

THE SEATTLE GAZETTE.

SEATTLE, W. T., APRIL 12, 1864.

PRINCIPLES AND PARTY DOGMAS.

Party fealty, in some people, is so strong as to exclude every patriotic emotion which does not strictly conform to the articles of their party creed and prejudices. When such men have once made up their opinions upon a question, they never change; their narrow minds are so completely occupied with their favorite doctrines that there is no room for a single ray of conviction, or a new idea. The impressions they have received, no matter how, are fastened upon as infallible principles, and however erroneous or absurd, everything else is measured by their standard. Principles are, indeed, infallible and eternal; but the doctrines of a party, called into being by ever varying circumstances, though commonly so styled, can no more be called principles, than a cotton string, dipped in tallow, can properly be called light. A party may have measures and opinions, which may or may not accord with principles, and be applicable or not to the emergencies of their day and generation, but they are, at best, but the judgements of men concerning principles, and are as various as the minds which produced, and as fleeting as the occasion which begat them. How absurd then, to prate of the immutable principles of party and how vain to cling to their creeds as an infallible rule of measurement for human society or government. "Wise men change their opinions, fools never do," is a proverb old and true, and had there not been wise men enough in every age of the world to have kept pace with, or in advance of the progressive tendencies of humanity, the earth had never known anything better than despots, kings and slavery.

Our country is now engaged in a civil war; the events of an hour may so change the whole face of public affairs that the policy of yesterday may be wholly impracticable to-day. What avails the fossilized ideas, which parties set up as infallible guides, in such cases? and who but bigots and traitors would cling wholly to the stale dictates of party creeds in these emergencies? The ship of State is ever moving on in new and untried seas; fixed principles may be consulted in reference to her proper course and guidance, with advantage; but except so far as experience has deduced an unerring rule, the past cannot be safely relied on. The issues which divided the political parties of this country a few years since have irrevocably passed away; the war has completely demolished them; yet we find men squaring their ideas of public policy and measuring the conduct of government, under the new order of things, by the antiquated dogmas of defunct parties. What must be thought of such men? Nothing; they are not worth a thought, nor their opinions a refutation. They need only be restrained from overt acts of damage to the cause of civilization, until the resistless principle of progress, against which they blindly stand arrayed, shall sweep them and their obstructive theories from the land.

The "Inspector" of the Wilderness, at last accounts, was sorely exercised concerning the condition of Ollapod's "brains." He can afford to be troubled about other people's brains, since he has none of his own to trouble him.

THE BOISE MINES IN THE EAST.—A New York correspondent of the Walla Walla Statesman says, a great excitement prevails in the East, about the Boise Mines, and that the emigration, this Spring, for that El Dorado, will be legion upon legion.

FEMALE COMPOSITORS.—In a late discussion of the subject of employing females to set type, the editor of a Napa (Cal.) paper said: "We have two daughters, and intend if they live to a proper age, to make them both accomplished compositors. A liberal course of types will teach them many things better worth knowing than how to murder French or torture a piano. If they have any brains, they will be proud of being both independent and useful; if unfortunately they have not, we can restore them to the customary employment of miss-dom—working red-worsted dogs, chatting nonsense and spoiling water-colors." Type-setting is an occupation well calculated for females, is not so unhealthy or laborious as sewing or washing clothes, and is of a nature to elevate and instruct the mind beyond any employment now followed by females.—There is no reason why it should not be more universally adopted by them than it is at present. Much of the composition in the New England States is now performed by females; its general adoption by them in the larger cities of the North would tend greatly to ameliorate their condition. We decidedly favor their introduction as printers.—P. S. Herald.

And so do we; and this is why Ollapod has no objection to take half a dozen of the fifty lovely emigrants to arrive from the east. He wants six of the youngest and smartest. Some folks were green enough to think he wanted to marry them all.

GREETINGS.—The following greetings were exchanged between the Mayors of Portland, Oregon, and Portland, Maine, a few days after the completion of the Oregon telegraph:

PORTLAND, March 1st, 1864.

To Mayor of the City of Portland, Maine:—Portland of the Pacific to Portland of the Atlantic—the younger to the elder sister—one in name. May they ever be united in the preservation of our common country and its liberties.

DAVID LOGAN, Mayor.

PORTLAND, Me., March 8th, 1864.
(Rec'd 9th, 1.30 P. M.)

David Logan, Mayor:—Portland, Maine, to Portland, Oregon, this morning greets her fair sister. The floods clap their hands, the hills shout for joy! Let the sun in all his course witness our undiminished love and sleepless vigilance, as we keep the gates of the Republic.

JACOB McLELLAN,
Mayor of Portland, Me.

The ship Iconium, Marston, Master, will leave for San Frisco on Friday or Saturday, with 400,000 feet of lumber. Fair winds, and plenty of "duff" go with you, Capt. Marston.

The bark Geo. Washington, S. N. Greenleaf, Master, fourteen days from San Francisco, arrived in port on Thursday last, with merchandize for Olympia and Seattle.

There is a class of good women who have no right to marry good men, for they have the power of saving those who would go to ruin but for the guiding providence of a good wife.

At a fashionable up town hotel in New York, the board of pet dogs has been fixed at one dollar per day.

At a concert recently, at the conclusion of the song, "There's a Good time Coming," a country farmer got up and exclaimed, "Mister, you couldn't fix the date, could you?"

How important the loss of a single letter may become is seen by the following example:

A printer putting to press a form of the Common Prayer, the c in the following passage dropped out unperceived by him:—"We shall all be changed in the twinkling of an eye." When the book appeared, to the horror of the devout worshipper, the passage read, "We shall all be hanged in the twinkling of an eye."

LATE EASTERN NEWS!

DATES TO MARCH 31st.

New York, March 29.—The Post's special says an attempt will soon be made in Congress to reduce the volume of currency by taxing the circulation of the State banks.

A Times letter says rebel General Stuart recently made an extensive attempt for the destruction of the Orange and Alexandria railroad, but his plans were frustrated by the thoughtfulness of our cavalry, under Pleasanton.

Col. Bryan succeeded, while watching the movements of the rebels, in capturing over 40 of them.

He destroyed four rebel tanneries full of hides, four grist mills, a saw mill and a large number of rafts and boats, intended to be used by Stuart in crossing the river.

A rebel scout was captured at Ely's ford—he was dressed in Federal uniform. On being tried by drum-head court martial, he stated that Lee had given orders to strip all the bodies of Union soldiers, and that the only clothing which the rebels had for some time was obtained in this way.

The Tribune's special says it is understood that the Committee of Ways and Means will recommend a tax of one dollar on spirits, to take effect in May instead of July, and will also recommend a heavy tax on tobacco.

Judge Pierson, of North Carolina, in a habeas corpus case recently before him, decided that the recent act of the rebel Congress, to conscript persons who have furnished substitutes for the war, was unconstitutional.

Cairo, March 27.—Dispatches say that 150 rebels were killed at Paducah, and 11 Federals, including seven negroes, killed in the fort by rebel sharpshooters. The assaulting force is said not to be more than 1,000, without artillery. Our forces had just been paid one year's service at Union City, and lost by the surrender, in money to the soldiers, about $60,000.

Rebels left Paducah at 3 o'clock, Saturday 26th, going in the direction of Columbus. Rebel dispatches say that the Federal loss was 25 killed and 36 wounded: rebel loss, 300 killed and 1,000 wounded. Rebel General A. P. Thompson killed.

Washington, March 27.—In the House, Stevens, of Pennsylvania, offered a joint resolution proposing a new article for the Constitution, which, when ratified by the requisite number of States, shall be as valid as part of the Constitution, to wit:

"Slavery or involuntary servitude, except for punishment of crime, whereof parties shall be first convicted, is forever prohibited in the United States and all the Territories; and so much of the article of section eleven of the Constitution as refers to the delivering up of persons owing service or labor and escaping into another State, be annulled.

Holmen, of Indiana, objected to its second reading, the question recurring: shall the resolution be rejected? This was determined in the negative, by a vote of 69 to 39. Holman raised the point that the vote not being two-thirds as required, that the result in effect was the rejection of the question. The speaker overruled the objection. The resolution was then read a second time. Stevens then withdrew a part of the proposition annulling the fugitive slave clause, but further proceedings were interrupted by Washburn announcing the death of Owen Lovejoy.

Chicago, March 29.—The Senate debated yesterday the special order of the day, namely, the joint resolution to amend the Constitution so as to forever prohibit slavery or involuntary servitude unless for crime. No action taken.

New York, March 29.—The obsequies of Owen Lovejoy took place yesterday, in Brooklyn. His body will be taken to Princeton for burial.

Indications are that Grant desires McClellan and Fremont to have commands. Reports from Richmond state that the rebel plans are formed for the reclamation of Tennessee and Kentucky.

Jeff Davis believes Richmond impregnable, and the bulk of the rebel forces will be concentrated at the west, where they intend to reoccupy Chattanooga, West Ohio, and again close the Mississippi.

Milwaukee, March 28.—The Union Convention at Madison to-day, elected delegates to the Baltimore Convention, and unanimously instructed them to go for Lincoln as the nominee.

St. Louis, March 28.—A special from Charlestown, Coles county, Illinois, says the Copperheads came into that town to attend court yesterday with guns concealed in their wagons, and armed with pistols. Some of the soldiers in the court yard were drawn into an affray and a general fight occurred. The county sheriff sprang from the Judge's stand and commenced firing his pistol at Union men. The Union men being outnumbered at the court house, ran to the adjoining houses and began to search for arms and they were firing from doors and windows. Ten or twelve were wounded. Col. Mitchell, of the 54th Illinois, was wounded, with several soldiers of the same regiment. Several companies of the same regiment arrived in the afternoon and were formed around the court house. Detachments were sent in pursuit of the Copperheads, about seven miles distant. About twenty of the prominent secessionists implicated in the affair are under arrest.

Cairo, March 30.—The troubles in Coles county were more serious than at first reported. A force sent from Mattoon pursued the insurgents, who left Charleston, and succeeded in capturing 30 persons. They were brought to Mattoon, when the Copperheads from the adjoining counties collected and avowed the purpose of releasing their friends. Reports are as yet obscure, but it is known that a considerable force is entrenched 12 miles from Charleston, under command of the sheriff of Coles county. He has been joined by a band of desperadoes from Edgar county, under command of the sheriff of that county. A spy sent out by the insurgents was captured in the vicinity of Mattoon, in the afternoon. He confesses that there is a large force of rebels at Copachin's Mills, ten miles south, and another force eight miles west of Mattoon. The 41st Illinois has been ordered from Camp Chase.

Dispatches from Mattoon dated midnight say scouts just in, report a force of 1,500 rebels within three miles of that place; an attack is expected to-night. It is believed that with the united efforts of the citizens and soldiers, the place will be held until the arrival of reinforcements in the morning. The excitement is intense. The number of insurgents is probably exaggerated.

Louisville, March 31.—The rebels are concentrating at Pound Gap, under Buckner, and they have collected five days' rations and forage, and it is supposed that an extensive raid will be made into Kentucky. The rebel forces which evacuated Bull's Gap have since moved north, either to join Longstreet or to effect a junction with Buckner.

New York, 31.—Hilton Head advices of the 24th mentioned an attack by the rebels with a flotilla of gunboats. Pulaski, Florida has been occupied by a small detachment of our forces, and a small steamer, called the Sumter, was captured there.

GOV. PARKER'S DEFENSE OF THE WAR

The Democratic chief magistrate of the State of New Jersey, in his message, administers a pill to the peace-ranting copper-heads, thus:

"Some believe that war will destroy all hopes of Union. They maintain that it is best for the interests of the whole country that our armies should be withdrawn, that the flow of blood should be permitted to cease before both sections become entirely exhausted; that with the withdrawal of our armies reason would resume its sway, and the South, if permitted to depart in peace, would at some future time voluntary return to the Union. The policy they recommend however sincerely entertained, would certainly result in perpetual disunion, and we would emerge from the present war, only to be involved in other conflicts not less bloody, which would inevitably flow from secession. The withdrawal of our armies would be a confession of weakness, and the Confederacy would at once be acknowledged by foreign powers. A people who would sunder the ties which bound them to the Union, and endure so much in the effort to establish an independent government, after attaining the object, would never voluntarily surrender their nationality. No such instance is on record. What result such action might have accomplished before the destruction of so much life, and the desolation of so many homes, we will never know. The withholding of men and the withdrawal of our armies now, would be equivalent to surrendering the Union forever. The way to peace which they propose, would not only lead to continual war but to the overthrow of our system of government. The right of secession once acknowledged, the remaining States would soon be subdivided into petty provinces, and involved in endless warfare, would finally become the prey of some ambitious conqueror. It is the duty of the State authorities to furnish the men necessary to destroy the armed power of the rebellion.

Men who have a dozen irons in the fire are not the ones to go crazy. It is the man of voluntary or compelled leisure who mopes and pines, and thinks himself into the mad house or the grave. Motion is all nature's law. Action is man's salvation, physical and mental. And yet nine out of ten are wistfully looking forward to the coveted hour when they shall have leisure to do nothing, or something only if they feel like it—the very siren that has lured to death many a successful man. He is only truly wise who lays himself out to work till life's latest hour, and that is the man who will live the happiest and to the best purpose.

FIVE DEATHS AT A TIME.—A Frenchman resolved to get rid of life, went a little before high tide, to a post by the seaside. He had provided himself with a ladder, a rope, a pistol, a bundle of matches and a vial of poison. Ascending the ladder, he tied one end to the post, and the other end around his neck, then he took the poison, set his clothes on fire, put the muzzle of his pistol to his head, and kicked away the ladder.—In kicking down the ladder, he snapped the pistol so that the ball missed his head and cut the rope by which he was suspended; he fell into the sea, thus extinguishing the flames of his clothes, and the sea-water which he involuntarily swallowed, counteracted the poison, and a wave washed him ashore; thus, in spite of his precautions, he remained unharmed, unshot, unpoisoned, unburned and undrowned!

HOW TOOMBS CAN REALIZE HIS PROPHECY.—Some years ago the Georgia Senator, in his mad enthusiasm on the prospects of the extension of slavery, declared that he expected to see the day when he should be able to call the roll of his slaves under the shadow of the Bunker Hill monument. J. M. Botts has lately suggested a mode of realizing this famous prophecy. He says if the President will let Mr. Toombs visit the North, the latter will find most of his slaves there before him, and collect them and call the roll and no harm done.

The total valuation of taxable property in the city of Sacramento, is $5,917,580 of which $150,655 is assessed as property whose owner is not known. The city tax is 12 mills on the dollar.

SEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS' WORTH

Of Pictures, Photographic Albums, Portfolios, Books, Portraits of Eminent Generals and Statesmen, of the United States.

TO BE GIVEN AWAY
TO THE PATRONS OF THE SEATTLE GAZETTE.

The increasing business and importance of Seattle demand an enlargement and improvement of the GAZETTE, and in order to enable the proprietors to purchase a new and larger printing press, several friends of the paper have offered to furnish them with the goods enumerated below to be distributed gratuitously among 400 persons who may think proper to become subscribers to the SEATTLE GAZETTE for six months at the regular subscription price of Two DOLLARS in advance. The articles are all genuine as represented, and the difference between the wholesale price at which they are furnished, and the regular retail price at which they are valued in the list, with a small profit on subscriptions, will, it is hoped, help secure the desired object, while the goods will be a free gift to the subscribers. The number of the gifts are four hundred—one for each subscriber to the paper. Every person sending Two DOLLARS to the office of the GAZETTE or paying the same to any authorized Agent, will receive a printed receipt for the money, which receipt shall be a certificate that the holder is entitled to one share in the Gifts.

The Gifts will be distributed by a Committee of five persons chosen from among the subscribers, on the 93d day of April next,

Provided the required number of subscribers are obtained by that time; if not, as soon thereafter as the number may be made up, of which due notice will be given.

That everything may be fairly and satisfactorily done, in case the number of subscriptions are not obtained by the time of distribution, a proportionate number of the Gifts will be withdrawn from the List by the Distributing Committee, in the same manner and by the same impartial process which regulates the distribution of the Gifts to subscribers.

List of Principal Gifts:

UNIVERSITY
Of Washington Territory.

THE UNIVERSITY established at SEATTLE on Puget Sound by Legislative Enactment and in accordance with an Act of Congress approved July 17th 1854, being completed, now opens its doors to all those who desire to avail themselves of the facilities it affords for acquiring a thorough acquaintance with the common and higher English branches, and also the usual Collegiate course of Study.

The Board of Regents have recently elected W. C.
Barnard, A. M., President of the University. Mr.
Barnard is a graduate of Dartmouth College, and was for two years at the head of one of the most flourishing Academies of New England. His subsequent experience as Principal of La Creole Academy at Dalles Oregon, and still later, the reputation he acquired while connected with the Willamette University at Salem, as a thorough teacher and disciplinarian, justify the expectation that the University of Washington Territory under his management, will rank second to none on the Pacific Coast.

CALENDAR.

The School Year will be divided into four Session
of eleven weeks each:
First or Fall Session opens, Sept. 7, 1863,
Second or Winter Session opens Nov. 30, 1863,
Third or Spring Session opens February 15, 1864,
Fourth or Summer Session, opens May 9th, 1864.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The studies that each scholar shall pursue, will be determined by the instructors, while the wishes of the patrons will be complied with, so far as they may not conflict with the systematic progress of the student. All will be required to pursue Reading, Orthography, Writing, Geography and Mental Arithmetic, or pass a satisfactory examination in the same before engaging in more advanced studies. Classes formed at the commencement of the Fall Term, will continue without interruption through the year, or until the subjects considered shall have been mastered.
It is therefore very desirable that those purposing to join the School, do so at the commencement of the year, as those coming later must join classes already formed.

DISCIPLINE.

No student will be allowed to retain a connection with the school whose habits are such as to render him an unfit companion, or who will not render a ready compliance with the regulations of the School.
Frequenting of saloons, and attendance upon theatres and balls, are not allowed, but students are required to be at their respective places of abode at stated hours. A respectful observance of the Sabbath is required.

BOARD.

A limited number of Students can be accommodated at the Boarding House on the University grounds, by making immediate application, while a few can find accommodations in private families in the town.
Price of Board $3 to $4 per week—washing, lights and fuel, extra.
