GARFIELD Memorial Services.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—At the memorial services at the capital to-day admittance was refused to all except members of congress and employees; but after that hour the doors were thrown open to persons holding tickets to the memorial services of the late Jas. A. Garfield.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Gen. Rosecrans furnishes to-night for publication the following card:

WASHINGTON.

"Mr. Blaine, in his funeral oration before the two houses to-day, said that when Gen. Garfield assumed his new duties he found various troubles all ready well developed and seriously effecting the value and efficiency of the army of the Cumberland. I was the commanding general of that army and Gen. Garfield was my chief of staff. Had this been a fact I certainly should have known it. Mr. Garfield was bound to tell me of it; and justice to truth of history and to the Army of the Cumberland, requires that I should declare that I never heard of such a state of things until the statement came from the lips of the orator. The distinguished gentleman has been wholly misinformed, and the statement he made has no foundation in fact. On the contrary, it was the general sentiment and constant boast of both officers and men that the army of the Cumberland was singularly united and free from dissensions, and therefore no one genius was required to heal these dissensions. I appeal to them to bear me witness to this fact. Mr. Blaine says his military duties closed on the memorable field of Chickamauga, a field which, however disastrous to the Union army, gave to him occasion for winning imperishable laurels. He might with justice have said, as Mr. Garfield would have said, 'and to us the key of the South, the objective point of the campaign—Chattanooga.'"

WASHINGTON.

In the Mason court-martial trial the prosecution has rested, and the defense has opened with testimony to show the general good character of Sergeant Mason.

WASHINGTON.

The secretary of war has ordered 100,000 rations sent from St. Louis to-day for the relief of sufferers in the overflowed regions of Mississippi and Arkansas.

WASHINGTON.

Senators from the Pacific coast intend to press the Chinese bill for passage. They say from one thousand to fifteen hundred Chinese are landing at San Francisco daily, and that the people of the Pacific coast are urging the passage of the law to stop further immigration.

WASHINGTON.

Two self-explanatory amendments, intended to be offered to the Chinese bill when it reaches the stage for amendment, were submitted to-day and ordered to be printed. The first amendment was offered by Senator Grover, who proposes to amend by adding a new section declaring that the words "Chinese laborer," wherever used in the act shall be construed to mean both skilled and unskilled laborers and the Chinese employed in mining. The other amendment was offered by Senator Farley, who desires to add a section to the bill prohibiting state and U. S. courts hereafter from admitting Chinese to citizenship, and repealing all laws in conflict with this act. Both senators will probably address the senate in advocacy of their respective amendments, and in support of the measure in general.

A special from this city to the New York Tribune says there appears to be a growing impression among republican politicians of all shades of opinion in Washington that Conkling will not accept the appointment as associate justice of the supreme court, although 24 hours ago the impression was quite general that he would accept it.

Inasmuch as the crank and liar tried to mislead the public in his last Tuesday's vomit, by quoting words which never appeared in Mr. Cook's letter to Mr. Havermeyer, we publish the letter as written. The reason given for asking that his name be erased from the list is sufficient for any honest man:

SPOKAN FALLS, Feb. 23, '82.

To Rev. S. G. Havermeyer, of Committee to locate the Methodist School:

MY DEAR SIR: At the last meeting of your committee you were in possession of a subscription list for this city favoring the location of the school at Spokan Falls. I had the pleasure of being one of said subscribers in the sum of $100. Since your committee met and failed to take any definite action in the matter, I have become convinced, by the deliberate action of the city council of Spokan Falls, in an effort to prevent the introduction of pure spring water into our streets, that this city will not be as desirable as it should be for the health and convenience of students and the upbuilding of a large educational institution. Therefore, you will please erase my name from your list—not because I am in any way opposed to the school, but I cannot be a party to a project for inducing a large number of youth to our city, and at the same time deprive them of the advantages of pure water. To be candid, the action of the city council in preventing the introduction of pure water into our city is in the interest of a few persons who wish to make money for themselves; yet the effect, if their plans can be carried out, will be none the less disadvantageous to the residents of our city. Very truly, FRANCIS H. COOK.

An Eastern Farm.

During the recent annual meeting of the American Agricultural Association in New York city, nearly every delegate present accepted an invitation of Mr. Theodore A. Havermeyer, the great Brooklyn sugar refiner, to visit his farm at Mahwah, N. J. A special train on the Erie road carried the party to the farm, which in all its appointments is one of the finest in the east. What lends additional interest to the place is, that it is exclusively a stock farm, something unusual in that section of the country. There are 588 acres in the farm. As yet Mr. Havermeyer's venture is about an experiment. He was satisfied that the failures of former stock-farmers resulted from a lack of capital and ignorance of their work, and he has determined that neither of these reasons shall bring disaster upon his experiment. The farm residence, barns, and other buildings, are all of a substantial and elegant character. In the spacious stables are over forty horses, many of them being high-bred animals. In the cattle stable Mr. Havermeyer has about 130 pure-bred registered Jerseys, who are cared for upon a regular scale of magnificence. Mr. Havermeyer is a strong advocate of the practice of preserving green fodder for winter use, and has a very large silo on his place where English feed is prepared. The product of his herd is about 500 pounds of prime butter every month. There are also about 150 Southdown sheep of the purest strains, and all his stock is in the very best condition.

We repeat the following for the benefit of the city:

Our city fathers should lose no time in dividing our city into wards, each ward representing a council district. Present members of the council are simply appointees. A regular election of councilmen will take place in April, and before that time the boundary lines of the various wards should be well defined and thoroughly understood.

SPOKAN FALLS, SATURDAY, Feb. 4.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

With the last days of February and the first of March, we are enabled to look back over a winter's harvest and pronounce a verdict upon the result. Prosperity has been a marked feature with our traders and the populace of our entire county. While no community has suffered any serious loss from stress of weather or straightened circumstances, the general rule has been health, happiness and prosperity. Spring is coming on apace, and soon a wave of busy industry, immigration and improvement will transform Eastern Washington into a more inviting clime than has ever been experienced. Spokan Falls, of course, will enjoy her share of the coming prosperity.

Ever since white men first attempted to catch fish in the Spokan river, the universal verdict has been that this stream is one of the finest on the coast for the sportsman to visit. Its fame has called to our midst some of the most prominent sporting men in Oregon and on Puget Sound. It is a source of revenue to lines of transportation, hotels and traders; and what benefits them benefits the whole country. But the wondrous success of sportsmen along the banks of the Spokan in years gone by may never be equalled in the future. The mere fact that the country is becoming populated does not diminish the number of fish in the river; but it is the fish-destroying sawdust that is threatening to rob the sportsman of his pleasure by depopulating the river of its finny tribe. The sawdust from the mill in this city is daily given to the current, and sure death is thus dealt out to thousands of handsome trout that should otherwise gladden the hearts of rightful sportsmen. Why should one man endeavor to become rich by depriving others of their rightful source of profit and pleasure, and by defying the law? The people of this country have some rights which are entitled to reasonable consideration, at least.

Business men in Western Montana are discussing the propriety of buying their goods at Portland or San Francisco and shipping them by way of the Northern Pacific when the road is completed to Missoula. The eventual transfer of their trade to Portland is simply a question of time, as its merchants will in a few years be enabled to compete for it with any on the coast, and by the establishment of a direct line of steamships with China and Japan, also with those of the east—Oregonian.

There is a fine chance for a difference of opinion regarding future shipments and the cities that will supply this inland country with its goods. It is fair to state that the merchants not only of Montana but also of Northern Idaho and Washington territory expect to ship most of their goods from the East, over the Northern Pacific railroad, as soon as it is completed. We will then have but little use for wholesale houses west of us. Our shipments of eastern manufactures will no longer come around by way of San Francisco and Portland. Because of its advantageous location as a distributing point, Spokan Falls will soon be to Oregon what Portland has been to Eastern Washington. Immense stocks of goods will be brought to this city without breaking bulk; and every advantage will be taken to make it convenient for Portland and Willamette valley merchants to purchase their supplies from our reliable wholesale houses.

A LYING THING.

Although we were aware of the fact some months ago, we deemed it advisable to say nothing about it till the public became generally aware that the acknowledged crank who has thrust his presence upon our city is a miserable falsifier of the lowest kind. The first time he came into our presence he gave utterance to a lie, and he knew it very well. He claimed that he had a power press on the way till his hand-press arrived. Then he claimed to have another on the way which would arrive in three months. Time has proven that to be a lie, also. He claimed to own the Chronicle newspaper office—a positive lie, with which most of our citizens are quite familiar. He also made believe he was the owner of a job office, and sent the work he obtained out of town; since which time the printer in Colfax who did the work has found it necessary to sue for the money collected and not turned over, getting a judgment for over seventy dollars. About this time he claimed to have sold a printing office which he never owned, "in order to take a more active part in discharging public duties." Having forced himself upon the city council as clerk, he tried to carry out his mean and low designs in reading public documents by introducing words which were not written therein; and he was told so on one occasion in the presence of the members of the city council. In publishing the ordinances, too, he introduced words which were not used when he read them before the council; and this we can easily prove. He goes upon the streets with the deliberate intention misleading honest men by falsehoods and misrepresentations. Our citizens are aware of this fact, and the thought that he is a liar and a disturber of what might otherwise be pleasant relations between fellow-men, is generally the first to be suggested to the minds of those wherever he intrudes his presence. This information is simply useful to those who are liable to be misled. He came into our midst with a lie upon his lips, has been following this avocation industriously ever since, and will prepare to go away after having proven himself the most disreputable liar in this part of the world. He is abhorred by decent people, and is despised by those who claim to be his friends on account of the possible good his services may be to them.

Messrs. EMERSON, FISHER & CO.: I have used one of your Top Buggies three years, and three of your Phaetons last year, and they have given me the greatest satisfaction and service I could desire. A. J. HARRIS, Newbury, Mass., July 17, 1882.

Dear Sirs:—I have been using the Emerson & Fisher Buggy for some time, and I can say as any one could, I had a fast horse, drove at full speed, sometimes with two passengers and a girl in the buggy, and it is to-day worth all the money I paid for it. I wish you and Fisher Buggies will do.

The favorable reputation the Carriages have made in localities where they have been used for several years by Liverymen, Physicians, Farmers and others requiring hard and constant use, has led to an increased demand for these facilities, to meet which the manufacturing facilities of the firm manufacturing establishment have been extended, enabling them to turn out in good style.

Mr. Wm. Cannon has returned to Spokane Falls, to be one among us once more.

From Friday's Daily. We are pleased to acknowledge the receipt of photographs of the immense elevator erected in New York for Mr. D. W. Ball...

From Tuesday's Daily. The thaw still progresses.

Mr. M. D. Wright, wife and child are at present in our city, from Westwood.

A. M. Cannon is expected to return from a flying visit to Portland this evening.

The ship H. S. Gregory sailed from Philadelphia for New Tacoma on the 9th of January with iron and other railroad material for the Northern Pacific and Oregon and California companies.

Last day of February, and the last day in which to pay your taxes without extra costs, for the year 1881.

A republican convention for the state of Oregon is called to meet at the city of Portland, Oregon, on Thursday, April 20, 1882, at 11 o'clock A. M. for the purpose of nominating candidates for representative in congress, judge of the supreme court, governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, state printer, superintendent of public instruction, and district officers for the several judicial districts.

THE OREGON SHORT LINE.—A correspondent of the La Grande Record, writing from Wood river, says: 'The Oregon Short Line is pushing matters as fast as possible. The road across the desert is to be graded this winter and in early spring, to avoid the necessity of hauling water. The iron bridge across Snake river at American Falls will be completed early in March; the track will be laid across immediately. Grading will be pushed to Wood river, to which point they propose to have cars running before July. The line will then be extended toward Oregon as rapidly as possible.'

Arrest of a Murderer. The Walla Walla Union says: Marshal Justice returned from Dayton last night, where in company with J. W. Barron, sheriff of Elbert county, Colorado, he had gone for the purpose of arresting one Frank Porter, charged with the murder of George Short. The circumstances of the killing, as far as we can gather, are as follows: In the year 1878 Porter and Short were engaged as herders for a cattle man in Elbert county, near the little town of Huzzo. Short desired to keep company with Miss Porter Frank's sister. This young lady did not seem pleased with him, and to carry out her will her brother interposed. After weeks of quarrel, Porter, with attention to another young lady, attention was turned to an altercation, during which Porter struck Short with a club knocking him senseless. He was then put in a wagon and covered up. On the night of Hugo Porter lifted the cover and found his enemy dead. Fleeing from there, he took up his residence near Weston and remained for a year, making many friends. After his departure from Weston he resided with his parents near Dayton, and there he was found by the officers of the law. Deputy sheriff March is given much credit for the successful finding and capture of the prisoner. Mr. Justice speaks well of the young man's behavior, and says the family were inconsolable when they learned of the sad story.

From Wednesday's Daily. Dr. Masterson is down from the front.

Steve Whitman has just received a fine dog sent him by J. N. Squier.

Mr. R. G. Williams returned from Walla Walla last night, having identified the mysteriously abandoned wagon and harness as belonging to his son...

Muir, the gentlemanly superintendent of traffic of O. R. & N. P. companies; Mr. Morrison of the Walla Walla land office; and Supt. Fairweather and Judge D. C. Lewis, with whom our readers in this vicinity are already well acquainted. Mr. Mallory and his assistants were delighted with the location of our city, its water-powers and scenery, and, judging from Mr. Mallory's remarks to the Times reporter, an elevator will be erected at this point. By the use of these elevators ten cents per cent, or 6 cents per bushel, are saved to the producer. Mr. Muir's trip from Walla to Spokane was made without change of cars or engine—the first trip of the kind yet made on the road. The time from Wallula to Alastow was less than an hour, showing how efficient have been the plans of Supt. Fairweather for crossing Snake river. The party started west at 10 o'clock today, bound for Portland.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE. More Information Wanted. C. N. Williamson's ranch is situated on the south end of Moran prairie, about nine miles southeast of Spokane Falls. 'New' Williamson, as he was familiarly known hereabouts, owned a span of gray horses, one fleshy and chunky, branded E or F on the left shoulder, about 9 years old; one other dirty white, slender, with dim brand, 8 or 9 on shoulder. He had returned from the railroad work with over $300 in his possession. Soon after the 20th of July last, it seems, his wagon was driven alongside his out-farm, a few rods out and carted to the wagon, after which no tracks could be followed. Farming implements were left in the field, and door of house locked, indicating a hasty departure. His parents supposing he would soon return, waited for several months, and then had published in the Spokan Times a card asking for information regarding his whereabouts. His father received word that a wagon, containing harness and cooking utensils had been abandoned near the mouth of Dry creek, in Walla Walla valley, and proceeded thither, recently, recognizing the same. No trace of the missing man can be found. It is presumed that some one hired him to drive to Walla Walla, and dealt fairly with him on the way. He was about 23 years of age, 5 feet 7 1/2 inches high, light about 180 pounds, dark brown hair and mustache, dark blue eyes, and of pleasant address and few words. A vigorous search for any evidence of his whereabouts will be made as soon as the snow has disappeared. The grief-stricken parents request that all persons between Spokane Falls and Walla Walla—on any route—keep a lookout for any evidence showing which road he may have traveled. He wore a 7 or 7 1/2 black wool felt hat, No. 8 boots, dark blue beaver coat and black vest, overcoat, well worn and cut snuggo fashion with one sleeve replaced by new cloth a little different in color and quality on left arm, brown jumper, and brown duck overalls; possibly covered Snake river about the 25th of July, at Texas, Central or Penawasa ferry. Ferry-men and others will please study this subject, and if possessed of any definite information, report to papers, or to Mr. R. G. Williamson, Spokane Falls.

Walla Walla, Lewiston, Colfax and Cheney papers please copy.

NEW MILITARY POST. We see by the Army and Navy Register that Gen. Miles is in favor of transferring all that is useful of Fort Colville to Camp Spokan, and there constructing an important post. He agrees with the recommendation made by Col. Merriam before the Chelan failure, that a military post at the mouth of the Spokan river is highly practicable. But we do not like to see Fort Colville—situated as it is on the frontier and near the boundary line, wholly abandoned. Why not give up Fort Walls Walla, as it is now more ornamental than useful, and transfer the troops to Fort Colville?

A Strike.

OMAHA, March 1.—A somewhat serious strike is in progress in Omaha among the laboring men. It began on last Monday by about 100 graders striking for $1.50 per day. They were employed by contractors in grading for the freight depot grounds, and were getting $1.25. They would not let any one else go to work for $1.25. This morning they, with 100 other recruits, proceeded to seize the grounds and drove off those who were working. They threw the tools and scrapers into a pond of water, and otherwise damaged the property. In the afternoon, when the number had increased to three hundred, they paraded the streets behind a band of music and a banner with one dollar and seventy five cents per day printed on it. They forcibly compelled a large gang of men who were at work on the city sewerage system at $1.50 per day to quit, and cruelly pounded three or four men who refused to quit. They also stopped a gang of graders on St. Mary's avenue. At one time serious trouble was imminent, and Mayor Boyd and several policemen had a hand-to-hand fight with them in arresting the three ringleaders, who were lodged in jail amid great excitement. The mayor commanded the men to disperse, which they slowly did. Tomorrow morning the sewer men will resume work and Mayor Boyd will protect them with a large force of special police, or the militia.

Mrs. Scoville to Conkling
CHICAGO, March 1.—A representative of the press at 1 o'clock to-night called at the residence of Mr. Geo. Scoville and inquired as to the truth of the rumor that Mrs. Scoville had written a letter in reference to the nomination of Conkling for supreme judge. A gentleman friend and former law partner with Mr. Scoville stated that Mrs. Scoville had written a lengthy letter concerning Conkling's nomination, stating in it that he was more responsible for the assassination of Garfield than her crazy brother.

A Sighdown.
GALVESTON, March 1.—A Valley Mills special says: A severe cyclone struck this place last night, almost destroying the town. Only one business house was left standing. Brinkman's hotel, a two-story building, was carried some distance and smashed to pieces. Ten persons were in the building at the time of the accident but no lives were lost.

PACIFIC COAST.

Street Scene in Frisco.
SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 1.—To day a man named Hunt made a savage assault with a heavy club upon E. C. McFarlane, proprietor of the Wasp. A recent issue of that paper contained a facetious article in which Hunt and one or two other Finestreet characters were represented as producing a sensation in the new grain speculation market. The parties met, when Hunt struck McFarlane on the head with his club just as McFarlane turned to speak to some one passing by. The blow stunned the newspaper man, but he managed to recover, and struck his assailant a terrific right-hander, knocking him down. Hunt renewed the attack when he picked himself up, but McFarlane received the second blow aimed at his head on his left arm, and felled Hunt again by tripping him. Before hostilities could be resumed, a crowd surrounded both men and separated them. McFarlane's head is no more battered and swollen than his right hand with which he hit his assailant.

M. U. Tel. Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27.—James Gamble, of the Mutual Union Telegraph Co., now in this city on business connected with his company, says that by the beginning of '88 his company will have three wires in operation across the country. He says one now extends as far west as Kansas City, and it is expected that work will be begun on the transcontinental line about the 1st of May. The route has not yet been determined, but it will probably follow the line of the Denver & Rio Grande. It is also the intention of the new company to carry a line along with the Northern Pacific railroad as fast as the road is constructed.

More about the Portland Horror.

PORTLAND, March 1.—Carrie Bradley, Pete Sullivan and John Mahone were arraigned in the state circuit court yesterday morning under one indictment charging them with murdering J. N. Brown. The court room was crowded with curious spectators, all anxious to catch a glimpse of the prisoners. Mahone stated that his friends had engaged a lawyer for him in San Francisco, who would arrive in due time. Carrie Bradley has C. A. Ball and O. P. Mason as her counsel. W. S. Beebe will appear for Sullivan. Mr. Mason, in behalf of Carrie Bradley, said he needed time to examine into the case, and asked that the matter be postponed as long as convenient. District Attorney Caples, for the prosecution, stated that it would be utterly needless to delay the trial; that the prisoners are all known here, the witnesses were at hand, and counsel familiar with all the circumstances of the trial. He wanted the trial to take place during this term of court. Allowed until Friday, the 3d inst., in which to plead. Prisoners are all in good health, and showed remarkable coolness during the proceedings.

Tried for Assault.
PORTLAND, March 1.—August Angius was put on trial in the circuit court yesterday afternoon, for an assault with a deadly weapon made upon Nicholas Arat, now lying dangerously ill at St. Vincent's hospital. Nineteen jurymen were called before a panel could be made up to the satisfaction of both prosecution and defense.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Gladstone to Resign.
LONDON, Feb. 27.—The Telegraph publishes the following: Prominent belief prevailed in political circles yesterday that owing to the action of the house of lords concerning investigation of land act operations and consequent difficulty of continuing the government in Ireland, Gladstone is determined to resign.

Gen. Skobeloff.
A special from St. Petersburg says the value of the rouble having fallen considerably within the last few days, it is now said in financial circles that Skobeloff was in league with the bankers when he made his last speech and got up a scare to depreciate the rouble.
