had he been called upon. This is the third race he has won in the past fortnight.

OPIMUM SMOKING.—The growing prevalence of this vice in all Pacific coast towns, almost surpasses belief. If it were confined to the Chinese alone, it would be bad enough; but when we see the youth of our own race becoming addicted to it, we feel like making an effort to stop it. A few days ago, a young man of thirty summers, told us that he averaged two pipes of opium per day, adding further, that many of his acquaintances smoked it three times a day. In San Francisco, there is a municipal ordinance against it and a penalty of twenty dollars for each violation. A similar provision will have to be set in force here or the youth of our city will be ruined by it, in body and in mind. Some of these days, one of the opium dens will catch fire from a lamp upset by some stupefied Chinaman and away goes half the town.

SOUND PASSENGERS.—The steamship City of Panama sailed from San Francisco yesterday and will be here about Friday night or Saturday. She brings the following passengers for Sound ports: Port Townsend.—Mrs. L. H. Briggs, ad infant, and four in the steerage. Seattle.—Mrs. C. E. P. Wood, Miss. Olsen, A. Snyder, R. C. Graves and wife, F. Wilhelm and wife, T. Modgewick and child, Jacob Olson, C. B. Platt, Wm. Moorehouse, and twenty-six in the steerage. Tacoma.—Miss Jeannet McCarver. Olympia.—Miss Ida Stringer, Miss. Bertha Powell, J. Goodrich, Charles Burmister and wife, Samual Davenport, and seven in the steerage.

GRADING THE STREETS.—The work of grading Front street, is nearly ended and is an important improvement to what is destined, ere long, to become a great business thoroughfare. This work entails considerable expense, it is true; but the property-holders will be speedily compensated for the outlay by the increased value of their houses and lots. Moreover, it has given employment to a large force of laborers who have been obliged to spend most of their earnings in the city, so that Seattle is the gainer in the long run. The residences here are ahead of the average of seaport towns on the coast and the neatness of our thoroughfares hereafter will do much to attract the permanent location of floating capital.

DAIRY PRODUCTS.—The solid wealth of opulent sections is always in the hands of men whose maxim is, buy nothing that can be produced on a farm. We have seen farmers in California with hundreds of acres sown in wheat, buying their butter, cheese and potatoes. Your more practical farmer plants a few turnips for his kitchen and feeds the rest to a few nice mutton sheep. His carrots are more than enough to supply his table and the surplus he feeds to his horses in winter. He plants sugar beets, not only enough for his own house, but a few for the cows that keep his table in milk and butter. We know of no country better adapted to dairy purposes than Washington Territory, yet see the quantity of butter brought here from California by every steamer. The peculiar formation of our section is not favorable to Durham cattle, which are good enough for level prairie country. But for the active Jerseys and Alderneys, the best milkers in the world, this Sound country is "just the cheese." We have two months more of green grass in the year than any portion of California, south of Cape Mendocino; and it takes green food to make milk and butter. The Jerseys, Alderneys, Devons and Ayrshires, are coming rapidly into favor on the coast; and we are anxious to see an importation of a herd made, from one of these breeds. Their small size and active habits adapt them to hilly countries; and they keep fat where short horns would starve to death. We see no good reason, in the way that our neighborhood is filling up, why our farmers should not be able to supply all the butter consumed here. There is a "bar'l o' money" in butter even at thirty cents a pound, when good practical dairymen get hold of the business.

OREGON STATE FAIR.—The colt Sank Owens, which ran here against Howard's Norfolk filly, last summer, won the Centennial Post Stake for three-year-olds at the State Fair on Tuesday. The time was under 1:53 each heat.

AGENT.—Max. D. Kant, of the White House, will leave here in a day or two for the lower Sound, where he will supply the wants of the ladies with winter goods. He has consented to receive subscriptions for this paper and moneys due this office may be forwarded by him.

FOR VICTORIA.—The North Pacific on her trip to Victoria, last night, took away several prospectors who propose to try their luck in the new gold diggings on Leech river. She also carried over thirty-four tons of cattle horns.

THE SKAGIT JAM.—The stout boys who cut through the lower jam of the Skagit river were Messrs Merrick, McDonald, Joe Wilson and Dan Hines. Whatcom county may well be proud of such public-spirited men; they are the new blood of a new country.

VISITORS.—Messrs William Moore, James Long and D. Gaige, called on us today. They are from the Stillaguamish country and say that Judson will poll a heavy vote in that section. Crops have been very good this season and the farmers are all in excellent spirits over it.

FROM BELLINGHAM BAY.—The steamer J. B. Libby arrived from Bellingham Bay about midnight on Wednesday with a comparatively light freight and a few passengers. The emaciated form of Captain Brannan still adorns the pilot-house, and a better traveling companion never jingled a bell.

POLICE COURT. His Honor was sitting at his desk yesterday, when a dilapidated Fenian was brought in by a policeman, in a state of chronic dipsomania. The Court corrugated its brow like a zinc washboard and inquired: "What do you mean, Muldoon, by walking up Commercial street and inviting the whole town of Seattle to tread on the tail of your coat? Why do you thus set society at defiance and?"

"Plaze, sor, me an' Barney Flynn had wun dhrink an'!"

"Silence, Muldoon. Don't interrupt the Court. You can't play yourself for a fighter in this town, for you can't lick anything but a Wells-Fargo envelope. If you were a fighter you wouldn't stay here. You'd go to San Francisco and get a big limit. What do you suppose would have become of the progressive civilization of our beautiful Territory if such men as Governor Ferry, Elwood Evans or Jim Swan, were to go about lobbying for a skinned nose in this fashion?"

"I'll do it no more, yer Honor," pleaded Muldoon.

"I don't think you will for the next forty days, Muldoon," replied the Court, sardoniously. "You won't be able to attend Montgomery Queen's circus next Wednesday evening. I would also state that there will be mass at the Catholic Church, next Sunday, but you won't be there to hear it. But when the Christmas trees are decked with lady-apples and the Yule-log burns on the hearthstones of loving parents, you will emerge from confinement a reformed man."

NEARLY DONE.—The drain tunnel at the Talbot mine is nearly complete, and will probably be finished in time to admit of a resumption of work before the first of next month. It will save a great expense in pumping the shaft and greatly facilitate operations for working the mine to its full capacity when coal goes up to the old prices.

A PILGRIM.—A young man named Christopher Streamer called on us today, saying that he was in search of his brother Frank, who has resided in this county for many years. By his own account he has been a great traveler, having walked from Texas to New Mexico, thence through Colorado to Salt Lake, thence down through Nevada to Arizona and so up through California and Oregon to this place. The entire journey occupied eleven months. Now, Frank, come to the front. Here is your long lost brother whom you can identify by the usual strawberry-mark just about the starboard ear.

BURGULARIES.—The store of Phillip Keach, on Occidental Square, was burglariously entered by unknown parties on Tuesday night and a box of pressed tobacco stolen. The money drawers were opened, but as they had been emptied by the proprietor before he closed the store, the light fingered gentry had their trouble for their pains. There is but little doubt that our city, being located immediately between Portland and Victoria, catches all the runaway rascals from both those places. Our police force is small and cannot be everywhere at once, but we can assure them that their tenure of office depends entirely upon their vigilance.

HOPS.—Washington Territory bids fair to surpass all other Pacific coast regions in the quantity of hops grown, and to equal Kent county, England, in their quality. Mr. P. Hays, of White river, says the Littellian, has commenced to press his crop for the San Francisco market. He has gathered 22,000 pounds from a patch of fourteen acres of young vines. During the past season he has had sixty-seven persons, mostly Indians, employed in picking hops, and their wages have exceeded one thousand dollars, nearly all of which was spent in this city. The Puget Sound hops are acknowledged by brewers to contain greater tonic properties than those of California.

RESIGNED.—The post of City Councilman is not one of any great compensation or honor. At the meeting last night, the resignations of Messrs. W. W. Barker and C. N. Moore were accepted.

MAINE NEWS.—The bark James Cheston sailed from Port Gamble yesterday with lumber for the Central Pacific Railroad at Oakland. The bark Martha Rideout Capt. Nickels, arrived at Port Blakely yesterday from San Francisco.

THE DAKOTA.—Steamer North Pacific arrived here from Victoria this afternoon, reports she met the Dakota this morning off Point Wilson. The latter vessel came over and discharged her small-pox patient into Doctor Minor's pest-house on the Point and then squawked away for San Francisco.

HIGH GRADE.—The building containing Matt. Keith's saloon and Robbin's liquor store, on Commercial street, is raised to the high grade. Maydenbauer's bakery is next in order, the workmen having begun operations to-day. The work of raising the buildings occupied by Sullivan, Neaber and Pinkham & Saxe will be commenced immediately.

THE IRON HORSE.—The barkentine C. L. Taylor, from San Francisco, is more than two weeks out with the locomotive on board for the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad. A vessel answering to her description was seen by the officers of the steamer Otter, last night. When once Mr. Bradley gets an engine to move his material with he can lay track four times as fast as he is now doing.

NEW BOILERS.—The steam tug Blakely came over from that place last night with a large lot of boiler iron which is to be made up into two flue boilers for that vessel. The low rates of rent and cheap cost of living here, render our shops capable of turning out just as good and cheap boilers as can be built anywhere on the coast. The work is to be done at the shop of Foster & King.

SURPRISE PARTY.—Miss Linnie Booth, of this city, was made the recipient of an evening call, last night, about half past eight, by some forty young ladies and gentlemen of her acquaintance, all of whom, by a remarkable coincidence, thought that our worthy Auditor's house was a very pleasant place to spend the evening. They were accompanied by a portion of the Seattle Quadrille Band, and two rooms were immediately cleared for dancing and the house fairly rang with merriment till after midnight. The get-together of the delightful little affair were Misses Bowden and Kuttner, who vied with the fair hostess in their attention to visitors. There was whist in the parlor for the more sedate of the guests, while the junior bachelors essayed the waltz and quadrille elsewhere. It was long past midnight when the party broke up and retired to dream over a delightful little reunion.

BILLS PAID.—The City Dads, last night, ordered bills paid to the following parties: J. Thompson, keys, etc., $11 70; John Christ, care of fire engine, $10; R. H. Beatty, building dog pound, $8; T. A. Leonard, care of fire engine, $5; T. A. Inman, services city clerk, $41; T. Leonard, lighting street lamps, $25; Thorn & Snow, room rent, $11; R. H. Turnbull, chief police, $100; E. A. Thorn dke, policeman, $80; Geo. Schultz, 80; David Higgins, printer, $8 75; W. B. Crosson, services, $92 50; Gas Light Co., lighting Council Hall, $2 35; Gas Light Co., lighting streets, July, August and September, $357; Schwabacher Bros., $24; Robt. Russel, hauling, $1; R. H. Turnbull, dogs killed, $7 50; J. M. Coleman, lumber, $144 25; Hans Nelson, hauling lumber, $11 40; E. Hinckly, labor on streets, $32 50; Thos. Rock, do., $52 50; Jas. Campbell, do., $55; Charles McAllister, do., $11 67; H. Grey, do., $32 50; Wm. Blackburn, boarding laborer, $2; W. H. Bow, boarding horse, $12 75.

OUR TRIBUTA ES.—Some idea of the richness of the farming lands at the lower end of the Sound may be formed from the following points which we get from William N. Moore, Esq., of Centreville. He says that Mr. McDonald's crop of oats on the Stillaguamish was 80 1/2 bushels to the acre. Peter Wilkins had in twenty-five acres of barley which yielded 100 bushels to the acre. Calhoun got 1,200 bushels of barley from eleven acres of newly cleared land. Loveland and Morgan, on the Skagit river, have cleared 140 acres out of 380. They will raise this year 2,200 bushels of wheat and about 3,500 bushels of oats. Mr. Olof Polson, he says is the largest farmer on the river. He will raise this year 8,000 bushels of oats and barley—mostly oats. Olson & Anderson come next. They will raise 6,000 bushels of oats. These last mentioned parties have a steam threshing machine in operation. The soil about there is very fair, but not so rich as on the Stillaguamish, where there has been a rich deposit of decaying vegetable matter for countless years. Nearly all the grain raised there finds its way hither, and the farmers of that section spend large amounts here for goods during every season.

Appointments for W. H. White, Esq. W. H. White, Esq., Democratic candidate for Prosecuting Attorney for the Third Judicial District, will speak upon the political issues of the campaign as follows: Snohomish City, October 12th, at 7 p. m.; Lowell, Oct. 13th, 7 p. m.; Centreville, Oct. 14th, 7 p. m.; Skagi City, Oct. 16th, 1 p. m.; La Conner, Oct. 16th, 7 p. m.; Fidalgo and Samish, Oct. 17th, from the steamer: Whatcom and Sehome, Oct. 17th, 4 and 7 p. m.; Wednesday and Thursday in Nootsack country; Semiahmoo, Oct. 21st, on arrival of steamer Teaser; San Juan, Oct. 22d, on arrival of steamer Teaser; Port Townsend and Port Discovery, Oct. 27th, 10 a. m., 7 p. m.; Port Ludlow, Oct. 24th, 7 p. m.; Port Gamble, Oct. 25th, 7 p. m.; Seabeck, Oct. 26th, 7 p. m.; Madison, Oct. 27th, 7 p. m.; Blakely, Oct. 28th, 7 p. m. If possible Mr. Judson will be present at the Port Blakely meeting.

Lion. John P. Judson and W. H. White, Esq., will speak upon the political issues of the campaign as follows: Seattle, Oct. 30th, at 7 p. m.; Talbot Mines, Oct. 31st, 10 a. m.; Renton Mines, Oct. 31st, 12 m.; Newcastle, Oct. 31st, 7 p. m.; Old Tacoma, Nov. 1st, 1 p. m.; Puyallup [McMillan's school-house] Nov. 1st, 7 p. m.; Steilacoom, Nov. 2nd, 1 p. m. Other appointments will be announced.

To the Voters of King County. GENTLEMEN:—It is well known that I am again a Candidate for your suffrage at the ensuing election, for the responsible position of Auditor and Recorder of your county. Two years ago, you elected me to this position by your own free choice, for which favor I have ever since felt grateful. Having served you nearly two years, it is for you to say whether or not I merit the position another term. If I have attended to the business of the county and the duties of the office promptly, faithfully, impartially and honestly, then I feel that I am entitled to your support again, otherwise I do not ask it. The present duties of the office prevent my making an extensive canvass among you were it in accordance with my feelings and ideas of propriety to do so—hence this card. Those desiring my re-election will protect me against false reports and political trickery. I have no fears of the truth, be it what it may. Very respectfully Your obedient servant, M. S. BOOTH, Auditor.

AN EVENTFUL DAY.

The gubernatorial and legislative election in Indiana took place last Tuesday but, of course, no fair estimate of the result can be formed before Thursday. Should Williams be elected Governor, the electoral vote in November will surely be cast for Tilden and Hendricks; and Indiana is regarded as the turning point in the great contest. The immense personal popularity of ex-Governor Hendricks will, of course, bring out an immense vote for the Democratic ticket at that time; hence it is barely possible that we might lose the gubernatorial election by a few hundred votes, and then win the electoral ticket in November.

But there is little doubt of the result, unless the Federal office-holders and their relations spend fabulous sums of money to carry the State for Harrison, for Indiana has shown herself to be Democratic whenever she has been kept aloof from the influence of the whisky ring, which controls the internal revenue department in that State, as in every other State. Williams, early in life has been one continuous struggle against the frowns of misfortune. By a life-long career of industry and integrity he has become a man of influence and high station among his fellow citizens. Should he be elected, as we firmly believe he will, the old man's blue jeans will become a more popular fabric than the celebrated white "wide-awake" hats of the palmy days of Know-nothingism, when everybody's lips repeated the conundrum, "Have you seen Sam?"

It is a day of feverish excitement in the greater cities of the Eastern seaboard while we, passive dwellers by this great land-locked northern sea, behold it as neutral non-combatants. Let it not be our fault that, four years hence, we are debarred from active participation in the Presidential struggle. We are for the Constitution and an independent existence as a State.

OUR COUNTY NOMINATIONS.

The nominations presented to the Democracy of King county for ratification at the ballot-box, are composed of men of known ability and personal popularity. For Councilman, William Pickering, of Squak valley heads the list. He is a man of known integrity, and will certainly be elected. For the Assembly, Joseph Foster and William E. Wilson will poll above their party vote. For Sheriff, Robert T. Flynn will add strength to the ticket, for there is no more accommodating gentleman on the Sound. For Probate Judge, Thomas Burke is the nominee—a young man of good ability and studious habits. M.S. Booth, the present incumbent, is the candidate for Auditor, and will poll probably the heaviest vote on the ticket. For Treasurer, R. B. Curry will give Captain George Hill a pretty close rub; he is agent of Wells, Fargo & Co. at this place, and in every way qualified for the position. Rev. D. R. McMillan, for School Superintendent, is "the right man in the right place." He is an unflinching friend of popular education, and will fulfil this important trust with fidelity. The nominees for Commissioners are men who have long been identified with the growth and prosperity of our county, and who will administer its affairs in a spirit of economy that will not conflict with justice.

King county is Democratic in sentiment, and we have no hesitation in saying that the greater portion, if not the whole, of the ticket will be elected by a handsome majority. The Democracy can go into the fight, unhampered by any dead weight, for the nominations are live men and there are no discords in the party ranks; and the whole army will march up to the polls in a solid phalanx. The cause is a just one, and a sweeping victory is a foregone conclusion.

Harvesting is about ended for the season on the Swinomish flats. Some of these days, that whole country will be one great garden of grain.

The lime quarries of San Juan Island shipped 3,000 barrels of lime to Portland this summer. Most of this is used for smelting iron in the furnaces at Oswego.

TIMELY WARNING.

The occurrence of a great fire at Reno, Nevada, day before yesterday, in which some twenty thousand dollars' worth of property were destroyed, calls to mind the condition of our own city. It is growing rapidly, more so than any other place on the North Coast. Yet its streets, in the business portion of the town, are densely packed with old wooden buildings which will burn like tinder and we doubt if the few brick edifices would be sufficient to check the ravages of the flames, if once they got a good start.

But it is now too late in the season to commence the erection of brick houses, as masonry is always defective in frosty weather, while it would also be impossible for artisans to work in the rain. With the next spring, however, we hope to see a revolution in affairs along Mill and Commercial streets. Buildings can be erected for business purposes, one story high and, say, sixteen feet in the clear, which would be not only ornamental but safe and, in the long run, economical. Buildings of this class have been erected in Oakland and San Jose recently, built in such way that upper stories can be added whenever the necessities of trade require it.

Let us look at this case from the standpoint of insurance. There is not a wooden store in this town whose occupant does not pay eight per cent. per annum for insurance, while those in brick buildings get it for one-fourth that sum. Six per cent. upon a stock of goods worth ten thousand dollars, is six hundred dollars or fifty dollars per month. This all goes out of the territory to enrich the corporations of San Francisco, Hartford, New York and other eastern cities. None of it ever returns here for investment, in any shape. Now, is there a merchant in our midst, who would not prefer to pay this difference of six hundred dollars per year to a local capitalist rather than a foreign corporation? The money would be saved here and eventually used in the adornment and improvement of our city.

If wooden buildings for business purposes are to be closely huddled together in the older settled portion of the city, and Seattle grows as much in the next three years as she has in the past two years, we shall some day awaken to see our beautiful little metropolis a smouldering heap of ashes. It is well to take hold of the danger in time and use the "ounce of prevention that is better than a pound of cure." Let our common council prescribe certain fire limits and forbid the erection of wooden buildings within these boundaries. It may seem severe at first, but the entire community will be benefitted by it in the long run.

American Skill and English Alarm.

We do not wonder that the exhibition of American manufactures in Philadelphia has startled a number of intelligent Englishmen, who are now writing to the London Times praising the skill and taste of American workmen and warning their own countrymen that we are at last rivals to be feared. We happen to know that these English are not alone in their surprise. German, Belgian and French visitors have also been astonished at the extent, variety and excellence of our manufactured products. In fact, it would not be too much to say that we have given a surprise to intelligent merchants and manufacturers from all parts of the world.

Nor in this amazing. It is a fact that our manufactures produce, in general, better qualities of goods than those of Europe; they turn out, as a rule, more faithful, more durable, better and more honest goods. The wooden nutmeg and pine ham business has been transferred across the Atlantic to a great extent, and the Americans have in the last dozen or fifteen years gained a reputation for honest products which would be invaluable to us if it were only a little more extended—if we had any foreign trade—which in fact gives us a vital advantage, whenever we do trade, abroad.

That the extent and variety of our manufactures should be a surprise to foreigners who visit the Exhibition shows how near extinction our foreign trade is. If we had a commerce worthy of the name it would not need an exhibition to make foreigners aware of our good work.

They would have felt our competition; they would have known to their cost long ago that we are skillful manufacturers. The fact is that by unwise laws we have isolated ourselves almost as though we had been Chinese or Japanese. That we excel in many, and even in most, branches of manufacture has done us so far little or no good, because we cannot sell our surplus products abroad. We have gone on improving machinery, contriving new labor-saving devices and making iron and steel do the work of men and women, until at last we make more than we can possibly consume, and are brought to the verge of ruin by a combination of mechanical ingenuity and legislative stupidity. Our foreign rivals are pleased, but they need not be. We shall doubtless beat them in manufacturing, but they continue to beat us in selling. That which used to be thought a peculiarly Yankee trick has become one of the lost arts with us.

About the Sound.

The typhoid fever is said to be prevalent about Olympia.

The bark Camden sailed from Port Gamble for Honolulu, last Saturday. An increased demand for our lumber is one of the results of the reciprocity treaty.

District Court is now in session in Yakima county. Sinners beware.

The barks Northwest and Oregon sailed for San Francisco last week, the former from Port Madison and the latter from Seabeck.

The machinery for the new mill at Falls City has been shipped thither and great activity prevails. A logging camp has been opened by Gordon & Dockery, which is expected to furnish at least two million feet of logs.

A child died near Claquato of small-pox, last week.

A boy named Mitchell fell overboard at Olympia, last week, but was rescued by a gentleman who was passing.

Doctor Rufus Willard is writing some very readable letters to the Standard from the "land o' cakes." The hop plantation in the neighborhood of Tacoma have concluded picking and are now engaged in baling the beer-plant for the San Francisco market.

PEOPLE are much the same in all quarters of the globe, and a glimpse of other American life and character is but a reflex of our own. A San Francisco correspondent says the people there are still crazy on the subject of stocks. Men, women, and children all deal in them. You step into a bootblackening establishment, and as the ducky brushes the mud off his remarks: "Chollar's looking up, sah. Quote a bulge they got on California." You can buy stock from 25 cents up to 480 dollars a share, so everybody, from the richest man down to the newsboy, can handle it. To illustrate the extent to which this gambling mania affects all classes of people, a little incident recently occurred at the Palace Hotel. The waiter placed a plate of soup in front of a prominent stock broker named Smith. As he put down the plate the waiter remarked: "What do you think of Nevada, Mr. Smith?" "Well, I think they are a good purchase at 26," said Mr. Smith. "I've got ten shares that cost me 18," said the ducky, "and I guess you may sell them for me in the morning. Fish, sah?" "Yes, bring me some sea bass." The fish was brought and the conversation continued. "What do you think of Ophir, sah?" "Well, I don't think it will go much higher. They run it up to $3 to-day." "I've got 15 shares of dem dat I held a good while. I bought 'em at 45. I guess you can sell dose 'em at 40." And so it went on through the entire dinner. With each course was an order to buy or sell some stock. The fellow had invested his little savings in margin on trades, and cleaned up nearly 2,000 as the result of his operations. The conductors on the street cars hardly have time to collect fares, they are so much occupied in trading with the drivers.

Assessment Notice.

RENTON Coal Company. Location of principal place of business, San Francisco, California. Location of mine, King county, near Seattle, W. T.—Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Board of Directors held on the 7th day of September, 1876, an assessment (No. 3) of fifty cents per share was levied on the capital stock of the corporation, payable immediately in United States gold coin, to the Secretary, at the office of the Company, 24 Sacramento street, San Francisco, California. Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid, on Monday, the 16th day of October, 1876, will be delinquent and advertised for sale at public auction, and unless payment is made before, will be sold on Thursday, November 23d, 1876, to pay the delinquent assessment together with the cost of advertising and expense of sale. By order of the Board of Directors, sept14d T. H. HENDERSON, Secretary.

Box-wood, about which so much interest has, of late years, been felt, in consequence of the falling off in the quantity shipped to this country, as well as deterioration of quality, is, we are assured by the British Vice-Consul at Poti, a port on the south-east coast of the Black Sea, becoming annually less in quantity and inferior in quality. The prevailing high price of this wood for engraving purposes has caused artists and engravers to introduce other woods, many of which have been tried and reported on in these pages, but none of which has proved so suitable as the old established box. Box, however, is used for a variety of other purposes, a large quantity being consumed in the manufacture of shuttles for spinning machines. The wood brought from the Black Sea, often runs to a very large size, sometimes measuring eight or ten inches in diameter. The box-wood forests of Mingrelia, in the Caucasian range, are, it is said, almost exhausted. Old forests, long abandoned are now explored in search of trees that may have escaped the notice of former proprietors; and wood that was by them rejected is now brought forward, and eagerly purchased at high prices for England.

Boston cultivates, with considerable ability, gastronomic growth. Its marvelous intellectuality does not forbid the unlimited exercise of dental oratory and stomachic intelligence. Boston consumes weekly 8,000 tubs of butter, which, allowing 50 pounds to the tub, makes 200 tons per week, and over 10,400 tons per year. Think of the oceans of milk used in this manufacture! At the average of 30 cents per pound—this is a housekeeper's not a butter-maker's average—the amount reaches $6,240,000 which is nearly $18 per head per annum, for 350,000 people in Boston and vicinity. Some 9,000 boxes of cheese are consumed weekly; at 50 pounds per box, it gives a yearly amount of 11,700 tons; averaging 16 cents per pound, it aggregates $3,744,000 per year. This is only a rough estimate, for really seven-eighths of the cheese manufactured in the United States goes to England, and the demand has sprung up within the last 20 years, sometimes the shipments to Liverpool from Boston being as high as 90,000 or 150,000 a season.

The Scandinavian Mountains are covered with what is known as the "reindeer moss"—a favorite food of the reindeer. Recent experiments by a Swedish professor of chemistry show that this substance is also valuable to man, and likely to prove a source of wealth. Eighteen hundred pounds of this moss, under proper treatment, produced nearly twelve hundred pounds of refined sugar; and five gallons of pure alcohol were extracted from sixty-six pounds of the same kind of moss. At Stockholm the price of moss has risen to about a half-a-penny a pound, and lack of capital and machinery only retards the practical results of this discovery.

A gentleman having engaged a bricklayer to make some repairs to his cellar, ordered the ale to be removed before the bricklayer commenced his work. "Oh, I am not afraid of a barrel of ale, sir," said the man. "I presume not," said the gentleman; "but I think a barrel of ale would run at your approach."

CAPITAL VS. LABOR.

Labor produces all wealth; capital, so far as it controls labor; but when the great mass of laborers become sufficiently enlightened, and can combine to protect themselves against the shrewd manipulations of the non-producing capitalists and middlemen, so as to secure to themselves all the products of their labor, which they now share with the armies of the non-producing classes, in the form of profits, interest, rents, discounts, difference in exchange, etc.; then there will be no rich or poor, but all will have plenty, comfort, and even luxury; and plenty of time for mental culture and improvement, and for discoveries in art, science and invention. When that good time comes, we shall be ready to step down and out, and to join the grand army of wealth producers and make an honest living by the sweat of our brow. But for the present

Sheriff's Sale.

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF sale issued out of the District Court for the 3rd Judicial District of Washington Territory, holding terms at the city of Seattle, in King County, on the 31st day of September, A. D. 1876, in the case wherein Franklin Mathias and Erasmus M. Smithers, executors of the estate of Charles C. Terry, deceased, are complainants and Duncan Dewar is defendant; on a judgment and decree therein rendered in said Court on the 4th day of September, A. D. 1876, and to me directed, commanding me to make sale of the property mentioned and describe in said decree, to satisfy said judgment in, and for the sum of three hundred dollars ($300) U. S. gold coin, with interest on the same at the rate of one and one half per cent. per month from the 25th day of May, 1876, until paid; and the further sum of fourteen dollars ($14) currency, with costs taxed at seventy-two dollars ($72) and increased costs. I have levied upon the property described in said decree, to wit: The south half (S. 1/2) of the north-east quarter (S. E. 1/4) and the north-west quarter (S. W. 1/4) of the south-east quarter (S. E. 1/4) of section numbered twenty-eight (28) and the north-west quarter (N. W. 1/4) of the north-east quarter (N. E. 1/4) of section numbered thirty-three (33) in township numbered twenty-five (25), north of range numbered [5] east, containing one hundred and sixty [160] acres of land; all in King County, Territory of Washington. And now, by virtue of said decree and order of sale, on Monday, the 6th day of November, A. D. 1876, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., in front of the Courthouse door, in said city of Seattle, I will sell to the highest bidder therefore, at public auction, all the right, title and interest of said defendant, Duncan Dewar in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as will satisfy said judgment and decree, costs, interest and accruing costs. EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Hugh McShane, late in employ on the steamer Charleston from Charleston, died in Brooklyn of yellow fever.

This morning H. A. Patterson notified the stock exchange that he had suspended. For a long time he has been one of the most active speculators at the exchange, and a conspicuous seller of coal and other stocks. His outstanding contracts are variously estimated at from 40,000 to 60,000 shares. A large part of these have been privately settled, and the re- have been or will be closed by purchasing them under the rules.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—A Denver special says: The election returns are not all in yet, but enough are in to make it entirely perceptible that we have elected the entire Republican ticket, State and County, by a majority of 12,000. Judge B. C. Bedford goes to Congress, and John L. Rount is for governor. We now have a large majority in both Houses of the Legislature, giving us two Republican U. S. Senators and three electors for Hayes and Wheeler. We have overcome the Democrat's majority of 2200 at the last election for representatives.

DENVER, Oct. 7.—Returns are just received from Elbert county, which gives Republicans a majority of 78, being a Republican gain over 1374 of 223. Grant county gives Republicans a majority of 45, assuming all that has been claimed by the Democratic State Committee to be correct, the net Republican majority in the State will be 1200. The Legislature will certainly be two-third Republican and probably nearer three-fourths. All special reports designed to confute or throw discredit upon these dispatches are sent for mischievous purposes. A list of official figures will be sent soon. The party who has flooded the country with sensational buncombe about the Colorado election applied for the privilege of the associated press to carry out his purpose.

DETROIT, Oct. 6.—The following was received to-day:—Conservatory, Ann Arbor, 6th Oct.—The French Astronomer Leverrier requests me to cause observations to be made upon the disc of the sun on a globe, 9 and 10, and if possible as far west as San Francisco. I desire, therefore, through the associated press, to ask persons having telescopes to keep watch on the sun on these two days, and in case any dark spots are seen in addition to those now on its disc, to note the position and locate the time of observation, and to transmit the record to me of recent observations. Indicate the possibility of the passage of a planet inferior to mercury across the disc of the sun on one of the days named, and it is specially desired that the observations to be made on the Pacific coast of the position of the planet, if seen, may be noted relatively to any of the ordinary spots upon the sun's face. (Signed) James C. Watson

SAVANNAH, Oct. 6.—Interments 18.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The President to-day signed the commission of Thos. W. Prosch as Postmaster at Seattle, W. T.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The public interest in the Ohio and Indiana elections is intense. Speculations regarding the result are general. The Sun's Indiana correspondent thinks the Democrats will carry Indiana, but concedes Ohio to the Republicans. Carl Schurz tells another correspondent: that Indiana will elect a Republican government by over 40,000 majority; also, that the reported German detection in Ohio has been exaggerated, and the latter State is sure for over 5 000 Republican majority. The Times' special at Indianapolis, usually an accurate observer and successful forecaster of election results, predicts a decided Republican triumph. Hon. Eugene Hale, who has just canvassed the State with Gen. Harrison, says he will strike his reputation as a prophet on the prediction of a Republican success.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Notwithstanding Moody's absence, to-day, the revival meetings have been largely attended. Major Whittle has been an able and successful substitute for Moody. Fight thousand people listened to address at the Tabernacle this P. M. Two large prayer meetings were held after the service and were attended by about 8,000 people. The pastors of the city churches have generally preached revival sermons to large audiences to-day. Mr. Moody will be back for next Sunday's services.

COLUMBIA, Oct. 8.—The State Democratic executive committee has issued an address denouncing Gov. Chamberlain's recent proclamation as unwarranted by the law, and the facts as issued to furnish a pretext for acting for troops.

In response to a letter from General Hamptin, Chief Justice Moses says he knows of nothing to lead him to conclude that South Carolina is in armed camp or that any arm is needed more potent than the law. Associate Justice Willard and Judges McKay and Cook, Republicans, have written a letter denying any knowledge of the statement in the proclamation. McKay charges Chamberlain with conspiring against a free ballot.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—In the first race at Jerome Park, to-day, mile and one-eighth, Waco won; Bush 2d; time 2 min. The second race was the annual sweepstakes for three year olds, one and one-eighth of a mile; Sultana won; time, 2:36. The Champagne stakes, three-fourths of a mile, was won by Bombast; Loiterer second, and Hibernia third. Time, 1:19. The fourth race, for a purse of $600, mile and three-fourths, was won by Piccolo; time, 3:16. The fifth race was for maidens three year old, one mile, Outcast won; Cycloid second. Time, 1:48.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 8.—The steamer John Brannell cleared yesterday for Constantinople with a cargo of 15,000 cartridges, valued at $375,000, for the Turkish Government.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The Times' Denver special says there has never been any doubt here as to the result of the election in favor of Republicans, but the Democrats have industriously flooded the coast with statements that distant counties would overcome the Republican majority and elect a Democrat candidate for Governor and Congressmen. This scheme has been worked by Tilden's agents for the purpose of affecting the vote of Ohio and Indiana, and the Democratic leaders have added to the extent of their ability. Returns from all but Coral county foot up 1,200 majority for Governor Rount, Republican, for Governor and the rest of the ticket runs even, while the Legislative majority is much larger.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—Admissions on Saturday, 73,000; to-day, 72,000.

HARVARD, Oct. 9.—I ord! hop Venables, of Nassau, N. H., died here to-day.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—There was received at the assay office here, to-day, from London, 25,000 pounds in British gold.

Gold closed at 8 1/2 @ 9.

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—The Tribune has a special from Patrick C. Iler, of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, in which Courier says he wishes over his own signature to repel the statements that Governor Hayes holds Know-Nothing sentiments. He knows Hayes well and has for years, and the Governor has always treated the foreign born citizens with the highest consideration, and certainly he has appointed many of them to office.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9.—The city has been in a state of quiet but intense excitement all day. Both parties are confident and jointly agree on methods for preserving the peace during to-morrow. The indications are that a full vote will be cast all over the State. Preparations have been made for receiving and announcing the States, and bulletins will be sent frequently during the whole of Tuesday night.

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Tribune's Indianapolis special says yesterday the Democrats procured the arrest of 21 of the city policemen on a charge of assault and battery. Their offence was apprehending under the vagrancy laws, a number of fast characters left in the wake of the Democratic demonstration of last Thursday, bruisers and repeaters from Philadelphia and Baltimore boarding at hotels, and dead beats from no one knows where, who were hanging about railroad stations, sleeping in empty freight cars waiting for the election. The policemen were promptly bailed and are now on duty. Their arrest was a very foolish move, and has had no effect except to create a good deal of indignation against the police managers who are at the bottom of it.

The Times' Cincinnati special says after the most exciting canvass ever known in the history of the country it now seems that Ohio will give from 10,000 to 15,000 Republicans, and Indiana from 3,000 to 5,000.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 9.—The official statement of the Secretary of State shows that the majority for Gov. Conner, Republican, over Talbot, Democrat, 15,037.

SAVANNAH, Oct. 9.—Interments, 19. Ira W. Bonrat, signal observer, who passed through the epidemic at Memphis, died to-day. The superintendent of the railway service is in receipt of information to-day that two more routes agents of Savannah and Live Oak are down with yellow fever, leaving only two agents to keep up postal business on the southerly and westerly approaches to Savannah. The local superintendent reports his having ordered two agents from other Georgia routes to take their place, and adds, the force in the Savannah office is so reduced by sickness that it can furnish no assistance. It is impossible to get substitutes at Savannah or to get them elsewhere to run on lines centering in Savannah.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The President has directed the executive department to be closed on the 15th inst., the day set apart for the unveiling of the McPherson statue.

There was an immense number to visitors to the White House to day all of whom paid their respects to the President who will leave to-morrow for New York for the days.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

MADRID, Oct. 6.—Some representative Protestant have consulted Martinez, former minister of justice, concerning the interpretation of the toleration clause of the constitution, and he has given an opinion favorable to the Protestant view. It is generally expected that the Cortes will re-assemble at the end of the present month.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—The Industrial Bank of Newcastle-on-Tyne has stopped payment. Liabilities estimated at half million dollars.

A destructive fire occupied today the cotton mills of Pickering & Abbot, at Backborne, resulting in damage amounting to $100,000.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 6.—It is stated that General Ignatieff, Russian ambassador to Turkey, has been summoned by the Czar to Levidia, where General Summerokoff, the aide d'camp, whose mission has been signally successful, is also expected.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—Lord Derby's dispatch to Sir Henry Elliot, regarding the Bulgarian atrocities, was issued last night. The British ambassador is directed to demand a personal audience with the Sultan and reparation and justice; and urge immediate rebuilding of the houses and churches, restoration of the industries and give assistance to persons who have been reduced to poverty.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The Right Hon. W. C. Foster, addressing his constituents at Bradford, on Saturday, supported Lord Derby's action on the Eastern question and expressed a hope that the country would support it. He said if Turkey refused England's proposals he thought circumstances might arise in which joint interference, and possibly the joint occupation by Austria and England, might be demanded.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—Baron Lisgar, better known as Sir John Young, who was Governor General of Canada from 1868 to 1872, is dead.

Advices from Mr. Ta report that another controversy has arisen at Tripoli between the U. S. Consul Videll, and Pasha regarding a fugitive slave protected by the former. Cuthbert Jorees, who is to succeed Videll, leaves to-morrow for Tripoli and is expected soon to settle the dispute.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says the Czar's orders that no more Russian officers or soldiers not on active duty be allowed leave of absence to go to Serbia is not imperative. The restriction continues at the rate of 7,800 every week. It is stated that Russia offered Roumania absolute independence if the Russian troops should be allowed to march through Roumanian territory. The military preparation of Russia continues. It is an ugly sign that the Russian reserves have been forbidden to leave their places of residence. The public in Russia look on war as probable, and a panic exists on the St. Petersburg exchange.

FROM HAVANA.

HAVANA, Oct. 8.—Captain-General Jovellar unexpectedly returned to this city yesterday morning. His sudden return, after the papers had said he went to make arrangements for a winter campaign, excites comment. Some say he could not go beyond Los Cruz on account of the rebels in that neighborhood, but the most probable reason is that he has received intelligence of his being supplanted. This change would make the present precarious situation still worse. Gen. Jovellar, when he started from here took $150,000 in gold with him to pay some of the arrears of the troops. In answer to a congratulatory address by the Edinburgh Workingmen's Association, the Earl of Beaconsfield says:

"The working classes are now no longer severed from the other classes of this country. Their social and political rights and interests are alike the same, and, therefore, they are content and happy. Proud of their country, a free and united people will encounter without fear the trial which, perhaps, awaits them."

PACIFIC COAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—The articles of incorporation of the Los Angeles and San Diego Railroad Co. were filed to-day. The company propose constructing and operating a railroad and telegraph line from Los Angeles to Anaheim thence to San Diego, a distance of 140 miles.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—Arrived—bk Mary Glover, Port Discovery. Sailed—bark Oakland, Port Madi son.

Experience has taught men who are subject to severe and prolonged cold that there is danger in taking alcoholic stimulants while the exposure continues. The lumberers of Canada who are engaged in felling timber in the forests, living there all winter, sleeping in holes dug in the snow, and spring on spruce branches covered with buffalo-robbs, allow no spirits in their camp, and destroy any that may be found there. The experience of Arctic travelers on this subject is nearly unanimous, as to the same effect. But after exposure the administration of stimulant may be very beneficial.

ANY person in need of a good nurse, can be accommodated by leaving orders at Mrs. Plummer's. Also sewing in families.

THE county contest and Jack Levy's cigars create unusual excitement in King county, and are almost the sole topics of discussion here.

EVERYBODY rushes to the Centennial Saloon for the finest brands of liquors and cigars. The only agent for Moore & Hunt's Pony Whisky, also San Francisco Beer, better than English ale, and Steilacoom and Seattle Lager Beer always on tap.

DANCE.—There will be a regular Saturday Soiree, under the direction of C. G. Steinweg, on Saturday evening, at Reing's Hall.

THE only place to get the celebrated Steilacoom, St. Louis and Bremen (German) Lager beer, ice cool, is the City Beer Hall.

Humboldt, Steilacoom, Seattle, and St. Louis Lager Beer ONLY at the CITY BEER HALL.

About the Sound.

Stellacombs streets are kept in order by a gang of prisoners.

Schooners Mary Parker and Perry are loading grain for Seattle at La Conner.

James A. Kerr, of Chehalis county, has been nominated for joint councilman by the Republicans.

A number of logging camps on the Snohomish are breaking up, owing to low price of logs at present.

The plethoric Express biographies over the popularity of Stellacombs beer. What the Dickens ails our ponderous neighbor?

The repairs to the Insane Asylum at Stellacombs are being conducted under the superintendence of Ben. Harned, of Olympia.

The barkentine Free Trade, 340 tons, is under charter to take lumber from one of the Puget Sound sawmills to New Caledonia.

A. W. Engle, for many years a clerk in the Coal Company's employ, at Belingham Bay, has resigned. His place is filled by Charles Strange.

The Sabbath school children of Whatcom and Schome, recently gave a concert which cleared $10 towards paying for a church organ. So says the Mail.

The new steamer Messenger, built by a company of Olympians for the Sound trade, is nearly ready to run. She will be commanded by Capt. J. G. Parker, formerly of the Alida.

Everybody in Olympia who owns or can borrow a pick, axe, shovel, barrow, horse or cart is to turn out, next week, and help clearing the Fair grounds. "Field-days" these sports are called.

The citizens of La Conner built a new house for the Western Union Telegraph Co. and donated it to the company. It has the office removed from the Swinomish to their town. There's enterprise for you.

E. D. Smith of Lowell has lately completed a large warehouse and blacksmith shop. He intends to remove the "old camp," the first building erected in town, which will add much to the appearance of the town of Lowell.

There being no steam threshers on the Stillaguamish, no threshing is done as yet, the ranchers stacking their grain and letting it sweat in the stack before threshing, while on the Swinomish, the steam threshers, thresh right from the field.

Trout 17 inches long have been caught in Utsalady Lake. On Tuesday, last week, Le Revere Cutter stopped a few hours at Utsalady. The officers went out there, and in an hour and one-half's fishing caught 65 trout. So says the Star.

Last week, while Spuriock and wife of Robinson's Prairie, were away from home, a man broke into his house and stole a watch and twelve dollars in money. Sheriff Billings started out in pursuit and overhauled the man on Grand Mound Prairie, who is now in jail.

The hotel and rancho, between the Steamboat and Elvey Sloughs, has been sold by Messrs. Alphonse & Thornton to Mr. Albee, who will commence diking at once. He contemplates cutting a channel across from one slough to the other, through which steamers can pass at any time except at extremely low water.

The following nominations have been made by the Peoples Convention of Mason county: For Commissioners, Lewis D. W. Shelton, William Callow and Charles Stowell; for Sheriff, Wm. Lewis; for Auditor, A. F. Chapman; for Treasurer, John Campbell; for Judge of Probate, John Eichars; School Superintendent, John S. W. Sheiton.

A magnificent display of opals has been sent by Austria to the Philadelphia exhibition. The opals came from the government mines in the Carpathian mountains, which extend from six to eight miles, and are 1,000 feet at their greatest depth; 400 men are employed in these mines which have been worked for five centuries. The rough opals are shown from their growth in crystal form till their decay; but the gems of the collection are the "Kohinoor of opals" the largest known, and weighing 602 carats—and two exquisite stones, engraved as cameo likenesses of the Emperor and Empress. These portraits were done by an Austrian artist in two years, and are estimated the finest specimens of the kind in the world. It had been considered impossible to engrave upon so soft a stone as the opal, but in both of these heads the lines are as clearly cut as in the finest cameos.

Apromps of theatricals, the following extracts from a fair correspondent's letter will be found interesting: "Of course, dear, no one would be the 'messenger' (what smart-arse ever would?) so at last we had to impress one of the footmen into the service; but the stupid thing, instead of rushing on and shouting, 'My lord, Jeanne d'Ar has been executed, with fire and stake, in the market place in Rouen!' walked on just as he were announcing luncheon, and drawled out, 'My lord, Johnnie Dark is bin hexecuted frying steak in the market place in ruins.'"

There is nothing funnier in cockney vernacular than James' letter, when he is in doubt which is to prefer of his to lady-loves, Mary Hann and Hangelia. He writes: "There they stood together them two young women. I don't know which is the 'andsomest. I coodn help comparing them, and I coodn help comparing myself to a certain Hanimle I've read of, that found it difficult to make a choice betwist 2 bundles of A."

"Marriage is promotion," says George Eliot. In the eyes of such a reasoner a man with his third wife would doubtless pass for a brigadier general.

At a luncheon held in connection with the shorthorn sale at Kilhous, Cumberland, Sir Wilfred Lawson, M. P., told a story—an agricultural and temperance one. He said there was once a mayor of an ancient borough, and well known to be so. He attended the festivities promoted by a neighboring borough, and somebody who knew the mayor well put up a glass of milk punch close to his plate. The mayor saw the glass; he could not resist it; he took it up and quaffed it off, and set it down, saying, "Lord, what a cow!"

It is said that one of the editors of a Portland paper, soon after commencing to learn the printing business, went to see a preacher's daughter. The next time he attended meeting he was considerably astonished at hearing the minister announce as his text, "My daughter is grievously tormented with a devil."

A good story is told of Chivac, the Duke of Orleans' physician. He never noticed that he was ill, being so anxious about the health of others; but one day he felt his own pulse and said: "He's a dead man. I have been called in too late."

William Thompson has been sent to jail at San Francisco, in default of a $500 fine for attempting to get registered as a voter without proper compliance with the Federal election laws.

Constable. Billy Henderson will be a constable for constable of Seattle precinct at the approaching election. 11-11-11.

DISSOLUTION. Partnership heretofore existing between the undersigned, in the establishment known as the "Logging Camp Saloon" is this day dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Ben Gardner retiring and Mr. L. Bosse continuing the business at the old stand. Mr. L. Bosse will be responsible for all debts contracted by the firm, and all moneys due will be paid to him. AMAND LE BOSSE, BEN GARDNER. Seattle, Oct. 13, 1876. 11-3m-pd.

CAPITAL VS. LABOR.

Labor produces all wealth; Capital, so far, has controlled labor; but when the great mass of laborers become sufficiently enlightened, and can combine to protect themselves against the shrewd manipulations of the non-producing capitalists and middlemen, so as to secure to themselves all the products of their labor, which they now share with the owners of the non-producing classes, in the form of profits, interest, rents, discounts, difference in exchange, etc., then there will be no rich or poor, but all will have plenty, comfort, and security; and plenty of time for mental culture and improvement, and for discoveries in art, science and invention. When that good time comes, we shall be ready to step down and out, and to join the grand army of wealth producers and make an honest living by the sweat of our brow. But for the present

Marsh & Alford, of the Elephant Store, at Seattle, propose to sell goods to the good people of the PUGET SOUND BASIN, at less rates and more of the goods than they have been accustomed to receive in years gone by. And to prove it, let the people come to us with the money in their pockets and be satisfied of the fact. oct-11-11

Sheriff's Sale.

BY VIRTUE OF AN ORDER OF SALE issued out of the District Court of the Third Judicial District of Washington Territory, held at the City of Seattle, in said Territory, dated on the 9th day of October, in an action in said Court wherein William H. White, plaintiff recovered a judgment and decree in said Court on the 9th day of September, 1876, against John R. Williamson, defendant, and to me directed, commanding me to notice for sale and to sell the property mentioned and described in said decree to satisfy the judgment in favor of the said plaintiff, for the sum of two thousand and twenty-five dollars, gold coin, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum from the 9th day of September, 1876, and costs amounting to the sum of $ and accretory costs: I have levied upon the property described in said decree, to wit: Two turning lathes in the building known as Hill & Madocks' warehouse, in the City of Seattle, said building being on lot No. 4, in block C, in that part of Seattle laid off by A. A. Denny and being the same turning lathes formerly used in the Freeport Mills at Freeport, Washington Territory; also all the drills, boring, gear and lathing, belonging to said lathes, or used in running the same. Also all the machinery used in the said shop and warehouse on said block of whatever name or nature used in carrying on said machine shop. Also all the scrap and old iron in and about said shop or on the wharf on which the said shop is built, and all the tools used in and about said shop of whatever name, nature or kind used in carrying on the machine business, and now by virtue of said decree and order of sale, to me so directed, on October 30th, 1876, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., at the machine shop of George W. Bullene, in said city of Seattle on lot four in block four in block C, of that part of Seattle laid off by A. A. Denny, I will sell to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin, at public auction, all the right, title and interest of the aforesaid defendant in the above entitled action and to the above described property or so much thereof as will satisfy said judgment and decree, costs and accretory costs. L. V. WYCKOFF, Sheriff of King County, W. T. Oct. 11th, 1876-12d-11

Notice!

To all whom it may concern: Whereas the Commissioner of the General Land Office, in letter dated July 8, 1874, ordered that the lands in Township 22 north, range 5 east, in the district of lands for sale at Olympia, W. Reported Expressly for the Daily Dispatch.

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Gold closed, 9 @ 91/2.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—Admissions to-day, 80,000.

It is reported that efforts are making in the Board of Centennial Commissioners to secure the award of special medals to a few living inventors, including Fairbank's Manufacturing Co., the Steinway and others in each case for some special inventions.

OMAHA, Oct. 10.—Returns from all but three precincts in Saunders county show a majority of between 300 and 400 in favor of bonds to be given to the Union Pacific to build a railroad from here west through that and other counties. It is considered carried, as a solid vote against it in precincts unheard from would not change it.

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 10.—The charter election in this city, to-day, for aldermen, freeholders, and school commissioners, resulted in a Republican majority of 600, the Republicans carrying 11 out of the 15 wards, a gain of five wards compared with 1876.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 10.—If Cincinnati, Cleveland, and Columbus show Democratic gain it should be borne in mind that last year the Republican majority was 5,500. This is what the Republican committee claims, while the Democratic committee claims the State by a still larger majority. The Returns received, however, show the result so far to be as given above, each candidate for Secretary of State runs ahead in his respective county.

DAYTON, O., Oct. 11.—Howard, for Congress, will contest the election on the ground of bribery, fraud and illegal votes.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 11.—No official returns can be obtained yet in consequence of the length of the ticket. The Democrat county ticket is generally elected. Private information from the State and this city claim the election of Goff, Republican, for Governor unless the 3rd district gives a heavy Democrat majority.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—Returns from 135 townships, wards, and precincts, show the following changes on the vote for Secretary of State: Republican gains, 2,002; Democrat gains, 1,187; net Republican gain, 815. On the vote for Judges of the Supreme Court, the net Republican gain is 425. There are about 1700 precincts in the State. Additional returns received up to 2:30 p. m. show a slight falling off on the gain for Barnes.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—A private dispatch received at Democratic headquarters from Cincinnati says the indications are that the vote has fallen short of their calculations.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—11:15 p. m.—The Democrats have claimed Hamilton county, and are very jubilant. It will require an official count to decide the result. Returns come in slowly.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 10.—Returns received up to 12 o'clock from 621 townships, wards, and precincts, show gains for Barnes, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, over the vote for Governor last year, of 7,910, and for Bell, Democrat candidate, 6,896; being a Republican net gain of 1,014. This includes two wards in the city of Cleveland, and three precincts of Hamilton county. If the rest of the State shows the same relative gains the Republican majority in the State will be 10,000. If Cuyahoga county should give a total Democratic gain of 2,000 as claimed, and Hamilton should also give further Democratic gains, the majority will be cut down to about 5,000. The returns from the county generally show Republican gains, while the cities give gains to the Democrats.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—1 p. m.—At this hour we have returns from 700 townships, wards and precincts in Ohio, including the city of Columbus and five wards in Cleveland. Barnes' gains, 9,177; and Bell, 8,176, a net Republican gain over 1875 of 1,000. The above includes townships in 80 of 88 counties in the State. But little is known of the result for Congress. The Democratic committee claims the election of Taylor and Banning in Hamilton county. The Republicans claim the re-election of Foster in the tenth district and Clifton precinct, in Mania township to hear from, which are counted as last year, and there is little change in the county.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—As evidence of the extraordinary vote being polled in Indiana it is reported that the total vote has increased over 9,000 from that of 1875.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—3:05 a. m.—Returns from 50 townships and wards in 31 counties. Net Democrat majority, 13. The same places in 1874 gave a net Democrat majority of 796, and in 1872, of 324.

SALT LAKE, Oct. 10.—At Beaver, Utah, to-day, Judge Borman passed sentence upon John D. Lee for participating in the Mountain Meadow massacre, 19 years ago. In doing so he called attention to the atrocity of the crime, the inability heretofore of the authorities to procure evidence that a conspiracy to the murder was wide spread, that he was finally offered up as a sacrifice to popular indignation, but that others equally guilty might escape punishment. The prisoner, having the right under the laws of the Territory to choose death by hanging, shooting or beheading, having chosen to be shot, was sentenced to be shot to death, January 26, 1877.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—While it is impossible to-night to send official figures by Congressional districts, sufficient returns are received to make it certain that the Democrats have elected the following Congressmen: Saylor in the 1st district, McMahon in the 4th, Rice in the 5th, Dickey in the 7th, Ewing in the 12th, Southard in the 13th, and Finlay in the 14th. The Republicans: Matthews in the 2nd, Gardiner in the 3rd, Cox in the 6th, Keifer in 8th, Jones in the 9th, Foster in the 10th, Neil in the 11th, Voohees in the 15th, Danforth in the 16th, McKinlay in the 17th, Monroe in the 18th, Garfield in the 19th, and Townsend in the 20th. Thus the Republicans gain six Congressmen, which exactly reverses, politically, the present Congressional delegation from Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Banning seems certainly elected in the 2nd district by about 50 majority. Saylor, in the 1st district, has about 600. The Republicans concede this in the absence of official figures.

MANCHESTER, O., Oct. 11.—By the official vote Adams county gives Barnes 1,931; Bell, 2,273 votes. Last year the Democrats carried the county by 386.

DAYTON, O., Oct. 11.—Howard, for Congress, will contest the election on the ground of bribery, fraud and illegal votes.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 11.—No official returns can be obtained yet in consequence of the length of the ticket. The Democrat county ticket is generally elected. Private information from the State and this city claim the election of Goff, Republican, for Governor unless the 3rd district gives a heavy Democrat majority.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—Midnight.—Returns from 492 townships in 81 counties give a net Republican majority of 1,006.

Oct. 11.—From all returns received up to 12 o'clock to-night, indications are that the entire Democrat State ticket is elected by a small majority, but it will require official vote to decide the result for Governor. The Democrat State central committee claim Williams' majority to be from two to three thousand.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—The anxiety to learn the results of the elections has induced crowds to surround the telegraph and newspaper offices. The excitement is as great as any presidential election.

The Times' editorial says of the election in Indiana and Ohio: The worse fear is, this don't conclude the battle. After alluding to the corruptions, slanders and frauds, which it asserts is one of the main features in this canvass, it says it may be assumed that the revolt in the end is for the Tilden side, even though there may be no more than 4,000 or 5,000 Samuel J. Tilden will be the next President, so the supporters of Hayes may just as well make up their minds now as at any time, if the Tilden players have really won in Indiana then in November Mr. Tilden will get the electoral votes of Indiana, New York, Connecticut, most of the Pacific States, and a solid Southern vote; nor is it unlike that he will also get the electoral votes of Ohio and Wisconsin and even Illinois may give its 21 electoral votes for Tilden; but Mr. Tilden will not need the three last named. He will receive 206 electoral votes without them, 21 more than required.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Gold closed 87 @ 9.

CHEYENNE, Oct. 11.—A man named Jack Monroe, a herder employed by Pratt & Ferris, on their ranch on Rawhide, 15 miles from Fort Laramie, was killed by Indians last night. There were but four Indians in the party.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 12.—The scenes on the outside in the vicinity of the explosion, for a considerable distance, were of the wildest and most heartrending character. News of the explosion spread like wildfire through the city, and in a short time people began to gather from all parts. Men, women and children, who had relations and friends in the establishment, rushed frantically forward and a scene of the wildest confusion ensued. The police, with ropes extended across, kept surging the crowd from interfering with the useful work of the firemen and other occupations. The chief of police with a number of patrolmen were kept busy keeping back the crowd and in carrying out the wounded and killed. The offices of the works on the corner of Altona street, opposite 70, where the explosion occurred, was considerably used up. The building was improvised into a temporary hospital, where the dead and wounded were carried in large numbers. Surgeons were promptly organized. The causes which led to the frightful calamity are as yet unknown. The boilers were in charge of a careful engineer, and had been duly inspected before the works resumed operations five weeks ago. Frank and Andrew Morgus and Louis Shrank have died from their injuries, and Pat. Griffin, John Higgins and Joseph Laper will undoubtedly die.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 12.—Admissions yesterday, 94,000; to-day, 150,066.

Exceptionally fine weather and an extraordinary large attendance were accessories of the New Hampshire celebration to-day. Gov. Cheney was introduced to the assembled thousands by Gen. Hawley and delivered an address appropriate to the occasion, being followed by Prof. Sanborn, of Dartmouth College. The Governor's reception, subsequently given, was numerously attended. Exercises were commenced at the State building at 11:30 a. m. Gen. Hawley made an address of welcome. Gov. Cheney responded, after which the monument to Christopher Columbus was unveiled at the Centennial Grounds by Gov. John G. Hartford and Blanc, Envoy extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of His Majesty the King of Italy, and the Royal Commissioners to the Exhibition. Other ceremonies were a salute and an oration by Judge Baily, of the Supreme Court of New York, and the President of the American Geographical Society. The presentation of the monument by Mon. Fenli, President of the Association, to the Park Commissioners of the city of Philadelphia, and accepted by Hon. Morten McMichael, President of the Park Commissioners.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—A Woodward arrived to-day from Chicago and was committed to the Tombs, where he will await trial on a charge of forgery. There are a few indictments.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 12.—Richmond mill, in south Scituate, owned by Robert Joslin and employing 30 hands on cotton yarn, was burned last night. Loss, $25,000; insurance, $13,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The steamship Abyssinia, from Europe, has £50,000, and the steamship Prisia £3,860, all in gold coin.

The Evening Post says of the gold shipment from England, there is more gold on the way here, but it is believed that all that is coming at present, at least, has been started or is afloat at the sterling market do not warrant the import here without doubt. Part of the specie lost by the Bank of England during the week was withdrawn for shipment here.

President Grant visited the Republican headquarters to-day.

Wm. M. Everts has promised to deliver a few addresses in this State. No effort has been made by Marshal Hays, of the tax office, to execute a warrant of the tax remaining against the property of the Pacific Mail S. S. Co. to recover $16,000 due the city in unpaid taxes. The steamship Colon, expected to-day, will probably be seized.

The Tammany and anti-Tammany Conference committee this afternoon agreed on the basis of reunion.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 11.—The situation to-night is decidedly more favorable to the Republicans than last night. At midnight the Republicans claim, and Democrats admit the election of Barnes by 6,500; Boynton by 8,000, and to have gained four or perhaps more Congressmen.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—Indiana, though still in doubt, seems to be Democratic. Private as well as public dispatches indicate that the Republicans are losing faith in Harrison's election, as several Democratic strongholds are not yet heard from. Every county shows a decided vote for the Republicans. The most enthusiastic believers in the Republicanism of that State do not give any fixed majority.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 12.—The Republican State central committee to-night revised their returns and now estimate Barnes' majority at 6,707. The 52 counties reported on Boynton, Supreme Judge, indicate that the majority on the State ticket will reach 9,000. Republicans gain 5 Congressmen.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—Complete returns from 84 counties, nearly all of which are official, give a net Democrat majority of 1,621. The remaining counties gave a Democratic majority in 72 of 1837. Complete returns may swell the majority to 4,000.

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 12.—But very few returns have been received from the State as yet. Those received, however, show, in a few cases, gains for Goff, Republican; but they are offset by still heavier gains for Matthews, Democrat. Matthews' majority will reach 10,000. The Legislature will be about two-thirds Democrat thus securing for them two Senators. The vote of this city and county is not yet reported in full. Enough is known, however, to ensure the election of the entire Democratic county ticket.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 12.—This morning a terrible explosion occurred at Zug & Co.'s mill, corner of Thirteenth and Etma streets, which was attended with a great loss of life. The boilers in the mill exploded and that building and more than half of the rolling mill were damaged. The greatest excitement prevails. The fire has not been extinguished yet. So far ten bodies have been taken from the ruins. At the time of the explosion there were employed in the mill department 150 men and boys. The explosion literally tore the building to pieces. Owing to the excitement and confusion it is impossible to give the exact list of the killed and wounded. The following is as near as can be obtained a list of the killed: Thos. Murphy, fireman, Andrew Sullivan, fireman, Frank Cupps, Peter Hendrick, John and Joseph Anderson, feeders, two brothers named McCoffret, and an unknown man whose head was blown off. Wounded, Reitzel, arm broken, B. Kelley, head badly injured, M. S. Coy, head crushed seriously, John Snyder, leg and back severely injured, E. McGove, badly scalded about the head, J. Bays, arms fractured, Otto Crooke, arms fractured, Fred Richard, John Brozey, John Morton, Wm. Kuetzener, cut about the head, T. Roland, arms and legs broken, T. Donnell, badly cut about the head and body. Bowen, badly cut about the head and face, Wm. Unbel head and body injured, Mackey, John Smith, Michael Sullivan, both legs fractured, Frank McCoffret, fatally injured, Kendrick, eyes blown out.

PACIFIC COAST

[Special to the Evening Dispatch.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—The Democrats are having a grand demonstration to-night, though not on account of the Eastern elections of which it is entirely independent. The Tilden Guards, McClellan Legion and the 7th ward Anti Coolie Club, which was recently transferred into a Democratic organization, turned out in a torchlight procession about 2,000 strong with several bands, mounted marshal and aids, and preceded by a wagon from which fireworks were discharged. The procession made appearance

VICTORIA, Oct. 11.—A case of small pox was discovered among the crew on board the steamship Dakota, this afternoon, she has been ordered into quarantine at Royal Roads, but it is announced that she will sail for San Francisco to-morrow. Dr. Walker the health officer of this city, will go in her to San Francisco as medical officer. Most of the Puget Sound passengers are still on board.

VICTORIA, Oct. 13.—The steamer Isabel from Port Wrangel, arrived this morning, and brings about two hundred passengers and twenty thousand in dollars in treasure; she reports a large amount of treasure on the way down. The discovery company have made a new strike on McDames creek, and a new hill strike reported on Thibet creek; good prospects at Rapid river and Roslee creek. The weather was cold and clear, and indications of an early winter; about one hundred and fifty miners will winter at Cassiar. It is estimated that about one hundred persons have left the city during the past few days for Deception Gulch on Leech River, a few miles from here where the late gold discovery was made, and good news is expected from there shortly. The body of an unknown was found in the bushes a day or two since who had died of small-pox. The mayor has taken steps to prevent Indians from coming into town during the prevalence of small pox among them, and all Indians in town have been ordered to remove some distance outside the city, a special constable engaged to watch them. Two white men living in neighborhood of Cormorant street have been attacked with the disease.

A Scotch paper gives the following instance of practical sympathy: A poor man with a large family broke his leg, and as he would be for some time destitute of the means of grace, it was proposed to hold a prayer meeting at his house. The meeting was led by Deacon Brown. A loud knock interrupted the service. A tall, lank, blue-frocked youngster stood at the door with an ox-goad in his hand, and asked to see Deacon Brown. "Father could not attend this meeting," said he, but he sent his prayers, and they are out in the cart." They were brought in in the shape of potatoes, beef, pork and corn. It is unnecessary to say that the meeting broke up without the benediction.

Notice.

United States District Land Office,
Olympia, W. T., June 28, 1876.

WHEREAS, on the 19th day of May, 1875, Edwin M. Church, of King county, Washington Territory, filed in this office his declaratory statement No. 3407, claiming as a pre-emption right the lots one (1), two (2), and the east half of the northwest quarter of section eight (8), in township twenty-five (25) north, range five (5), east of Willamette meridian, alleging settlement and inception of his claim to said land on the 17th day of May, 1875, and having this day filed in this office his own affidavit alleging his compliance with the provisions and requirements of the pre-emption laws of the United States, which relate to settlement, improvement, cultivation and residence upon said land; and whereas, also, on the 18th day of December, 1874, Alonzo Treadwell, of the said county and Territory, filed in this office his declaratory statement, No. 3330, claiming as a pre-emption right the same tract or tracts of land, alleging settlement and inception of his claim to said land on the 17th day of December, 1874.

Now, with a view to the settlement of the rights of all the parties interested, the said Alonzo Treadwell is hereby summoned to appear at our office in Olympia, Washington Territory, on the 16th day of August, A. D. 1876, at 10 o'clock A. M., to contest the claim of the said Edwin M. Church, and then and there to show cause, if any there be, why the pre-emption claim of said Edwin M. Church shall not be allowed as legal, and he be permitted to enter the said described land.

You all know the Frauenthal Brothers, Who sell cheaper than all others; Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats and Shoes And many other things to choose. The best of Goods that can be bought Has just been from Frisco brought; Not alone for show, but to sell; So low that some don't like it well. How much we lose none need to care As long you get them on the square; The loss, if any, it is our own; Nor shall we meet you with a frown. A Stock of such large proportion Here, must put you in the notion To buy whatever is required, If upright dealing is admired. ONE PRICE to all, let it be known, And no partiality shown; The terms are plain in your call On the Brothers Frauenthal.

Summons.

In the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding Terms at the city of Seattle, in and for the counties of King, Kitsap and Snohomish.

Anthony P. Carr, plaintiff, v. Josephine Carr, defendant. Complaint filed in the county of King, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

The United States of America send Greeting to Josephine Carr, defendant.

YOU are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding Terms at the city of Seattle, in the county of King, for the counties of King, Kitsap and Snohomish, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within twenty days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within the said county of King; or if served out of that county, but in this District, within thirty days, otherwise within sixty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of the complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of divorce from the bonds of matrimony heretofore contracted between the parties hereto, on the ground of desertion, and for the custody, support, guardian and education, by plaintiff, of Edward Allen Carr, issue of said marriage. And you are hereby notified, that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will take default against you and apply to the Court for decree according to the prayer of said complaint.

Witness the Hon. J. R. Lewis, Judge of said Court and the seal thereof, this 29th day of May, A. D. 1876.

JAMES SEAVY, Clerk.

FOR CONSTITUTION.

Sheriff's Sale.

BY VIRTUE OF AN EXECUTION

issued out of the District Court of the Third Judicial District of Washington Territory, held at the city of Seattle, King County, dated on the 29th day of July, A. D., 1876, in the case wherein John Collins is plaintiff and

William H. Gilliam is defendant, on a judgment therein rendered in said Court, on the second day of February, A. D.,

1875, for the sum of eight hundred and thirty and twenty-four hundredths dollars, with interest thereon until paid, at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, together with the costs amounting to $18 and 75-100ths and increased costs, I have levied upon the following described property, to wit: William H. Gilliam, donation claim, and numbered forty,

being part of section numbered twenty-three and twenty-four, in township numbered twenty-three north of range four east, containing 160 acres of land in

King County, Washington Territory. Also, lots numbered six, seven, eight and nine of section numbered twenty-three,

and the north half of the northeast quarter and the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section numbered twenty-six, in township twenty-three north of range four east, in King County aforesaid, containing in the whole 233 acres of land. And now, by virtue of said execution, on Monday, the 4th day of September, A. D. 1876, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M., in front of the Courthouse door, in said city of Seattle, I will sell to the highest bidder therefor, at public auction, all the right, title, and interest of said defendant, William H.

Gilliam, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as will satisfy said execution, interest, costs,
