Local News.

From the Daily of Tuesday.

ESCAPED.—All the prisoners confined in the Kitsap county jail at Port Madison—six in number—escaped last Saturday night or Sunday morning. None of them were confined for any serious offense, and the tax-payers rejoice. But the jail is a miserable affair and any stout fellow only needs a pair of pot-metal boots to kick his way out in a few minutes. The prisoners were one Chinaman, name unknown; McLane, charged with robbery on board the North Pacific at Port Gamble; Finnegan and his partner, the garroter from Port Gamble; and the two sailor prisoners charged with assault upon the mate of the ship Eldorado. Sheriff Williams offers $50 reward for the arrest of each of the sailors and $25 for each of the others. They cut a hole 11x14 in the floor and got out that way. There were no fat men in the party.

STEAMBOAT ITEMS.—Our wharves contained no less than thirteen steamboats in active commission, besides the Alida and Minnie May which were laid up. The North Pacific for Victoria got away at 5 A. M. yesterday with some twenty head of beef cattle, one hundred head of hogs from new Tacoma, and about one hundred tons of miscellaneous freight. The Libby, which came in loaded down with Swinomish produce on Saturday night, got off again yesterday for Bellingham Bay with eighteen or twenty head of live stock and a large assorted freight.

THE DAKOTA.—This steamer left San Francisco on Friday last and may be looked for some time tomorrow morning. Following is her list of passengers for the Sound ports: M A. Kelly, M S Norton, C E Adams, wife and child, C W Adams, Florence M Adams, Morris E Adams, Mrs J Brittan, F Floten, Miss A Bacon, Mrs S C Peck, W Bennett, A W Jennings and wife, Mrs Tuttle and infant, Charles Taggart and wife, Mrs M Drew and two children, S L Maxwell, and 59 in the steerage.

QUARANTINE.—We have been informed that a case of small-pox broke out on the Grace Roberts on her upward trip and that Dr. Minor quarantined her for it at Port Townsend. But we were unable to trace the story to any reliable source.

PERSONALS.—The name of S. L. Maxwell, former publisher of the Intelligencer, appears in the Dakota's passenger list. Mrs. J. Livingstone and her daughter Josephine, left for Victoria on Sunday night, intending to spend a few weeks at Burrard Inlet. Billy Ballou goes down the Sound in a day or so, and will receive subscriptions for this paper. Tom Whiting, of Olympia, is in town, for the purpose of paying Jim Pray's taxes on the water front lying between Yesler's and the lower foundry.

THE ZEPHYR.—This steamer leaves for Stellacoom and Olympia to-day. She has four thousand feet of lumber for the insane donkey and an Asylum engine for Hanson & Ackerson. No—that's not right; either. We mean that she has an insane engine for Tacoma and an Ass-ylum donkey for Stellacoom. If the readers of this paper can't make out what we mean by this item, they must lay it all to Joggles, who is standing at our elbow and want's to know who's elected President.

MARINE.—Schooner Reporter was towed over to Freeport Sunday morning, for a deck load of lumber. Ships Eldorado and Commodore are the only seagoing vessels in port and they are the two largest vessels regularly employed in our trade, their added capacity being about 3,200 tons. On the way up, for the same description of cargo, are the barks Harvest Home, Marmion, Osmyn, Aureola and Enoch Talbot, of which the Aureola should be the first to arrive.

INCOMPLETE.—The Tribune says the list of steamboat masters given by us in Sunday's issue is incomplete. It was copied not from the license book, but the index to licenses, of the Inspectors. The names mentioned in the Tribune, to-wit, Captains John S. Hill, of the Fanny Lake, John Libby, of the Polikofsky, Wm. Grove, of the Cyrus Walker, W. B. Seymore, of the S. L. Mastick, &c., are not indexed into the book from which we compiled the list.

IVY CLUB.—Meet at Snow and Thorne's office Saturday evening at 7 1/2 o'clock. Don't forget.

BIG RAFT.—Several weeks ago, we mentioned that Amos Brown, of Olympia, had got out the biggest raft of logs ever cut in in Washington Territory. It was towed down from Mud Bay to Port Madison, a distance of about as good towing as was ever done on Puget Sound. The raft contained 1,750,000 feet.

HERRING.—A hundred boxes of smoked herring, from the Port Madison fishery of Hammond & Emery, were brought over to this city on the Ruby yesterday. The fish put up by them are far superior to those brought from the East, and enable many a brewer to get rich.

OMISSION.—The name of W. R. Andrews failed to appear in the list of attorneys in the Gellerson suit. We were not present while the case being argued, and did not know that Mr. Andrews had ever been one of counsel in the case.

DIVORCE SUIT.—The wife of Capt. Irving M. Guindon (formerly of the Polikofsky) recently obtained a divorce from him on the ground of ill-treatment and intemperance.

LEGAL.—Judge Lewis and Prosecuting Attorney McConaha went down to Snohomish City yesterday to attend Court, which opens to-day.

READ JAMISON.—He has just received holiday goods for the million.

THE WOLCOTT.—On Collector Webster's return from Portland yesterday, he was met at Tacoma by the revenue cutter Wolcott and taken home to Port Townsend on her.

ARCADE.—Read Boyd, Poncin & Young's new advertisement. They receive novelties in dress goods by every steamer.

OUTWARD BOUND.—Ship El Dorado has completed her load of coal for the Seattle Co., and will go to sea to-day.

SURPRISE PARTY.—It being the birth day of our friend M. R. Maddocks, Esq., on Monday night, a party of ladies and gentlemen gave them a surprise in the shape of a ghost party. Mrs. J. S. Hill and Mrs. Gatzert, were among the chief originators of the affair which went off delightfully. There was dancing and every other sort of fun, winding up with a supper fit for Lucullus himself, after which dancing was kept up till 2, when the party broke up with expressions of congratulations for their affable host and hostess, wishing them many pleasant returns of the day. We were busy as usual and couldn't get away; if we had been there, we should have given three cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Maddocks and three more for their great ancestor—old Matthew Maddocks—who invented arithmetic and algebra. So we should.

STEAMBOAT ITEMS.—The Eliza Anderson arrived from Victoria on Monday night, after our forms had gone to press. She went up to Olympia for a load of cattle and will leave for Victoria this morning at 5 o'clock. The Tacoma came down from Tacoma yesterday and goes down Sound for a tow at daylight. Propeller Teaser left Semiahmoo on Sunday night and reached here early on Tuesday. She brings no news of importance. Steamers Nellie and Fanny Lake arrived from Snohomish last night. Would it not be well if these boats would run upon alternate days and give the Snohomish people the advantage of daily communication with Seattle? The Annie Stewart did not get in till after midnight, in consequence of having come from Olympia.

CARICATURE.—A laughable cartoon on the Presidential game, is to be seen in Jamieson's jewelry window. It represents Hayes and Tilden playing poker and they have shown down their hands on the Polaris—Florida, South Carolina, and Louisiana. The bayonet sticks out of Hayes' pocket and the bowie-knife out of Tilden's, but Uncle Sammy has an ace over which he is winking, as much as to say "Had 'em there!" It was designed by W. S. Jamieson and drawn by Mart McClaine.

CIVILIZATION.—Keenan, our home sculptor, whose shop is on Crawford & Harrington's wharf, has cut a tombstone bearing the inscription, "Thomas Stolyer, ex-Chief Puyallup Tribe, died Oct. 24, 1876, aged 50 years. He rests in peace." This is by no means a novelty among Indians about the missions. A large wooden grave inscribed "Sacred to the memory of Legs, a Makah Indian," can be seen at Neah Bay.

CONTRACTS LET.—The first two contracts on the proposed Puyallup Valley Railroad have been let, for work just out of Tacoma. Messrs. Meeker & Mann have the contract for the work and will employ the Indians on the reservation through which it passes for some four miles. It will be the first railroad in America ever built with Siwash labor.

NOT WORTH IT.—The Intelligencer devoted half a column yesterday to a notice of a confidence man who beat G. P. Boyce, of Duval Precinct, out of a black horse. We should suppose the columns of the leading daily were more valuable, as all that the notice contained, could have been said in thirteen lines.

THE MAILS.—Too great care cannot be taken by Brother Prosch's deputies in handling the mails that come from Victoria. A man day before yesterday, got a letter from his sister in that city, saying she had the small-pox. He read the letter through and then broke out with the varioloid.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—The Board are still at work on county matters and as Auditor Booth is busy entering up their orders, he has deputized Mr. Raisin with the recording work in the office. Raisin is a good penman and a very accurate copyist.

MOORE HUNT & Co.—The popularity of this whisky is well evinced by the fact that Bill Clancey won't have anything else in his bar. The Centennial Hall man is in the same fix and sells it in all quantities. Read their card. Mr. Bookingham, their agent, has been in town for several days and made many large sales.

FROM CASSIAR.—Charles B. Pond, formerly a conductor on the Oregon railroads, passed through here last night, on his way to Portland. Charles looks well and has a few ducats in his flank. He says that the Ruth Brothers have brought down 100 pounds weight of gold, equal to about $20,000. Most of the miners declare their intention of going next time to Black Hills.

SOLD OUT.—Capt. Ned Randall has sold out his cigar and fruit store next door to Mat Keith's. We should like to see him get a boat on the Sound. With the exception of Capt. Olney, perhaps, there's not a man on the Sound can handle a stern-wheeler with him.

VICTORIA SHIP NEWS.—Bark Hilarion has been towed around to Esquimalt with the machinery for the new graving dock. Bark Lady Head has cleared for London with a cargo of furs, fish and other colonial truck, amounting to some 650 tons.

GRATUITOUS PAPERS.—We send an average of sixty copies to the Eastern States, every week, to let people see what sort of a country we inhabit. On these we pay the postage in advance, but it will all come back to us with interest eventually.

NEWS.—The Tribune of the 14th mentions that the steamer St. Paul had sailed for Alaska, after coaling at Nanaimo. An item to this effect appeared in this paper on the 5th of the present month. Can we not have grace when we furnish the meat?

JUDGE JACOBS.—This gentleman will sail for Washington next Saturday on the Dakota. He has gone to place his sons at school in Oregon, for want of suitable educational institutions in this Territory.

EPISCOPAL.—Rev. B. W. Morris, Bishop of Oregon, will hold Episcopal services here next Friday evening. He is a polished speaker and will doubtless be received by a large audience.

BELOW.—Barks Aureola and another (name not known) are at Port Townsend, waiting a tow. The tug Tacoma will probably bring up one or the other—perhaps both of them.

OYSTERS.—"Mein friend" Knutson of the Saddle Rock will supply families with oysters at 50 cents per hundred. That is cheaper than bull beef at a dollar per ton.

ABOUT THE SOUND.

A deer was driven into an Olympia slaughter house by dogs, last week.

The Big Sea Wolf has been chartered to load with lumber on Puget Sound for Australia.

Six head of fine sheep were killed by a bear at Chambers' prairie, near Olympia, last week.

There are three vessels now loading at Freeport, namely: the brig Tanner, the barkentine Ella and the fast schooner Reporter.

Robt. Hall reports to have seen on Woodard's Bay, a branch of South Bay, a few days ago, a wild creature, having the appearance of a human being.

Large numbers of wild geese have been feeding on the prairies near Olympia and on Nisqually plains in Pierce county for a fortnight past.

Barkentine R. K. Hau is loading at Port Blakely, and will be followed by the Martha Rideout, which is the next vessel due there from San Francisco.

George Hatzeman's little girl, Louise 7 years old, while running to school on Monday in Swantown, fell on the side walk and broke both bones of her right arm just above the wrist.

A man named McAtee was discharged from the Insane Asylum, on last Wednesday, and returned to his home in Olympia. On Thursday he was found to be again unfit to be at large, and he was ordered again to the asylum.

The load of cinabar that was taken from the Beaver creek mines to the resort of the Nonpareil Quicksilver Manufacturing Company, near Oakland, Douglas county, yielded about 55 per cent. of quicksilver. About 2,600 pounds of ore were taken there, from which they got 1,400 pounds of quicksilver.

A correspondent of the Transcript writes that the schooner Louise Morrison came in the harbor, mistaking Gray's Harbor for Shoalwater bay. She beat in on the flood of the tide found her mistake and went out against the tide.

In Spencer precinct, Lane county, A. L. Humphrey, who is past 80 years of age, voted for Hayes and Wheeler and Williams; and Ed. Neely, Sr., who voted for Henry Clay in 1824, and Jackson in 1828, voted for Tilden, Hendricks and Lane. Enos Ellmaker comes next, who voted first for Jackson in 1828, and now voted for Hayes, Wheeler and Williams.

YE LAND OF WEBFOOT.

The clerk of the Board and Canal Lock Commissioners is to receive a salary of $1,500 per annum.

Dr. Watts was 46 years old last Tuesday and was elected one of the Presidential Electors. Who else was elected on their natal day?

W. C. Meyer of Ashland has a black walnut tree on his farm, now bearing, that has grown from a nut he brought from Kansas five years ago.

Frank Head, a young tinsmith formerly employed in Olympia was arrested in Yamhill county, for larceny of a suit of clothes from the Emmet House.

Jerry Crowley, known here for several years as an impetuous old man of all work, was found dead in his bed in the old building near Ferrell's mill near Astoria, last week.

Coming down Willamette river, recently the steamboat Occident ran against a snag and knocked a hole in her hull. The Orient has taken her place till she can be repaired.

The trial of McEmeric for shooting a man by the name of Gordon, who lived on the Walla Walla river in Umatilla county, Oregon, took place at Pendleton and resulted in his acquittal.

Plowing has commenced in earnest among Jackson county farmers, as the recent rains have put the ground in good condition, and they are now endeavoring to get in their crops while the good weather lasts.

The Yamhill Courier says: From what we can learn there will be more grain sown this fall than ever before. If the present weather continues it is all that can be asked, may the farmers reap a bountiful harvest next season.

Citizens of Hood river have organized a company called the Water Supply Company of Hood river valley, for the purpose of bringing Hood river out on the valley for irrigation. Capital stock $3,000, 150 shares, $20 each. The shares are nearly all taken.

ACROSS THE MOUNTAINS.

General Grover, a brother of the Senator-elect from Oregon, is now in command of Fort Walla Walla.

"Blue Mountain Boy" a Belfounder colt won the $250 purse at Walla Walla last week. His best time was 2:42 1/2.

Frank Orselli has manufactured over two thousand gallons of grape wine this fall. Those who are judges say that it is a good article. Being unable to get any more barrels that were fit for wine, he was compelled to stop manufacturing.

Wheat is now selling at 50 cents per bushel in Walla Walla. Those who held their wheat can of course get a better price than parties who sold early in the fall, yet many will not be winners, for the reason that they have allowed their wheat to get damaged and will have to hold over until next spring.

Gen. O. O. Howard arrived at Walla Walla on the 5th, accompanied by Gen. Clinton B. Fisk, A. C. Barstow, Wm. Stickney, Col. H. Clay Wood and D. H. Jerome, members of the Board of Indian Commission who are to go out and try to adjust the difficulties between Capt. Joseph (non-treaty Nez Perce Indian) and the Government.

Philip Ritz's patent tree digger is described as a very simple machine consisting merely of a plate of steel bent in two right angle triangles, or to explain more fully, it is in the shape of the two sides and one end of a box, with two plow beams fastened to each side of the box. It is drawn by four horses and cuts about 16 inches deep and 16 inches wide. It leaves the trees standing the same as if they had never been touched, but they can easily be pulled up by hand and the roots are perfectly even.

The Watchman reporter has visited the nursery of Philip Ritz of that place and says: He keeps all of the leading varieties of trees, grapes, shrubbery, vines, &c. Among the varieties of grapes we noticed what is known to the commercial world as the "White Muscat" of Alexandria. This is the grape from which our common raisins are made. The process is very simple and is as follows: The grapes are dipped into boiling hot lye and is then hung up and thoroughly dried. He also has a large quantity of the "Black Hamburg" grape. These are a very fine table grape. Ritz is also engaged in the onion seed business. He planted this season 13,000 pounds of onions, from which he expects to raise 2,000 pounds of onion seed. This he sells to the Agricultural Department at Washington for the sum of $2 per pound, currency.

WIT AND HUMOR.

They have a happy way of obtaining a suspension of judgment in Colorado—by hanging the Judge.

Advice to those who accept drafts upon bankers from the reckless and impetuous—"Don't count your checks until they are cashed."

Schuyler Colfax said in his recent speech at South Bend. "The hard times are about over." He has made another "raise?"

Curate: "And I'm afraid you've taken more beer to-night than is good for you, Giles." Inebriate: "Surely, sir, I dare say I could 'carried it home' easier in a jar!"

"Yesterday being a pleasant Sunday," says the Norwich Bulletin, "most of the boys who tended Sunday school brought home a good many chestnuts which a kind man had given them."

It is remarked as a little singular by a student of biblical paintings that all the patriarchs are represented as being bald. It should be remembered, however, that most of them married young.

A sagacious countryman, having been asked by a stupid minister why he roamed about the fields on Sundays instead of going to church, replied, "because I prefer sermons from stens to sermons from sticks."

Don't gesticulate too vigorously. A colored preacher in Texas who used his arms more vigorously than wisely, knocked over a kerosene lamp, from which the audience came near being burned up.

"I'd thank you for another piece of that mince pie," said Dobbins to his landlady. "Owing to the peculiar arrangement of the programme, no piece can be repeated at this entertainment," calmly replied the landlady.

A farmer, the other day, if the story be true, wrote to a New York merchant asking how the farmer's son was getting along, and how he slept nights. The merchant replied: "He sleeps in the store in the day-time. I don't know where he sleeps nights."

The situation in Rhode Island is getting more embarrassing every day. One can't move aside a few feet to avoid mingling in a crowd at a dog fight without having somebody in Massachusetts or Connecticut yell at him to keep up his own State.

Small girl—"Plaze, Mistor Donnovan, what o'clock is it?" Horologer—"Half past wan." (Exit small girl.) (An interval of one minute. Re-enter small girl—"Plaze Mistor Donnovan, what o'clock is it?" Horologer—"Sure am't I after tellin' ye?" Small girl—"Och but tis another woman told me to ax ye this time."

"I don't see how you can have been working all day like a horse," exclaimed the wife of a lawyer, her husband declaring that he had been thus working. "Well, my dear," he replied, "I've been drawing a conveyance all day anyhow."

A clergyman recently announced from his pulpit a beneficiary visit of the ladies of his congregation to an orphan asylum. He unfortunately ended the announcement with an apostrophe, thus: "The ladies will take with them their own refreshments, so as not to eat up the orphans."

A maiden lady said to her little nephew: "Now Johnny, you go to bed early and always do so, and you'll be rosy cheeked and handsome when you grow up." Johnny thought over this for a few moments, and then observed: "Well, auntie you must have sat up a good deal when you were young."

A good story is told of Spurgeon. His habit is to shut himself up on Saturdays. One day a man called and insisted on seeing him. "Tell him," said the visitor to the servant, "that a servant of the Lord wishes to see him." The message was delivered and the following returned: "Tell him I am engaged with his Master."

In a speech at Lawrence, Mass., recently, Ben Butler compared the colors of the American flag to "the heavenly blue of the seraph's eye, to the crimson red of the sunset dyes, and the glittering white of the angel's wings." Some of Ben's acquaintances think he never has seen, and never will see, two of the colors named.

They had company to tea. The table was set out splendidly. The biscuit were as white and light and flaky as snow, and the cake was just lovely. The company was delighted with everything, and were enjoying themselves hugely, when the infant of the household unfortunately whispered, "Ma, why don't you have such a tea when there ain't company?"

The fashionable season at the watering-places is over, and now when a couple of ladies, who lived in the rear of their dwellings all Summer, meet on the street, they greet each other with, "Why, how tanned you are? When did you get back?" And they are just as happy, apparently, as if they had squandered a thousand dollars at Long Branch, and had not stained their faces with a certain preparation "with intent to deceive."

Ministers will have their little jokes like other people. "Come over and preach for me to-night," said a Chicago divine to a clerical friend who he met on the street, not many days since. "I can't to-night," was the reply, "I am almost down sick 'with a headache." "Well," drolly observed the other, "I guess you can do it, for if you preach as you usually do, you wont have to use your head any!"

Telegraphic News.

(FROM THE DAILY OREGONIAN.)

EASTERN STATES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—There is a general understanding, without official agreement, that the city savings banks will reduce the rate of interest on deposits to 4 per cent. on the 1st of January next.

GOLD CLOSED TO-DAY AT 9 3/4.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The Postmaster General to-day received the resignations of John W. Watts, Postmaster at Lafayette, Oregon, and H. M. Sellace, Postmaster at Bridgeport, Vermont, both of whom were chosen as Presidential electors. Their resignations were accepted.

VIRGINIA CITY, (Nev.) Nov. 14.—A party of gentlemen, consisting of Lorenzo Sawyer, U. S. Circuit Judge, R. S. Messick, attorney for the Comstock Mining Co., Williams, attorney for the Sutro Tunnel Co., and Adolph Sutro, had a narrow escape from death on Sunday noon, while inspecting shaft No. 2 at the Sutro tunnel. They had no sooner left the shaft building than the fly-wheel of the hoisting engine, weighing four tons, burst, making a report like that of artillery, and, by centrifugal force, sending fragments weighing from one hundred to one thousand pounds in every direction and through the roof, some of them landing on a hill to the westward, six hundred feet distant. The damage is rapidly being repaired, and work in the tunnel leader was only delayed one day.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 14.—A serious riot occurred to-day between the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Co.'s mechanics, on a strike, and some of their number who recently went to work. The riot occurred in the vicinity of the shops as the men were quitting work. Bars of iron, stones and other missiles were used.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 14.—The Alabama Legislature met to-day, nearly every member being present, and a temporary organization was effected. The Democratic caucus has nominated W. S. Cobb for President of the Senate and N. E. Clements for Speaker of the House. The Governor will send in his message to-morrow.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 14.—From the best information obtainable, 1,800 bales of cotton were burned and some 2,500 bales were damaged by the late fire. Thirty-eight cars were destroyed, also 20 barrels of whisky, a large quantity of bacon, lumber, fertilizers, cotton ties, etc. Railroad officials cannot give the precise figures. Most of the cotton burned was through cotton.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Two brothers named Nugent and McDifee, were killed to-day by the falling of the roof at Bell's Cove copper mine.

MONTPELIER, (Vt.) Nov. 13.—The disqualification of Henry Sellace, one of the Republican electors, who is postmaster at Bridgeport, will make no difference in the electoral vote of the State, as by a State law the Legislature can fill the vacancy.

CHICAGO, Nov. 15.—A Times Washington special says: The Democrats in a quiet way are very jubilant over their prospects. Nothing can prevent Tilden's success now. Senator Thurman telegraphs here to-day that he had heard that one of the Republican electors in Oregon is a postmaster, and asked that an examination of the records in the departments be made. This request was complied with when it was discovered that John W. Watts, the elector mentioned, is still a postmaster at Lafayette. This, with the Vermont elector, who is also postmaster, leaves out two votes for Hayes that cannot be filled. It is claimed by Republicans here that the ineligibility of these men merely constitutes a vacancy that can be filled by the other electors. It is held by good legal minds that where a man is ineligible as an elector prior to election, the office represented by his name has never been occupied; consequently there is no vacancy.

There is a line of tactics opening up that will be a case of the Republicans having to submit to their own medicine. The Governor of California has telegraphed here that he does not intend to certify to the present returns of his State, as he has discovered such enormous frauds as to negative all of the Republican majority now claimed. He has made the discovery that two thousand five hundred Democratic votes were taken bodily out of the ballot-boxes. It is claimed that Oregon is now held back to see what the administration has to do in the South. The State organization is Democratic and it may be possible that if the Republicans begin the game of counting in they may be matched. This is one of the current suggestions by men who don't talk upon the street corners, but are especially well informed of all movements made upon the great political chess board. There is not a single Democratic leader here that does not reel with horror any idea that Oregon could be held back for any such purpose, but all think that if the game of fraud is to be played the opposition will not see itself beaten when it is sure of its hand, and, upon the principle that all is fair in war, they will charge boldly ahead to assume the reins of government. The Democratic leaders are all on guard, and noting carefully every movement of the enemy. They claim that they are capable of meeting every move of the Republicans. The latter are now hipped, and even if they should be successful in counting in South Carolina, Louisiana and Florida, they will still have between them and the White House the impassable mountain barriers of the missing electoral votes in Oregon and Vermont, with California rejected on account of frauds.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 15.—The department of admissions of the Centennial exhibition has just finished the count of visitors to the grounds on Friday last, the closing day, and this completes the official record of admissions during the six months extending from May 10 to Nov. 10. The exhibition was open 159 days. During that time the paid admissions were 8,004,335. The free admissions were 1,785,067. Total admissions, 9,789,402. The total receipts were $3,813,794 75. The average daily total admissions were 61,598. The average daily receipts $23,936 85.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14.—The following explains itself:

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14, 1876.
To Hon. Stanley Matthews, Jas. Garfield, John A. Logan, Wm. D. Kelley, John J. Kasson, J. C. Ditty, John H. Shonberg, Wm. M. Everts, E. W. Stoughton, John A. Dix and others: The undersigned arrived here yesterday. They come in answer to a telegram from Hon. A. Stewart, chairman of the Democratic committee, dated New Orleans, November 10th, as follows: "The citizens of New Orleans urgently request a delegation of prominent gentlemen to come here at once in the interest of peace and fair and honest returns. You are earnestly requested to be one of ten or fifteen gentlemen, all widely known, to meet at Louisville at the Gault House Saturday evening, proceeding directly south, or if more convenient, meeting at the St. Charles Hotel, New Orleans, Monday morning. Your prompt acceptance by telegraph is requested. This emergency appeals to your patriotism." The undersigned are informed you have come here by the request of the United States to see that the board of canvassers make a fair count of the vote actually cast. While in the late canvass you gave your support to Hayes and Wheeler, as candidates for President and Vice President, and the undersigned gave their support to Tilden and Hendricks for these offices, they feel assured that all good citizens of all parties regard an honest count and true returns of the vote actually cast of greater moment than the success of any candidate for office, and are ready to do all that honorable men should do to secure such return of the vote cast at the late election in Louisiana, which assumes more than before, a national importance, and upon which in this crisis may depend the very existence of constitutional government. The undersigned, therefore, in view of the unhappy controversies which have heretofore arisen from the action of returning boards of the State where its action could not in any event change the result of a presidential election, and in view of the desire of all good men that effect should be given to the will of the majority as lawfully expressed, respectfully ask you, or such of you as are present, to meet and confer with them personally or through committees as may be deemed most wise, that such influence as we possess may be exerted in behalf of such a canvass of the vote actually cast, as by its fairness and impartiality shall command respect and the acquiescence of the American people and of all parties. Yours respectfully, (signed) Lyman Trumbull, Wm. R. Morrison, Illinois; Sam. J. Randall, A. J. Curtin, Wm. Bigler, Pennsylvania; J. E. McDonald, Indiana; J. R. Doolittle, George B. Smith, Wisconsin; Geo. W. Julian, M. D. Mason, John Love, Indiana; Q. Y. Watterson, J. W. Stevenson, H. D. McHenry, Kentucky; Oswald Otterdoff, New York; J. B. Stalls, Ohio; Lewis V. Bogy, Jas. A. Broadhead, C. Gibson, Missouri; John Lee Carroll, Wm. F. Hamilton, M. D. Sumner, Connecticut.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—A Times special correspondent in New Orleans says there was intense excitement manifested by everybody along the route down to New Orleans, and there they ask a speedy and fair settlement, saying if it is decided either way they will submit.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The Times New Orleans special says: Everything in the city is quiet. Nothing in the way of incoming election returns to change the estimates made, which show many Republican majorities in the State.

The Herald's New Orleans special says State Senators Kelly and Sherman and Messrs. Stoughton, Hale and Kasson arrived last night. It has now been finally decided by the Democratic visitors to entrust their case to Trumbull, Palmer and Potter, who will remain here to watch the conduct of the count. All the others now here in that interest will probably return in the course of a few days. The policy to be followed subsequently will be a matter of further consideration, which the national committee will probably dictate. That Louisiana will be counted for Hayes by the board is now the universally accepted belief.

A communication addressed yesterday by the visiting Democrats to Republican gentlemen has not yet been replied to. In that communication, signed by John M. Palmer, Lyman Trumbull and others, the Democrats intimated that the count of actual votes cast will satisfy the country at large, and a conference was invited with a view of securing such canvass. Governor Carroll is in favor of such a count as they had in Maryland. The reply will undoubtedly be made to-morrow. It is understood the Republican reply addressed to Judge Stanley, Matthews and others will not entertain such a proposition, or recommend it as practicable, deeming it necessary that the election laws of Louisiana must be fully complied with, and that outside parties can have no voice in the matter.

Kellogg had a long interview with the Democrats to-day. He came before them merely to explain the laws of the State.

Curtin takes a gloomy view of the situation. He has written home to Pennsylvania that in view of the laws governing the returning officers of Louisiana, he knows of no power able to secure this State for Tilden.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 8.—The most dastardly attempt was made last night to steal the bones of President Lincoln from the cemetery vault here. The plot was suspected some time since, and Elmer Washburn, United States Detective Tyrrell and assistants, watched the vault last night. The scoundrels broke in the outer and inner doors of the vault, opened the several cases of the sarcophagus, and were about to make off with the remains when the detectives sprang out. The accidental discharge of a pistol alarmed the robbers, and they fled precipitately, keeping in the darkness. A slight clue remains, and their capture is probable.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—All is quiet here on the surface, but the citizens are apprehensive of danger from the negroes, who are intensely excited over the result of the county and State elections. Rumors of all kinds fill the air and it requires but a spark to start a conflagration.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—Ex-Gov. Carroll, of Maryland, to-day received a dispatch from Florida, that the Republicans concede the State to the Democratic Electors by 1,200 majority.

Ex-Gov. J. M. Adson Welles, Gen. Thomas C. Anderson, G. Casarue and Lewis M. Kenner, to-day took the oath of office and filed the necessary papers with the Secretary of State, and went into executive session in a room assigned them in the State House. Nothing has transpired regarding their proceedings. Gov. Kellogg stated this afternoon that a vacancy in the board had not yet been filled. The board adjourned to meet Saturday noon. Gov. Wells, in answer to inquiry whether or not reporters and spectators would be admitted, said that it was the wish and he evidently expressed the sentiments of all the members that the board should meet with closed doors during the canvassing and compiling of the returns, except when information was wanted concerning a particular poll or matter connected with election or when some point was to be argued before the board. He said that neither the Governor nor any other State officer, if his wish was regarded, should have free access to the room during the session of the board. If the board wanted legal advice he said they would call on the attorney general, but at no other time would that be admitted. Both Mr. Wells and Mr. Anderson said that the board was an entirely independent body and would not be controlled in its action in any way either by the executive or by other parties.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 16.—Full official returns show that in 21 of the 32 counties in this State the majority for Hayes is 1,039 more than the majority for Chamberlain.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 16.—It has been discovered that on some of the Democratic ballots cast in the State, the name of Charles R. Ingersoll, one of the electors, was printed "Ingersell." In one town nearly all the ballots cast were of this description. How extensive they were used is not known. Canvassers would most likely count these votes for the regular nominee, but the case seems similar to one reported from South Carolina.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

LONDON, Nov.—The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day was £390,000.

The British ship Agnes Oswato, Captain Mitchell, from Glasgow, June 9th for San Francisco, before reported spoken Aug. 14th, in lat. 4.45 lon. 61 W., is believed to be lost. Sixty per cent. of her insurance has been paid here by Lloyds.

By the wreck of the ships Oro-mocto and Caroline Agnes nine persons were drowned, and two lives were lost by the burning of the Circo theater at Madrid.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Soldiers on furlough in Ireland have been ordered to join their regiments.

There is every probability the Porte will consent to a conference.

A Berlin dispatch reports that the entire Polish contingent Russian army has been sent out of the Polish provinces for service in the field. Russian garrisons remain in Warsaw.

European advices toward the close of business on change to-day were considered more warlike, special importance being attached to the dispatch that the Earl of Beaconsfield was suddenly telegraphed for, and left stafford by next train for London.

The Earl of Beaconsfield, who was visiting the Earl of Shrewsbury at Ingestre Hall, Stafford, returned to London to-day on earnest telegram from his colleagues.

The authorities of the Davenport dockyard have received orders to prepare the turret-ships Cyclops and Hydra for immediate active service.

Great activity prevails in Woolwich arsenal. An imperative order was issued yesterday that the production of rifle balls cartridges be increased to 2,000,000 per week. Usually the quantity manufactured weekly is 500,000.

HEAVY RAIN.—Yesterday afternoon a heavy rain set in at about 4 o'clock and at the hour of going to press, still continues. To last long, however, it pours too fast, and we expect that it will yet be a pleasant day.

A Woman's Hallucination.

The newspapers yesterday contained a story of what seems to be a case of self-delusion—not rare indeed in character, but much more elaborate and more complicated in its operation than is ordinarily found under similar conditions. It is the story of what purported to be a confession of murder, but which appears to have been a statement made under the influence of a complete hallucination. On Saturday evening, as the facts are reported, a well-dressed woman, not apparently in a state of disordered intellect, spoke to a police officer in one of the streets of London and told him that she had committed a murder. She was taken to a police station, and there she gave a long and minute account of the murder which she said she had committed. She described herself as a nurse in one of the Metropolitan work-houses, and declared that for a long time she had been filled with feelings of hatred and revenge against one of the matrons, that she had watched for and found an opportunity, knocked the matron down, stunned her, and then killed her by cutting her throat with a razor. After this, the self-accusing woman said, she wrapped the body in her bed-clothes and hid it under her bed. This done she got a pass for leave and she intended to make her escape; but afterward she thought there would be no chance for her safety, and she became stricken by remorse, and accordingly she determined upon giving herself up. The story, grim and ghastly as it was, seemed coherent, and had nothing in it that could be called incredible. The police accordingly made instant inquiries, and they found at once that in one rather important point it was incorrect. The woman said to be murdered was alive and well. In the room of the alleged murder there was found indeed, a long bundle or roll under the bed; but the bundle on being opened was found to contain no human body, only a bolster. The woman who accused herself was examined by a medical man, but he appeared to have been unable to give any decided opinion at once as to whether she was sane or insane—that is, as to whether her condition, judged without regard to the story she told, could be considered that of madness. She remains therefore for the present in charge of the police. Should the reports which we have read, and from which, of course, we draw our sole knowledge of the facts, turn out to be accurate, and the woman prove really to have been the victim of a delusion, her story will be a somewhat curious chapter in the strange and painful character of morbid human self-deception. Perhaps not the least curious thing about it is that it has been anticipated far more often in fiction than, so far as our knowledge goes, in real life.—London News.

DAIRY AND PADDOCK.

At the worlds fair of '55, the grain of the Tennessee Valley took the premium over the rest. In '76 Washington Territory leads the van.

A forrowing sow should be littered with chaff or finely cut straw in a dry warm pen. It would pay where many brood rows are kept and early pigs raised, to have a stove in the pigery. Highly bred pigs are often tender and delicate, and warmth may save a litter that would otherwise be wholly lost. Generally, a close warm pen will be sufficient, few other young animals are better able to take care of themselves than pigs.

The draft upon the nursing ewes should be met by a supply of nutritious food. The kind of food should be suited to the kind of sheep. Merinos will consume corn without injury, but not heavier bodied sheep will do better on a mixed food. A bushel of corn, with the same quantity of oats, or rye and bran, ground together, and mixed with a bushel of linseed oil-meal, is a good feed for nursing ewes. One pound a day, with some cut roots or a few potatoes, will help both ewe and lamb. A run in a corn stubble on fine days will be very useful for the whole flock, but not if there is deep snow upon the ground, or the soil is muddy.

Mares in foal should not be tied up in their stalls; but kept in loose, roomy stalls not less than 9x11 feet. It would be far better if no horse were kept in a stall of less size than this. Some horses will not lie down in a narrow stall until forced by fatigue, and many wounded hips and backs are caused by contact with the walls of narrow stalls. Brood mares may be worked lightly; they are better for the exercise. A feed of carrots, ruta bagas, or sugar beets daily, will be useful, or instead of these a quart of linseed oat-meal with their usual feed, may be given. Costiveness in any breeding animal is to be carefully guarded against.

The safest place for an incoming cow is a roomy box stall. A calf should never be allowed to suck, if it is possible to avoid it. As soon as its coat is dry it should be taken from the cow and put in a stall next to her, where she can see it. This is better than separating them altogether, unless the calf can be removed entirely to where the cow cannot hear it. A calf may be taught to drink in one lesson, if patience is used, and it has not sucked the cow. It should have the fresh warm milk for a week, then warmed half-skimmed milk for a time, and finally warmed skimmed milk. While the weather is cool, the milk should be warmed and given a little sweet; well boiled linseed-meal gruel is an excellent addition to the milk.

THE SUICIDAL MANIA AMONG SCHOOLBOYS

which has been lately quite marked in this country, appears to have extended to England, where the eldest son of Prof. T. Rogers has committed suicide at the age of 18. He was a boy of unusual promise and was captain of Westminster school.

A poor blind man of Flint, Michigan, has fallen heir to $16,000 by the death of a California relative.

STILL A FALLING—Schwabacher Bros. & Co. are now selling 16 yards of Strandard prints for $1.

IT IS NOW A STATED FACT that the White House, of Seattle, has as fine and well-selected a stock of fall and winter dry goods, clothing, and fancy goods, and especially ladies' trimmed hats, and furs as cheap as any house in this city.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Gooseberries are set the same distances; the English sorts rarely escape mildew; Downing's and Houghton's are best for kitchen uses.

The distances apart for trees vary with apples from 20 to 40 feet, the greater distance being given on strong soils to the spreading varieties. Standard pears 20 to 30 feet; dwarfs 8 to 12 feet. Peaches, plums and cherries about 15 feet.

The Kittatiny blackberry is the most generally successful. Wilson's Early is a good market fruit. Set in rows six feet apart, as early as possible. The canes of both blackberries and raspberries grow one year, bear fruit the next, and then die.

Set your raspberries in rows six feet apart. The Philadelphia is most hardy and productive, but the fruit inferior. Clarke, Herstine, Hudson river, Antwerp, and Brinckle's Orange are choice sorts, but mostly tender. Highland Hardy is a new kind highly praised; of the black raspberries the Miami and Seneca are good.

Systematic gardeners will of course have provided a full supply of tomato, pepper, and egg plants, to set out after the 25th of April. It is unsafe to plant out sooner, unless protected in case of cold weather. It is not always a frost which injures tender plants, the effects of the March winds are equally as destructive.

After trying various methods for strawberries we have adopted cultivation in rows 3 feet apart, the plants a foot apart. When the bed needs to be renewed, the runners are allowed to take root in the intermediate spaces; when well-established, all save one row of the young plants are spaded up. Charles Downing still proves the best family berry for all soils; Wilson is only fit for market. Nicanor is good on heavy soils. Black Defiance is a fine fruit for home use. Triomphe de Grand and Jaconda give fine large fruit on heavy, as does Seth Boyden on light, soils.

Dwarf pears, on quince roots, are now little planted, save in gardens—except Duchesse d'Angouleme, which yields larger and better fruit as a dwarf. The popular pear is the Bartlett; nurserymen say that out of every hundred trees planted ninety are Bartlett. The amateur who has leisure can indulge in a great variety of choice kinds; those who wish fruit for home use and to market the surplus, can take any of the following: Early, Doyenne d'Ete, Bartlett, Doyenne Boussock, Fall, Duchesse d'Angouleme (on quince) Late, Beurre d'Anjou, Lawrence, Vicar of Winkfield, Winter Nellis.

In using a grindstone don't waste the stone by running it in water, nor allow it to stand in water when not in use, as this causes a soft place. Wet the stone by dropping water on it from a pot suspended above the stone, and stop off the water when not in use. Don't allow the stone to get out of order, but keep it perfectly round by the use of a piece of gas pipe or hucker, or use a pair of double-hung stones, which keep each other in order. Clean off all greasy tools before sharpening, as grease or oil destroys the grit. Observe: When you get a stone that suits your purpose, send a sample of the grit to the dealer to select by; half an ounce sample is enough, and can be sent in a letter by mail.

CURIOUS CLIPPINGS.

Jacob Reese, of Pittsburg Pa., had long endeavored to construct a machine to cut hardened cold steel. He accomplished it at length by means of a saw of soft wrought iron—merely a circular disk—rotating at high velocity. With low speed this would not cut at all; but when running about 25,000 feet per minute the disk cut through steel rapidly; giving an immense cascade of sparks in the operation. It was found on examining the debris beneath the disk that the particles of steel were not simply rubbed off. They were welded together in a pyramid like a stalagmite or the snow circles on the top of Mount Washington. Prof. Hedrick ascertained that real fusion had taken place among the particles of steel. The disk is very little heated, but the steel is actually melted and drops down. Yet the bar enough to draw the temper or oxidize the metal. Solid bars of steel of two or three inches in diameter are thus cut through in as many minutes. The soft metal disk is about forty-two inches in diameter. The naked hands may be passed through the jet or stream of flying sparks during the operation without being burned, since the particles of melted metal are in the condition known as the spheroidal state.

When brain-substance is placed in alcohol, it loses its water and its mobility of particles, and becomes more solid and firm. The question here arises, Is it possible that, in cases of delirium tremens, so much alcohol has been consumed as, by its diffusion through the brain, it has robbed nerve-matter of its mobile character, and consequently of its power to throw off the products of its life functions? That alcohol may, in this way, act upon the brain of the enebriate, is an opinion which, as yet, can hardly be demonstrated directly; but an experiment made by Mr. Charles T. Kingzett seems to render it highly probable. He places in a dilute solution of alcohol pieces of brain-substance, derived from the ox, at the temperature of the blood, viz., 100 deg. Fahr. At this temperature it is digested for some hours, and the liquid is then filtered. On cooling, the filtrate throws down a white deposit of matter which the alcohol has dissolved—a phenomenon which would seem to indicate some actual truth in Shakespeare's words, "O that men should put an enemy in their mouths to steal away their brains!"

The curative effect of color upon health is destined to receive much attention, though Gen. Pleasanton's claim that blue color will cure spavined horses, deaf mules, and rejuvenate the hair and the blind, is not well founded. An Italian, Dr. Panza, had several rooms prepared with different colored windows and walls painted to match, and placed insane patients in them. A somber, mournful lunatic in a red-colored room became in three hours lively and cheerful. A maniac in the same room who refused food had a marvelous appetite the following morning. In a blue room a raging maniac in a strait-jacket became perceptibly quieter within an hour. A day in a violet room so restored an insane patient that he asked to go home; and is now entirely restored. Violet possesses the most intense electro-chemical action; red has the caloric rays, and blue is devoid of either, and thus, being a negative of all excitement the wonderful effect on maniacs is not so wonderful, after all. Such results should not wait long for the scientific in other countries to investigate and practice.

In commenting upon the bill for regulating the practice of vivisection in England, Iron remarks upon the absurdity of a Parliament of sportsmen, supported by a mob out-of-doors, passing such a law. "Either of them" (sportsmen or mob) "for the mere pleasure of killing, or in the treatment of domestic animals, inflicts more unnecessary pain on the animal creation in one day than the whole body of physiologists inflict in a year. The physiological worker will, if this bill passes, have to pursue his unrequited labors under the supervision of a policeman, and with a ticket-of-leave; and the result will be that original, unremunerated research of a most important class will not only continue to be pursued without endowment, but under the risk of penal servitude, the tournament of doves, pheasant-battues, and horse-racing, being all the while in full swing." A petition signed by all the leading members of the medical profession, has been presented to the House of Lords, demanding certain modifications in the bill.

After years of failure by dredging and other systems to keep an opening sufficiently deep to admit the passage of heavy draught vessels into the mouth of the Mississippi, the success achieved thus far under the engineering superintendance of Captain James B. Eads, of St. Louis, has sufficed to vindicate the jetty system when applied to our great American river. It will be recollected that in May last a steamer drawing fourteen feet six inches of water passed in safety through the jetties. The latest information from these jetties is, that from the head of the South Pass to the sea there is a channel from twenty-two to thirty feet deep, across a width of two hundred feet, complying with the requirements of Congress. A few weeks time will suffice to complete the work.

In a recent Italian work, measurements are given of the skulls of Dante, Petrarch, Ugo Foscolo, and Volta.—Volta's skull is of extraordinary capacity. In the skull of Petrarch the Etruscan type is evident, viz., a voluminous brain, strongly developed in all its parts, and of superior psychological power; but the posterior predominates over the anterior portion, leading to the conclusion that the sentiments and instinct prevailed over the intellect.

The new tunnel being built under the river Thames is intended chiefly for the use of about eight hundred thousand workmen who have to daily cross at that point, and who are often detained by fog that stops the boats. It will be an iron tube, nine feet in diameter, lighted with gas, thoroughly ventilated, and only for pedestrians.

FASHION NOTIONS.

What hue is a la mode. Plaiting garniture is popular. Self-colored damasks are still favorites.

"Carmelite" serge makes up very prettily.

Cashmere is a standard elegant dress material.

Fashion calls for elaborately trimmed underclothing.

Lace, ruffles, and tucks are combined in one garment.

Solid checks in wool are considered very distique.

"Indian" goat has taken the place of French kid.

The "Claudia" polonaise is of the "princess" style.

All cashmere costumes are preferred to mixed suits.

Square box-toe and the English welt are greatly admired.

Leading modes of dress fabrics are all of deep sombre dyes.

Black cashmere dresses are more stylish than colored suits.

The "Bernice" jacket is a nobby street independent garment.

Great improvements are observed in the make up of overshoes.

The extension "Marseilles" sole is still a favorite in the beau monde.

House shoes of zephyr wool are comfortable for invalids and the aged.

The "Vienna" seamless boot is minus a vamp; it is side-laced, or side-buttoned.

The high "Wertumburg" heels are tapering, yet have a wide basis and full toes.

White cashmere, trimmed with silk or satin flutings, forms a rich brilliant dress for winter wear.

Cork sole shoes have the bottom sole of leather and the cork sole one-quarter of an inch thick.

A traveling costume arranged in dark-hued cashmere or serge is termed a recherché toilet for a bride, young or otherwise.

The "Juno" train is a favorite with brides. This style of extension skirt is very graceful and easy to adjust, and not difficult to walk in.

A very elegant bridal suit just completed for a Washington belle, is composed of sea foam tinted satin, and adorned with pointed lace.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THE OFFICERS ELECT OF KING COUNTY.

OUR SERVANTS: As insinuations and statements are rife in the community, seriously affecting your characters as public servants, we therefore, as part of the sovereigns, who have elected you as our servants to do our dirty work for pay, in order to give you an opportunity to set yourselves right before your sovereigns, either by a denial of the accusations intimated, or by owning up to the truth, thereby shaming the devil, and showing yourselves men, we proposed to you the following questions: How much money did you spend in the late canvass, and how spend it? How many saloon keepers did you subsidize to your interests? How many drinks did you pay for directly or indirectly in consideration of votes? How many votes did you buy with money, directly or indirectly? How many lies did you tell on your opponents? How many false insinuations did you throw out on them? How much has your conscience troubled you (if you have any) for what you have done? If you have not the moral courage and manliness to come out and tell the whole truth in the matter, if guilty, you can come around to the Elephant Store and unbosom yourselves to us privately. It will be a great relief to you; and if you will give us your patronage we will never "blow" it on you. Don't be saucy now and say it's none of our business, for we are of the sovereigns and you are our servants, and we have the right to know about the character and conduct of our servants.

And to the defeated candidates we would say report says your money, and whisky, and lies are all wasted for naught; then come to the Elephant Store to trade, and thereby save a per cent. to make partial amends for your losses, and try to be a little sharper on next election.

WANTED - A CONSTITUTION.

The probabilities are that the election for a State Constitution has been carried by a large majority and the next thing is, a Convention to frame the document. It will be necessary to see that none but practical men are elected to that convention, because there is nothing but a Constitution to be drawn. At the time of Oregon's admission, the framers of her Constitution wanted to do too much and got things into the document that should have been properly reserved for a code. This has subsequently acted as a great barrier to legislation made necessary by the growth and augmented wealth of the State. Let us endeavor to profit by their errors.

We favor one clause prohibiting the creation of any debt by the State for internal improvements; but are in favor of one allowing counties to aid in the construction of railroads to a limited extent, say, issuance of ten thousand dollars' worth of bonds for every million of dollars' worth of taxable property over one million and not to exceed five million. This would effectually prohibit the issuance of more than forty thousand dollars of bonds, even if the county had seventeen millions of property. Another prohibition we should favor would be the locating of all the State buildings at the capital. The State House and Supreme Court should be entitled to. The Penitentiary, State Normal School, Agricultural College, Insane Asylum and other institutions should be distributed evenly and fairly to other leading cities.

We favor a clause making education compulsory, as it is cheaper to keep boys in school than men in jail. And we are also opposed to legislation on usury, believing that money (like every other article of commerce) must be regulated by the law of supply and demand. You can find Oregon men's mortgages in every county in California, having been compelled to seek new markets for their means, owing to injudicious legislation at home. But we say legalize interest at eight per cent. per year and let it go at that on all accruing debts.

We also favor fair salaries for all State officers and compel them to pay all fees received into the State Treasury under oath. The Governor of Oregon receives but $1,500 per year, which should be $3,000; the Secretary of State receives $800 and the Treasurer $500. During the four years from 1870 to 1874, the State Treasurer of Oregon made made $40,000 in coal lands in Coos county alone, which he never could have acquired but for his ex-officio position as School Land Commissioner. So we favor a State Land Office with a Surveyor General at the head it. Our idea is, liberal salaries and no fees. We shall refer to this subject again.

CLOSING SCENES.

If the latest reports are reliable, (and most of them are reliable) the Delegateship has been lost to the Democracy by apathy in the Eastern counties of the Territory. The dispatches received here yesterday bring down Mr. Judson's majority in Walla Walla and Columbia to 321, a falling off of 51 and in Mason from 185 to 101. All this shows a foolish anxiety on the part of both candidates' friends to make a big show. This leads men to bet money under the undue excitement of the moment and when the truth comes to be known "curses not loud but deep" are vented on the heads of those who "gave 'em the steer." It is high time that men were learning some sense. If they would always say so many votes ahead, so far as heard from, the result would be different financially.

Personally we have very little feeling in the matter, as both gentlemen are our personal friends. It is our belief that, had we published the telegrams sent here as compiled by the Associated Press agent at Portland and made our paper a Democratic vehicle of electioneering for Republicans, Judge Jacobs would have carried this county by over one hundred and twenty majority. We shut off those telegrams just in time. Mr. Judson, if defeated, can congratulate himself on having made the cheapest canvass on record and having been beaten by a very moderate expenditure of money. If elected, it is a triumph of good luck, for there was not a particle of good management displayed in the inner workings of his canvass.

It cannot be denied that the Republicans have out-manouvered us on all sides, but this is owing greatly to the large number of Federal office holders whom they have to help them - the most of whom are old political hacks that have been members of both parties and get up at the prospect of a reverse of course at the ballot-box. These being acquainted with all the tricks of the political trade - about the Republic's affairs - has made it the leading industry (!) of the nation - could readily outwork men of no experience in such matters. Colonization and repeating have been resorted to in the border counties and the same element that defeated Warren in Oregon last year has been utilized to help elect Williams in Oregon and Jacobs in this Territory. If the official count gives Mr. Jacobs a majority of anything less than a hundred, Mr. Judson may be able to out him on a contest; but if it exceeds that, it would be folly to attempt it.

DIRECT MAIL NEEDED.

Our delegate in Congress should leave no stone unturned on his return there, to obtain a weekly mail route from this city via Snoqualmie Pass to Yakima City. The business interests of the two localities are intimately connected, as we receive nearly all our supplies of cattle, sheep and hogs, from that quarter. In fact, nearly all the ready money which goes into the Yakima country is what goes from here. They have to take goods for all the produce they sell there, at just such prices as merchants choose to charge them; and there is no prospect of their having a chance to better themselves till the railroad from the Sound relieves their wants. But the establishment of a mail route through the valleys of Kittitas and Yakima, would be the means of settling up every available point along the road with people who could sell most of their stuff to the mail contractors.

For at least four months in the year, and perhaps longer, the mail would have to be carried on horseback, but as the country settled up the service would be increased till finally it would become a daily route. It would cause the building of all the stations along the route and a general clearing of the trail, till finally a good wagon road would be made. This is hard to accomplish when all the people are at the ends of the route and none in the middle; but when settlers become distributed along the route, then the road is much more easily kept in repair. Stations at intervals of every twelve miles will be necessary and these will enable drovers to rest their sheep and cattle along the road and feed them as they rest. Every available nook will be cultivated as soon as it is known that the route is established.

At present, the mails for Yakima and most of the business travel (outside of stock drovers) has to pay $10 by steamer and rail to Portland, thence $10 to Wallula and then comes stage fare to Yakima. The establishment of such a route as we ask would enable a stage to carry passengers seven months in a year for $13 from Seattle to Yakima city, a saving of at least ten dollars on every head. The route is a total distance of 120 miles to Ellensburg and 26 miles further to Yakima City. As there are already mail facilities between those two points, a route from here to Ellensburg would satisfy all present demands. Will Judge Jacobs give this matter his attention? We pause for a reply.

The saw-mill recently erected at Port Essington, B. C., by the McAllister Bros., was totally destroyed by fire on the 30th of October. They recently built a large steamboat of 690 tons there, which they call the Alexander, and it was all they could do to save her from the devouring element. She was towed down to Victoria by the Otter and is 170 feet long, 27 feet broad, is calculated to run 15 miles an hour, and to be one of the largest, fastest and most powerful towboats that plows the waters of the globe. Her boilers are to weigh twenty-five tons each and will be put into her with her engines, at Victoria.

There seems to be a singular calm after the great storm over the Presidential election. A contemporary says that "great disasters would attend the election of Tilden." The greatest disaster attending it would be the throwing out of employment of the ninety thousand office holders who have been fattening off the public treasury for the last sixteen years. Hard work won't agree with them, you know.

Steamer Gussie Telfair arrived at Victoria from Sitka and Fort Wrangel on Sunday. She brought about $150,000 in Cassiar gold dust. About 120 miners have remained behind and will winter at Fort Wrangel. On the passage down, the Gussie struck a sunken rock about 30 miles from Sitka, which caused her to leak badly. The rock is in Pearl Straits and not laid down on any chart.

The latest from California denotes an extraordinary retrograde in majorities for Hayes. Money has carried all the larger cities for him, but the interior of the State is largely Democratic. Monday at noon, Hayes was less than 800 ahead of Tilden. Pacheco, whose bargain and sale to Stanford, caused poor Burnett to be taken from a deathbed to save the Southern counties from bankruptcy, is probably beaten by Wigginton and Luttrell is safe.

OUR CITY TREASURY.

Though it is some time from this date to the assembling of the Territorial legislature, yet we hope to see some proper relief made by that body for the maintenance of this city's municipal government. The outside portion of the county bears none of the burden, yet property-owners and tax-payers outside the city limits receive great benefit from the large amount of taxes collected in Seattle.

In every Oregon town incorporated since 1870, the incorporation act specifies that all liquor licenses collected shall be paid into the town treasury instead of the county. This is no more than proper, for the town has to bear the burden of lighting streets and establishing a police force, for the preservation of order and security of life and property. That this expense should be borne wholly by pro rata taxation of citizens' property is unjust in every respect. Over $7,000 in liquor licenses were collected within city limits during the past year, of which the city received not a dollar but has to pay all the expense of arresting and keeping prisoners who commit offenses while under the effects of liquors sold by permission of the county. Look at that.

We ask Councilman Hanford and Representatives Tibbets and Foster, to give us such legislation as will give to the city treasury one-half the amount collected within the city limits for liquor and beer licenses; also, one-third of the fines collected in courts of first instance, for offenses committed within the city limits, the perpetrators of which are arrested by the local police. The pay of our police is but $100 in scrip for the chief and $60 for the two subalterns. This reduces their actual pay to about $62 and $50 respectively in coin, which is no compensation for any efficient officer. The city is being greatly improved, at considerable expense and needs legislation of this kind. The county renders her no equivalent for her contribution and the injustice of the present system is apparent to all. We trust that our Representatives and Councilman will give us the desired relief at the proper time; and till then we can afford to wait.

CRUMBS OF COMFORT.

The Tribune man, who was desirous of knowing the worst, telegraphed to Dick Williams, the Congressman-elect from Oregon, and got the following:

PORTLAND, Nov. 13, 3 P. M.
The latest reports received here are more favorable to Hayes' election.

R. WILLIAMS.
A later dispatch by twenty minutes, was received from Anthony Noltner, editor of the Portland Standard, by W. H. White, our newly elected Prosecuting Attorney:

Tilden will have one hundred and eighty-four votes, Louisiana, Florida and South Carolina are reported Democratic. The only hope for the Radicals rests in the counting boards.

The Vermont dispatch, however, is the most consoling of all, for it only goes to show how eager the office-holders were to secure their man. A better case of "vaulting ambition that overleaps its mark" was never afforded. Back-dated resignations from Federal papers all over the Union, are now in order.

The very latest indications are that Judge Jacobs is re-elected as Congressional Delegate by about 250 votes majority. We have one consolation in the defeat of our candidate, that neither he nor his friends here, have gone outside the record to make the fight. The Judge may call for our scalp at any time after our return from Post Town-sent.

The man who cruised Boss Tweed's arrest in Spain, on a charge of being a comprachico, or kidnapper of children, must have moved to Victoria. We see that some man there bet $20 that Theodore Tilton would be the next President. In our opinion he could not lose such a bet, not having any chance to win it.

The young man who shot himself at Portland, last week, was F. C. Towne and not Hardwick, as he registered. There must have been something crooked about him. One name is enough for anybody but a bigamist or an absconding defaulter.

Thomas D. Winchester, a pioneer of Oregon and for many years a resident of Coos Bay, died at Empire City recently, aged about 69 years. He was a man of innate honesty and therefore amassed no wealth as a lawyer in that place.

Hazard Stevens, Esq., son of Gen. I. I. Stevens, who is now residing in Boston but who lived in Olympia for many years, has contributed an article on the "Ascension of Mount Rainier" to the Atlantic Monthly.

Official returns from Island give Judson 23 majority and White 49. In Jefferson Judge Jacobs has 10 majority, and White 15.

During our absence from the city, the columns of the DISPATCH will be under the supervision of D. W. Selye, Esq. He will remain in charge till our return on Friday next.

The latest skeddaddlement for these parts is a Victoria watchmaker who carried off some work entrusted to him for repairs.

EASTERN STATES.

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 11.—The political situation in Florida remains unchanged. Both parties claim that they have carried the State by from 1,600 to 10,000 votes, and no decision can be reached until an official count can be had. The counting will be proceeded with as soon as the returns are all in. It is expected the result will be declared on Wednesday or Thursday next. Gen. Young and others, prominent Democrats of Georgia, will arrive here to-morrow by special train and will remain until the count is made.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 11.—The Republican has the following special from Jacksonville, Fla.: "Returns received to this hour, official and semi-official, from thirty counties, and partial returns from two others, with the vote of 1874 of the remaining counties, give a Democratic majority of 1,983. Nine Republican counties give an official majority of 6,858; leaving a net Democratic majority in the State of 1,125, which will be increased by full returns from the remaining counties, which are white and Democratic. The Republicans predict that the next lower House of Congress will have sixteen Democratic minority, but that the State will be a tie."

Another dispatch says that the Republican chairman claims that the State is Republican, but gives no figures.

Walton county, just in, gives a Democratic majority of 600; a gain of 190. People are quiet but determined on an honest election.

LAKE CITY, Fla., Nov. 14.—Corrected returns from 31 counties, and estimates of the 8 counties not yet heard from, based on the election of 1874, give a Democratic majority of 1,700. The chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee at Monticello (Fla.) says careful estimates on the figures of 1874 for the counties not heard from, and the returns actually in, show a Democratic majority sure. The counties not in are all Democratic, and there will be large gains. "The majority can, not fall short of 1,200."

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 11.—The following proclamation extraordinary was issued by J. G. Thompson this evening, and bulletined in front of the Democratic headquarters in this city:

"The claims of the leading Republican newspapers and committees, to the effect that Hayes is elected, is without foundation and a conspiracy to usurp the government. It is a revolution. It is the desperation of desperate men. It will all fail. The people have declared by their ballots that Tilden is elected President by 203 electoral votes, and by a majority of 400,000 of the popular votes. They will see to it that their voices, expressed at the ballot-box, shall be respected. Be patient and wait the retributive justice that will surely fall on the heads of the men who are dividing a conspiracy to break up this republic."

(Signed) J. G. THOMPSON
Chairman Dem. Executive Com.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—5:10 P. M.—The World's Montpelier, Vermont, special says N. Sallace, one of the Republican Presidential Electors elect, is postmaster of Bridport, and therefore is ineligible to hold and serve in the place to which he has been elected. This fact raises the question whether his Democratic opponent cannot contest the election, and cast his vote for Tilden, thus settling the national contest. A clause of the Constitution, to which reference is here made, is article 2d, which reads: No Senator or Representative or person holding any office of trust or profit under the United States, shall be appointed elector.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 12.—The latest correct returns give the Democrats the State ticket by 1,318 majority. Tilden's electors in 12 of 32 counties run 712 behind the State ticket. Gov. Chamberlain claims the State for the Republicans by 2,000.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—A Times special from New Orleans says: "All reports of riots and disturbances in this city and State are entirely unfounded. Our people are quiet, but intensely anxious that justice should be done them by the returning board."

Business moves as usual. We look to the whole country to sustain us in our rights." This is signed by a number of bankers, merchants and others. Henry Watterson, of the Courier-Journal, has arrived, and with Col. Lamar, is closeted with leading Democrats. Excitement is intense, but smothered.

SAVANNAH, Nov. 12.—A special to the Morning News from Lake City, Fla., says the returns are from all but four counties. Basing those counties upon the Democratic majority of 1874, gives the State to the Democrats by 800 majority. All the Democratic counties show a heavy increase, and the majority will be, at a safe estimate, from 1,200 to 1,500 Democratic. Tilden will not fall 300 behind the State ticket.

RALEIGH, Nov. 11.—Additional returns continue to increase the Democratic majority in the State, and it may reach 17,000. A painful anxiety in regard to the Presidential election is manifest in the city to-night among both parties.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 11.—Nearly complete returns are in. Tilden's majority is not less than 48,000, the majority of Porter for Governor being something less over Thomas, Independent Democrat. The Democrats elect eight of the ten Congressmen, a loss of one,—McFarland, in the first district. The legislature, which elects two U. S. Senators, will have a Democratic majority of 60 on joint ballot,—the Senate standing 21 Democrats to 4 Republicans, and the House 57 Democrats, 2 Independents and 16 Republicans.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 12.—J. M. Keating, editor of the Appeal, and W. H. Carroll, prominent Democrat, left this evening for New Orleans, to be present at the counting of the votes.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 12.—Ex-Gov. Bigler, ex-Gov. Curtin, Stanley Matthews, Job Stevenson and ex-Gov. Noyes, of Ohio, passed through this city this morning, en route for New Orleans.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The Tribune's Washington special says General Sheridan will at once proceed to the South and make his headquarters at New Orleans.

COLUMBIA, Nov. 12.—Returns, which are with few exceptions official have been received from every county in South Carolina, and give Hampton 24,280 and Chamberlain 22,952, a net majority for Hampton of 1,336. Full official returns, when received, will not vary 100 from these figures, which are obtained from Democratic headquarters to-night. The Democrats claim a majority of one on joint ballot in the Legislature, which secures the election of a U. S. Senator to succeed Robinson, and also a gain of two Congressmen.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The Sun, replying to an inquiry whether, if Hayes should be elected by 185 votes, and, before the meeting of the electoral college, one Republican elector died, what would be the result? says the electoral college does not vote as a corporation; each elector has one vote for President and one for Vice President. In case of the absence of an elector, either by death or otherwise, his colleagues cannot cast his vote. In this case supposed, the three Florida electors could only cast three votes; so that Hayes would not receive 185 votes. Tilden could not be declared elected because he could not have received 185 votes. The result would be the throwing of the election into the House of Representatives.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—The paid admissions to the Centennial exhibition the last day were 106,474, and the day after 154,225. During the six months that it was open, the whole number of paid admissions was 8,004,214.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—The President to-day signed the pardon for Wm. O. Avery, now confined in the penitentiary at Jefferson City for complicity in whisky frauds. The friends of Wm. McKee express absolute confidence that he will be pardoned within a day or two.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—The Democratic committee have complete returns made out from duplicate lists of the supervisors, showing Tilden's majority in the State to be 8,407, by which majority they claim they have carried the State. The returns show Tilden's majority to be nearly 9,000. This city is very quiet. The citizens are anxiously awaiting the action of the board which by law is required to meet 10 days after the election.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 13.—Latest returns from this (3d) Congressional district indicate the election of Craven (Dem.) over McClure (Rep.)

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 13.—The stage from Downville was stopped last night by two masked men 18 miles from here, near the Oregon House. As the stage was making a turn in the road, the men stepped from the brush, one directly in front of the horses, the other alongside the road about 12 paces in advance of the stage. The man in front shot one of the horses in the head, but failed to drop him. When this shot was fired, M. Scammon, a banker from Downville, shot with a navy revolver at the robber beside the road, but missed him, and the robber returned the fire, emptying the contents of his shotgun in Scammon's left side and arm. The wounds are thought to be mortal.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 13.—Republicans state they have information that East Baton Rouge has gone Republican by 30 majority. The Democrats claimed it by 600 on Saturday night, and the city was put down at 9700 majority for the Democrats. The official count shows 10,000 majority for Tilden. Additional returns from parishes does not change the result as telegraphed Saturday. Of the votes polled, the Democrats appear to have about 800 majority. The Republicans, however, still claim they have carried the State and that Packard will be the next Governor.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 13.—Democrats to-day filed a protest against the State election in Charleston county. They allege that the whole county was controlled by intimidation and terrorism, and no opportunity to vote was given qualified voters; also that a large number who desired to do so were prevented from voting the Democratic ticket; also the legal number of polls was not opened.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A dispatch from Calcutta to the Times, says it is reported 20,000 persons perished in a cyclone October 31st, and some estimates place the loss of lives as high as 40,000. In the town of Burrisht Castle of Backergunge district, 3,000 houses were levelled with the earth. Letters from survivors report a great wave nine feet high, swept over the large island of Dakhins Shababesport. The whole Eastern Bengal appears to have severely from the cyclone. Calcutta narrowly escaped.

FROM OREGON.

EUGENE CITY, Nov. 11.—Daniel Lemons, a bar-keeper in the employ of S. J. Saxon, and a farmer named Page, had some trouble about 6 o'clock this evening over a game of cards. Lemons became very much exasperated, and gave Page a good chopping, whereupon Taylor, the only witness present, started for the officers to take Lemons in charge. Upon his return with the officer they found Lemons dead. Page was arrested and is now in custody. He says that after Taylor left the room Lemons walked behind the bar and fell dead. No marks of violence are found upon the body, and physicians decide that he died in a fit of apoplexy.

Summons.

In the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding terms at the City of Seattle, in and for the counties of King and Kitsap.

Leander S. Smith, plaintiff, vs. Annie V. Smith, defendant. Complaint filed in the County of King, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

The United States of America send greeting to Annie V. Smith, defendant.

YOU are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff, in the District Court of the Third Judicial District of the Territory of Washington, holding terms at the City of Seattle, in the County of King, for the counties of King and Kitsap, and to answer the complaint filed therein within twenty days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within said County of King; or if served out of that county, but in this District within thirty days, otherwise within sixty days, or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of the complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of divorce, forever fully and finally dissolving the bonds of matrimony now and heretofore existing between plaintiff and defendant, so that the relation of husband and wife shall no longer exist between them, on the ground of abandonment of plaintiff by defendant for more than one year, and for other proper relief. And you are hereby notified, that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the said plaintiff will cause your default to be entered, and thereafter apply to the Court for the relief demanded in his said complaint.

Witness the Hon. J. R. Lewis, Judge of said Court, and the seal thereof, this 9th day of November, A. D. 1874.

NOTICE.

To all Whom it may Concern.

WHEREAS, the Commissioner of the General Land Office, in letter dated August 28th, 1873, ordered that the lands in township 23 north, range 6 east, in the district of lands for sale at Olympia, W. T., should be withheld "from disposal as agricultural lands until the non-mineral character thereof shall have been fully established." And whereas, George Thomas, of King county, W. T., who made pre-emption filing for land in said township and range, viz: for lots 1 and 5, and the no quarter of the quarter of section 32, now makes application to make his final entry of said land, and has filed in this office his affidavit declaring that there is not within the limits of said land, to his knowledge, any coal or other valuable mineral deposit, and that said land is essentially non-mineral land.

Now, therefore, in accordance with instructions from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, it is ordered that testimony touching the character of said described land shall be taken before the Clerk of the District Court, at his office in the City of Seattle, W. T., on the 30th day of December, A. D. 1876, beginning at 10 o'clock A. M., at which place and time all persons having interest in the matter of the character of the above described land are required to appear, and there and then to present such evidence as may serve to fully establish the character of said tract of land.

BENJAMIN M. BAKER, a minor.

IT APPEARING to this Court, from the Petition this day presented and filed by Michael C. Baker, the Guardian of the person and estate of Benjamin M. Baker, a minor, praying for an order of sale of certain real estate belonging to his said ward, that it is necessary and would be beneficial to said ward that such real estate should be sold:

It is hereby ordered: That the nearest of kin of the said ward, and all persons interested in the estate of the said ward, appear before this court on Monday, the 11th day of December, A. D. 1876, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the Court Room of this Court, in the City of Seattle, King County, Washington Territory, and there to show cause why an order should not be granted for the sale of such estate.

And it is further ordered: That a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks before the said day of hearing, in the WEEKLY PUGET SOUND DISPATCH, a weekly newspaper printed and published in said City of Seattle, King County, Washington Territory, dated November 8, 1876.

Notice.

To all Whom it may Concern:

WHEREAS, the Commissioner of the General Land Office, in letter dated July 8, 1874, ordered that the lands in Township 23 north, range 6 east, in the district of lands for sale at Olympia, W. T., should be withheld "from disposal as agricultural lands until the non-mineral character thereof shall have been fully established." And whereas Robert T. Flynn of King County, W. T., who made pre-emption filing for land in said township and range, viz: for the N.W. 1/4 of section 28, now makes application to make his final entry of said land, and has filed in this office his affidavit declaring that there is not within the limits of said land, to his knowledge, any coal or other valuable mineral deposit, and that said land is essentially non-mineral.

Now, therefore, in accordance with instructions from the Commissioner of the General Land Office, it is ordered that testimony touching the character of said described land shall be taken before the Clerk of the District Court at his office in the City of Seattle, W. LOCAL IMMIGRATION SOCIETY.

The great one thing, in which the citizens of Seattle have been remiss, is, that strangers, no matter who, or where from, have hitherto been compelled to seek and eke out any information in which they stood in need of for themselves.

However, this great want is to be supplied by the organization, by some of our leading citizens, of an Immigration and Labor Bureau for the promotion of immigration to Seattle and King County.

We sincerely hope that no impediments, either by lack of interest, or otherwise, will interfere with the formation of the society for this great work.

OMINOUS.

By telegraph comes the news from South Carolina that the State board of canvassers refuse to allow the Northern representatives of either party to be present and witness the count of the official returns.

Again, the wires are being manipulated in the interests of Republicanism by the Associated Press, for the purpose of raising public sentiment against the South.

The Supreme Court of the United States recently rendered a decision which will bring comfort to the hearts of those Oregonians who have taken lands that were high and dry, under the swamp land act.

WHY NOT?

In view of the fact that the Northern Pacific Railroad is making strenuous efforts to build up the fallen fortunes of their terminus, Tacoma, by building a branch road to tap the coal fields of the Puyallup valley, and thereby put that place on a footing of an outpost for the coal of those regions, as well as raise it to the standard of a manufacturing center, why would it not be advisable for our capitalists to counteract this manouever by pushing a branch of the Seattle and Walla Walla Railroad through the coal fields of the Puyallup, and thus nip the designs of Tacoma real estate speculators in the bud?

The distance from Tacoma to the coal fields is thirty-two miles, while the distance from Seattle to the same place is no more than thirty-six miles, of which nearly thirteen are completed.

We suggest this measure, not from any fear that Tacoma will ever succeed in taking our trade laurels from us—we are now, so firmly established in trade, that commercial statics would prevent that—but that this new source of wealth may flow into our coffers, and not be lost by any inertia upon the part of our business fraternity.

The Northern Pacific Railroad Company's right to build this branch is of grave doubt. Ostensibly, they will propose to extend their branch through Natchez Pass, and connect with their main road on the other side of the mountains. But that, everybody understands, will never be done.

THE NURSERY BUSINESS.

In no section of the temperate zone can be found a country where so many fruit trees, thrive so well, as do they on Puget Sound. Nowhere else, speaking of the Pacific Coast, can fruit be found to equal ours in flavor, and which will stand in comparison to productiveness, as will the fruit-bearing trees of Washington Territory.

This firm, in 1825, went to Rochester county nearly broke, rented some land, grew trees, sold them, bought land three miles outside of the city, every year increasing their business and land area, until they owned 400 acres of land.

A PROBABLE TERRITORIAL MIS TAKE.

Since Mr. Jacobs is almost, without doubt, our next delegate to Congress, and as Mr. Tilden is in all probabilities elected to the Presidency, the Territory will be represented in our next Congress by one not in accord with the administration.

THE MOSLEM.

The uprising of the Turkish Slaves has met repulse in every point. Completely beaten in every way, they would inevitably be compelled to assume their olden time position, as a race, were it not for the strong arm of Russia, which intervenes and compels an armistice on the part of the aggressive forces of Turkey.

That history repeats itself, is found to be true in this case as in many others. The Moslem has carried the torch of rapine and plunder in this war as did they in the days of the Middle Ages. The most untold atrocities have been committed by the Turkish soldiery, and to appease the indignation of the civilized world nothing has been done but to unrank a few of the officers that lead the horrible butcheries, and who were foremost in rifleing the women of Serbia of their honor.

Russia, who would gladly rid Europe of the dirty gleam of the Crescent, is thwarted in her desires by the attitude of England and other powers, that are jealous of Russian ascendancy in the East. And the Czar is now being urged by the clamor of his people to march into and occupy the Servian Territory, let the consequences be what they may.

Should Russia take this step, there is not a loyal citizen of the United States, who understands the position that that nation took during our civil war, but will, in the depths of his heart, wish and desire success to our ally's arms.

Let the Moslem be remanded to where he belongs—in Asia Minor, and let the nations of Europe be untrammelled by the hordes of Asia in the formation of their destinies.

JUST SO!

The refusal, on the part of the Republican returning boards in the contested Southern States, to admit as witnesses the representatives of the northern branch of both parties to the counting of electoral votes is now condoned by the Republican representatives, who are now in Louisiana for that express purpose, by the slim excuse that they have no right so to do.

Should, however, the Democratic majority be counted out in these States, (where resides the element that has driven so many good men from the Republican party) almost any resort short of rebellion would be right on the part of the people of the nation.

THE SWORD OF BUNKER HILL.

It may serve to remove the blind of prejudice from some of our Republican readers to know, that should any overt act be committed by any party—Republican or Democratic—that no sooner would such disposition be shown on the part of either party, than the grand animus of '76 and '61 would again demonstrate itself in the marshalling of the hosts of the nation in defense of the traditions of national and natural rights.

IT APPEARS THAT THE ORDER FORBIDDING ANY COMMUNICATION BETWEEN TWEED AND OTHER PERSONS ON BOARD THE FRANKLIN WAS MADE AT THE REQUEST OF GOVERNOR TILDEN.

It appears that the order forbidding any communication between Tweed and other persons on board the Franklin was made at the request of Governor Tilden. Tweed not being charged with any crime against the laws of the United States, his extradition was asked for by our Government merely as a matter of comity or courtesy between the Federal Government and the Government of the State of New York.

STILL HANGING BY A HAIR.

The reports that come from the East are conflicting, and only serve to bewilder one.

The latest news, however, is that the Democrats are threatening to play the counting out game, as well as the Republicans, if the returns are not sent in straight and properly from the contested Southern States.

We venture to predict, that the Presidential question will not be settled until November, 1877, when a new election will decide the issue.

EDITING.

To many people the editing of a newspaper seems to be the easiest thing in the world. Well posted on one particular point, they are apt to judge the work of editing by their own knowledge of a certain subject as in comparison with the same idea written up by a newspaper editor.

CHURCH BUILDING AND REPAIRING.

Yesterday we were shown over the new church being built by the Presbyterian congregation, on the corner of Third and Marion streets. Upon entering the neat little edifice, we were surprised at the neat appearance it presented. Finely plastered and corniced, with an airy appearance, with everything in keeping with the chaste, we are only too glad to record, that at length, another congregation enjoys the privilege of worshipping in a building that will hold its own in comparison with any other similar edifice in the Territory.

The repairing which has been going on for some time, on the Congregationalist Church, is about complete. This church has been completely renovated under the supervision of Mr. A. G. Murray, the gentleman who had the contract for the inside work on the Presbyterian Church. The new plastering and ornamentations on Plymouth Church reflects great credit on the contractor, Mr. Murray, and plainly demonstrates that all interest in church matters are not dead yet, to the otherwise notwithstanding.

LITERARY SOCIETY.—A movement is now on foot, in our city, for the formation of a literary society, which shall embrace the culture of the arts of elocution and debating and the betterment of the esthetic tastes of the members of the society. Already the major portion of our young ladies and gentlemen have signified their intention of becoming members, and the use of a large office has been tendered to those interested, in order to organize and formulate a code for the government of the society. A similar society is in flourishing condition at Olympia, and we see no reason why the originators of this movement shall not be successful. With care in selecting the candidates for admission, Seattle could boast of as finely a cultural literature as any place of the same size on the Pacific coast. That the benefits to be derived would be great by the interchange of thought, on the part of our young people, no one will deny; both the morals and esthetics of our young people would be benefited, and hence, we hope that no obstacles will be thrown in the way of the immediate formation of the society.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.—During the past few days the Commissioners have appropriated $400 for the opening of a road from the east side of Lake Washington to the Snoqualmie river. Mr. Moses Morris was appointed superintendent of the construction of the road. Three hundred dollars in scrip were voted Mr. I. M. Palmer for plans and specifications of a new county court house. Josiah Simmons was voted $400 for work done on the beach road. I. M. Palmer received $150 for superintending construction of county jail. The road petitioned for by Alexander Adair was ordered opened.

PERSONAL.—Among the arrivals on board of the Dakota, were the Hon. H. G. Struve, of Olympia, and our young townsman Matt. Kelly. Both have been spending several months at the Centennial, and among their old friends at the East. Evidently, the climate east of the Rocky Mountains agrees with Washingtonians, else, everybody that returns from thence, would not present such a hearty appearance. Secretary of State Struve will proceed to Olympia upon the departure of the Dakota for that place.

OCEAN MAIL SERVICE.—Hon. H. G. Struve reports to us that the Post Master General informed him, that, upon application of the leading citizens of Washington Territory, the Post Office Department would put on an ocean mail route between San Francisco and Sound ports. The Secretary proposes to immediately circulate a petition for said service among our citizens. Success to his enterprise, say we.

WON.—At the raffle at the Grotto Saloon, last evening, Mr. G. W. Boardman won the music box, valued at $35 by a throw of 44 points.

Arrival of the Dakota.

The following is a memoranda of the P. M. S. S. Co.'s steamship Dakota, H. G. Morse commander, which arrived from San Francisco via Victoria and Port Townsend, yesterday about 4 o'clock p. m.:

First two days out she had heavy northwest gales with very heavy sea; afterwards southeast and southwest winds with much rain and fog. There were 15 cabin and 44 steerage passengers, and 129 tons of cargo for this place; 3 passengers and 20 tons of freight for Tacoma; 6 passengers and 46 tons of freight for Olympia. Passengers—C E Adams and family, Mrs Britton, Miss Bacon, Mrs Peek, A W Bennett F Flalan, A Jennings and wife, C Laggett and wife, Mrs Drew and two children, Mrs Tuttle, S L Maxwell, M A Kelly, M S Norton, Thos Wilson. Consignees—Westoff & Wald, C E Whitworth, J N Coleman, S L Maxwell, H Jones, N S Lockwood, J O Peck, E M Best, John Levy, J H Jamieson, Smith & Jewett, F H Lamb, Seattle Fire Department, S Davis, Ada Blackman T W Prosch, F F Freeman, J Horton, W H Pumphreys, Waddle & Miles, M R Maddox, Pinkham & Saxe, S P Andrews, A Jennings, W A Jennings, Chillberg Bros, W C, S B & Co, M A Kelly, L R, B P & Y, T G W, C & H, Franzenhal Bros, J Collins, J Sullivan, R C Graves, O Naher, Moore & Meal, A F & T Wilson.

Nor O. K.—The Annie Stewart, just before her arrival here Tuesday evening, stopped at Freeport to water, and staid there for the space of four hours. The steamer North Pacific, which arrived here full of passengers for up Sound regions, at 8 1/2 p. m., waited as long as could be, to deliver her passengers to the Stewart. But 'twas to wait in vain. Consequently the passengers of the North Pacific had to bob their heads until it suited the pleasure of the officers of the Annie Stewart to haul up at our dock. Fortunately this action on the part of the Annie Stewart is exceptionable and will happen no more.

SHIPPING.—The ship Tidal Wave sailed yesterday from Port Madison for San Francisco, loaded with lumber. The El Dorado was towed to sea, yesterday, by the steam tug Mastick. The El Dorado carried a cargo of Seattle coal. The brig Tauns, loaded with lumber, cut to order will sail for San Pedro, Cal., to-morrow, under the command of Capt. Williams. She is reported to have been very successful of late in her trade.

CONTESTED ELECTION.—Theodore O. Williams, Democratic nominee for Sheriff of Kitsap county will contest the election of Mr. Geo. Severns, the Republican candidate for that office. The latter received a majority over the former of 13 votes, which Mr. Williams claims to have been illegally received. This will in all probability be a long contested suit, and we doubt the advisability of the proceedings.

A LAUGHABLE INCIDENT.—Our well known Towner, Billy Ballou, was fishing yesterday on Yesler's wharf, and caught a small fish. No sooner had he landed it however, than a cat sprang out from under the wharf and grabbed the fish, taking the line as well, and leaving Billy nothing but his pole as a residuum. The crowd laughed and Billy could do no more than the thing, at the Centennial Saloon.

NEW SOCIETY.—Some of the young gentlemen of Seattle are busy, at present, organizing a society under a charter from San Francisco, entitled the "Jolly Fellows." This society has a membership of over two hundred in Portland, and no doubt will meet here the success it merits, as so many of our young men are jolly, good fellows.

DIVORCE.—Nine cases for divorce are on file in the office of the District Court. That our marital laws need revision, but few will deny. This must occur, or else the rising generation will hold the family relation at so small a value, that the greatest stay of civilization (the family) will lose the reverence that is its due.

STILL LAUGHING.—The passers-by are still detained to laugh at the caricatures in the windows of Post Master elect, John L. Jamieson. Evidently, from what is shown in Johnny's window, Hayes is the poorest of the Republican nominees, on the horn business.

IRREGULAR MALES.—The Government has made a contract for a daily mail service between Tacoma and Seattle, and duly pays for the same. Some may call it a daily mail, but we call it two mails every other day. Last night the mail steamer did not arrive until the "wee sma" hours of morn, when it should have been here at 9 o'clock. See here, Brother Prosch, this will never do. Make the steamboats do what they are paid for doing, or else, bust their contract.

A SUCCESSFUL CANVASS.—W. H. White, Esq., Democratic nominee for Prosecuting Attorney for this district, carried the Third Judicial District by over four hundred majority. Out of the nine counties which comprise the district, Mr. White carried all but one, and only lost that by a majority of one.

HIGH WINDS.—Again old Boreas held high carnival last night, and made everything shake from ground to garret. "Poor Jack" must have had a lively time of it and many a monarch of the forest must have laid low his head.

CONUNDRUM.—Among all the long drawn faces of the Republicans yesterday, why was the longest the sweetest? Because it was Lovely!

From the Daily of Friday.

BELTOWN.—In strolling over that section of the city known as above named, we had but to revert back, but one year to recollect when a half dozen houses constituted almost all of that part of town. To-day an almost continuous line of houses are to be met from the railroad to an eighth of a mile past the home of Alderman Bell. A large two storied schoolhouse shows its proportions in a clearing, in which but a year ago stood the tall trees of the forest. Two grocery stores have, also, been added to that part of town, and just beyond has been built a large ware house and a tolerable good pier, during the past summer. Two new roads have been opened also, one leading along the line of Front street to its intersection with the old Military road that leads to Salmon Bay, the other leads to Lake Union. Before long, we are led to expect, another pier and wharf will be built from the shore to deep water, and another saw mill there will add to the prosperity of Seattle. So fast has the northern end of the city spread out, that the people there demand to be subdivided into another ward and school district. Within the short space of one year we have seen where real estate investors have doubled their money. May these evidences of Seattle prosperity continue.

HARD ROAD TO TRAVEL.—Many are the complaints that reach us as to the condition of the beach road. Twenty inches of muck covers the five hundred dollars' worth of improvements placed upon it, by the county last summer. In fact, the cord wood that corduroys the road along the beach, is fairly afloat. Farmers put off from week to week, their coming into the city, for the reason that the wear and tear on their vehicles would not, in many instances, pay for the profit derived from the sale of their produce. Many say to us, that should a Plank Road Company be formed, they would cheerfully submit to a reasonable toll, could they have any kind of a decent road to ride upon. The value of the Duwamish river trade is no inconsiderable portion of our revenue, and it is for the best interests of the county to have better roadways between the precincts and the emporium. Not only is the bay road in this condition, but so also, are all of our thoroughfares. We merely mention the state of the chief of our roadways, that the inference may be drawn as to the state of the others.

CROSSWALKS.—The condition of our streets are anything but pleasant, but the neglected state of our crosswalks occasions anything but the use of elegant language on the part of our citizens. That the walks might as well be cleaned as not, is patent to everybody. There would be much more pedestrianism in the vicinity of our stores, and consequently, more traffic. We also call attention to the absence of a crosswalk where Front street intersects Mill street, and which want we hope will be soon supplied.

LAND SLIDE.—The top of the hill which overlooks the southern portion of Seattle is gradually working its way down towards its base. The road which was partially cut through it, this last summer and fall, has been filled up by the sliding clay, and some portions have been pushed further down the hill. Our urbane jeweler, Mr. Naher, is threatened with being landed at the bottom of Mill street with his residence and premises. Nature is doing a little hydraulicing on her own account.

GAS LIGHTS.—The wants of the city have grown so in regard to the matter of gas lights, that a further extension of the lamp district is an imperative necessity. After passing Second street, it is no pleasant affair to grope one's way up the hill to Fourth or Fifth streets. The Gas company have had spirit enough to risk their capital on a dubious venture, and the limbs of our citizens are of enough consequence to warrant a little additional expense, in the matter of gas lights.

BARK GRACE ROBERTS.—This vessel, which has been quarantined for the last five days at Port Townsend, arrived in port yesterday with the following cargo: Forty tons of merchandise for Seattle merchants, and 100 tons of railroad iron for the Seattle and Walla Walla R. R. This iron is destined for that branch of the road which runs to the Talbot coal mines. The Grace Roberts, after unloading, will proceed over to Freeport for a cargo of lumber.

S. & W. W. R. R.—The track laying on this road has proceeded as far as the race course, and is being rapidly pushed ahead. Under its present management the road will surely be completed, and become a paying institution.

THE WEATHER.—This most unreliable personage bade fair to deal gently with us yesterday noon, but like his usual character, he went back on us, as the saying goes, and at present bids fair to keep scowling at us all.

NEW CROSSWALK.—Post Master Jamieson and Harbor Master Levy have determined to place a crosswalk across Mill street to their respective stands, and they are the young gentlemen to do what they undertake.

CELEBRATION.—Wah Chong, who has just completed his new store on the corner of Washington and Second streets, celebrated the completion of his store yesterday afternoon by firing innumerable firecrackers thereby.

REPAIRS.—Algar and Nixon are making extensive repairs in the Grotto Saloon. Newly spliced people are generally ambitious to stand at the head of the heap, anyway. Success say we.

NEW LOCALS.—We call attention to the new business notices of Mr. John L. Jamieson, which will be found in another column. Johnny has got the "sand" and deserves to succeed, as he will.

PILE DRIVING.—Mr. A. H. Atkins (profanely called Dick) has just commenced a contract for the driving of one thousand piles on the Puyallup branch of the North Pacific R. R., at Tacoma.

THE RISE.—White and Cedar rivers are daily rising. The latter so much so that its waters are now turned back, and are running into Lake Washington.

NEW OFFICE.—Mr. Campbell, the agent of the new Artificial Stone Company, has moved into his new office in Jackson's Hotel on Commercial street.

CASH.—City Treasurer Rowland reports to us that he received on Wednesday, $1,250 in payment for the Front street improvement, by the tax-payers on that street.

FAST TIME.—The steamer Dakota ran from Port Townsend to Seattle wharves, yesterday, in just three hours and four minutes.

BUSY.—Many of our stores are being refilled by goods which arrived per steamer Dakota.

From the Daily of Saturday.

AN ONEROUS RESPONSIBILITY.—Constable Lytz is still in a deep quandary. His only idea in running for the constableness, was to divide the national onus so as to relieve too much incubus from the shoulders of Tilden and Hendricks. Duly elected he is afraid that with his newly gained responsibility that the auctioneering business will suffer in Seattle.

NEW ENTERPRISE.—Among other new enterprises now in course of organization in Seattle, is the enlargement of the furniture business of Messrs. Hall & Paulson. They are at present engaged in building a new factory on the wharf, at the foot of Commercial street, which will be two stories high and 32 feet by 60 feet in dimensions. In August '74, this firm started business on a small capital, and to-day they are unable to supply the demand of their trade, hence the new building. This enlargement will give employment to twenty additional cabinet makers and upholsterers; and will raise the business of the firm, from a trade of $2,000 per month, to a much larger aggregate. The timber of our low lands have proven themselves to be much more valuable furniture timber than any other wood on the continent. Day by day "the longer what we live the more what we find out."

C. F. ROBINSON.—This Monsignor, who figured about a year ago extensively among the softer sex of Seattle, was lately married at Nanaimo, B. C., and a few days ago left with his bride on a wedding tour for San Francisco. Since then he has not been heard from. He left his creditors, as usual, in the lurch, and great is the gnashing of teeth in Nanaimo. While here he claimed to have come from Rochester, New York, thinking doubtlessly that, coming from those classic shades, he would further his base designs. However, from the descriptions that are now traditional hereabouts, he knew no more of the city of Rochester and its F. F.'s R. than presidential candidates know about the results of the 7th of November. We are sorry for this young man's wickedness, but we are glad that universal cussedness cannot hereafter be located at any one place.

GOING BELOW.—On this trip of the Dakota our young townsman, Mr. M. F. Gourley, who, for the past eighteen months has been studying medicine under the supervision of Dr. Weed, will depart for San Francisco to enter the medical college of that place. Mr. Gourley has worked his own way into the profession, and a touch of human nature makes us wondrous kind. After five years of arduous work in Washington Territory Mr. Gourley goes well prepared to hold his own in the colleges of California. His old friend and teacher feels justified in giving him the best of recommendations, and we feel assured of his success.

FROM THE NORTH.—Steamer Gustie Telfair arrived at Port Townsend on Thursday night, from Nanaimo, and bound for Portland. Among her passengers were a company of soldiers from Fort Wrangel under command of Capt. Josselyn and Lieut. Moore. It is said that the latter gentleman has a very pressing engagement there with a young lady whom everybody admires. Mo(o)re anon.

NEW BUILDING.—Mr. A. G. Murray, our well known contractor, will shortly be compelled to remove from his residence on Commercial street, that a new building may be erected on the ground of his present residence. Capt. Parker, of Freeport, the owner of the lot, proposes to commence building in a few weeks. Thus another brick will be added to the number of business houses on that street.

THE NELLIE.—This steamer arrived in port yesterday afternoon and reports that the Snohomish has risen five feet in the past two days. They also report that many booms of logs have got adrift, and that almost every logger has lost some, thing by the flood.

BOUND UP.—Steamer North Pacific passed off Point No-Point yesterday, the bark Aureola. Ship Grace Darling is loading at Seabeck and bark Forest Queen at Port Ludlow. Bark Anna Fish was towed from off Dungeness to Nanaimo by the tug Tacoma.

DISAGREEABLE.—The condition of our crosswalks occasions another notice from our pencil. Are city funds, now so low that we are obliged to wade to our ankles in mud and slush?

LAUNCH.—The new barkentine that has just been completed at Ludlow was set afloat on Wednesday, and will immediately go into the Pacific coast trade.

CONTESTED ELECTION.—Sheriff Williams of Kitsap county sent for a list of naturalized citizens of our county on Wednesday, and from what we understand, is in a fair way to successfully contest the election of his Republican opponent. That there were many frauds in the election of Kitsap county, there is no room to doubt. The following are a portion of the laws of Washington Territory in regard to contested elections, and appearances tend to show that Sheriff Williams will be successful in his suit.—Section 1. Any elector of the proper county may contest the right of any person declared duly elected to an office to be exercised in and for such county; and also any elector of a precinct may contest the right of any person declared duly elected to any office in and for such precinct, for any of the following causes: Sec. 6. When any such elector shall choose to contest the right of any person declared duly elected to such office, he shall within ten days after such person shall have been declared elected to such office, file with the county auditor a written statement setting forth specially: 2. The name of the person whose right is contested. 3. The office. 4. The particular cause or causes of such contest, which statement shall be verified by the affidavit of the contesting party, that the matters and things therein contained are true, as he verily believes, Sec. 7. When the reception of illegal votes is alleged as a cause of contest, it shall be sufficient to state, generally, that illegal votes were cast, which, if given to the person whose election is contested in the specified precinct or precincts, will, if taken from him, reduce the number of his legal votes below the number of legal votes given to some other person for the same office; but no testimony shall be received of any illegal votes, unless the party contesting such election shall deliver to the opposite party, at least three days before such trial, a written list of the number of illegal votes and by whom given, which he intends to prove on such trial, and no testimony shall be received of any illegal votes, except such as are specified in such list.

RACING.—On December second there will be a running race at the Seattle course which occasions a great deal of local interest. The competing horses, are a sorrel owned by Mr. McNaught, of Duwamish river, and a brown owned by Mr. Frank Stone. It will be a quarter of a mile dash, for fifty dollars a side, play or pay. The cars of the S. & W. W. R. R. will be run to the track on the day of the race, and this will be the first opportunity, on the part of our citizens, for a ride on that road. No gate money will be taken, hence the only expense will be, the fare to and from the course. On Monday preceding Christmas there will be another race, and on New Year's day, there will be a free race to all, for all horses of Washington Territory. The course has lately changed hands, Mr. W. C. Pettyjohn having taken a lease of the place for the next two years. This ensures honest treatment to the lovers of the turf, and a prompt expose of all put up jobs in racing matters. Mr. Pettyjohn is determined to bring the reputation of this track up to the highest notch, and we have no doubt of his ability and determination to carry out his intent. Mr. Stone was in town yesterday, with his brown horse, which was the center of attraction for the lovers of horse flesh of the place. Horse racing has its drawbacks, but nothing so aids the breeding of good stock as much as the love of the pomp of the race course.

PERS ONAL.—Judge Lewis, District Attorney McConaha, and lawyers Hall, Hanford and Burk returned from the term of court which has just been held at Snohomish city, yesterday. Nothing out of the general run of court business occurred during the term, but all of our townsmen express their happiness at getting back to the land of the just.

CHARTERED.—Mr. R. P. Shoecraft of Olympia, has chartered the tug Black Diamond to carry forward his supplies for his logging camp, on the Snohomish. Mr. Shoecraft is an energetic worker, and we wish him the full measure of his worth, in his winter's work.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Go to W. G. JAMIESON'S and get a pair of spectacles. He has them both magnifying and diminishing so you can read election returns to suit yourself.

Now that the worry of the election is all over with, the next best thing to do is to cool off by calling on Jack Levy and getting one of his superior cigars.

ALTHOUGH Jack was defeated for Wreckmaster, you can still find him at his Grotto Cigar Stand ready and willing to hand out a good cigar or plug of tobacco.

FRED BAKER has some splendid cigars, and excellent brands of tobacco, pipes, cigar holders, pocket cutlery, etc. European Drafts.—Drafts sold on all the principal cities of Europe, by Andrew Chilberg at the store of Chilberg Brothers.

LEGAL BLANKS of every description at John L. Jamieson's.

Call for Jessie Moores Extra Pony Old Bourbon, in brass bound cask and silver fast. The only place that you can get it in is the CENTENNIAL HALL, foot of Mill street.

FRED STAND is the place to get the best cigars in the city. Give him a call.

STILL A FALLING.—Schwabacher Bros. & Co. are now selling 16 yards of Strandard prints for $1.

DANCE.—There will be a regular Saturday Soiree, under the direction of C. G. Steinweg, on Saturday evening, at Reinig's Hall.

It is now a stated fact that the White House, of Seattle, has as fine and well-selected a stock of fall and winter dry goods, clothing, and fancy goods, and especially ladies' trimmed hats, and fully as cheap as any house in this city.

EVERYBODY rushes to the Centennial Saloon for the finest brands of liquors and cigars. The only agent for Moore & Hunt's Pony Whisky, also San Francisco Beer, better than English ale, and Steilacoom and Seattle Lager Beer, always on tap.

ANY person in need of a good nurse, can be accommodated by leaving orders at Mrs. Plummer's. Also sewing in families.

Humboldt, Steilacoom, Seattle, and St. Louis Lager Beer ONLY at the CITY BEER HALL.
