WHOLE NO. 110

Washington Letter.

OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Feb. 28, 1878

The silver bill in Congress has passed, and but for the disgraceful scenes in the Senate during the all night session, the whole matter would soon be forgotten. An effort is made to withhold from the public the names of the Senators who took part in this bacchanalian revel; but it will not avail. The people have a right to know who they are; and their names should go down to everlasting infamy. The value of the brandy smashes, whiskey toddies, and crackers and cheese that were used during that important session would be a fruitful field for investigation by our virtuous Congressmen, who make the Capitol resound with speeches in favor of reform and re-trenchment.

Orders have been issued to Superintendents of all the mints to put them in readiness to commence coinage under the provisions of the law.

Senator Lamar feels keenly the rebuke and censure of the Legislature of Mississippi for his vote in the interest of Wall street, rather than the people of his own State. Senator Bruce, his associate, though of a darker skin, is endorsed by the same body for his vote in favor of restoring silver to its original standing when the national debt was made, payable in coin. Never mind Lamar, live and learn.

Louisiana affairs have been the occasion for eloquent speeches, and Democrats and Republicans have crossed their rhetorical swords and the smoke of the conflict has not yet lifted.

The Patent Office with its unsightly walls and temporary roof still stands, a disgrace to the nation, waiting for the tardy action of congress in making an appropriation to rebuild and refit it for use. Thousands of needy poor could have work and bread, but Congressmen care little for the people; and Washington is a pleasant place to spend a winter and dog-days must come before anything will be done, if at all, to help start the idle wheels of the countries industries either here or elsewhere.

A publisher of a magazine in this city with $250 of postage stamps received for subscription was seen rushing frantically to the Treasury to sell his wares, but John Sherman was not buying; tearing up street he visited the Post Office Department; but the placid Key had just received a supply from the Government. In despair he returned to his office and asked himself the question why fractional currency was abolished.

The Agricultural Department has over 300,000 tea plants that are looking thrifty and General Le Duc intends that we shall grow our own tea and keep the money in our own country.

The approach of Lent fills the streets with ladies making social and official calls. Thursday is "Senator's day," when the wives and daughters of those dignitaries generally receive.

If one brings letters of introduction, the better way is not to present them in person, but send them to the families in question, leaving it optional with them to cultivate the acquaintance or not.

The families of Senators, Representatives and Supreme Court Justices receive or not as they choose, and return calls as inclinations may dictate. Cabinet families are at the mercy of the public, everybody being at liberty to call and every call must be returned. Besides this heavy tax, the Cabinet ladies must make the first call every season upon each of the Supreme Court and Senatorial families.

London, March 4--Special dispatches from various points in the Greek provinces of Turkey, indicate that the insurrection is spreading. They say two thousand insurgents are encamped in sight of Valo in Thessaly and are entrenched. The district between Mount Olympus and the Pindus range is in revolt. The Epirus insurgents defeated the Turks at Ghiasta on Friday, after a few hours fight, killing eighty and wounding one hundred and fifty. Another fight took place at Carolimpi with similar results, the Turks leaving seventy dead on the field. A provisional government was formed at Lycorion and a union with Greece proclaimed. Two hundred refugees, women and children, have arrived at Gorfee. A great panic prevails among the Christian population of insurrectionary districts. Consular reports from Saraiassa; capital of Thessaly, say sixteen unarmed men and thirty-five women and children were massacred by Turkish irregulars and all the women in town violated.

Rome, March 3--Pope Leo XIII was crowned in the Sistine chapel to day. The ceremony commenced in the morning and terminated at 1:30 in the afternoon. Cardinals Prelates and Diplomats accredited to the Vatican and a few other were present. The Pope was carried to apartments, blessing the spectators on the way.

People are getting acquainted--and those who our great American Remedy, the

MEXICAN

Mustang Liniment,

FOR MAN AND BEAST.

This liniment very naturally originated in America, where Nature provides in her laboratory and surrounding antidotes for the maladies of her children. Its fame has been spreading for 33 years, until now it encircles the habitable globe.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is a matchless remedy for all external ailments of man and beast. To stock owners and farmers it is invaluable.
A single bottle often saves a human life or restores the usefulness of an excellent horse, cow, or sheep.

It cures foot-rot, hoof-ail, hollow horn, gravel, sore-worm, shoulder-rot, mange, the bites of poisonous reptiles and insects, and every such drawback to stock breeding and bush life.
It cures every external trouble of horses, such as lameness, scratches, swelling, sprains, found wind-gall, ring-bone, etc., etc.

The Mexican Mustang Liniment is the quickest cure in the world for accidents occurring in a family, in the absence of a physician, such as burns, scalds, sprains, cuts, etc., and for rheumatism, and stiffness engendered by exposure. It is particularly valuable to Minors.

It is the cheapest remedy in the world, for it penetrates the muscle to the bone, and a single application is generally sufficient to cure.
Mexican Mustang Liniment is put up in the size of bottles, the larger ones being proportionately much the cheapest. Sold everywhere.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 20, 1878. The conflict over the silver bill still continues and has its peculiar features. The question is divested of all party alliances, as Republicans and Democrats stand shoulder to shoulder on either side opposing or favoring the measure. On every section of the country supporters are found of all shades of political opinion, advocating a silver coinage. New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore are the great anti silver batteries which send vibrating through their commercial avenues a spirit of opposition that seeks to defeat the proposition. New England, that was supposed to be as firm as Plymouth Rock itself against silver remonetization, has broken ranks and the gold idol lies broken in the house of its friends. The contest is waged over the principle of a bi-metallic currency rather than the size or weight of the silver dollar. A great victory will be won if a silver dollar of 425 grains more or less shall be made a legal tender and receivable in payment of all debts. The end of this contest cannot come too soon. The Lowe Conkling petition, asking aid from Congress for the starving Heavens Chinese, is suggestive that a like sympathy might find a fertile field among the gaunt starving poor of our own land. Congress ought to do something, but not for the Chinese—let appropriations be made for public improvements and give the poor an opportunity to earn bread.

4474 pension claims were filed in the month of January—while only 3895 cases were settled. As the work is now nearly two years behind in this department, it is evident that an appropriation should be made immediately by Congress, to increase the clerical force.

From the present outlook, the legislation for the District of Columbia is likely to give a practical relief to the citizens, a just proportion of the expenses being assumed by the general government, with a restricted form of suffrage and a representation by a delegate in Congress.

Gen. McCormick with his assistants is arranging with energy all the details of the exhibit at the French exhibition. In the art department, in spite of the want of time, the prospect is good for a creditable display. About sixty pictures have already been accepted, and it is thought that as many more will be added in time for shipment. It is not expected that we can compete with European contributors in the ideal and historic lines of art, in which an intimate knowledge of the human form is required; but there is reason to believe that in landscapes the work of our artists will compare favorably with that of their brethren of any country, with a few notable individual exceptions. At any rate, the commission hopes our display will average up pretty well in the general exhibit. The U. S. navy ship, Wyoming, is at the Navy Yard, being elaborately equipped for conveying to France the commissioners and clerks. Gen. McCormick takes only five of the latter with him. They have a soft thing of it, for they receive their passage both ways and $100 a month while at Paris. The General has been overwhelmed with applications for these positions, and so many letters have poured in upon him that, a fortnight ago, he announced that he would not even read applications for appointments. There is considerable feeling here against Secretary Schurz, and the majority of people would hail his resignation with joy. Postmaster General Key, thus far, is the favorite. A man courteous in manner and who is perfectly immovable by any ring or influence. Not an employee in his extensive department has been removed since he entered upon his duties except where absolute proof was given of his or her inability to fill the place. This cannot be said of Schurz, who is constantly making removals sub rosa, notwithstanding his public assertions otherwise.

WEDNESDAY.....MARCH 13, 1878

"The New York Star notices that men who travel about threatening to horse-whip editors, sooner or later fetch up in some hospital. That is not the case here. Men go about year after year making such threats with perfect safety. They never go near a newspaper office nor walk on the same side of the street that is frequented by the man they want to whip. As a rule it is much safer to threaten than to try it on"—Cincinnati Star.

In Snohomish the latter rule is the one generally adopted. Perhaps that explains why these affectionate friends of the publisher, after boarding at the Exchange a whole week for the purpose of seeing him, have forgot to call the past two weeks. Is it they dread the hospital, or are only waiting for reinforcements, as currently reported?

INDIGNANT.

The Catholic Sentinel, of this city, has the following sharp suggestions as to certain costumes worn at public and private masquerades: "Those persons who appear at masquerades in the characters of Sisters of Charity, Nuns, and Monks, thereby insult every Catholic and prove themselves ignorant of that respect which is due to religious orders. Hereafter, we shall print the names of all assuming such characters, so that Catholics may know those who thus burlesque the anointed of God."—Bee.

A huge mass of metal, weighing four or five tons, resulting from melting down counterfeit plates and dies captured by the detectives of the Treasury Department, has been laid as the "corner stone" of the foundation in the erecting shop of the engineering department in the Navy Yard at Washington.

The Springfield Republican did not put in any black rules when Mr. Bowles died. It is good to see that this antiquated style of expressing grief is passing away. Nothing is more horrible or in worse taste than a newspaper with its column rules upside down.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Thirty years ago J. W. Mackey left Ireland a penniless boy. Twenty years ago he was traveling in this country as a "drummer." Sixteen years ago he was bankrupt. Now he owns some of the richest mines on the Pacific coast, and has a yearly income estimated at $15,000,000.

"If ever a man deserved killing on general principles it was R. C. Allen," says the Austin (Tex.) Reveille. Allen had been shot by a man whom he had threatened to whip. A coroner's jury accepted this theory of the case, and in a verdict commended the deed.

A Victoria dispatch, dated March 7, says: A steamer, bottom up has floated on the west coast of this island. The name on the stern is said to be the Cordelia. She is supposed to have been lost in one of the gales off Humboldt last week. Particulars are expected today.

TERRITORIAL ITEMS.

Wheat at Walla-Walla commands but 60 cents per bushel.

A farmer living near Walla Walla has 1,000 acres in wheat.

There is a cash balance in the Territorial treasury of $15,000.

Seventy three patients are now in the insane asylum at Steilacoom.

S. D. Howe has been appointed Inspector of Customs at Seattle.

Five new school districts have been organized in Thurston county the past year.

A large amount of lime is being shipped from San Juan to Oregon by railroad.

Cannel coal of the first quality has been found in the new penitentiary coal mine.

The Puyallup Stave Factory, after a temporary suspension, has resumed operations.

The several mail carriers travel one half a million miles per annum, in Oregon.

McGilvra is now engaged telling the people of Seattle of all the wonders he saw on his trip to Washington.

At the burning of Smith & Hatch's steam sawmill, New Tacoma, the loss was four thousand dollars.

A. B. Engle, admitted to the bar at the last term of court at Port Townsend, goes to LaConner to practice law.

Diphtheria still continues its ravages east of the mountains. We hear of whole families of children being swept away by the disease.

Mail service to Olympia has been restored. Irvine Ballard's steamer Zephyr has the contract to carry the mail tri-weekly from Tacoma.

Extensive preparations are being made by Mr. Bowman at Ship Harbor, to establish a steam sawmill and make that harbor a general business centre.

A prize of ten dollars is to be awarded to the best speller at the Methodist Fair at Seattle, on the 14th inst. The fellow that holds the lone hand takes the pot.

The Seattle Coal and transportation Company have dismantled their old track to the Newcastle mines and rely wholly on the Seattle & Walla Walla Railroad.

Col. Wilson, a government engineer, has been instructed to make an examination of the site for a fog-whistle, at Point-no-Point. This is in response to a memorial of the late Legislative Assembly.

Washington Territory has leased her convicts at 60 cents per day. At this rate it would cost Oregon about $30,000 per annum, while the entire appropriation last session of the Legislature was $40,000 for two years.—Democrat.

One of the most noteworthy improvements in Seattle is the new brick and stone store of W. A. Jennings on Mill street, between Mr. J's old stand and S. P. Andrews' hardware establishment. The building was constructed by contract by John Kennon as builder, in the best possible style for convenience, and so as to resist dampness and be durable and solid. It is the best store room in the Territory, and one of the most convenient on the coast. It took Mr. J. ten days to remove his mammoth stock from the adjoining building. Now everything is fitted up as neat as if they had been in possession for months instead of days.

In addition to those heretofore reported, the following nominations for the constitutional convention have been made: At Kalama, S. M. Gilmore, of Klickitat county, as delegate at large; B. F. Dennison for the Second Judicial District; A. S. Abernethy for the council district of Cowlitz, Wakiakum and Pacific, and J. S. Allen for the council district of Thurston and Lewis counties. At Port Townsend C. M. Bradshaw is the republican nominee for the council district of Clallam, Island and San Juan.

From Walla Walla comes the account of a shocking tragedy, where Corporal Wm. Murphy of Co. E, 1st Cavalry, assaulted four fellow soldiers with a knife. Before his blood-thirsty spirit was satisfied three men were cut, two receiving mere flesh wounds, the third, John Sneider of the same company, and a good and faithful soldier, was cut across the abdomen, permitting the entrails to protrude. After lingering twelve hours in great agony, he died. After his death another fatal wound, three inches deep, was discovered on his left side. Murphy is 32 years of age, has cut two men at the garrison before and is a hard case.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

70,000 human beings are in a starving condition in the famine-stricken regions of China.

Salmon have commenced running up the Columbia one month in advance of the usual time.

The Sacramento river is higher than before in the past sixteen years. The greatest quantity of rain ever known in California has fallen in five weeks time. The amount of water is so great as to flood San Francisco bay so that flood-tide does not affect it, and to make it a fresh water lake for the time being.

Mr. Frank M. Rice, residing on Muddy three miles from Halsey, Linn county, Oregon, shot himself recently through the heart, with his rifle. He died instantly. He was about forty years of age in good circumstances, and leaves a wife and family. No cause is known for the act.

On the Willamette intense excitement exists in regard to the perpetrators of the outrage on Mr. C. E. Wheeler near St. Helens, that resulted in his death, Feb. 26. He was found tied to a tree, on the evening of the 25th, in a great state of exhaustion. Two masked men had robbed him, tied him to a tree and left him. From the way the deed was done it appears that revenge as well as a desire to rob him had led them to commit this outrage. Mr. Wheeler was well known on the Sound as traveling agent of the Howe sewing machine, also at Portland, near which latter place he was for some time keeper of the White House. Various parties are suspected but none arrested.

POETRY.

LIFE.

[Original for the Star.]

This life is a journey o'er mountains and plains,
With green, grassy meads on the way,
And Eden's of beauty, where love ever reigns,
But alas! where no one ever remains
Through prayerfully anxious to stay.

There are sunbeams and flowers as pure as the snow,
And jewels and gems strewn along;
Which the wondering throng, as they sway to and fro,
Anon are permitted to glean as they go;
But no one can treasure them long.

There are snatches of songs that all love to sing,
That come from nobody knows where.

There's beauty entranced, with its love offering,
Disappointment concealing its vampire sting,
And anthems and fragments of prayer.

There are shouts of rejoicings and paens of praise,
And laurel wreaths woven with flowers.

For those who succeed in hazardous ways,
Or please with their humor, or serious, or lays,
Or brighten the shadowy hours.

There are moments of sadness, for nobody knows
Why the journey was ever begun.

From whence he has come, or whither he goes
Like the dewdrop that trembles awhile on the rose
Ere it leaves on the wings of the sun.

But a rumor comes back, like a wall on the wind,
Or a shudder of wintry breath;

Announcing wherever life's pathway may wind,
Sooner or later its certain to end
In the dark, silent "Valley of Death"

O' wonderful vale, of which nothing is known,
Save that darkness holds unbroken sway;
Which the infant, the maiden, the king on his throne,
Must enter at bidding, and enter alone,
To return not forever and aye.

All long for a token from friends who are there,
And often its silence implore,
One moment to lay its unveiled secrets bare;
But no echo from question or quandary or prayer

Come back from the opposite shore.
But opposite shore there surely must be,
Or its name would be strangely mislaid,
But our "Father in Heaven", our trust is in Thee.

Whatever our anguish, wherever we be,
That the other is brighter than this.

District Court commences next week. Very light docket. Over dose of law last session has produced a beneficial re-duction.

John Tromley's long expected butcher shop is up, and he will be ready for business next week. The building is situate between the Cosmopolitan saloon and Plaskett's new building. Size, 16x24.

Jersey is the happiest man in town over his wildcats. He has a pair of very fine ones, received from Lowell. They are kept in a cage in the Athenetum, and he delights to show them to every one. Go and see them.

Dr. Locke, the skillful dentist, came to town last Saturday. He will remain until next week: having been here before the people know him, are acquainted with the superior work done by him, therefore he has now all the work he can do while here.

Ferguson & Morgan are making extensive improvements at the mill on the Pill Chuck or Jim Town. About a dozen white men and a gang of Chinamen are now at work on the main ditch. This mill, so far, has proved a great inconvenience to the place.

The room formerly occupied by the Pioneer Restaurant has been leased by Mr. Geo. Smith, of Lowell, who has moved with his family to town. He will open a restaurant as soon as fitted up. He is a straightforward, reliable man who will do well there, and he and his family are a valuable accession to the place.

The Superintendent of the Tulalip Indian reservation has forbid Harry Mills to moor his logs at Priest point, and has ordered him forthwith to remove those now there. It is supposed that this order was procured by certain parties jealous of Harry, or else nothing so manifestly unjust would have been ordered by Dr. Marion.

Last week Mr. Plummer sold to L. Wilbur, E. C. and Clark Ferguson, the county right to sell and use the Plummer dryers in Snohomish county. It is in good lands; they have the means and will probably introduce many of these valuable dryers here this year, beside running one or more themselves. Mr. R. E. Whitney purchased the right to Whatcom county, recently for the purpose of drying grain.

The past four months H. Mills has been busy much of the time, clearing, grading and fencing two lots, just east of Henry Jackson's residence. He is now about ready to build in a substantial residence. Mr. M. is a man of good business record, one of the most successful loggers of the valley and the first one to successfully maintain a series of booms that would not let the up river logs go to sea every freshet.

With a rapidly increasing business, Mr. Hilton increases his advertising in the STAR. He claims to keep the best and most varied stock of groceries in town, and proposes to make the claim good by keeping in stock everything needed in a first-class grocery store. Another thing, never before done here, he advertises the free delivery of goods to any part of the town. His increasing business will, probably, compel him to erect this season, a new store in which to carry on his business.

Numerous improvements are being made about town in fixing up lots, fencing trees, grading, etc. The town is so situated that but little grading will ever be required, although many fine views can be obtained from some of the more elevated building sites; particularly is this true of Mr. Wilbur's new residence where, down the river, the steamer can be traced by its smoke, for an hour before it reaches town, and up river, the the mountains can be plainly seen. The scenery is so beautiful that several others will probably build on lots adjoining Mr. W's residence this season. Mr. H. Blackman is terracing and grading around his house, so as to produce an excellent effect. No town of its size on the coast has so many neat private residences as Snohomish, and those to be erected this year will be of such a character as to still further increase the reputation, in this respect, of the place.

SOLID (NON)SENSE, BY OUR PHELIX.

The man what "clips" for the Portland Bee is a kuss of the first water. He is a kuss in that he stole from the columns of the STAR, the item on "Single Cussedness," and, by inserting the words, "Fifth street," made it appear as original matter in his own paper. We hardly expected to see an exhibition of such downright kussedness on the part of a paper of the pretensions and actual high standing of the Bee; but, in view of the humble origin of the item and the compliment implied in seeing a city daily steal it, the base indication is freely forgiven; provided always that you don't go and do it some more; but, in the words of a con-profound relic of the past, Gen. Dix, or Den. Gicks, (we have forgotten the exact name) "If any man dare attempt to draw down the American spot, flag him on the shoot—or spot him on the draw—or float him on the shag—or—lay on Macduff, and holed be he who first cries dam, enough.

The other day a man was observed walking down the main street of Snohomish City, with a pair of shoes, fast together by a string attached to either heel, and slung across his shoulder in a careless manner. He was in his shirt sleeves and his shirt was a dannel one; had on a bran new pair of suspenders, and, very wisely, took the whole width of the street between the sidewalks to pursue his perambulations. Finally, he reached the porch of the Snohomish Exchange, where he took a sudden notion that he was President Hayes, and held a reception and made a speech to the edification of the bystanders. It wasn't long, however, until he took another notion and laid down in a mud-puddle—and the fellows said, they did, they said he was d-r-u-n-k.

Centennial celebrations are getting stale. They have unearthed every old sinner and saint of by gone centuries, whose age by hook or crook, could be made to suit, and celebrated his Centennial. We are sorry, in contemplation of these facts, that we are illustrious; for we had hoped at the close of our stormy and eventful career, to rest undisturbed in an honored grave, under the benign shade of a simple weeping-willow, or sentimental sage-brush. Ah, me! 'tis sad, very sad, to know that, one hundred years after his demise, the lifeless remains of poor Phelix must be dragged forth from the grave for an idle Centennial celebration.

In the course of a few days, a young man in this office proposes to write a treatise entitled: "What I knew about Boils." He now has one in embryo on the southern extremity of his elegant proboscis, which, while it is an unhealthy climate for boils, has the advantage of being eligibly situated for scientific observation, which is the reason he has it there. If he becomes permanently cross-eyed in investigating it, then he can proudly say that he is a martyr to scientific research, in the interest of his fellow man for whom his affection boiled over.

The Agricultural Society last Monday evening, at their meeting, elected J. N. Low as the president; S. A. Woods, vice president; Royal Haskel, secretary. A board of trustees was also elected, consisting of Messrs. Low, Woods, Haskel, Brazier and C. Ferguson, Yakima County.

ITS DISTINCTIVE FEATURES.

KITTITAS VALLEY.

Is about twenty miles in length by fifteen in width with various small streams coursing through all parts of said valley. Nature of land—rich bottom and sage flats and benches, all good agricultural land, when irrigated, and can almost all be irrigated at small labor and expense. Wood, timber and lumber very convenient in most parts. One grist mill, one saw mill, one planing machine, two blacksmith shops, two stores, one very small town (Ellensburg) and good district schools. Surrounding country, hill and bench land covered with luxuriant bunch grass; thousands of acres of fine stock country as in the world. Much good land open to settlement; rich quartz ledges 25 miles south of said valley; probably a quartz mill will be put up during the coming summer. At work at present with arastras; prospects rich and extensive. This valley is in the northern part of the county, 40 miles from Yakima City. Trail from Seattle by way of Snoqualmie pass, runs through the central part of this valley. Also the railroad via Natchez pass can be tapped at the Nile valley, twenty miles from Kittitas valley by a good wagon road. Nile valley is about 37 miles west of Yakima City.

WENAS VALLEY

Is situated on Wenas creek, a tributary of Yakima river. Valley 20 miles in length; average width, one mile of tillable land; sawmill at head of valley; some good land still unoccupied; easily irrigated; good district schools. The writer claims that the best wheat in the country has been raised in this valley.

NATCHEE VALLEY.

Is situated on Natchee river, a tributary of Yakima river; valley 20 miles long, average width one mile of tillable land; much land still unoccupied; timber is plenty and irrigation convenient; location sheltered and warm; good district school; vacant land still to be had, but settlers are constantly looking for homes here.

COWICHEE VALLEY

Is situated on Cowichee stream, a tributary of Natchee river. Valley 8 miles long, average width two miles. Good school; abundant grass, timber and water. Some land still unoccupied here; fine range.

ABTANUM VALLEY

Is situated on Abtanum stream; valley 25 miles long; average width, three miles; sawmill at head of valley; Yakima City the county seat at lower end; Yakima is a place of about 60 buildings and is improving fast. An extensive irrigating ditch is to be constructed into this valley the present season and quite an amount of good land will then be settled, which is now unoccupied.

SIMCOE VALLEY

Embracing the land on which the Indian reservation is now located, is 40 miles long; average width, 15 miles; a large beautiful valley, mostly fine tillable land; people all anxious to have it thrown open to settlement by whites; room for 2,000 homestead settlers.

PARKER'S BOTTOM

On east side of Yakima river, opposite reservation. Valley 15 miles long, average width two miles; extensive body of bench land can be settled and cultivated by constructing an irrigating ditch from Yakima river, at moderate expense; good school; warm, pleasant and healthy location.

REMARKS.

Much of the bottom lands on all of said streams are now settled upon; and much sage land. There is still room for many homes on good sage land (which land is very rich and productive) and in good locations. The Cascade range of mountains encircles, on the west, the whole Yakima valley; and all the stream mentioned find their sources in said mountains and foothills. At the head of each valley, on the foothills is an abundant supply of pine, fir and tamarack timber, and all have fine water powers.—Herald.

 Protection to home industry was for years the leading doctrine of the old Whig party. For this principle, the great Harry Clay labored, and in defense of it, the renowned Dan. Webster consecrated the best energies of his matchless intellect. It has ever been the fond ideal of the statesman of every clime to build up home interests first; although in its practical application many fallacies have been exposed; yet there are none in patronizing the Northern Star Job Office, And Getting all Their Legal and Business Blanks EXECUTED AT HOME. THE TARIFF ON PRINTERS' MATERIALS.

The San Francisco Weekly Bulletin thus calls attention to the increased tariff on printers' materials:

"The new tariff bill fixes the duty on news and book type at 15 cents per pound, which is from 40 to 60 per cent. ad valorem. The rate on job and fancy type is 30 cents per pound, which is from 40 to 100 per cent. ad valorem, the annual duties collected under the present rates did not exceed $20,000. Under the rates now proposed, the duties would probably be prohibitory, a result which could only be desirable to the proprietors of the dozen type foundries in the United States. There are 20,000 printing offices in this country, which employ not less than 120,000 men, against the 700 employes in the dozen foundries. There is some competition at present on the part of the Scotch type foundries, who pay duties on their imports and claim to sell a better article at the same price as American type is sold. The type foundries in this country have been doing well under the old tariff. It is quite evident that they do not need any additional protection. A tariff which cuts off revenue is not desirable. The present tariff puts about $20,000 a year in the public treasury from the sale of foreign type. This competition is far more desirable than a prohibitory tariff. The latter, while it would cut off revenue would have the effect to increase further the price of type in this country, because all foreign competition would be shut out. The 20,000 printing offices in the United States have considerable interest in this question. No doubt the type foundries would gain an important point by a prohibitory tariff. But would this private gain be of real benefit to the country?"

The above is an excellent illustration of some of the evils incident to all systems of special protection by government. The small interests struggling for existence that are in danger of being killed by home and foreign competition are without means, and wholly unable to use money so as to secure congressional aid or assistance in the shape of favorable legislation, while the well established, wealthy institutions have means so they can and do employ the best talent in Congress to secure, under the name of protection, special legislation to crush out their less fortunate rivals. The nation, meanwhile losing the entire revenue they otherwise would derive from a tariff more equitably adjusted.

INDIAN JUSTICE.

Piute Indians have a summary and effective way of dealing with their "fair but frail" ones. "An Indian", says the Reno Journal, "known as Sam, lost his squaw through the blandishments of another red man named Jim. It seems that the fair Mary fell a victim to Jim's tender words, and at his solicitation left her husband's bed and board and joined the fortunes of Jim. Sam was not one to quietly submit to this treatment, particularly as Mary had taken some of her husband's goods when she departed. The loss of these added much to the wrath of the victimized Sam, who raised such a commotion among the Piute braves about it that they determined to teach the frail Mary, and by her example the rest of the female portion of the tribe, a lesson. Jim tried to screen her from the gathering storm by hiding her, but they soon found her, and about fifty of the tribe, including Jim and several squaws, escorted her to the hills just back of Wasioce lake, where, safe from Caucasian intrusion, they made a huge pile of sage brush, and, after tying her firmly in the middle of it, set it on fire. Then they commenced a war dance around the scene of the cremation, in which all joined except Jim--Sam being very fierce in his leaps and yells. The screams of Mary added to the zest of the dance." The sequel, however, reads very much like the ways of civilized society. "Jim meanwhile, sat quietly by, and seemed an indifferent spectator of what was going on, and, when the fire was out and the ashes gathered up, he went his way to new conquests, and Sam expressed himself satisfied."

The contract for carrying the mails between New Tacoma and Port Townsend has been awarded to L. M. Starr for twenty-nine thousand, seven hundred dollars. Between Port Townsend and Semiahmoo, to W. T. Monroe for two thousand nine hundred and seventy four dollars; Seattle to Schome, to James C. Brittan for four thousand four hundred and seventy five dollars; and from Port Townsend to Sitka to P. B. Cornwall fourteen thousand eight hundred dollars. Also the following, awarded the day previous: from Skokomish to Port Gamble, to D. T. Parker for one thousand one hundred and thirty dollars, and from Seattle to Snoqualmie for five hundred and ten dollars.

The ripest fruit grows on the roughest wall. It is the small wheel of the carriage that comes first. The man who holds the ladder at the bottom is frequently of more service than he who is stationed at the top of it. The turtle, though brought in at the area gate, takes the head of the table. Better be the cat in a philanthropist's family than a mutton pie at a king's banquet. The learned pig didn't learn his letters in a day. True merit, like the pearl inside an oyster, is content to remain quiet until it finds an opening. The top strawberries are eaten first. Pride sleeps in a gilded crown; contentment in a cotton night-cap.

A Mexican correspondent says that the growing weakness of the Church party in Mexico is evidenced by the very rapid progress of the Scotch rite of Masonry. All of the prominent men are masons, many of them having reached the thirty third degree. Mr. Diaz and M. Villiarta, the Minister of Foreign Affairs, are Masons of the thirty third degree and members of the Grand Consistory. All the Members of Congress, Senators and Governors, with few exceptions belong to the Masonic order. It may be said that the Masonic order of Mexico now is one of the most respectable bodies in the world.

In justice's court Steilacoom when the case of Jacob Hoover was called for examination no one appeared against him; but he demanded that the complaint and the cause be submitted to the grand jury at the next term; and it was so ordered. Mr. Hoover clearly intends to vindicate himself. It will be remembered that the charge against him is that he "raised" Pierce county warrants. He is right in requiring fullest investigation.

On Wednesday, January twenty-ninth, all France began drawing at the ballot box army service. When the drawing for the first district of the city of Paris came on, the name of Bonaparte was called, and Prince Joachim Murat presented himself as a relative in place of the ex-Prince Imperial, who, being the eldest son of a widow, was, on that account excused.

A convention at Walla Walla last Thursday nominated Judge S. C. Wingard for delegate to the constitutional convention; Col. The nominations were made by consultation of Republicans and Democrats.—Dispatch.

Accounts from Callao of the effects of the tidal wave say the alarm is indescribable and the damage incalculable. The sea is covered with floating debris, and immense waves thirty and forty feet high break over the mole and along the whole coast line, spreading havoc and destruction around them. In Iquique the earthquake shock was terrific; it lasted one minute and thirty seconds. The main shock was followed during the night by forty minor shocks.

When Dom Pedro returned to Brazil after a two years' absence, it was to find that one of his Cabinet had been carrying things with a high hand selling offices after the Belknap style, that is, by employing female help, on commission, to secure him purchasers for his official favors. Suspicion rested against others in the same body, and as it was hard for the Emperor, in the conflict of stories, to decide who were guilty and who not, he settled the matter by giving the entire Cabinet its discharge.

Protection to home industry was for years the leading doctrine of the old Whig party. For this principle, the great Harry Clay labored, and in defense of it, the renowned Dan. Webster consecrated the best energies of his matchless intellect. It has ever been the fond ideal of the statesman of every clime to build up home interests first; although in its practical application many fallacies have been exposed; yet there are none in patronizing the Northern Star
