OUR POSITION.—It has been suggested to us by politicians that our political course would prejudice the election of Judge McFadden; that is, by opposing the election of Wyckoff, we were offending his chief supporters, the lawless class of community who would retaliate by voting for Garfield. We do not understand how our support of Judge Mc-Fadden can affect his prospects detrimentally, when we have no personal interest involved in the contest, and have no authority to speak for him or commit him in any way. Our support of Judge McFadden is entirely independent and voluntary, based upon no party or personal consideration and controlled by no such motives. We support him upon the same ground that we support a portion of the Republican ticket in this county, solely because we believe the best interests of the public demand it; because he has been faithful to every public trust, and is universally conceded to be honest and capable, and because his opponent has used the power with which he has heretofore been entrusted solely for his own selfish purposes, utterly disregarding of the public interests. We are willing to make personal sacrifices in the way of public duty, but we are not prepared to sacrifice our sense of public decency by any compromise with that class of community who make commerce of their suffrages, and whose sympathies and support have heretofore been with Mr. Garfield at every previous election. We have no understanding with any candidate or party, and none are responsible for our course.

How IT WAS DONE.—The telegraph reports which come since the Pennsylvania election, notice the arrest in various parts of the State of prominent Federal officials charged with the bribery, or attempt to bribe, election judges and voters. There can be no reasonable doubt that the recent elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana were carried by the free use of money employed in bribery and corruption. Up to within ten days of the election no intelligent supporter of the Administration claimed either Pennsylvania or Indiana. Then, just on the eve of the election it was telegraphed to Washington and transmitted to other States that Pennsylvania was safe for the Administration. This meant simply that the necessary money had been supplied and the result was secured by purchase. An intelligent and reliable gentleman in Philadelphia wrote to a friend in this Territory that shortly before the election the Grant committee in that city received a million dollars from Washington, which was estimated as equal to 35,000 votes. The result has proved that the calculation was correct, and this is more than the Republican majority in the State. From the beginning of the present canvass the free use of money has been the sole dependence of the Grant party for success.

Besides the millions of dollars contributed by corporations and Government jobbers, every Federal official has been paid under contribution by the managing committee at Washington, headed by that most unscrupulous politician, Rev. Jas. Harlan, assisted by Simon Cameron, the most noted thief in America. It has come to this, that every vote given to sustain the present party in power is a vote to perpetuate a system of bribery and corruption in elections. When money rules, bayonets are the only resort of a people desirous of maintaining their liberties.

The New Store.
Schwabacher, Bros. & Co., have entered upon possession of their elegant new store, with an immense stock of goods, including every thing in the line of trade, literally "from a needle to an anchor," embracing dry goods, groceries, and hard-ware, crockery, clothing, boots and shoes, liquors, tobaccos, ship supplies, farming and mining implements, iron, steel, nails, glass, and every other merchandise commodity that can be thought of; a stock in the aggregate and on the average of from $125,000 to $150,- 000.

The main store building is of brick, two stories high above the basement, 30 by 100 feet. The basement walls are of stone from the Bellingham Bay quarry, laid upon piles. The cellar is of the full size of the building, the bottom covered with a considerable depth of broken stone, and the whole, with the walls, covered with a cement and well aired by grated windows in front and rear.

The store front is of the most substantial and elaborately wrought iron pillars and arches, filled in with French plate glass, with massive iron doors and shutters.

The second story front is stuccoed and painted, and the whole is surmounted by a massive cornice of the most elaborate and artistic finish.

The inside of the store is finished in a corresponding style of elegance combined with convenience and good taste.
The counters, stands, desks, cases and shelves are all model specimens, of mechanical skill combined with utility, alike creditable to the practical liberality of the man who directed the work and the genius and skill of those who performed it.

An elevator of great power is attached to the store, for the purpose of raising and lowering goods to and from the bottom to the top of the building.
In the rear, leading to the landing, is a substantial wharf 90 by 120 feet, with a ware-house 30 by 65 feet, which is fitted up with iron racks and other conveniences for the heavier and more bulky portions of their trade.

The entire cost of the buildings and appurtenances thus far is $27,000.— This amount could hardly have been invested to greater advantage to our own, or more creditably to the enterprising and public spirited firm of which Mr. Bailey Gatzert is the managing partner here.

The mason work of this fine building was done by J. T. Jordan, and the carpenter and cabinet work by Palmer Bros. & Co., the ornamental wood work was made by Mr. Doyle, in the employment of the latter firm, and all of the work is highly creditable our Seattle mechanics.

Walla Walla Correspondence.
WALLA WALLA, Oct. 10, 1872.
EDITOR DISPATCH:—Once more I wander in the delightful sunshine of this beautiful valley. A mere assertion of appreciation is but a poor compliment to Nature for the many favors and blessings here showered with such a generous hand. Indian Summer in all its glory (such as we used so heartily to enjoy back in the States) reigns supreme.
Notwithstanding all this, and the surroundings of so much natural beauty, the dark angel of discord seems hovering near, having driven away that spirit of contentment which usually held fall sway and with it the bustle, confusion and busy life which has heretofore characterized the everyday existence of the city. Dull times and complaining merchants.

The failure of Dr. Baker & Co. to complete the construction of the Railroad between here and Wallula has somewhat discouraged the merchants, farmers and mechanics for this season and they now have little faith in the scheme.

This same Dr. Baker moved his family to Oregon to disclaim residence in a community where the laws give to the wife control of one half of the family property; and is now circulating a document among the citizens to petition the annexation of Eastern Washington with the State Oregon, in order that he may again take his residence to Walla Walla, where his moneyed interests are. In short give away one half of our Territory to satisfy his own selfish ends. Not a very creditable citizen, he!

There is some excitement politically here; but very little to what there was two years ago. The Democrats in this county are confident of an easy victory, while the Republicans are no less sanguine. The fight here will be on the County ticket, particularly with the Republicans, who do not take the same interest in the Delegate as formerly. In fact a number of men who have always been known as good Republicans have expressed an intention of voting for Mc-Fadden, and not being, as they term it, "bilked" by that man Garfield.

Mr. Garfield was not as well received on his last visit, as a successful Delegate should and would have been. His speech was a failure, being in character a succession of excuses, apologies and promises for what he should have done but did not do and would do if the people would again give him their vote and return him to his little three thousand and game of draw poker. But from every indication they have quite enough of him, and as far as they are concerned are determined on a change.
Knowing ones say that this county will give McFadden 250 majority and Stevens and Whitman 100 majority; and if you on the Sound do as well as they expect there is no doubt of "old Mac's" success.

There is a little division in the ranks of the Democracy, but only in local af-airs, while the Republicans are united on the county offices but divided on the Delegate. Some of the latter are very prominent in their endeavors at conciliation. Among them may be seen our little "dapper" friend Judge Kennedy, and political "Sancho Panza," Judge Lewis, whose evident opinion of the judicial robes is not sufficiently exalted to keep him from meddling in the dirty political puddle and assuming the control of all the small fry that swarm around him. If appearance is any criterion I would not be surprised to hear of his resignation being again tendered by some considerate fellow-citizen.

We were favored with a visit from the Directors of the N. P. R. R. who came as far as Wallula only. Their attempt to ascend the Columbia to Snake river was a failure. Being limited for time, they immediately turned back, highly delighted with the Columbia river and scenery thereon.

The Walla Walla and Columbia river road is in statu quo; and for want of the necessary timber for ties, stringers etc. the company is put back about a year in their work. The company were bringing their ties and timbers from the Clearwater and Yakima rivers and must have been cutting on Government land, as their booms were seized and sold.— They do not say who interfered, but one is left to infer that the N. P. R. R.
Co. had a hand in it. The sand composing the road bed is being blown in every direction by the high winds which frequently visit us and if something is not soon done there will be but a trace of the original bed.

The farmers this year were very successful with their crops, harvesting large yields of wheat and oats, and considerable corn. There is no market for the grain. The highest cash prices being, for wheat 40 cts., and oats 1 1/4 cts. per
b. and no sellers. Farmers are confident of getting better prices in the spring, which is a very fair supposition, and in consequence are holding their grain. Money is very scarce compared to other seasons, very little freight passes through the upper country.
Very seldom do we see the long, dusty train of mules, that are employed to carry the necessities of life through the rough and rugged mountain trail into the miner's camp. Neither do we see the same number of freighter's wagons, with their dull, heavy role along the stony street, as in seasons past.

Notwithstanding the dull trade of autumn, merchants and farmers anticipate a lively spring, and wishing that their expectations may be realized, I will leave you with the promise of more anon. R.

Masculine Hysterics.
EDITOR DISPATCH:—Some male Pharisee in the last Intelligencer, over the signature "R. H.," assumes the office of an "apologist of vice," while disclaiming the title, and launches forth into a tirade against "J. L. B." as a "lady of uneasy virtue," doubtless because he is a man of very easy virtue himself. He charges her with writing "several gasping letters" (whatever that may mean) to you; while he strives hard to show his wonderful learning in literary common-places by talking about Mrs. Stowe's "Byronic filth," the "German student who evolved out of his inner conscio-ness his idea of a camel," "Dr. Johnson" as "a good later," the "Spartans" parade of a drunken helot before their children to beget a proper horror of in-ebriety," the old maxim of saying nobling but good of the dead, which he quotes only in Latin; and even dares to cite the god-like Nazarene of Palestine, that indignant denouncer of vice and crime in the lawyers, doctors and Pharisees of his day, as though his name could be used without sacrifice to uphold impurity and immorality.

And what is the aim of all this display of cheap erudition in favor of a bad cause? Why, simply to crawl off the attention of the public from the true merits of the question agitated by J. L.
B. to one or two unimportant incidents merely alluded to by her and not at all affecting the vital and real points of her discussion. Her great aim was to show in its true colors a monstrous evil that is eating out the heart and sapping the moral life of Seattle and which if left unchecked will empty the purse, destroy the health, debase the character, tarnish the honor, pollute the lives, and overwhelm with woe and infamy in the future as in the past, hundreds and hundreds of young and middle aged men who are constantly drawn into the vile depths of that terrible gulf of shame, the standing disgrace of our community.

How many unmarried men from the farms and logging camps around the Sound are daily and nightly lured into this sink of iniquity? How many masons, carpenters, painters, and other mechanics? How many clerks, merchants, lawyers, doctors and even heads of families prostitute their honor in these outskirts of hell?

I use the word these purposely for I am credibly informed that already there are five squaw-brothels, and one white women's brothel besides that of John Pennell's in our little town; so rapidly is this vile vice spreading abroad the foul seeds of its hellish infection. Is it not time for our citizens to awake from their lethargic sleep? "R. H." thinks that "the modest mothers of Seattle have common sense and common decency," I think so too, and I think they will show these two qualities in the highest degree by their most earnest efforts to strike down, root out, and utterly destroy that soul-and-body-destroying poison, growth of which "R. H." makes himself the willing apologist.

He seeks to cover with odium the noblest work that a pure woman can engage in. As a mother having at heart the welfare of my sons just growing up into manhood, I honor the benevolent zeal of my young friend "J. L. B.," but detest and abhor the unholy aim of "R.
H." She would save our young men from vice, disease, poverty and crime.
He would encourage and help those vil-laneous establishments which are constantly drawing these young men down to temporal and eternal ruin. Which is the course of right, of virtue and safety?

Which should our citizens approve and uphold? Clearly that cause which "J.
L. B." so earnestly advocates. I mean hereafter, with your leave, to show how this can be done, so as to save our community and our families, and give hope and joy to every true-hearted MOTHER IN SEATTLE.

THURSTON COUNTY.—The Garfield Republicans of Thurston have made the following county nominations: Councilman—George A. Barnes; Representatives—J. B. Allen and R. A. Brewer; Probate Judge—A. R. Elder; County Commissioners—M. S. Drew, S. N. Cooper and A. Webster; Sheriff—J. B. Eckler; Auditor—Fred. Sahn; Treasurer—C.
B. Mann; School Superintendent—D. R.
Bigelow; Coroner—L. V. Mossman; Surveyor—F. W. Brown.

THE QUESTION SETTLED.—The Courier raised a question of veracity with us on our statement that Philip Ritz would support McFadden for Congress, affirming positively that Mr. Ritz would support Garfield. A gentleman whose veracity or fidelity to the Republican party has never been questioned, writes us from Walla Walla as follows:

"The statement of the Courier that Philip Ritz is a supporter of Mr. Garfield is false in every particular, and there is no foundation for such a report.
He denies every entertaining a thought of such an action."

EDITOR OF DISPATCH:—In your paper of Wednesday you have done injustice, undesignedly no doubt, both to the candidates for Representatives. As Mr.
C. Clymer is East of the mountains, and will not be likely to return until just before the election, justice to him demands that any misunderstandings relative to his position should at once be corrected.
I have then to state positively, from full and correct knowledge of the fact, that there is no such understanding or expectation even that they will "support a prohibitory liquor law." The Temperance men in this community are not Quixotic, they are neither asking nor expecting such a law; and I may add, that the larger part agree in the main with you, and "do not believe that the cause of public morals would be promoted at this time by the passage of such a law." These men are chosen because it is believed that they will favor such modifications of existing laws, as will hold both the officers whose duty it is to enforce, and those who violate them, to stricter accountability. No better, no truer men, who are on the side of decency, morals, virtue, law and order, can be found than the two men who are thus nominated for Representatives.
GEO. F. WHITWORTH.

EDITOR DISPATCH:—Proper ventilation is necessary to health, and it may not be unprofitable to ventilate the proscriptive policy of the Republican Convention of the 12th inst. The committee on credentials assumed to judge of the political status of the delegates, and declared that White River had sent two Democrats, one being present and holding the proxy for the other. The proxy was taken out of Mr. Neeley's hands and given to another, no one dissenting, and the Convention acquiescing without a division. Now the question is, what is the duty of committees on credentials?
Is that committee in the Legislature authorized to judge of the political status of persons claiming seats? If the parties who make the delegates have not the exclusive right to judge their qualifications, then the whole thing of delegate conventions is a farce. The very object for which such committees is created is defeated; that is, to determine who are delegates not what they are.— The cry was—look well to it that no Democrats get into the Convention; meaning, of course, White River Republicans, we doubt your loyalty to the party. Oh, consistency, etc. W. H.

NEWSPAPER CHANGES.—The Vancouver Register has hauled down the Garfield and hoisted the McFadden flag.

The Olympia Tribune announces that that paper will hereafter be independent in its policies. The editor is personally for McFadden.

BRIAN BROWN, EDITOR.

SEATTLE, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1872.

Mr. Garfield's Speech.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Garfield, accompanied by Gov. Ferry and the Olympia Brass Band, appeared at the Pavilion in this city, and for two hours or more addressed an audience of less than three hundred souls...

Our limited space will not permit an extended review of a speech of that length, and we shall therefore, at this time, only refer to one or two of his chief points. The matter upon which he laid the greatest stress, and devoted more of his speech than to any other, was an article which appeared in the DISPATCH of August 23, reviewing his labors in the session of Congress of 1870-71...

By referring to the Index of the Congressional Globe for the session of 1870-71 we find he introduced the following bills: "To grant lands to Washington Territory to aid in the construction of railroad and telegraph lines in said Territory."

For the relief of William Kelly, Captain of eighth United States Cavalry."

For the relief of disabled officers of the Army honorably mustered out under the act of July 15, 1870.

To extend the benefits of the donation laws of September 27, 1850 to certain persons."

In regard to homesteads upon public lands."

Joint resolution for a branch railroad from Utah Territory to the Columbia River."

These include every measure introduced by Mr. Garfield during that session, and it will be observed that they are chiefly private bills for which he was only acting as attorney. Not a single measure for the general benefit of the Territory was passed under his auspices nor a single act of any kind in which he was not personally interested.

The Legislature at its last session memorialized Congress on many matters deemed of great importance to our future prosperity. It will be seen that not one of those memorials were presented to Congress by Mr. Garfield.

With well acted assumption of virtuous indignation, Mr. Garfield spoke of this statement as the malicious invention of a man who had been "driven out of San Francisco," who he denounced as "a malicious liar," or one "grossly ignorant" of what he stated. We might truthfully retort, that though the victim of an insensate mob, composed of the lowest and most lawless of a city rabble—whose felon act Mr. Garfield exultantly endorses—we were never convicted of an offence against public morality or private decency; that we were never forcibly ejected from a gambling room, as Mr. Garfield was, in open day, upon a public street in Olympia, while his son grabbed the gambling money scattered in the affray; that we never spent nights and days, as Mr. Garfield has done in this city, in collusion with professional gamblers, in winning from a young man Government funds entrusted to his keeping. We might continue this comparison indefinitely and mention nothing but what are matters of public notoriety; but we will only say in regard to the question of veracity that our statement is fully corroborated in every particular by the Congressional Globe, which is open to the inspection of any man who has any doubts upon the subject, and that his denial of the same was the most shameless exhibition of brazen mendacity which we ever witnessed upon a public stand. If any doubt this statement, we will convince them of its truth by documentary evidence if they will call at our office. The whole speech was replete with like shameless falsehoods and specious inventions, which we shall notice more in detail hereafter.

Reform Convention.

The Reform Convention, called for the purpose of nominating a ticket of county officers, met at the Pavilion on Saturday. J. T. Kenworthy was elected President, and C. C. Perkins, Secretary.

Hon. Joseph Foster was nominated for Joint Councilman by acclamation. The Convention then proceeded to ballot for candidates with the following result:

For Representatives—L. S. Rodgers and William Pickering.

For County Commissioners—J. T. Stewart, C. P. Stone and E. M. Smithers.

For Sheriff—E. McRedmond.

For Auditor—C. C. Perkins.

For Assessor—J. T. Kenworthy.

For Treasurer—John Ross.

For Probate Judge—D. S. Smith.

For Surveyor—E. Whitworth.

For School Superintendent—Rev. G. F. Whitworth.

For Coroner—Dr. G. A. Weed.

For Wreckmaster—E. H. Beatty.

For Justice of the Peace—D. S. Smith. This is in the main a very respectable ticket, worthy the support of the citizens of King county, with few, if any exceptions, and as free from partisanship as it was possible to make it.

in the Legislature by any man. It would be an insult to common sense to offer any comparison between him and his opponent.

Mr. Rodgers as an intelligent and competent business man of undoubted qualifications and impeccable private character. Mr. Pickering, his colleague on the ticket is a farmer in Squak valley, a man of fair ability and education, a son of a former Governor of this Territory. Of his private character we know nothing, beyond the fact that he protests warmly against what he calls "tirades" against a class in this city with whom he appears to be a special favorite, and we give him the benefit among his friends of this statement of his position. Both of these candidates have heretofore acted with the Republican party.

The candidates for County Commissioners, the most important position to be filled in the county, are the very best, without exception, which could be selected. They are all old residents, of a high order of business qualifications and unquestioned integrity. We regret that Mr. Stone positively declines the office and hope his place on the ticket may be suitably supplied.

Of Mr. McRedmond, the candidate for Sheriff, we have no personal knowledge, but are informed that he has acceptably performed the offices of Auditor and Sheriff in another county and is well qualified for the place. It is creditable to him that he was nominated against the most strenuous efforts of the friends of Mr. Wyckoff.

C. C. Perkins, the candidate for Auditor, is at present City Recorder and Insurance and Real Estate Agent, and is unquestionably well qualified for the position.

J. T. Kenworthy, the candidate for Assessor is spoken of by all of his neighbors as an honest man, and this is a large advantage over his opponent, who stands convicted of one of the most shameless schemes to rob the taxpayers ever perpetrated.

John Ross, the candidate for County Treasurer, is a working man, a millwright by trade, and no office seeker. He has the reputation of being capable and honest.

D. S. Smith, the candidate for Judge of Probate, holds the office of Court Commissioner by appointment of Judge Jacobs, and has been an acting Justice of the Peace in this city.

The balance of the candidates on the ticket are also on the Republican ticket, with the exception of Dr. G. A. Weed, who requests us to say that he cannot consent to be a candidate, as his election might interfere with professional practices.

The nominations of O. B. McFadden for Delegate and Jacob Hoover for Prosecuting Attorney were unanimously ratified by the Convention.

A MISTAKE.—In our notice of the Reform candidates for the Legislature yesterday, we mistook Mr. Rodgers, the candidate, for another man of the same name. Mr. Rodgers, the candidate, never was a Republican, but is a highly intelligent and enterprising farmer on White River. The typographical error in the same paragraph in which "impeachable" was substituted by the printer for "unimpeachable," is manifest upon its face.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.—We are requested to state that the Reform County Committee have substituted the name of M. R. Maddocks on the ticket for Commissioner, in the place of C. P. Stone, declined. Mr. Maddocks is an active reformer and, if elected, will make a reliable and efficient officer.

A NOTABLE ADVENT.—Mr. Garfield, with his "best man," Gov. Ferry, arrived in this city this morning on a steamer chartered for his use, accompanied by the Olympia brass band, and the ordinary "supes" and claquers of an itinerant "show." Never, perhaps, in the history of political canvass, especially in Washington Territory, did such an elaborate and expensive bid for popular recognition meet with a less enthusiastic response. With all the paraphernalia and appliances to herald a popular leader and conquering hero, the people, aside from the mere politicians and spoils gatherers, see only a pretender and a braggart, who on two previous occasions has lured them by his silvery tongue and flowers of rhetoric to give him their suffrages for the most important office within their gift, from which he brings them no returns of a single measure for their benefit, the entire power with which they had entrusted him having been used for the special personal advantage of himself and a ring of unscrupulous political adventurers. He comes again, for the third time, with music and dramatic display, to divert their attention from the record of his official delinquencies; to again cajole them with plausible excuses and honeyed promises, and to again betray them in their most vital public interests. The band may discourse its most seductive music; the florid orator may charm with his flowers of rhetoric; but the people are manifestly in no humor to be fooled the third time by his false promises, "charm be never so wisely."

He has had ample time to do something for the public benefit. He claims to be in accord with the ruling powers and to command their confidence. He has shown his political influence in the removal and appointment of public officers. His ability and his persuasive powers are conceded. How has he used all these natural and acquired advantages? What has he to show for his stewardship of two terms as the people's delegate in the general Congress? Not one single measure of public utility which would not have been conceded to the Territory had no delegate appeared there in its behalf. The Delegates from Colorado, Idaho and Montana were all elected in opposition to the Administration and much larger appropriations have been made to each of these Territories than to Washington. Mr. Garfield will explain all this in the most plausible manner, but in the people believe and trust him again with the certainty of being again duped and betrayed. There is no present appearance of it in the cool manner in which he is every where received.—Daily of 22d.

THURSDAY COUNTY.—The Democrats and Liberal Republicans held conventions at Olympia on Saturday last, and the following ticket was selected by a joint committee of seven from each, and ratified by both conventions:

Wm. McLane for Joint Councilman and Cyril Ward for Joint Representative, subject to the approval of the conventions of Lewis and Chehalis counties; Representatives—F. Henry and B. F. Yantis.

Sheriff—Wm. Billings.

Auditor—A. A. Phillips.

Treasurer—W. J. Grainger.

Commissioner—Alex. Yantis, James Longmire and Benj. Harned.

School Superintendent—Rev. Thos. E. Dickey.

Probate Judge—J. M. Lowe.

Coroner—J. V. Mossman.

Surveyor—D. S. B. Henry.

The Remedy.

EDITOR DISPATCH.—When last writing you, I said that I meant to show how we who live in Seattle could get rid of those festering sores that are fatally corrupting the very life-blood of our community—those sinks of iniquity that are the disgrace of our society.—They are not only perpetual fountains of corruption and pollution, but even as a matter of pecuniary interest they are a direct injury to the pockets of our citizens, no less than a blot on the fair fame of our growing city. The thousands of dollars that are annually squandered on these dens of vice would be expended in our merchant's stores and among our industrious mechanics, and go to build up happy homes for those who spend as well as for those who would receive the earnings of so many hard-working men, now worse than wasted. Worse than wasted, for it only empties their purse, infects with incurable and hereditary disease their bodies, destroys their reputation, unfits them for business, makes them objects of loathing to themselves and all who know them, and sends many of them to premature graves. The value of the land and lots where these haunts of vice are found, would be doubled and trebled in a few months, were they removed, and in a year's time comfortable homes and fair-looking dwelling houses tenanted by cheerful and virtuous families would begin to adorn that part of our city where these vile pest houses and plague spots now spread broadcast their infamous contagion. Business men and property-holders have a direct interest in promoting this wholesome reform.

But how is this measure of reform to be effected? That is what I wish to show. It is to be done by enforcing the laws that we have on our statute books. A little courage and determination, and the sustaining voice of the better portion of our people are all that is needed. Our grand juries and Sheriff can carry out what the people and laws jointly avow. When they fail to do this, they fail in their solemnly sworn duties—fail in what they take office to do, and give bonds to perform. Let our voters, and our good citizens see that this vital matter be no longer neglected. I have called to my aid those who know something of the laws, and to my great joy as the mother of promising young men, and a lover of the true welfare of all the young men exposed to these temptations, I am glad to learn that there is ample remedy for this monstrous and deadly evil.—What is it?

Turn to the Act of Incorporation of Seattle and we find the following among the powers of the City Council: "To regulate and restrain shows and public amusements, and to suppress bawdy-houses, gaming and gambling-houses; to restrain and punish any unlawful or indecent practice; to prevent and remove nuisances; and to provide for the support, restraint and employment of vagrants and paupers." These words give ample and express authority to our City Council to extirpate, root and branch from our community, this whole mighty crime. Why do they not do it? The mothers of Seattle ask them—why do they neglect this most important part of their official work? They can thereby enforce the laws and work an immense benefit to our people. It is their business first and of once to do this. If they fail, then there are provisions in our criminal laws under the head of "Offenses against morality and decency," which show what the Grand Jury and Prosecuting Attorney, and Sheriff must still do. Primarily, however, the work belongs to our City Councilmen. Let them go to work without delay. How easy to pass an Ordinance that will quietly and effectually remove this vice from among us, and prove a perennial source of health, wealth and untold blessings to individuals, to families and to our whole community, now and forever hereafter. The future growth of our city and its fair fame demand this at their hands. Let there be no delay. Such is the sentiment of every good man and woman among us, and especially is it that of every honest and modest

RAILROAD CONTRACT.—This morning, says the Tribune of the 19th, quite a party of railroad men arrived on the steamer, and took the stage for Kalama. They are returning from a trip from the end of the track over the next forty-mile section. The trip was made by special invitation, with the view of securing bids for the construction of the road. The party consisted of nine persons at first, but three afterwards dropped off. Mr. H. C. Ward located the line, and accompanied the party during the trip. The line of the road extends from Hodgden's to Yelm Prairie, and from there to the vicinity of a claim of a man named Temple, a mile and a half from the Puyallup River, and half-way down the descent to the Valley; leaving Olympia and Nisqually sixteen miles away, and Steilacoom and Tacoma ten or twelve miles distant, and indicating a terminus far down the Sound. Twenty-five miles of the forty are over gravelly plains, requiring little else than putting down the ties and laying the iron. To insure the completion of the work in the time stipulated in the charter, and keep the men present along the road employed, it is intended that eighteen miles shall be built this winter and the remainder next spring and summer. Bids for the work will be received at Portland until next Thursday. From there they will be forwarded to New York, when, after examination by the Boards of Directors, the contract will be awarded. It is expected that the result will be known in time to commence the work on the 10th of November. Messrs. Hallett, Montgomery, Smith, Shannon and two or three others will bid for the contract.

False Statement.

I am informed that the report has been industriously circulated by those who aim to defeat my election as Auditor of King County, that I do not write a readable hand. This is false. I write a perfectly plain and legible hand, so that no one who can read writing at all, can possibly mistake or fail to understand at the first glance what word is meant or what letters are written. Let those who doubt this call on me.

DAILY DISPATCH.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

SEATTLE, THURSDAY OCT. 24, 1872.

Financial and Commercial.

SEATTLE, Oct. 23, 1872.

The Puget Sound Banking Company report gold in New York 113, currency, buying, 88; Sight Exchange on Portland and San Francisco, 1/2 per cent. premium, on New York 1 per cent. premium for Currency, 1 1/2 per cent. premium for Gold. Sterling Sight Drafts on Jay Cooke, McCullough & Co., London, England, $5 10 per £. These drafts are cashed by special agreement all over Ireland, Scotland and the Continent free of charge.

Rates for money during the past week have been firm at two per cent. per month, with a considerable inquiry from real estate owners for time loans on mortgage, which are met very sparingly even at these high rates.

Trade has been very satisfactory this past week; large invoices of goods are received weekly by our merchants. We note the arrivals of the barkentine Grace Roberts and Harrison, and bark Osmyrn, since our last issue, with large freight lists for Sound ports. We are assured by one of our leading merchants that trade in Seattle has more than doubled in the past twelve months.

New stores are continually starting, and all appear to be doing well and are able to meet their obligations promptly. We can say what few other places that do the amount of trade we do, can say that there has not been a mercantile failure this year; that our merchants without exception financially are in a prosperous and healthy condition, and the outlook for the coming twelve months is even more flattering than the last; as Seattle is now the acknowledged trade center of Puget Sound and a rival to name.

We are reliably informed that the contract for building 40 miles more of railroad from Hodgden's north, will be let immediately, which will bring the line some 6 miles this side of the late excitable terminus point, Tacoma, and some 8 miles away from that point, thus virtually settling the point that Seattle, from her natural location, will be the first town on Puget Sound through which the North Pacific Railroad will pass, leaving our highly speculative friends with large blocks of ex-terminus property on hand, which will sound large in the hands of their executors or make good assets for a receiver in Bankruptcy.

BORN.—On the 20th inst., to the wife of H. A. Atkins, Esq., a son.

Mr. L. W. Foss, of the firm of Booth, Foss and Borst, arrived from the Yakima Valley one day last week, with 130 head of fat beef cattle.

Mr. James Howe arrived on last Saturday from Oregon, with 300 mutton sheep for the same firm.

VOCAL MUSIC.—Prof. E. K. Hill will give instruction in vocal music to a class at the University, every Thursday evening. Tuition to the students of the University free; to others $1 50 per term.

PERSONAL.—J. T. Apperson, Grand Master, and Chester N. Terry, Grand Secretary, of the Grand Lodge of L. O. O. F., of Oregon, arrived in this city this morning, on official business.

THE RACES.—We understand there is a fine show of horse-flesh at the racetrack, awaiting the races which commence to-morrow, among which are several horses from Oregon and from other parts of this Territory. We notice in attendance from Oregon the noted stock-raiser, Mr. Montgomery from Linn county, and Mr. Scoggin from Washington county.

Telegraphic

EXCLUSIVELY FOR THE DAILY DISPATCH.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The President met with an accident yesterday which at one time promised serious results. He was driving a pair of colts; one shied violently and broke the pole; both became then unmanageable; the President was obliged to jump from the carriage to hold them; meanwhile they kicked the buggy into wreck.

The President and Mrs. Grant go to New York to-day to welcome Nellie, who is expected in the Scotia to-morrow.

New York, Oct. 21.—A Washington special says it is generally believed that a change in the Indian policy is impending, although it is unknown what the President may recommend in his message. There are outcroppings that offered a clue to the system proposed to be introduced. The new policy, if rightly apprehended, proposes to deal with Indians as men endowed with possession of all virtues as well as virtues native to humanity, and they will be dealt with on same principles as men in civilized community, getting punishment for crimes, protection to industry. The enjoining coaxing policy will be abandoned; tribal relations broken up so far as concerns possession of lands and property; each family having its own farm or shop, and being assisted in gaining support from their own labor. The Indian will be safe on reservation in both person and property, but off it must take his chances. No white intruders will be tolerated on reservations. Though it would not be good policy to isolate Indians from small settlements, about limits Indians will be given good instruction. Military will be on every reservation.

A Gainesville, Florida, letter says, on the 18th, Stark Perry, son of ex-Governor Perry, stabbed fatally John O'Malley, a prominent citizen, in a quarrel, the result of an old feud.

New York, Oct. 21.—It is understood that the new indictment against Tweed covers a new charge, a witness having been found who could swear positively to division money between Ingersoll and Tweed. It is stated that it is difficult for Tweed to obtain bail. The new indictment against Hall covers 78 counts. Ad. interim in Board audit frauds.

PARIS, Oct. 21.—Dispatch says public feeling has been roused to a high pitch of excitement over coming investigation concerning late war with Germany. It is believed it will be developed that the war was the result of rash headlong policy of the Cabinet then in power.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—A letter says among the blows at religious liberty by Bismarckian Government, is an order for bidding processions. In several towns Rhenish provinces where since time immemorial they ranked foremost among favorite customs of the people, the suppression is sure to excite great indignation. Such was the excitement caused in Prussia by expulsion of Jesuits that the Catholic Archbishop of Cologne instituted against them the hatred and contempt of the Government for daring to write a letter on the subject. In Holland some nobles offer shelter to the expelled German Jesuits, but Hague Government prohibited it.

New York, Oct. 18.—A number of cigar manufacture have acceded to the demand of workmen for increase from $4 to $5 per thousand. Several houses suspended operations rather than concede increase.

The friends of Barrows, late proprietor of the Everett House, deny that he has gone to Europe with Ellis Weston and Josie Mansfield, and says he only secretly sailed to prevent arrest by his creditors and make arrangements to meet his obligations.

MADISON, Ind., Oct. 18.—Henry Armstrong, a well-known and wealthy citizen, met with a violent death last night, under circumstances rivalling in mystery the death of Nathan in New York. From evidence given before the Coroner's jury, it appears that Armstrong had not lived amicably with his wife for some time. He came home last night unexpectedly from New Albany, where he had been for two weeks past, and went to his house. He entered, took off his boots and put them in the parlor, and went up to his wife's room, where she says he beat her in every way, and finally dragged her down stairs; reaching the foot of the stairs she screamed for help; he released her and she returned up stairs. Presently she heard a neighbor lying outside of back hall door with a bullet hole in his head just at the corner of his left eye; his forehead was covered with bruises, hands out and torn, showing he had been engaged in a struggle. No powder mark showed around the wounds. There is no reasonable doubt that the case is murder, not suicide. The Coroner's jury have not yet returned a verdict.

PRESTON, Oct. 18.—M. Ellis & Co., iron foundry at South Bend, Mass., was burned last night. Lost estimated at $30,000. Insured for $18,000.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 18.—In the trotting races to-day the race for yearling colts, one mile to harness, was remarkable, showing 9 1/2 seconds faster time than ever before recorded in a similar race. Won by L. Harris' Manabrin Patschen. The race was made in 31 1/2 and 31 1/2.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—In accordance with a notification of the Superintendent of Police, all liquor saloons save three beer places closed doors at midnight on Saturday to Monday morning. Those violating Sunday ordinance will be cited to appear before police court to-morrow. Number of arrests for the day were nine.

TRUSVILLE, Oct. 20.—The decrease in production of petroleum for September is 2,256 barrels.

HAVANA, Oct. 20.—Henderson, an American arrested on suspicion of being in league with insurgents has been released by order of the Captain General.

PARIS, Oct. 20.—Prince Napoleon has appealed to Procureur General of France for redress against Minister of Interior and Prefect of Police and others who took part in his expulsion. The appeal is made in accordance with provisions of the penal code. Should it be rejected or disregarded, the Prince will commence personal proceedings in the Courts against parties concerned, and will avail himself of all legal means to procure the restoration of his rights as citizen of France, and punishment of those who have illegally driven him from his country.

The government is resolved to support in approaching session of Assembly, a motion for the appointment of commission to investigate Olivier and Patikao cabinets, preparatory to impeachment of Imperial ministers on charge of having provoked war with Prussia. This motion was made left during last session, but was voted down, the Government at the time taking no part.

The Syndicate Chamber of Commerce publishes text of Secretary Boutwell's circular directing all goods imported into the United States in French vessels from foreign countries other than France, shall be charged with discriminating duty of 10 per cent. ad valorem. Government is apprehensive that the circular was issued in retaliation for new French law imposing differential duties on foreign bottoms, and will cause a loss to France in the carrying trade of numerous countries exporting goods via Havre.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 20.—Official returns for State officers: Secretary of State, Allen Wyckoff, 14,055 majority; Supreme Court Judge, John Welch, 10,189 majority; Members of Board of Public Works, R. H. Foster, 16,455. The total vote cast for Secretary of State is 520,037. The largest vote ever cast in Ohio for any officer.

The U. S. Marshal this morning boarded steamer Herman, from Bremen, and arrested Ludwig Krep upon a warrant issued upon application of Wm. Bach, Consul of German Empire at New York. He is charged with forgery committed at Bremen. He was sent to jail.

LEXINGTON, Oct. 21.—American fleet sailed to-day for Cadiz. The King and Queen visited the fleet on Saturday and lunched on board the flag-ship. On Sunday Admiral Alden and Captains of squadron dined at the palace.

New York, Oct. 21.—The President received a number of calls at his hotel to-day. President Grant and Senator Wilson visited Republican headquarters to-day.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The President is expected to return here on Wednesday evening. The acting Controller of the currency has authorized the establishment of Desert National Bank at Salt Lake City; Brigham Young President, with capital of $200,000.

Contracts for furnishing clothing, groceries and necessary supplies to various navy yards during financial year ending June, 1873, have been awarded at navy department in California.

General Doyle, Commander-in-chief of Canadian forces, was at the Executive mansion to-day.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—A meeting of business men was called at Chamber of Commerce to-day to consider the question of petitioning the Secretary of the Treasury to reissue $44,000,000 of retired greenbacks, and passed resolution opposed to such action, and endorsed present policy of gradual contraction of currency.

ROCHESTER, Oct. 21.—Horse disease prevails here to an alarming extent. Fully one-half of the horses are affected. Few fatal cases have occurred. The street railroad companies have hundreds of horses sick, and some livery stables have stopped business, every horse being attacked. The horses of O'Brien's circus, which came here from Canada yesterday, are sick.

New York, Oct. 21.—Tweed did not turn up to-day. His whereabouts do not seem to be definitely known.

The wife of Horace Greeley has been lying at the point of death during the past week, and cannot possibly survive more than a few days. Her husband is constantly at her side.

The rumor that an indictment has been found against Ex-Sheriff O'Brien is untrue. Notwithstanding Tweed's non-appearance in court to-day, his friends say he will be present to-morrow.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—A fire occurred at seven o'clock this morning, burning the largest stables of the West Side omnibus company. Fifty horses burned to death. The adjoining building occupied with shops below and dwellings above, was also burned. Total loss estimated at $50,000; insured for $17,000.

OMAHA, Oct. 21.—The prairie fires west of the city for the past two days have destroyed an immense amount of hay, grain and many houses and fences yesterday. Most of the buildings and fences on race track and fair grounds north of the city were burned. The soldiers at the barracks were fighting fire all last night and to-day to save the barracks.

New York, Oct. 15.—A very pleasant banquet was given to Mr. Fronde, the historian. Among those present were Rev. Dr. Bellows, Potter, Belcher, Chapin, Schenck, R. W. Emmerson, G. W. Curtis, Wm. Cullen Bryant, Prof. Woolsey of Yale, Prof. Guyot of Princeton, Park Goodwin, Geo. Childs and Robert Hoe, who made short addresses. Mr. Curtis presided. Mr. Fronde explained the object of his visit was to contribute to the formation of public opinion in this country regarding the present relations of England with Ireland.

New York, Oct. 16.—At the banquet given to James Anthony Fronde, the great English historian, last evening the distinguished guest made a short speech in which after alluring pleasantly to friendly reception he met, and returning thanks for the honor done him, he spoke of the natural friendship which exists between England and America. He said I insist that England and America do not stand to one another as foreign nations, foreign in the sense that France and Russia is to the United States. Both politically separate we may be, but we cannot shake off our relationship, sprung from a common history, common language, common laws, charged as we both are by Providence with carrying out that grand principle of liberty on which as we believe, the amelioration of mankind depends. We may be rivals, but rivals only as to which of us shall represent these principles most wisely and most effectively. We may quarrel; when we quarrel it will be with peculiar bitterness which distinguishes family disputes, but the very acrimony is itself an evidence of the closeness which binds us, for the sting rises from the supposed absence of special good which each of us conceive we have the right to look for from the other.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The assault on the colored cadet at the Naval Academy is to be followed by a summary expulsion of all concerned therein. The President is inflexible in his purpose to this end.

New York, Oct. 15.—The steamer Providence of Fall River line, bound out, while lying to avoid collision with a schooner, ran into a Government schooner at Hell Gate last evening. The scow was smashed to pieces, all the upper works of the steamer carried away, she became unmanageable and drifted upon the rocks. The greatest excitement prevailed among her 600 passengers, but fortunately, nobody was injured. The Stonington came alongside and took off the greater number and a few returned to the city in tugs and small boats. The Providence was got off at a late hour.

New York, Oct. 16.—At the session of the National Board of Trade to-day memorials were presented on the subject of return to specie payments; on uniform international rates of postage; on transportation of products from United States to seaboard. New York, Oct. 16.—Mail advices from Alsace and Loraine represent that the exodus will almost wholly depopulate those countries. Large numbers left taking with them only part of what belonged to them, and a still larger number left hearths and homes with their clothes lying on the end of a stick, the wife conveying the youngest children with the rest trudging behind. In Metz it is said that only seventeen remain, all unfit for service. At Otzerman an Alsace town of 6,000 inhabitants, only 31 qualified for service are left. It is alleged that 18,000 people have left Metz during the last fortnight, reducing the population of the town to 10,000, exclusive of 25,000 German troops who keep watch and ward over them. In Havre the number who choose the French nationality reaches 14,000. These facts evidently make an impression on Germans.

The deliberations of the judges were secret simply because they did not want to have their discussions which were in their nature similar to those of any judicial tribunal, broken into by anybody.

A Washington special says it is reported that Attorney General Williams intends to retire from the Cabinet after election; that he will be succeeded by General Briscoe of Kentucky, the present Solicitor General. The American Minister is charged with the border difficulty and empowered to promote a special convention to adjudicate upon disputed matters.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A VIOLIN AND A FIDDLE.—Half a century ago, or less, the somewhat facetious Dr. Pond dwelt in the quiet and out-of-the-way village of A—. The Doctor's ideas were liberal—much more so than many of his congregation; nevertheless he kept on the even tenor of his people. He had a son named Enoch, who at an early age manifested a remarkable talent for music which the father cherished and cultivated with care. In the same village resided an antiquated maiden lady, who, having no cares of her own to occupy her time and attention, magnanimously devoted herself to those of her neighbors. One morning she called at the doctor's and requested to see him. When he entered the room where she was seated he perceived at a glance that something was amiss, and before he had time to extend her the usual "How'd'ye do?" she asked: "I think, Dr. Pond, that a man of your age and profession might have had something better to do, when you were in New-London last week, than to buy Enoch a fiddle; all the people are ashamed that our minister should buy his son a fiddle! Oh, dear, what is the world a coming to, when ministers will do such things!"

"Who told you I had a fiddle?" inquired the Doctor.

"Who told me? Why, every body says so, and some people heard him play on it as they passed the door. But ain't it true, Doctor?"

"I bought Enoch a violin when I went to New-London."

"A violin? what's that?"

"Did you never see one?"

"Never."

"Enoch?" said the Doctor, stepping to the door, "bring your violin here."
