A STRANGE FISH—

Capt. Staples, of the tug C. J. Brenham, exhibited some fish which he caught some thirty-five miles off shore while waiting for "somebody's ship to come in," which is an entire stranger in these waters. It resembled mackerel in shape and color but much smaller than the eastern fish of that name. We have for several years advocated a deep water fishing trip but never have succeeded in getting our local disciples of Izaak Walton interested enough to make the experiment. A very pleasant and profitable excursion could be gotten up at a very small expense by chartering steamer during this pleasant weather and prospecting the waters off the mouth of the river. Capt. Staples informs us that these fish come in large schools and are easily brought alongside the vessel by throwing particles of food, crumbs, etc., overboard and then are easily caught with a hook and line. They are said to be an excellent table fish. Who wants to go fishing, and who will assist in getting up a deep sea fishing trap.—Astorian.

SPOKAN FALLS, TUESDAY, Sept. 20

Death of Pres. Garfield

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE TIMES

LONG BRANCH, Sept. 19.

At about fifteen minutes after 10 to-night the President awakened and remarked to Col. Swaine that he was suffering great pain and placed his hand over his heart as if to indicate the cause of his distress. Dr. Bliss was immediately summoned. When he entered the room he found the President substantially without pulse. The action of the heart was almost indistinguishable. He said at once that the President was dying. Knowing that he could render no further assistance, Dr. Bliss directed Mrs. Garfield to be called. The President remained in a dying condition until 10:35 P. M., when he was pronounced dead. He died from some trouble of the heart, supposed to be neuralgia, so the doctor says. Bliss notified Gen. Arthur to send a dispatch Blaine and Lincoln announcing the death of the President.

Elberton, (Long Branch), Sept. 19.—10:55 P. M. The President has died. His death was from severe prostration. Warren Young, assistant to private secretary Brown, brought the news from the President's cottage at ten minutes before 11 o'clock. The first indication that anything serious had occurred was the appearance of the messenger at Elberton hotel, who obtained a carriage and rode rapidly off. It was supposed he had gone to summon a member of the cabinet, who left here about half-past nine to-night. Attorney General McVeagh notified Vice-President Arthur of the President's demise at 11:15 P. M. The cabinet having just arrived, came in a body to Franklin Cottage. All are here except Secretaries Blaine and Lincoln. McVeagh telegraphed them the sad news of the President's death.

Great excitement prevails. Particulars cannot be obtained. The guard of the cottage has been doubled. No one is allowed to approach it. The government takes possession of the only wire connected at Elberton. It is impossible to get further details to-night. The world is shut off from all communication with the cottage and its inmates.

New York, Sept. 19.—A telegram (extra) says:

At the President's bedside, holding his poor emaciated hand in her own, and watching with anguish unutterable the fast vanishing sands of life, sat his faithful and devoted wife during the closing hours of the President's career. Around him were other weeping friends. Physicians were lamenting their powerlessness in the presence of the Angel of Death. Toward the last the mind of the sufferer wandered once more back to Mentor. Amid those scenes where the happiest hours of his life were spent, he would sit in the dear old home again, with his loved ones around him; his aged mother so proud of her big boy; his faithful wife and beloved children. It was a blissful dream that robbed death of its terror, and rendered the dying man for a moment unconscious of the cruel rending of his once vigorous frame, that was constantly going on. Moans of the restless ocean mingled with the sobs of loved ones as the lamp of life flickered and went out forever.

New York, 19.—Blaine and wife and Lincoln and wife arrived to-night and left at 11 o'clock for Long Branch.

The New York Tribune says: The Reaper, Death, now gathers on the bravest and best after a struggle which has kindled the admiration of the world for his heroic manhood. President Garfield has gone.

The New York Herald says: In death, the warm hopes, sympathy and aspiration of the whole people is painfully disappointed.

The expectation of his recovery so warmly cherished for so long adds new pangs to the public regret.

All Americans, of whatever religious faith, and whatever politics, democrats who opposed and republicans who supported his election, are shocked alike by the bloody deed which laid him low.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean says: Hard as it is for one in the prime of manhood to die, the blow that has wrought this fearful result was not so terrible to James A. Garfield as it was to the people who mourn his loss. Death comes so all. Whether it be in a few hours, a few days or a few years—sooner or later—it cannot matter much to human life. General Jas. A. Garfield had reached the summit. Sorrow cannot be too great for the loss of such a man. His life has been one of great service to his country; long and painful has been his recent struggle for life. These combine to make the event one of supreme and universal sorrow. Let no unkind word come near it; let no thoughtless expression jar upon the general sadness. But with tolling bells and muffled drums, let all that is mortal of General Garfield be borne to his last resting place amid the regrets, tears and prayers of millions.

Long Branch, Sept. 20.—12:20 A. M. Attorney-General McVeagh sent the following telegram to Vice President Arthur:

It becomes our painful duty to inform you of the death of President Garfield, and to advise your taking the oath of office as President of the United States without delay, if it concurs with your judgment. Will be very glad if you will come here on the earliest train to-morrow morning. Signed by Hunt, Windom, James, McVeagh and Kirkwood.

TOM MERRY'S TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—In a recent issue of the Boise Statesman Tom Merry says, "Jack Powers, of Portland, Oregon, who has averaged a dozen drinks a day for the last twelve years, was shot in the head, the arm and the thigh, two days after Garfield, and is now entirely recovered. The President who has not averaged two drinks per day in the same period, is at the point of death from a less dangerous wound than two out of Powers' three."

According to the dispatches received by THE TIMES, it seems that Vice-President Arthur is urged to proceed to Washington and assume the discharge of presidential duties at once.

Many of our exchanges are considerably exercised over the reported discovery of passes via the Clearwater route, and even go so far as to state that no further work is to be done on the Pend d'Oreille division of the N. P. railroad.

This is all simple talk, and is not based on anything but surmise. The statements, in fact, represent the wishes of the writers, rather than the result of any official action. There is no foundation whatever for the statements made regarding the cessation of work on the Pend d'Oreille division. On the contrary, the work is being pushed rapidly ahead, and will probably continue through the winter months, regardless of possible severe weather, and be pushed ahead next summer with such rapidity as will insure a completion of the through line.

When N. P. railroad officials talk of suspending work on the Pend d'Oreille division, then will it be time for newspaper men to talk of another pass for the N. P. railroad.

The talk about taking up the rails between Sprague and Ainsworth will, we presume, be hushed, as the location of machine shops at Sprague and the building of the railroad from a point near Ainsworth down the north side of the Columbia settles that question most effectually.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. Munn & Co. are solicitors of American and Foreign patents, have had 35 years experience, and now have the largest establishment in the world. Patents are obtained on the best terms. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all inventions patented through this agency, with the name and residence of the patentee; by the immense circulation this gives, public attention is directed to the merits of the new patent, and sales or introduction often easily effected.

Any person who has made a new discovery or invention, can ascertain, free of charge, whether a patent can probably be obtained, by writing to Munn & Co. We also send free our handbook about the patent laws, patents, caveats, trade-marks, their costs, and how procured, with hints for procuring advances on inventions. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Masonic Lodge meets every third Saturday night of each month.

From Wednesday's Daily.

Commissioner Johnson will take the train for the front to-day.

A. M. Cannon, the banker, departed for Portland to-day, to be absent about two weeks.

Prosecuting Attorney Hyde came on the train from the east this morning and Sheriff Hatten left for Cheney.

Gen. Supt. Sprague and Supt. Fairweather are expected to arrive by tomorrow's train, bound for the front.

POSTAL.—A postoffice has been established at Miles, Spoken county, by Samuel F. Sherwood as postmaster.

Jas. Beauman, of this county, was adjudged insane while in Cheney yesterday and has been sent to Stellacoom in charge of Frank Clark.

Two houses for Chinamen are being erected in this city; one on the little island near the bridge, and one on Main street, one door east of Wilson's.

We had a pleasant call to-day from Dr. J. Folkman, editor of the Oregon States Zeitung, who is 'doing' his Spoken county. He goes to Pend d'Oreille lake to-day.

WHEAT.—Wheat is piling up at every depot and steamboat landing, from the Dalles Or. to Lewiston I. T. The means of shipping are wholly inadequate to the demand.

PASSENGER CARS.—Four new passenger cars have been received at Astinworth for the N. P. R. R. and one of them is already in service. The others will be put on as fast as they are set up.

Col. Merriam and family started for Colville this morning, taking the short route. The Colonel thinks that by a change of horses a buggy can be driven between Spoken Falls and Fort Colville in one day.

A. E. Boblett and wife arrived from Pend d'Oreille Lake this morning. Mrs. B. will remain here a month or two, and then return to join her husband who is engaged in prospecting for precious metals.

FAILED.—We are sorry to learn that the firm of J. Bettinger & Co., one of the leading houses of Cheney, has failed. Creditors are not anxious to close his store, hoping that he may make full payment sometime in the near future. Hope he may come out all right.

AUCTION SALE.—Four thousand dollars worth of ready made clothing, boots, shoes, hats, caps, tobacco, cigars and various notions, will be sold by Sheriff Hatten on Monday, Sept. 19, to the highest bidder for cash. This is an excellent show for farmers to buy their winter's clothing.

CHANGES OF STATION.—Gen. Miles has ordered the following change of troops in this department to take effect on the first of November next: On that date two companies of the 2d Infantry now serving at Camp Spoken, will be relieved from duty thereat, and proceed to take post at Fort Coeur d'Alene, until further notice. A detachment of fifteen enlisted men of Company H, 1st cavalry, under a commissioned officer, will be sent from Fort Colville to take post until further orders at Camp Spoken.

WALLA WALLA'S ARMOY.—Henry Kohlhauff is purser on the boat running on the Pend d'Oreille Lake. The Lewis is keeping a hotel at Fort Coeur d'Alene and is doing well. Robt. Gruener has joined his old company, and he and his family are snugly located at the lovely post. Here, too, we found our friends Tony Tubbs and J. A. Woods, both having excellent positions under Mr. Yeaton, the Post trader. G. Meister, the butcher, has a brewery at Westwood. Harry Hayward holds a responsible position in the office of the N. P. R. R. at Spoken Falls. W. L. Turner has a fine drug store there and is doing well. Steve Whitman is attending to Wells Fargo's express business and has a very pleasant home. Col. Nash and family are also at Spoken Falls, happily situated. Mrs. Dr. Yeargan is leader of a brass band at Cheney, and is getting along nicely. W. H. Ward is the constable there, and we are sorry to say, has a game leg—[Watchman].

The person who said he would haul us some wood in payment for the amount he owes this office for his notice in "prose" is requested to fulfill his agreement at an early date.

From Thursday's Daily.

Col. Nash returned last night. The Oppenheimer is in this city.

See our new advertisements—only seven new ones to-day, including F. R. Moore & Co's change.

Frank McFadden, the Lewis county Pie Biter, arrived last night, on his way to Pend d'Oreille lake.

Lieut. Ulio has gone to Camp Spoken to prepare for housekeeping. He will be joined by his wife in a few weeks.

Miss Rilla Masterson left for Walla Walla this morning, and expects to remain away all winter. She will be missed from Sabbath school, church and other circles where her fine voice and winning ways have made her a favorite.

Mrs. R. W. Forrest has concluded to remain in New Tacoma and has informed her husband in this city. She admires Spoken Falls, but the moist and even climate of Puget Sound seems peculiarly favorable to her health.

MACHINE SHOPS.—A very important question is now settled. The machine shops will be located at Sprague, and that point will be the end of a division. We have this information from headquarters, and it can be relied upon. Repair shops may remain at Astinworth, but the main shops will be established at Sprague.

AMUSING STORY.—He was riding along down Railroad avenue early this morning, with his steed on a brisk canter. The horse knew where his oats were, and stopped at a sudden sight of P. R. Moore & Co's ware house; but the rider didn't. He went right on over the horse's head, and came down sprawling upon the ground. Rider's coat and vest raised so suddenly, the horse ran away, and was caught in the suburbs of the city.

TELEGRAPH LINE.—Co's B and I left Coeur d'Alene this morning to construct the telegraph line from Spoken Falls to Camp Spoken. They will probably camp near Spoken Bridge to-night. Lieut. Patten, of the 2d Inf., will probably have charge of the telegraph construction party. The line will start from the U. S. Military telegraph office in the Times Building, this city. It is yet an unsettled problem whether the line will follow the Deep Creek road, the short road, or cross the Spoken at this place and follow down the north bank of the river.

Railroad Officials.—Gen. J. W. Sprague, superintendent of the Pacific end of the N. P. R. R. and H. W. Fairweather, superintendent of the Pend d'Oreille division, accompanied by the master car builder, of New Tacoma, and Mr. Abernethy, of Tacoma, left Astinworth on a special train at 9 o'clock to-day. The party stopped at Sprague, Cheney and Spoken Falls a few minutes each, and passed on to the front. Dr. Whitehouse joined the party at this place. Full of business, and intent on making a quick trip, but short stoppages could be made by the railroad officials. They will reach Pend d'Oreille lake to-night, as they took a fast team along from this city. They may return to-morrow or next day.

From Friday's Daily.—Maj. Keefer, U. S. paymaster, is in this city.

Judge Wingard expects to be here to-morrow.

Surveyor-Gen. McMicken departed for Walla Walla to-day.

Jas. H. Robertson, from the front, is registered at the Western.

The bills recently printed in THE TIMES office for Leoni, King of the Air, are pronounced by competent judges to be the nearest of the kind ever printed north of Snake river.

More new subscribers have been added to the Daily and Weekly lists of THE TIMES from Cheney, Sprague and Astinworth. Everywhere in Northwestern Washington, THE TIMES is said to be by all odds the leading newspaper.

W. H. Fife Esq., of New Tacoma, and his son-in-law, the genial Frank Smith, of Medical Lake, are in the city on their way to Coeur d'Alene lake, in hopes of catching some fish and killing some game. Dangerous game in the face. It is a rare thing for Mr. Fife, one of the leading merchants of New Tacoma, to take such a trip, and we wish him every success. If they cannot catch any fish, we hope they may meet some Indians who have been successful.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The fall term of the Spoken county Teachers' Institute, will convene in Cheney on Tuesday, September 27, and remain in session four days. Teachers having sessions in session, are expected, as required by law, to adjourn them and take part in the work of the Institute. Special work of the Institute will be assigned to the several teachers of the county. All friends of education are cordially invited to be present. School officers, teachers, parents, citizens join with us, on the above occasion, and assist in placing our favorite county in the front ranks of educational advancement.

A. J. STEVENS, Superintendent.

From Monday's Daily.—Commissioner Johnson is down from the front to-day, and starts for Clark's Fork with six or seven thousand lbs. of provisions—purchased of John F. Biveu.

It is Rumored

That a suspension bridge is soon to be constructed at Spoken Falls by the town proprietors.

That a strong effort will be made at the next session of the legislature to take the district court away from this city.

Everywhere, that THE TIMES leads everything north of Walla Walla in publishing the latest and most complete news.

That the train men petitioned the R. R. company to have the trains meet at Spoken Falls; and that their prayer will be granted in a few days.

That Leoni will walk out over the Falls of the Spoken next Sunday. He should change the day; if not, many ladies and gentlemen will be deprived of the pleasure of witnessing the daring feat which would witness the sight on any other day.

That A. M. Cannon, the Banker, is awaiting the arrival of Henry Villard in Portland, to lay before him the plans for a railroad between Spoken Falls and Colville, as suggested by the "Times Gem Map," the first edition of which was printed last December. Hope the favorable impression given Mr. Villard by said little map may be followed by good works. The project is a reasonable one.

Camp Spoken News.

Major Keefer, paymaster U. S. A. visited this camp on the 10th inst., and after distributing greenbacks to the boys departed the following day.

It is a remarkable coincidence that immediately after the paymaster's visit there are quite a number of individuals suffering from headache, loss of appetite, &c., and on the other hand an increase in the consumption of fluids, notably, "Rock and Rye," "Cutler's Best" and "United We Stand." The title of the latter must be a misnomer, as from personal experience, after imbibing a quart or two, we separated, the bottle falling one way myself and another.

Following pay day a building designated the "Slab House," "Chokee," "Mill," &c.—in other words, the guard house—receives its quota of inmates, who are invariably put in for nothing, but extraordinary as it may seem, a G. C. M. finds guilty of some offense or other (generally the 62nd A. W.) and imposes a "blind," varying from $5 to 10 dollars, with permission to practice lessons on the buckskin for 30 days.

The lawyers (guard house) come out strong about this time, and you "bet your boots" the court is going to have a tough time when their turn comes.

Work is partially resumed at the post-saw mill in running order; and seemingly there is every chance of the post being permanently established here.

Captain A. C. Cook and lady left on Sunday, the 11th inst.—the Captain being detailed on recruiting service east.

I must congratulate you, Mr. Editor, on the "go ahead" style of your paper. THE SPOKEN TIMES merits encouragement, being the best "news" paper in the territory.

Your Occasional Contributor, J. M. O.

Programme of Teachers' Institute.

The work of the Teachers' Institute which is to convene in Cheney on the 27th inst., is allotted to the several teachers of the county as follows:

Arithmetic—Mrs. Gilkey, Mr. McLaughlin, Mr. Thrall and Mr. Barclay.

Grammar—Miss Muzzy, Mr. Bell and Miss Thrall.

Geography—Miss Nash, Mr. Quick and Miss Masterson.

Reading—Mrs. Doolittle, Mr. Butler and Miss Gates.

History—Mr. Graves, Miss Lewis and Mr. Walters.

Orthography—Miss O'Donnell, Mrs. May Henderson, Mr. Grimes and Mrs. McCreeg.

Philosophy—Mr. Calloway, Mr. Norton and Miss Waterhouse.

Kindergarten—Mrs. Ide, Mrs. Heath and Mrs. Jones.

Oral Elements—Mrs. Quick, Mrs. Molly Henderson and Mr. Howard.

Penmanship—Mr. Small.

Orthoepy—Mr. Bell.

School Morals—Miss Muzzy.

School Department—Mrs. Gilkey.

School Government—Hon. Covington.

Classification of Schools—F. J. Spencer.

American education will be discussed by Judge Barney. Judge Still will present the subject of "How shall we educate our girls?" Other topics upon educational matters of general public interest, will be discussed during the session of the Institute. The evening exercises will be under the management of the ladies and gentlemen of Cheney.

To-Day's News.

The Weather.

The highest temperature indicated by the thermometer in the U. S. signal office up to 4 o'clock this afternoon was 62°.

The citizens of Spoken Falls and community are invited to assemble at Columbia Hall this evening at 8 o'clock to give expression of the sentiment of this community regarding the death of this citizen Garfield.

This city will soon have a photograph gallery.

Aug. Goldsmith arrived from the front this morning.

Died—At Westwood, I. T. John W. Rankin, aged 14 years.

The end of the N. P. track is one mile beyond Dry Lake.

The first regular mail over the N. P. railroad will arrive this evening and depart to-morrow.

Mrs. J. W. Lincoln and Mrs. S. C. Hyde and children have joined their respective families in this city during the past few days.

Sylvanus Williamson arrived from Steamboat Landing this morning, and will tarry awhile with his father, R. G. Williamson, near this city.

We are informed that dissatisfaction exists at Pend d'Oreille lake because one of the mill owners does not make proper payment to hands employed.

A rumor is current to the effect that Henry Villard has bought the entire interest of the Tacoma Land Co. in the town site of New Tacoma. Mr. Villard can make or unmake the town there faster than any other man living.

WORTH KNOWING.—When you make a mustard plaster, use no water, but mix the mustard with the white of an egg, and the result will be a plaster that will "draw" perfectly, but will not produce a blister even upon the skin of animals, no matter how long it is allowed to remain on.

The entertainment for the Congregational church, last Friday, added about $70 to the building fund. The supper was the main feature, and the exercises were passable, and in behalf of a good cause. The committee would return thanks to all who rendered assistance. The 25-cent dinner and one bit lunch on Saturday ended the first lesson.

MARRIED.—Ed. Young and Miss Mary Melder left this city yesterday evening in a carriage, and were married at Westwood, I. T., last night. We understand that preliminary steps were taken to serenade the happy couple, but as Tom, the leader of the band, indulged too freely in "tangle-leg" before the proper hour, the charivari was postponed. Mr. Young was the late proprietor of the Falls Restaurant, and the bride is the daughter of our esteemed fellow citizen, Henry Melder.

SALE EXPECTED.—From a private source we learn that the Carbon Hill coal mining property has been sold for $750,000. This property is located at the head of the Payallup valley, in Pierce county, and is connected with Tacoma by the road of the Northern Pacific company. Its owners were R. D. Chandler, R. Wingate and others, and the purchasers are the managers of the Central and Southern Pacific railroad companies, one of whom, Mr. Chas. Crocker, took a look at the property last month. It is said that these men will proceed to the further development of the mine, and, among other things, will put on a line of steam colliers. Those making the sale have realized handsomely from their investment and for their time and trouble, and it is to be hoped that Crocker and his associates will never have cause to regret the purchase.—[Intelligencer.]

The Western Union

Telegraph Company invites proposals for furnishing 1350 (thirteen hundred and fifty) round cedar poles 25 feet long, not less than six inches in diameter at the top and eight at the butt, free from large knots or any other defect, that will materially impair their strength. All poles to be straight and stripped of bark. Deliver to be made along the line of the N. P. railroad, convenient for loading on cars, east of cabinet Rapids, Idaho.

HAUL DOWN YOUR SIGN.

We must very respectfully request the "Tribune" to haul down its "Official Paper of Spoken County," which it persists in printing at the head of its local columns. At the last session of the Board of Commissioners the Spoken DAILY and WEEKLY TIMES was made the official paper of Spoken county, according to law; and in such official paper the officers of the county are required to publish all official notices. New subscribers to local papers often take this question into account; therefore, the false statement at the head of the "Tribune's" columns is liable to mislead its readers. Let us hope that Brother Kellogg has left this heading in his paper by mistake, rather than by intent to mislead.

SIGNAL SERVICE UNITED STATES ARMY.

Division of Telegrams and Reports for the Benefit of Commerce and Agriculture. Report of observations taken at Spoken Falls, W. T., for the week ending Monday, Sept. 19, 1881:

NEW TOWNS ON THE N. P. R. R.

STEAMBOAT LANDING.

Steamboat Landing, on the Pend d'Oreille lake, is about 48 miles southeast of Spoken Falls, and can safely boast of about the finest scenery in the country. The town is situated on the hill side, close to the lake, and consists of the following buildings: Capt. Pease's office, a general store, a saloon, carpenter shops and Capt. Peter Bracken's boarding house (last but not least). The new steamer made her trial trip Saturday afternoon, and proved a grand success. She is a beautiful boat, about 150 ft long, and built very similar to the boats on the Columbia river. Across from the landing are some very fine ledges of silver, lead, marble and time, which promise to add greatly to the wealth of the country.

WESTWOOD.

Westwood is situated about 20 miles east of Spoken Falls, and shows promise of becoming quite a town. At present it is comprised of 1 hotel, 1 restaurant, 1 livery stable, 2 saloons, 2 general stores, 1 meat market, about the finest brewery in the northwest and some half a dozen houses. The country around Westwood is not much different from the Spoken prairie, except in strips; however, there are some very fine ranches on which good crops of oats and wheat have been raised this season. The depot and section houses are almost completed, and everything promises a fair future for Westwood.

DRY LAKE.

Dry Lake will be no more in a few days. It is one of the wonderful mushroom towns always rising up in a new country, and departing as quickly. It is—rather was—situated on the side of a hill close to Dry Lake, about 42 miles east of Spoken Falls, and about 1/2 of a mile from the railroad, and was quite a town for the time it had been there. Now it is on the move—bound for Coquillala lake, and the prospects are that there will be a town of some importance at that point. The country around the old Dry Lake was all timber land, and had but very few farms, if any, within 10 or 15 miles. Success to the new town.

CLIFFTOP.

Is the prettiest location for a town on the line between the great lake and Spoken Falls, and is eight miles from the latter named city. The head and shoulders of Clifftop is John W. Arthur, who keeps the handy ferry there. For further information regarding this place, call upon or address the gentleman named.
