"THE SEVEN HUNDRED."

Bellow we publish a second parody upon Tennyson's celebrated poem, "The Light Brigade," which, we think, compares favorably with that published by us a few weeks since, and is certainly better adapted to this locality:

Far away, far away,
Thousands of miles eastward,
To this distant forest,
Come the Seven Hundred.
Through cruel war their fall,—
Houseless and homeless all,—
As their Pilgrim Fathers came,
So, the Seven Hundred.

Onward to homes they seek,
Fair haired and ruddy cheek,
The wild, the roimp, the meek,
Are the Seven Hundred.
Each seeks to be a bride;—
They'll be scattered far and wide,
Whatever woe betide,
They chance it, bit or miss,
Bravo! Seven Hundred.

Lovers to right of them,
Lovers to left of them,
Husbands behind them,
Hearty welcomes thundered.
Arms opened wide for them,
Whiskers are dyed for them,
Boots blacked and hair shorn,
"Store clothes" are bought and worn,
For the Seven Hundred.

Charge, charge, you Bright Brigade,
Charge, charge, widow and maid;
Halt not, on with the raid!
Capture a man, each maid
Of the Seven Hundred.
Heed not the din that's raised;
Heed not how much amazed
Are the aborigines
"Foremost" the Seven Hundred.

"Clutchmen" to right of them,
"Clutchmen" to left of them,
"Clutchmen" in front of them,
Babbled and blundered:
"Boston clutchmen cultus,
"Taking our men from us,
"Halo sapallil nor dresses,
"Wake chickamen pe shawls,—
"Cultus the Seven Hundred."

All honor to the brave,
Who come our souls to save,
In glory you'll be numbered.
From toil ask no release,
All marry and increase,
To twice Seven Hundred.

WHAT IS HOME?

Home's not made with palace walls,
Though with pictures hung and gilded;
Home is where affection calls,
Filled with shrines the heart hath builded.
Home! to which the faithful dove
Sails beneath the Heavens above us,
Home is where there's one to love—
Home is where there's one to love us.

Home's not merely roof and room—
Home needs something to endear it;
Home, is where the heart can bloom,
Where there's some kind lip to cheer it.
What is home, with none to meet,
None to welcome, none to greet us?
Home is sweet—and one only sweet—
Where there's one we love to meet us.

A TEMPLE DISCOVERED AT POMPEII.—Letters from Naples, describe a temple of Juno, just discovered among the recent excavations at Pompeii. Three hundred skeletons were found crowded within the sanctuary, a propitiatory service having evidently been held in the hour they were overwhelmed.—The statue of the goddess, with its attendant peacock, the tripod in front of the altar, the golden censer, the jewels on the the person of the priestess, the rich vessel holding the deposits of animal blood, are the main particulars dwelt on. The eyes of Juno were of the most vivid enamel, her arms and her whole person richly decorated with gold trinkets, her garter bird resplendent with a cluster of glittering gems. Aromatic ingredients lay calcined within the censer, while gorgeous lamps and bronze ornaments strewed the tessellated pavement.

"Doctor," said a lady. "I want you to prescribe for me." "There's nothing the matter, madam," said the doctor, after feeling her pulse; "you only need rest." "Now doctor, just look at my tongue," she persisted, "just look at it! Now say, what does that need?" "I think that needs rest too," answered the doctor.

Jupiter made a wound upon his head to permit Minerva, the goddess of wisdom, to find her way out; and ever since, many mortals have thought it necessary to scratch their heads to enable a wise idea to escape.

DETAILS OF EASTERN NEWS.

DATES TO NOV. 8th.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—The schooner Milton Badger, Harding, arrived yesterday afternoon, 12 days from Anadir Bay bringing nearly a month's later intelligence from the Russian Telegraph Expedition. The Milton Badger took up the exploring party commanded by Capt. C. L. McKay, and consisting of (captain Alexander Arnold, Alex. Harden, W. W. Casinon and Grafton Smith. The latest news was brought by the Palmetto, which arrived here on the 22d ult., stated that the Milton Badger set sail for Sitka and Anadir Bay on the 21st Aug. She landed her party safely in the Bay, when she left them, with a complete outfit and prepared to pursue their explorations of the Anadir River, and thence across the Ochotsk Sea. During the coming winter they will use reindeer for the purpose, which are found to be plenty in the vicinity. The party were all well when the Milton Badger left. She also brings later news from Col. Bulkley. The last advices stated that he was to leave Plover Bay in the George S. Wright on the 24th of Sept. for Petropauloski, in Kamschatka, and would put into Anadir Bay to see how Capt. McKay's party were getting along; he did put in there, and spent a week in exploring the Anadir River with the party. He left the Bay on the 14th of October for Petropauloski whence he is to return to this city via Victoria and New Westminster, arriving at this place about the 1st of Dec. A letter from Col. Bulkley, dated Anadir Bay, Oct. 9th, says, "all favorable, and the parties of both Continents on shore with supplies. The Golden Gate, with Col. Hyde's party, which was last reported to have parted from the Geo. S. Wright in a storm while being towed from Sitka to Fort St. Michael, arrived safely in Plover Bay on the 26th Sept. She landed the balance of Kennicott's party at Fort St. Michael where she left them all well and preparing for winter explorations. The country in Siberia is reported destitute of timber, and very favorably adapted for the explorations proposed by the Company."

One of the workmen engaged in excavating on the southwest corner of Kearney and Sacramento streets, came across an old oyster can and a package—the two containing five fifty dollar slugs and quite a number of twenty dollar pieces. The discovery caused quite an excitement in the neighborhood.

The dome of the Mechanics' Pavilion, on Union Square, fell last evening with a terrific crash. The boarding of the pavilion had previously been taken down, leaving the dome standing on stilts.

A light shock of an earthquake is reported to have occurred this morning.

San Francisco, Nov. 6.—Thomas F. Hays, a young man 21 years of age, was instantly killed by Michael Hynes, on Pollard Place yesterday. The two parties lived in the same house and had frequently quarreled. Yesterday they met in the hall when the quarrel was renewed and Hays was beaten and knocked down stairs. He then went to his room and got a single barreled pistol with which he returned, when he met Hynes armed with a six shooter. Hays snatched his pistol at Hynes but missed fire, Hynes then fired two shots, killing Hays instantly. Last evening, at Hays' Valley, a difficulty occurred between J. P. Goodman, a saloon keeper, and E. Georgi, agent of the Buily Family, in which the latter was stabbed in the side by the former, the weapon used being a common pocket knife.

William B. Slocum, son of R. W. Slocum, was thrown from his horse yesterday, on Bush street. His foot caught in the stirrup and the horse took fright and dragged him some distance, until his head struck on a curbstone, smashing in his skull and injuring him so that he died a few hours afterwards.

A meeting of the Union League was held on Friday evening last, when it was concluded to discontinue their regular meetings, the necessity for vigilance no longer existing.

A private telegram from New York announces the arrival, in that city, October 25th, of General Ochoa, the distinguished Mexican Patriot. He was enthusiastically welcomed.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—The United States war steamer Swanee came to an anchor off this city, last evening, from a cruise in English waters, in search of the pirate Shenandoah. Since leaving Philadelphia, the Swanee has steamed 20,000 miles, and has performed most efficient service since her arrival in the Pacific. She now enters port for necessary repairs.

The pressure in financial affairs continues, and the bulk of the loans now being put out are at one-half per cent. Among the causes assigned for this stringency in the absence of speculation, is backward payments from the interior and a withdrawal, to some extent, of foreign capital, owing to the rise of the rates of interest in Europe.

The trade movement continues moderate, and there is no material variation in the ruling of prices for the leading staples.—General McDowell orders the mustering out of the service, of the Nevada Volunteers.

LEGAL ANECDOTE.

A legal friend of ours vouches for the truth of the following anecdote, which, he says, came under his own personal observation:

"Not a thousand miles beyond the classic, though rural 'deestricks' of Warren township, Warren county, Indiana, there resided, and still resides, one John Stokes, who was, and still is, a Justice of the Peace in and for said township."

On a certain occasion, one Smith was before the court as defendant, and the rulings of the court being somewhat eccentric and arbitrary, the said Smith, in the course of his arguments in his own behalf, threw out hints that 'his honor' had been bribed by the plaintiff, and ironically offered to pay the court a large amount if it would abandon the plaintiff and decide the case in favor of the defendant.

Several days afterwards, the excitement caused by the trial having somewhat subsided, the justice had occasion to go down to the saw-mill of Smith, the defendant in the aforesaid trial, and in the course of conversation, the subject of the recent trial by accident came up. One word brought on another, and finally Smith called 'his honor' an ass, saying that he did not know any thing about law, and was not fit to be a Justice of the Peace, etc. At this, Mr. Stokes waxed exceedingly indignant, and determined to resort to legal process to redress these injuries and offenses to his judicial dignity. He accordingly hastened home and drew up the following affidavit against said Smith:

State of Indiana, }
County of Warren, } ss. Breach of the peace, and wanted to bribe
the said John Stokes.

John Stokes, being duly sworn upon his oath, deposes and says, that S. B. Smith, on the 15th day of July, 1863, at and in the county and State aforesaid, did then and there, in a rude, insolent and angry manner, and insulted the said John Stokes, and said that he was an ass, and did not no more know the law than a hog, and was not fit to be a Justice of the Peace, and wanted to dictate the law to said John Stokes, and to bribe him, the said John Stokes, contrary to the form of the statutes in such cases made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the State of Indiana.

(Signed,) JOHN STOKES.
Subscribed and sworn to, before me, this 15th day of July, A. D., 1863.

(Signed,) JOHN STOKES, J. P.

Whereupon the Justice proceeded to issue a warrant, upon which Smith was arrested and brought up for trial. In the meantime, 'his honor' bethought him that he himself was a material witness for the prosecution. Now, the statutes of Indiana provide that, under certain circumstances, a neighboring justice may be called in to try a cause. 'His honor' therefore proceeded to call upon one James, a neighboring justice, to get him to sit in judgment upon the unfortunate Smith. The result may be seen from the following extract from the record of the case as recorded by Stokes, in his docket:

And the said John Stokes being a material witness for the prosecution, I went to get David James to try this case for me, but he would not; but advised me to let the dirty scamp go; and I therefore order that the prisoner be discharged, if he will promise not to do so any more, and the prisoner is discharged.
(Signed,) JOHN STOKES, J. P."

JEREMY MASON.—This is the name of the greatest of New England's criminal lawyers, who practiced in the courts when Daniel Webster was a boy, and of whom the following story is told:

Mason was engaged as counsel in the celebrated trial of Rev. E. K. Avery, a Methodist divine, for the murder of a young lady in Rhode Island. He experienced great difficulty in obtaining evidence sufficient to establish his case, when one night towards twelve o'clock, as he was hard at work, a well known clergyman, breathless with excitement, rushed in upon him and exclaimed:

"Mr. Mason, Mr. Mason, I've got the evidence that will clear Brother Avery!"

"Well, sir, what is it?"

"Yes, sir, I have it. I had a dream last night, in which the angel Gabriel appeared and said Avery was innocent."

"Very good, sir, then take that summons and have it served on Gabriel immediately."

"Hello! where have you been for a week back?"

"I haven't been troubled with a weak back, I thank you, sir."

"Where have you been 'long back?"

"You had better not call me long back, you scoundrel!"

The newest thing out is "plumpers," for hollow-cheeked damsels. The plumper is made of porcelain, pear-shaped in form, flat on one side and bulging out on the other. They fit on the inside of the cheeks, giving a round, plump appearance; hence, doubtless, their name.

A Yankee has made a bucket in which there are fifty-seven thousand five hundred and sixty-eight pieces. It is demonstrative alike of much ingenuity and patience.

A LAWYER WHO HAD TESTIMONY ENOUGH.

A story is told of a very eminent lawyer in New York receiving a severe reprimand from a witness on the stand, whom he was attempting to browbeat. It was a very important issue, and in order to save his case from defeat, it was necessary that Mr. A. should impeach the witness. This he endeavored to do upon the ground of the witness' age, when the following dialogue ensued:

Question—How old are you?
Answer—Seventy-two years.

Q.—Your memory, of course, is not quite so brilliant now, as it was twenty years ago, is it?

A.—I don't know but it is.

Q.—Will you state some circumstance that occurred twelve years ago, that we may see how well you remember?

A.—I appeal to your honor if I am to answer such insolent interrogatories.

Judge—Yes, sir, state it.

Witness—(to the lawyer) Sir, if you compel me to do it, I will. About twelve years ago, you studied in Judge H—'s office, did you not?

Lawyer—Yes.

W.—About that time, your father came into my office and said to me, "Mr. D—, my son is to be examined to-morrow, and I wish you would lend me fifteen dollars to buy him a suit of clothes." I also remember, that from that day to this, he has never paid me that sum. This, sir, I remember as though it had been but yesterday.

The lawyer, considerably abashed, stammered out: "That will do."

"I presume it will," replied the witness.

ONE OF THE WESTERN OBITUARY NOTICES.
Mistur Edutur: Jem baugs, we are sorry to stait, has deseized. He departed this life last Monday. Jem was generally considered a gad feller. He died at the age of 23 years old. He went forth without any struggle; though such are life. To da we are as pepper grass, mighty smart, tomorrow we are cut down like a cucumber of the ground. Jem kept a nice stoar, which his wife now waits on. His virchews was numerous 2 behold. Menny is the things we hev bot at his grocery, and we are happy to stait to the admirin world that he never cheitted, spehully in the wate of makrel, which was nice and smelt sweet, and his survivin wife are the same wa. We never nu him to put no sand in sugar, tho he had a big sand bar in front of his house; nor water in his Likurs, tho the Ohio River runs past his dore. Pece to his remains! He loves a wife, ate childern I cow, fore hosses, wun growcery stoar, becides other quadripeds, two mourn his loss; but in the art-leuded language of the poet, his loss arked thero eternal gane.

CAUSE OF EARTHQUAKES.—The soft air which fans the cheek of beauty into rosy blushes, bearing to the invigorated sense the refreshing perfume of summer flowers, is potent enough to press upon the earth at the rate of 15 pounds to every square inch. It is this pressure which keeps our pie crust down. A slight increase of the pressure would force it into the burning flood, for the globe is molten within and agitated as a huge furnace, and a trifling decrease of the pressure would suffer the struggling forests to break through from below. Earthquakes invariably happen at a fall of the barometer—that is, when the air becomes slightly thinner, consequently less capable of treading down the crust upon the tops of the imprisoned flames. Over a hundred miles of country the removal of the atmospheric pressure will sometimes amount to nearly 2,000,000 tons, which is a sufficient relaxation of force to permit the outbreak of an earthquake.

FINDING MONEY IN GRAVES.—Workmen are engaged at St. Louis in removing bodies from the old cemetery to the new one, and in digging up the graves have found money enough to make the work interesting; not such valuable treasures as were discovered in the graves at Chiriqui, but still enough to excite their cupidity. In one grave the sum of $500 in French gold was dug up; it appeared to have been sewed up in the collar of the owner's coat, who doubtless had died of cholera during the epidemic of 1840, and had been buried without being undressed. In another grave $150 was unearthed, and $120 in another. Large sums may be found, and the laborers are on the qui vive for the precious metal.

PADDY'S IDEA OF IT.—The head of a turtle, for several days after its separation from the body, retains and exhibits animal life and sensation. An Irishman had decapitated one, and some days afterward was amusing himself by putting sticks in its mouth, which it bit with violence. A lady who saw the proceeding, exclaimed: "Patrick, I thought the turtle was dead!" "So he is, ma'am, but the crather's not sinnible, of it."

The best way of raising money is by the lever of perseverance and industry. The gripping, hoarding miser raises his by every power.

MANUFACTURING.

At the present time, when a spirit of enterprise is awakened, and we are opening thoroughfares, and laboring to have the country settled and improved, would it not be well, also, to consider the practicability of engaging in another business beside farming and lumbering...

Since the hunt for the Golden Fleece, or the voyage of Cleopatra's barge, no such expedition as this has crossed the seas, and Washington Territory opens wide its arms in welcome to the adventurous travelers who seek a 'local habitation' and a change of name in these untried regions...

Mr. Mercer will also take out to Oregon a dozen shoemakers by way of looking after the soles of the population. SLAVERY IN CUBA.—On various accounts, negro slavery in Cuba has now a very uncertain tenure. As long as the "institution" existed in this country, and was upheld by our Government...

THE LINCOLN MONUMENT.—Up to September 30th, the receipts of the National Lincoln Monument Association, including interest, were $58,000. The meeting of the Association was held at Springfield, Illinois, and a very beautiful and appropriate design for the monument was submitted by the Governor, from Larkin S. Mead...

MERCER PARTY.—The New York Times of Oct. 2d, says: "Mr. Mercer had just arrived from Washington with full power to proceed without delay to get the vessel [Continental] off, and, if possible, she will sail on Saturday of this week..."

THE ELECTION.—On Monday next, the election for Joint-Councilman will be held. There will be but one candidate run for the office—Mr. John Denny. Father Denny is well qualified for the position, being one of the earliest settlers on the Sound...

ARRIVED.—The bark George Washington, Captain Greenleaf, twenty-five days from San Francisco, arrived here on Wednesday last, with a cargo of general merchandise for Port Townsend and this place. The Captain reports having experienced heavy weather off Cape Flattery.

THE "ANXIOUS AND AIMLESS."

The New York Commercial says that Mr. A. S. Mercer, of Washington Territory, has engaged passage for seven hundred women in the United States steam transport Continental, for the flourishing region from which he hails. These women are from Massachusetts. The expedition will sail from New York on the 30th of September...

The country has men, but no women, and the farmers and lumbermen, good, thrifty, energetic Eastern men, want wives. Verily, they shall have them out of this party, in all the 'continuous woods where rolls the Oregon,' and which, having for a long time heard no sound 'save its own dashings,' shall henceforth hear the sweet prattle of childhood and the music of rockers. Happy Oregon!

The last invention of india-rubber, in Paris, is a "false bust for females—bust and neck"—a perfect imitation of flesh and blood, and (as they say of good counterfeiters) "well calculated to deceive." Those made to "palpitate" are sold at a high figure.

What constitutes respectability? A London paper informs us that a "respectable Scotch woman" of that city "has been brought before the police courts three hundred times for drunkenness."

The oil wells of Pennsylvania will this year produce, according to reasonable estimates, three millions five hundred thousand barrels of oil, which, when refined is worth sixty millions.

Miscellaneous Items.

Captain Mullen in his report gives the elevation of the road at the South Pass of the Rocky Mountains, at 7,480 feet above the level of the sea. The plains to the east have an elevation of 6,000 feet, and the country to the west an elevation of 6,234 feet.

The New York Times, which is supposed to be in the confidence of the Administration, says: "It is now settled that the rebel chief will be tried for treason, as soon as practical. Ample time has been given for all popular excitement to subside, so that his jury may be as dispassionate as possible; and for the complete preparation by his counsel of every available defense in law and in fact."

The Marysville Appeal says that several vacant buildings in that city are being rented for the storage of barley. It is generally stored on account of farmers, who refuse to sell at ruling rates. At the close of last week, it was a perfect drug in the markets, failing to the low figure of seventy-five cents per hundred.

The lake pirate Bennett G. Burley, who was confined in the jail at Sandusky, Ohio, succeeded in prying open a window and making his escape on the afternoon of the 20th of September. He left a note for the jailor, saying: "I have gone out for a walk—perhaps I will return shortly."

LATEST NEWS.

Great Rebellion in Jamaica!

Dates to Nov. 7.

Eastern News.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The Post has received a telegram from Herschel V. Johnson, dated Milledgeville, Georgia, October 31st, saying that all ordinances and resolutions, antagonistic to and subversive of the civil authorities, passed in 1861, have been repealed, and that all is going on well in that State.

Boston, Nov. 3.—Two large shoe factories, of John Dart & Co., in South Boston, were burned on Tuesday morning. Loss, $1,000,000, insured for a small amount.

New York, Nov. 6.—The Herald's correspondent says: "Though the members elect to Congress from the South, have not been placed on the Clerk's initial roll of Representatives, it is believed that seats will ultimately be granted to all whose respective States have repudiated the rebel war debt, and have adopted the anti-slavery amendment, if they can take the test oath of 1862."

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 7.—R. W. Green, late President of the Connecticut Fire Insurance Co., in a fit of insanity last night, cut his wife's throat with a razor, causing death immediately, and then cut his own throat in two places, and a gash in his arm. He is still living, with but little prospect of recovery.

The Savannah, Ga., Herald, of the 1st, says: "The officials of that place declare the city again under civil authority, and notify the citizens that all the ordinances of the former civil government are thereby repealed, so far as they conflict with the status of the negroes."

Chicago, Nov. 6.—A Toronto correspondent, to-day, denies the truth of the telegrams in regard to the Fenian excitement in Canada. He says there is no excitement there whatever. The feeling is that the government is able to deal with any Fenian project that may be hatched there or elsewhere.

New York, Nov. 6.—Havana files per Columbia, have the following particulars in regard to the rebellion in Jamaica:

The city of Kingston is in a state of excitement. Business is entirely suspended in the city. The people are placing themselves in a state of defense. Immense meetings, under the order of the Governor, have been held. The rebellion raged with great fury in St. Thomas.

The Havana correspondents say that forty insurgents in Jamaica have been hanged. The barbarities committed by the rebels are shocking. Mr. McCormack was dashed to pieces against the cannon. Rev. Mr. Poorchman's tongue was cut. Baron Von Kettelbloop's fingers were cut off of one hand.

A later dispatch confirmed the above. In Point Moranto the insurgents killed an official named Henry A. Aldregas, and cut his head off. The Inspector of the Police force, John Torrey, was also shot by the rebels. The Secretary of the Justice of the Peace is reported murdered.

A council of war was held in Kingston on the 10th, and subsequently martial law declared for the district of Surrey, in the name of the Queen.

Maj. Gen. O'Connor has taken command of the troops concentrating on the Island, and active measures are being taken for a vigorous campaign against the rebels. Paul Bogle, the leader of the rebels, has not yet been arrested. A reward has been offered for his capture.

The last dispatch read by the Governor from the seat of war says: "The rebellion is increasing. Troops are wanted. No time is to be lost."

Among the clergymen killed is Rev. Mr. Toot.

Mexican News.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Herald's letter from Mesilla, Mexico, October 13th, states that Juarez was then at Eliza and the French were near that place. The Matamoros correspondence of the Herald, dated October 25th, states that the attack on Matamoros by the Liberals commenced the Sunday previous. The fact of their being led upon the town in three lines of battle led to the belief that they were commanded by American officers, as they had never formed that way before.

A Honolulu paper of the 28th of September says, the United States steamer Saranac sailed on Sunday last. We hear that she will proceed to the Marquesas group, as a report was current in San Francisco that a lot of coal had been landed at Fatuhiva, possibly for the Shenandoah. The Saranac may keep on to Sydney, or may turn about and visit this port again in the course of six weeks.

The production of sugar in the Sandwich Islands has reached from eight to nine millions of pounds yearly, and is increasing with such rapidity that an intelligent sugar engineer (Mr. McGregor) from the Islands, estimates the production in 1865 at sixteen million of pounds.

A WOMAN WITH THREE HUSBANDS.—At the Leeds Town Hall, on Tuesday, a respectable dressed, middle-aged woman, named Eliza Dennison, was charged with bigamy. It appeared that the prisoner had been married three times, all her husbands being alive. About ten years ago she was married to John Dennison, at the Leeds parish church; in April last she was united to John Newsam, at St. Jude's church, Hunslet; and on Monday last, she again entered the matrimonial state with William Boocock, at All Saint's Church. She was apprehended on Monday evening by detective sergeant Nevia, on information given by her first husband. The prisoner had nothing to say in answer to the charge. She was committed for trial at the next assizes at Leeds. Mr. Harle asked that she should be admitted to bail. Her first husband had led her a most uncomfortable life, and had frequently threatened to kill her. When Newsam became united to her, he knew her to be a married woman. He also made her most unhappy. The Mayor—Will the three husbands become bail for her? (Laughter.) Mr. Harle—I am afraid not; Boocock is ready to do so. The Mayor said it was a most shameful case, and he could only release the prisoner on heavy bail, viz., her own recognizance of £50, and two respectable householders of £25, each. The bail was found.

A KEROSENE REMEDY.—The Folsom Telegraph, of Oct. 21st, relates the following:

The Medical qualities of kerosene are, as yet, but partially known. At Alder Creek, a miner named Joseph Dobson had been for the last six or eight years grievously afflicted with inflammatory rheumatism; so much so, as to be hardly able to drag himself along, with the aid of crutches. The ordinary remedies failed to give him any relief and he gradually grew worse. Some person finally recommended the use of kerosene. He first applied it externally, and found immediate relief, and continued growing better; at length he commenced taking it internally, until he accustomed himself to two drinks a day, until he had so far recovered as to obtain the full use of his limbs. A few days ago he wheeled a loaded wheelbarrow, from the station at Alder Creek to the American River, a distance of nearly half a mile. He attributes his recovery alone to the use of kerosene and has thrown all other medicine to the dogs.

INDIA RUBBER.—A paragraph in the North American Review says there are now in America and Europe more than one hundred and fifty manufactories of India rubber articles, employing from four to five hundred workmen each, and consuming more than ten million pounds of gum per annum. The business, too, is considered to be still in its infancy. Certainly it is increasing. Nevertheless there is no possibility of the demand exceeding the supply. The belt of land around the globe, five hundred miles north and five hundred miles south of the equator, abounds in trees producing the gum, and they can be tapped, it is said, for twenty successive seasons. Forty-three thousand of these trees were counted in a tract of country thirty miles long and eight wide. Each tree yields an average of three table-spoonsful of sap daily, but the trees are so close together that one man can gather the sap of eighty in a day.

A life-preserving raft has been invented and successfully tried. It is composed of three air tight cylinders, made of India rubber or gutta percha. These cylinders are each encased in another made of heavy duck, connected by duck flanchers. On the raft are five "tents," running crosswise, which act for the double purpose of a seat and as a stretcher to keep the cylinders apart. Each cylinder contains when inflated sixty-nine cubic feet of air, or two hundred and seven in the three, which are capable of sustaining eight thousand pounds weight. Eighty persons have been carried at one time on this raft. It can be inflated by means of three bellows, with India rubber hose, which can be attached in ten minutes. It weighs but six hundred pounds when full. When afloat it draws only three inches of water, and is propelled by means of six oars or by sails.

ANOTHER QUARTZ FIELD.—We learn from the Colville mail carrier that a Major Robinson, who has been prospecting during the summer in the mountains north-west of Colville, has discovered a very rich gold and silver quartz lode in the vicinity of Suswap Lake, on the head waters of the Okanokaus. Major R., who is a perfect assayer, gave the ledge a pretty thorough testing, and found it to contain gold and silver at an average of $1,800 to the ton of rock. The news of this discovery has created some excitement among the people at Colville, and the "quartz mania" is likely to become as general as in almost all localities in the upper country.—Walla Walla Statesman.

Of the ninety-five whalers which went north last spring, eighty-four were American, five Hawaiian, three Oldenburg, two French and one British. Of this number, twenty-five have surely been burned—four at Ascension, one in the Ochotsk sea, and twenty in the Arctic Ocean. Four have been bonded, and four are reported as burning, which leaves sixty-two to be heard from.

A SAD MISTAKE.—A mountain miner, in pursuit of a wild cat, discovered, as he imagined, the animal in the bushy top of an old oak, and taking good aim, down came a Digger, who had been gathering acorns. The party went before a Justice of the peace and stated the facts. He was advised, in future, to be more careful before pulling trigger.—Butte Record.

SOCIAL PARTY.—A social party will be given at Yester's Hall, on Thursday evening next. All are cordially invited to attend.

MR. L. HOLMES, has arrived at Olympia, and entered upon the duties of the office of United States Attorney.

HOLLOWAYS PILLS.
HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT
 THE EFFECT OF THE OINTMENT ON THE SYSTEM.
 To the very core and centre of all diseases which affect the human body, this remarkable preparation penetrates. It disappears under the friction of the hand as salt disappears when rubbed upon meat. The ointment performs its healing errand rapidly, safely, and without pain. Simple eruptions, open sores, hard tumours, scrofulous developments of all kinds, abscesses, cancers, old wounds, and in fact, every species of inflammation or suppuration, whether in the skin, the flesh, the glands, or among the muscles, can be arrested in its destructive course and permanently cured without danger, by rubbing in this inestimable Ointment.
BAD LEGS, BAD BREASTS, SORES AND ULCERS.
 In many Hospitals in Europe this celebrated remedy is now used for the cure of old wounds, sores and ulcers; in Spain and Portugal, and in many parts of Italy, the first Physicians regularly prescribe its use. It is a sovereign remedy for bad breasts and bad legs; and the best for all skin diseases. It is to be found in the cabinet of nearly every sailor, soldier and emigrant.
PILES, FISTULAS, STRUCTURES.
 The above class of complaints is surely removed by nightly fomenting the parts with warm water, and then by most effectually rubbing in this Ointment. Persons suffering from these direful complaints should lose not a moment in arresting their progress. It should be understood that it is not sufficient to merely smear the Ointment on the affected parts, but it must be rubbed in for some considerable time, two or three times a day, that it may be taken into the system, whence it will remove any hidden sore or wound as effectually as though it were palpable to the eye. Bread and water poultices, after the rubbing in of the Ointment, will do great service. This is the only proper treatment for females in cases of cancer in the stomach, or for those who suffer from a general bearing down.
IMPRUDENCIES OF YOUTH; SORES AND ULCERS.
 Blotches, as also swellings, can with certainty be radically cured if the Ointment be used freely, and the Pills be taken night and morning as recommended in the printed instructions. When treated in any other way these complaints only dry up in one place to break out in another; whereas this Ointment will remove the humour from the system, and leave the patient a vigorous and healthy being. It will require time, aided by the use of the Pills, to insure a lasting cure.
DIPHTHERIA, BRONCHITIS, SORE THROATS, COUGHS AND COLDS.
 Any of the above class of diseases may be cured by well rubbing the Ointment three times a day upon the skin covering the throat, chest and neck of the patient. The ointment will soon penetrate the pores and give immediate relief. To allay the fever and prevent inflammation, eight or ten Pills should be taken night and morning. The Ointment will produce perspiration, which is so essential for removing fevers, sore throats, and those oppressions of the chest which arise from Asthma, Bronchitis, and other causes.

BOTH THE OINTMENT AND PILLS SHOULD BE USED IN THE FOLLOWING CASES:—
 Bad Legs, Corns, (Soft,) Rheumatism,
 Bad Breasts, Cancers, Scalds,
 Burns, Contracted and Sore Throats,
 Bunions, Stiff Joints, Sore Nipples,
 Bite of Mosquit, Elephantiasis, Skin Diseases, tees and Sand Fistulas, Scoury,
 Files, Goat, Sore Heads,
 Cocoa-bay, Glandular Swel. Tumours,
 Chiego-foot, lings, Ulcers,
 Chilblains, Lumbago, Wounds,
 Chapped Hands, Piles, Yaws.
 Sold at the establishment of PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY, 224 Strand, (near Temple bar,) London; also by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicines throughout the civilized world, at the following prices:—1s, 1ld., 2s, 9d., 4s, 6d., 11s, 22s., and 33s., each Pot.
