

WAR NEWS.

LONDON, April 26.—The speech of Gladstone in the house of commons on Monday upon the vote of credit is received with profound interest throughout Europe, and published in full in all the newspapers. It dispelled any idea that may have been entertained heretofore that England would make any concessions to Russia. The general opinion in the press is that the speech in its own right is a masterpiece of statesmanship. News-papers are filled with discussions of probable alliances the respective belligerents may form, in the event of war. It is now thought that the war so near at hand will not be confined to Asia, but be extended into Europe.

In the house of commons today Lord Edmund Fitzmaurice, under secretary of foreign affairs, read a telegram from General Lumsden, dated at Tiel, April 23. This telegram mentions that the governor of Herat had received a report that the Russian troops had advanced upon Maruchak. Lord Edmund also said General Lumsden himself, in a telegram dated April 23, incidentally speaks of the recent occupation of Maruchak by the Russians.

The Standard, referring to the occupation of Maruchak by the Russians, says: "There is no question of the provocation in this instance. The occupation of Maruchak stands out broadly and unqualifiedly as a clear invasion of the territory of Afghanistan, without even the pretense of military necessity. Assuming that the news of the occupation of Maruchak is correct, there is little room for doubt that it can be considered anything else than a deliberate act of aggression, and this act of aggression has the appearance of being specially chosen in order that there may be no possibility of a further mistake. It is a deliberate breach of a solemn covenant, a flagrant violation of Russian promises and assurances.

The Times has a review of the recent actions of Russia in which it asserts that the spirit displayed leaves little hope that England's last overture will be the appearance of being specially chosen in order that there may be no possibility of a further mistake. It is a deliberate breach of a solemn covenant, a flagrant violation of Russian promises and assurances.

It is stated that the government has received an important memorandum from Dufferin upon the views of the Irish government and upon the action of Russia since the beginning of the existing controversy over the definition of the boundary of Russia and Afghanistan.

The Russian advance upon Maruchak is regarded in parliamentary circles as dispelling the last hope of a Russian advance upon Herat.

A Royal Pind letter states that the news of the Russian advance upon Maruchak is regarded in parliamentary circles as dispelling the last hope of a Russian advance upon Herat.

Russian papers publish a pretended proclamation of the ameer, issued from Janitor, declaring, "if war is forced on the Afghans they will rise as a single man to repel the invaders, but as between England and Russia, if left to our own independence, I will protect peace between those two states and cling to neither." The aim of the publication is to show that Russia desires to protect the neutrality of Afghanistan.

It is reported that Baron DeStaal, in an interview with Earl Granville, stated that an advance of English troops toward Candahar would be the signal for Russian occupation of Herat. Russia, he said, would not admit the right of England to form a protectorate of Afghanistan, and would insist upon that country remaining neutral.

LONDON, Apr. 26.—The government has asked Russia to explain the advance of the Russian troops on the Maruchak. Mr. Gladstone will probably make a statement in the house of commons to-night in regard to the matter. The government is in constant communication with Persia in regard to her present relations with Russia.

A dispatch to the daily News from St. Petersburg confirms the statements in the recent engagement with Afghans the Russians were defeated with heavy loss.

St. Petersburg, April 25.—The Odessa division of the Russian army, numbering 20,000 men, has been ordered from the Black sea to the Caspian. Garrisons in and around Odessa will be replaced by troops from the interior. The sum of 1,500,000 roubles ($275,000) has been awarded to complete the defenses of Odessa.

Two hundred workmen have been sent to Sveaborg to strengthen the military defenses at that important post.

The government is buying coal abroad, at any price, and engaging the service of a large number of workmen.

Orders have been issued for the mobilization of the entire Russian army.

negotiations between England and Russia.

Fifty heavy guns have been sent from Koff to Finland. The czar has signed orders for the equipment of the whole Russian fleet.

The Russian minister of marine has completed an inspection of all the forts at Cronstadt.

St. Petersburg, April 25.—The czar has sent an ultimatum to Great Britain, demanding that the latter shall accept Russia's proposed boundary line between Turkistan and Afghanistan if Great Britain refuses to accept this boundary, Russia will proceed to occupy Herat.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 23.—All the powers have, through their representatives, verbally urged Turkey to maintain a state of neutrality in the event of war between England and Russia.

German officers are at present engaged in inspecting forts along the Danube. The forts are rapidly executing fresh defensive works on the Bosphorus. The sultan has ordered the lights of Therapia to be fortified. Turkish agents have been sent abroad to purchase topographical maps of the sultan's account.

The ports, on Sunday last, telegraphed a request to Prince Bismarck for his opinion upon the Anglo-Russian situation, and the attitude proper for Turkey to assume towards the powers, if they go to war. It is stated that the German chancellor promptly responded to this request, but the nature of his response has not yet been made public. It is known, however, that the Turkish ministers held a special meeting yesterday, to consider Prince Bismarck's reply.

On the 21st, April 25.—The Russian troops are mobilizing.

The Russian government has ordered the Southwestern railway to prepare several hundred carriages, and to have them ready as early as possible, for the purpose of transporting troops.

Moscow, April 26.—Admiral Trepoff, April 23rd says: At an interview March 26th, the Russian commander informed Captain Yale that the fact that General Komaroff was informed that Paul-Khidi was Russian territory, ought to be sufficient. Captain Yale pointed out what he termed the absurdity of the pretension, the Afghans being already in possession of the place. Before the battle, the Russians dated their letters P-I-Khidi.

Berlin, April 25.—France, Germany and Austria have been discussing a project for promotion of a neutral league, and have invited Italy and Turkey to join them, but neither of the latter powers has yet given a decided reply.

Copenhagen, April 25.—Sweden and Norway are urging on Denmark the expediency of uniting with them in the issue of a proclamation, in the event of war, declaring strict neutrality.

St. Petersburg, April 25.—The czar's speech, regarding it as a piece of war.

Tientsin, April 25.—Orders have been given to hasten to completion the military hospitals being erected between this place and Haku.

New York, April 25.—The Herald's cablegram from Moscow says: Nine thousand troops and six batteries of artillery belonging to the eighth army corps left here today for the south. Last night ten companies of engineers, with 200 carriages of railway and telegraph plant, left for Askaniya, where the greatest activity prevails. Telegraph lines that only a few weeks ago ended at Askaniya now extend to Satcho, 200 miles beyond, and only 100 miles from Herat. It is stated that sufficient railway material has been already collected at Askaniya to build a railway to Herat, via Serkhis and Peitich, a distance of 400 miles, in an incredibly short space of time. Extraordinary preparations by Russian engineers are being made to follow up the advance of troops by the immediate construction of railroads.

LONDON, April 27.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg to Herat's telegraph company says: War between England and Russia is now regarded as inevitable. The czar leaves today for Moscow and from that historic city will issue his manifesto or declaration of war, if such an extreme measure should become necessary.

The Renter telegram, stating that the czar would today leave St. Petersburg for Moscow and issue the necessary manifesto from the latter place, has caused much excitement in all political and diplomatic circles. Sir Edward Thornton, the British minister at St. Petersburg, has reported officially respecting Russia's views of the first request of England, asking for an explanation of the conduct of General Komaroff at Poudich March 30th, in view of the report made by Sir Peter Lumsden, contradicting the Russian commander's story of the battle. Thornton reports unfavorably.

It is asserted that the British government is in possession of information which proves beyond doubt that Prince Bismarck has been urging Turkey to side with Russia, in the event of war between England and Russia.

LONDON, April 27.—A council will be held at Cronstadt soon to consider the defenses of that point.

It is reported today that the czar is going to Moscow.

The admiralty has ordered all able bodied seamen to be enrolled in the royal navy.

The duke of Cambridge presided over the defense committee last night.

It is reported that Russia is meeting with great opposition in her efforts to purchase transport animals. Turkistan has issued a decree forbidding on animals for transport service, and when the orders were being executed there was some rioting.

BRUSSELS, April 27.—The Independence-Belge publishes, under the serve, but from an excellent source, a report of a fresh battle between the Russians and the Afghans, in which the former were defeated and returned, having met with a heavy loss.

LONDON, April 27.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily News says: I am informed on good authority that another engagement has occurred on the Afghan frontier. Of 1700 Russians who engaged the Afghans, nearly all were killed.

LONDON, April 28.—The Daily Telegraph says: The fact that the war credit was voted on without any one venturing a reply to Gladstone, is unproved in this or any other country. Mr. Gladstone's language is too significant to require comment. The attack on Poudich must either be justified or atoned for.

The Telegraph cannot believe that such a spectacle as the decision of the house will be lost upon Russia. Such speeches as that delivered by Mr. Gladstone raise politics to a higher level.

The government has no information with reference to the report that the czar is going to Moscow.

The consular agents had intended to move adjournment of the credit debate in the house of commons, but on seeing the effect of Gladstone's speech, refrained. Lord Randolph Churchill, on entering the house later, was surprised to find that the vote of credit had already been agreed to.

The News, in an editorial this morning, says: There is strong hope that matters have not reached war points in the negotiations between England and Russia.

St. Petersburg, April 27.—Seven million roubles in gold have been sent to central Asia.

The decision as to peace or war is expected tomorrow, or at the latest by a May 1.

A lecture by Captain Tarakhoff, of the guards, is much commented upon. The speaker referred to the eventual conquest of the Afghans, which would be as difficult as the conquest of the Caucasus has been.

It is estimated that the emperor's forces number 50,000 men and sixty guns.

Neither the Finland diet nor the press has made proposals to equip privaters, nor have Finnish soldiers left to join privateers.

The Nova Zemla says if Russia is forced into war England may regret that it will be conducted with the utmost energy.

The present state of suspense is almost intolerable. People here show the utmost impatience to hear the statements of the British government in parliament.

The cost of Finland is being rapidly put in a state of defense.

Thirty-three corn laden vessels have left the port of Riga during the last two weeks. Vessels remaining at Riga and other Russian ports on the Baltic sea are striving to complete their cargoes as fast as they can.

The Stock.

Messrs. Laumon & Reed have secured a fine thoroughbred horse from Mr. Opeuhelmer, of Colville, and are keeping him at the N. P. stables. The horse is known by the name of "Belvidere," and is as fine an animal as we have seen in this part of the country.

The animal comes of good line of stock, elegant for speed and bottom, and we believe will make a great favorite among owners of good stock in this vicinity. Stock owners are cordially invited to call at the stable and examine "Belvidere," and we would advise both residents of this city and farmers visiting the Falls to accept the invitation and take a look at the animal. There are few handsomer horses to be seen anywhere.

We received a call yesterday from Van Florn, Esq., an English gentleman who is traveling correspondent for the London Standard, and the Vancouver Tribune. Mr. Florn came to America last winter as a representative of the London Standard, and was in charge of the London Standard's report on the American Exposition at New Orleans, where he spent two or three months, and has been in the States since. He has extended his trip to the Pacific coast, stopping at places of note along the line of the Northern Pacific road.

The gentleman is very conversant with the country, and in conversation stated that it showed more signs of life than any point he has stopped at along the route, except perhaps Butte. He will remain at the California House several days looking over the city and surrounding country, and he desires to see some of our prominent citizens, and give them a foundation for a few solid letters.

The Moscow (E. T.) Mirror claims for the annexation of North Idaho to Washington territory. It suggests that "Lawson, Spokane, Walla Walla, Poudre City, Moscow, Dayton, Colfax and Pomeroy unite in sending an in-lane delegation of strong men to Washington next fall to insist in the work, provided, of course, the movement would meet the approval of Mr. Voorhees and Mr. Halley. We presume these gentlemen would be glad of the influence which a strong delegation would have upon congress, as the appearance of this committee would, in itself, emphasize the popular feeling on that subject in this section."

Who are the gentlemen who wish to spend the winter in Washington city at the expense of the people? Times are too hard—Walter H. Cram.

The migration is becoming a common sight in the crowds of people that throng our streets daily. From the increased amount of travel and the improved inclination of people to get out and around, we can see the word throng with its implied and unimpaired.

The change in this respect is noticeable and appreciable.

The new base ball club will soon be able to come out in all the garb of champions of knee breeches, red stockings, skull caps, etc., that go to make up a field uniform.

With the addition of gas works our city will put on a metropolitan appearance. The illuminator will be in its summer.

We see that our local ball club is reaching out for victims. The Walla Walla papers report that the club of that city has heard from the Spokane ball club.

BREVITIES.

—Some enterprising company ought to build a street railroad now.

—J. T. Lockhart, Esq., is now making his headquarters in this city.

—Cheney papers report the discover of rich silver bearing rock near that city.

—Rain is a find that the farming community could take just now in large doses.

—Judge Weed has removed his office to Johnson's block, where he will hold court hereafter.

—The existence of the water work seems to go away with the expense of springing carts.

—Win. Butterworth, our Mill street tailor, has taken possession of his new quarters in Peck's block.

—Collectors report inquiry a little man identical, but there is not a much of it that one can escape up with a scaphopore.

—From the tone of European dispatches there is hardly a doubt but that we will be declared between England and Russia.

The second story of Moore's block will be given up entirely to professional offices. About all the rooms have been taken.

—That silver trumpet is an article coveted by a good many. There is no a man in the department but would be proud to own it.

—A great many mistakes are pointed out in the make-up of the delinquent tax list as published. Of course this must be the fault of those who have made the list, as printers follow copy closely on that class of work. It is a question whether the sale under the circumstances would hold good against delinquent property.

—A newspaper published in this county during some free advertising has again commenced its trade, those upon Spokane Falls. The success of this city is very painful to some people. We are glad, however, and the parties will have more trouble to endure before long, for the Falls will show life and improvement.

Last Saturday evening two bay horses, one a four year old and the other a two year old, were found hanging about the corner in front of the N. P. city stables and were taken up by the proprietors. The horses are fine looking animals, work well together, and have a light harness. The success of this city is very painful to some people. We are glad, however, and the parties will have more trouble to endure before long, for the Falls will show life and improvement.

—A few evenings ago a bright light was noticed on the top of Baldy mountain. A party of four men, who were out on a hunt, saw the light and called to their exhibition and speculation was rife as to the cause. Opinions ran all the way from the matter of fact except fire to that of a volcanic eruption.
