WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 18.
The anti-polygamy bill passed by the senate seems to meet the approval of those best acquainted with the wants of Utah. It is understood that Senator Edmunds has asked Campbell and McBride to indicate such of the existing Mormon laws of Utah as they deem should be revoked by congress, and to suggest what further legislation is needed in order to put the government of Utah territory on a civilized basis. The judiciary committee of the house is following faithfully, like the similar committee of the senate on the Utah question, giving the matter the greatest attention.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.

The senate committee this afternoon decided to recommend the passage of the house apportionment bill without amendment. The chairman has been instructed to ask its immediate consideration on Monday; and if any objection was made, to continue to press its consideration until it is finally disposed of.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.

Senator Miller is very hopeful that despite the various obstacles now in view, he will succeed in bringing the Chinese bill before the senate to-morrow. Present obstacles, which will come up at the end of the morning hour as unfinished business; but he thinks debate on this subject is about exhausted, and that the resolution will be disposed of without consuming much additional time.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.

When this is out of the way the senate will be called upon to decide as to whether precedence be given the Chinese bill or to the tariff commission bill which Morrill intends to urge on the ground that it already has been partially discussed from time to time, and that unfinished business of national importance is entitled to precedence over any new measure. It is possible, however, that an arrangement may be effected by which the senate will agree to take up the Chinese bill to-morrow afternoon, with the understanding that it shall be laid aside temporarily to permit the passage of the apportionment bill. Also, it is not improbable that a bill having the unanimous recommendation of the senate committee on census may be taken up by unanimous consent and passed without any extended debate during to-morrow's forenoon hour.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.

Correspondence relative to Chili and Peru clearly shows that if our government had insisted on negotiations for the maintenance of the Calderon government it would have been necessary to have resorted to arms. Minister Christiano so reported on March last. Calderon made some rather humiliating appeals to the conquering Chilians for the head of a government who could claim the support of the United States. Christianity, on the 9th of March, said Calderon found great difficulty in getting proper ministers to hold offices under him; but when he finally thought he had got this arranged for the first time; it would seem, he began to inquire how far his Chilian friends meant to allow his government to govern. He requested that the Chilian army should be withdrawn from the territory of Lima; that he should be allowed to occupy the government palace and raise over it the Peruvian flag; that he should be allowed to control the custom collection of duties, etc.; all of which was refused, whereupon his proposed ministers refused to act, and he himself was disposed to decline the task of forming the government.

A western press reporter this morning interviewed several leading democrats in regard to a reported scheme to run Blaine and Voorhees as presidential candidates in 1884.

Voorhees characterized the story as too absurd to be noticed. Senator Morgan pronounced the whole story as fiction, saying, "I don't think Blaine would ever trust his political fortunes to such democrats as Voorhees. Jere Black and myself like Blaine personally; but I believe in straight and unadulterated democracy. I would rather lose with a Simon pure democratic candidate than win by a coalition and mixture of principle.

Star route sympathizers in Washington are trying to cover up their disappointment at Judge Suell's decision in the straw bonds cases by exulting over the failure of the star route prosecutions in Judge Dandy's court at Omaha. Col. Geo. Bliss, when asked of these cases, said they were local prosecutions and not under his control. He knew little of them.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The secretary of war to-day sent to congress the report of Capt. Powell, of the corps of engineers, upon the examinations and surveys made of Youngs, Lewis, Clark, Skippanon and Chehalis rivers, and Gray's harbor, in Oregon and Washington territory, and the survey for a proposed canal from Shoalwater bay to Baker's bay, in Washington territory. The report recommends an appropriation of about $15,000 for a snag boat to be used in the lower Willamette and Columbia and the above named Oregon rivers; $5,000 for a cut-off canal at the big bend of the Skippanon river, and $1,000 for dredging the mouth of the Skippanon river. Capt. Powell also advises an appropriation of $5,000 for the removal of obstructions this year from the Chehalis river. The project for the above named canal is reported as practicable, and its first cost is estimated at $325,000.

Representative George, of Oregon, has introduced a bill which allows persons who are required under any law to make affidavits before local land officers to make them before any state or territorial officer authorized to administer oaths. Mr. George has also presented sundry Oregon petitions for legislation for inter-state railroad commerce, and for the erection of a lighthouse at the mouth of the Siuslaw river.

On motion of Mr. Page, the house suspended its rules and adopted a resolution making the Chinese immigration bill the special order for the second Tuesday in March, and from that day thereafter until finally disposed of; but not to interfere with the consideration of general appropriation bills. The vote on adopting the resolution stood 118 to 31.

The minority report of the contingent fund investigating committee will entirely exonerate Secretary Sherman and censure Custodian Pitney and his friends whom Secretary Folger removed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Grant retirement bill which came over as unfinished business from yesterday, had the right of way in the senate after the pensions arrears resolution was disposed of this afternoon. It will come up as regularly in order at the morning hour on Thursday.

Pacific Coast senators are hopeful that the debate on the Grant retirement bill will terminate at an early hour on Thursday, and that despite all other possible obstructions, the Chinese bill will then be brought before the senate.

The president has appointed John H. Nichols postmaster at Cottonwood, Spokane county.

A feeling is prevalent among senators that the president will not now make a change in the secretaryship of the interior. It is thought he will probably keep Kirkwood, as the people of Iowa very much desire that he should remain.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Sergeant Mason complains that he has been confined in a dark, rat infested cell ever since September. He is indignant at the discriminations in favor of the assassin.

Ex-Secretary Schurz arrived to-day. It is understood here that he came to assist the Northern Pacific lobby in its efforts to quash the measures pending in congress for a forfeiture of lapsed land grants.

The Star says the case of Gen. Fitz John Porter has been several times before the cabinet and favorably considered. It is said to be the opinion of the administration and its determination that Porter be given justice to which he is entitled. The decision which advises the board that Porter was not only unjustly dealt with, but that if it had not been for him there would have been great disaster to the Union army, has had great weight with the president and cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Senator Brown, of Georgia, in speaking for himself and several other democrats, declares they will vote for the bill to retire Grant with pay, if general, if thereby they can prevent Logan from making a sectional speech.

The senate committee on naval affairs this morning voted to reject the nomination of Watmough to be paymaster general of the navy and Stevenson to be pay director.

Gen. Rucker, who was lately appointed quartermaster, was placed on the retired list to-day. Gen. Rufus Ingalls was appointed to the vacancy.

One provision of the land grant charters is that railroads must pay the cost of surveying the lands. The railroad companies hold that their lands throughout the west which they have not surveyed they have no patent to, and the courts have held that the state cannot tax these lands because the U. S. still hold an interest in equity in them by reason of the fact that under the conditions imposed by the grant the lands might revert to the government through the failure of the railroads to comply with these conditions. It is claimed that the railroads leave these lands unsurveyed in order to avoid taxation. Van Wyck's bill releases and quit-claims to any state that proceeds against these lands for the collection of taxes all interest in equity of the general government. It is tho't this will encourage the states to collect these taxes.

A vigorous crusade against the liquor traffic will surely be inaugurated by Senator Logan, who has carefully prepared a speech favoring a bill which provides that all revenues of the government hereafter derived from a tax on the manufacture and sale of distilled spirits shall be divided among the states and territories in proportion to the population, exclusively for educational purposes. Mr. Logan will oppose both the reduction and repeal of internal revenue taxes, but urges most energetically that the proceeds from the manufacture and sale of liquor be devoted to bearing the expenses of a great system of free schools, and thus relieve the people of that burden.

The house committee on naval affairs has agreed to recommend an immediate appropriation of ten million dollars to begin the construction of a navy yard.

It is rumored that a nomination for supreme court judge will be made to-day or to-morrow, and that he will be a New York man. The president had for some time decided on the nomination of Senator Edmunds, but the pressure from New York has been so great he cannot resist it.

TIMBER PIRATES.
 During the past few months a vigorous raid has been made upon the forests in this portion of Spokan county. A few logs have been hauled off deeded lands, or have been cut on preemptions and homesteads for the purpose of making needed improvements; but the great bulk of the timber cut and sawed has been appropriated without authority; in other words, stolen from railroad and government lands, and in some instances from lands known to belong to individuals. At regular stumpage rates of one dollar per thousand, more than $3,000 worth of logs have been hauled out of the woods which will never be paid for unless proper steps are taken to compel payment. Many persons engaged in removing these logs have no intention of defrauding any one; but some one is responsible for this robbery, and should be urged to pay for every thousand feet of logs he has had cut and hauled out of the timber. In order to accomplish this end, stamps should be counted and measured, and the distance between stumps and tree tops taken. This can be done very easily as soon as the snow has disappeared; and it will pay the N. P. railroad company and U. S. land agents to do so. Wonder if they will not take this matter in hand and pursue it till a satisfactory end is reached?

It is very late to begin urging congress to deprive the Northern Pacific company of the lands it is prepared to earn along the entire route in a very short time. Had such steps been taken when construction of the road was an unsolved problem, say eight or ten years ago, there could have been good reasons urged for such action; but at this time, while the whole line is under contract and course of construction, it would be decidedly unfair to rob the company of the lands it has partially earned under contract with the government. Settlers have better opportunities to acquire lands under present circumstances than they would have if the lands were to revert to the government. Rival railroad companies are urging this breach of faith on the part of the government.

Our city fathers should lose no time in dividing our city into wards, each ward representing a council district. Present members of the council are simply appointees. A regular election of councilmen will take place in April, and before that time the boundary lines of the various wards should be well defined and thoroughly understood.

For the benefit of those who may have been led to wrong conclusions by the misrepresentations of that acknowledged crank and liar of the Chronicle, we would say that his tirade about the mails is in behalf of those who want the mails to carry themselves. The mails are taken from the postoffice on schedule time, according to instructions of the assistant postmaster-general, and delivered on the train when it arrives, and the arriving mails returned to the postoffice with a greater promptness than heretofore.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, February 23. Senator Bayard has offered a substitute for the bill to retire Grant, providing a pension for all ex-presidents equal annually to one-fourth the amount of his annual pay while president.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The president has nominated A. A. Sargent, of California, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Germany. Sargent's nomination to this position greatly surprised some of his ardent friends who maintained to the last that he would be secretary of the interior.

Roscoe Conkling was today nominated to be associate justice of the supreme court. Nothing is certain in Washington politics. Two days ago a positive statement upon high authority was made by the Times correspondent that the president had decided to appoint Senator Edmunds of Vermont to a bench of the supreme court. Nothing had ever been said in an official way to Edmunds, but he had been advised unofficially of the president's intention.

New York lawyers have urged upon the president the importance of giving that state the same representation it had before that Arthur has changed his mind and decided to send in the name of Conkling for the place. He did this without consulting Conkling. He thought that although Conkling had once refused the office of chief justice of the supreme court which was tendered him by Gen. Grant, his friends are rather inclined to think he will accept the appointment when it is made. His health is not as good as it was, and it is a question whether he can keep up with the practice that has been thrown in his way since retiring from the senate.

The nomination of Conkling created quite a stir in the senate, as it was entirely unexpected to the senators who freely expressed surprise. Indications are that he will be confirmed unanimously. Kirkwood's friends have been working industriously in his behalf of late, though he has not made a single movement for himself.

There is a probability of Conkling's declination. It is said he was not communicated with on the subject. It is believed that if Conkling declines Edmunds will be appointed. The nomination of Sargent is regarded as settling the fact that Kirkwood is to remain at the head of the interior department.

SENATE.
 The Indian trading bill has passed. It prohibits any person other than Indians from trading on any Indian reservation without license, but specially excepts traders with the five civilized tribes in Indian territory.

The Grant retirement bill was then taken up. Bayard moved to amend; rejected; ayes 5, noes 51. An amendment by Sherman prevailed without discussion. The bill then passed; ayes, 35; noes, 17. Brown (colored) Davis of Wisconsin, Jones of Florida, and Ransom voted aye with the republicans. Otherwise the vote was a party one. The bill authorizes the president, in recognition of the eminent public service of U. S. Grant, late general of the army to nominate by and with the consent of the senate appoint him to the army with the rank of general, to be placed on the retired list with pay accordingly. Miller introduced a bill to-day appropriating $175,000 for the construction of steam vessels for the revenue marine adopted for service in the waters of the North Pacific. The senate this afternoon by a vote of thirty against sixteen took up the Chinese bill and then went into executive session, leaving it as unfinished business for to-morrow, when Miller will have the floor. The bill was taken up on motion of Miller and supported by a forcible appeal from Farley. An attempt was made by Bayard to obtain precedence for the tariff commission bill.

HOUSE.
 The house committee on elections has decided to report in the case of Campbell against Cannon, of Utah, that neither the contestant nor the contestee is entitled to a seat in congress, and declare the same vacant.

GENERAL NEWS.

For President in 1884.
 New York, Feb. 24.—A Times Indianapolis correspondent says Tilden recently wrote to John M. Palmer that he (Tilden) would consent to stand for president in 1884 if Palmer would take second place on the ticket. Tilden wrote further that he recognized Palmer as probably the ablest representative of the democracy in the west, and that he believed the ex-governor's popularity among the colored people would render it impossible for republicans to hold the colored vote against the ticket which bears his name.

The Great Carriage Manufacturing House of the World.

EMERSON, FISHER & CO., CINCINNATI, OHIO.

Top Buggies and Phaetons,

Best material, good workmanship, handsome styles, strong, durable vehicles in every respect. 70,000 CARRIAGES Manufactured by EMERSON, FISHER & CO., are now in use in every part of the American Continent.

They give unflinching satisfaction. All their work is warranted. They have received testimonials from all parts of the country of purport similar to the following, hundreds of which are on file, subject to inspection:

Mrs. EMERSON, FURNER & Co. GALA Hill, July 16, 1875. I have used one of your Top Buggies three years, and three of them two years in my heavy stable, and they have given me perfect satisfaction and are in constant use. G. W. HALEY, Mechanics, Corners & Johnson, NEWBERRY N. C. July 17, 1875. Dear Sirs:—I have been using the Emerson & Fisher Buggy I bought from you as roughly as I suppose on any one could. I had a fast horse, drove at full speed, sometimes with two grown ladies and myself in the buggy, and it is to-day worth all the money I paid for it. I say the Emerson & Fisher Buggies will do.

The favorable reputation the Carriages have made in localities where they have been used for several years by Liverymen, Physicians, Farmers and others requiring hard and constant use, has led to an increased demand from those localities, to meet which the manufacturing facilities of their mammoth establishment have been extended, enabling them to turn out in good style.

O. S. N. vs. O. R. & N.

The Portland correspondent of the Astorian writes: "The old Oregon Steam Navigation Company grew from two boats: one plying between this city and the Cascades; the other from the Cascades to the Dalles, and it was always conducted like a family enterprise with the gentle, kind, charitable and shrewd Captain John C. Answorth as partner-familial. Even up to eighteen months ago, when the company had grown to be worth four millions, there were only two executive officers of importance: the superintendent and the general freight and passenger agent, and twelve or fifteen men did the clerical work of main offices, and yet all earnings were honestly accounted for to stockholders; shippers had all wants supplied, and employers and employed were mutually satisfied.

A Pessimistic Thing Receives a Merited Rebuke.

SPOKAN FALLS, Feb. 23, '88.

From Tuesday's Daily.

It is very seldom that any person, no matter how degraded, renders himself so completely obnoxious in as short a time as has the man Carlisle who for the present edits the Spokan Falls Chronicle. He came to this community about eight months ago. But during this short time he has demonstrated to the public the fact that he is the most conceited and cowardly hypocritical scoundrel that has ever disgraced our community.

The American ship "Reporter" with railroad iron for the O. R. & N. Co., and drawing something over 21 feet, has been beating about off the Columbia bar forty-five days, and the prospect for her coming in is still not immediate.—Ex. Better sail into Puget Sound.

From Monday's Daily.

The Eastern Washington Development Company, having secured ferry license, will shortly have a boat in operation on the Columbia river at the foot of Priest's Rapids. This ferry will fill a long felt want and prove of advantage to Yakima, the Spokan and Palouse countries, as immigrants can visit either section, and if not satisfied can pass directly to either of the others, thus avoiding the present enforced round about route.

From Sunday's Daily.

Mr. R. G. Williamson went to Walla Walla yesterday in search of information regarding his son, C. N. Williamson, who is supposed to have left his ranch on Moran prairie last summer with his team, at the request of some one who has dealt foully with him. His father received a letter on Thursday last, from Robert Peck, stating that the wagon abandoned in the Walla Walla valley last summer has articles described as belonging to the Williamson family. The father thinks some one knowing that his son had about a hundred dollars in money and a team, induced him to go to Walla Walla, and dealt foully with him on the trip. The only persons seen near the abandoned wagon (which is no doubt Mr. Williamson's) were a very coarse and rough character and a lad about 12 years old. We hope more light may be thrown upon the search, and that the grief-stricken parents and relatives may know positively what has become of this worthy young man.

GENERAL NEWS.

BY TELEGRAPH, SPECIAL TO THE TIMES

Lively Little War.

RICHMOND, Feb. 18.—An expedition fitted out by Gov. Cameron, to suppress depredating oystermen in the Rappahannock river, left here before twilight last evening in two steamers chartered for the purpose of transporting the governor and his military staff in command of the militia. The expedition was in command of Major Carter, a confederate artillery officer who distinguished himself in a dozen well-fought battles during the late war. The men were nationed for three days. Governor Cameron was determined to exterminate these marauders. For several years past the oystermen of Maryland have trespassed in the waters of Virginia in violation of its law, and when expostulated with by citizens have fired on them.

NORFOLK, Feb. 18.—Gov. Cameron's party captured the whole oyster fleet, consisting of 6 schooners and one sloop, and made prisoners of 61 men. Eighteen shots were fired through the rigging of one schooner. She was chased 35 miles toward the capes of Virginia before being brought to.

FREDERICKSBURG, Feb. 18.—For the first time in the history of Virginia oyster pirates, who have so many years been terrorizing the shores of the Rappahannock, have been surrounded and captured. The fleet consisted of 20 well armed vessels which has been defying officers and citizens for a month. Owners of oyster beds dared not molest them nor make any attempt to preserve their own rights. If they did, a shower of slugs from a swivel gun was the only answer received.

THE BATTLE.
At a little past 12 o'clock yesterday the steamers Louise, Victoria and Reed, which carried the Virginia troops, wheeled at full speed into the mouth of the Rappahannock river and surprised seven vessels of the contraband fleet engaged in stealing oysters. Four howitzers on the Louise were brought to bear on the little fleet. Gov. Cameron, standing in the bow of the steamer, called upon the pirates to surrender in the name of the commonwealth of Virginia. Six of the privateers surrendered without a struggle. The seventh, a low, rakish looking craft, and known on the coast as Daring Devil, manned by 12 of the most desperate men in the business, hope up anchor and attempted to run the blockade. She was immediately cut off. The muzzle of a howitzer loaded with grape was brought to bear upon her, when the captain signalled that he had surrendered. Three cheers were given by the state troops at this the first signal victory over the heretofore invincibles. The conquest was complete. Seven vessels and 61 men were captured. Under the laws of Virginia the vessels and cargoes captured are the property of the captors. Gov. Cameron now has the seven vessels, valued at say $30,000, besides their cargoes, which are heavy. It is supposed that this will put an end to the oyster privateering business.

Hawaiian Treaty.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—A determined onslaught is being made against the Hawaiian treaty by the Louisiana sugar planters.

Land Grants.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—In regard to lapsed land grants, the Mail and Express's Washington special says it is now evident that there will soon be a stir in congress on this subject. The Northern Pacific railroad people have planted their lobby on the ground, and show considerable nervousness as to the result of the issue. The judiciary committees of both houses have the whole subject under consideration, and it is intimated by prominent members of the same that they intend to see the government's interests protected at all hazards. In this relation one of the members has said that they intend to inquire carefully into the question whether the decision of Carl Schurz when he was secretary of the interior in overruling the decision of the land office commissioner, was the result of his ignorance of the law, favoritism or venality. Some pretty rough things are said about Mr. Schurz in this connection, and they will all be investigated with the general subject; and if any of them are substantiated, a bill will be passed directing the attorney general to declare all lapsed railroad grants as a portion of the public domain. The Northern Pacific people make an appeal for mercy on the ground that they have the entire road under contract for construction, and that they will complete it within two years.

Star Routes.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 21.—H. J. Johnson, of the postoffice department, who has been at Lincoln, Neb., directing the initial proceedings against the Star Routes, is here. In an interview he said the admission that these star routes will escape punishment, or that the government has failed entirely in its attempt to suppress them, is a conspiracy to defraud the government; the second, that they had made false returns. The trial was upon the first indictment, and when they found that Cleary, one of the conspirators whom they had released in order to convict the others with his testimony, had played them false, the prosecution dismissed the suit upon that indictment, leaving themselves free to prosecute the cases for making false returns, in the May term of court.

Indignant Mormons.

SALT LAKE, Feb. 20.—Discusses at the Tabernacle yesterday were unusually defiant and treasonable. Wells and Thatcher both spoke, and defied and insulted the government. Thatcher said they would wander in the hills if the Edmunds bill passed in congress, and advised the Mormons to leave Utah as a last resort.

The Great Flood.

MEMPHIS, Feb. 22.—Officers of the city of Greenville report a very sad condition of affairs as existing throughout the Mississippi valley and thousands of men are on constant guard along the levees between here and Vicksburg, who are using every possible means to strengthen their power of resisting and to elevate their crests to prevent water from inundating the whole country. The whole shore line between Memphis and Vicksburg on the Mississippi side, and the eastern shore of Arkansas, are either under water or threatened with inundation. The inhabitants of a vast area of country are in great distress. Many of them have been forced from their houses and are subsisting on rafts. Some are on knolls and parts of the old levees. The destruction of live stock is beyond calculation, and the waste of property by the great sub-merision is outside the limits of present computation.

LOUISVILLE, Feb. 23.—The chief scene of interest in the flooded district today was the distribution of a large quantity of provisions donated by Capt. Wm. Hite to the water-beleagured women and children. Some have not had food for two days. The needful and welcome articles were taken by men in the life-saving service, who rowed from tenement to tenement and hoisted them into the second story windows. It was an impressive sight to watch the withered faces of old bedlames and the pined, pallid countenances of children at windows waiting with hungry eagerness for the coming lifeboats.

HELENA, Ark., Feb. 24.—The river is declining slowly at this point, but is 60 miles wide on the Mississippi side.

Tribute to Garfield.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 22.—A committee representing ex-confederate soldiers of Cincinnati visited Mrs. Garfield at Mentor today and presented her with a beautiful memorial tribute to the memory of James A. Garfield in the shape of a eulogistic resolution. Mrs. Garfield, with great effort, repressed her emotions, while the old mother of the late president wept violently.

Wreck at Columbia Bar.

ASTORIA, Feb. 21.—The British bark Corsica, outward bound, foundered off the Columbia bar this morning. She struck three times in crossing, when she began leaking immediately, and was abandoned at 10 o'clock last night. She sank at five o'clock this morning. The bar was smooth at the time of the disaster. The Corsica was a wooden vessel of 776 tons register; was built in 1869, and owned by John Hatfield & Co., of Glasgow; was overhauled and repaired at Quebec in 1879; was in good condition when she arrived here, January 2, in ballast from Buenos Ayres; consigned to Henry Hewitt & Co., and chartered by Gibson, Church & Co. Her cargo consisted of 48,388 bushels of Walla Walla wheat, valued at $40,000, and sold to a French firm; insured for $7,140 in the Commercial Union, and $20,000 in the London Provincial.

Another Gold Fever.

VICTORIA, Feb. 23.—Last summer a man named Barney Johnson went to Chilcat, crossed the Coast range, and reached a point fifty miles from Fort Selkirk on the Yukon river, at the mouth of Lewis river. There he found a gold belt running across the country from east to west, the same as in the Cassiar, Omnicca and Cariboo districts. The prospect obtained was fine gold every where along the line of this belt. Indians and fur bearing animals are numerous in this country, the altitude of which is not so great as that of Cassiar. The climate is better, however. The diggings lie about the 60th parallel.

Making Peace.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—The News' St. Petersburg special says General Ignatieff states that the government has taken measures to prevent anti-jewish movements, and that the late disorders will not be repeated.

Berlin, Feb. 23.—Considerable surprise is felt here that no successor has been appointed to Minister White. It is said that Bismarck will retaliate by postponing indefinitely the appointment of a successor to Herr Von Schloser.

PARIS, Feb. 23.—Neillson's husband, who became insane during the excitement attending the recent financial crisis, died today in an asylum.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—Bradlaugh will

Dear Sirs:—I have been using the Emerson & Fisher Buggy I bought from you as roughly as any one could. I had a fast horse, drove at full speed, sometimes with two grown ladies and myself in the buggy, and it is to-day worth all the money I paid for it. I say the Emerson & Fisher Buggies will do.
