

REMARKABLE CASE OF ENRIGANCE OF A WOMAN LOST IN THE WOODS.—A Mrs. Moore, a lady of some fifty years of age, who resides near Three-Tree Point on the Sound, left home on Thursday the 7th inst. to go to Mr. Dugan on White River, in this county, a distance of four miles, and being caught in the blinding snow storm of that day, became bewildered, and lost her way. She wandered about for seven days in the woods before she was found, without anything to eat, and sleeping at night in a snowdrift. She had a heavy shawl and a U. S. Regulation overcoat to protect her from the inclemency of the weather. Two days accompanied her, one of which left on the fourth day, the other remaining with her until she was found. At night the faithful animal slept on her feet, which, undoubtedly, did much to keep her from being frozen. Although diligent and persevering search was made, it was several days after her tracks were first discovered before she was found. At length, on the seventh day, she was discovered lying in a hollow tree, with the dog at her feet, and one shoe filled with water by her side that she had carried into her retreat to drink. She was only half of a mile from the road and a mile and a half from a house when she was found. On being asked if she was hungry, she replied that she was not; but after arriving at the house and being given some gruel, it had to be taken from her to prevent her eating too much. When taken away she begged pitifully for more. As nothing as it may seem, she endured the severe cold and hunger without any apparently serious or permanent injury. We have not been able to obtain a minute account of her movements while lost, but it doubtless would verify the adage that "truth is stranger than fiction."

ROBBERY.—The store of Dr. J. Williams of this place was entered on Tuesday night last while he was absent, and the money drawer buried open and robbed of about $300 in greenbacks, $10 in gold and silver coin, a finger ring with the doctor's initials, J. W., engraved on the outside, a couple of gold sleeve buttons similarly marked, a specimen gold breast-plate, the pin of which was silver, a gold specimen worth three dollars, and one worth two dollars which had been smelted and was about one-half alloy. As yet no clue has been obtained to the perpetrators of the robbery.

The bark George Washington went aboard on Dugan's Spit on the night of the 28 inst. during a severe gale. She could not get off and will be an entire loss. The ship Mary Glover was blown on the rocky shore near Port Discovery, and sustained serious injury. The Locomotive was ashore at Point-a-Point, but got off without being damaged.

The Nicholas Biddie has arrived at Port Madison where she will receive repairs. The Oakland has also arrived at Madison and the Oak Hill at Blakely.

The Oregon City Enterprise says: the paper mill at that place will probably commence the manufacture of printing paper in the course of three months.

We would respectfully call attention to the apices, in another column, of the commencement of the second quarter of the present term of the University of Washington Territory.

We have received several communications this week which we have not had time to examine. They will be attended to hereafter.

THE INHERITANCE. BY REV. A. V. McGUIRE. Beyond the mists that shut death's silent stream, Whence we spirits pass from mortal sight, There is a land no lunatic eye hath seen, A land all fair and beautifully bright. And there all met who led this life's grief and sin, Who sought the light of heaven's immortal day, Who pined their lives in sorrow, locked to Him, Who raised them up at last to His abode.

Here friends shall meet who parted long before, In tears and sadness, suffering and pain; O! happy greeting on the other shore, In all the future 'ne'er to part again. There families meet that death had scattered wide, There sorrow like a stream had passed away, And now they dwell in safety, side by side, In all the glory of their eternal day. And hark! it sings as it were a new song Before the throne of God's eternal love, And rapture thrills the radiant countenances through— A voice unknown to all save those above. A mother's voice, who once accents linger now In memory, like a sweet, sweet melody of praise; A crown of glory sits upon the brow, That pressed my own in a childhood's happy days. And oft I think, shall I last be there? Shall all that I loved again be given To my embrace, and shall I ever share With them the bright inheritance of heaven? Lord, lead me safe to the world of holiness, Lift my poor soul to everlasting life, And bring me near to everlasting joys. To friends and heaven, and never ending joys. Seattle, March 4th, 1867.

Ferguson, was appointed upon motion to cause Solomonish and Kitan counties to solicit subscriptions or loans of money to be used under the direction of the County Commissioners of King county, in building of the wagon road from Black River in King county, to the Yakima Valley in Yakima county, by way of Spokane and the Sammamish Pass. JOHN J. MCGILVRA, Secretary.

Organized the evening of March 7th, and the following officers were first installed: S. O. Whitmore, W. C. T.; George McLain, W. V. T.; O. J. McCallum, S. L. P.; W. T. F. Fred Freeman, W. P. S.; N. Shaw, W. O.; Ross McLean, W. J. G.; Wm. Gore, W. O. G.

A GERMAN ANECDOTE.—The German journals relating the following anecdote: "Saxhausen is one of the suburbs of Frankfurt, and is partly occupied by gardeners, who are considered, rightly or wrongly, to be a clownish lot. When the Prussian troops entered the city every house was obliged to billet one or two soldiers. The inhabitants of Saxhausen acquitted themselves of this duty with a very bad grace and one of them showed such manifest signs of ill will toward his guest that the latter, when he had done duty, and his sword played him, placed his sword on the table by his side, with a very significant gesture. The countryman said nothing, but left the room and returned in a moment with an enormous pitchfork, which he laid down beside the soldier, and said, 'I am not a clown, but the other quietly observed, "I thought that for so big a knife a big fork was required. If you like we will make use of our own implements. This was all the satisfaction the son of Mars could obtain, so he thought fit to put his sword away in the corner of the kitchen, while the other withdrew the pitchfork."

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS IN BUSINESS.—When you find a man doing more business than you are, look at the advertisements he has in the newspapers. The business man who puts his sign in a newspaper does better than to fasten it over his store—and who would he be thinking that? He who advertises, informs the public that he desires to trade, and his card in the newspapers is an invitation to his customers to come and do so. Where one person reads a sign in the street, five hundred read it in the newspaper. No matter how well a business man is known, he can always pick up new customers if he will take the pains to advertise.

Mr. Harriet was President of a gold mining company in New York city. The company over-issued its stock to the amount of $50,000, and the fraud was discovered. Mr. H. took a heavy dose of strychnine to end his troubles, but it saved his life, but his reason was lost. He is now a raving maniac in a lunatic asylum. Mr. Harriet resided at White Plains, was an influential member of the Methodist Church, and had been considered an upright man.

It was a judicious resolution of a father as well as a most pleasing compliment to his wife on being asked what he intended to do with his girls, he replied: "I intend to connect them with the excellent mothers of that they may learn the art of improving wives, and be fitted to become like her, wives, mothers, heads of families and useful members of society."

The revolving ship theory is to be reduced to practice. It will be remembered that the invention consists of a ship so constructed as to roll over the surface of the water, instead of being forced through it. It is stated that there are in the human voice about nine perfect tones but 17,592, 044,418 different sounds. Surely it is no wonder that there is a little discord in the world!

"Shall ladies have votes?" asked a stump speaker. "Certainly," replied a strong-minded woman in the audience. "Is woman made only to sew on buttons? And, if she is, it is against the law of nature to turn away the needle from the poll."
