PUGET SOUND HERALD.

STELLACOOM, W. T.

Thursday Evening, March 28, 1861.

POTALUP BRIDGE.—We are happy to announce that Mr. John Carson has just completed the bridge across the Puyallup River, for which he received a charter from the Legislature of 1859-60.

The bridge is 300 feet long, 16 feet wide, sided up the entire length, on both sides, 2 1/2 feet, and cost $3000. No money has been wasted on this structure, as is usually the case when corporations engage in like undertakings; hence the comparatively low cost of this valuable improvement. We are assured by one who has crossed it that it is the most substantial bridge in the Territory. It will prove of great benefit and convenience to the people of the counties of Pierce and King, as all the travel between Stellacoom and Seattle will be by this crossing. Hitherto the crossing has been effected by boats, which was at all times awkward and sometimes impracticable. Much, if not all, of the travel to the mines by the way of the Naches Pass will cross this bridge, as it lies directly in the road to this Pass. A post office has been established at this crossing, called the Franklin Post Office, of which Mr. Carson has been made Postmaster. For this much-needed improvement the public are indebted entirely to the enterprise of Mr. Carson, who has constructed the bridge at his own expense, unaided by others.

B. S. S.—The Society known by these three mystic letters seems to be steadily increasing in favor and numbers. Scarcely a week passes without one or more being added to the already numerous body composing the Order here, and during the past week three new members were introduced to the mysteries "back of the veil within the temple." The Society now numbers some fifty or sixty members, and embraces men of all professions, including doctors, lawyers, preachers, judges, &c. It is reported that they contemplate the erection of a hall which shall throw the new Masonic Hall completely in the shade, as respects style of architecture, dimensions, and elaborate finish. We are told the object of the Society is purely benevolent, and that it has already bestowed charity with a liberal hand. The members are now taking steps, as will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere, to raise a sum of money with a charitable intent. The advertisement does not state any such object, but we are authorized to say that the Calico Party is given with that view. It is hoped that the profit realized from this entertainment will reach an amount that will make it both useful and acceptable to the recipient.

FOUND, AT LARGE.—We had for a long time wondered what had become of our late Governor, Col. R. D. Gloison, and looked in vain through the columns of exchanges for some tidings of him. Having left here in ill health, we were apprehensive that death had overtaken him soon after his departure; but it seems he is still here, as we learn by the following extract from an Eastern journal:—Col. Richard D. Gloison, a citizen of Kentucky, and late Governor of Washington Territory, has written a letter urging the Legislature of that State to call a Convention, and appoint Commissioners to the Convention now in session at Montgomery, Alabama, who shall pledge Kentucky to stand by and share the fate of the South, whatever it may be. It is cheering to see, however, that no such absurd advice has been taken. We are truly sorry to see our worthy Governor take sides, as he seems to do in the above, with the secessionists. It is gratifying to know that he does not represent the sentiment of the people here, and we confess to much surprise at the course he has taken. We gave him credit for a larger share of common sense than he here betrays.

FROM THE ROAD PARTY.—From Mr. Haynes, who came to town to-day, we learn that the Naches Road party will complete their labors at the end of this week. Mr. Haynes was yesterday visited at his house by Mr. Wash. Downey, one of the road party, who stated that he left the party within a few miles of the entrance to the Pass, with not more than two days' work yet to do. The work is represented as being done in the most thorough manner, and a road practicable for wagons now exists to the base of the mountains. Next week we shall have the report of the superintendents of the work.

OSWEGO AGRICULTURAL FAIR.—The State Agricultural Society of Oregon will hold a Fair from the 1st to the 4th of October next, in which this Territory and California are invited to participate. All descriptions of live stock, farm products, manufactures, &c., will be entered for competition. A supplement from the Oregon Farmer office, received last week, contains a schedule of premiums, and concludes with the following invitation: "The citizens of California and Washington Territory are invited to participate in the exercises of the Fair, on the same conditions with the citizens of this State."

THE STEAMERS WITHDRAWN.

It was not until Monday last, when we learned through the overland mail that the ocean steamers had discontinued their trips up the Sound, that we fully realized the loss sustained by their withdrawal from these waters. Annoying and vexatious as is the irregularity of the overland mail, and the deplorably dilapidated condition of the mail when it comes to hand, we could put up with it, and still congratulate ourselves on the fact that the steamers continued running without the mail; thus affording our business men an opportunity of shipping by them with certainty and dispatch, and communicating with their San Francisco correspondents by express in the same time as formerly. We have now not even this consoling reflection: the new owners of the steamers have withdrawn them from Puget Sound, and we know not how long it will be ere our eyes are again gladdened with the sight of an ocean steamer.

This withdrawal of the ocean steamers, if long continued, cannot fail to prove very detrimental to the growth and prosperity of our young and promising Territory. By the regular visits of these steamers, the character and advantages of our country were becoming extensively known and appreciated through a medium other than the press, which aided that powerful agent very materially in disseminating a knowledge of its attractions. This knowledge, we are well persuaded, is all that is needed to populate our beautiful Territory and crown it with prosperity. It is in proportion as a country becomes known that population is attracted to it; and the periodical visits of these steamers contribute largely to the knowledge abroad of Puget Sound and the country bordering upon it, as well as of its mild and healthful climate. This, of itself, would be sufficient reason to desire the continuance of the steamers; but, independent of this, there are reasons perhaps equally weighty why they should not be permitted to stop, if it is possible to avert such a misfortune. To the merchants of the Sound these reasons need not be now given; they have already been fully discussed.

We are informed that the steamer Pacific will positively be here in a few days; she is said to be due even now. Cannot the merchants of Port Townsend, Seattle, Stellacoom and Olympia, combined, offer encouragement sufficient to induce the Company owning this steamer to send her up the Sound regularly? We hope they will at least make the effort.

BROWNLOW'S PAPER.—One hundred citizens of Nevada (Cal.) have subscribed for the Knoxville (Tennessee) Whig—Parson Brownlow's paper. The money will be forwarded by the next steamer, says the San Francisco Herald of the 8th inst. We also learn with pleasure that a number of the citizens of this place design showing their appreciation of the Parson's spirit and sentiments by subscribing for his paper. He richly deserves this substantial testimonial of his efforts in behalf of the Union, and of his independence in public affairs, and we congratulate him on the favor which his course meets on the Pacific coast.

INDIAN DEPARTMENT IN FURDS.—The Portland Advertiser says considerable financial embarrassment has been experienced for some time past among those doing business with the Indian Department, on account of the Superintendent of Indian Affairs in this Superintendency being without funds. We are pleased to state that Superintendent Geary is all right now, as regards finances, as funds to the amount of upwards of $100,000 have been placed to his credit with the Assistant Treasurer at New York. No trouble was experienced in getting drafts cashed in Portland.

CALIFORNIA WALNUTS.—The native walnut trees that grow on Grand Island and in that vicinity, and which have been transplanted in numbers and are for sale in the market, says the Sacramento Bee, produce fruit equal to the English walnut. They are a handsome, clean tree, and as quick of growth as fruit trees generally. Parties setting out trees might as well set out some of these walnut trees for shade, as they cost no more than—indeed not as much as—many others, and the birds will not run away with their fruit, neither will it perish if not used immediately on ripening.

THE WEATHER.—During the past week, the weather has been more sickly than any we ever before experienced. From day to day we had rain, hail, snow and sunshine, all within an hour, and alternating from hour to hour. So rapid were the changes that it was impossible to tell one moment how the weather would be the next. During all this time, however, there was no frost visible, and vegetation thrived as in the most favorable spring weather.

THE PUBLIC PRINTING.—We were somewhat surprised, last week, on receiving a copy of the statutes enacted by the last Legislature, for which our thanks are due to—we don't know who, but we presume, the politeness of Gov. McGill. Mr. Lodge, the Public Printer, is entitled to credit for his promptness in completing this work months earlier than has usually been the case, heretofore.

CATTLE SHIPMENT.—On Tuesday last the schooner Flying Mist, Capt. Berry, took from Keach's wharf one hundred head of cattle for Victoria, whence they were destined for Fraser River, for the miners. This, though a large freight of cattle for one trip, is by no means an unusual shipment for the Flying Mist, which has been profitably employed for the past two years mainly in this trade.

SOUTHERN BRAD STUFFS.—The Southern papers are recommending planters to plant more corn and less cotton—to be more broad and meat and less money. A Mississippi paper says if the cotton crop must come down one-half, bread must be raised.

The Charleston Mercury is said to be edited by a Yankee, only two years from Massachusetts. The Constitution, which is going South to become the organ of the Southern Republic, is edited by one Brown, an Englishman.

IMPRESSIVE SCENE.

The Baltimore American relates the following: One of the Baltimoreans who recently returned from Fort Sumter details an impressive incident that took place there on Major Anderson taking possession. It is known that the American flag brought away from Fort Moultrie was raised at Sumter precisely at noon on the 27th ult., but the incidents of that "flag-raising" have not been related. It was a scene that will be a memorable reminiscence in the lives of those who witnessed it.

A short time before noon Major Anderson assembled his little force, with the workmen employed on the fort, around the flag-staff. The national ensign was attached to the cord, and Major Anderson, holding the end of the lines in his hands, knelt reverently down. The officers, soldiers and men clustered around, many of them on their knees, all deeply impressed with the solemnity of the scene. The chaplain made an earnest prayer—such an appeal for support, encouragement and mercy as one would make who felt that "man's extremity is God's opportunity." As the earnest, solemn words of the speaker ceased, and the men responded "Amen!" with a fervency that perhaps they never before experienced, Major Anderson drew the star-spangled banner up to the top of the staff, the band broke out with "Hail Columbia," and loud and exultant cheers, repeated again and again, were given by the officers, soldiers and workmen. "H!" said the narrator, "South Carolina had attacked the fort, there would have been no hesitation on the part of any man within it about defending the flag."

ARMY RESIGNATIONS.

The following is a correct list of resignations in the United States army since the secession of South Carolina:

- Walker, W. H. T., Brevet Lieut. Colonel, Major 10th Infantry, Georgia.
Dunavant, John, Captain 10th Infantry, South Carolina.
Watts, Henry C., Brevet Major, Captain Quartermaster Department, Georgia.
Gibbs, Wade H., Brevet Second Lieutenant 2d Cavalry, South Carolina.
Northrup, L. B., Captain 1st Dragoons, South Carolina.
Forney, John H., First Lieutenant 10th Infantry, North Carolina.
Stoughton, E. H., Second Lieutenant 6th Infantry, Vermont.
Sill, Joshua W., First Lieutenant Ordnance Department, Ohio.
Cumming, Alfred, Captain 10th Infantry, Georgia.
Smith, William D., Captain 2d Dragoons, Georgia.
Berry, Thomas J., Second Lieutenant 2d Dragoons, Georgia.
Gardner, William H., Captain 2d Infantry, Georgia.
Co., Robert G., First Lieutenant 8th Infantry, Virginia.
Myers, A. C., Brevet Lieutenant Colonel, Captain Quartermaster's Department, South Carolina.
Van Doran, Eirel, Major 2d Cavalry, Mississippi.
Bogg, William R., First Lieutenant Ordnance Department, Georgia.
Butler, William, Second Lieutenant 2d Artillery, South Carolina.
Jones, Joseph P., Second Lieutenant 2d Artillery, South Carolina.
James, George S., First Lieutenant 2d Artillery, South Carolina.
Hardie, William S., Lieutenant Colonel 1st Cavalry, Georgia.

In addition to the above, we learn that Major Ragan (Paymaster) and Lieut. Alexander, natives of Georgia, at present stationed at Fort Stellacoom, have sent in their resignations.

A PRESENT BY NAPOLEON TO A JEWISH SYNAGOGUE.—On last Rosh Hoshana (the Jewish New Year), the Emperor of France, as we learn from the Cincinnati Herald, presented to the Hebrew Congregation at Paris a Sepher Tora, or scroll of the Five Books of Moses on parchment. There is something curious about this Sepher Tora. It appears that in the time of Napoleon I. in the war with Spain, the French soldiers were afraid to drink the water of the wells of the Spaniards for fear of being poisoned, and so they dug their own. On one occasion they found a little iron chest; they opened it, and with disappointment in not finding a great treasure, they found a Sepher, and threw it aside without paying any attention to it. It happened that there was a Jewish corporal in the company, who picked it up and put it in his knapsack. A few days afterwards a great battle was fought, and the same corporal was found shot dead, with his head lying on the knapsack. They opened it in presence of the Emperor, and found the same Sepher Tora in it. Napoleon, thinking it must be something holy and curious, tried to be buried, and then finding it in the knapsack of the Jewish corporal, took it along with him to Paris and placed it in the Museum, with the full description over it. Napoleon III. happening to notice it, not long since, remarked to the Emperor that he wanted to make it a present to the Congregation of Paris; the Emperor prayed him that she might make a cover suitable to it, and made one, ornamented with diamonds, pearls, and other jewels of great value. And that is the way they brought it to the Synagogue.

SPURGEON TO THE ROGUES.—Once when the celebrated preacher Spurgeon ascended the pulpit, the first sentence he uttered was:—"I hear that some one here has lost a watch and another a pocket-book. All I can say in the matter is, I think it serves them right—why did they not leave them at home? But I have a word or two more to say on the subject, which is this—that if my friends the pick-pockets are still in the chapel, I have to request that they will not be tempted to pick my more pockets till I have made my collection, as I want all the money I can get."

CALIFORNIA WINE.—The vintners of Los Angeles made 345,000 gallons of wine in 1860. The number of producing vines, most of which are very young, was 580,000. There are 1,231,000 vines that do not bear yet.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—Accidents.—In such injuries much evil often results from ignorance, and accidents of little moment become serious and difficult of management. This incomparable Ointment places the attentive nurse on a par with the most skillful surgeon. In its application she can never do amiss; it will always soothe, cool, and heal. In burns and scalds, sprains, bruises, cuts, wounds, swellings of the glands of the neck, arms, hands and tumors, every nurse using Holloway's Ointment cures with rapidity and ease. Freed from responsibility, she joyfully waits the recovery, and great is her delight to see her little child rescued from torture, fever, and danger by her affectionate zeal in applying this certain remedy immediately after the accident occurred.

DOMESTIC ITEMS.

Mr. Lincoln was hung in effigy in Mobile, Alabama, on the night of January 11th.

Two men were recently hanged in the prison-yard at New Orleans for wife murder.

There are now 4,516 common school districts in the State of Kentucky. In 1854 there were only 88.

The amount of coal annually taken from mines in Ohio, is estimated by the Commissioner of Statistics at 2,000,000 tons.

A soldier of the Revolution did of destination in Cincinnati a short time since. He was 162 years of age, and in his youth was a drummer.

It is said that Captain Doubleday (of Fort Sumter) can boast of a grandfather and seven grand uncles who fought in the Revolution.

C. W. Young, of Nevada, Cal., through James Churchman and Samuel Gamage, has presented President Lincoln with a gold-headed rose-wood cane, valued at $250.

The Democratic State Convention of Ohio, recently in session at Columbus, adopted resolutions urging Congress to call a Convention of all the States for the purpose of amending the Constitution.

Maryland seems to be growing very easy. There are now three thousand Minute Men enrolled at Baltimore, who meet at different headquarters nightly, and swearing eternal fidelity to the Union.

The citizens of Gloucester were astonished lately at seeing a large Palmetto flag waving over Old Fort Delaware. The revenue cutter in the harbor sent a boat's crew ashore, who cut it down.

There appears to be little doubt that the Personal Liberty Bill of Massachusetts will be repealed, notwithstanding Wendell Phillips & Co. are moving heaven and earth to defeat such a result.

Colonel Locker states that in his surveys across the Rocky Mountains he saw millions of tons of wild flax and hemp, that could be used for manufacturing purposes. The Indians use it extensively.

Fears are entertained in respect to the continued existence of Dickinson College, Pennsylvania. That institution loses its charter when the number of her students does not exceed 90; and should those from the South secede, as they threaten, the number will be reduced below this standard.

Theodore Parker's revolutionary musket, which was taken by his father, Capt. Parker, from a wounded British soldier, after the battle of Lexington, and by Theodore Parker bequeathed to the State of Massachusetts, was formally presented to the Commonwealth, recently.

A member of a military company was, the other day, at Utica, talking about "going to the wars." He said if he went he would take his child with him. "How will you carry it?" asked the wife and mother. "O, strap it on my back," said he. "Oh, don't," exclaimed the wife, "for he will be the first to be shot!"

The store of J. M. Jidenour, President of the Junction Railroad at Hamilton, Ohio, was lately broken into and the safe taken out, placed upon a plank, and a mule (stolen for the purpose) hitched to it, and the safe thus drawn off half a mile from the store, when the lock was blown off with powder, and $2,000 in money, besides valuable papers, taken from it.

Mr. Russell, the Commissioner from Mississippi to Missouri, did not receive a very flattering reception from the Legislature of that State on the 19th. The Lieutenant Governor ordered the members of the Legislature to rise as the Commissioner entered the hall. Some members objected to the word order, and Lieut. Gov. Reynolds changed in to request. A few of the members complied, but the majority kept their seats.

PARSON BROWNLOW ON DEAD-HEADING.

In a late number of his paper, Parson Brownlow says:—"Railroads, steamboats and stage coaches, complain of dead heading, that is to say—of editors and brethren of the craft riding so much without pay. The newspaper press endures more of this dead heading than all three of these modes of conveyance combined. The pulpit, the bar and the theatre, corporations, legislative assemblies, societies, religions, benevolent, agricultural, mercantile establishments, vendors of quack medicines, railroad companies, steamboats, stage lines and every variety of individuals, including parties and politicians, draw large upon the liberality of the press. The press is expected to give strength to all weak institutions and enterprises; it is asked to puff small practitioners into positions of importance; to puff small politicians and demagogues into great men and patriots; to magnify incompetent railroad kings; it is expected to herald abroad the fame of quacks of all classes; to bolster up dull authors; to immortalize weak congressional speeches; to require to give sight to the blind, bread to the hungry, talismans to fools, and honor to thieves and robbers; it is asked to cover up the infirmities of the weak, to hide the faults of guilty men, and wink at the fraudulent schemes of scoundrels; it is expected to flatter the vain, to extol the merits of those who deserve nothing; to be scorn and contempt of all good citizens; it is required, in a word, of the newspaper press, that it become all things to all men; and if it look for pay, and send out its bills for subscriptions and advertising, it is denounced as mean and servile, and its conductors as wanting in liberality. There is no interest on the face of this green earth that is expected to give so much to society, without pay or thanks, as the newspaper press of the country. The little-sold man, who inserts in your columns a little snuffing advertisement, expects you to write him at least five dollars' worth of editorial not to do, and the obscure and negligently man you have written into a position of importance to him, beyond his merits, considers that his name adorns your columns, and gives a circulation to your journal."

A story rather difficult of belief is told by the Albany papers. A lady from Troy went to that city a short time since, and failing to reach the stage in season to return, was compelled to stay overnight. She refused to rest at the usual lodgings, but her friends were surprised to find her missing in the morning. Their astonishment was not diminished the next day, on learning that some time during the night she had got up in her sleep, wrapped a cloak around her, and walked all the way to her residence in Troy without awaking.

LATEST EASTERN NEWS.

San Francisco, March 11th. The Pony Express arrived at Fort Churchill this morning.

The following is from the Bulletin of this evening: St. Louis, February 27th.

The U. S. Senate yesterday concurred in the House amendments to the Post Route bill, and passed the bill, thus securing a Daily Central Overland Mail to California.

Mr. Gein introduced a supplementary Post Route bill, which was laid over.

An amendment to the Army bill, appropriating fifty thousand dollars for the protection of emigrants to Oregon, was adopted in committee, and the bill was reported to the Senate.

The next proposition to be voted upon is that of Burch & Scott, recommending Senatorial Convention.

Mr. Lincoln is receiving great attention at Washington, and has been formally presented with his Presidential certificate.

All is tranquil at Washington. It is rumored that Gen. Twiggs will be proceeded against for treason. This movement has greatly damaged the secession cause.

St. Louis, March 1st. Besides the proposition for a Daily Overland Mail by the central route, which passed both Houses, the Senate yesterday adopted an amendment to the Post Office appropriation bill, giving one million of dollars to the Pony Express and Central Route.

Yesterday the propositions of the Peace Convention were presented to the Senate, and Senator Seward offered an amendment by substituting a call for a National Convention. Tyler, and others of the delegates, on their return to Richmond, stated that all efforts to obtain justice from the North were unsuccessful, and that the Convention was a failure.

No disposition was manifested by Congress to pass the propositions of the Peace Congress. The affairs of the South remain unchanged. Gen. Twiggs's name has been stricken from the army roll, as a traitor and a coward. There were reports that he had been shot. It was said that Gen. Houston was privy to the surrender of the property and forts to the Texans.

President Davis had an interview with Maj. Anderson, and it was given out that there would be no fight. The bill stopping the mails in the seceding States passed both Houses.

St. Louis, March 2d. The House Committee rejected the Senate amendments to the Post office bill, transferring the Butterfield Mail to the Central route. The rules of the House were suspended, and the amendment was made the special order for to-day, when the House adjourned.

In the House, before adjournment, there were reports by the Committee of Thirty-three on amendments to the Fugitive Slave Law, which require States to return fugitives to the Marshal, who shall deliver them to the United States Courts in the States where they escaped, where they shall have a jury trial.

This amendment was passed by a vote of 92 to 80. San Francisco, March 14. Gov. Downey vetoed the bill granting H. A. South a change of venue. The Legislature passed the bill over his veto.

Considerable indignation has been expressed here by Southern men at the election of Howell Cobb as Chairman of the Montgomery Congress, but their feelings are mollified by the report that he was so chosen in order to head off his aspirations for the post of Secretary of the Treasury of the Southern Confederacy.

The speech of Boulogne of Louisiana, in refusing to accede to the request of his Legislature to withdraw from the House, not only produced a tremendous sensation at the time among the members and spectators, but has won for him the praises of conservative Union-loving men everywhere. After the House adjourned, Crittenden met Boulogne, and grasping him with both hands, invoked God's blessing upon him, assuring him that however much he might be cursed now by those who are disloyal to their country, he (Boulogne) would outlive them all in the affectionate memory of a glorious Union-loving, law-abiding people. The gallant old Kentuckian was very impressive in his manner and speech, and wept as he spoke.

Unparalleled severity of money and great distress and spasm are working a prevailing inconvenience and distress in every department of business. Nowhere does this pressure bear more heavily than in Washington City, says the States.

The sentiment universally prevails that, unless quiet and confidence are soon restored to the country, the disaster and losses will become so extensive that a long era of returning prosperity will scarcely repay the injury.

The Holly Springs (Miss.) Herald says that many farmers in that section have determined that they will not sell their cotton at the present prices, and not being driven to dispose of it, they will hold on till money matters are easier and prices advance.

There are thirty newspapers published in Brazil, but none of them contain any independent ideas, but merely news paragraphs, government proceedings, advertisements, etc.

The Madrid Epoca gives currency to a report that the Moors not having fulfilled their treaty stipulations, Spain was about to occupy the principal forts in Morocco.

The first negro slaves directly imported into Cuba were forty negroes brought from the Cape Verde Islands in 1562. They were sold for about $50 or $60 each.

Immense activity exists at the Toulon arsenal, as if the French Government intends to send thirty-four ships to sea, together with twenty steel-cad frigates.

France is said to be making extraordinary military and naval preparations. The excuse is the menacing attitude of Germany toward Denmark, and the speech of the King of Prussia.

The London Post's Paris correspondent says the opinion gains ground that the terms indicated by the friends of Garibaldi rather give new guarantees of the peace of the world than tend to disturb it.

It is a historical fact that the notes of the Bank of England circulated for 65 years without any attempt being made to counterfeit them. In 1758 the first attempt at forging them was made by a linen draper in London.

The Russian Government has contracted with the Thames Iron Works Company, London, for an iron-cased iron gate of 6320 tons and of great power. Other vessels of the same class are to be furnished from year to year.

A grand matrimonial bureau which has been in successful operation in London, has just been exploded through the unfortunate marriage, by its agency, of a young lady of high family to a returned convict of gentlemanly exterior.

The great novelist, Dickens, indulges in some petty afflictions; a flag waves above his household, like the Queen's over Buckingham palace, as a signal to all interested that the distinguished occupant is at home.

Several large toasters, chiefly of a light blue color, have recently been brought to light, and are exciting much interest in Melbourne. Every day affords fresh evidence that Australia will be found in precious stones as well as in gold.

The Zoological Garden in the Bois de Boulogne, Paris, has recently been enriched by two magnificent Lophophores, from the Himalaya mountains, the dazzling plumage of which has procured them the name of the Gold Bird.

In Denmark the Minister of Marine has ordered the equipment of twenty-two steamers, and the reserve corps of sailors are ordered to assemble by the 21st of March. A Committee has been appointed to purchase gun boats.

Alexander Dumas does not seem to be treated with very great respect in Italy. The Turin Gazette recommended that he should be expelled, and the People's Gazette turned him into bitter ridicule.

Count and Countess Montemolin died at Trieste on the 24th ult., within a few hours of each other. Count Montemolin was a son of the Infant Don Carlos, who for many years asserted, arms in hand, his claims to the throne of Spain.

A maxim of Ferdinand of Spain, the husband of Isabella, has recently been discovered among his papers. It addressed it to one of the English Henrys: "Always ruin your opponent in the opinion of the world before you go to war with him."

Lord Rossmore, of Roscommon, Ireland, is dead. On the night his father died, Sir Jonah Barrington states, a supernatural visitor notified the members of his family, who were traveling in Europe, by knocking stealthily at a bed room door, and saying: "Rossmore dies." When the mails from England arrived, the nocturnal message was confirmed.

Some of the grand people of Paris have had their garbous roofed over with glass, and converted, with the aid of hot air and electric impregnation of flowers, into "the most charming of winter parlors," where they receive their visitors and give elegant little fetes champetres, to the great admiration of those who are invited, and the equally great despair of those who are not.

The London Court Journal states that a great sensation has been caused amongst the principal jewelers by the introduction of a "scinted diamond." The stone has been recently discovered in Ava, and has the same value as others, the same transparency and brilliancy, and the same weight; but it possesses the most extraordinary quality of emitting a very agreeable odor under the influence of a high temperature—such, for instance, as is more frequently than agreeably felt in a ball-room.

A strange circumstance is mentioned in a letter from Paris, of the death of an old lady, aged eighty, named Pankouke, who was the printer of the Imperial organ of the French Government—the Mouton. This is a singular circumstance; but it is still more extraordinary that in her family the printing of that paper has continued from the time of its commencement in 1789 down to the present time. The writer who communicates this remarkable fact adds: "Like your Spottiswoodes, Woodfalls, Nicholls, etc., we have our Didots, hereditary typographers forming the aristocracy of the craft."

A correspondent, writing from Gaeta, says that the young wife of Francis II is always to be seen in the place of greatest danger. During the bombardment of Dec. 24th and 25th, two officers of her household were killed in the very room in which she was sitting, by the explosion of a shell. Although the danger was imminent, the Queen did not stir from her chair, and gave orders for the removal of the dead bodies in the coolest manner. The Spanish Minister had also a narrow escape, for as he was lying in bed he received the rather unpleasant visit of a round shot, which smashed the wash-stand opposite.

Miscellaneous.

The Societe Entomologique de Paris has received a curious account of an invasion of locusts which occurred in Poland last summer. They were in such numbers that, according to an official account sent in to the Government of Warsaw, 500 corn stacks full of dead or mutilated locusts were brought in in one day.

In a certain village of Galicia, a government official, of his own authority, imposed on every family the duty of delivering up to him one korzec (350 bushels) of locusts within a given time; and in the course of 26 days he received 800 korzezes of that commodity!

In the commune of Rogozno a grand battle of 2,530 men was organized against the locusts, and 200 korzezes were collected in six days. The Austrian Government having imposed on every peasant of the districts subject to the scourge a fine of one florin in case of his not producing a korzec of these insects, the poor people, not finding enough of them at home, actually imported them from Russian Poland to satisfy the demands of their Government.
