FROM DAILY OF THURSDAY.

PACIFIC.—The steamship Pacific arrived here this morning at half past 9 o'clock from Tacoma. She took on at that place 262 bales of hops, 60 cords of cottonwood bolts and some miscellaneous freight. At this place she booked the following passengers: M. Bagley, D. Shirley, Mrs. McLaughlin, Cyrus Darst, J. Carter, George Finn, Mrs. J. H. Allen, Robt. Burrows, wife and son, J. A. Graham and wife, J. Kneen, Chas. Kneen, Miss M. White, Mrs. Crichton, Mrs. Gregg, J. N. Monell, J. L. Cohen, W. Jefferson, Wm. Walker, J. Easterville wife and 3 children, C. W. Moore and wife, Miss J. Livingston, Mrs. Lochstein, W. A. Miller, C. A. Hall and 15 in the steerage. She also had 15 passengers from Tacoma.

TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE.—A memorial has passed both houses of the Legislature, praying for a semi-weekly mail between Seattle and Walla Walla.

Mr. Pickering introduced in the Council a bill appropriating money to build a road across the Snoqualmie Pass.

A bill passed the House to repeal an act entitled an act to provide means to build a court house in King Co.

The above are the principal measures in relation to this county that have as yet been introduced.

VISITORS.—We had the pleasure of a call yesterday from Mr. Francis H. Cook, editor of the Olympia Echo, who came down with the members of the Legislature. This morning Mr. Stewart of the Albany Democrat paid us a brief visit.

HOPS ON THE SKAGIT.—The farmers on the Skagit, encouraged by the success attending those on the Puyallup, have gone into the business of raising hops. The first installment of their crop, consisting of 25 bales, came up by the Libby.

LIBBY.—The Libby got in this morning at 7 o'clock, from Belingham Bay and way ports. In addition to the hops mentioned elsewhere, she brought up as freight a quantity of vegetables and fish-oil.

Remember the elocutionary entertainment at Yesler's Hall this evening. As Mr. Ross is the finest elocutionist that ever gave readings here, we hope he will have a large audience. Entrance is free.

The schooner W. H. Meyer, loaded with Renton coal and lumber, sailed last evening. The bark Menschikoff has taken her place under the Renton bunkers.

GRAIN.—Schooner Sabina of La Comer, arrived here during the night with a load of grain.

The Fanny Lake went to Snohomish yesterday, instead of today. She had quite a large freight.

SALVADOR.—Notwithstanding the frequent reports to the contrary, the steamship Salvador will come to Seattle this trip and may be expected here this evening. The Company here express no intention of drawing their steamers off this route, and in fact advertise to land passengers here every trip. The Salvador will coal here from the Talbot bunkers.

A CHANGE.—Mr. F. V. Snyder, who has so long been engaged in the meat business in this city, wholesale and retail, has sold out his retail business to Messrs. Diller & Laurence, who will carry it on at the old stand, the City Market. Mr. Snyder will still conduct the wholesale business.

WENAT.—The repairs to the Talbot Co's steamer Wenat are to be quite extensive. She is to have new top timbers put in her and is to be entirely replanked along her bilge. Some of her old planking and timbers are very rotten.

HEATING APPARATUS.—Among the freight on the Pacific we noticed the hot-air apparatus for heating the upper stories of the new bank.

FOG.—There has been a dense fog hanging over the Sound for the past day or so. It generally clears off in the afternoon, but in the morning it is quite annoying to the steamers.

REMOVAL.—The Chinese building adjoining John Anderson's soda factory is being moved around to the other side of the factory to make room for a new store shortly to be erected there.

The steamer Comet, day before yesterday, in trying to make two trips up the river in one day, got snagged near the mouth of the river, tearing a small hole in her bottom.

FROM WHITE RIVER.—Morrill & Morris' scow came down the river last night, loaded with 14 tons of hay, 700 bushels of potatoes, 100 boxes of apples and a quantity of vegetables.

The Lovett Peacock has finished unloading freight and is now awaiting orders from below as to what she is to load with here.

The elocutionary entertainment of Prof. Ross last evening was rather slimly attended. We were not present ourselves, but learn from those that were that the readings were really first-class.

The bark Menschikoff is loading with Renton coal from scows.

The bark J. B. Bell has very nearly finished loading with Seattle coal. The ship Eldorado will be the next to load.

The schooner Superior has hauled in alongside Yester's wharf to unload the railroad iron she has on board.

FROM DAILY OF SATURDAY.

ARRIVAL OF THE SALVADOR.—The steamship Salvador arrived at this port at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from San Francisco. After touching at Victoria. She brought up the following passengers and freight for this city: Passengers—McCall, D. S. Cook, J. W. Hodgson, L. B. Andrews, Fields, Littlefield, M. Jackson, G. W. Cameron, W. S. Taylor, T. A. Bruner, A. A. Phillips, F. Lander, C. Gray, E. B. Reynolds, F. D. Skurry, C. West, C. W. Kimball, J. K. Rowe, James Rowe, C. Hannon, G. W. Rucker, wife and 3 children, Barrett and wife, M. Haine and wife, G. Parrott, John Lopp, R. A. Shade, B. Jones, F. W. Edson, Mrs. Jackson, Miss McDonald, Tramer and child, Miss Constock, Senior and wife, Master Senor, George W. Brown, and 21 in the steerage. The following is her freight list: Waddell & Miles, 3 pkgs; A. W. Malson, 37; S. F. Coombs, 52; Frauenthal Bros, 14; F. H. 3; F. M. S. 5; F. 3; J. P. 1; J. Sullivan, 7; J. C. 2; J. S. Anderson, 1; M. 7; M. in diamond, 8; Pinkham & Saxe, 13; Intelligence, 2; S. P. Andrews, 20; W. R. S. 3. She will return to this port this evening, coal here, and sail on Tuesday next, for San Francisco.

FREIGHT.—Taking advantage of the present low rates of freight from San Francisco to this place by both steamers and sailing vessels, our merchants have had immense quantities of freight landed here, so much as to seriously embarrass some of them for room in which to stow it all. We notice the spacious warehouses of some of our prominent merchants are filled to pretty nearly their utmost capacity and more freight is coming every week. The amount being landed here will average 150 tons per week.

CARPENTERS.—They were engaged yesterday in planking that recently built portion of Yesler's wharf, which extended beyond the warehouse. It has heretofore been covered merely by loose boards with wide gaps between, and we have been in daily expectation of having a first-class drowning item to record from one of these man traps, but our fond hopes have now been ruthlessly squelched. "Twas ever thus! Since childhood's hour we've seen our fondest hopes take flight. We never held the harbor bower but some one took it with the right."

GO TO BOW'S SKATING RINK to-night and enjoy yourself.

M. E. CHURCH.—Preaching to-morrow at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. by the pastor, Rev. A. Atwood.

STORES.—Perhaps no better proof of the rapid growth which our City is making now could be adduced than the fact that every business location in town is occupied and there are no less than five large two-story stores being put up, some of them, now almost ready for the occupant, nearly all of which were engaged by tenants before the first lumber was hauled. This is exclusive of the two banks.

SERVICES TO-MORROW.—The Baptist Church at the usual hours. In the evening the pastor will preach on the "Second Coming of Christ." All are invited.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—From passengers by the Fanny Lake we learn the particulars of a fatal accident which took place at Snohomish City yesterday. A drunken Siwash, who was staggering up and down the balcony of Romines' hotel, yelling, fell over the railing to the ground, striking on the back of his head and breaking his neck.

The bark J. B. Bell has finished loading with Seattle coal and hauled out into the stream. She will be probably be towed out this evening. Her place will be taken by the brigantine Fremont.

BOSTON, Oct. 13.—The Executive Committee of the Democratic party of Massachusetts decided to-day to place the name of John Quincy Adams upon the ticket as candidate for Lieutenant Governor; vice, General Barrett, declined.

Matthias Keller, composer of American Hymn died here to-day.

STRACER, Oct. 13.—The National Woman's Congress met in Welling's Opera House to-day. The attendance is not as large as at Chicago last year. All professions are fairly represented.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—Returns come in very slowly. It is yet impossible to give accurate figures on the result but both Republican and Democratic State Committees agree that the State has not gone Republican by over ten thousand. The most significant news of the day is an official dispatch from Ross County, showing Allen has only carried that county by 262 majority, a Republican gain of 405, which elects the Republican Senator, Representative, Treasurer and Judge. Returns of all figures on Lieutenant Governor and the Legislature makes a definite statement. While it is not certain that both committees agree, it is probable that the Republicans have a working majority in both branches of the General Assembly.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 13.—The 70 out of 85 precincts in Hamilton County give Hayes a majority of 908, and 63 precincts give Young (Republican), candidate for Lieutenant Governor, a majority over Samuel Cary, (Democrat), of 2,500. The Fourth ward, first precinct gave Allen a majority of 726, a Democratic gain. The Republicans elect their legislators by an average majority of two thousand. It is estimated that Hayes' majority in this county will be 1,500.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 13.—Returns from 565 precincts give a Republican gain of 5,408.

TOLEDO, Oct. 13.—Lucas Coone township to hear from. The majority for Hayes will not be less than 1,377 by official count.

L'Union says the Government has decided that it is not entitled to directly intervene in Turkish affairs, yet will raise the question of guarantee of loans through diplomatic agents.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14.—There is still intense excitement over the election news, and much figuring is being done. Democrats do not expect to dissipate Hayes' majority, but claim it will be very small, Republicans figure very close but rely on several thousand majority. The 20 counties not heard from gave a Democratic majority of 5,271 in 1873. The Democrats here claim a gain of 1,402 in 16 of these counties and Republicans a gain of 105 in 4 of them. This would leave a net majority of 4,934 for Hayes. The Democrats concede the House of Representatives to the Republicans by a good majority, but claim that the election of one Senator in the Toledo district gives them the Senate by one majority.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Tribune says the lesson of the Ohio election is a curt, sharp and decisive contradiction of the libel upon the people, that men never oppose political parties that put a dollar in their pockets, no matter how crooked or dishonest.

The World thinks the Ohio result makes Gov. Hayes the foremost Republican Presidential candidate.

Judge Lawrence of the Supreme Court, has denied the motion for stay in the suit against Freed, holding that orders of general term which it is promised to appeal from, are not appealable, being discretionary with that court.

To-day the United States Assistant Treasurer opened bids for one million gold. The highest was 116 1/2, and the lowest 115 1/2.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 14.—Jay Gould, Sidney Dillon, Robert E. Carr and Oliver Ames arrived here this evening over the Kansas Pacific. Immediately on the arrival the car in which they were traveling was attached for debt. Jay Gould and Robt. E. Carr gave bonds and the car was released by the Sheriff, but owing to the detention the party stopped over here till morning. The debt was for $650.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 15.—At a special meeting at Rochester driving park to-day there were two events, Lulu against time, 1:14, for a purse of $2,000, and Lucille Goldust against Thomas L. Young, for a purse of $1,500. She trotted three heats with a running horse accompanying her, in 2:16 1/2, 2:14 1/2 and 2:16, the fastest three heats on record. Lucille beat Young in second and third heats.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Although this Government repeatedly and emphatically expressed its desire to the Spanish Government for the termination of the insurrection in Cuba and tendered its good offers to produce an accommodation between the contending parties, it has never gone to the extent of the transatlantic story, by diplomatically threatening to acknowledge the rights of Cuba, in case hostilities be not closed by the first of January.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Money closed dull at 2@3. Gold 15 1/2.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The newspapers of London are unanimous in expressions of satisfaction at the result of the October election in America.

A special from Berlin says that under pressure of the great powers Turkey is diminishing her concentration of troops on the Serbian frontier and Serbia is demobilizing her forces.

DETROIT, Oct. 14.—The Hard Money Convention met in this city to-day. attempt was made to secure attendance, and invitations were sent chiefly to leading Liberal Republicans. Resolutions for the appointment of ten delegates to the Cincinnati Hard Money Convention Oct. 25th and declaring opposition to any scheme of inflation or any form of paper money not actually convertible into coin, were adopted.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The Foreign office has received a telegram from Minister Wade under date of Peking, Oct. 7th, stating that he obtained from the Chinese Government the guarantee which he considered necessary.

The Daily News special from Vienna says that Russia is preparing an expedition against Bokhara, out of revenge for the assistance rendered by the latter to the Khokand insurgents.

SANTA CLARA, Oct. 14.—At 5 o'clock this evening quite a heavy shock of earthquake was felt here.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—A sharp shock of earthquake was felt here this evening about 5 o'clock.

SALEM, Ogn., Oct. 14.—The following horses have been entered as Oregon raised horses: Dan Young's "Bill Bigham," J. F. Miller's "Rye Straw," C. H. Parkin's "Norway," Wm. Gird's "Bill Gird." First heat, time 1:54 1/2. "Bill Gird" 1st, "Norway" 2d, "Bigham" 3rd, "Ryo Straw" 4th. Second heat 1:52 1/2. "Rye Straw" 1, "Bill Gird" 2d, "Bill Bigham" 3rd, "Norway" 4th. Third heat, "Bill Bigham" 1st, "Rye Straw" 2d, "Bill Gird" 3rd, "Norway" distanced. Fourth heat, "Rye Straw" 1st, "Bigham" 2nd, "Bill Gird" distanced, time 1:53 1/2. Fifth heat, "Rye Straw" 1st, "Bigham" 2d, time 1:54 1/2. "Rye Straw" came in a neck ahead, which decided the race. Receipts of Secretary up to 7 o'clock this evening reached $18,000.

"Napa" will go with "Foster" and "Twenty-one" in the race to-morrow.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—While some colored men were returning last night from a picnic, held in the outskirts of Brooklyn, they were attacked by a number of whites. One negro was violently killed by a stone and another fatally injured. The police arrested seven men that were engaged in the assault.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—The soldier's re-union which occurred to-day was a grand affair. Streets, business houses and residences were handsomely decorated. Large crowds witnessed the display. Senator Morton made a speech of some length.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—There was quite a run on the Home Savings Bank of this city to-day. The officers state that the bank is in a perfect condition. They pay all that come without regular notice.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 15.—News just received from Wood County at 1:30 P. M., claim that heavy frauds were practised in Perryburg which will probably necessitate the throwing out of the votes polled there. If the vote is counted Hayes' majority in that county will be 470 and give one Republican Senator but if it is thrown out Hayes' majority in that county will be 723 and both Republican Senators will be elected. In either case the Republican Representative is elected which gives the Senate to the Republicans by two majority and the House by twelve majority. Hayes' majority will now probably be over four thousand.

John G. Thompson, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, in reply to a card of the Republican Committee, says he was charged with falsification when he asserted that the Democratic vote was 20,000 more than was ever cast for any Governor of Ohio. Their defeat was caused by a lavish expenditure of money, fraudulent votes and the introduction of the public school question by the Republican party.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 15.—The Governor of Louisiana has issued the following proclamation:

WHEREAS, Official information has been received by the Executive Department that in the parish of East Feliciana in this State certain evil disposed persons acting in concert with residents of Mississippi have banded together for unlawful and disorderly purposes and which has culminated in, First, the violent expulsion from the parish of large numbers of parish officials, admitted to have been legally elected and qualified. AN ARKANSAS FISHERMAN'S CATCH.—A little distance from the ferry landing on the Arkansas river, opposite this city, is moored a boat owned by Dave Robinson, a fisherman, on which he and his family live. About 8 o'clock Wednesday evening his little daughter Ada, aged about 10 years, fell from the boat into the river and was drowned. Every effort possible was made to recover her body, but without success, and it was given up for lost in the belief that the current had carried it down the stream beyond recovery.

About daylight yesterday the fisherman made his daily visit to his trot lines, which were laid in the river about 200 yards below his boat. He threw out the grappling-hook, caught the lines and proceeded to haul in; but before many feet of the line had been recovered, he drew to the surface the dead body of his little daughter, fastened by the dress to one of the fish-hooks. The child's body had been carried down by the current until caught by the trot line, where it was held fast and fished up the next morning by the father. —Memphis Avalanche.

BERIAH BROWN, EDITOR

Seattle, W. T., Oct. 21, 1875.

Snohomish Correspondence.

In my letter of Oct. 1st, I had the temerity to recommend our legislature to look into the affairs of the Territorial University. The editor of the Intelligencer rises to explain. So the legislature can stay in Olympia and mind its own business. The Intelligencer has organized itself into a committee of one and can state authoritatively that there is nothing sectarian about the institution. Now I did not charge that there was. I simply reported the rumor which is quite current here. I made no charges of any kind either against the institution or its managers. The Intelligencer speaks from authority, but don't disclose from where the authority is derived. Did the Intelligencer have power to send for persons and papers and to overhaul the records. That is too thin. That statement won't prevent the legislature from overhauling the institution if it does its duty.

It says further, "that no two teachers entirely employed are of the same denomination. Is there one employed of any denomination. If so it is to some extent sectarian. Also, "no distinctions of any kind are made in favor of students of any particular sect." I don't doubt that part of it. The institution would not remain long in Seattle if its managers dared to be that bold. Again, "there is no teaching of sectarian doctrine or ideas." To some people living at a distance it does seem that to employ persons as teachers, or as officers, in any way connected with the institution all the week, and then have them occupy pulpits, in sectarian churches on the sabbath, or help out in any way religious exercises in sectarian assembly on Sunday and evenings during the week, is inculcating sectarian lessons on the youths of our territory by example which after all is the most effectual kind of teaching. I am only anxious that the legislature should thoroughly overhaul its affairs. The Intelligencer must not take the alarm. If every thing is all right the institution won't be pulled down. We at a distance may some of us want to send pupils there. No one in this county will object to have the management of the University from its commencement up to the present day made public. There are rumors against it. I for one would not only see it above approach but above even the breath of rumor. Perhaps an examination of its records and its prospects for usefulness might result in the committee recommending the legislature to do something towards ending the institution. Who knows. At any rate, if the Intelligencer betrays its anxiety to quiet investigations it will probably induce the legislature to look after the institution. The editor says, "we have deemed it our duty to devote this much space to this attack, etc." That is correct. Do your duty. And I will try and do the same. The Intelligencer winds up its dutiful article by saying the institution is to be fostered and built up and not carped at. Just so. That is sacred ground. No citizen voter or tax payer outside of the Intelligencer must say a word about it. The Intelligencer alone has the authority. It speaks from duty authoritatively. The legislature must take notice and be governed accordingly. It must not come prowling round this sacred pagoda of which the Intelligencer is the self constituted watch dog with spited brass collar bright, and bristling, as the members may feel its truth. No gentleman you needn't. Duty, speaking authoritatively, says it isn't necessary. So of course that trouble and expense is saved to the territory already.

The Yakama has made two trips during the week, so has the Fanny Lake, and as the Zephyr made her trip, that makes five steamers for our little town in one week. Pretty good for us, but when we read the shipping news of Seattle, it makes us appear rather insignificant.

Nearly all interest here has given way to the fair, just over. As the secretary of the Agricultural Society has greater facilities for itemizing the fair than I have, I shall speak of it only in general terms. As a whole it was a success. The display of vegetables this year was not so good as last. Less entries were made in that department and the quality was poorer. Of fruits there was a very good exhibition, but it certainly did not exceed last year's exhibit. Native vines were better. Entries of stock were more numerous, and better than before. The floral display, needle and fancy work, fine arts, etc., was creditable to every exhibitor, and more numerous than any one had reason to report. The weather was favorable and no one has any just reason to complain. True, nothing was perfect. There was the usual amount of growling and sore-head-ness exhibited; but all communities are more or less troubled with those chronic constitutional maladies, and unfortunately for us we have more than our full share of that class that are to all intents and purposes absolute drags on every public enterprise. They can't be coaxed, flattered or wholed into anything and are terrible loads to pack. It was ever thus and probably always will be. We have got to stand it. There was a dance on the night of the 14th, and 15th; but were well attended and there was no dissatisfaction expressed. The proceeds were larger than was expected.

October 17th, 1875. The Fanny Lake left here yesterday morning. At 6 o'clock to-day she was back again alongside the wharf. What an irrepressible little boat it is. You can't keep it anywhere. Her officers are five gentlemen agreeable and accommodating. Just the thing for this river. Let the farming community take advantage of her frequent and regular trips, and put in a big crop next year and have something to ship off to market. The Zephyr and Fanny Lake on the Seattle and the Yakama on the Port Gamble route, we have as good a market as any farming community in the territory. The logging interest here also is quite a home market. All that is now needed for us to enter upon and enjoy a season of prosperity is for husbandmen to put their hands to the plow and not look back.

The new fifty cent fractional currency issued, will be ready for issue on Monday or Tuesday of next week. The delay in their production was caused by the rejection of badly printed backs furnished by the Philadelphia contractors. There has been no issue of fifty cent notes since March last, in order that the old issue, which has been counterfeited considerably, might be retired before the new ones are issued.

St. Louis, Oct. 18.—The Times this morning, in referring to the visit here of Jay Gould, Sydney Dillon, Oliver Ames and other railroad magnates, says the main object of the visit was to perfect arrangements to run through cars from here to San Francisco via St. Louis, Kansas City & Northern and Union Pacific Railroad, without change, and ultimately from New York via New York Central, through this city. It is further said that the project is designed to force, stall the Union National Convention to be held next month, and if possible, to kill the Southern Pacific Railroad project, which has many strong friends here.

The delegation of Chippewa Indians here now from Minnesota will accomplish nothing as they are absent from their reservation without leave, and their complaints do not seem to be well founded. There is still nothing definite about the new Secretary of the Interior. The report that ex-Senator Chandler will receive the place is utterly discredited. The fact that Senator Cameron and Representative Packer of Pennsylvania arrived here yesterday and were in conversation with the Postmaster-General and other prominent officers, induced a belief that they are here to influence the appointment in favor of Pennsylvania. London, Oct. 16.—The Pandora arrived safe and sound at Portsmouth this afternoon after an adventurous and eventful voyage in the Arctic Seas. At Bechy Island they found the store-house built for the benefit of sailors and cast away of ice bound vessels broken into boards over the graves of Sir John Franklin's men, who were buried there, are still standing upright and in good preservation. On the 26th of August the Pandora started from Bechy Island for Peel Straits and then worked her way to the furthest point reached by the Fox when McClintock was in search of Sir John Franklin. Soon after reaching there the Pandora neared the Island known as King William's Land, thus navigating a sea where no ship ever went before except that, perhaps, of Sir John Franklin. At this time the most intense excitement prevailed among officers and men, as it was expected some important results were at hand, as many believed they would be sure to discover traces of Franklin's expedition and eventually make Behring's Straits. In this they were disappointed. Request's Island was discovered ahead and it was then thought probable that the vessel would be able to reach Bellott's Straits, but on reaching Roguet's Island, the edge of a solid pack of ice which blocked the entrance to Bellott's Straits was seen. It was the same pack of ice that blocked the Fox, so there was no hope of a speedy movement of the ice barrier. The Pandora stayed at this point till the 7th of September. Captain Young reports that from the prevalence of North winds there is abundant promise that Capt. Nares' expedition will prove successful.

Hyatt Smith's Sermon for a Hot Sunday.—Hyatt Smith's column in the Baptist Union opens with this bit of autobiography: It was a summer Sabbath morning. The mercury was high, up among the nineties. My house was well filled with warm friends. At the close of the introductory service, which was unusually brief, I said to the suffering assembly: "Dear brethren, I do not believe that the Lord is pleased with our attempt to obey one law of his ordaining by the violation of another. It seems to me that the law written upon the fleshy tablet is as binding as that which was engraved upon the tablets of stone. I will not preach this morning. I recommend that you go to your house and in the briefest time possible take your place in the bath room, and turn on the cold water, sit down and quietly meditate upon the goodness of God. Receive the benediction." I am confident that I never preached a more popular sermon. It was a moving discourse. There was no religion in their "suffering of the exhortation."

An Ancient Snake.—A correspondent of the Land Press furnishes that paper with the following interesting item: "In one of your numbers of July mention is made of a bee of immense antiquity, taken from a fragment of millstone grit, somewhere in England. Well, sir, we are prepared to go you a few thousand years better on a snake, recently taken from the solid rock, sixty feet below the surface, by a couple of miners prospecting a claim near John Hinds' hot springs, Douglas county. He was undoubtedly deposited there prior to the carboniferous formation of the country. There he was, still alive, and in apparent good health; and in all the countless ages which he had in which to "evolve" and develop he had attained to nothing more than an unpretending, commonplace, every-day little snake, of about ten inches in length and of the size of one's little finger. He had the exact color of the rock from which it was taken. He was able to locomote with reasonable facility, though, from the long nap which he had indulged in, he was unable to open his eyes, and seemed to have a constant nervous twitching about the lids of them, but they would not come open.

Willing to Wait.—Yesterday morning in rushing around the Detroit and Milwaukee depot, a cross-looking old coddler bound for Ohio fell over a truck and plowed his nose along the planks for a distance of ten feet. He got up very quietly, and as he made no remarks the depot policeman inquired: "Didn't you hurt yourself?" "Come within an inch of being killed," was the sulky answer. "Then why didn't you swear and tear around?" "Cause," said the man, pulling out his watch, "I'll be home in three hours from now, and I'll get a lod-stake and pound thunder out of my old army uncle to pay for this.—Detroit Free Press.

Fruit is kept in Russia by being packed in creosoted lime. The lime is slaked in water to which a little creosote has been dissolved, and is allowed to fall to powder. The latter is spread over the bottom of a pine box, of about one inch in thickness. A sheet of paper is laid above and then the fruit. Over the fruit is another sheet of paper, then more lime, and so on until the box is full, when a little finely powdered charcoal is packed in the corners and the lid tightly closed. Fruit thus enclosed will, it is said, remain good for a year.

A Visiting Dog.—A dog in the town of Bethel, Sullivan County has contracted a curious habit of travelling regularly three times a week between the farms of Mr. James Luckey and Mr. Hogencamp, a distance of five miles. These gentlemen, appreciating the remarkable sagacity of this dog, now use the animal for the purpose of conveying messages or letters between the families who are on intimate terms.

An inhabitant of Corin, who recently returned from Spitzbergen, after an absence of twenty-eight years, says he "had the good luck to find his wife in good health and the widow of three husbands."

The story of a thousand-dollar bill.—The death of Josiah Cobb, recalls a singular incident of his life. About the year 1829 a colored woman named Sarah Ridgely called at Mr. Cobb's grocery store and purchased a small amount of groceries, giving him a thousand-dollar bank note in payment, thinking that it was a one-dollar note. Supposing that it was stolen he detained the bill and advertised for an owner repeatedly, but no one claiming it he invested it in city stock. Several false claimants appeared for the note, and it was the subject of several lawsuits, which terminated in Mr. Cobb retaining custody for the fund. The history of one of those claimants was as follows: Mr. Cobb one day was conversing about the money with a man who made so many particular inquiries that Mr. Cobb mistrusted his motive, and told him that the woman was dark and had a large wen on the side of her neck, when, in fact, she was a mulatto and had no such wen. Shortly after a very dark woman with a large wen on her neck, appeared from the Baltimore alm-house and claimed that she was the Sarah Ridgely, but the fraud was easily exposed, and up to this time the woman who left the bill has not been heard from. Mr. Cobb allowed the money to remain with accumulated interest until 1866, when it amounted to $3,710, and he then presented it to the Union Orphan Asylum.

A negro being asked what he was in jail for, said it was for borrowing money. "But," said the questioner, "they don't put people in jail for borrowing money." "Yes," said the debtor, "but I had to knock the man down free or fo' times before he would lend it to me."

A City Under the Sea.—A correspondent of the Buffalo Courier writes as follows: In the latter part of the last century, old Port Royal disappeared beneath the waves in an earthquake, leaving no other memorial behind than these few patches of reefs. In calm and clear evenings, when there is not a ripple on the glassy surface of the sea, you may look down into fifteen fathoms of water and see submerged houses, towers and churches, with sharks swimming quietly in and out of the open windows of their bellies. The work of centuries was destroyed in a few moments by one single convulsive throeb of the thin film on which man has lived and speculated for ages past. An American diving company, instigated in their enterprise by tales of untold wealth buried beneath the sea by this sudden shock, rescued no treasure but the big bell suspended still in the bell tower, and donated the same to the museum of the island, where it may be seen, with many puzzling inscriptions upon it which nobody has as yet been able to decipher.

The Philadelphia man who was arrested in Delaware for horse stealing wrote home to his friends that he was temporarily detained there by a heavy pressure of stocks.

TO MEET THE PRESSING WANTS OF many persons on Puget Sound needing Medical and Surgical Aid, and comfortable rooms, good care and Moderate Prices, I have fitted up a Hospital, where every convenience and comfort will be provided in connection with experienced and skillful Medical and Surgical attendance.

We aim to make this a permanent Institution, and to give special attention to cases of fracture and injuries of all kinds that are constantly occurring in the saw mills, coal mines and logging camps surrounding us. Seattle being centrally located, with regard to these interests, and more accessible than any other point, we mean with the aid of these advantages, and by giving personal and thorough attention to its entire management, to build up an Institution indispensable to the sick and disabled who have no homes, and worthy of their confidence and that of the public.

The Hospital is in a pleasant and healthy locality, and the rooms neatly and cheerfully furnished. For further particulars apply either in person or by letter to G. A. WEED, M. D., Seattle, W. T. 4-6-16

THE ACCIDENT TO THE PANAMA.—Mr. Freeman, agent for the Pacific Mail Steamship Co., informs us that the City of Panama got off the rocks in Victoria harbor without the slightest damage. A board of survey was ordered and the ship thoroughly examined by divers, but no signs of injury were found except a little paint knocked off her bottom. The accident was entirely due to the pilot, Pamphlet of Victoria, who took the wrong course.

SALVADOR.—The steamer Salvador returned from Tacoma at 6 o'clock last evening. She took on at Tacoma 60 tons of hops and some miscellaneous freight. She will coal here on the Talbot bunkers and take as freight 125,000 feet of lumber from Colman's mill. Fare down is $25 and every stateroom will be filled. She leaves tomorrow at 12 o'clock.

TELEGRAMS.—A Salem paper says that during the month of September the W. U. Telegraph office in that city received and sent 767 messages. The office in this city, during the same, received and sent 1,212 messages, city business. If the amount of telegrams sent is any criterion of the business done Seattle is a long ways ahead.

POWDER HOUSE.—The city powder house, on the beach back of Plummer's Point, is very nearly finished and we expect soon to have the City Council pass an ordinance, commanding our merchants to place their surplus powder there for safe-keeping. The powder house is a neat little building of brick.

VISIT.—We had the pleasure of a call this morning from Mr. M. P. Barnham, agent of the N. P. Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Portland, Oreg., who is in this city, canvassing for his company.

Fanny Marston, the celebrated California songstress, is coming to this city with a troupe and will give a series of concerts. We do not know the exact date she will be here.

TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE.—House bill No. 25, to repeal an act providing means for the building of a Court House passed the Council in the session of Saturday.

The bark Amie, having finished discharging freight, left this morning in tow of the Alida for Utsalady, where she is to load with lumber.

The schooner Lovett Peacock is to load with lumber from Colman's mill, taking about 280,000 feet.

The bark J. B. Bell, loaded with Seattle coal, was towed to sea this morning.

HAY.—Morrill & Morrill's scow came down the river yesterday with a load of hay.

The railroad iron that came up on the schooner Superior is being loaded on Renton scows for transportation to the mines.

No police cases to-day.

ANOTHER HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION.—The plat has been filed in the Auditor's office of the Fairview homestead association for the benefit of mechanics and laborers. It consists of the S. W. 1/4 of sec. 27, township 25, N. of R. 4 E. and is the Pontius claim on Lake Union.

THE SALVADOR.—The steamer Salvador did not leave at noon to-day as advertised, and will not leave until tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. Her detention was owing to the fact that she did not get her load of lumber on as soon as expected.

In addition to the four now undergoing repairs, the following Sound steamers were alongside the wharf this morning: the Zephyr, Alida, Otter, Fanny Lake, Black Diamond and Cello.

We are informed that a large boom of logs from the logging camp of Lew Jewitt on Tenmile Point is to be towed to Port Gamble to-day.

FAIR.—The 5th annual fair of the Western Washington Industrial Association commenced at Olympia yesterday and will continue during the whole of this week. Quite a number of persons from this place have gone up to attend.

Mr. D. S. Smith has requested us to state that notwithstanding another U. S. Commissioner was appointed in the city some time since he still retains his commission.

The menagerie that is on its way here has built a large stand out in the square and pasted it over with flaming posters.

POLICE COURT.—E. Johnson was up before Justice Scott this morning on a charge of drunk and indecent language, for which he deposited $3 and costs.

NEW LOGGING CAMP.—We are informed that a new logging camp has been started on Lake Washington, near Black River.

The Zephyr, on her trip to Olympia this morning, took a very large number of passengers.

The Olympia Weekly Echo has entered on its 8th volume.

Snohomish County Fair.

[REPORT OF SECRETARY.] The society held its first annual fair on the fair grounds, October 13th, 14th and 15th. Number of entries, 358, besides about a hundred other articles displayed that did not compete for premiums. Those most interested in the welfare of the society being so very busy trying to complete the improvements begun on the grounds, but little attention was given to trying to procure a good display of articles, except by Dr. Folsom, who worked up his department with his usual skill and care, procuring a much finer display than the one witnessed at the fair last year. Other departments were about equal to last year, except that of vegetables, which is inferior in quality and quantity.

Only about half of the county was represented, there being no articles exhibited except from the valley of the Snohomish and its tributaries. The ladies made an exceptionally fine display of fancy articles and other things displaying their skill. This was the department Dr. Folsom took so much interest in working up. Financially, the fair paid expenses and has demonstrated that a regular county organization can be maintained in Snohomish County. It has secured title to 40 acres of ground, placed several hundred dollars worth of work on the grounds and acquired some $500 in property since its organization. With the start made this year, with a little trouble, everything can be put in good shape on the grounds and the whole county represented next year.

The first day of the Fair was devoted to the entry of articles. The second, to their display, the appointment of judges, and the oration of James McNaught, Esq., the orator for the fair.—Mr. McNaught received a vote of thanks for his able effort, coupled with a request for him to furnish all, or such portions as he might be able, of his address for publication. The statistics were in many respects new to most people in this Territory. The third day of the fair was devoted to awarding premiums. Amongst the articles exhibited were some specimens of tobacco that would have done credit to old tobacco-growing communities. The society now has a large membership, and the general support of the community. Its future success is certain.

ELDRIDGE MORSE, Sec'y.

From Daily of Wednesday

DEPARTED.—Our distinguished and honored Delegate in Congress, Hon. Orange Jacobs, took passage on the Steamship Salvador, on Tuesday evening, on his way to Washington, to enter upon his new field of public service. It was the intention of the many friends of the Judge to signalize his departure by a public ovation expressive of the popular esteem in which he is held in this community, which was only prevented by the departure of the Salvador twelve hours earlier than was anticipated. He bears with him, however, the good wishes of all his acquaintances, regardless of party or creed, to a degree which few public men have ever attained. Judge Jacobs is essentially and emphatically a Western man of the pioneer stock; reared and educated in Western Michigan, he had barely arrived at manhood when he sought a home in Oregon, then but just organized into a Territorial government in an Indian country, upon the very furthermost extreme boundary of the United States possessions. From that time to the present he has been one of the landmarks in the political and social history of the far Northwest, and in every position he has won popular approbation and made an honorable record. First as a school teacher, then as a lawyer, for five years Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of this Territory, and lastly as a Delegate in Congress by the largest popular vote ever given to a candidate for that position in this Territory, and this, too, immediately following the defeat of the party he represented. Judge Jacobs, the pioneer farmer's son, has reason to be proud of his record, and we have abundant reason to be proud of our fellow-townsmen. If a plain, blunt, unostentatious and manly bearing, an affable, kindly and courteous demeanor toward all, an intelligent, honest and determined purpose to serve his constituents faithfully, have their due influence with his colleagues in Congress and with the Administration, the people of Washington Territory will have no cause to regret the confidence which they have placed in Judge Jacobs.

THE SALVADOR.—Telegraphic orders were received here at a late hour last evening for the Salvador to leave here immediately, which she was compelled to do, leaving behind a good deal of the lumber she intended to have taken. She had the following freight: from Tacoma, 60 cords of cottonwood bolts; from Seattle, 80,000 feet of lumber. She sailed here from the Talbot bunkers. The following is her passenger list: for San Francisco, Mrs. McNaught, Miss Julia Jones, Dr. Hudson and daughter, J. F. Thompson and wife, B. J. Wirt, D. Permerly, Mrs. N. C. McGregor, J. A. Popham, Judge Jacobs, Hiram Jacobs, H. H. Lewis, J. Anderson, wife and two children, and Capt. Boyd; for Victoria, J. R. Lewis and wife, Mrs. Judge Jacobs, F. Hartman.

At one time to-day, for about two hours, there was not a single steamer alongside the wharves except those that are undergoing repairs. This was quite a noteworthy circumstance as it is something very unusual to have less than four steamers in here at once and the number has gone as high as twelve. We believe such a thing has not occurred for months as to have no steamers here.

DANCING SCHOOL.—Mr. J. J. Hayden, a young gentleman who has recently come to this city from San Francisco, intends to start a dancing school next week in Fisher's Hall, which is rented for that purpose. A dancing school has been needed here for some time and there is no doubt that he will meet with success in his endeavors to get up a class.

PANTHERS.—A young lady who was riding to town from her home on Black River, alone, on Saturday, saw three half-grown panthers in the road. On being alarmed by her they ran up a tree alongside the road. That young lady procured an escort before starting back home.

LEFT.—An unfortunate gentleman, who had booked for passage to San Francisco and who had his baggage on board and his ticket paid for, relying on the advertised time and not hearing of the subsequent arrangements, got left by the Salvador last night.

LOGS.—Two steamers passed here this morning, having in tow booms of logs. They were the Blakely, with a boom from Apple-tree Cove for Port Blakely, and the Cyrus Walker, with one from Vashon's Island for Port Gamble.

BRIGANTINE LEVI STEVENS has finished loading with Seattle coal and hauled out from the wharf. The bark Lizzie Williams has taken her place.

The Alida came down from Olympia with the mail to-day. She returned at two o'clock.

LIME.—The schooner Juanita took a load of lime to Tacoma yesterday from the San Juan kiln. She arrived here this morning from Tacoma.

SOCIABLE.—There will be a sociable at the residence of D. H. Webster, on Third Street to-morrow (Thursday) evening. All are cordially invited to attend.

DAKOTA.—The following is the passenger list of the steamship Dakota, which left San Francisco to-day:

Katy Jackman, Phillip Keach and wife, Mrs. Bacon and friend, A. Snyder, C. N. Hogan, Mrs. Hogan, Morris T. Wheeler, L. Benson, D. Benson, J. S. Benson, R. Donaldson, R. Newberg, wife and two infants, H. Opissel, Mrs. Morgan, Wm. Merwin, C. E. Hall, D. Ross, D. Snyder, J. W. Arnold, Jas. Rowland, F. W. Wald.

BOSTON REMINDERS.—The Boston Commercial Bulletin relates the following:

One of the most methodical and unimpassioned men was Buckram, the former dry goods potentate of Boston. His manner of discharging one of the "young men who, after trial, was found not up to the requirements of the business," is related as follows: The youth would be summoned to Buckram's desk and be thus addressed: "James, how long have you been with us?" "Two years and a half, Sir." "Two years and a half? Ah! Have you had any vacation, James?" "No, Sir," would be the response, as James would begin to entertain a little better opinion of the "old man," who would terminate the interview by saying: "Well James, you had better go up home for a while; Mr. Balance give James $20, and James, we will send for you when we want you again."

One of the aforesaid boys did not develop a decided talent for the dry goods business, incurred the displeasure of Babbidge, the partner of Buckram, and, being found unemployed one morning, was ordered temporarily to assist in sweeping out. The youth did not obey the order, but sought an interview with the chief. Obtaining an audience he said: "Mr. Buckram, I do not think Mr. Babbidge likes me, and he does not treat me fairly at all, and, as I have been here three years, I do not think I ought to be called upon to sweep out, and I did not."

Buckram settled his head a little firmer into his stiff shirt collar, and replied: "Ah! Is that so, Edward? Well, if there is such a difference between you and Mr. Babbidge, we shall have to part with you or him. Mr. Balance, won't you please to look up Edward's account."

"Father's hair is growing gray," is the latest popular ballad; and it is enough to make it to see the way young people are acting now.

A Gala Day.

Wednesday, the 13th inst., will be noted in the annals of Seattle as one of the most pleasant and agreeable festival occasions which has ever occurred in the history of the town.

The steamer Favorite was chartered for the trip and left Olympia early in the morning, with the Governor, Secretary, a quorum of both houses of the Legislative Assembly and their officers, and a large sprinkling of ladies.

At the supper a hundred plates were laid and all occupied, and considering the short time for its preparation (less than 12 hours after it was ordered) the repast was highly creditable to the hosts of the Occidental.

1st. Washington Territory. Responded to by His Excellency Governor Ferry.

2d. The Legislative Department of the Territory. Responded to by Hon. Jacob Hoover.

3d. The Executive Department. Responded to by Hon. H. G. Struve.

Written for the DISPATCH. "Doctah Ballaud--ah."

We read with admiration amounting almost to enthusiasm the spicily article entitled, "An error corrected," which appears in last week's Standard, from Dr. A. M. Ballard of the Insane Asylum.

The doughty doctor goes to work at "what he deems his duty" with the savage impetuosity of a bull-dog. Having, to his satisfaction, utterly demolished the "common enemy" at one fall swoop with the crushing eloquence--"ta-slib, et--" hissing from his red-hot pen; he then, like the faithful spaniel, panting, returns, as it were to lick the sores of his master.

It is refreshing, in these degenerate days of distrust and selfishness, to turn from the cold conventionalities of the world; and contemplate, at a safe distance, the grateful enthusiasm displayed by this young man in his fealty to his benefactor. Who will say that the noble example of faithful gratitude so touchingly portrayed in the character of "Mr. Friday," the companion of Robinson Crusoe, has been altogether lost upon the world?

As early predicted, the rare and happy faculty the doctor possesses of always harmonizing his ideas with those of the Contractor has fully satisfied the powers that be that he is just the thing for the place he occupies--a kind of wet-nurse to the institution. And like the wooden figure exhibited on the stage by the celebrated ventriloquist, Mr. James Jester, as his "supernatural uncle" with which he illustrated his art, so where the Contractor puts forth a wise assertion, for instance that "John the Evangelist was of the female sex," the oral cavity of the figure at his side is seen to open spasmodically, and voice in a mournful, high-keyed nasal is heard to ejaculate--va-ri-ly--va-ri--likely--ah.

But the doctor's rare qualities which distinguish him from the great majority of those of his calling, are brought out and shine forth in their brightest effulgence when he is "called upon to testify in the interest of truth and justice," and as he says, finds himself of course, on the opposite side, "from the medical fraternity in general; unless, perhaps, we might except a few of the ancient whang-doodle persuasion or the disciples of ta-man-a-was-pathy, with whom he fraternizes.

Witness the chivalrous manner in which, with his "professional" testimony arrayed against the whole Medical Fraternity of the State of Oregon, he came to the aid of his friend the late lamented Dr. Glass of Portland; when that unhappy "professional" were arraigned on a charge of murder having "professionally" lacerated the piece and dignity of the State--and things generally. The friendship said to have existed between those two gentlemen of historical renown, who are supposed to have answered respectively to the call of Damon and Pythias, dwindles into an every day affair, compared with the golden tie that bound together the affections of these two web-foot doctors. It was conceded, however, that Dr. Ballard's opportunities had been better suited for obtaining a knowledge of the professional skill of the defendant, than those who considered him outside the pale of respectable practice; as Dr. B. stated in his testimony that he himself had assisted the defendant in a professional operation which satisfied him that "defendant was a good man," [For that business, perhaps,] the nature of the "operation" referred to however would not look well in print. Whether it was "intimated" to our hero that he might secure the position of resident physician to Dr. Grass institution, as a testimonial of friendship; owing to the unlooked for result of that trial, will probably remain a secret. Dr. Glass, it will be remembered, was presented with a nice solid pair of bracelets, and "removed to a healthier climate than that he was then living," with board at the expense of the State.

Such talent as the doctor exhibited on this occasion, was not destined long to lie dormant. Contractor Harmon, on the recommendation of "experienced" Warden Houston, lost no time in securing the doctor's services to help him out of his difficulties.

It being first intimated to the doctor that he could secure for himself the position of resident physician to the Territorial Asylum at Steilacoom, he said, at "the earnest solicitation of Mr. Harmon," he was influenced to come over and answer on the "investigating committee." When the contractor arrived at Olympia with his treasure, 'tis said, he took him from his vest pocket and had him parade his charms before the ruling powers; whereof they were much pleased. And, although, they had publicly declared that there was no law by which they could, under any circumstances, appoint a commission to investigate the affairs of the Asylum for the insane; it suddenly occurred to them, now, after several weeks of deliberation, that if suitable material were supplied for their purpose, they could find some law. Consequently Dr. Ballard's measure was taken and his order registered for a seat on the investigating committee; whilst Mr. Harmon went out to look up some more. But the doctor's burning ardor was irrepresable, he could not wait for the day appointed for the jubilee, but came over to Mr. Harmon's house a few days ahead of time. The banquet being over, the report written out, and signed, Dr. Ballard and Mr. Harmon with the rest of the worthy-committee proceeded to Olympia and repaired at once to the gubernatorial presence. After the usual congratulatory exchange of saliva, the committee further "deemed it their duty" in behalf of one of their number, to make a request, viz., that the head of a certain obnoxious doctor who on account of his evil teaching had caused them much displeasure, be immediately brought in on the half-shell, ala John the Baptist. Whereupon the Governor smiled and said: "Tis well." Consequently Dr. Ballard upon the recommendation of himself and Mr. Harmon, was chosen resident physician to the Territorial Asylum; in time to doctor up the contractor's record of the institution and make a flaming report to the Legislature in favor of the contract system of keeping the insane.

The doctor's late communication in the Standard considered as a literary effort is "way up," but rather abstruse. He "stamps" with virtuous indignation, "as a base libel" the "malicious insinuation," by Hemenway, that he had been prostituted. But does not deny the downright statement in the pamphlet that Mr. Harmon pays him a subsidy; nor the statement of Dr. Hawthorne, his former employer, that Mr. Harmon tendered him a bonus of $500, or a percentage on the profits of keeping the insane, for his peculiar services. He lets the cat out of the bag, however, when he says that "he has reasons to believe that it would be true economy for Mr. Harmon to pay the physician a salary, now due."

Now Doc, this statement from you has a decidedly piscatorial odor, strongly suggestive of something rotten in the State of Denmark.

What are your "reasons for believing" thus? Are they not based upon actual experiment? Come Doc, up with your little hatchet and tell us all 'bout it. Does Harmon pay you a bonus, or does he not? These questions frankly answered will set that ratter at rest. Are there simple questions that, even common people may comprehend; so please don't mystify them like your Therapeutical stuff--Hy drate of chloral, Oil of Tansy etc.,--of which nobody but doctors has any business to know any thing about.

The people of Washington Territory are generous, to a fault; and will perhaps believe your story, coming as it does from one whose reasons for coming over here to serve us "were so good and honorable." We appreciate the pecuniary sacrifice you have made in leaving your lucrative situation at $65 per month in Dr. Hawthorn's dispensary, to accept a situation in our Territorial Asylum at $1,000 per annum, plus the bonus you have said you were to be paid by Harmon. We are delighted, Doctor, to know that our climate agrees with you; that your ruby cheeks and "mild blue eyes" sliok out with fatness.

In closing your communication, joyously comparing yourself to a ground-hog, you make a good hit; although the point may appear a little obscure. Had you likened yourself to a hedge-hog, a wart-hog, or any other kind of a hog of the masculine gender, the simile would have, perhaps, been more comprehensible. We have heretofore held in great respect the guileless character of this innocent looking little quadruped of the genus rodentia; but his incessant boating about the bush flinches us, now, to look with suspicion upon the motives of the meek-eyed, sanctimonious little woodchuck. PEDRO.

MEN PRETTY WELL OFF.--Correcting some exaggerations of the Unicers as to the property of the Orleans Princes, M. Bocher, in a letter published this evening, shows that its value was officially ascertained in 1872 to be about 80,000,000 francs, instead of 348,000,000 francs as alleged. Of this, thirty-five millions were sold by the Empire, nineteen millions of which were appropriated by the State, while the remainder was applied to paying off the loan contracted by King Louis Philippe for the liquidation of his debts. Forty-five millions consequently remained, which the Assembly restored to the legitimate proprietors, disposed by the Empire of eighteen years' income and of nearly half the capital.

This sum was divided among eight branches of the Orleans family, three of them foreign branches. Louis Philippe, at the time of his deposition, owed nearly forty millions, which have been entirely paid, this debt being contracted in the interest of the country for restoring and beautifying St. Cloud, Fontainebleau and Versailles. So far from Dretreuil Forest having multiplied ten times in value in the King's hands, it was sold after 1848 toward clearing off the forty millions of debt for half the sum of which M. Lafitte obtained for as for the Duc d'Anamel, the Conde property was so encumbered, the liabilities almost exceeding the assets, that the Kings counsel recommended the Duke, then a minor, to renounce the succession, but Louis Philippe accepted it for himself at his own risk, and by his management and personal sacrifices cleared off the encumbrances and handed over the property free to his son on his majority. The Duke, however, devotes at least 100,000 francs per annum to the descendants of officers of the Code army and other military servants servants of France.

AN OBTUSE MAN.--She was a stylish young lady about 18 years old, and to accommodate a friend she took the baby out for an airing. She was wheeling it up and down the walk when an oldish man, very deaf, came along and inquired for a certain person supposed to live on that street. She nearly yelled her head off trying to answer him, and he looked around, and caught sight of the baby, and said:

"Nice child, that. I suppose you feel proud of him?" "It isn't mine," she yelled at him. "Boy, eh? Well he looks just like you." "It isn't mine," she yelled again, but he nodded his head and continued: "Twins, eh? Where's the other one?" She started off with the cab, but he followed and asked: "Did it die of colic?" Despairing of making him understand by word of mouth, she pointed at the baby, at herself, and then shook her head.

"Yes--yes, I see--'tother twin in the house. Their father is fond of them, of course." She turned the cab and hurried the other way, but he followed and asked. "Do they kick around much nights?" "I tell you 'tain't mine," she shouted, very red in the face. "I think you're wrong there," he answered; "children brought up on the bottle are apt to pine and die." She started on a run for the gate, but before she had opened it he came up and asked: "Have to spank 'em once in a while, I suppose?" She made about twenty gestures in half a minute, and he helped the cab through the gate and said: "Our children were all twins, and I'll send my wife to give you some advice. You see--"

But she picked up a flower pot and flung it at him. He jumped back, and as she entered the house he called out: "Hope insanity won't break out on the twins!"
