THE RAIN.

A wonderful thing is the rain!
A charmer whose magic never is vain.
It says to the buried flowers, Come forth!
It wakes into beauty the sad old earth;
To the violets hidden, Arise, it saith,
And life awakes in the heart of death.
Gladness and beauty are in its train.
Oh, a wonderful thing is the April rain!

A wonderful thing is the rain!
Earth never tires of its sweet refrain.
The songs of the ages pass away,
And the world is weary and worn to-day.
Vainly have poets dreamed and sung,
But the world of nature is ever young;
Earth still rejoices in sun and dew,
And the song of the rain is forever new.

A wonderful thing is the rain!
Earth's sweetest harmonies meet in its strain;
The soother of sorrow, the ease of strife,
Weaving its rhythm in every life.
Through sleepless nights, with its silver chime,
Winging the weary wheels of time,
Oh wonderful singer! in grief or glee
Who can speak to the heart like thee?

A wonderful thing is the rain!
Linked to the spirit's joy or pain,
Joyous and hopeful, or sad and low,
All as the heart's deep fountains flow.
But deeper and stronger the spell that flings
Its light or shadow on earthly things—
There is the alchemist's mystic art,
A wonderful thing is the human heart!

THE SUICIDES OF A DAY.—A French journal gives the following list of suicides, or attempts at suicide, in Paris, proceeding from love of one kind or another, in a single day. Mr. B., a Florentine by birth, destroyed himself with carbonic acid gas, because he could not endure the refusal of a young lady whom he passionately loved. Another person, also an Italian, flung himself out of the six-story window of a house because he experienced a similar refusal. Another, M. August V., having lost, a few days previously, a wife to whom he was devotedly attached, at two o'clock in the day he went to the grave where his wife was buried, and after a long prayer he drew forth a pistol and shot himself in the heart. He left eight children. Edouard F., a young man, aged nineteen, was seized as he was about to throw himself into the Seine, because he felt weary of life since the death of his mother.

TOBACCO.—There are about thirty species of tobacco, all possessing nearly the same properties. It is said the plant was first found in Yucatan. It was taken to Spain and from thence to Portugal. From Portugal it was carried to different European kingdoms. Snuff taking commenced in Paris, Catherine de Medicis, whose name has an unpleasant history, from its connection with the massacre of Protestants, being its first patron. Soon after the settlement of America, it became an important article of commerce, and one hundred and twenty pounds was the stipend paid for a wife by some of the early settlers of Virginia.

A son of Neptune, who was in the habit of quarrelling with his better half, was one day remonstrated with by the minister of the parish, who told him that he and his wife ought to live on more amicable terms, as they were both one. "One!" said the old salt, shifting his quid; "If you should come by the house, sometimes, blast my tarry top-lights if you wouldn't think we were about twenty."

WHAT THE TIDE DOES.—A gentleman walking along the docks had his attention directed to the floating church. "Ab, very unstable principles here—a change every twenty-four hours!" he exclaimed. "Listen, you couldn't see it, and asked how that could be; and was answered, 'Don't you see it's High Church or Low Church according to the state of the tide?'"

QUEEN VICTORIA'S visit to Scotland, by special train and all the special arrangements cost £1500 for the single journey. Her Majesty's traveling expenses to and from Scotland this year will amount to £6000. When the Queen travels by land her Majesty pays her own charges; when by sea, the expenses are paid by the country through the Admiralty department.

"SIR" said an old physician to a shallow youth, who had been assailing him with a string of foolish impertinences, "I cannot be angry with you, for I see you have an incurable disease." "An incurable disease? Good Heavens, Doctor, what is it?" "You are a fool."

A letter from an officer of our army on the Rio Grande says that the Liberals in Mexico recently captured some ex-rebel officers, who were fighting for the Imperialists, and hung four of them for attempting to escape.

With a little house well filled, a little land well tilled, a little wife well willed, a husband well skilled, and servants well drilled—a little time may be well killed.

HISTORY OF PLAGUES.

It was in 1665 that the great plague devastated London. It appeared in Europe forty-five times during the seventeenth century, but it only raged violently in England three or four times during that period.—About the time of the plague a disease prevailed called the "plague of the intestines," similar to the Indian cholera. In 1829 the plague broke out in the Russian army in Bulgaria, and cholera soon afterwards appeared in the Russian southern provinces. During the Crimean war there was a malignant fever, similar to the plague, in Odessa, and the cholera broke out at the same time in the Russian army. The recent plague in St. Petersburg came from the north of the Himalayas, and passed through Tartary and Siberia to European Russia, the same route which the plague followed in 1333, when it destroyed a fourth of the population of Europe and three-fourths of that of England. It is singular that while the plague was passing through Russia, recently, the cholera broke out in Arabia, passed through Egypt, on to Constantinople, Jerusalem, Malta and Tuscany and even reached Marseilles and Paris. In 1832, 1834, 1849, and 1854 the cholera visited the United States. From 1849 to 1852 a particular epidemic prevailed in Europe and America. Since 1854 the prevailing diseases in America have been in the lungs, throat, and nasal passages, and influenza, pneumonia and consumption have been destructive. During 1856 and 1857 diphtheria was fatal. From 1661 to 1664 the diseases prevalent in England were ague; from 1664 to 1666 lung affections and the plague; from 1667 to 1669, smallpox and fever; from 1669 to 1672, cholera and dysentery; from 1673 to 1675, measles, cough and catarrh. During the second quarter of the present century, there was a tendency to diarrhea and diseases of choleric character, which were more fatal from 1827 to 1831. Diarrhea continued fatal up to 1837. A pestilence follows low levels, made lands, places where sewerage is defective, where population is crowded, as in tenement-houses; where debauchery prevails, as in brothels and liquor-houses; and where various exhalations arise. An epidemic is fearful, because its movements seem to be almost incomprehensible. Its mystery constitutes its terribleness. For a time it supersedes other diseases, or somehow combines with them, complicating their symptoms, and after it has apparently disappeared, its peculiar influence often remains, till a new cycle begins, and some other disease takes the lead. The plague and the cholera, at those periods of their destructiveness, when their character was most unequivocally exhibited, it has been observed, generally terminated the existence of their victims, and, often, without the accompaniment of pain. Few perished, except those who had, by age, exposure, fear, or in some other manner, lowered the tone of their vitality, and then the hand of death touched them gently.

SELF-SACRIFICE for the benefit of one's family or country, is held in China to be a merit of the highest order. In cases where substitution is allowed, there is no difficulty in finding an innocent man to be executed, who sells himself for about a hundred ounces of silver ($150 to $300), and so provides for his widow and family. A case is well authenticated of a distinguished literary graduate who wrote a petition to the emperor representing the grievances of his people, who were in a state of insurrection. The grievances were acknowledged and redressed but their eloquent exponent delivered himself to the mandarins to be dealt with as the authorities should deem fit. The nails were torn from his fingers as a punishment for having written the petition, and he was ordered for execution, and was decapitated. A temple was built in his honor, and a pension awarded by the people to his family. And every body seemed satisfied that everything right and proper was done on the occasion.

A curious divorce case has recently attracted attention. The facts briefly are these: Gabriella lives unhappily with her husband—he does not care much for her, and wants to separate from her. She believes the desire to originate in a kind of modomania on the subject, and resolves to cure him by obtaining fictitious papers of divorce, and thus to fool him by taking such steps as would induce him to believe a real divorce was intended. She does so under legal advice. The husband acquiesces and they separate. But, presently, Gabriella is shocked to learn that her husband (?) has married another wife. She rushes to her lawyer, and is assured that a bona fide decree of divorce had been entered, contrary to her wishes and expectations. She appeals to the court to set aside the divorce, on the ground that it was fraudulently obtained through a cunning trick of her husband and the lawyer. Of course there is another side to the story, but this is the romantic one.

"That was a horrible affair—the murder of Dean, and the sealing up of his remains in a tin box!" "What Dean?" asked half a dozen voices at once. "Sar-dine," was the reply.

DETAILS OF EASTERN NEWS.

Dates to Dec. 19th.

Chicago, Dec. 16.—A Washington special to the Tribune says, Thomas Corwin was struck with paralysis last evening at the residence of the military agent, where a brilliant assemblage was being entertained. At last accounts he was unconscious and, apparently, in a critical condition.

Washington, Dec. 15.—Mr. Burlingame has received instructions preparatory to returning to China. The policy of the Government is to extend business relations with that country as rapidly as possible, and the instructions look to an enlarged sphere in that direction.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—Horace Maynard, being asked what he thought of the prospects of the Tennessee delegation since the last action of the House, said he thought that Stevens had the whole Southern Confederacy in his breeches pocket and meant to keep it there for a good while.

Footo presented the following, which was adopted: The joint committee appointed to consider and report by what token of respect and affection it may be proper to express the deep sensibility of the nation on the event of the decease of the late President Lincoln, have, according to order, had the same under consideration, and as the result of their deliberations report the following resolutions and recommend their adoption:

E. M. Stanton and the President of the Senate, pro tem, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, be requested to invite the President of the United States, the heads of the several departments, judges of the Supreme Court and representatives of foreign governments near this government, and such officers of the Army and Navy, as have received the thanks of Congress who may then be at the seat of Government to be present on the occasion, and be it further

Resolved, That the President of the United States be requested to transmit a copy of these resolutions to Mrs. Lincoln and assure her of the profound sympathy of the two Houses of Congress for her deep personal affliction and of their sincere condolence for the late national bereavement.

Chicago, Dec. 16.—The National Intelligencer, of the 14th, publishes a Congressional directory, including Southern claimants of seats in Congress, which shows that eight Senators elect and twenty-three Representatives from the South have taken apartments in Washington. The Senators are Sigar, of Virginia; Graham and Pool, of North Carolina; Alcon and Scharke, of Mississippi; Hahn, of Louisiana; Snow, of Arkansas; and Patterson of Tennessee.

Chicago, Dec. 16.—A fire this morning destroyed a half square of the business block bounded by Lake Franklin and Southwater. Total loss, half a million of dollars.—The weather was so cold that the department worked with the greatest difficulty.

The residence of E. S. Hetchings, at Harlem, was burned yesterday morning. Loss, $100,000. Insured.

Oswego, Dec. 15.—The steam saw-mill of Chandler & Wilmot was burned last night. Loss, $30,000.

Cairo, Dec. 15.—On last Saturday the boiler of the steamer De Soto, exploded. Ten or eleven lives were lost.

Chicago, Dec. 15.—The fire at Ottawa on Wednesday destroyed eight buildings in the business center. Loss, $40,000. The principle sufferers were Hose and Leland, who were not insured. Numerous fires are reported throughout the northwest.

Gov. Worth was inaugurated to-day. In a brief address he said the people of North Carolina desired the restoration of the Union.

Washington, Dec. 15.—The Supreme Court has been occupied to-day with arguments on the constitutionality of the test oath.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Wilson offered a resolution in the Senate providing for the appointment of an examining board to relieve officers of the regular army who have not rendered meritorious services in the late war and fill their places by appointments from the regular army veteran reserve corps and volunteer force. Referred.

The House tabled Thornton's resolution declaring that the elective franchise exclusively belongs to the regulation of the States.

Morton, of Illinois, offered a resolution, which lies over, calling on the President of the United States, to inform the House why Jefferson Davis has not been brought to trial for treason.

Stevens, of Pennsylvania, made a speech on reconstruction, arguing that the lately rebellious States must come back into the Union as new States, or remain as conquered provinces. The whole subject was in the hands of Congress.

New York, Dec. 19.—Some dispatches say Secretary Stanton again tendered his resignation and, it is said, insists upon its acceptance.

Mercer, who has charge of the scheme for carrying several hundred women to Washington Territory, publishes an announcement that the steamer is nearly ready to sail.

WISE THIEVES STEAL AND COMPROMISE.

Last summer a bank clerk in New York stole $100,000. He lost the money by "fighting the tiger." He then called upon a lawyer and informed him that he was a ruined man, and thought of suicide. This led to the following dialogue:

"One hundred thousand dollars."
"Got any of it left?"
"Not a cent."
"That's bad; you have nothing left to work with."

"What must be done?"
"You must return to your desk and abstract another hundred thousand."

"What must I do that for?"
"To preserve your character and save you from the State Prison. With the hundred thousand dollars you are to steal tomorrow, I intend to compromise with the bank. Your stealing after to-morrow will amount to $200,000. I will call at the bank and confess your offense. I will represent myself as your heart-broken uncle, 'honest but poor.' I will offer the bank $50,000 to hush the matter up. The bank will accept. This will leave $50,000 to divide between you and me—say $35,000 apiece. With this sum you can retire from business."

The young man listened and took on wisdom. He doubled his defalcation and compromised as the lawyer said he should. He is now worth $250,000, and is counted "one of the most respectable gentlemen" in the city of New York.

WHY DIDN'T SHE MARRY HIM?

Before a Court of Common Pleas, a case of breach of promise was recently under consideration. The breach between the parties was apparent enough, but as to the promise there existed a slight shade of doubt, until the plaintiff set the matter right as follows:

Question by the Defendant's Counsel—
"Did my client enter into a positive agreement to marry you?"

Answer—"Not exactly, but he courted me a good deal, and he told my sister Jane that he intended to marry into our family."

"It was lucky for the defendant that the 'poor deceived fair one' had not read the account of the trial of Mary Harris."

A clergyman and one of his elderly parishioners were walking home from church one frosty day lately, when the old gentleman slipped and fell upon his back. The minister, looking at him, a moment, and being assured that he was not much hurt, said to him, "Friend, sinners stand on slippery places." The old gentleman looked up as if to assure himself of the fact, and said, "I see they do, but I can't."

In the castles and palaces of the ancient nobility of France the tapestry frequently presented memorials of their pride of ancestry. On the tapestry of an apartment in the palace of the ex-Duke of Choiseul is a representation of the Deluge, in which a man is seen running after Noah, and calling out, "My good friend, save the archives of the Choiseul family."

"Look here, ma!" said a young lady who had recently commenced taking lessons in painting of an eminent artist. "See my painting; can you tell me what it is?" Ma, after looking at it sometime, answered, "Well, it is either a cow or a rose-bud—I am sure I can't tell which."

A milk company has been formed in Bangor, which will receive milk for several neighboring towns, and deliver the same to families in quart cans for from five to six cents a quart.

"Didn't you suppose, sir, that I kept a bible?" "No, I didn't think that you kept God's word, as I knew that you never kept your own."

What is the difference between Noah's ark and an archbishop? Noah's ark was a very high ark, but an archbishop is a hierarch (higher ark.)

"You do wrong to fish on Sunday," said a clergyman to a lad he saw so doing. "Well, Sir," replied the boy, "it can't be much harm, for I ain't cotched nothin'!"

THE BALL AT PORT MADISON.—On Monday evening last, the steamer Gen, and J. B. Libby took from our town a goodly number of the disciples of Terpsichore, to attend a ball, given by the ladies of that place, at Port Madison. The ball was largely attended, some forty couples being present. The hall was very tastefully hung with wreaths of evergreen, and brilliantly lighted. The supper was spread in a capacious eating saloon, and was such a supper as only the ladies can prepare. The party was a decidedly creditable affair, and too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the ladies of Port Madison, for kind attentions to their numerous guests. All enjoyed the evening, and when the king of day began to flush the eastern horizon, returned to their homes wishing the ladies of Port Madison many a happy New Year.

COLLECTOR ADAMS SUSTAINED.—The Oregon Statesman says an effort has been made in certain quarters to create the impression that Hon. W. L. Adams, Collector of Customs for the district of Oregon, has been over officious, if he has not actually transcended his duties, in seizing so many steamships during the past year for violations of the revenue laws; when the facts are, that he has only discharged his duties faithfully. In view of these facts, we are glad to see that the Legislature has passed a joint resolution fully sustaining Collector Adams in his course, and commending him for his vigilance in ferreting out and bringing to trial and conviction the individuals and vessels engaged in these violations of law.

PHOTOGRAPHIC GHOSTS.—A photographer may, at pleasure, produce a ghostlike appearance. A sitter is allowed to remain in the focus of the camera but half the time necessary to produce a complete photograph, and he then slips quickly aside, and the persons and furniture immediately behind him, are then exposed to the action of the light. As a consequence, a faint or imperfectly developed photograph of the man appears, while the furniture and those behind him are visible, apparently through his body. With a little tact, a really surprising result may, in this manner, be produced.

The California Building and Loan Society, of which Mr. Thomas Mooney is President, has purchased, for thirty thousand dollars, the fine granite building, Nos. 407 and 409, California street, one door west of Sansome street. This house has formerly been known as the California Restaurant.

The application of salt, in the spring of the year, around a plum tree, will be found very efficacious in promoting its growth and fruitfulness, and also in protecting it from disease. Salt is an essential ingredient in all composted manures intended for plum trees, and is highly promotive of health and fruitfulness.

FAST STEERING.—The New York correspondent of the Oregonian says that the new steamship Henry Chauncey, arrived there on her last trip from Aspinwall, in six days, two hours and twenty-seven minutes. She averaged 265 miles per day, or fifteen miles an hour.

MR. CORWAY, Assistant Engineer of the Columbia Telegraph Company, passed up the Sound, on the Anderson, last evening, en route for San Francisco. He will return on the Geo. S. Wright, shortly, and will bring with him the cable to connect Victoria with the main land.

"BIG BEED" GOLD.—The Bank of British Columbia recently received from the Assay Office at New Westminster, a bar of gold, valued at seven thousand dollars, melted from Big Beed dust. This gold is beautiful, and is said to be somewhat finer than that of Cariboo.

FIRE.—The stables of H. Winsor, Mail Contractor, at Drew's Station, were destroyed by fire at one o'clock on the morning of the 30th ult. Two valuable horses were killed, and three others badly burned. The property belonged to the stage line.

A report from the Pension Bureau shows that the whole amount of army pensions paid during the year ending June 30, 1865, was $8,819,642; of navy pensions, $206,180. The number of widows and orphans of soldiers on the pension rolls is 24,416; of sailors, 266.

PORT MADISON HOTEL.—Mr. S. P. Coombs, having succeeded Joseph Francisco in the proprietorship of this well-known house, is now prepared to accommodate, in the best possible manner, all who may visit him.

The People's Transportation Company have two boats on the Willamette river, between Portland and Oregon City.

In consequence of our "grinding apparatus" having gotten out of order, we are without a leader this week.

A bill for the payment of twenty-five thousand dollars to Mrs. Lincoln, has passed Congress.

The inventor of this new process is M. W. P. Levee, of Paris, and his establishment in that city, devoted particularly to it, consists of a large circular room, about thirty feet high, and forty feet in diameter, surmounted with a cupola, all of glass, to admit the greatest possible amount of light. All around the circular wall supporting the cupola are, at equal intervals, twenty-four camera obscurae, by which twenty-four photographs of the person standing in the centre of the large round operating room are to be taken at the same moment; and after a few seconds in the required position, the person is no longer wanted. His statuette will be finished, without his presence, in another part of the building, where the modelling is performed by the very ingenious process by which the block of clay is to take consecutively, all around, the various outlines of each of the twenty-four photographs. Photograph No. 1 is placed in a magic lantern, and an enlarged image of it projected upon a screen. Near to this screen is a small circular table, turning upon a pivot, and its circumference divided into twenty-four parts. Upon this little table is placed a block of modeller's clay, of sufficient size to allow a bust or statuette of the required dimensions to be cut from it; and between it and the screen is planted a large pantograph, furnished at one end with the customary style, or tracer, but with a sharp tool or cutter, at the other end, occupying the place of the pen or pencil. Photograph, pantograph and clay, being adjusted to their proper positions, the operator carefully guides the style over the outline of the enlarged photograph, and the cutting tool, exactly following every motion of the style, cuts the clay into a profile exactly corresponding to that of the photograph, and, hence, exactly similar to the contour of the original model or sitter, as seen from the point occupied by camera No. 1. When this is done, the next photograph is brought before the magic lantern, the block of clay is turned one-twenty-fourth of the whole circle marked on its stand, another profile is imparted by the pantograph, to the block of clay, and so on, until the block has received the twenty-four outlines on the twenty-four photographs. The operation, as far as it relates to the employment of the photographs, is now finished. The bust or the statuette, produced by this means, is a likeness which, although in a somewhat uneven state, no one can mistake. It is now necessary to smooth by hand, or by a tool, all that slight roughness produced by the various cuttings, and to soften down and blend the small intervals between the outlines or profiles. The bust or statuette once obtained, can be easily multiplied, by the ordinary means in use for procuring plaster images, or it may be copied into marble or bronze, to suit the taste and purse of its possessor. By varying the mechanical arrangements, it may be produced of colossal size, or diminished to no more than an inch in height.

AN IRISH FLAG.—There is at present to be seen in the establishment of Mr. A. Wason, on Sansome street, the original and design of a new Irish flag for the Emmet Circle of the Fenian Brotherhood at Copperopolis. When finished, it will be one of the handsomest and most chaste in design of any we have seen in the State. Mr. Wason deserves credit for the great care he is bestowing upon the work in hand, and for the artistic manner in which it is being executed.

The death is announced of Sir Thomas Whelan, who, in 1832, was Lord Mayor of Dublin, having been High Sheriff of the county for ten years previously. The deceased was the son of Mr. Tho's Whelan, a merchant of Dublin, and was born in 1800. He received knighthood in 1808.

A terrible drought has been prevailing in Maine, and to some extent, throughout all New England. The cry is now for "water, water, everywhere, and not a drop to drink." Never before, have the people had so much occasion to appreciate the value of water. Even old toppers complain.

"REPRESENT ME, in my portrait," said a romantic young lady, to a painter, "with a book in my hand—and reading aloud. Paint my servant, also, in a corner where he cannot be seen, but in such a manner that he may hear me when I call to him."

The number of Irish residents in England and Scotland is a million and a half. One-fourth the population of Liverpool, and one-fifth of that of Glasgow, is composed of natives of Ireland.

MARKETS IN MONTANA.—On November 2d, the following were the prices in Montana:—Oregon flour, $30 per cwt.; Salt Lake, $24 per cwt.; Coffee, $1 10 per lb.; Tobacco, $4 50 per lb.

Mr. Mc FARLANE, a geologist on the staff of Sir William Logan, has been sent by the Government to make an exploration of the mineral lands in the county of Hastings, Canada.

MINISTERIAL.—The Gold Hill News, of the 9th ult., makes the announcement that G. K. Fitch, chief editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, is said to be studying for the ministry.

PHILOMATH.—This new town, near Corvallis, has already assumed a substantial basis. The Gazette says that lots in this new town sold very rapidly at good prices, at the late sale.

The first steamers will be dispatched on the 6th of the present month, on the San Francisco and Honolulu line.

Miscellaneous Items.

The report of the Penitentiary Commissioners sets forth the facts connected with the purchase of 147 acres of land adjacent to Salem, where it is intended to erect a new penitentiary building, the State Insane Asylum, and other public buildings. The total expense so far incurred by the Commissioners, in carrying out the design to remove the Penitentiary to Salem, is $9,019,25. Rev. G. H. Atkinson, lately on a visit to the East, was requested by the Commissioners to examine the prison management of several States, with a view to learning the best. His judgment is in favor of the arrangements of the institution at Charlestown, Massachusetts.

It is a pleasure to know that, while Fortune seldom smiles upon the tolling printer, there are still a few generous, whole-souled beings, left to cheer him on o'er life's bleak desert. Such persons are generally rewarded on earth with tranquil dreams and peaceful slumbers; and certainly, when life's last lingering ray expires, their good deeds in this direction will be accounted not among the least of the Christian virtues.

The Indians in Mexico are said to be all in favor of the new government, and they constitute the much larger portion of the inhabitants of the country. The former rulers have treated them with great cruelty, but Maximilian has pursued a different course, which has won their regard. In several of the States they have volunteered and driven off the adherents of Juarez.

The Mountaineer states that a gentleman arrived at the Dalles, from Coileille, on the 7th of December, bringing news corroborating previous mining reports from the Upper Columbia. He had about thirty thousand dollars of gold dust from those mines, of which seven thousand dollars was taken from the new mines. In quality, this last resembles the Kootenai gold, and is very heavy and pure.

It was announced by one of the sappers at the late meeting of the British Association, that the Staffordshire coal fields in England will probably be totally exhausted within twenty years. Facts and figures, apparently of the most convincing character, were cited in support of this theory; and eight mines were indicated by name which gave unmistakable signs of speedy exhaustion.

Some idea of the immense emigration across the plains, the past season, may be formed by knowing that the records kept at Nebraska City, of the number of teams that passed that point, prior to the first of August, show that 12,500 vehicles have passed over, averaging five animals to a team, and at least as many human beings as animals.

Charles Dickens is in the habit of walking ten or twelve miles every day before dinner. This, no doubt, is the secret of his bodily health and freshness of spirit. But while pursuing his English habit under the almost tropical heat of Paris, in August, he received a sunstroke. For some hours he was quite insensible, but speedily recovered.

Mrs. Symonds, of Malden, Mass., whose husband returned home from the war safe and sound two months ago, has just received a dispatch from Washington, stating that he died at Andersonville prison, and that $300 back pay was subject to her order.

A lecturer was dilating upon the powers of the magnet, defying any one to show anything surpassing its power. A hearer demurred, and instanced a young lady, who used to attract him thirteen miles every Sunday.

The following toast was recently proposed at a firemen's dinner, and was received with showers of applause: "The ladies—their eyes kindle the only flames which we cannot extinguish, and against which there is no insurance."

Woodward of the What Cheer House, San Francisco, has paid fifty cents on the dollar on thirty-four thousand dollars, the sum stolen from the office safe a few weeks ago.

LATEST NEWS.

Dates to Dec. 20.

Eastern News.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The Post, Washington special says: Senator Sprague has started a movement in the Senate looking to an increase of the tariff on all goods that can be manufactured in this country. The Western Republicans generally say they will not vote for a further increase.

New York, Dec. 20.—This morning a fire broke out in the New Hampshire House of Reformation, near this city, and destroyed all but the back walls. The inmates, one hundred and twenty in number, were rescued, although most of them were asleep when the fire commenced, excepting eight or ten who made their escape.

The Commercial's Washington dispatch says, The President's action, in restoring the Southern States which have adopted the Constitutional Amendment to the enjoyment of all their constitutional privileges, except representation in Congress, has paralyzed the action of the radical Republicans and produced an intense interest, and an exciting contest may be expected, between the radical and conservative supporters of the President.

A riot took place at Norfolk, Va., yesterday, between the 20th New York regiment and the 30th United States colored. A volley of from ten to twelve muskets was fired by the 20th upon the colored soldiers, which was about to be returned when their officers arrived and put an end to the disturbance. It, however, for some time threatened to be very serious. Only one man, colored, was injured.

Washington, Dec. 18.—The following is the constitutional amendment introduced in the House by Jencks:

Section 1. In all elections of President and Vice President ballots shall be cast directly for persons to fill said offices, and the person having the highest number of votes for each office shall be declared duly elected to such office.

Sec. 2. In the election of President and Vice President, and Members of the House of Representatives, the following described persons, and these only shall have the right to vote, to wit: Male citizens of the United States of the age of twenty one years not under any conviction for any infamous crime, who can read, and who shall have resided for one year in the State, and for six months in the district in which he shall offer to vote.

A REAL ENGLISH NOBLEMAN.—A story is just now circulating through the German newspapers which illustrates the Continental idea of an English peer:

Lord S. is an amateur boxer, who prides himself upon his strength and dexterity in pugilism. Dining one day with the great banker R. Lord S. heard some stories of the prowess of a farm laborer on the estate, and at once made a note of the man's name and address. Next morning his lordship mounted his horse and rode off in search of the celebrated athlete. He found him digging in his garden. "My good fellow," said the peer, dismounting and pulling off his gloves, "I've heard a great deal of your strength and skill; let us have a fight." The laborer looked at his visitor for a moment without speaking; and then suddenly grappling with him flung him over the hedge. "I say, my good man," cried Lord S., as soon as he recovered his senses, "will you do me a favor?" "What, haven't you had enough yet?" exclaimed the laborer, sulkily. "O yes, so far as I am personally concerned, but please throw my horse over too."

THE FENIAN SISTERSHOOD.—The Fenian Sistershood is an organized body of ladies, whose object is the attainment of an Irish Government for Ireland.

Ladies, Irish by birth or descent, are admitted as members of the organization.

Each accepted candidate will take the following pledge: I solemnly pledge my sacred word of honor that I become a member of this organization actuated by patriotic and honest motives; that I will faithfully fulfill my duties of membership; that I will foster and extend feelings of intense and intelligent love of country among Irish men and women.

THE NEWTON COPPER MINE.—Within the last ten days D. J. Oullahan & Co., forwarding merchants of Sacramento, have received from the Newton mine, and shipped by steamer Chrysolite to Meader, Lolor & Co., of San Francisco, 1,500 bags copper ore, weighing within a fraction of 125 tons. The freight on this cargo teamsters amounted to 1,600. We are informed there are now at the mine over 500 tons ready for shipment.—Sacramento Union.

MOUNT VERNON.—A distinguished State official attended a magic-lantern show, in Salem, recently, and when the operator produced a "Rhineberger House," with four columns, this official said: "There is our dear old Mount Vernon." Imagine his willingness to pay for the oysters, when the operator announced the picture to be the "Washington Territory University."

NEW DISCOVERIES.—A great discovery of silver bearing quartz is reported to have recently been made in Jackson county. A private letter says that the mountain between the forks of Jackson creek is "one solid chunk of silver ore, with here and there a streak of pure gold." This is hefty. The Reporter thinks the ore found is tin.

THE THREE EMBASSADORS.

At the conclusion of the American Revolution, Dr. Franklin, the English Ambassador and the French Minister, Vergennes, were dining together, at Versailles, when a toast from each of the three was called for, and the proposition agreed to. The British Minister began with: "George the Third—who, like the sun in its meridian, spreads a luster throughout, and enlightens the world." The French Minister followed with: "The illustrious Louis Sixteenth—who, like the moon, sheds his mild and benignant rays on, and influence over the globe." Our American Franklin, then gave: "George Washington, Commander of the American Army—who, like Joshua of old, commanded the sun and moon to stand still, and they did so."

ATLANTIC CABLE.—The only alteration that will be made in the new Atlantic cable will be the substitution of strands in place of solid iron wires for the external covering. These strands will each consist of three wires, and each strand will be covered with manilla. It is thought that by this means, all chance of the gutta-percha being pierced by the external wires will be prevented, as each strand, singly, would be too weak to be thrust into the interior of the cable.

SENSIBLE PLATFORM.—A person who has devoted much attention to politics in years past, much to his own financial detriment, in a recent letter, thus succinctly sketches his present simple code: "Politics, I know nothing of now. There are but two planks in my platform, and I have nothing to do with any other until these are secured: One being to get butter for my bread; the other, to get bread to put it on."

DISTANCE OF SIRIUS.—The absolute intensity of the light of Sirius has been estimated at 224 times that of the sun; and its parallax, amounting to 0".33, gives for its distance from the earth the probable number of 32,000,000,000 of leagues. It follows that we do not see the Sirius of to-day, but of twenty-two years ago; the ray of light that we receive to-day, having been emitted by that star in the year 1844.

YOUR LADIES who are accustomed to read newspapers, are always observed to possess most amiable dispositions, invariably make good wives, and always get good husbands. A fact. And gentlemen, who pay punctually for their newspaper, have good health, live to a good old age, die easy, and escape the wrath to come.

NOT ALL PAID UP.—It is the general impression that the Canadian Government has refunded all the money stolen from the St. Albans banks, by the rebel raiders. This is not the case. The total amount stolen was over $310,000, and of this, only $90,000 has been returned by the Canadians.

THE YOUNG GIANT'S BONES.—Talleyrand, when speaking of the United States to the Emperor Napoleon, made this remark: "It is a giant without bones." That was before there were any railroads; but since his day, the bones have begun to grow, and they are bones of iron.

THE WALLACE MONUMENT, at Stirling, which has now reached the height of 155 feet, in the shape of a tower, has been stopped for want of funds; the plant and materials on the ground are to be sold to pay debts.

A Clever literary friend of Jerold, and one who could take a joke, told him he had just had some cat's tail soup. "Extremes meet sometimes," said Jerold.

JEFF. THOMPSON says the only persons in the South at the present time who wish to do any more fighting, are those who did not do any when they had the chance.

LITERARY.—Corvallis, Oregon, has its Lyceum and Library Association, in successful operation. Salem, Oregon, will soon have a similar society.

The total amount of legal tender notes in circulation at the present time is $378,126,126; a sum almost beyond the comprehension of the ordinary intellect.

The Mexican legation at Washington are sanguine in the belief that the French troops will be sent home soon.

The prohibitory liquor law was lost, in the Indiana Legislature.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—No Risk.—When the surgeon shakes his head and the patient feels despondent in the fittest time to try these noble remedies. Inflammation, sores, eruptions, ulcerations, bad legs, and a far longer list of external troubles, can always be cured by these incomparable medicaments. If the cure be not always rapid, it will always be complete and leave behind no danger of relapse. That this Ointment exerts the most cooling, soothing, and healing powers, over the most irritable, painful, and chronic sores, is an established fact, which is daily confirmed by the unsolicited testimony of sympathizing patients whom (to use their own expressive phrase) Holloway's remedies have rescued from the very verge of death.

EFFECT OF OPEN AIR EXERCISE.—The greater longevity of persons living in the country, appears almost wholly due to the greater proportion of out-door employment; inasmuch as shop-keepers, and others, following sedentary pursuits, in the country, have no well marked vital superiority over the same classes in cities; whereas, farm-laborers, though exposed to the effects of wet, attain a greater longevity than any class of mechanics working in a confined atmosphere. Even scavengers, in towns, who are exposed to very great impurities, are quite long-lived, owing to the vital influence of the open air in which they follow their occupation.

The latest whim of fashion in Europe, is for the ladies to increase the height of the forehead by artificial means. The foreign papers have a plentiful supply of advertisements of waters for the purpose of destroying the hair on the forehead, at once and forever. The less expert, or more economical, shave, and have a hideous blue mark, like the result of a razor over a rough beard.

The J. B. Libby leaves for Olympia at 10 o'clock to-morrow.

HOLLOWAYS PILLS.
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT
 THE EFFECT OF THE OINTMENT ON THE SYSTEM.
 To the very core and centre of all diseases which affect the human body, this remarkable preparation penetrates. It disappears under the friction of the hand as salt disappears when rubbed upon meat. The unguent performs its healing errand rapidly, safely, and without pain. Simple eruptions, open sores, hard tumours, scrofulous developments of all kinds, abscesses, cancers, old wounds, and in fact, every species of inflammation or suppuration, whether in the skin, the flesh, the glands, or among the muscles, can be arrested in its destructive course and permanently cured without danger, by rubbing in this inestimable Ointment.
BAD LEGS, BAD BREASTS, SORES AND ULCERS.
 In many Hospitals in Europe this celebrated Remedy is now used for the cure of old wounds, sores and ulcers: in Spain and Portugal, and in many parts of Italy, the first Physicians regularly prescribe its use. It is a sovereign remedy for bad breasts and bad legs: and likewise for all skin diseases. It is to be found in the chest of nearly every sailor, soldier and emigrant.
PILES, FISTULAS, STRUCTURES.
 The above class of complaints is surely removed by nightly fomenting the parts with warm water, and then by most effectually rubbing in this Ointment. Persons suffering from these direful complaints should lose not a moment in arresting their progress. It should be understood that it is not sufficient to merely smear the Ointment on the affected parts, but it must be rubbed in for some considerable time, two or three times a day, that it may be taken into the system, whence it will remove any hidden sore or wound as effectually as though it were palpable to the eye. Bread and water poultices, after the rubbing in of the Ointment, will do great service. This is the only proper treatment for females in cases of cancer in the stomach, or for those who suffer from a general bearing down.
IMPRUDENCIES OF YOUTH:—SORES AND ULCERS.
 Blisters, as also swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Ointment be used freely, and the Pills be taken night and morning as recommended in the printed instructions. When treated in any other way these complaints only dry up in one place to break out in another; whereas this Ointment will remove the humour from the system, and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy being. It will require time, aided by the use of the Pills, to insure a lasting cure.
DIPHTHERIA, BRONCHITIS, SORE THROATS, COUGHS AND COLDS.
 Any of the above class of diseases may be cured by well rubbing the Ointment three times a day upon the skin covering the throat, chest and neck of the patient. The unguent will soon penetrate the pores and give immediate relief. To allay the fever and prevent inflammation, eight or ten Pills should be taken night and morning. The Ointment will produce perspiration, which is so essential for removing fevers, sore throats, and those oppressions of the chest which arise from Asthma, Bronchitis, and other causes.
BOTH THE OINTMENT AND PILLS SHOULD BE USED IN THE FOLLOWING CASES:—
 Bad Legs, Corns, (Soft.) Rheumatism,
 Bad Breasts, Cancers, Scalds,
 Burns, Contracted and Sore Throats,
 Humors, Stiff Joints, Sore Nipples,
 Bite of Mosqui-Elephantiasis, Skin Diseases,
